Stradbally Neighbours At Law

BOUND TO THE PEACE BY CIRCUIT COURT

FORMER Stradbally neighbours, William O'Donnell, of Ballydwan, and Michael Dunphy, of Carrigahilla, were the plaintiff and defendant in an action heard before Judge S. MacD. Fawcett at Durgarvan Circuit Court on Tuesday last.

The action resulted from an incident in which O'Donnell, the plaintiff, alleged that he was struck by Dunphy in the presence of Very Rev. Fr. Corbett, P.P., on the 19th August last.

Dunphy pleaded self-defence. Mr. F. Morris, B.L. (instructed by Mr. M. J. Lavan, Messrs. E. A. Ryan and Co.) represented the plaintiff, and Mr. Sheridan, B.L. (instructed by Mr. E. P. King, Messrs. J. F. Williams & Co.) appeared for the defendant.

Outlining the case for the plaintiff, Mr. Morris stated that O'Donnell was a farmer and until recently he had resided with his wife, two children and an uncle-in-law on a farm the property of his wife's grandfather at Ballydwan.

At a result of what he observed in February last plaintiff would tell the Court that he had occasion to approach the local curate with a complaint against the defendant Dunphy. Subsequently he again had cause to call on the parish priest and as a result they went together to Dunphy's home at Carrigahilla on August 19th. They went in by the back door and were met by the defendant, who refused to discuss the matter there, as he said, he did not want his mother to over-hear them.

Dunphy accompanied them to the front of the house, taking a walking stick from the hall way as he went by. They walked down the avenue towards the road and on the way, it would be said, the defendant struck O'Donnell with the stick, knocked him to the ground, knelt on his chest and hammered him until Fr. Corbett, the parish priest, intervened.

Mr. Morris went on to say that as result O'Donnell's condition necessitated medical attention and confined him to bed for some days.

William O'Donnell, the plaintiff, in evidence, stated that he was married four years last January. He was thirty-four years and until a short time ago had resided at Ballydwan, which would be about four miles from where Dunphy lived.

He went on to give details of what he alleged caused him to call on the curate in February last. In August, the plaintiff continued, he again had occasion to approach the Parish Priest, who agreed to accompany him to Dunphy's home at Carrigahilla. They were met by the defendant and as a result of what passed between them subsequently Dunphy struck him with a stick and with his fists, severely knocking him down and beating him about the head. When he came too Fr. Corbett brought him home. He was subsequently treated by Dr. Gleeson. Plaintiff went on to say that he had to leave the district altogether, coming to live with his sister in Abbeyside, as he was afraid of the defendant.

As a result of the experience his nerves had been shattered and he had spent two weeks in Belmont Park. He also had to go back to Dr. Gleeson and had only recently resumed work of a light nature.

Cross-examined by Mr. Sheridan, B.L., the plaintiff denied that he had struck Dunphy the first blow. He further denied that he told Michael Connors, Park Stradbally, depressed that during a conversation with the plaintiff some time subsequent to the alleged assault he told him that he (O'Donnell) had got in the first blow.

Medical evidence was also given by Dr. M. K. Cusack who said he found plaintiff tense and in an emotional state. He had heard the history of the case, but found no evidence of physical injury.

Judge Fawcett, finding in favour of plaintiff, found a decree for £12 with costs. After adjourning further consideration.

FRIARY'S FINE WIN IN MUNSTER CUP OPENER The lads of St. Augustine's College, Dungarvan, secured a well-earned victory over Mount Sion Christian Brothers Schools, Waterford, in the first round of the Corn na Murchan, Munster Colleges senior football championships at Dungarvan Gaelic Field on Thursday afternoon last.

The Friary lads enjoyed an interval rest of 1-1 to 0-1 but the resumption Mount Sion put in their effort and had the margin cut to a goal within six minutes of play.

St. Augustine's, however, weathered the storm and came back to score three points in a row. In the closing stages of the game the Waterford City lads tried hard to come to terms but the Dungarvan College defence was too strong for them and they were unable to break through.

In Joe O'Keefe the Friary had one of the best forwards on the field. Besides securing three of the winners' points, he also made a number of the other scores including the goal which W. O'Connor finished to the net within four minutes from halftime mark.

Bannon O'Hanlon and O'Connor were a trio of clippy forwards while others to shine for St. Augustine's were Dundon, Lyne, Connors and Barry.

Best for the losers were: A. McGrath, Lambert, J. Flavin, O'Donnell and Phelan. Scores were, for St. Augustine's: J. O'Keefe (0-3), M. Brennan (0-2), W. O'Connor (1-1), M. O'Hanlon (0-1), W. Dundon (0-1).

For Mount Sion, S. O'Donnell; B. McDonald and P. O'Sullivan had a joint each; M. Lambert (0-2).

TELEVISION T.E. IRISH AND SUN-TAN IN "ANY QUESTIONS?" Questions were flying at Ballymacarra on Tuesday night, and no wonder, for the session arranged by the members of the local rural organisations was entitled "Any Questions?" where the members of the audience tried to test the panel of experts. The show, which is part of the Winter Programme for the rural organisations, was run on the lines of the currently popular Radio "Beat the Panel" feature.

Members of the panel, who had the unenviable task of supplying the answers to the wide variety of questions thrown at them from the very active audience, were: Mrs. Marie Quaine, Ardmore, Messrs. John McConville, Caberbrack, Tom Boston, Dromore, and Denis Cullinan, C.E.O., Dungarvan, who was chair.

Questions asked ranged from "What does the party think of the desirability of television for Irish homes?" to "How beneficial is the scheme for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis?" and included such queries as "Do the experts think that the modern woman has a far easier time than the modern man?"

CLAIM AGAINST DRAINAGE CONTRACTOR

How two cows the property of Dr. Louis Gleeson, of Stradbally, lost their lives was related to Judge S. MacFawcett at Dungarvan Circuit Court on Tuesday last.

As a result Dr. Gleeson brought a claim for breach of contract against Nicholas Cotter, drainage contractor, who carried out a scheme in conjunction with the Department on his lands at Stradballybeg.

Dr. Gleeson alleged that Cotter's negligence resulted in the first cow's leg going through the hole in a bridge which he had built, as a result of which it had to be destroyed.

He further alleged that the second cow, which was heavily in calf at the time, lost its life by falling into a drain while work was in progress on his lands. In the latter claim it was stated that rescue operations were greatly impeded by an amount of spoil partially spread over the fields through which it had to be carried.

Having heard the evidence of Dr. Gleeson, Mr. P. Walsh, B.E., who submitted a map of the farm, and Mr. R. Ciancy for the application, and Mr. H. Kelleher, Mr. Hickey, Department Engineer, and Mr. J. J. McCarthy, foreman, His Worship upheld the first claim and awarded Dr. Gleeson the sum of £41-8-2. In the second claim he found in favour of Cotter and dismissed the claim accordingly.

Councillor's New Approach Plan to Irish Language

County Councillor Mr. Charles Curran, Clashmore, is perturbed at the state of Irish in the country today.

Mr. Curran, who is chairman of Waterford County Board of Public Assistance, Vice-Chairman of the Waterford County Council, and a member of the County Waterford Vocational Education Committee, an officer in the Foras Cosanta Aitiuil, and prominent in G.A.A. circles, has put forward a plan for the advancement of Irish language and culture.

Proposing the matter at the monthly meeting of the County Vocational Education Committee held in Dungarvan Technical School, Mr. Curran said: "My idea is that we initiate a popular move to advance the language by all the voluntary bodies in the county. This should be a co-ordinated effort by such groups as the G.A.A., I.C.A., Macra na Feirme, Trade Unions, etc. If we have people in every district working with the aim of advancing the language we could feel sure that some progress would be made."

Mr. T. O. Faolain, Ring, said that he was very much in favour of some such move being made. "Their vocational teachers could attend special meetings of various organisations in a district, and endeavour to bring groups together, and the teacher could advise and direct the voluntary efforts being made. The groups could get together for study, or dramatics, discussions, etc. and everyone could make an effort to use as much Irish as he was able. All the organisations should be invited to participate in this work for the cultural uplift of the language movement."

What had given him the idea of the advancement plan, he said was that some two years ago the F.C.A. had decided to give all the commands through Irish. Some then had thought that it was impossible of success, but he had since seen competitions conducted in Irish in the F.C.A., and many boys with little knowledge of Irish had soon developed marvellously in the use of the native tongue. He had brought forward this proposal so that the C.E.O. might be directed to get in touch with various groups in the county with a view to the advancement of Irish.

Mr. Curran stated that the proposal he had in mind was not intended to make one extra penny for anyone connected with it.

Mr. D. Cullinan, C.E.O., said that the trouble with issuing a circular from an educational body was that it could appear as just more classes by the educational group. If, on the other hand, there was an increased demand for classes, he could not give more classes than were already being provided, as he did not have sufficient teachers, and there were no funds available for an extension of the programme. Acceptance of responsibility for the proposal regarding the advancement of Irish should be in the hands of the people interested. The plan must run voluntarily. The secretaries of the various organisations could be asked to have the matter discussed at their next meetings and then send delegates to a specially convened meeting to discuss details. Some study groups could be set up to get a start and then the services of an Irish teacher could be called upon to attend a group and give advice on their studies.

Mr. Hartly: "We'll tell our people how nationally minded they are, and yet look at the success attending rock'n roll and other undesirable imports from far beyond our shores!"

Mr. O'Faolain: "I am afraid that you are beating a dead horse. The people love the language they will make every effort to learn it."

Mr. Curran said that at the Ulster Council of the G.A.A. and at the Provincial Council of Britain, when he had attended their meetings, he found that in Irish it had made him ashamed of his own limited knowledge of the language.

Mr. Keane: "Fifty per cent of the children are not interested, as they must look to a foreign country for their living. We should first of all provide a good living for our people here in Ireland, and stop emigration."

Mr. O'Faolain: "There is no harm in trying the system. We can but try."

Ring Prepare for Next Year's Drama Festival

The outstanding success of the three days Gaelic Drama Festival, held at Ring last June, when over a dozen Irish plays were performed by various amateur groups from Drama Clubs in the county and many from other parts of Munster, was referred to by Secretary to Felle Dramuochta na Rinne Committee Mr. Donnall O'Connell at the annual general meeting of the group held on Saturday.

PREPARE NOW

They had, he said, with very little notice and with very limited means held a very successful function last summer, which had drawn favourable comment from all sides. They should now prepare in good time for the holding of another bigger and better Dramatic Festival next Summer.

Rev. Fr. Victor de Paor, C.C., presided at the general meeting, which attracted a large attendance.

SECTION FOR SECONDARY SCHOOLS

It was decided that the 1959 Felle Dramuochta na Rinne should be held from 6th to 12th June, and that a further division of the programme be carried out. A special new section will be created to cater for the classes in Secondary Schools and these schools are being approached with a view to having them prepare for participation in the Festival.

As this new section would impose an undue burden on the Felle Secretary, who already had a great many duties to perform in connection with the selection and conduct of the Felle, it was decided to appoint a member of the committee to take charge of this Secondary Schools Drama Section.

Mrs. Caitlin Breatnach, National School Teacher, Ring, was appointed to handle the Secondary Schools division.

PRIZES

In the Adult Section of the Festival the prize to be awarded will be a Silver Cup presented by Mrs. M. J. O'Donnell, P.P., Ring and Old Parish, and will go to the best drama performed at the Festival.

The Cup donated by Coliste na Rinne will be awarded to the best producer of the Festival.

Rev. Fr. V. de Paor, C.C., has presented a special trophy which will be awarded to the best actor at the Felle who comes from Ring parish.

The actor scoring the highest award at the conclusion of the Festival will be awarded a prize of a gold medal.

ENCOURAGEMENT FOR PLAYWRITERS

The Committee decided, in an effort to encourage the writing of new plays to award a special prize for any newly-written plays which are produced at the Ring Drama Festival next summer.

Last year's winner of this special award was Cappoquin Vocational School Irish teacher, Mr. Padraig O'Flannuasa, whose group staged an Irish play written and produced by Mr. O'Flannuasa, entitled "Acraon Thiosag Tuil Chiallaigh."

MORE PLAYS

As the members of the Committee of Felle Dramuochta na Rinne anticipate that there will be a big increase in the number of plays presented at next year's summer drama festival, plans are being prepared well in advance to cope with greatly increased entries.

CONDOLANCE

On the proposition of Mr. Nicholas Mac Craith, Principal, Mean Scail na Rinne, an unanimous vote of sympathy was passed with the relatives of the late Seamus O'Leachta ("An Fear Mór").

STAGE COMMITTEE

A special sub-committee to take charge of stage arrangements was selected, and includes: An tAthair V. de Paor, C.C.; Damhán, O'Connell; Nicholas Mac Craith, and Tomas O'Ceallaigh.

STAGE ENTERTAINMENT

Stage Entertainment is Mr. Donnall O'Connell.

CARRICK NOTES

LATE REV. BRO. B. FLYNN

The death occurred last Sunday, at a Dublin hospital, of Brother B. Flynn, who was Principal of the Christian Brothers' Primary School in Carrick until the beginning of his last and lingering illness three years ago. Brother Flynn had a varied career; he taught not only in many Irish schools, but also in Galliar for many years.

His energy and hard work were known to all his friends in Carrick, where he laboured successfully for so many years. May he rest in peace.

THE BROTHERS OF THE HOLY PAN-TOMIME held in Carrick will be interested to hear that an opera is to be produced instead this year. The work chosen is that of the "Milkmaid" by Gilbert and Sullivan. The producer, Jerry Moran, is back again to his old stride. We wish him every success.

The Carrick Dramatic Society is also back at rehearsals. This year they are producing "Mungo's Mansions" and the producer is, as last time, Mr. Liam Hogan, B.A. The money made is to be donated to the local branch of the Irish Red Cross.

The Ballyneelie Dramatic Society is to begin rehearsals soon for a variety concert much on the lines of that produced last year. The first meeting of this season was held on Thursday night, November 5th and a presentation was made to Tommy Breen, Chairman of the Committee, on the occasion of his marriage.

RUGBY THRAWLER

A high-scoring match took place in Carrick on Sunday between U.C.C. and Carrick Rugby Club. Carrick was defeated by 12 points and the final score was 29 points to 13 points.

The game was a display of fast open rugby—a good match to watch. But in the last quarter hour U.C.C. ran riot and inflicted defeat on their opponents. Best for Carrick were Foley, Boland, Ryan and Mick English, a guest player. Best for U.C.C. were Kieran, Walsh, Brennan and Bekap.

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations to Mrs. Ned Guiry of Main Street, Carrick, on her recent appointment to the position of assistant in Portlaoise, Co. Wick. In this appointment she was teaching in Fenor N.S. She succeeds Mrs. James Connolly, N.T., who resigned to take up a Principalship in Lisacull, Co. Cork.

HOME ON HOLIDAYS

Home on holidays lately from England and visiting relatives in New Street, was Rev. Father Kevin of the Order of Geoffrey. He is stationed in the Diocese of Meath. Although born in Ireland, Father Kevin has lived most of his life in England. Incidentally, the Order of Geoffrey is a branch of the Franciscan Order, but has no Friary in Ireland since the Reformation.

ORMONDE CASTLE

Work is proceeding on the roof of the Manor House in Ormonde Castle. This roof is 300 years old and some of the timber was badly decayed. In the restoration work, as much as possible of the original timber is being used. Much of the brickwork is also being renewed. The work is under the direction of Mr. Cavanagh of the Office of Public Works and should be completed before the beginning of the next tourist season. The old building is visited every year by hundreds of tourists, both Irish and foreign.

G.A.A.

The Carrick minor hurling team drew with Mount Sion in a hard-fought game last Sunday, November 8th. Great credit is due to this club which has to contend with great difficulties in keeping its players. Yet it has a juvenile and minor leagues every year which whip up enthusiasm for the game and induces new recruits to the selectors. The moving spirit is Jimmy Hansey. The greatest difficulty he has to contend with is his high emigration among his senior members. Besides, a large number drift away to other parts of the county.

Labour Deputy Welcomes New Scheme

Speaking in the Dail at the second day of the Health Bill, Mr. J. J. Tobin, Minister for Health, said that he welcomed the Bill as a general principle, as he believed there was need for an amalgamation of the various health services under one authority.

He asked the Minister, Mr. Egan MacIntyre, to give various County Councils and af-

THEY BOUGHT A HOUSE WITH THEIR WINNINGS

A young couple in Wales have just won enough money to buy a house, and so they say it is conclusive proof of the Legend of the 300 years old Wishing Cork Tree. Another couple had a piece of Lucky Cork sent them by a relative and got an empty house two days afterwards. A lady in Doncaster sent for a piece and won £3,000 on a penny points pool. A wife gave her doubting husband a piece of Lucky Cork for his birthday and two weeks after he won £1,500. A mother sent each of her sons a piece and one of them won £4,003 in a sweepstake. LISMORE CASTLE

The show-piece of Lismore is the magnificent castle, which crowns over the placid waters of the Blackwater flowing under its walls.

CLEAR THINKING

It has been said on many occasions, and I think it is to a certain extent true, that politics and the discussion of the Affairs of State, have too great an importance amongst the ordinary people in Ireland.

Whether individuals come together outside the parish church on Sunday or meet in the public house on Monday...

Of course it is a healthy sign, when a community takes the trouble to give a thought to the affairs of the country in which they are making their living...

But, it has been asked, should the man in the street allow politics to enter into his daily life to such an extent that they will be his first consideration...

This attitude to life, where it prevails, does no credit to the individual's integrity or honesty...

In response to requests from growers of fruit and vegetables the Irish Sugar Company has decided to expand its activities to include the processing of these.

Production will start on a small scale in 1960, but it is hoped to expand the business as rapidly as markets can be developed abroad.

It is hoped that Irish processors already in the business and the Sugar Company will join together in a joint effort to develop a large export trade.

The first stage of development by the Irish Sugar Company will be a small cannery at Carlow. This will absorb fruit from existing plantations and vegetables from the Company's peatland farm at Gowla.

Expansion to other areas and into quick freezing and dehydration and other methods of processing will depend upon the results of the initial development and the response of farmers in the production of the raw material.

Smallholders and occupiers of cottage plots to whom the Company has been unable to offer beef contracts in recent years will have the opportunity of producing crops of fruit and vegetables with a high labour content and a correspondingly high value.

Lismore Board of Fishery Conservators

VICTORY SOCIAL IN LONDON

The Estimates Meeting of the Lismore Board of Conservators was held recently at Tallow, presided over by the Chairman, Mr. R. G. Annesley.

Arising out of the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, the Chairman, while not questioning their accuracy, recommended that the matter of night lines and long lines, the recommendation should read: "no relaxation whatsoever in the use of night lines and long lines in the freshwater" and not in the whole district.

Inspector Woulfe reported that late in September and early in October the levels of the rivers were so low that it was practically impossible to afford adequate protection to spawning salmon lying in pools particularly in the upper reaches of the district.

One man was captured who admitted liability for the drift net and seven salmon. The matter has been referred to the Board's solicitor with the view to prosecution.

Since the break in the weather there has been a noticeably run upriver. The mobile squad in co-operation with Garda Squad cars will operate in the district during the next few months.

A discussion took place on the matter of how poached salmon at this time of the year are disposed of despite the fact that dealers' licence records are checked up. It was agreed that there was considerable leakage in the facilities cold storage for salmon and the matter was referred to the Department for their immediate attention.

Major Maxwell informed the meeting that on the occasion of the recent visit of a deputation from the Board to the Department of Fisheries, they got a very sympathetic hearing, which was suggested by the Officers of the Department that an estimate be framed entailing a 3% rate (increase of 3% over last year) and to embody the Clerk's increase of salary and wages in increase to the waterkeepers, and that the Minister would consider making up the deficit from the Consistory Fund.

The Chairman informed the meeting that Captain Clayton, having disposed of his residence at Castlehyde, was returning to England to reside. During his short stay on the Board he was most helpful and did trogan work in connection with the repairs and renewals at the Hatchery and Banter Trap.

The Board having been summoned to consider a memorandum from the Cork Board of Conservators on the view on the "Long Term Proposals" as recommended by the Executive Committee of Joint Committee of Boards of Conservators, after a prolonged discussion, during which several members expressed their views on the face that this Board neither through the Clerk or Chairman received any copy of the letter referred to by the Cork Board as dated 14th September from the Secretary of the Executive Committee.

The Clerk stated that the first intimation he got was the receipt of the letter from the Cork Board and his Clerk obliged him with a copy of the communication. It was agreed that a copy be circulated to each member and that the matter be fully discussed at the next meeting as it was deemed to be of vital importance.

The next meeting will be held at Lismore on December 10th.

Each Sunday pilgrims are still to be seen coming from all parts of Munster to visit the Holy Well at Toor. Many cures have been reported.

ALL IRELAND MEDALS

By drawing from a hat, Waterford County Board resolved the dilemma of the odd man out when the matter of All-Ireland medals winners came up for decision at Friday night's meeting in the C.Y.M.S. Rooms, Dungarvan. The Chairman told members that the Central Council rule could only award twenty medals whereas their panel for the final embraced twenty-one players. In the course of the championship eighteen players had participated—Joe Coady, Paud Casey and Freddie O'Brien were the exceptions. In the draw the first two emerged as the lucky ones. The Board agreed to award a medal comparable in size and value to the All-Ireland trophy to O'Brien.

JOE CONWAY & SONS (CASH) MEAT MARKET
12 St. Mary St., Dungarvan Phone 249

Although playing into the face of a stiff breeze, Waterford it was who forced the pace from the outset. Within ten minutes they were five points clear. Then Dublin made their effort wiping out the arrears, thanks largely to the brilliance of the Shannon-Whelan partnership, and forging ahead to earn a not really formidable interval advantage of 1-8 to 1-5.

The second period was a strenuous affair, Dublin tagged on a couple of goals, shot a brace of points and in turn succeeded in containing our attack to an inadequate 0-4. At the end the Metropolitanians were seven points to the good.

Waterford scorers were: Frank Walsh (0-7), L. Guinan (1-0), M. Flannelly (0-1), T. Cheasty (0-1).
Waterford—E. Power; J. Harney, A. Flynn, F. O'Brien, S. Foley, M. Og Morrissey, Jackie Condon; S. Power, Joe Condon; M. Flannelly, T. Cheasty, F. Walsh; D. Whelan, T. Cunningham, L. Guinan, Sub.—P. Casey (for S. Foley).
Dublin—S. Gray; D. Ferguson, B. Young, P. Croke; C. Hayes, M. Bohane, A. Boothman; L. Shannon, F. Whelan; C. McLaughlin; D. Foley, S. Byrne; J. Finnan, A. Young, L. Quinn.

Taking a leaf out of its championship copybook, as it were, the Metropolitanians produced a most effective brand of non-stop, first-time striking right through an hour that was highlighted by bouts of high-class hurrying.

Allied to their superb physical fitness and an almost fanatical will-to-win, this first-time policy helped Dublin to an unexpected but, nonetheless, very well merited victory.

Waterford, beset by injuries and a couple of late defections, played well enough, though, not unexpectedly in the circumstances, they were not producing anything comparable to their championship-winning performance.

The absence of John Barron, Mick Lacey, Phil Grimes and John Kieley proved too great a burden for a side that was clearly feeling the after-effects of a strenuous championship campaign and the resultant round of festivities. Defeat in the circumstances, though it was still a trifle unexpected, was by no stretch of imagination a disgrace, particularly at the hands of a side of Dublin's calibre.

In many ways, of course, the result could be said to be welcome. True, it probably marks the end of our league aspirations. But, then, prestige apart, the league is of little consequence this year, while there is no disputing that an early exit from the energy-sapping winter competition will be to our advantage when we commence the all-important task of hanging on to the McCarthy Cup round about next May or so.

This, however, is intended as no disparagement of Dublin's well-merited victory. He Metropolitanians won on their merits simply because they played the more effective brand of hurling on the day.

They laid the foundation at mid-field where, despite the trolly work of lion-hearted Seamus Power, the all-powerful partnership of Shannon and Whelan succeeded in claiming possession of six out of every seven balls that fell in the area. Shannon's shooting of placed balls, allied to a series of wise decisions by referee Conroy of Lanes, also contributed materially to the Dubliners seven point victory.

Although defeat was their lot, one could not really fault our men. True enough, the verve and dash that earned them the blue riband were notable in their absence, yet when one remembers the hard year in the draw the first two emerged as the lucky ones. The Board agreed to award a medal comparable in size and value to the All-Ireland trophy to O'Brien.

Valley Rovers Qualify For Final

Valley Rovers 1-6; Ballyduff 0-3

As expected, Valley Rovers, the reigning divisional title-holders, proved too well equipped for Ballyduff when they clashed in the junior football championship, at the Sportsfield, Cappoquin, on Sunday.

But the plain, unpalatable fact to emerge from a rough, tough encounter was that Rovers are not nearly the side their high scoring victory over Cappoquin in the previous round had painted them to be.

The champions were undoubtedly the better team. Their brand of football was a step above that produced by the losers. Yet, Ballyduff's uncompromising tactics and never-say-die spirit kept them in the hunt with a right sporting chance almost to the call of time.

A winning margin of six points belies the dire straits the Rovers were in five minutes from time.

The winners enjoyed an interval lead of 0-3 to 0-2. Eighteen minutes of the second half passed without a flag being raised. Then the Rovers shot a couple of minors within as many minutes to forge a seemingly secure three points advantage.

Unflinching, however, Ballyduff pegged them back with a Coughlan point—a great effort incidentally—that set the cat among the pigeons in earnest. This was in the 25th minute.

The Rovers were clearly rattled. But Ballyduff left a couple of chances go abegging and the winners recovered their equilibrium with a great point from a placed ball two minutes from the end. Then, with what was virtually the last shot of the game, Oliver Nugent made the issue safe and in the process landed the only major of the entire hour.

That the better side prevailed there is no gainsaying. But the victory, decisive though it was in the long run, loses a lot of its gilt when one remembers the manner in which it was achieved and the fact that the losers took the field without such accomplished men as Joe Dohy, Donal Connors and Mick Becher. In addition they also lacked the service of Rev. John Barry, who was probably their outstanding performer in the earlier rounds. Their was a creditable effort in the circumstances.

Ardmore To Take Title

The fact that challenging Ardmore's brand of football bears a marked similarity to the type of game which helped Valley Rovers to win the title twelve months ago has contributed enormously to the attractiveness of their clash in the divisional junior final at the Sportsfield, Cappoquin, on Sunday next.

Fast, open football has been the seersiders forte throughout the march to their first divisional decider since 1950, when, remarkably enough, they numbered their opponents of Sunday among the victims.

These Ardmore men are first-class ball-players. They are, too, pretty well-balanced in all sections of the field and they have, significantly enough, succeeded in bringing their teamwork to a fine pitch.

One feels that Rovers' style will bring out the best in this up and coming Ardmore side. Certainly mentors have made no bones about the fact that they are much happier to be meeting the holders than, say, Ballyduff, whose uncompromising game shut out the much-vaunted Valley attack in last Sunday's semi-final.

The same, of course, holds true for Rovers. Since what one might term the present side hit the headlines their dislike for close, dull football has been apparent. Sunday's slip up was a point in case. In the circumstances it is only reasonable to assume that they, too, will re-spond to the sparkle that has marked their victory over Cappoquin and St. Patrick's in the earlier rounds.

On the whole Ardmore look the better balanced side and their breaks should qualify for the final.
