Despite inclement weather conditions and prevailing flu there was a large attendance of members at the I.C.A. Branch general meeting. Annual reports were read by Mrs. A. The new President, Miss Roche, paid well deserved tribute to the outgoing officers. Arrangements for the annual dinner were deferred to next meeting. Tea was served to members at the conclusion of the meeting.

Donal Lynch, Dungarvan; John Baston, Cappagh; James Timmins Portlaw; Thomas Murray, Kibres; Eamon Feehan, Abbeystead, who are members of the staff of County Waterford Vocational Education Committee.
The course was arranged by the Department of Education to enable manual instructors of work to become familiar with recent techniques and developments in farm building, and was established on a regional basis with teachers from Counties Cork, Kerry and Waterford attending at Mallow. The teachers went back to school as pupils to be made familiar with modern practice and developments in the sphere of farm building, which they will later introduce into the woodworking classes.

TECH. TEAMS TUSLE
The Waterford v. Tipperary Vocational Schools inter-county game which was to have been played on Tuesday last week had to be postponed due to the numbers from both teams who had been hit by flu.
This game is scheduled to take place to-day (Thursday) at Dungarvan Gaelic Field, and is the first round of the competition. The winners will meet either Cork or Limerick.
JUNIORS ELECT OFFICERS FOR YEAR
There was a full turn out of the thirty members of the go-ahead juvenile young farmers' Macra na Tuathle Ballinameela for the annual general meeting. The outgoing Chairman, Tom Browne, Killoshes, Cappagh, reviewed a very successful branch year. He urged the members to pay particular attention to their projects for the coming year. As he was over age he was eligible to seek re-election for the coming year.
At the election of officers, James Cliffe, Bewley, was elected chairman; John Fitzgerald, Mollisigo (vice-chairman); Margaret Hogan, Keeren (secretary); Thomas Ahearne, Keeren (hon. treasurer); Liam Cashman, Cappagh (press correspondent).
In attendance at the meeting were Miss Margaret O'Brien, Aglish, representing Banntracht na Tuathis organisation and Mr. John O'Donnell, Knochastagh, Macra na Feirme representative.

CONTRLS TO BE REMOVED

The Minister for Agriculture has made an Order revoking as from the 6th February the special temporary controls on the importation of animals from the Continent which were imposed as a precaution against the introduction of foot-and-mouth disease following the widespread outbreaks of the disease which occurred in Britain in November.

NO GAELIC CLUB IN TALLOW

It is indeed saddening to learn that there is no Gaelic club affiliated in Tallow this year. Down the years, as long as we can remember, the Bridiside town was always the focus of the Gaelic arena. Its past greatness shines like a star in the annals of our national game of hurling in the West. Who, of the older generation, does not remember the hectic days of Tallow greatness, when the Condon brothers, Sheehans, Curleys, Henleys, O'Briens and the late Mickey Mulrady, opened a name for Tallow hurling that will live long in the Gaelic G.A.A. history. Tallow Gaelics has fallen on lean times, emigration has robbed the town of its youth. There are still a few left who are trying to keep the spark alive. And let us hope that ere long, Tallow will once more come back to their rightful place in our national pastime.

AGRICULTURAL MARKETING

We have heard a lot about marketing in the recent past. We are likely to hear still more about it in the near future, because prosperity for agricultural Ireland hinges around this question.

NOT ADEQUATE

The President also pointed out that while by average organisational standards, N.F.A. might appear to have a high income, the fact is, however, that our financial resources are not adequate even at the present level of services we offer our members.

WE LOOK TO COUNTY REPRESENTATIVES

County Representatives will have to do a great deal more in liaison work between what goes on in headquarters and their County Executive and Branches and speak themselves as members of headquarters when members of the staff address meetings in their Counties. They will have to achieve better results too in tapping financially the obvious gold-mine that exists in excess of what we have a right to expect of them.

FORTHCOMING ELECTIONS

At our last Council meeting, a resolution was passed, suspending Rule 40 (A) of the Rules and Constitution of the Association, thus enabling the existing President to stand again in the forthcoming presidential election. (At the same time, vice-presidents, one at each Province, will also be elected.)

STRONG PROTESTS AGAINST OATS IMPORTS

Farmers from Counties Donegal and Galway, at a meeting in Newtowncunningham, Co. Donegal, on 24th January, gave vent to their feelings in no uncertain fashion when it was reported that the Minister for Agriculture had granted import licences to the Racehorse Trainers' Association and the Bloodstock Breeders and Horse Owners' Association to import 6,000 tons of Australian oats. News of the imports has resulted in orders called and has further depressed the already poor price offered for good quality oats in Counties Galway and Donegal.

WHICH MIGHT DETRIMENT FROM PRESENTING MYSELF?

(a) The possibility of the organisation becoming too identified with one person.

(b) While I do not believe in rapid change or rigid rules in relation to change, I do, however, believe that change is desirable.

(c) The problems facing agriculture come clearly enough, but the solutions are not always as clear as they might be. Legislation of the possible solutions is more effective when coming from different people.

(d) It is one of the weaknesses of rural organisations, that the same leadership remains for too long a period.

He also said that "if it were necessary for the leadership to spread gloom and despondency among the farmers in order to arouse their interest, it would be a function that I in no way would go to. Without going to that extreme, I appear to have failed to impress on sufficient numbers of farmers the value of organisation as a means of their constructively contributing to a better agriculture."

WE HAVE SUPPORT

Dr. Greene said: "while the N.F.A. has gained the support of the vast majority of farmers, only too few of them can be considered as active, loyal supporters, contributing voluntarily both moral and financial support, and perhaps equally important, ideas also. For myself I would prefer to see N.F.A. dead than to have it struggle on, deprived of the necessary resources to maintain the highly qualified and competent administrative and technical staffs, together with their adequately staffed departments at headquarters."

DUTIES OF PRESIDENT

People do not generally appreciate all that is involved in being President of an organisation such as ours. Dr. Greene, gave an insight into the various tasks that one must take upon oneself in order to fill the position adequately. He said that it means presiding over the Council and Executive and being an ex-officio member of more than 22 sub-committees. He also said that there are literally hundreds of associations and organisations in the country and a very large number of them want you to participate in their conferences, dinners and debates. Mostly they are non-arguable, although very eager to be informed on agricultural matters, so it is a very important part of the duty to accept these invitations and this help to get a greater understanding on agricultural matters throughout the whole community. A growing number of individuals from both at home and abroad wish to see you and meet you on specific business. As N.F.A. has grown in stature, these visitors become more frequent and increasingly time-consuming.

FINANCIAL RESOURCES NOT ADEQUATE

The President also pointed out that while by average organisational standards, N.F.A. might appear to have a high income, the fact is, however, that our financial resources are not adequate even at the present level of services we offer our members. I do not see that these can be in any way reduced, indeed, to me it is clear that the level of these services has got to be increased.

As N.F.A. has grown in stature, these visitors become more frequent and increasingly time-consuming.

FINANCIAL RESOURCES NOT ADEQUATE

The President also pointed out that while by average organisational standards, N.F.A. might appear to have a high income, the fact is, however, that our financial resources are not adequate even at the present level of services we offer our members. I do not see that these can be in any way reduced, indeed, to me it is clear that the level of these services has got to be increased.

WE LOOK TO COUNTY REPRESENTATIVES

County Representatives will have to do a great deal more in liaison work between what goes on in headquarters and their County Executive and Branches and speak themselves as members of headquarters when members of the staff address meetings in their Counties. They will have to achieve better results too in tapping financially the obvious gold-mine that exists in excess of what we have a right to expect of them.

FORTHCOMING ELECTIONS

At our last Council meeting, a resolution was passed, suspending Rule 40 (A) of the Rules and Constitution of the Association, thus enabling the existing President to stand again in the forthcoming presidential election. (At the same time, vice-presidents, one at each Province, will also be elected.)

News of the imports has resulted in orders called and

MOTION ON BUILDING AND RECONSTRUCTION GRANTS DEFERRED

A motion at last Friday's meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council, "that schemes for the payment of supplementary reconstruction and new building grants be reintroduced," was deferred to the Annual Estimates meeting.

Colr. J. Kennelly, moving the motion, in the absence of Colr. N. Kelly, said it would be good for everyone in town and would give people the opportunity of building their own houses. The Council would also benefit as the money would be coming back in rates.

Colr. R. Walsh, seconding the motion, said the Council would benefit as the money would be coming back in rates. He said the Council would also benefit as the money would be coming back in rates.

Deputy T. Kyne (Chairman) said it was so close to the estimates, it would be only proper to see if (the grants) with the background of their commitments. At least they would then know where they stood. He would be in favour of deferring it to the estimates meeting.

Colr. R. Walsh said that in view of the proposal to defer it he would not fall in line. Colr. T. Lannon asked Mr. Howlett to have a list of all the houses they own prepared for the estimates meeting so they would not be asked what grants were made available since they came into office.

WATERFORD BEAT KILKENNY

Following their pre-Christmas defeat at the hands of Tipperary, Waterford's footballers returned to the winning trail on Sunday last with a convincing and clear cut 1-13 to 1-2 victory over Kilkenny in the National League at Dungarvan.

The game, played before a mere handful of spectators and in an almost continuous down-pour, never produced a high standard of football. But good football was well in evidence as the elements took their inevitable toll on the pitch at an early stage.

PLEASING ASPECT

Nevertheless, despite the uncertainty of the weather and making due allowance for the feebleness of the opposition, Waterford's display was a highly commendable one. Most pleasing aspect of this win was the manner in which the attack, hitherto the problem sector of the side, ran up an impressive tally of 1-13. Justin Spratt, Tommy Kirwan and veteran Tom McGrath were the marksmen-in-chief and the oft-times harassed Kilkenny defence could never abate this Deise trio. Another striking feature of the game from a Waterford viewpoint was the outstanding display of John Hubbard, making his inter-county debut at mid-field. On this showing the tall Newowner has come to stay on the side.

QUICKLY DISPELLED

But any doubts of a Waterford defeat were quickly dispelled on the resumption. The Waterford men played their best football of the hour when facing the breeze. Kilkenny made wholesale switches in an effort to salvage the points—most noticeable being the playing of full-back Egan at mid-field.

The Residers did improve however in the second-half and tactically had fifty per cent of the play. But their attack was inexplicably poor and not one of the scores succeeded in scoring from play. Sean Ormond had a "day-off" in the Waterford goal and was not called upon once to exert himself.

THE SCORES

The game was hardly a minute old when Justin Spratt had a Waterford point. Tommy Kirwan scored the only goal of the game in the 7th minute, when he crashed a Tom McGrath centre to the net. McGrath had points in the 8th and 12th minutes, before Kirwan left leading by 1-4 in the 20th minute with another point.

A minute later Spratt had another minor. Padge Butler had Kilkenny's only score of the half when he pointed a ciss-in free in the 26th minute. Tom McGrath quickly negated this score, however, and just as an on-half Spratt brought Waterford's tally to 1-7 with a well taken point.

KILKENNY'S GOAL

Within eight minutes of the resumption Kirwan (free) and Spratt stretched Waterford's lead with points. Flagging Kilkenny hopes were temporarily raised in the 11th minute when Mick Egan crashed home a brilliantly taken 21 yards free.

POWER OUTSTANDING

Tommy Power was the outstanding figure in a solid Waterford defence. The diminutive Ardmore man never put a foot wrong, and completely outplayed Kilkenny's danger man Butler. Not far behind Power came Mick Connolly, who, in the absence of Tom Cunningham, deputised at centre-half. After a few indifferent games recently, Connolly made a welcome return to his best form and his fielding of the ball under difficult conditions was impeccable. The remainder of the defence, Dingley, Pender and his fielding of the ball under difficult conditions was impeccable. ## Careless Driving Charge

Dismissed

A SUMMONS for careless and dangerous driving against Mrs. Margaret O'Keefe, Abbeyside, as a result of an accident, on November 19th last, in which a car driven by her was in collision with a motor-cycle driven by John Timmons, Durrow, Strabally, was dismissed by Justice Skinner, at Dungarvan District Court, on Wednesday.

In evidence Mr. Bernard McCarthy, who was pillion rider on Mr. Timmons' motor-cycle, said they were coming from the Waterford road. He did not see the car until it hit him. They were driven down Sarfield Street. They were travelling at about 25 miles an hour and the car was travelling very fast. He (witness) injured his neck and leg.

In reply to Mr. A. R. Farrell Solr. (Messrs. Farrell and Morris), for Mr. O'Keefe, witness said it was misty night, but was not pouring. He could not say where the accident had actually occurred.

Mr. John Timmons, driver of the motor cycle said: "It was a very bad night and was raining heavily. My visibility was fair. Approaching the Junction from Dungarvan I saw a car coming from the Waterford road. It was doing about 20 miles an hour. The car came slowly to Croft's Corner and pulled up. I thought it was giving me the right of way. Suddenly it pulled out quickly. I swerved to the right to try and avoid the accident but I was hit on the left side of the bike. I was forced down Sarfield St. I received injuries and the bike was badly damaged."

Mr. Farrell—I put it to you that you did not see the car until the collision occurred. Witness—I did.

Garda E. Cross said he investigated the accident at 7.45. The night was very bad but he thought visibility would be good with car lights on. Mrs. O'Keefe was there and he cautioned her under an Act of careless and dangerous driving. The car was 28ft. 6in. from the corner of Sarfield St. and the Tramway Road and was 3 ft. from the kerb. It was faced down towards Sarfield Street. The motor cycle was left 6in. from the corner and to the rear of the car against the kerb. The front grill of the car was damaged; also the bonnet and left mudguard. The headlamp and mid-shield of the motor-cycle were damaged. There was broken glass at the rear of the motor-cycle. He found no mark on the kerb of the road to indicate an accident. The driver and pillion rider had been removed to hospital and Mrs. O'Keefe made a statement to Garda L. Farrell. In reply to Mr. Farrell, Solr. Garda Cross said from the signs he saw he thought the accident must have occurred down Sarfield Street. Mrs. O'Keefe phoned the Garda respecting the accident.

Garda L. Farrell said he took a statement from Mrs. O'Keefe. Before making the statement he cautioned her. In it she said: "At about 7.10 I was coming from Waterford in my brother's Morris Minor. At Croft's Corner I stopped. It was half-way across the road when I heard a bump. I got out and saw two men and a motor-bike on the road. One of them said his leg was hurt. I rang the Garda and reported the accident."

Mr. Farrell Solr. said the evidence of the driver of the motor cycle and the Garda as to where the accident occurred differed. He submitted that on that evidence the (Mrs. O'Keefe) was where she was entitled to be. In his opinion the motor-cycle was in the wrong place.

Dismissing the summons Justice L. B. Skinner said he couldn't see any evidence against her.

The chief mourners were Thomas and Denis (deceased) Bridget and Mrs. O'Halloran, Dublin daughters and his loving grand-daughter Theresa.

NEXT SUNDAY'S CLASH WITH DUBLIN

The City Sportsfield should house a near capacity attendance on Sunday next for the vital hurling league clash with Dublin.

Presently Waterford are riding the crest of the wave and have full points from their clashes with All-Ireland champions Wexford and Kilkenny. Victory on Sunday would practically assure the Deise men of sectional honours and thus qualify for another tilt at Tipperary (probable winners of Division B).

This, in itself, should act as an added incentive for Waterford on Sunday, and despite their rather disappointing showing against Clare in a recent challenge game, must be ranked as favourites for this intriguing clash.

But the Metropolitan's wont of defeat on Sunday and with their strongest possible side on duty, are supremely confident of repeating their 1957 victory over the Deise on Waterford soil.

LAST SUNDAY'S GAME

Not for many years has the Frabur Field, Dungarvan, had such an empty appearance for an inter-county game as on Sunday last, when Waterford scored an easy 1-13 to 1-2 victory over Kilkenny. Admittedly the weather was such that many would not be enticed away from the fireside. Yet Sunday's attendance (gate £26) gave irrefutable proof of the lack of interest in inter-county football in the county.

Had those self-same counter-clashed in the hurling league on Sunday last, the gate returns would have been in the region of £400 to £500. Thus the elements cannot be totally to blame for Sunday's disappointing attendance.

Coming down to the game itself, Waterford's display was fairly commendable. Despite the fact the opposition was weak, the winners nevertheless showed a vast improvement from their last outing. The attack in particular was very impressive, whilst the defence, although not overburdened, bore a 'tidal appearance all through.

Chances of taking sectional honours, however, must be considered remote, as Tipperary and Clare are both unbeaten. However, if Waterford master Clare and Limerick in their remaining games, and Clare defeat Tipperary, then Waterford, Tipperary and Clare would be involved in a triple-tie, thus having a play-off to determine the group winners.

LATE MR. PHIL PURCELL - SEC. TIPP. CO. BOARD

A shroud of sadness swept over all Gaeldom and in particular Tipperary on Thursday last with the news of the unexpected death of Mr. Philip Purcell, Secretary of the Tipperary County Board. Phil, as was affectionately known, had not been too well for some time past, yet his passing at the comparatively young age of 58 came as a great shock to all.

Phil had been Secretary of the Co. Board since 1948, when he took over from the late Johnny Leahy, and presented his annual report at the county convention on Sunday week last—just four days before his death.

In his playing days Phil was one of Tipp's greatest and was on the team that captured the 1930 All-Ireland title. When a recurring injury brought his playing career to an end, he then took over as one of Tipp's executive administrators. In later years he took over as trainer to the county's senior hurlers, and again he reached the top in this sphere.

And so one of the greatest sons of Knocknagow has passed to his eternal reward. His loss to the game is incalculable. His presence at Munster championships fixtures and in all Gaelic circles will be sadly missed, but memories of his greatness, both on and off the field, will live forever. To his sorrowing wife and family sincerest sympathy is extended. Ar deis De go raibh a anam.

KILGIBNET HOLD ANNUAL SOCIAL ON TONIGHT (THURSDAY)

The C.S.M. Hotel, Clonea, will be the venue for all Kilkenny Gaelic footballers (Thursday) when the club hold their Annual Social, upwards on 250 are expected for this function, which, as in the past, should prove to be a stupendous success.

The Kilgibnet club itself may not be termed as a fashionable one, but the spirit that prevails amongst the present members is unsurpassed in the County. Kilgibnet as a football force were opponents of the highest calibre in the not too distant past. But then a lean and barren period followed and eventually a series of different circumstances saw the club go out of football altogether.

But not for long. The material for a good team was still there. Men like Roger McCarthy, Ned Hanley, Tim Allen, Pat Burke, Stephen Kelleher, Jim Cooney, etc., could rightly stand up with the best in the Division. The men in green again took the field in 1959 and swept aside all opposition in their all-conquering march to the divisional semi-final. But here fate deserted and they had a seemingly secure two-point lead whittled down in the last seconds by an Emmets goal that was as freakish as it was unexpected.

1960 was not a great one for the club. But now these Kilgibnet men are starting anew for the coming year. Again they will launch an all-out attack on the Divisional titles (preferably football). The ability to succeed is there—the spirit is there, and, who knows, Kilgibnet could capture the county football crown this year. It would be no more than their just reward.

BALLINAMEELA HAD SUCCESSFUL SOCIAL

Co. minor hurling champions Ballinameela, had a very enjoyable social at Egan's Hotel, on Wednesday week last. Upwards on 100 people were present, including all the officers of the club. The county championship Cup adorned the table in the diningroom and during the course of the social the Western medals were presented to the team members by Rev. Fr. Nugent, C.C.

WATERFORD TO HOLD UNBEATEN LEAGUE RECORD

THE CURRENT LEAGUE ASPIRATIONS OF WATERFORD AND DUBLIN STAND ON TRIAL AT THE CITY SPORTSFIELD ON SUNDAY NEXT WHEN THE SIDES CLASH IN A TIE OF VITAL IMPORTANCE TO BOTH. DEFEAT FOR WATERFORD WOULD SERIOUSLY IMPAIR THEIR PRESENT BRIGHT HOPES OF ANNEXING SECTIONAL HONOURS WHILST DUBLIN, ALREADY AT A LOSS OF A BRACE OF POINTS CANNOT AFFORD ANOTHER SLIP.

With a background such as this to the tie it becomes almost logical to anticipate a thrill consuming hour. Such has been the intense rivalry between these sides over the past few years that a hurling classic invariably presents itself when they cross camans. And Sunday should prove no exception.

At a first glance the balance of power unmistakably tips in Waterford's favour. They are undisputedly the form team, having already disposed of the challenges of All-Ireland champions Wexford and their provincial colleagues, Kilkenny. In both these encounters the Waterford men displayed all the splendour and hurling craft that characterise their game throughout their all-conquering All-Ireland triumph of 1959.

Dublin, on the other hand cannot claim such imposing credentials. In their opening League game they went under

OPPORTUNITY FOR REVENGE

For Waterford too, this game not alone opens the door to sectional honours, but also affords them the opportunity of reversing a series of defeats inflicted on them by Dublin over the past few years. In the '59-60 League, Waterford visited headquarters only to bow before the hard-hitting Metropolitan. Then, who can forget the 1957 debacle when Waterford on home soil had the points literally robbed from them in a game that was reeking with controversy.

These defeats still rankle the Deise men and although they have beaten the Dubliners in the interim only a convincing victory on Sunday will compensate for these reverses.

PUZZLING

Since the announcement of the Waterford team, controversy has raged over the positioning of certain players. Whilst I am in agreement with most of the selectors' choices I cannot help but wonder as to the reasons for the inclusion of Cheasty and Cunningham at midfield and full-forward respectively. The latter choice in particular is a puzzling one as the Dungarvan man whilst a more than able defender, has proved in the past that he is not suited to a forward berth.

Few faults can be found with the goalkeeping and defensive set-ups. With every outing Ned Power seems to be regaining all his goal-keeping brilliance and can be expected to foil many Dublin goal-scoring efforts.

RESTORED

The full-line of Harney, Flynn and Barron is restored after several months. Harney, after a long lay off has again found favour with the selectors and whilst the Ballyduff man

BOHANE RETURNS

Dublin too, will field their strongest possible side. Most gratifying news for them was the announcement of Mick Bohane's return to the defence. The Army man hasn't played in the blue jersey since posted to the Congo six months ago and his inclusion should strengthen the sector considerably. Paddy Croke goes to right full-back and Noel Drummond

BOXING NOTES

The Munster Sealer Championships, which were originally fixed for Sunday, have been postponed until Sunday, March 5th, at Dungarvan. This postponement is mainly due to there having been so many tournaments around during the last month. In fact, T. Sheehan, F. North, E. Bluet and Martin Woods will be in action at Cork on to-night (Friday). On Sunday 19th February, most of the above boxers will be boxing again in Limerick. This show is in aid of the Folly Family Fund. It will be recalled that just before Christmas Mick and Mrs. Foley of Limerick were killed in a car crash, leaving a family of seven children. The Dungarvan Boxing Club are giving their services for this show and deserve a word of praise for their kind gesture in aid of this worthy cause.

JOE HARNEY

to Wexford whilst in their other encounter captured full points at the expense of Antrim. Any further set-backs would prove disastrous.

That the Metropolitan realises the importance of Sunday's game is signified by the serious vein in which they are preparing for it. They have undergone an intensive course of training at Parnell Park and their peak fitness could prove a decisive asset to them on Sunday.

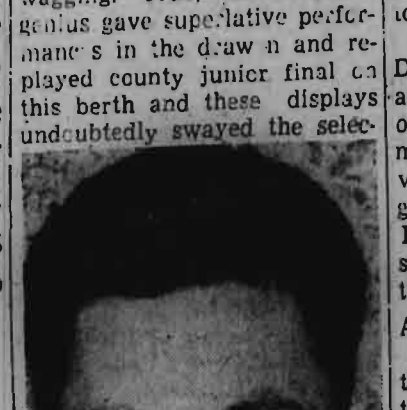

Waterford, whilst not having the same training facilities as the Dubliners should nevertheless be reasonably fit. If for nothing else only fitness sake, the challenge game against Clare could prove a real blessing. Reports to hand indicate also that despite the extended disposition of the Deise forces all the selected players have been keeping in trim.

is amongst the top flight of defenders. Tom Cunningham would, I feel, have been a better choice. Cunningham's sojourn to attack seems a retrograde step and personally I doubt if he will solve a spot that has proved an outsize headache for selectors since the retirement of John Kiely.

The half-line of Joe Condon, Martin O'Grissay and Mick Flannelly is one of the sheet anchor sectors of the side. Morrissey, if in form, has w pers as a defender, whilst Condon and Flannelly are the essence of consistency.

CHEASTY AT MIDFIELD

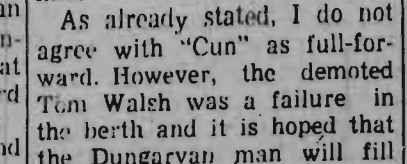

The placing of Tom Cheasty in the interim only a convincing victory on Sunday will compensate for these reverses.

TOM CHEASTY

Philly Gimes is now on the scene with B. Foley and Francis Walsh backing him. Foley has been the find of the year and if he reproduces the form displayed against Clare in the recent challenge, then the Dublin defence, said as it appears to be, will be faced with a major task in trying to curb him.

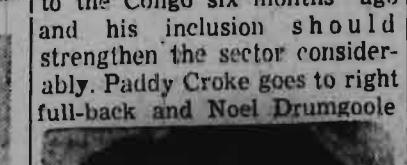

As already stated, I do not agree with "Cun" as full-forward. However, the demoted Tom Walsh was a failure in the berth and it is hoped that the Dungarvan man will fill the bill adequately. Duck Whelan and Larry Guinan occupy the corner berths and both can be expected to capitalise fully on any defensive blunders.

LARRY GUINAN

Amongst the top flight of defenders. Tom Cunningham would, I feel, have been a better choice. Cunningham's sojourn to attack seems a retrograde step and personally I doubt if he will solve a spot that has proved an outsize headache for selectors since the retirement of John Kiely.

passing can be expected to extend Power and Cheasty.

Most striking feature of the Dublin attack is the inclusion after twelve months suspension of Frank Whelan. This former mid-fielder is one of the most versatile performers in the game and together with Bernie Bothman and Christy Leshy should threaten most danger to the Waterford defence.

Summing up, I unhesitatingly take Waterford to win. Their task is not an easy one, however.

WILLIE JACKSON

Des Foley has a new mid-field partner in Eamon, however, as the Metropolitan have always proved opponents of the highest calibre. But ever mindful of the dangers of complacency and at the same time respecting the strength of the opposition, I still think the Deise men are good enough, to keep their unbeaten League record intact.

The Waterford team is: E. Power; J. Harney; A. Flynn, J. Barron; J. Condon, M. Morrissey, M. Flannelly; S. Power and T. Cheasty; B. Foley P. Grimes, F. Walsh; L. Guinan, T. Cunningham, D. Whelan.
