Gala
WASHES CLEANEST
BECAUSE IT CANNOT
TANGLE CLOTHES

The Gala Plus 6 Countess - with these 6 pluses no other machine can match.

- 1. Cleanest wash ever... Because the exclusive "no-tangle" washing action washes every single garment through and through with far less wear and tear.
- 2. The only small washing machine with an electric wringer which stands high enough to wring clothes straight into the sink.
- 3. The electric wringer swings at a touch to wring clothes straight from the sink on to the draining board.
- 4. Sturdy see-al-glass switches operate heat, motor and pump. No bending is needed with the switches conveniently placed at the right height.
- 5. A handsome convenient table top. The wringer removes to give big working surface or to allow the machine to tuck away under the draining board.
- 6. Sleek contemporary look. The new Gala plus 6 Countess has handsome modern lines that will harmonise with your kitchen planning.

West Waterford News

CLASHMORE I.C.A.
 A jumble sale and sale of home and farm produce was held in the School on Sunday afternoon, 10th September. This fixture was a great success though the profits were down on previous years which was attributed to the complete absence of fruit incidentally. We practically the entire country. Apples in particular always command a ready market, but this year we hadn't even one for sale.

Our social, held on the 22nd inst., was also considered a huge success and Maestro North and his band contributed in no small measure to the success of the evening and a goodly sum has swelled the Guild's sadly depleted exchequer as a result.

On the 15th inst. the monthly meeting of the Guild was held in the school. Mrs. O'Keefe presided and there was a good attendance of members. A message of apology was received from Miss Ann Roche, our area organiser, regretting her absence owing to a previous engagement.

Arrangements were made for a whistle drive to be held on the 5th November, and for a 45 drive on the 10th December. After tea had been served, the meeting ended.

CLASHMORE MISSION
 A mission will be opened in Clashmore Parish Church on Sunday next. It will be conducted by Fathers of the Redemptionist Order.

LABOUR PARTY MEETINGS
 Meetings under the auspices of the Labour Party were held at Clashmore and Piltown on Sunday last. The principal speaker was Mr. P. J. Brown, P.C., who asked the electors to vote for Mr. T. A. Kyne. He strongly criticised the policy of the F.P. Party with regard to wages, social welfare, prices, employment, etc. At both centres the speakers were given a rapturous hearing.

CLASHMORE MAN BEREAVED
 Sympathy is extended to Mr. Patrick Baker (retired gardener), Clashmore, on his recent bereavement occasioned by the death of his brother. The deceased was a well known and popular County Clare farmer.

CLASHMORE WEDDING
 The Parish Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel, Clashmore, was the scene of a pretty wedding ceremony recently, the contracting parties being Mr. John Treacy and Miss Mary Moloney. Very Rev. D. Power, P.P., officiated; Mr. James Treacy (brother of the groom) was best man, and Miss Eileen Moloney (sister of the bride), U.S.A., was bridesmaid. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. John Moloney and Miss Mary Cowley, A.C.M. Youghal, was organist.

The bride wore a white ballet length dress and long veil with cascading headpiece and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. The bridesmaid wore a lilac dress with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The wedding reception, attended by 36 guests, was held in Green Park Hotel, Youghal, and later the happy couple, who were recipients of many felicitations and congratulations, left on the honeymoon which was spent on a motoring tour of the West of Ireland.

Salary Increases Are Fleeing the People

FOURTEENWATER COURSEING CLUB DANCE
 The Fourteenwater Annual Courseing Club Dance, announced for Sunday night, October 22nd, has been unavoidably postponed until the following Sunday night, 29th October.

GARDA SERGT. RETIRES
 Sergt. Michael Mannion who has been in charge of Ballymacarthy Garda Station for the past three years, has retired on pension.

LABOUR PARTY COLLECTION
 The Labour Party (Touraneena Branch) will take up their collection at the Church Gates, Touraneena, on Sunday next, 1st October.

MEDICAL APPOINTMENT
 Cork born Dr. A. O'Donovan, Portlaoine, has been appointed M.O. to Seakinsane Dispensary (Kilcooney, Ballinacorney). He takes up duty on Thursday, 5th October.

LABOUR MEETING
 A meeting of the Touraneena Labour Branch will be held at Touraneena, on Friday night next, 29th September, at 8 p.m. All members and intending members are earnestly requested to attend.

WEDDING BELLS
 The marriage took place recently at St. Laurence's Church, Fourteenwater, of Mr. James Hunt, Baron Park, Clonmel, and Miss Mary Guiry, Ballybrien, Ballymacarthy.

The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing, was performed by Rev. Joseph Brackett, C.C. The bridesmaid was Miss Catherine Guiry, sister of the bride. Mr. Thomas Hunt, brother of the groom, was best man.

ADJOURNED
 An application for a revision of salary scales for Mental Hospital Nurses and the creation of nine permanent and seven temporary nursing posts at St. Otteran's Hospital, Waterford, was adjourned to the next monthly meeting of the Authority.

2 1/2% INCREASE
 An increase of 2 1/2% a week was granted to the part-time office cleaner at "Arus Brugha," Dungarvan.

Permanent Appointment Decided On ANOTHER £400 ON RALES
 A permanent appointment of an Obstetrician-Gynaecologist to the Waterford Health Authority at a salary of £1,338 per annum is to be made shortly. This was decided by a one vote majority at Monday's meeting in Dungarvan.

Mr. J. A. Hynds (Secretary) read a letter from the Minister for Health saying the remuneration would have to be settled before the matter could be completed. Mr. Hynds also said the position, if filled, would mean a slight increase on the salary of the present man. The increase would be approximately £400 a year.

Mr. Lannon: It's a very nice way the Secretary said "a slight increase" £400 isn't very slight. I propose the permanent position not be filled. At least we'll save £400 on the rates.

Mr. Charles Curran seconded Mr. T. Gallagher proposed the appointment be made.

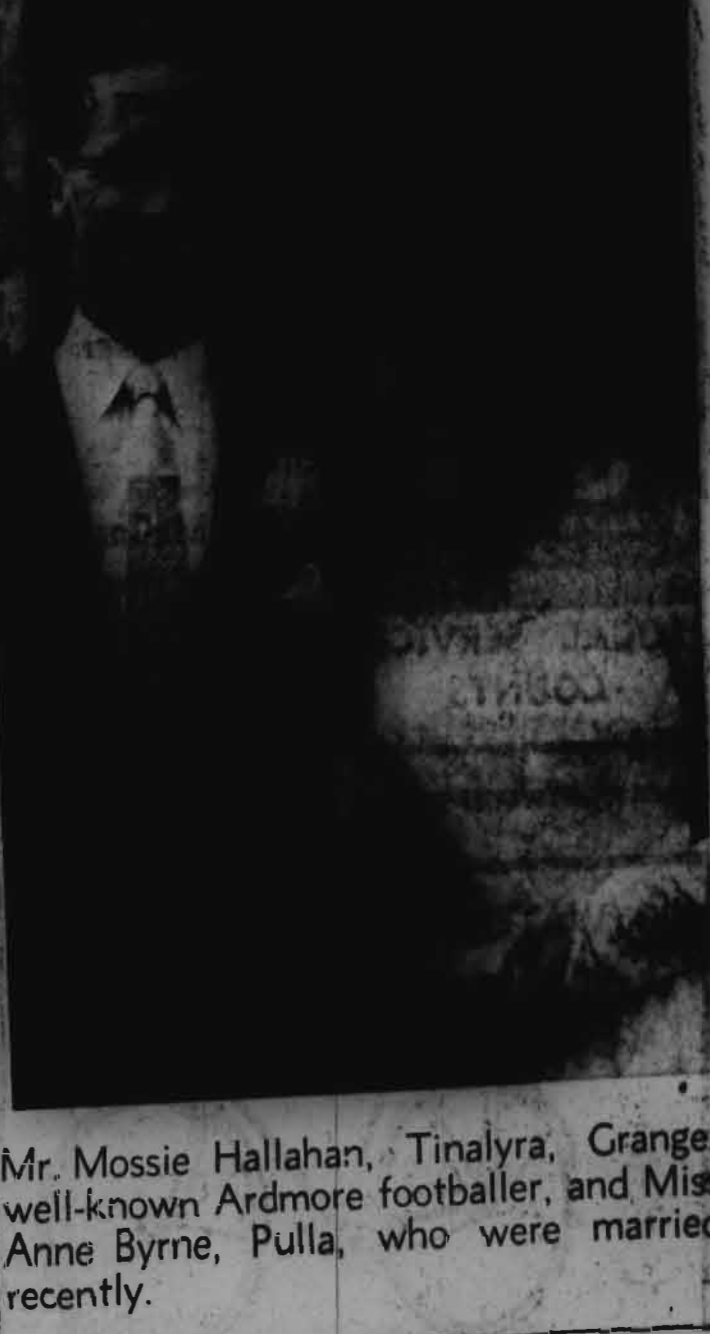

Mr. D. F. Madden seconded Mr. T. Gallagher proposed the appointment should be unanimous.

A vote was then taken and Mr. Gallagher's proposal was carried by six votes to five. For: Gallagher, Madden, Kennelly, Browne, Collins and Power (18); Against: Lannon, Curran, Galley, Hamilton (9).

A report from the visiting Committee of the Authority's Institutions showed everything to be in perfect order. At Ardskeen, everything was in first-class shape and there were no complaints from the staff or the patients. In both the Mental and St. Patrick's Hospitals the patients were also being well looked after.

Mr. Charles Curran, a member of the visiting committee, paid tribute to all the staff for the great manner in which they were carrying out their duty.

WEDDING BELLS

Mr. Mossie Hallahan, Tinalyra, Grange, well-known Ardmore footballer, and Miss Anne Byrne, Pulla, who were married recently.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES

G.A.A. TOURNAMENT
 The opening games in the Tournament for minor hurling and football will be played on Sunday, 8th October. We are pleased to hear that the competition is satisfactory and keen competition is anticipated. Details of draw will be given in our next issue.

TENNIS CLUB DANCE
 We learn that the members of the Tennis Club have now completed arrangements for the holding of their first dance. It is to be held in the Boat House on Wednesday, 25th October, and Kevin Flynn's Orchestra has been engaged for the occasion. Particulars will appear in our advertising columns in future issues.

ACCIDENT
 On last Sunday morning a car being driven to Millinery struck the wall at Shanbally about a half-mile from the town. One of the occupants, a lady, received head injuries which necessitated medical attention. This was forthcoming and the journey was resumed.

ORREACHTAS PRIZE
 Local resident, Mr. Sean O'Curry, has been awarded prize for a humorous poem in the Orreachtas Literary Competition.

NEXT SUNDAY NIGHT
 Dancing fans will learn with pleasure that the popular "Bridestrides" will be on the bandstand at next Sunday night's dance in the Boat House. It promises to be a gain night. Details are given in our advertising columns.

BOWLING
 Owing to the non-arrival of the "Dungarvan" pair, Sunday's challenge score against Ballyduff, fixed here on Sunday, did not take place. A substitute match was arranged between R. Tobin of Tallow and M. Gallagher of the local club and the score went to the latter.

NEW BOAT
 It is expected that within the next few weeks the new senior four on order from Bahrans, Boatbuilders, Cambridge, will be delivered to the club. Arrangements for its dispatch are now being made.

G.A.A. CREW
 A monster Ceil sponsored by the Cappoquin G.A.A. Club will be held in the Boat House on Sunday, October 6th. Music will be provided by the Comeragh Valley Ceil Band. (See our advertising columns for details.)

MACRIS DANCE
 Cappoquin Macris na Feinne are holding their ninth annual dance in the Boat House on Sunday, October 15th. The committee are proud to present for the first time in Cappoquin one of the most versatile bands on the road—The Claran Macnamara Showband (Thurles).

N.F.A. NEWS

N.F.A. ULSTER FARMERS' UNION JOINT CONSULTATIVE COMMITTEE

Judging by the publicity given in national and provincial papers during the last few weeks to the formation of an N.F.A. Ulster Farmers' Union Joint Consultative Committee, it is obvious that this development has caught the imagination of Irish people.

This move has been generally accepted as concrete evidence of the existence of far-sighted policy makers in both organisations. Many observations can be made regarding this joint effort. Firstly, it reminds us that farmers on both sides of the Border have fundamentally the same difficulties to cope with—their size of holding and type of farming being almost identical. Secondly, it shows the solidarity which exists among farmers and it not often realised by others. Thirdly, it shows the awareness of both bodies to the need for closer co-operation, especially in the years ahead if farmers are to receive a just reward for their labours. Fourthly, it typifies the tolerance and common understanding of rural peoples for one another.

In agriculture, more than anything else, it is necessary to see ourselves in a world context and this recent move between farmers on both sides of the Border is a big step in that direction.

After the first meeting, a Press Release was issued, which said:—“The chief item under discussion at today's meeting, was the anticipated effects on the farming communities of the Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland of the applications of their Governments for membership of the European Economic Community (Common Market).”

During this discussion the delegates from the N.F.A. made it clear that membership of the E.E.C. under conditions as they foresaw them would be to the advantage of agriculture in the Republic, whilst the Ulster delegates stressed the need to remain free and proved systems of support until they were convinced that these would be replaced by systems that would be equally effective.

Other matters under discussion were marketing and disease control. Present of the meeting were: W. Dr. J. Greene, President, N.F.A., Meas. Rickard Deasy, President, Jeremiah Buttiner, Vice-President, Sean Healy, General Secretary, N.F.A., Alistair Mac Lurg, B.A. President, U.F.U., George Cathcart, Deputy-President, U.F.U., Arthur Algeo, C.B.E., J.F. Juror Deputy President, J.A.M.C.S., O'Brien, B.Sc. (Econ.), General Secretary, U.F.U.

The next meeting will be held in Belfast early in December.

COST MEASURES LOWERED

Ireland's application to join the European Common Market has an important bearing on many of the items which are currently engaging the attention of the National Industrial & Transport Committee. The principal effects of this Committee has been directed towards ensuring that our farmers raw materials will be available at reasonable cost and that restrictions on farm mechanisation and farm transport will be eliminated.

The Industrial Committee has repeatedly expressed its dissatisfaction with the continuation of import duties on certain items of agricultural machinery. The admission of this Country to membership of the Common Market would leave the Government with no alternative to carrying out the suggestion which the N.F.A. has put forward time and again, namely, that there should be a progressive reduction of these duties which are now long enough in force to have amply served their original purpose of giving the home manufacturers an opportunity of producing the farmers' requirements at the right price.

A problem also exists with wheel bearings for farm trailers. Before the 1961 Budget these were subject to import duties at the rate of 48%. The Committee asked the Minister for Finance to grant exemption from duty on these bearings, and although the Minister was not prepared to accede to this request, he did reduce the duty to 37%. However, the Committee feels that bearings for farm trailers should be completely free of import duty and they are following up the matter with the Minister.

paying the highest tractor tax in Western Europe. Irish farmers have been heavily restricted in the use of their tractors. A recent survey of tractor taxation in European countries, which was carried out by the Industrial & Transport Committee, confirms that our farmers are at a great disadvantage in this respect.

The limited concession on the haulage of milk and livestock by tractor and trailer have done relatively little to reduce the Irish farmers' disadvantage by comparison with his European competitors and the discrepancy will be more noticeable in the event of our entry to the Common Market.

In light of the Government's decision to join this body, the Committee is making a further approach on both sides of the tractor tax and road transport in general.

FERTILISERS

The success of the Industrial Committee's efforts to reduce fertiliser prices is evidenced by the Irish farmers' present favourable position, which is largely due to N.F.A. action since 1956, when the subsidy on Irish manufactures superphosphate was first obtained. This was followed by the introduction of a further subsidy of £4 a ton on superphosphate in 1958 and a similar subsidy on Potash in 1960. As from 1st September, 1961, the potash subsidy has been increased to £5 a ton. The two superphosphate subsidies have been consolidated and will now amount to £5.0 a ton.

Similarly in the case of Nitrogenous fertilisers, the N.F.A. has at all times worked to ensure that our present advantage of having a lower price in Europe will continue. In the discussions with the Inter-Departmental Committee on the Nitrogenous Fertiliser Factory project, the Industrial Committee has been successful in safeguarding the farmers' position. A welcome feature, therefore, in the Government's announcement last month of plans for a Nitrogen factory at Arklow, was the statement that the industry "would make ample supplies available to farmers at lower prices."

MARKETING MOST IMPORTANT: PIGS

It is generally felt that provided we build up our efficiency during the intervening years, there is every reason to believe that we will be able to expand our industry as a member of the European Community. This is also the opinion of the National Pigs Committee of the N.F.A.

The Committee at present, is arranging to pursue a course of action which will help the industry to become more competitive. Meetings will be held with the Department of Agriculture in connection with this. It was also decided to meet the Department of Agriculture at an early date to discuss the raising of pig at bacon factories prior to slaughter.

It was further agreed to take up the matter of Progeny Testing and Performance Testing with the Department as well.

SALES ON THE BRITISH MARKET

Some idea of improvements which are needed in the marketing of our pig produce can be readily seen when we realise that Irish Grade 'A' bacon at the moment is commanding only 19/- per cwt., and even with this low figure we understand that some discounts are being taken. In recent weeks, pig slaughtering in this country have reached about 38,000 pigs. This is something which we in the N.F.A. have been striving towards for some time. We must now see to it that the Irish Pig Producer's response to the call for more production is not going to run into difficulties through our inattention to marketing.

This is the main reason why the N.F.A. put its such a fight for a good Pigs and Bacon Marketing Board. We hope for the sake of the industry, that the re-organised Pigs and Bacon Commission will come to grips quickly with its objective, which is to improve the marketing of our Irish Bacon and other pigmeats thus enabling the Irish farmer to continue to expand his industry.

come on many small farms at Christmas time, but unfortunately this income has been growing smaller, due to a chaotic marketing system.

Our National Poultry has been advocating the urgency of the problem over the years. There is necessity for arranging a system that would ensure the producers a return in relation to the cost of production.

We have also suggested the advisability of encouraging the sale of turkeys other than at Christmas, with the objective of relieving the customary glut.

Our glut problems at Christmas seem to stem from the fact that the bulk of the turkeys hatched out in early spring all reach the market together. Some of the earlier birds have already passed their peak and the difficulty on small farms has always been during the last month trying to retain the birds at the peak they have already reached.

British producers are making a special effort to market birds earlier in the season. This raises the question, can we risk fresh turkeys for export or must all be frozen? The latter seems to be the only answer. Furthermore, it seems that particularly in summer, the majority of housewives prefer eviscerated over-ready birds and with the increase in camping holidays, it seems that if we are to supply and create a demand, we must meet consumers' wishes. For some unknown reason, we seem slightly reluctant to develop this over-ready trade and the danger is that by the time we make up our minds, markets now available will be stopped.

With careful planning it should still be possible to ensure a fair price for all concerned without pricing the birds out of consumer demand. A slightly alarming feature about recent production figures issued, is the increase shown over last season. On the other hand, estimates for the year are reflected in the actual numbers reaching the market.

The main point at issue is the fact that we will, this year, market much less than 1,000,000 birds and although the problem is sizeable, it is not unmanageable. In fact, if we were to export all we have, it would not make a very great difference, provided we did not try to sell all of them in the one week.

Neither breeding nor conformation provide an absolute standard. Whistler never won beyond five furrows and is noted as a sprinting sire, yet Paddy Prendergast discussing his Champagne Stakes winner Clear Sound enquired that the father this Whistler sired the better he is. In appearance Clear Sound takes after his maternal grand sire Tular (sire of Tular), and the source of his stamina is clear.

The history of the Epsom Derby is full of breeding oddities. The 1958 winner Hard Ridden was by the sprinter Hard Stace from a staying female family while in contrast the 1949 Derby victor Nimbus was by Nearco out of the Workingham Handicap-winner Kong. These examples could be multiplied.

Few could cavil at Tular's pedigree but he was such an unimpressive yearling that it was with the utmost reluctance that the Aga Khan was persuaded to enter him in the Classics.

The problem of what ingredients go into the make up of a potential stayer is as old as the turf itself. More than seventy years ago trainer William Day wrote "we often see supposed non stayers get good game horses much to everyone's astonishment" and he theorised that "the short runner is in fact a good honest soundly constituted horse able to stay any distance but who has been run out of his course."

The inference is obvious: nobody can afford to deny his yearlings a chance of Classic honours. However the problem facing the commercial breeder is whether he should enter his yearlings for sale with or without engagements. The current practice is that the new purchaser becomes liable for all the forfeits.

IRISH SWEEPS DERBY 1962

219 Entries will Top Record 1962 Entry of 627

The 1962 Irish Sweeps Derby drew a world record entry, 627, yet despite this mammoth nomination many of the leading juvenile stars produced from the current vintage have not entered and are thereby denied the chance of competing for this £20,000 prize. As a result, breeders are excluded from the opportunity of making Turf history apart from a share in the valuable bonuses offered.

The Railway and the Anglesey Stakes, both run at the Curragh, are traditionally watched for Classic pointers. Yet neither of this year's winners Gay Challenger nor Richmond hold any "books" engagements for 1962.

The absence of the Royal Challenger colt Gay Challenger from the Irish Sweeps Derby entry is particularly regrettable for his trainer John Oxa purchased a stout hearted yearling who is certain to get 1 1/2 miles in his three-year-old days.

Likewise a check through the formbook reveals that only one Royal Ascot winner (Xerxes), one Goodwood winner (Our Gullie), one York winner (Cyrus) and two winners (Anip and Exort) at the Doncaster St. Leger meeting have been entered. The majority of the juvenile winners at these fashionable meetings were bred on purely sprinting lines but the exceptions included Themides, a King's Bench colt from the Nearco made Circle.

These cases pinpoint the gamble taken by even the most knowledgeable owners and breeders when at the yearling stage they endeavour to sift the wheat from the chaff.

Neither breeding nor conformation provide an absolute standard. Whistler never won beyond five furrows and is noted as a sprinting sire, yet Paddy Prendergast discussing his Champagne Stakes winner Clear Sound enquired that the father this Whistler sired the better he is. In appearance Clear Sound takes after his maternal grand sire Tular (sire of Tular), and the source of his stamina is clear.

However the problem facing the commercial breeder is whether he should enter his yearlings for sale with or without engagements. The current practice is that the new purchaser becomes liable for all the forfeits.

Mr. Bert Kerr the internationally famous bloodstock agent avers that he is always pleased to note "important engagements in the catalogue. It shows confidence on the part of the breeder," he says, "and when a well bred yearling lacks any engagements the omission provokes comment."

FINE GAEL ACTIVITY

The Candidates, Mr. William Foran, P.C., and Alderman Thaddeus Lynch addressed at Mass meetings at Kilrossary and Kill, Stradbally, Tramore and Crooke last Sunday. Speaking at Kilrossary, Mr. Foran said that the Fine Gael Party are putting a Policy before the people. The Fine Gael Party are to be trusted to keep their word and to put their Policy into operation. The high-lights of that Policy are to revive the people on the land, the restoration of the B portion of the Land Project that is the reclamation scheme; the provision of houses for people on the land by the Land Commission; the provision of interest free loans of up to one thousand pounds will be made available for schemes for increased production operated in conjunction with the Advisory Service. The election called upon to cast their vote to elect representatives to Dail Eireann for the next five years. I feel it only fitting as an ordinary Waterford farmer to stress one or two simple facts.

of Fianna Fail Policy is now in full effect. They boast of large industrial progress during their term of office. Not one Factory was opened in this constituency of Waterford, City or County, during their period of Government. Fine Gael can proudly point to the great industrial expansion in this area during the term of office of the previous Government.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The Editor, "Observer."

Dear Sir,
 A General Election is now near at hand and the voters are again called upon to cast their vote to elect representatives to Dail Eireann for the next five years. I feel it only fitting as an ordinary Waterford farmer to stress one or two simple facts.

In Waterford we have six candidates seeking election. Of those there is only one farmer, namely William Foran on behalf of Fine Gael. As farmland isn't only right and proper to support him in the coming election.

We have in Willie Foran a man of sound farming knowledge whose advice and assistance when asked for on an agricultural issue is always sound and in the right direction. As a County Councillor he has given good advice in no uncertain manner, expressing his views and opinions regardless of criticism.

He can do likewise if elected by you but he cannot do that without your help and co-operation. Now that you have the opportunity on the 14th October to elect such an able representative of your farming community not alone will you be doing a good day's work for your county and country but at the same time you will be doing it for the benefit of you and I, the ordinary farmer.

Yours truly,

WATERFORD FARMER

"People Under a Wise Government"

Alderman William Kenneally one of the Fianna Fail Candidates for the Constituency in the forthcoming General Election speaking at Ballyrunny yesterday said that many eminent visitors to Ireland during the past year had commented upon the very evident improvement which had taken place in the country's affairs since Fianna Fail assumed office four-and-a-half years ago. One much-travelled, illustrious eminent man summed-up the spirit of the people of Ireland to-day in his verdict that "they were a happy people under a wise Government."

In this election, he said, it should be the aim and the determination of the people of Waterford, as well as of the people of every other county, to re-appoint a Government that earned that splendid tribute from an interested and gifted observer from overseas. The tributes has been earned by Fianna Fail by fair consistent work for Ireland in all spheres of activity. Fianna Fail had leadership unsurpassed in any country in the world to-day. The Taoiseach, his Cabinet colleagues and the Deputies from the constituencies of the country had shared in the toil and strain which is, with increasing rapidity, drawing Ireland ever nearer to its rightful place in the sun.

By applying for membership of the Common Market, this country is about to re-enter the vast overseas market which up to the time of the far-away Elizabethan war of attempted extermination of the Irish Race, had brought unexampled prosperity to our shores. In those distant days Irish ships traded continuously with France, Spain, Italy, Northern Africa, Egypt, Greece and in fact with the whole known world. So much wealth was then changed that in those days we enjoyed a continental standard. That rich, unrestricted trade was lost for three centuries. When Britain tried to restrict it by the Navigation Act of 1651, the Irish Parliament was destroyed and all Irish trade and industry became the target of England's then more powerful than Napoleon on land and invincible on sea. But now, Ireland, under Fianna Fail, has once more taken the first step to regain those lost chances. The terms of our re-entry into this vast market must be made by the wise and capable leaders of our party. We are now on the very threshold of our earnest hope will prove to be another Golden Age for Ireland. Fianna Fail is the only party which can re-appoint the country from this opportunity the fullest benefit.

In Waterford our harbour is almost prepared to share to the utmost in the planned industrial and trading development. Many improvements have already been carried-out while a Passage East a huge development scheme is already under way. Many things have been achieved since the last election, many more changes and improvements are planned for Waterford City and county, all will benefit.

As a time like this it would be foolhardy to even entertain a change of leadership—such a course would be perilous and fraught with untold dangers. "Don't change horses while crossing the stream" is an old proverb; it is one to vividly remember and to act upon to they when we are in the very midst of an advance over dangerous rapids. Our nation now needs cool and courageous minds if we are to reap the fullest benefit from present efforts. Fianna Fail, under its present leadership, spurning danger and deceit is powerfully ready to lead on to victory in all fields of national endeavour.

Each voter shares the responsibility borne by the Government; but and this is more important, each voter should share the hopes and aims of the Government under which each of us lives. Fianna Fail was founded in order to forge into a single weapon the urge of the people to bring access to all who devote themselves to whatever task may be theirs in the new Irish world of peace and progress which the formation of the party made possible. Our destiny is our own to fabricate; the army of destiny is on the march. Its aim is not to destroy but to create, to bring happiness to every home, to give to every department of life a lead in industry, in art in sport. Our country is now attracting people from many lands. They come to it as a haven of peace and plenty in a world where neither are to be had. Let us realise, we appreciate, the treasures that have been bestowed upon us.

It is our duty to support the Government that has brought us to this point. There have been electioneering calls for the win of the help and protection of the Fianna Fail Government. That demands bring to light and strongly emphasize the fact that Fianna Fail endeavours to give every citizen to be 100% Irish, to be 100% loyal to Christian ethics and unadmittedly.

We need today, as much as ever before, a strong, stable Irish Government, to gain and retain every resource and influence that work in the world of today. Such a Government can be provided if you vote 1 and 2 for Kenneally and Ormonde in the order of your own choice, on Wednesday week next—Polling Day.

SEMINAR IN DUNGARVAN

TRENDS IN REHABILITATION

The National Organisation for Rehabilitation is a non-profit making body which was incorporated on the 19th February, 1957, under the Companies Act as a limited liability company. The Chairman and Director is appointed by the Minister for Health and do not receive any remuneration for their services.

One of the first duties laid on the Organisation was to consider and report to the Minister for Health on the extent to which new facilities for the treatment, training and employment of disabled persons were needed. In its report to the Minister the Organisation recommended, among other things, that a medical residential rehabilitation centre should be established. An announcement some time subsequently by Mr. MacEntee, Minister for Health, following a visit paid by him to rehabilitation centres in America, that a national medical rehabilitation centre would be established in the former lunatic asylum, the Our Lady of Lourdes Hospital, Dun Laoghaire, was therefore very welcome news to the members of the National Organisation. The fact that the National Organisation was to be very closely associated with the community in the establishment of the centre was a source of great gratification to our members. It was decided as a matter of policy to take the steps requiring rehabilitation at the centre at the earliest possible date and not await the completion of special departments, workshops, etc. which would be opened for some months and there are at present upwards of 70 patients in residence. There is accommodation of upwards of 100 patients but portion of the ward accommodation is being used, as a temporary arrangement pending the completion of building works, for other purposes. Among the patients are a number of paraplegics who had not even been established, would have had to be sent across to the National Spinal Injuries Centre, Stone a Daville, Buckinghamshire, at considerable expense to the State health authorities.

In these circumstances it was natural and fitting that the national medical rehabilitation centre should have been chosen by the Organisation as the venue for its forthcoming Seminar which will be held from the 25th to 28th instant next.

Rehabilitation has made great strides in all countries in recent years and much of the progress is attributable to the efforts of the voluntary bodies. We in this country were a great deal behind in this respect but our voluntary bodies for the blind, deaf, and other physically handicapped have gradually evolved and it now generally accepted that a haphazard approach to the problem is not sufficient. Modern rehabilitation involves the employment of highly trained and skilled staff and the application of the latest of scientific methods in every phase of rehabilitation. The primary purpose of the seminar is to provide key medical personnel, persons and bodies interested in rehabilitation and interested in the general public, present-day techniques and trends in rehabilitation.

LOCAL MAN'S FATAL FALL

James Mullins, Connolly Row, Dungarvan (57) well-known and popular local fiddler, was dead on admission to the local hospital of Wednesday, from injuries sustained when he fell 40 feet from the roof of Mr. Edmund Barry's grocery store at Italian Square, Dungarvan. It was working on the roof and fell into a part. Spinal and medical aid were immediately at the spot.

To his wife and family much sympathy is extended.

An inquest is being held today (Friday).

Twenty-one Years and Still Going Strong

The adjourned annual general meeting of the Dungarvan Dramatic Club was held in the Club Room, Dungarvan, on Monday.

Despite the many other meetings held on that night there was a large attendance of Club members.

PERFORMANCES A CREDIT

In his address, the President, Mr. M. H. O'Hara, B.A., stressed the value of a cultural society such as the Dramatic Club.

"It is now twenty-one years since a group of enthusiasts set in the Town Hall to form the Dungarvan Dramatic Club," he said.

"Through bad times and good the Club has continued and each year has given us performances which are a credit to the members and to the town of Dungarvan."

RECORD FOR CULTURAL SOCIETY

Mr. O'Hara was warmly welcomed back by the club members following his absence due to recent illness.

The report of the Hon. Secretary, Mr. L. A. Comerford, and of the Hon. Treasurer, Mr. P. O. Murchu, were adopted unanimously and both officials were congratulated on their work.

OFFICERS Elected

At the election of officers the outgoing members were unanimously re-elected for the coming year. President: Mr. M. H. O'Hara; Vice-President: Mr. M. E. Cullinan; Hon. Secretary: Mr. L. A. Comerford; Hon. Treasurer: Mr. P. O. Murchu.

Committee members: Mrs. W. Coward, Mrs. J. Riordan, Mrs. B. Bullin, Messrs. J. J. 'Fogarty', Mr. Coward, Sean Foy, J. Riddigan.

It is hoped to stage a production shortly after Christmas.

LISMORE NOTES

DANCING

The weekly dance on Thursday nights in Lismore Hotel again attracted a large crowd last week. The Prodigal Trio provided excellent music. These dances seem to be losing none of their popularity, even though a lot of the English visitors have returned home.

SOCCER

The season began for the local club on Sunday week last when they entertained a Cappoquin selection. The game provided some very good football, even though the home team ran out easy winners on the score 6-2. Lismore went ahead after ten minutes with a goal by W. Flynn. Five minutes later P. Scanlon nodded home their second goal. After the change over an o.g. by T. Whelan gave Cappoquin their first score. Inspired by this Cappoquin made all the running, but great defensive work by the Lismore backs and some first-class saves by goalie T. Enderston kept them at bay. Then Lismore went into attack and goals by T. Sullivan (2) and P. Scanlon (3), put the issue well beyond doubt.

DEATH OF MR. P. ROCHE

It is with deep regret we announce the death of Mr. Patrick Roche, husband of the late Mrs. Nora Roche, whose death took place on September 14th at Ardkeen Hospital. The deceased, who was in his early sixties, was a member of Ballymacarbray farming community.

The remains were taken to St. Mary's Church, Ballymacarbray on Thursday evening for Requiem High Mass and interment in the presence of the parish priest and the burial took place in the adjoining cemetery.

DOWN AND OFFAL
The Down team will play Offal on Sunday at 2.30 p.m. at the home of the latter side. The game is expected to be a close one as both sides are in excellent form.

NATIONAL HONOURS
The appearance of a sea of humanity long before the scheduled start of this final. The gates were closed quarter of an hour before the game got under way, leaving almost 30,000 people packed in the stadium.

MIDLANDERS
The Midlanders had the tonic of two goals within six minutes of the start of the match.

THE SECOND-HALF
The second-half was a more decisive affair than the first. Offal's failure was glorious and highest honours cannot be denied them much longer.

CASEY SCORES AGAIN
The winning point was scored by Casey, the Square, Duncarvan.

Ballymac' or Ballyduff?

THRILLING FINAL SEEMS IN STORE

THE days preceding Sunday's Junior Hurling Final between Fournilewater and Ballyduff Lower resemble the customary tranquility before the vibrant storm. For when these clubs from opposite corners of the County step on the green...

Never can I recall a game between sides with such existing parity in so many sectors. To try and pinpoint certain advantages that one side may enjoy over the other is as difficult as finding the proverbial needle in the haystack. It is a harsh hurling observer who would outrightly forecast Sunday's winner with even a reasonable degree of confidence, and to me the chances of a drawn final for the second successive year are better than average.

Neutral sympathy, even in the West Waterford may favour the Cheasty-led Ballyduff men. Last year, after two magnificent games they had to bow before Colligan Rockies, and that elusive championship medal seemed further away than ever for the lion-hearted Cheasty.

Now twelve months later these men from the East are again on the threshold of a new year. As in the '60 final, they will again start favourites and with a make or break effort as their mascot are fervently determined to succeed.

Where does this avowed determination place the men from Ballymac? True not even they would begrudge Ballyduff ultimate success, but are equally determined that neither sentiment, sympathy or even all the stars of their semi-final...

RESURGENCE
The resurgence that has today re-ignited their status at the top of the hurling ladder really started last year when a great championship run ended at the semi-final stage when they failed to defeat the eventual champions Colligan Rockies.

LANDMARKS
Kilrossanty, Shamrocks, Geraldines are the defeated landmarks that punctuate their impressive path to the quarter-finals.

IMPRESSIVE
Their form in annexing the Eastern title for the second year in succession could hardly have been more impressive.

CO. JUVENILE FOOTBALL FINAL ALSO AT DUNCARVAN
The final of the county juvenile football competition will also be held at Duncarvan on Sunday.

THE WESTERN BOYS
The Western boys will be endeavouring to give the club its first county title this year, and at Sunday is their last chance to do so.

THE MIDLANDERS
The Midlanders had the tonic of two goals within six minutes of the start of the match.

CASEY SCORES AGAIN
The winning point was scored by Casey, the Square, Duncarvan.

parish-years that have brought painful disappointments to the loyal followers of the men in blue.

STRONG HALF-BACK LINE
Strongest sector of the side is probably the half-back line of Tom Walsh, Mick Connolly and Jim Ahearne.

LONDON GAEL ON HOLIDAY
Presently holidaying in his native Abbeyside is Mick Morrissey, London. Mick, who in his hurling days played in goal for the village, is Hon. Secretary of St. Jarlath's Club in London who won both League and Championship (Intermediate) in 1960.
