CAPPOQUIN NOTES

WEDDING
Jennings-Russell - At St.
Anne's Church, Cappoquin, the marriage took place between Mr. Alex Jennings, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jennings, Ballynec, Drinagh, Co.

Cork, and Miss Beryl Russell, youngest daughter of Mr. Geo. and the late Mrs. Russell, Cappoquin. Venerable Dean Stanley officiated. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. Samuel Hick, wore a gown of pure white chiffon over silver satin trimmed with Gulpure lace on bodice with headpiece of tulle of pearls and long tulle veil.

She carried a bouquet of ner-ines, white rosebuds and small pink carnations. The matron of honour was Mrs. K. Taylor, sister of the bride, and Miss Elma Jennings, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Both ladies wore gowns of pale turquoise brocade and floral headdresses to match. They carried bouquets of pink britton chrysanthemums and carnations.

The best man was Mr. Bertie Warner, cousin of the groom and the ushers were Mr. Jas.
Russell and Mr. Melvin Wood.
Miss E. Cliffe presided at the organ. The reception was held in the Metropole Hotel, Cork and the honeymoon is being spent touring the West of Ireland. Going away, the bride wore a suit of blue and black mixture trimmed with grey fur, with fur hat to match and noisy accessories.

THE LATE MRS.
PRENDERGAST
Old friends and acquaintances in the town and district learned with sadness of the death of Mrs. Alice Prendergast which took place at the home of her sister in Doon, Araglen, on Sunday, 28th inst.

The deceased lady was resident in Lave for many years and following the death of her husband, Mr. John Prendergast, sold the farm and went to live in her native parish of Araglen.

General sympathy is felt for
Mr. William Fennell, Main St., who has been bereaved by the death of his mother, Mrs. H.
Fennell, Knockmaun, which occurred last Saturday.

MISHAP TO CHILD
The three years old son of
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cullen, Shanbally, suffered from a poisoning when on Sunday afternoon, he swallowed a quan-

ty of liquid which he evidently suckled from a milk he was attended to by Dr. White and then sent to Ardkeen Hospital where he responded to treatment and is now recovering.

day and returned thanks for sided.

Ireland was a German Government Scholarship to Miss Brid-fane.

a chimney fire in a shop in the Square on last Thursday. On Monday they assisted in fighting an outbreak in Tallow.

of the Technical School, Cappoquin on the 19th ult, at which a large number in her report, stated that the last year, even though it was a short one was one of the most successful in the Club's history. She thanked the members for their continued support and all functions of the Club during the year. The club treasurer, Miss Kay McGrath in her report showed the club in a healthy financial position.

WEST WATERFORD NEWS

ON THE LANDS
The lifting of the beet crop is now well advanced in this area. A good deal of the work is being done this year by mechanical harvesters.

Several hundreds of sacks of wheat, harvested some weeks ago, have not yet been collected by the mills and is now in bad condition.

SENATE CANDIDATES
Two candidates for the Senate, Messrs. Liam Ahern (outgoing), Duncannon and Sean Brosnan, B.A., B.L., Youghal, are well known in these parts. Both are members of Cork County Council and Mr. Brosnan is holder of four All-Ireland snior football medals, which he won with his native Kerry.

ARDMORE SEWERAGE
SCHEME
Work is now well advanced and the scheme is expected to be completed in the early spring. The manner in which the work is being done is a credit to the contractors (Messrs. Barrett, Cork) and their very competent staff.
When completed the scheme will supply a long felt want.

YOUGHAL BRIDGE
The construction of the bridge proper is proceeding satisfactorily and work is well ahead of schedule. The bridge is expected to be completed by the end of 1962.

E.S.B. DEVELOPMENT
We wish to focus attention on the fact that the Ballycurrane and Kilgabriell areas of Clashmore and the Kil-meedy area of Kinsalebeg are still without electric current.
The reason is that when the Clashmore-Aglish and Ardmore Kinsalebeg areas were being developed some years ago the parts mentioned were excluded because the percentage of acceptors was very high. Instead they were included in the Drum area which is, as yet, undeveloped. An appeal is now being made to the E.S.B. to have this area developed and thus give the people the electricity they require so badly.

It is hoped that the E.S.B. will accede to the request.

HUNTING SEASON OPENS
The opening meet of the West Waterford's took place at Aglish on last Saturday, when a fair-sized "field" was set out to enjoy a good day's sport. On Saturday of this week the pack meet at Clash-more.

HOME FROM U.S.A.
On a brief visit to her native Clashmore at present is Mrs. M. E. Durkin (nee Joice). She returns to the U.S.A. on Sunday next.

Friday last unanimously agreed to sub-let land to a new company, the Dickens Leather Company, Ltd., for £250 and an annual

Mr. John Hewlett, Town
Clerk, said the Dickens Leather Co. required the site to extend their present factory.
Depr. Lee said the site should be given to the Company as they would give extra employment in the town. It was

SAILING TALK

The 11th annual general meeting of the Dungarvan Harbour Sailing Club was held on Saturday, October 28th.

A review of the past season's work revealed that the club continued to go from strength to strength and that the number of competitions, club days and social events had increased, while membership figures rose sharply and club and inter-club racing proved to be an attractive feature with both members and the general public. These were held off the sea front at Abbeyview and attracted large audiences on Saturday, Wednesday and week nights. The number of boats wearing the blue and white club burgee increased from seven to fourteen.

Before the election of officers and committee, sympathy was expressed to the late Col. Jack Hockin, a founder member, whose death during the past season deprived the club and committee of the services of one of its best known and respected members. Many tributes were paid to his memory whose present standing at a mark of respect.

A shortage of crew, particularly the more active type both senior and junior was one of last season's difficulties and may well become one of next season's. Present indications and construction talk result in the appearance next season of a number of "promised" new boats.
Any one who is interested in sailing, and who may be an intending member is reminded that now is the time to master the basic principles and theory of sailing and that during the winter months the club runs a series of lectures and film shows dealing with all aspects of seamanship. A number of these lectures and shows are given, by well known sailing names from other clubs.

The annual dinner and presentation of trophies will be held in the near future, intending members who may wish to attend are requested to hand their names as soon as possible to any of the officers or committee members elected for the coming year. They are as follows:—
Commander, G. Walsh; vice-do., T. McCarthy; Hon. Sec., M.
Kiely; Hon. Treas., A. Flynn; committee, Mrs. T. McCarthy, Messrs. N. Cleary, B. Muleahy,
P. Walsh, J. Mansfield, L.
O'Donnell, B. Walsh.

Economic Commission Comments Favourably on E.S.B. Progress

A favourable picture of the development of rural electrification in Ireland is given in the latest annual report presented by the Secretariat of the Economic Commission for Europe. The report states that the degree of rural electrification is an important economic index and in Ireland at the 31st of March, 1961, 67.2% of all rural dwellers were connected to the rural supply network.

DUNGARVAN CIVIL DEFENCE CLUB Recruiting Meeting

On Saturday night the 14th inst. the annual general meeting of the above club was held at the Park House, Dungarvan. With its typical sportsman's atmosphere, the meeting was a most interesting one, so much so that the appearance of the young men added to the proceedings. A number of older members have in the meantime expressed regret that they did not happen to know of the meeting through short notice on the local papers, however their interests were not overlooked.

A public meeting for recruiting purposes was held by the Dungarvan Civil Defence at the Town Hall on Wednesday 25th October. Existing personnel attended in uniform. The meeting was conducted by Deputy Kynne, Chairman of the Urban Council and attended by T. O'Donoghue, B.E. (Civil Defence Officer), Mr. J. Howlett, Town Clerk, Mr. J. G. Dowling, Co. Secretary, Mr. J. D. Hally, Co. Engineer and Mr. R. Walsh, F.C.A. Guest speaker was Commandant O'Brien, of the Army, who is new Area Supervisor over three counties, Kerry, Cork and Waterford.

GET RID OF FLUKE

The actual loss caused to farmers and the country by internal parasites in farm animals is very considerable since infestation is widespread and causes unthriftiness and death. Every year many sheep and cattle die of liver fluke infestation and very many more live but are found on post-mortem examination to be affected. At the same time thousands of animals carry low degrees of infestation without the owner being aware of its existence.

Abbeyside Labour Party Hold Annual Meeting

Speaking at the annual general meeting of the Abbeyside Labour Party branch on last Monday night, Deputy Kynne thanked the members for their wonderful support at the General Election. He paid tribute to the work of John Organ and Daniel Leminhan and the other committee men of the branch. Going on to deal with Labour's part in the Dail, he said that the country was standing on the threshold of a new industrial epoch if we were accepted as a full member of the Common Market countries, which was not as sure as some people think on account of the political ties as well as the economic commitments then many new regulations will have to be introduced in the Dail that the Labour deputies will have to carefully examine. Labour deputies will be the voice of organised labour in the Dail. With the problems confronting us he could see a getting together of Fianna Fail and Fine Gael because both these parties could naturally look at the problems from much the same viewpoint — that of the employer while the Labour deputies and the other progressive elements of the Dail would look at the position from the workers' side. This would tend to bring the big parties together in a natural alliance and give the Labour Party its place as the opposition.

Irish Priest's Interest in the Welfare of Emigrants

Irish emigration to Britain has been making the attention of Press, platform and pulpit over a number of years. The plight of the immigrants has been a long-exaggerated subject of investigation and their interests, largely academic, nevertheless, a problem exists.

It is interesting to say that the bulk of the Irish who come to Britain find themselves in desperate straits. On the contrary, probably 90% of the Irish quickly find themselves in reasonably good jobs and settle down as useful and indeed, welcome members of the community.

When a million down on paper the remaining five or ten per cent may seem insignificant in comparison, but when considered in terms of flesh and blood, it represents a fairly substantial quota of hardship, distress and sorrow.

The five per cent or ten per cent is comprised largely of people who through ignorance of conditions in Britain, especially London, leave their homes in Ireland with inadequate means for subsistence at least for a limited period or without making any arrangements for accommodation.

Practically alone, without any resources whatever, they set out to provide an eagle in London where these young people would in fact have a roof over their heads and a sense of security until they could find their feet.

Confidently, both with numerous obstacles tackled them with a Cornish tenacity and refused to regard the even highest as an obstacle until finally in 1953 his first month's wages were paid in Tottenham Park by that great friend of Ireland, His Emancipation, the late Cardinal Griffin, and in the following year a further sum for girls was opened in Horse Lane.

Since these hotels were opened 3,612 girls have been accommodated, and later found suitable lodgings when they were established. They were able to make a good start in their new life and retain a link with the Irish atmosphere to which they were accustomed.

Mr. McNamara came to London as a student in the late thirties. He was ordained in 1946 and was immediately appointed as Catholic Chaplain in the R.A.F. at Hendon, Middlesex. It was this early experience of dealing with the numbers of men and women under wartime conditions in London and the Home Counties that developed Mr. McNamara's inherent sense of humanity and his great humanity.

LATE MR. THOMAS MANNONEY

BYZEMORE'S TERRACE, DUNGARVAN

The town and surrounding districts of Dungarvan were shocked with the untimely death of Mr. Thomas Mannoney, 16 Fitzgerald Terrace, which occurred in the early hours of Sunday morning at his residence.

Mr. Mannoney was one of the town's most popular and beloved figures and his passing at a comparatively young age is a sad loss to the Old Boro of 14 great houses.

Although in full health for some time, his death was not unexpected. He was one of the pillars of the local G.A.A. and was a member of the local G.A.A. Club. He was an employee at the Dickens Leather factory since its infancy, and by his unassuming disposition endeared himself to both workers and management alike.

His funeral took place on Monday evening at 8 o'clock at St. Mary's Church on a Monday evening. The Dungarvan Pipe Band formed a guard of honour beside the coffin. The remains were received by Rev. Fr. J. Murphy, C.C., assisted by Rev. Fr. J. Butler, O.S.A., and Fr. Hickey, O.S.A. and Fr. Byrne, O.S.A.

Mr. Mannoney was completely bamboozled the last night and shot a broad grin. Seconds later he repeated the words and Major was trailing away. But the Coy boys with their daunted, sweat-up field and Mr. Mannoney was on the spot to send home a rasper.

Dungarvan regained the initiative however, and amidst the John Coleman crashed fifty yards drive to the roof of the net. John Coleman crashed fifty yards drive to the roof of the net and some points between the net and the half-time score read: Dungarvan C.B.S., 7-0 Mallow L.O.

Mallow were quickly into their stride in the second half. The goalkeepers, John Coleman and Tom Kelly held their eager forwards at bay showing real fighting spirit. The Waterford boys were a hard nut to crack. A lovely piece of combined sound hitting between Tom Kelly, Pat Knight and Jimmy Spratt ended with Michael Power flicking to the net for a second goal. It was then that Mallow made their first effort. Middlefield's goal net in a stream of passes by his forwards and against a goal net but firing defence the players began to feel the heat. They were a nice job, and celebrated the event with another. Cahill has swung over a lovely point and Tom Donovan was set to advantage. The ball, which was revealed in the ball pulling, it was flanked by two able assistants in Niall and Ted Dalton and this trio presented a powerful barrier to the Waterford onslaught. Still Mallow came and Pat McMahon had a further goal for them. The Waterford boys had the edge by the line and the forwards made excellent use of the well-guarded width to relieve their harassed defence. The last corner of the day fell to their full-forward Michael Dolan who whipped a lovely one over the bar in the closing minutes.

The promoting committee were to be highly complimented for the excellent manner in which arrangements were carried out. Despite the number of cars, there was no traffic congestion. Inside in the ballroom everything also ran smoothly.

EMMETTS VICTORY CELEBRATED ON SUNDAY

Sunday night next promises to be a night to remember at the C.S.M. Ballroom, Clonea, when Emmetts the new Gaelic B hurling champions of the county hold their first ever grand victory celebration in front of 2-4 and music will be provided by the Tramore Ceili Band. There will be also a licensed bar. A bus will ply between the Ballroom and Clonea.

HOLLAND ROCKERS JOIN EMMETTS H. & F. CLUBS

Due to the heavy expenditure incurred by championship commitments this year, the club has appealed to all members and supporters to subscribe generously towards defraying the heavy cost of bringing home outside-based players for the county final.

FOOTBALLERS COULD BE CALLED ON

Waterford footballers fresh from their victory over Kildare in the National League on Sunday, week last, face their first task to date when they play Tipperary at the Castle Farm, Lismore on Sunday night.

The Waterford Sunday could well be the acid test in the current league. That win over Kildare has boosted the club's morale no end and a strong over the P. & T. in the county final may be that the county is on the upgrade once again.

But the task facing them is a stiff one. Tipperary have come on a long way in the football world in the past few years and only narrowly failed to reach the final in Limerick. The fact that the Leesiders later held the mighty Kildare to a draw is further proof of the strength of present-day Tipperary.

Waterford supporters can only have bitter memories of the last meeting between these neighbouring counties. Dungarvan was the setting for that fifth-round championship clash last May and the Tipperary side inflicted a crushing 3-13 to 1-7 defeat on the home side. What is not to be learned is that the Leesiders were in Waterford to avenge their defeat.

Now, however, with an away victory to their credit against the Leesiders, Dungarvan will have to be confident of a win in Clonea. The fact that Tipperary have not made an appearance in this year's league Sunday game is really in the county's favour. It is a significant victory for either side to meet in the county final.

Waterford's new selection committee met over on Tuesday night when Sunday's side was chosen. But as I write, the outcome of their deliberations is not known. Nevertheless, so prevailing was the standard of play in the last day that many players are unlikely now. It has been a wise policy to alter a winning side. The committee may be able to name fifteen that did not play in the county final.

Ormonde is unlikely to be replaced in goal but he can expect a busy afternoon from a Tipperary attack that looks very strong.

In his part Waterford's main worry has been to find a proper blinding in attack. Even against Kilkenny weaknesses were evident and score getting will be even more difficult against a Tipp defence that has outstanding defenders in Ollie Dunan, Leo Dooley and Paddy Doyle (brother of Jimmy).

The Tipp men are entitled to start favourites for this game. Past performances have shown them up in an extremely good light and many believe the county is on the threshold of a bright era. Sunday will tell.

But the prospects of becoming group champions still dangles before the eyes of the Waterford men and although fully conscious of the strength of the opposition are confident of collecting another brace of points. On home soil their chances are boosted further and if they get an early lead could account for the Tipperary men.

LAST SUNDAY'S GAMES

After almost three decades Erin's Own's proud record of nine titles in a row has at last been equalled. At Walsh Park, Waterford on Sunday last Mount Mon retained their county title by besting the Polebergy side after an exciting and at times thrilling decider. A record attendance of 18,000 (gate receipts 2620) witnessed this replay.

At Dungarvan Emmetts became Western Junior football champions when they bested Valley Rovers by 2-4 to 0-8. The game was too tough to be productive of good football and was marred by several bouts of fistfights. In fact a few players from both sides were lucky not to have received marching orders from Billy McGrath who at times was far too lenient. Emmetts were deserving winners on the hour's play but they will have to improve considerably if they hope to thwart Tom Cheasty and Ballyduff of a junior double.

SUNDAY'S OIREACHTAS REPLAY

Croke Park should house a huge attendance on Sunday next for the Oireachtas final replay between All-Ireland champions Tipperary and Wexford. The pulsating drawn game of a few weeks ago is still being freely talked of and National headquarters can expect a record gathering for the competition.

Few will deny that Wexford were the unlucky side of the drawn tie. They shot no less than sixteen wides and should have had the issue sown up by the three-quarter stage.

Have they missed the bus now? Tipp are replay specialists and now with John Doyle and Tom Ryan (Killenauke) back in harness their side is strengthened further. However the Leesiders have always proved a hazy team for Tipp and they could do so again on Sunday. Whatever the outcome there should be very little in it at the end but if I must I'll stick out my neck and give the vote to Tipperary.

EMMETTS 2-6 Valley Rovers 0-8

It is almost twelve months to the day since Colligan became junior hurling champions of the West for the first time. But on Sunday last at Dungarvan's Fraher Field these self-same players this time under the banner of Emmetts proved just as adept at football when they broke through the big ball barrier and carried off the Western title at the expense of Valley Rovers.

Emmetts For Football Final

EMMETTS 2-6 Valley Rovers 0-8

It is almost twelve months to the day since Colligan became junior hurling champions of the West for the first time. But on Sunday last at Dungarvan's Fraher Field these self-same players this time under the banner of Emmetts proved just as adept at football when they broke through the big ball barrier and carried off the Western title at the expense of Valley Rovers.

For Emmetts it was a fitting climax to a campaign that from its inception they looked most likely to succeed in. They approached every game in a consistently self-way manner and if they were unimpressive at times they nevertheless had the pliancy to survive over every opposition.

Sunday's final, however, of which so much was expected failed to produce the anticipated thrills and excitement. Again the Emmetts were the better footballing side and enjoyed a big territorial advantage over the hour, but failed to avail of numerous chances and in the end made heavy work of withstanding an opposition that relied for the most part on the individual brilliance of a few players. Not that the result wasn't an equitable one. The Colligan men did enough to merit the tag of Western Champions but the sparse attendance could hardly have been over enamoured at their all-round display.

KICKED FIRST TIME

In the prevailing conditions however, they employed tactics best suited to the occasion. Their defenders kicked first time while the attack if not achieving a great deal of success at least adopted a direct approach. The Valleys, on the other hand had elected to play a close passing game that was doomed to failure against opponents that had little interest in the frills and niceties of Gaelic Football. The Derrinlar men continuously tried to walk the ball to the net and over-elaboration cost them many scores.

No doubt the losers will also talk of Colligan's second goal at a crucial period in the second half. The Rovers were trying desperately to wipe out a two-point interval deficit when Emmetts broke away and scored the decisive goal that finally extinguished the Derrinlar men's already flickering hopes. That score coming when it did, proved a real tonic for Emmetts and if it was of a high variety the Valleys' defence must shoulder the blame for it.

EVENLY CONTESTED

The opening half was evenly contested during which both sides had their periods of superiority. Emmetts, however, utilised their scoring opportunities and deservedly led 1-3 to 0-4 at the interval. At this stage the game gave promise of a thrilling finish as the Valleys, despite trailing by two points, looked capable of springing a surprise.

With Jimmy Hewitt leading it over field and foe at mid-field the Valleys did most of the early second half pressing. Then came the winners second goal which knocked the bottom out of the game and left nothing to be decided except Emmetts' final winning margin.

The fact that they assumed complete control and but for the valiant defensive work of Johnny Doyle together with a not very accurate but accurate in their own attack, their final to manoeuvre scores. Christy Dower was the leading light in the full line but Jim Cliffe and Garry Quinlan also defended splendidly.

Apart from the scheming Byrne in attack, Emmetts one met to their half-back line of Jack Kieley, Eddie Brett and Sean Condon. Brett gave a superlative display at centre-back and completely blotted out Ned Hewitt, whilst Condon who seems to improve with every outing and Kieley gave Brett excellent backing.

Despite the zeal and enthusiasm of Jerry Dwyer and Dick Tobin, the winners were always struggling at mid-field where the Valleys had a brilliant Hewitt and Noel Wall operating. Towards the close both Colligan men came into their own and as the Valleys pair understandably faded, took control.

BANNON MESSED

Although Vincent Byrne's display was as near to perfect as was humanly possible, the attack sadly missed Colum Bannon. His replacement Tom Byrne showed signs of his long lay-off and was only a pale shadow of his usual self. Mickey Walsh on top of the right was the pick of the remainder.

JIMMY HEWITT BEST OF THE TRINITY

Though defeat was their bitter portion, the Valleys can gain some solace in the knowledge that they had the best footballer in view in midfielder Jimmy Hewitt. In fact Hewitt's display was the one real redeeming feature of this final. At times he was subjected to the severest buffeting, yet he continued to dominate the game in the centre of the field.

Veteran full-back Johnny Walsh was another to shine for the losers and Billy Aitchison, J. J. Hewitt and Liam Walsh were others to impose in defence. Although overshadowed by Jimmy Hewitt, Noel Wall did a tremendous amount of effective work at mid-field and also turned himself into a competent defender late in the game.

Though it's easy to be wise after the event, the losers forwards must now be regretting the folly of their attacking movement. Their persistence in trying to plant the ball in the net was baffling, as the Emmetts defenders were clearly in any but a gift giving mood. J. J. Nugent, Sean Boland and Oliver Nugent, however, always tried hard but lacked the necessary support.

Emmetts: P. Fitzgerald; J. Cliffe, G. Quinlan, C. Dower; J. Kieley, E. Brett, S. Condon; G. Dwyer, D. Tobin; V. Byrne; P. Walsh, T. Byrne; M. Walsh; J. Tobin; C. Power, Sub. P. Kirwan for C. Power.

Valley Rovers: E. Cumming; J. J. Hewitt, J. Walsh, L. Walsh; B. Hewitt, B. Aitchison, B. Hewitt, M. Wall, J. Hewitt, S. Boland, N. Hewitt, B. Walsh, J. J. Nugent, O. Nugent, J. Colligan.
