Vocational Education Committee Meeting

At the monthly meeting of the Vocational Education Committee in Dungarvan on Tuesday last, a special allowance of £44-2-0 each to Mr. D. Whelan and Mr. Thos. F. Mather was sanctioned. This allowance, already approved of by the Department is for special activities outside the normal teaching duties.

Mr. Charles Curran said as a result of statements made to him by responsible people in the county he did not think the scheme justified such expenditure and he would oppose it next year.

The C.E.O., Mr. Cullinan said there was more to it than Mr. Curran was aware of, and the duties were not confined to attending Macra na Tuatha.

'Should Provide Supply for Public'

A special sub-committee appointed by the County Council will investigate the water position in the County and present a detailed report to the Council within four months for approval. This was decided at Monday's meeting of Waterford County Council when a letter from the Department of Local Government regarding the Council's decision not to proceed with the regional water supply schemes was read.

The Department's letter stated:—

I am directed by the Minister for Local Government to refer to your letter of the 12th instant and enclosures regarding the water supplies programme and to state that the Minister notes that the Council at their meeting on 11 inst. decided not to proceed with regional water supply schemes as outlined in the County Engineer's report of 20th June, 1961.

It should be brought to the Council's attention that the Report in question while comprehensive and informative, contains no firm proposals for the undertaking of any regional schemes. It merely indicates areas in which, on the basis of estimated demand, regional schemes seemed to be appropriate, and merited further investigation on grounds of cost, technical feasibility etc. The report suggested two lines of procedure, namely (i) the development of two pilot schemes and (ii) a discussion between a Committee of the Council and representatives of rural organisations in the county. As regards (i) it is presumed that what was intended was the further planning of two schemes so that the Council would have before it proposals on which to judge the merits on the basis of cost in relation to domestic, agricultural and other demands.

It is noted that the discussion suggested in the Report took place on the 30th November, 1961, and resulted in a proposal to establish a special working committee to consider and advise on water supply schemes.

The Council's resolution of the 11th instant appears to be in variance with the course of development hitherto, the recommendations of the County Engineer and County Engineer, and the tenor of the meeting with the voluntary rural organisations. It appears moreover, to be premature to come to so far reaching a decision on future developments in the absence of firm facts in relation to particular schemes.

I am in the circumstances to request the Council to give the matter further consideration in the light of the water supply needs revealed by the County Engineer's report and the general considerations urged in the Report, particularly at paragraph 45. I am to point out that it is the Council's duty to formulate a programme for the development of rural water supplies in their area. This programme need not include any regional schemes if the Council decide on consideration of particular cases, that water supplies can more suitably be provided by alternative means by smaller scale schemes undertaken by the Council and by voluntary effort with the assistance of grants.

Mr. Charles Curran said he thought the Department's letter was reasonable and was the essence of democracy and common sense.

Mr. J. D. Hally (Co. Engineer) said it was essential to decide on the policy they were going to adopt in regard to rural supplies and the framework which they were going to work. They would have to formulate a programme for the development of rural water supplies.

Mr. H. R. Dowd said he would like to provide water to the public at an economic price.

Mr. W. Dwyer said he would like to see the water supply needs in the last 5 years.

Mr. Curran said they should refer it all back to the Sub-Committee and confine the terms of reference to group schemes, town schemes and extensions to existing schemes.

Deputy Kyne said it was their duty to provide water for the people and he couldn't see why they should transfer their powers to anyone else.

They had a complete and competent staff to look after it.

The Chairman (Col. Curran) said the Sub-Committee could refer it all back to the Council for approval.

Dramatic Club's 21st Birthday

When the Curtains part on the stage at the Friary Hall tonight (Thursday) the Dungarvan Dramatic Club will proudly present its twenty-first birthday.

HE PRODUCED THE FIRST ONE

It was in February 1942 that the Club presented its first play, "The Private Secretary," by Charles Hawtrey, in the Town Hall. The producer then was Mr. Michael H. O'Hara, B.A., who is currently club president. He has capably guided the Club through the years.

INAUGURAL PRODUCTION

Then, as ever, enthusiasm was high, and the newly-formed group promptly set about securing its first play and getting rehearsals under way for their inaugural production, the following Spring.

Some of the members of the cast of this first venture, which marked the Dungarvan Dramatic Club on its highly successful progress down the years, were: Mrs. Jessie Caward, Messrs. Paddy Murphy, Michael Cullinan, William (Bilby) Quinn, Mrs. Ryla Featherstone, Dymphna Healy, Victor Hadden, Sean Samford.

WELL-TROD STAGE

The Club has produced every type of play—comedy, tragedy, historical, controversial—and during its twenty-one years of existence has never yet missed a season.

They made their appearance on the stage of the Friary Hall shortly after this building was completed, with the play "Love From A Stranger," and they have been playing there regularly since.

THE SET

Splendid stage settings have always been a special feature of the group's productions, and one of the reasons for this has been the sound policy of the committee in ploughing back part of its profits on performances into the provision of stage settings and lighting.

Another reason for the excellence of the stage settings, which have always drawn favourable comment from audiences, is the vast management team of Messrs. Patrick O'Mahony and Liam Comerford, and Mrs. Michael Caward.

MEMBERS

These are some of the veterans who have kept the flag flying for Dungarvan Dramatic. There have been scores of others who "had their exits" and their entrances, and who contributed in full to the Club's success.

CHARITABLE WORK

Perhaps not so generally known is the fact that the Club has during the years of its existence, donated large sums of money to various local and national charities.

It is a source of good work that the Club has decided to hand over the proceeds of one night of the current production "An Inspector Calls" to the local committee of the newly-formed County Waterford branch of the Rehabilitation Institution.

PROMOTING DRAMATIC ART

Formed with the aim of encouraging the progress of the amateur theatre and fostering dramatic art, the Dungarvan Dramatic Club welcomes applications for membership, and encourages young people to join its ranks.

Among the newcomers who will share the boards with the Club's veteran performers in the present play are: Miss Rose

Well Done!

The "Dungarvan Observer" tenders congratulations to this splendid local club, with best wishes for even greater success in the future.

Bullin, who made her debut in "Arsenic & Old Lace," Mr. Vincent Byrne, who plays the part of Gerald Croft, and Mr. Frank Delany.

A CELEBRATION PLAY

When the final curtain falls on the last performance of "The Inspector," the Dungarvan Dramatic Club will promptly set about rehearsals for its next production, which will be staged in late April or early May of this year as an official celebration of the Club's coming of age.

Question of Salary Increases Adjourned

'NO URGENCY' SAYS CHAIRMAN

ON the proposal of the Chairman, Col. Charles Curran, Waterford County Council at their monthly meeting on Monday last, deferred until after Estimates meeting, applications from the Chief Assistant County Engineer and Assistant Engineers for a revision of their present salary scales.

Mr. Curran said that with the estimates meeting pending, it would be advisable to adjourn the matter. In his opinion there was no urgency about the applications.

Deputy T. A. Kyne said the Engineers had been negotiating with the Minister and Council of Managers for the past two years and a figure was now agreed on. They (Engineers) he said, are now further back in their salaries than they should be.

Col. P. Cahill said three months ago he asked for 21%

a week increase for road workers but he didn't even get a second. Their Union sought 15% a week increase but in the end they had to be satisfied with a 1-3/4% and they're not satisfied with this he added.

Mr. Curran—The ones I know are very satisfied.

Deputy Kyne—It's only reasonable and fair that the Engineers' case be discussed. They are two years negotiating and they have come to an agreed figure with the Council of Managers. There are also the last claims for increases to be dealt with this year.

Col. Norman Walsh said he was quite clear on the way he was going to vote but as there were only ten of the 23 members present he felt the matter should be adjourned.

KILMAC' NOTES

Belonging by Birth to Ballyshunock, was well and popularly known Miss Mary Galvin who died recently at the residence of her sister (Mrs. T. Power) in Currabaha, West, following a period of poor health and at the allotted span. Of a kind gentle and affable manner, imbued with a keen sense of humour, she enjoyed the esteem and confidence of all who had the pleasure of knowing her. Sincere sympathy is extended to her bereaved sisters, brothers, nieces, nephews and relatives in their sad affliction during the festive season. A large cortege accompanied the removal of the remains to the Parish Church of All Saints, Newtown where the coffin was received and blessed by the Very Rev. H. Synnott, B.A., P.P. Interment took place the next day after Requiem Mass in the family burial ground in the adjoining cemetery.

To the Sincere Regret of her family and relatives the death took place on Saturday of last week, 6th inst of Mrs. Alice Meehan, 338A, St. John's Park, Waterford; she passed away in St. Patrick's Hospital, do. following an illness borne with true christian fortitude and resignation and at a moderately advanced age.

Worthy member of a good old Catholic family stock of the Barony of Upper Third she was widow of the late Mr. Patrick Meehan, master carpenter, Clonea-Power; who for years, was one of the leading hurley makers in the country and he regularly supplied camans to clubs in Munster and in Leinster. Blessed with many appealing traits of character that endeared her immensely to all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance, the deceased lady was a friendly, generous and industrious parent and an ideal neighbour. A great wave of public sympathy goes out to her nearest and dearest in their heavy tribulation.

There was an extremely large and representative attendance at the removal to the Parish Church, Clonea-Power and at the interment in the adjoining cemetery.

Having spent the festive season at his mother's lovely home, Mr. Peter Walsh returned last week end to the Cross-Channel centre where he works. Eldest son of Mrs. Johanna Walsh, Ballygoarty and the late Mr. Walter Walsh, he is in radiant health and spirits.

TALLOW NEWS

LATE MISS S. CASHMAN
We regret to record the death of Miss Stafia Cashman, Tallow Hill, which sad event occurred last week. Member of an old and highly esteemed family, she was extremely popular and her death is very deeply regretted. The remains were removed to Tallow Parish Church and the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery.

LATE MRS. J. NEVILLE
The death occurred at Dungarvan Hospital on Friday last of Mrs. James Neville, formerly of Main Street, Tallow. Deceased who had been ill for a considerable time, was a member of a highly esteemed family and was held in high regard by all. The remains were removed to Tallow Parish Church on Saturday and the interment took place after Mass on Sunday in the presence of a large number of friends and sympathisers.

LATE MR. JOHN GODSELL
The death occurred at his residence, Knocknagappagh, Killeagh, on Friday, Jan. 5th of Mr. John Godsell. Deceased had been about his work when he collapsed and died in about an hour.

Health Estimate Puts 1/8 on County Rate

County Accountant, Mr. F. J. O'Leary told Monday's County Council meeting that the total demand was up from £262,626 (current figure) to £286,091—an increase of £23,445. This would make the over-all rate for Health and Assistant Health Services 19/11 as compared to the current rate of 18/6.

The Chairman (Mr. C. Curran) said the Estimate had been cut to the very bone and was more satisfactory than before.

Mr. N. Walsh—These figures are different from the ones given at the Health Authority. Was there a mistake then?

Mr. O'Leary—Yes.

Mr. Dowd—Was the County Home over-estimated last year or is the number of patients lower now. The figure for food and drink in this institution is reduced by £600 and clothing and bedding £200.

Mr. N. Walsh—We never interfered where the patients were concerned.

Mr. Curran (Chairman)—We can investigate the matter and find out why this year's figure is lower. But I'm perfectly satisfied there is no decrease in the services there.

Mr. Curran then proposed and Mr. P. Cahill seconded that the provisional estimate for 1962/63 as presented, be adopted, subject to answers to Mr. Dowd's questions regarding the County Home being furnished. This was unanimously agreed to.

WAGE INCREASE FOR FITTERS

A request for wage increases for fitters, apprentices and semi-skilled workers employed by the Council from the Amalgamated Engineering Union and the Amalgamated Transport and General Workers Union was granted.

In accordance with an agreement, fitters will now receive a rate of 5/8 an hour for a 45 hour week and semi-skilled workers an increase of 8d. an hour.

VILLIERSTOWN WATER SCHEME

The Council decided to go ahead with the water scheme originally planned for Villierstown.

Co. Secretary (Mr. J. G. Dowling) said at the request of the Department, a survey was made in 1960 and the Council had not made up their minds as to what action they would take.

The Secretary also said preparations for the contract documents for the Villierstown sewerage scheme were also proceeding.

18-Year-Old Boy who Panicked

THE story of how an eighteen year-old farm labourer, Patrick McGrath, of Boolavounteen, Ballymacarby, panicked when pursued by a Garda on an official motor-cycle and allowed his own motor-cycle to run unattended along the road was told to Justice L. B. Skinner at Dungarvan District Court on Wednesday.

McGrath was fined a total of £5-10-0 on three charges, was given the benefit of the P.A.O. on another and ordered to pay 32/- expenses.

"RETROGRADE STEP TO CHANGE LIBRARY CENTRE"
That there was never any suggestion by the Libraries Committee to change the centre of the County's Branch Library from Lismore to Dungarvan, was stated by Col. N. Walsh at Monday's County Council meeting.

Deputy Kyan said if they were going to erect a new library in Dungarvan in keeping with the size of the town, the Urban Council thought they might make it the Library Centre.

Col. C. Curran said it would be a retrograde step to move it from Lismore. "They have little enough as it is" he said.

REPAIRS TO TALLOW AND KILMEADEN COTTAGES
The Council unanimously agreed to the expenditure of £380 on repairs to 18 cottages in Tallow and £275 on 8 cottages in Kilmeaden.

WATERFORD HEALTH AUTHORITY WANTED OFFICE MESSENGER
Wages £2-15-0 per week. Applications to the Secretary, Anis Brugha, Dungarvan, not later than Friday, 19th January, 1962.

In a statement defendant said he had got a loan of the bike off a friend. It was very old and he tried to get it into proper running order. The night in question was the first time he had used it. When the Guard followed him he got excited and ran across the fields. He later told his parents and they advised him to go to the Guards.

Mr. A. V. Maher, Solr., for defendant, said his client was only travelling at ten miles an hour when he jumped off. He didn't realise the seriousness of the offence at the time.

Judge Skinner fined defendant 5/- each on charges of having no rear lights and no number plates, £5 for no insurance, and £1-12-0 legal expenses. He dismissed a charge of dangerous driving and gave him the benefit of the P.O.A. for having no white light and driving a dangerous vehicle on the road.

B.B.C. Programme Will Feature Co-Op.
An interesting visitor to these parts recently was Mr. Humphrey Barron, the BBC's agricultural producer for Northern Ireland. He called on all the Co-operative Societies in and around Dungarvan during his visit, the purpose of which was to collect material for a radio programme on co-operation in Ireland.

His findings will be knit into a programme to be broadcast from the BBC later this month.

IRELAND OF THE WELCOMES

In "A Perfect Day" featured in the January-February issue of the Bord Fáilte magazine, "Ireland of the Welcomes," Tíriogh O'Brien describes the thrills of fishing for brown trout in Donegal. Monk Gibbon summarises the donkey's temperament as "a mixture of a rather cynical acceptance of life and firm obstinacy in face of the unacceptable." He deplores that donkeys are disappearing from many parts of the Irish countryside.

The Irish country town pub, as described by Tom Corkery as "the most homely and friendly sporting institution in the world." The colourful life of the self-appointed chieftain of Dublin's nineteenth century ballad-singers is told by Philip Rooney in "Zozimus".

The issue also includes illustrated articles on the Book of Kells and the attractions of popular resorts around our coastline.

REPAIRS OF CLOCK TOWER

At a recent meeting of the Youghal U.D. Council, the Town Surveyor (Mr. J. O'Regan, B.E.), submitted an amended estimate for external and internal repairs to the Clock Tower. The cost of the former is £2,094 and the latter £287, being a total of £2,381. To execute the external repairs the E.S.B. cables would have to be removed at the Council's expense. Before making a definite decision it was agreed that the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, Town Clerk and Town Surveyor would inspect the place and submit recommendations to the Council.

PUBLIC LIGHTING

The matter of the town's public lighting was discussed at the U.D.C. meeting recently and the members are to make a tour of inspection of the existing system to ascertain that additional lights are required, and report back at next Council meeting. Certainly some parts of the town are very badly lighted, especially in the back streets.

PROTECTION CHAIN ON QUAYS

The Youghal Harbour Board have been obliged at considerable expense to renew the protection chains on the Youghal Quays. These chains are placed for the protection of fishermen and it is deplorable that they are being constantly removed by unauthorised persons. Recently some chains were padlocked to the iron posts, but the locks were smashed and the chains removed. These acts of vandalism are widely condemned and persons having information that would lead to the apprehension of the guilty parties would be acting as good citizens by passing on same to the Garda or Harbour Board Secretary at the Town Hall.

Kilgobinet Dramatic Society

The Kilgobinet Dramatic Society are again in the news this time with a second full-length play entitled 'Johnnie's Breeches'. It is only just one week since this club produced the three-act play 'The Country Boy'. This must surely be a great achievement in any one season and it will be recalled that only two months have elapsed since the annual meeting when the dramatic society was formed.

'Johnnie's Breeches' a hilarious comedy, which brought laughter and merriment from start to finish, had an entirely new cast, with Mr. John Kiely who had been in action with the Old Parish Players until he came to reside in the Kilgobinet parish and with talent so limited John has proved a big asset to the club.

The cast in order of appearance, are as follows: - Mrs. Bgt. Reman, Miss Mary B. Hanley; Mary (her servant) Miss Julia Hickey; Ned Reman, Mr. John Kiely; Peter Reman, Thomas Whelan; Johnnie, Liam Fitzgerald; Martin, Eamonn Byrnes; Peggy, Miss Maire Bowe.

The cast proved to their experienced colleagues in 'The Country Boy' that they too, could do full justice to their production.

Rev. J. Lacey, C.C., Kilgobinet, who has done so much since he came to Kilgobinet, is really an energetic young priest and has endeared himself to every member of the Club and has been responsible for these two plays. Fr. Lacey also produced a little act with 'The Croppy Boy', which was very effective. Those taking part were Messrs. James and Thomas Whelan and James Cooney. We also had 'Hole in the Bucket' and a selection of Irish music was rendered by Mr. Berny Power, while Miss Breda Power danced a hornpipe in her own traditional style. The final curtain brought rounds of applause and now we can only wait to see them in action in the various halls throughout the county.

LOCAL YOUTHS

ON LARCENY OF CIGARETTES

Two Dungarvan youths appeared before Justice L. B. Skinner at the local Court on Wednesday on a charge of the larceny of a 200 carton of cigarettes, the property of Mr. Michael O'Kelly, Shop-keeper, Emmett St., Dungarvan.

Mr. O'Kelly, in evidence, said that besides carrying on a grocery business he also sold cigarettes and paraffin oil. The oil was kept in the back of the house and when required by a customer he would have to leave the shop unattended whilst getting it.

Sergt. J. Browne said he interviewed one of the defendants and told him he was investigating the larceny of cigarettes from Mr. O'Kelly's. In a statement, he (defendant) said that in late November or early December he and the other defendant planned to take cigarettes from O'Kelly's. They got a bottle and asked Mr. O'Kelly for oil. When he was gone in to the back the other defendant took a 200-carton of cigarettes which they later divided down 'Quanns'.

Sergt. Browne said he also interviewed the other defendant and he admitted the theft. His father, however, told him in his (witness) presence that he shouldn't have admitted it.

Judge Skinner said he took a very poor view of the father telling his son he shouldn't have admitted the crime. "It is a very wrong attitude for a father to take," he said, "but if he wants to train him to be a criminal, it is a very good way of bringing him up."

The Justice was then told that only one of the youths had paid compensation. He gave him the P.O.A. and adjourned the case against the other for one month to see if compensation is paid. "They were very lucky they were caught so quickly," he added.

President Reviews 7 Years of Progress

The time has come for me to address you for the last time as President of your Association and perhaps we might pause to reflect back and see what progress has been made since we last met in this Hall seven years ago almost to the day.

On that occasion I had the honour of making the proposal that a countrywide and all-embracing National Farmers' Union be formed. Little did I realise that day that the unanimous support for this proposal was to create for me the destiny of leading the new organisation to its present state of adolescence. Now, seven years later, I hand over to my successor, Mr. Richard Deasy, who, I am sure, with your support, will see our N.F.A. progress through a short but bright adolescence to a strong and mature maturity.

This is our first National Convention, and I have much pleasure in welcoming you all, and commending to you the important task that lies before you. This Convention could well prove to be a further milestone in the history of our organisation. In any event, it must be a definite turning point first in halting and then in reversing the adverse trend of farm price structure. Your new President and Council will be expecting from you a mandate as to future policies in support of this end.

I am happy to see amongst our distinguished guests, Mr. M. J. Ryan, President of the Ulster Farmers' Union. His distinguished predecessors, and in particular Mr. A. G. O'Connell, have always been very helpful to us in the N.F.A. Everyone in the hall, I am sure, will give him a real welcome to Dublin as an expression of the pleasure that we in the South feel at having formed a formal link between our organisation and the Ulster Farmers' Union in the North. The meetings that have taken place so far have been very useful and I believe that this usefulness will grow and that the link will become stronger with the years that will likely ensue in the future. I am sure there is nobody in the hall who appreciates more than Mr. MacLurg the heartbreaks and tribulations that are part and parcel of being a farmer's organisation. Unified, and with the much towards building this link through the years. We are happy to have you with us, Mr. Ryan.

It is also a source of much pleasure that we have with us Mr. Roger Savary, Secretary-General of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers, who has found time to leave his busy headquarters in Paris to be with us on this occasion. Mr. Savary is a member of our Executive in Ireland and he has always been ready to help us and assist in any way where our interests are concerned. Mr. Savary has had the very onerous duty of directing the affairs of this World Organisation of farmers which attempts to play the same role at International level as our own organisation does within our own domestic economy. Mr. Savary's reputation stands very high in the hierarchy of the International Organisation, such as the United Nations, F.A.O., G.A.T.T., O.E.C.D., and others, to mention a few.

hearing from him later, and in the meantime, we are honoured to have you too, Mr. Savary.

I would not like to let this occasion pass without a special welcome to Mr. Hary Meredith, who was Chairman on the occasion seven years ago when the gathering launched our organisation, and he has since shown an aggressive interest in its work.

If our N.F.A. over the past years has not achieved all that might be desired, it has nevertheless made a tremendous impact. As a vocational organisation, I believe it is rated very high indeed by all other vocational groups, both inside and outside of agriculture. Through these past seven years we have remained true to our original objective which aimed to secure for agriculture a fair and equitable position through the force of reason and supported argument. This approach has won for our farmers many rewards although, regrettably, these have shown themselves to be quite inadequate in halting the progressive deterioration that we have suffered since 1953. I hope you can accept, however, that within these limits N.F.A. has been a real asset to farmers.

The fact that this Convention promises to be so well supported is in itself recognition of this fact. More important perhaps does the interest in this Convention indicate that a very great deal more remains to be done. If I am any judge of the mood of our countryside during these past months, it is reflected in the thoughts of those delegates present, who have come to say and give notice that something concrete must be done by one means or another.

For myself, I have always believed that it was sufficient to make a just case on behalf of the agricultural industry to ensure just treatment, and I have in the past resisted unsupported resolution and force as a desirable way of reaching our objectives. I would hesitate now to use the expression that "my patience is exhausted," but it is becoming clearer to me that my view is no longer representative of the mood of our members, and who can blame them.

Demands and force have been shown to achieve success after success for other sectors of the economy, and the consequences of these demands has been constantly cushioned on farming. At ready following the substantial eight round, farming costs are increasing while even now prices negotiated for farm produce are still falling. Manufacturers and processors to meet this eight round wage increase, are attempting to purchase their raw materials at low prices, and what cannot be offset in this way is passed on to the consumer in higher prices for their products. In this way the farmer is being hit twice, in getting less for his raw material and paying more as a consumer.

Because of the circumstances in which farming finds itself, those farm workers and farming people generally who devote their skills to agriculture are inadequately rewarded for their services. The incentive to get out of agriculture is on to be growing every day, and this would appear an extraordinary state of affairs for our main national industry. It is no defence for the Government to say that our agriculture is experiencing difficulties on the export market, which make it difficult to increase farm prices. One can appreciate the Government's difficulty on prices perhaps, but surely that difficulty makes it all the more imperative that the farmers be relieved of the burden of increased costs. In any event, the inference seems to be that if you are a non-exporting, protected, home enterprise, the sky is the limit and you can have all that you ask.

It is this continuous practice that is increasing the economic pressures on farming at a time when agriculture clearly cannot afford it. Surely the fact that our agriculture is our main exporting industry is the strongest of all arguments for taking the pressures off agriculture and not piling them on.

The Convention will provide you with the opportunity to discuss methods by which costs may be reduced, and clearly rates, tractor taxation, credit interest, are a few amongst the most obvious methods by which this could be equitably achieved for all engaged in farming. Anyway, it is clear at the moment that the present trends against agriculture no longer add up to reason, and the danger point has been reached. It will, in my opinion, be a tragedy of the highest order if the present restive mood of the countryside is not placated by administering to our vital agricultural industry a measure of reasoned justice.

Let me hasten to add that there is no political interference in these comments and that our Association rejects in the strongest possible manner suggestions that have been publicly voiced that, in our demand for comparable standards with other sectors, these demands are politically inspired. Such pronouncements are yet a further attempt in another way to discredit your organisation, and were they successful, you would be left without any voice at all, which is what a lot of people in this country would like to see.

Recognition must be given for the measures that are already implemented, such as lower cost manures, etc., but these are not enough. It must also be remembered that these are instances where lower cost manures may in themselves be reflected in lower prices for farm products and where these exist there is no direct benefit to the farmer. In determining agricultural income, our official statistics only make allowances for seed, feed and manure prices and fail to make any recognition whatsoever of the tremendously wide range of input costs such as machinery, fuel, chemicals, twine and other materials of all kind. The seed, feed and manures are in fact only one-third of the farm costs recognised in the National Income Accounts.

Our agricultural statistics are appallingly inadequate. We must, before long, get together with the Government Economic Sections to attempt to determine some satisfactory yardstick by which we can measure trends in agriculture more accurately than is apparent at the moment. Since our estimate of £83 million deficit since 1953, we have had discussions with the Taoiseach and the Department of Agriculture, and we are still working to get a measure of agreement on the relative position of agriculture today by comparison with earlier years.

It is our view that input costs to agriculture have been inflated by millions of pounds over recent years and these millions have to be taken off the farmers' back now, because tomorrow is too late. I believe we are now justified in using what measures are necessary to this end. I suggest that a start be made by relieving those burdens that are wilfully imposed on an impoverished agriculture by our own legislators. It is within our Government's control to rectify these impositions even if they cannot control export prices.

If rapid solutions along these lines fail, either because of our own indifference, or because of political failure to go against the only honest advice to our younger people might be to get to 'heck' out of farming as fast as they can.

You are the people who will determine the course of events. Your Council is there to do your bidding if you give them the moral and financial backing to do the job. Sitting on the fence must now be regarded by us all as a crime against agriculture.

In this short review I should perhaps make some mention of our Association's role in the international sphere. I believe that our contribution at this level can be as important to our individual farmers as what we might achieve for their interests at our own domestic level.

We have extended our financial resources to the limit to participate as a full partner with other national farm organisations in determining for the world a more sane use of the much needed agricultural resources. Through our membership of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers we have been able to have our views presented and pressed at a high level in this very wide range of international organisations. Within the past year or so, the United Nations and F.A.O. are jointly embarking on a World Food Programme, which meets in some limited way the aspirations of I.F.A.P. We are not satisfied that their initial programme is anything like adequate to the task that lies before them, but we hope to be a stimulus in their thinking to extend the programme to an adequate level.

All these matters are of very definite importance to individual farmers throughout the country, although I appreciate that they find difficulty in recognising it.

With the advent of our becoming partners in the European Common Market, your Association will require to be as active in Brussels as we now are in Dublin. With the advent of a common agricultural policy for Europe, Brussels will then be the nerve-centre. This will require from all Irish farmers moral and financial support to a high degree if we are to meet adequately the clear obligation that we have in this sphere. At the moment, I do not regard us as being adequately organised to meet the challenge that immediately face us, e.g., the Dutch farmers devote as much finance to their activities in Brussels as our total income and yet Holland is a mere stone's throw away from Brussels.

It must surely be peculiar that N.F.A. should have a better working arrangement with the Ulster Farmers' Union than that which exists with some of our own farm organisations here in the South. The determination of the real motives that are preventing farmers from co-ordinating and uniting their limited resources is something that has constantly baffled me. If this is due in some part to attributes or defects in myself, at least now that obstacle will be removed. Certainly we are not short of common objectives where all of us could strive together towards their achievement. As I have suggested earlier, all of us could join in the common objective of relieving the undue pressures of local taxation on agriculture. Here, and in other spheres, there is much benefit to be found from unity of purpose.

For myself, it has been a great honour and privilege to lead your organisation through the early years. It has been a wonderful experience that I shall always cherish. I hope now as a New Year resolution that we can all join together with increased resolve and strength to back and support my successor, who will have the onerous responsibility of taking N.F.A. through what we hope will be a short adolescence and then will emerge a young, viable, aggressive adult.

I am appreciative and thankful for all the support and friendship that has been extended to me. I do not claim more for my contribution, beyond the fact that, in accepting the responsible post of the Presidency I have tried hard and worked hard to realise the obligations associated with the honour.

I believe that I have seen N.F.A. growing and creating a vital impact on Irish life. This has been the measure of our effort and our reward to date, and our stand, our case for agriculture, we are not doing so in the narrow sense of the farming interest alone. Our rural provincial towns and much of our cities are dependent on our maintaining in agriculture a satisfactory purchasing power. If this purchasing power is now to be denied us it's adverse influences will be felt much more widely.

In this short address I have confined myself to the past and leave you with the thought that the objective of this Convention is to determine "Where do we go from here?"

Whatever course or policies you may decide, I am certain that they will require the energy and enthusiasm of a new President to implement them. I believe that in Mr. Richard Deasy you are fortunate to have a man well-appointed for this task. May I wish you and he a happy and hopeful New Year, and join with you in a common resolve to dedicate our efforts towards making this more than a meaningless empty phrase.

It is fitting that I should hold for my last formal act as President a very pleasant task. It is to pay a very personal tribute to Mr. Healy, Dr.

Smith and all the others who compose together a wonderful staff. I wish all of you could have had the opportunities for as keen an appreciation of our great debt to these dedicated men and women. Many of them have been with us since the beginning and their enthusiasm and untiring efforts are as dedicated today. They have been, and are, completely identified with our aspirations and endeavours to see the National Farmers' Association make of Irish agriculture the staunch keystone of our economy.

It has been for me a great privilege to work amidst all their tact, energy, enthusiasm and good humour. N.F.A. will not go far wrong in the hands of such executive control. Long may they continue to serve it.

EARMARKS ON SHEEP

In some districts, sheep owners may still mark their sheep with distinctive earmarks as a means of identifying their flocks. Sheep so marked are not in demand for export to Britain or the Six Counties, where their earmarks might be confused with the official marks applied to imported store sheep participating in the British Fatstock Guarantee Scheme (i.e. code letters tattooed on the right ear, and either a dotted tattoo mark or a punch hole surrounded by a dotted tattoo mark on the left ear).

Farmers and other persons in this country who may have occasion to mark sheep for identification purposes are accordingly advised to refrain from using earmarks which are liable to lessen the export demand for, and reduce the potential market value of, the sheep.

The foregoing statement has been issued by the Government Information Bureau on behalf of the Department of Agriculture.

BALLYDUFF WIN TOURNAMENT FINAL

Ballyduff 4-3; Cappoquin 1-2

In brilliant sunshine at Cappoquin on Sunday last, Ballyduff defeated Cappoquin in the final of the minor hurling tournament sponsored by the local club. Ballyduff fielded all but one of their championship side but Cappoquin had to field without regulars Murphy, Mason, Ahearne, Fraher, Canning and Foley.

Play opened on a lively note, the ball swinging from end to end. Cappoquin opened the scoring with a point by O'Connor before Ballyduff replied with a brace of points off frees. Shortly afterwards they went further ahead with a goal from a miscalc. At this stage, Ballyduff were on top at midfield where Shamie Flynn and Eddie Cunningham were outstanding and the numerous Cappoquin switches in this section were all to no avail.

Ballyduff, turning over with at 1-2 to 0-1 half-time lead attacked strongly from the restart and at the three-quarter stage held a comfortable lead. They Cappoquin made their best effort. P. M. Carthy and Mick Quinn were introduced into the game and John Healy was switched from full back to centre-front. These changes put new life into the losers and from then to the end Ballyduff had their backs to the wall. But poor finishing cost them many scores and they only succeeded in adding 1-1 to their tally.

Ballyduff were brilliantly served by Flynn, Cunningham, O'Neill, Cronin, Moloney and Hanley, while Cappoquin had sterling performers in Coffey in goal, who drew rounds of applause for some great saves, Healy, O'Brien, Wilkinson, Stapleton, and McCarthy. W. Fitzgerald refereed.

Ballinacourty Shock Champions

Ballinacourty 2-3 Emmetts 0-2

"THE bigger they are the harder they fall" is a phrase that has always been connected with members of the pugilistic world. But it can now be aptly applied to the junior footballers of Ballinacourty, who despite many pre-match hazards and setbacks tore the form book to shreds by decisively beating Western and County champions Emmetts in the winter league at Dungarvan on Sunday last.

And if this result heralds in the new year on an unexpected note, no one can denounce or deride the winners of the merits of victory. Theirs was a wonderful display of determination and skill that had Emmetts floundering and made it easy to understand why they are unbeaten in the competition to date.

But yet, shortly before the game one couldn't have given much for their chances. Donal Brennan and Jim Hayes were definite absentees all week but the last minute defections of Mick Kiely and Tony Mansfield seemed to put the tin hat on their plight altogether. Emmetts on the other hand weren't afflicted by any such worries. They were powered by their strongest possible 15 and carefully looked "good things" to collect the points.

UP AGAINST IT — But before the game was very long on it became clear to all and sundry the champions were up against it. Ballinacourty coolly and methodically went about their task and the manner in which their attack linked the Emmetts defence with almost nonchalant ease made one wonder if seeing was really believing. In that opening half in particular there was only one team in it. With Nicholas Power and Eadie Hogan reigning supreme at midfield the winners were constantly on the attack. Their forwards inter-passed the ball with delightful precision and if their finish even reasonably

HOPES BURIED

But exactly 60 seconds later came the score that finally buried Emmetts' hopes deep in the Old Boro mud. Ballinacourty were awarded a free about 25 yards out and Pakie Hogan's fierce drive went whizzing to the Colligan net past the groping wall of Emmetts' defenders. Undoubtedly that score sealed the losers' fate. They made frantic switches in a vain effort to save the game. Sean Condon moved from defence to attack. Colum Bannon was brought further out-field and Mickie Walsh took over from Condon at left-half back.

But Ballinacourty were not to be denied. Leading by seven points, they "had their tails up" and gave as good as they got in a thrilling closing quarter.

SATISFACTORY

Over all the game was a highly satisfactory one. The football was of a surprisingly good standard considering the time of the year and the result was certainly the greatest possible flip to the Ballinacourty Club.

NARROW ESCAPE

The winners took up the running from the start and Emmetts had a miraculous escape after only five minutes when Johnny Hogan worked his way through to the fringe of the square but blazed the ball inches outside the post. Two minutes later Peter Power was fouled but Jack Elstead vainly tried for a goal off the resultant free.

Elstead made amends in the 23rd minutes when he scored a good point from far out and he cleared Whelan for a second minor in the 20th minute. Dick Tobin replied with a point from a free in the twenty-fifth minute but with seconds Peter Power placed Jack Elstead for a wonderful goal. Two minutes before the interval Johnny Hogan stretched his lead with another well-taken point that left them leading comfortably by 1-3 to 0-1 at the break.

Ballinacourty restarted with Johnny Hogan operating in defence and were quickly at the wrong end of a series of attacks. Twice Emmetts' missed good chances of reducing their arrears before Dick Tobin had their second and final point in the 9th minute.

HOGAN'S GOAL

Within a minute, however, came the "clinch" when Pakie Hogan's free went unloosed to the net. Thereafter both sides enjoyed their eras of dominance but defences came out on top and no further score was registered by either side.

On this display, Ballinacourty are a side without any apparent weak links. Even the last minute replacements fitted in perfectly and the return of Kiely and Mansfield in particular will bolster up the side even further.

PETER POWER OUTSTANDING

By my own personal reckoning their outstanding player on Sunday was centre forward Peter Power. At all times he contrived to open up the play and his immaculate clean fielding was yet another feature of his display.

At mid-field his brother Nicholas wasn't far behind him. His ability to gain and hold possession of the ball made him a real danger and with Pakie Hogan they mastered Emmetts in this sector.

NEVER CAUGHT NAPPING

The Ballinacourty defence was never caught napping and their feat of holding the entire Emmetts' attack scoreless for an hour speaks for itself. Thomas Hayes was safe in goal and Maury, Hayes and, M. Hogan formed a solid full-back line whilst Peadar Wall, John McGrath and Danny Barry were tireless half-backs.

With Peter Power doing the groundwork in attack the other forwards took a leaf out of his book. Jack Elstead provid-

The annual general meeting of the Kilgobinet Hurling and Football clubs was held at Coolasmear National School on Friday night last. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Rev. Fr. Lacey, C.C., Chairman, Jimmy Cummins, vice-do., T. Fany, treas., Daeg Flynn, sec., Simon Hanley, capt., junior hurling, Simon Hanley, vice-do. Lar. Cummins, capt. junior football, Mick Keating, vice-do., Jim Whelan, capt. minor football, Joe Power, vice-do., Michael Kelly.

ANNUAL SOCIAL

The club's annual social is fixed for Thursday, February 8th and what an event that promises to be. Last year's function was a wonderful

Minus the services of six regulars they put up a surprisingly good show and can feel well pleased with their performance.

Club Secretary John Fraher tells me that they hope to start a minor football tournament soon. If so, it is hoped that as many Western clubs as possible will enter.

SHAMROCKS A.G.M. — Rev. Fr. S. Nugent, C.C., (Chairman) presided at the annual general meeting of Shamrocks Hurling and Football Clubs at Kilwatermoy on Wednesday night last.

The Hon. Secretary, Mr. M. Tobin said that from the point of view of trophies won, 1961 hadn't been a very good year. The club, however, at all times upheld their good name for sportsmanship and over the year were involved in many thrilling encounters.

The following officers were elected: President, Very Rev. M. Power, P.P., Knockanore; Chairman, Rev. Fr. S. Nugent, C.C. Glendine; vice-do. M. Jas. Tobin, senr.; hon. sec. M. Tobin (ougoing); treas. Jas. Tobin, junr.

NEXT SUNDAY'S GAMES

There are three games down for decision on Sunday next in the special winter competition—two in hurling and one football tie.

At Dungarvan, Shamrocks meet Scabbally in junior hurling and the contrast in styles should add a touch of piquancy to the game. Shamrocks no doubt are the more polished side with Paul Allen, John Nicholson, Willie Murphy and Frankie Corcoran, the leading lights.

Scabbally, unlike the Knockanore men, rely on the mire direct game cutting out all fancy frills.

This should be an interesting game but the vote must be given to the better, balanced Shamrocks.

The hurling meeting of arch-rivals Geraldines and Ardmore at Cappoquin can hardly be other than exciting. Whenever these sides cross paths, fireworks inevitably fly and as a piece in the semi-final awaits the winners both sides will go all out in quest of victory.

Since their narrow championship defeat by Fournilwater, the Aglishers have enjoyable affair and now that the club has laid its championship hoodoo it is hardly too much to expect this coming year to be even more successful.

As there are only a limited number of tickets available it would be advisable for intending purchasers to obtain their tickets immediately from any member of the committee.

THE BAN AGAIN

This week I am again to make reference to the G.A.A. controversy now raging — the Ban. Last week I stated that as yet no motion had been decided for the County Convention on January 28th. Now I hear that Alderside are contemplating a motion in favour of Tom W. Mc's (D. 111) — already passed by the Metropolitan Convention.

Emmetts, are, I believe, beside the moving a similar motion. They will hold their annual meeting shortly when I'm sure the club will decide definitely on the motions they will be moving.

In certain quarters this news will be received unwelcomely but it's only right that a club which feels against the retention of the Ban should voice its opinion in the right place and the right place is certainly the Convention hall.

LAST SUNDAY'S GAMES

There must be many regretful at Colligan way in these days. Now promoted to senior ranks, they were participating in their last junior competition when the winter league set under way. They meant to depart in a blaze of unbeaten glory and on form looked quite capable of doing so.

But that's where thought left everyone. On Sunday last they had their hopes of winning this league competition blasted through when unopposed Ballinacourty mowed out a football lesson.

Seven points separated the sides at the end and the sea-side men were worth every point of it. They played neat and at times a vicious football to which Emmetts had no answer.

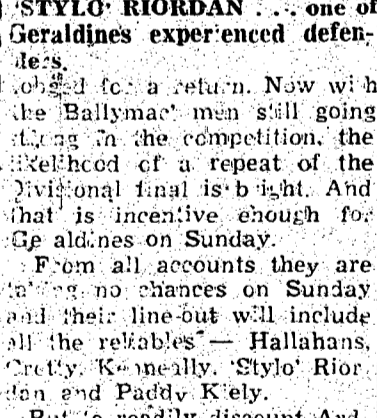

This victory places Ballinacourty at the head of the table and their meeting with Ring at Dungarvan on Sunday week should prove decisive. Already they have dropped two points to Emmetts but a victory over Ballinacourty would do themselves and Emmetts a good turn. It certainly adds up to a great game on January 21st.

BALLYDUFF WIN TOURNAMENT

Ballyduff gained some compensation for their defeat in the 1961 Western minor hurling final when they collected a valuable set of medals by defeating Cappoquin 4-3 to 1-2 in the final of the latter's tournament on Sunday last.

Fielding a full strength side Ballyduff always looked a better side and dominated the exchanges for most of the game.

Cappoquin, however, fought gamely to stave off defeat.

STYLO RIORDAN ... one of Geraldines' experienced defenders.

... to a return. Now with the Ballymac men still going strong in the competition, the likelihood of a repeat of the Divisional final is bright. And that is incentive enough for the Aglishes on Sunday.

From all accounts they are having no chances on Sunday and their line-out will include all the reliable — Hallahans, Crilly, Keane, Stylo Riordan and Paddy Kiely.

But to readily discount Ardmore's chances would be like venturing without trial. They may not be as skilful as Geraldines but determination allied to their own rugged but effective brand of hurling will make them a hard side to beat.

CLASHMORE GAME

Following their shock defeat by Ballinacourty last week, the winners travel to Clashmore on Sunday where they meet the home team.

Whereas, Clashmore, already over-beaten twice, are out of the competition, Emmetts are still slightly in the spirit. Any further set-backs would however, prove disastrous and with this ultimatum dangling before them, they should be good enough to account for the seemingly luckless Clashmore men.
