Norse System to be Adopted WATERFORD LAUNCHES NEW EDUCATIONAL SCHEME

A NEW EDUCATIONAL PLAN — ON THE SCANDINAVIAN PRINCIPLE IS BEING LAUNCHED IN COUNTY WATERFORD THIS COMING WEEK. IT IS POSTMAN'S BAG

Man behind the scheme is Mr. Denis Cullinan, B.A., Sec. Chrg. Executive Officer of the County Waterford Vocational Education Committee. Following his fact-finding visit to Norway and Sweden some 2000 ago when he returned with the nucleus of the scheme, he has now arranged to put the Norse system to work in Ireland.

LADY IN CHARGE

In charge of the trial run in this county is Miss Kathleen O'Brien, Knockrour, Stradbally. She will deal with applications for membership from interested parties and will collect the registration fees.

Miss O'Brien is familiar with the Scandinavian pattern of the Correspondence School Study Circle method of adult education having lived for a number of years in Sweden. Speaking Swedish and Norwegian she can keep in close touch with developments in the correspondence school instruction in those countries which have been the leaders in this educational field.

Secretary to the Waterford County Executive of the National Farmers' Association, secretary of the Cropping Club and Secretary of the Dungarvan Agricultural Show Society, a member of Mairia na Feirme and of the Irish Countrywomen's Association she has wide connections with the rural organisations and has outstanding organising ability. She holds the diploma in Social and Home Science of Haverley College, Cork.

MUSIC AND NUTRITION

The Rural Study Circle movement in County Waterford will commence with a series of correspondence lessons in "Music and Nutrition" and a similar series of "Nutrition in the Home".

INTERNATIONAL MURKIN

The "lessons" as the series of lessons are called — on Music and Nutrition are by Mrs. M. M. O'Brien, L.R.A.M., A.R.I.A.M., the internationally known singer, pianist and composer, who is a P.O. Civil servant and who has been heard from Radio Eireann, the B.B.C. and the Canadian CBC. Her "Music Lessons" in this series are designed to help the average person to enjoy music in all its forms. They are written in a simple and clear style and are designed to enable the study circle members to enjoy themselves while "learning to listen".

STUDY GROUPS

Study Groups will consist of not more than twelve people, with the minimum of five, who will meet once a week for a period of two hours or so to study the "lectures", hold a discussion on them, and then work out their answers to the questions set at the end of the text. Group answers will be submitted to the author, via the appointed study-leader, they will be corrected, commented on, and returned in time for the next group meeting.

ANY SUBJECT.

The organisers of this new adult-education system state that it is possible to study practically any subject in this manner.

THE SCHEME, THEY CLAIM,

provides a simple and entertaining form of adult education at no cost to State or local funds.

PASSING OF POPULAR PASTOR

LATE VERY REV. FR. HENRY SYNNOTT, B.A., P.P. Newtown, Kilmacthomas and Kill

Early in the first morning of this week (2nd Sunday after the Feast of St. Stephen) occurred the death in Maypark, Newtown, of the Rev. Fr. Henry Synnot, B.A., P.P., Newtown, Kilmacthomas and Kill, and the 81st anniversary of his birth. He was appointed Curate at Newtown, Kilmacthomas and Kill in April, 1931, he was appointed as Curate, and in 1936 was appointed Curate in Caher. He has been Parish Priest of Newtown, Kilmacthomas and Kill since October 1945.

A brilliant and effective preacher his pulpit utterances invariably were masterpieces of eloquence and a constant source of inspiration to those who heard them. In the discharge of the duties attaching to his administrative appointment he also displayed conspicuous ability and during his tenure at Newtown the progress of the Parish under his capable guidance was reflected in numerous ways. To the surviving relatives deepest sympathy is extended.

The remains were removed from Maypark on Monday at 3 p.m. to the Parish Church of All Saints, Newtown. Despite very wild and wet weather they were met by a huge gathering of priests and parishioners and numerous other friends and sympathisers from various parts of the Diocese who escorted them to the final resting place.

St. Helena Requiem Mass was celebrated in the sacred edifice on Tuesday and the funeral which took place immediately afterwards in St. Mary's Cemetery, Ballinacorney, was an enthralling talk on verse-speaking. At the conclusion a vote of thanks was passed to Mr. O'Mahony for his cordial and highly-entertaining talk. Tea was served by hostesses Mrs. W. Braugh and Mrs. T. Power.

P.T.A.A. SOCIAL.

Following Benediction in the Parish Church on Sunday evening last, the members of the Ring and Old Parish branches of the Pioneer Total Abstinence Association adjourned to the C.Y.M.S. Hall in Ring for their annual social.

DAMAGE TO BOATS

Damaged in the recent storms were the local fishing boats "Vega" and "Ard Mhor" which were at anchor at Hellick when the storm struck. They have been moved to Ballinacorney for temporary repairs pending a complete overhaul in dry-dock.

YOUR BLOOD COULD SAVE A LIFE

The mobile unit of the Cork Blood Transfusion Service will visit the Friary Hall, Dungarvan, this (Thursday) night at 8 p.m. to collect much needed supplies of blood from donors in the district.

TRUE PERSPECTIVE ON WATER FIGURES

Writing regarding the question of water schemes Mr. D. J. Coughlan, Rossport House, Kilmacthomas, states that the regional scheme in county Waterford was to take twelve years to complete.

THE LEADER

Guiding the destinies of the Kilmacthomas Guild is Mrs. Kathleen Mulcahy, who has been President for the past two years. Previous to that she was Vice-President and has served on the committee for a number of years. A founder-member of the branch, she attended on the first courses held, when the local branch was in its infancy, at the Summer School then held in Bray, Co. Wicklow.

MOST WILLING

Members of the Kilmacthomas Guild told the "Observer" that they have a very happy and busy time under the guidance of Mrs. Mulcahy. "She is always pleasant and most willing to help with any function," said one member. "Although she is quiet and of a shy disposition, said another "she has a way of getting over every obstacle."

ACTIVE BRANCH

The Kilmacthomas branch has flourished from the start and has never been idle. They have organised dances, cellists, children's parties, fund-raising drives, dramatics, comforts for the sick and aged, inter-guild competitions, jumble sales, outings and fancy-dress competitions.

DANCING

In June they had a very successful annual dance, and a cell in the Rainbow Hall last February set them up considerably in funds for the year. In March the Guild sponsored the I.C.A. dancing competition which was held in the Rainbow. The county final was won by the Ballinacorney Guild.

COSTUME FOR THE BAND

When the County Executive of Comhaltas Ceoilteoirí Eireann organised a branch in Kilmacthomas, the local I.C.A. guild promptly got to work to knit a complete set of attractive jerseys and caps to form a smart uniform for the youngsters on the new children's cell band.

ROADSIDE GARDEN

A small strip of waste land at the cross-roads on the Main Waterford Road just outside Kilmacthomas was turned into a fine roadside garden which won the guild the county prize.

Things were different after this

Discounting some tentative earlier experiments, photography may be said to have started in the early years of the 19th century. It was a hard photography and one which demanded a good technical knowledge on the part of the operator. According to Daguerre, a monument in sunlight required an exposure of some three hours, a landscape up to seven hours. Somehow, in spite of the technical difficulties of the early days, the artistic standard was often extremely high. The impact of photography was felt in many spheres, notably in those of engraving and printing.

SALMON FISHING

Net fishermen, are, despite the weather conditions, busy overhauling last year's nets, mending new ones and putting their boats in order for the opening of the salmon season on February 1st. It is now fairly certain that the number of drift nets operating this season will be somewhat less than last year due to some fishermen being employed at the Ardara Bridge site. As will be seen from our advertising column in this issue, net licences will be issued on Monday January 29th at the new Fishery Office, 11 The Mall Youghal between the hours of 11 a.m. and 4 p.m.

LATE MRS. E. J. RYAN

The death took place on Saturday at the Victoria Hospital, of Mrs. Ellen Jane Ryan, of De Valera Street, Youghal, after a short period of illness. Formerly of Wales, the deceased lady was the wife of Thos. W. Ryan, who was assistant Postmaster at Youghal up to the time of his death some 12 years ago. She is survived by her son and two daughters, to whom sincere sympathy is extended. The remains were removed to St. Mary's Collegiate Church, Youghal, on Monday last and the funeral took place on the same day at the adjoining Churchyard. Rev. A. P. Peare, M.A., officiated.

LATE MR. T. O'CONNELL

During last week end the death took place of Timothy O'Connell, at his residence, Derrynane Villa, McCurtainstown, Youghal. An ex-member of the R.I.C., the deceased was a well-known personality in the town of his adoption, and was deservedly popular. He took an active part in local Church affairs and was a member of the first Strand Committee who did so much to raise funds for the building of that Church. He is survived by his wife, three sons and one daughter to whom sympathy is extended in their loss. The remains were removed to the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes where Requiem Mass was celebrated on Tuesday morning at 9.30 and the funeral which was both large and representative took place that afternoon to North Abbey Cemetery.

SUCCESSFUL CLAIM FOR DAMAGES

At Mutton Court before Judge Nevlon, Mrs. Ellen O'Shea of Kint Street, Youghal, claimed damages from Cork Health Authority and Messrs. T. Murray & Sons, Contractors, Youghal. Mrs. O'Shea had been visiting a sick daughter at Youghal Cottage Hospital on November 26th 1959, at about 8 p.m. when she fell into a hole in the hospital grounds. In evidence she stated that there was no light and she had to crawl out of the hole up to the hospital where she was attended by the nurse on duty who summoned a doctor for her. She had nine children in care and had to get her sister to help in the house work for seven weeks. After hearing the evidence of the plaintiff's sister, Mrs. Maher, and of doctors E. T. Riordan and B. Foy, the Judge awarded her £87 damages with costs and expenses, ordering the payment out of court of £25 lodged with the defence in part settlement of the claim.

TRIBUTE TO SUPT. FLANAGAN

At Youghal District Court, Mr. Justice Skinner referred to the impending departure of Supt. Flanagan whom he found to be very understanding, highly competent and who carried out his duties most conscientiously. The solicitors present were Messrs. T. K. Keane, J. N. R. McNamara, E. P. Finn, L. McFadden and the Court Clerk joined in the tribute to the Superintendent who returned suitable thanks.

INTER-COUNTY CHALLENGE CUP

On Sunday last in frosty weather there was a large attendance of coursing fans at Churchtown South to witness the inter-county challenge cup which was donated by the well-known greyhound enthusiast, Mr. Jim Aherne of Youghal. In presenting the trophy to Miss Kathleen Barry owner of the winning dog "Morning Special" Mr. Aherne said he felt impelled to offer the trophy as a tribute to the sporting support of the people of Churchtown to both the Youghal Greyhound Track and coursing in general. The runner up was Mr. T. Cotter's fawn dog "Country Day". Despite the weather conditions there was an exceptionally good day's sport over the premises of the Churchtown St. Club.

KEEPING THE ARMY SPIRIT ALIVE

When Mr. Eddie Bluett, of Windgap, gets an idea fixed in his mind, he keeps after it with resolute purpose until the objective is achieved.

STEP TOGETHER

Recently he felt that County Waterford had been neglected in the matter of an organisation to keep in touch with ex-Army men and promptly got to work to have a branch of the Organisation of National Ex-Servicemen (O.N.E.) formed in the town of Dungarvan.

In response to a letter to headquarters in Dublin, Commandant Hubert Lehman, the national organiser of O.N.E., attended at a special meeting which Mr. Bluett had arranged at Lawlor's Hotel in Dungarvan after which he personally contacted as many old Army men in the district as he could get in touch with, and a Dungarvan Branch was formed.

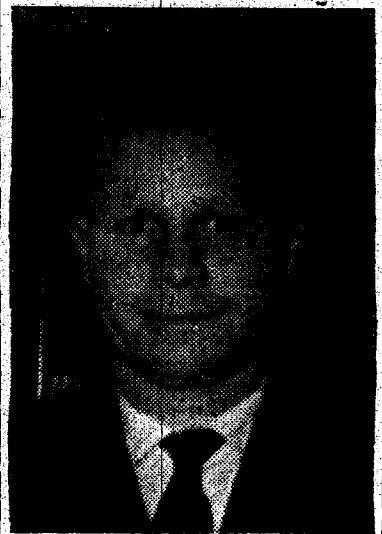

OFFICERS

Command. Maurice McGrath, Lisfenell, was elected chairman, and the other offices are Secretary, Mr. Paddy Langan, Abbeyside; Treasurer, Mr. J. D. Hally, Co. Engineer, Abbeyside; Vice-Chairman, Mr. Martin Grant Caseyville. Members of the committee are Messrs. M. R. He, Con Hayes and Ed. Bluett.

Following the attendance of only six members following Mr. Bluett's canvass for the preliminary meeting, the membership has since more than doubled and they are anxious to get all former Army men in the area to join up with O.N.E.

Members pay a small initial fee of five shillings, three shillings of which covers membership fee, with a further two shillings for the distinctive badge. This emblem is in round form bearing the words "O'glaigh na hEireann" and the letters "O.N.E." which also cover the English "Organisation of National Ex-Servicemen" and symbolise the unity of aim and purpose in the word "One."

ARMY LIFE

Eddie Bluett served three years in the Regular Army in the Supply and Transport Division at the Curragh where he was a Physical Training Instructor. He has been on the Reserve for nine years and intends to go the full twenty years.

BOXING CHAMPION

He went in for athletics a good deal during his army service and had the honour of winning the Command Championship in welter-weight boxing in 1949. He also won the Army Junior Championship, and was selected to represent Ireland on the International Boxing team.

CROSS COUNTRY RUNS

He competed in open sports competitions during his Army term and was fond of cross country runs, coming fourth in the Leinster junior five miles championship run in 1951. The following year he was in the first three in the County Kildare junior championships and in 1952 he ran in the All-Army cross-country at Berr.

Now under the auspices of O.N.E. he is busy organising walking races for medals and trophies to be awarded by the organisation for competitors in County Waterford. Races are also planned in a fund raising drive to promote O.N.E.

OUTLOOK PROMISING

"O.N.E. in the county is in its infancy," Mr. Bluett told the "Observer" but he added "it is very promising." The enthusiastic members of the newly-formed Dungarvan Committee are leaving no stone unturned to make it a success.

Portlaw is at present being canvassed with a view to the formation of a branch there.

East Waterford Ecclesiastical Elected Prior. A gracious and worthy member of a very esteemed farming family in the Barony of Middle Third's Very Rev. J. Kavanagh, O.S.A. Sydney, New South Wales, Australia, who was elected Prior of Kyabram, Victoria, do. at an Augustinian Chapter meeting held recently in Brisbane do.

Son of Mrs. and the late Mr. Michael Kavanagh, Ballyleen, Kill, his reverence was educated at St. Augustine's College, in the Old Boro of Dungarvan and later studied at their Novitiate in Orleigh, Dublin. He went to Australia about a year after receiving his ordination in 1947. He has been serving there ever since and has been holidaying in the homeland on at least two occasions. His dear departed father who was a magnificent specimen of Daise manhood, was Co. Waterford's champion senior grade ploughman for a number of years. Fr. Kavanagh's brother was also educated at St. Augustine's College, Dungarvan.

Many Expressions of sincere sympathy have been tendered to highly respected amiable Mrs. O'Donnell, Garranturion, on the death of her brother, the late Mr. Andrew Crotty, farmer, Coadrishogue, Lisimore, who was one of nature's gentlemen, and at the removal of his remains from the residence on Thursday evening of last week to St. Carthage's Parish Church, Lisimore, and again at the interment, which was made in St. Carthage's Cemetery the next day, (after Office and High Mass), sympathies from all walks of life were present paying their last tribute of public respect to the memory of departed worth.

When the Three Irish Soldiers killed recently in the Congo were interred with full military honours in Glasnevin Cemetery after Requiem Mass celebrated in the Military Church of the Sacred Heart, A'bour Hill, the firing party the graveside was under Lieut. Col. William J. Bergin, who is a brother of Mr. Christopher Bergin, Mounkenedy House, Leamybrieff, a very well and popularly known member of the farming community.

Recent Prizewinners in the Pontana Pools included Mrs. J. Flynn, Anestown (€22-10); Mr. Patrick Houghton, Ross (€12); Mr. Sonny Power, Union Road (€4-12-6); Mrs. R. Power, Gortacloa and Mr. R. Mackey, Pouldrew (€2-6-0 each); Mr. J. Barry, Rosduff Woodstown and Mr. E. Egan, Hearene, Carriganute, (€2-3-9 each) and the promoter in this area, Mr. John A. Gough, Blacknock (€2-5-0). More luck to all of these neighbours.

At St. Declan's Silver Circle, Waterford, the weekly prize of €20 on the 7th inst. was won by Mr. E. Battye, c/o Cherry's Brewery (who is a son of Mrs. and the late Mr. S. Battye, Old Road, Kilmacthomas).

The late Mrs. Alice Meehan, 335 A St. John's Park, Waterford (widow of the late Mr. Patk. Meehan, Clona-Power), whose demise was chronicled in last week's issue, was mother of Sr. M. Conrad, Ursuline Convent, Waterford; Sr. M. Lucy, Ursuline Convent, Brentwood; Sr. M. Agnes, Ursuline Convent, Brecon, South Wales; Sr. M. Bernadette, Convent of Mercy, Portlaw; Mr. William Meehan, Little Island, Co. Cork, and Mr. Michael Meehan, St. John's Park, Waterford.

She was aunt of Sr. M. Vincent, Convent of Mercy, Carrick-on-Suir, and of Rev. Fr. Ailbe Power, O.F.M., Francisian College, Gormanstown, Co. Meath.

A Really Attractive Shopping Basket, packed with a wonderful variety of genuinely good things was the prize delivered during the week to each of 300 lucky winners—all housewives who are purchasers and users of the noted brand of tea, an old-established Cork City firm has on the market. The competition was promoted by the concern referred to, and one of the successful entrants was Mrs. Daisy Sarsfield, Ballinaseisla, Bonmahon.

F.A.I. Minor Cup—It took 110 minutes to decide the tie in above competition between Kilmacthomas minors and Waterford F.C. minors. It was one of the best games ever played at the Kilmac' venue; and the result was in doubt until four minutes from the end of extra time. The teams were level at 2 all, at the end of ninety minutes. Waterford went ahead with a goal by Shelley after fifteen minutes, but Kilmac' got on terms just before half-time, and took the lead thirty seconds after the start of the second half. McLoughlin got the city team's equaliser eight minutes from the end of the ninety minutes.

There was no score in the first half of extra time, and the fans were talking about the replay at Killohan Park when Kilmac' were awarded an indirect free inside the Waterford penalty area. P. Cullinan placed the free perfectly for D. Flynn, who drove the ball past a veritable wall of defenders for a great score. Four minutes from the end, J. Kiersey got his third of the game and Kilmac's fourth. On this display, Kilmac' minors could equal the Kilmac' Junior team's record of the 1955 season—of being the first team outside Waterford City to reach the area final of a national competition.

The draw for the next round was made in the Metropolis during the week, but wasn't to hand at the time of writing.

At His House at Grenan, Carroll's Cross, Kilmacthomas, Mr. Peter (Petie) Quealy, farmer, passed away after a somewhat protracted illness and at the allotted span, and the sad event was learned with deep regret by his numerous friends, not alone in his native parish but far outside its environs. In the sphere of agriculture he was a progressive and up-to-date disciple of De-meter, who had few equals in matters pertaining to tillage and dairy activities, and was a kind and helpful neighbour who always gave his services in time of need. With his grief-stricken widow, and family whole-hearted sympathy, widespread in their bereavement and loss.

A cortege of imposing dimensions and most representative accompanied the removal of the remains on Wednesday evening week to the Parish Church of All Saints, New-lawn, where the coffin was received and blessed by the Rev. M. Wall, C.C., Kilmacthomas. Subsequent to the celebration of Office and High Mass, the next day, interment took place in the family burial ground in the adjoining cemetery and all of the priests present at the obsequies again officiated at the graveside.

Many Mass cards and messages of condolence were received.

Trocaire De ar an anam. A Member of a farming family deservedly held in the highest regard was Mr. Edward (Ned) Flahavan, whose death took place on Friday of last week at the residence of his brother, Mr. Nicholas Flahavan, Rathmeaden, Kilmacthomas. He had been in poor health for some time past and, fortified by the final consoling ministrations of the Mother Church, to which he was devotedly attached, he peacefully and resignedly passed hence at a moderately advanced age. Of a quiet and unassuming disposition, his decease removes a most likeable personality, and sympathy in full measure is extended to his proximate ties. There was a large and representative attendance at the removal of the remains to St. Anne's Church, Fewes, where they were received by Rev. M. Barron, C.C., Kilmacthomas, who said Requiem Mass at 9.30 a.m. on Saturday.

Interment was made in the adjoining cemetery after 9 o'clock Mass on Sunday, and Fr. Barron gave the closing absolution at the graveside. Numerous Mass cards and messages of condolence were received. Beamacht De le'n anam. (American papers, please copy).

Miss Rene Casey, who returned to Carysfort Training College, Dublin, on Monday last, 15th inst., following the festive holiday-break, is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Casey, Ballinaseisla, Bonmahon, and she is a past student of Colaiste Mhuire, Convent of Mercy, Dungarvan, where she became enrolled after completing her primary education at Knockmahon National School, hard by her parental roof-tree. Continuing increasing success to this charming young lady.

His Lordship Most Rev. Dr. Daniel Cohalan, Bishop of Waterford & Lismore, has appointed Rev. Fr. William Callanan, C.C., St. John's, Waterford (previously C.C., Stradbally) to be Spiritual Director to the Pioneer Total Abstinence Association in the City of Waterford. In this capacity, Fr. Callanan will be responsible for promoting the P.T.A. movement in the city and for securing co-ordination between the various councils and groups of Pioneers already in existence. Incidentally, the while serving in Stradbally, his reverence organised the since flourishing branch of the P.T.A. in that parish.

Of A Verity, the continuing severe snap is keeping doctors and nurses busily on the move all at hours, many people (children and adults, alike) being indisposed these days. C.I.E. For three nights of last week Thursday, Friday and Sunday, Dungarvan Dramatic Club presented the controversial J. B. Priestly play "An Inspector Calls" to full houses at the Friary Hall.

ALL IN THE LINES

This is a really difficult play in which there is little action. All the suspense and drama in this three-acter depends on the lines spoken, making it an extremely difficult task to put it across the footlights.

GRIPPED THE AUDIENCE

But the Dungarvan Dramatic Club, in its usual highly competent fashion, made a splendid job of this presentation.

The audiences were enthralled and many people were amazed at the very clever ending of the play which held them in suspense through out.

The cast is a small one but that did not detract in any way from the excellence of the acting.

VERSATILE

As the heavy Victorian father, Arthur Birling, Mr. Jim O'Keefe gave an outstanding performance. His versatility is well-known to Dungarvan audiences and he is equally at home whether playing a role of comedy or tragedy. This was one of his best performances. FINE ACTING

BIG NIGHT FOR MACRA

Mr. Jimmy McGrath, Mitchell Street, Dungarvan, President of the Waterford County Executive Macra na Feirme, presided at the annual dinner and social of the organisation held on Sunday night at the Grand Hotel, Tramore. Among the guests of honour were Mr. and Mrs. B. Pearce, Lismore.

The toast of "Ireland" was proposed by Mr. T. F. Maher, B.Sc., Dungarvan, Vice-President of the County Executive of Macra. Rev. Fr. M. Nugent, C.C., Ballinacorney, in proposing the toast "Macra na Feirme" referred to the prophetic statement of the late Cardinal Newman, made when he came to Ireland a hundred years ago to found the Catholic University in Dublin, when he forecast the great strides forward which this country would make.

Mr. Owen Fogarty, National President, replied to the toast. Mr. Pierce Casey, Faha, Vice-Chairman of the County Executive proposed the toast "Aur Guests" to which Vice President Mr. Matt Dromey, Killosera, suitably replied. Mr. Denis Cullinan, B.Agr. Sc., Dungarvan, President of the Waterford County Executive Committee of Macra na Feirme, presented the trophies won during the year by the various clubs. Kingsalebeg won the County Executive Cup and Replicas for Debate; Tal-low secured the cup for public speaking and the award for the best all-round club in the county went to Gaullier.

Representatives from all Macra clubs in the county attended the very enjoyable dinner and social. Congratulations were extended to Mr. Thomas Hartly, Gortmadha, Ring, on having won the Munster championship in stockjudging.

police inspector to the life. With his appearance, voice and fine acting, he certainly inspired the Birling family.

GRAND PORTRAYAL

Mrs Eunice Hockin, as Mrs. Sybil Birling, proved once more what a grand player she is and her portrayal of the Victorian mother left nothing to be desired.

ACCOMPLISHED

Miss Rose Bullin, as Sheila Birling, had her first role in a serious play and there is no doubt but that she is a fine accomplished actress.

CROSS-COUNTRY

The County Novice Cross-Country championship was run over the Castle Farm course in Lismore on Sunday last. Run in cold but firm conditions, it came up to all expectations. Lismore A.C. was strongly represented having as its team: M. Canning, P. Barry, J. O'Donnell, T. Heffernan and J. Brady.

Starting at a very fast pace, Tony O'Donnell of Dungarvan took the lead with Michael Canning (Lismore) in close attendance. However, with one mile gone Canning took over the lead and steadily increased it from the rest of the field. Being chased by Pat Barry (also of Lismore). They remained in this order up to the last fence. Then, Barry, with a strong burst of speed, caught Canning, and ran on to win in a very thrilling finish.

It speaks strongly of the local club that both first and second went to Lismore. When the final count was made, Dungarvan A.C. took the team prize for the best placings. Results: 1st—Pat Barry, Lismore A.C.; 2nd—Michael Canning, do.; 3rd—Tony O'Donnell, Dungarvan A.C.; 4th—T. Foley do.

G.A.A. CONCERT

The concert held in the Town Hall on Sunday night last, and sponsored by the Lismore hurling and football club, proved to be the best held for quiet awhile.

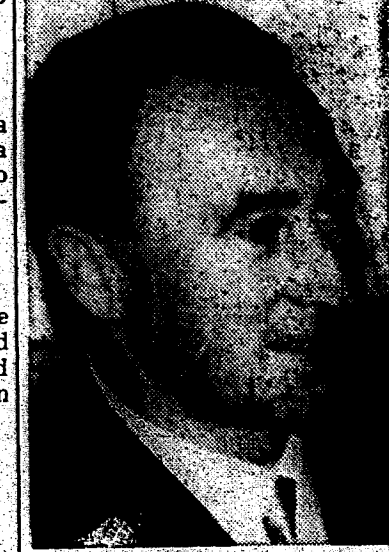

DEATH OF LOCAL OCTOGENARIAN

RECOGNITION

Even though Miss Nuala Murray as the maid Enda, was only seen on the stage for a few moments, she entered into her part and is deserving of recognition.

PERSONAL TRIUMPH

The play must be regarded as a personal triumph for producer Mr. Michael Cullinan, who in addition to playing the leading part, also had the heavy task of directing the play.

STAGE—FIRST CLASS

The stage was, as usual, first class and the opening, with just the table spotlighted, was particularly effective, as was the brief blackout at the end of the second act. The stage management team of Messrs. Padraig O. Murchu, Egan Connerford, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Coward are to be congratulated on their effective settings and lighting effects.

BEHIND THE SCENES

Also playing their important roles, off-stage, to contribute to the success of the performances were: Mr. D. J. Riordan, Hall Superintendent; Messrs. Maurice Kiely and John Kennedy, effects; Mr. Bernard Walsh, bookings; together with prompters, scene shifters and many other willing helpers.

N.F.A. NEWS EQUILIBRIUM MUST BE RESTORED

"Future Holds Many Problems" -- New President

Seven years are now behind us in N.F.A.; seven years during which we worked together to build this Association, and through it to better the lot of the Irish farmer. Together we have shared a number of achievements and a number of disappointments. We have known partial success and seeming failure; and if we have never regarded our success as sufficient, we can certainly say that we have never accepted, and I pray we never shall accept, any failure as final. When farmers stand solidly shoulder-to-shoulder, these temporary setbacks will be turned into successes.

We are still together, and today and tomorrow we will be directing our thoughts to the future, and to how we must prepare and plan for it so that we may confront our destiny in confidence.

That we are here this afternoon in the birthplace of the Association, amidst all the storms and navigational hazards that have beset us, is due almost entirely to the pilot who has guided us so wisely and so well through our voyage. Without Dr. Greene we would not be here today. To him, and to his wife, who has made it possible for him to give us this unstinted and devoted service, the N.F.A. and indeed Irish farming as a whole, owes an immeasurable debt of gratitude. This debt we can never repay in a material way, but we can repay it in another way—by ensuring the continued progress and development of the Association which has been so largely his personal achievement. Let us express our deep sense of obligation and gratitude by guarding well the trust which he has handed on to us today. Looking to the years ahead, we can see problems too numerous almost to enumerate. We must, therefore, select the most important, list them in order of priority and tackle them according to plan.

One problem is of dominating urgency and importance. This is to restore some sort of balance between farm income and the incomes of the rest of the community. It is irrational to ignore the fact that the prosperity of the nearly forty per cent of our population who are engaged in agriculture is a major factor in determining the buoyancy of the home market for all our products, both industrial and agricultural.

It is absurd to pretend—against a background of falling prices for almost all agricultural products, round after round of wage increases and shorter working hours awarded to other sections—that this does not inevitably worsen the relative position of our greatest industry—farming.

It is folly to assume that Irish farmers will tolerate this situation indefinitely, or indeed that they will endure it longer than, for example, French, Danish and Swiss farmers.

Having recognised the urgency of this problem, the N.F.A. has attempted to assess its magnitude and we have calculated that it would require £83 million to restore our agriculture to its 1953 relationship with other sectors of the community. This figure, perhaps not unnaturally, has not been accepted by the Government, but at least they have put in train an investigation between their Economic and the Economic Section of the N.F.A. This joint investigation has made rapid progress, and is proceeding. It is right that we should give recognition to the Government, and especially to their officials, for its speedy and objective approach. Whatever figure emerges from this joint study, even if it is less than £83 million, I personally am convinced that it will still be a staggering large sum.

So, having defined our problem and indicated its dimensions, we have to find a solution. Two solutions are in fact possible, either separately or in combination: either—(i) We must have higher prices generally for our products; or (ii) We must have stable prices with drastically reduced costs.

The price of most of our products has been steadily falling, while our costs have been consistently rising, although in some important commodities, especially cattle, dairy products and pigmeat, the full impact of these forces on farm income has been cushioned to some extent by Government supports. We must recognise that these measures have involved the Government in a very high level of expenditure, which in itself we appreciate. But even this level of support is inadequate of itself to restore the balance between farm incomes and other incomes.

It is clear that farmers, even before the present round of wage increases, which will give other sectors an additional income increase which may even exceed £35 million, had a very tight case for increased costs. Our case will now be stronger by this £35 million which is being given to others largely at the expense of farmers.

However, in formulating demands for increased prices we must remember—

1. That the ability of our economy to subsidise agricultural exports in competition with other countries is limited.

2. That much of the benefit of these subsidies goes to the ultimate consumer. In order to export the produce, we have also to export the subsidy.

3. That given our present level of price support has been used as a pretext, by countries who are themselves subsidising heavily their own exports, for terminating our traditional butter trade with the United Kingdom.

These factors indicate the practical difficulties which exist to solving our difficulties by increasing prices. But the community must now recognise that Irish farmers have been reasonable for far too long. Every day that passes sees new rewards being given to other sections. In Ireland today it is the well-organised, the tough, and the intransigent sections who get extra slices of the national cake. I will only be prepared to ask farmers to remain reasonable and restrained in their price demands when I am convinced, by concrete measures, of the Government's intention drastically to reduce our costs, and to plan jointly with producers the future of Irish farming.

When we think of costs, we think at once of taxation, a matter over which the Government has absolute responsibility and absolute control. You will be considering the taxation of our tractors, on which many of our competitors pay little or no tax, and which they are permitted to use in a much wider way than we are.

You will also be considering once again Local Authority Rates. We understand that the Government too is concerned on this matter and has set up a Committee of investigation. But even as this Committee sits, the rates seem promising once again that in this sphere even the sky is not the limit.

It is clear that the largest single items in Local Authority expenditure are on the Health Act and the Roads, and especially in the case of the Health Act, Local Authorities have little, if any, real power, to limit their expenditure. In addition, the application of this Act is inequitable to the farmers who pay so large a contribution to its cost. If the cost of this Act were removed from the Rates and met by general taxation, a substantial measure of relief would be given to all ratepayers, farmers included.

If this Convention approves of this proposal, it will have to be the clear understanding that the removal of one burden cannot justify the substitution of another.

In my view, this Convention must state its view on Regional Water Schemes. It must note the measures which have brought victory to our Co. Executive in Waterford.

But even when our tractor tax is reduced to the level paid by our competitors, and when the burden of the Health Act is transferred to general taxation, these reliefs will fall far short of restoring our position. These measures, together with a progressive raising of certain agricultural prices towards Common Market levels, could be regarded as an instalment on what is owed by the community to Irish agriculture. This instalment is so long overdue that it looks as if we must now be prepared to take a more drastic course if it is not forthcoming—and forthrightly we must be prepared to do so.

Further instalments will be needed. They will have to be based on periodic reviews of the position of farming in relation to the rest of our economy. These reviews must be undertaken jointly in a spirit of teamwork by Government and farmers.

But useful though reviews may be, what we need are results. Without immediate tangible results we can place no trust in committees and commissions. From the Government we demand action. Without immediate concrete Government action, co-operation between the Government and farmers will be almost impossible.

Let me again refer to a specific case. Had we had real consultation and real co-operation when the Regional Water Scheme was still a blue print, I believe we could have agreed on a policy which would have enabled all interests to work together for our common ultimate object—good water supplies, piped economically, to all rural homes. I appeal to the Government to take a fresh look at this problem, and I assure them of the fullest co-operation of this Association in making an objective study of the entire problem.

I have dwelt at length on things that the Government can do for us, and on things that should be done jointly, but there is one thing that we, and we alone can do for ourselves, and that is to nationalise our approach to farm organisation. We all know that the multiplicity and diversity of our agricultural organisations makes effective consultation and co-operation between farmers and their Government virtually impossible.

Whatever the arguments in the past in favour of a co-ordinated farm organisation, they are now multiplied a thousandfold. In this New Year of 1962, we as a nation stand on the threshold of the Common Market; our traditional trade in butter, our new and varied trade in sugar and chocolate crumb have been disrupted, and other traditional exports may be threatened.

There is an ever-widening gap between farm and other incomes, and in every county at this moment the County Manager is incubating this Menager's increase in your rates. All these things demand a co-ordinated approach, based on continuous study. Only thus can we on our side provide the machinery for quick and effective consultation. Thus and only thus can we secure the future of farming in Ireland.

Unity is not an apple to be gathered. It is an elusive goal. There are powerful interests and powerful individuals who will seek to prevent our attaining this goal. You must recognise these for what they are—the enemies of Irish farmers.

We have tremendous tasks ahead of us, both at home and abroad. Our resources have not yet been fully developed, but you by your attendance have shown how great is our determination. It is determination that counts.

For my part, I am determined to strive to be worthy of the trust you have placed in me. I expect you to succeed as president of such gifts and such integrity as Dr. Greene, you have given me a great responsibility. In retiring now, he has given us a tradition that your Association is not a one-man organisation but a team. I am very proud at being entrusted for a time with the leadership of our team. I will endeavour to play my part, and I am confident that, with your support and God's blessing, we shall get justice, and that Irish farming in our time will yet realise its true potential.

The Week On Waterford Gaeldom

WITH County Convention time only a little over a week away, all motions have been submitted. This year there are a total of 39 listed for discussion with Brickeys leading the field with nine. No doubt these motions will be of great interest to readers so we give hereunder the complete list.

CHAMPIONSHIP DRAW ARRANGED

Despite strong protests by County Chairman Pat Fanning at last Saturday's Munster Council meeting in Limerick, it was decided to have an "arranged" draw for this year's senior hurling championships and keep Tipp and Cork apart. Mr. Fanning said by this arrangement they were creating two classes, with Cork and Tipp forming one group and the first rounds were only being looked upon as a preamble to the championship.

Mr. Sean Barrett (Cork) Chairman said if the standard in Cork and Tipp deteriorated or the standard in the other Munster Counties improved, they would get the same consideration. It was not a question of considering the teams, but the Munster championship. Personally, I cannot see any good coming from an arranged draw. The championship is a knock-out competition and every county should be given an equal chance. As a result of the present system, certain counties have genuine reasons for dissatisfaction.

Take Tipperary, the holders, for example. They have a first round bye and then meet the winners of the Limerick-Galway game in the semi-final and with all due respects to these counties, it seems reasonable to say Tipp will figure in the Munster final on July 29th. That surely isn't a good thing for the championship. Although Tipp are presently worthy champions. Where is the big difference between themselves, Waterford and Cork? Truthfully speaking its almost undetectable. Yet, why must Waterford go through the preliminaries whilst Tipp and Cork enjoy the luxury of it all. To me at least it does not add up properly.

ATTRACTIVE TIES ON SUNDAY NEXT

A league game that has the appeal of a vital championship encounter. That is the unagitated build-up I give to next Sunday's league game between Ballinacourty and Ring at Dungarvan. On the outcome depends a great deal. Victory for Ballinacourty will make them outright winners of the competition whilst defeat would involve Ring, Emmetts and themselves in a triple play-off. That is the intricate background to this eagerly awaited game.

Right now Ballinacourty are the talk of the Western Division—and rightly so. With maximum points from their 3 games to date, they have proved an unexpectedly attractive side in this competition. Their record speaks for itself. They opened this campaign with a 1-9 to 0-5 victory over Clashmore and followed it up with a resounding 5-10 to 0-0 win against Cappoquin. Impressive as they were in these games the pinnacle of their performances was yet to come.

On Sunday week last they met and beat Western and Co. champions Emmetts by 2-3 to 0-2. Need one elaborate further then on the standing of its present County side? For this all-important meeting with Ring they will be even stronger; equipped than against Emmetts. Mick Kiely and Tony Mansfield who were missing on that occasion have declared fit and their inclusion against the Gaeltacht side only enhances their chances further.

With Kiely returning to the vital centre-back berth and Feadar Wall, John McGrath and Danny Barry all occupying

KILGOBINET SOCIAL — NOTE CHANGE OF DATE

Owing to circumstances beyond their control, the Committee of the Kilgobinet G.A.A. Clubs have had to postpone their Annual Social from Feb. 8th to FEB. 15th.

Already there is a big demand for tickets and those intending to purchase them would want to do so immediately.

CASEY SCORES AGAIN — The Winning Pint — Nick Casey, The Square, Dungarvan

ing defensive posts, one can readily appreciate the difficult task that confronts the Ring attack.

Nor can the scoring power of their own forwards be scoffed at. Pakie Hogan and Nicholas Power will ensure a good supply from midfield and of Peter Power, Jack Elstead, Duck Whelan and Johnny Hogan produce that scintillating "Colligan" form, then few chances will be wasted.

The very fact however, that defeat will spell disaster for Ring makes it difficult to plump confidently for either side. The chips at present seem stacked against Ring but any side that carries names like Sylvester Murray, Tommy McGrath, Tommy Joe and Jim Hartly, Liam Meagher and Tom Curran must not be overlooked.

Over-all, it's a game to which I look forward to with great pleasure. On their display against Emmetts, Ballinacourty must be my choice but be forewarned—this is going to be a mighty tough game to win.

HURLING CHAMPIONS IN ACTION

Whilst the football storm is raging at the Old Boro' Western junior hurling champions Fourmilewater will be playing hosts to Affane in the second round of the knock-out competition at Ballymacarby.

Taking the '61 championship as a yardstick to Sunday's game, the homesters would appear to have a cake-walk. But statistics such as these can be very often misleading and Fourmilewater would be well advised to treat Sunday's game seriously.

Whereas this will be Affane's first outing in the competition, the homesters have already accounted for Kilgobinet. And in doing so turned in a most impressive display. In the Mill Field they are a law unto themselves and hard through the McGraths, B. Froy, Sean Buckley and Jimmy Cahill may try I cannot see them making their journey into "enemy" territory a successful one.

LAST SUNDAY'S GAMES

Like the previous Sunday the winter competitions again produced its shock result. This time it was the turn of Ardmore to command the spotlight with their 3-7 to 3-3 victory over Geraldines in junior hurling at Cappoquin.

On this occasion, however, Ardmore's task was made all the easier by the depletedness of the English line-out. The losers introduced several newcomers for this game but it must be quite clear now to them that their reserve material isn't yet up to the required standard.

Ardmore not surprisingly, fielded out at full-strength. They relied by a single point at the interval—2-2 to 1-4, but quickly wiped out that deficit on the charge over and over in the lead never looked like being overhauled again.

EMMETTS AND SHAMROCKS WIN

Emmetts, as expected, returned to the winning trail again with an easy 2-5 to 0-2 victory over Clashmore at the latter's venue.

The losers are presently languishing in a real "dog's life" and are still jointless after three games. Emmetts, without exerting themselves, played only as well as they had to. They were never headed during the hour, and were a far superior side in most departments. No doubt they will await the result of next Sunday's meeting of Ballinacourty and Ring with more than average interest.

AT DUNGARVAN

Shamrocks, playing the type of hurling that at any time is pleasing to the eye, had little difficulty in disposing of Stradbally in the second round of the junior competition at the Fraher Field.

Victory for the winners was as easily attained as the 4-5 to 1-0 final score suggests. Stradbally who defeated Ballinameela in the first round were clearly outclassed. The winners now meet Ardmore in the semi-final on Sunday next at Cappoquin.

WATERFORD HAVE TWO ON PROVINCIAL HURLING SIDE

Not for many years now have Waterford been so meagrely represented on a Munster hurling side as this year's one, chosen in Limerick on Sunday last to play Connacht in Ballinasloe next month. Martin Og Morrissey and Seamus Power alone are the Deise standardbearers whilst Austin Flynn and Frankie Walsh are listed amongst the reserves.

As usual the side is not without its surprises. Many eyebrows will be lifted at the omission of Tony Wall. Wall may not have been his usual brilliant self in the championship owing to injury but he surely did enough in the O'neachtas games against Wexford to convince the selectors.

Likewise, I cannot agree with the selectors in leaving out Joe Condon. In fact, ignoring him altogether makes it even worse. Condon could quite capably partner Theo English at midfield, thus releasing Liam Devaney for the centre-forward berth.

Whilst most of us were of the idea that Clare's Jimmy Smith had retired from inter-county fare, the Ruan star appears at top of the right with the ageless Ring beside him.

Incidentally it can be taken as almost definite that Jimmy Doyle, chosen to skipper the side at right-half forward, will be an absentee. In fact, the

SEAMAS POWER

Irishman will hardly be seen in a hurling jersey before May or June and his obvious replacement seems to be Waterford's Frankie Walsh.

The following is the side chosen: M. Cashman (Cork); J. Bruhan (do.); M. Maher (Tip.); K. Carey (do.); G. O'Sullivan (Cork); M. O. Morrissey (Waterford); M. Eurns (Tipp.); T. English (Tipp.) and L. Devaney (do.); E. Doyle (Tipp) capt.; T. Kelly (Cork); D. Nealon (Tip.); L. Smith (Clare); C. Ring (Cork); S. Power (Waterford); Subs.—A. Flynn (Waterford); K. Long (Limerick); T. Wall (Tipp.); F. Walsh (Waterford) and P. J. Keane (Limerick).

MICK CONNOLLY AND MONTY GURRY HONOURED

Fourmilewater's hurler-cum-footballer, Mick Connolly and his equally versatile Monty Gurry have been chosen on the rest of Munster side to play Kerry in a trial in Tralee on February 11th. Connolly has been chosen at right half-back whilst Gurry is included in the full line of attack. Both are really fine footballers and impressive displays against the Kingdom could earn them places on the Provincial side that meets holders, Leinster.

Ardmore's Tommy Power—surely the finest "wee" man in the code in the county is amongst the subs—and there can be no grouses at his selection. His recent league display alone merited his inclusion on the panel.

ST. MARY'S DUNGARVAN MAKE IT TWO IN A ROW

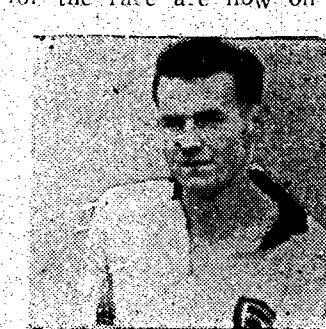

For the second year in succession St. Mary's A. and C.C. (Dungarvan) have carried off the team prize in the county novice cross-country championship. At Lisimore, on Sunday last their five-man team of P. O'Donnell, T. Foley, J. McGovern, Tom Power and Donald O'Meara retained the laurels.

beatlie Lisimore and Dunhill into second and third places respectively.

The county junior cross-country championships will be held at Killossera (Race Course) next Sunday at 3 p.m. St. Mary's will again compete and should be closely concerned in the final shake-up. Incidentally the beautiful cups for the race are now on display in the window of Con Roche's Hairdressing Salon, Vary St. The club will also hold its annual general meeting in the Friary Hall on Wednesday next, January 24th at 8.15 p.m. All members and intending members of this progressive club are requested to attend.

NOMINATIONS FOR CO. CONVENTION

With the exception of Secretary, there are nominations for all other positions, at Sunday week's County Convention. Genial outgoing Secretary Dec Goode is returned unopposed for his 24th year, a record that speaks in no uncertain manner for the popularity of the Dungarvan man. During his long reign at the head of Gaelic affairs in the county he has firmly established himself as a most able administrator and it is only a fitting compliment that the clubs of the county should see fit to return him unopposed.

The following is the complete list of nominations received for all positions:— Chairman: Pat Fanning (outgoing); Paddy Kenneally (St. John's). Secretary: Dec Goode (unopposed). Treasurer: Paddy Kenneally (outgoing); P. J. O'Sullivan (Clonea); John Fraher (Cappoquin); Joe Conway (do.).

Two Delegates to Munster Council: Tom Lannon (outgoing); Seamus Power (outgoing); Donal Whelan (Abbeyside); Sean Ormonde (Kilrossside); Willie Jones (Gael Co.); Nicholas Mac Crait (Brickeys); Tom Penkert (Perribar); Jamie Moloney (Fourmilewater); Jim Ware (Erin's Own); M. O'Donnacadh (Lisimore); Tom Cunniffham (Dungarvan); John Fraher (Cappoquin); Joe Conway (do.).

Delegate to Central Council: C. Ware, Sr. (outgoing); J. Moloney (Fourmilewater); S. O'Brien (Abbeyside).

Abbeyside collected two very valuable away points when they defeated Glenard 6-0 at Poteberry Park, Waterford on Sunday last. Glenard fielded under-strength, but there was no denying the better team won. Abbeyside won the toss and played with the wind and sun, but were slow to settle down and it was Glenard who made all the early running. However, midway through the first half the villagers got a firm grip on the game and after sustained pressure Amby McGovern put them into the lead ten minutes before half-time. Though Abbeyside continued to press strongly, they failed to increase their lead up to half time due mainly to the City team's keeper.

From the kick-off for the second half Abbeyside were again on the offensive and in a golden ten minute spell had increased their lead to 4-0. The rest of the game was only a formality and without really trying Abbeyside added a further two goals to run out the easiest of winners.

But, however, one must remember how badly handled the opposition were and there certainly is no room for complacency after this facile win.

The back line after a shaky start, settled down to play in their usual sound manner and were never really troubled after the first ten minutes. Ambie McGovern, playing at centre-forward, due to the absence of 'flu victim Michael Singleton, had a very good game and was again the pick of the forward line. Danny McGovern, after a long lay-off through injury, made his first appearance of the season and was a welcome addition to the line.

Scorers for Abbeyside were: Danny McGovern (3), Ambie McGovern (2) and Billy Mulvihill (1).

On Sunday next Abbeyside play Glenville (Waterford) at New Line Park, Abbeyside. Kick-off at 3.30 p.m. This venue is becoming very popular with local fans and a big crowd is expected to cheer on the village.
