NOTICE TO PIG PRODUCERS

The current price for overweight and fat pigs tends to encourage the production of unsuitable pigs. We advise producers that this situation would appear to be very temporary. Accordingly, we feel obliged to warn feeders that the price of heavy and fat pigs may possibly depreciate very much in the near future.

NOTICE TO PIG PRODUCERS
The current price for overweight and fat pigs tends to encourage the production of unsuitable pigs. We advise producers that this situation would appear to be very temporary. Accordingly, we feel obliged to warn feeders that the price of heavy and fat pigs may possibly depreciate very much in the near future.

Kilmacthomas Notes

Europe's Richest-Ever Race To-Date, the valuation being £87,370, will be decided this Saturday at the Curragh; it is the Irish Sweeps Derby and in so far as the punters of these parts are concerned the docket of the vast majority have the names of the two runners—Larkspur and Sebring (the latter fancied to win by a mile) booted in—readied at Ballydoyle, four miles from Cashel, Co. Tipperary, by Mr. Vincent O'Brien, trainer of the third Irish-trained Epsom Derby winner of the current century. And—well, that's that, friend "utterer!"

Employed for many years by the highly respected Harney family, of Ballydun, Kilmacthomas, was Miss Hannah Coughlan, whose death in Dungarvan District Hospital recently removed a good-minded and most industrious Catholic neighbour. Always cheery and helpful, she first saw the light in Ballyduff Upper, and to her sister, Miss Eileen Coughlan, and other relatives in that homely and hospitable West Waterford village, the sincere sympathy of the deceased lady's friends in Kilmac' and surroundings is extended. Peace to the departed one's gentle soul.

FISHING
 Net fishermen in this area took some good hauls of salmon in recent weeks. There were also good catches in weirs. Line fishermen reported excellent catches of bass, etc.

SYMPATHY
 West Waterford F.F. extended sympathy on recent bereavements to the Foley family, Lisgriffin, and the Coyne family, Moyang.

radiant health and spirits. Most pleasing to the mind to meditate on the wonderful scenes of ardent affection and prayerfulness observable in Kilmacthomas at the Corpus Christi procession there on Sunday evening last. The weather was cloudy, cold and windy, but there was no rain. An extremely large attendance representative of the parish of Newtown, Kilmacthomas and Kill, and of parishes outside of it, showed up at the assembly-point, outside the Convent Chapel, from which, at the set time, punctually, the fine procession started off and moved "with stately step and slow" along the arranged route, which was indicated in last week's issue of this paper and which was profusely decorated with flags, flowers and streamers for the auspicious occasion. Very Rev. Fr. R. Power, P.P., Newtown, carried the monstrance, under a canopy carried by a quartet of prominent and popular local parishioners. Also taking part were Sergeant Cahill and the other members of the local garda síochána, pupils of the local schools, members of the local Children of Mary Sodality, Confraternities of the Sacred Heart (Women's and Men's alike), the Convent Chapel Choir, Rev. M. Wall, C.C., Kilmacthomas, and Rev. L. Walsh, C.C., Kill. Open-air Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was imparted by the pastor from an altar in the Square specially constructed for the occasion. Later when the processionists were in the Convent Chapel, the impressive display of public devotion came to a close with Benediction, again bestowed by Very Rev. Fr. Power. The sacred music was soulfully rendered by the Choir, under Sr. M. Cecilia, who presided at the organ.

Within The Week. Mr. A. (Tony) O'Donnell, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Donnell, Currahaha South, Kilmacthomas, emigrated to the U.S.A. Good luck and every success to him.

Warmly Wishing good length of years of contentment-crowned happiness to Miss Margaret, Anne O'Reilly (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. O'Reilly, Currahaha, Kilmacthomas) and Mr. Don Casey (elder son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Casey, The Corner Shop, do.), whose marriage took place in the Parish Church, Stradbally, on Thursday, 28th inst. (Feast of St. Irenaeus) and who are travelling to Spain on their honeymoon.

WEDDING BELLS
AHEARNE-MURRAY
 A very pretty wedding was solemnised at St. Carthage's Church, recently, when Mr. Peter Ahearne, Glensaggart, Lismore, and Miss Angela Murray, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Murray, Castle St., Cappoquin, were joined in holy matrimony. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of white nylon lace and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Best man was Mr. Edward Barry, and the bridesmaids were Misses the Kathleens and Esther Murray (sisters of the bride). Groomsman was Mr. Michael Ahearne (uncle of the groom).

The bridesmaids wore gowns of pink nylon lace over satin and carried bouquets to match. The reception was held in Lismore Hotel and was attended by over thirty guests.

LOCAL TEACHER RETIRES

Last week witnessed the end of an era at the Christian Brothers, when the widely-esteemed Mr. Dan Hurley, N.T., went into retirement. To mark the occasion Mr. Hurley was the recipient of a handsome presentation from the Brothers of the Community in the town, of a suite of Waterford Glass. His colleagues on the staff were present and one and all paid tribute to the work and character of Mr. Hurley. His loss to the teaching profession will be a serious one, for Mr. Hurley was much more than a teacher. Generations of ex-pupils at the Monastery will remember him as an extremely kind instructor who presented the essential facts heavily disguised in story form. For him, education was a means to an end, and the end in his case was not of this world, for he understood that there was more to a boy than mere flesh and blood.

And so through the years he gave his all for the youth of Dungarvan, often sparing them when he would not spare himself. A shrewd judge of character and of a boy's ability, he was a tremendous help to parents who learned to lean heavily on his counsel.

Now that he has relinquished his post, it seems that an indefinable quality has passed from the school. Certain it is that his successor will have to work in living up to the standard set by Mr. Hurley in the course of 36 years of the most devoted service. We take this opportunity of wishing him health and happiness and many years more to enjoy the fruits of a lifetime spent doing good for others.

LISMORE NOTES

OBITUARY

On Friday last widespread regret was occasioned by the death of Very Rev. T. A. Canon Murphy, B.A., P.P. V.F., which sad event took place in Our Lady's House of Visitation, Clonmel, after a long illness.

Canon Murphy, though having spent only a short term as parish priest in Lismore, was widely known and deeply respected by all, having spent many years in the town as a curate.

A native of Clonmel, Canon Murphy was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Murphy, Hearn's Hotel, Clonmel, and brother of Mr. Raymond A. Murphy, proprietor Hearn's Hotel and the Marchese Malacrida, Dublin.

The remains were brought to St. Carthage's Church, Lismore on Saturday evening. The interment took place on Monday in the Churchyard after Requiem Office and High Mass at 11.00 a.m.

ROUND HILL BOWLING TOURNAMENT

With the exception of three scores, the first round scores of the above tournament have been thrown. Major surprise of course was the defeat of last year's champion Michael Lehanne, of Cappoquin. Though bowling well, he never really found the form that made him such a popular winner last year.

The following are the draws for the second round: B. Griffin (1) v. J. J. Scanton (2) v. G. O'Sullivan (3); I. Colender (1) v. Pat Foley (2) v. P. Herr (2); P. J. Kiely (1) v. T. Scanton (2) v. J. Keneffick (1); P. Connors (1) v. B. Conway (scr.) v. D. Long (2); M. Nugent (1) v. E. Barry (scr.) v. B. (first round winner); C. Murray (2) v. I. Lineen (2) v. J. Foley (scr.); J. Fitzgerald (scr.) v. J. J. Power (2) v. N. Colender (scr.); J. Fitzgerald (2) v. J. McGrath (1) v. Tom Wheelan (4); P. Griffin (1) v. L. Sullivan (scr.) v. 'C' (1st round winner); D. Murray (2) v. D. Shanahan (4) v. 'A' (1st round winner).

LATE MR. MICHL. HICKEY

Cahernaleague, Balkinamult
 The sad event of the death occurred on Wednesday evening, 20th June, of Michael Hickey at his residence Cahernaleague, after an illness of some duration. He was a well-known figure in West Waterford and South Tipperary and was a most active soldier during the fight for Irish freedom. He was also a keen believer in the Irish Language revival and Irish traditional music. He loved his native land and all things attached.

His remains were removed on Thursday evening (feast of Corpus Christi), the coffin draped in the tri-colour, with a guard of honour of his comrades in the Old IRA, under the command of Capt. Jack O'Meara, and were blessed and received at the Church gates by the Very Rev. Fr. P. Walsh, P.P., assisted by Rev. Fr. Jas. Kiely, O.S.A.

Requiem Masses were celebrated on Friday morning for the eternal repose of his soul and the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery. Rev. Fr. M. Fenwick, C.C., assisted by the Rev. Fr. T. Wall, C.C., Ballyporeen and Rev. Fr. J. Kiely, O.S.A., imparted the final absolution and recited the prayers for the dead at the graveside.

The chief mourners were: Mrs. Katharine Hickey (wife), Thomas, Sean, Michael, and Laurence (sons); Mr. J. J. Power, Postoffice, Mrs. D. O'Brien, Millstreet (sister).

Large sheaves of sympathy tributes were received by his wife and family. (Undertaking by James Kiely and Sons, Dungarvan).

SALMON FISHING

Last week net men in all areas had what might well be termed a bumper week, and according to the "old salts" they could not remember when so many peale or grise made their appearance. Some of the Youghal boats have accounted for well over 100 fish for last week. The peale range from 6 to 7½ lbs., and the odd scattering of salmon are averaging 10 lbs. In one tide last week, a drag net accounted for 69 peale and 23 salmon which is indeed a record. On the opening days of this week the boats were maintaining their catches and it would be indeed a blessing if it continues for July, which is the last month of the net season in the Lismore District.

The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing was performed by Rev. Fr. Wallace assisted by Rev. Fr. O'Sullivan. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. E. O'Higgins, wore a full length satin brocade sheath gown with flowering train and full length veil held in place with tiara and carried a bouquet of orchids, lily of the valley and stempatis. Bridesmaids were Miss Elysis Higgins (cousin of the bride) and Mrs. Josephine Dowling. They wore full length apricot chiffon frocks with matching pill box hats and gloves, and carried bouquets of tangerine and white carnations. Mr. Patrick Lavin was best man and Mr. James Shannon was groomsman. Train-bearer was Margaret Tully (niece of the groom), who wore a white nylon frock, white headdress of flowers and carried a posy of tangerine and white carnations. Going away, the bride wore a model pink suit with matching accessories. The honeymoon was spent touring England.

Both were the recipients of many wedding gifts and congratulatory messages. We join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Peyton the best of luck and happiness in their married life.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES

EUCCHARISTIC PROCESSION

Held in beautifully fine weather on Sunday, the number taking part in the Eucharistic Procession was the largest since the institution of the devotion here. The route from the parish church to the Convent was tastefully decorated with flowers, bunting and miniature altars. The procession, led by a cross-bearer and acolytes, was followed by the children of the schools, Children of Mary, members of the confraternities, choir and band. The Sacred Host was borne by Rev. M. Troy, who was assisted by Rev. R. Fitzpatrick, O.S.A., and Very Rev. J. Kennedy, P.P. Members of the Garda Síochána acted as a guard of honour. Hymns, to the accompaniment of the band, were sung, and the Rosary recited. Benediction was given on temporary altars at the Square and on the terrace at the Convent. The impressive ceremonies concluded with Benediction in the Church.

HOME AGAIN

We join with his many friends in extending a welcome to popular Mr. M. J. Sargent, Senr., who has returned home following some weeks in hospital.

In returning thanks, Mr. Murphy said he appreciated their beautiful present and the generous spirit of the staff.

IMPORTANT POST

ROWING

Local senior crews travelled on last Saturday to Blessington to compete in the Metropolitan Regatta. Because of the squally weather, and very rough water in which many boats were swamped, but mainly because some of the oarsmen are non-swimmers, the Captain decided to withdraw the crews. It was a difficult decision to make, but the safety of the oarsmen was his chief consideration.

G.A.A.

On tomorrow (Friday) evening at 7.45, a junior hurling championship game between Dungarvan and Cappoquin will take place here.

Two Women Spoke for Waterford

Two ladies represented Waterford at the annual conference of the Librarians Association of Ireland which was held last week at Mosney, Co. Meath.

They were the new County Librarian Mrs. Catherine Hayes, B.A., Harbour View, Dungarvan, and Mrs. Louie Maher, Church Street, Dungarvan.

Mrs. Maher, a member of the County Librarians Committee, was appointed delegate at the last meeting of the committee. She is secretary of the County Waterford branch of the Rehabilitation Institution, on the committee of the County Markets and a prominent member of Ballinacree Guild I.C.A.

They Started the Day with a Pic-Nic

Members of the Ballinacree branch Macra na Feirme enjoyed their lunch on Thursday last a la fresco style fifty miles from home in the heart of the Golden Vale of Tipperary near the scenic slopes of Slievenamon.

The picnic lunch was a special treat for the group, who were on their annual educational tour, which this year took them to Orchardstown farm at Clonmel and then to Tullamane Castle near Cashel. They also had time for a quick look-in at a number of other modern farm lay-outs in the locality.

Following an early Mass, the mixed group of ladies and men from the branch left by convoy of cars, with lunch-baskets and tea-flasks loaded aboard.

At the conclusion of their very interesting farm-tour the full group sat down in the afternoon to a full-course dinner which was provided by the club at a Tipperary hotel.

Late Mr. Rodger Kiely

Glendaloughlin, Ballymacarby

The death occurred on Sunday the 24th, at St. Joseph's Hospital, Dungarvan, of Rodger Kiely, after a rather short duration of illness, but at an advanced age. He was a most popular member of the community in the Nire area where he was better known. He had spent most of his early life in the U.S.A., before returning to his native land. Widespread regret was manifested at his passing.

His remains were removed from the Hospital Mortuary on Monday evening to the Nire Church followed by a cortege of very great dimensions and were blessed and received by the Rev. M. Fennell, C.C.

Requiem Mass was celebrated on Tuesday morning for his eternal repose, and the interment took place in the presence of another very large concourse. Rev. Fr. M. Fennell, C.C., officiated at the graveside.

(Undertaking by James Kiely and Sons, Dungarvan).

Special quotation for large acreage

N.F.A. PRESIDENT WANTS TO KNOW "Is it that our institutions are wrong, that we have not given them sufficient power, of that we have not the right personnel in charge of these bodies? We as an Association must insist that these bodies report back to the particular section of Irish Agriculture to which they are responsible. If they do not report back, if they keep us in the dark, if we must see that they are not allowed to hide their light under a bushel."

These words were used by the N.F.A. President, Mr. Richard Deasy, when he addressed the North Tipperary County Executive in Newport, last Friday. Some of the institutions he mentioned are the Irish Co-operative Movement, the Potato Marketing Company, An Bord Grain, An Bord Taluntais, the Pigs and Bacon Commission and An Bord Baine.

"We the N.F.A. have demonstrated, in a very practical way, our support for the Irish Co-operative Movement, by the tremendous effort we have made to establish Co-operative Milk Marketing, and to jointly own a new co-opatively owned by the farmers themselves."

Referring specifically to the Irish Co-operative Movement, Mr. Deasy said that in the light of the tremendous success story in co-operation in the export field in France, it is surely reasonable to ask the Irish Co-operative Movement to state its plans for the future. "Can we now expect from it a dynamic programme for the expansion of co-operation in every section of agricultural activity, with particular attention to the needs of the small farm areas in every part of the country. We await these plans eagerly, and we in N.F.A. look forward to assisting in implementing them."

The Potato Marketing Company, he said, is old-established and deserves credit for having done a good job in establishing a high reputation for our seed on the world market. "But old-established companies may easily become complacent and we must ask the Potato Marketing Company what are its plans for the future development of our seed potato trade? We also ask the Bord what is their policy towards growers' co-operatives? If it is State policy to encourage the co-operative movement in agriculture, can we take it that it is also State policy that Marketing Companies and Boards will direct their policies to foster and encourage the growth of these co-operatives?"

Of An Bord Grain the President said that in its own limited field it has done a good job and has shown that farmers are well able to conduct large-scale business. "However, we do not yet seem to have had their Report and Accounts for the year 1960 and we must ask when these would be available to the public?"

Concerning An Bord Taluntais or the Agricultural Institute the President asked the question which is uppermost in the minds of many farmers: when would the results of the research projects being carried out by the Institute be put into practice? "I think we must also ask ourselves whether we are satisfied that the present methods of election are in fact putting the best possible men into the key positions as members of the Council of the Institute."

Where the Pigs and Bacon Commission is concerned we are also very much in the dark. While the two farmer members of the Commission recently took the opportunity of reporting to their organisations, they do not seem yet to have received an official report from the Commission, even on its first year's working. Here again we want to know what are its plans for tackling the many problems outlined in the relevant sections of the Report of the Marketing Committee.

With reference to An Bord Baine, we are fully justified in asking the Board what it has done since its establishment and from important still what are its plans for the immediate future? What price incentives can it offer to our milk producers and our creamery industry to compensate them for the extra effort that will be demanded from them? What measures does it propose and what incentives can it offer to our creamery industry to rationalise and streamline its organisation and methods? And, finally, what have been its achievements to date in selling our dairy produce on the world markets, and what prospects does it hold out to us as producers for the future?"

A strong case for a co-ordinated approach to our agricultural drive becomes irresistible when you consider the complexities of present world trade. "We can sell sugar in America, but we must buy yellow corn in exchange, and if we are not organised to cope with these proposals in advance, we shall undoubtedly miss valuable trading opportunities."

The President concluded his address by answering rather than asking questions. He went into detail on the steps being taken by the N.F.A. to prepare itself for the challenge immediately ahead of us. Despite a striking upsurge in membership, he said, we must continue to forge ahead until farm income is brought up to a more realistic level. Our National Livestock Committee is now finalising its report on the future of our livestock industry. We have set up a Farm

Structures Committee to examine specifically the problems of the small farm areas. We are now far advanced with the preliminary arrangements for the publication of our own N.F.A. periodical, which will give us a direct personal contact with our individual members. We have done more, said the President, and our plans further for the development of our work at international level are rapidly taking practical shape. "If we, all of us, play our part, we can be sure that by our success we shall exact from the Agricultural Institute from our Co-operative Movement, from our Marketing Institutions, and from the Government an equal effort."

It is on the sum total of all these efforts that the future of Irish Agriculture depends. But the key effort must be ours."

Proposals submitted by the N.F.A. some time ago have been accepted by the Minister for Industry & Commerce, the work of putting these proposals into effect is continuing in the Department. Pending the introduction of adequate safeguards on compensation for farmers and restoration of land, the Department officials pointed out that the compulsory powers of land acquisition for open-cast mining will remain suspended, as they have been since February 1961, when the N.F.A. objected to the use of such powers.

In view of the rapid spread of oil and mineral prospecting activities throughout the country, implementation of our proposals is of immediate importance, both in the interests of farming and of the national economy.

It is doubtful whether farmers are sufficiently conscious of the need to protect their cattle against contagious abortion. Every farmer should regard it as routine practice to vaccinate with Strain 19 Vaccine all heifers intended for breeding. They should be vaccinated between the ages of 4 to 8 months.

The N.F.A. National Livestock Committee is worried by the losses of calves resulting each year from this disease. This disease is common in all parts of the country and the risk of infection can be very great indeed. Besides reducing milk yield, contagious abortion can and does in many cases result in permanent sterility.

Under an arrangement between the Department of Agriculture and the Veterinary Practitioners, farmers can have vaccination with Strain 19 carried out by their own Veterinary Surgeons at a moderate cost. The Livestock Committee would, however, like to draw the attention of all farmers to the fact that adult cows should not be vaccinated except on the specific advice of a veterinary surgeon.

Members of the N.F.A. National Industrial Committee, accompanied by representatives of the National Land Reclamation Association, met senior officials of the Land Project on Tuesday, 26th June. Among the items for discussion were: the section on land reclamation in the Small Farms Report; Review of the costing system for Land Project grants; Long-term credit facilities for land reclamation.

Post of Senior Dental Surgeon Refused

If the appointment was made there would still be only one dentist for every 8,000 people in the County, whereas in other parts of the country one to 4,000 was not considered adequate. This was stated by the Co. Manager, Mr. S. J. Moynihan, at last Friday's meeting of Waterford Health Authority when, by ten votes to four, a proposal to create the post of senior dental surgeon in the county was defeated.

Mr. Thomas Gallagher proposing that the appointment be made said he had experience of the necessity of such a position several times. Mr. Moynihan said the creation of the post was very necessary. Having outlined the above-mentioned figures, he added that the ratio in the Continent was one dentist for every thousand people.

At this stage some members complained that they could not hear what was being said properly. Mr. W. Power said enough money had been spent on the building (Dungarvan Court-house) to have it fitted. Mr. J. Fahey then quipped: "But if any increases come up you can hear everything and vote against them."

Mr. J. A. Hynes (Acting Secretary) said there were four established dental posts at present in the county. Their salary was £1,300 to £1,550 and the working hours 9.30 to 5 or 5.30 p.m. The salary scale for this post, if created, would be £1,450 x 40 to £1,700 p.a.

Mr. J. Fahey: I have heard several complaints about Dentists not going to work until 12 o'clock. Mr. J. Griffin said anyone would agree that there was an unjustifiable lag in giving dentists to people and this was due to either inadequate staffing or organisation. It would be wise and economical to give supervisory powers to a man in connection with dental affairs.

Co. Manager: He would be a working foreman, and that is accepted as necessary in every sphere. Also, half his salary is recuperable. Mr. Hynes said applications for dentures, dating back two years, were only being dealt with now. Mr. Griffin: It's 5 years in some cases. Mr. Gallagher: Isn't that one of the points in favour of the appointment?

It was also pointed out that the two medical officers—city and county—recommended the creation of an additional post. Mr. Gallagher's proposal was then put to the meeting and defeated 10-4. The voting was as follows: Against—Messrs. Curran, Dower, Fahey, Roche, Quirke, N. Walsh, Cahill, Galgey, Madden, Hamilton (10); For—Messrs. Power, Gallagher, Browne, Griffin (4).

When the Manager then asked if the members would consider placing one of the existing dentists in a supervisory capacity, it was decided to deal with the matter at their next meeting.

AFFANE-TOURIN EXTENSIONS

The only delay was the recommendation of a tender from the Consulting Engineer, and when that was forthcoming they could start work on the project. This was the information given to Col. N. Walsh by the Co. Engineer when he requested a report on the Affane Tourin water supply extensions at Monday's Co. Council meeting.

Col. Walsh said it was an area that was almost dry. Last November they had a Consultant down and he told them work would start at the beginning of the year at the latest. It was the laughing stock of West Waterford.

The County Engineer said all they were awaiting was a recommendation from a tender from the Consulting Engineer. Col. Curran said they should ask him to attend the next meeting of the Council. Col. N. Walsh: All we want is a simple letter recommending a tender. The local representatives are not to blame for the delay.

Mr. Hally: We have wired, phoned and written without result. Col. Walsh: It is a most unsatisfactory position. Col. J. Fahey said this was a good point in favour of not appointing consultants. They were only holding this scheme up.

A proposal by Col. Walsh seconded by Col. J. Quirke, that immediately for a recommended tender was then passed.

On the morning in question at 7 a.m. Griffin removed the calf from the shed and conveyed it 23 miles to Killeagh Co. Cork, where he sold it to a James Crowley for 10 guineas. He never told Mr. Kiely or anyone else that he had taken the calf. He (defendant) was never previously convicted of any crime. He was in constant employment at the time and earning good money. It was a very mean theft and by selling the calf for 10 guineas when it was worth at least £15 showed he had no intention of paying for it. Only for the alertness and promptitude of Sergeant Brown this man who was masquerading around the area as a decent citizen would not have been caught. Apart from the meanness of the crime, as this was an agricultural country, it was a serious one and he would ask to have a heavy penalty imposed.

Mr. E. P. King, Solr., defending said his client did not commit a crime but it was a pity the Supt. should have to be so harsh in his comments on a man whose first crime this was. The calf would be returned and restitution would be made to Mr. Kiely. He was a married man with a 16-year-old daughter and since the crime he had gone to England and made arrangements to take up work there.

Justice Skinner: I don't want any mention of people going to England. Mr. T. F. Lynch, an extensive farmer in the Ballymore area said he knew the defendant for the last 20 odd years. He never refused to do anyone a good turn and it was a bombshell to them all when this occurred. He was the best labouring man to everybody in the district.

Auditor's Report Adopted

On the proposal of Deo. K. Walsh, seconded by Col. J. D. Dowd, the annual meeting of Waterford County Council on Monday adopted the Auditor's Report for 1960/61. This report caused a certain amount of controversy due in the main to the Auditor's references on the Engineering Dept. of the Council.

But at Monday's meeting the Co. Engineer (Mr. J. D. Hally) referred to the report and gave the following comments on the various items which affect his department: 1.—Quarry Section of Materials Expense Account: Improvements in methods of operation have been carried out in both Woodhouse and Glenshank Quarries progressively over the past two years or so and have resulted in an improvement in the position of the quarries.

Improved methods of blasting, the introduction of mechanical handling and other operational methods have reduced the cost of production and we have as you know increased the issue of chips by 1/2 per cent. year. This latter move was needed to counteract the increased cost of production due to increased wages, reduced working hours etc. However, in the last quarry working year—which runs approximately from October to September, expenditure and receipts were very nearly balanced. As you are aware we have had closed Kieley's Cross Quarry as far as County Council operations are concerned and the present method of working should restore the financial position there over a period.

2.—Commentary on the Absence of Checks on Receipts and Issue of Goods to Stores: I am unable to understand this reference because there is a very effective system of receipt and issue checks on all materials passing through stores. The stores system has been the subject of a continuous re-organisation over the past two and a half years and has now reached the very high state of organisation with effective control therein. In this regard I would refer to the Co. Accountant's recent report on the stores organisation. During the audit the auditor was made aware of the changes that were being made in the organisation.

3.—Credit for Supply of Tar and Bitumen: The auditor's point that I had no authority to negotiate in connection with the failure of a section of surface-dressing seems to me to be a peculiar one. After all the matter at issue was purely a technical one and I feel, I need hardly say that there was no intention on my part to pass your authority. I might say here that the supplier's refund of the seven hundred odd pounds involved was largely a gesture of good will on their part because we would have found it very difficult to prove the material used was in fact defective.

4.—Work Carried out for the Ring College Authorities: This is a question of a different interpretation of the position by the Auditor and myself. I felt and still feel that the Council should make good the defects arising from the work which they did in the first instance. In fact however, the College Authorities paid the additional account here.

5.—Purchase of Blade Graders: My recommendation to purchase the Blade Graders on a "hire-cum-purchase" basis was based on my experience in another County where such a system was operated and where the payments had been passed at audit. I understand that this was not the only county where this system operated and also the refund of the excess payment which the Auditor computed at £423-0-6 was made by the suppliers of the machines as a gesture of goodwill. Incidentally I may say that the cost of acquiring these machines on the "hire-cum-purchase" basis was less than the normal traditional basis of a loan for the usual period. One of the advantages of the hire-cum-purchase basis is that if one wishes to do so it is possible at any stage to abandon the machine having paid the charges to that date. There is of course no question of this happening in the case of the two machines which are the subject of comment because they were in fact fully employed all the time. The method of the normal method of advertising is one which hardly arises in the case of heavy machinery, because on having decided on the particular machine which is best for the job then there is no question of advertising because there is only the one source in the country from which the machine can be obtained.

6.—Travelling Expenses to Overseer—I consider that it was unreasonable to ask an Overseer to attend a conference in Dungarvan without making some payment to him for it. The man in question, brought other Overseers into the conference and the allowance was, I consider, reasonable. He has funded the cost since, but the Department after protracted correspondence have recognised the principle of allowing Overseers expenses attending conference and they have agreed to a scale of payments for such conferences.

DEPUTY LYNCH IN THE DAIL

Deputy Lynch asked the Minister for Finance what his position regarding the proposal to build a new school at Glansheen, Dungarvan. The Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister for Finance (Mr. O'Malley) replied that a contract for the erection of this school has recently been placed.

Deputy Lynch asked the Minister for Finance when the scheme for the pier at Dungarvan will be repaired. The Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister for Finance (Mr. O'Malley) replied that the pier has already been repaired on the portions of the pier which were made dangerous by the storm. Repairs to the surface of the pier will be completed in the next two weeks. It has been decided in order to provide additional working space to demolish some of the old structure on the pier and that work will be completed before the beginning of the fishing season opens.

No Increase for Co. Medical Officers

With the failure to obtain a second, the proposal of Mr. J. Power to grant a revised salary scale to two County Medical Officers, was automatically defeated at last Friday's meeting of Waterford Health Authority.

Mr. J. A. Hynes said their present salaries were £1,880 x 35 to £2,040 and the revised scales, if granted, would be £2,115 x £70 to £2,405. Mr. J. Cahill: I don't think the Minister for Health has £2,405. Mr. N. Walsh: This thing will break the back of the Health Authority, the backs of the rate-payers and our own backs.

FURTHER SALARY APPLICATION LOST

An application from the County's E.N.T. (Ear, Nose and Throat) Surgeon for a revised salary scale, which would bring his salary from £895 to £1,350, was unanimously put down. This scale has already been granted in Limeck and Galway. A revised salary scale for the Matron, Ardkeen Hospital, Assistant Matron, do, Tutor Sister and Home Sister, do, and Assistant to the Matron, Co. Home, Dungarvan, was carried by 7 votes to 1.

NO INCREASE FOR HEALTH NURSES A motion requesting that, subject to sanction of the Minister for Health, that they approve of revised salary scales as follows for Health Nurses, with effect as from April 1st, '61: £600 x 15—£890 x £10—£700, and that they approve of the over-expenditure of £356 to cover same, was defeated on the casting vote of the Acting Chairman, Mr. N. Walsh.

Danger in the Fields There is no known cure for ragwort poisoning, yet the weed is common in most parts of the country. Farmers whose cattle die after eating ragwort are frequently puzzled to find the cause of death, apparently not knowing that the weed will kill. Even when ragwort has been incorporated in hay or silage it remains highly poisonous, so that cattle being fed indoors in the winter can still fall victims to it. The expense of dealing with ragwort is far less than the value of a single cow. An old method of controlling ragwort is to graze the infested fields with sheep, which do not normally react to it. Two or three cuttings each year or spraying with weed-killer at the time the first flowers are appearing on the plants will also eradicate it. The most thorough way of all is to pull the individual plants by hand and then burn them. Ragwort spreads easily and will re-infest cleaned land in a short time, so eradication is best carried out on an area basis by co-operation between neighbouring farmers. When using a spray it should be remembered that the spray makes the ragwort more palatable to stock, so they should be kept off the sprayed fields until the plants are dead. Further information can be obtained from county agricultural advisers and from the Department of Agriculture leaflet No. 126 "Ragwort Poisoning in Stock," which can be got from the Department's head office, Merrion Street, Dublin 2, free of charge.

Separate Engineer for Health Authority?

ADDITIONAL ROAD EXPENDITURE WILL GIVE EXTRA WORK

Improving of the expenditure of an additional £5,846 on County Roads, Waterford County Council at its meeting on Monday approved the proposal of £15,000 towards the above-mentioned roads, and a guarantee of employment for ten extra workers.

The proposal by Col. Madden asked for an additional expenditure of £8,992 for County Roads, but the information from the County Engineer, these figures were amended to £5,846 and £3,283 for Main and respectively.

The Co. Engineer said if the proposal was carried, the County Council would be an extra road grant.

Chairman—Is it this an increase? If we do not pass it we will lose £15,000.

Col. N. Walsh—They're increasing the grants and not our hands.

Co. Manager—It is a question of helping those who help themselves.

Col. N. Walsh—The only way we help ourselves is by increasing the rates.

Col. E. Walsh said he would support Col. Madden's proposal if the money would be put towards county roads. They were spending too much money on main roads. Every road should be brought up to a reasonable standard. He lavished money on roads which thousands of people had already been using.

Col. K. O'Ryan said more money was being spent on the roads of the County put together.

Replying to Col. Dowd, the Co. Engineer said a maximum of 10 to 15 extra road workers would be employed if the proposal was passed.

Col. Dowd—How many men were left off at Glenshask Quarry?

Co. Engineer—Eight.

Col. Dowd—And to replace them with dumpers and loaders is costing £45 a week. The front loader in the quarry even when not being used is costing the Council 12/6 an hour. It is all very uneconomical. Our money is working for foreign manufacturers of machinery.

The Chairman said the policy all over seemed to be mechanisation but that was not a good policy.

Col. Foran said he was completely against approving of the additional expenditure, despite the fact that they would lose the grants. They should provide roads first for the people living in the county and they should be regarded as the main roads and not the ones they were talking of at present. They were only catering for those that "blew in" for a while and until the highways and byways of the County were put in order he would not vote for it. It was a question of juggling a carrot before a donkey.

Col. K. O'Ryan—Is there anything depriving us from developing our highways and byways? We can, but he (Mr. Foran) will not vote for it. Anyone not voting for this proposal is deliberately throwing £15,000 away.

Col. N. Walsh—We are saving the ratepayers 5d. in the £. A vote was then taken and Col. Madden's proposal was carried 11-7. The voting was: For—Colrs. Madden, Butler, K. O'Ryan, Dowd, H. K. O'Ryan, Galley, G. Walsh (11); Against—Colrs. Curran, Dowd, Whelan, Foran, O'Ryan, N. Walsh, J. Quirke.

Heated Exchanges Between Councillor and Staff Officer

When Col. W. Foran congratulated the County Council on the wonderful success they had made of the rate collection at the county annual meeting, heated exchanges followed between Col. N. Walsh and Mr. Seamus Keating, Staff Officer, Rates Dept. of the Council.

Col. Walsh said he resented letters being sent to the ratepayers.

Mr. Keating said he always tried to be fair and to whom it might concern, they might get a new collector.

Col. Walsh—Then get out of the County.

Mr. Keating—Col. Walsh said anyone else knows anything of cases where we send letters.

Col. Walsh—I also know of where you did.

Mr. Keating—Col. Walsh said revert to the other side of the picture.

Col. Walsh—The people are in the face with the County.

Col. Galley—And in their faces.

Col. G. Heekin and D. Monaghan said they always found Square, Dunarvan.

Following Requiem Masses on Monday the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery.

Couldn't Hear What was being Said

DURING the course of a discussion on the proposed creation of the post of Senior Dental Surgeon, at last Friday's Health Authority meeting in Dunarvan Courthouse, several members voiced complaints regarding the difficulty in properly hearing what was being said by those sitting at the Officials Bench.

This bench is raised above the level of the members table, behind which—at a higher level still—is the press table.

Mr. Fahey said it was impossible to catch everything that was being said.

Mr. W. Dowd said the traffic on the street was always a bogey, but enough money (approx.) had been spent on renovating the building to have it right.

Mr. J. Power: If any increases come up we can hear all right and vote against them.

The Co. Manager (Mr. S. J. Moynihan) said he would ask if anything could be done about the acoustics of the place.

Mr. N. Walsh (Acting Chairman): It wasn't as bad before it was renovated.

Chairman and Vice-Chairman Re-elected

Mr. Charles Curran (outgoing) was re-elected unopposed as Chairman of Waterford Co. Council at the Council's Annual meeting in Dunarvan on Monday.

Proposing Mr. Curran's re-election Col. J. Quirke said during the past year he had done his best and acted fairly to everyone. He was the quickest Chairman to do business he had met in the last 40 years.

Col. F. Roche who seconded Mr. Curran's proposal, said Mr. Curran tried to be fair to everybody. In doing so he may have made himself unpopular with some of the public but certainly not with them.

In reply Col. Curran thanked the members most sincerely for re-electing him. Any success he had achieved in his efforts during the year, was due to the co-operation he had received from the members and officials. He had been proposed and seconded by two old I.R.A. men who fought for the country's freedom and that to him was a privilege and honour.

The Manager also congratulated Mr. Curran on being re-elected.

MR. N. WALSH RE-ELECTED VICE-CHAIRMAN

On the proposal of Col. D. F. Madden, seconded by Col. G. Heekin, Mr. N. Walsh, outgoing vice-chairman, was also re-elected unanimously.

The Chairman said their's was a very wise choice. Mr. Walsh was one of the most sincere and dedicated public representatives he had ever met.

Mr. Walsh thanked the members for re-electing him and Col. Curran for his kind remarks. If called upon he would try to act to the best of his ability.

WILL DECIDE MEETING DAY

At the July meeting of Waterford Health Authority, the members will consider the most suitable day for holding their monthly meetings.

At last Friday's meeting, Mr. Angus Hamilton said if the meetings continued to be held on Friday's he would be forced to resign, as he could not possibly attend.

From the trend of the discussion, Thursday appears to be the likely day.

BY 13 votes to 1, Waterford Health Authority at its monthly meeting on Friday, decided to appoint a full-time engineer, with the rank of Chief Assistant and a salary of £1350x57 to £1635. They must yet get final sanction from the Department.

Mr. S. J. Moynihan (Co. Manager) said they were paying £1,900 a year to the Co. Council for engineering services provided by the Co. Council. The Co. Engineer, Mr. J. D. Hally also thought the Authority would be better off with a separate Engineer, half of whose salary would be reimbursable.

Mr. Moynihan went on to say there were two Engineers in the old Board of Health and Public Assistance, and it would be good business to appoint one of their own. The Department might not agree to it, but at least they should put it to them.

Mr. Milo Galley said it was the most sensible suggestion he had heard for a long time. It was as if they had got a sale.

Mr. Moynihan said if the Engineer was transferred from the County Council to the Health Authority, no new post would be created in the County Council. They would be very

Co. Engineer Replies to Tomato-Selling Allegations

Allegations that a County Council Engineer sold tomatoes at a creamery at 10.30 on a working day, which were made at the last meeting of the County Council were the subject of a reply from the County Engineer (Mr. Hally) at last Monday's annual meeting. As the member who made the allegation was absent, however, further discussion on it was ruled out.

The following is the text of Mr. Hally's reply: "At the last meeting of the County Council references were made to the selling of tomatoes by a member of the engineering staff. In the context in which the references were made the implication was plain that this was interfering with the way in which the officer in question was discharging his duties. The fact is that one member of the staff does on occasions deliver tomatoes to a creamery in Co. Waterford when he is passing but the fact that he does this has no bearing or effect in the exemplary way in which he discharges his duties and is therefore no concern of mine or of the County Council."

"I would normally have regarded such comment as too petty to warrant remark, but in this case the references received some publicity and in fairness to the officer concerned I think the explanation should receive equal publicity."

11/- A WEEK INCREASE FOR ROADWORKERS

On the recommendation of the County Manager, members of Waterford County Council at their meeting on Monday last granted an increase of 11/- a week to the Council roadworkers, bringing them to the same rate as the roadworkers of South and North Tipperary.

Before the meeting was an application from the Trade Unions for an increase of 15/- a week.

Col. J. Fahey proposed the increase recommended by the Manager. Their workers were as good as any in Ireland and they should at least be given the Tipperary rate.

Col. P. Cahill seconded.

Col. Foran—I believe we are just going daft.

Col. R. Walsh—I'd like to give the increase but where is the money going to come from?

Col. Fahey—I have as much concern for the ratepayers as anyone else but no one can tell me £6-10-0 (their present salary) is a decent wage for a family man. We should treat our workers as good as adjoining counties.

The increase was passed unopposed.

Chairman and Vice-Chairman Re-elected

Mr. Charles Curran (outgoing) was re-elected unopposed as Chairman of Waterford Co. Council at the Council's Annual meeting in Dunarvan on Monday.

Proposing Mr. Curran's re-election Col. J. Quirke said during the past year he had done his best and acted fairly to everyone. He was the quickest Chairman to do business he had met in the last 40 years.

Col. F. Roche who seconded Mr. Curran's proposal, said Mr. Curran tried to be fair to everybody. In doing so he may have made himself unpopular with some of the public but certainly not with them.

In reply Col. Curran thanked the members most sincerely for re-electing him. Any success he had achieved in his efforts during the year, was due to the co-operation he had received from the members and officials. He had been proposed and seconded by two old I.R.A. men who fought for the country's freedom and that to him was a privilege and honour.

The Manager also congratulated Mr. Curran on being re-elected.

MR. N. WALSH RE-ELECTED VICE-CHAIRMAN

On the proposal of Col. D. F. Madden, seconded by Col. G. Heekin, Mr. N. Walsh, outgoing vice-chairman, was also re-elected unanimously.

The Chairman said their's was a very wise choice. Mr. Walsh was one of the most sincere and dedicated public representatives he had ever met.

Mr. Walsh thanked the members for re-electing him and Col. Curran for his kind remarks. If called upon he would try to act to the best of his ability.

Homage To Eucharistic King

The annual Procession of the Blessed Sacrament took place through the streets of the town on Sunday last, in bright sunshine with a fairly strong breeze.

Rural Cottages Scheme Get "O.K."

After a delay of many years, Waterford County Council will go ahead with the erection of 105 rural cottages in the near future. At last Monday's meeting a motion by Deputy Kynne that a temporary assistant County Engineer be appointed to supervise the scheme was carried by twelve votes to 6, thus giving the "all clear" signal for the scheme to commence by direct labour.

At the May meeting of the County Council this appointment was rejected, but the Co. Engineer refused to start the scheme without a qualified engineer as supervisor.

Deputy Kynne said the only practical way to have the cottages built was by direct labour, but since they could not go ahead without an assistant engineer they had to make a decision. Unless we build cottages, he said, the people would drift into the towns and if we build them we will have to provide supervision.

Col. Galley seconded Deputy Kynne said the people were flying out of the county because of lack of houses and the proposed scheme could not be built without an engineer.

Col. O'Ryan—I wonder if our engineers had got the increases they were looking for would they supervise the scheme.

The County Manager said they had advertised for an Engineer for the scheme before the May meeting so that they could put the scheme into operation right away if passed. They were very disappointed when it was turned down.

Chairman—The houses built in this county a few years ago were a disgrace and are falling down now and all because they were not properly supervised. Do not let that happen now.

Col. Fahey said it was time they accepted their responsibilities and built the houses.

The voting on Deputy Kynne's proposal was: for (12), against (6).

The Co. Engineer said the scheme would begin as soon as possible.

Tribute to Late Canon Murphy

As a mark of respect to the late Canon Murphy F.P., V.F., L.S.M., Waterford County Council adjourned their annual meeting for half an hour on Monday last.

Proposing the adjournment, Chairman C. Curran said the late Canon Murphy was an outstanding Churchman and his death was a great loss to Waterford and Lismore.

Votes of sympathy were also passed with Miss Rita Clancy, Dunarvan Librarian, on the death of her father, and Mrs. Conway, Abbeyside, on the death of her husband.

DUNGARVAN AND CAPPOQUIN MEET IN J.F.C.

Dungarvan travel to Cappoquin on next Monday night to meet the home team in the junior hurling championship.

This is a repeat of the senior in which Dungarvan scored such a convincing victory and will be all-out to make it a double. However, the demands of the senior side has taken its toll on the juniors and many of last year's minors may be drafted into the side.

Cappoquin, likewise, have been drained of some of their prominent players but should Mick and Jimmy Lacey who are both eligible, line out, they may swing the game in Cappoquin's favour.

● ALL-IRELAND CHAMPIONS DEFEND

Monster and All-Ireland champions Tipperary take the first step in defence of their titles on Sunday when Limerick throw down the gauntlet to them at the Athletic Grounds, Cork.

Such has been the upsurge in the fortunes of Limerick of late, that many regard this as the game most likely to produce the epic of the year.

The Shannonsiders are wreaking with confidence just now and a recent five-point victory over Kilkenny has boosted their morale even further.

Not since 1955 when they last won provincial honours has the County enjoyed a place in the sun. But Sunday's side is reputed to possess a few budding Mackeys, and the entire County will converge on Cork justifiably optimistic about the outcome.

But Tipperary, renowned championship battlers that they are will not relinquish their title easily. Recently they haven't been functioning on all cylinders, but they invariably reserve their best for the big occasion. They realise the sternness of this Limerick challenge and the general feeling throughout the County seems to be—Beat Limerick and the Munster championship is won.

Cork and Waterford would of course, mock such a thought but at any rate that is the belief of the Premier County.

Forecasting the result of this tie is a real "stickler". It is a case of Limerick's speed and enthusiasm against Tipp's craft and experience. Tradition also dies hard in the championship

11/- A WEEK INCREASE FOR ROADWORKERS

On the recommendation of the County Manager, members of Waterford County Council at their meeting on Monday last granted an increase of 11/- a week to the Council roadworkers, bringing them to the same rate as the roadworkers of South and North Tipperary.

Before the meeting was an application from the Trade Unions for an increase of 15/- a week.

Col. J. Fahey proposed the increase recommended by the Manager. Their workers were as good as any in Ireland and they should at least be given the Tipperary rate.

Col. P. Cahill seconded.

Col. Foran—I believe we are just going daft.

Col. R. Walsh—I'd like to give the increase but where is the money going to come from?

Col. Fahey—I have as much concern for the ratepayers as anyone else but no one can tell me £6-10-0 (their present salary) is a decent wage for a family man. We should treat our workers as good as adjoining counties.

The increase was passed unopposed.

FOOTBALLERS NOT DISGRACED
Waterford's bid for Munster senior football honours ended at Listowel on Sunday last, when Kerry after being extended for three-quarters of an hour, eventually gained the upperhand over a gallant Daise side and deservedly qualified for the Munster final against Cork on July 15th.

A twelve-point defeat does however tend to flatter the Kingdom side. Admittedly, almost man for man, they were the more polished and cultured footballers, but Waterford proving conclusively the maximum of "where there's a will, there's a way," were in the game with a chance until that last quarter and lost nothing in the way of prestige in defeat.

Indeed it was all against the run of play that Kerry led by a point at half-time. Waterford, backed by a strong breeze, enjoyed the lion's share of the exchanges but a brace of unfortunate lapses by goalkeeper Sean Ormonde left Kerry through for goals that more than nullified the good work of the Daise attack.

And so Waterford faced an unenviable second half. But contrary to the general belief of an approximate 4,000 attendance they continued to give as good as they got for quarter of an hour. Then the inevitable happened, with a hitherto subdued Mick O'Connell "lording" it at mid-field piled up the scores that made their victory so clear-cut at the close.

And so Waterford must wait for another year at least before making a burning ambition a reality. But make no mistake about it, the county is one the upgrade. The league campaign was the start of a welcome resurgence and this time I have no hesitation in saying the onward march towards high success will be maintained. Lis-towel for forty-five minutes on Sunday gave proof of that. Now let us capitulate on the merits of that achievement.

POSTPONED MINOR GAME FOR THURLES
The Waterford-Kerry minor football game, originally fixed for Lismore on Sunday last, but which was postponed owing to the regretted death of Very Rev Canon Murphy, P.P. V.F. Lis-more, has now been re-fixed for Thurles on July 8th.

This means that the July 8th programme at the venue will be a triple dekker one. Clare and Cork will open the proceedings in minor hurling; then the game—Waterford and Cork in senior hurling, and finally the Waterford-Kerry tie.

So with a four-county representation on parade, it is hardly assuming too much to say we can expect a record crowd for a Munster semi-final.

HURLERS FAIL AGAIN
What has gone wrong with the county's senior hurlers? No doubt following Monday night's failure to Wexford that question will be on the lips of every Waterford man until the tie with Cork is played.

Rough now there is an air of despondency everywhere in the county. One cannot over-look the ineptitude of the team against Tipp, and Wexford within the space of eight days. This form has been most dis-couraging and unless there is a one-hundred per cent improvement, defeat will be their lot against Cork.

Against the Slaneysiders they revealed little of the form that will be a necessity to become champions of the province. For three quarters of the hour they matched strides with the Wexford men but inexplicably succumbed in the last fifteen minutes and almost unimpeded, Wexford notched the clinching scores.

Although both sides had representative fifteen on duty, neither were at full strength. Waterford were without Joe Condon, Phil Grimes, Jim Irish and Martin Og Morrissey—all injured, while Tom Cunningham and Freddie O'Brien both received injuries during the game—the latter being forced to retire as a result.

Young Michael Foley had an unhappy time in goal and only Young Michael Foley, Austin Flynn and Jimmy Byrne figured prominently in defence. Seamus Power and Billy Dunphy were indifferent at mid-field but a back to form Frankie Walsh, Tom Cheasty and John Kiely were conspicuous in attack.

Wexford were best served in defence by Billy Rackard, Tom Neville and Nick O'Donnell, while Paul Lynch, Podge Kehoe and Jimmy O'Brien were best in a dangerous attack.

11 INJURED
No less than 11 of the panel are at present injured. Latest additions to the injury list are Tom Cunningham who has a badly bruised thumb and Freddie O'Brien (head injury). Cunningham is however expected to be fully fit by July 8th.

BRICKEYS MARCH ON IN J.I.C.
Brickey Rangers gave a first-class display when accounting for Colligan Rockies 3-4 to 1-2 in the junior hurling championship at Dungarvan on Tuesday night.

Although the Brickeys seldom looked like being beaten, Colligan never gave up trying and but for a resolute Brickey defence might have had a few more scores near the end.

But should the Rangers decide to keep this team together and not promote some to the senior side, they will take a deal of beating in this championship.

GOALKEEPER, UROBLEM
Sensational news of the week in Gaelic circles is the recall of Ned Power to the senior hurling panel. Ned, who kept goal in the drawn and replayed finals of 1959 last wore the county jersey 12 months ago against Cork.

A second new goalie has also been added to the panel—Charlie Water, of Erin's Own. Yes, although this long established forward is a totally unexpected choice, he is reported to be playing brilliantly in goal for Erin's Own at present.

Both Percy Flynn and Michl Foley have been dropped from the panel in preference to Power and Ware.

Paudie Casey (Ballygunner) has also been added to the selection.

FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP PROGRESSES

THE senior football championship to which there has already been an explosive start with the first round elimination of the champions Mount Sion, promises further thrills (and possible up-sets) on Sunday when in a cramped Dungarvan programme no less than three ties are down for decision.

In a double-decker afternoon programme Dunhill and Ardmore oppose Taobh a Gleanna and Geraldines respectively, while the after-tena bill brings Kilrossanty and Emmetts into opposition.

Undoubtedly the pick of the afternoon games is the meeting of Ardmore and Geraldines. Traditional rivals, a meeting between these clubs, be it championship or challenge, invariably arouses widespread appeal, and with both seeking to become coveted county champions for the first time, a rare battle for supremacy—and championship survival is anticipated.

Although as yet only comparative "babes" to senior ranks—this is their second year in the grade, Ardmore are today rightly regarded as one of the strongest sides in the County. When winning the junior championship in 1960 I ear-marked them as a coming side—a conviction that has been well and truly vindicated in the interim since then.

MATURED IMMENSELY
Last year they confounded everyone by battling their way to the semi-final, when mainly through inexperience they failed to Mt. Sion, the ultimate winners. Since then however through participation in every competition possible they have matured immensely in a real football sense. Teamwork is their key-note and on this they hope to lay the foundations for victory over the Aglishers.

Against Srabhdail in a recent Phelan Cup tie (which was abandoned minutes from time owing to an injury to their goal-keeper John Colbert), they showed remarkable understanding, and amongst themselves are unreservedly confident about the result.

The departure of Pat Harty and Cristeoir Kenneally will, it goes without saying take somewhat from the all-round strength of the side, but yet the general effectiveness of the team is recognisable through their line-out.

BEST IN THE COUNTY
The defence must surely be amongst the best in the county at present. Marshalled by those two brilliant county stars Tommy Power and Eddie Mooney, and adequately backed by Mickey Carlton and Donal O'Brien, it is a cast-iron rearguard, that will pose a major problem for Geraldines attack.

Pat Harty's absence is bound to be felt at mid-field, where now the experienced Donal Linnane may carry the brunt of the battle. His likely partner on Sunday is County Minor Hugh O'Reilly, but both will have to hit peak form if they hope to dominate a Geraldines pairing that is certain to include Paddy Kenneally.

DANGEROUS QUARTET
When functioning properly it is doubtful if there is a more potent attacking unit than the Sea-siders set-up. Mossie and Finbarr Hallahan, Mattie Mulcahy and Jim Cullen are deadly accurate near goal, and will turn to account any chances that may be floating.

Unfortunately for Aglish supporters a similar picture of success and confidence cannot be painted. Once a mighty drastically in recent years, and haven't enjoyed any degree of success of late.

FLASH-BACK TO '61
And yet who can disregard their chances when the championship is at stake? A short flash-back to the '61 campaign, when contrary to all expectations they came within an ace of beating Mt. Sion is proof enough of this. In that game they led the Monastery men a merry dance for most of the game, but were robbed of victory by a late goal.

OUTSIDERS
On Sunday they will again start outsiders, but for Aglishers that is something of a welcome. Unlike Ardmore they play a direct brand of football, and no doubt will look to their hard-hitting and first-time tackling to have an unsettling effect on the opposition. They have trained very seriously—no doubt in the hope of counter-acting Ardmore's fitness, and showed up well when beating Kilrossanty in a challenge game a few weeks ago.

Their defence is tough and uncompromising, and never easily by-passed. Billy Crotty, Bill Downing and "Stylo" Riordan know their football from A to Z, but it is by no means a three-man rearguard.

In the centre of the field they are particularly well served, due for the most part to the versatile Paddy Kenneally, who if given proper assistance could dominate over Ardmore's Lenane and Reilly.

ATTACK IS THE PROBLEM
As I see it however Geraldines main worries lie in attack. Over a series of championship campaigns their forwards more than any other sector of the side have flopped, and doubtless supporters will be hoping for a change of fortune on Sunday.

However the decision to bring Roger Ryan home from England for the game should solve some of the problems at least. Ryan has worn the County jersey on several occasions, and if fully fit will be a decided acquisition. Terry Mernon is another forward who will need careful watching, while the bustling Bunny Roiaiyne is expected to lead the line.

C.B.S. TAKE RICE CUP IN THRILLER

The Christian Brothers Sportsfield has been the scene of many hectic and exciting schoolboys' games, but rarely can it have produced anything as thrilling as last Friday's final between the local C.B.S. and Mount Sion. A record crowd turned up for the occasion and were rewarded with a spectacle which won unstinted admiration from one and all. This was hurling as it should be played, and the spectators loved it.

By reason of their impressive record Dungarvan had been installed as firm favourites. Yet it was very evident that Mt. Sion were not a bit over-awed by the reputation of their opponents. During the march around it was noticed that the sides were very evenly matched regarding physique.

The home side clicked into top gear immediately and set a spanking pace. After four minutes Michael Norris whipped over a point and seconds later the place erupted when the same player crashed home a great goal. Sean Franklin flashed the ball over the bar and Dungarvan were moving sweetly.

Every Mount Sion attack was curbed by a very tight defence and there were no apparent chinks in the home armour for a long spell. After repelling a number of attacks, the local boys seized the initiative once again and Jimmy Maguire shot a grand goal from the edge of the square. Gerry Crowley followed suit and Dungarvan hearts were happy. An all out attack by 'Sion, however, saw half-back Jimmy Greene score a point which was cancelled at the other end by Sean Franklin. Sion were much more in the picture now, however, and an opportunist goal by Jimmy McCarthy further reduced the lead-way. The score at the interval read: Dungarvan, 3-3; Mt. Sion, 1-1.

On the resumption, Dungarvan surged anew to the attack, but Mount Sion had steadied up very much by now and it was ten minutes before Michael Norris further increased the lead with a snap goal. Then it was that Sion made their effort. Almost four goals down they still held out hope, and in a fierce onslaught laid siege to the home citadel. Ian Moloney starred in the Dungarvan defence and Sean Murphy coolly hurried his way through all difficulties. But Sion were not to be denied. Centre-forward Pat Pender shot a glorious goal. Minutes later, fair-haired Billy Revelles lobbed in another and with but ten minutes to go, Pat Pender crashed a "21" home. Dungarvan were reeling now but Sean Flynn sent over for a point. Still Mt. Sion came back and with seven minutes remaining for play, Mick Morrissey swept a grand ball to the Dungarvan net and there was but one goal in it.

The excitement at this stage was terrific and it looked as if the Dungarvan defence might collapse. Then it was they showed themselves worthy champions. Full back Brian O'Connor took a free deep in home territory. His raking shot found Sean Franklin on the wing, and with the eagerness of a terror Sean fastened on it and swept the sliotar across the face of the goal. Jimmy Maguire raced to meet it and a deft flick sent the ball well out of the goalie's reach. After this there was no looking back and the three goal lead was restored when Michael Norris popped up again to shoot home and finish the scoring.

There were stars aplenty on both sides, and this was a wonderful effort from the young lads. Efforts to do well for the victors were Michael Donnelly, a grand goalie, Connie Murphy, John Clancy, Larry Cliffe and Michael Keyes.

Mount Sion, too, had a fair quota of star-war's and were unlucky to find the Dungarvan boys in such good form. Best of the city side were Johnny Miller, who brought off many marvellous saves, Jimmy O'Brien, Jimmy Greene, Jack McCarthy and Joe Walsh.

The cup was presented to the jubilant Dungarvan team by Ven. Archdeacon Power and accepted by Sean Murphy before an enthusiastic crowd. After the game the traditional parade of victors took place through the streets of the town and the young champions savoured to the full the fruits of success.
