Medical Card system again criticised

ONCE more the medical card system came under heavy fire at last Monday's meeting of Waterford Health Authority, when Mr. John Fahey protested at the manner in which applications of his were being treated.

Mr. Fahey referring to the matter at the outset said Mr. R. Doyle, Assistant Officer, was to be present at today's meeting, but he was not. He would like to protest in the presence of the Manager of the man in which his applications for cards were being handled. They were not being treated as they should be, although the Manager had always done his best to get him what he wanted.

Mr. Fahey went on to relate the case of an old age pensioner in the Renadampna area who had been refused a medical card. He questioned it many months ago but still got no answer. They were at an unfair disadvantage if they were not given reasons for refusal. If the reports were too confidential for members they should at least be given to the applicants.

Mr. Fahey also referred to another application and the applicant was later informed that his application was not locatable and a fresh one would be sent to him.

BAD BUSINESS
"That is very bad business," continued Mr. Fahey. Where does it leave us? It is no way to deal with representatives of the Health Authority and the Assistant Officers are making a mess of it."

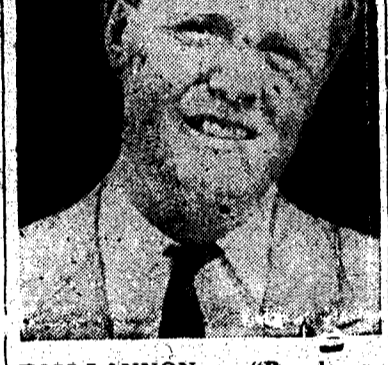

"No" are the people being treated fairly in their application for medical cards. The officer is relying too much on what he hears rather than going and checking for himself.
The Co. Manager said regarding the absence of Mr. Doyle, it would have been most unfair to ask him to come to the meeting not knowing what he was going to be asked.

Mr. T. Lannon—Nobody is going to have a crack at him. Mr. N. Walsh said if a senior officer of the Authority was required by a member he should come to the meeting. The Manager said he discussed it with the Secretary of the Health Authority and it was decided to ask Mr. Fahey what questions he wanted to ask Mr. Doyle. Mr. Fahey, however did not reply.

Mr. Lannon said the public were paying for the services and Mr. Fahey had gone to a lot of trouble to get those services.
Mr. Fahey—Mr. Doyle was here for some meetings and he was paying for the services and Mr. Fahey had gone to a lot of trouble to get those services.

Mr. Fahey—Mr. Doyle was here for some meetings and he no ble arose when no reasons were given to either the representatives of the applicants.

In reply to Mr. W. Collins, the Co. Manager said members were not entitled to know the reasons for refusal of an application. It was entirely confidential and a matter for the Co. Manager alone. But they nearly always tried to meet the wishes of the members in that respect.

Alde-man T. Gallagher said anybody that qualified for an Old Age Pension Card should be qualified to have a medical card.

The Co. Manager said Dungarvan was the highest town in regard to medical cards.
When Mr. W. Foran said the names of all holders of cards should be published, Mr. Lannon non said there were a lot of respectable people who held cards and they would not like to have their names published. Mr. Foran—I would not mind having my name published if I was entitled to one. The discussion then ended.

Tragic death of local youth

Late Master Liam Walsh—Fitzgerald (Tee), Dungarvan and district were shocked at the announcement of the death of Master Liam Walsh after a car accident which occurred on Friday evening, August 24th, at O'Connell Street. He had only reached the early age of sixteen years and only became employed recently and by doing so was a great help to his widowed mother. He was an outstanding character and a very well-liked boy.

His remains were removed from the Mortuary of the District Hospital on Saturday evening followed by one of the largest corteges seen in the town for a very long period. A guard of honour of the F.C.A. marched to St. Mary's Parish Church. The coffin, draped in the Tricolour, was carried by the F.C.A. Forces.

Sincerest sympathy is offered to his mother, Mrs. K. Walsh, Fitzgerald Terrace, with whom Liam had resided up to the time of death and also to his only sister, Mrs. Duggan, who is domiciled in England. He was a staunch member of the F.C.A. Forces.

The Last Mass on Sunday morning was offered for the happy repose of his soul and the interment took place in the adjoining family plot. The members of the F.C.A. were also in attendance and the Last Post was sounded by Mr. M. Terry, Rev. J. Murphy, C.C. officiated at the graveside.
Large numbers of spiritual tributes, telegrams and messages of sympathy were received by his relatives in their great loss.
(J. Kiely & Sons had charge of funeral arrangements.)

An inquest on 16-year-old Liam Walsh, Fitzgerald's Tee, Dungarvan, who received fatal injuries when involved in a pedal cycle-motor car crash on Friday evening last, was opened and adjourned before Dr. D. Healy, Coroner, West Waterford, and a jury at Dungarvan Courthouse, on Tuesday. The adjournment was at the request of Supt. M. Costello who said criminal proceedings in relation to the death were being considered. The medical evidence, which, however, was given, stated that death was due to a fracture of the skull. The deceased was cycling a pedal cycle on Friday evening when he was involved in a collision with a motor car driven by a Cappagh man. He was removed to the District Hospital where he died a few hours later.

Garda William Giblin, Dungarvan, said he visited the morgue at the local District Hospital on Saturday, August 25th and viewed the body of Liam Walsh lying there.

Dr. M. K. Cusack, Medical Practitioner, said on August 25th he performed a post mortem examination on the deceased. It was a well developed body of a well-nourished boy. There was a swelling on the right-hand side of the head, and abrasions on the posterior aspects of the right shoulder, right knee and ankle, and also the inner side of the right ankle.
"In my opinion," said Dr. Cusack, death was caused by cerebral damage caused by a haemorrhage, which in turn was caused by the fracture of the skull. The injuries would be consistent with the deceased being involved in an accident with a motor vehicle.
At this stage, Supt. Costello asked for an adjournment of the grounds stated at the outset.

Dr. Healy offered sympathy to the relatives in their tragic loss.
Supt. Costello, on behalf of the Garda Authorities, John O'Flynn on behalf of the jury and Michael Strain on behalf of his brother and himself, were associated with the expressions of sympathy.
The members of the jury were: John O'Flynn (foreman), James J. Nicholas, Casey, and Fleming, William Stack, Thomas Power, John Phelan.

Yearly Review of Salary Increases

BY eight votes to six a proposal by Mr. James Quirke that they only consider salary increases at one meeting of the year and that before the Estimates meeting—to take effect from Nov. 1st this year was passed at last Monday's monthly meeting of Waterford Health Authority.

Mr. Quirke said increases were before them at every meeting and a stop would have to be put to it.
The Co. Manager said the staff of the Health Authority comprised of a great number of officials, and increases to those took up a lot of the Committee set up by the Managers' Association. Every section had their own case and these applications could not be avoided. He could only deal with them as they came before him and it would be impossible to have them coming otherwise. The present resolution was in conflict with the terms of the Management Act. When an application for an increase came before him, he had had to put it to the meeting.
Mr. W. Kenneally (Chairman) said it was very annoying to have increases coming before them so regularly.
Mr. Lannon asked who paid

Quality of Butter Questioned

References that the butter used in certain Health Authority hospitals in Waterford was not pure creamery quality which were made at a previous meeting were again the subject of discussion at last Monday's meeting in Dungarvan.
Mr. P. Cahill who first raised the matter at the July meeting, said on enquiry at a creamery he was told pure creamery butter could not be sold for 4/5 a lb.—the price being paid by the Health Authority. He produced the label at the last meeting and there was no registered number on it.
The Manager said the only way of finding out if it was creamery butter was to have it analysed.
Mr. T. Lannon said the butter could be got cheaper if sold in bulk.
The Manager said they could write to the supplying firm and ask them what creamery had supplied them.
Ald. Gallagher—that is a very wise suggestion.
Co. Manager—And it would be fair to the firm.
Mr. Lannon said if there was any doubt, it should be analysed. "I would also like to know if these samples are checked and weighed" he said.
Mr. J. A. Hynes—Yes, by the Storekeeper.
Mr. Lannon—I am not saying it is happening today but it did happen a few years ago. It better not happen again.

Kilmacthomas News

May His Good Luck never desert Mr. John McCarthy, Kildwan, Bonmahon, who has just received a prize of £30 in the Pontana Pools, in which, incidentally, the local promoter Mr. John A. Gough, Kilmeaden whose client he is, won a seller's prize of £2.

Anent Noted Uilleann Pipes Player—Belonging by birth to Kill. Kilmacthomas, is worthily well-esteemed Mr. Liam Walsh, who and his amiable wife, Mrs. Mary Walsh, have just left the home of their adoption in Waterford City and gone to Rosslare, where they now reside. Prior to taking their regretted departure from the city (where they lived at "The Mount," Passage Road) both were made the recipients of presentations on behalf of the members of Thomas Clarke Cumann, F.F., Waterford, of which Mr. Walsh has been President since the Cumann was re-organised in 1958.

Mr. Walsh was presented with a silver-mounted pipe and pouch, and his wife received a mother-of-pearl Irish Rosary Beads. In making the presentations, Mr. Seamus O'Meara, P.C. (native of Clonae-Power, by the way), Chairman of the Cumann, paid tribute to Mr. Walsh's many sterling qualities and referred to the patriotic part he played in the Anglo-Irish struggle, during which he was interned in Spike Island. Mr. O'Meara said he had been unanimously decided to appoint Mr. Walsh life President and Mrs. Walsh an associate member of the Cumann.

Waterford Boro' Constable from 1922 to 1928 and High Constable from 1928 to 1951. Mr. Walsh won his first gold medal in an uilleann pipes competition at the Waterford Gaelic League Feis in 1910 and won an Oireachtas gold medal in 1917, when the Oireachtas was held in Waterford for the first and time. Winner of two Feis Cheoil (Dublin) medals, he broadcast from the first radio station in Ireland, the G.N., shortly after it was opened in 1926, and also from the B.B.C. in the London, Cardiff and Birmingham studios, in 1924 and 1925. He also appeared in a Gaelic League St. Patrick's night concert in London and made approximately thirty records for the Decca, H.M.V. and former Old Winner labels.

A fluent Irish speaker, and a founder-member of the first branch of the Gaelic League in Waterford, founded in 1904, Mr. Walsh was a flautist in the Old Waterford Orchestra. He is a brother of Mr. Richard (Dick) Walsh, The Smithy, Kilbeg, Kill.

Mrs. Mary Walsh, who first saw the light in Rosslare, was a member of Cumann na mBan in Waterford and Tralee. She is also a former Irish step-dancer and won many prizes at open competitions and Feisanna.

Members of the Thom's Clarke Cumann, F.F., who attended the presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Walsh were: Messrs. Patrick Doyle and Thomas McLoughlin, Joint Hon. Treasurers; Kevin D. O'Shea, Hon. Secreary, and Michael O'Shea, Devotees of the light fantastic art were in very large numbers at the Grand Social held in the Rainbow Hall, Kilmacthomas, on the third night of this week. Sponsored by Newtown and the function furnished a gala dance, which commenced at 9 o'clock and continued 1 1/2 hours with gaily the keynote all the way, the music being by The Royal Aces. The all-round sparkling success of the affair was a well-merited tribute to the popularity of the cheery committee in charge.

Master Liam Walsh, aged 16 years, only son of Mrs. Katy Walsh (nee Fitzgerald) and the late Mr. William Walsh, who was admitted unconscious to Dungarvan Hospital, on Friday night of last week after he had been in collision with a car while cycling near his home, and who died early next morning was grandson of Mrs. Minnie Fitzgerald, widow, Coolturid, Kilmacthomas, and nephew of Mr. William Fitzgerald, do. Whole-hearted sympathy is extended to the dear departed boy's nearest and dearest.

Her First Visit to her birth-place after an absence of 19 years has just been wound up by Mrs. Knowles, wife of Mr. James Knowles, Prestori, Lanes, England, and daughter of Mr. Michael Fitzgerald, Ballynabonogue, Kilmacthomas, and the late Mrs. Bridget Fitzgerald, do. She was accompanied by her husband and both are in radiant health and spirits.

Miss of Preston is Mrs. E. Jeffries, another daughter of Mr. M. Fitzgerald, whose guests she and her daughter were during their latest holiday at this side of the Channel, and like Mr. and Mrs. Knowles, they, too, are in topping form and had a very nice time.

The Marriage of Miss Kitty Casey, N.T., Stradbally (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Casey, Ballylinch, Kilmacthomas), to Mr. Willie O'Brien South Lodge, Carrick-on-Suir

Have It that respected Mr. and Mrs. David Kiely, of Seskin, Stradbally, celebrated the Golden Jubilee of their wedding on Wednesday, 15th ult. CAPPOQUIN NEWS

RECEPTION FOR VISITING HURLERS

The visit of the New York Waterford party proved a great occasion for Cappoquin. Hundreds awaited the arrival of the exiles and prior to the match the Dungarvan Pipe Band paraded through crowded streets. Interest in the meeting of the New Yorkers and the local team was shown by the very large attendance at the game. This was a keenly contested affair which ended in a draw. Incidentally, the equalising score came from the camp of Cappoquin-born, Michael Mason, now resident in New York. The visitors were the guests of the local club at a banquet following the game and later attended a cell held in their honour. The large attendance included many relatives and old friends of the visitors, Mr. J. Phelan, a native of Ballymacarby, introduced by Mr. John Fraher of the local club, speaking on behalf of the visitors, expressed gratitude for the generous reception that had been accorded them. The memory of the occasion would be long treasured by them. Mr. J. Buckley, a Dungarvan man, also spoke and associated himself with the expression of thanks from Mr. Phelan.

PRIEST'S DEPARTURE

Rev. Michael Troy, recently ordained, was one of a party of priests bound for the U.S.A., which left Cove last Wednesday. He will minister in Florida. Many relatives and friends were in Cove to bid the young priest farewell.

PRIZE WINNER

In the recently published result of the Pig Grading Competition, held on Macra na Feirme Field Day, Mr. Michael Prendergast of Dromroe with an "all correct" grading was a clear winner. Second and third prizes were shared by six competitors.

NON-STOP DRAW

The twenty-week non-stop draw run by the G.A.A. Club ended on Monday night when the winner of the prize was Mrs. M. O'Connell (Jr.). The promotion was a big success.

ROD SALMON FISHING

It is only in the last week that salmon and grilse have made their appearance in any great numbers in the upper or freshwater districts of the river Blackwater due to the heavy rains. Handline anglers in Youghal reported that the peale are very much in evidence in the harbour and bay and can be seen breaking surface. Similar reports have been received from upriver to Cappoquin, Ardmore and Ballycotton.

OUT OF RETIREMENT

"The Kathleen and May," a 62-years old schooner formerly owned by Messrs. Fering of Youghal up to two years ago when she was disposed of by her owner skipper Captain Thomas Jewel of Arklow, is again back from retirement. She was built in Cheshire having a 23 foot beam and 10 foot draught with an overall length of 98 feet and a gross tonnage of 130 tons. She was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Messenger of Littlehampton who had her overhauled and set sail from Coves on Thursday of last week for Athenry. She is now powered with 130 h.p. motor to facilitate navigation of rivers but her sails are still in working order. The Merchants are living aboard the schooner which is still in her original condition and with them is their fifteen years old son, Anthony. Up to two years ago the schooner was carrying general cargo from Appledore to Southern Ireland and she was believed to be the last of her type operating in the South coast.

BLOOD TRANSFUSION SERVICE

During the recent visit to Youghal of the Civil Blood Transfusion Service for the month of July, 145 bottles of blood were collected, other returns were £2000 104, oak city donors 77, Fort amden, 70, Newmarket 69, F.C.A. Tralee 65, Enniskeane 55, Buttevant 41, Courtbrack 35, Crosshaven 33, Sunbeam Wolsey, 31, and Killenale 27. The total number of bottles collected was 753.

REBUILDING GREEN PARK WALL

The Youghal U.D.C. are anxiously awaiting a report from the Department in regard to the rebuilding of the Green Park wall which was damaged by the storm on Ash Wednesday. The matter was discussed by a recent meeting of the Council and the members expressed dissatisfaction at the undue delay. Seemingly, the portion of the wall facing the Greenhole Strand is the responsibility of the Council and that part facing the Waterford side and bounding the Old Coast Guard Station is the liability of the Board of Public Works. The members of the Council are very much perturbed at the delay in having this work done, and rightly so, as one of the highest spring tides of the year is listed for September 14th to 18th next. The springs are recorded as being 14 feet and could well be much higher in the event of a strong southerly wind. The delay in carrying out the repairs to the wall might well have very serious results for the people resident in this area where there are large hotels and many private residential houses. The Council failed to secure a Government grant for this work and an amenity grant is being sought which would be 50% of the amount of the cost of repairs. An estimate for the erection of this wall is £7,000. After prolonged discussion, the Chairman of the Council, Mr. Sean P.P. Daly, B.E., intimated that he would phone the Minister for Local Government pointing out again the gravity of the situation and request that the matter be expedited without delay.

SEA-ANGLING COMPETITION

The fourth sea and shore angling competitions scheduled for last Sunday had to be postponed due to heavy rain and S.E. gale that lasted through the entire day. So far this year the Youghal Sea Anglers Club have been very unlucky as regards the weather on the appointed days.

The Great Crested Grebe

The Great Crested Grebe is one of our more colourful birds and is seen to the best advantage during the courtship display in the spring and early summer. This display consists of an amazing series of aquatic stunts. When the display is over the nest building begins. A floating raft of dead reeds and leaves is carefully built and lightly anchored among the water plants. In a declivity of this raft the eggs are laid. When the mother bird leaves the nest she carefully covers the eggs with dead leaves, disguising it so well that only a trained observer can detect it. To the ordinary passer-by it is just a floating mass of dead vegetation bobbing about on the water.

WEST WATERFORD NEWS

G.A.A. COLLECTION

A successful collection in aid of the local G.A.A. Club was held at Clashmore on Sunday last. The members of the club desire to thank all subscribers.

COLLECTION FOR LIFEBOAT

The annual collection in aid of the National Lifeboat Institution, will be held in this area on Sunday next, 2nd September. An appeal is made to the public to subscribe generously towards this very laudable object. It is worthy of note that the Lifeboat Institution, which has saved thousands of lives, depends entirely on voluntary contributions.

G.A.A. TOURNAMENTS

At Ardmore the local team, St. Declan's, drew with Kilmossanty in the senior football tournament. The game, which was rather robust at times, was well contested throughout.

In the Aglish senior football tournament the local team Geradines defeated Kilmossanty, the final score being 1-6 to 1-4. The game was played in a clean, sporting, with the issue in doubt up to the final whistle.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS

Congratulations to Misses C. and H. Troy, B. Cass and Master G. Ormonde, all pupils of Clashmore N.S., on their success in examination for Council Scholarships. Their teacher, Mr. M. Moroney, N.T., also deserves congratulations.

GALE

Gale force winds, accompanied by heavy rain, lashed these parts on Sunday last.

YOUGHAL BRIDGE

The construction of the centre-piece has taken longer than expected, but it is now nearing completion and will, it is expected, be placed in position in the course of a week or two. When this is done the side rails will be placed in position and the surface of approach roads will be completed. The important work of testing the bridge structure will then commence. It is expected that immediately this is completed the bridge will be opened to traffic.

THE HARVEST

Although hampered by a continuation of the inclement weather, harvesting operations are in full swing in these parts. Most of the work is being done by Combine Harvesters and despite the very wet summer, the quality of the grain is reasonably satisfactory.

LISMORE NOTES

WIN IN POOLS

Congratulations to Mrs. E. Flynn, Main St., on winning a prize in a weekly pool. Mrs. Flynn is also a well known Lismore A.C. DANCE

Lismore Athletic Club held their annual sports dance on Friday night last. Attended by a large crowd, it proved a great success. Music was provided by Pat O'Brien's Band.

CRICKET

On Sunday last at the Castle Farm Ground, Lismore Cricket XI went under to Vikings Cricket Club of Waterford, by 1 run. Winning the toss, Lismore elected to bat. O'neary's T. Erderson and T. Sullivan were both out unskillfully when they both played on to their own wicket. P. Scanlon however, brilliant form and remained at the wicket for one and a half hours, to carry his bat from number four position. Lismore were all out for 59. Going in to bat Vikings lost their early wickets easily. However, with one wicket to fall and despite tight bowling by Erderson and Feeney, they succeeded in hitting the winning run.

On Sunday next at the Castle Farm ground Lismore XI play Vikings in the final of the Collins Cup. This indeed should be a very close game and though a draw will win the competition for the local team on the form they have displayed in recent games they should win and be the first team to win this new competition.

Skeheens, Ballymacarby
The death occurred at his residence at Skeheens, of Mr. Laurence McCarthy, on Tuesday, 21st August. One of the best known and liked personalities in the district his passing will be deeply regretted by all that knew him, especially by those in the near district to whom he was always a good neighbour.
The remains were removed to Touraneena Parish Church on Wednesday evening, 22nd August followed by one of the largest gatherings of mourners seen in the district for some years. After Requiem Mass on Thursday morning his remains were laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery. Rev. Fr. Mulcahy imparted the final absolution. To his sorrowing wife, Margaret, to his son Roddy and his daughters Mrs. Moroney, London, Mrs. Condon, Prieststown, Mrs. Looby, Kiltgreany and Mrs. Sullivan, Kilkenny, is extended deepest sympathy in their sad bereavement.

NATIONAL WHOLEMEAL BREAD-BAKING COMPETITION
This year's National Wholemeal Breadbaking Competition—the sixth to be organised by the E.S.B. in co-operation with the National Ploughing Association—will include a Parish Section to encourage a greater number of people to take part. The Parish competitions will be organised with the help of Muintir na Tire, Macra na Feirme and the Irish Countrywomen's Association.

To provide greater scope for competitors, Parish committees with representatives from the co-operating groups, will be set up throughout the country, in organising the Competition at parish level, which involves a great deal of extra effort, it has been found necessary to drop the section for juvenile competitors. The competition will be open, therefore, only to competitors of 16 years of age or over.

Parish winners will compete in the county finals, and each county winner will compete for the overall awards in the National Final in Thurles on November 7th and 8th next.

Up to 50 prizes representing a total value of about £1,000 will be awarded. The overall winner will receive the E.S.B. Perpetual Silver Trophy—the National Award—and a cash prize of £50 presented by the National Ploughing Association together with a deluxe electric cooker. In addition, there will be substantial cash awards and numerous consolation prizes for runners up such as electric cookers, food mixers vacuum cleaners, radios, convector heaters and electric hair driers.

Among other interests co-operating with the organisers are the Technical Instruction Branch of the Department of Education, the County Vocational Education Committee and the Irish Flour Millers' Association.
Last year's total entry of over 4,000 was the largest since the competition was started in 1957, and it is hoped that this year's figure will be exceeded this year.

IRISH SWEEPS DERBY ENTRIES
First Flashback of Performances 1662

Newmarket trainer Major Geoffrey Brooke won his first Irish Classic when Mr. R. F. Dennis' French Cream took the Irish Oaks at the Curragh on 28th July. This same trainer has been enjoying spectacular success with his two-year-olds and all going well looks like providing a strong challenger for the 1963 Irish Sweeps Derby.

Up to 28th July, 40 of the entries had won 52 races in England and Ireland while there had also been a number in France and Italy. Probably the most spectacular has been the B'ooke-trained Crocket (King of the Tudors—Chandler by Goyama) who is unbeaten in his two starts to date. At Ascot he carried Mr. D. G. Van Clee's colours to an impressive five lengths won over Happy Omen in the six-furlong Coventry Stakes having previously won at York.

One of the best judges in Ireland, trainer J. M. Rogers, singles out Major Lionel Holliday's colt King's Favourite (King of the Tudors—None Nicer by Nearco) as the most likely Classic prospect he has seen so far. King's Favourite, an odds-on favourite first time out in the Fenagh Stakes at Drogheda, stayed on strongly to defeat Hejaz by two lengths and was later runner-up to Top O' The Milk in the Hypon Stakes at Ascot in July.

Mr. R. Scully's Hejaz (Hafiz 11—Plume 11 by Vatelior) paid tribute to King's Favourite when on his following outing he set a new course record to beat King of Babylon (gave 5lb.) by a half length in the Carrs Plate at Stockton.

Mr. R. F. Dennis' King of Babylon (King of the Tudors—Babylon by Bahram) won a small race at Thirsk and apart from giving Hejaz a good run at Stockton also got in to the money behind Major Carpat and Trafalgar in the Billie Butlin Stakes at Kempton where the unplaced brigade included six previous winners.

Mr. F. Watson's Trafalgar (Pardal—Belton Touch by Prince Chevalier) had earlier in the season scored a clever length win over Mother's Boy and a big field in the Warminster Stakes at Salisbury.
The first entry to notch brackets was Lord Derby's Pinoli (Pinza—Sundry by Nearco) who followed up an initial success in the Rendham Stakes at Kempton in April by winning the Oulton Stakes at Chester. His winning sequence was brought to a close when he could not get nearer than 4th to Narrow Escape and Vasalis in the Chesham Stakes at Ascot.

The victory of Mr. R. Midwood's Visualise (Premotion—Miss Olympia by Big Game) was a hard won but meritorious half length triumph from the subsequent Queen Mary Stakes winner Short Silk in the George Lambton Stakes at Newmarket.

Mr. W. S. Dugdale's Pornc (Giles de Retz—Throne by Supreme Court) has been cleverly placed to garner four prizes and it is worth noting that he numbered three previous winners amongst his victims at Birmingham last time out.
Like Trafalgar, Mr. W. J. Ingram's Uncle Tom, is a Pardal colt, his dam Cabin being a daughter of Orestes. His two winners include the Scarborough Stakes at Redcar and he was trying to give 12lb when beaten a couple of lengths by Bright Prince at Beverley.

American owner Mr. E. Benjamin was over for the Epsom meeting to see his grey colt Tudor Grey (Tudor Minstrel—Earnest Alice by Grey Sovereign) lead from start to finish to win the Great Surrey Stakes in 56 seconds. Over the extra furlong of the July Stakes at Newmarket he had to give way though to Romantic.

One of the most promising two-year-olds in the North of England is Mr. J. G. Newton's Young David (King of the Tudors—Chamms Elysees by Coup de Lyon). His three wins include a walk over for his short head verdict against Young Erica (read 10lb.) in the Kneekjarder Stakes at Ayr.
Four of the winners at the Salisbury July Meeting Mr. M. Lane's Korenbleem (Palestine—Cornflower 111 by Blue Larkspur), Major R. Macdonald's Buchanan's Forearmed (Premotion—Armenteres by Hypocrite), Lord Astor's Gony Knight (Prince Chevalier—Sister Gony by Dante) and Mr. C. W. England's Ros Rock (Rocafella—Fair Rosamond by Owen Tudor) hold the Irish Sweeps Derby engagement and perhaps the most significant success was Poermead's smooth winning debut in the Champagne Stakes.
Here in Ireland the first en-

RUNNING WATER ON TAP MAKES MONEY

If you haven't running water in your home and farmyard, how much time is wasted in carrying it? How much less profit do you make from your cattle, your pigs and your poultry? If you haven't running water you are throwing money away and neither your home nor your farm are as comfortable nor as profitable as they should be.
If you haven't running water in your home—investigate an installation now. Thanks to government and local grants, you may only have to pay one-third of the total cost and many Irish farmers have been able to install running water for as little as £20 to £30. Ask your local E.S.B. representative for free advice without obligation. He'll be glad to help.

The extra profits such an installation can bring, together with the comfort, cleanliness and convenience, far outweigh the cost involved. And the installation can pay for itself within one year. Can you afford to be without this amenity any longer?

Ardmore crash in minor final

Mount Sion 4-15, Ardmore 2-1

THE ease with which Mount Sion regained the county minor hurling championship after a lapse of four years, at Dungarvan's Fraher Field on Sunday last, is truly reflected in the final score line, which gave them a 20-point victory over a gallant but outclassed Ardmore side.

Mount Sion captain, James O'Connell, who was seen in action during the final.

It was, with all due respect to Sunday's final, the poorest decision I have witnessed in the grade for many years. The standard of hurling, while effected to some degree by the gully conditions was rock bottom and few of the participants looked like possessing the necessary qualifications to go straight into higher ranks.

It might, however, be unfair to pass judgment on the individual merits of the winners, as the simplicity of their task would have made exertion an unnecessary physical labour on them.

At no stage during this tired hour did a western victory seem even remotely possible. The sea-siders trailed from the second minute and as the game progressed the winners' tactics on scores with monotonous regularity.

So poorly did Ardmore perform in fact, that one would be fully justified in raising wonderment as to how they ever reached the final stage. However, it is difficult to believe that this display did justice to their true potential. They looked and played like inexperienced novices while many of the side seemed overawed by the occasion.

Whichever chances they had of victory faded as swiftly as the blowing breeze, when they failed to make any use of the strong breeze that favoured them from the blowing. Instead of dominating as was expected, they found themselves toiling against superior opposition, and when they ended the half 2-6 to 1-1 in arrears a 'Sion victory was inevitable.

With the proceedings of the second half reduced to the category of a formality, the inequality of the game became even more glaring. Sion piled on the agony in merciless fashion and he final whistle that ended it all must have been a relief to the huge attendance.

THE SCORING
The story of the scores is a story of Mount Sion dominance to which Ardmore were powerless to counter-act. Full-forward Griffin opened the scoring with a point after two minutes and almost immediately a goal-keeping blunder by Frank Colbert left the same paver through for a soft goal. Within another minute Broderick pointed and Sion added a goal by Toms and Points, by Walsh, Mahon and Greene before Rooney opened Ardmore's account with a point in the 10th minute. Toms replied with a like score for Sion before Jim Rooney closed the first-half scoring when his 50 yard drive deceived the winners' defence and luckily wound up in the net.

NO REPRIEVE
The second half brought no reprieve for the losers. Points by Walsh (2) Broderick (2), Toms and Regan gave Sion an unassailable 2-12 to 1-1 lead before Dick Lenihan had Ardmore's solitary second-half goal. Again the winners hit back with another major by Walsh and in a scoring procession that went uninterrupted to the finish they added a further 1-3 with consummate ease.

To overcome Sunday's peevish opposition didn't require any extraordinary efforts on the part of Mount Sion but I was most impressed by the displays of midfielders Paddy Walsh and Billy Frisby, half-backs Danny Power, Phil Fanning and Jimmy Greene, and forwards Mick Toms, Con Broderick and Con Griffin.

DISAPPOINTMENT
For their legion of supporters, Ardmore's insipid display was a demoralising disappointment. Little or nothing went right for them from the start and the various switches made during the hour were utterly futile.

NOT WITHOUT STAR PERFORMERS
Despite their complete eclipse however, they were not without their star performers. In this respect goalkeeper Frank Colbert and full-back Pender must stand aloof, as both by their wonderful defensive work prevented an avalanche of scores.

Others to do well for the winners were Paddy Carlton, L. Rourke and Jim Rooney.

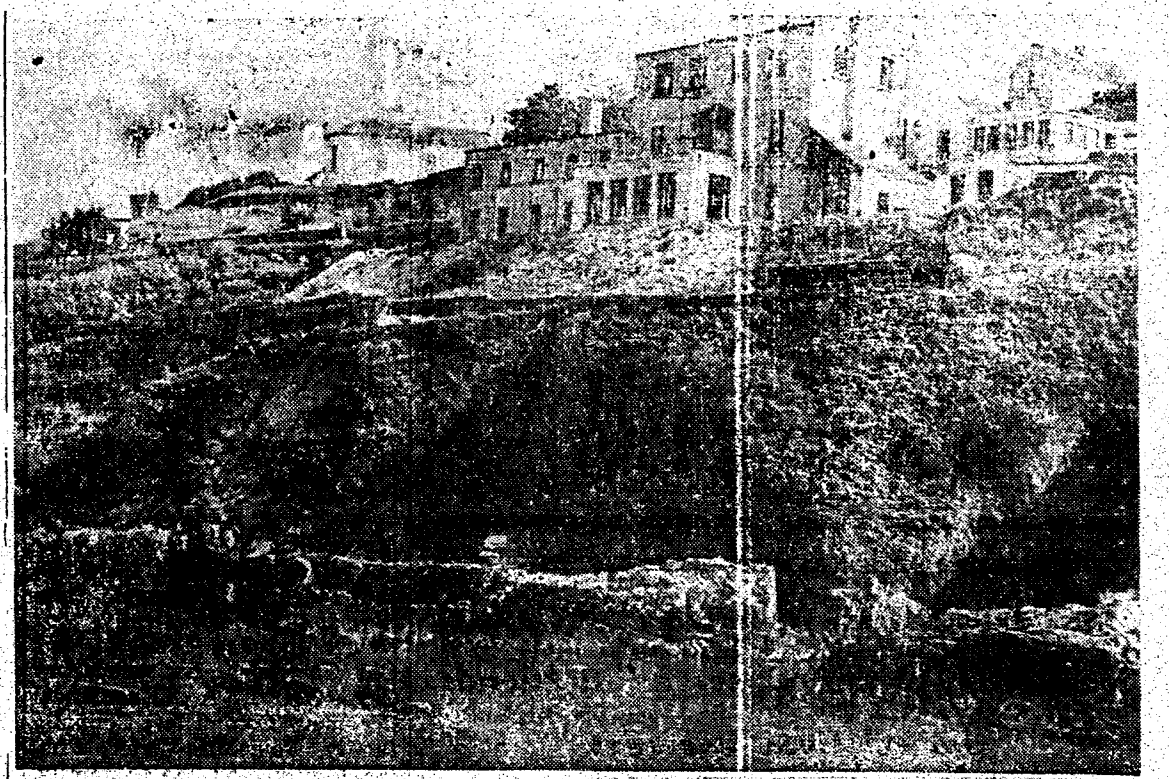

Mount Sion: J. Power; J. Ryan, J. Hayes, M. Byrne; D. Power, P. Fanning, J. Greene; P. Walsh, B. Frisby; M. Regan, C. Broderick, M. Toms; D. Mahon, C. Griffin, E. Flavin.

Ardmore: F. Colbert; J. Flavin, P. Pender, N. Power; E. Mansfield, P. Carlton, T. Sullivan, H. Reilly, P. White; L. Rourke, M. Reilly, D. Lenihan; A. Flynn, J. Rooney, M. Cronin.
Referee: Tony Mansfield, Abbeyside.

TIPP TO RETAIN TITLE

The battle for the Provincial championships having been long ended, the stage is well and truly set for next Sunday's All-Ireland hurling final between Wexford and Tipperary at Croke Park.

Hurling men everywhere are ravenously awaiting this showdown between counties, who between them have provided headquarters with many of its greatest epics. It is as champions and favourites that Tipperary will trot on to the lush green sward of Sunday's stadium, but so persistently have Wexford made a farce of the form book that few would dare rule out the possibilities of a Slaney victory.

It is but two short years ago since the same counties crossed paths at the pen-ultimate stage. Then as now, Tipp's all-conquering march through Munster made them out and out favourites to regain the title after a twelve months lapse. But unpredictable Wexford again vindicated the folly of under-estimation, and handed out a 2-15 to 0-11 drubbing to bewildered opponents.

Is it any great wonder then that followers as well as sportswriters treat Sunday's decider with grave caution. Wexford invariably find inspiration in being rated underdogs while the knowledge of always being capable of managing Tipperary will strengthen their firm but quiet confidence.

Having visited the Premier County last week, I could sense everywhere an immense degree of respect for Wexford. Yet, nowhere did I come across a single follower who would hear of defeat on Sunday, 1960 is still uppermost in the minds of all but as former star Jim Devitt put it to me "The disasters of that day will be an invaluable help to us now."

Not surprisingly, the champions make no changes from the side that had twenty points to spare against Waterford in the Munster final Liam Devaney and Donie Nealon who swapped places during the course of the game against the Devies — and with such devastating results — again at mid-field and corner forward respectively. Doubtless, however, should the occasion again demand it, Premier County mentors will again send the bush telegraph to the players to reverse positions.

To Mackey McKenna goes the onerous job of opposing Wexford's king-pin Billy Rackard, while the renewal of rivalry between John Nolan and Jimmy Doyle could have a vital bearing on the outcome.

Elsewhere Tipperary appear to be magnificently served. Devaney forms a top-class partnership with Theo English at mid-field and John Doyle, Mick Maher and Kieran Carey in the full-line and half-backs Matt O'Gara, Tony Wall and Mick Burns form a near impregnable defensive screen for goal-keeper Donal O'Brien.

Like Tipp, the Slaneysiders are satisfied with the fifteen that gave them the Leinster title. They have trained as assiduously as though preparing for a first All-Ireland appearance and though many of the side are reaching the veteran stage they have proved here now that they still remain power to be reckoned with.

No matter how one assesses the merits of the relative sides, all indications suggest a thrilling, consuming struggle. The credentials of both are highly impressive, and if Tipp are favourites, Wexford's prospects cannot be over-ruled.

Yet, Tipp's Provincial final form makes it impossible to impose them and they are taken to win by a narrow margin.

THE TICKET PROBLEM As always at this time of year the hunt for All-Ireland tickets is on in earnest. Waterford's quota is, however, limited and each club will only receive three tickets. This year the demand far exceeds the supply so it would appear that applications to County Board officers at this stage would be worthless.

LAST SUNDAY'S GAMES After 120 minutes of championship football, Brickey Rangers and John Mitchels have not yet resolved their footballing differences. On Sunday last at Dungarvan, their second round replay again ended in deadlock (0-9 to 2-3) and so the sides must meet for a third time on a date to be decided upon by the County Board.

While Brickeys were the lucky ones in the first meeting it was Mitchels who had the aid of Dame Fortune in Sunday's replay. They trailed for most of the game and only forced an equaliser seven minutes from time with a soft goal from 21-yards free. But there can be no denying the right of both clubs to be still standing in the championship race. Each has sampled its share of luck and the third eagerly awaited clash should surpass by far the other two, and finally end this marathon between newly established rivals.

At the same venue Mount Sion raced unchallenged to a 4-15 to 2-1 victory over Ardmore in the county minor hurling final, while De La Salle made it a city double by defeating Abbeyside 5-2 to 3-3 after a thrilling juvenile hurling decider.

BALLINAMEELA AND CATHAL BRUGHFA FAIL

At Cappoulin Sportsfield on Sunday last St. Mary's, (Mount Melery) nad Glenmore Rovers defeated Cathal Brugha (Dungarvan) nad Ballinameela respectively in the Primary hurling championship.

St. Mary's had a comfortable 2-6 to 0-3 victory over the Dungarvan club but Ballinameela were decidedly unlucky to have gone under to Glenmore by a three point margin.

Is it any great wonder then that followers as well as sportswriters treat Sunday's decider with grave caution. Wexford invariably find inspiration in being rated underdogs while the knowledge of always being capable of managing Tipperary will strengthen their firm but quiet confidence.

DE LA SALLE WIN JUVENILE TITLE IN THRILLER

De La Salle 5-2, Abbeyside 3-3

CONTRARY to what the scoreline may seem to indicate, Abbeyside can only blame in chief their own shortcomings in vital sectors of the field, for their failure to wrest the County Juvenile hurling title from the holders De La Salle in an exciting final at Dungarvan on Sunday last.

For it was these crippling weaknesses — which became so apparent at crucial periods of the second half that deprived the villagers of a victory that was well within their compass.

As it was the personal brilliance of centre-back Pat Enright covered up a great deal for inferior colleagues but even the splendour of this coming star's hurling wasn't sufficient to counteract the combined effort of a better balanced City side.

For it was in this respect that De La Salle gained most. While Enright and a limited number of accomplished team mates carried the brunt of their side's challenge, the winners had at their disposal fifteen good if not brilliant exponents of the game, none of whom had to be dependant on a colleague.

SPILT MISTAKE And yet had Abbeyside been fortunate enough to have possessed another forward like Mick Power their other weaknesses could now be overlooked. For in a second half which they almost completely monopolised, scoring chances fell at their door-step with every passing minute. But their blatant abusing of these opportunities in the long run spelt disaster and underlined the trivial differences that can exist between victory and defeat.

Facing a breeze of near gale force, proportions in the opening half, the Villagers hurled with enthusiastic grit and determination, and when they turned over only seven points in arrears (2-1 to 0-0) looked a reasonably sound proposition to prevail.

ANTI-CLIMAX That they failed so pathetically however, to avail of the elements on resuming came as an anti-climax to their first-half endeavours. True it is that they encamped in the De La Salle half for prolonged periods but wasted chances were so numerically great that one simply lost track of them in the end.

But if Abbeyside's forwards were in an unacceptable mood, the loose marking of their defence also contributed handsomely to defeat. At a stage when they had the champions on the run, their defenders allowed themselves to be inexcusably caught napping and twice in the space of a minute, goals that should never have been, were conceded.

WORTHY These factors apart, the champions, if only for their opportunism at decisive moments of the game, are worthy title holders. Unlike Abbeyside, they had an attack comprised of individuals all capable of snapping up chances and for this simple reason were cap-

Brickeys and Mitchels must meet again

Brickey Rangers 0-9, John Mitchels 2-3

ON August 12th last, Brickey Rangers and Kilrossanty's buoyant newcomers John Mitchels, fought out a thrilling second round senior football championship tie that ended in stalemate. And two weeks and sixty minutes of dour and unrelenting play later, these now confirmed rivals are as near to resolving their footballing feud as they were when the fixture was originally made.

No Decision Yet in Second Meeting at Dungarvan

For at Dungarvan's Fraher Field on Sunday last these sides again failed to successfully justify the implicit faith each has in their own ability to "do the trick" and at the end of the hour they were again blanketed in an atmosphere of indecisiveness, having notched a tally of nine points each (0-9 to 2-3).

But indicative though that final scoreline may be of a battle royal, it is a result that from the point of view of thrills, flatters to deceive. For while the game's interest never waned, as the issue hung in the balance right to the close, the standard of football never at any stage set the place alight.

The closeness of the marking left little room for open play, while one side was more or less satisfied to wait for their opposition to blunder and then jump in for the kill.

MILITATED AGAINST GOOD PLAY

In fairness to both sides, however, it must be stated that the gale-force wind which swept towards the road goal throughout militated against good play. Neither team could really overcome the disadvantages of it, though their failure could not be put down for want of effort. Fortunately also the disgusting rancour of the drawn game was non-existent and the game was generally fought out in a proper spirit of sportsmanship.

It seems to be a generally accepted fact that Brickeys were lucky to survive that first drawn game. Be that as it may, but on this occasion the Rangers were, as I saw it, a trifle unfortunate not to have prevailed. Each of their nine points were the deserving results of exhausting endeavour while many more efforts, particularly in the opening half, might with any degree of good luck, have resulted in scores.

ENRIGHT'S DISPLAY

In centre-back Pat Enright, Abbeyside had a most polished performer on view. His stickwork and positional sense was of a standard that belied his years and made him look fully matured (in a hurling sense) in the midst of the remainder.

Bernard Shields and Tobin were others to shine in defence while Lenihan made many brilliant saves in goal.

Sheehan and Power after a slow beginning took control at mid-field but only centre-forward Mick Power ever seriously threatened danger to the winner's defence. Throughout, he played himself to a standstill but got little or no assistance from his fellow forwards.

Scores for De La Salle were Downes (2-0), Marks, Walsh and Dalton (1-0) each, Dwyer and Marks (0-1) each. Abbeyside relied per Pat Enright (2-3) and Mick Power (1-0).

Tom Walsh (Foumillewater) was an excellent referee. De La Salle — P. Roche, A. Sheridan, T. Fraher, W. Walsh, S. Kennedy, D. Evans, P. Kelly, P. Walsh, W. Cuddihy, S. Dwyer, M. Frisby, A. Bowman, G. paratively soft free wound up in the re. for as fortuitous a goal as has been scored in so vital a game for many a long day.

LOST THEIR HEADS

And yet valuable though that goal was to Mitchels, I will be forever of the opinion that as a result they lost their heads. There they were, with seven minutes remaining, on level terms, and playing with the hurricane at their backs. But instead of surging uplifted, they seemed to have retrieved their position and fell back into defence as though content to hang on and merely play out time.

How near they came to paying the penalty for this flippancy failure to accept their God-sent advantage, literally boggles description. On no less than four occasions their uprights were overshadowed by Brickey scoring attempts, and in the dying seconds another close in free was narrowly wided by the Brickey men.

STUPID TACTICS

Had the Rangers been beaten it would have been a gross miscarriage of justice, but beaten they could have been had not Mitchels resorted to stupid tactics. Those closing minutes were to their complete advantage, when an attacking policy would surely have reaped its reward. But inexplicably they failed to utilise or exploit the situation.

The breeze ordained that it would be more or less a game of halves and Brickeys benefited by first use of it, swung into attack from the start. Farly points helped no end their cause but by the eighteenth minute their hopes were reeked from their foundations when Mitchels had fought back to level terms. But again they revealed their grip and by half-time led 0-9 to 1-1.

LOOKED INADEQUATE

In the prevailing circumstances a five-point advantage looked to ally inadequate. Such was the ferocity of the breeze that it seemed only a matter of time before Mitchels wiped out their deficit. But for 23 minutes of superiority they had but two points to show and seemed booked for defeat so intent were their scoring attempts. Then came their gift goal that levelled matters and in the ensuing seven minutes staved off many threatening Brickey raids.

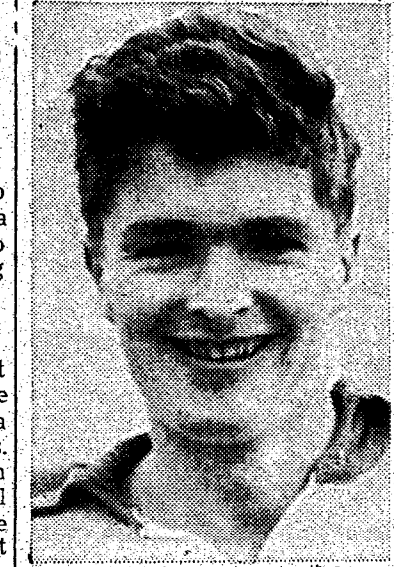

THE SCORING

Brickeys aided by the breeze jumped into a two-minute lead with a point by Wick Walsh. Seven minutes elapsed before Patsy Murray added another and two minutes later Mick Farrell made it number three from far out.

EQUALISER

After a Tommy Kirwan free had been saved Rogie Connors gained possession from the clearance to open Mitchels' account with a point. Within a minute there was drama at the other end when goalkeeper Sullivan made a wondrous save from point-blank range from Cooney. Then came Mitchels' equaliser in the 18th min. when Tommy Kirwan eluded two defenders before crashing a great ball to the net.

The remainder of the half was again dominated by the Brickeys. A Pat Spratt free regained them their lead in the 22nd minute and Hallissey and TOMMY KIRWAN... his opportunism gave Mitchels another chance.

Farrell were also on the mark from placed balls in the 23rd and 25th minutes respectively. In the 29th Hallissey pointed a 50 yard free and just on the half time the same player scored yet another masterly minor from a similar distance.

Four minutes after the restart, Tommy Kirwan pointed a Mitchel's free and six minutes later brother Billy had a like score from play. But for all their superiority they failed to penetrate further the Brickey defence until the 23rd minute goal and thereafter fell back to defence seemingly satisfied at their afternoon's work.

HALLISSEY AND FARRELL WERE BRICKEY STARS

Coming down to individual performances and taking first the Brickeys, Andy Hallissey and Mick Farrell must be singled out. Hallissey's superb judgment from fantastic distances gave him three great points while his play in general was faultless. Farrell also fielded and kicked brilliantly and almost snatched victory on his own in the dying minutes.

Nor can one forget the tremendous second-half display of centre-back Patsy Donnelly, while never can I recall Peter Ferncombe having as fine a game as left corner.

Patsy Murray was ever dangerous in attack where he was best served by Shakaneeen Woods and Wick Walsh until transferred to defence.

RARE FETTER

For Mitchel's goalkeeper M. Sullivan was in rare fettle and his first-half save from Cooney was one of the highlights of the game. In a solid full-back line Wally Connors gave yet another quality display, while half-backs Michael Kirwan, celt Gough and Seamus Kenny never erred. While midfielders Noel Kirwan and Rogie Connors flashed into the game in spasms, both were somewhat disappointing and faded almost completely from the scene in the closing quarter.

MITCHELS' SAVIOUR

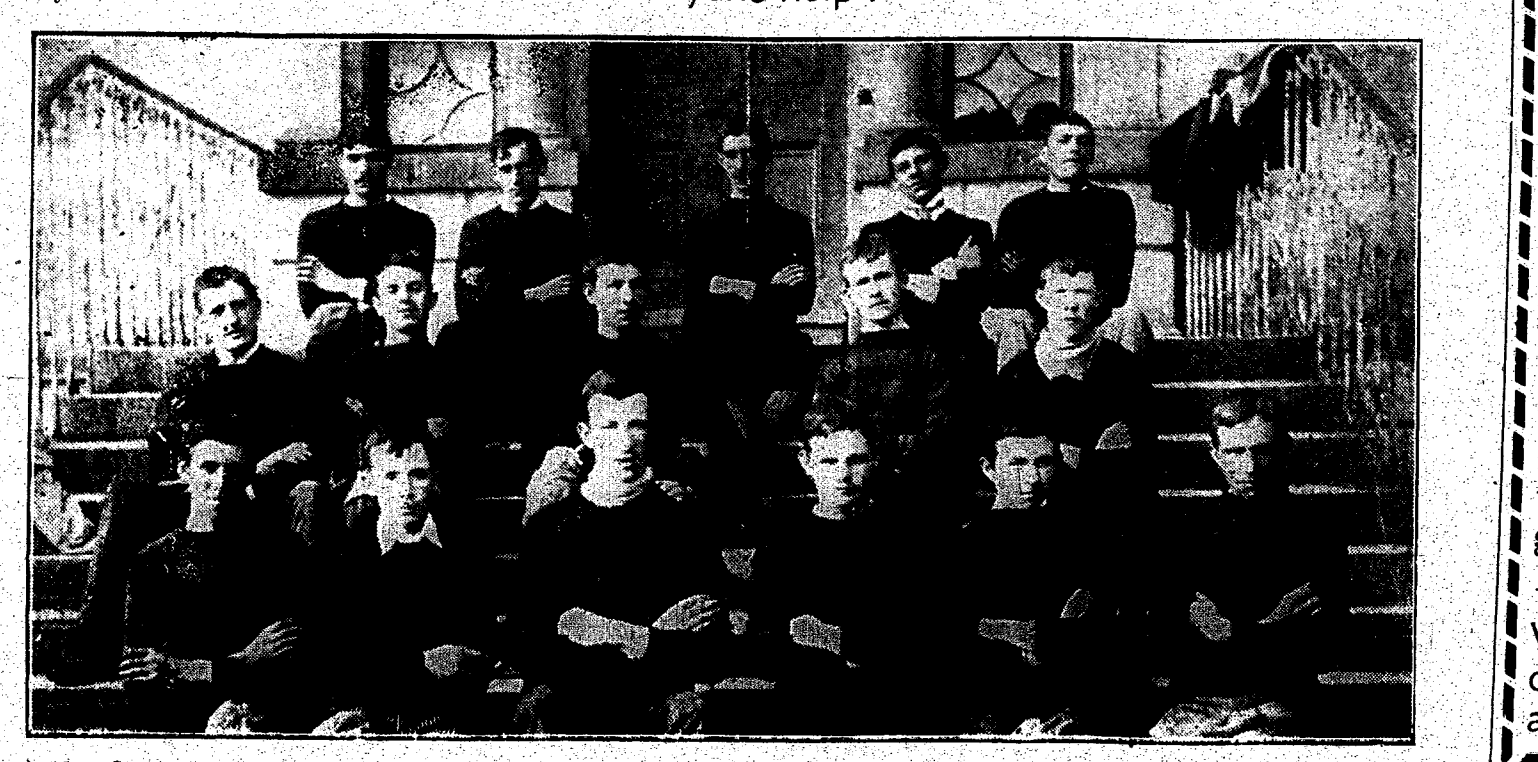

In attack corner forward Tommy Kirwan was undoubtedly the saviour of his side. Of the 2-3 total he was responsible for 2-1 of it and with his brother Billy at full-forward formed a dual threat to the Brickey defence.
