PIGION RACING

The Dungarvan Premier Club finished up a very successful season with the final club race of the season, from Coleraine (214 miles) and after the birds being held until Monday, the following were the results: 1st, E. Daly, 7999 y.m.m.; 2. T. Drummev, 1846; 3. J. Street, 7994; 4. A. Donnelly, 7972.

There was also a Munster Federation Race and E. Daly was placed seventh in the open and 1st in the Waterford section. T. Drummev was placed 9th in the open and 3rd in this section. This was a good performance for these two fanciers.

The final race was from Girvan, Scotland, and due to the bad weather the birds were held for almost a week before being liberated, but, unfortunately, there was no bird homed in race time. Best winner in the young bird racing was J. Street, who won three firsts and several places in these races.

A full review of the whole season will be given at a later date.

Dungarvan Man Returns to U.S.

After a five-weeks holiday at the home of his sister, Mrs. William White, Mitchell Street, Dungarvan, John Buckley returned to New York on Wednesday last. He flew out from Shannon with the Waterford Men's Association of which he is a prominent member, and who were returning after their tour of their native county.

For John, who is a Dungarvan man to his finger-tips, this

'WILL NOT TOLERATE ANY MORE INCREASES'

Committee Condemns Present System

THE farming community was facing awful obstacles at the moment and they had enough of headaches to put up with already. They should nip this rot right in the bud. This was stated by Mr. W. Foran when members of Waterford Committee of Agriculture were discussing claims for salary increases for Agricultural, Horticultural, Poultry-keeping and Butter-making instructors at their meeting on Saturday last. As yet no claims had been received by the Committee, but they would be before them in all probability at the October meeting.

The C.A.O. (Mr. P. Conroy) read a letter from the Department stating that a Conciliation and Arbitration Scheme was in operation for instructors and revised scales had been arrived at. They would be retrospective to April 1st last.

Mr. Foran—I propose we will not tolerate any more increases. Mr. Walsh said the principal was absolutely rotten. As elected representatives they had no say and nobody in local administration could stand for it. They were directly concerned in this, yet they had no say.

Continuing Mr. Walsh said it made very little of local administration. If they voted against the increases, they all knew in their hearts and souls they would be eventually given. "Can we do anything against his principle" he asked.

Mr. Walsh—We are supposed to be represented at that meeting.

Mr. Foran—The farming community are facing awful obstacles at the moment. They have enough headaches to put up with, without this thing adding to them. We should not even consider it but nip this rot right at the bud.

Mr. Charles Curran said that proposition had no effect, even if passed.

Mr. Foran said it was time they stopped running around and made a stand.

Mr. Walsh said the principle of the entire matter was before them. It took away their right to deal or not to deal with it.

Mr. Walsh said the principal was absolutely rotten. As elected representatives they had no say and nobody in local administration could stand for it. They were directly concerned in this, yet they had no say.

Mr. Walsh—They can take it we do not agree with it.

Mr. Foran then intimated that he wished to have his proposal ("that they would not tolerate any more increases to instructors") put to the meeting. Mr. Kieran O'Ryan seconded.

The proposal was then put to the meeting and passed unanimously.

PROTESTANT ORDINATION

The Protestant Bishop of Cashel and Emly, Waterford & Lismore, Rt. Rev. Dr. de Pauley, will hold an ordination in Waterford next Sunday, when Mr. Christopher Bruce Warren, M.A., will be made a deacon. Mr. Warren will subsequently be licensed for the curacy of Waterford.

- Generous five-seater roominess.

- New 4-speed gearbox, with Synchronesh on all four gears.
- Top speed 77 m.p.h. Touring fuel consumption of 38 miles per gallon.
- 5,000 miles normal servicing interval, which for most owners will mean about twice a year.
- Amazing boot capacity of 20.9 cubic feet.
- Doors equipped with effortless closing "zero torque" locks giving extra safety and long life.
- Silence. The CONSUL CORTINA provides real silence of operation for driver and passengers.
- International styling with exceptional all-round panoramic vision.
- Truly the small car with a big difference.

LUCKY WINNER OF £100

Mr. Christy Duggan, Congress Villas, Dungarvan, proved a very popular winner on Sunday night at the Quann's amusement park where he won the night's big gate-prize of £100.

GREYHOUND LAURELS FOR YOUGHAL GREYHOUND

Cheered every inch of the way by a packed stadium at Cork Track on Saturday night last, Mrs. Veronica O'Mahony's greyhound Dark Baby won a tremendous race in the final of the Irish Greyhound Laurels by one length from Mr. T. O'Mullane's Wondering Sailor. This outstanding dog made amends for his failure in the Derby. The owner is wife of the well known bookmaker M. John Mahony of Knockaverry, Youghal, to whom we extend our congratulations in their great achievement. Dark Baby has proven himself to be one of the best ever winners of the classic and one of the most popular. After the first round he became long odds favourite but was always a very strong fancy. The runner up was favourite after his record breaking effort in the semi-final.

TIDY TOWNS COMPETITION

Youghal was awarded £3 marks out of a possible 100 in this year's 'Tidy Towns' Competition, the same as was awarded in last year's competition. The adjudicator stated in his report that the adjudication in the case of Youghal was extremely difficult because of the extensive damage to the town by the storm of Ash Wednesday.

CONGRATULATIONS

Hearty congratulations to Mr. Tom Cashman recently retired from the Hong Kong Police Force, who resides in Youghal with his family. He was born in Hong Kong where his father also served with the police force. On his retirement Tom had reached the rank of Chief Superintendent, and for four years was in charge of the border area of China. In recognition of his work the helping priests and nuns who were expelled, he and his wife (nee Kitty McCarthy of Youghal) were granted a special audience with the Pope, during which Monsignor Ryan of Tipperary acted as interpreter. Before retiring from the force he was Director of the Anti-Corruption and Narcotics Bureau. He has now taken up an appointment with a Cork Auctioneering Firm.

DEATH FROM DROWNING

A verdict in accordance with the medical evidence that the deceased died from asphyxia, due to accidentally drowning, was returned at an inquest held recently at Ballymacoda, on John Canty (47), whose body was recovered from the river Womagh, on September 3rd. The coroner was Mr. W. St. Clare Rice and the Gardaí was represented by Sgt. Collins. In evidence, Dr. O'Brien stated that he was called to the river bank on September 3rd, when he found the body of the deceased lying on its face. He formed the opinion that he was dead when taken from the water, but he did not think that he was very long dead. In his opinion, death was due to asphyxia as a result of drowning. Philip Gould, Ballymacoda, gave evidence of the finding of the body and evidence of identification was given by William Canty, brother of the deceased. The coroner expressed sympathy with the relatives of the deceased.

LATE MR. MICHL. MERRIGAN

MONGALLY, AGLISH

The death bell tolled in the parish of Aglish announcing the sad event of the death of Michael Merrigan, which took place on Tuesday evening, 11th September, at St. Joseph's Hospital, Dungarvan, after a protracted illness. He was a member of the farming community and was a most popular person for his outstanding qualities. His death has cast a gloom over the neighbouring parishes of Aglish and Clashmore, where he was better known to his legion of friends and neighbours. Much sympathy is expressed to his nephews and nieces on their loss.

The remains were removed on Wednesday evening, followed by a cortege of large dimensions to Aglish Church and were received by Rev. Fr. E. Tobin, C.C., Aglish. Requiem Masses were celebrated on Thursday morning after which the interment took place in the adjoining family plot. Rev. Fr. E. Tobin, C.C., also officiated at the graveside. (Funeral arrangements were carried out by James Kiely and Sons, Shandon, Dungarvan.)

ceased, which was by Sergt. Collins, and Mr. E. McLoughlin on behalf of the Jury.

STORM DAMAGE REPAIRS

Mr. J. O'Regan, B.E. Town Engineer, informed the Youghal U.D.C. that the work of repairing the damaged walls at Green Park was in progress and being carried out by the County Council. He also reported that the Department has approved in principle of the work proposed subject to the submission of a full and detailed plan. The work would be subject to an emergency grant, and there would have to be a financial adjustment. The works referred to are the wall on the south side of the Green Park and portion of the wall facing Monatree as far as the watch tower. The remaining portion of this wall is the liability of the Board of Works.

YOUGHAL RAIL CLOSURE

At a recent meeting of the Cork County Council, the Chairman, Mr. M. J. Corry, T.D., announced that the meeting in connection with the proposed rail closure within the county will be held at the Town Hall, Youghal, on Tuesday, 25th September next. This meeting will be attended by Dail Deputies, Senators and members of the County and Urban Councils from the areas concerned.

DISQUALIFIED FROM DRIVING

At Youghal District Court, before Mr. L. Skinner, D.J., Thomas Madden of Clonpriest, Youghal, was fined £2 for drunken driving and disqualified from driving for a period of twelve months. On a charge of dangerous driving he was fined 10/- and ordered to pay £4/10/0 costs. The case was a sequel to a collision between defendant's car and one driven by Philip Gould of Clonpriest.

Kilmacthomas News

Aged 43 Years is Mr. Michael Lawlor, farmer, Seskin, Stradbally, who is undergoing treatment at the District Hospital, Dungarvan, to where he was conveyed suffering from head and facial injuries he sustained when a motor-scooter he was driving was in collision with a motor-cycle at Ballykerogue Cross, on the Coast Road near Durrus, Stradbally. Mr. Patrick Walsh, farmer, Ballingown, Leamybrien, who was driving the motorcycle, escaped uninjured. The mishap happened early on a recent workaday morning.

Wedding: Prendergast-Veale

The congratulations and good wishes of their many friends and admirers will be wholeheartedly extended to Mr. Thomas (Desie) Prendergast, son of Mr. Thos. Prendergast, farmer, Kealfoun, Kilmacthomas and the late Mrs. Prendergast, do., and Miss Breda Veale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ptk. (Pat) Veale, Post Office, Leamybrien, on their marriage which, with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing, was solemnised at St. Brigid's Parish Church, Kilmacthomas, by highly esteemed Very Rev. Fr. James Harty, P.P., do., on Wednesday of last week, 12th inst. (Feast of the Holy Name of Mary). Given away by her father, the bride, who radiated happiness, had in attendance as bridesmaid, her sister, Miss Maura Veale. The prominent and popular Kilmacthomas senior footballer, Mr. Michael Prendergast (brother of the groom) was best man.

A reception was subsequently held at Devonshire Arms Hotel, Lismore, and attended by some sixty guests. Later, when the newly-wedded couple left by motor to tour South Munster and Connacht on their honeymoon, they were accorded a great send-off.

Mr. Prendergast and his charming bride received numerous valuable wedding presents; their new home will be in the cross-Channel centre where he holds a responsible and lucrative position, and well, good length of years of matrimonial bliss to both.

It is learned that the comparatively few blackberry pickers operating in this area are receiving 3/6 per stone for the fruit they collect.

Domiciled in Winchester, Hants, England, is Mrs. Margaret (Peggy) Tiller (nee Fitzgerald, native of Ballynabonogue, Kilmacthomas), wife of Mr. James Tiller, do., and mother of school-going Miss Charlotte Tiller. The amiable trio have just returned to their home after spending a few weeks holidays at this side, every moment of which they immensely enjoyed. During their sojourn here they were the guests of Mrs. Tiller's aunt, Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, widow, Ballygorty, Kilmacthomas, and her son (Thomas) and daughter (Peggy).

Mr. Michael Kiely, Island, Stradbally, died at Ardkeen General Hospital, Waterford, on Friday of last week, 14th inst. (Feast of Exaltation of the Holy Cross), following a

FURTHER ISSUE OF PRIZE BONDS

As will be seen from our advertising columns, Prize Bonds are on sale again and can be purchased until Wednesday, 3rd October. The terms are the same as for previous issues, and Bonds bought during the present issue will participate with existing Bonds, until they are cashed, in all future Draws for prizes. Every £5 Bond has an equal chance of winning a prize but the more Bonds an investor holds, the better his prospects of a win; the more Bonds bought and held the greater the number of prizes in the Prize Fund.

Bonds may be bought, without limitation as to amount, not only by individuals but also by clubs, societies, guilds, institutions, companies and other bodies. Bonds may also be bought by two persons jointly, for instance, husband and wife. Draws for prizes are held twice a year, the next draw being in March, 1963. The prizes range from £50 to £5,000 tax-free. At the recent draw over £300,000 was won by bondholders and there were more than 2,400 prizes, including 39 prizes of £5,000 each.

Prize Bonds are a very popular way of saving, particularly for the small investor and those who may have to withdraw their money at short notice. Money invested in Prize Bonds is safe; it is used by the State in the national interest and may earn the holder a big reward.

Investors in Bonds are assured of absolute secrecy in all matters affecting their holdings. Only the numbers of winning Bonds are published, winners being notified privately by post.

Application forms and prospectus, in English and Irish, may be had from any Post Office, Bank or Stockbroker.

Mr. Michael Kiely, Island, Stradbally, died at Ardkeen General Hospital, Waterford, on Friday of last week, 14th inst. (Feast of Exaltation of the Holy Cross), following a brief illness and at an advanced age, and the sad event is deeply regretted by his proximate ties and intimate friends. Deceased, who spent the greater part of his career in the Great Western Republic (from where he recently returned on a holiday) and who was predeceased by his wife, was brother of Mr. David Kiely, Seskin, Stradbally and of the late Mr. Matthew (Matt.) Kiely, Kilmacthomas. His passing removes a loyal Catholic and a kindly, generous and warm-hearted friend and neighbour. Much sympathy goes forth to the bereaved ones in their affliction.

On Saturday evening the remains were removed to the Parish Church, Stradbally, where the coffin was rested overnight on a catafalque before the high altar, and interment took place in the adjoining cemetery after the 10 o'clock Mass on Sunday, in the presence of a huge host of relatives, friends and sympathisers. Rev. M. Fennell, C.C., Stradbally, officiated at the graveside.

Numerous Mass cards and messages of condolence were received. (Irish-American papers will please copy).

Irish Sweeps Derby 1964

23 Yearlings offered at the recent Deauville Sales were entered for the Irish Sweeps Derby 1964—2 were unsold. The highest price (approx. £7,000) was paid by M. Andre Rueff for the Bay Colt Allah by Norseman out of Alora. The lowest price paid was £1,000 for L'Escalet by Siamore out of Orsova, by the young French trainer, Arthur Bates. M. Andre Rueff is a comparative newcomer to racing in France who has had fantastic successes including Balto, winner of the Ascot Gold Cup this year. His other big winners include Tremolo and Wakamba, the latter regarded in France as one of the best fillies of the year. For the Dublin Sales, which commence on 24th September, 74 of those catalogued are engaged for the Irish Sweeps Derby 1964. Accommodation at leading Dublin hotels is fully booked by prospective buyers.

Cavan Site Selected for Agricultural Machinery Factory

Cavan has been selected as the site for a large factory for the manufacture of agricultural machinery. The construction of the factory will commence immediately. Mr. Con A. Smith of Cavan, and Mr. Wilhelm Kodel of Louingen, Western Germany will be joint managing directors of the firm, to be known as Cavan Engineering Ltd. The site selected is one mile outside the town of Cavan and the factory will be built on 35 acres of land. Production is scheduled to commence in the summer of 1963, and in the first it is expected that at least 100 people will be employed. The new Cavan factory will manufacture agricultural machinery, the majority of which will be for the export market.

JOINT IRISH-GERMAN VENTURE
 The new venture will bring into partnership two well-known names in the field of agricultural machinery — Smiths of Cavan and Kodel of Louingen.
 Smiths of Cavan was first established in Cavan town in 1932. Business expanded rapidly, particularly with the initiation of an extensive tractor rebuilding programme. These rebuilt tractors found a ready market throughout the country and many were exported. It was to provide an on-the-spot service for these tractors that Smiths originally established branch garages throughout Ireland. The Smith Motor Group now operates 16 major garages throughout the provinces and Dublin.
 Kodel and Bohm was founded in 1876 by Mr. Michael Kodel in the town of Louingen in Bavaria, Western Germany. The firm was famous as early as 1936 for the manufacture of threshing mills. An annual output of 12,000 machines made Kodel and Bohm the largest threshing mill manufacturers in Europe. This range of agricultural machinery is now renowned throughout the world. The factory in Germany today covers 75 acres, all under one roof, and employs over 2,000 people. The firm is now headed by Mr. Wilhelm Kodel who is the Joint Managing Director with Mr. Wilhelm Bohm. Kodel and Bohm also have another large factory near Johannesburg in the Republic of South Africa.

THE FIRST CONTACT WITH THE TWO FIRMS
 A subsidiary company of the Smith Motor Group, Machinery Distributors (Ireland) Ltd. has been importing and distributing agricultural machinery for many years. It was through this company that Mr. Con A. Smith first made contact with Mr. Wilhelm Kodel in Germany. In 1959, Machinery Distributors were appointed distributors for Kodel products in Ireland (the Kola Combine Harvester and Baler, etc.) and as a result, Mr. Kodel considered the suitability of an Irish location for the manufacture of Kodel products. The background to the establishment of the Irish factory is a story of the perseverance and goodwill which surmounted the very many problems that arose during the preliminary discussion period and during the final period of organisation.

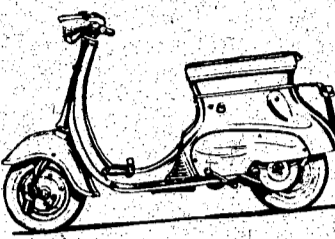

PRODUCTION AND EMPLOYMENT
 It is expected that the factory will commence production in May 1963. In the first year production will be concentrated on the manufacture of forage harvesters, muckspreaders and blowers and 95% of these will be exported to the established markets for Kodel and Bohm products in Northern Europe. Cavan will therefore be making a substantial contribution to Irish exports. The export value is the first year is rated at £250,000. Within five years it is expected that Cavan Engineering will be exporting £1 million worth of agricultural machinery annually.
 After the initial stage, production will be expanded to include balers and the factory will also be equipped to manufacture spare parts for agricultural machinery and other general engineering products. It is probable that the availability of a skilled engineering labour force will ultimately attract other light engineering businesses into the Cavan area as has been the case in several towns in Ireland once some major industry was established.
 Cavan Engineering Ltd. will have the most modern machinery manufacturing equipment in Europe. In the first stage of the factory, equipment will cost £175,000. Despite the extensive use of automation in the new factory, however, there will be an initial employment for approximately 85 men and 15 women. In the second and third stages of development, this number will be very considerably increased.

WEST WATERFORD NEWS
VOCATIONAL CLASSES
 Building courses have been arranged for Ardmore and Kinsalebeg centres under the auspices of Waterford County Vocational Education Committee. The courses will be conducted by Mr. P. G. Whelan, Instructor, and it is hoped that the young men of the areas will avail of them.
G.A.A.
 By defeating Affane on Sunday last, Clashmore qualified for the West Waterford Primary Football Final. The games was played in a clean sporting manner that reflected the greatest credit on both teams. Willie McGrath was a fair and impartial referee.
YOUGHAL BRIDGE
 A few weeks ago it was announced in a daily paper that Youghal Bridge would be opened to traffic early in October. It would appear that the writer was either unduly optimistic or was misinformed. Work on the completion of the bridge seems to have taken longer than expected and there now appears to be no prospect of it being ready for traffic for at least two months. An official announcement on the matter would help to clarify the position and allay rumours.
RURAL ELECTRIFICATION
 Development of Drum area is now well advanced and the majority of the householders are already connected. This is one of the biggest areas in the county and also the most sparsely populated. It stretches from Filtown Cross to near Dungarvan and includes large stretches of mountain, bogland and forests. The E.S.B. staff are to be congratulated on the manner in which the work has been carried out.
WATERFORD GAEL RETURNS
 Following a short holiday in his native Aglish, Mr. John Kennedy, President of Waterford G.A.A. in New York, has returned to the U.S.A. Mr. Kennedy is a very popular and highly respected figure and his numerous friends were pleased to see him in excellent health. He is brother of Aid. W. Kennedy and uncle of Mr. F. Kennedy, P.C., Vice-Chairman West Waterford G.A.A. Board.

 Also returned to the U.S.A. is Mr. E. Power, Kieley's Cross who also travelled over with the Waterford party.
ROAD IMPROVEMENTS
 A number of extra road-workers were recently taken on in the Ardmore-Clashmore area to work on the improvements to be carried out of the Dungarvan-Youghal road between Grange and Youghal Bridge. This work has been made possible by a special Government grant of £15,000. Extra workers have also been taken on in Aglish area. This will be welcomed by all concerned.
TRANS-ATLANTIC PIONEERS
 The recent visit to this country of Col. J. Fitzmaurice, who was pilot of the first aeroplane to fly the Atlantic from east to west 34 years ago aroused memories of others who made the effort and did not succeed. A few weeks before Col. Fitzmaurice's success two french flyers attempted the hazardous task but failed. The brave airman Mungessor and Collie, flew low over West Waterford on the afternoon of their take-off. They flew out over the Atlantic but were never seen again.

THE HARVEST
 Despite the very bad weather conditions in recent weeks, the harvest has been made in harvesting operations in this area. Most of the corn harvested is in reasonably good condition. Due to the fact that most of the corn has had to be field dealt, the early deliveries are taking early deliveries. This is only one of the many problems created by the unfavourable conditions.

CIVIL DEFENCE TRAINING RESUMED

Civil Defence training in Dungarvan will be resumed at the Civil Defence Room, Courthouse, at 8.15 p.m. this (Thursday), Sept. 20th.

There is an urgent need for very many new members in the various sections as rescue welfare, Aux. Fire and Casualty, who will undertake to give a regular attendance and so ensure the speedy completion of the various courses of training. A factor which would appear to guarantee the success of the force is the obvious utility of these courses. Last year upwards of fifty members attended a series of lectures and practicals in First Aid throughout the winter and all who persevered were successful in the summer examinations and will receive their Red Cross Certificates in the near future—a very great organisation representing the acquisition of a skill which might in the case of the familiar road accident, drowning, severe electric shock or other mishap make all the difference between life and death for the unfortunate individual involved.

All members of the force—men and women are required to undertake a First Aid course. In addition they must also undertake a basic course in fire fighting which, as a forerunner to the practical skills of fire-fighting, includes most of the constructive lectures on the appreciation of the nature of fires, its mode of occurrence and propagation and the means for its extinction. This theory promises to build up a psychological resume offsetting the traditional panic associated with fires and engendering in its place a faculty for calmly assessing the situation as presented and undertaking extinction and controlling methods with the necessary equipment appropriate to the situation. Panic is the great friend of fire. Many disastrous outbreaks have sprung from very minor sources where the help available would have been quite sufficient to nip the fire in the bud, had it been reinforced with a little knowledge of the factors involved. The modern age with its technical advances has seen a remarkable increase in the growth of fire with consequent loss of homes and disruption of industry so that the Civil Defence training would here again promise to have much to offer for the benefit of the individual and the community.

There is much interesting work in the Rescue Section involving the use of ladders, fibre an steel ropes, chains, slings, derricks, shear legs, pulleys and oxy-acetylene flame cutting. The welfare section specialise in the evacuation and care of the homeless employing most impressive methods of simple improvisation.

The test of the success of the training in this sphere demand a re-arrangement of annual or more frequent field days which lend themselves to pleasant and wholesome associations in circumstances not elsewhere available.

There is a certain patriotic spirit colouring the association of the personnel enrolled which by its very nature must do good for the individual concerned and society in general. We wish them well and would encourage those free to do so to lend their help in the task in hand.

Abbeyside Man Called to Training

Congratulations are extended to young Pat Langan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Langan, Murphy Place, Abbeyside, on being called to training this week to the St. Patrick's Teachers Training College in Drumcondra, Dublin.

Pat is making a little bit of village history, too, as he is the first, in his twelve years of existence, to be called to teacher training from the 'little village' of seventy-four houses which comprise Murphy Place.

A brilliant pupil at the Abbeyside National School, he continued his secondary school studies at Dungarvan Christian Brothers where he this year secured an Honours Leaving Certificate, and subsequently in Dublin he passed his interview for selection to training as a teacher.

Strike Ended

As we go to press the month-old unofficial strike of workers at the local Dickens Leather factory has come to an end, and the first batch of workers reported for duty at the factory yesterday (Wednesday) morning.

Liam Lynch Commemoration

A big contingent from Cork, Waterford, Limerick and Tipperary assembled at Fitzgerald's Park, Fermoy, and marched to Kiercumper Cemetery for the annual Liam Lynch Commemoration celebrations.

A decade of the Rosary, in Irish was recited. Liam Mac Gearailt Usual, M.C.C.

The following oration was given by Mr. Con Donovan, Ardglen.

Assembled here to-day we commemorate the anniversary of the lion-hearted General Liam Lynch. In doing so we honour a super Irishman who made the supreme sacrifice in offering his sweet young life for his country.

As you already know it is difficult for a man of my age to say much about Liam Lynch Mick Fitzgerald and their gallant volunteer comrades whose remains are interred in this historic cemetery. However, I have this to say, since my boyhood I have heard recorded quite frequently by men who took an active part in the West-Connemara exploits here in Fermoy and thereafter, glowing tributes to the fighting qualities of Lynch and those comrades who died in the struggle.

As I grew to manhood my respect for those heroes of the War of Independence increased immensely and I feel quite certain that all true Irishmen will endeavour to keep their memory green to the end of time.

Liam Lynch was born near Anglesboro, Co. Limerick, in the year 1893. At the age of 17 he commenced his apprenticeship in a hardware shop in M'chelstown and later took up a similar position here in Fermoy. Because of the circumstances prevailing throughout the land at this particular period he became imbued with the spirit of Nationalism and decided to take an active part in the National Movement. First he joined the Irish Volunteers and later became an outstanding figure in the Irish Republican Army.

One outstanding incident which might well have been the deciding factor in Lynch's life was, when he stood in pensive thought on Fermoy bridge at the sight of the famous Kent boots being rushed over by scared British Soldiers subsequent to this heroic defence of Bawnard House, Castlelyons.

He then made a vow and resolution to atone as far as lay in his power for the sacrifices of the martyred dead and thus became a man of "one allegiance only."

Amongst his most daring exploits were the Westlyin Church Ambush at Fermoy; the capture of General Lucas; the ambush at Glencurrane; the capture of Mallow Barracks and the famous ambush at Clonbannin.

His organising attributes were second only to his courage and activeness. Indeed, it was these indirectly which led to his receiving wounds on the Knockmealdown Mountains which later proved fatal and so in the discharge of duties for a cause which he loved and cherished, Lynch was called on to meet his Maker.

To-day here in Kiercumper we salute this great man. Is it any wonder that our hearts swell with pride as we gather around his graveside? May God have mercy on the souls of all our patriots.

Our history has recorded that true patriotism has not been the prerogative of any particular generation of men. It is still available to the youth of this generation ample opportunity to help realise the ideal for which brave men died on hunger strike and in active combat. There yet remains the British imposed "pit of hate" which divides our country with its self-imposed dogmas, gerrymandering and Orange Lodges, and this must go so as to make Ireland a complete independent nation, and please God this ideal of all true Irishmen will be realised in our lifetime.

We, at this moment cannot visualise what sacrifices we may be called upon to make in the future should our country be accepted to membership of the European Economic Community. There may follow political implications which could involve us in great changes and yet we must be prepared like heroes of the past, to face up to the situation courageously and for love of country too. Let us face the future then with stout hearts and prove worthy successors of our Patriotic Dead—come weal or woe. It is a noble and wholesome thing to die for one's country and better still to work and live for it.

If we are worthy of the name Irishmen, we will study closely the lives, the heroic deeds and the objectives of Lynch, Fitzgerald and their comrades who participated in the deadly struggle against the Old Enemy throughout the Fight for Freedom. Surely the thought of the sufferings of the gallant men of that time should urge us to become better Irishmen as we progress in years and that we may pass on this noble tradition stainless and faultless to posterity—let us be ever ready to defend our language and culture, so that future generations cannot blame us of the present generation for being untrustworthy in this regard.

According to Padraig Mac Phiaras—one of the heroes of Easter Week 1916—Freedom and the language are equally important and therefore let us ponder on his ideals.

"Ireland Free and not alone free but Gaelic as well; Ireland Gaelic and not alone Gaelic but free as well."

Late Master Michael Casey

Our deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Joan Casey, Main Street, Dungarvan, on the death of her older son, Michael J., aged 9 years. The funeral took place to St. Mary's Parish Church from a Dublin Hospital on Friday evening and the interment took place on Saturday morning in the family plot in the adjoining cemetery. R.I.P.

RING FILM-STARS IN GAELTACHT WATER PICTURE

Dozens of residents of the Ring gaeltacht district were shown on the screen before large audiences at the Cork International Film Festival this week. They were the men, women and children who took part as "extras" in the Colm O'Loaighaire film "Water Wisdom" which was made for the Department of Local Government, as part of the drive for the extension of piped water supplies in rural areas.

The film was made in Ring and district last autumn, and in addition to the professionals who played the leading parts, prominent parts were taken by Ring-folk Jack Tobin, John Hennessy (whose house featured largely in the plot), Pat Doherty and scores of others who had walk-on parts. The film, which was presented in the class for documentaries, at the festival, was seen by many Dungarvanites and a number of people from Ring area, who travelled to Cork for the screening.

Resurgent Waterford Shock Leinster Champions

Waterford 3-11, Wexford 3-7

WATERFORD — undoubtedly the unpredictable of modern hurling — proved the fickleness and unreliability of form in no uncertain fashion on Sunday last, when before a 9,250 attendance at Walsh Park, they confounded general opinion by beating Wexford 3-11 to 3-7 in the first semi-final of this year's Oireachtas competition.

It wasn't by any stretch of imagination a great game but the breach that was created by the absence of classical stickwork was bridge in adequate fashion by the zealotry of both sides and a second half that saw Wexford stage a glorious recovery to salvage their prestige which at one stage looked certain to undergo an unexpected snuffing.

CELEBRATED RETURN

For Waterford the occasion marked their celebrated return to the top of the hurling ladder and the restoration of the faith of followers in the true potential of the side. They played with a dedication that was so blatantly missing against Trip in the Munster final and were in decisive command for most of the game.

Sunday was the day that would answer all in so far as the Deise men were concerned. Obviously conscious of the fact that final judgment would be passed on them, following their trial of strength against the Saneysiders, they met the demands of the hour in every respect and earned meritorious plaudits as they outthrew the All-Ireland finalists.

Nor can the fact that Wexford held without five of their All-Ireland side detract from Waterford's victory. Weakened though the Leinster title holders were by the last minute defections of Nick O'Donnell and Phil Wilson, who joined Billy Rackard, Podge Kehoe and Ned Wheeler as spectators, it is highly debatable whether they would have reversed the result even if at full strength.

Waterford be it remembered were without Austin Flynn, Freddie O'Brien and John Killy of their championship line-out, while Frankie Walsh was also an absentee. Furthermore their over all superiority is hardly represented in a four point winning margin, which with any luck at all could have been immeasurably greater.

PLAYED WITH BREEZE

Wisely Waterford decided to play with the strong first-half breeze after winning the toss and soon they began to show up chinks in Wexford's defensive and attacking armour.

Surprisingly outpaced the Saneys men fell into arrears after eight minutes and as the half progressed their position rapidly deteriorated. Frantic switch's failed to stem the continuous wave of Waterford onslaughts and at the break the Deise men's 3-6 to 1-2 lead was in no way flattering, such was the superiority they exerted. On the contrary, in fact, Wexford would have been confronted with an even greater deficit had it not been for the superlative goalkeeping of Pat Nolan, who brought off a series of incredible saves.

DISAPPOINTED

But if Wexford followers expected an immediate transformation in the trend of the game on the change over, they were doomed to disappointment. They failed to make the slightest impression against a now rampant opposition, and with almost three-quarters of an hour gone were still ten points in arrears.

Their reputation in danger of being seriously tarnished by a heavy defeat, they finally succeeded in breaking Waterford's hitherto vice-like stranglehold on the exchanges. Switches — too numerous to mention in detail — altered the original placings and gradually the re-arranged composition of the side had its desired results.

DWINDED

In a five minute scoring blitz, Waterford's impressive tally dwindled to a precarious goal and twice only the alertness of Ned Power in goal defied Wexford of an equalising score. Grimly, they held on, and just on the stroke of time added a point that dispelled all doubts about the outcome.

While it would be sheer folly to suggest Waterford's side was without a weak link, the chosen fifteen, even if men tormented in some sectors, gave of their all in quest of victory.

POWER AT HIS BEST

In goal Ned Power was at his brilliant best which in itself is the greatest compliment that can be paid to him.

Tom Cunningham never put a foot wrong at right full; Joe Harney proved an able stand-in for Austin Flynn and if Martin Morrissey found Hopper McGrath an elusive opponent, he nevertheless fared satisfactorily against the Faythe Harriers star.

BYRNE THE SOLUTION?

Jimmy Byrne gave a faultless display of lengthy striking at centre-back and looks an ideal solution to the pivotal problem. Jim Irish was back to his best at left-half, while Larry Guinan looks booked for a permanent stay on the opposite flank.

The midfield superiority that Joe Condon and Mick Dempsey enjoyed over Wexford's Lyng and Bergin played a vital role in instigating victory. Both were in near-invincible form, and the numerous switches made by Wexford mentors in the sector were to no avail.

MISSED MANY CHANCES

While the forwards—the in-goal trio in particular, missed many chances, 3-11 was a sizeable tally to notch against a defence as reputable as the Saneysiders. Phil Grimes and Tom Cheasty were both at their irrepresible best in the half-line and with Mick Flannely over-ran their opposite numbers.

None of the full-line distinguished themselves greatly. Barron looked a complete misfit and if Charlie Ware and Seamus Power bagged 3-1 between them, neither of them could be really termed a success.

INFERIOR

Following their great display against Tipperary two weeks previous, Wexford were something of a disappointment. They were a vastly inferior combination on Sunday and seldom looked likely to regain their winning vein.

CAN THANK NOLAN
Pat Nolan that their margin of defeat was only four points, while Tom Neville, Ned Colfer and John Nolan were best of an over-worked defence.

Lyng and Bergin fought a losing battle against Condon and Dempsey at midfield, but Hopper McGrath, Paul Lynch and Johnny Walsh were ever dangerous up front.

Scorers for Waterford were: C. Ware (2-0), S. Power (1-1), P. Grimes (0-4), T. Cheasty and M. Flannely (0-2) each, J. Barron, Sub.—T. Cummings for S. Power.

Wexford—P. Nolan; Joe English, T. Neville, E. Colfer, Jim Lynch, M. Bergin; J. O'Brien, H. Doyle, P. Lynch; O. McGrath, T. Flood, J. Walsh. Referee—J. Hatton (Wicklow).

Ring Capture First Western Crown

Ring 1-6, Valley Rovers 0-2

A first-ever title in the junior grade came to the Gaelic Parish of Ring on Sunday last when their footballers found little difficulty in beating Valley Rovers by a 7-point margin in the Divisional final.

In annexing this crown after many unsuccessful attempts the Ring men were never called upon to produce a maximum effort, as from an early stage it was all too obvious that they were far superior to an unbalanced Valleys side. They monopolised the first-half exchanges to a remarkable degree, but through faulty finishing and sterling defensive work by Jimmy Hewitt at centre-back, they only turned over with a four-point advantage (0-4 to 0-0).

HOPES SOARED
When Valleys pointed within a minute of the restart, hopes of a closely fought finish soared. The Derrinlaur side made radical positional switches, most notable of which was the transferring of Jimmy Hewitt to midfield.

But to no avail. Ring regained the initiative almost at once and a brace of points made it 0-6 to 0-1. Then came the final shattering blow for the Rovers—a goal brilliantly scored by Donal Musgrave, and Ring had to all intents and purposes booked their passage to the County final. CAN FEEL SATISFIED well satisfied with this display. On occasions during the hour, weaknesses were apparent in attack but over all their display was an impressive one and augurs well for their chances at the final obstacle.

In goal-keeper Nick Graves, they had a very reliable custodian, and Jim Harty, Sylvester Murray and Donal Musgrave shone in attack.

RULED ROOST AT MID-FIELD

Pat Harty and Leo Meagher ruled the roost at all times at midfield and Tommy Joe Harty, Eanna O'Faolain, Tommy McGrath and Donal Musgrave shone in attack.

DISAPPOINTING
The display of the Valleys was unexpectedly disappointing. They never revealed the form that beat Ballincourty and Kilgobnet en route to the final and were a beaten side at an early stage.

As was expected, Jimmy Hewitt was their man of the match, but with the exception of Billy Acheson, Oliver Nugent and his brothers Bobby and Eddie, he got scant assistance.

N.F.A. VISITS DEPARTMENT ON HARVEST SITUATION

Senior officials of the Department of Agriculture were approached last week by a deputation from the National Farmers' Association to discuss the harvest situation. Those representing the NFA were Mr. John Richards-Orpen, Acting President, Mr. Jim Mullins, Chairman, National Grain Committee and Mr. Brendan Power, Secretary to the Committee.

Should the recent bad weather continue, grain growers will be in a very difficult position indeed because added to the bad weather is the fact that this year's harvest is particularly late, which means that less hours will be available for work in the field. Late morning starts and early stoppages in the evening as a result of dew together with increased humidity must also be contended with. The next few weeks will be critical and it is no wonder that thousands of farmers are worried to-day.

The NFA will do all in its power to ensure that an arrangement is reached whereby the present low income of farmers will not be further depressed by conditions outside their control. Meetings are being held daily to review the situation.

RATES REMISSION TO EXPIRE

Some farmers may not be aware that, under present arrangements, the remission of rates on new farm buildings or reconstruction work will only apply to work which is completed before the 31st March, 1963. No rates will be payable for a period of 20 years on the valuation of new farm buildings or on the total of any increase in valuation of existing farm buildings that are enlarged or improved before that date.

It is generally agreed that a great deal of work remains to be done in modernising farm buildings in this country. To remedy this situation, the NFA Industrial Committee is giving particular attention at present. At this stage the Committee wishes to bring the above mentioned expiry date of the rates concession to the attention of all farmers who have plans in mind for the erection and reconstruction of farm buildings. Some may find it necessary to consider re-arranging their plans in order to beat the deadline.

TRACTOR PRICES UNDER SCRUTINY

The news that the European Commission will soon publish a report on the price of agricultural tractors in the Common Market countries, has been received with considerable interest by the NFA Industrial Committee. A favourable decision on the Irish and British applications for membership of the European Economic Community should be followed by the extension of the Governmental experts' survey (on which the report is based) so as to include these countries.

Without doubt, one of the first things which would come under notice would be the higher list price of tractors in the Irish Republic, as compared with British prices, even when due allowance is made for transport charges. More striking still is the comparison between tractor prices in the Six North Eastern Counties and the Twenty-Six Counties, where there is still a substantial difference even though transport costs must be very similar.

MALTING BARLEY

The price for malting barley will lie somewhere between 50/- and 55/- per barrel delivered to the buyer's premises. A provisional payment of 50/- per barrel will be made and it is expected that the final price will be known shortly after 1st October, 1962.

Moisture adjustments are 9d per barrel deduction for each 1% per cent and 9d per barrel bonus for each 1% moisture below 20%. (Barley with more than 23% moisture will be rejected).

SCREENINGS

Deductions for screenings will be made this year for the first time using a 2.2 mm screen as the standard. Deductions are also made if there is more than 2% screenings and they amount to 3d. for each 1% screenings up to a maximum of 6% screenings. This clause has been introduced by agreement between Arthur Guinness Son and Co. and the joint Malting Barley Committee of the B.G.A. and NFA. It has sometimes happened that otherwise good barley has been rejected for excessive screenings, the buyer having no authority to make any deductions. Trials carried out last year show that few deliveries normally contain any screenings.

The price paid for barley is partly determined by the price paid for similar barley in England during September. As so much of the produce goes for export to the English market the price has to be competitive with prices paid there and for this reason it is not decided upon in advance.

Limited quantities of barley for roasting are being bought by Arthur Guinness Son and Co. at 44/- per barrel and the same price is being paid for barley to be used for the production of Harp Lager.

Irish Malt Exports have contracted to purchase barley at 40/- per barrel, subject to the same adjustment for moisture and screenings as in the case of Guinness purchases.

CHANCE TO SEE FRANCE

Those still anxious to take part in the forthcoming NFA Pilgrimage to Lourdes and Tour de France should apply immediately to Headquarters. The party leaves by Aer Linn Teo on the morning of October 3rd, flying direct to Lourdes. This means that there is little time left.

MILK FROM CABBAGE

Scientists in Britain expect to see a pilot plant in operation before the end of the year, producing milk from the outer leaves of cabbage, pea pods and other green-stuffs.

The green leaves are mashed in water warmed under controlled conditions until the protein is precipitated after which vitamins, minerals, vegetable fats and carbohydrates are added.

It is expected to come on the market in both powder and liquid form and is expected to compete in price with cows' milk.

So far the scientists have not got rid of the greenish colour in the final product but they are still faced with the difficulty of getting rid of the vegetable flavour.

CLOSER SOWING

Rows of carrots four inches apart gave 47 tons of marketable roots per acre compared with 34 tons from plants sown in rows 16 inches apart. These and other facts were given by Dr. J. K. A. Bleasdale, head plant physiologist at the national Vegetable Research Station at Wellesbourne, recently. Both onions and carrots, he said, gave higher yields when sown close together than when did in widely spaced rows,

AND YET THERE'S NO DECISION

Three hours of pulsating football that has gripped the entire county in an unprecedented electrifying atmosphere and yet Brickey Rangers and John Mitchels have failed to book their passage to the semi-final of the senior football championship.

On Sunday last their third meeting in five weeks ended in like manner to the other two—level pegging this time on a score of 1-6 each.

But if the drawn and replayed games were brimful of exhilarating moments, they were completely obliterated by the thrills, spills and spine-tingling drama of this third clash.

Packed into these sixty minutes were some of the most exciting and anxious moments ever prevailing in a game at this Old Boro' venue.

Without exaggeration it must rank amongst the best championship games at club level played at the venue for many a day.

Divided are the opinions of the huge attendance as to whether or not extra time should have been played.

Stripped speaking the rules governing such a position make extra-time compulsory but on this occasion with light fading rapidly it would not have been possible to continue the heart-warming struggle.

WATERFORD'S RETURN TO THE TOP

Waterford's hurling stock received its greatest possible fillip at Walsh Park on Sunday last when they beat Leinster champions Wexford by 3-11 to 3-7 in the Oireachtas semi-final.

Although not featured by any classical displays of hurling, it was a game that will be of inestimable help to the Deise men in their now determined bid to gain recognition as the leading exponents of the game at present.

Candidly Wexford's performance disappointed the big attendance. Short five of their All-Ireland final line-out, they moved with a sluggishness that suggested staleness and overall were but a pale shadow of the side that so narrowly failed to Tipperary.

But whatever rating category the Staveiders could be bracketed in on Sunday, one cannot "go" should they play. It gave a heart-warming re-assurance to followers and did much to erase the bitter memories of the Tipperary final failure to Tipp.

Now the county awaits a final tilt with Tipp or Kilkenny on October 21st at Croke Park. These semi-finalists meet at Thurles on Sunday next and while respecting Kilkenny's challenge, the vote must go to the champions.

Such being the case, Waterford will be given a much needed opportunity of proving conclusively that their Munster final form was all wrong. Should they hurl with the same dedication that featured their play on Sunday, then Tipp or Kilkenny can be prematurely assured of encountering worthy opposition.

ball title on Sunday last by convincingly beating Valley Rovers 1-6 to 0-2 at Dungarvan. For a decider from which so much was expected, it was an almighty flop.

At times play—though never reaching a high standard—became over-robust, and in one fracas Sylvester Murray, Ring's centre-back, received injuries which necessitated his removal to hospital.

KERRY FANCIED ON SUNDAY

"F" for football, "F" for final. Yes, Sunday next is All-Ireland day at Croke Park when Kerry's footballers will attempt to complete a Munster All-Ireland double, the first leg of which has already been achieved by Tipperary's hurlers.

Roscommon's appearance in this decider will be shrouded in sentiment. Followers everywhere are elated at the rise to prominence of the Western County whose last appearance at headquarters on final day was in 1944.

But sentimentality has no place in a game of this importance and having seen both Kerry and Roscommon in action this year, I must give a confident vote to the Kingdom to annex its twentieth title in all.

BRICKEYS FIGHT-BACK MAKES FOURTH MEETING NECESSARY

John Mitchels 1-6 Brickey Rangers 1-6

TENNYSON in one of his many inspired poetic moments, said of the babbling brook—"it goes on forever." And while sooner or later Brickey Rangers or John Mitchels will be compelled to disengage themselves from the race for this year's senior football honours, their twin-like similarity in ability and all footballing aspects of any significance, hardly exaggerates the truthfulness of that phrase, when applying it to this marathon championship battle between these rivals.

Three times in all the sides have disputed the others right to pass on to the semi-final stage of the championship, and thrice their battles have ended on a note of indecisiveness, still unresolved and back where they originally started six weeks ago.

Entertaining as were the first two games, both however, must pale into obscurity when comparisons are made with last Sunday's third drawn thriller. Not alone was the suspense-filled atmosphere a contributing factor to the game's enjoyment, but the standard of the football was satisfactory all through. In fact it must be many years since Dungarvan's Fisher Field staged as spine tingling a finish to any game as Sunday's never-wracking third time.

A more eleven minutes remained and Mitchels, playing delightfully open and constructive play were deservedly leading 1-6 to 1-2, Brickeys.

Billy Kirwan soloed right through the Brickey defence to fire over another great point. In the tenth minute, Jack Kirwan fisted a Rogie Connors centre against the crossbar and brother Billy blazed the rebound inches wide.

Full-forward Thompson had a minor in the 12th minute and two minutes before the interval Billy Kirwan made it 0-4 to 0-1, when he pointed a close-in free.

OVER SHADOWED

But enjoyable though that first half had been, it was completely over-shadowed by the thirty-minute moiety that followed. Within two minutes a Pat Curran goal wiped out the Brickey interval deficit but after a Tommy Kirwan free had hit the upright, the same player crashed home as fine a goal as was ever scored at the venue.

CRUEL BLOW

Fate struck Mitchels a cruel blow two minutes after the restart when full-back Wally Connors, badly mis-fielded a harmless looking centre and Pat Curran gratefully accepted his unexpected opportunity to clear the ball to the net. Now back on level terms and with the wind to aid them, Brickeys looked a safe proposition to prevail.

But with startling suddenness Mitchels hit back. A Tommy Kirwan free came back off an upright in the fourth minute but within a second the same player linked his way through and gave Rogie Walsh a chance with a scorching drive. Tom Fahy, who minutes earlier had replaced Wally Connors in the Brickey attack, reduced their arrears with a point but like scores by Billy Kirwan in the 10th and 14th minutes gave Mitchels a clear four point lead.

RETALIATION

Then with defeat staring them in the face, Brickeys made their game-saving retaliation. Mick Farrell pointed a free after nineteen minutes and two minutes later he repeated the feat. In their next attack the Rangers forced a 30 ft. one when Andy Hallissey duly obliged with a point. Four minutes later Justin Spratt scored a great equaliser and Mick Farrell missed a glorious opportunity of snatching a belated victory when he failed from a thirty yards free seconds from time.

While all thirty participants must be lauded for putting on such a pulsating performance both sides had their quota of particularly prominent stars.

SUPERB IN DEFENCE

For Brickeys, Paul Kilgrew, Pat Spratt and Peter Ferran, who were superb in defence while Farrell and Hallissey, though less conspicuous than on previous occasions did an amount of effective work at midfield.

Their attack got little change from a steady Mitchels defence, but Pat Curran, whose goal was invaluable, Wick Walsh and Justin Spratt were always dangerous.

BRILLIANT KIRWANS

As so often before the Kirwans—surely the greatest footballing family in the County—were the Mitchels heroes. DUBLIN WOMAN WINS I.C.A. COMPETITION

During the Ideal Homes Exhibition which concluded in Dublin last week, a competition, confined to members of the Irish Countywomen's Association, and sponsored by exhibitors in the "Electricity in the Home" section, was won by Mrs. K. O'Reilly, of 110 Home Farm Road, Dublin, a member of the Ballymun Guild of the I.C.A.

Competitors were required to place six items of electrical equipment in order of personal preference and Mrs. O'Reilly's selection was nearest to the overall vote which placed the Jackson 'Highline' Cooker first, the Gaia 'Supermatic' washing machine and spin-dryer second, the G.E.C. 'Coldspace' refrigerator third, the G.E.C. 'Clyde' iron fourth, the 'Auraberry' electric fire fifth and the G.E.C. 6-plate sixth.

Mrs. O'Reilly who is a Dublin woman has been a member of the I.C.A. for over three years. She has four children, including two aged 3, a boy aged 4 and a baby of 14 years.

Over 1,200 entries were received for this competition.

This year many I.C.A. Guilds paired special outings to the Ideal Homes Exhibition in Dublin which had an all-time record attendance of over 50,000 people.

Famous chefs from Ireland's premier hotels and restaurants provided demonstrations in cooking by electricity and the interest shown in electrical equipment generally was considerable.

VERY WRONG

But how very wrong were all and sundry. The Rangers, scoring the very thought of defeat, blankly refusing to concede, hit back to share the credits in a dramatised finish.

Point after point sailed over the Mitchels crossbar until four minutes from time the teams were "all aboard." Agony-stricken for followers of both sides those precious few moments that remained almost brought disaster for each in turn but the shrill blast of referee Billy Daniels' whistle that signalled "finito" to the game ensured that both sides would live to fight yet another day.

COULD HAVE BROKEN DEADLOCK

While the prospects of yet another football feast will have made this result an equitable one to most, it is without casting reflection on Brickeys that I say Mitchels could have broken this deadlock on Sunday. For three-quarters of an hour their speed played a decisive part in obtaining for them an outfield advantage, and while their attack probed menacingly at all times, their sending threats greatly outnumbered their achievements.

Commanding as their four-point lead looked entering the final quarter, it was an advantage that could have been doubled had not their attack squandered so many gift chances, particularly in the opening half.

ELEVEN WIDES

During that period their midfielders, Noel Kirwan and Rogie Connors succeeded for the first time in three outings in mastering the Brickey unit of Mick Farrell and Andy Hallissey. Consequently, the Mitchels
