Strike Notice Suspended Pending Labour Court Decision

A special sitting of the Labour Court was held in Dungarvan, on Wednesday last, in an effort to avert the strike of 149 leather workers at Dickers Leather Factory, Dungarvan. By a large majority the men decided to call off strike notice due to come into effect yesterday until the outcome of the Labour Court investigations were issued.

The court heard submissions by the company that there was a breach of agreement between the Amalgamated Transport and General Workers Union and themselves, while on the other hand the union claimed that the seniority principle with regard to redundancy was not carried out and certain wage differentials had been cut.

Mr. M. Merrigan, the national organiser of the Amalgamated Transport and General Workers' Union, said that the dispute was caused by the refusal of the company to re-employ the men on the principle of "last in, first out" as a consequence of redundancies taking place at the factory due to the building programme of the company being behind schedule.

On August 21st notice was received at the Dungarvan office of the union stating that due to a delay in completing alterations to the buildings and plant, which the company claimed, was beyond their control, the reopening date of the factory after the annual leave period would be postponed for a number of people.

Mr. Merrigan added that at every stage during negotiations with the men and union, the principle of "last in, first out" was insisted upon, and double assurance was given by the company that they would apply this principle except in the case of key men. A list of such men was to be supplied to the union, but this was never received.

On September 28th, without any previous information, said Mr. Merrigan, "a large number of the workers who enjoyed differentials for one reason or another had these withheld. The company's attention was brought to this grave departure from established practice."

The company's answer was that the whole question of differentials was to be the subject of review, and that where it was felt differentials were justified they would be paid retrospectively. The differentials were subsequently restored to members after official protests.

also to apply the principle for the re-employment of such dismissed workers. He further recommended that there would be no further recruitment of girls and women until all currently redundant men were re-employed, and the company ought to enter into a proper negotiating agreement concerning pay, hours of work, conditions of employment and incentive pay schemes.

COMPANY'S DESIRE

Mr. John O'Connell, Assistant Secretary of the Federated Union of Employers (for the management) said that it was necessary to uphold the terms of the agreement to which the members of the union indicated their acceptance less than four weeks ago. It was the company's desire that the Court should recommend that this agreement be adhered to, as it was the only possible means by which a satisfactory relationship between the management and staff could be governed.

He added that the company had gone its utmost to eliminate grievances, and would continue to do so, but they were insisting that this matter be dealt with in the normal fashion.

A TANGLE
Mr. T. J. Cahill, chairman of the Court, said that the court had come to Dungarvan in a great hurry. He would not like it to be taken as an indication that in the future the court would rush around the country when somebody got into a dispute. The court held that in this particular case, things had got into a tangle, and it was hoped to settle the difficult situation. He was glad to hear that the workers had not taken strike action.

The court adjourned, and will issue its recommendations early next week.

Fatal Accident at Garrycloyne

INQUEST TOLD OF KILBRIEN MAN'S DEATH

A VERDICT in accordance with the medical evidence that death was caused by head injuries received from an accidental fall from the pillion of a motor-cycle, was returned by a jury at an inquest on Daniel McCarthy, a 32-year-old unmarried labourer of Kilbrien, before Dr. D. Healy, Coroner for West Waterford, in Dungarvan, on Monday.

In evidence, Dr. Brendan McCarthy, Medical Officer at Dungarvan District Hospital, said he attended the deceased when he was admitted to the hospital at about 9.30 p.m., on October 7th. There was a history that he was involved in a motor-cycle accident. He was semi-conscious and had a wound on the back of his head and was bleeding from the right ear. These injuries would suggest a fracture of the base of the skull, and would be consistent with a fall from a motor-cycle. His state of consciousness would indicate an intra cranial bleeding, and he was not in a position to give an account of what happened. He died at 6 a.m. the following morning (October 8th) without regaining consciousness. His (witness) opinion the cause of death was respiratory and cardiac failure due to head injuries.

Mrs. Theresa Butler, Lackendarra, Dungarvan, said she was driving a motor-car from Dungarvan on October 7th, and had two children in the car with her. At about 6 p.m. she came on to the straight at Garrycloyne on the main Dungarvan-Clonmel road. She could see for a long distance in front of her.

"UP IN THE AIR"
"I then saw something going up in the air," continued Mrs. Butler, "and it dropped again. I think I saw a motor-cycle on the road prior to this, but I saw no other vehicle. As I came nearer the scene I saw a man getting up off the road and walk to the left side of the roadway. He was William McCarthy, brother of the deceased. There was a motor-cycle lying on its side across the centre of the road. William McCarthy was then holding another man who appeared to be injured. He also looked to be unconscious. I then went for the priest."

Witness also added that there was daylight, and the road was dry.

out a Post Mortem on the body of Daniel McCarthy at the local District Hospital. On examining the body he found a deep wound above and behind his right ear. There were also signs of haemorrhage from his right ear, and an abrasion on the back of his right hand.

On further examination, witness said there was extensive haemorrhage under the deceased's scalp, and there was a depressed fracture of the skull above and behind the right ear. The fracture extended down to the base of the skull. It would take a very heavy fall to cause the injuries he said, and would be consistent with the deceased falling off a motor-cycle. Death in his opinion was caused by shock and haemorrhage due to fracture of the skull.

Mr. John McCarthy, Male Attendant at the District Hospital, said he was present when the deceased was admitted. It was between 7.30 and 8 p.m. He knew the deceased previously and subsequently saw his remains in the hospital morgue.

GAVE NO EVIDENCE
When Mr. William McCarthy, brother of the deceased, was told by Supt. M. Costello that he didn't have to give evidence, if he didn't want to, he said he would rather not give any evidence.

Sgt. M. Deasy, Cappagh, said as a result of a telephone message received at 10.50 a.m., on October 8th, he visited the scene of an accident at Garrycloyne. It was a level straight stretch of road for about 1/4 of a mile. He saw a motor-cycle BKI 358, lying on the left-hand fence, facing Clonmel. The bicycle was facing in the Dungarvan direction. He was present when the bicycle was examined by the Public Service Vehicle Inspector, Sgt. Cafferty, Waterford. The rear wheel was flat, but the tyre was in good condition. With Sgt. Cafferty he examined the tube in the rear tyre, and there was a hole of about one-third of an inch in diameter. This hole was about twelve inches from where the valve was connected to the wheel. The valve was completely detached from the cautioned) taken from the deceased's brother he told witness that they both fell off when the tyre burst. He suddenly felt a wobble, and the rear wheel went flat. He applied the brakes, and both he and his brother, who was pillion passenger were thrown off.

Dr. Healy, Coroner, suggested to the jury that they return a verdict in accordance with the medical evidence in this tragic and unfortunate accident.

The jury returned its verdict immediately. Dr. Healy then expressed sympathy to the relatives of the deceased.

Supt. M. Costello, on behalf of the Garda authorities, and Mr. P. McGrath on behalf of the jury also expressed sympathy with the deceased's family.

The jury was comprised of: P. McGrath (Foreman), J. Connors, P. Tobin, L. Veale, A. O'Riordan, W. Carey, P. Shields, M. Cummins, J. Duggan.

Celebrated Votive Mass in the Tech.

Venerable Archdeacon D. Power, P.P., V.F., chairman of the County Waterford Vocational Education Committee, celebrated the Votive Mass of the Holy Ghost at Dungarvan Technical School on Wednesday to mark the opening of the new school-year.

Students and teachers assembled for the Mass in the Commercial class-room, where a temporary altar had been set up and decorated by Domestic Science Instructresses Misses Eithne Berstford and Gile Foley.

The Mass-servers were Liam White and Christy Whelan.

In a short address to the pupils after Mass, the Archdeacon said that it was a pleasure for him to come at their invitation, to offer the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass in the school building to invoke God's blessing on the work of the academic year.

He strongly advised all his young hearers to take the fullest possible advantage of the educational facilities afforded, and with diligent work and punctual attendance at classes to fit themselves for suitable employment in the world, having always before their minds that the spiritual side came first.

Secretary's Report to Kilmac Macra na Feirme

The report submitted by the Hon. Secretary, Mr. Macra Casey, at the annual general meeting of Kilmac Macra na Feirme, was as follows:—

It is difficult to gauge accurately the work of the year under review. It is usual when preparing a Report of this nature to compare the year under review with the previous year. However, this year is the first full year from October to October. The period under review could be considered as being the most successful year the Branch has had for many years. This does not mean that we can rest on our laurels and feast on the great fellows we are. No, indeed it means that a solid foundation has been laid on which we must begin to build. It should be our aim now to maintain the ground won and to make progress in each field that we have been successful in, and develop a true spirit of co-operation. With the new and dynamic enthusiasm of our new officers we can look forward on the year past with admiration and to the year ahead with confidence.

The most notable event of the year was the initiation of a dinner dance here in Kilmac Macra which was a bigger success than most people had anticipated. It attracted patrons from the surrounding areas as well as many members of neighbouring branches. It has served as a great boost to the club's morale. This year, however, I feel that it ought to be held on a Sunday night before Christmas. The annual stock judging attracted a large entry from Waterford as well as Tipperary and Kilkenny. The social which followed was the most colourful and enjoyable for many years. The annual dance was once again a very great success from a social point of view if not from a financial point of view.

Our membership has shown a 20% increase on last year. Let us hope that this increase will not only be maintained but will increase with greater momentum during the year ahead. Last April I had a motion passed at a meeting which authorised me to circularise the farmers in the area with a view to them becoming members. This circular was never written because of a number of difficulties. A list of names should be drawn up by the members and that circular sent out in February of the coming year. The obtaining of new members should not be the real task of the officers—all the members are obliged to get them as well as collecting fees from people who do not attend meetings. I ask you to give a real help to the new Secretary during the year ahead.

Meetings were held regularly during the year—we had 16 in all with an average attendance of 11. The numbers of meetings was quite satisfactory but the attendance left much to be desired. It must be remembered that the members' responsibility to their officers does not end when they elect them at the annual general meeting—they must help by putting forward their ideas. Don't be shy in expressing your opinion at a meeting; you may put somebody on a new trend of thought and something very constructive might emerge.

I would like to see the meetings during the coming year conducted with more formality than we have been accustomed to. It is not because I favour formality in any shape or form but because it is the only means that the members have of seeing a meeting properly and formally conducted. It is the officers' duty to do it well. A leadership course will be held in the County during the coming winter and as many people as possible should attend. A short period should be allotted at every meeting to deal with Co. Executive business. During the past year, members knew very little about what was going on at the Executive. This was partly my fault but mainly because of the absence of our delegates from the Executive. The situation became so bad at one stage that a new delegate was appointed to replace one of them. Delegates for the coming year will certainly have to improve their attendance.

Our participation in the competitions during the summer showed a much desired improvement on last year, although the National Competitions were not as well contested as might be expected. We did not compete in the following competitions — Beef Stock Judging, Dairy Stock Judging, Sheep Judging, Poultry Judging, Senior Public Speaking, Irish Public Speaking, Drama and Munster Daring competition. It should be our aim to reduce this figure by at least 50% during the coming year. This should not be an over ambitious goal. The drama competition appears to be one that would keep the members together if it were contested. It is imperative that we take part in the Livestock competitions, because it is one of the main aims of Macra to improve our knowledge of stock. Three of our members represented the County in the question time competition — Richard McKeon represented the County in the tractor backing competition. The debating and public speaking teams accounted well of themselves although they did not bring home the laurels. One of our members was one of three from the county to take part in The Grass Production competition.

The competition for the best club in the county has given us here in this club much food for thought. If we had taken part in a number of other competitions we could well have won the trophy. Marks will be awarded for the attendance of each delegate at the Executive during the year to come. An all out effort should be made during the coming year to win this coveted shield.

Nicholas Fitzgerald, one of our representatives at the summer gathering, accounted well of himself by winning a medal in the high jump section of the sports. The delegates were of the unanimous opinion that it was the best held to date. During the year an assistant secretary was appointed—this was a step in the right direction as it gives one experience of running the club before all the load falls on him. This year, a P.R.O. should be appointed because Macra na Feirme at National County and Local level is falling down in a big way in this question of publicity. We must sell the club better than we are doing at present.

Our programme for the coming year should be planned on a good educational and social basis. It should be so planned that it would increase our income. It is being argued here and in the Executive that Macra should make economies in its spending. This kind of negative attitude is only impeding progress. We must increase our revenue and channel our spending towards a more productive end to attract new members. Members should not be at all too great a loss when they are going something for the benefit of the club as a whole.

Finally, I would like to thank everybody who co-operated with me during my term of office and for making it the success it was. I also thank you for the constructive criticism which you gave at times which is always welcomed by a secretary. As one last favour I ask you to give the same kind of assistance to the new secretary and help to make his term of office as pleasant and as educational for him as mine has been for me.

GERALDINES THE GREAT

Brickeys Shocked in Semi-Final

GERALDINES 1-8 BRICKEY RANGERS 1-5

WONDERFUL GERALDINES! The team that so few gave consideration to their endeavours to become football champions for '62, have blasted their way to this year's senior final. The second last stage in their memorable march to glory was overcome on Sunday last when at Dungarvan's Fraher Field they confounded Deise Gaeldom by laying that Brickey bogey amid scenes of unprecedented enthusiasm at this famed venue.

But if this result was a stunning blow to the confident (and general) belief of spectators, let it be stated here and now that the better team qualified to meet Kill in the November 11th final.

Yet an advertisement for good football this semi-final was a complete failure. The marking was far too close to allow either side to serve up attractive fare and if tempers never became seriously frayed a certain amount of needling was always apparent.

But whatever little rating the game itself merited, few can quib if I lavish praise on these giant-killers from Aglish. Despite all the ballyhoo about Brickeys potential, they unassumingly said "nought," but quietly and with self-confidence set about the downing of the Rangers.

GAVE LITTLE INDICATION

Yet the trend of the game in the opening half was such, that few could have envisaged the shock result that subsequently materialised. During that period Geraldines gave little indication that they could upset the odds and the 0-3 to 0-2 lead that the Brickeys enjoyed at the half-time recess was but a poor reflection on their superiority.

That 1-point advantage should have at least been trebled but the deplorable marksmanship of the Brickey attack must take the total blame for so slender a half-time lead. Chief culprit amongst offenders in this respect was Mick Farrell, who more than anyone else brought them to the concluding stages of the championship. But Sunday was not the Army man's day. Close-in frees that would normally have presented him with no difficulty were missed while from general play he also frittered away some gifted chances.

However, when Tom Foley cracked home an opportunistic Brickey goal three minutes after the restart it appeared as though their first-half misdemeanours could be overlooked.

CAME TO LIFE

But as in the game against Anmore, Geraldines only came to life when a capital 'D' for defeat was dangling before them. Their revival was instigated by Roger Ryan whose brace of invaluable pointed frees left but two points between the sides.

Then into the remaining fifteen minutes were packed the only worthwhile thrills of the game. Urged on by their legion of frenzied supporters—and the majority of outsiders in the attendance, they kept up their siege of the Brickey goal. Quickly equilibrium was restored with further Aglish points and then sensationally substitute Jim Joe Landers rocketed the ball to the net for a lead that Geraldines never relinquished.

That score put the damper on this Brickey challenge. Thereafter they resembled a punch-drunk boxer without full possession of his faculties, and Geraldines pined on the clinching scores in the closing minutes.

CONCLUSIVE PROOF

But unexpected as was that second-half transformation, Geraldines gave conclusive proof of their scoring power in attack when the tide of battle began to flow their way. It has long been accepted that the hall-mark of any good side is their ability to retrieve a dangerous situation and after this victory none can doubt the powers of recovery of these Aglishers. When things looked bleakest they produced their greatest effort and in the process left a bewildered opposition floundering in their wake.

POST MORTEM

Out in the Brickey country post mortems will be held for weeks to come. The first-half squandermania will be forever bemoaned while the legend which has it that they are never destined to win a senior title, must now surely be regarded as more than mere burkum.

THE SCORING

Geraldines took up the early running but it was Brickeys who drew first blood with a point from a free by Farrell in the third minute. The same player added a second from another close-in free after eleven minutes but was badly wide with similar efforts in the 13th and 21st minutes.

Geraldines opened their account when a great movement between 'Stylo' Riordan and Roger Ryan ended with the latter pointing in the 26th minute. A minute later Patsy Kenneally equalised from a 14-yard free but after Farrell had missed a comparatively simple chance, Patsy Murray restored the Rangers lead when he pointed just on the stroke of the half-hour.

BRICKEY GOAL

Three minutes after the restart came the Brickey goal that appeared certain to qualify them for the final. "Shackaneen" Woods was the maker-in-chief and his perfectly placed pass found Tom Foley standing unmarked on the fringe of the square who without further ado slammed the ball past Tom Connell.

EVENTFUL FIGHT BACK

Then came Geraldines eventful fight-back. Roger Ryan pointed close-in frees in the 9th and 10th minutes and on the three-quarter hour, 'Stylo' Riordan landed another. Seconds later Patsy Kenneally roving out-field fired over a great point and the sides were "all aboard" for the second and last time in the game.

Straight from the kick-out Johnny Grady gained possession and when his raking drive was fumbled by goalkeeper Richie Whelan, substitute Landers availed of the "gift" to blaze the ball to the net.

And so Geraldines, who earlier in the half appeared booked for defeat were now three points to the good with only thirteen minutes remaining. Justin Spratt had a Brickey point from a free but six minutes from time the same player was badly wide from another free in front of the Aglish posts.

Two minutes later Johnny Grady replied with a Geraldines point and Landers sealed a great victory with a like score in the 28th minute. Just on time Farrell had a consolation point from a free for the Brickeys.

NO FAILURES

From a Geraldines point of view there were no failures on Sunday and all will be toasted for a long time to come.

Tom Connell never put a foot astray in goal and if all six defenders covered themselves in glory, special mention must be made of the displays of Jim Davis, Ned Mernon and Mike Hallahan.

At mid-field—where Brickey's were expected to be clear masters, Johnny Grady and Michael Tobin struck up a splendid partnership, and Grady never allowed Andy Hallisey to dictate the game as he did in earlier rounds.

Up front the Aglish men proved their worth when most needed. The presence of Roger Ryan bolstered up the sector considerably, and everytime he gained possession, panic signals went up in the Brickey defence.

But it was the act of substitution that saw Jim Joe Landers replace Terry Mernin that really paved the way for victory. Scarcely had Landers taken up his position in the front line when he heralded his introduction with the match-winning goal, and later added a point—all of which must make him an automatic choice for the final.

Patsy Kenneally repeatedly outwitted Nicholas McGrath, and Stylo Riordan, and Willie Treacy at times jinked their way through with consummate ease.

LITTLE WENT RIGHT FOR BRICKEYS

Little went right for the Brickeys on Sunday. They partially plotted their own downfall in the first half when so many chances were literally abused, and then could not retaliate when caught in that second half Geraldines scoring blitz.

In goal, Richie Whelan was never at his best, and must accept full responsibility for Geraldines goal.

In defence Pat Spratt and Patsy Donnelly turned in the proverbial binders, and Hallisey and Walsh tried hard all through at mid-field.

But where Brickeys failed most of all was in attack. With Farrell deemed almost ineffective by Jim Davis, the sector as a unit was thrown out of gear, and it was left to John Woods and Justin Spratt to try

Classy Ballydurn are Junior Champions

Ballydurn 3-15 Fourmilewater 2-2

AFTER many unsuccessful attempts in the past few years, Ballydurn reaped the reward of perseverance on Sunday last when they annexed the junior hurling title by decisively beating Western champions Fourmilewater at Walsh Park.

The final scoreline tells the story of this one-sided decider. After the opening half, which was closely contested, the winners proceeded to run riot, and in doing so, served up as classical an exhibition as has ever been put on by a junior combination at the venue.

In the game's preview in last week's "Observer," Ballydurn was described as one of the best sides ever to win Eastern honours. And after this scintillating performance that pulverised Fourmilewater, the writer's assessment of them was well and truly vindicated.

The Ballymac' side, as is their very tradition, fought admirably to the bitter end, and accepted defeat in a manner that would do credit to any club. But against opposition that could hold their own in most company, they were seldom in the game with a real chance.

SPARKLING PASSAGES

The opening half produced

Blessed Fishing Fleet

An unusual but impressive ceremony took place at Helvick Pier on Sunday last when the entire fishing fleet was blessed. The ceremony was performed by an Athair S. O. Conghaile of the Redemptorist Order. He also blessed the fishermen and their families who had gathered on the pier.

DREW A HORSE

Miss Alice Ahearne, of Greene's, Grattan Square, sold the ticket which drew "Barbary Plate" in the Sweepstake on Wednesday's Cambridgeshire. Mr. James Delany, popular local draper, held a half share in the ticket; and the other half was held by John Kennedy, Sliogaunagh, Kate Fitzgerald, Ballinamult, M. Landers, The Square and Miss Ursula Power.

PIG TRADE

HOLDS FIRM

An entry of 1,161 pigs at last Tuesday's market, in Clonmel (conducted by Messrs. Stokes & Quirke, Ltd.), met a very good demand, all lots clearing at previous rates. Smaller pigs were not in such good demand as previously. Bacon pigs and Porkers sold exceptionally well.

Ruling prices were: Bacon Pigs, 164/- to 173/- per cwt. liveweight; Porkers, 166/- to 180/- per cwt. liveweight; Strong Stores, £8-5-0 to £9-10-0; Medium Stores, £5-17-6 to £8-5-0; Sows-in-Young £21-10-0; to £24-10-0; Sows & Litters, £30-10-0 to £45-10-0 each.

FARLEY'S THROUGH THE STAGES OF INFANT FEEDING

If you do not feed your baby yourself, think of the Farley reputation in infant feeding and buy a packet of Farley's Milk Food today, and watch your baby grow into healthy, happy childhood.

BRILLIANT BEST
On the change-over the winners were seen at their brilliant best. With almost unbelievable simplicity and accuracy they increased their tally, and although the game was soon drained of its earlier interest, spectators received compensation in the near perfect display of the winners.

On this form Ballydurn are obviously going to be an immediate success in senior ranks. They are a well-balanced side with few if any weak links, and many senior teams would have bowed before them on Sunday.

Sean Ormond looked every bit as good a hurling goalkeeper as he is a football one, and if Joe Haney was a class apart in defence, Pat Dee, Denis Hassett and Kirwan were also the essence of soundness.

SCORED AT WILL

The attack scored at will in the second-half, and all six looked ever dangerous. The Hassetts, Denny, and Sean Boylan, who were all in the fray, and all of them had notched some great scores.

Fourmilewater had a top-rate tonnage in Liam McCarthy, and Mick Conroy, Liam Ryan and Jim Ahearne were also in the fray.

Keran, Ryan and Martin Whelan were also in the fray, and all of them had notched some great scores.

Ballydurn: S. Ormond; W. Whelan; P. Dee; J. Dee; D. Hassett; J. Haney; A. Kirwan; P. Dee; J. Regan; P. O'Brien; J. Hubbard; J. Whelan; B. Foley; D. Hassett; S. Hassett; Sub. M. Haney for W. Whelan.

When your baby weighs 13-14 lbs. you should start to feed Farley's Rusks as a first easily digested solid food. Farley's is a cereal food fortified with minerals and vitamins and made in the form of a rusk. Farley's is so easy to prepare—full directions on every packet.

MINISTER TO OPEN YOUGHAL BRIDGE

Youghal Bridge is to be officially opened to traffic in the second week in December, so the Co. Manager informed the Cork Co. Council. It was agreed to ask the Minister for Local Government to perform the opening ceremony. Further, that the County Council meeting will be held in Youghal on that day.

The work at the new bridge is said to be well ahead of schedule. The laying of the footings on both sides is well underway as is the protective railing. Each weekend large crowds visit the site of the new bridge although the road leading to the bridge proper on the Ballynatray side is not yet open to full traffic.

QUARRANT ORE CEREMONIES

The Forty Hours Agoration opened at the Parish Church on Sunday with Solemn High Mass, the celebrant being Rev. Fr. O'Dwyer; Rev. J. Keogh, C.C., deacon; Rev. E. O'Callaghan, C.C., sub-deacon, and Rev. D. O'Connell, C.C., Master of Ceremonies. On Monday the ceremonies continued and opened with Solemn High Mass and closed on Monday after Church. Large crowds visited the church, paying homage to the Blessed Sacrament, and members of the Sodality of the Children of Mary maintained a constant vigil. The high altar was beautifully decorated by members of the Altar Society, and at each of the Masses, Miss M. Crowley, A.L.C.M., presided at the organ.

RAILWAY LINES CLOSURE

At a largely attended protest meeting against the closing of the Cobh Junction/Youghal railway line, held at the Town Hall during the week, which was presided over by the chairman of the Cork Co. Council, Deputy M. Corry, a proposal was adopted that the Taoiseach be requested to amend the Transport Act to prevent C.I.E. closing any branch lines without a full sworn public enquiry. It was further agreed to request the Minister for Transport and Power to ask C.I.E. to supply full information in regard to freight and passenger service on three southern branches as already requested. Representatives were present from Cork and Waterford County Councils, Urban Councils of Mallow, Middleton, Dungarvan and Youghal, and the Newmarket and Kanturk Development Associations. It was further agreed to again request C.I.E. to furnish the required information, the previous application having been ignored. It was agreed to hold the next meeting in Youghal when a reply is received from the Minister for Transport and Power.

LORETTO CENTENARY CELEBRATIONS

To mark the opening of the Loretto Foundation in Youghal in October 1862 a play in two acts entitled "The Great Achievement," which portrayed the life of Rev. Mother Francis Ball, the Foundress of the Loretto Order, was performed in the School Hall. The players were the present pupils and the audience of over 150 past pupils were loud in their praise of the acting, which reflected excellent coaching. The centenary celebrations continued throughout the week, special days being devoted to past pupils, the clergy and the parents of present pupils. It is interesting to note that one of the oldest living past pupils is Mrs. Elizabeth J. O'Donovan, of the Moorings, Youghal, now in her 92nd year. Mrs. O'Donovan never missed an annual reunion and was present at this week's centenary celebrations.

U.D.C. WORKERS WAGES INCREASE

The County Manager has made an order granting a wages increase of 14/- per week to the Council outdoor staff to be retrospective as from April 1st last.

LATE MRS. C. TROY

Deep regret was occasioned at the announcement during the week of the death of a well-known member of the community in the person of Mrs. Catherine Troy of Windmill Hill, Youghal. The deceased lady, who had attained her 80th year, was a member of a well-known Co. Waterford family, and was deservedly popular in Youghal, the town of her adoption. She is survived by her two sons and three daughters to whom sincere sympathy is extended.

The funeral took place from her residence to North Abbey Cemetery on Sunday last and the large and representative high regard in which she and her family were held. Rev. E. G. O'Dwyer, C.C., officiated at the graveside.

The chief mourners were: Garda Thomas Troy, Dublin and Mr. P. Troy, London (sons); Mrs. D. Kenneally, Mrs. P. Hennessy and Mrs. W. Walsh (daughters); Mrs. T. Troy and Mrs. P. Troy (daughters-in-law); Messrs. W. Walsh, P. Hennessy and D. Kenneally (sons-in-law); Miss C. O'Brien (brother); Miss B. O'Brien (sister); Mrs. C. O'Brien (sister-in-law); Mr. James Troy (brother-in-law), etc.

The funeral took place to Kilsassanty Parish Church at 7 p.m. on Monday followed by a large concourse and the remains were received and blessed by Rev. Fr. Jas. Hartly, P.P.

Rev. Fr. Barron, C.C., was celebrant of the Requiem High Mass on Wednesday morning; Rev. Fr. Kelleher, C.C., Carick-on-Suir, deacon, and Rev. Fr. Fennell, C.C., Stradbally, sub-deacon.

In the choir were Very Rev. Fr. Hartly, P.P., Very Rev. Fr. Power, P.P., Stradbally; Very Rev. Fr. Cahill, P.P., Clonagower; Rev. Fr. Kelleher, C.C., Carick-on-Suir; Rev. Fr. O'Brien, C.C., Clonagower; Rev. Fr. Power, C.C., Stradbally.

The chief mourners were: Mrs. M. Shanahan, Mrs. M. Cusack (sisters); Mrs. M. Walsh (sister-in-law); Messrs. D. Shanahan, P. Shanahan, J. Cusack, P. Cusack, T. Cusack, Phil Cusack; T. Lynch, M.O.; T. Lynch, P. J. Lynch (nephews); Miss T. Wall, Mrs. M. Cashman, Mrs. M. Quailly; Mrs. Eileen Cusack (nieces); P. Cashman, Veterinary College, J. Cashman, do., Wm. Ashman, U.C.C.; Cashman family, P. Late Mrs. Bridget Hickey

Barracree, Ballinamult

It is our sad duty to chronicle the death of Mrs. Bridget Hickey, whose death occurred on Wednesday, October 10th, at her residence Barracree. She was a lady of outstanding qualifications which made her a favourite of young and old, and was a member of a very well-known and widely connected west Waterford family. She was relict of the late John Hickey.

Her remains were removed to Kilbrien Church on Thursday evening, followed by a very large concourse, and were blessed and received by Rev. Fr. Farrell, C.C., Kilgobinet.

Requiem Masses were celebrated for the happy and eternal repose of her gentle soul on Friday morning, after which the interment took place in the adjoining family plot. Very Rev. Fr. T. Power, P.P., assisted by Rev. Fr. Farrell, C.C., imparted the final absolution and recited the prayers of requiem at the graveside. Another large concourse consisting of relatives, friends and neighbours were present to pay their final respects and to sympathise with her nearest and dearest. Large sheaves of Mass cards, telegrams and letters of sympathy were received by her family.

The chief mourners were: Sister M. St. Roch, Good Shepherd Convent, Limerick; Sister M. St. Collette, Good Shepherd Convent, Cork; Mrs. Annie Harrington, Barracree; Mrs. K. Crotty, Scar, Ballinamult (daughters); Mr. John Harrington, Barracree; Mr. Patrick Crotty, Scar (sons-in-law); Mary, Bridget, Phil and Tony Harrington; James and Joanne Crotty (grandchildren). (Funeral arrangements by J. Kiey and Sons, Dungarvan.)

KILMAC' NEWS

Nice To Note that the 8-12 dance held in the G.A.A. Hall, Kil, every Friday night, is being well patronised and proving pronouncedly pleasurable, and that the Kill Social Club's annual dance—taking place in the Rainbow Hall, Kilmacthomas, to-morrow (Sunday) night (21st inst.)—promises to be a great success, with Paddy Doody and his Orchestra supplying the music. See advertisement for full particulars.

Co. Waterford J.H. Championship Final, 1962.—Ballydurn (Eastern champions) and Fintona (Western champions) were the participants in the above ultimate, which was decided before a good-sized attendance of enthusiasts at Walsh Park Waterford, on Sunday last, and which, as was generally anticipated, was convincingly won by Ballydurn (3-15 to 2-2). The result certainly marks a fine tribute to Joe Hanney, Batt Foley, Sean Cronin (scorers), the veteran Hasset brothers (Denny and Sean) and Co. Congratulations to the gallant group, and—well, here's warmly wishing that the scintillating Fintona side will be the coming year's champions. The hurling of the north-western part of the county last held in 1953.

Salute the County Waterford Pigging Association for the complete success of their Harvest Queen Dance at Dunmore on the first night of this week, the Riverside Seven providing the accompaniment to the proverbial vein of nicety.

Leaves Are Fading And Falling and the late autumn hues have their impress on Ruralcom everywhere. With the Waterford Hounds cub-hunting operations are proceeding in full swing and the mottled uns which are kenned at Rockmount, Lcambrien, are evidencing terrific form scattering the wily occupants of every covert drawn. Opening shortly is the regular hunting season and, as foxes are plentiful throughout the area covered, intending followers are assured of exciting enough exhilarating hunting from November until April.

Positioned as an apprentice welder at the famous concern of MacApones, building contractors, Newport, Wales, is genial Mr. Sean O'Sheehan, who is at present at this side of the channel spending a restful holiday at his home at Woodhouse, Stradbally, and the clubbable, cheery young man is in radiant health and spirits.

It Is Learned that a number of matters in which considerable local interest is centred will be dealt with at the usual monthly meeting of the Ballygreen Curragh Flaxmills to be held this day (Saturday) week at 8.15 p.m.

LATE LIEUT. COMMANDER JOHN DUNPHY

Lieut. Commander John Dunphy, Abbeyview, Dungarvan, who has died, served for over 30 years with the British Navy which he joined at the age of 15.

He saw service in the 1914-18 and 1939-45 wars, and at the outbreak of the 1939-45 war was recalled to active duty and appointed to the Irish Department of Defence as advisor on naval affairs.

He initiated the scheme for the Dungarvan light and power company, and later was chief assistant engineer with the E.S.B. in the Waterford area.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Sheila Dunphy; his daughters, Mrs. Katherine Hayes, Waterford County Librarian, and Mrs. B. Phillips, Kilrush, and a son Mr. Vincent Dunphy.

The remains were removed to St. Mary's Parish Church on Saturday evening followed by a large cortege, and following Last Mass on Sunday the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery.

(Funeral arrangements by John Phelan, Square, Dungarvan.)

N.F.A. NEWS

Ireland has Europe's Lowest Milk Price

IMMEDIATE MILK PRICE INCREASE

The whole position of our Dairy Industry has been the subject matter of continuous review by the N.F.A. from its inception. At the Convention last January, there was unanimous support for a realistic income return to the dairy farmer compatible with present-day needs and circumstances. The whole question of the price of milk has now attained a new urgency, not only because of the general increase of production costs and national personal income figures, but also because of the intensification of the TB Eradication Scheme in southern counties. It has been the general experience throughout the country that whatever the cost to the Government of the Scheme, the cost to individual farmers was very considerable also. It is not unreasonable to assume that the cost in the dairying area will be no less and indeed has every prospect of being considerably greater because of the particular reliance of dairy farmers on income from milk delivered direct to the creameries. All relevant factors related to dairying which were discussed at N.F.A. Headquarters last week, by the Central Executive Committee, necessitated the decision that a further immediate attempt be made to secure a favourable decision by the Government for an immediate increase in the price of milk. We state again that the present price is so far below that of Common Market countries that an increase given now cannot militate against our position in the event of our application being successful. It might indeed be helpful to it since our position would be in no way improved, if our milk products and cattle trade were to diminish at this juncture because of uneconomic return resulting in falling numbers of breeding stock.

The basis for the European Common Market is approximately to one price throughout the area. The Government White Paper shows that Ireland has Europe's lowest price for milk. We must inevitably on entry into the Community raise our milk prices substantially. An immediate step in this direction should be taken and the Central Executive Committee points out the need for stimulating increased production of calves for the livestock industry. Present calculations show a buoyant demand for beef in Europe and the U.S.A. and Ireland must be ready to capture and hold an increasing share of these expanding markets.

Our dairy herds are the foundation of our livestock industry. More calves are needed and an increase in our national dairy herd must be made. This, however, cannot be achieved on the basis of present low return to milk producers.

One must remember that a decision to step up our output of cattle even if implemented immediately does not produce exportable results for at least three years. In the interim period there may even be a reduction in meat output as heifers are added to the breeding herd instead of being slaughtered.

The Government have shown themselves considerate in formulating with the farmers means to alleviate the serious 'ditch' of those farmers engaged in wheat production, resulting from conditions over which there is no control.

We now confidently hope and expect that they will find some adequate means to assist the dairy industry in their time of need and all farmers throughout the country will willingly endorse and support the dairy farmers' just claims for a sympathetic and successful hearing.

The N.F.A. President is shortly to lead a deputation to the Government for consultations supporting these objectives.

JOINT N.F.A./U.F.U. MEETING IN DUBLIN

A meeting of the joint N.F.A./U.F.U. (Ulster Farmers' Union) Consultative Committee was held last week in N.F.A. House, Dublin, under the Chairmanship of Mr. Richard Deasy, President of N.F.A. Agricultural developments on the home front, and at European and International levels, since the last meeting, were discussed. Ideas on these matters were exchanged, and views frankly expressed.

Particular attention was given to the need to maintain and improve the standard of disease-free livestock which exists in Ireland. Internal and external transport problems were compared and investigations are continuing.

Potato production and marketing were under discussion. So too were problems arising from complaints made by the horticultural section of the U.F.U. regarding the marketing in Northern Ireland of certain horticultural produce from the Republic, and complaints from N.F.A. regarding the effect of the marketing of apples from Northern Ireland in the Dublin market.

Reciprocal trade arrangements were also under review. Views on the quantity and quality of bacon being supplied to the British market were exchanged.

Matters relevant to the forthcoming European Committee meeting of I.F.A.P. in Paris were also discussed, with particular reference to farm structure.

It was decided that the next joint meeting would be held in Belfast in January, 1963.

UNMILLABLE MILLABLE WHEAT

The N.F.A. is very seriously concerned at the attitude of the Irish Flour Millers' Association to the wheat dealers, who buy wheat on their own account in County Wexford and parts of Wicklow and Carlow, for subsequent sale to the flour mills.

The Flour Millers' Association insists that the wheat real-izers purchase milling wheat of a specification to which the Flour Millers' Association had admitted that the millers themselves have been unable in practice to adhere.

This attitude has had the effect of depriving growers in the south east of their outlet for millable wheat. It has compelled the wheat dealers to class their purchases as unmillable, has deprived growers of their right to appeal to the Central Wheat Laboratory, and is throwing an avoidable burden of loss on the Exchequer.

Protests have been made to the Irish Flour Millers' Association and to the Government both by N.F.A. Headquarters and by the Wexford County Wexford Executive. The N.F.A. has put forward practical proposals for restoring the wheat in such a manner as to be of the general quality level of the wheat being bought for milling.

The power to define milling quality is granted to flour millers in the Cereals Act. The N.F.A. calls on the millers and the Government to exercise their joint responsibility to see that the terms of the Wheat Order are implemented. This Order guarantees wheat-growers a market and a price for millable wheat.

APPEALS WORTH WHILE

To correct certain misunderstandings still prevalent in parts of the country we should like to repeat information published previously regarding grain. Firstly, it should be remembered that growers still have the right to appeal to the Central Wheat Laboratory in cases of doubt.

Where the Hagberg number is high and where the wheat seems good with no definite signs of souring it is definitely worthwhile for a farmer to have a sample tested at the Laboratory, even at a cost of £2-10-0.

A recent report shows that of the first 900 tests more than 200 samples were found to be millable. The number of samples received is running at the rate of 100 a day and staff has been increased so that it can now deal with 120 tests a day.

One difficulty being experienced by the Laboratory, however, is that growers' full names and addresses are not always supplied, which gives rise to considerable difficulty in trying to contact the growers concerned.

If an appeal is made to the Central Wheat Laboratory, 4 lbs. of the composite is placed in a jute bag together with a card number. This bag is then sealed in the presence of the grower and sent to the Laboratory.

The intake point will also post a separate advice note to the Laboratory, bearing the same code number. This advice note must be signed by the grower, or his representative, as well as the buyer of the wheat, and the grower must also at this time pay his deposit.

The Laboratory will inform the grower direct, as well as the buyer, of the result of the test.

The price for unmillable wheat is 45/- per barrel at 20% moisture. For every 1% of moisture above 20% up to 23% a deduction of 6d. a barrel will be made and for every 1% above 23% a deduction of 1/- a barrel will be made.

A bonus of 12/6d. per barrel for unmillable wheat is to be added to the price obtainable under the regulations mentioned above. This bonus will be paid separately afterwards by the Grain Board.

OVERCOMING STORAGE PROBLEM

Four mills and other buyers of feeding wheat are finding it increasingly difficult to find storage for the current crop.

During the coming week the problem is liable to become more acute. The Grain Board in cooperation with the Department of Agriculture and the Flour Millers' Association is trying to find a solution and all parties have been engaged in a rapid study of storage requirements and export possibilities.

Merchants and others who have accommodation suitable for the storage of grain are asked to get in touch with their nearest flour mills or with An Bord Grain, Eristfort Terrace, Dublin.

The position is being aggravated by the high proportion of wheat which is being bought as unmillable. Stores for millable wheat in many places are far from full.

Some storage may be required for imported wheat but the import of wheat 'offals' from Russia is still continuing and is responsible for part of the difficulty. Orders for further imports have now been suspended for a period and the N.F.A. has asked that this suspension be continued indefinitely and that the import of maize and other cereals should also be suspended.

If a storage crisis develops farmers who still have green wheat on their hands and in danger of total loss if they cannot get it dried. It is to be hoped that where stores may have to be closed the grain driers will still be kept going and that with goodwill and co-operation all-round no wheat will be lost.

£20,000 WITHHELD FROM TRACTOR OWNERS

In a letter to the Minister for Local Government, the N.F.A. Industrial and Transport Committee has made a strong protest against the decision to refund only £1-19-0 instead of £2-15-0 to tractor owners who had paid the full £8 tax for the current year. This refund arises from the reduction of the £8 rate of tax to £2-10-0.

The significance of the short payment of 16/- per acre is more readily appreciated when it is realised that the effect will be to withhold a total sum in the region of £20,000 from farmers out of the £100,000 which was promised by the Government in the 1962 Budget for relief of tractor tax.

The N.F.A. rejects outright the argument put forward by the Department of Local Government, namely that the effect of the reduction was to give farmers two quarterly road licences at the £8 rate for the period up to 30th June, plus a half-yearly licence from July to December 1962, at the new rate. Therefore, the Department claims, the surcharge on quarterly licences is applicable. This, of course, is a complete misrepresentation of the true position. The N.F.A. pointed out that the farmers in question taxed their tractor for a full year at the outset, and, therefore, it is clear that the usual administrative work of issuing quarterly licences did not arise.

The N.F.A. has already welcomed the Government's decision to bring Irish tractor taxation down to a more normal level by international standards. It is all the more regrettable, therefore, that this commendable gesture should be spoiled by the manner in which it is implemented.

Let us hope that the Government will rectify the grievance without further ado.

TWO MORE COUNTIES

Wexmeath and Offaly, have now been added to the number of attested counties, bringing the total up to twelve. It is expected that the attestation of Kildare (with West Wicklow), Louth and Meath, will follow very soon.

Keeping her regulations is all important and since only the strictest enforcement of the law can protect the status of attested herds, the Department is determined to enforce it.

DRAW STAFF ENJOYED SOCIAL

An excellent Social held at the Ormonde Hotel, O'Connell St., Dungarvan, was a "thank-you" gesture by the committee members and promoters of the St. Mary's Non-Sport Draw, just concluded.

Among the full attendance at the Supper and Social of those who help in the promotion of the Parish Draw, was the guests of honour, Very Rev. Fr. Farrell, P.P., Ballyduff, who was formerly curate at St. Mary's, Dungarvan.

WATERFORD'S CHANCE OF REVENGE

Sooner than most people anticipated, Waterford are presented with an opportunity of erasing to a considerable extent, the none too happy memories of their Munster final failure to Tipperary last August.

On Sunday next at Croke Park they come face to face with the all-conquering Tipperary men in the Oireachtas final, which the champions will be endeavouring to retain the Corn Aise.

Considering that when the sides met in the provincial decider, Tipperary had twenty points to spare, it is difficult to visualise other than yet another victory for the premier county. Since that unforgettable August Sunday Tipperary have gone from strength to strength. The All-Ireland crown was annexed after a pulsating hour against Wexford, and their victory over Kilkenny in the semi-final of Sunday's competition, blue-printed more indelibly their present-day unrivalled status in the hurling world.

Yet, that Munster final catastrophe was a poor and unjust assessment of Waterford's real worth. Since then they have atoned in some measure for that unaccountable lapse by defeating Wexford, and it is with certainty that I say they will prove on Sunday that their form in Limerick was all wrong.

For their Croke Park decider selectors have chosen the strongest side possible. Back on to the team after a three months lay-off through injury comes Frankie Walsh, where he teams up with Mick Flannely and Tom Cheasty in the half-line of attack.

Nor are Tipperary taking any unnecessary chances. Their sharp-shooter in attack Jimmy Doyle plays his first game in the colours since he broke a collar-bone in the All-Ireland final, while Liam Devaney is drafted to corner forward from where he wreaked such havoc in the Munster final.

In defence, the only change is the return of Matt Hassett, now at right-half in place of his injured team-mate Matt O'Gara.

Against Wexford, few gave the Deise men a real chance of winning, and even amongst their own followers, are rank outsiders on Sunday. But just as the Shneysiders had their hopes unexpectedly dashed, so also could Tipperary suffer a similar fate.

As already stated, Tipperary are favourites, and rightly so. In the light of prevailing form they should win, but Waterford have confounded everyone before, and could well do so in this their latest test. But whatever the result it should be a fitting finale to a well run competition.

Youghal, 3; Abbeyside, 1. On Sunday last, Abbeyside travelled to Youghal to play the homesters in a challenge game, which Youghal won 3-1. The game was played at a very slow pace throughout and the football for the most part was dull and uninteresting.

Youghal, however, can feel satisfied with their display overall, as it was they who played any good football that was to be seen, and with better finishing could have added a couple of more scores to their tally.

They were the fitter and faster team throughout and played with much more dash and determination than the visitors.

Abbeyside were a completely unfit lot and were always slow and sluggish in their movements. This was a very disappointing performance from their point of view and they looked a leg-weary side long before the final whistle. Unless they get down to some really serious training, they are going to have a very lean year.

However, the Villagers form on Sunday was just too bad to be true, and if they get down to training over the next couple of weeks, a one hundred per cent improvement can be envisaged. The material is there for a good team this year and I'm certain that when they are properly fit they will be a side to be reckoned with.

The play was rather even in the first half, with both goals having some narrow escapes. However, Abbeyside took the lead in the 30th minute, when inside-right John Noble broke through on his own and sent to the net.

Dungarvan still held their lead when the second half commenced and twenty minutes had elapsed before Youghal equalised. From then to the end, Youghal took complete command and took the lead ten minutes from time. Just on the stroke of time they added a third to run out very convincing winners.

Abbeyside were best served in defence by goalie, John McGrath, centre-half Paddy Whelan and left-half Mick Keohan. The only forward to shine was inside-right John Noble.

GLENS AND SARRS ARE CHAMPIONS

Glen Rovers and Thurles Sarsfields are again top dogs of Cork and Tipperary hurling. On Sunday last both had one point victories to spare over gallant opposition in thrilling county finals.

At the Athletic Grounds, the Glen snatched victory over U.C.C. with a late goal from a free by an otherwise subdued Christy Ring, who is now the possessor of a record twelve championship medals.

Defeat was a cruel blow to the College, who led for the greater part of the hour, and were at least deserving of another chance.

Captained by Waterford star Jimmy Byrne, who gave a polished display at half-back, they looked over-all winners, until Ringey took a decisive hand in the proceedings to beat home the all-important goal.

SARSFIELDS LUCKY

After a one year lapse Thurles Sarsfields regained their hurling crown in Tipperary with a 1-7 to 1-6 victory over parish neighbours Moycarkey-Borris.

But if the spoils go to the Sars, the honours of the hour must be shared equally by these dedicated finalists. To run the star-studded Thurles side to a point is a no-merit feat at any time, but to do so in a county final, and on their own pitch, must earn for Moycarkey a new rating in the county.

So worried were Thurles mentors at one stage that they had to introduce Jimmy Doyle who was out injured since early last month.

Moycarkey had a glorious chance of drawing the game in the dying seconds, but a thirty yards free sailed narrowly wide of the Thurles posts.

ABBEYSIDE GO DOWN EASILY TO YOUGHAL

Form Favours Tipp

DEISE SIDE FACE CHAMPIONS IN OIREACTAS FINAL

SUNDAY, August 5th 1962 is a day and a date that will never revive happy memories for Waterford's hurling folk. On that Summer Sunday the County's stock slumped to a disastrous level as Tipperary meted out a humiliating 5-14 to 2-3 defeat in the Munster final at Limerick. But now the Counties meet again - this time in Sunday's Oireachtas final at Croke Park, when the Deise men will attempt to obtain some compensation for that championship drubbing and at the same time become holders of the Corn Aise for the first time.

But if form strongly favours yet another Tipperary victory, who can forecast with assurance any game that Waterford are engaged in. Their unrepentant ableness makes them something of an unknown quantity, despite the high reputations of all members of the side.

Following the calamities of the Munster final, Waterford seemed booked for quite a spell in the hurling doldrums. But in keeping with their uncertain form, upset all the odds in the semi-final of Sunday's competition, impressively beating Wexford at Walsh Park.

What will be their lot on Sunday? Can they rise to the occasion and demolish the long-standing supremacy of the All-Ireland champions over them, or will it be just another case of failure to lay the Tipperary bogey?

While it is accepted in all quarters that no hurling power in the land would have beaten Tipperary in this year's Munster final, few are ready to believe that the feeble-in fact pathetic efforts of Waterford that day were a true yardstick to their real potential.

And now that Sunday affords the opportunity of regaining much of their lost prestige, selectors have named a side that would do justice to the County in an All-Ireland final.

Back on to the team comes Mick Flannely, who has been absent in the Provincial final since he was placed on the '40' flank by Walsh and Mick Flannely. Altogether the side shows the return of Cheasty and Walsh adds immensely to the scoring power of the attack. Their presence allow Seamus Power and Phil Grimes to occupy the corner berths and as I find it difficult to see John Barron faring with success on Mick Maher, the 'Sion' verans will have to find paths round John Doyle and Kieran Carey if scores are to come from this sector.

That Tipp are closing their eyes to the result of the Munster final can be seen from the fact that they have chosen for the game Thirteen of the men that did duty on All-Ireland '40' will again be in action on Sunday, while the 'old men cut' goalkeeper, Roger Mounsey, and Matt Hassett, are no strangers to the jersey and both are All-Ireland medal holders - Hassett being captain in '62.

Positional switches from the Southsides final bring Dominic Walsh to mid-field, with Liam Devaney, taking over Neal's former berth in the right corner of attack. Otherwise, it's a case of "as you were," with men once passing a vote of confidence in their charges.

While it may be going against the grain for a Waterford paper to plump for a Tipperary victory, it would be sheer folly to oppose the All-Ireland champions.
