Engineer has no grievance

ALLEGATIONS by Colr. Thomas Lee that young single men were working on the Winter Relief Scheme while married men were idle, were denied by Mr. P. Walsh, Town Engineer, at last Friday's Dungarvan Urban Council meeting.

NURSES' SUCCESS

Miss Theresa Cahill, Old Parish, and Kathleen Cunningham, Modilgo have been successful in passing the Hospital and State Final examinations at an Essex hospital recently. Miss Cahill has just spent a holiday at home.

Big Night Planned For Civil Defence

Members of Dungarvan and east and west Waterford Civil Defence Organisation hope to start the New Year in flying style by having a minister of state and other dignitaries present at their first annual dinner, to be held in town, early in the month of January.

Under the chairmanship of Civil Defence Officer Mr. Thos. O'Donoghue, B.E., an active social committee is currently finalising arrangements for the C.D. Big Night.

FINE SOCIAL FOR YOUNG ACTRESSES

Pupils of the Presentation Convent, Dungarvan, who took part in the recently-staged highly successful series of performances of the religious play "The Message of Fatima" were the guests of the Sisters of the School on Sunday week last, when they were treated to a special party, which included refreshments and a social.

Public Lighting Applications Deferred

Proposed improvement of the Town's public lighting was deferred, pending the receipt of an estimate from E.S.B. at last Friday's meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council.

Mr. P. Walsh, Town Engineer said four lights were needed in Kilmacshane and five in Knockateemore. Both were available on both roads.

Colr. T. Lee said an additional light was badly needed at "The Union".

Colr. R. Walsh said what was needed most there was hospital signs on both sides of the road.

Colr. N. Kelly said he would not vote for the erecting of lights there. He would only vote for genuine cases.

Colr. Tom Lannon said certain people were getting lights, and they could not deprive others either. He would not, however vote for giving lights liberally.

Mr. P. Walsh, B.E., said all the main approaches to the town should be better than they were.

Deputy T. A. Kynne (Chairman) said Knockateemore and Kilmacshane were dark spots. The matter was then deferred until the Engineer gets an E.S.B. estimate for the work.

TEACHER'S RESIGNATION Well-known in golfing circles in Dungarvan is Miss Eileen Hoare, teacher of domestic economy at Tramore technical school, who will shortly be leaving the district, having resigned her post under the county vocational education committee, in view of her forthcoming marriage.

Engagement Announced The engagement has been announced between Mr. Daniel Dominic Dineen, B.A., H.Dip. in Ed., only son of Mr. and Mrs. Dineen, Glen, Cappagh, and Miss Catherine Cronin, N.T., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Cronin, Rathvohar, Castletownbere, Co. Cork.

They Cooked the Fish ... for Cash

Fifty-two girls throughout County Waterford went on a cooking spree recently—and all chose fish for their culinary efforts. They were all contestants in the special Fish Cookery competition organised by the Fishing Industry Development Committee of the Department of Lands and An Bord Iascaigh Mhara, which body has undertaken the task of publicising fish and the cooking of fish for the benefit of the consumer and of the fishing industry as a whole.

The competition, which is on a national basis, is intended to be worked up from schools to a national final with handsome prizes for the winner. Winners at the school-level in County Waterford have already received their three-guinea first prize cheques from the Fishing Industry Development Committee and will be eligible at a later date to compete in the regional finals, on their way up to the national competition, final.

Each competitor was required to cook and serve a fish dish containing not less than one pound and not more than three pounds weight of whiting or herring filleted or unfileted, fresh, frozen or smoked, within a time-limit of an hour and a half. Dungarvan area first-prize winners in the competition were: Misses Phyllis Cliffe, Knockaune, Ballinamult; Kathleen Power, Kilmoylan, Kilmacshane; Margo Gallagher, Union Road, do.

Sixty-two girls entered the competition in the Dungarvan area. Winner in the Cappoquin area where there was a total of 13 contestants was Miss Phyllis Murphy, Snugborough, Tallow.

In the Clashmore district where there were nineteen competitors, Miss Rena Cass, Clashmore, came first. First prizewinner in the Tramore area, where seven girls competed was Miss Eileen Kiely, Newtown.

Kilmacthomas News

The Decorations in Kilmacthomas with its 10 unincorporated shops and the many cottages and houses and stone walls were greatly appreciated. Preceding Christmas trading was very steady and satisfactory to all business houses. In the P.C.s Office the general mood of Yuletide merriment and gift parcels in many years was handled. Both the indoor and outdoor staffs were kept busy on the move and all was most capably supervised by Mr. T. G. (Tom) Brown P.C. Mr. Brown was quickly and efficiently carried out all deliveries made without the slightest hitch. At the convent Chapel there were large numbers at Concession on both Saturday and Christmas Eve. Extremely large congregations assisted at the Masses on Christmas Day and record numbers approached the altar rails and received the Sacred Host. Sr. M. Cecilia, Convent of Mercy, Kilmacthomas, presided at the organ and the members of the Chapel Choir prayerfully sang, their singing being most impressive.

A Lifelong Supporter of the new games and pastimes and a most lovable neighbour was Mr. Richard (Dick) Galvin, Carrigea, Kilmacthomas whose death in his 65th year occurred at the District Hospital, Dungarvan on Tuesday week. His first and the sad event is deeply regretted by his sisters—Miss Margie Galvin, Carrigea, Mr. W. White, Carrigea, Sradbally, and Miss Elsie Galvin, and other relatives and intimate friends, with all of whom whole-hearted sympathy is widely read. Accidentally a 2001-sized corsege the remains were removed to Fahá Chath, where the coffin was received and blessed by the Rev. M. Fennell, C.C., Stradbally. Many mourners and sympathisers attended at the interment which (subsequent to the celebration of Requiem Masses) was made in the adjoining cemetery. Very Rev. D. Power, P.P., Stradbally, officiating at the graveside, assisted by Fr. Fennell, C.C.—R.I.P.

Bereavement—The people of the Parish of Newtown, Kilmacthomas, and Kill, sincerely sympathise with highly respected Rev. L. Walsh, C.C., Kill, in his reverend's tribulation occasioned by the death of his mother, the late Mrs. Kathleen Walsh (relict of Michael Walsh) Kilmannon, Cappagh. All Acquainted with very gracious and estimable N.T. M's M. Coffey, ex N.T. Bormahon, feel deeply sorry for her recent bereavement, caused by the death of her sister, Miss Walsh, who was proprietress of a flourishing drapery establishment at Lowe, Main Street, Malinbeg, where she was worthily held in the highest regard—R.I.P.

In Redian Health and sobriety is Mr. Pat Foran who recently returned to his ancestral home from Nigeria (Africa) where he has worked for many years in the capacity of welder and fitter. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Foran, High Street, Stradbally, he is ever so glad to be again breathing the bracing air of his native Cove Village. Result of a recent successful "30" card drive decided on the premises of Mr. T. F. (Tom) Maher, licensed vintner, Main Street, Kilmacthomas, read the winning partners were Messrs. Gerald Troy, The Shop,

HOUSING NEEDS

Deputy Ormonde asked the Minister for Local Government the number of houses required to meet the housing needs of Waterford County; and what schemes are before his Department for approval for: (a) Waterford County; and (b) Dungarvan urban area.

The Minister replied that it is a matter for each housing authority to assess from time to time the needs for its district in respect of housing required to be provided by such authority. A statement of such needs is usually supplied to my Department only in conjunction with specific housing proposals. I have no such statement showing the present housing needs of Waterford County.

The results of the survey of unfit houses have not yet been received from the Waterford County Council. The results from Dungarvan Urban District Council show that there were Faha, do, and Michael Gough, former, Carrigea, do (each of whom received a valuable young pig).

In aid of Stradbally G.A.A. Club was the well-supported 20 card drive played at Stradbally Boys' National School and from which Maurice Casey, Ballyinch, Kilmacthomas, and Michael Flynn, Stradbally, emerged winner (each receiving £5).

The Festival of Peace and Goodwill passed over quietly in his parish Kilrossanty Parish. There was Midnight Mass in St. Brigid's Parish Church on Christmas Eve, the celebrant being Very Rev. James Harty, P.P., Kilrossanty, do.

73 unfit houses in the area of which 9 were regarded as being incapable of economic repair. The returns from such surveys show the number of unfit houses irrespective of the responsibility of the housing authority for their replacement or repair.

There are no housing proposals from either housing authority at present before my Department awaiting sanction, but I understand that Dungarvan Urban District Council are considering a proposal for the provision of at least 22 further houses.

Deputy Ormonde then asked the Minister the number of houses required to meet the needs of Waterford city as ascertained by the most recent housing survey, and the number of houses as present in the course of erection by the corporation; and what city housing schemes are before his Department for approval?

The Minister replied that the recent survey of unfit housing carried out by Waterford Corporation indicated that there were 1,537 unfit dwellings in the City, 222 of which were regarded as being incapable of economic repair. The survey was limited to unfit dwellings and did not take account of other factors relevant to assessment of housing need, such as overcrowding, lack of separate dwellings, etc.

There were 79 dwellings in course of construction at 31st October, 1962, the latest date for which I have information.

There are no proposals from the Corporation for the provision of local authority houses at present before my Department.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT GRANTS

Deputy Ormonde asked the Minister for Local Government what proposals under the main and county road improvement grants he has received from Waterford County Council for 1962/63; and whether he has approved of these proposals.

The Minister's reply: The following improvement schemes have been approved for execution by Waterford County Council under the Main Road Improvement Grant, 1962/63—T. 13 between Grange and Piltown, £10,000; T. 12 at Burgary, £6,630; at Ringerehy, £6,410; at Gortavickery £6,650; T. 75 at Ballymaemogue, £3,065.

which is part of a major improvement proposal on L.26 is under consideration in the Department.

The council's original programme under the County Road Improvement Grant was made up of 93 schemes of which 90 were approved. There were 46 schemes for the surface-dressing of work previously carried out and 44 schemes of further improvement. The remaining 3 schemes involved the construction of new roads and the council have been asked to submit details of these. This programme absorbed the full amount of £84,800 available under the grant, but two further schemes costing £2,177 to be financed out of saving or falling that, by transferring funds from some of the other schemes, have also been approved.

THE LONERGAN ESTATE

Mr. Ormonde asked the Minister for Lands whether the Land Commission have any proposals for the acquisition for division of the Lonergan Estate, Tinalira, Ballinamult,

Co. Waterford; and if not, whether he will impress upon them the necessity for acquiring this estate in view of the fact that these lands have been set by conacre for many years and of the needs of deserving applicants in the area.

The Minister replied that certain enquiries in relation to this estate were made by the Land Commission as a result of which the general position regarding the property is known to them but I am unable to give a forecast of the outcome. I shall have the Deputy's representations brought to the notice of the Land Commission.

SHE TALKED OF HER TRAVELS

There was a good turn-out of Gaeligoiri on Friday week last for the special Irish language lecture by Miss Deirdre Hough of Ring College, which was given at Lawlor's Hotel.

The lecture, penitently illustrated with beautiful coloured slides, was entitled "Ar Mo Tnaisteal Dom" and dealt with the interesting place visited by Miss Hough during the past few years. Fine views covered places at home and abroad, from Ring peninsula to Rome, Paris, Germany and Cornwall.

Miss Katherine Langley Ambrose, of Crobally House, Tramore, who died on October 30 of last year, left estate valued at £6,911 (duty paid £136), the sum of £4,799 being the gross value of the estate in Ireland.

DUNGARVAN SEA-ANGLERS CLUB ANNUAL DINNER
 Ninety guests sat down to a sumptuous Dinner in the Devonshire Arms Hotel on 18th December. The Christmas spirit prevailed in full and the dinner was highlighted by the ceremonial entry of a lighted plum pudding by the chefs to the accompaniment of the skirl of the pipes by Pipe Major John Casey.
 The Chairman, Capt. Nicholson, welcomed all and stressed that new members would be welcome whether fishermen or not.
 A very lively social evening followed. Many songs and items were contributed and Jack Curran and Joe Foley accompanied on piano and sax.

DIED IN ENGLAND
 The death occurred on Monday of last week at the B.R.I. Hospital, Bristol (following an operation) of John Cotter, formerly of Lackendarra, Ballinacorney.

Interment was made in the Holy Souls Cemetery, Bristol. Rev. Fr. Dee (a native of Dungarvan) officiated at the graveside.

To his bereaved brothers, Paddy and Dannie Cotter (Touraneena), Tommy and Willie (Dungarvan); James Cotter, Portlaoise, his uncle Thomas Flynn, Rearadampoun, nephews, nieces and other relatives we extend our deepest sympathy - R.I.P.

EVEN A GOOD FATHER CAN HURT THE ONES HE LOVES
BY DOING NOTHING! ABOUT LIFE INSURANCE. Every family needs the love and devotion of a thoughtful father. But a young mother and her children have a right to something more - Basic Financial Security. And that's where Life Insurance comes in. Nothing else can provide that security so quickly, so economically, so surely. What's more, Life Insurance provides benefits beyond family protection in case of death, borrowing to help provide funds for college to start a business or meet an emergency, or later to provide a retirement income. For the sake of those you love, do a pretty NOW.

DEISE CUP MEETING
 As we go to Press, Secretary Billy Fitzgerald tells us that entries are literally pouring in for Dungarvan Coursing Club's fixture at Clonea on next Tuesday and Wednesday, 1st and 2nd January. Arrangements are in apple-pie order and with good weather it should be another outstanding event.

SYMPATHY
 Sincere sympathy is extended to the husband, brothers, nieces and nephews and relatives of the late M.S. Nano Coffey, Skeheens, Ballymacarbery, whose death took place at Arakene Hospital, Waterford, last week.
 Sympathy is also extended to the son, daughter, nephews, nieces and other relatives of the late Michael Kiely, Cahernaleague, Ballinacorney, whose death occurred on Monday last - R.I.P.

KILGOBINET FLOOR THE CHAMPS.

Kilgobinet 6-5; Ring 1-1
 Giving what was undoubtedly their greatest display of the year, Kilgobinet grounded Co. champions Ring in a submission in the Winter junior football league on Sunday last at Dungarvan.

Throughout, the men in green played delightfully open football that left Ring pulverised and outclassed for the entire game. True, the champions' line-out was a somewhat depleted one but like-wise Kilgobinet were not at full strength being without four of their championship side.

On his showing, Kilgobinet are surely the problem side of the Western Division. Their championship display against Valley Rovers was to say the least of it an insipid one but in this their latest victory they jazzed the champions with sheer football skill.

Opening after opening was carved out with a brilliance that merits the highest praise and valiantly though Ring battled to save their faces they were simply without an answer to the flawless Kilgobinet combination.
 Playing with the breeze in the opening half, the winners dominated from the throw-in. Their defence - on the few occasions it was called into action, looked supremely confident and the lavish supply laid on by midfielders Nicholas and Peter Powe was turned into profitable advantage by a score-winning attack.
 They led 4-3 to 1-0 at the interval.

BIG ROAD RACES FOR DUNGARVAN

The local Athletic Club (St. Mary's A.C.) breaks new ground on Sunday next, Dec. 30th when it promotes two road races (running) here in the Old Boro. These will consist of a youths' race (2 miles) commencing at 2.30 p.m., followed by an open race (6 miles) at 3 p.m. They will be held over a course comprising Shandon, Street, Boreen a Rua, Fair Lane with start and finish at the end of Shandon St. Entries are coming in fast and those to hand include some of the best distance runners in the country.

In order to help defray the cost of promoting three events the club are holding a flag day on Sunday and we are sure all sporting minded people will subscribe generously.

Deputy Ormonde in the Dail Meets

WATER AND SEWERAGE SCHEMES

Deputy Ormond asked the Minister for Local Government what water and sewerage schemes have been sanctioned for Co. Waterford during the past year, and what schemes are at present before his Department for approval.

The Minister's reply was: The following proposals from Waterford County Council in connection with water supply and sewerage schemes were approved during the past year—

- (a) Extension of a tender for the extension of the Lismore-Corquinn water supply scheme to Affane-Tourin; (b) Outline proposals for Tramore and Ballinagoul sewerage schemes; (c) Contract documents for Clashmore and Villierstown sewerage schemes.

Contract documents for the Ballinagoul Sewerage Scheme have been submitted but approval thereof is withheld pending receipt of a further report requested from the Consulting Engineer.

FORESTRY QUESTIONS

Mr. Ormonde asked the Minister for Lands if he will state (a) the productive area of the Forestry Division of his Department in County Waterford at the end of the planting season; (b) how much of this area has been planted and (c) what further areas it is expected will be planted in the current season.

The Minister replied that the productive area of land held by the Forestry Division of his Department in Co. Waterford on 31st March, 1962, was 25,778 acres of which 23,254 acres had been planted.

Areas totalling 1,294 acres are scheduled for planting at Co. Waterford forests in the current season.

Mr. Ormonde also asked the Minister for Lands (a) the total area of land on offer for afforestation purposes in County Waterford, (b) the areas in which there are lands on offer, (c) what areas have been considered for acquisition, and (d) the number of men currently employed in these areas.

The Minister stated there are at present 220 acres totalling 7,904 acres on offer to his Department for afforestation purposes in Co. Waterford. Agreement to purchase has been reached in the case of 62 of these areas totalling 1,964 acres and title is in course of clearance. Negotiations to purchase are in progress with the owners of another 79 acres totalling 2,354 acres. The remaining cases are at the preliminary stages of investigation.

The number of men at present employed at the Co. Waterford forests is 310. Owing to the large number of cases involved it would be impracticable to give details of the location of lands on offer.

LAND ALLOTTED BY LAND COMMISSION
Mr. Ormonde asked the Minister for Lands if he will state, in relation to the County Waterford, the number of acres that have already been allotted by the Land Commission during the current financial year, the number of acres which will be allotted before April 1963 and the location of these lands.

The Minister said already this year, lands aggregating 180 acres in Co. Waterford have been allotted by the Land Commission. The Land Settlement programme for the remainder of the current financial year is necessarily still tentative and it is not possible, at this stage, to indicate precisely the particular lands which will be disposed by next April. Perhaps, in the circumstances, it would meet the Deputy's requirements if I say that, for the year as a whole, it may be possible to achieve an aggregate allotment in the region of 800 acres in County Waterford. If the Deputy is interested in any particular Estate, I would suggest that he communicate direct with the Land Commission in the matter.

National Monuments Body Meets

BURIAL GROUND AT SHANAKYLE

The Chairman, stated that he had received representations from Councilor M. Harty requesting that tombstones in the above Burial Ground be cleaned. The Secretary was asked to advise Mr. Harty that the Council had declined to take over the Burial Ground and that the matter could not therefore be arranged.

GRAVE CLEANED

Arising out of the Minutes, An Uasal Micheal O'Murchu reported that he and An Uasal Muiris Brgannoch had cleaned the Grave of Tadhg Gaolach O'Suilleabain.

SAINT'S BIRTHPLACE

Also arising out of the minutes, the Secretary reported that he had received a letter from P. Uasal O'Flonnasa dealing with the reputed birth place of Saint Declan. Following discussion on the matter it was agreed that Micheal Uasal O'Murchu would discuss the matter with the local representatives of Mount na Tire.

KILMACLEAGUE MONASTIC SITE

In regard to the monastic site at Kilmacleague the Secretary reported that the County Engineer recommended a re-consideration of the committee's proposals in the matter in view of the cost of cost protection works. Following discussion on the matter it was agreed that the Chairman, Mr. N. Whittle, would endeavour to arouse local interest in the site and report back to the Committee.

Regarding the Plaque at Rellig an tSleibh the Secretary reported that application had been made to Bord Failte for a suitable Plaque, but that the order had not been fulfilled.

CANON POWER MEMORIAL MAP

The Committee considered the Estimates received by the Council for the publication of the re-issue of the Map. It was decided that further information be sought in this matter and the Secretary was requested to attend to the matter, and to advise the Chairman as to the outcome.

FUNCTIONS OF THE NATIONAL MONUMENTS ADVISORY COMMITTEE

On the proposal of Mr. N. Whittle, Chairman, the Committee decided to communicate with the Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister for Finance directing his attention to the multiplicity of organisations dealing with preservation of national monuments and local sites and shrines deserving of conservation and requesting his aid in endeavouring to have the activities of the organisations concerned channelled through a central agency. He pointed out that the local National Monuments Committees had but limited scope for efficient action in regard to matters considered to be in need of attention. He further stated that many such Committees throughout the country were not functioning as they should and that their apparent apathy was due to limitations imposed upon them.

He also stated that local Committees should be in the position to seek expert guidance and advice in the discharge of their duties and that no source existed from which the required advice could be obtained. The Committee agreed that the matter was deserving of serious consideration and the Secretary was asked to communicate with Mr. D. O'Malley accordingly.

DUNGARVAN HISTORICAL AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL SOCIETY

The Secretary reported that he had been invited to assist in the formation of the above-mentioned Society and that he wished to have the Committee's approval on the matter. It was agreed that he could assist to the best of his ability in the matter.

BURIAL GROUND AT KNOCKENARIS

Mr. N. Whittle stated that the Chairman of Waterford County Council had asked him to consider the necessity for cleaning of Knockenaris Burial Ground. The Secretary was asked to enquire whether the Burial Ground in question is in the Great Two-Band Attraction

To-night (Friday) will be a King-size date in the Arch Ballroom where Danceland's new 8-piece wonder band "The Kings" will be first introduced to the South. This new Showband is managed by Ceili King, Pat McGarr, who spent much of his time during the past year hand-picking the eight professional musicians who make up this band. Already this group of young professionals have many bookings from Christmas onwards and are signed up to tour England during the Spring. By special request the dynamic Bride-siders Showband (now voted one of the most popular bands in the South) will share the stand with "The Kings."

GREETINGS TO TOMAS UASAL BREATHNACH

The Committee unanimously expressed the desire to communicate with An Uasal Tomas Breathnach, a member of the Committee for many years who has recently been unable to attend the meetings. The Secretary was asked to convey the best wishes of the members to An Uasal Breathnach, charge of the Council.

N.F.A. NEWS

President's New Year Message

The Old Year showed us conclusively that Irish farmers have the capacity for concerted and successful action. The New Year will certainly demand of us, still a greater individual and collective effort working through and for the N.F.A.

Let us all strengthen our resolve to push ahead first of all the building up of our own organisations, and secondly, working through a growing dynamic N.F.A. to achieve the task set down by one of the many barometers and barometers which have for so long restricted the growth of Irish agriculture.

Since 1963 as he criticises your farming in Ireland. While the outcome of many of our decisions may be subject to European and world influences still look forward to it in the assurance that in it by our joint effort we can lay a firm foundation for future prosperity.

It is my wish that each of us may be given the determination to stick to our New Year resolutions right through the year. I couple this with the wish that all farmers will be given a successful outcome to help plan in the future.

THE COW AND COMMON MARKET

A capacity audience is expected to attend the Dairy Symposium to be held in the Stella Ballroom, Limerick, on Thursday, 10th January, 1963. Readers will remember that we had intended holding this Symposium on the 10th December, but had to cancel it due to the fact that the major speaker was involved in E.E.C. business and could not get away.

Everything is now in readiness for the January meeting. The President, Mr. Rickard Deasy will formally open the proceedings at 2.30 p.m. Mr. T. J. Maher will occupy the chair during the talk to be given by Dr. J. B. Ritzema van Ikenam, on "The Cow and the Common Market". This will be followed by a discussion. A tea-break will be made at 5 p.m. At 7 p.m. the delegates will re-assemble to hear the views of a panel of experts made up of: Mr. T. Cahill, Hon. Sec. N.F.A.; (Chairman); Dr. J. B. Ritzema, Agricultural Institute; a representative of the I.C.M.A.; Mr. J. Buckley, Macra na Feirme; Mr. B. J. Preneville, Co. as Trachta Teo; Mr. T. J. Maher, Chairman N.F.A. National Dairy Committee.

The 10th January is one day that farmers in all dairying counties should keep free. It is more than likely that the Limerick meeting will be a milestone in the history of the Irish Dairy Industry, and it is only fitting that all who can should be there to lend their voice and support.

CIE are co-operating with us in this matter and special trains are being laid on to run from the different counties. County Waterford N.F.A. has already made arrangements for two special trains to run to Limerick that day: one leaving Waterford through Fermoy and the other will run from Dungarvan through Fermoy and Malow. We would like to draw the attention of members in Cork, Waterford, S.H. Kilkenny and Limerick to the fact that special cheap rates will be available to N.F.A. members on that day.

WHEAT BONUS

The total of the Bonus on unmillable wheat will amount to over £1,200,000. This will be the sum of the Bonus of 12/6 per barrel which will be paid by the Exchequer through an Bord Grain to all farmers whose wheat was rejected as unmillable in the 1962 harvest. It will be remembered that the N.F.A. fought very hard for compensation for the growers who, through no fault of their own, suffered severe losses as a result of weather conditions.

The method of claiming the Bonus is very simple. Firstly the grower should get the yellow claim form; having checked his purchase dockets and having made quite certain that the dockets are in respect of unmillable wheat only, he should fill up the form clearly and legibly. These forms are available at the premises of all purchasers of wheat in the country, or may be had by writing directly to the Secretary of the Grain Board, 21, Earlsfort Terrace, Dublin.

It is very important to put down the delivery dates on the form, because millers and merchants will find it much easier to check their records when certifying that the information given by the farmer is correct. Therefore to make certification as easy as possible we recommend that farmers should also bring along their Purchase Dockets to the Merchant or the Miller, who purchased their unmillable wheat.

We know that farmers are anxious to receive payment as soon as possible. Their full cooperation in ensuring that all the facts are included on the form and that the purchaser has certified and stamped the form before it is passed to the Grain Board is necessary.

When a farmer has sold his wheat to more than one merchant he should submit a claim on a separate form in respect of each merchant or miller to whom he sold the wheat and should have each claim form certified by that miller or merchant.

The Board acknowledges the most cooperation from millers and merchants to date and now looks for your co-operation. It is understood that there are some complaints in cases where samples of wheat were presented to the Central Wheat Laboratory and as yet the merchants or agents may not have had a final decision from their Miller Principals, as to whether the wheat proved of milling quality or not. While the total quantity involved may not be great the nuisance value to all concerned in making the repayments is considerable and we are therefore, certain that the Miller Principals will expedite matters by informing their agents of the decisions of the Central Laboratory as early as possible.

EVERY COUNTY TO BE VISITED

As a result of the special National Council meeting held in N.F.A. House on 13th December, organisation meetings are to be held throughout the 26 Counties.

Mr. T. V. Llewellyn will visit: Cork (4th January), Waterford (9th January) and Wexford (3rd January).

ANOTHER NFA SUCCESS

As we go to press, we have just learned that our representations on behalf of Irish Pig Producers have been partly successful. The N.F.A. felt that the new length measurements to be introduced in January would adversely affect pig production and farmer income especially that of small farmers. Our National Pigs Committee called on the Government to guarantee "A" floor-price of 227/6d. per cwt. dead weight for those pigs which Grade 'A' under the present arrangement but which will be disqualified when the new measurement is introduced.

The Minister has now decided that there should be a minimum price of 223/- per cwt. deadweight for bacon pigs which fall to be graded "A" only by reason of having a length measurement less than 775mm. This is a step in the right direction but it is a pity that, while admitting that the N.F.A. have made a good case for pig producers the Government did not go the whole way.

As the N.F.A. has pointed out on many occasions—we approve of the principle to progressively improve the quality of our bacon but we believe that this should be done in relation to the quality of the breeding stock available. While the Department holds that some farmers could do a little more in the proper selection of breeding sows capable of giving length to their progeny it is still more true to say that the Department itself has not given the lead or provided the progeny testing facilities that one might reasonably expect from it. The sows which they condemn have been bred from Department selected boars—not from grower boars.

FARMERS CALL FOR MILK PRICE INCREASE

An increase in the basic price of milk was called for last week at a special meeting of the N.F.A. National Council, held in Dublin. The meeting was attended by representatives from every county in the Republic.

Following a full scale debate the following resolution was unanimously adopted: "That the National Council pledges the support of all farmers in all countries through the N.F.A. in a positive programme for an increase in the basic price of all milk coupled with a bonus payment for quality."

It was evident from the research carried out by the National Dairy Committee and the National Liquid Milk Group that the real price to the farmer for milk had not increased since 1953. The increase in the price of liquid milk and dairy products to the consumer, was absorbed by increased overhead costs and transport costs claimed by processing interests. The producer was not compensated for his increased costs.

An interim report on the progress being made by the National Dairy Committee and the National Liquid Milk

Group in producing a co-ordinated national dairy policy was given to the Council. In complimenting the National Committee concerned in support, the Council was unanimous in its recognition of the established interest within the framework of the dairy sector of the producers of liquid milk.

The National Council directed the President to expedite the matter with the appropriate authorities.

N.F.A. WORRIED ABOUT NEW LENGTH MEASUREMENTS

New length measurements for pigs are to come into force in January, and the N.F.A. is greatly concerned with the effect that these are going to have on the pig producers' incomes.

The present length measurements of 790 mm for Grade 'A' Special pigs is to be increased to 800 mm, while, for the first time, a length measurement of 775 mm is to be applied to Grade 'A' pigs.

Recent surveys indicate that approximately 25% of the pigs now classified as 'A' Specials will fail to pass the new length test and will be relegated in the grade 'A' class. Added to this is the fact that roughly 73% of pigs now grading 'A' will no longer be so classified. The immediate effect of this is that there will be a further reduction in farmer income.

It is now generally accepted that any further substantial improvement in grading will have to come through better breeding, and although some useful results have emerged from the Cork Progeny Testing Station, there is still a dreadful inadequacy of such testing facilities on a national scale. Besides, the right type of boars is conspicuous by its absence in Ireland.

In the light of these circumstances the N.F.A. National Pigs Committee feels that a grading improvement should keep pace with improvement in our breeding stock and that the desired goal can be reached without financially penalising the producer.

When grading was first introduced, the N.F.A. asked for a floor price not only for Grade 'A', but also for Grade 'B' pigs. We now feel that it is absolutely necessary for the Government to introduce a floor price for those pigs which are undoubtedly of a very high quality, but which fails to qualify for the new 'A' grade. This at least would have the effect of giving producers some element of stability and would enable us to hold our hard won gains of the past four or five years. It is encouraging to know from the national standpoint that 1962 will probably go down as a record year for pig slaughterings at 1,600,000 pigs.

Steady, hard-work progress is being made in this industry and the N.F.A. National Pigs Committee confidently expects the Government to cater for the new class of pigs, which will result, when the new regulations come into force, by guaranteeing a minimum price for 227/6 per cwt. dead-weight for such pigs.

1963 WILL BE CRITICAL FOR IRISH AGRICULTURE

"At the beginning of this year, we in N.F.A.," said Mr. Rickard Deasy, President, when speaking at the Carlow County Executive N.F.A. Annual Dinner, "put into operation the first stage of our plans for expanding our membership. The year is nearly over and we can begin to examine what achievements have resulted from our efforts."

"But you must realise that we have now reached a decisive stage in N.F.A.'s growth. We have to plan for our future expansion, for the intensification of our essential economic activities, our vital international work, but above all else, we have to develop an adequate central machine to give Irish farming the service it will need. What we have to do in the last few weeks of this year is to chart our progress for future years."

"This is the time to finish this year's work and to begin thinking and planning for next year. 1963 will be for Irish Agriculture a critical year. If we do not in 1963 get real progress not only in planning Irish agriculture, but in concrete measures of development for the future, in all commodities, then I am convinced that we shall miss the opportunities which we are certain will be shortly available to us.

To expect is one thing, to get is another. How much we get will be mainly determined by the vigour and determination with which, through the Association, we are enabled to pursue our objectives. I am confident that however big our problems may seem, we can, God willing, master them.

CEREALS POLICY TO BE EXAMINED

We need progressive, forward looking policies of development in every department of Irish Agriculture. It is true that there are signs of change, and that some progressive things have been done recently by the Department of Agriculture, which would have been almost inconceivable a few years ago. But while we must be ready to give due recognition for this, we must emphasise that we regard this as a beginning only. There is a long hard road ahead of Irish agriculture. To travel it we will need to look ahead and to be prepared to admit, without bitterness, where we know wrong turnings have been taken in the past.

Our national cereals policy for example, will have to be examined. The mere avoidance of past mistakes will not give us adequate forward-looking arrangements, devised to suit rapidly changing circumstances.

If we look at this year, on the cereals front, we must, if we are honest, admit that the step forward which we took, limited though it undoubtedly was, in the setting up and operation of the Central Wheat Laboratory, in which the Department of Agriculture, the Flour Millers' Association and the N.F.A. took a hand, was at least a measure of progress.

While we admit that the setting up of the Central Wheat Laboratory is a progressive step, we must be prepared to examine critically its operation over the past harvest, and to see in what way it can be improved. At the same time we must examine the fixing of standards of millability and the concept of wheat handling and marketing.

Attention must also be given to certain aspects of the handling of our increasing output of feeding barley, in the full knowledge that as output rises year by year, the problems of handling and marketing the crop will become progressively greater.

There are private arrangements between the Minister and the trade on the handling of feeding barley.

Feeding Stuffs Manufacturers are guaranteed freedom to import maize and they are also guaranteed freedom to export pollard.

These arrangements are subject to no audit or supervision in any way. They appear to have been created reasonably honestly last year through the threat of the Grain Board intervening if the machine broke down. However, they prevent the Minister from adapting his policy to meet conditions that arise.

The Minister is compelled to export rather than save money by reducing the price of wheat on the home market. A reduction would slow up the sale of barley, but this would not matter if the Grain Board held the barley.

The Minister cannot limit or prohibit imports of maize or pollard. Limitation of pollard would be automatic if wheat was £20 on the home market. As it is, the feeding barley agreement leaves the Minister stuck with having to export at a loss of £7 per ton in order to make room for imported maize and pollard.

While it is fair to say that these arrangements up to the present have not operated seriously to the detriment of the growers of feeding barley, it is obvious that they are today exceedingly inflexible and totally inadequate for the requirements of tomorrow. They gravely limit the freedom of action of both the Minister for Agriculture himself and the Grain Board in facing, for example, the problems of disposing of unmillable wheat.

(Extract from address by Mr.

R. Deasy, President N.F.A., at Kilkenny County Convention.

RECORD OF WORK

The N.F.A. has progressed rapidly since it was first founded, said Mr. S. an Healy, General Secretary, in a circular to Council Members last week. "Commodity Committees have developed quickly from talking shops and media for exchange of views to policy-making bodies.

"New commodity and functional committees, other than commodity committees have sprung up on demand overnight. The result of the work of these committees, co-ordinated at National Council level are apparent to all. The tractor tax concession computed on an annual basis, or official Government figures shows that in one year on this item alone farmers will have saved £147,609, i.e. much more than the 1959 annual income of the Association, but one of the hundreds of other savings visible and invisible which has accrued to the farmer through the N.F.A."

"We know that there are none so blind as those who do not wish to see, and regretfully though we must say it, thousands of farmers prefer not to see the benefits to them (although not members) of the N.F.A."

Mr. Healy quoted from his statement at the A.G.M. last June: "During the year that has just passed, 113,456 letters were received at your Head Office and replied to. We must admit that letters leaving Central Office must not contain any element of an erroneous statement and must be carefully phrased and worded, particularly in view of the fact that it has been found that many of our replies from Head Office are quoted verbatim. Letters in this context do not include general circulars, notices of meetings, etc."

"In addition to the secretarial work involved in the above senior members of the staff have also addressed over 2,300 meetings at area, regional and county level throughout the country."

The above remarks spotlight some of the work carried out at Central Office. Next week we shall print other statements made by the General Secretary which show the efforts being made now and the efforts which will have to be made in the coming year if Irish farmers are to be fittingly rewarded for their labours.

Sean Dunphy's Band Hits Headlines

On sale shortly in record shops and music stores throughout Ireland will be a new L.P. record with a distinctive Waterford flavour. Waxed recently in Dublin the well-known Waterford cellist Sean Dunphy, for the Connoisseur label, has such lovely ballads as "The Comeragh's Rugged Hills", "Master McGrath", and "The Silver Sands of Trimore", all written by Dungarvan-born Mrs. M. O'Higgins, who has already won fame with "Dungarvan my Home Town", "My Dublin Boy" and "Beautiful Bundoran". Also recorded on the new L.P. are: "City by the Sea" (by Waterford journalist Liam Duddy); "The Croppy Boy"; "Rogha an bhFiáin", a dance composed in the Co. Waterford Gaeltacht of Ring some years ago, and a delightful selection of jigs, reels, hornpipes, set dances and marches.

It was just over 5 years ago that Sean Dunphy gathered together a cello quartet to play for the annual Christmas concert of the Waterford Technical School. To-day, the quartet has expanded into an eight-piece, and matured into a disciplined and delightfully tuneful band. Like the good wine, the Dunphy band has vastly improved in quality with the passing of the years. It has been successfully steered through many difficult times by its founder and leader, Sean Dunphy, and has emerged to-day, as a fully matured and highly refined cello combination.

Versatile vivacity it what the Dunphy band offers to-day. It has played with great success in the Hibernian Ballroom and the Irish Club, Dublin, and its lively music and slick presentation has brought it repeat bookings throughout the south and south-east of Ireland. Dance promoters and ballroom managers have now come to book them regularly with utmost confidence.

The Dunphy Band is eight in number: Sean Dunphy and Liam Gaul (accompanists); Edmund Walsh, Paddy Kavanagh and Sean Rattigan (violinists); Peadar O'Brien (bassist); Bernie Flanagan (pianist), and Edmond Walsh, a former leader of the Waterford Junior Orchestra, has acquired a distinctive style for traditional music. He is also a prominent member of the Waterford Barrock St. Brass and Reed Band.

The high standards of proficiency attained by violinist Paddy Kavanagh is reflected in the many recordings and broadcasts from Radio Eireann which he has to his credit.

Another Co. Wexford man is Sean Rattigan, a Leinster and all-Ireland champion violinist. He also has made many broadcasts and has won numerous awards at Fleadh Ceoil.

Band vocalist is Peadar O'Brien, who plays the double bass. A prominent member of both the Waterford Grand Opera Society and of the De La Salle Operatic Society, he sings on this new L.P., no less than eight numbers.

Acclaimed one of Waterford's most brilliant pianists, Bernie Flanagan is equally at home playing cello, jazz or classical music. He is well-known throughout Ireland, having made a big name for himself while playing with the Mick Delahanty Orchestra and later with the Jimmy Wiley Orchestra.

Drummer Dick Flynn adds his touch of master to the band and also weighs in on the vocals.

Dick Flynn (drummer). A fluent Irish speaker, Sean Dunphy is indeed an accomplished accordionist, with a fine natural command of the instrument. He attained his high standard of the three-row chromatic accordion through his great love of cello music and dancing for which he has won several awards. It was Sean Dunphy who arranged all the selections for the new L.P.

Liam Gaul, who comes from Co. Wexford, plays a five-row continental accordion, and is undoubtedly one of the finest exponents of the instrument in the country. He has many broadcasts to his credit, notably "Job of Journey Work" and "Ceolta Tíre", while his recordings for Gael Linn and other companies, have also been aired on Radio Eireann.

MILESTONES IN MEDICINE

MEDICINE MAN

It is not unreasonable to assume that the practice of medicine is one of the oldest professions. Recent discoveries in the cave of Las Treis Freres in the South of France proved this to be true. On the walls of the cave has been found the drawing of a primitive medicine man, which is estimated to be 17,000 years old. It shows him in full ceremonial dress. His face is painted, his head covered with the antlers of a stag and his body with an animal skin. He was a witch doctor, versed in the arts of magic, but often prescribing useful and sensible treatment. He is the oldest ancestor of our present day medical practitioner.

1000 MEN WORK WHERE ONLY THE SNIPE LIVED

A group of huge and impassable virgin bogs in north Offaly, whose only contribution to the economy of the country was an occasional snipe on a local table, are now giving regular employment to over 1,000 men.

The bogs, called the Derrygreenagh group, stretch for 14 miles, further than the eye can see, between the villages of Rhode and Rochforbridge. They cover 17,000 acres and some idea of their size can be gauged from the fact that the rail network now connecting them is 75 miles long. Now their contribution to the economy of the country, apart from the employment they are giving, ranges from the 200 million units of electricity from the E.S.B. milled peat station built at Rhode in 1960 and a further 200 million units due from the extension to the station now under construction, to the thousands of tons of briquettes from the largest factories at nearby Croghan and Derrinlough. In addition, 20,000 tons of the milled peat is being exported annually through the port of Drogheda to the south-east London Gas Board where it is used in the manufacture of coke.

Last year the Derrygreenagh bogs produced 1 of a million tons of milled peat and production work gave employment to over 600 men. The E.S.B. station used 225,000 tons of this milled peat and the balance went to the briquette factories and to stockpiles. The E.S.B. station employs 80 men and the extension job is employing over 100 men. When the extension, which is costing £23 million, goes into operation next year, the station will give permanent employment to over 100 men. The briquette factory at Croghan now employs 114 men and the more recently built one at Derrinlough employs 118 men.

The villages of Rhode and Rochforbridge are the two which are most directly benefiting from the boom in employment in the area. It is doubtful if ever such hard working and provident communities would have got through the difficulties and economic depressions of the past 70 years without, as one person put it, "the luck of the devil".

Good fortune also attended these communities during all the rough times through and after the last war. When thousands of young people from the biggest neighbouring towns—Portlanning in the south, Mullingar in the west and Edenderry in the north east—were leaving for England, Bord na Mona opened the bogs of Clonsist and Derrygreenagh to supply the country with fuel to replace coal. This filled the peat of Rhode and Rochforbridge over the last years of the war and its aftermath until the construction work on the E.S.B. Generation Station, and the briquette factories began.

Nowadays on can no longer tell Rhode and Rochforbridge across road villages. The building of F.S.B. and Bord na Mona staff houses has injected new life into both places and at the same time improved their looks. At Rochforbridge, Bord na Mona have constructed an entire village beside the old one consisting of one hundred houses and at Rhode the E.S.B. have built their own scheme of houses.

COLR. KELLY WELCOMED BACK

At the monthly meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council on Friday last, Colr. Nicholas Kelly was welcomed back by the other Councilors, after being indisposed for a lengthy period. Colr. Richard Walsh (Vice-Chairman) said he had great pleasure in welcoming Colr. Kelly back, and they were all delighted to see him again. Replying, Colr. Kelly said he sincerely thanked the members for the tributes they paid to his late wife, and everybody helped to make his big trouble as light a one as possible. He also thanked the Press for their co-operation and took the opportunity of wishing them all a happy and holy Xmas.

ESSO AND THE COMMON MARKET

A series of regional meetings run by Esso Petroleum Company (Ireland) Limited for employees throughout the country have just been concluded. The purpose of these meetings was to bring the employees up to date on the Company's proposals for adopting the organisation to the situation that will develop when Ireland will become a member of the European Economic Community. Mr. D. J. Dunne, Managing Director, referred to the important place which the Petroleum industry occupies in the life of the country. He emphasised the need for the elimination of wasteful methods and procedures, indicating how failure in this respect would affect the capacity of other industries to become and remain competitive. Mr. B. Martin, Director, speaking on productivity, stressed the role that the individual employee can play in bringing about an all-round increase in efficiency, which is essential to the conditions which E.E.C. would result. Mr. J. H. Donovan, Director, traced the formation of E.E.C. from the Treaty of Rome up to the present and the possible impact of Irish industry and agriculture should Ireland become either an Association member or a full member of the Common Market. With this impact in mind, Mr. Donovan outlined the role that Esso and its employees will have to play in the new community. Mr. J. B. Birrell, Manager, Administration Department, gave a presentation on Esso's benefit plans with particular reference to the Esso Pension Plan and its recent revision. This presentation was associated with the provisions of E.E.C. covering social services.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES

LATE MRS. B. MORRISSEY
We announce with regret the death of Mrs. B. Morrissey, Co. Wick. A full obituary will be published in our next issue.

THE LATE MR. T. STAPLETON
The death of Mr. Thomas Stapleton, who took place in Arakeen Hospital, on Monday, 24th inst. Obituary will appear in our next issue.

CHRISTMAS TREAT
The annual Christmas treat for the children of St. Michael's School was held in the Boathouse on Sunday. The members of the I.C.A. and Rowing Club were hosts for the occasion and following a meal with all seasonal delicacies on the menu, the boys were presented with gifts by Santa Claus in person.

Agricultural Meeting

In our report of the County Committee of Agriculture meeting in last week's issue, Mr. Charles Curran was erroneously quoted as having proposed salary increases for temporary agricultural instructors. It was in fact Mr. George Heskin who proposed the increase.

1962 GAELIC FLASHBACK

ONLY days remain before 1962 passes into the annals of history. The playing fields of the G.A.A. are closed and empty and players are enjoying a well-deserved rest after a year of almost non-stop activity. What more appropriate time than the present to pause and reflect over Waterford's Gaelic highlights and disappointments of the past twelve months at club and county level.

From an inter-county viewpoint it has not been a successful year. Out of six grades the Deise failed to capture even one Provincial or All-Ireland title although a first-ever Oireachtas senior hurling crown compensated in some measure for a disastrous championship defeat.

STORY OF SUCCESS

On the home front the story is fortunately one of success. The senior hurling championship was one of the most keenly contested ever culminating in a memorable decider in which the title changed hands, and ensured an Erin's Own led county side in '63. For Kill, a life's ambition was realised in November when they were declared senior football champions for the first time, after decisively beating the Aghish Geraldines.

In junior football, Ring retained a title last held 38 years ago, while Ballyduirn proved themselves classy hurling champions in the same grade. In minor ranks the East recorded a notable double, Mount Sion in hurling, Tra-more in football—both corquorers of Ardmore, while juvenile titles were also Eastward bound for Sion and De La Salle. Clashmore became the new Primary football champions and Portlaw took the hurling title in the same grade.

SENIOR HURLERS

I propose however, to take the inter-county activities first in this preview, and as always the senior hurlers must command greatest attention. Over the year their inconsistency has been an irritating feature of their play, winning unexpectedly and failing for no apparent reason when hopes of victory were justifiably high.

Entering the new year with an unbeaten league record, their first outing was against Kilkenny in the Kinane Cup, and after giving a lacklustre display, went under by 3-10 to 4-4. On March 11 however, they travelled to Carrow and retained their unbeaten record, vanquishing the Sarsfielders by 5-6 to 0-5. A superb performance and all was set for the championship on April 1st. 11,000 spectators made their way to the O. J. Boro' to witness the game. For 50 minutes the Leesiders were given a hurling lesson in all departments, but in a truly sensational final, Ring took a decisive hand, and snatched a victory that was truly against the run of play.

CHAMPIONSHIP PREPARATIONS

The championship preparations were dashed in an unexpected fashion. The hurlers were expected to be in the championship team. Physical instructor, Jack Frazer was called upon to put the team through its paces, and on May 20th at rain-swept Thurles they scored a resounding 4-11 to 3-0 first-round victory over Clare, after leading 1-9 to 0-0 at half-time.

On July 8th at the same venue Cork were overcome in the Munster semi-final after an absorbing struggle. At the interval, Cork deservedly led by 0-11 to 1-5, but in a titanic second half struggle that saw Waterford overcome crippling adversity in the nature of injuries that forced Tom Cheasty and Frankie Walsh to retire, Cork were beaten by 4-10 to 1-16.

MUNSTER FINAL

And so a Munster final tilt with all-Ireland champions Tipperary was awaited with confidence. Not even the loss of Cheasty and Walsh could lessen that confidence, and optimism was the keynote that August day in Limerick.

But the Ennis Road pitch was again the graveyard of Deise hopes, and Jimmy Doyle and his men ran riot in a 5-14 to 2-3 victory.

OIREACHTAS VICTORIES

An invitation to participate in the Oireachtas tournament gave the side a welcome opportunity to redeem itself, and on September 16th at Walsh Park they shocked all-Ireland finalists Wexford 3-11 to 2-7 in the semi-final. Tipperary, as expected, mastered Kilkenny in the second semi-final and the all-Ireland decider was fixed for Croke Park, on 21st October.

Contrary to all expectations, Waterford rose majestically to the occasion, and giving an inspired display, shocked the champions, and were 4-12 to 3-9 victors. At the interval, they led by a solitary point—1-6 to 1-5, and although their supremacy was challenged many times in an epic second-half, they defied all efforts of the Tipperary men.

The scribes were lavish in their praise of the game; Tipperary's colours had been lowered and above all Waterford hurling had been vindicated.

Having fought their way back to the top, followers looked forward to a successful league campaign. But again their hopes were agonisingly dashed when they were crushed by unfancied Limerick by 7-6 to 3-3, on November 11th. A week later, on home soil they collected their first brace of points at Carrow's expense, in a game that rang down the curtain on their '62 programme.

UP AND DOWNS

Thus it can be seen, it was a year of ups and downs in the grade, in which followers were perplexed by the unpredictability of their form. The major times evaded them, and had it not been for this Oireachtas triumph it would have been a very bleak year indeed.

SENIOR FOOTBALLERS

The county's senior footballers opened the year on a highly promising note, but after a commendable championship effort, it was a promise that was not maintained.

Right through the year the National League they proved themselves superior to every opposition and duly qualified for the quarter-final at Carrow at New Ross. Although going under by 1-9 to 2-3, the side covered itself in glory and was completely deserved at least another chance.

off to a successful start against Tipperary at Connel's on 25th May and they recorded an easy 3-5 to 0-6 victory. In the second round they had to face Kerry on Kingdom Hill, and the title was no disgrace in their 1-12 to 2-6 defeat. Thereafter, however, they completely lost form, and the team through the hands of Killeney and Clate have already put paid to their chances in the current league campaign.

JUNIOR FOOTBALLERS

The junior footballers made a first round exit at the hands of Kerry in Castleisland, but at the same venue, the Intermediate hurlers scored a 5-5 to 3-3 championship victory over the Kingdom. In the Munster semi-final at Waterford they failed to reproduce their first round form, and were beaten 4-8 to 2-2 by Galway.

MINORS DISAPPOINT

As in former years, the county's minors failed to make any impression against the recognised strong counties. The hurlers went out at the first attempt to Clare, while the footballers after beating Tipperary 2-4 to 0-5 in the opening round, made little impression against Cork in the semi-final at Thurles.

CLUB CHAMPIONSHIPS

Dealing with the club championships—senior hurling first, the city rivals, Mount Sion and Erin's Own again dominated the destination of the title between them. Abbeystige, Dungarvan, Ballyduirn and Colligan Rockies all appeared to have chances at one stage, but after the customary process of elimination only the city rivals stood the test.

The eagerly awaited final lived up to all expectations, and only a last minute point from a free by Philly Grimes saved Sion in a thrill-a-minute game. The replay attracted a record attendance and after yet another pulsating hour, Erin's Own had worthily wrested the crown from the Monastery men.

KILL'S YEAR

The football year belongs to Kill alone. After many vain attempts they at last crashed through the championship barrier. Geraldines were the dark horses of the year, and though falling badly in the final, mastered Ardmore, Taobh A'Gheanna and Brickey Rangers en route.

The marathon of the year was provided by Kilkenny's new club John Mitchell's and Brickets, and it was only after four attempts that the Brickets advanced.

Ballyduirn proved far too good for Fourmilewater in the junior hurling final, and they were only thwarted of the double in junior when Ring beat Newtown by a point in a thrilling replay. After a lapse of a few years Mount Sion regained the minor hurling title, easily beating Ardmore in the final, while the Seasiders were again on the losing side in the under-eighteen football final against Tra-more.

MAJESTIC CLASHMORE

Majestically Clashmore swept to a convincing primary football championship success. In the west they were unchallenged and in the county final Portlaw had no answer to their brilliance.

The tankery town side gained ample compensation by defeating Cappoquin in the hurling final of the same grade. Notable feature of this game was that Portlaw had two father and son combinations on duty, while Cappoquin included their wonderful veteran, 55-year-old Paddy English.

STARS OF THE YEAR

Finally, Waterford's stars of 1962. In hurling, my choice is Mr. Sion's Jimmy Byrne, who, whether with club or county, has been a model of consistency. Shadowing Byrne for the award in my opinion would be Carrow-born Peter McGovern of Erin's Own, whose brilliant play has played a major part in his club's return to greatness.

For the football award, Kill's mid-fielder, Martin Kennedy must be a unanimous choice. In every game he participated in he distinguished himself and was easily the outstanding big ball exponent of the year.

Meat Expert Presents Trophy

MR. JOE CONWAY, well-known Dungarvan, Co. Waterford, Ireland, butcher and cattle expert, presents the Conway Cup to Michael Kirwan, captain of Waterford's champion senior Gaelic football team. Mr. Conway has made a special study of the meat and cattle business in North America and in the process has worked up super markets, packing plant, abattoirs and ranches there to gain practical experience. He holds a diploma of the National School of Meat Cutting and Self-Service.

The Evidence is Overwhelming

Public Taste Prefers Superb Quality Meats

AT NO EXTRA COST!

If you ever bought a roast of beef or lamb that just didn't cook up perfectly... the fault is very likely the fact that the flavour and juicy tenderness you wanted weren't there in the first place! So why continue to risk disappointment! Switch to Conways and see the difference in Beef and Lamb... good looking, tender and juicy... selected by Conways expert meat buyer.

Every week he inspects hundreds of cattle and lambs at the marts, fairs and the farm... yet only one out of every ten is good enough for Conways. That's why you always enjoy an EXTRA MEASURE OF QUALITY at... CONWAYS... at no Extra Cost!

Meet the friendly meat-cutter behind Conways' counter to-day.
