THE first annual dinner-dance of the Waterford County Civil Defence Unit held at the Devonshire Arms Hotel on Thursday, 10th January last, was an overwhelming success and the newly-elected social committee are to be congratulated in organising their first big function. They were sorry so many had to be disappointed, the full quota of 120 seats being booked out for some time past. The Minister for Defence, Mr. Bartley, honoured the occasion with his presence.

The first annual dinner-dance of the Waterford County Civil Defence Unit held at the Devonshire Arms Hotel, on Thursday, 10th January, last, was an overwhelming success and the newly-elected social committee are to be congratulated in organising their first big function. They were sorry so many had to be disappointed, the full quota of 120 seats being booked out for some time past.

The Minister for Defence, Mr. Bartley, honoured the occasion with his presence and his address to the Minister, Mr. Bartley, said:

I am indeed very glad to have my first opportunity of visiting the Civil Defence Organisation in County Waterford and I am particularly grateful that you have chosen a social occasion to enable me to meet you here. Of course, my coming here is not a true fulfilment of my personal wish to meet many of the members as possible of the Civil Defence Organisation to which I have the prime responsibility but it also marks an appreciation on behalf of the Government for the great voluntary effort you are making in this vital field of national defence in County Waterford. I feel I would be merely preaching to the converted if I were to dilate on you on such an occasion as this of the need for Civil Defence. I think that recent events in the international field have brought home to the people the necessity of the organisation that you have taken in hand here, in a more effective and dramatic way than any kind of publicity or speechmaking. I feel confident now that the people on whom you are aware that they are living in an age in which there must be at all times an organisation that can be brought into action at very short notice to ensure that they will not be left wholly unprotected from the effects of a nuclear war.

What I would like however, to underline to-night is that Civil Defence is a great medium for the development of a sense of patriotism appropriate to the present day; a patriotism that deals for an entirely different attitude and a different kind of service to that which was needed in the past. I believe this form of patriotism is fundamentally ennobling in character for anyone who willingly devotes some spare time and energy in learning how to help oneself, one's family and one's neighbours should the need arise.

I know from the reports I receive from the Director of Civil Defence that your warden services has really made great strides. This, of course, is a vital service of the Civil Defence Organisation and it is also the one in which people with a fair for leadership have a very important role. I am proud to think that other services, the welfare and rescue, have been going on very well in fact, you seem to have been able to get people to build up a real functional group for Civil Defence in your county. I feel sure no one will take exception if I mention your Civil Defence Officer, who, I believe, has a reputation for being a real go-getter. Certainly I am advised that he never fails to sustain his efforts to achieve the objectives laid down from time to time by my Department. Remember, my friends, that a very effective part in increasing our membership is to think what it would mean to Civil Defence if each volunteer here and indeed if every Civil Defence volunteer throughout the country were to bring in even a few extra members.

I am pleased to note you have been making good progress with your First Aid organisation, especially because your members are about to be presented with certificates in First Aid which have been awarded to a number of volunteers by the Irish Red Cross Society. Not long ago I had discussions with the Heads of the three voluntary aid organisations—the Irish Red Cross Society, the Order of Malta and the St. John Ambulance Brigade to explore and improve arrangements by which their members would work in with the Civil Defence Organisation. I was very much impressed by the good will evidenced all round and expect that the reward arrangement will be finalised very soon. In the meantime it is a matter of satisfaction that there is such an excellent working arrangement between the Irish Red Cross and Civil Defence here in Dungarvan. For that reason I accept with much pleasure the opportunity now given me to present the Certificates in First Aid here to-night. While on this subject I would make a special appeal to all of our citizens to learn First Aid. Even in peacetime such knowledge may very well save the life of someone near and dear to them.

I would ask you not to let repetition of training weary you. I would urge you to build up an organisation in such a training will be counterbalanced by the pleasure of the social life and the good fellowship which membership will inevitably bring to you.

In proposing the toast to Civil Defence, Mr. Charles Curran, Chairman, Waterford Co. Council, said:

It is my honour and privilege to propose the Toast of the Civil Defence Organisation—an organisation which is performing a very vital National Work on behalf of the Waterford Co. Council. I thank the members for the very thorough and unselfish manner in which they are performing their onerous duties and compliment them on the high standard of efficiency attained.

The gratifying feature of the organisation in Co. Waterford is that it is fully representative of all sections of the community—agricultural, industrial, educational and cultural and includes leaders in all spheres of activities—the I.C.A., N.F.A., G.A.A., Trade Unions, Public Officials etc.

I earnestly appeal for more recruits, particularly in the rural areas. It is important that the strength of the organisation should at least be doubled during 1963. It is difficult to understand the apathy which prevails. It supposes it is a characteristic of our race—a national weakness. This unwillingness to serve the Nation and the community is to be deplored. In all other countries everyone serves at some stage in the National Services. If not, one is considered a bad citizen. The Civil Defence serves a vital role and should have the full support of every responsible citizen. There is a great need to educate the public as to the purpose of Civil Defence, myself, being a member of another organisation, am debarred from being a member of Civil Defence, but I earnestly appeal to all who are free to do so, to become members.

I wish to thank the Minister for Defence for attending this function and I also wish to pay a special tribute to Mr. Thomas O'Donoghue, B.E., Civil Defence Officer for the county, for the manner in which he is performing his onerous duties in that regard.

Mr. T. O'Donoghue, B.E., Civil Defence Officer, replying to the Toast to Civil Defence said:

It gives me great pleasure to reply to the Toast to Civil Defence. All here appreciate the importance of Civil Defence. Those who dismiss it as a waste of effort and expense might perhaps revise their values in the light of Parnell's idea that "no man has a right to set a limit on the onward march of a nation." For nearly 2,000 years we have been realising that great things are done in the shadow of a Cross. Nuclear War which threatens our very survival challenges one of man's primary instincts—that of self preservation.

The function here to-night comes as a tribute to the local response in County Waterford. I am very proud of those who have worked so hard in Civil Defence as to qualify for their First Aid certificates. I am also proud of those other sections particularly the Warden section in all areas of the County and is developing so successfully as per the scheme determined by the Minister's Department. The merger between the Voluntary Aid Societies such as the Red Cross has already been referred to by the Minister and our thanks must go to Very Rev. Fr. Farrell, our local doctor and our public health nurse for their great contribution to this effort.

I also want to pay tribute to Commd. O'Brien, our Regional Civil Defence Officer and to senior county and city officials for their wise direction, encouragement and help at all times.

Outstanding Production by Dramatic Club

Packed and appreciative audiences witnessed the thirty-sixth production of the Dungarvan Dramatic Club "Night Must Fall" at the Friary Hall on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday night's last.

As has been the case with all previous productions of this talented amateur dramatic society, this latest was yet another outstanding achievement in an illustrious twenty-two year career. The Club's aim is to produce only the best plays and they certainly lived up to that with this presentation.

Actors and actresses performed in a manner that suggested each was born to his or her particular part. All were absolute naturals and the selection of the cast was a credit to the producer.

Lighting effects, which were so effectively advantageous were in the capable hands of Liam Comerford and Michael Coward and over all the performance merited the unanimous opinion given to it—a wonderful play, wonderfully put over.

The scene of the play was in the sitting-room of Mrs. Bramson's bungalow in a wooded area in Essex. The story revolves around the mysterious disappearance of a lady staying at an inn in the nearby village. Scotland yard were called in to investigate and she was later found murdered.

Throughout tension prevails, the occasional laugh dramatically lifts the suspense temporarily, and the onlookers enjoyment is sustained until the fall of the curtain, by which time the murderer has been solved.

Mrs. Eunice Hockin acts the part of Mrs. Bramson (an invalid confined to a wheel chair) brilliantly while Rose Bullin as Alice Grayne (Mrs. Bramson's niece) displayed exceptional talent.

The acting of Vincent Byrne as "Dan," the murderer in the play, was truly a revelation and he is obviously going to be a key player in the club's future productions.

Stage "veterans" Jim O'Keefe and Michael Cullinan "Inspector Belsize of Scotland Yard" were all we expected of them while the Misses Eileen Hughes, Nuala Murray and Claire Ryan completed a splendid cast.

With every passing year the Club surpasses its previous efforts. Acknowledged generally as one of the leading dramatic clubs in the country, the present rate of advancement in their standards suggests they may very soon stand unrivalled in the amateur sphere.

The unstinted support they obtained this week is but a criterion of their popularity, and as long as the Club can put on such magnificent entertainment as "Night Must Fall", the public will continue to flock to support them.

The following is a complete list of personnel responsible for the latest play—

Director, Mr. Michael Cullinan; Stage manager and decor, Mr. Peadraig O. Murchadha; Assistant Stage Managers, Mrs. Jessie Coward, Messrs. Liam Comerford and M. Coward; Lighting, Liam Comerford and M. Coward; music and effects, Ted Kelly; Hall superintendent Joseph Rfordan.

A TRIBUTE
The club also paid a deserved mark of respect to its late President, Michael H. O'Hara, in one of the pages of the programme which we give in full hereunder.

OUR LATE PRESIDENT
"Good night sweet prince, And lights of angels sing— those to thy rest."—Hamlet.
"When this Club was founded, one of the first to join was Michael O'Hara. He was with F. Magee, O.S.A. and E. Brennan, O.S.A., the first director of Productions. His services to the Club were so great that after 5 years he was elected President, an office which he held continuously until the "Grain Reaper" snatched

Eagerly Looked Forward To
In this part of the Decies and in not a few parts beyond its confines is the Thirty Card Drive sponsored by the Kilmacthomas Football Club. As advertised elsewhere in this copy, the splendid sum of £60 is offered in prizes—1st prize £40; £20 divided between the bested finalists. In Leamybrien Hall the first and second rounds will be played on February 1st and 2nd, and the final decided on February 8th. Teas will be served on both occasions and intending competitors please note that cards cost only 12/6. In the light of its sporting object the drive should pan out a distinct success.

In Failing Health for some time past was well and popularly known Mr. Thomas (Tom) Wheahan, farmer, Graigue, Stradbally, whose death at the aged span, occurred at St. Joseph's Hospital, Dungarvan, removing a member of a most respected family and was learned with much regret by all sections of the community. He was a staunch Catholic neighbour, noted for his unassuming and kindly nature, and his deep understanding of human problems. Sincere and wide-spread sympathy is extended to his bereaved son (Mr. Matthew Wheahan), daughter (Mrs. K. Hickey) (relatives and close friends.

The remains were conveyed to the Parish Church, Stradbally, where the coffin was placed on a catafalque before the high altar.

Requiem Masses were said in the sacred edifice on Thursday morning of last week, at 9.30 and 10 o'clock, and interment was made afterwards in the adjoining cemetery, in the presence of many mourners and sympathisers. Very Rev. D. Power, P.P. Stradbally, assisted by Rev. M. Fennell, C.C., do. officiated at the graveside.

Deeply Regretted by his numerous friends and acquaintances, who appreciated his kind, helpful, neighbourly qualities, is the passing of Mr. John Farrell, Drumohan, Stradbally. Quiet and retiring in manner, in his own unobtrusive way he was unfailingly solicitous for the welfare of friends. Deceased was brother of Mr. William Farrell, Drumohan, and Miss K. Farrell, do. to whom and the other relatives, whole-hearted sympathy is extended in their affliction. The remains were removed to St. Brigid's Parish Church, Kilmacthomas, where the coffin was received and blessed by Very Rev. J. Harty, P.P., do., an following Requiem Mass on Monday, the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery. Very Rev. Fr. Harty, giving the closing absolution at the graveside amidst every manifestation of sorrow.

Mr. L. P. Curran, B.Agr.Sc., Instructor in Agriculture, Ballyrack, Kilmacthomas is in attendance on two nights of each week (commencing at 8 o'clock each night) at Kilmacthomas National School, where, under the auspices of Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture, he is conducting a keenly interested and most attentive Winter Agricultural Class.

The Highly Successful Dance held in the Rainbow Hall, Kilmacthomas, on Sunday night last, featured the return visit (by popular request) of Pat Irwin, All Stars, and this topping team of instrumentalists discharged delightful music, there being not a dull moment from commencement (9) to close (2 a.m.) of the capillary conducted affairs.

Her Fine Residential Farm at Newtown, Kilmacthomas, was sold on the lands on Friday of last week, for Mrs. A. M. Grath, by Messrs. Quealy & Co., M.I.A.A., auctioneers and valuers, Dungarvan. After spirited bidding the splendid holding was knocked down to Mr. Patrick Skehan, farmer, Rathormack, Carrick-on-Suir, for £10,500 plus the usual fees.

Over 40 Acres of Land, at Parkeensaglogh, Kilmacthomas, let for grazing by public auction were taken at £15 per acre by Mr. Martin Galvin, Carrol's Cross, do.

For Many Years prior and up to his retirement, universally esteemed Mr. Thomas Walsh ex-N.T., Glenbeg, Dungarvan, was Principal, Kil National School, Kilmacthomas, and his many firm friends there join with the multitude of others sincerely sympathising with him in his heavy tribulation of last week occasioned by the demise of his most gracious and worthy wife, the late Mrs. Catherine Walsh, ex-N.T. (Peace to her gentle soul.)

Some weeks ago the Gallowglass played to capacity audiences in New York's Carnegie Hall and is the only celli band ever booked to play in both the Albert and Carnegie Halls.

Irish Sweeps Derby Free Handicaps

Irish Sweeps Derby Entries Appear in Capitals.

By mid-November, the 1962 Flat Racing Season had come to a close in both England and Ireland. By longstanding tradition, before the month is out, the senior Handicappers in both countries have produced their Free Handicaps.

In a previous release, last summer, we claimed that the Derby which was hardest to win in Europe this season was the Irish Sweeps Derby, run for the first time at the Curragh on June 30th.

That idea receives powerful backing now from Mr. Geoffrey Freer for, while the winner Tambourine 11 had not raced in England and thereby did not qualify for inclusion, he holds the record for 9 stone, 7 lb. to 10 stone.

Two of Mrs. A. B. Bidle's powerful, Kildare-based team IONIAN (8-13) and PARTHOLON (8-12) earned high ranking. The former won the Duke of Edinburgh Stakes at Ascot on the 25th while Partolon, a highly consistent sort, was never out of the first two in a four-end-of-the-season outings.

Mr. A. E. Reuben's MOLINO (8-11), a winner at York and a close second to PARTHOLON in the National Stakes at the Curragh, gets the regulation one pound allowance from his conqueror for a neck beating.

Backeted together at 8-9 are Major L. B. Holliday's KING'S FAVOURITE, Mr. R. F. Denham's KING OF BABYLON, Mr. Edward B. Benjamin's TUDOR GREY, and Mr. R. F. Watson's TRAFALGAR.

KING'S FAVOURITE (three runs—1 win and 2 places) won the Fawcett Stakes at Ascot, the time out, KING OF BABYLON (6 runs—2 wins and 3 places) staked his claim to recognition, when scoring in the Champagne Stakes at Doncaster; TUDOR GREY (6 runs—1 win and 3 places) won the Great Surrey Stakes at the Epsom Derby meeting and was not disgraced against his elders in the Nunthorpe Stakes at York; while TRAFALGAR (2 runs—1 win and 1 place), who did not race at Epsom, won a special race at Salisbury and was runner-up to Magic Carpet in the Billy Butlin Stakes.

A trio that could not be separated at 8-8, consists of Lt. T. Giles Loder's FOLLOW SUIT, Mr. K. B. Bu's SCHOLAR GYPSY and Mr. J. Newton's YOUNG DAVID.

The appearance of FOLLOW SUIT (2 runs—1 win) were heavily spaced out and he took the Dewhurst Stakes at Newmarket; SCHOLAR GYPSY (4 runs—2 wins and 1 place) was another who did not make his name until the Autumn, when he closed with successes in the Wesley Stakes at Newmarket and the Horris Hill Stakes at Newbury; (contrast YOUNG DAVID (11 runs—3 wins and 5 places) was in action from April to October and apart from three victories in the North of England, he was also second to CROCKET in the Gimcrack Stakes.

Seamus McGra (this season were Mrs. P. W. McGrath's improving HILL O'DOON (5 runs—1 win) and Mr. Joseph McGrath's TAROGGAN (10 runs—2 wins and 4 places). HILL O'DOON was allotted 9-2 and TAROGGAN 11lb. less.

The scintillating French filly Hula Dancer, who took their Free Handicaps published late in December, hold no Derby engagements but Madame Jean Couture's LE MESNIL (Tyrore Flying Colour), the top weighted colt (3 lb. below Hula Dancer) is engaged in the Irish Sweeps Derby. LE MESNIL won two of his three races in the Autumn and was particularly impressive on his last outing in the Prix De Conde at Longchamp in October when scoring by five lengths. LE MESNIL would certainly be a coinventive Sweeps Derby winner for his former stablemate, last year's winner of the event, Tambourine 11 has taken up stud duties at the Haras du Mesnil.

Mr. Francois Dupre's DELKO (Tanerko-Relance, 111) a three-parts brother to the Washington International winner Match 111 won his first two races and was beaten just over five lengths into fourth place behind Hula Dancer in the G-and-C Critterium. He is rated 9 lb. below the winner and 3 lb. superior to H. H. Karim Aga Khan's DARRANOUR (Sunny Boy 11-Danira) who finished fifth in the Grand Critterium and won two of his other three outings including the valuable Prix Morisy at Deauville.

Lismore Notes

DEATH OF MRS. C. FARRELL It is with deep and sincere regret we record the death of Mrs. Catherine Farrell, who died on Thursday morning last, after a long illness. As well known and highly esteemed lady, she will be sadly missed by all, especially by her sorrowing sons and daughters, to whom we tender our deepest sympathy.

The remains were removed to St. Carthage's Church on Friday evening, and were received and blessed by Very Rev. Canon Dunphy, P.P., assisted by Rev. Fr. Slattery, C.C. The burial took place on Saturday and the same clergy officiated. Large corteges were present both at funerals and burials.

ATHLETICS

Considering how little training was done, owing to the inclement weather, the Lismore Novice Cross-Country team did quite well, finishing third in the Waterford Novice Cross-Country championship held at Duhallow on Sunday last, and with the additional training required, they can look forward to the remainder of the season with great confidence.

News has just been received of the Munster Council's decision as selecting and honouring Lismore with this year's Munster senior cross-country championship, due to be staged on March 10th. Undoubtedly, Lismore can boast of having one of the finest courses in the county but to be bestowed with this race is indeed a great honour to the local club, and we know that the very energetic committee, headed by Joe Wheahan, will have everything ready and up to their proud standard.

DEATH OF MISS E. O'DONNELL

The death took place in the morning of the 15th inst. of Miss E. O'Donnell, who had been suffering from illness for some time.

AGLISH MAN SAW HOW IT WAS DONE IN THE U.S.

An invitation from the U.S. Government a valuable opportunity of observing American farming techniques to an Aglish man.

He is Mr. Michael Barry who is deputy secretary of the Department of Agriculture and has just returned from a three months stay in America. His time was divided between academic pursuits in Washington and Pittsburgh and an extensive travel programme which was designed by the United States Department of Agriculture to acquaint him with procedures and problems of interest in his home job.

ANNOUR (Sunny Boy 11-Danira) who finished fifth in the Grand Critterium and won two of his other three outings including the valuable Prix Morisy at Deauville.

Tailpiece: The publication of the foregoing handicaps was followed at the end of December by the appearance of the first list of Winter prices of the English Derby. Produced by one of the major London firms seventeen colts received quotations from 10/1 to 33/1 and twelve of these also hold the Irish Sweeps Derby engagements thereby making them qualifiers for that magnificent 'Double-Derby' success.

Had the bookmakers elected to form their prices exclusively on the basis of the Free Handicaps, they would have had to install CROCKET as favourite but as there is a question mark against his stamina, LE MESNIL and Happy Omen get preference at 10/1 with 12/1 offered about CROCKET, PARTHOLON and Star Moss. Then follow four 20/1 chances DARRANOUR, FOLLOW SUIT, RELKO and Merchant Venturer; an equal number at 25/1 FOREARMED, SCHOLAR GYPSY, TAROGGAN and TUDOR GREY, while 33/1 can be had about KING OF BABYLON, KING'S FAVOURITE, Coliseum and Portofino.

President's Address at National Symposium

The National Farmers' Association from the first has consistently urged that the Common Agricultural Policy of the Six offers to Irish Agriculture... The N.F.A. is determined that no default shall be permitted. For this reason we have decided that some examination in public of our present position and future prospects...

ing backwards for excuses, valid or otherwise for the slow growth in our exports of dairy products, livestock and beef. We must look to the future. As far as livestock and beef are concerned, it is generally accepted that our prospects for expansion are attractive. At present production costs here is no reason why our production should be expanded as rapidly as nature will allow. The two factors which could limit our successful development are available quantities of cattle and meat quality. Both are factors which are within our power to control in great measure. We can deliberately accelerate the growth of our cattle population; we can certainly swing our breeding policy and production methods to produce leaner meat. But given bright prospects and the capacity to step-up both the quantity and the quality of our exports, we are entitled to ask "What has been done so far at official level to gear up our production?" The answer is very simple. As yet we have not had a single measure to simulate directly the production of calves and carcasses. We must encourage progressive improvement towards leaner beef. We must encourage, therefore, insofar as official policy is concerned, that faced with good opportunities, this official policy has been ineffective and inefficient. Where leadership could produce solid results it is lacking. In these vital fields there is no official leadership.

The first effect of such an expansion would be to benefit milk producers. The second would be to create in rural areas new industrial employment in our creameries and processing plants. The processing of milk at present provides employment for some 4,700 workers. Even if we allow for a threefold increase in their productivity, a sevenfold increase in creamery throughput would still mean the creation of some 3,400 new jobs for industrial workers, mainly in rural districts. The secondary benefits to our whole economy from the circulation within our country of additional export earnings of £156 million (net increase) would be almost incalculable. Such a dairying development would in turn provide the foundation of calves for at least a threefold increase in our exports of live cattle and carcass beef. Their 1961 value of roughly £70 million would then be increased to more than £200 million. The increase in exports of dairy products and beef would then earn an additional £300 million of foreign exchange, which would provide the basis for an expanding national economy.

The National Farmers' Association insists that the Government shall now exhibit, in building up our backbone industries of milk and cattle, the same vigour and determination with which it has consistently fostered enterprises such as motor car assembly and the nitro-tor factory. We must have imaginative and positive leadership in planning and action. This sort of approach was well illustrated in an address last month by a European Minister of Agriculture speaking to a meeting of agricultural leaders in his country. He said: "New markets are greater and which give, even under present conditions, a better return to the milk producer. The second fallacy is that we will not be able to sell our dairy produce. Given a new imaginative and dynamic marketing effort, this is untrue today and will be even less true under Common Market conditions. The unjustified presumption is that butter in the E.E.C. context will be over supplied. It is dairy more obvious that within the E.E.C. control of the butter market involves an absolute necessity the control also of margarine and other butter substitutes. A comprehensive control of European level, both of increasing butter consumption and of supporting milk prices for European farmers. As an Association we strongly support this concept. We trust that our Government has already accepted the necessity of such a policy and that in due course it will indicate to the Commission of the Six its support for a comprehensive policy for controlling not only the market in butter, but also in butter substitutes. Turning to milk, if we compare our achievement in dairying with those of the Netherlands, we find that they, with some 5.7 million acres of agricultural land, (approximately the same as Ireland) produced in 1961 some 1,440 million gallons of milk, while we in Ireland, from more than double the Netherlands acreage, produced only just over 600 million gallons. If we were to step-up our output on our larger acreage to the same level as theirs, this additional output, less the amount needed for calf-rearing, would go into manufacture. This would mean that the intake of our creameries would be multiplied almost sevenfold. This would correspond at present prices to an increase in our dairy exports from the 1961 figure of £9.76 million to more than £166 million yearly. Since no significant increase in home consumption of milk products is foreseen.

only be prepared to ask farmers to remain reasonable and restrained in their price demands when I am convinced, by concrete measures, of the Government's intention drastically to reduce our costs and to plan jointly with producers the future of Irish farming." Subsequently in the Budget the Government made a substantial gesture to farmers, which we regarded as an indication in reduction of our costs. Shortly afterwards, on the issue of the imposition of the levy of a penny a gallon on milk, you in Munster took a decision in favour of action rather than negotiation. You may remember that I then asked you to hold your hands. But your decisions and feelings were conveyed to the Government and the penny came back. Today circumstances have changed. It is no longer a question of long term subsidies. It is a question of quick decisive short-term direct measures to produce a sharp up-swing in production before we enter the Common Market. Our milk producers now have by far the lowest milk price of all the Common Market countries. In Ireland it is 1/7d. per gallon, while in the Netherlands it is 2/4d. and in Germany 2/7d. The future benefits arising from taking a substantial and immediate step towards successful dairying and livestock are prices would make the expenditure involved a sound investment. So that, if twelve months or even six months ago, you listened to counsels of restraint, now today at the onset of an Common Market or no Common Market, our survival as a viable community depends to a great extent of our handling of the sector in the time that lies immediately ahead. As dairy farmers, therefore, we can no longer be fobbed off with promises of something to come. We have got to have considerable capital investment in this industry. The Leader of our Government has said that this should be a push year for the Irish people. Let us therefore, as dairy farmers, begin this year with a great push forward secure in the knowledge that we have the solid backing of this now-powerful nation-wide farming organisation, in order to achieve a better income for ourselves.

Extract from address by Mr. T. J. Maher, Chairman NFA National Dairy Committee -

The Dairy Industry is the bedrock upon which our whole economy rests. We have heard this statement so often that we tend to overlook its real importance, but of late it has come to have a new significance. Many of the industries which we were given to believe were playing a vital part in our economic development have now, as a result of investigation, been shown up in their true light and have been proven to be of no value whatever. They are in fact a drag on our economic development. It is vital, therefore, that our dairying industry, which has for so long been the victim of gross official neglect, should now get the treatment which it so richly deserves.

GORSE FIRES

Youghal Fire Brigade, on Sunday last, was summoned to extinguish a gorse fire which threatened two wooden pylons carrying the high tension cables at the bridge overlooking the sea. There being no water available at this spot, the members of the brigade, assisted by E.S.B. employees beat at the fires and rained some relief at hand in the event of a re-occurrence. Were it not for the prompt arrival of the brigade, the pylons and cables might have been completely destroyed.

KILGOBINET DRAMATIC SOCIETY

The Kilgobinet Dramatic Society staged the three act play Mungo's Mansion by Walter Macken to a packed house in Coolnasmar N.S. on Sunday, January 13th. The play turned out in style and gave a first class production having had so much disappointment owing to the severe snow blizzards which left the area without power for the past two weeks. This production was originally planned for December 20th and now thanks to the untiring efforts of the E.S.B. staff, light was restored on Sunday and made possible the performance and so the start of yet another season.

Stage manager Gerry Connors and the back stage staff had everything in readiness for the cast which include Sean Walsh in the leading part of Mungo King, as usual was a treat to watch from night to night.

Laurence Byrne in his characteristic impersonation of Mungo King could best be described as excellent. Mary Harrington making her first appearance with the club proved her ability to act in the first class portrayal of Nellie King. May Walsh in her characterization of Winnie Kealey and Jim Whelan as Mungo's Canavan were the humorous characters and had the audience laughing their hearts out throughout the play. Thomas Dunford as the Rev. Nicholas was well cast in this play and is surely a find for the Club. Michael Horan as Jack Manie's friend excellently one of the many official roles of the play. Sheila Hekey as Mrs. Mungo in a very brief appearance put over her part in perfect fashion. Berny Power in his part of the Doctor really gave a first class performance.

Patience for the group is popular Rev. M. Farrell, C.C., and is to be congratulated on the success of the play. Fr. Farrell left no stone unturned during the past month to ensure the smooth running of Mungo's Mansion. He also acted as M.C. and concert items after the play were rendered by Margaret and Billy Kelly, Berny Power, Tom Corcoran, James and Thomas Whelan, and local school children who gave a selection of reels and hornpipes on their flutes.

Patrons of the Kilgobinet Dramatic Society can now look forward to seeing this play in the various halls throughout the county during the next few months.

WITH THE HARRIERS

Kinsalebeg-Cashmore Harriers met at Lickey on Sunday and despite the hard weather a couple of good runs were obtained ending with two kills. The first two covers tried proved blank but hounds soon found a brace by the river. Staying with one the pack had a brisk run through Kilgobinet, where he was the finding place where he was killed. Another fox was also routed here and run down in a short time.

The meet for next Sunday is at Cashmore at 1.30.

A TEAM OF SURPRISES

Not for many years has a Munster hurling team received such a mixed reception as the one chosen on Saturday last to play Ulster in the Railway Cup semi-final on February 24.

As expected, All-Ireland champions, Tipperary, supply the bulk of the players, having no less than seven representatives, with three others included in the substitute list.

Waterford's quota is a mere two Jimmy Byrne and Joe Condon, both of whom must have been automatic choices.

Strong claims could have been made for such as Austin Flynn, Tom Cheasty and Mick Flannelly but the inclusion of one or more of this trio for the final (the Ulster challenge can be discounted) would not weaken this side in any way.

CHRISTY RING... on the Munster team for the 22nd time.

Last time, on the fringe of the square, this will be Ring's 22nd year playing in the inter-provincial series and it is not beyond the bounds of possibility that he will celebrate this "coming of age" year with vintage displays.

Another veteran that still retains the confidence of selectors is Jimmy Smith of Clare but the selection of his county colleague Jim Cullinane is one of the major surprises.

The team is: M. Cashman (goal), J. Brohan (Cork), M. Maher (Tipp.), John Doyle (D.), McGerry (Limerick), T. Walsh (Tipp.), J. Byrne (Waterford), Joe Condon (Waterford), T. English (Tipp.), J. Doyle (D.), J. Cullinane (Clare), D. Nealon (Tipp.), D. Deane (D.), C. Ring (Cork), J. Smith (Cork).

Subs: K. Carey (Tipp.), M. Burns (D.), P. J. Keane (Limerick), Tom Ryan (Tipp.), F. Walsh (Waterford).

WILL MEET KERRY Four Waterford men have been chosen on the Rest of Munster team to meet Kerry in a trial game at Tralee on February 3d. After this game the side to play in the inter-provincial semi-final will be announced.

The hunted Deise men are Sean Ormond (goal), Mick Connolly (centre-back), Monty Gully (right-half-forward) and Brendan Coughlan (centre-forward). Tommy Power of Ennis is a sub on the selection.

The selection committee were Hurling - Pat Stake, Tom Maher (Clare), Willie Power (Waterford), Mick Mackey (Limerick), Con Murphy (Cork).

Football: John Joe Sheehy (Kerry), P. A. Murphy (Cork), S. C. O'Neil (Limerick), S. O'Gorman (Clare), Willie O'Dwyer (Tipp.).

MUNSTER CHAMPIONSHIP DRAWS At the Saturday's Munster meeting in Limerick, the following Munster Championship draws were made:

Senior Hurling - "A" Tipperary, "B" Cork v. Clare, "C" Galway v. Limerick, Ennis Juniors v. "D" Waterford a bye.

Senior Football - Kerry a bye,

Waterford v. Cork, June 9th, Clare v. Tipperary, June 2nd; Winners play Kerry in semi-final on June 23rd. Final on July 14th.

Waterford's intermediate hurlers and junior footballers are drawn against Cork at Midleton on April 28th. The winners of both grades meet Tipp of Limerick in the semi-finals on May 19th or 26th.

In minor hurling Waterford are at home to Kerry in Liswinery on July 7th in the semi-final.

The under eighteen footballers meet Cork in the open round at a Waterford venue on May 19th.

A QUIET CONVENTION One of the quietest and most uneventful was the opinion of most delegates who attended the Western Convention at Carrigrohane on Sunday last.

The outgoing Chairman, Secretary and Treasurer were all returned unopposed, while Faddy Kenneally (outgoing) scored a sweeping victory over Mick White and Mess Pollard for the vice-chairmanship. Kenneally obtained 104 votes as against 21 for White and 8 for Pollard.

The contest for the three positions of representatives to the Co. Board provided the most surprises of the convention. Two of the three outgoing men, Johnny Coffey and Michael Culloo were defeated and replaced by Dunganvian Mickie Tobin and John McKenna (Brickeys).

John McKenna (Brickeys) was the only outgoing representative to be re-elected. Toby headed the poll with 42 votes (quota 34). After the sixth count McKenna polled 34. After seven counts, Fraher was elected without reaching the quota tallying 32 votes. Incidentally Fraher received the greatest number of first preference votes 21, while Toby only received 13 number ones.

"SENSATIONALISM" Chairman, Nicolas Mac Craith, in a lengthy address to the Convention, dealt with among other things, so called "sensationalism" by the local Press.

He pointed out that the "sensationalism" was in the mind of the Chairman when these accusations were being made. Sensationalism was his opinion on the matter written that righty schoolmaster, the misadventure of teams and players during the past year.

When the writer saw fit to write a book he did so unbiasedly but when he laws of journalism were broken, he did not give an accurate account of what had happened. This then is the Chairman's idea of sensationalism. No comment of course is made of the many praise-worthy accounts of Divisional games but when criticism is called for and given, the Board officers are up in arms.

Mr. Mac Craith also refers to the incidents as isolated ones, who is Mr. Mac Craith trying to bluff. The truth is of times bitter and no one can ever attempt to conceal, with honesty these all too common explosions on the field of play in a way it is difficult to explain.

JOHN MCKENNA (Brickeys) re-elected as representative to the Co. Board.

Mr. Mac Craith also refers to the incidents as isolated ones, who is Mr. Mac Craith trying to bluff. The truth is of times bitter and no one can ever attempt to conceal, with honesty these all too common explosions on the field of play in a way it is difficult to explain.

Officers Elected The following is the complete list of officers elected at the Convention: Chairman, Nicolas Mac Craith, vice-go, P. Kenneally, hon. treas., Tom Walsh (Fourmilwaters), Secretary - Seamus O'Brien (Abbeville), reps. to Co. Board: Mick Mackey, John McKenna, John Fraher.

FOOTBALLER-CUM-ACTOR

Vincent E. ne, the Enniscorthy and Waterford football star, turned dramatist this week when he excelled in Dunganvian Drama Club's production "Night Must Fall" at the Friary Hall. His acting was of a brilliant high standard and drew rounds of applause from an appreciative audience.

Vincent, who is a well known and has gained recognition by the Waterford senior football selectors.

DEATH OF NOTED DEISE FOOTBALLER

Mr. Richard (Dick) Mulcahy, C.E.O. Col. Club in Vocational Education Committee who died this week was a native of Waterford and one of the best footballers ever to wear the county jersey.

A native of Fenor for whom he starred in the club's halcyon days, he also wore the Dunganvian Blue when teaching in the town in the early 30's.

Amongst his Old Boys' team mates of that period were Jim Forde, Pats (R.I.P.) and Jack O'Donnell, Pakeen Whelan, Eddie Sparr, Murray Mahoney and Pax Whean, all of whom can vouch for his brilliance on the field.

Yet another former Deise Great has answered The Reeper's Call. As theis Deise a ban.

STRAUBALLY A.G.M.

The annual general meeting of the Straubally G.A.A. Club will be held in the Clubhouse on Wednesday night next, January 23rd at 8.30 p.m. All members and intending members are requested to attend.

TOURIN A.G.M.

The annual general meeting of the Tourin hurling and football club took place on Friday night last and was attended by a large number of members.

The outgoing chairman, Mr. Bob McGath, welcomed and thanked the members for their attendance and remarked that it had not been a great year for Tourin, but they had put up a better show than many people had expected and if training was taken a little bit more serious, 1963 could realise our ambitions.

After some lengthy discussions the following officers were elected for the coming year: President - Tom Fives; vice-go, Patk. O'Brien; Chairman, Willie Doocey; vice-go, John J. O'Donnell; Secretary - John J. Scanlon; ass. go, John O'Gorman; Treasurer, Ollie Wilkinson; Committee - Jim Cullender, Tommy Barry, Tom Regan and John O'Neil. Hurling captain - Bob McGath; Football: Captain - Tom Sullivan.

Selection Committee: Chairman, Secretary and Captains (to apply in both codes). At the close of the meeting, a vote of sympathy was passed to members who had suffered bereavements during the year. It was also decided to hold a social which will be held on the 24th of February. Incidentally the closing date for membership of the club is Easter Sunday, and membership fee is 2/6.

AS the County continues to shiver in the icy spell, the majority of Gaels find contentment in the warmth of a winter fire on Sunday afternoons. But the meeting of Kilgobinet and Clashmore in the Winter junior football league at Cappelquin this coming Sunday seems certain to entice many would-be fire-sitters to the Cornerstone venue for a game that should provide spectators with a fine hour's entertainment.

Kilgobinet have made a flying start to this tourney and in their opening game trounced county champions Ring to the tune of 6-5 to 1-1. In carving out that clear-cut victory, Kilgobinet served notice on all likely opponents that they are a rising power and Sunday affords them yet another opportunity of proving just how good they really are.

They will be extra keen to add the name of Primary champions, Clashmore, to their list of conquered and thereby complete "a grand slam" of victories over reigning title-holders in the West.

DELIGHT TO WATCH

In to-morrow they are delighted to watch Against the Gaeltacht side they proceeded to over-ran the opposition with an ease that was little short of baffling and a repeat performance could gain them another success on Sunday.

Not that they face an easy task against Clashmore. The West Waterford side has earned County-wide recognition for their impressive display in securing the Primary crown.

PETER POWER... captains Kilgobinet for the first time on Sunday.

In '62 and there are more than a few good players who rate them as good if not better than most junior combinations.

The forthcoming outing could well give a clue as to their true potential. Kilgobinet will undoubtedly prove top class opponents and a win for them would boost their morale even further.

BEST AVAILABLE SIDE

For the game they intend to field their best available side which means their challenge will be spearheaded by such

St. Mary's A.C. Make It Three-in-a-Row

For the third successive year St. Mary's A.C. Dunganvian won the novice Cross-Country Championship at Dunhill on Sunday last. Besides winning the team award with a total of 35 points, they also supplied the individual winner in Jim Sheehan. For good measure they filled third place as well with Arthur Sheehan. Sardinia between the Dunganvian pair in second place was J. Murphy of Waterford A.C.

Under such trying conditions it was a magnificent achievement by the Dunganvian Club. All members of the team finished the course and had a six point margin to spare over runners-in Dunhill.

The following were the members of the St. Mary's team that they finished in the order that they are given: Jim Sheehan, Arthur Sheehan, Eddie Moore, Jas. Foxes (Bussey), Jackie Sparr, Tony Maher, John Vincent, John, Tom, George.

Mr. Jack Tobin, Chairman, presided at the quarterly meeting of the Dunganvian Branch Committee of the Association of Traditional Musicians held at Dungarvan Court House at the week-end.

It was decided to hold the branch annual general meeting at the Court House on Friday, January 25th, this decision being later amended to the holding of the A.G.M. at the Technical School on the same date immediately after the conclusion of the class in traditional Irish music. Arrangements are in the hands of Secretary Mr. E. Feehan.

A vote of condolence was passed with Mr. Jimmy Coffey, O.D. Parish on the recent death of his father, the late Mr. Denis Coffey.

Local Happ's. The three awards will be presented at the Association's annual dinner in Dublin in March.

Mick O'Connell, Native of Valentia Island and 25 years old, is one of the greatest midfielders of all time and a supreme football artist. He reached his highest peak as an outstanding performer in the game last year when he became the leading player in Kerry's 20th All-Ireland triumph. He the leading player in Kerry's colours as a 1955 minor and was first on the senior team early the following year. He has played as half-forward as well as midfielder and was picked for Munster and the Combined Universities.

John Doyle, the only player with nine National League medals wins the hurling award for his displays throughout a year in which he became the first Tipperary man to win a sixth All-Ireland senior medal. One of the great minors in a county, but has produced many superb players in that grade. He was on the Tipperary minor team in 1946, '47 and '48. First appeared on the senior team in 1949. He has played with Munster and the Rest of Ireland.

Remaining places in the ballot: Football: 6 - T. Livers (Kerry) and J. McDonnell (Cavan); 7 - S. Murphy (Kerry) and R. Moran (Roscommon); 8 - G. Hughes (Off.); 9 - P. Holden (Dublin); F. Walsh (Gal.); R. Harte (Dublin); and C. are expected from the one that shattered Ring's hopes so decisively.

STRONG DEFENCE

Their defence is a strong if unimpressive one, while Nicholas and Peter Power form a top-class midfield partnership. As a matter of interest, Peter will skipper the side for the first time on Sunday.

Against Ring, the forwards "went to town" in rare style and in all probability the same six will be retained. Stylish Joe Power is the schemer in chief, while Mick Keating and Ned Hanley can turn the slightest opportunities into scores.

Given reasonable conditions, this should be a top class game. Both sides are capable of great football and while Kilgobinet's display against Ring entitles them to the role of favourites, they could well come a cropper against a side that has already proved its own ability.
