Found Hiding Under Bed

The story of how a "founder" was caught hiding under a bed in the licensed premises of Laurence Draper, Ballinacorney, Ring, by a Garda after drinking hours on Sunday, 3rd February last, was told to Justice L. B. Skinner at Dungarvan District Court on Wednesday.

The charge of a breach of the licensing laws against Draper was dismissed, as was the charge against the "founder" William Hally, also of Ballinacorney, Ring.

Sergt. P. Mulroy, Ring, said he called to Draper's premises on the Sunday evening at 3 p.m. He was admitted by Mrs. Draper and after searching the house found Hally hiding under a bed. When asked what he was doing there, Hally replied "nothing". The licensee was in bed, but was fully clothed. He said he had rheumatism. He found a glass and stout bottle in the kitchen.

Cross-examined by Mr. A. R. Farrell, Solicitor, Hally said he was in the premises Mrs. Draper admitted that there was one man inside. She helped to look for him and they found him under the bed. She also admitted that he had a drink on the premises.

Mrs. Margaret Draper, wife of the licensee, said she opened the door to Sergt. Mulroy when he called. She told him William Hally was on the premises visiting her husband who was in bed. She told him Hally was in the bathroom when they tried he was not there. She was surprised and searched the house for him. She eventually found him hiding under a bed. She was very surprised and saw no reason why he should be there as he had been invited. Her husband was suffering from rheumatism and was unable to get up.

To Supl. Costello, prosecuting, witness said Hally was in the premises at 12.40 and left but returned again before 2 p.m. He was served with drink before 2 p.m. and he brought it with him to the kitchen.

Supl. Costello—What was Hally doing under the bed?

Witness—I don't know.

Supl. Costello—I suggest that he was trying to conceal himself from the Sergeant and what was your husband doing fully clothed in bed?

Witness—He was not fully clothed in bed.

The defendant, Mr. Laurence Draper said he agreed with the evidence of his wife. He was in bed that day and was not fully clothed. He had a light pullover on. Mr. Hally was a personal friend of his and was an invitee. He (Hally) had no reason to be under the bed and had not got unnecessarily drunk.

Dismissing the charge Judge Skinner said there was no evidence that drink was consumed after hours.

CALL TO REDUCE ENGINEERING STAFF County Council Strike Highest Ever Rate

FOR six long hours on Saturday last the members of Waterford County Council sought every means at their disposal to keep the County's rate for 1963/64 at as low a figure as was humanly possible. At this—their second attempt within a week,

The Estimates meeting was first held on Monday of last week but after an evening-long discussion was adjourned to the following Saturday, having reduced the Estimates by £900, a mere three-farthings. This amount was taken from the £2,900 allotted for Engineers' travelling expenses.

Throughout Saturday's sitting it was obvious that drastic measures would have to be taken if the ratepayers were to receive any relief this year. Every item listed by Mr. S. J. Moynihan (Co. Manager) was scrutinised thoroughly in an effort to effect savings, and over a recommendation to the Manager, proposed by Col. W. Foran, that they reduce the number of engineers in the county from ten to eight was carried by 11-2 votes.

At the outset of Saturday's meeting Col. P. Lannon said they could take a slice of the £1400 for Engineers' salaries.

Col. C. Curran (Chairman)—We cannot do that.

Col. K. O'Riain asked if they could do with less engineers.

Col. Lannon said there was a lot of dissatisfaction over the number of engineers they had. A lot of the number of architects who were the engineers qualified to do a job. They were a man of a little house with four walls and a roof.

The Co. Manager said regarding the decision of the Council to reduce the amount for engineers' travelling expenses from £2,900 to £2,000, all engineers would have a stop travelling when the £2,000 had been spent.

Col. R. Walsh said they were getting very little co-operation from the engineers.

HAD NOT EXPRESSED HIM

Col. J. Fahey said the Co. Engineer had not expressed him regarding the amount of supervision carried out by the engineers. He personally reported a cottage for repairs but without it being inspected by anyone was to be in need of repairs.

Col. R. Walsh—Therefore it was all bluff on the part of the officials.

Col. Fahey—Yes, any reductions we bring about it is the roadworkers who will get the hammer. As far as I can see we don't need all the engineers we have in the county.

Replying to Col. M. Galgey, the Co. Engineer said all the engineers travelling expenses came through him for payment.

Col. Galgey said he couldn't understand why an engineer had to travel to the one place three or four times a day. That was over-appearing by the engineers and there was no need for them to get contrary just because they got their travelling expenses by £900 for the coming year.

Col. Lannon said they had ten engineers in the county who were getting £73 (approx.) between them intravelling expenses every week. One of them was averaging £107.0 a week in expenses.

Col. R. Walsh said that £10 a week travelling expenses on top of a salary was ridiculous.

Mr. Hally said the employment of consultants and by his own proposal to stand by their findings.

Col. Lannon said the Audit Commission's report on supervision in the Council's services in Dungarvan showed that the work could be done by one man.

Col. Curran said he would hold with Mr. Hally regarding they finally struck a rate of 48/6½ in the £ which represents an increase of 3/0½ over the current year's figure but a reduction of 2/11¼ on the County Manager's demand for an increase of 5/11¼.

tainly taken the bull by the horns Mr. Dowd and I give you credit for that.

Replying to Col. Lannon, Mr. F. J. O'Leary (Co. Accountant) said legal expenses for the year were approximately £9,000. £3,000 was for vesting cottages at a rate of £4.40 a cottage and the other £6,000 was the legal advisers' expenses dating back a few years.

Col. Lannon said there was a law case over the sale of milk in Dungarvan and his information was if it had been handled properly it could have been settled reasonably out of Court. As things turned out the Health Authority had to pay for it.

Col. W. Foran proposed and Col. J. Fahey seconded that they reduce the number of engineers in the county.

CRIMINAL SET-UP

Col. Foran said it was a criminal set-up to have ten engineers in the county. Not long ago they had only two engineers and there was great work. He believed they could adequately run the County with eight engineers.

The Chairman, Col. Curran, said he was suggesting that instead of clearing off a debit balance of £28,000 in one year, that they spread it over three years—£9,000 during the coming year and £10,000 for each of the following two years. He also proposed that the £17,067-increase in the amount for Main Roads be taken off, leaving the same figure as at present.

Col. F. Roche seconded. The Accountant said if the Chairman's proposal was agreed to it would represent a reduction of 2/1 in the Estimate.

Col. F. Roche said their hands were tied by the rotten Managerial system and the sooner the people realised that one man controlled about 75% of the Estimates the better. He was not blaming the man concerned but the system, which was brought in for a political reason.

Col. Curran—The Managerial system has a lot to commend it.

Col. Galgey—How much do we owe altogether in the Bank?

Co. Accountant—The capital debt at the end of last year was £1,135,000.

Col. Galgey—By getting over-drafts we keep Bank officials instead of our own. We would be better off having the people paying rates rather than keeping Bankers on overdrafts. If would sooner pay the engineers to do our jobs rather than the Bankers just to keep our accounts.

Col. R. Walsh said if they agreed to Col. Curran's proposal they would only be putting off the evil day. The debit balance would have to be paid sometime, he said.

Col. Dowd said if the Council members individually had to strike a rate they would do the right thing. Collectively they were doing the wrong thing and were all prepared to share the blame. That was the most weak-kneed policy he had ever come across in his life.

Col. Lannon—By not paying his way the Council would lose grants. There is too much of this debit balance thing.

Col. Curran—By reducing the amount for Main Roads, there is no question of road workers being let off.

Col. M. Harty said the farmers were hawking their own produce and trying to get buyers. There was no market for what they had to a lot of them could save £2,000 by charging 3d. per book.

Col. N. Walsh said that was illegal and they could not do it.

Mrs. Hayes said they had a lovely new van supply 11 branches and 69 schools but the books in it were a disgrace.

Col. Dowd asked that they pass the proposed estimate of £11,105. The Library Committee had been hopelessly abused over the past few years and he now proposed that they increase the £11,105.

Col. Curran said the public would have to accept reduced services.

Col. Cahill proposed that they reduce the figure by £1,500 was then carried by 11-3.

Col. Dowd then proposed that they give £10,000 out. This was also defeated 11-3.

Col. Dowd—Posterly, Ye're nearly as bad as Cromwell. I hope ye are proud of yourselves.

Aglish Man Returned for Trial

CHARLES WARE (22), Dromore, Aglish was returned for trial to the Circuit Criminal Court in Waterford in May, when the taking of depositions concluded before Judge L. B. Skinner at Dungarvan District Court on Wednesday. Ware is charged with driving at a speed and in a manner dangerous to the public at Springmount, Dungarvan, on November 15th last thereby causing the death of 17-year-old Catherine Theresa Burke, Clooncogaile Ballinamult.

Dr. John McNamara, Ardmore, said he carried out a post mortem examination on the body of Miss Burke. He found a deep laceration on the left temple, lacerations on the right side of the face and forehead and multiple other injuries. Death was due in his opinion to shock and haemorrhage due to fracture of the left leg and multiple superficial injuries. The injuries would be consistent with the deceased being struck with a motor car.

Garda James Winters, Dungarvan, said he arrived at the scene of the accident at the Spring, Dungarvan, at 8.40 p.m. on Nov. 15th. He saw a Morris 1000 car parked on the left side of the roadway facing Dungarvan. He saw a number of people beside the car and asked if the driver was present. Charles Ware, Dromore, Aglish said he was the driver. He told him that he knocked down a girl and injured her and had her removed to the District Hospital. Ware pointed out a spot on the road which he said was the point of impact. This spot was nine feet six inches from the left side of the road facing Dungarvan and 153 ft. from the rear of the Morris car. It was 96 feet from the nearest public light and 66 ft. from the centre of the County Home gate.

Ware, he said, also pointed out a pool of blood on the left side of the roadway beside the footpath. He stated that he found a girl sitting by the edge of the path at that point after the accident. That pool of blood was 94 feet to the rear of the defendant's car and 59 feet from the point of impact.

Garda Winters said he examined the defendant's car and the windscreen was smashed and the glass was completely missing on the left side. The right front mudguard had been pulled outward and cracked behind the wheel. The lamp on the E.S.B. pole on the Dungarvan side was not lit.

Sergt. Morgan Hayes, Dungarvan, said he spoke to the defendant at the scene of the accident. Ware said he was the driver of a Morris car and

CASE AGAINST ABBEYSIDE PUBLICAN ADJOURNED

A charge against Mrs. Alice Kieley, Sexton Street, Abbeyside, for a breach of the licensing laws at 1.05 a.m. on May 29th last, was adjourned for six months by Judge Skinner at the local District Court on Wednesday. Two men were "found-on."

Sergt. J. Browne said at 1.05 a.m. on May 29th he was passing the defendant's premises when he heard noise inside. Mrs. Kieley let him in and said one of the men had been invited for tea and the other for a chat. The two men were in the kitchen which was practically a continuation of the bar. Both men said they were invited for tea. There were fresh signs of drink in the bar.

To Mr. E. P. King, Solicitor, defending, witness said the "found-ons" had no drinks in their hands.

Mr. King said there was no evidence of drinking after hours and asked to dismiss the case. Both men were invited.

Judge Skinner said he would adjourn the case for 3 months to see how the licensee got on. But in the meantime she would have to get new accommodation for her guests.

Kilmacthomas News

Due To Last Season's Severity shamrock is very scarce on both sides of the Mahon and local people who usually send a supply to relatives and friends overseas had much difficulty in securing sufficient quantities this season.

Passing of Prominent and Popular Bank Manager.—Son of the late Dr. and Mrs. J. P. O'Byrne, M.O., Kilmacthomas; brother of Mr. Laurence (Larry) O'Byrne, Stonebrook Lodge, do., and first cousin of Mr. M. A. (Melo) Walsh, Ballydo., was Mr. Myles J. O'Byrne, Manager of the National Bank, South Mall, Cork, whose death occurred unexpectedly at his residence, Alta Terrace, Monkstown, Co. Cork. Born barely fifty years ago in the Mahonstraddling little town, he was educated at Castleknock College, and was a front-rank figure in Cork City business, sporting and social circles.

Mr. O'Byrne became manager of the bank's head office in Cork on the retirement of Mr. E. Butler a few years ago. Before that he had been the respected manager of the Patrick Street (Cork) branch for a number of years and took over the bank's new spacious premises on the southern side of this thoroughfare when it was officially opened by Lord Pakemham (now the Earl of Longford), up to recently chairman of the National Bank. Mr. O'Byrne had previously succeeded the late Mr. James Fallan as manager of the old branch opposite Fr. Matthew Statue.

In his early years in the bank, Mr. O'Byrne served in the Ballyhannis, Kilkenny and Ballinasloe branches prior to being transferred to Cork City more than two decades of annals ago. He became prominently associated with the business life of the Munster capital and was a great worker on a number of bodies linked with its advancement in the commercial and cultural spheres. He was Hon. Treasurer of the Cork Business Publicity Association and devoted considerable time and energy to the activities of same. Golf was his principal form of recreation and he was immensely popular in every circle in which he moved, his pleasant disposition and honesty of purpose gaining for him a multitude of firm friends.

There was an extremely large and representative attendance at the removal of the remains to the nearby Church of the Sacred Heart, Monkstown, and at the funeral, which took place to the cemetery adjoining the Church of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross, Tramore where the Rev. M. O'Donovan, C.C., do., officiated. The funeral was assisted by Very Rev. J. Hartly, P.P., Killorossant; Rev. M. J. Morrissey, C.C., Cabell, and Rev. M. Carbery, C.M., Castleknock College.

Immediate chief mourners were: Mrs. Mary O'Byrne (widow); Messrs. Myles and Walter O'Byrne (sons); Mrs. Hassett, Limerick; and Miss Irene O'Byrne (daughters).

Recent Cross-Channel Wedding of Local Interest.—Worthy members of two very esteemed Irish Catholic families were united in the sacred bonds of matrimony on a recent date in St. Margaret Mary's Parish Church, Perry Common, Edington, Birmingham, when the revered pastor thereof was celebrant of the marriage ceremony between Mr. Cornelius Boyle, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Boyle, Dungleigh, Co. Donegal, and Miss Catherine Wall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wall, Lsnageragh, Bonmahon, Waterford.

The charmingly attired bride, who radiated happiness, had in attendance as bridesmaids her sister and her cousin—the Misses M. Wall and P. Ashton, respectively. She was given away by her brother, Mr. T. Wall. The best man was Mr. J. Boyle (brother of the bridegroom).

During the ceremony appropriate music was discussed by the church organist.

There were some sixty guests at the reception, which was held in an adjacent hotel.

The happy couple, who enjoy a distinctly expansive circle of friends, were the recipients of a large array of serviceable and costly wedding presents. Here's warmly wishing all prosperity and happiness to both.

Incidentally, the bride's father, who is an estate steward at Glenbeg, Dungarvan, was the excellent goalie on the formidable Stradbally senior football team of his early years (when he was affectionately called "Fox") Wall, on and off the playing fields up and down the Deces. bless him.

Late Miss K. Cotter, S.E.N.—In January last this paper carried the sad tidings of the unexpected death (following an accident on Christmas Eve, near the London hospital to the staff of which she was attached) of Miss Kathleen Cotter, S.R.N., youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. (Tom) Cotter, Killorossant, Leamybrien, and sister of Miss Monica Cotter, do., Mrs. B. Strickland, S.R.N., Ontario, Canada, and Mr. John Cotter, Dorsetshire, England.

The estimable young lady's tragic passing was learned of throughout her native parish and county with the most poignant sorrow and regret, and many fervent prayers were offered up for her soul when the melancholy news became known.

Last week her remains were flown from London to Cork Airport, from where they were conveyed by motor-hearse to St. Bridget's Parish Church, Killorossant, where the coffin was received and blessed by Very Rev. Fr. James Hartly, P.P., do.

Subsequent to the celebration of Requiem Masses on Friday morning of last week, interment was made in the family burial ground in the adjoining cemetery. Very Rev. Fr. Hartly, P.P., gave the closing absolution at the graveside, attended by Rev. M. Barron, C.C., Killorossant, in the presence of a vast assembly of mourning relatives and friends from various parts of the Deces.

Shoals of Mass cards and of telegrams and letters conveying expressions of sympathy have been received. Possessed of a happy, friendly and helpful disposition, the late Miss Cotter was a universal favourite. As a ban-ann dils bean trocaire, a Chroí-Ro-Naofhaí Iosa. ### TALLOW GAELS PURCHASE PLAYING FIELD

What has been a headache for Tallow G.A.A. Clubs for many years, namely a field in which to play our national pastimes, has at last resolved itself. The club have purchased a field of about 10 acres quarter of a mile from the town at Roseville. It has been purchased for a sum in the region of £2,000. This is a bold move for the club and involves a lot of money, but it shows that Tallow can rise to great heights. A fund-raising campaign will soon start and we hope it meets with every success.

Freedom From Hunger Campaign Collection

The National Collection for the Freedom from Hunger Campaign is now reaching its peak period in Ireland.

As in every country participating in the campaign, Ireland will see during the week March 17th to 24th as a time of personal sacrifice for the poor. The Appeal to do this is nationwide in range and embraces all levels of the community.

Many are the ways and means in which participation can be expressed: from fasting days, doing without, part of a whole meal daily, simple meals, setting an example at each meal, or a simple franchise of the world hungry. In each case the money for the food or meal can be contributed to the Campaign.

Simplest participation of all, however, would be the arrangement for a penny-a-day collection for each member of every household, each child or student at school, each worker in the factory, workshop, business house or office, each individual at meetings of Board of Directors, Rotary Clubs, Professional and Sports Societies, Cultural and Educational Groups. In these groups there must be at least one individual who will issue the call and make the Penny-A-Day Collection.

Given this good will, one single penny from each citizen of the total population of this State, 2,814,704, should yield £93,823-8-8 to the Fund.

To help keep the expenses of the National Collection at a minimum, please do not ask for posters, advertisements or boxes. All needed are the goodwill and a glass jar or tin.

It does not matter how small a sum is sent to your local R.C. Branch or to the Headquarters of the Society, 25, West Wall, River

Lismore Notes

DEATH OF MR. MICHAEL McGRATH

It is with deep and sincere regret we record the death of Mr. Michael McGrath, Tourist, Lismore, which sad event occurred at his residence on Tuesday morning of last week, 5th March. The deceased gentleman, who had reached the ripe old age of a member of the farming community, and was very popular with all and had numerous friends. He will be sadly missed by all, but more especially by his sorrowing wife, sons and daughters, brothers and sisters, and relatives to whom we tender our deepest sympathy.

The remains were removed to St. Carthage's Church on Wednesday evening, and were received and blessed by Very Rev. Canon Murphy, P.P., V.F., assisted by Rev. Fr. Quilty, C.C., and Rev. Fr. Slattery, C.C.

Requiem Office and High Mass was offered for the happy repose of his soul on Thursday morning, and the burial took place immediately afterwards in the adjoining cemetery.

MUNSTER CROSS-COUNTRY CHAMPIONSHIPS A GREAT SUCCESS

The Munster Senior and Youths Cross Country Championships which were held at the Castle Farm, Lismore, on Sunday last, proved an outstanding success, and were witnessed by a very large crowd, considering the bad weather conditions. Great credit is due to the Lismore Athletic Club for having everything in perfect order, especially the way they had the course laid out, spectators only losing sight of the runners for a few minutes in each lap, while they were going down the Glen.

For Cork it proved a most successful evening, winning both team events, though they did not supply any of the winning individuals.

The winning individuals were, senior, Sean O'Sullivan, Limerick; youths, Pat Halpin, Clare. For the Tournafulla man Sean O'Sullivan it proved a facile victory. This was the first time many in the large crowd had seen this great athlete, here was the man who last year won eight national titles and the Calcutta award in athletics, and he did not disappoint the crowd, instead he gave a performance that caused many to ask, what is this man made of. At the end of the first of seven laps he had built up a 50 yards lead over his brother Michael, Willie Webb of Cork, Willie O'Dwyer, Tipperary and Tony Byrnes, Clare, with the rest of the field trailing far behind and incidentally the five runners mentioned were the first five home. By the end of the second lap he had increased this lead to 100 yards and by the end of the seven laps he had increased his lead over 600 yards. But Willie Sean had been demonstrating his wonderful skill, while Sean was taking place for second position two miles from home, Michael O'Sullivan was lying in second position, but was being challenged by Cork star Willie Webb. Eventually Willie Webb drew level with O'Sullivan but the Tournafulla runner, possessing some of his brother's great stamina, turned on the steam and had 30 yards to spare over the Kinsale man at the finish. The battle for team honours also proved very interesting and it is worthy to note that both Cork and Limerick finished with the same number of points (62), but Cork were awarded the title as their sixth scoring man finished in a higher position than his Limerick counterpart.

CLASHMORE I.C.A.

A meeting of the above guild was held in the National School recently. Mrs. Beresford presided and there was a large attendance of members. After the Secretary had read the minutes which were adopted and signed, the Treasurer then gave her report.

It was decided to revive the competition which used to be held at each monthly meeting and members were asked to write a short poem for the March meeting.

The President thanked the outgoing officers for their work during 1962, and two deputies were next appointed: Miss Linda Coughlan to Ann Graham and Miss M. J. Russell to the Federation.

The business part of the meeting then concluded and Mr. Donald Whean (accompanied by a Beg-an friend, Mr. Thomas Louwers, whose mother came from Dungarvan) tried to give us what proved to be a most interesting talk with slides on his holiday in Belgium. He showed us very many pictures of this gallant and lovely little country, which has risen from the horrors of two world wars in comparatively recent years. Mr. Louwers gave some very interesting details of his native Brussels. It was interesting to find that this gentleman speaks almost perfect English, as well as of course, French, and surprisingly, Irish also.

SYMPATHY
We extend our deepest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. M. Feeney, Main Street, Lismore, on the death of their infant child which sad event occurred on Saturday last.

STATION MASTER RETIRES

On February 28th last, Mr. Edward O'Connor, Stationmaster of Lismore, retired after 46 years service. Ned, as he affectionately known, has been in Lismore for over three years during which time he endeared himself to all and proved to be a very efficient stationmaster. It is interesting to note that he served in leading stations in Kerry, Clare, Limerick and Cork before taking up duty in Lismore in 1939 and while we wish Mr. O'Connor many happy years in retirement we would like to welcome our new stationmaster, Mr. Patk. G. O'Connor. Yes, a son of our former stationmaster, and Gerry, as he is more popularly known, has been stationmaster at Ballaghaderreen, Co. Roscommon for some time and we feel sure and confident that he will continue the great work already headed by his father.

What must well be termed the best for a good many years in regard to catches of salmon by net in Youghal, was last week, when the 13 boats operating from Youghal quays landed no less than 368 salmon. The fish being taken this season are still of good quality and are averaging around the 10 lbs. mark, and the best boat of the week accounted for 68 fish. This great run of fish seemingly did not show up in the river from Youghal to Cappoquin where the catches for the week were poor and the same applied to Knockadoon and Ardmore according to current reports. Last week's closing price was 4/- per lb., and on the opening days this week, when salmon were very scarce, the price dropped to 5/- due to the glut of fish in the English and Dab in markets.

LATE MR. WILLIAM TRIHY

Deep regret was occasioned in the town and surrounding district at the announcement of the death of a well known member of the community in the person of Mr. William Trihy, of 53 North Main Street which took place at Youghal Cottage Hospital, on Saturday last, after a prolonged period of illness. In his 80th year, the deceased was a member of an old established Youghal family and up to a few years ago had an extensive carriage building and painting establishment in the town. In his youth he was a great oarsman and figured prominently in outrigger and gig racing. During his lifetime he was a keen G.A.A. enthusiast and never missed an opportunity of seeing the Cork hurling team in action. A pioneer member of the Catholic Youghal Men's Society, he was one of the last of the Society's Old Dramatic Class. He is survived by his widow, son and daughter, to whom sincere sympathy is extended.

The removal of the remains to the Parish Church and interment at North Abbey Cemetery were largely attended and bore striking testimony of his popularity.

Waterford Scale The Heights LEAGUE POINTS WON IN THRILLER

Gaelic Jottings

A BRILLIAN DEISE PERFORMANCE

With a display so very reminiscent of their halcyon days in '59, Waterford brilliantly overcame a stubborn Cork challenge in a thrilling National Hurling League tie at the Athletic Ground on Sunday last.

In recording their 5-9 to 4-8 victory in conditions that seriously militated against quality hurling Waterford showed form that very definitely poses a threat to all championship and league contenders.

To beat this rejuvenated Cork side required a super effort on the part of the "Invaders" and Waterford duly obliged with a performance right out of the top drawer.

This was no game for weaklings, rather was it a full-blooded encounter in which no quarter was given or asked. From the start there was a championship fervour about the whole affair. To Waterford the league points were vital, but if Cork's hopes of taking the title had already died an unexpected death, their determination to beat the Deise side diminished nothing as a result.

For night on 50 minutes Waterford held a lead that was deserved on the run of play. But dramatically Cork drew level with a Ring goal and then with only nine minutes left went into a three point lead.

A goal in arrears and facing a strong breeze, Waterford looked booked for defeat. But in this crippling adversity these white and blue clad hurlers found new reserves; upfield they surged, sweeping aside all Leesiders resistance. Quickly the equaliser came and in a glorious closing spell they left Corkmen speechless as their sheer skill brought its reward with the winning scores.

Little wonder that a wave of enthusiasm is now sweeping the County. Back in the league race as serious contenders again, the game against Wexford at Walsh Park on Sunday week has a championship importance about it. Personally I have little doubt that a repeat of their Cork display would be good enough to halt the unbeaten run of the Slaneysiders. Let us hope that that Athletic Ground display is the forerunner for many more such superlative performances.

MUNSTER CAN REGAIN RAILWAY CUP

In these days of southern dominance in the hurling world it is unusual to find Munster in the role of challengers and outsiders in a national competition. But when the Province steps on to Croke Park on St. Patrick's Day to meet Leinster in the Railway Cup final the Eastern Province will be favourites to retain a title they sensationally snatched from the Munster men in the dying seconds of last year's final.

Both Munster and Leinster had facile semi-final victories over Ulster and Connacht respectively and while individually both are more than adequately served their real worth as a team is as yet untested. From the team that beat Ulster there are two changes in personnel on the Munster side. Tony Wall returns in place of county colleague Mick Burns while P. J. Keane is preferred to Clapman Jim Cullinane at centre-forward.

Waterford's actual team representation—as in the semi-final—is confined to Joe Condon at midfield and Jimmy Byrne at left full-back. Both are in top class at present and can be relied upon to play major parts in their side's attempted dethronement of the holders.

Despite Leinster's favouritism I cannot see Munster failing for the second year in succession. In vital sectors they appear to hold the trump cards and although there may be precious little in it at the end I expect the scales to be slightly tilted in Munster's favour at the close.

WINTER LEAGUE FINALS ON SUNDAY

Dungarvan stages a very attractive junior programme on Sunday next when the Winter Hurling and Football league final will be played. In football many neighbours Kilmihil and Ballinacorney try to outclass while the hurling leaders Ardmore and Geraldines into opposition for the second time in the space of a fortnight.

When these latter sides met in the Phelan Cup recently sparks flew throughout a red-hot encounter. That game did little to enhance the reputations of the clubs concerned and it is to be hoped that the standard of sportsmanship will be much higher on this occasion.

While both clubs are more renowned for their football achievements, they can when called upon serve up some top-class hurling. Ardmore, in particular, have made rapid progress in the code over the past few years and are all set to carry off their first junior hurling award for a long time.

Geraldines, of course, are thirsting to avenge that football defeat. They hope to field their strongest possible side and are confident of gaining victory. Not having seen the sides perform in the code recently makes one's task of forecasting the result a rare difficulty. Certain it is that the issue will be close and perhaps lady luck may be instrumental in deciding the tie.

INTRIGUING

The meeting of Ballinacorney and Kilmihil in the football decider presents an attractive one might even say an intriguing pairing. Both teams on their day can play stylish football and this final could be well above the ordinary junior class.

Kilmihil make no secret of their intentions to carry off the title on Sunday. Backboning their challenge will be former Ballinacorney stars Peter and Nicholas Power who mentors hope will be their inspirations on beating the opposition.

Ballinacorney, however, are a truly formidable side when the mood strikes them and such as Michael Kelly, the Hogans and Denis Barry could well upset Kilmihil's confidence.

Yet, while fully alive to the possibility of a County victory, Kilmihil must be given the vote. They have been actively engaged in recent weeks and their superior fitness may be enough to see them through.

WATERFORD 5-9 CORK 4-8

WHATEVER the future may hold in store for Waterford's senior hurlers, their claims to present day greatness were glowingly enhanced at the Cork Athletic

It was a struggle that in itself was magnificence personified. Treacherous underfoot conditions were a grave pre-match threat to the standard of hurling, but the teams made light of the sodden pitch to turn in a performance that thrilled 13,000 spectators for every minute of the sixty.

As I watched, at times awed by the skillfulness of many of the participants I felt it difficult to believe that this was not a vital championship battle. Into the fray both sides threw everything they had, at times with little regard for personal safety. On occasions exchanges became somewhat over-rubbed and tempers were frayed but fortunately it never came to anything serious and at the close handshakes were exchanged all round.

EXCELLENT QUALITIES. Scarcely can Waterford have revealed so many excellent qualities in victory. Dour and relentless, Cork in their "own backyard" issued a challenge that on Sunday would have beaten most. True, periodically they were outsped, yes, even outclassed by the Deise men, but always their fanatical dedication kept them in touch and for a stage near the end looked like carrying the day. Worthless though the league points were to them, they treated the test as a very vital one and never let up during a thrill-packed hour.

Thus did Waterford reveal in this tremendous challenge to the status. Having led for most of the way they were overhauled at a crucial period in a spine-tingling second half and then sensationally were led by three points with less than ten minutes remaining. Further more Cork had the assistance of a very strong breeze and with "their tails up" looked certain to sweep to victory.

Then the real potential of this Deise side was seen in its true perspective. Right through the opening half—at the end of which they led by 1-8 to 0-2, they had played a good sound hurling. For 15 minutes of the second-half they still shaped like impressive winners, despite the ever-increasing momentum of Cork's attacks.

SEEN AT THEIR BEST. But it was in these moments of distress and peril when Cork hit the front in dramatic fashion that Waterford were seen at their very best. Defence was turned into attack by collective and individual efforts; the Cork posts were pummeled in severe fashion and their rearguard staggered and finally crumbled before these mighty Deise onslaughts. Soon equilibrium was restored; shortly afterwards, the lead was regained, then increased and at the long whistle were still "calling the tune."

Those closing ten minutes also shattered the contention of those who believed that Waterford could not fight back. Powers of recovery is the yardstick by which most sides are judged and in this respect the present Deise side are not "wanting."

On the evidence of this display they will challenge the best in '63. True I have seen Frankie Walsh, Phil Grimes, Tony Cummins and Mick Flannely play infinitely better but when will we see this quartet as subdued again?

Cork likewise are feeling justifiably happy with themselves. They were confronted by a powerful side and their new blending of youth and experience could well raise them from the doldrums in which they have been languishing for some years past.

THRILLS FROM THE START. Almost from the start the siege of Cork held siege to the Deise goal in the opening minutes. Unsuccessfully they battled away at a feckless rampart and in a fourth minute breakthrough John Barron placed Frankie Walsh for a point. Three minutes later Bill Carroll had Cork's equaliser but points by Cheasty, Grimes and Ware left Waterford leading 0-4 to 0-1 at the end of the first quarter.

Again Cork took up the running and after Percy Flynn

Grounds on Sunday last when they boosted their League hopes further with a glorious four point victory over the Leesiders.

tharted efforts however, signalled the end of Cork's dominance.

Waterford—the bit between their teeth retained and for the remainder of the game played like men inspired. Cheasty crashed in the equalising goal in the 22nd minute and three minutes from time Grimes secured the clinching goal from a melee. Cork—galantly though they tried had no answer to this Deise brilliance and seconds before the end Grimes made it a four-point victory when he threw over a point from a free.

REPUTATIONS ENHANCED. As I said it was a polished Waterford performance in which many reputations were greatly enhanced.

Until his enforced retirement Percy Flynn was outstanding in goal while Ned Power in his short spell also oozed with confidence.

The full-backs covered their keeper splendidly and all three played solid defensive hurling. Jimmy Byrne was his own man, while self and Cunningham and Flynn gave nothing away.

The half-line was altered at an early stage when John McGrath took over from the injured Jim Irish and right well did the Abbeysiders perform in this his first real test. Morrissey always had the edge on Terry Keily and Larry Guinan "was at home" in the toughness of the exchanges.

While Tony Cummins was disappointed at midfield, the power hurling of Joe Condon in the sector gave Waterford a slight advantage. Condon mastered several different opponents and his two first-half points—both scored from over 70 yards—were gems.

In attack Tom Cheasty and John Barron caused Cork hearts to flutter whenever they gained possession. Cheasty received punishment; returned it with interest and into the bargain notched vital goals. Barron, while a scoring badly needed second goal opened to bring his other forwards into the game and rained out field with telling effect towards the close.

Frank Walsh, Phil Grimes and Mick Flannely all had their moments yet were far from being at their best, but
