WEDDING BELLS

Pictured above are Mr. Mossie McGrath, Keating Street, Dungarvan, and Miss Mary Bluet, Caseyville, who were married in St. Mary's Parish Church on Monday last. Mossie has been an outstanding playing member of the Dungarvan Club for years and is also a prominent "knight of the whistle." Members of the G.A.A. Club formed a guard of honour, comprised of an archway of hurleys as the couple left the church. Miss Bluet is a member of one of Dungarvan's best known families and has been residing in the U.S. for some years.

Letter to the Editor

The Editor, "Dungarvan Observer"
RE PROPOSED BRICKEY VALLEY DRAINAGE SCHEME

Dear Sir,
The above scheme will be the subject of discussion between the Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister for Finance and a deputation from the County Council plus representatives of the landowners of the Brickey Valley on Wednesday next, March 27th inst. The first date of appointment was for March 20th but this was altered at the request of the Parliamentary Secretary. There are some facts that I feel the public should be made aware of in connection with the proposed scheme. These are—
The money proposed to be raised over a period of two years is about £100,000.
This is a free Government grant from the Minister for Finance and is allocated to the County Council to help to redevelop the land subject to flooding.
(1) If it is not accepted by the County Council, it will be used somewhere else perhaps outside County Waterford.
(2) It will reclaim some

1,000 acres subject to flooding most of the year and partly reclaim some 1,000 extra acres making them of a much greater value.
(3) It will give employment to some 150 workers for two years.
(4) It will not cost the ratepayers anything extra for at least five years and then the total extra cost will only be one half penny in the rate.
(5) The sum being allocated over the next thirty years for the upkeep of the drainage here has been only half of what was wanted to maintain the canal.
(6) The new figures of upkeep is estimated to be only £200 greater than this figure of £600 which was the minimum that should have been allocated for the past thirty years. This means that the County Council have saved £9,000 over that period at the expense of the landowners living in the area.
(7) This £9,000 would maintain the scheme for fifteen years.
The deputation seeks to (1) Get the work going; (2) To have the work extended; (3) To have the maintenance kept at a fixed figure.
Thanking you in anticipation of publication,
Yours sincerely,
T. A. KYNE, T.D. M.C.C.

Should Members Compete in Schemes?

AT present the members of Waterford Committee of Agriculture are debarred from participating in all schemes sponsored by the Committee. But at last Saturday's meeting a recommendation to the Minister, proposed by Mr. C. Curran that the members be allowed to participate in dairy cattle and nomination schemes was carried by nine votes to four.

Mr. W. Foran said they had appeals from all political parties for the youth to go into public life. But by being refused permission to participate in all schemes by the Committee of Agriculture, it was they (members) who were penalised.

Mr. Norman Walsh said it was a very prudent safeguard not allowing the members to participate in the schemes. The public were very critical and they should give them no occasion to be criticised. The proposal they keep out of all schemes.

Mr. Kieran O'Ryan seconded. Mr. Foran proposed that all schemes be open to the members and Mr. J. Drohan seconded.

Mr. Drohan congratulated Mr. Foran on bringing the matter up, whatever the outcome. Anyone he spoke to and told that members were debarred from the schemes expressed surprise.

Mr. N. Walsh said if they followed Mr. Foran's views in this case they would be doing very wrong and would only be going into trouble.

Mr. Foran—As public representatives we are always in trouble.

Mr. C. Curran proposed that members be allowed to participate in dairy cattle and nomination schemes.

Mr. Foran's proposal was then put and defeated 9-4.

The voting was: For—Mr's Harty, Drohan, Foran, R. Walsh (4). Against: Messrs Fahey, Curran, Whehan, O'Ryan, Dowd, Heskin, Quirke, N. Walsh, Galgey (9).

Mr. Curran's proposal was then carried by a similar 9-4 vote.

£10,750 FOR FARM

On Tuesday last Edmond Spratt and Son, M.I.A.A. Dungarvan, put up for sale by public auction Mr. Andrew O'Grady's 22½ acre farm at Leamybrien. After spirited bidding it was knocked down to Mr. James Walsh, Ballynevin, Carrick-on-Suir for £10,750. Messrs Farrell and Morrissey, Sores, Dungarvan, had carriage of sale.

TAKES UP BANKING POST

Congratulations to Miss Bridget Kiely, Lisfenel, Dungarvan, who left town to-day (Thursday) to take up a banking post in Limerick.

Following her recent examination, she was appointed to the Houth, Co. Dublin, branch of the National Bank.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Kiely, Lisfenel, she was educated at the Convent of Mercy, Dungarvan, and later received secretarial and commercial training in Cork.

THAT RATE OF 48/6

In last week's report of the annual Estimates meeting of Waterford County Council we incorrectly stated that the Chairman, Mr. Charles Curran proposed a new rate of 48/6. It was in fact Col. John Drohan who proposed this figure. Col. Curran did propose a rate of 48/6 which was defeated 11-5.

TALENTED LOCAL MUSICIANS

The Mercy Convent Melodica Band

On next Sunday and Monday nights, at the Friary Hall, Dungarvan, the pupils of the local Convent of Mercy, will present a grand Variety Concert in aid of the new Mercy Convent School Building Fund.

Close on 500 girls, their ages ranging from 4 to 18 years, will take part, and it is to the credit of the good Sisters and Miss Celine Penny that they could "marshal" to perfection so many pupils.

There are 20 items listed, each of which has its own particular appeal. Weeks of preparation has been put into this concert and it is certain to be of the same high standard as all previous Mercy presentations.

Grading of Wool Discussed

ALLEGATIONS made at a previous meeting of the Committee by Mr. Milo Galgey that top grade wool in Waterford City was making less than ungraded wool in Dungarvan, were stated to be substantially correct by Mr. P. Conroy, C.A.O. at last Saturday's monthly meeting of the Committee of Agriculture.

Mr. Conroy said a sub-committee had been set up by the Dept. of Agriculture to consider the question of grading of wool. The NFA he said have also taken active steps and a meeting would be held in the near future between the buyers and producers when the whole position would be thrashed out. They would also see what could be done to ensure that the best quality wool would make the top prices.

Mr. Galgey said the present position was not satisfactory and he was expressing the general feelings of the people.

Mr. J. Quirke said there was no encouragement for anyone to wash his wool at the present time.

Mr. George Heskin said there was a certain price for unwashed wool, and another price for washed wool. But the difference in those prices—It runs for 38 minutes.

did not justify the producer washing the wool. What was needed was a price incentive to wash the wool.

Mr. Conroy said there was no incentive between the buyers and the farmers.

Mr. Galgey—We can leave it at that, now that the Department are taking up the matter. The discussion then ended.

Mr. Galgey—We can leave it at that, now that the Department are taking up the matter. The discussion then ended.

Kilmacthomas News

Looking Fit and Well is Miss Marie Power who is a student nurse at a leading Liverpool training hospital. She returned thereto last week-end (11th inst.) following a fortnight's vacation which she enjoyed happily away at her parental home.

A very friendly and pleasant young lady, she is second daughter of very esteemed Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Power, farmer Fahahelagh House, Kilmacthomas, and sister of Miss Joan Power, a most popular and efficient figure in the business life of Kilmacthomas.

Congratulations are offered to Miss Hester Veale, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Veale, Carrageest, Kilmacthomas, who, having completed her educational course at the Technical School, Dungarvan, quickly procured a clerical position at the flourishing concern of an internationally known Messrs. Edward Fahavan & Sons Ltd., Kilmacthomas.

Congratulations Also to Miss Mary Dwyer daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Dwyer, Bonmahon, on her appointment to an assistantship at Mr. P. H. Kofahery's Super Mart, Main Street, Kilmacthomas.

Gaels Grand Gesture - At a specially convened meeting of the Rathgormack Football Club, a vote of condolence was passed in respectful silence to the relatives of the late Mr. Maurice (Mossie) Walsh, Ballythomas, Rathgormack, and it was also decided to have the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass offered for the happy repose of his soul.

Speakers to be voted each voiced a glowing tribute to the sterling services rendered on the playing pitch by the late Mr. Walsh, particularly in those halcyon days in the annals of the old Club's history - from 1910 to 1915 - when Rathgormack ranked undefeated as Waterford S.F. county champions.

SALMON FISHING

Salmon fishing in Youghal by nets for last week proved to be again satisfactory although the numbers did not come up to those of the previous week which was a record. In the opening days they were very scarce but from Wednesday to Saturday morning there were fairly good catches by the majority of the boats. The same applied to Ardmore and Ballyvoan, but knockadon accounted for one single salmon for the week with two boats operating. The catches at Ardsallagh and Ardree to Dromana still continue to be very poor indeed. It is reported that many fish passed up river during the last weekend. Against this week the opening days were very poor due to the mid weather conditions. The price to fishermen at the close of last week was 6/- per lb.

THE NATIONAL FESTIVAL

The annual parade in honour of St. Patrick took place in Youghal despite the inclement weather conditions. The parade including the following assembled at the Market Square: Cork Hill Pipes Band, a detachment of the F.C.A. under Q.M.S. Patrick Power; the Chairman, members and officials of the Urban Council, Gaelic League, St. Mary's and Kenry School's of Irish Sepoia; Pupils of Loreto Convent, Presentation Convent and Christian Brothers Schools; Little Theatre Society Group, Pigeon Club G.A.A., Athletic and Cycling Clubs, Catholic Boy Scouts and members of the local Civil Defence Force. At 11.30 the parade marched to St. Mary's Parish Church to attend the mid-day Mass at which Rev. E. O'Callaghan preached in Irish. After Mass the parade re-assembled and returned to the Market Square by the short route due to the heavy rain at the time. The parade was sponsored by the local Gaelic League and the main organisers were Mr. Sean O'Sullivan, U.D.C. and Miss A. O'Halloran.

DAMAGE TO SEA WALL

As a result of a discussion between a reputation from the Youghal Urban Council and the Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister for Finance, the Council decided to go ahead with the work of repairing the Green Park sea wall which was blown down by the gale of Ash Wednesday, 1962. The work is estimated to cost £12,000 and a grant will be forthcoming of £6,000 the balance to be raised by the Urban Council. The Chairman and two members of the Council were deputised to await on the Cork County Council in reference to the reconstruction of the sea walls.

BORD FAILTE SYMPOSIUM

It has been announced that Bord Failte will hold a symposium at the Town Hall, Youghal, in the near future when all organisations with an interest in the town as a holiday resort will attend.

TOWN CLOCK

It is understood that a firm of Cork technicians have been engaged to carry out major repairs to the clock at the Clock Gate. It appears that the clock will require a complete overhaul at considerable expense. It is also proposed to have a survey made of the building itself which was erected in 1777.

TRAFFIC PROBLEM AT YOUGHAL

Since the opening of the new Bridge at Ardsallagh the problem of the traffic through the town is becoming rather serious. This matter was discussed at a recent meeting of the U.D.C. and as well by the Youghal Traders' Association and several proposals have been put forward as a solution. The matter is now to be discussed by the Chief Supt. of the Garda Siochana and Officials of C.I.E. at which meeting the Chairman and officers of the U.D.C. are to be present.

LATE SISTER M. ABIGAIL (Whyte) KIELY

It is with the deepest regret that we record the death which took place after a long illness at St. Paul's Convent, Sellypark, Birmingham, on Friday, 15th March, of Sister M. Abigail (Whyte) in the fortieth year of her religious profession. Sister Abigail was before entering the Convent, Margaret Whyte of Monarduff. After her profession at Sellypark in 1923, she was appointed to the teaching staff of St. Paul's Primary and Secondary Schools, Kilmacneaney, Co. Limerick, where she spent the years of her religious life. For the past few years she was ill and was transferred to the Motherhouse of the Sisters of St. Paul, the Apostles, where she died. Her passing is deeply regretted by her brothers, sisters, sisters-in-law, nieces and nephews and by the many nuns and pupils who through her instruction, co-operation and encouragement are now in prominent positions in many parts of the world many as Sisters of St. Paul the Apostles, some of whom are in South Africa.

The obsequies and burial took place in St. Paul's on the 18th inst. R.I.P. She is survived by Very Rev. T. Whyte O.S.A., Galway, and James Whyte (brothers); Mrs. W. Doherty and Miss Mary Whyte (sisters); Mrs. J. J. Whyte and Mrs. J. Whyte (sisters-in-law); Mrs. J. Watson, Mrs. J. Walsh, Mrs. T. Byrne, and Peter Whyte (nieces); Miss Patrick, Thomas, and James Doherty and John Whyte (nephews).

Tribute to the Late Mark Kiely

As an old intimate friend and P.O. Staff colleague of the late Mark Kiely, Ballynabacogie, Kilmacthomas, may I say how deep is our sorrow at the unexpected passing of happy-humoured, honest, helpful, good-natured and unassuming Mark. Genuinely grand in every sense of the word, he never hurt anyone by word or behaviour. In company he was gay, young with the young, and old with the old. A faithful friend and a sportsman, though and though, no neighbour ever heard an ugly word voiced by him. As an amateur comedian, in my opinion, his equal has yet to be found. Hurling was his favourite field game, and in him his heyday, the purely Celtic code had an exponent of considerable merit. I know he didn't miss seeing more than three of the All-Ireland senior hurling finals since 1925. Respected and loved by all (children and adults alike) this world of ours is at the poorer for his passing. Go duaghad Dia suanais ardu na agus raibh na Tríonóide da anam.

N.F.A. Statement on Supermarkets

The managing editor of RGDATA issued a news item to the Press on the 12th inst. many statements in which are anything but correct. In order to put this question of the NFA and Supermarkets in proper perspective certain points need clarifying.

(a) Mr. Rickard Deasy, President NFA never indicated that his organisation was negotiating with a British Supermarket for the sale of Irish milk.

(b) It is deplorable that a reputable body like RGDATA should express surprise that Mr. Deasy should turn to Foreign Companies, on the peculiar source of the information received by them.

(c) It is unfair to say that the NFA seems to welcome the entry of foreign supermarkets when such a statement is without factual basis.

The concluding sentence in the news item referred to says: "If the NFA desires to co-operate for the benefit of the Irish economy as a whole it should first work in harmony with Irish traders."

The statement also says that this move (gratuitously assumed RGDATA) seems "inconsistent" with stated NFA policy on other matters.

There is only a fortnight left to the closing-rate for the National Lottery. Branch secretaries and all members who have tickets for sale are asked to bring the date in mind.

FARMERS CONTINUE TO FIGHT FOR INCREASE
This meeting pledges wholeheartedly its support to the N.F.A. National Council of any action decided upon by them.

An exceptionally fine case was put up by the speakers for an immediate basic increase in milk prices.

An exceptionally fine case was put up by the speakers for an immediate basic increase in the price of milk and for incentive bonuses for the production of high quality milk.

Judging by the reaction of the audience there can be little doubt but that farmers will continue pressing these minimum claims. Their financial position demands that they should.

The National Action Committee, on the instruction of the National Council, have amassed a large body of information on steps taken by farmers in other countries in similar circumstances.

It should perhaps be made clear that in seeking these increases in price, farmers have not, and are not, asking for an increase in the price of this commodity or its by-products, to consumers. It is equally obvious that the smallest and the biggest of farmers have seen through the efforts of those who have tried to split them on the issue.

March, in the Tostal Hall, beginning at 8.30 p.m. that night. A first-class panel of speakers will address local farmers on the "Production of Milk and the Processing and Marketing of Dairy Products".

There is intense interest among farmers in the production of high quality milk. The unfortunate thing is that such production can entail heavy capital expenditure and there is little or no money available for such investments on the average farm.

Farmers are also becoming more and more alive to the need for processing of milk into products other than butter. The little they know about the difficulties involved makes them anxious to help in so far as they can economically do so.

It is self evident that the more farmers share in the running and shaping of their industry will be. Should the present unsatisfactory position continue much longer both sides will lose and their loss will be felt in every nook and cranny of our economy.

UP THE NORTH
On previous occasions we have reported in these columns exceptional accomplishments of farmers. Some of these have been small, some of them big. Not many of them have got front-page headlines in the national dailies, but all of them have contributed in a real way to the benefit of our society.

This report concerns a joint effort by a number of farmers in the most northerly corner of Ireland. In order to cut their costs and thus improve their low earnings, NFA branches in the area joined together in a bulk purchase of fertilisers.

The saving to them in this effort whetted their appetite for more cooperative effort. They decided to form a new cooperative themselves and within a month they had collected enough share capital to set up in business. Already they have bought well over a thousand tons of Superphosphate, nearly half as much Potash and about a fifth as much Sulphate of Ammonia.

With the local leaders that they have, these Innishowen farmers have started something which is likely to expand far beyond original expectations.

The most delightful aspect of their venture, however, is to share with other NFA branches throughout the country (with part facilities) their experience and the useful information they have gleaned since they set up in business. This is the type of spirit that the NFA is gradually inculcating in farmers. It is justly proud of its success to date and because of this success it is optimistic where the future of Irish farmers is concerned.

It would be only fair and just, as well as being very good business, for Britain to modify its cheap food policy so as to give a fair and free market for Irish agricultural exports," said Lieut. Gen. M. J. Costello, earlier this month, in the College of Commerce, Rahmies, Dublin.

He said that "we spent a very much bigger proportion of our national income in buying British goods than any other country in the world. It reached the extraordinary figure of 25.4%," he said. Only 0.6% of the national income of the United Kingdom was spent on Irish goods. It was, therefore, very much to Britain's advantage that there should be an increase in the number of people living in Ireland and in their purchasing power.

CHANGING IN CALF TAGGING
Following repeated representation of the tagging of calves and the high cost of same, a letter from the Department of Agriculture, has been received by the General Secretary, an extract from which reads as follows:

Revised arrangements have now been made for the tagging of born-in calves in the attested area. Under the new arrangements, officers of the Department will at end at all farms and marks through the area, with a view to facilitating owners who want to sell born-in calves urgently and issue the necessary blue cards at the sales. If the owners do not want to sell the calves urgently, the calves will be tagged either at the annual check-test of the herd or if this test has already been carried out by the officer of the Department, in the course of his normal duties.

This change can be regarded as yet another achievement for the NFA.

Imports of meat into the United States in 1962 were so high that the country became the world's greatest meat importer by Great Britain.

New Zealand exports of beef and veal increased by nearly 9% to eighty-eight thousand tons in the same period.

In December 1962, as against December, 1961, there was a substantial increase of 11% in pigs and of 3% in cattle, in Northern Ireland. Sheep numbers remained much the same but laying flocks have continued to decline with number now around six million compared with eight million some years ago.

The number of broilers however, have doubled over the past years and are now more than one hundred thousand.

Meat production in Western Europe rose by 7% over 1961 and 16.5% over 1960.

CRUCIAL LEAGUE TEST WITH WEXFORD

Hurlers Can Force Play-off

JOHN BARRON... an elusive full forward

LARRY GUINAN... hard-hitting Deise defender

CHARLIE WARE... retains captaincy of the team

FRANKIE WALSH... one of Waterford's free-scoring forwards

TOM CHEASTY... playing better than ever

SUCH is the enviable hurling reputation that Wexford enjoys throughout the country, that their appearance at any venue invariably draws the crowds in magnetic-like fashion. And Sunday next should see Walsh Park house a new attendance record (weather conditions being favourable), for the Slaneysiders all-important National league tilt with the Deise County.

In these remaining few days before this encounter, Waterford—both city and county—is agog with excitement. Seldom in fact has a league game worked up such enthusiasm as Sunday's, and it will come in the nature of an anti-climax if the optimistic Deise men fail to "do the needful."

Unbeaten Wexford need only a division of the spoils to ensure themselves of a place in the semi-final. In their division, Cork, Limerick and Carlow have all unsuccessfully attempted to deprive them of valuable points and now only Waterford remain with an opportunity of furnishing that unblemished record.

A recent heavy defeat by Kilkenny in the Wembley tournament was followed by a reassuring victory over Carlow, and it surely is an indication of their confidence that they have decided not to bring Paul Lynch home from England for the game.

GONE FROM STRENGTH TO STRENGTH

Anything less than an outright win is, of course, worthless to Waterford. Victories over Carlow and Cork have been offset to a considerable extent by a surprise defeat at the hands of Limerick. Since that setback they have gone from strength to strength, yet he consequences of it are great, and to qualify for the semi-final must beat the Slaneysiders on Sunday and then repeat the act in a subsequent play-off.

Assessing their work on that performance against Cork last Sunday week one must immediately conclude that an in form Deise side have the beating of the most formidable opposition. The Sunday previous they also gave more than a sampling of their prowess when beating a near full-strength Tipperary side in a challenge, and it would not be stretching one's imagination to think they have the beating of the Leinster champions.

RETAINED E NBLOC

Not surprisingly mentors have decided to retain en bloc the fitted line lined out against the Leisiders. This means that Percy Flynn and Jim Irish who were both forced to retire with facial injuries in that game again gain preference over Ned Power and John McGrath respectively while Tony Cummings who was replaced by John Meaney is also back in favour as Joe Condon's midfield partner.

Prior to the Cork game Cummings looked a distinct prospect but an insipid display in the Athletic Grounds caused one to have a certain amount of reservation as to his potential. Condon cannot be allowed to cough a lone furrow as against Cork, otherwise Wheeler, McGrath and Dickie Murphy, McGrath has been switched over to the left corner—off Byrne and on to Cunningham, a move to my mind that is but a step from the frying pan into the fire.

PLAYING INSPIRED HURLING

In recent months Waterford's defence has been seen at its uncompromising best. Percy Flynn is playing inspired "stuff" between the posts and with Ned Power also standing by, there are no fears about this vital post.

On this occasion full-backs Tom Cunningham Austin Flynn and Jimmy Byrne are opposed to one of the best inside lines of attack in the game, in McGrath, Wheeler and Dickie Murphy. McGrath has been switched over to the left corner—off Byrne and on to Cunningham, a move to my mind that is but a step from the frying pan into the fire.

WHEELER A DANGER

The hard-pulling ever-dangerous Wheeler is the man most likely to do damage if given half a chance and it is the task of Flynn to stem him as effectively as possible.

But should Wexford's supply line be damaged at the base, which on Sunday will be their middlefielders, Wilson and Buggy then their scoring chances could "die" through "starvation."

Of Joe Condon I have little fear, but to ensure a decisive midfield pull Cummings will have to be infinitely better than against Cork. But it is hard, almost impossible, to imagine the Ballygunner man being as poor again, and on familiar territory may give Condon the necessary backing to ensure a monopoly of the exchanges in the sector.

HAVE AMASSED 9-15

The very fact that they amassed 9-15 against the Tipperary and Cork defenses is undeniable proof of the scoring power of the attack. As a unit it has been functioning with spectacular success of late, while individualism at the appropriate time has also brought the desired results.

On Sunday the clash of the day could well be between Tom Cheasty and Billy Rackard, although each individual duel hereabouts carries with it its own touch of delicate piquancy.

AMMUNITION IS IN DEFENCE

While many of Wexford's attack can be match-winners, this present Slaneyside team carries most of its "ammunition" in defence.

Pat Nolan a cool and reliable custodian is amongst the best in the game. Tom Neville, without peer as a defender, and Ned Colfer, flank newcomer Dan Quigley who will find it difficult coping with the elusive John Barron. A member of last year's St. Peter's College side which won the All-Ireland Colleges title for the first time, Quigley takes over from Nick O'Donnell, now retired, and Wexford mentors believe this strapping youth will follow in the footsteps of his great St. Aidan's predecessor.

Their half-line of Jim Eng-

TOM CUNNINGHAM... now faces the "Hopper."

lish, Billy Rackard and John Nolan packs experience, craft and hurling "know how" in abundance. They are truly the sheet anchor of the side—a trio that will not be by-passed readily.

Phil Wilson has a new midfield partner in Martin Buggy and their duels with Waterford's Condon and Cummings will have quite a bearing on the outcome.

"Hopper" McGrath, Ned Wheeler and Dick Murphy will carry the hopes of Wexford's followers for the vital scores, although Jimmy O'Brien, now on the 30' could cause Martin Morrissey an amount of trouble.

INVARIABLY FARE WELL AGAINST WEXFORD

Invariably Waterford fare well against the Model County. In their last meeting in the Oireachtas at Sunday's venue Wexford were fresh from their magnificent display against Tipperary, and their quality for another crack at their championship conquerors.

But contrary to all expectations, Waterford turned up trumps and scored a victory that was as impressive as it was merited.

Nor do I expect them to fail

As we go to Press we learn that Wexford full-back, Dan Quigley has cried off with a broken hand.

Billy Rackard now goes from centre-back to full, with Ned Colfer taking over as pivot. Eddie Kelly is recalled to fill Colfer's left-full back berth.

on this even more important occasion. Victory is now imperative if a first-ever league title is to be won this year.

On Sunday the midfield exchanges will be of paramount importance and supremacy for a particular pairing will go a long way towards deciding the issue.

Of the nominated partnerships, Waterford's seem to be the strongest, Buggy is practically unknown outside his native Wexford while Wilson's lay-off in recent weeks through injury will not have helped him.

A DEISE WIN

Banking on a vastly improved display by Tony Cummings, I can see Waterford gaining ascendancy in the middle while the Deise attack—confronted though it is by an excellent defence, have the ability, both collectively and individually, to notch sufficient scores to carry the day.

Waterford—P. Flynn, T. Cunningham, A. Flynn, J. Byrne, L. Guinan, M. Morrissey, J. Irish, J. Condon, T. Cummings, M. Flannelly, J. Cheasty, F. Walsh, C. Ware, J. Barron, P. Grimes, Subs.—S. Power, J. McGrath, J. Meaney, E. Power, S. Walsh, F. O'Brien, P. Walsh, T. Allen.

Wexford—P. Nolan, T. Neville, D. Quigley, E. Colfer, J. English, W. Rackard, J. Nolan, P. Wilson, M. Buggy, J. O'Brien, J. Foley, M. Lyng, C. McGrath, E. Wheeler, R. Murphy.

Gaelic Jottings

WEXFORD MUST BE BEATEN

Waterford face their most crucial test to date, when they entertain unbeaten Wexford at Walsh Park on Sunday next. To remain in the league race, a Waterford win is imperative, as it would then necessitate a play-off the following Sunday between the same counties to determine who goes forward to meet Galway in the semi-final.

The Deise County must now be bemoaning the brace of points dropped to Limerick in November last and the necessity of "duplicating" a win on Sunday only adds to the formidability of their task.

Thus, for this vital game, Waterford's "big five" have passed a vote of confidence in the side that started out against Cork at the Athletic Grounds two weeks ago. Their display against the Leisiders was an impressive and workmanlike one, and while some members of the team were below their usual form, few can quibble with the retention of that side en bloc.

Relegation to the substitutes, particularly after his fine display when taking over from the injured Jim Irish against Cork, is a stroke of bad luck for John McGrath, but Irish's vast experience will be a decided advantage against the Wexford Slaneyside campaigners and for this particular game I think a better choice than McGrath.

Needless to say, Wexford are travelling in strength, yet it is in the nature of a major surprise that they are not bringing star forward Paul Lynch home from England for the game.

As I see it, their greatest strength lies in their defence, where goal-keeper Pat Nolan and defenders Billy Rackard, John Nolan, Tom Neville and Jim English will not be easily beaten.

Whatever the outcome, however, an expected big crowd should witness a great struggle for supremacy, Wexford, despite conceding ground advantage, will command strong vocal support and with a place in the league semi-final staring them in the face could shatter the hopes of any side.

But Waterford, presently riding the crest of the wave, can surmount this obstacle, stern though it may be. They have the necessary talent at their disposal to win and face that much sought-after play-off.

THE RAILWAY CUPS

While Munster and Leinster divided the hurling honours after an hour of unsurpassable thrills in the Railway Cup final at Croke Park on St. Patrick's Day, Ulster regained the football crown after a three years lapse, with a well deserved two-point victory over the hosts, Leinster.

Through the courtesy of the television screen I and thousands of others who could not make the trip to Headquarters, viewed one of the most thrilling hurling finals since the competition's inauguration 27 years ago. In conditions that were truly appalling both provinces put on a superb show and a draw—the first ever—was a fitting result.

While Munster led for practically the entire hour, and looked over all winners when they led by seven points ten minutes from time, only James O'Connell saved them from defeat in the closing seconds. First, Eddie Keher failed to score a close-in free with the sides level and then Ollie Walsh who was called from his goal to take a 70' as w his effort drop short and the Southern defence created the ball to safety.

Waterford's representatives, Joe Condon and Jimmy Byrne, surprisingly turned in somewhat indifferent displays. Condon obviously did not relish the conditions but Byrne after a rather subdued first half, turned in a tremendous second half performance.

ULSTER'S TITLE

Outside the Province of Leinster, there was almost unanimous satisfaction over Ulster's 2-8 to 1-9 victory in the football final.

In comparison to the hurling game, the football looked dreadfully slow but again the conditions were most unsuitable and the players had to contend with many difficulties which gravely militated against good play.

The winners went into an early lead and were never subsequently headed. At half-time they led 1-5 to 0-4 and right up to the closing stages held a commanding six-point advantage. Only then did Leinster succeed in getting a firm grip on the game and though they succeeded in reducing their deficit to two points, it was the Northerners who were back on the attack at the final whistle.

The attendance at the finals was just over 30,000, some 10,000 less than at last year's deciders.

A date and venue for the hurling replay will be announced at a meeting of the Central Council in Dublin on 30-night (Friday).

WINTER LEAGUE FINALS POSTPONED

Because of the state of the pitch and the prevailing weather conditions, the Winter League finals, fixed for Dungarvan on Sunday last were postponed. Ballinacorney and Kilmoginnet were to meet in the football final and Ardmore and Geraldines in the hurling decider.

MANSELD NOW WITH STRADBALLY

Former John Mitchels star Jimmy Mansfield, will no longer be seen in the red and green jersey, as this year he has transferred his allegiance to Stradbally. At first it was thought that Kilrossanty would be Mansfield's new club but it was the Cove Club who finally stepped in and made this valuable capture.

CUP GAMES POSTPONED

The Sargent Cup game between Dunhill and Ballygunner, fixed for Dunhill on Sunday next has been postponed on account of Waterford's league engagement with Wexford. The Phelan Cup game at Dungarvan between John Mitchels and Ardmore has also been postponed.

DUNGARVAN SENIOR FOOTBALL LEAGUE

In preparation for the coming championship, Dungarvan will hold a senior football league commencing on the first Sunday in April. Four teams of the side will participate. The captains are: Tom Cunningham, Jimmy Walsh, Eamonn McCarthy and Johnny Moran.
