COURSE PROVIDED INTEREST AND INSTRUCTION

One of the most successful courses of its type held to date concluded last week, after a three-nights run at Dan Dungarvan Technical School. During the progress of the course, which dealt with the selection, preparation and serving of palatable menus for four-course luncheons and party teas. Domestic Science Instructors Miss E. Beesford and Miss G. Foley demonstrated and located to an average of seventy housewives each night and copies of the recipes for the attractive dishes were distributed to the members of the audience. Speaking at the conclusion of the course, Mr. Thomas F. Maher, B.Sc., Acting Chief Executive Officer thanked the ladies who attended for their patronage and paid tribute to the efficiency and painstaking efforts of the two instructors who spared no effort to ensure the unqualified success of the course. Mrs. M. Coward, one of those who attended and enjoyed the course, thanked the instructors for their excellence of the instruction provided and on behalf of the class-members made a presentation to each teacher.

Tipp. Priest Returning from South Africa

Tipperary's much-loved Fr. Thomas Heffernan, pioneer of the Order of St. Francis of Assisi in Southern Africa, will be returning home from Southern Rhodesia in May. And he will leave Southern Africa with the satisfaction of a man who knows he has completed his tasks successfully. It was not easy going, however, and this slight, smiling, forthright monk had to do some fast talking to get what he wanted on occasions—and he got it.

There was a time when he was trying to establish a church at Frankfort in East Griqualand. Farmers there were asking £600 an acre for land Fr. Heffernan needed. He argued, he pleaded, he begged, but the farmers were adamant. Unbattered, he returned to the attack like an Irish scier. He approached a South African farmer known for his toughness and hardness.

CAPPOQUIN MAN HOLDS PIGS RECORDS

A Co. Waterford breeder who has made a big success of his job is Mr. Tom Fives, Tourin, Cappoquin, who will sell his first batch of Landrace pigs to-day.

Mr. Fives' "Kydarm" herd of Landrace pigs already has played a very important part in the history of the breed in this country. Apart from winning breed championships in Dublin, Cork and several provincial Shows, he has dominated the sale rings and holds most of the records for top prices for the breed in the country. It was in 1960 that he started his herd with the purchase of "Elegantine Bodi, the Second" of one hundred and sixty rubber and this top class breeding sow has proved a very sound investment for Mr. Fives.

He has invested much money in getting the best bloodlines and now that he is having a sale it is hoped that he will receive the support that he deserves.

and took him into selling six acres for only £40 an acre. With a twinkle in his eyes, Father Heffernan said: "Maybe it was the barley and maybe not. But he was the grandest helper we had."

Before moving to East Griqualand, Father Heffernan had completed his first task in Southern Africa—that of building tiny churches at Lusikisiki in Pondoland.

He went to Southern Africa 13 years ago and was the first Franciscan monk to work in the territories. Now there are 11 members of the order in the continent.

Like all other members of the Franciscan Order, he is well-trained for almost any situation. After a year's novitiate Fr. Heffernan studied the arts for three years, philosophy for two years and theology for five years. The order includes builders, welfare workers, doctors, religious leaders and teachers, and combines practical active work with religious contemplation.

After five years in Rhodesia during which time he was greatly increased his original congregation of two people, Fr. Heffernan has supervised the building of the Franciscan Friary at Waterfalls, a suburb of Salisbury, the capital of Southern Rhodesia.

He has worked overseas for many years. During a period in Peking, he mastered the Chinese language. He was overrun by Chinese Communists while stationed in the Central Hupeh Province and despite fierce fighting around the town of Anlu where he was staying, he refused to leave.

It was not until 1949 that the Chinese Communists were able to force him to leave China. Afterwards he worked for a while in America.

WEDDING BELLS

SINGLETON-TURNER

The wedding took place recently at the Catholic Church of Our Lady and St. Elnedra, Newmarket, England, of Miss Joan Singleton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Singleton, Caserill, Dungarvan to Mr. Michael Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Turner, 38 The Causeway, Burwell, Cambridgeshire. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Fr. Kennedy, P.P., and the bride was given away by Mr. R. Smith. She wore a white figured dress decorated with silver flowers, small white tap headress and a short veil. She carried a bouquet of red carnations. Bridesmaids were Miss Irene Singleton and Miss Pat Walker who were dressed in mauve. The best man was Mr. J. Turner, and the reception was held in the Burwell secondary school reception hall. Going away, the bride wore a maroon costume with green and brown accessories. The honeymoon was spent at Bournemouth.

We wish them many years of wedded bliss.

LATE JOHN (JACK) BULFIN

Abbeyside, Dungarvan

It is with regret we record the passing of Mr. John (Jack) Bulfin, of Sexton Street, Abbeyside. Deceased was a well-known and popular local business man. A native of Fethard, Co. Tipperary, since his advent to Dungarvan over thirty years ago he made many friends by his cheerful and friendly and upright traits of character and deft business acumen. In the social life of the town and surrounding districts he was "the life and soul of the party". On the many occasions he acted as master of ceremonies at the various functions, his pleasing personality literally radiated gaiety and happiness.

Much sympathy is extended to his wife, family and relatives in their great loss.

The funeral took place from the District Hospital to Abbeyside Parish Church, followed by a huge cortege on Tuesday evening and the remains were received and blessed at the church gates by Rev. M. Walsh, C.C. Following Requiem Masses on Wednesday morning the funeral took place to Ballinroad cemetery for interment, again in the presence of a large gathering.

The chief mourners were: Mrs. Bulfin (wife), Thomas, Gerard, Michael, Dermot, Ted and Jonathan (sons), Rosemary (daughter), Michael, Edward, James Bulfin (brothers), Mrs. Cathleen Carragher, Ballybay; Mrs. B. Sharkey, Clonmel; Margaret Bulfin, London (sisters); Mr. P. A. Terry, Dublin; Mr. M. Terry, Abbeyside; Mr. J. Terry, Liverpool (brothers-in-law); Mrs. T. Bulfin, Fethard; Mrs. E. Bulfin (sisters-in-law). (Funeral arrangements by Phelan, Undertaker, Square).

Three Weekend Burglaries in Dungarvan

BURGLARS were active in Dungarvan over the holiday week-end Cowards Iron Foundry premises at Stephen Street was broken into and between £80 and £90 in cash was taken.

St. Mary's Parish Church was also broken into and a donation box containing a small sum of money was taken. Thieves broke into the Technical School but no loss or damage was caused. Following these thefts and attempted thefts, there has been intensive Garda activity in the town.

LATE MR. WM. COYNE

We wish to express our heartfelt regret at the death of William Coyne, which occurred at a private nursing home in Waterford, on Holy Thursday, April 11th, after an illness of some duration but he had now reached a good age. Deep sorrow is extended to his brother, Patrick and his nephews on their great loss.

The remains were removed on Holy Saturday to Clashmore Church followed by a large and most impressive cortege and were blessed and received by Rev. Fr. Russell, C.C. The interment took place later in the Old Cemetery, Clashmore.

Rev. Fr. Russell, C.C., imparted the final absolution and recited the prayers at the graveside.

(J. Kiely & Sons had charge of funeral arrangements).

Former Dungarvan Garda Promoted

Inspector Thomas Broderick (39) former Station Sergeant, in Carrick-on-Suir, who was recently promoted to the rank, will take up duty as Inspector in Galway, later this month. Inspector Broderick joined the Force in 1944 and served in Ring and later in Dungarvan. While a member of the local Force he played senior football with Dungarvan and Garda in the Waterford county championships.

Following his marriage, he was transferred to Cork and was promoted sergeant in 1954 and later in Kerry before he came to Carrick-on-Suir in 1958 where he was promoted Station Sergeant in 1961. Mrs. Broderick (nee O'Brien) is a native of O'Connell St., Dungarvan, and they have one daughter, Claire. Inspector Broderick is brother of Very Rev. Wm. Deservedly Held in High Regard is the Kilmacthomas Dramatic Society; it was formed not so very long since and is constituted of ladies and gentlemen of refined knowledge and intellect—qualities enhanced by a yearning on the part of the group to please the public by giving (both individually and collectively) their very best when they are facing the footlights.

Before a capacity and most appreciative audience in the local Rainbow Hall they presented J. B. McCarthy's exhilarating two-act comedy titled "O.D. Acquaintance," plus a pronouncedly pleasant sketch, together with a beautifully balanced programme of vocal, instrumental and step-dancing numbers, and the full performance provided delightful entertainment—as it undoubtedly did subsequently, when repeated in Bonmahon, Dunhill, Leamabrien and Ring hills, respectively, the group receiving rounds of applause from a bumper assembly at each of these centres.

Last Sunday night week, in the G.Y.M.S. Hall, Ring, the Kilmac' players wound up their activities for this season, but be sure they will be again to the fore later on in the annum with a complete change of programme which shall not be a whit less merrier than the one they began with.

A Recent Departure by plane from Shannon Airport to the U.S., where she will spend a six-weeks' holiday among members of her family, was Mrs. Ballyhussa (Kilmac'), born Mrs. Agnes Haney (nee Kenny), widow, Erdsleigh Villas, Tramore, mother of Rev. Fr. Peter Haney, a lovable young priest who is ministering in Corpus Christi parish, Texas.

May the estimable lady have a nice time during her stay in Uncle Sam's clime.

Mr. James Dillon, T.D., President of the Fine Gael organisation, was the guest of honour at the greatest gathering ever accommodated at a function in the Grand Hotel, Tramore. The occasion marked the Fine Gael (Waterford Constituency) 1st Annual Dinner, and the gathering was representative not only of Waterford city and county but also of not a few neighbouring areas. The hotel ballroom and another room were requisitioned to accommodate the tremendous gathering, and the speeches and vocal items were relayed to the other parts of the hotel by the amplification system. The occasion, marked, too, Mr. Dillon's first official

SALMON FISHING

Last week salmon catches by nets were very poor indeed, when only a few very old salmon were taken, by the boats at Youghal and surrounding areas. This is said to be due to unfavourable tides and weather conditions. On the opening days again, this week conditions were again unfavourable for netting but an improvement is anticipated with the coming spring tides by favourable winds. The price was reduced to 3/- per lb. over the week.

Over the whole of the season, so far has been exceptionally good and many boats in Youghal were "out of debt" after the first six weeks of the season.

LATE MRS. ABINA ELLIS

Deep regret was occasioned at the sad and unexpected death of a well known member of the community in the person of Mrs. Abina Ellis of Windmill Hill, Youghal, which took place at Youghal Cottage Hospital. Of an old Youghal family, the deceased was husband of Mr. William Ellis, Head Waterkeeper to the Lismore Fishery Board to whom sincere sympathy is extended.

The remains were removed to St. Mary's Parish Church from where the funeral, followed by a large and representative cortege, took place to North Abbey Cemetery, Rev. E. O'Callaghan, C.C., officiated at the graveside.

The chief mourners were: Mr. W. Ellis (husband); Messrs. William Thomas and Walter Foley (brothers); Miss B. Foley (sister); Mr. J. Corr (nephew); Mrs. M. Murriga and Mrs. M. Hayes (sisters-in-law); Messrs. D. Ellis, M. Murriga and J. Whelan (relatives).

LATE MRS. MARY A. FORREST

We regret to record the death of Mrs. Mary A. Forrest which took place at Youghal Cottage Hospital on Monday last at an advanced age. Of an old Youghal family, the deceased was wife of the late John Forrest, Master Baker, of 102 Uorah Main Street, Youghal, and mother of Mr. John Forrest of South Main Street, Youghal. She is survived by her four sons and four daughters to whom sympathy is extended in their sorrow.

The remains were removed to the Parish Church and the funeral, which will be reported in next week's issue, took place to North Abbey Cemetery.

U.D.C. CHAIRMAN'S RESIGNATION

In a letter addressed to Mr. F. Moloney, Town Clerk, Youghal, Mr. Sean P. Davy, B.E., tendered his resignation as member of the Youghal U.D.C. of which he was Chairman. Mr. Davy disapproved with a recent decision of the Council in regard to a protest by the local Motor Trainers' Association against the proposed erection of oil companies of filling stations in Youghal. The Council decided to make a protest to the Minister for Industry and Commerce.

BUILDING—COURT SEQUEL

house Road, Youghal, was charged with not having submitted plans and obtained the U. Council's permission for the erection of a building at Lighthouse Road. Following a prolonged hearing of evidence from witnesses for both sides the defendant was fined £2 with an additional two-pence a day from October 5th 1962, when he was notified to submit plans. He was also ordered to pay 25 guineas costs to the Council. In the event of an appeal the Justice fixed a personal recognisance of £20.

MOTORISTS WARNED BY CORONER

At an inquest investigating the death of a 7-year-old school boy Richard Landers of Knockmore, Youghal, who was fatally injured when struck by a car at Cantillon's Cross on February 23rd last, Coroner John J. Hogan spoke of the grave danger of an accident in passing a stopped bus. He urged all motorists to go slow passing a stationary bus as "one never knows who is going to emerge from behind the bus." According to the medical evidence, the child was suffering from a fractured skull, and was haemorrhaging when admitted to the Bon Secours in Cork an death was caused by cardiac failure following skull fracture and internal damage. A verdict was returned in accordance with the medical evidence.

FINAL STAGE OF RAS CORCAI

A twenty-two year-old Castleisland fencer, Danie Ahern, cycling in the colours of the Tracee Club, scored a great victory when beating a star field in the two day Ras Corcaic which finished at Western Road, Cork, on Monday night last. Watched by a large crowd of spectators the final stage of the road race commenced at Youghal at 12 noon on Monday when a total of 97 miles were covered via Tallow, Lismore, the Ver. Conghees, Mitchelstown, Donoughmore and Corthob.

HOLY WEEK CEREMONIES

In the presence of large congregations, Holy Week Ceremonies were observed at Youghal with much fervour and devotion. On Holy Thursday at 5 p.m. solemn High Mass was celebrated by Rev. D. O'Connell, C.C., deacon, Rev. J. Gould, C.C., sub-deacon, Rev. P. Keleher, C.C., and Rev. E. G. Dwyer, master of ceremonies. Practically all the congregation received Holy Communion. After Mass the Sacred Host was borne under canopy through the Church by Rev. Fr. O'Connell, C.C., and to the Altar of Repose. The Church remained open until midnight. On Good Friday at 4 p.m. the Liturgical ceremony commenced and included the Passion Gospel, solemn prayers of petition and unveiling of the Cross. Large number again received Holy Communion. At 7.30 the Stations of the Cross were recited by Very Rev. Canon Sheehan, P.P. On Easter Saturday at 11 p.m. the Church was again filled to capacity for the Paschal Vigil, blessing of the new fire and Paschal Candle, litany of the Saints, blessing of Baptismal Vows, first Easter Mass at midnight and Holy Communion. The singing of the ceremonies by the school mixed choir was under the direction of Rev. Brother Cordial, C.B.S. with Miss M. Crowley at the organ.

visit to Waterford Constituency as Leader of the largest Government Opposition group in Leinster House, and he received a stupendous ovation on rising to speak.

Presiding at the function was Mr. Percy Kirwan, Chairman of the Kilmacthomas District Executive of the Party, who distinguished himself at the athletic contests at the Papal International Celebration at Rome in 1910, when he had the honour of being received by Pope Pius X (His Holiness was canonized approximately 17 years ago). During his athletic career, Mr. Kirwan annexed a score of Irish Championships in sprints, jumps and weights.

At Stamford Bridge, London, he won three A.A.A. Championships in succession in 1910, '11 and '12. He cleared 49 ft. 9 ins. in the hop, step and jump. And he was a conspicuous player on the formidable Rathgorman Gaelic Football team that placed the county senior football title to the credit of the Barony of Upper Third for five successive years.

Prayer and the speeches, Mrs. J. M. Dillon was preceded with a bouquet on behalf of the Waterford Fine Gael Party by Miss Phionema Shanahan, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. David Shanahan, Chairman of the Portlaoise Branch of the Party.

The dinner concluded with a number of songs by Mr. P. McMarus, community singing of "A Nation Once Again" and the National Anthem.

Good To Find that nicely-managed Master Gerdie Mackey, Mahon View, Kilmacthomas, is making steady progress towards complete recovery from the effects of the leg injury which necessitated his undergoing treatment in a Waterford hospital over the past few months. A mouth-organist of much merit, he is a valued member of the brilliant local Children's Band.

Yes, spots and novelties will form a feature of the 15th annual dance under the auspices of the Kilmacthomas Branch, Macra-na Feirme, A. 9-2 affair. It is set for the local Rainbow Hall, and the Michael Foley Combo will discourse the music (Please peruse advert).

Late Mark A. Kiely, Ballinabogue, Kilmac'.—Deepest sympathy on the death of a sincere and genuine patriot, Mark A. Kiely (Conea Powers) born Ver. Rev. Fr. M. O'Flynn, P.P., Ross, Co. Lanes, England, by whom the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass was offered at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Kingsway, Rochdale, for the repose of the soul of "dear Mark Kiely" on Easter Sunday.

Recent Arrivals to this country from the U.S. on a holiday included three ladies who, on Good Friday, visited St. Anne's Church, Ballyaneen, and afterwards visited the tombs of the Ballyaneen ancestor of their name Catherine over (a surname called "Powers" in America).

Lismore Notes

DEATH OF MR. WM. CLERY

The death occurred at Dungarvan hospital on Wednesday April 11th of Mr. William Clery, Owbeg, Lismore, after a rather short duration of illness. Bill, as he was popularly known, was one of the most peculiarly keen figures in the area and made many friends by his great sense of humour. He will be sadly missed by his relatives and friends to whom our deepest sympathy is extended.

The remains were removed to St. Carthage's Church on Thursday evening and were received and blessed by Very Rev. Canon Dunphy, P.P., V.F., assisted by Rev. Fr. Quail, C.C., and Rev. Fr. Slattery, C.C., and the burial took place on Friday in the local cemetery, the same clergy officiating at the graveside. Large numbers of sympathisers attended both funeral and burial.

EDWARD BARRY WINS MEMBERS CUP

Neil Barry received a tremendous ovation from his fellow players when he shot double thirteen to win a memorable final by two games to one against Michael Madden on Saturday night.

This is the first competition for the members cup, which will be competed for annually and the members of Madens Darts Club will be happy to see Ned's name tagged on the cup, because as well as being the Secretary of the club he is also one of the founder members.

The final game was a fitting climax to a competition enjoyed by both members and a host of interested onlookers.

The next game will be played at Condon's of Cahir on the coming Friday night.

Letter to the Editor

CHALLENGE BY URBAN COUNCIL Chairman

Dear Sir - In last week's issue of the 'Dungarvan Leader', 'Pensman' took the members of the Urban Council to task for failing to cut the rates for 1963-64 by an amount that would make them lower by one shilling than the rate of 1962-63.

I am sure the other members always welcome constructive criticism and so that we may profit from 'Pensman's' views I now challenge him to vindicate the specific cuts he would make on each individual service as listed on the detailed accounts submitted by the Co. Manager. In doing so he should remember the Co. Manager can demand this and even if he did not do so it is nearly undesirable that the Council should leave it to the Manager to decide what service he should cut without the consent of the Council. We hear so much about the Council not having any powers that we should be very careful not to give away the most important function we have that of saying how much and on what the rates are to be spent.

When he is cutting the Manager's Estimate by 1.8d. to 4.7d. I would like him to remember that instead of reduced services the Council have been pressed throughout the year to provide extra for such services as lighting, roads, heating and sewerage etc. Again I would draw his attention to a statement by Mr. H. B. E. Co. Engineer to the Co. Council members at their meeting on 8.4.63. In his remarks he states - 'With regard to Urban Rates, we have only provided a figure of £1200 for maintenance. It is a matter for the Urban Council to decide to provide, but

I want to make it clear that the Co. Council is the Road Authority and responsible for providing adequately for the roads in the Urban Area not the Urban Council. In the present condition of the roads in the Urban area a figure of £1200 is inadequate for ordinary maintenance. The Urban grant of £1320 will provide as far as possible for the restoration of the roads which have been so badly affected by the various excavations which have been carried out recently in the town and by the resultant traffic diversions and congestions.'

Even if the Council of the U.D.C. dispute Mr. Hatter's views that the Co. Council should strike the urban rate for urban roads they would have been very foolishly to disregard his views on the amount needed for the upkeep of them to the extent of going beyond the economy they effected of cutting his demand down to the same figure as last year.

I will be looking forward to 'Pensman's' reply to this challenge. Yours sincerely,

T. A. KYNE, T.D.

Chairman U.D.C.

BROAD-BREADED TURKEYS ARE BEST

Although most of the turkey produce in the country are now of broad-breasted type, there is a small percentage of the old type bird which is completely unsuitable for the present export market. Producers who wish to get the best return for their efforts are advised by the Department of Agriculture to concentrate on getting broad-breasted birds from now on. The popularity of the broad-breasted bird has been demonstrated at each Christmas market since these birds were introduced and the difference in price between them and the others is a significant factor in making a profit from turkey rearing.

The best way for a producer to stock up with the broad-breasted birds is to buy day-old poulters from a licensed hatchery. Any producer who wishes to breed from his own stock can have these mated with broad-breasted cocks at the Turkey, Cork Station in his own neighbourhood. If these hens are of good quality, however, they cannot be expected to produce superior stock and would be preferable to purchase hatchery poulters. Full information and advice can be obtained from the poultry instructors employed by the County Committee of Agriculture, who will call to produce's premises on request.

Self Help Brought Water on Tap to 37 North Cork Families

On high ground in the north bank of the River Funcheon, a tributary of the Munster Blackwater, 37 families at Downings near Fermoy in County Cork, watched the river flow by for years and years and yet when they wanted a drop of water for their tea they had to travel up to two miles to the town pump.

Now a tap has changed and each family has crystal clear water on tap in its home thanks to a co-operative group water scheme organised and carried out on a voluntary basis by themselves. The slavery of carrying buckets of water is now at an end for the women of Downings.

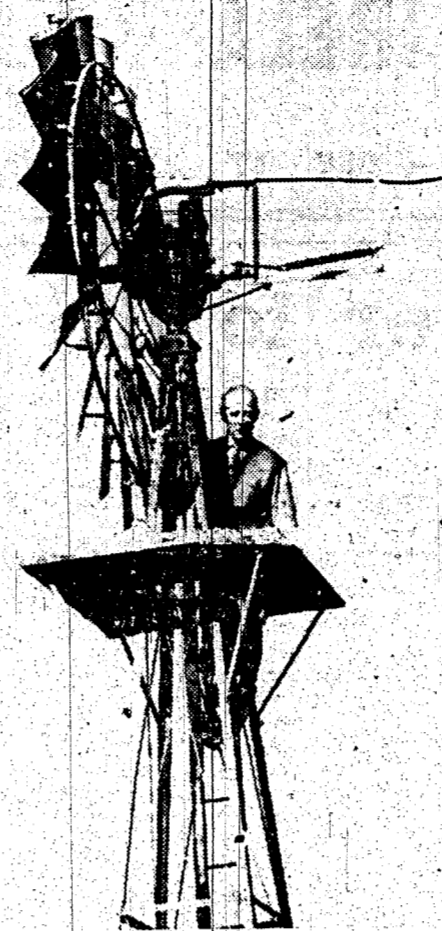

The idea of the group water scheme came to one of the farmers concerned when he saw one of the local women laboriously lugging buckets of water up a hill to her cottage. After churning the matter over in his mind he contacted the local now disused, its place taken by the group scheme.

"But even the windmill was a struggle," says Mr. Bourke. "I had to put on the brake in high winds to prevent it running away and to oil the mechanism regularly. Now all that's finished with as well I've got the water sure out to my field which I hadn't before."

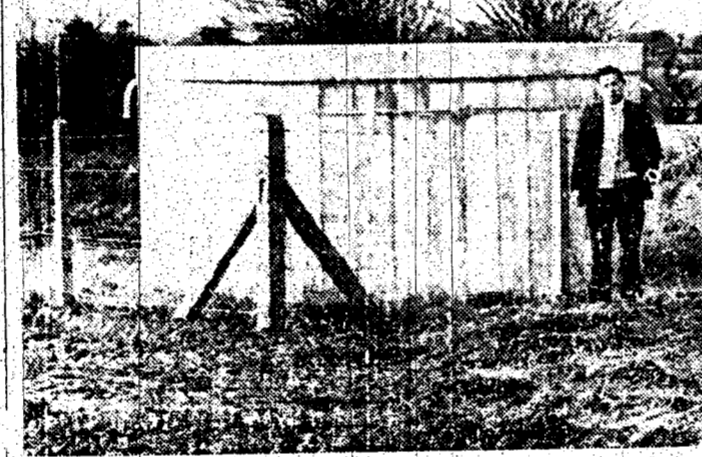

Mr. Bourke is now an one-eyed man, a result of a fall from a tree through the wind pump and, grey to quite a large size in the tank on the roof of Ballyvoock House before being discovered.

Mr. Bourke is incidentally a descendant of Edmund Burke the famous Irishman whose statue stands in front of Trinity College, Dublin, although in the intervening years the spelling of the surname has changed. The memorial ring for Edmund Burke is still preserved as a family heirloom at Ballyvoock House. Another distinguished ancestor of Mr. Bourke's from whom Pictured above is Mr. Brisbane Bourke, the secretary of the Downings group water scheme who was the only farmer in the area who had water on tap before the scheme began. It was pumped to his house by the 100-year-old, now disused, wind-pump on the platform of which he is pictured here.

Mr. Bourke is a descendant of Edmund Burke, the famous Irishman whose statue stands in front of Trinity College, Dublin, and of Sir Thomas Brisbane, the founder of the Australian City of Brisbane.

This is the reservoir at Downings near Fermoy, Co. Cork, which supplies water on tap to 37 houses. Standing beside it is Wally Gower, one of the farmers participating in this co-operative group scheme.

medical officer of health, Dr. Sean Flynn, and after discussing the subject at length they both called a meeting locally to do something about the situation.

The farmer whose idea it was to organise the scheme is Mr. Brisbane Bourke of Ballyvoock House and he was strangely enough the only one in the area who had water on tap in his home before the scheme began. It was pumped to his house by an unusual piece of machinery to find in rural Ireland—a windmill—which took the water from the river to a storage tank at his house. The windmill which had been in operation for over 100 years is comes the Brisbane in his name and from whom perhaps he inherited his organising ability was Sir Thomas Brisbane, the founder of the Australian City of Brisbane.

The meeting called to discuss the water supply situation in Downings was held in the local schoolhouse and was attended, at their invitation, by an inspector from the Department of Local Government and a representative of the E.S.B. The inspector outlined what a group scheme was and what grants would be available. The E.S.B. representative advised the meeting of the electrical end of the scheme.

They decided to go ahead with a group scheme and appointed Mr. Michael Gowen as Chairman, Messrs. John Callaghan and Pierce Whelan as joint treasurers and Mr. Brisbane Bourke as secretary. A small committee was appointed to deal with day to day problems as they arose.

The first job was locating a suitable source of water with sufficient output to give a steady supply even in dry weather. "It is absolutely essential that the water be fully tested," says Mr. Bourke, "as others who organised group schemes have learned to their cost."

Water in sufficient quantity was located in Downings at a depth of 30 feet on the land of Mr. Stephen Dunne. The next job in hand was building the 8,000 gallon reservoir to which the water is pumped from the well. From this reservoir the water is fed by gravity to 30 of the houses. The other seven houses are supplied direct by a pressure pump located on the land of Mr. Jim Moakley as they are at a higher elevation than the reservoir.

Over four miles of trenching was then opened to take the main piping which connects up each of the houses. Some of this was hard going through rocky ground and gullies. The main piping was from 4 inches reducing to 2 inches in diameter with 1 inch tees off it to each house. After the trenches were opened the pipes were jointed—a simple operation—on the bank ready to be laid.

One of the main obstacles to be overcome was the six road crossings which had to be made. Permission for this had to be first obtained from the County Council. An unusual feature of the scheme is that a fire hydrant has been placed at one end of the scheme on the main pipe line to ensure against fire hazard in any of the houses or farm buildings at that end. The 8,000 gallon reservoir will, in the same function at the other end.

The Downings group scheme was a community effort. The community worked voluntarily and with more enthusiasm than one usually finds in Ireland. Some did more work than others. For instance, Wally Gowen, a brother of the chairman of the group, and John Callaghan, did all the plumbing and installing of sinks, and for Mr. Bourke it was almost a full-time job while the scheme was in progress, but all did their bit.

Also several houses without menfolk had the work done for them without the question of extra cost—a fine example of the community spirit.

Now each of these households in the Downings area can boast of piped water on tap for the home and the farm. It took many hours of hard work to see the scheme finished but this voluntary effort saved hundreds of pounds.

The good example and community spirit of the people of Downings is having a good effect on neighbouring parishes. It has been responsible for starting some more group schemes in the district.

Further afield, over 50 such schemes are under way throughout the country and these range in size from 3-house schemes to 30-house schemes.

Altogether since the idea of installing piped water on tap on a co-operative basis caught on in Ireland, ninety such schemes have been completed bringing all the benefits of piped water to thousands of rural dwellers.

TOP PRIORITIES While the everyday work of the Organisation must go on, the range of matters handled is commensurate with our very large membership - it has been decided that top priority should be given to a few specific items. Despite the recent id. in crease, milk and dairy industry will continue to be treated with the prominence it deserves. Another obvious priority is the question of the complete devaluation of the first £20 on farms for reasons obvious to every farmer. The Association has actively pressed for this and its members anxiously await 'Budget Day'. They believe that they have a prima facie case and they will be more than disappointed if a decision is not given in their favour. In parts of the country feeling is very high on this subject and when one studies the position one cannot but feel that farmers - especially small farmers - are justified in feeling as they do. The growth in membership in our Organisation within the last year has been so remarkable that, were it not for the unprecedented concentration by the staff in night work our organisational records would be chaotic by now. Co-ordinating a financial record is a branch county and national level is another job that is being given priority treatment. Next on the list is the matter of staff. The Officers received at Central Offices are diverse, the cause for personal assistance so numerous, the amount of investigation and research so great and the difficulty of keeping abreast of day-to-day developments a home and abroad makes it impossible for our skeleton staff to do the job expected of it. A complete reappraisal of the staff situation is currently being carried out by a firm of efficient experts and it is expected that many changes will be made soon. This is as it should be because Irish farmers are deserving of the most competent service available. They will need it in years ahead. It is to be expected also that a lot of time and effort will have to be devoted to the successful holding of the forthcoming International Conference of farmers. This is to be held in Dublin next month and the NFA is acting as host to farmer organisations from all over the world. It is imperative, therefore, that a lasting image of Ireland should be created for these visitors - one that they will remember with fondness and pleasure. It is necessary also that this Congress of farmers should be so organised that useful work of benefit to Irish and other farmers can be carried out at it. Doing this is going to entail a great deal of time, effort, money and intelligent planning. CHAIRMAN TAKE ON EXTRA WORK In an endeavour to meet more commitments than have been possible recently for individual committees, it was decided at the last National Council meeting that Chairmen should also act as Secretaries for the coming five or six months. A great deal of work will still have to be borne by the respective secretaries of Central Offices but this effort to lighten the burden should have several beneficial effects. Firstly, each Chairman will have to accept even more responsibility than heretofore. He will have to exercise a greater degree of autonomy and with other members of the committee, do more extra work. This new move will leave the Central Office Staff a little more free to work on priority problems as listed by the National Council. With each Chairman taking his new function seriously, some of the bottle-necks presently existing should be cleared in a short time. The only element of regret in this new development is that most of the new burdens will be added to those already heavily on the shoulders of a willing few. The N.F.A. all farmers, the country requires more men to step forward as local workers, local thinkers, local speakers and local leaders. This recent move by the N.F.A. provides an excellent platform for anyone desirous of making a public contribution to the National well-being. N.F.A. INSURANCE Two Insurance Schemes have been operating through the N.F.A. for many years. They are becoming more and more successful according as membership increases. One is the General Insurance Scheme and the other a Group Scheme of Voluntary Health Insurance. Under the first the N.F.A. acts as an agent and the agency commission is used to reduce the premiums paid by the members. Under the second, members will avail of this scheme, get the benefit of

LOCAL DERBY TO-NIGHT (THURSDAY)

Turling enthusiasts will flock to Dungarvan's Fraker Field to-night (Thursday) for the eagerly awaited local derby between Dungarvan and Abbeyside in the first round of the junior hurling championship.

The intense rivalry between these clubs is practically an assurance of thrills and excitement whenever they meet and with championship aspirations of both on trial on this occasion, expectations of a titanic struggle will surely be fulfilled.

While form offers no guide in attempting to predict the outcome, as neither side has yet been seen in action this year, general opinion for what it's worth, seems to favour a Dungarvan victory.

With Jimmy Walsh, Dick Fitzgerald, Johnny Mahoney, Mutt Whelan and Eoin Goode all with senior experience, Dungarvan have a first-class hurling team. On the other hand, Abbeyside have the nucleus of a formidable combination. Already they have visions of a long and successful championship run and have every confidence in surmounting hurdle number one in fitting style.

Not that the villagers will be beaten easily—in fact like the neither county has announced its team but few changes are expected from the line-ups that have served both so splendidly over the past twelve months.

For Tipp, of course, there is an added incentive on Sunday. With Waterford already safely in the final, they are afforded the opportunity of another crack at the men who have twice lowered their colours since the All-Ireland triumph in September last. That urge and playing at home may just about tip the scales in their favour, after what is expected to be an encounter par excellence.

hoid, Kirossanty have made progressive hurling strides over the past decade. Sunday's team will be fit and enthusiastic but it is doubtful if they possess the craft and skill to provide us with a shock result.

FOOTBALL TIE The only football game on the programme brings the minors of Dungarvan and Ring into opposition and here the locals are expected to advance to the second round with something to spare.

AT AGLISH Stradbally, led by Pat Clancy who already has proved his worth in senior ranks, meet Ballyduff Upper in the football championship at Aghlish.

Neither club has been prominent in this grade for some years past but if my information is correct both are well equipped with good material for this campaign.

It should be a tough and closely fought game but Clancy's brilliance may just about inspire Stradbally to a slender victory.

TIPP MAY WIN AT THURLES As Waterford await with eagerness the National Hurling League final on May 5th, Tipperary and Kilkenny will battle it out at Thurles on Sunday next for the right to provide the opposition to the Decies in that decider.

This Thurles clash has aroused nation-wide interest and bids fair to be one of the hurling classics of the year. Tipp, playing in their own domain, must be regarded as 'favourites' to advance to the final but any suggestions that Kilkenny may be easily overpowered can be rebuffed.

These No. 10siders have trained as never before for a league game and the fact that they must face this Tipperary Ron in his own den, does not deter them in the least.

ATTRACTIVE SARGENT CUP GAMES ALSO LISTED FOR DUNHILL

QUALITY rather than quantity seems to be the theme of the week-end fixture list that features attractive Sargent and Phelan Cup ties at Dunhill and Dungarvan. HURLERS FACE CORK ON SUNDAY

Waterford travel to Buttevant (Co. Cork) on Sunday next to play the home county in a senior hurling game in connection with the opening of the new Gaelic Field in the town.

While the team was selected on Tuesday night, I have failed to get the actual line-out from official quarters. However it is a highly experimental one drawn in the main from players in the Western Division.

But this decision of Waterford's to try out several newcomers has met with a good deal of disapproval from the marsh. Rivalry is one thing, but when clubs turn it into sheer hatred, it is a vastly different proposition.

Should these teams decide firmly to play the game in a clean and manly spirit, then I predict with confidence a top class game. The Brickeys are amongst the finest footballing sides in the County while Emmetts are quite capable of setting an attractive pace.

While injuries and enforced absences will make the teams looking a unit for both, each will be represented by its strongest possible line-up.

The Brickeys strong and determined in defence will again have Richie Whelan guarding their net with the ever-ready eye of a champion.

Should we receive the Waterford line-out before going to press it will appear elsewhere in this page.

MUNSTER'S RAILWAY CUP

After a one year 'rest' Munster re-opened the coveted Railway Hurling Cup with a thrilling point victory over Limerick in the replay at Corke Park on Sunday last.

Many will contend that Limerick threw away enough first-half scores to have won the game handsomely. While that may be so to a certain extent, there was no such question of a 'rest' for the Munster forwards who turned far less chances into more profitable accounts.

Beaten badly at midfield where a rampant Des Foley was monarch of all he surveyed, an extra burden was thrown on the shoulders of the Munster forwards. But, inspired by a brilliant Tom Walsh they proved equal to every test for and gave Mick Cashman the protection he so badly missed in the drawn game.

The Waterford men on duty acquitted themselves well. Tommy Byrne, was as always 'the polished defencer', while Tom Cheasty was one of Munster's outstanding forwards. Joe Condon, in patches, revealed his true form and scored a great second-half point.

Since the announcement of the Dungarvan meeting of Brickeye and Emmetts, interest has increased with the passing time. From general conversation it is a game that apparently everyone wants to see and it should produce a gripping clash—and that is the operative word—between these same clubs less than two weeks ago. That game had the makings of a right good encounter but was instead disappointingly marred by rank bad sportsmen out of bounds. Like-wise full-forward Pat Curran is similarly affected and the composition of the sector will undoubtedly prove quite a problem.

Emmetts, with a hurling victory over the Rangers already to their credit, will be anxious to record the double. Since attaining senior status they haven't met with any great success but are nevertheless quite confident of causing an upset on this occasion.

They have in Dick Tobin, Garry Quinnan, Com Bannon, Vincent Byrne, Jack Kieley and Paddy Fitzgerald, footballers who are fit for the best company in the County and will doubtless be the leading figures in this latest 'Cogan' challenge.

Yet, they have slipped though Brickeys will be keen to take rise to the occasion and gain revenge for the defeat of their hurlers.

Con Crowley of Mount Sion will have charge of the whistle.

DUNHILL GAMES

To-night (Thursday) at Dunhill the home club will play hosts to Ballygunner in the opening round of this year's Sargent Cup. Since their unexpected fall from grace in last year's championship when they were beaten in the first round by Coghlan Rookies, Dunhill have been itching to return to the winning trail.

Prior to that championship event they had built up an excellent record which included victories over 'Mick' Slone and Frit's Oxa in tournament games. Now they have the golden opportunity of retaining their title before their own supporters and at the expense of a class opposition.

It will be for the most part an exciting hurling with little indication of 'blades in the middle' of the game. Yet should the occasion really demand a hard 'stickwork' they have the men to supply it in abundance. Billy Duggan, Mick White, Mount O'Garra, Mick Reilly and Mick Barry are the 'big guns' and will spearhead Sunday's effort.

The 'Goneys' let it be known, have visions of a championship success this year.

What of Ballyduff? Anyone that saw them sweep to success in last year's junior championship will vouch for their ability as a team. At that time I described them as one of the best sides to win that championship—an opinion that was substantiated by many shrewd judges.

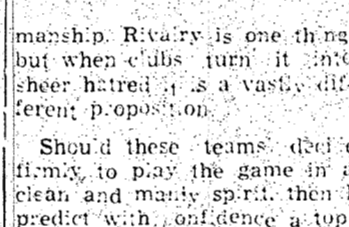

Now in this their senior debut they are determined to create a favourable impression. Backed by the Hassetts, John Hubbard, John Whelan, Joe Harney and Battie Lacey, they could start off on the right footing in '62.

Ballyduff, however, must remain favourites. Senior experience on their side, plus the dynamic Cheasty and that should be good enough to see them through. But to this prediction I'll add a footnote. Ballyduff have it in them to prove me wrong. They are born hurlers and the writer will not be the least surprised if Willie Lenahan's charges topple the favourites.
