Dungarvan Priest's Silver Jubilee

SOLEMN HIGH MASS of thanksgiving was celebrated in St. Augustine's Church, Hammersmith, recently to mark the silver jubilee of the ordination of the prior, Very Rev. Cornelius Paul Delany, O.S.A., a native of Dungarvan, who is now prior at Hammersmith.

A special luncheon was given in Fr. Delany's honour at Nazareth House, Hammersmith. The Irish Ambassador, Dr. C. C. Cremin; Right Rev. D. J. Cashman, Auxiliary Bishop of Westminster; Very Rev. Joseph Curtin, O.S.A., Provincial; Mr. Hugh Delany M.P., and priors from Australian houses in Britain and Ireland attended.

Educated in St. Augustine's College, Dungarvan, and the Gregorian University, Rome, Fr. Delany went to Britain on September 2, 1939, the day the war broke out and spent the next 15 years at Hoxton. He had a remarkable escape from death on one occasion when the priory received a direct hit in an air-raid. A priest was killed and the house partially destroyed.

Better known as Father Bob, he is son of the late Pat Delany, N.T., and Mrs. Delany (nee Hourigan) Old Parish, and brother of Mrs. P. Walsh, N.T., Tallow; Mrs. M. Foley (wife of Mr. M. Foley, B.E., formerly of Cloneal); Mrs. McHugh, Drogheda, and the late Sean Delany, N.T., Afane, and first cousin of Messrs. Jas. Delany, Main St., and P. Delany, Emmett St., Dungarvan.

INQUEST HEARS OF CAPPAGH MAN'S DEATH

Involved in fatal accident near home

A VERDICT in accordance with the medical evidence, that death was due to shock and damage to the brain, was returned at an inquest in Dungarvan on Saturday last before Dr. T. McMahon, Deputy Coroner for West Waterford, on Edward O'Keefe (19½), Churchquarter, Modeligo, who was fatally injured in the early hours of Monday morning July 8th.

Mr. Wm. O'Keefe, father of the deceased said his son owned a motor-cycle and had been riding it for the past two years. He saw his son's body at Dungarvan District Hospital on July 8th last. The last time he saw him alive was 7 p.m. on the Sunday evening.

John McCarthy, an attendant at the District Hospital, said he pointed out the body of abrasions on various parts of the body. There was a large laceration about seven inches long on the left side of the neck, about seven sub-capular region. There was bruising of the scalp on the left temporal region and underlying this bruise was a fracture of the skull. There was also an extensive fracture of the base of the skull and parts of this fracture were depressed. There was blood showing from both nostrils and there was some blood clot in both ears.

"In my opinion," he said, "death was caused by shock and damage to the brain by the depressed fractures."

Mr. James Hackett, farmer, Knocknageragh, Modeligo, said he resides with his mother and his brother, Thomas. Thomas is the owner of two horses, a white and a bay. The white one was kept in a field on the left of the road and the bay on the other side of the road about 100 yards further up. There were gates opening on to the road from these fields. They were always closed at night.

Mr. Hackett went on "It is necessary to lift up both gates in order to open them, and at 11.15 on Sunday night I passed by the gate inside which the white horse was and it was closed. I did not pass the other gate."

"After the accident at 1.30 a.m. approx. I was called on to the road. I saw the bay horse in the yard beside the house. I do not know how it got out. I then checked the field and the gate was opened inwards. To my knowledge it was the first time the horse ever broke out."

home on a motor-cycle. He was going fairly fast.

Patrick McGrath, Boolavoun, Ballinacult, said that at about 1.25 a.m. on July 8, he was driving his car from Cappoquin to wards Modeligo. About a quarter of a mile beyond Boherwilling Level Crossing he saw Edward O'Keefe. As far as he knew he was sitting alone on a stationary motor-cycle. He (witness) drove on and about a half mile further on when he was doing 40 miles an hour (approx.) he (O'Keefe) passed him out.

After taking the next bend he saw a bay cob on the centre of the road. He stopped up and he saw Mr. O'Keefe lying on the road injured. Raymond Barry was standing over him. The deceased had a helmet on him.

Maurice Tobin, Chapel Rd., Modeligo, said he was at the pictures in Dungarvan, on the Sunday night and gave Raymond Barry a lift home in his car. He left him outside the gate of his house which was 200 yards from the scene of the accident.

Raymond Barry, Churchquarter, Modeligo, said: "As far as I can remember I got a lift home on the Sunday night from Dungarvan in Maurice Tobin's car. After I left him I did not go home and I stayed about the road until the time of the accident. I do not know what I was doing as I had a lot of drink taken. I remember putting a white horse I found on the road into Tom Hackett's field. I turned to go home and I heard the noise of a motor-cycle which I recognised by the sound to be Edward O'Keefe's."

Garda Walter Thompson Cappagh, said at 1.25 a.m. on July 8th, he went to Patrick Nugent's, Churchquarter, Modeligo. He saw Hackett's iron gate opened outwards onto the road. He saw no horses on the road.

When he left the house at 1.30 a.m. he heard the sound of horses hooves on the road and he discovered that an accident had happened. He saw Edward O'Keefe lying on the roadway and Raymond Barry standing beside him. The motor-cycle was stuck in the ditch some distance farther on. O'Keefe was unconscious and he had a helmet on. There was broken glass on the road which was 44 feet wide. There was a view of 60 yards up to the point of impact. The impact was about ten feet from the wall on the right hand side going to Modeligo.

Sergt. J. Cafferty, Public Service Vehicles Inspector, said he visited the scene of the fatal accident at Churchquarter on July 8th. He examined a triumph motor-cycle 200 c.c. and it had a speedometer reading 12,801. The hand-controlled acceleration was working effectively. The headlamp glass was broken and there was some clay under the mere wheel.

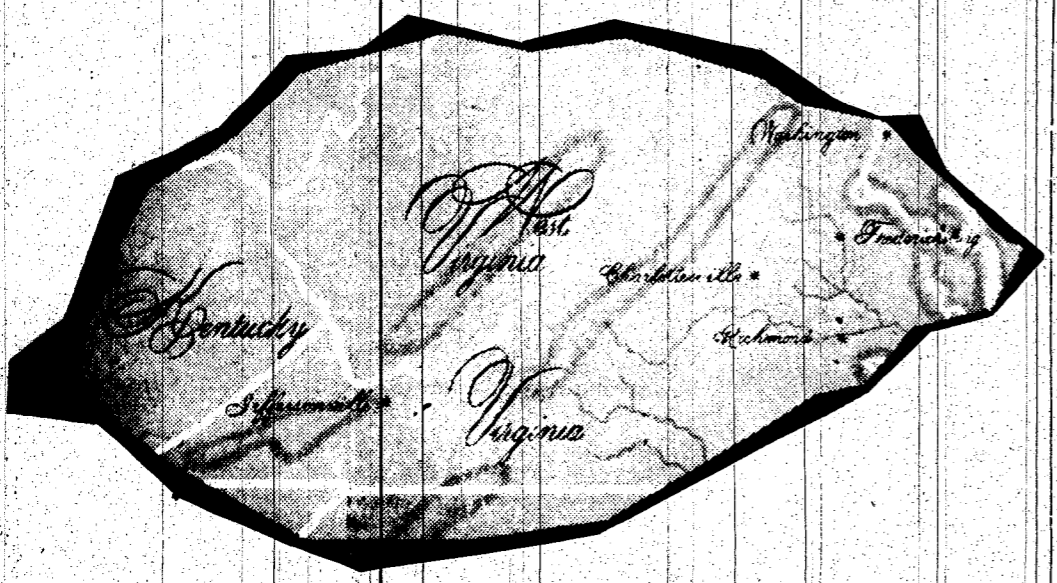

When the jury returned their verdict, the Coroner, Dr. McMahon said it was a tragic accident and he expressed deepest sympathy with the relatives of the deceased.

Inspector E. Kennedy, on behalf of the Garda Authorities, also expressed sympathy with the relatives.

ALWAYS LOCKED

Thomas Hackett said he was the owner of the two horses. Both gates in the fields were always locked at night.

On Sunday night, July 7th he passed the gate of the field in which the bay was. He noticed nothing unusual about the gate. At the gate he met Maurice Walsh. At 1.30 a.m. he heard a noise and three girls came to the house looking for a lamp. When he got out he saw the bay horse coming in the gate of the yard. He examined him and there were a few scratches on his nose and leg.

REMOVED TO HOSPITAL
Dr. Brendan McCarthy, Dungarvan, said he was called to the scene of an accident at Churchquarter, Modeligo at 2 a.m. on July 8th. He found the deceased lying on the road with evidence of extensive head injuries. He arranged for his removal to the District Hospital, Dungarvan.

On his admission to the hospital at about 2.30 a.m. witness examined him. He found evidence of a fracture of the left side of the vault of the skull and also on the base of the skull on the same side. He had no eye injuries as far as he could ascertain at the time. He was then deeply unconscious and he died without regaining consciousness at approximately 5 a.m. on the same date.

John Power, Boherwilling, Cappagh, said he was cycling from Modeligo to Boherwilling at 1.30 a.m. on July 8th. He passed a wooden gate on his left and it appeared to be knocked and was lying almost flat on its side. He saw a bay cob grazing in the pasture. About 100 yards further up he saw a white horse and there appeared to be a man leading it in the same direction as the bay horse. He thought it was Raymond Barry but he could not be sure.

About half a mile further on he saw Edmond O'Keefe Parkmore, going towards his

PRAYERS FOR FINE WEATHER

Bishop's House, Waterford 17th July, 1963.

Very Rev. and Rev. Fathers and dear Brethren,

OWING to the continued bad weather and consequent strain and anxiety for the farming community and indeed all of us, I ask the Priests of the Diocese to be good enough to insert the special prayer for fine weather ('ad postulandum serenitatem') in every Mass, for the time being.

Also, I ask the Priests and Faithful to pray daily for the same intention.

Your very devotedly in Christ,
DANIEL COHALAN,
Bishop of Waterford and Lismore

Late Mr. John Ryan

Park Tee., Dungarvan

It is with regret we record death of John Ryan, Park Tee., Dungarvan, so shortly after the death of his brother Matt. Deceased was the oldest brother of the legendary football family — the Ryan's of Leamybrien — of whom Tom and Matt have already passed to their eternal reward, leaving Paddy, of Tallow, now the lone survivor. John was a genuine Gael and a gentleman. He loved the game of football and the green and gold of Kilrossanty. Until his retirement some few years back he was a member of the Waterford County Council and his capabilities as a road-maker were known far and wide.

The funeral of immense proportions took place from the District Hospital to St. Mary's Parish Church on last Thursday evening followed by a huge cortege and were received and blessed at the Church gates by Rev. W. Power, C.C.

Following Requiem Masses on Friday morning the

GARDA DAYBREAK SWOOP

Four young men who were arrested in a dawn swoop by over 100 Gardai in the townland of Dyrick, Ballinacult on this Thursday morning, were each sentenced to two months imprisonment at a special court before Judge Skinner in Dungarvan this evening.

The Garda swoop was on a disused outhouse on the rugged Broe mountain. One of the defendants injured his ankle when attempting to escape. The defendants were Patrick McGuire (20) of Saor a Gibson St., Belfast; George O'Hara (24) 19 Cape St. Belfast; Robert McKnight (25) of 32 McCauley St., Belfast, and Philip O'Donoghue (25) of 95 Lally Road, Ballyfermot, Dublin.

They were charged with unlawfully being in possession of firearms and ammunition without being the holders of firearms certificates.

At this stage McKnight told the Justice that the arms were to be used against the British Forces in the Six

ABBESIDE PAROCHIAL DRAW

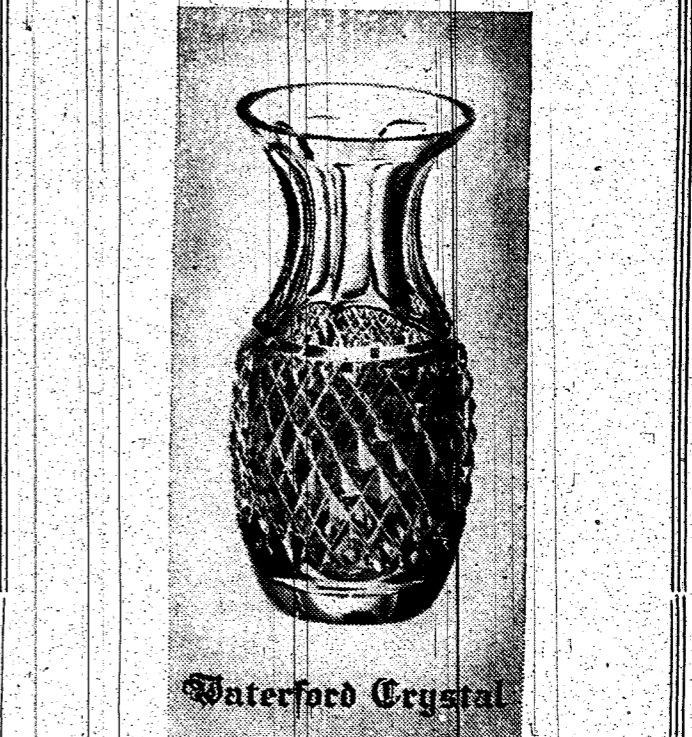

We regret to note that the Abbeyside, Ballinacult and Garranbane Non-Stop Draw (third series) could not commence as scheduled on Monday night last. We understand that the membership, or rather the lack of it, did not allow for a start to be made. In view of the liberal prize money and the very worthy object, it is very discouraging to the clergy of the parish and the promoting committee to find such apathy on the part of the parishioners. It is hoped that a better response will be forthcoming before the draw commences on Monday, July 29th.

At the conclusion of evidence McNight said the case would go down in history as the queerest ever.

At the hearing, two of the defendants were dressed in dungarees and two in army tunics.

BLACKROCK TROPHY

The annual handicap race for this trophy was held on Sunday, 7th July, the course being from Abbeyview to Helvick Pier via the buoyed channel, the Blackrock and the Helvick BBooy. Twelve boats crossed the line and with the very light breezes, most of the boats found it difficult to stem the incoming tide, the lighter ply craft sharing the lead to Ballinacree. Running to the "rock" and reaching for Helvick the lead boats opened the fleet crossing the line at Helvick two and a half hours out in the following order: 1st, No. 3 Annette; 2nd, No. 10, "Island Queen"; 3rd, No. 14 "Gabriel"; 4th, No. 5 Carol Patrice.

Corrected times revealed Corthattheaded kecmesit re that the leaders had saved their "times" the final results being: 1st, Annette—M. Kiely; 2nd, Island Queen—Des. Walsh; 3rd, Gabriel—A. Troll.

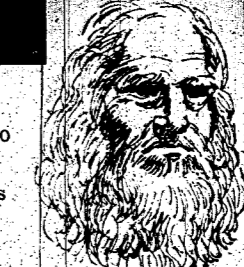

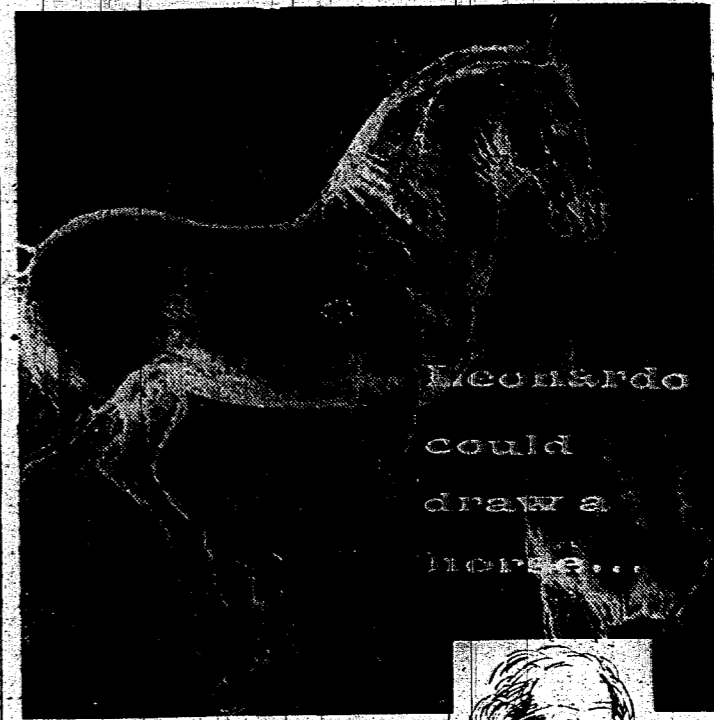

CLUB NOTES

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday last were Club Nights, a large number of members availing of sailing instruction afloat each night, reports indicating that the ladies are very keen and that some excellent "Helmswomen" are likely to emerge from the newer members. A treasure hunt to Killonford Bridge was featured on Wednesday night, clues being difficult to locate. Annette and crew finally found the "crook" of gold when things were roses all the way. On Sunday next, July 21st, a number of the local "petrels" hope to compete in the Voughal Regatta.

GAELIC JOTTINGS

● BALLINACOURTY FOR JUNIOR FINAL

Ballinacourty qualified for the Western junior final on Sunday last when accounting for Ballinameela by 1-10 to 0-1 in the semi-final at Cappoquin. This victory was as easily achieved as the final score-line suggests and 'Courtly can await either Valley Rovers or Cappoquin in the decider with confidence.

The winners had first advantage of the strong breeze and were continuously on the offensive during these opening thirty minutes. But their attack was guilty of some weak finishing and their 1-6 to 0-1 interval lead was by no means an unassailable one. Like Ballinacourty, however, Ballinameela failed miserably to forge the pace even when playing with the wind. The winners had little difficulty in containing the feeble opposition and they added a further four points to their tally without reply.

The other semi-final between 'The Valleys' and Cappoquin originally fixed for Dungarvan on Sunday last was postponed.

● NEXT SUNDAY'E GAMES

The big game in the West on Sunday next is the junior hurling championship semi-final between Fourmilewater and Tallo, at the Cornerstone venue. The Ballymac-side-holders for the last years have overcome crippling adversity so far in this year's campaign, and many believe they will continue their winning way on Sunday. Against Cappoquin in the previous round, the champions hardly looked as good as of yester year, but none can deny their fighting qualities and they will not surrender their crown easily. Can Tallo then succeed where all Western sides have failed for nigh three years? It is not beyond them and the Brideside players are simply bubbling over with confidence.

But the writer believes it will be a case of the old dog for the long road and I expect Kieran Ryan, Benny, Martin and Tom Wall, Mick Connolly, Austin Barron and Billy Grant to engineer a hard-earned victory.

● TOURNAMENT GAMES AT ARDMORE AND AGLISH

While the senior championships are at a standstill this week, Western clubs are busily engaged in the throes of sponsoring tournaments. On to-night (Friday) the Ardmore stage the final of the Murphy Cup (S.F.) in Ardmore, and on Wednesday night next, Kill and Brickey Rangers meet in the Aghlish Cup — also senior football at Aghlish. In the Murphy Cup final in Ardmore to-night (Friday) the local St. Declan's will endeavour to keep the trophy in home territory against 'the invaders', Brickey Rangers. Both sides are well in the championship race, and with a beautiful trophy at stake it should be a real trial of strength.

AT AGLISH

The Aghlish Cup tournament on Wednesday night will also bring the Brickeys into action against county champions, Kill.

This was the pairing most people envisaged for last year's county final — that is until the Geraldines threw a spanner in the works. Now the Brickeys are afforded an opportunity of showing 'what might have been' and it should be a thrilling game between two of the county's leading sides. They believe they will continue their winning way on Sunday.

● DUNGARVAN JUVENILES WIN

In an exciting and at times fiery juvenile hurling championship game at the Fraher Field on Friday night, Dungarvan scored a narrow but deserved two point victory over Stradbally.

The Reds enjoyed a physical advantage which they em-

£100 Walk

The Federation of Tanners and Curriers of Ireland have been inundated with more than 200 applications for the job of walking 230 miles from Cork to Dublin, spread three weeks period of August 1st to 21st. By letter and telephone, hopeful candidates have offered to put their feet at the service of the Irish Leather Industry at an average of 20 miles per day since July 3rd when the Federation announced its intention to organise the walk.

The purpose of the Federation is twofold: to focus attention on the neglected joys and pleasures of walking in this mechanised age in which we live, and to test the comfort and wear properties of high quality Irish shoe leather. The walk is envisaged by the Federation as a leisurely stroll of slightly more than 10 miles a day, giving the successful candidate ample scope to savour the pleasures of the open road and the congenial companionship that is to be found in the countryside. The Federation will pay all the expenses incurred by the walker during his 21-day tramp and he will also receive £100.

The panel to select the walker on July 19th will be composed of Mr. Arthur McCov, Chairman of the Federation of Tanners and Curriers of Ireland; Mr. Barry Cassin, Theatrical Producer and Mr. Billy Morton, Hon. Sec. of the Harriers Athletic Club. In making the selection the panel will look for three main attributes:

- (1) an interesting personality;
- (2) the ability to dissert easily in an interesting manner on the pleasures of walking;
- (3) the possession of the kind of maturity that responds

ployed to telling effect and at one stage in the second half looked certain to cause a major upset.

But Dungarvan—even without star midfielder Anthony Sandford who failed to turn up—never became flurried and turned in a storming finish that carried them to victory.

While Dungarvan were not as impressive as against Abbeyside in the previous round, Stradbally surprised everyone by their forceful hurling. They set the early pace, maintained it for most of the hour and were only 'pipped' at the post.

The winners, I believe, have the hurling to win out the Divisional title but only by treating each game with the utmost respect. Complacency was evident against Stradbally and it nearly brought about their downfall. Next time they may not be so lucky.

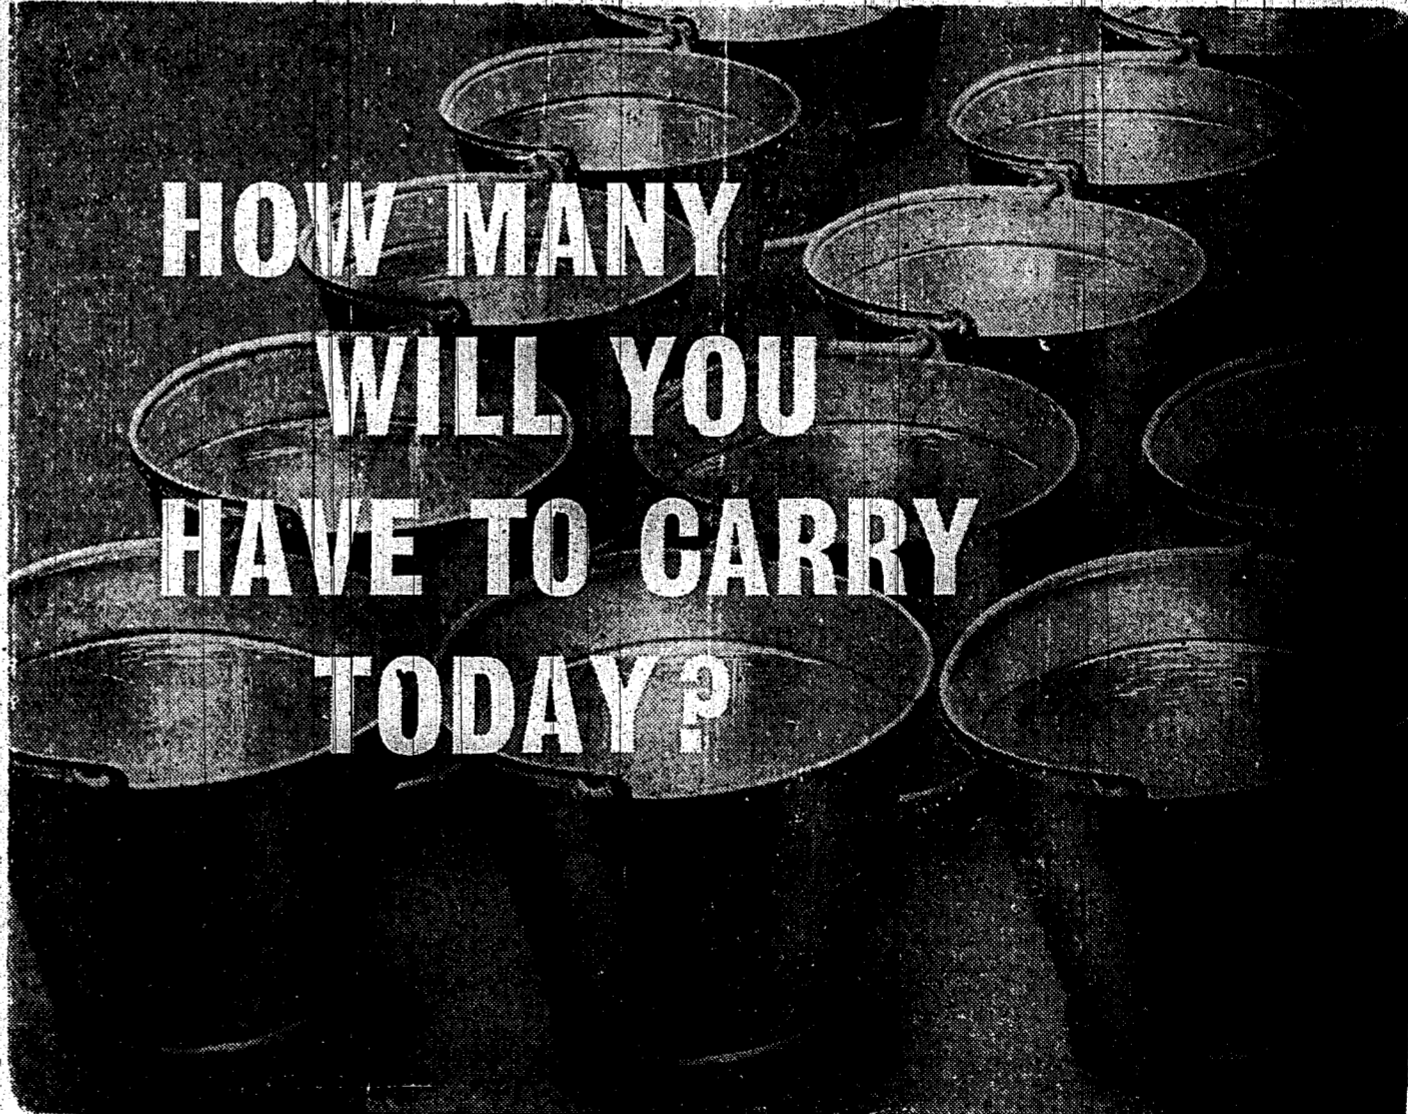

DEPUTY ORMOND IN THE DAIL

In the Dail Deputy Sean Ormond asked the Minister for Finance the number of Rural Improvement schemes in Waterford constituency awaiting inspection and when inspections will be carried out in these cases.

The Minister replied that there are three rural improvements scheme in Waterford constituency awaiting inspection. Arrangements will be made to have the inspections carried out as soon as possible.

ENGAGED

His many macra na Feirme friends are delighted to hear of the engagement of Dick Ducey, of Lismore, to Miss C. O'Connell, Cork.

On that confetti-strewn morning when you said you'd "love, honour and obey", we know you didn't include carrying heavy buckets of water every day.

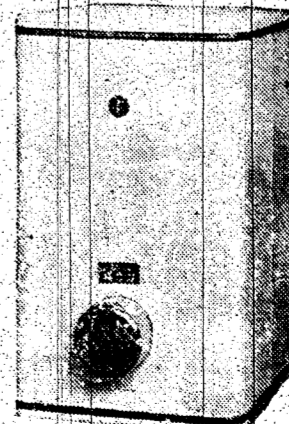

In this season of slim and feminine spring styles, it's not fair for a wife to be still in the unfashionable bucket parade when electricity will carry the equivalent of 400 of these buckets of water to your house for the price of that last cigarette he smoked.

In the spring of 1963, no house should be without water on tap. The bucket is fast disappearing off the Irish road and good riddance to this time-consuming, back-breaking symbol of the past.

Ask your E.S.B. representative for details of the E.S.B.'s Pump Advisory Service and avail of the Government and local Authority Grants to bring water to your home.

AND HERE IS THE SPECIALLY DESIGNED WATER HEATER FOR THE FARM KITCHEN...

A wonderful 10 gallon water heater that is easily installed under your draining board, and gives you all the hot water you need, automatically. Electric water heating costs less than a 1d. a gallon and that's very reasonable. Cash price £15 or convenient H.P. terms.

N.F.A. NEWS
Bring Farm Problems to Non-Farm Public

My report on the extension and consolidation of the Association over the past year, said the General Secretary, Mr. Sean Healy, at our annual general meeting last week, "is the most encouraging of such reports which I have been in a position to give to-date. A breakdown of our membership in the counties in which the greatest expansion has taken place during the past twelve months shows that over 80% of N.F.A. members are proud owners of land valuation of less than 235. "I am sorry," he said, "to report that farmers' net income for 1962 showed a drop over that of 1961. In contrast we had income increases of 9% for workers, 3% for entrepreneurs and 5% increases for all incomes groups. Are you prepared to remain meek and gentle while the plums are being doled out to those who are prepared to hold the country up to ransom? Your President has on more than one occasion mentioned that his patience is not inexhaustible. The future policy of your Association is known in principle. The details will be available shortly. Are you prepared to sit back and expect that policy to be implemented by Government just because you adopt it? The implementation of that policy is altogether dependent on your strength and your plans. "Development of agriculture is the logical and necessary starting point for general development. It is logical because any other starting point would tend to distort the course of development and to fail to lead to the targets of that course. It is necessary both for providing the industrial sector in due course with foreign exchange resources to finance its capital acquisitions and for providing that sector with a local market for its products. Furthermore, once on the road to development, the agricultural sector will provide the industrial sector with large parts of its labour force and its inputs. And the transition for underdeveloped to developed agriculture will have assisted the emergence of institutions, aptitudes and attitudes appropriate for industrial development more practicable as well as less exorbitant and dislocating. Mr. Healy mentioned that "the farmer's ideal has so far been to run his farm free of debt. These ideas will have to be revised and it will have to be regarded as normal for a farm to be prepared to enter a state of indebtedness. This view seems to be already accepted in some countries. It clearly implies the development of beneficial agricultural credit institutions and the introduction of various forms of guarantee calculated to encourage the expansion of credit on a sound basis. In this regard may we also pay tribute to the commercial banks who latterly have recognised that investment in agriculture is a sound investment. He pointed out that "so long as most of the price risks are left for farmers to bear, it is not reasonable to expect they to adopt better production methods which require a larger initial cash outlay; some protection against unduly low prices seems essential, at least at a level sufficient to cover their out-of-pocket expenses. If farm prices were effectively stabilised at a level no higher than would correspond to the average price that consumers were willing to pay, including allowance for reasonable distribution costs, farmers would gain considerably and would be much more confident that efforts to expand production would be rewarded. He referred to the need for price guarantees, marketing boards, improved transport facilities, and quality improvement in commodities. Regarding the latter he said "a grading system which secures to the producer appropriate price differentials is a potent means of guiding production into the qualities wanted on the market. Conversely when no price differential is allowed for improved quality there is no incentive for better production, handling and grading practices. Deductions for impurities and shrinkage are often applied indiscriminately on produce moved through many domestic and export markets, hence discouraging the proper harvesting and presentation of the product at the farm."

Mr. Healy continued: "Inadequate information on current market conditions is another characteristic weakness in agriculture. It arises mainly from the large number of small enterprises involved, weak communication systems, and incurable ignorance. It is essential for effective bargaining that farmers and traders be able to compare the prices offered by one outlet with those paid by others. More complete market information also reduces business risk with potential benefits to producers and consumers. Where up-to-date accurate information is lacking, who's the buyers seek wider margins as a hedge against price changes in distant markets which they may not know about. Later in his address he referred that "stepped-up efforts should be made to bring our problems and programmes to the favourable attention of such non-farm public opinion leaders as newspaper editors, radio and television executives, commentators and organisational officers. "We seek to test all our policies by the yardstick of the general welfare. We are eager to submit our position for the widest possible study and understanding by all groups in our society and we desire also to study and understand their views. He concluded by saying "We must continue our efforts to make N.F.A. membership and activities available to every operating farm family and rural resident in the nation so that all will have the opportunity to participate in our Association and its activities. The Irish farmer doesn't want charity. He wants justice, and the aim of our Association is to present a policy which will not only give justice to the farmer but to all other sections in proportion to their contribution to the national economy and its development. "The N.F.A. is amazed at the decision of the Department of Agriculture to withdraw the floor price for Grade L pigs. We are amazed because we believe that this, how is knowingly and calculatingly aimed at the small producer. We have no hesitation in saying this, because in discussions with the Department of Agriculture in December, '62 and again in March, 1963, the N.F.A. made this point clear. In our letter of the 18th Dec., 1962, we said: "As had already been indicated to the Department we approve of the principle to progressively improve the quality of our bacon, but we believe that this should be done in relation to the quality of the breeding stock available. While on the 15th Dec., 1963, we said: "We do welcome the introduction of Grade L which did indeed cushion to some extent what could have been a very drastic reduction in producer income. We would now submit that it would be in the interest of the industry to continue this grade for a further period. We are inclined to this view for the following reasons: (1)—There is clear evidence of a reduction in pig numbers; (2) Grade L does not add in any appreciable way to the Exchequer burden; (3) The provision of Grade L provides the Irish housewife with lean bacon; (4) The abolition of this grade would reduce still further at a critical period the income of a section of small farmers. Apart from this, the reduction in pig prices, even with the cushioning effect of Grade L, has borne out the accuracy of our position. The number of pigs received at bacon factories for the 26 weeks ending on the 29th June, this year, was 47,000 less than during the corresponding period of the year earlier, and indeed the number of pigs received at bacon factories for the week ending 29th June, was 26,475 as against 30,756 for the corresponding week in 1962, a reduction of over 4,000 in one week. This unsympathetic attitude on the part of the Department is especially hard to understand in view of the Department's failure to make any appreciable contribution to towards the improvement of our breeding stock over the years. For over a quarter of a century the Department did simply nothing towards the improvement of breeding stock. At a meeting held with the Department of Agriculture on the 1st May, 1957, the N.F.A. impressed upon them how serious was the lack of good breeding stock in the country, and of the urgent need for the provision of adequate progeny-testing facilities. In this regard the Department's only practical contribution to-date, 6 years later, is the provision of one small progeny testing station with the capacity for less than 200 pigs, which is less than a quarter of the country's requirements. The Department recently boasted that they now now had 39 accredited Pig Herds in the country from which high quality stock would be available. Any intelligent layman could easily see how unwise this contribution is when it is realised that approximately 40,000 sows and 2,000 boars are required for breeding purposes. The Department's real attitude towards provision of good breeding stock is perhaps best illustrated by the fact that they paralysed the introduction of the Landrace Breed into Ireland for years and only gave in in the face of public opinion. It must also be borne in mind that the Department of Agriculture has abdicated to itself the sole right to decide the type of pig the Irish farmer should have. The removal of Grade L introduced at the instigation of the N.F.A. last December is considered by the Association as a blatant usurpation of autocratic measures by the powers-that-be in an effort to obviate its own inefficiency and lethargic approach to the improvement of the quality of pigs. In the light of the facts, the N.F.A. condemns the Department's latest decision and pledges the pig producers of this country that it is prepared to use every means at its disposal to protect their legitimate interests. Commenting on their latest move by the Department of Agriculture, the N.F.A. President, Mr. Richard Deasy, said: "The policy of the N.F.A. towards our pig industry is a steady growth in our pig numbers, a quick and progressive improvement in our breeding stock, and stability of return to the pig producer. This contrasts with the agriculture which has consistently reduced measures which have caused chaos, generally without consultation. This latest regulation endorses our opinion."

KILMATHOMAS NOTES

Knockrour, Stradbally, and her mother is a sister of Mr. James Whelan, of Whelan's Hotel, do.

The Marriage took place in Ballybricken Church, Waterford, of Mr. Laurence Foley, son of Mrs. Foley and a late Mr. James Foley, 13 Caseyville, Dungarvan, to Miss Catherine Nolan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Nolan, 31 Dominick Place, Waterford.

The ceremony, which was solemnised by Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing, was performed by Rev. Fr. Michael Wall, C.C., Kilmathomas (cousin of the bride).

Given away by her father, the bride wore a pretty picture in a ballerina length dress of French lace over net with short veil and crown of roses. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Bridgid Nolan, sister of the bride, wore blue brocade, with headpiece to match and carried a bouquet of lemon roses.

The best man was Mr. Liam Butler, Dublin, and Janette Kiely was flower girl.

During the Mass appropriate sacred music was discoursed by Miss Joan Stafford, church organist.

The reception, attended by 43 guests, was held in Dooley's Hotel, Waterford.

Organised by Gael Linn and sponsored by Macra na Feirme was the public speaking competitions in Irish, the Munster final of which, held at the C.Y.M.S. Hall, Fermoy, resulted, as follows: Kilmathomas team (representing Waterford) came second. Fiveen Cullinan and Messrs. Pierce Casey, Nicholas Fitt, Gerald and Richard McKeon, Late Mr. Maurice Harris The Smyth, Mahonbridge Kilmathomas — This group Catholic neighbour, who had attained to an advanced age was a lifelong staunch supporter of the native games and pastimes. A blacksmith and a great man at his trade, he was tireless and will not readily be replaced in our time. He was buried in the cemetery adjoining St. Anne's Church, Febs, on Sunday, and the Rev. M. Barron, C.C., Kilrossanty, officiated at the graveside.

Chronicled in last week's issue was the death of Mrs. M. Power (nee O'Donnell), Glenafooka, near Ballydurn. Born in 1862 (101 years ago), she was one of the best known and liked figures in the district. R.I.P.

Friday of next week, 26th inst., is the Feast of St. Anne, Mother of Our Lady, and she is patroness of the Ballyshane side of the parish of Stradbally, Faha and Ballylaneen.

The cemetery adjoining St. Anne's Church, Ballylaneen, is receiving the customary cleaning and tidying annually carried out for the occasion.

The Many Friends of Mr. Willie Cullinan, Old Rd., Kilmathomas, will be glad to learn that he returned home last week and where he had been undergoing treatment since last month and is now looking none the worse of his indisposition.

The "Pattern" of Moteh, marking the Feast of SS Cuan and Brogan, opened last Monday week, 8th inst., and closed on Sunday. Several pilgrims visited Our Lady's Shrine at Moteh and made the usual prayerful rounds of the nearby Holy Well.

The Great Improvement being wrought to the Kilmathomas (Temperance) Parochial Hall surely speaks a splendid tribute to the onerous effort and enthusiasm of the local Committee in charge of this laudable renovating undertaking, the Silver Circle Draw in aid of which is going well.

SALMON FISHING

During last week the catches of salmon by net continued to be very good with the majority of boats, while some few are not doing so well. With only eight more days to go before the season for netting will close the returns are very gratifying, and it is hoped that it will continue as such up to the close on July 31st. Like reports are received as regards Ardmore and upriver, but net men in the latter area are very much hampered by sharks. Fishing at Knockadoon was very poor last week but a considerable improvement is expected this week with more suitable tides.

On Monday last boats could not operate in the bay due to bad weather and all efforts in the forenoon were concentrated in the harbour. Two tides on Monday, the Hickey brothers landed no less than 58 grise which seems to be a record catch this season.

The price last week to fishermen and on the opening days this week, was Salmon 5/- and grilse 4/-.

LATE MR. ROBERT BURKE

Sincere regret was occasioned on Sunday morning last when the death, in tragic circumstances, was announced of a well known personality, Mr. Robert Burke of Upper Cork Hill, Youghal. Formerly of Mountunacke, Killeagh, the deceased was employed at the local post office as an auxiliary postman for a number of years.

The remains were removed to the Cottage Hospital and later to St. Mary's Parish Church, from where the funeral, followed by a large cortege, took place to Dangan Cemetery.

LATE MRS. B. FLAHERTY

We regret to record the death which took place suddenly on Sunday last of Mrs. Bridget Flaherty at her residence, 24 Sarsfield's Terrace, Youghal, to the inexpressible grief of her husband, sons and daughters. A well known figure in the town of her adoption, the deceased was a member of an old established Ballymacoda family.

The remains were removed to the parish church, from where the funeral took place on Tuesday, followed by a representative gathering to Moyreave Cemetery.

CADE CUP FOR LOCAL FISHERMAN

Congratulations to Mr. Paddy Hennessy of Windmill Hill, Youghal, a well known local fisherman, on winning the Cade Cup in the Darts Final held recently at McPadden's Bar. There were some sixty competitors and the last two remaining were Paddy Hennessy and another fisherman John Kennefick, also of Youghal. In the presence of a large gathering the final was keenly fought and Paddy had to go all out to win. Both these boys are well known dart players and much more will be heard of them in the future. The cup was presented by the Proprietor, Mr. Joe McPadden, and the runner-up received a cash prize.

ROAD ACT CHARGES

At Youghal District Court, before Mr. Justice Skinner, Sean Foley of Monea, Ardmore, was charged with using a tractor without current road tax and failing to produce certificate of insurance and fines of £1 and £10 respectively were imposed. Michael Keane, Ballinamona, Ardmore was fined £2 for employing a driver for his tractor not covered by insurance.

GAS MANAGER

The local U.D. Council congratulated their Gas Manager Mr. M. Hannon on the success of his son Mr. Anthony Hannon, B.E., who has got a further degree of M.Sc. (Engineering).

GAS WORKS TO REMAIN OPEN

At the last meeting of the U.D. Council, Mr. Good (chairman) presiding, the question arose as to what was to be done with the local Gasworks which for the past year was run at a loss of £908. During a prolonged discussion it was pointed out that the value of the stock on the 31st March, '62 was £1,126 and on the same date this year, £403.

The County Manager (Mr. Sean Hayes) informed the members that on 31st March last the debit was £15,856. In 1959, there were 914 consumers and now there are only 330 and the debit of almost £16,000 would have to be met by the ratepayers of the town. It was finally decided to keep the plant going for another year or two which was proposed by Mr. Hickey and seconded by Mr. Lynch. An amendment proposed by Mr. Linehan, seconded by Mr. Hennessy, was defeated, the voting being, for the amendment, Messrs. Linehan, Hennessy and the Chairman (3); and against, Messrs. Lynch, Hickey, Daly and O'Sullivan (4).

YOUGHAL CYCLIST AGAIN TO THE FORE

The well known Youghal cyclist, Michael Maher of Tallow Street, had another triumph on Sunday last, at Fermoy, when he won the 3 mile cycle and was third in both the mile and sealed distance of 2 1/2 miles.

LUCKY YOUGHAL LADY

In the Mater Hospital Pools recently a local lady, Miss Noreen Kelly, now in England and formerly of Church St., Youghal was the winner of a new Ford Anglia car.

SURPRISE DEFEAT OF YOUGHAL TEAM

On Sunday evening last the Youghal junior hurling team made their exit from the Cork junior hurling championship (Grade A) at Castlemartyr, when they were defeated by Fr. O'Neill's by 3-6 to 3-5. At the end of the first half, Fr. O'Neill's lead by 1-5 to nil.

CAPPOQUIN MACRA NEWS

Arrangements are nearly completed for the annual stockjudging and field day on the 26th inst. The venue, Tom Fives' farm, Tourin, will be the same as previous years and the committee are arranging a varied evening's entertainment. Watch current issues of this paper for further details.

Club members have figured among the prizewinners at all stockjudging dates. At Durrarvan, Cappoquin took trophies for the best ladies team and best cake baking team. Finbar Power added further trophies to his already big collection, winning the individual open stockjudging at Cahir and Kilmathomas. Also at Kilmathomas Breda Kiely was the winner in the flowers and shrubs competition and Cappoquin took the cup for the best stockjudging team. At Kinsalebeg, Mary Noonan Club Secretary, won the trophy for sponge baking and Jack Doohey won the open judging. Kathleen McGrath was also successful in the poultry judging at Cahir field day. All members selected, are requested to travel to forthcoming fields days at Middleton, Gaultier, Conna, and Ballyporeen.

Messrs. John Joe and Stephen Scanlon are selected to represent the county at National sheep-judging championships to be held in Wexford. All club members wish the best of luck.

A winter course is being arranged in conjunction with U.C.C. and should prove very valuable to all interested as it covers very many subjects. Anyone interested in the course, should get in touch with the Secretary for full details.

WEST WATERFORD NOTES

ARDMORE "PATTERN"

The annual "Pattern" in commemoration of St. Declan, patron of the area, will be held in Ardmore next week (Feast day, 24th July). In Ardmore and the surrounding areas the name of the saint is held in great veneration as it is believed that he introduced the Christian Faith to that part of West Waterford before the advent of St. Patrick. During "Pattern" weeks, devotees of St. Declan will visit the historic village and perform the "Rounds" amidst the ruins of the old church, situated on the cliffs overlooking the bay.

Ardmore, a popular modern seaside resort, is particularly noted for the fine group of ecclesiastical remains on the site of the monastic settlement founded there by St. Declan in the fifth century.

Very little is known about the happenings of this distant period, but according to legend the Saint, who is believed to have been born near Cappoquin, preached the Faith throughout west Waterford and set up his mother church at Ardmore, where he received many disciples. At the time of St. Declan's death it is stated that the monastic settlement at Ardmore was a flourishing one.

Towards the close of his life he retired to a little cell at the spot where now stands the ruined church beside the Holy Well. A little church or oratory was later erected over his grave in the monastic cemetery.

ST. DECLAN'S WELL

This Holy Well, already mentioned above, is situated in the grounds of the old cathedral, about half a mile east of the village. During "Pattern" week pilgrims visit this Well and partake of its water.

THE ROUND TOWER

Ardmore round tower, which is 97 feet high, is one of the best preserved in the country. Each of the four storeys is marked on the outside by projecting string courses and slight rebates. The door is placed high above ground level. A unique feature of the interior is a series of projecting stones carved into grotesque heads. The tower, which dominates the area, was built in the 12th century.

GOOD FISHING SEASON

The salmon fishing season on the lower reaches of the Blackwater and along the coast from Ferrypoint to Ardmore, has been successful and all boats took reasonably good catches. Good hauls of peale are at present being taken.

O.A.P. MEETING

A meeting of Youghal No. 2 (Rural) O.A.P. Committee was held at Clashmore on Wednesday evening last, when a number of claims were considered.

HOME FROM MISSIONS

Returning to his native country, this week, for a well earned holiday, is Very Rev. Fr. James Foley, Columban Fathers, Upper Burma. Fr. Foley is a native of Clashmore and in his youth was a leading all-round athlete and gaelic footballer.

'GUNNERS' NEVER EXTENDED

Ballygunner 8-12, Brickey Rangers 1-2

THOSE of us that chose Dungarvan's Fraher Field on Sunday last as our afternoon's entertainment centre, erred gravely and for our miscalculations we had to endure as painfully a one-sided senior hurling championship game as we are likely to witness at the venue for a considerable time to come. Ballygunner literally romped to victory over Brickey Rangers and the simplicity of it all must have come as something of a surprise to even the "Gunnners" themselves.

At no stage during the lopsided encounter were the winners headed and once they jumped into an early lead, they only proceeded to consolidate further their commanding grip on the exchanges. So great was the differential between the sides in hurling ability that it might be rash judgment to hail the Gunnners as great. But even allowing for the feebleness of the Brickey Rangers opposition they struck me as a well-knit side of immense potentialities, that should enjoy a successful run in this championship. They are as yet some way off maturity in a hurling sense but their undoubted ability, coupled by an enthusiasm, best described as extraordinary should make them a formidable force against any opposition.

The Rangers, despite their wholehearted earnestness, were seldom if ever in the game with a chance. It was evident from an early stage that they were fighting an up-hill battle which became increasingly steeper as the game wore on. In arrears by 4-8 to 1-0 at half-time they were expected to fare infinitely better with the assistance of a strong second half breeze. But if anything, the Gunnners asserted an even greater measure of supremacy after the change over and the "procession" continued in boring monotony to the end. If the Brickeys could hardly claim equality in any sector, the greatest difference between the sides was in the scoring power of the respective attacks. While each Ballygunner forward looked capable of capitalising on the slightest opportunity, their Brickey counterparts, moving against the grain as it were by fruitless individualism, seldom threatened the winners' defence.

During the game the standard of sportsmanship was generally high. There were occasional brief flare-ups that came to nothing and referee Mr. W. Fitzgerald (Cappoquin) had a comparatively easy job.

THE SCORING
The winners, backed by the breeze, were not long settling down and points by "Letter" Troy, Jim Phelan, Vinny Connors (2) and Billy Howlett (2) gave them a comfortable lead at the end of the first quarter. After 18 minutes John Warren added a goal but five minutes later Brickeys had their only score of the half—a really well-executed goal.

Mick Walsh initiated the move and the ball travelled via Justin Spratt and Pat Curran before Frankie Cooney blasted it to the net. But the Gunnners hit back with a vengeance and in a golden five minutes spell they enjoyed a scoring spree that really resolved the issue. Vinny Connors with 2-2 and Billy Howlett (1-0) were the men that administered this coup de grace and made the second half little more than a formality.

COULD MAKE NO HEADWAY
Even with the second-half elements favouring them, the Brickeys could make little headway towards retrieving their position. An early point by Phil Gaffney was answered by two from Justin Spratt, scores that proved to be their only ones of the half. Thereafter it was all Ballygunner with the scores coming with monotonous regularity and it was only moribund relief when the final whistle came. ALL PLAYED WELL
So completely were the Gunnners in command, that all fifteen could be said to have had played well. But I was particularly impressed by Tommy Hearne and

Passing of Well Known Local Gael

BY the death of Johnny Ryan in the District Hospital, on Wednesday of last week, Kilrossanty has lost yet another of its most devoted and illustrious sons.

As Gaelic men go, Johnny had few equals, and right up to the end of last year, his was a familiar figure at the Fraher Field. In his young days he was an outstanding footballer (what member of that great family wasn't) and gave many years of valuable assistance to Kilrossanty. Though domiciled in Dungarvan now for many years he never deserted the green and gold, and followed them throughout the length and breadth of the County. His regretted passing will be felt by all who ever had the pleasure of knowing him. It's not every day that one comes across the like of his genial character—a true Gael in all respects. To his bereaved family deepest sympathies are extended. —Ar dheis Dé go raibh a aram.

Rockies well beaten at Waterford

Coligan Rockies must wait for at least another year before enjoying senior hurling championship glory. At Walsh Park, Waterford on Sunday last they were heavily beaten by Dunhill in the opening round and never displayed the form that made them such a force twelve months ago. On Sunday last they were outclassed from start to finish, and not even their stout-hearted fighting qualities could save them from a crushing defeat.

Dunhill, inspired by Billy Dunphy, ran riot once they settled and showed several flashes of the type of hurling that is needed to win championships. By comparison, the Rockies looked sluggish and once they fell into arrears gave one the impression that they were likely to remain there. They had their stars, even in defeat, but were carrying too many "suspects" in so important an encounter. Their defence was weakened considerably by the absence of Christy Dower and with him, the full-line looked highly vulnerable. In the final analysis however, they can have few alibis. On the hour they were beaten by a better side.

Stradbally Football Club will hold their Annual Church Gate COLLECTION ON SUNDAY, JULY 21st At Stradbally, Ballylanceen and Faha PLEASE GIVE GENEROUSLY win replay UNDER-21 FOOTBALLERS ALSO IN ACTION

WHETHER or not Waterford will have a dual representation on Munster final day will be determined on Sunday next at Walsh Park, when the County's minor hurlers meet Limerick in a semi-final replay. At Lismore on Sunday night (8 p.m.) the under twenty-one footballers meet Cork in the special championship inaugurated by the Munster Council.

Undoubtedly the minor game is the more attractive of the two and there should be quite a gathering at the City venue to see if the county can qualify for the final for the first time since 1958.

When these counties met in Cork less than a fortnight ago, Waterford were decidedly unlucky to be compelled to "deliver an encore." They had what to my mind was a perfectly good goal disallowed at a crucial stage in the second-half, while Limerick's equalising goal came less than half a minute before the end. But lest there may be any Deise complacency for this replay, it must be stressed that there is little between the sides and it will necessitate an all-out effort by the homesters to ensure victory.

DISSATISFIED
Limerick, obviously dissatisfied with their display in Cork, have made changes for Sunday. They believe they have now hit on the right formation and are confident that they can successfully invade enemy territory. Their danger-man is most likely to be midfielder Eamonn Cregan, who almost single-handedly gained this second chance for his county. Since the drawn game, the Waterford boys have not been idle and on Tuesday night scored a one-point victory over a strong clerical student selection at Dungarvan. At the time of writing the team has not been announced, but the only changes, if any, are expected in attack. Goalkeeper Tony Flynn—a last minute choice the last day, has proved a rare find and the full-back line of White, Kirwan and Abbey-side's Tommy Donovan could not be bettered. There is unlikely to be any change at half-back where Denis Power, John O'Brien (Cappoquin) and Frankie Whelan form a solid line. If Limerick's Eamonn Cregan is to be subdued, B. Frisby and Paddy Walsh will have to hit it off at midfield from the start. Both are excellent hurlers and can, if in form pave the way for victory. The attack was the least impressive sector in Cork and one or two changes would occasion no surprise. Denis Mahon and Dinny Duggan are the key men up front and if given a plentiful service could cause the Limerick defenders a worrying hour. With home advantage, however, Waterford must be the choice. Their midfielders are good enough to dominate and the double threat of Mahon and Duggan should be sufficiently menacing to chalk up victory. CORK FANCED

GERALDINES' OBJECTION FAILS
At a meeting of the Co. Board in Dungarvan on Monday night last, an objection by Geraldines against Ardmore, who defeated them in the senior football championship, was ruled out by the Chairman, Mr. Jamie Moloney N.T.

FINAL RIVALS PREPARE
Quietly but diligently the Waterford and Tipperary hurlers are preparing for their Munster final clash at Limerick on Sunday week. This is the showdown all Ireland is awaiting; a game that bids fair to be the highlight of our hurling year. With due respects to all the other hurling powers, Tipp. and Waterford must surely be regarded as the leading counties in the game to-day. The attendance at the Ennis Road game on July 28th should testify to that. Meanwhile the pre-match preparations have been stepped up and no stone is being left unturned by either County to ensure peak fitness. At Walsh Park, the Deise men under John Keane and Jim Ware are being put through their paces. For every training session there has been practically a full mustering of players and all are keen as mustard to dethrone the champions. It won't be easy, but yet there isn't a man on the panel who doesn't believe it won't be done. Up in Thurles, the cradle town of the G.A.A., there is also a hive of activity, as trainer Ossie Bennett keeps a watchful eye on his charges. Bennett has trained the team for their last two All-Ireland successes and this year hopes to make it three in a row. Tipp. are free from injury worry and Larry Kiely who received a severe shoulder injury against Cork resumed training on Monday night. Speaking to right-half back Mick Burns on Sunday night, he expressed undeniable confidence in their ability to make it... four Munster titles in a row. As he said to me, their "pride" has been hurt by Waterford and they are determined to reverse the Oireachtas and League final results. But it goes without saying that Waterford will be endowed with equal determination and by my reckoning this will be the basis for a hurling classic's issue. In next week's issue, I will preview in detail this intriguing final. I will weigh up the merits of the respective sides and where the victory foundations are likely to be laid. Until then we will watch and wait.

As a result of this suspension Walsh will miss his side's second round senior football championship tilt with Mount Sion. The suspension is from the date of the incident—April 7 last.

Gerardines objection was based on the allegation that Ardmore included in their team, a player (Mattie Mulcahy) who had been already suspended by the Western Board. Ardmore will now meet Dungarvan in the second round of the championship.

BRICKEY PLAYER GETS SIX MONTHS
As a result of a report by the referee, Mr. Billy McGrath on the Brickey Rangers-Coligan Rockies Sargent Cup game played at Dungarvan some weeks back, Mick Walsh (Brickey Rangers) was suspended for six months. In his report of the game the referee (Mr. McGrath) stated that after the game Walsh abused him.
