Deputations Give Views on Parking Regulations

A SPECIAL MEETING of Dungarvan Urban Council was held on Tuesday night to discuss with the Chief Supt. of the Gardai, Mr. C. Butler, and Supt. Maurice Costello, proposals for the parking of vehicles on public roads and streets in the town. Present at the meeting were deputations from the A.G.T.W.U., the Town Development Association, R.G.D.A.T.A. and Individual Traders.

Deputy T. A. Kyne said it was intended to bring in parking regulations in the town. They would, however, like to hear the views of the deputations on it. The streets involved he said, were Bridge Street, Main Street, O'Connell St., and The Square.

Mr. P. J. Breen, on behalf of the A.T.G.W.U., said his views were that there should be some parking regulations in O'Connell Street and Main Street. There should be either no parking in these streets or parking on one side only, he said. If however, there was parking on one side only, cars would be bumper to bumper along the entire length of the street. This would mean that women with prams would have to walk along the street before being able to cross to the other side.

The ideal solution would be to have no parking on these streets. But there should not be parking at the two sides as at present.

He was speaking, he said, for Union members who were deliverers to these streets.

Mr. Andrew Murphy, Vic-tualler, O'Connell Street, said since Youghal Bridge had opened there was no heavy flow of traffic in O'Connell St. and with the new bridge at the Pike almost ready to be opened to traffic the flow in O'Connell St. would be even lighter. There would be plenty of parking room in the street for everyone. It would be very bad for the traders of the street if there was no parking allowed. They also had to pay rates and taxes every year.

Messrs. J. Claxton and F. McCarthy were in agreement with Mr. Murphy's views.

Mr. Murphy — If a man is not allowed park outside a shop

DUNGARVAN MAY HAVE NEW INDUSTRY

A special meeting was held in Dungarvan on Monday night last for the purpose of affiliating to the Waterford Tourist Council.

Present were representatives of the local hotels, guest houses, travel agencies, business, sporting, cultural and educational organisations.

At the meeting Deputy T. A. Kyne said Dungarvan may have a new industry in the very near future. "Negotiations are well advanced," he said and a two-acre site has been secured at the Youghal Road.

There is also a possibility of another factory being sited in the town. On Monday we met two representatives of a company who were interested in setting up a factory in Ireland and we put the advantages of Dungarvan before them.

The factory at the Youghal Road (if established) would be manufacturing dental equipment.

in O'Connell St., he will go elsewhere for his messages.

Colr. Richard Walsh said with regard to parking all day in one place the shopkeepers themselves were the greatest offenders.

Mr. Breen said if they were not going to have parking laws they should declare O'Connell Street and Main Street one way traffic only. It was completely unsatisfactory at present.

Colr. N. Kelly — Surely a person is entitled to park for a minute or two if he wants to get something.

Finally the deputations gave the following views:—

Town Development Association—No comment to make until they see what the parking laws are.

A.T.G.W.U.—There should be parking regulations. If not, there should be only one way traffic through the streets concerned.

O'Connell Street traders—There should be no parking regulations.

The deputations (and the Council members) and the Garda Authorities discussed the matter in committee.

Beautiful Cottage Attracts the Visitors

Presently attracting the admiring eyes of foreign tourists in the picturesque little cottage of Mrs. Daly, Clonea, Dungarvan, Mrs. Daly, with her late husband (John Daly, who died four years ago), carried out all the decorative work on the cottage. The cottage frontage is adorned with "Gullies" modelled out in cement and painted in the appropriate colours.

Since her husband died, Mrs. Daly has been living alone and has continued to care her cottage which is indeed a credit to her.

Recently an American tourist visited the cottage and described it as the nicest and best kept cottage he had seen. He took several photographs of the place and said he would always treasure them.

Mrs. Daly has five sons and five daughters.

KILMACKTHOMAS NOTES

At Ardkeen General Hospital, Waterford, on Wednesday week, 11th inst. (Feast of St. Protus and Hyacinth, Mm.), occurred the death of Miss Catherine (Katie) Torpey, late of Garranurton and Carrigbarahane, Stradbally, following a period of failing health and at the allotted span, and the sad event caused widespread regret throughout these parts. Of a quiet, retiring disposition and a most exemplary member of the Mother Church, the late Miss Torpey was a neighbour who had won many friends from every walk of life, and by her demise those who had the pleasure of knowing her have lost a gentle and genuine friend. With her nearest and dearest sympathy in full measure is extended on her passing.

Her remains were removed on Thursday evening to the Parish Church, Stradbally, where the coffin was received and blessed by the Rev. M. Fennell, C.C. in the presence of many mourners and sympathisers.

Next morning, subsequent to the celebration of Requiem Mass, the funeral took place to the adjoining cemetery, where interment was made amidst manifestation of sorrow. Fr. Fennell gave the blessing at the graveside. Numerous Mass cards and messages of condolence were received.

By the way, deceased was a niece of the late Mr. James (Jim) Torpey, Glendalligan, Leamybrien.

Shopkeeper and proprietor of the Coast Garage, Ballylanceen, Kilmackthomas, is Mr. Patrick (Paddy) Lannon, a very well and popularly known neighbour, and to him and his estimable life's partner (nee Fitzgerald, native of Ballyvoile, Stradbally) congratulations are offered on a recent happy event—the birth of their third child (a daughter).

His Many Friends and well-wishers in the Mahon-Stradbally little town were delighted to learn that much-esteemed Mr. Martin Forristal, Stationmaster, Carrick-on-Suir, has just won the handsome monetary prize of £333/6/8 in the Pontona Pools draw (Drogheda). Mr. Forristal was Stationmaster here in Kilmackthomas for several years prior and up to his transfer on promotion to Carrick-on-Suir, less than twelve months ago.

Salute to Master Patrick O'Grady, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. O'Grady (farmer), Scrahan, Kilmackthomas, on his having been awarded an Agricultural Scholarship by Waterford Co. Council.

Action of Local Interest Settled.—The Master of the High Court in Dublin was told one day last week that Thomas Francis Maher, National Hunt jockey and licensed vintner, of Main Street, Kilmackthomas, is to be paid £1,000 and costs without admission of liability, in settlement of his injuries action against Myles A. Walsh, horsebreeder and farmer, Delair, Graighstoneen, Kilmackthomas.

Mr. Maher complained that on August 8th, 1960, while he was exercising a horse for Mr. Walsh, the animal tripped and fell on him, causing injuries which permanently incapacitated him for his ordinary work of jockey and trainer. Dr. D. R. Coughlan, State Solicitor, Waterford, was for Mr. Maher, and Mr. M. A. Walsh was represented by Messrs. Hickey and O'Reilly, solicitors.

A Distinctly Successful Function was the first annual dance under the auspices of Kilmackthomas Social Club; it was held in the admirably appointed local Rainbow Hall, on Sunday night (19th inst.), and a large crowd were present. The Foottappers Showband supplied the music.

7. Late Very Rev. J. Canon Kiely, P.P., Ballyduff and Portlary, Vote of Condolence.—At a meeting of Kilmeaden Guild, Muintir na Tire, it was proposed by Mr. Michael J. Creagh, N.T., seconded by Mr. Peter J. O'Sullivan, and passed unanimously: "That we, the members of Kilmeaden Guild of Muintir na Tire, wish to place on record our deep sense of loss on the untimely passing of our beloved President, Very Rev. John Cahill, P.P.

"We wish to convey our deepest sympathy to His Lordship, Most Rev. Dr. Coughlan, and to the bereaved sister and relatives."

As a mark of respect the meeting was adjourned.

Saturday of yesterday was the Feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross. Dedicated to same is the Parish Church, Stradbally, and most of the parishoners assisting at Mass in the sacred edifice that morning approached the altar rails and received Holy Communion.

Son of Mrs. Hannah Foley, Ballylinch, is Mr. Mognie Foley who emigrated to New York some years ago; he and a granddaughter of hers, Miss Helen O'Sullivan, arrived recently to spend a holiday, their headquarters here being Ballylinch of course.

DEATH OF M. POWER

The news of the tragic accident which resulted in the death of Mr. Michael Power, Boola, was learned throughout the district with feelings of shocked surprise and deep grief. Hundreds lined the streets of the town on Tuesday evening awaiting the arrival of the remains which, followed by a mile long cortege were brought to the Parish Church. The funeral to St. Declan's Cemetery on Wednesday was one of the largest ever seen in the parish. Very Rev. J. Kenneally, P.P., officiated on both occasions. WEST WATERFORD NOTES

SUNDAY LAST
Summerlike conditions prevailed in this area over the weekend. On Sunday, big numbers availed of the glorious sunshine to visit the seaside and there was heavy traffic on all roads.

The fine weather is welcomed by farmers who are working late and early at harvesting operations.

ACCIDENT FREE
With road tragedies prevalent all over the country, it is very satisfactory to record that not a single serious accident has occurred in this area this year. This is a tribute to all users of the road and it is hoped that this happy state of affairs will continue.

ARDSALLAGH ROAD
The County Engineer has informed Mr. C. Curran, M.C.C., that Ardsallagh and Ballinacash roads are to be rolled and sealed in the near future.

Several other roads in the area are also to receive attention this year.

O.A.P. MEETING
A special meeting of Young No. 2 (Rural) Old Age Pensions Committee was held at Clonmore on Saturday last. Mr. John Cass (vice-chairman) presided, and the other members present were Messrs Kevin Coughlan, P.C., Martin Trov, Ed. Bressford, T. Fitzgerald, J. Curran, C. Curran, M.C.C., and Mrs. W. Foley (Clerk).

Five claims were before the meeting; three were allowed the full pension; one claim was adjourned, and one refused.

PILTOWN MAN'S DEATH
The death occurred recently of Mr. John Hart, formerly of Menzies, Piltown, Kinsalebeg. The funeral was of large and representative proportions. Rev. Fr. White, C.S.P., Clashmore, officiated.

HOME FROM ENGLAND
Enjoying a holiday in his native district at present is Miss M. Osborne, B.Dairy Sec., who is resident in England, where she occupies a responsible post. It is of interest to note that Miss Osborne, who is sister of Very Rev. Kenneth Osborne, O.P., was the first lady in this country to obtain a degree in Dairy Science.

Incidentally, she is sister-in-law of Mr. T. Llewellyn, P.R.O., N.F.A., Dublin, and formerly of Ardsallagh, Clashmore, who has just concluded

FURTHER ISSUE OF PRIZE BONDS

As will be seen from our advertising columns, Prize Bonds are on sale again and can be purchased until Wednesday, 21st October. The terms are the same as for previous issues, and Bonds bought during the present issue will participate with existing Bonds, until they are cashed, in all future Draws for prizes. Every £5 Bond has an equal chance of winning a prize but the more Bonds an investor holds the better his prospects of a win; the more Bonds bought and held the greater the number of prizes in the Prize Fund.

Bonds may be bought, without limitation as to amount, not only by individuals, but also by clubs, societies, guilds, institutions, companies and other bodies. Bonds may be bought by two persons jointly, for instance, husband and wife. Draws for prizes are held twice a year, the next draw being in March, 1964. The prizes range from £50 to £5,000 tax-free. At the recent draw over £430,000 was won by bond-holders and there were more than 2,600 prizes, including 43 prizes of £5,000 each.

Prize Bonds are a very popular way of saving, particularly for the small investor and those who may have to withdraw their money at short notice. Money invested in Prize Bonds is safe; it is used by the State in the national interest and may earn the holder a big reward.

Investors in Bonds are assured of absolute secrecy in all matters affecting their holdings. Only the numbers of winning Bonds are published; winners being notified privately by post. Application forms and prospectuses in English and Irish may be had from any Post Office, Bank or Stockbroker.

PASSING OF OLD I.R.A. COMRADE YOUGHAL

It is with feelings of deepest regret that we record the untimely death of Jack F. Kilty, on September 4th 1963 after a long illness. He resided at 120, Claremont Ave. New York City with his wife Una and daughter Mieve.

The eldest son of the late John Kilty, Cobh, Co. Cork, a family that gave unstinted and trojan service for the Irish Independence Movement down through the years, up until six months ago, Jack Kilty was still a very active participant towards the Gaelic ideal. Just a few of the many projects enumerated here which Jack gave all his spare moments to will suffice to gauge this sterling character.

Dedicated at the Christian Brothers, Cobh, he entered the Admiralty Divn. Civil Service as a Junior-clerk at Cobh Harbour and gave up a promising career to join up a promising Movement, during which period he became a District Insurance Agent, to cover his activities as a Battn. Intelligence Officer, in an area that was heavily concentrated with British Forces. No other area in Ireland underwent such terrific pressure from the enemy as the 4th Battn. Cork I. Bde. I.R.A. comprising Cobh-Midleton and Youghal areas from 1919-21. This East Cork Area mostly flat terrain, was totally unsuited for Guerilla warfare, yet the record shows that the I.R.A. here, showed amazing initiative and daring in wiping out enemy garrisons. Carriswobhill-Castlemartyr and Cloyne Barracks were stormed and taken, whilst the British O.C. for Munster-General Strickland barely escaped from an ambush at Carriswobhill. The capture of Arms and Ammunition at Cobh-Midleton and Youghal were exploits not duplicated anywhere. Amongst the Volunteers from Cobh in these operations was Jack Kilty who gave his part. Thirty British soldiers were killed at Youghal in 1921 in an ambush, whilst the story of the Clonmult fight is an oft recounted tale of heroism.

Remaining true to the Irish Republican ideals after the Truce in 1921, he served with the Flying Column against the Free State Forces. Captured, he was interned at Harepark Detention Camp, Co. Kildare. After his release in 1924, Jack Kilty thousands of I.R.A. men were barred from employment and was forced to emigrate to the U.S.A. where he joined the Holland American Steamship Lines as a clerk in the New York Office. Later, he found more lucrative employment as an Accountant for the Schenley Distilleries Corporation at the head office in New York, where for the past twenty five years he supervised all the firms accounting throughout the U.S.A. and Canada.

Shortly after arriving in the States he became one of the live wires in the organization of the Clan-Na-Gael and for several years served as the District Officer. For the past thirty years he was an active member of the Corkmen's Association and organized the Cobh Social Clubs of New York and Boston.

One of the founders of the Benevolent I.R.A. Society New York and an Executive Officer of the organization, he was secretary and trustee of the Fathers Albert and Dominic's Reconciliation Committee in the U.S. who arranged for the reinterment of those two noble priests who died heroes in exile and whose mortal remains were interred at Rochester, Co. Cork in 1958. He was also a trustee and secretary of the Kilmaham Jail Restoration Committee, U.S.A. and through his efforts the sum of $3,500 was recently presented to the Dublin Committee.

Perhaps one of the most notable credits that has flourished here in New York, is the annual Easter Week Commemoration held yearly at Hunter College, New York. The late Jack Kilty (as he was affectionately known) and Executive Committee, Benevolent I.R.A. organized the Associated Irish Societies over twenty years ago and after trojan work down through the years, succeeded in welding together into this organization seventy five County-Social and Athletic Clubs, who stage each Easter Sunday night, a pageant of Gaelic and Irish Republican ideals that has never been surpassed throughout Great Britain. It is no small wonder of all his achievements and the irreparable loss of a great Gael, who was the most unassuming of all comrades.

Never one for speechmaking, he was always the untiring worker, whose frolic pen turned out organizational work second to none. When Jack Kilty undertook a project, one felt assured that every last detail was covered.

Men of his calibre come only once in a lifetime, and we can only repeat with the Poet of the Gael:

"Pass on the sun, Peath makes the best surrender.
The vacant place some soldier comrade fill.
Yet long we'll mourn the soldier and defender
That Ireland lost as climbed the Freedom's Hill."

Whilst hundreds of friends and comrades passed by the pier, draped with the flag of the Irish Republic, to pay a final tribute to such a lovable character, his comrades formed a Guard of Honor throughout this sad occasion.

Following a solemn Requiem Mass at Corpus Christi R.C. Church, Manhattan, the funeral cortege wended its way, to the Garden of Heaven Cemetery, Westchester. After the Clergy read prayers for the deceased, a firing party of IRA comrades from the cork-Tipperary-Dublin Mayo and Limerick Brigades fired three volleys over the grave as a last salute to a gallant and departed comrade.

May the sod rest lightly on that brave Irish heart.

OBSTRUCTION AT FACTORY GATES
At a meeting of the Youghal U.D.C. Mr. Sean Sullivan inquired about the "No Parking" signs that were to be erected at Seaford factory gates some six months ago.

It was pointed out during a discussion that this was a very serious matter for the factories as on Greyhound Trac nights the entrances are blocked with cars all over the road. Should an emergency arise by way of fire or an accident, the ambulance or fire engine could not enter on racing nights. It was agreed to make provision for the erection of the signs without delay.

LATE MRS. A. E. CROWLEY
The chief mourners at the funeral of the late Mrs. Annie M. Crowley, Gibraltar Cottage, Youghal, whose death was reported in last week's issue, were: Messrs. Patrick and John Crowley (sons); Mrs. M. Kevin, Mrs. K. Gough, Mrs. E. Millerick, Miss Dora Crowley (daughters); Thomas Colfer (brother); Messrs. Matt and Simon Colfer (nephews); Mrs. M. Murphy (niece); Messrs. John Kevin, Ed. Millerick and A. Gough (sons-in-law). Rev. E. G. O'Dwyer, C.C., Youghal, officiated at the graveside assisted by Rev. J. O'Mahony, C.C., and Rev. B. Cotter, C.C.

NUPTIALS: HANNON - NICHOLSON
A pretty wedding took place recently at St. John of Canterbury Church, Essex, between Mr. Anthony Hannon, B.E., M.Sc., only son of Mr. and the late Mrs. Maurice Hannon, The Gasworks, Youghal, and Miss Ann Nicholson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Nicholson, of Essex. The bestman was Mr. Con Keilohet, Prospect Hill, Youghal and the usher was Mr. Brian Gaule, Provincial Bank, Youghal. The bridesmaid was Miss Margaret Nicholson, sister of the bride.

The reception, attended by 90 guests, was held at the King Fisher Club, Essex. The honeymoon is being spent in Bermuda, where the groom is an engineer with a Pasadena firm.

APPOINTED SUPERIOR
Rev. Bro. M. B. O'Sullivan, Greenelovine, Youghal, has been appointed Superior of Bron of the Hill, Derry.

WEEKLY DANCE
Last week's dance in the weekly series, held on Friday nights, attracted a very large crowd to the Town Hall, Lismore and a very enjoyable time was had by all. Music was supplied by Pat O'Brien's band. A similar dance will be held on this Friday night.

SOCCER
In the final of the inter-county soccer league between the local XI and Pike Rovers, which was played at the Castle Farm venue on Sunday last, the visitors scored the narrowest of victory's on the score 2-1 in a very entertaining game.

Lismore, though defeat was their lot, put up an impressive show, which augers well for the coming season. Outstanding players on the home team were: Endersen (goal), R. Keating, Ryan and T. Sullivan.

CRICKET
There was no decision reached in the Munster area final of the Irish Junior Cup, which was played at Lismore on Sunday week last. The home-side who were opposed by Tramore, batted first in dreadful weather conditions and were all out for 98. John Crotty, who scored 21, played a captain's part and was ably assisted by M. Thomson (17).

H. Elmes was Tramore's best bowler, taking 6 wickets. Tramore had scored 20 for one wicket, when conditions made play impossible and it was decided to abandon the game. It is understood that the sides will decide the issue at the same venue early in the 1964 season.

RESULTS
The following are the results of the Lismore Christian Brothers Schools Intermediate Certificate Examination, which (100% success): Laurence Rafferty, Lismore (honours); John Fleming, do. (pass); M. McGrath, do. (honours); Jarlath Daly, do. (do.); James Geoghegan, do. (pass); Sean Sullivan, do. (honours); John Sullivan, do. (pass); M. Gorman, Carrignagour (pass); Mce, Scanlon, Affane (honours); Rd. O'Riordan, Tallow (pass); Andrew McCarthy, do. (do.); John Cotter, do. (hon-

LATE MR. J. FINN
Deep regret was occasioned at the announcement of the death of a member of a well-known family, in the person of Mr. Joe Finn, which took place in Mowbray, England, after a short period of illness. Third son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Finn, of McCurtainstown, Youghal, the deceased with his sister, went to reside in England some five years ago. He was a member of the Old I.R.A. Cork 1st Brigade and joined the L.D.F. during the Emergency.

Deep sympathy is extended to his bereaved brothers and sisters. Interment took place at Melton Mowbray on Wednesday last.

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT

At Youghal District Court, before Mr. Justice Skinner, Michael Morrissey, Dromore, Aglish, was charged with driving a car without road tax for current period. Supt. O'Callaghan, who prosecuted, said defendant was before the court in June last and was given the benefit of the Probation Act.

He was fined £19-10-0, mitigated to £2 with 9/11 costs. Patrick Ransome, Coonagh, Clashmore, was charged for failing to display his current road tax. Guard Nolan stated that the defendant later produced the tax disc for the full year. The Justice applied the P.O.A. for the tax charge and fined him 10/- for not having it displayed.

John O'Connell, Kilmore, Clashmore, was fined £3 and 9/11 expenses for driving a tractor without a driving licence. Guard Felch proved the charge.

John Daly of Ballyvergan, Youghal, was charged with attempting to drive a motor cycle while under the influence of drink, and with driving without insurance. In evidence Dr. J. Gowen said that the defendant was moderately intoxicated. He was convicted and fined £5 with 14/6 costs on the first charge, and on the second charge was fined £4 and disqualified for using the motor cycle for three years.

N.F.A. NEWS Replies to Criticism

When announcing the latest results of the Voluntary Health Insurance Scheme recently, the Boards General Manager, Mr. N. J. Burke, is reported as saying that farmers were slow to join the Scheme. We feel that in all probability this particular remark by Mr. Burke was highlighted in the press reports to a much greater degree than he had anticipated. However, his statement cannot be allowed to pass without comment.

Apparently he omitted to mention that there has been a substantial increase in the number of farmers in the Voluntary Health Insurance Scheme during the past year. Perhaps this omission is explained by the fact that Mr. Burke was referring to the Report and Accounts of the Board for the year ended 28th February, 1963, whereas the renewal date of the N.F.A. Group Scheme was the 1st July, 1963. Final accounts of the N.F.A. Group are not yet available, but we can safely say that membership increased by well over 60% since last year.

It is true that the numbers of farmers in the Scheme is still a relatively small proportion of the total number of farmers in the country, but of course, the very same thing could be said of other classes of subscribers. Many reasons spring to mind as to why there are not more farmers in the Voluntary Health Insurance Scheme. The most obvious possibility is that many farmers simply do not know about the scheme. We are not aware of any information on the scheme being directed specifically towards farmers other than the efforts of the N.F.A. to arouse more widespread interest in the scheme with the assistance of our branch and county secretaries and through our publicity media. In fact to the best of our knowledge it has not been the policy of the Voluntary Health Insurance Board to carry out extensive publicity so far. We believe that they chose to let the scheme develop gradually and to gain experience before launching intensive publicity.

We consider that the publicity which the Board has given to the scheme to date was much more likely to get across to city and townspeople rather than to rural dwellers. Another factor which could have the effect of keeping down the number of farmer subscribers is the unsatisfactory farm income position. Anyone who is not yet convinced that farmers are financially the worst off section of the community, has only to look at official Government statistics. Consequently, any additional expenditure, be it Voluntary Health Insurance or anything else, will naturally have to be much more carefully evaluated by a farmer than by a salary or wage earner who is certain of his annual income. The N.F.A. is convinced that the Voluntary Health Insurance Scheme is a good scheme and we will continue to do all in our power to promote it among our members. At the same time, it must be recognised that the final decision as to whether he will join or not rests with the individual farmer. We believe that the Voluntary Health Insurance Board will gain much more by greater concentration on selling the scheme to farmers than by berating farmers for not joining.

FARMERS ENDORSE ATHLONE DEMONSTRATION

Typical of the reaction of farmers throughout the country to the action taken by their fellow farmers in the midland area in Athlone, is the following resolution from Bannow Branch, County Wexford, which was passed unanimously at a recent Branch meeting:— "The Branch gives full approval and support to the recent demonstration by farmers in the Athlone area in protest against continued falling farm income and pleads full support to any further action which may be taken by the N.F.A."

SEPT. NATIONAL COUNCIL MEETING

Arrangements for the September meeting of the N.F.A. National Council are being finalised as we go to press. The meeting will be held at N.F.A. House, on Thursday, September 19th and the main item of the agenda is "Preparation of a New Deal for Agriculture." A report of the meeting will be given, next week.

SPEEDING UP MATERIAL DRAINAGE

The proposals which were made at the recent farmers' demonstration in Athlone have not gone unnoticed in Government circles. One of the points emphasised on that occasion was the need for intensification of the Arterial Drainage Programme. Within a couple of weeks, this produced a reaction from the Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister for Finance, Mr. Donagh O'Malley. He issued a statement outlining the work in hand and under survey and publicly invited suggestions from the N.F.A. whereby the drainage programme could be further expedited. We hope to avail of Mr. O'Malley's offer to discuss such proposals in the not too distant future. This will be part of the N.F.A. plan for Irish agriculture, the preparation of which is receiving priority attention at present.

ment Officials that farmers should not be penalised by heavy freight charges on unmillable wheat and the fixing of a minimum price was of major importance in order to avoid such an occurrence. This and other matters discussed at the meeting will be given consideration by the Department.

"DUBLIN CONFERENCE CAME CLOSEST TO IFAP IDEALS"

In a foreword to the recently issued report of the Thirteenth General Conference of the International Federation of Agriculture (which was held in Ireland last May), the Secretary-General Mr. Roger Savary said that "while each Conference manages to establish its own particular claim to a place in IFAP's history, the Dublin Conference of 1963 will be remembered as perhaps the most purposeful, the most business-like, and that coming closest to embodying the ideals of IFAP's founders."

"Long before the echoes of IFAP's Dublin Conference die away it will have proved that farmers' organisations have once more foreseen and outlined the only logical formula for effective international collaboration: active international commodity councils and, whenever appropriate, comprehensive international commodity agreements."

"No less memorable, thanks to its world-renowned hospitality, was the time delegates spent in Ireland. A superb reception at the guests of the Minister for Agriculture, an evening of Irish theatre, songs and dances, with a counterpart of epic Sunday visits to Irish farmers' homes; a trip to Galway and the legendary Isle of Aran, were the highlights of the social programme during one of the busiest IFAP Conferences ever held."

"All participants in the post-Conference tour will always remember the warmhearted and gracious reception of the local N.F.A. Committee in Cahir, the impressive cooperative developments in Dungarvan and Mitchelstown; the magnificent dinner and entertainment, truly worthy of a capital city, given by the local N.F.A. Committee in Cork; the delightful blend of sightseeing and agricultural briefing which permitted delegates to taste fully within a few short hours, the unforgettable short hours of the unforgettable chair of Killarney, the picturesque Medieval lunch at Bunratty Castle, and the boat trip on Lough Ree from Athlone."

"President Rickard Deasy of Ireland's National Farmers' Association and his colleagues indeed provided the Thirteenth Conference with a setting and atmosphere, and a combination of attractions, historical and modern which account in good measure for the stimulating memory that all those associated with this event will keep of their all too short association with the Emerald Isle."

PRICE FOR UNMILLABLE WHEAT

We indicated on the 4th September 1963, to An Bord Grain that the Board should undertake to provide a realistic fixed price for any unmillable wheat of the 1963 harvest. On the 12th September, 63 representatives of the N.F.A., National Grain Committee met Senior Officials of the Department of Agriculture to discuss the 63 harvest situation and also to discuss a price for unmillable wheat to the farmer. The Government announcement, on the 10th September stating that a price of 623-5-0 per ton, would be paid by An Bord Grain on 31st December 1963, for dried feed wheat does not specify what price the farmer would actually receive for wheat in the event of it being classified as unfit for milling. The N.F.A. representatives, bearing in mind the variations which may arise in the price of such wheat due to transport charges, etc., proposed that a reasonable fixed minimum price should be arranged for unmillable wheat and that Bord Grain would purchase it on 31st December at 623-5-0 per ton, subject to the farmer having received the proposed fixed price for his wheat. GAELIC JOTTINGS

KILL QUALIFY FOR SEMI-FINAL

Kill surmounted one of the stiffest obstacles in defence of their senior football crown at Dungarvan on Sunday last, when defeating Kilrossanty by a four point margin in the second round.

Played before a huge attendance that paid £182, and in glorious sunshine, the game was productive of many passages of top-class football. There was little or nothing between the sides in ability, and the issue remained in doubt right up to the final whistle.

Without detracting in any way from Kill's hard won victory, it must be conceded that the challengers did not enjoy their share of good fortune. But, perhaps, the eventual cause of their downfall was their inability to capitalise on several close-in frees that were awarded to them in the closing minutes. Their failure in this respect meant payment of the maximum penalty, although in the run of play, they, to my mind, were worthy of another chance.

Kill have now qualified for the semi-final and they will be odds on favourites to beat Ardmore. They are playing as well as at any stage last year when they won the title for the first time, and it is difficult to visualise them being beaten in these concluding stages.

BALLINACOURTY FOR ANOTHER WESTERN FINAL

Seldom can Ballinacourty have enjoyed so high-ranking a place in the football sun as at present. Already this year their juniors are in the Western final against Valley Rovers and on Sunday at Dungarvan they are stringing also qualified for the divisional decider by defeating Tourin 1-4 to 0-4. The winners played some very attractive football and would not be beaten easily in the decider irrespective of whoever provides the opposition.

Stars aplenty appeared on the winning fifteen but few can begrudge half-back Paddy Barron the honour of man of the match. He gave an outstanding display throughout and repeatedly saved his side when Tourin piled on the pressure in the closing stages.

TIPP TOPPLE CHAMPIONS

All Ireland champions Killkenny failed to lay their old Tipperary bogey at Nowlan Park on Sunday last and were decisively beaten (5-12 to 3-10) in the Oireannas semi-final.

From the very start it was clearly a "needle" game and was played with a fervour and intensity that would have done justice to a championship encounter. Tipp, bent on proving that their Munster final form was "all wrong" displayed hurling craft and skill to which the homesters had no effective answer. After a hesitant opening quarter which they gave the Noreiders a seven-point start, Tipp closed all the shutters to goal and left no doubts about their superiority in the second half.

A certain amount of rancour crept into the game in the closing stages and referee Stephen Gleeson had occasion to "book" players from both sides. As Killkenny tried vainly to find loopholes in a tenacious defence in which John Doyle, Mick Maher and Kieran Carey starred, the exchanges exceeded the bounds of good sportsmanship. Fortunately, however, referee Gleeson kept a firm control of things and the "booking" of a couple of players resulted in a considerable subsidising of tempers.

Following on their pathetic Munster final display, Tipperary must have derived immense satisfaction from this vintage display. Their forwards who were guilty of such inaccuracy against Waterford, atoned in full measure and over the hour only shot three wides. Killkenny tied desperately to stave off defeat in front of their own supporters, but lacked the guile, craft and finishing powers of the rampant Tipp men.

Tipp now meet the winners of the Waterford Wexford game in the final on October 20th at Croke Park. The second semi-final will be played in New Ross on October 6th.

A CHAMPIONSHIP OF WALK-OVER

Undoubtedly the most significant feature of this year's senior hurling championship has been the unusual number of walk-overs by clubs. Cappoquin were first to set the ball rolling when they withdrew from their game with Dungarvan and Ballyduff quickly followed by giving Abbeyside a free passage to the semi-final. Now has come the news that Meaghers (a city group team) are also withdrawing from their game with Dunhill on Sunday. These walk-overs have had an unsettling effect on the championship and will doubtless mean that good for the game in the county.

ERIN'S OWN SURRENDER TITLE

The one year reign of Erin's Own as senior hurling champions came to an end at Waterford on Sunday, when M. Stion inflicted a 2-14 to 3-7 defeat on them in the second round. But Erin's Own put up a dogged resistance in defence of their title and it was only in the final ten minutes that Stion exerted the dominance that decided the issue.

Highlight of the game was the individual display of Philly Grimes who accounted for all but two points of his side's total. He started the game at corner forward but when the holders led by seven points in the second half he was shrewdly switched to the mark and from there plotted and executed the downfall of the champions.

Stion are now in the semi-final against Dungarvan and must be near certainties to regain their hold on the title.

DUNGARVAN HAS BEEN OVERLOOKED

It is almost two years since Dungarvan was chosen as the venue for an important National hurling league fixture. And with Waterford selected to accommodate the County's home games in the forthcoming league campaign, it looks as though the Old Boro will be ignored for another year at least. Unquestionably the Fraher Field is the finest Gaelic arena in the County and it is grossly unfair that it should lie idle while Waterford houses all the 'plum' games.

BALLINACOURTY FOR PRIMARY FINAL

Ballinacourty 1-4; Tourin 0-4. Ballinacourty, having already qualified for the Western junior football final, a completed yet another outstanding feat on Sunday last at Dungarvan, when their Primary footballers did likewise by beating Tourin 1-4 to 0-4 in a hard-fought semi-final.

There can be no questioning 'Court's' right to a place in the decider. They had the better of matters for most of the game and gallantly 'rough' Tourin played it would have been a gross miscarriage of justice had they belatedly snatched victory.

On the evidence of this display it can be stated with confidence that the winners will prove a stumbling block to whatever club provides the opposition in the decider.

They had a clear first-half territorial advantage and were in no way flattered by their three-point interval lead. On the changeover they were hard pressed at times but an opportunistic goal by Pat Burke clinched the issue in their favour.

In a resolute back-line Paddy Berron, Tom Donovan and Jim Hayes were outstanding. Their mid-fielders Liam Enright and Michael Kelly were always prominent while Pat Burke, Austin Cashin and Phil Duggan were most conspicuous in attack.

Tourin were very slow to settle down and failed to raise a flag during the opening half. On the change over the improved considerably and put in a storming if unavailing finish. They were well served in defence by Steve Scanlon, Tom Fives and Wally Doocoy while Dick Doocoy was the better of their midfielders.

The team's weakest sector was attack where only Tommy Barry, J. J. O'Donnell and Johnny Gorman impressed.

Champions Again in Semi-Final

KILL 1-7 KILROSSANTY 0-5

WITH unmistakable assurance Kill go marching on towards the retention for another year of their senior football laurels. On Sunday last at Dungarvan's Fraher Field they overcame one of the sternest challenges to their crown when beating Kilrossanty in an exciting and incident-packed encounter.

Played under ideal conditions and before a huge crowd that paid £182, the game was a fast and enjoyable one, with the issue hanging in perilous doubt up the final seconds. There was never the slightest indication of rancour or ill-feeling between the sides and both victors and vanquished earned credit marks for their admirable spirit of sportsmanship.

While Kill, during their periods of undisputed supremacy, played some quality football, it in no way detracts from the merits of their victory to say that the Comeragh men were a trifle unfortunate to lose. For practically the entire second-half they camped in 'enemy' territory, and only some atrociously inaccurate free-taking attempts prevented them from wiping out an interval deficit of six points.

Over the hour, Kilrossanty failed from no less than six pointable frees, all from within the 21 yard line. And it was this inexplicable wastage more than any other individual factor that contributed so handsomely to their defeat. Territorially they were on a par with Kill, and were on the run of play, worth another bite at the cherry.

Be that as it may, one could only admire the way the Kill attack took its limited opportunities. With them there was no traces of that most dreaded of football diseases—squandermania, and calmly, but efficiently, they took whatever chances that came their way.

SIX POINT LEAD

Playing with a slight breeze in the opening half the winners enjoyed infinitely the better of the early exchanges. As so oft in the past, their towering mid-fielders, Martin Kennedy and Noel Power held sway and ensured that the majority of 'traffic' was in the direction of the Kilrossanty goal. Methodically the Kill forwards carved openings that culminated in scores and they were well worth of their 1-5 to 0-2 interval lead. In fact, so superior were they during that opening moiety, that even partisan Kilrossanty supporters must have awaited the second half with no little trepidation.

But, whatever pep talks were given in Kilrossanty camp during the interval, they certainly had the desired effect. Gone was the lethargy that impaired their first-half display, and it was a fighting, determined Green and Gold brigade that tackled the champions in those final thirty minutes. They greatly altered the composition of their attack by personnel and positional switches, and soon it was evident that a close and exciting finish was in store.

INCLINATION TO PANIC

As they piled on the pressure in relentless fashion, the Kill defence showed a noticeable inclination to panic. Frees were conceded at the slightest signs of danger, but Kilrossanty supporters must have sighed for a reliable place-kicker as scoreable frees were repeatedly squandered. Nevertheless, they succeeded in narrowing the gap to a meagre two points nine minutes from time, and such was the extent of their over all superiority that a shock result was quite on the cards. But their forwards continued to be afflicted by unbelievable inaccuracy, and Kill's Paddy Duggan gave them an object lesson in the art of free-taking, when in two sporadic raids he unerringly pointed frees that finally paid to Kilrossanty's challenge for another year.

Understandably, the losers will long bemoan their inexcusable misses, but in victory Kill once again gave emphatic proof of their team strength and ability. When their mid-field pair are dominant it is doubtful if any combination can claim parity with them, and their sights are now very firmly set on another title.

THE SCORING Within seconds of the throw in Kill attacked menacingly and Mike Flynn placed Monty Duggan pointed a free in the seventh minute, and the same player tacked on a like score from play two minutes later. Kennedy made no mistake from a 45 yard free in the 10th minute, before Tom Flynn had Kilrossanty's only points of the half from close-in frees.

Then in the 20th minute came the most decisive score of the game. Two Kilrossanty defenders mis-fielded a dropping ball, and Joe Tibbs availed of the 'gift' to slam the ball to the net. Three minutes later Duggan pointed a free and at the break Kill deservedly led by 1-5 to 0-2.

But what a transformation! The second half brought Kilrossanty—with a remodelled attack, set the pace from the restart. Flynn was wide from a 14 yard free before atoning in the 8th minute with a superlative effort from over 40 yards. Seconds later Whyte

Two minutes' silence. Before the game two minutes' silence was observed as a mark of respect to the late John Power, the well known Kilrossanty footballer, and father of the club's star defender Jimineen Power.

Having received a first-round bye, the Villagers were due to play Ballyduff in the second round on Sunday last, but were given a walk-over, thus clearing the path to the last stage but one in the campaign. In fact this year they have had only one competitive game and lack of proper match practice could tell heavily against them in Sunday.

Not so with the 'Gunners. Already they have scored decisively against the Bricekys in the championship, while their displays in major club tournaments suggests they are a side above average. Rumours, however that they would have Tom Cheasty's services on Sunday can now be scotched and it is certain that the Ballyduff man will NOT be included in their attack.

Against the Bricekys the city side looked a team laden with hurling talent and even though the venue will be to Abbeyside's advantage the 'Gunners' will be the general fancy to prevail.

Their defence is particularly strong, with solid hurlers in Paudie Casey, Tom Hearne and Mogie Foley.

They are more than adequately served at midfield where Tony Cummins is the key figure while Vinny Connors, 'Lettie' Troy and John Warren are the forwards likely to cause most headaches to the Village defence.

Nor does it brighten Abbeyside's prospects that they must enter the fray without one of their most experienced players in Johnny Hogan. In so vital a game, Hogan's experience would be an invaluable asset and the Villagers will be considerably weakened by his absence.

Yet one cannot discount them, particularly when the championship is at stake. They invariably reserve their best form for the big occasion and being outsiders suits them admirably on Sunday.

Under the tutorage of trainer Paddy Langan, they have prepared diligently for the game, and are unperturbed by the fact that the general consensus of opinion inclines towards a Ballygunner victory. They have proved ere now that they are capable of upsetting the form book and there is a quiet air of confidence in the camp that they will do so in this latest test.

And who can suggest that they have not the material to qualify for the final? In Austin Flynn, Ned Moore, Mick Kiely, John McGrath, Danny Barry, Donal O'Faolain, Tony Mansfield, Willie Redmond and Liam Enright they have hurlers of the best calibre, the men in fact the club will look forward to, to provide the victory stimulus.

Undoubtedly the ingredients are there for a thrilling game. The 'Gunners, on form, are entitled to start favourites and the writer feels obliged to give them the vote. But at the same time being mindful of Abbeyside's great tradition, it will occasion no great surprise should they again cause an upheaval of the form book.
