MR. JIM O'KEEFE, Hon. Secretary of the Dungarvan Golf Club, has added a further success to his long list in securing a place among the twelve qualifiers for the final of the "Herald" Golf Trophy, a competition sponsored by Independent Newspapers Ltd., Dublin and confined annually to winners of Captain's Prizes in Clubs in Ireland. We heartily congratulate Mr. O'Keefe on his fine achievement and extend to him our very best wishes in his effort to annex this coveted Trophy, the final of which will be played at The Castle Golf Club, Rathfarham, Dublin, on Sunday next, 6th inst.

ALLEY TO BE DEMOLISHED WEDDING BELLS

DESPITE the last minute appeal of Mr. Jack Flavin, former chairman of the Munster Handball Council, Dungarvan's famous Ball-alley is to be demolished. This was decided at last Friday's meeting of the local Urban Council when a proposal to that effect by Colr. T. Lee was adopted.

In a detailed letter to the Council, Mr. Flavin said that if the alley in Dungarvan was knocked hand-ball would be dead in the town, and would never again be revived. Dungarvan, he said, had played a hand in hand-ball in the county since the alley was built.

Colr. Lee, who presented a petition with 98 signatures requesting its demolition, said the alley was only a menace to the people in the vicinity. There was all kinds of black-guarding going on up there.

Colr. Richard Walsh said the ball-alley had not been used as such.

Dep. Kyne (Chairman): The Dept. have said that if a housing scheme is to be built, the alley will have to go. It is a question of an alley or houses, and in the circumstances I have no hesitation in voting for a housing scheme.

Colr. Walsh: We have 95 people waiting for houses and I hope this is not holding up a scheme. We have them coming to us in droves for houses.

Mr. R. J. Doyle (Town Clerk) said the Co. Manager did not like to see the alley go. He would like to know of any schools or colleges who would be interested in it. He was disappointed that no committee was interested in it. He would, however, leave the decision in the hands of the Council.

Deputy Kyne said if they should have both they would all be very happy. But if it came to a choice his would be for houses.

Mr. B. White who temporarily acted as Town Clerk prior to Mr. Doyle's appointment, said that if a strong case was put to the Dept. they might be swayed. They were, however, very adamant the last day.

Colr. Lee then proposed that the alley be demolished, and a housing scheme built instead. "I am in the midst of them up there," he said, "but I do not care."

Colr. R. Walsh said his reason for seconding Colr. Lee's proposal was because the Department had put a pistol to their heads. It was a case of houses or a ball-alley.

"We have 95 people clamouring for houses," he said. "I have no doubt in giving my choice for houses. We are shockingly far behind in the housing position, and anything we would do to slow down houses would be a retrograde step."

Colr. J. Kenneally said they should not even consider knocking the alley. It was a shame to knock it. The people up there were strongly looking for it ten years ago, and they nearly hunted Tom Kyne out of town. Now they wanted to knock it, but he was completely against that.

Colr. Lee's proposal was then put to the meeting and carried, with Colr. Kenneally dissenting.

O'MEARA-FOLEY

The marriage took place at Our Lady of Grace Church, Chiswick, London, of William O'Meara, eldest son of the late Michael O'Meara and Mrs. O'Meara, Emerald Terrace, and Miss Vera Foley, daughter of Mr. Patrick Foley and the late Mrs. Foley, Pulla, Tarbert, Co. Kerry.

The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing, was performed by Rev. Fr. Woods, P.P., assisted by Rev. Fr. Dobson, S.J. Best man was Donald O'Meara, and the bridesmaid was Miss Ann Foley.

The bride, who was given away by her brother-in-law, was radiantly attired in a lemon-coloured frock with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of pink roses, while the bridesmaid wore a lemon frock and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The honeymoon was spent in Gurnsey.

We take this opportunity to wish the best of luck to them in their married life ahead.

Wedding Bells

ANTHONY MCCARTHY, Ballinroad, and Miss ANNE POWER, Murphy Place, Abbeyside, who were married in Abbeyside Parish Church.

Marquis of Watford Cup For Dungarvan Greyhound

BEAT ALL-COMERS IN THRILLING FINAL

TO the tumultuous cheering of a huge and frenzied Dungarvan contingent, Carran Dota, owned by Mrs. Mairead Murray, Ring, and trained by her father, Jackie Walsh, also of Ring, swept to a glorious and memorable one length victory in the final of the Marquis of Watford Cup at Killeohan Park Greyhound Track on Saturday night. It was the first time in the history of the event that a Dungarvan-owned greyhound won the trophy, which carries with it the valuable cash prize of £350.

Of the six finalists, Carran Dota was the outsider in the betting. Except for the Dungarvan followers, this 54lb. white and fawn bitch attracted little attention, and was freely offered at sixes as they went to traps. In trap one was Rochester Jet, in trap two, Frenchman's Cove, owned and trained by Dubliner Mick O'Toole; in trap three, the second Dungarvan finalist, Monastic Boy, owned by Paddy Casey, Tallaght; in trap four, the favourite Scarface; in trap five, Tyrone West, and on the outside the gallant little Carran Dota.

From the off, the fast-breaking "Carran" was with the leaders, and at the first bend there was little between the six of them. But then the Dungarvan bitch made her break and on hitting the front immediately hugged the rails. At the third and final bends Scarface came with menacing challenges that momentarily looked like proving successful, but on each occasion the lion-hearted little "Carran" found extra reserves of stamina to again consolidate her front-ranking position and at the finish had a length to spare in the fine time of 30.20. To complete a great Dungarvan night, "Monastic Boy" ran on excellently to take third place.

Originally 48 entrants set out in quest of this showpiece of Watford racing calendar, Carran Dota, after winning her outlying heat, went on to emerge from three subsequent rounds, and included in her semi-final victims was no less a dog than the Grand Friday. Such a performance surely emphasises the class of Carran Dota.

Now two years old, she was given as a present to Mrs. Murray and her husband Patsy by her father. She is out of Brennan's Girl, owned by Mr. Michael Brennan, Caseyville, one of the most popular greyhound enthusiasts in the county. Incidentally, a full sister of Carran Dota, Much Oblived, owned by Michael is a finalist in the Shagreen Cup at Youghal track to-morrow night (Friday), when it is hoped she will complete the big double. For the big Watford event Carran Dota received expert preparation, as Jackie Walsh and his son-in-law Patsy Murray left no stone unturned to ensure that she would be at peak fitness for the occasion. And her performance was certainly a credit to both.

After the race the happy owner Mrs. Murray was speechless with excitement. Mairead, who runs a ladies hair-dressing saloon in Dungarvan, told an "Observer" reporter after the race that they had good hopes of success all along the way. The beautiful cup was presented by the Marquis of Watford to the proud owner amid scenes of great jubilation. It seemed as though all Dungarvan was present to cheer the gallant bitch to victory, who on the evidence of this vintage performance could well become one of the greats of the Irish track.

Congratulations then to all concerned with this wonderful triumph. It was a victory achieved in the most impressive manner possible, and one which we hope will be a fore-runner for many more noteworthy track feats by the wonderful Carran Dota.

Mr. JACKIE WALSH (trainer), Mrs. P. MURRAY (owner) and her husband PATSY, Carran Dota and the Cup.

NEW PARKING REGULATIONS

Details of the new parking regulations, framed at a special meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council, at which Chief Supt. G. Butler and Supt. M. Costello attended on the 17th of September, came before last Friday's monthly meeting of the Council. The proposed by-laws are as follows:—

Parking is prohibited in the following places at any time:—
Castle Street—Both sides from its junction with Parnell Street to its junction with Davitt's Quay.

Cross Bridge Street—North side from its junction with Bridge Street to a point 45 yards east of the said junction.
Davis Street—Both sides from its junction with O'Connell St. to a point 141 yards north of the said junction.

Emmet Street—South side from its junction with St. Augustine St. to junction with Church St.

New Chapel Street—West side from its junction with Emmet Street to a point 231 yards south of the said junction.
O'Connell St.—North side from junction with Grattan Square—South west corner—to a point 158 yards west of the said junction.

O'Connell St.—North side from its junction with Davis Street to a point 295 yards west of the said junction.

Old Chapel Lane—West side from its junction with O'Connell Street to the point where it meets Western Tce.

Parnell St.—North side from its junction from Galway's Lane to junction with Grattan Sq.—south east corner.

Rice's Street—Both sides from its junction with Mitchell Street to a point on the Youghal Road 165 yards south of the said junction.

St. Augustine Street—Both sides from its junction with Emmet Street, to a point 81 yards north of the said junction.
Stephen Street—West side from its junction with O'Connell St. to a point 127 yards north of the said junction.

Western Terrace—West side from its junction with Mitchell Street to the point where it meets Old Chapel Lane.

The Town Clerk Mr. P. J. Doyle said that since the last meeting the authorities had stated that complete prohibiting of parking in the area between the Jet and Capitol cleaners would not be warranted, and they had decided that half hour parking be allowed on one side. But after discussing this with the Commissioner in Dublin, they had decided that one-hour parking be allowed from 9 a.m. to 6.30 p.m. Half-holidays would be excluded from the regulations.

The Chairman, Deputy Kyne, said that no one wanted to do the traders any harm, but if the Supt. felt that parking at one side was necessary, then the Council would have to agree to that.

Colr. J. Kenneally that these proposed regulations would not cause any hardship to the traders.

Deputy Kyne said the Council's view was that there should be no parking in the O'Connell Street area. They would give that view to the Supt. and he could then make the final choice.

HAPPENINGS

TOOR HOLY WILL
On Sunday last a big number of pilgrims visited Toor Holy well. Several cures have been reported.

"Toor Well" is not the only place Mr. Jerry Fitzgerald, of Dungarvan, has carried out renovations. Last week he executed an expensive job in Crohane cemetery, Co. Tipperary, where he erected a large bronze plate 26"x18" over the grave of his beloved wife, Mrs. Josephine Fitzgerald.

The late Mrs. Josephine Fitzgerald, 17, Main Street, Dungarvan, died on the 16th Feb. '61. She was born in Fethard, Co. Tipperary. Her father was John Hickey, of Crohane. This lady was responsible for the great work carried out at St. Declan's Well, on Toor Mountain, in the Parish of Aghish, Co. Waterford, where a memorial to her memory is erected. Sacred Heart of Jesus have mercy on her soul.

Appeal for New House

A tenant in a two-roomed house in Thomas' Tce., Dungarvan, complained to the Urban Council at their meeting on Friday night last that the rain was pouring in day and night. He appealed to the Council to provide him with another house.

In reply to the Chairman Deputy T. A. Kyne, the complainant, Mr. P. Carney, said he never got an offer of any other house.

Deputy Kyne said he would see what they could do. It was mainly in the hands of the M.O. who could recommend the type of house most suitable.

READY AT LAST !

"There is about three weeks work to be done," said Mr. P. J. Doyle, Town Clerk, when referring to the Boreenatra housing scheme at Friday's meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council.

As yet, he said the internal and external painting had to be done, and the electrical installations had to be dealt with.

"I have been in touch with the contractor," continued Mr. Doyle, "and I have asked him to give us possession of the houses within fourteen days. Our experiences with him have not been too happy and we do not know what will happen."

A member said it was very unfair to people living in condemned houses to be kept waiting.

Colr. T. Lee: They are eight months over-due.

Mr. T. A. Kyne: If he does not give them to us within the 14 days we will have to take drastic action.

Mr. Doyle said that if the contractor did not give over the houses within the specified time the insurance company would have a claim against him.

The Council then decided to get tenders for four and three roomed houses.

When discussing the rents on the Boreenatra houses, the Chairman said that if any person offered a house in the scheme could not pay the rent, there were a number of people living in cheaper houses that would be prepared to change.

The names of the approved tenants were then put into a drum and following a draw by members of the Council and Press, the following are the houses allotted to each tenant: Thos. Regan (house no. 5); Mce. Fraher (6); Joseph Dugan (7); Ml. Nagle (8); J. McShane (9); Thos. Kearns (10); John Hamilton (11); John Lyons (12); Christopher Nagle (13); John Whelan (14); John Crowley (15); Richard Ahearne (16); Pat McGrath (17); Wm. O'Keefe (18); Ml. Needham (19); Stephen McGovern (20); Thomas Butler (21); Terence Moroney (22); Mrs. Wall (23).

TIDY TOWNS COMPETITIONS

An all-out effort was needed to advance significantly ahead of other competing centres. This was an extract of a report by the Tidy Town Committee on Dungarvan, which was read at last Friday's meeting of the Urban Council. In its appropriate category Dungarvan received a total of 62 marks out of a possible 100, two higher than last year.

The following was the adjudicator's report on the town: (maximum marks in brackets). Effort involved 21 (30); general cleanliness and tidiness 9 (15); condition of streets and sidewalks 10 (15); appearance of public, private and commercial premises 5 (10); colour, colour harmony and general appearance 5 (10); appearance of planting, gardens, trees, shrubs and flowers 6 (10); absence of unsightly objects 6 (10). Total 32 (100). Dungarvan got 1 mark more than last year in each of the following: effort involved 21 (20); and condition of streets and sidewalks 10 (9).

ADJUDICATOR'S REMARKS:

The Adjudicator's remarks were:—

The approach from Waterford to Dungarvan is somewhat disrupted now by new road construction. It is hoped, however, that at the point just inside the 30 mile an hour limit, the margins will ultimately be finished better than they are now. At the junction of the coast road and the Waterford road there is an ugly derelict building with a rusted corrugated roof.

There are some further derelict buildings on the coast road and more in the area of Home Rule Street.

The old school building at Abbeyside is unsightly and some of the grass areas in the district are not well maintained.

Once again the lack of paint on the posts and chains at the harbour front must be mentioned. Paint on these would make a vast difference to the appearance of the town. The guard rails of the trees in the quay might also be painted.

The new promenade near the swimming pool is a fine amenity. Seats seen in this area would be most attractive if painted in bright cheerful colours. The Square, O'Connell St., St. Mary St. and the other streets in this area would be improved by more colour in the buildings. It is a pity that the colour of the shop front is not extended upwards over the entire building. O'Connell Street has some ugly rusted corrugated iron fencing liberally festooned. There is also fly-posting on some of the poles. Derelict buildings can be seen in St. Brigid's Street, Davis St. and other turnings off O'Connell Street.

On the road to Clashmore some derelict buildings have been dealt with but not effectively. Off this road there are many side turnings which give a view of rusted corrugated iron roofs and rather badly kept gardens. Housing estate off WolfeT one Street has badly kept grass plots.

The approach road from Cork is somewhat disrupted by road widening. Where this has been completed the effect is very good. A dump on the foreshore here takes greatly from this introduction to the town.

The road leading to the Railway Station has some derelict buildings, for example, the old Cinema. Nearby a rusted corrugated shed is not impressive. The Railway Station itself, with the exception of the holiday camping coaches is colourless. The nearby dump does not enhance the prospect.

Although the centre of the town appears to be reasonably free of litter, there is a significant amount of litter at the Waterford side and also in O'Connell Street. Litter baskets noticed were invariably full to capacity.

Dungarvan has improved slightly but needs an all out effort to advance significantly ahead of other competing centres. Dungarvan is to be complimented on its well-painted street name signs. (09)tmmsuo TIFCao

The Chairman, Deputy T. A. Kyne, said they had a number of derelict places in town and it was a pity they did not muster the courage to get rid of them.

The Town Clerk said they might get the owners to do something about them.

Well-known Hurler Weds

Congratulations are extended this week to the Tourin hurling star Dick Dooney, who was married on Saturday last.

Dick has been one of the club's outstanding players for many years, and was a member of the team that beat Mount Sien in the memorable senior hurling final 12 years ago.

To him and his bride, we wish many years of wedded bliss.

Three In A Row For Fourmilewater

FOURMILEWATER

4-9

NOT for another year at least will there be a change of with the utmost simplicity at the expense of Shamrocks, champions in junior hurling in the West. For at Dungsarvan on Sunday last Fourmilewater retained their crown how they ever progressed so far in the campaign.

For a game that was so confidently expected to provide a feast of hurling thrills, it fell flat as the proverbial pancake. The issue was literally a clear-cut one from a very early stage when it was blatantly obvious that Shamrocks were not going to make their initial appearance in a final a winning one.

OVER-AWED

They seemed over-awed by the atmosphere of the big occasion and could never shake off a seemingly nervous tension that so badly impaired their game.

But if the decider failed so lamentably to come up to standards it must be stated that the holders were in no way responsible for the below par fare that was on view. If anything they performed with far more distinction than at any other stage of the championship to date and to my way of thinking at any rate are a more compact side than either of the teams they have fielded over the last two championship winning years.

Such was the ease with which they annexed their third title in a row that there is little difficulty in pinpointing the individual factors that contributed most to the triumph. But numerous as were the advantages they enjoyed throughout the field, none was so nearly decisive as the almost unchallenged superiority they held in the middle of the field.

Hereabouts the winners had in Mick Connolly and Kieran Ryan a pairing that on the hour proved unbeatable and to which Shamrocks, despite a bewildering number of changes in the sector could not find an effective answer. Such was the extent of their near-unchallenged dominance that Connolly could afford the luxury of finding room upfield in search of scores something he successfully attempted, as indicated by his personal tally of 2-1.

GALLING

It must have been galling to the followers of the Kilwater-side that their team should choose the final to hit rock-bottom form. Gone was the poise and understanding that carried them to the ultimate stage and they looked completely at sea against the confident holders.

Only in the early few moments did they look like matching strides with the opposition, but once they fell into arrears for the second time in the ninth minute they found themselves engaged in an uphill battle. Even with the assistance of a fresh first-half breeze they could take no appreciable headway and when they trailed by five points at the interval, not even the most optimistic of their supporters could have entertained great hopes of victory.

Nor did the second half do other than provide us with a continuation of Fourmilewater's supremacy. Even when satisfied to fall into second gear they continued to hold the upper hand and it was only in the dying seconds that Shamrocks secured their solitary score of the half.

DREW FIRST BLOOD

The winners drew first blood when Billy Grant pointed a free in the fifth minute but within seconds Shamrocks were on level terms when midfielder Billy Tobin was on the mark from a placed ball eighty yards out. Mick Connolly had the first of his invaluable scores in the ninth minute and Austin Barron quickly added another. In the fourteenth minute Connolly standing unmarked forty yards from goal sent in a drive that went direct to the net for a goal that might have been saved. Four minutes later Connolly was again the villain of the piece as far as Shamrocks were concerned when he doubled on a Thomas Walsh centre and left goalkeeper Jim Nicholson helpless. Martin Walsh made it 2-4 to 1-1 by Joe Foley that gave respectability to the scoreboard at the interval.

Whatever hopes the losers may have had of staging a comeback half come-back were dashed inside the opening ten minutes of the restart. First Jimmy Hewitt flashed over a point and then major disaster befell the losers when an 85 yard free by Thomas Walsh was allowed drop untouched to the net. Thereafter the proceedings proceeded by J. J. Murphy.

WALSHPH'S GAME

While Fourmilewater can parade many stars, my man of the match was their sturdy built centre-back Thomas Walsh. He never put a foot wrong and completely outplayed the losers' danger man "Bonzo" Tobin.

Their teenage goalkeeper Tom Brazil was another to give a great display and many of his saves were right out of the top drawer. He looked as cool as the proverbial cucumber in dealing with a series of hot drives and is clearly a youth with a bright future. Their full-backs Willie Walsh Liam Ryan and Benny Walsh were masters of every situation near goal and Joe Burke and Billy Doocey gave Walsh great assistance in the half line.

The contribution to victory by Connolly and Ryan I have already referred to while all six forwards Hewitt, Grant, Martin Walsh, Hickey, Barron, Phelan and substitute Nugent played their parts in the retention of their title.

It is difficult to find words when referring to Shamrocks display. I do not for one moment accept their form of Sunday last as being a true guide to assessing their real worth. To my mind the occasion proved that little too much for them and I will be more than surprised if they are not strongly in the hunt for Western honours again next year.

Undoubtedly their outstanding performer on Sunday was Billy Tobin at midfield. He had to plough a lone furrow in the area, however, and much of his good work went to naught through lack of assistance. Others to do well for them were Paul Allen, Tommy Geary Joe Foley and Billy O'Keefe. Fourmilewater: T. Brazil, W. Walsh, L. Ryan, B. Walsh, J. Burke, T. Walsh, B. Doocey, K. O'Rvan, M. Connolly, J. Hewitt, B. Grant, M. Walsh, T.

Hickey, A. Barron, P. Phelan, Subs. J. J. Nugent for Phelan, Phelan for Hickey. Shamrocks: J. Nicholson, B. O'Keefe, J. Callaghan, J. Nicholson, M. Keane, P. Allen, F. O'cran, B. Tobin, M. Tobin, J. Allen, T. Geary, M. Tobin, J. Foley, J. J. Murphy, P. Murphy, G. McGrath, Subs.—T. J. Murphy for J. Allen.

LATE MRS. MGT. MOORE

The unexpected death of Mrs. Margaret Moore occurred on Monday, 30th September, at her residence Clonkerdon, at an early age, but fortified by the Rites of Holy Church. She was a friend of rich and poor alike, a neighbour of outstanding qualities, always willing to give her assistance to those in need of same. We express our sincerest sympathy to her husband and family on their very great loss. May her gentle soul rest in peace.

Her remains were removed on Tuesday evening followed by a large cortege to Ballinacoola Church and were blessed and received by Rev. Fr. T. Nugent, C.C. Ballinacoola. Requiem Masses were celebrated on Wednesday morning and the interment took place amid manifestation of very deep sorrow from the large concourse present. In the adjoining cemetery, Rev. Fr. T. Nugent, C.C., assisted by Rev. Fr. E. Tobin, C.C., Aglish, officiated and imparted the final absolution at the graveside.

Large sheaves of Mass cards, telegrams and floral tributes were received by her family. The chief mourners were: Michael (husband); William Co. Kerry, David, Clonkerdon (sons); Miss Ann Moore, Clonkerdon (daughter); John Maher, Grange, James Maher, Ballinacoola, Villierstown, William Maher, Ring, Michael Maher, Ballintaylor (brothers); Mrs. J. Fitzgerald, Kilgreaney, Cooagh (sister).

A MID-FIELD DUEL

CARRAN DOTA AND THE CUP

Hereunder we give the story of the race in verse, composed by Michael Whelan, 81 Congress Villas, Dungarvan:—

The month was September, the year '63. When in Kilmohin Park, Waterford, sportsmen did see— A trap to line verdict that made the crowd sing.

Three cheers for Carran Dota and Jackie Walsh in from Ring.

They paraded past the stand led by Rochester Jett. Then Scarface the favourite, a great cheer he did get.

Three more were applauded, they looked very keen. Then came Carran Dota, who we now toast as queen.

The anthem was played, the crowd faced the flag. Owners, trainers and punters, their tongues stopped to wag.

The hare was put going, soon the traps would be up. Then six powerful greyhounds would fight for the cup.

Out like a bomb Carran went to the front. She was followed by Scarface who was up to her stunt. She made the first bend and approaching the straight, it was the same order, the excitement was great.

They approached the third bend to a tumultuous roar. Scarface was coming as never before.

But look, he's "gone wide," wee Carran's gone through. She has won a great race, it was Carran's long due.

The county is praising brave Carran Dota. This deed it will live in the Gaeltacht, go brea.

Already the experts are heard to be quoting— "She is small, but she's brave just like Master McGrath."

WEST WATERFORD NOTES

CLASHMORE FAMILY BEREAVED

Rev. Mother Mary de Pazzi, who died recently, was sister of Mrs. J. Hynes and Mrs. R. Hynes and aunt of Very Rev. Wm. Hynes, U.S.A. To these and to her other relatives sympathy is extended.

NEW SCHOOLS

The construction of the new school at Villierstown is now well advanced. It is also proposed to erect new schools at Clashmore and Ballycurrane.

THE HARVEST

Harvesting operations in this area are nearing completion. Portion of the wheat crop is still to be cut. Most of the corn has been saved in good condition.

CONSTRUCTION CLASSES

Classes in building construction have commenced at Clashmore. It is hoped that all the young men of the area will avail of this wonderful opportunity.

NEW COTTAGES

A number of new cottages are to be erected at Aghish. It is understood that the contract has been secured by a local builder. It is also proposed to erect new cottages at Clashmore and Kinsalebeg, but it appears that, so far, no contractor has been secured to do the work.

KILMATHOMAS NOTES

New Prior—Very Rev. Fr. Edmund Wall, O.P., who has been appointed as Prior of the Dominican Community of St. Catherine's, Newry, is son of Mr. William Wall, Arundal Square, Waterford, city, and the late Mrs. Bridget Wall, do.

The new Prior of the Newry House, who received his ordination in Rome in 1950, is brother of the Rev. Fr. Michael Wall, C.C., Kilmathomas.

Garda Vacancy Filled—Garda Samuel French, Urlingford, has come on transfer to the one-man garda station in the Cove, Village of Stradbally, filling the vacancy created there earlier this year by the premature passing of Garda James Gallagher, a peace officer who was possessed of a deep love of his native country and who took a keen interest in gaelic games. (R.I.P.)

The Very Expansive Circle of friends and admirers which Mrs. John Power, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Power, of Kilmathomas, and Mr. William (Billy) Barry, son of Mr. and the late Mrs. James Barry, Garrahalish, do, deservedly enjoy, will have noted with delight the announcement of the popular ball's engagement and will unite in warmly offering every best wish for the future to both.

By the way, Billy Barry is one of the leading players on the Stradbally senior football team, and Miss Power's father was a front-rank member of the formidable Kilrossanty senior football line-out of his manhood's prime. Good luck to the betrothed couple.

Heart-Stirring to Hear that those pupils of the Mercy Convent School, Kilmathomas, that did the primary examination earlier this year all fared excellently. In same, the results showing 100% success to the credit of the school.

Much-esteemed Mr. Thomas Power, of Ballycane, Portlaw, who has died at an advanced age, was an extensive dairy and tillage farmer. Within the first twenty years of this century, when Kilmathomas was one of the foremost weekly fresh butter market centres in Munster, he regularly drove into the Mahon-straddling little town on every market day (Thursday) with large supply of the oily unctuous substance obtained from cream by churning, and as his stuff ranked top grade always, he readily received the top price per lb. on offer every week. He will be remembered chiefly for his ever-cheerful personality, which won for him countless friends. Sincere sympathy with his sorrowing sister, Miss Kathleen Power, and other relatives is widespread. R.I.P.

Salute to Curragmore Estate, Portlaw, an animal exhibited by whom won the Supreme Championship at the annual Shearing Ram Show and Sole run by the Kerry Blackfaced Sheep Breeders' Association at Killarney on a recent date. The champion, was later withdrawn from auction at thirty guineas.

The Late Mr. John Nugent of Feenagh, "Conea-Power," was one of the most extensive, progressive, and highly successful farmers in the Barony of Upper Taird; he was a very well and popularly known neighbour, and sympathy in full measure is extended to his nearest and dearest in their tribulation. The neighbours wholeheartedly sympathise with the husband (Mr. Thomas Whelan) sons, daughters and relatives of the late Mrs. Catherine (Kate) Whelan (nee Power), Kilmathomas, a truly grand type of Catholic Irish woman of her generation, and that was mortal of whom was interred in the cemetery adjoining St. Anne's Church, Fews, on Thursday of last week (after Requiem Mass) in the presence of a large concourse of mourners and sympathisers. Rev. M. Barron, C.C. Kilrossanty, officiated at the graveside. R.I.P.

Followers a happy holiday of six weeks duration, spent amongst his relatives and friends in the Decies, Mr. Martin Power, son of Mrs. Margaret Power, Kiely's Cross, Grange, Ardmore, and the late Fr. Patrick Power, do., returned to New York City, where he has his home and where he was Chairman of the County Waterfordmen's Association from 1959 until pressure of business compelled him to relinquish the honorary post at the beginning of this year. He was accompanied by his estimable wife and their three children (girl and two boys).

Mr. Power is a brother of Mr. Thomas Power, Downey's Cross, Leamybrien, from whom it is learned that the party arrived safely back in the "city of skyscrapers" in a short space of time.

The October Devotions held in the Catholic churches of this area's respective parishes on Wednesday night of this week were assisted at by a large congregation of children and adults in each sacred edifice.

FISHING

Now that salmon fishing is over for another year, local fishermen are either trawling or angling. Trawlers are said to be doing well with a good price, but the hand line men are so far content with a few pickers and dabs. According to reports, ten additional boats will be operating next season for salmon. This is the result of having two very good seasons, this year and last year. Rod fishing for salmon in the upper reaches has improved in the last month, and many fish are still showing in the tidal stream.

BREAKING AND ENTERING CHARGE

At Fermoy District Court recently, William McGrath, 11 Hermitage Rd., Fermoy, and a Scotsman named Bryan Davidson, were charged with breaking and entering Killeagh Catholic Church, Youghal, on September 16th last, with intent to commit a felony. Garda J. O'Neill of Killeagh station said that the defendants told him they had been working with farmers and travelling shows. They entered the church in order to get some money to go to England. District Justice Buckley adjourned the case for three months to allow the defendants to go to England, and if they did not do so then they would have to appear before the court in three months.

WIFE MR. ED. KEANE, M.S.C.

It is with profound regret that we record the sad and unexpected death on Sunday last of a well known and popular member of the teaching profession in the person of Mr. Edmund Keane, M.S.C., of "Finbar House", Knockaverry, Youghal, to the inexpressible grief of his family and large circle of friends. A universal favourite with all who came into contact with him and especially with the pupils and past pupils of the local Christian Brothers Schools where he laboured unselfishly for over twenty years. Since his advent to Youghal he took an active part in many local committees, such as the Strand Improvement Assn., Strand Church Committee; for a number of years was a prominent member of the Youghal U.D.C.; and was a keen follower of G.A.A. games. His passing, in his late fifties, is deeply felt by all and sundry.

The attendance at the removal of the remains on Monday night from the Cottage Hospital was the largest ever seen in the district. Solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated at St. Mary's Parish Church, on Tuesday, at 10.30, after which the funeral, both large and representative, took place to the family burial ground at Abbey-side, Dungarvan.

Deepest sympathy is extended to his bereaved widow and family.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR

An important visitor to Youghal over the week-end was Most Rev. Dr. Whelan, Auxiliary Bishop of Ohio. His Lordship availed of his flight through Shannon to call on a relative Mrs. Eileen Savage, Harbour View Hotel, Youghal, before leaving for the Ecumenical Council in Rome. Dr. Whelan, whose forebears came from Co. Waterford, was born in the United States.

SPRING TIDES

Residents on the sea front are taking the usual precautions to keep the tide out this week-end, when it is hoped that the wind will not turn anyway southerly, which would increase the height of water from 2 to 3 feet above its normal height. The new sea wall at the Green Park, now near completion will have its first high tide this week. This heavily reinforced concrete structure will take a lot of battering from the sea, which has a straight and uninterrupted run to the strand. The original plan of the new type of sea wall and its erection is credited to the local town surveyor, Mr. J. O'Regan, B.L.

YOUGHAL GAS WORKS CLOSURE

At midnight on Monday last Youghal Gas Works, which was established 133 years ago and was the first municipal gas undertaking in Ireland, was finally closed down due to the fact that for a number of years it was a heavy burden to the ratepayers of Youghal. It has been operated at an annual loss of £1,000 due to competition of electricity and bottled gas in the town.

Since 1830 it was operated both day and night and despite the scarcity of fuel during the emergency the staff were able to give an adequate supply to its customers. It is understood that the manager, fitter and other five employees will receive alternative employment or compensation. Two members of the staff have 39 years service.

Towards this end, an accelerated canvassing drive by the E.S.B. had been commenced and was making considerable progress. So far, 35% of householders re-canvassed for past-developed connections, were accepting supply.

ber) who are still outside the scope of the Rural Electrification Scheme. Just to clarify this point, the arrangement is that they will be entitled to the bottled gas subsidy of £10 per house. While the N.F.A. still receives complaints from farmers about E.S.B. special service charges, we regard these as problems to be overcome rather than permanent obstacles and we can say that the Association will do its best to ensure that the benefits of rural electrification will be extended as widely as possible. N.F.A. branches have an important role, in this respect, in co-operation with the local branches of other rural organisations.

VIEWERS OF ALL COUNTIES BEING SOUGHT

County Executives are asked each year to submit their views and recommendations on the system of appointments and elections to National Commodity Committees. This system has been in operation since the inauguration of the Association (up to the year 1963) has remained unchanged. By virtue of a decision of the National Council at its June meeting this year (and subsequently ratified by the Annual General Meeting), slight modifications were introduced. County Representatives are in possession of the full facts regarding these modifications.

The General Secretary of N.F.A. Mr. Sean Healy, pointed out in a recent circular to all County Secretaries that it was suggested at the last annual general meeting that the small committees be appointed at National level to investigate the best methods whereby national committees might be formed. This Committee was charged with the task of finalising its recommendations at such a time as would enable the new recommendations if adopted by Council to be implemented in connection with the election of committees in 1964.

Every county is asked to co-operate in this important matter and to submit their views prior to October 22nd, 1963. CATTLE OUR GREATEST EARNER Beef cattle, live and dead, constitute the greatest earner of foreign currency at the lowest cost to our exchequer. It is clear therefore that the maximum increase possible in cattle numbers should be achieved in the shortest possible time. To attain this, all sections, producers, marketers, advisory and policy makers, must work together in a manner that best secures mutual confidence, mutual interest and mutual determination.

GAELIC JOTTINGS

A GAME OF VITAL IMPORTANCE

Throughout the County they are still asking themselves how the All-Ireland championship was lost. The memories of that defeat still rankle bitterly, particularly when Waterford's Munster final victims subsequently came on the scene to inflict a crushing eight points defeat on the Kilkenny men.

Following the disappointment of that final it was inevitable that the selectors would grind the axe, and it is something of a new look team that travels to New Ross on Sunday to play Wexford in the Oireachtas semi-final.

No less than four of the All-Ireland final side have been given "the bullet," but it remains to be seen if the re-arranged combination can rise to the occasion and qualify for another set-to with their great southern rivals, Tipperary.

The Suir and Slaney counties invariably serve up vintage fare and with both razor keen to restore lost prestige. Sunday's game could well prove a thrilling spectacle.

For Waterford it is an occasion of paramount importance. Another defeat could have serious if not disastrous repercussions on Sunday.

Much will depend on the displays of the promoted brigade while it is to be hoped that the sideline mentors will not sit awe-stricken if changes are of vital necessity.

On home soil Wexford will be even more formidable than usual. In fact they will, if anything, be slight favourites to qualify for the decider and partially compensate for two reverses at the hands of the Deise men already this year.

But even with a rearranged side and conceding ground advantage, it is a game I believe Waterford will win. For them it is a mission of vindication, and Waterford, in such a mood, are a power above par.

That is why I expect them to return victorious from 'Ross.'

THIRD IN A ROW FOR FOURMILEWATER

For the third successive year Fourmilewater have annexed the Western junior hurling title. At Dungarvan on Sunday last they experienced little difficulty in disposing of Shamrocks in a decider that never lived up to expectations.

After the opening few minutes there was never any doubt about the result and even the winners must have been surprised at the simplicity of their task.

Having accounted so readily for all Western opposition, it can go the distance. Twice in go the entire distance. Twice in the past two years they have reached this ultimate stage only to suffer defeat. Now they are back more determined than ever and on their form to date they will make a bold bid to carry off county honours.

COUNTY FINALS AT DUNGARVAN ON SUNDAY

Football dominates the scene at the Fraher Field. Dungarvan, on Sunday next when the Juvenile and Minor county finals are down for decision.

In the under sixteen decider, Stradbally meet a strongly fancied Portlaoise selection while Abbeyside and Tramore do battle in the minor final.

The latter game is undoubtedly the bigger attraction of the two. The Villagers have always made a favourable impression in this code and there is high confidence in Sunday's side.

Throughout the Western championship they have given a series of impressive displays and are in the decider on merit alone. They have trained assiduously for the game and are determined to bring a title to the club this year.

While the side is very evenly balanced it is the individual brilliance of such as Rogie Ashin, John Coleman, Michael Power, Pat Enright and Tommy Donovan that the Villagers will look to for success. Tramore have rightly been labelled the specialists in this grade in recent years. They have farmed the title in the East for more years than the other clubs care to remember, and this year's side is reputed to be well up to former standards.

Quite obviously there is very little between the sides in ability and to me it looks like one of those games that could go either way.

JUVENILE FINAL

Having astounded the majority by emerging victorious from a hazardous Western championship, Stradbally's Juvenile footballers will endeavour to carry off the coveted county title on Sunday when they throw down the gauntlet to eastern champions Portlaoise.

When defeating Ballyduff in the divisional final, the Reds really stamped themselves as a solid, compact and formidable outfit. Led by centre-back Joe Curran, they will be suited by the vast expanses of the Dungarvan field and gallantly though Portlaoise can be expected to try, the odds appear to favour a Stradbally victory.

SWEEPING CHANGES ON FOOTBALL TEAM

The senior football selectors have laid on the broom good and heavy for the opening game against Clare in the National league at Ennis on Sunday. There are several surprise selections, and to put it mildly, it is a team that will not carry a great deal of confidence in their initial league game. Main interest, however, will be focussed on New Ross where the huriers as holders of the Oireachtas trophy will be endeavouring to qualify for another tilt with Tipperary in the final on October 20th.

The County is thirsting to return to the winning trail after that All-Ireland debacle but is with no little trepidation that followers will await the result of this game.

It was inevitable that there would be changes following the Kilkenny defeat but few could possibly have anticipated the almost clean sweep made by the selectors. Numerous personnel and positional switches are made and in fact the only line that remains unaltered is the Power-Barron-Grimes one.

Such alterations are obvious indications of dissatisfaction, but frankly I am in no way enamoured by this policy of reconstruction.

Goalkeeper Ned Power, midfielders Joe Condon and Mick Dempsey and left half-forward Frankie Walsh have all incurred the wrath of the selectors while John Meaney who replaced Dempsey in the final again finds himself back on the substitute bench. Jimmy Byrne, obviously a misfit in the corner, is now at right half with Larry Guinan vacating that spot to move to the troublesome midfield sector.

In attack the most notable feature is the selection of Tramore's John O'Brien in place of an off-form Frankie Walsh, but the writer feels, without casting any reflection on O'Brien, that Ballygunner's Vinny Connors would have been a better choice and it has come as a surprise that he has been completely ignored for this game.

The defence should, however, profit considerably by the advent of Mount Sion's Mickey Walsh to left-full back, where he teams up with old reliables Tom Cunningham and Austin at Flynn. Likewise Byrne should be more suited to the right-half position than the right-half he has been playing in. The defence should, however, profit considerably by the advent of Mount Sion's Mickey Walsh to left-full back, where he teams up with old reliables Tom Cunningham and Austin at Flynn. Likewise Byrne should be more suited to the right-half

A Difficult Task at New Ross BUT WATERFORD CAN SURVIVE

WHAT effects, if any, the All-Ireland final defeat will have on Waterford as a future hurling power may be assessed with reasonable accuracy on Sunday next, when the Decies travel to New Ross to play Wexford in the Oireachtas semi-final. It is Waterford's initial outing since their unexpected failure to Kilkenny and doubtless will be more than anxious to atone to some extent for that costly lapse.

In faraway Ennis, the County's footballers make their League debut in the 1963-64 campaign against Clare, and such is the experimental nature of the selected side that it will be something of a pleasant surprise if they do not return pointless from the Banner County.

Main interest, however, will be focussed on New Ross where the huriers as holders of the Oireachtas trophy will be endeavouring to qualify for another tilt with Tipperary in the final on October 20th.

The County is thirsting to return to the winning trail after that All-Ireland debacle but is with no little trepidation that followers will await the result of this game.

It was inevitable that there would be changes following the Kilkenny defeat but few could possibly have anticipated the almost clean sweep made by the selectors. Numerous personnel and positional switches are made and in fact the only line that remains unaltered is the Power-Barron-Grimes one.

Such alterations are obvious indications of dissatisfaction, but frankly I am in no way enamoured by this policy of reconstruction.

Goalkeeper Ned Power, midfielders Joe Condon and Mick Dempsey and left half-forward Frankie Walsh have all incurred the wrath of the selectors while John Meaney who replaced Dempsey in the final again finds himself back on the substitute bench. Jimmy Byrne, obviously a misfit in the corner, is now at right half with Larry Guinan vacating that spot to move to the troublesome midfield sector.

In attack the most notable feature is the selection of Tramore's John O'Brien in place of an off-form Frankie Walsh, but the writer feels, without casting any reflection on O'Brien, that Ballygunner's Vinny Connors would have been a better choice and it has come as a surprise that he has been completely ignored for this game.

The defence should, however, profit considerably by the advent of Mount Sion's Mickey Walsh to left-full back, where he teams up with old reliables Tom Cunningham and Austin at Flynn. Likewise Byrne should be more suited to the right-half position than the right-half he has been playing in. The defence should, however, profit considerably by the advent of Mount Sion's Mickey Walsh to left-full back, where he teams up with old reliables Tom Cunningham and Austin at Flynn. Likewise Byrne should be more suited to the right-half

FOOTBALLERS' TASK

For their away game with Clare, in the National League on Sunday next, the football selectors have caused a few minor bombshells and the team has not been well received in certain quarters.

Few can understand the dropping of goalkeeper Sean Ormonde if even at the expense of the promising Rathgormack man, Pat Crotty, while Kilrossanty's Tom Walsh and Tom Riordan can also consider themselves fortunate to find themselves in favour.

The footballers have the happy knack of upsetting the form book when least expected and while hoping for another one of those memorable displays on Sunday, I do not believe that the side chosen to do duty will be good enough to collect the points.

The Waterford team is: — P. Crotty (Rathgormack) goal; M. Kirwan (Kill), E. Mooney (St. Declan's), M. Tobin (Geraldines), T. Power (St. Declan's), M. Connolly (Valley Rovers), P. Harty (Ring), T. Walsh (Kilrossanty), M. Kennedy (Kill), P. Duggan (Kill), M. Guiry (Kill), T. Reardon (Kilrossanty), J. Hewitt (Valley Rovers), T. Harty (Ring), J. Martin (Gaultier).

Subs.—T. Kirwan (John Mitchels); M. Kirwan (do.), M. Flynn (Kill); J. Foley (Stradbally); M. Dingley (Gaultier).

AFFANE THROUGH TO WESTERN FINAL

Affane, 1-10; Ballinacourty, 1-4

Affane deservedly qualified for the Western primary football final, when at Dungarvan on Sunday last they inflicted a 1-10 to 1-4 defeat on Ballinacourty, in a game that was hrimful of incident and excitement.

But if the result was something of another upheaval of the form book, Affane proved beyond doubt that they were the better footballing side. At all times they moved and manoeuvred purposefully, and in the second-half in particular the losers were forced to concede numerous frees in an effort to save their lines.

Even when playing against the breeze in the opening half, the winners held a slight advantage. They took an early lead when Paddy Mason pointed two frees, and sixteen minutes had elapsed before John Coleman opened 'Courtly's account with a point. The same player again obliged from a free shortly after, and when he was on hand to crash home an opportunistic goal, the sides were level at 1-2 at the short whistle.

But the second-half belonged almost entirely to Affane. After mid-fielder Michael Kelly had given the losers the lead within minutes of the restart, Affane took complete control, and the unerring free-taking of Paddy Mason gave them an unassailable lead.

The winners were very well served in defence, where Sean Buckley, Paddy McGrath and John Healy starred.

Paddy Mason gave a wonderful midfield display, accounting for the majority of his sides scores, and he got good assistance from P. McGrath.

The attack was brilliantly marshalled by veteran Jimmy McGrath, while Eddie O'Shea, Flynn and Bob Troy also shone.

Ballinacourty were best served by Michael Kelly, Austin Cashion, John Coleman, Paddy Barron and Jim Hayes.

Affane: P. Butler; J. Stapleton, J. Healy, S. Buckley; D. Coughlan, P. McGrath, T. Scanlon; P. Mason, P. McGrath; N. O'Shea, J. McGrath, P. Denn; T. McCarthy, B. Flynn, B. Troy.

Ballinacourty: M. Hogan; B. Shields, T. Donovan, J. Hayes; P. Barron, T. Foley, T. Leahy; M. Kelly, A. Cashion; J. Coleman, P. Burke, L. Enright; A. Hayes, P. Beatty, P. Duggan.

New York Invitation to Capitol Showband

From Irish-American ballroom impresario, Harry McGuirk, has come an offer to the Capitol to spend a week-end playing in New York. The Capitol are the first showband to accept such an offer, the biggest yet made to a showband! The trip will take place inside the next few weeks and will involve bringing 9 men and over half a ton of instruments and equipment across the Atlantic.

It was said of McGuirk in 1958 he was "bringing coals to Newcastle" by taking Irish entertainers to New York, the home of entertainers. His policy, however, has paid off well. Of the Capitol's U.S. visit Harry McGuirk said: "I am delighted to have the Capitol, Ireland's top showband, make the trip."
