DUNGARVAN GOLF CLUB

On next Wednesday night, 18th December, the annual dress dance will be held at the Clubhouse, Ballinacorney. An energetic committee are leaving nothing undone to ensure that this dance, the main social function of the year, will be one of the most successful ever. Dancing will commence at 10 p.m. The Melody Makers (Waterford) will provide the music. Arrangements for turkey supper are in the capable hand of the ladies committee. Tickets may be obtained from any officer of the club. See advertisement in this issue.

LATE JAMES TROY GRAIGMORE, MODELIGO

We regret to record the death of the late James Troy Graigmore, Modeligo, who died on Sunday last, 8th December. Full obituary will appear in next week's issue.

ST. MARY'S ATHLETIC CLUB

The above club will hold a 2-mile cross country race, at Quinn's on Sunday morning next at 11.30 a.m. All football clubs and anyone in the district interested in winter fitness are invited to come along and take part.

BUS TO WATERFORD

On Sunday next in connection with the county senior hurling final Mount Sion v. Ballygunner, a bus will leave Dungarvan Square, leaving at 1.30 p.m. Returning immediately after match.

This Christmas, a brilliant and exciting new Concert has been arranged by the Dungarvan Musical and Choral Society, featuring its choir under the direction of Gerie Morris and its orchestra conducted by Michael Henneberry. The Society, for the first time presents this year, colourful highlights from the well-known musicals, "Oklahoma" and "The Merry Widow." The leading artists will be Mary Cronin, soprano, and the popular baritone, David McInerney who recently won high praise for his performance in "Annie Get Your Gun" at the Palace Theatre, Cork.

Guest instrumentalist will be Tom Hurley, violinist, who has memories of a well-deserved, enthusiastic reception during his last appearance in Dungarvan. Gay exciting dancing will be presented by the Mercy

Convent School Girls

Mary O'Gorman-Nagie, is once again our excellent accompanist. Booking is now open at John Casey's, Hardware, Main St. and the concert will take place on three nights, Friday, 20th Dec., Saturday, 21st and Sunday, 22nd.

SYMPATHY

At a specially convened meeting of the Abbeyside Labour Party, a vote of sympathy was passed to the wife and family of the late Mr. William Norton, T.D.

LATE JOHN HUMBLE

Wolfe Tone Road, Dungarvan

We regret to record the death of John Humble, which occurred at the District Hospital, Dungarvan, on Wednesday December 4th, after a duration of protracted illness. The deceased was a very well known and popular member of a very old Abbeyside family. He had spent most of his life at sea prior to his retirement, and then he joined his brother Patrick at the building and repairing trade.

We wish to extend our deepest sympathy to his brother, sisters and relatives of this sad occasion. May his gentle soul rest in peace.

The removal of remains took place on Wednesday evening to Abbeyside Church, followed by a large cortege, and were blessed and received by Very Rev. Fr. J. Roche, P.P. Requiem Masses were celebrated on Thursday and Friday mornings for the eternal repose of his soul, and the interment took place later on Friday in the adjoining cemetery. Very Rev. Fr. J. Roche, P.P., officiated and gave the final absolution at the graveside. There was a very large concourse present.

Large sheaves of Mass cards were received by his relatives. The chief mourners were: Patrick Humble, Wolfe Tone Road, Dungarvan (brother); Mrs. Moore, Tipperary; Miss Josephine Humble, Abbeyside; Miss Catherine Humble, do. (sisters). (Funeral arrangements by J. Kiely and sons, Dungarvan.)

Manager Criticises N.F.A.

COUNTY MANAGER MR. S. J. MOYNIHAN at a meeting of the County Council in Dungarvan on Monday last hit out strongly against the County Waterford Branch of the N.F.A., who recently passed unanimously a resolution that was highly critical of the Council's decision to take over Tramore Enterprises.

In a lengthy statement read at Monday's meeting, Mr. Moynihan said:—
"With reference to the resolution passed unanimously by the County Waterford Branch of the National Farmers' Association that it was 'highly critical of the County Council's decision to participate in a local development scheme at Tramore.' It is indeed to be greatly regretted that the N.F.A. in the Co. Waterford should express such views as conveyed in the memorandum submitted to the County Council. Let us hope that these are not the views generally of the N.F.A. as an organisation: after all the word 'National' is the nation as a whole."
"Now let us examine the facts. Bord Failte is to spend an immediate outlay of £69,000 in the coming year and in addition to this hands over to the Co. Council the assets of Tramore Enterprises. The Balance Sheet assets of which are placed at £41,000, but the market value of such assets are very considerably in excess of this sum and their potential value cannot be increased enormously to put it very conservatively. The operating surplus of Tramore Enterprises in 1962, run on what must be regarded as with the utmost conservatism, and rather on a shoe-string budget was £3,000. The increase of income from the development at present contemplated would bring, it is conservatively estimated, an increased income of £6,000 per annum (contributing The Hydro £1,000, Caravan Sites £1,000, Rents £4,000) making an income of £9,000 per annum in a short time. This is a good return from the County Council's investment of £25,000. In addition, development will lead to new buildings being erected and this will, of course, lead to further increased income from rates. Also it must be clearly understood that these charges on the £25,000 will mean no increase in the rates. I want to make it clear that the County Council is not committing itself to a further expenditure than its initial outlay of £25,000 to be obtained by way of a 30-year loan and I do not anticipate that the County Council will again be asked to contribute as it seems to me to be perfectly clear that subsequent schemes will be financed by the N.F.A. and in time will become a great asset to the prosperity of the County and all its population including the farming community, as tourism properly developed, benefits more than any other industry, all the people of a large area around."

Furthermore, the County Council, I am to emphasise, is not committed to any further contribution even if such were necessary and I think that should satisfy even the most gloomy and pessimistic. The Co. Manager then went on to say that the agricultural grant given to Co. Waterford for the current year is £250,000, mentioned that the amount of income tax paid by the people of Tramore would far exceed that paid by the County agricultural community. Tramore, he said, contributes very substantially towards these Government grants and Tramore also pays £31,000 in rates this current season. Only by self-help, he concludes, can the county achieve the programme of economic expansion.

Colr. D. F. Madden said he wished to congratulate the Manager on his excellent statement and he would like if the local papers would publish it. The Chairman (Colr. Charles Curran) said he was not being critical of the NFA but when a water scheme costing £10,000 was passed for a little village in the county there was no mention of that by them. And that was not economical.

Colr. Milo Galgey said as one of the eight members that started the N.F.A. he believed their view was a very narrow-minded one and a rotten attitude for them to take. They (N.F.A.) were trying to down tourism. Who would benefit by this, he said, every individual in this country was an asset.

Colr. W. Foran said the statement was a very severe attack on the farmers of the county. It was not fair to attack one section of the community that had no weapon to defend themselves with except their own opinions at their own meetings.

People would stand and listen to them and give them greater consideration if they could use the weapon of strike, he said. But they cannot, use that very severe weapon and only when they can, will they have a say in this country.

The Chairman said he did not interpret the statement as an attack on the N.F.A.

Colr. P. Cahill—I would like to congratulate the Manager on his statement.

Colr. J. Quirke said Colr. Foran was entitled to make his protest too. They had strikes every day but the farmer could not do that. The Manager in his statement spoke of the Agricultural grant that was available but why were they getting it? Because every other country was getting it and they had to compete with them. He could not see why they couldn't listen to a protest by the farmers when they listened to everyone else. He knew the people were not very satisfied with the Council's decision about Tramore.

Colr. Curran said he was satisfied that decision would help the ratepayers of the county in time to come.

Colr. Quirke—This is, the only County Council in Ireland that has taken on such a project.

Colr. Galgey—Why didn't the farmers start the beet? They said it would be a faisco but was it?

Colr. Foran—The farmers did not say that.

Colr. Richard Walsh said he was a founder member of the N.F.A. and he voted for the project and was proud of his decision. He was very disappointed with the N.F.A. criticism and it was ill advised.

They had all the facts about the Tramore project before them and he thought it was a good day's work to take it over. They got £100,000 property for nothing and if the foreigner came in and took it over they would have criticism of another nature. He thought it was in good hands in Waterford County Council. It was better than having the foreigners coming in and only taking money from the pockets of the farmers.

Colr. W. Dower—I do not think it was such a good thing. If it was it would not have been left to the County Council.

Colr. Madden—I was speaking to members of Waterford Corporation and they were delighted to take it over. Deputy Kyne said he congratulated Bord Failte for giving them the opportunity of taking it over for four times less than its value. Should it be a success and he believed it would, it would go towards reducing rates and increasing the spending in the County and increasing the consumption of agricultural products. He believed the N.F.A. were misguided in their resolution but passed it in good faith. He felt they should be proud of their action and proud that Bord Failte gave them the opportunity.

N.F.A. Criticise Tramore Development Plan

At a recent meeting of the County Waterford Executive of the N.F.A., the question of the County Council's agreement with Bord Failte Eireann to devote £25,000 to a fund for the development of Tramore, was heavily criticised by delegates from all parts of the county.

It was generally maintained that the farming community would see no benefit from involvement of the Co. Council in a scheme that was purely a local one and that the Council was exceeding its proper duties in entering into tourist development of this nature. It was further added that if the undertaking was so attractive Bord Failte's grant would have been readily availed of by other business interests already active in the tourist industry. The fear was expressed that this decision on the part of the Council could add yet a further burden on the county ratepayers, while if this volume of money had to be spent there were many other projects which would show a much greater financial and social return to the people of the county.

In conclusion, the following resolution was passed unanimously: "That Waterford County Council's Association is highly critical of the County Council's decision to participate in a local development scheme at Tramore."

By Public Auction 4-ROOMED THATCHED RESIDENCE at Garranbane, Dungarvan I have instructions from the owner to sell by Public Auction at Haye's Licensed Premises, Garranbane, Dungarvan, at 3.30 p.m., on Tuesday, the 17th day of December 1963, his interest in the above residence which is described as follows: LOT 1—The house is a 4-roomed, thatched structure and is situated beside the road at Garranbane, within 180 yards of Garranbane Church, about 200 yards from Garranbane School, about 3 miles from the town of Dungarvan and within 2 1/2 miles of Clonsilla Strand. There is a good range of outbuildings which include nice Hayshed 40 x 10 1/2 ft., a large workshop 32 x 14 ft., Garage, Cowhouse for 6 cows; Fowlhouse, pigery, waterhouse and several other well kept sheds. There is a small orchard at the rear. The building stands on 2 roods and 26 perches of land. With a small outlay this could be made a really beautiful residence and its convenience should make it a very attractive proposition.

The lands are described in Folio 5840 of the County Waterford, P.L.V. Lands, 7 1/2 Yearly Buildings, £1-0-0 Yearly, I.L.C. Annuity. Four Shillings and tenpence Yearly. LOT 2—Lands of Garranbane, Folio 5340, containing 3 Acs. 1 rood, 20 pns. R.V., £2-5-0. Annuity, 19/4. Will be sold in one or more Lots. The Auctioneer recommends this as a good investment. LIAM F. YOUGHAL NOTES CAPPOQUIN NOTES

HIGHWATER WEEK ENDING 21st DEC. Table with columns for Morning and Evening, and rows for Sunday through Saturday with times.

PRESENTATION TO YOUGHAL LADY. In the final of the Miss Holiday, 1963 competition recently at Mitchelstown when Miss Fina O'Brien representing Co. Clare was adjudicated the winner, a Youghal lady Miss Ann Russell of North Abbey, Youghal, was the runner-up and presented with a prize donated by Faber Castell of Fermoy.

WRONG DIRECTION ROAD SIGN

On a foggy night recently a motorist had a narrow escape from what might have been a serious accident when he followed a road sign on the Youghal side of the new bridge, and which had been pointing towards the sea shore. However, he pulled up at the edge of the sea wall just in the nick of time. It is understood that parking on the new bridge is prohibited by bye-law and rightly so, during the summer months especially on Sundays, motorists have parked there for a considerable length of time, impeding the free passage of traffic.

CHRISTMAS AT YOUGHAL

On Saturday last Santa paid his first official visit to Youghal and attracted much attention especially amongst the children. With the ringing of sleigh bells he arrived by motor sleigh via the Now Road and in no time was followed by hundreds of excited children, who travelled with him through the principal streets of the town. On Monday night the town was a blaze with multi-coloured lights and fancy lanterns of which there are 140 supplied by the Youghal Traders Association to its members and manufactured by Youghal Shoes.

ACCIDENT

On Monday afternoon, Miss Nora Coleman, of 87, North Main Street, Youghal, while cycling at Knockaverry, was involved in a collision with a heavy lorry with trailer attached. Spiritual aid was rendered by Rev. D. Gould, C.C., and Dr. John Gowen had her removed to the Youghal College Hospital suffering from shock and minor injuries where she is said to be comfortable and not seriously injured. GREYHOUND SALE. Mr. Bill Kennedy of Ballygrunna, a well known figure in coursing and track circles has sold his promising young greyhound Hounie which ran prominently at Cork Track for the sum of £800. The purchase was made by a Mr. B. McEgan of Cork for a cross-channel client. The Kennedy family are well known as breeders of good strain greyhounds for many years.

Lucky Prizewinners

Congratulations to popular Nurse Mary Moynihan, Cappoquin, on her recent win of £250 in the R.T.B. Pools. Nurse Moynihan is on the staff of Dungarvan District Hospital. Nell Daly, Marbury Place, Abbeystee, was the lucky winner of £90, in the Bingo sessions in Waterford on Tuesday night.

County Waterford Committee of Agriculture

PREMIUMS TO BULLS 1964

The above Committee invite applications from farmers in the county who are prepared to purchase Premium Bulls under the conditions of the Cattle-Breeding Scheme for 1964. Applications will only be accepted from persons who are the owners of Attested Herds or who are satisfactorily carrying out the requirements of the Bovine Tuberculosis Eradication Scheme.

Each applicant must deposit with his application the sum of £4, such deposit to be refunded in the event of the applicant not being selected by the Committee or that he is selected and has purchased a premium bull.

The annual premium paid in respect of Aberdeen Angus and Hereford bulls is £18. The annual premium paid in respect of Dairy Shorthorn and Friesian bulls varies from £20 to £50 according to the milk yield record.

Application forms and particulars of the Scheme may be had from the Committee of Agriculture, Courthouse, Dungarvan, with whom completed application forms and deposits must be lodged by the 15th January, 1964.

P. CONROY, Chief Agricultural Officer, Courthouse, Dungarvan, 11th December, 1963.

DUNGARVAN AND KILMATHOMAS

LATE MRS. CULLINANE. The death of Miss Hannah J. Lawless, Shanbally, took place at her home on Friday, 12th inst. The deceased lady was one of the town's most popular residents and the news of her death was received with feelings of great sorrow. A lady of great intellectual powers, she had a successful career as a teacher, and for over forty years taught in Newtown School, Ballymacbriv. There she was held in much esteem and was appreciated for the willing help given by her to the school and other of her retirement some twelve years ago, she was the recipient of a presentation from the parishoners as a mark of their gratitude and affection.

DEATH OF MISS H. J. LAWLESS, Ex-N.T.

The immediate relatives include: Mrs. E. Bramor, Farnham; Misses Pat and Vivian Bramor (grand-nieces); Mrs. J. Lewers (sister-in-law); O'Keefe family, Cappoquin; O'Keefe family, Westford; Rawlins family, Mount Melera; and John O'Brien, Ballymacbriv. (Funeral arrangements by A. Walsh and Sons, Cappoquin.)

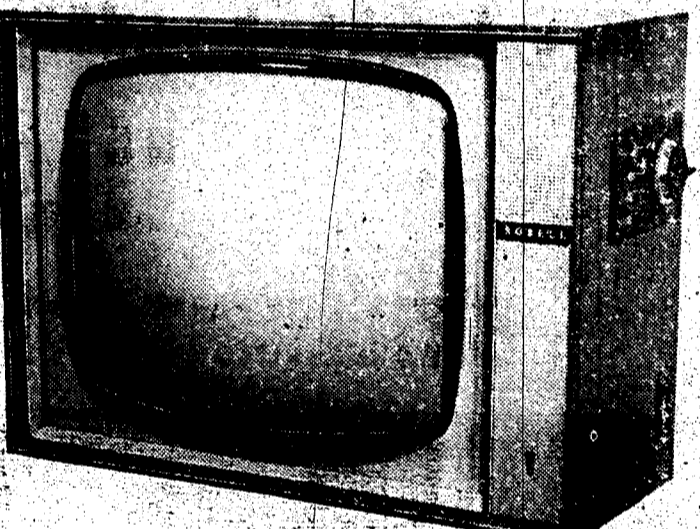

TENNIS CLUB

The "off" season has been quite a busy period, a busy period for the members of the Tennis Club, who are actively preparing for the coming summer. At very heavy cost a hard court has been laid down. This involved much trunking in order to ensure a firm foundation. With the exception of some minor work this court has been completed. In addition two grass courts have been laid and the necessary seeding has been done.

The Committee has planned the erection of a pavilion which will be done when the club's finances permit. Will those interested in the provision of this welcome addition to the amenities of the town patronise the dance in aid of the Club on next Sunday night, when Paddy Bennet, Jamerick and his all-star Show Band will provide the music.

INTRIGUING JUNIOR DECIDER ON SUNDAY

Football dominates the scene again at Dungarvan on Sunday next, when Tramore and Valley Rovers meet in the County junior final. This is a game that is arousing remarkable interest, as both finalists were regarded as near certainties from an early stage to meet in the decider.

To-date Tramore are undoubtedly the team of the championship. Many regard them as well fit for senior ranks and there will be many disappointed souls in the seaside town on Sunday night should they fail to capture the title.

The team is built around their brilliant minors of the past few years including Senan and Bernie Power while former Dungarvan senior player John Meehan is operating successfully for them in attack. And what of the Valleys? During the past half decade they have built up an enviable reputation for themselves in the West and in the Division are regarded as the greatest championship battlers of them all. But somehow they never reproduce earlier form in the most important game of all and three times they have met with defeat in a county final.

What then is their fate likely to be on Sunday. They have prepared diligently for the occasion and now that their sister club Fourmilewater has taken the hurling crown, the incentive to complete the big double is all the greater.

Backboned by the fabulous footballing Hewitts, Mick Connolly, Kieran Ryan, Billy Acheson, Noel Wall and veterans Oliver Nugent and Johnny Walsh they are abundantly equipped with star material. At the time of writing there is some doubt about Kieran Ryan who received a hand injury in the hurling final last Sunday but he hopes to be able to field in his second final on successive Sundays.

With two such outstanding teams in opposition it promises to be a great decider. Form, if anything, favours Tramore, but if the Valleys play their own hard-hitting game they could well continue the West's winning sequence.

AFFANE VICTORY SONG

Air: "Roddy McCouley"

It was on a fine December day the sun shone brightly down We made our way without delay, to old Dungarvan town To play Fenor was our task and a hard one too—

But nothing daunted our brave boys who wore the gold and blue. The game was on, the ball thrown in and we were in the fray

And each man played a heroes part to win for us the day With might and main they played the game like Irish sportsmen true To win the County Final for Affane in gold and blue.

Jim McGrath's our captain and he played a captain's part To train his men and lead them on, our welfare in his heart.

A veteran bold, though not so old, he taught us all he knew Of football lore, from days of yore, in famous old Slabh gCua.

Buckley, Healy, McGrath, Flynn and Stapleton did not fail And Butler too between the posts, our man sa bearna baoghail

And young Pat Denn went in to win, a mere sixteen year old But he always plays a man's part when he wears the blue and gold.

McGrath and Mason played midfield, they ran like hares to score And fed our wily forwards when they asked for more McCarthy, Shea, Dan Coughlan, Bob Troy and Scanlon too

When things looked bad, they won the day for Affane in gold and blue. And we had boys to call on if needed in the game Scanlon, Burns and Stapleton and Cahill of hurling fame.

We only wish we could field them all—those lads so tried and true Who proved their worth when called upon to wear the gold and blue.

A medal too, will go across the ocean wide To Father Mike, our sagart og, who is our joy and pride At Cappoquin and Lismore too, he helped us win the day God bless his work and spare him long on the Missions far away.

O'Connor trained us all with skill acquired on many a field He played with Cork in far New York and taught us not to yield Though laden down with hurling crowns and football honours too

He proudly coached the boys from home who wore the gold and blue. Now some came to cheer and shout and some to criticise While others came to count the players and give us good advice!

The ladies came—oh bless them all—supporters young and old Who always stood behind the gold. When we are old and feeble men, we will look back with pride

On youthful days—those happy days when we stood side by side And played the game together, then we'll talk of days of old When we won the County Final for Affane in blue and gold.

VICTORY AT LAST

Air: "Sean Sabhat from Garryvowen"

It was a cold December day as the teams marched on the field Kill were county champions, to the Brickeys they would not yield

The crowd had come from far and near, this epic game to see The flag waved high to a winter sky as the clock it chimed off three.

The game it started lively with the Brickeys to the fore They pressed fullback and goalie but couldn't get a score

Then the ball it came to Justin Spratt, and he was fouled you see And big Mick Farrell sent o'er the bar.

When the ref. he gave a free. Now when the half-time whistle blew, the Brickeys had the lead

Now Andy Hallissey and his men they can and must succeed Patsy Donnelly's in the back-line with Ferncombe and Nicolas

And their scourging everything that comes, as they say for the cause. Now the game was drawing to a close and the crowd were on their feet

Kill were pressing very hard as before them they saw defeat They got a goal, excitement ran, but 'twas only for a while

Those lion-hearted Brickey men fought back in dashing style. The game was o'er and the cup was won

Safe at Twomilebridge at last Stephen Hickey cried, Mick Gee had sighed, as they pondered on the past

For years they tried to win the crown and it came in '63 in '65. Fifteen gallant black and amber men will go down in history.

Magnificent Fourmilewater

Deserving Junior Champions

FOURMILEWATER 3-7; DE LA SALLE 4-3

FOURMILEWATER carved out one of the greatest victories in their history when taking the county Junior Hurling title at Walsh Park, Waterford, on Sunday last. At the end of a thrill-packed hour they had only a point to spare over De La Salle but the manner in which victory was achieved makes praiseworthy adjectives inadequate to do them justice.

This was the Ballymac side's third successive appearance in the decider, with defeat having been their bitter portion on the past two occasions. Against the Barron-led De La Salle they were again meted out the role of underdogs, and outside their own domain they were given little chance of making it third time lucky. But in their hour of undentable glory they raised their hurling to a new pinnacle and won a game that will be recalled for many a long day.

When the game reached the zenith of its splendour in the second half, it became one of the most intensely fought and exciting finals witnessed at the venue this year. The hurling was top-class; the exchanges tough and uncompromising but without rancour, while the closing stages truly beggar accurate description so packed were they with thrilling incidents.

As already stated it was Fourmilewater at their brilliant best. They had to overcome the difficulties of an atrociously poor start and that they succeeded will forever hold to their credit.

In fact their inability to get to grips with the city men early on seemed to indicate a one-sided exhibition. Showing a definite shakiness in defence, remacy. They literally took the bit between their teeth, hounded the opposition back on desperate defence and proceeded to notch up the decisive scores in the most convincing fashion.

Goals were the earlier weaknesses in the goal-keeping and defensive berths: Mick Connolly and Kieran Ryan ramged supremely at midfield and the forwards thrived on the excellent service they were being given by the men behind. Confined as they were to their own territory, De La Salle were unable to penetrate for scores and their only contribution to the scoresheet in that half was a solitary point from a free. That surely reflects the trend of the game during that final thirty minutes.

So confidently were the winners hurling after the change of ends that once they had wiped out their arrears it was only a matter of time before they edged in front. And having accomplished that they remained firm and unyielding when the lagers mounted belated sorties up field in an attempt to save the day.

STAR QUARTET If every man gave of his best in this great win, it is imperative I think, to pick the quartet of Thomas Walsh, Kieran Ryan, Mick Connolly and Martin Walsh for special mention.

Centre back Thomas Walsh lorded it over a variety of opponents to give what can only be described as a classical defensive display. Then there were midfielders Connolly and Ryan who outplayed all and sundry in the second half, vindicating the belief stressed in our preview to the game repeatedly cleared their lines and with Healey formed a tremendous full line. Outside them Tom Scanlon, Paddy McGrath and Danny Coughlan played so well that it would be untruthful to mention any one of the trio in particular.

Midfielders Paddy McGrath and Paddy Mason seemed to possess endless stamina and did trajan work throughout. It is true that the forwards have had more rewarding days but never has the sextet put so much into any one hour.

Jimmy McGrath—what a wonderful campaigner he is—was dashing far on the forty, and was ably flanked by Pat Denn and Eddis Shea. The inside forwards also gave of their best, and Bob Troy, Bill Flynn and Tom McCarthy figure high on the chart of honour.

Having lavished justifiable praise on the winners, one cannot overlook Fenor who fought doggedly to the bitter end. In spasms they moved well enough for one to form the opinion that they would take the title, but in the end they were forced to give way to superior forces. Their outstanding players were J. McGrath, Ti Allen, P. Delaney, J. Kirwan and M. Mernin.

But though the easterners lost no caste in defeat, this was Affane's day. For them victory meant the making of history, and if ever a team merited highest honours it was these heroic Affaners.

Affane Make Football History BRILLIANT IN PRIMARY FINAL

AFFANE, hitherto accepted as one of the unglamorous clubs in the County, majestically hit the football forefront at Dungarvan on Sunday last when winning the County Primary football final in the manner of real champions. It was a decider packed with thrilling incidents and was productive of a standard of play that did credit to both finalists.

It was a closely fought game of swaying fortunes in which Affane rose to splendid heights to take their rightful place amongst the elite of the county. It was a final not easily won, in fact victory had to be achieved the hard way, but in doing so the gallantry of these dedicated blue and gold standard-bearers was never before seen to such telling effect.

They were faced by adversity at an early stage and with less than quarter of the game gone were a goal in arrears. It was Fenor who were setting the pace at this stage and one could be forgiven for thinking that the lack of big match temperament might weigh heavily against the western champions.

DISALLOWED GOAL But with prospects looking anything but rosy the Affane men began to reave their impact on the trend of the exchanges. Overcoming that early hesitancy the entire side almost simultaneously began to reveal their undoubted skill and potential. They slowly overhauled the pacemakers, and thanks to admirable opposition they turned over Fenor 1-2 to 1-1. During the half Fenor had a goal rightly disallowed, as their captain followed a square infringement.

After the game the factors understandably made much capital out of that incident, but the writer feels it compelling to stress that it would have been a gross miscarriage of justice to Affane, had the score been allowed, and further it is my belief that even had the score been allowed to stand, the westerners would still have carried the day.

But with so little between the sides in ability, the halfway range was highly premature in attempting to forecast how the game was likely to go. Fenor were every bit as good as their impressive record suggested, and it was apparent that it would take a maximum Affane effort to thwart them.

That however, it what the McGrath-led brigade exactly did. After Fenor equalised within minutes of the restart they turned on the heat in relentless fashion, and urged on by their frenzied hosting of followers, peppered the eastern citadel. Under this barrage it was inevitable that the Fenor defence would crumble and a brilliantly taken goal and point gave Affane a lead they never relinquished.

But if the losers failed to raise a further flag they brought out the best in an Affane defence that has seldom displayed such all-round magnificence. Indeed, while every man on the team played his part it is to the men in the rear that I hand greatest praise. They stuck manfully to the task on hand and never picked even in moments of crisis.

WONDERFUL YEAR It has been a wonderful year for this Affane team. They have gone from strength to strength with every outing and in '65's most vital game of all they sealed the heights of greatness. They are truly the proudest of champions.

And what of the stars that made this historic victory a complete reality. Between the posts veteran Piery Butler did everything asked of him in efficient manner.

Full back John Healy turned in yet another of those superlative displays that are quick to become part and parcel of this fine play. Beside him Sean Buckley and Tom Stapleton repeatedly cleared their lines and with Healey formed a tremendous full line. Outside them Tom Scanlon, Paddy McGrath and Danny Coughlan played so well that it would be untruthful to mention any one of the trio in particular.

Midfielders Paddy McGrath and Paddy Mason seemed to possess endless stamina and did trajan work throughout. It is true that the forwards have had more rewarding days but never has the sextet put so much into any one hour.

Jimmy McGrath—what a wonderful campaigner he is—was dashing far on the forty, and was ably flanked by Pat Denn and Eddis Shea. The inside forwards also gave of their best, and Bob Troy, Bill Flynn and Tom McCarthy figure high on the chart of honour.

WATERFORD NOTES WEST

DEATH OF MR. W. CONNERY KINSALEBEG

The death occurred recently of Mr. William Connery, Glinane, Kinsalebeg. A popular and respected member of the agricultural community, deceased was of a quiet and retiring disposition and his unexpected death at an early age has occasioned deep regret and much sympathy is extended to his bereaved brothers and sisters.

The remains were removed to Piltown Church and the accompanying cortege was of large and representative proportions and included mourners and sympathisers from different parts of west Waterford and east Cork. Following the celebration of Requiem Masses for the eternal repose of his soul, the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery. Rev. Fr. M. J. Russell, C.C., officiated at the graveside.

The chief mourners were: Robert, Edmund and James Connery (brothers); Mrs. H. Bevan, Kathleen Connery, Mrs. P. Curran (sisters).

DAMAGE BY DEER

A new problem has occurred for the farmers of Ardsallagh area of the parish of Clashmore. For some time past, herds of deer have been damaging crops and grasslands.

One of the farmers concerned stated: "This year the deer destroyed most of our root crops and also knocked down fences. We cannot continue in farming unless something is done about the matter soon."

CLASHMORE WOMAN BEREAVED

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Mary Troy, Graigue more, Modeligo, on the recent death of her husband, Mrs. Troy (nee Cunningham) is a native of Clashmore and is very popular there.

Letters to the Editor

Reading your write-up on last Sunday's county final, Brickey Rangers and Kill, you state it would be a cruel blow if Patsy Donnelly didn't get a senior medal after all those years. Quite true also in the case of Nicholas McGrath and last year in the case of Tom McGrath of Kill.

But I can say without fear of contradiction those three great players would have retired in a blaze of glory with or without winning county medals. It wouldn't worry them.

Great men in Waterford football have retired without ever receiving county senior medals. Take the case of Martin Coffey, thirteen years played senior inter-county football; James Power of Newtown eight years in the goal for Waterford; Michael Hayes of Butlerstown—hurling how many years? Yes, I could go on, but those three in particular never won county senior medals. Am I wrong? Someone contradict me if I am. No, Sir. All these boys who have their hurling and football medals—they are only secondary in consideration. Yours faithfully,

WILLIAM LENIHAN,
New town,
Kilmacthomas.

Clashmór,
Eochail.
A Chara,
With regard to my recent comments on Irish Language Policy, I regret if, inadvertently, I have caused any offence to Mr. J. Cullen, N.T., or to any member of his family.

I am well aware that the members of the Cullen family have given unselfish service to the Irish Language and to the national movement generally.

In mise,
CATHAL O CURRAIN.

TALLOW NOTES

DEATH OF MR. JOHN MORRISON

We regret to record the death of Mr. John Morrison, Curraglass, Tallow, which sad event occurred unexpectedly at his home last week. Though advanced in years, the late Mr. Morrison was about his usual duties up to the time of his death. A member of a widely known and highly esteemed family, he was father of Mrs. J. Foley, Killenagh, Knockanore, Mr. J. Morrison, Ballyneague, Killeagh and Mr. M. Morrison, England, to whom we extend our deepest sympathy.

The remains were removed to the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Tallow and the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery. There was a representative cortege, both at the removal of the remains and at the interment.

SYMPATHY

Sympathy is extended to Mr. Daniel Sexton, Boola, Glendine on the death of his brother, Mr. Denis Sexton, Ballyvassig, Youghal, whose regretted death took place last week, at an early age. The late Mr. Sexton was a noted bowl player. He was son of Mr. W. Sexton, Ballyvassig and brother of Messrs. John, Con and Dan Sexton and of Mrs. J. Joyce and Mrs. M. Joyce.

The funeral took place on Saturday from St. Mary's Church to the North Abbey

P.T.T.A. CONCERT

On Sunday night next, 15th December, the Fournmilewater Pioneer branch will hold a grand concert at the Parochial Hall, Ballymacarbry. Following a pioneer sermon, delivered by Rev. Fr. O'Keane, Cork, the audience will be treated with a performance by a troupe of artists of radio and television fame. These will include: P. J. Moore, Peter O'Neill, Michael Williams, Michael O'Mahon, Sarah Sheehan and Matty Relihan.

45 DRIVE WINNERS

At the Fianna Fall (Touraneena Cumann) 45 drive, held at Wisl's Hill, Touraneena, on Sunday night, the prize-money was divided between the winners in the semi-final. They were: Paddy Cliffe and John Joe Wall, Bleanitis; and Maurice Dalton, Killeoneey and Johnny Walsh, Skeheens. Each received £1.

C.D. AT ARDMORE

A very successful meeting was held at Ardmore for the purpose of promoting Civil Defence in the district. The attendance included Commdt. Barry O'Brien, Mr. T. O'Donoghue, B.E., and Mr. J. A. Dowling, Secretary Co. Council.

About thirty new recruits were enlisted and this augers well for the success of the local unit, who are in charge of Mr. J. Cullen, N.T.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

WEDDING BELLS

The wedding took place recently at Killeagh Parish Church, of Mr. John O'Callaghan, Rathormac and Riverdale New York and Miss Cecilia Moore, Ballyneague Park, Youghal. The wedding, with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing, was performed by Very Rev. Canon Casey, P.P., Killeagh.

TALLOW FOOT BEAGLES CLUB

Tallow Foot Beagle Club are enjoying excellent sport this season. Hares are plentiful and the club have a very large following. Highlight of the season will be the combined meet of Cork clubs with the local club early in 1964.

THE FINE WEATHER

The fine weather of the past week proved a boon to beet growers, as owing to November's heavy rains, fields were in a waterlogged condition, which made it very difficult for farmers to get the beet out of the fields. Most of the crop in this area has now been harvested. Yields are well up to average.

● MOUNT SION TO REGAIN SENIOR CROWN

It has now also become accepted that the county senior hurling final will be an all-city affair and in keeping with the general trend Mount Sion and Ballygunner will do battle for the coveted crown at Walsh Park on Sunday next. Sion have farmed this title over the years and their defeat after a replay in last year's final was their first championship reverse in nine years.

Now they are on the victory trail again and are bent on regaining a trophy that has graced a Monastery scoreboard on so many occasions. Their team is littered with star names, and they must be regarded as odd-on favourites to come out on top.

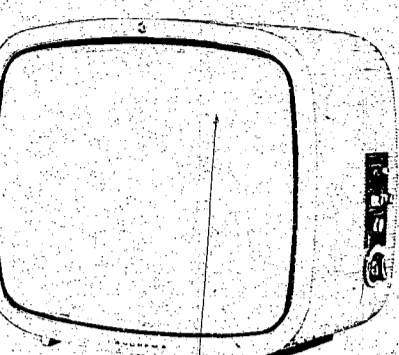

For the youthful Gunners this is their first appearance in a senior final. This year they have really hit the forefront and will be in no way overawed by Sion's personnel or reputation. They also have their quota of top-class hurlers notably Vinny Connors, Paudie Casey, Tommy Hearne, Tony Cummins, John Warren and Billy Howlett. Enthusiasm is running high amongst the players and they believe there is every chance of a surprise.

The Gunners are undoubtedly a team to watch in the future but it is doubtful if they can take the title at the first attempt. They will feel sure acquire themselves well, but that apart it must be Mount Sion for another crown.

FOURMILEWATER AND AUGHAVALLIMANE OPEN COURSEING CLUB

The above club will meet at Foley's Cross, on Sunday next, 15th inst., at 1.30 p.m. Owners of greyhounds entered for the "Slater Cup" are reminded to be on time, as it is intended to complete first round on Sunday. No excuse will be entertained for late or non-arrival.

Making ends meet

The Angler Fish, in spite of its huge well-armed head and ferocious expression is a flabby creature, lacking muscle and the speed to catch other fish. When it wants to eat it has to go fishing with a rod and bait. The rod is a long filament extending from its head and terminating in a glowing globe of tempting fish rather like a small electric light bulb. The "Angler" then proceeds to muddy the water by stirring up the bottom with its fins. When the fish gathers around to investigate the glowing bait it opens and closes its huge jaws swallowing anything within reach, which might be a number of herrings, a tin can or even a small anchor.

KILMACTHOMAS NOTES

Pleasant to Publish that the 30th centenary of the building of the Kilmacshomraigh Building Fund... The final rounds were held at the Rainsow Hall, Kilmacthomas, on Sunday night last.

All Prosperity and Happiness to Mr. Nicholas Power of the Cove Village of Strabally, and Mrs. Teresa O'Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Sullivan, Bucks-town, Mullinavat, South Kilkenny. The marriage of the much-esteemed couple was celebrated in the Parish Church, Mullinavat, on a recent date by Very Rev. D. Hughes, D.D., P.P. dist. The bride, who looked charming, had in attendance as bridesmaid her intimate friend, Miss Mary Ryan, Congress, Mullinavat. Mr. Edward O'Sullivan, brother of the bride, functioned as best man. The wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride's parents—where the newly-wedded pair, on leaving for their honeymoon were given a warm send-off by the guests in attendance.

Restored.—The Feast of the Epiphany, Jan. 6th, which ceased to be a Holiday of Obligation in Ireland in 1958, has been restored to its former status, and the Feast of the Circumcision, Jan. 1st, has been re-introduced. It is a lesser role in the calendar of the Mother Church. Catholics will, therefore, be bound to attend Mass on Jan. 6th, but need not do so on New Year's Day.

Attached to the teaching staff of a college in Frankfurt, Germany, is Tipperary-born Mr. Colin Lynch, who taught in Currahaha N.S. (Boys), Kilmacthomas, for some time, and later in a cross-Channel academy before taking up his present appointment. He is returning to Ireland to spend his Yuletide holiday break visiting relatives and friends in the home land. A spouse and parent, his estimable wife is a daughter of Mrs. Mary Cashin, Western Ter., Kilmacthomas, and the late Mr. Francis Cashin, do.

Winter Ploughing.—A popular personality with a keen sense of humour is Mr. Michael Walsh, farmer, Kilmoylan, Kilmacthomas. Five good sized fields of whose fine holding have just been returned by a tractor drawn plough.

HAPPENINGS LOCAL

NEW C.E.O. Mr. John Rush, New Inn, Co. Galway, has been appointed the new C.E.O. to the Waterford Vocational Education Committee. The appointment was announced by the Acting C.E.O., Mr. T. Maher, at last Tuesday's meeting.

FIRE FUND OPENED

A Committee has been formed to raise subscriptions to help the building of a new house for John Hart, Ballinacourty, Ring, whose thatched house and furniture were completely destroyed in a sudden fire last week. No one was injured in the blaze, but nothing was salvaged from the ruined farmhouse.

Subscriptions may be sent to any of the following: Very Rev. Fr. J. O'Donnell, P.P., Ring; Rev. V. de Poo, C.C. (Chairman, Relief Committee); Mr. James Foley, Manager, Dungarvan Co-op.; Luke Brennan, Manager, Old Parish Creamery; James Prendergast, Grange Creamery; Michael O'Donnell; Uachtarán, Colaiste na Rinne; Michael Hart, M.C.C.; Ring; or to any of the following Collectors—Thos. J. Hart, Gortnadhia, Ring; Thos. Kiely, Gortnadhia; Ronnie Curran, Ballinacourty, Ring; James Barron, do. (Sec. Relief Committee); Paddy Joe Curran, Ballinacourty, Ring; James Walsh, P.O., Ring; Thos. Curran, Old Parish; Thos. Hart, Ballinacourty, Ring; or to the Creamery Manager of your district.

Cumann Luth Gleas Gaedhéal (Craobh Beile na Cuoirte) BALLINACOURTY FOOTBALL CLUB will hold their ANNUAL SOCIAL

in CLONEA TUESDAY NIGHT, DEC. 17 at 8 p.m. (sharp). Tickets are available from any member of the Committee. SUBSCRIPTION—12/6 (14-12)

Lismore Notes

DEATH OF MISS K. BYRNE

It is with deep and sincere regret we record the death of Miss Kathleen Byrne, Fern Villa, Lismore, which sad event occurred at her residence on Tuesday evening of last week 3rd December. The deceased lady who was a member of a highly respected family, was possessed of a very quiet and cheerful manner, which made her countless friends everywhere. She will be sadly missed by all, but more especially by her sorrowing relatives, to whom we tender our deepest sympathy.

The remains were removed to St. Carthage's Church on Wednesday evening, and were received and blessed by Rev. Fr. D. Byrne, C.C., Dungarven (brother of the deceased), assisted by Very Rev. Canon Dunphy, P.P., V.E. Lismore, Rev. Fr. Quigley, C.C., and Rev. Fr. Slattery, C.C., Lismore. Solemn Office and High Mass was celebrated in St. Carthage's Church, on Thursday morning for the happy repose of her soul, and the burial took place immediately afterwards in St. Carthage's Cemetery. The same clergy officiated at the graveside. Large and representative corteges attended both funeral and burial.

GLEN ROVERS 45 DRIVE

The final rounds in the annual Glen Rovers hurling club 45 drive which were to have been played in St. Carthage's Hall on Sunday night last, had to be held over until Sunday night next, due to so many first rounds being played. Before the finals commence on next Sunday night, a limited number of first rounds will be played until 9 p.m.

DEATH OF MRS. B. CULLINAN

The death occurred on Friday last, December 6th, at New Street, Lismore, of Mrs. Bridget Cullinan, widow of Major Walter Cullinan, formerly of Hill Cottage, Lismore. The deceased lady, who was one of the town's most popular persons, was held in the highest esteem by all who had the pleasure of knowing her, and her death, after a rather long duration of illness, has been received with much regret. We extend to her sorrowing relatives and friends our deepest sympathy on their great loss.

The remains were removed to St. Carthage's Church, on Saturday evening and were received and blessed by Very Rev. Canon Dunphy, P.P., V.E., assisted by Rev. Fr. Quigley, C.C., and Rev. Fr. Slattery, C.C., and Rev. Fr. Slattery, C.C., and the burial took place on Sunday following second Mass, the same clergy officiating at the graveside. Large numbers of sympathisers attended both funeral and burial.

IS IT A RECORD?

Forty-four goals and thirty four points is the almost unbelievable total amount of scores registered by this year's primary hurling champions, Taurin in their seven championship games and looking at this colossal figure, one cannot help wondering is it a record for any team to score so much in any championship campaign.

Indeed, the six forwards on this goal hungry side must really feel proud of themselves. But then when one takes a look at the attack with such big strong men in it as Dick Docey, Steve Scanton, Neil Collender and aided with such brilliant hurlers as John J. Scanton, capt. Bob McGrath and Tom Barry, you may not be at all surprised, but wonder what these agile forwards are not capable of doing.

Next we turn the spotlight on the two-centred men, who gave the forwards enough of the ball to get all these scores.

Though not as big as one would really wish for centre-field, nevertheless, the strong hurling power of Jimmy O'Gorman and the sweet crisp hurling of Tom Regan, has become a partnership feared by all centrefield men.

And now we come to the defence, regarded by many as equal successors to the great Jack Fives, Dan Murray, Davey Walsh era. Pride of the defence must undoubtedly go to the two men who have served Taurin so loyally down the years. We refer of course to the centre and corner back. At centre-back stands the great Tom Fives, and after collecting his fifth county medal with Taurin on Sunday week last after twenty-two years in the red and white colours. Tom has few if any equals at centre back, and he was flanked by Ollie Wilkinson and Johnny Gorman, both of whom played on the Cappoquin juvenile team annexed the first-ever Avonmore cup championship four years ago. Yes, this has turned into a really formidable line.

Behind those three stand the backbone of the team, in the left corner plays one of the greatest cornerbacks ever to don a Taurin jersey—Tom Docey. Tom, who has collected four county medals with his

Late Miss Mary E. Barron

Ballyheeny, Cashmore

The sudden death of Miss Mary E. Barron occurred by the roadside while she was going to attend the funeral Mass of a neighbour, on the morning of Thursday, December 5th at Pitttown Church. The deceased lady, who was a very well known and popular member of a very widely-connected West Waterford family, was a direct descendant of the late Edmund Power, who was hanged at the Market House, Dungarven in 1799, and to whose memory now stands a memorial at the Park, Dungarven. The deceased had also served her country well during the fight for Irish freedom. R.I.P.

The removal of remains took place on Friday evening from the mortuary attached to St. Joseph's Hospital, Dungarven, to Cashmore Church, followed by a huge cortège, and with her coffin draped in the tricolour. Rev. Fr. M. Russell, C.C., assisted by Rev. Fr. Foley, C.C., U.S.A., blessed and received the coffin.

Requiem Mass was celebrated on Saturday for the intention of her soul and the funeral took place later to the old Cemetery, Grange, where the interment took place in the family plot.

Rev. Fr. Draper, C.C., Ardmore, assisted by Rev. Fr. M. Russell, C.C., Cashmore and Rev. Fr. Foley, C.C., U.S.A., imparted the final absolution and recited the prayers of requiem at the graveside.

Large sheaves of spiritual benedictions were received by her relatives. The chief mourners were: John Barron, Rathkeale, Co. Limerick; Declan Barron, Carlow (brothers); Miss Kathleen Barron, Monkstown, Cork (sister); and a large circle of nephews and nieces.

Gallant Brickeys Are Champions

HUMBLING HOLDERS IN DECISIVE FASHION

BRICKEY RANGERS 2-8 KILL 1-3

IT was shortly after four o'clock... a shrill blast of Hugh Donnelly's whistle rent the air and Dungarvan's Fraher Field became engulfed in a feverish cauldron of seething excitement. It was all over... the 1963 senior football championship had just been concluded and gallant Brickeys were the new, proud and worthy champions. A wait of decades had been finally bridged... the exasperations, disappointments and near despairing depressions that punctuated that lengthy span, were no more and the coveted trophy was at last on its eventful journey to the "Brickey country."

Champions Kill, who themselves only broke through the barrier of success for the first time the previous year, had been well and truly humbled. There was an almost unbelievable scoring differential of eight points between the sides, a margin that in no way flattered the superiority of the magnificent Rangers. This was their day of unforgettable glory; the realisation of an ambition that so often in the past was almost cheekily dashed by the weird and unaccountable twists of fate.

But this time it was glaringly evident that there was going to be no mistake. The task before the Brickeys was a mammoth one; the odds in fact prior to the start favoured the holders but once the game was set in motion there was no mistaking the superior force. They held the initiative from the opening whistle, maintained it right through the hour and ended what for them was a historic decider in a flaming blaze of glory.

The county wide appeal of the game was well and truly reflected in the attendance of 3,500 that paid a total of £316 to see the tie. But the scenes that followed the game were unprecedented in the history of the championship in the Decies. The decider itself never provided the expected titanic struggle for victory. There were only brief passages of attractive football and with the issue in little doubt when nearing the end, the champions seemed content to accept their fate.

But if one must be critical of the game as a spectacle, the Brickeys can scarcely be saddled with the blame. They have seldom played better or displayed such enthusiasm in the execution of their duties; and it was Kill's complete failure to rise to the occasion that caused the game to degenerate so greatly.

AMAZING

In fact, Kill's insipidness in their defence of their title was the most amazing feature of the game. To date, they have earned an enviable reputation for the attractiveness of their play and with the conditions so very much in their favour on Sunday none could have anticipated so humiliating a dethronement for them.

There can be no alibis offered for them however, in an effort to explain their defeat. They just never relished the first-time tactics of the challengers who as I predicted in my preview caused complete unsettlement in the Kill ranks.

The indications that there was going to be a change of titleholders came at an early stage as Kill were seen to be floundering in the sectors from which they expected to reign supreme. This was particularly true of midfield where a superlative Mick Farrell, brilliantly backed by John Woods were outplaying Kennedy and Power to an alarming degree. This was a totally unexpected turn-up for the champions and they continued to play second fiddle to a side functioning on all cylinders, one readily appreciated what their towering midfielders really meant to them all along.

WORTH EVERY POINT

There was no mistaking the Brickeys' first-half mastery and they were worth every point of their 0-4 to 0-1 interval lead. They were pacing the game to their liking, were firmly dictating the trend of the exchanges through the nights of training put in at Pat Walsh's training field at Mount Odell.

BEST FORGOTTEN

For Kill it is a final best forgotten. There is no doubt they were supremely confident of the result and if there is any possible explanation for the severity of their defeat it might be overconfidence. To their credit they accepted defeat in a manner that befits worthy champions, but nevertheless their display which could well be described as feeble, must have sorely disappointed their legion of followers.

SET THE PACE

From the very start the Brickeys forced the pace and when Justin Spratt was fouled, Mick Farrell demonstrated his unerring accuracy from the resultant free. In the seventh minute Farrell again pointed a placed ball but they had a remarkably lucky escape in the 10th minute when a drive by Joe Tibbs was misjudged by both Kevin Walsh, and Nicholas McGrath and as it at a point by Regan left them within four points of the Rangers. For a few subsequent minutes they piled on the pressure but Patsy Donnelly and his co-defenders were in their unyielding best and the Kill attack found all paths to goal well and truly sealed.

Then lifting the siege they returned to the offensive and in a golden three minutes spell points by Hallissey and Farrell and a great goal by the former fittingly rebounded, and great Brickeys honours. Kill had the ball for a while but it was not till a significant, and the final whistle left the Brickeys gloriously triumphant after so many luckless efforts in the past.

ALL PLAYED THEIR PARTS

When dealing with the individual performers, it can be said that every Brickey played his part. True there were some that stood head and shoulders over others, but each and every member of the team must receive recognition for endeavour.

Thanks to the protection he received from his defenders, goalkeeper Kevin Walsh was not severely tested over the hour, but one could sense the confidence the men in front had in him. He has undoubtedly played a major part in making this their year.

DONNELLY THE GREAT

What can one say of the wondrous veteran Patsy Donnelly. For over twenty years he has been seeking that cherished county medal, and it is a source of satisfaction to every sportsman irrespective of his club affiliations, that he has at last been rewarded. Of his display on Sunday words of mine are inadequate to do him full justice. It was without doubt one of his greatest games in the black and amber jersey and little wonder that he was mobbed by jubilant supporters after the game. He well deserved it.

The other veteran, Nicholas McGrath, defended stoutly at full-back and like Donnelly has well earned his championship medal. In the left corner Peter Ferncombe has never been seen to such advantage and fielded and kicked with inspiring confidence all through. For John Walsh, in his first senior final, it was a day of outstanding success. From start to finish he was the master of Joe Tibbs and he later were both in the hands of Donnelly. Bill Spratt never saw Monty Guiry as much as a tactic that proved a considerably counterproductive victory. And even though Pat played in his last game, he was a warrior who the hour he never ceased trying to the minimum the game was won by Patsy Donnelly.

FARRELL SUPERB

It is not often, unfortunately, that the Dungarvan club has a player of such calibre as Mick Farrell. On Sunday he gave us a glimpse of what he is capable of. He worked hard at full-forward, one could wish to see a display that was flawless in the extreme. His partnership with Shuckanen, Woods and Donnelly served top rating and had the better of matters with Noel Power.

SHATTERING SET BACK

Seldom can so many Kill players have been "out of things" at the same time as on Sunday. Their failure to play a captain's part, and a shattering set back while the defence was too anxious to before the other side's forwards, which Michael Spratt kept on his shoulder. No blame can be attached to goalkeeper Jim Kearns, while Tom Kirwan, Tom Moylan and Achill Lannon were best in defence. For once, Noel Power and Martin Kennedy failed to lead the middle of the field and only Kennedy in shades of peak form.

The forwards foolishly attempted to overplay the ball and miserably played into the hands of resolute Brickey defenders. Mick Regan, who had 12 of his side's total was best, despite facing a brilliant Patsy Donnelly, but he received only token assistance from Paddy Duggan and Monty Guiry.

their brightest period of the hour but it simply was not to be and exuberant Rangers with dedication and determination their forte regained command and swept to a victory that is justly being acclaimed in the four corners of the county.

It has been an agonising wait for them but now that the name of the Brickey Rangers will be added to the illustrious role of honour, complete fulfilment, justice has been done. Over the years the club has in all probability produced more accomplished combinations, but it is extremely doubtful if a fitter or more determined team has ever left the club. They never let up even when victory had been assured, and their ability to stay the pace certainly reflected favourably on the tricked towards the goalline. McGrath managed to fly-kick the ball to safety.

Farrell and Mick Regan exchanged points from free—the latter being Kill's only score of the half. But Brickeys finished the half as they started it—complete masters, and another Farrell point gave lead at the half-way stage.

They stretched their lead further two minutes after the restart when Farrell continued with his free-taking accuracy and he punished the Kill defenders minutes later for their hesitancy to commit indiscretions with yet another minor.

FISTED GOAL

Then came the score that finally set the seal on victory. Bill Lovett, who had replaced Pat Curran in attack, gained possession, and with the Kingdom touch, perfectly placed a centre that was unceremoniously fisted to the net by Michael Spratt.

But within seconds flagging Kill hopes were temporarily revived, when Mick Regan hammered home a great goal. That score provided the stimulus for them to play their best football of the hour and
