AFTER considering the Provisional Road Works Scheme for '64-'65 for less than an hour on Tuesday last, Waterford Co. Council decided to adjourn further consideration of the scheme to the Estimates meeting. The Council unanimously passed a resolution however, proposed by Colr. Michael Harty calling on the Government to give them a grant to meet the increased amount of the scheme over the current year's one.

At the outset, County Engineer, Mr. J. D. Hally said that primarily they would have to decide whether or not to provide for the 9th round increase in the scheme for the road workers.

Colr. T. A. Kyne proposed and Colr. P. Cahill seconded that they provide for this item. There was no objection to this proposal.

Mr. Hally said the scheme as presented would mean an increase of 2/3rd on the current year's rate. Besides since 1928 the traffic on the main Waterford-Dungarvan road increased by 800% and that growth was continuing rapidly.

Colr. Norman Walsh said the net impact on the roads for rates for the year 1964/65 would be 14/11th representing an increase to 2/3rd on the current year. Between the roads and the Health Charges they amounted to 35/- of their total rate. He suggested where they could make economies they should. He felt there were certain slight savings they could make and he recommended they go through the scheme before them very carefully.

The Chairman suggested they leave it over to the estimates meeting, when there would be more details available to them.

Mr. F. J. O'Leary (Co. Accountant) said that last year the Co. Council provided £400 for excess roads, but that fell very far short of the required amount, which eventually came to £24,000. It was then decided to spread the extra £20,000 over two years. The overall position of the Council he said showed credit balances in the Housing, Health and Sanitary Sections, and the only places they had debit balances were in the General Purposes and Roads accounts. Furthermore he anticipated that their overall position would be relieved even more by the credit balances which they had in certain accounts.

Colr. Curran: Mr. O'Leary has shown himself to be an absolute genius in this matter. There are however, 21 other County Councils with lower amounts for roads than us.

Colr. N. Walsh: And there are only 27 County Councils. Mr. Hally said the actual rate for roads was not the real criterion, but rather the cost per mile of road.

Colr. Michael Harty said the ratepayers were already being forced to pay an enormous amount and they were not in a position to pay another increase of 2/3rd for roads alone. This increase was not the fault of the Co. Council but was due to increased taxation. He would ask the members to pass a resolution calling on the Government to provide a grant that would meet the increased demand in the 1964/65 road works scheme. In this way they would be protecting the hard pressed ratepayers.

Mr. O'Leary said the scheme as presented made for an increase of £10,000 or Main Roads, £11,000 for County Roads, the clearing of £6,000 of a Debit Balance. It was also anticipated that the portion of the cost of the new Youghal Bridge would be £384,000 instead of the £214,000 in the contract.

Colr. William Foran said he was completely against this colossal increase of 2/3rd. Twenty years ago they had good roads which were picked out as being the cream of the country's main roads. Public representatives would be lynched as a result of this increase and he was opposing it very strongly.

Colr. Harty's proposal, seconded by Colr. W. Dower was then put to the meeting and passed unanimously.

On the recommendation of the Chairman, the scheme was deferred to the Council's annual estimate meeting.

HEALTH ESTIMATE ADOPTED . . . Another Increase in Rates

AT the Annual estimates meeting of Waterford Health Authority on Monday last, the estimate of expenses for the financial year ending on March 31st, 1965, was adopted. And the net result of it is that the County Rate is increased by 1/4 in the £ and the city rate by 2/6.

Mr. Charles Curran said the Co. Council was at a deadlock over the Authority's provisional estimate and they had failed to submit any recommendations to the Authority on it. He had been approached by representatives of the agricultural ratepayers who wanted the Debit Balance of £24,000 to be carried over this year rather than provide for it in the estimate which was one of the contributing factors to the steep increase of 1/4 on the county rate. The Co. Council Debit Balance was never so low and he could see nothing wrong in carrying the Health Authority's debit balance over this year. There was a possibility he added that the structure of local taxation would be changed during the year.

Mr. Norman Walsh said the County Rate this year would be well over 50/- in the £ and he did not think their National economy could stand up the 9th round wage increase. By his suggestion of omitting the debit balance in their estimate for the coming year they could reduce their demand on the county rate by 8d.—from 1/4 to 8d. This was the only opportunity they had of reducing the county rate this year, as there would be very little they would be able to do after this.

Colr. T. Lannon said it was no wonder the rates would go up when they had included in the estimate £33,000 for salaries. What would that mean on the rates, he asked.

S. Deegan, Acting Co. Manager: Approximately 9d. in the £.

Mr. T. Gallagher: A couple of weeks ago we spent three hours discussing this estimate and it has since been ratified by the Co. Council and Waterford Corporation.

Mr. N. Walsh: That is not quite right, as far as the Co. Council is concerned. If my proposal to leave the Debit balance stand had been put to the Council meeting I honestly believe I would have been passed.

Mr. Lannon then proposed that they delete the £33,000 for salaries from the estimate (incurred as a result of the 9th round increase which will be coming up shortly). He failed to get a seconder however.

Colr. Curran said he would be voting against all increases in future and would second Mr. Lannon's proposal if it was practical.

Mr. N. Walsh then proposed that the estimate be adopted except that they carry the debit balance this year and only provide the interest on it.

Mr. C. Curran seconded. This proposal was put to the meeting and defeated by 11 votes to 4.

Mr. J. Griffin then proposed that the estimate as presented be adopted and this was carried by 11-4.

Mr. D. RYAN (trainer) and Mr. JIM FITZGERALD (owner), Shanbally, Leamybrien, with Future Captain (Cheerful Catapult—Saucy Dancer), winner of the Derby Trial Stake at Sevenhouses last week, beating another local man, Mr. Dick Kiely's Ballingown Boy in the final. They go to Clonmel next week to contest the Derby.

Making ends meet

Making ends meet can be a tiring and never-ending job. To sustain themselves in their waterside homes the Beavers need to maintain an unvarying water level, and so are committed to the building of a dam. This structure of logs, clay, and grass, convex towards the direction of the current and equally strong in all its parts must surely be one of the wonders of nature. But the Beavers' work is never finished; the dam has constantly to be repaired if the level of the water is to be maintained.

LATE MR. PATK. O'BRIEN

Kilmacthomas Notes

Widespread and sincere regret was caused by the death of Mrs. Mary Norris (nee Henneby, native of Kilrossanty), widow of Mr. John (Jack) Norris, Ballyvooney, Stradbally, who was a very esteemed member of the farming community. Fortified by the rites of the Mother Church of which she was a most exemplary member, she passed away at the allotted span, on Wednesday of last week, 22nd ult. (Feast of St. Vincent and Anastasius, Mm.). The deceased lady, who was of a warm-hearted and jovial disposition, was held in the highest regard by an extensive circle of friends, and she will long be remembered as a neighbour whose name had been a byword for sincerity, diligence and kindness. Sympathy in full measure is extended to the bereaved family and relatives.

Followed by a large and representative cortege, the remains were removed on Thursday evening to the Parish Church, Stradbally. Subsequent to the celebration of Office and High Mass there for the repose of her soul, on Friday, the interment took place, in the presence of another impressive gathering of sympathisers, in the adjoining cemetery. A large number of officials attended at the graveside.

A big array of spiritual bouquets and messages of condolence were received.

At a luncheon, a Josa Dillis, dean trocraire.

Mrs. Joan Morris, aged 54 years, who died unexpectedly at 43 John Street, Waterford, on Thursday of yesterday, 23rd ult. (Feast of St. Raymond of Penafort, C.), was wife of Mr. Richard Morris, former proprietor of the Butter Market, High Street, Waterford, and was sister of the late Rev. Daniel Dawson, C.C., Kilrossanty, and a first cousin of the late Very Rev. Fr. John Dawson, P.P., of the Archdiocese of Liverpool, who predeceased her only a week earlier. R.I.P.

Bethrothal. The engagement has been announced between Miss Elizabeth Cummins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Cummins, of 2 Slievevue, Waterford, and Mr. Matthew Kiely, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kiely, of Sean Walsh Place, Kilmacthomas.

LATE MR. PATRICK PRENDERGAST

Contress Villas, Dungarvan

The unexpected death of Patrick Prendergast occurred on Tuesday morning, January 21st, at the District Hospital, Dungarvan, after a rather short duration of illness. He was a most popular member of a very old Dungarvan family and made legions of friends due to his gentle and retiring disposition.

We take this opportunity of expressing our deepest condolence to his wife, family and relatives on this very sad occasion.

May he rest in peace.

The removal of his remains took place on Wednesday evening to St. Mary's Parish Church, Dungarvan, followed by a very large cortege, and was blessed and received by Rev. Fr. D. Byrne, C.C.

Requiem Mass was celebrated on Thursday morning, and the interment took place later in the Old Churchyard Cemetery. Another large and representative concourse were present. Rev. Fr. D. Byrne, C.C., imparted the final absolution at the graveside.

(Funeral arrangements by J. Kiely and Sons, Dungarvan.)

LATE MISS MARY NUGENT

WINDGAP, DUNGARVAN

The death occurred during the very early hours of Saturday morning, January 25th, of Miss Mary Nugent, after a brief illness, but fortified by the Rites of Holy Church. She was a true friend of all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. A member of a widely-connected west Waterford family, she was deeply religious, and most charitable to those requiring her assistance.

The removal of her remains took place on Saturday evening to St. Mary's Parish Church, Dungarvan, followed by a huge cortege, and were blessed and received by Rev. Fr. D. Byrne, C.C. Requiem Mass was offered on Sunday morning for the eternal repose of her soul, and the interment took place in the adjoining family plot. Rev. J. Murohy, C.C., imparted the final absolution and recited the prayers of requiem at the graveside.

The chief mourners were: Corenlus and Patrick Nugent, Windgap (brothers); Mrs. John O'Donnell, Ballincourty, Ring (sister).

(Funeral arrangements were by J. Kiely and Sons, Shandon, Dungarvan.)

CAPPOQUIN G.A.A. CLUB A.G.M.

The west of the county has now no senior hurling team, following the decision of Cappoquin at their annual general meeting to return to junior ranks. This decision will not occasion much surprise as over the past few years there has been an obvious lack of player material of senior standard. The club members themselves were reconciled to the necessity for this decision and there was no argument on the subject.

The meeting gave a vote of confidence to the majority of the outgoing officers and committee, the only notable change being the election of that good club worker, Mr. Paddy Wall to the chair. The outgoing holder of the office, Michael O'Connor, did not seek reelection owing to pressure of business.

The outgoing chairman and the club President, Rev. M. O'Meara, C.C., both expressed their concern at the lack of interest and enthusiasm which had developed over the past few years and they hoped for greater interest and cooperation among the members for the coming year.

Secretary, John Fraher had little activity to report from the playing fields, but stressed the notable progress which had been made in their field development plans. Much had been done as regards improvements of seating accommodation, two inter-county games had been staged during the year and both had been outstandingly successful in every respect. He appealed for cooperation from all members in the field development work, which, he said, was vital for the future of the club. He offered congratulations to John O'Brien and Jerry Mason who had won county honours during the year.

Treasurer, Noel Lonergan's report showed the club to be in a satisfactory financial position.

Officers elected were: Patron: Very Rev. J. Kenneally, P.P., President: Rev. M. O'Meara, C.C., Chairman: Mr. P. Wall, Vice-Chairman: Mr. Ned Lonergan; Hon. Secretary: Mr. John Fraher; Asst. Hon. Secretary: Mr. Eddie Fraher; Hon. Treasurer: Mr. Noel Lonergan; Committee: Messrs. W. Conway, P. Cahill, N. Mason, M. O'Connor, P. Whelan, M. Lacey, C. Killigrew, J. Mason.

It was decided to affiliate junior, minor and juvenile teams in both hurling and football and captains were elected as follows: J.H. M. Lacey; vice-go., E. Fraher; J.F. J. Mason; vice-go., N. Mason; M.H. C. Killigrew; M.F. P. Whelan.

A TRIBUTE TO LATE MICHAEL WALSH

A saintly soul is gone to his eternal reward and Killorossanty is the poorer by the passing of Michael Walsh, patriot, poet and folklorist. Gentle and unassuming, kind friend and neighbour, he was truly one of nature's gentlemen. Beneath that calm exterior was a strong personality, ever true to his principles and ideals. What a pleasure it was to sit by his fireside and listen to him narrate tales of the past, both grave and gay. His great devotion to the family Rosary was an inspiring example to all who knew him intimately. He often impressed his listeners with tales of the penal days when 'in spite of dungeon fire and sword' our forefathers denied the privilege of Holy Mass... turned to Our Queen of Solace in their anguish and through their faithfulness to the Rosary they have passed on to us the glorious heritage that Ireland shall ever cherish. Well versed in local traditions and customs in which Killorossanty abound, he told many legends about our beloved patroness, St. Bridget, 'The Mary of the Gael'. In a lighter theme, his reminiscences of his school days were very amusing. With characteristic naive wit he recalled the many boyish escapades. There are some of those schoolmates left to mourn his passing. Jim Veale (Boston) his lifelong friend; Mike Hackett, who also lives in Boston; Tommy O'Brien, Patrick Kett, Pat Harney; K'eely brothers, Tom and Andy and Maurice Hurley.

A great lover of the games of the Gael, from Patsy Wall's legendary team of 1888 to the present time, Michael Walsh kept the old traditions of the green and gold ever new in story and song.

He dedicated many beautiful poems to our Killorossanty heroes who paid the supreme sacrifice... the Keating brothers, John Fitzgerald and John Walsh.

Now he who loved his God and the Old Land, has too, passed away.

May they rest in peace.
'Neath the hills he famed in song,
'Side those he loved the best
In a shady nook by a babbling brook
Our gentle poet rests.

Ever true to our Rosary Queen Proud heritage he held dear
His Aves told, in tones of gold
From the pilgrim's earthly sphere.

How oft his gifted pen portrayed
His dreams, that the 'galling' cloth
Be rent in twain and Ireland reign
A nation once again.

Sleep on gentle poet, may your dreams come true
For peace and unity
May your dear soul rest among the blessed
With H'm for eternity.
—M.P.K.

Up to TWO TONS MORE PER ACRE for main and seed potato growers

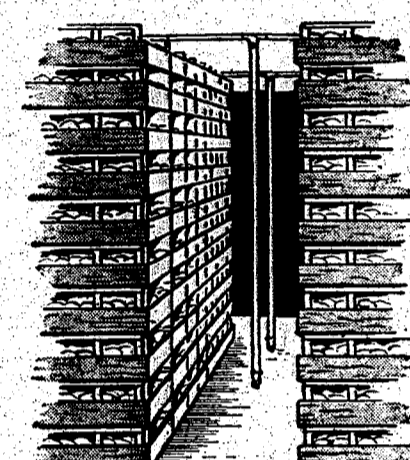

this is the seed you need

Get the biggest possible return from your potato crop next year—use fluorescent lighting to control the sprouting of your seed. This ensures:

- * Earlier and heavier yields.
- * Up to 2 tons per acre MORE for main and seed crops.
- * More flexibility in planting-out time.
- * Reduced losses from early potato blight.
- * A more uniform crop with fewer misses.
- * Better operation in mechanical planters.

Fluorescent lighting provides the PROVEN answer to the big problem of correct potato sprouting!

Fluorescent lighting fittings are hung in the alleyways between stacked sprouting boxes and are switched on for twelve hours a day. Any farm building which can be made frost proof may be used. One fitting is sufficient for the controlled sprouting of a ton of seed potatoes. Purchase price is £10 and running costs are low—certainly no more than 7s. 6d. per ton.

BETTER GRASS WILL GIVE YOU A BETTER LIVING

AVAIL of SUBSIDIES on Phosphates, Potash & Ground Limestone

Manuring gives you the cheapest stock-feeding through:

- EARLIER and BETTER GRASS
- A LONGER GRAZING SEASON
- MORE HAY and SILAGE FOR THE WINTER

1. If there is enough lime in your soil, use 3 to 4 cwt. Superphosphate per acre.
2. On acid soils not seriously short of lime, you may use 4 to 6 cwt. of Semsol, Ground Rock Phosphate or Basic Slag.
3. If your soil needs potash, use 1 cwt. of Muriate of Potash also.
4. Dress lime deficient soils with Ground Limestone.
5. For early grass, hay or silage, you can get still better results by applying a nitrogenous fertiliser as well as phosphates and potash.

Lismore Notes

LISMORE DEFEAT BALLYCOTTON

In a most entertaining game played at the Castle Grounds, on Sunday last, Lismore collected their first points in the Cork A.U.L., when they defeated Ballycotton by the only goal of the game. Territorially they had the upper hand for most of the game, but due to some weak finishing, plus some really good saves by the visiting goalkeeper, The winning score did not come until the last 12 minutes, when the local inside-forward, Ronnie Keating scored when his brother made the opening.

DEATH OF MR. P. NEVILLE

It is with deep and sincere regret we record the death of Mr. Patrick Neville, New St., Lismore, which sad event occurred at Dungarvan District Hospital, on Tuesday evening of last week, January 21st. Patrick or "Pat" as the deceased was more popularly known to his many friends, was possessed of a very quiet and cheerful manner, which made him a favourite with both young and old, and indeed it is tragic to relate that his untimely death at 19 years of age, came after a very brief illness.

To his sorrowing mother, father, brothers, sisters and all other relatives and friends, we tender our deepest sympathy on their great loss.

The remains were removed to St. Carthage's Church, Lismore on Wednesday evening, and were received and blessed by Very Rev. Canon Dunphy, P.P., V.F., assisted by Rev. Fr. Quately, C.C., and Rev. Fr. Slattery, C.C., and the burial took place on Thursday in St. Carthage's Cemetery, the same clergy officiating at the graveside. Large and representative corteges attended both funeral and burial.

NEW E.S.B. OVEN

The new Market Forge Etec Convection Oven, which is being introduced to the Irish market by the E.S.B., was demonstrated in the Flight Kitchen, Dublin Airport, on 16th January last.

The demonstration, which was given by Mr. James Flahive, Executive Chef Irish International Airlines, was attended by hoteliers, representatives from institutions and catering organisations, restaurateurs and various other catering interests throughout the 26 counties, in addition to representatives from Bord Fáilte and a number of Government Departments.

The electric convection oven—the first of its kind in this country—is particularly suitable for large-scale catering and sets a new standard for baking and roasting which for the first time can be done by utilising one oven. Because of the unique thermo-flow convection system used, this oven can give up to three times the output of a conventional oven of similar size.

The principle provides a remarkable degree of quality in roasting. It prevents moisture from being drawn from the food, and this results in less shrinkage and greater retention of natural flavours.

Another big feature of the oven is its speed. It can, for example, cook a load of turkeys in two hours, and up to 5 dozen meat pies in 20 minutes. It is easy to operate and occupies very little floor space.

The E.S.B. has already introduced the light-pressure steam-tender cooker, made by the manufacturers of the convection oven, which is now well known to the catering trade.

Farmers Position Worsened in Two Ways N.F.A. NEWS

The Nth Round of wage increases has overtaken us long before we have overtaken the Eight, the Seventh, or even the Sixth Round. This Round, just as its predecessors did, will inevitably worsen the position of farmers, said Mr. R. Deasy, President N.F.A., when speaking in Thurles last week. It will do this in two ways: It will increase industrial incomes without improving farmers' income and thus farmers will be relatively worse off. In addition it will inflate costs, raise transport, machinery, fertilisers, fuel, everything needed for further production. Farmers will be doubly squeezed. They will be worse off relatively and worse off absolutely. The traditional argument put forward against this position is that if we have fewer farms producing more all would be well with farm income. Recent history does not support such an argument. For the last ten years productivity in agriculture has risen faster than productivity in industry. 116,000 workers have been lost to agriculture and at the same time the gap between farmers' incomes and those of the industrial worker has continued to widen.

Mr. Deasy said that as the living standards of the consumer rise, so does resistance to the idea of paying more to the farmer for the food the consumer eats or drinks. Some economists might interest him in this problem and tell us why, as income standards rise, and as food becomes a smaller and smaller proportion of the family budget, the consumer's resistance to higher prices or higher taxation is inevitably centred on the cost of food.

Another question to be answered is this—why do Governments generally, and our own included, so readily agree to higher food prices, originating from higher distribution costs, and so rarely permit them when it is a question of higher production costs? To put it simply—Why is it always regarded as right to put a lid on the retail price of milk when the farmers' wages go up and always regarded as unthinkable to put a lid on a bottle of beer when the farmer's costs go up and his income goes down? The industrial and service sectors of our society have a perfect right to seek conditions that are better, but having got them they should not resist the farmers' right to economic prices for their produce. This is a problem that society must face, in a realisation that it affects not only farmers but also farm workers.

Farmers realise that they must have a highly skilled workforce and they should be in a position to pay them wages having a reasonably close relationship to the average industrial wage. This simply cannot be done with 1964 and 1953 prices or most commodities, with lower prices generally in the cereals sector. Mr. Deasy, concluded his address by saying that agricultural expansion is a necessary and desirable thing which can in the longer term have an important influence on farm employment income. The immediate problem is, however, the immediate price improvements necessary if expansion is not to be checked before it gets under way.

Substantial Uplift in Farm Incomes Needed. The President of the N.F.U. of Great Britain, called earlier this month for an increase in farm incomes of at least 25% over the next three years, a major step towards this to be taken from the date of the 1964 Prices Review. The N.F.U. Council in London unanimously backed this policy. According to Mr. Woolley, it is fundamental to the success of any industry and the businesses within its earnings should provide for three basic requirements—adequate personal remuneration for those who work in it, interest on the capital invested in it and a margin of reserve to plough back and maintain the fertility of the business. A simple and inescapable fact is clear for all to see, he said, that farm incomes are too low both in absolute terms and in comparison with general income. When one talks about the net income of farmers, one should bear in mind that unlike big business accounting, out of farmers' net income figures there should be provision for personal remuneration, interest on our invested capital and the necessary reserve which is ordinary business procedure.

Accounts Schemes operating in England shows that in 1957/58 net income on holdings between 50 and 150 acres averaged £804 (the figure for Ireland would be about £480). Farmers cannot go on year after year, said Mr. Woolley, accepting government decisions which leave them to absorb increased costs. His concluding words might well be used in relation to the position in Ireland when he said that, not only is it necessary that current increased costs, of which wages and rents are a substantial part, should be covered in full but more than that, the industry must have restored to it some part of the excessive underemployment of past years. The agricultural economy must be re-investigated.

Nothing less than a substantial uplift in farm incomes can enable agriculture to maintain the momentum of its efficiency and its ability to contribute fully to the national economy and at the same time do justice to the people who work in it. VERY IMPORTANT LIVESTOCK TALKS. Total cattle exports to Britain last year, were £67m, or 40% of the value of all Irish exports. This figure indicates the importance of livestock to our economy and the importance of the Anglo-Irish trade talks resumed in London, last week between members of the Civil Service from Ireland, Australia, New Zealand, Argentina, Uruguay and Yugoslavia.

Beef, mutton and lamb were discussed at the Conference. Britain has already introduced regulations for the import of milk eggs and pig-meat and according to Mr. Soames, Minister for Agriculture, his Government intended seeking minimum import prices and maximum limits to the quantity of British production. Before leaving for London, our Department of Agriculture had discussions with the N.F.A. as well as other farming organisations. It is to be hoped that our negotiators will be successful in obtaining for Ireland a more favourable trading arrangements than those which apply to several other commodities. The British say that the purpose of their new policy is to provide market stability and thus reduce the subsidy which now runs clear to £400m. per annum. Observers, however, interpret it as the first moved towards the tariff system employed in Europe and elsewhere in the world.

MEETING MARKET OPPORTUNITIES. In the domestic and international market in 1963, 367 million gallons of milk were disposed of. Now, said Mr. A. O'Reilly, General Manager of An Bord Baine, there was no overstock. If the demand for diversified milk products continues, it could happen that the milk available in 1964 might not meet market opportunities. It is expected that milk intake for this year will be in the order of 345m. gallons (13m. more than last year), of which the domestic market will absorb about 192m. gallons.

FREIGHT CHARGES TOO HIGH. It is not expected that quota restrictions on our export of fat cattle, sheep and lambs, or in our carcase trade, will be imposed on us in the first year, by Britain's new effort to introduce stability in its meat trade. This is the opinion of Mr. Morgan Ferris, outgoing chairman of the Irish Livestock Exporters' and Traders' Association.

At the same time, he said, there is an element of uncertainty in the future which comes at a time when agricultural expansion is proposed by our Government. He recommended that under the British stability scheme a three months compulsory fattening period in Britain be sought off over the next three years.

CIVIL DEFENCE MEMBERS WITH THE MINISTER

Minister Attends Civil Defence Function in Cross-Country

County Waterford Civil Defence organisation held its second annual dinner and social on Wednesday of last week, Jan. 22nd, at Ocean View Hotel, Clonsa. Personnel representing all districts of the County were represented among the 160 guests in attendance. The chief guest of honour on the occasion was Mr. Gerard Bartley, Minister for Defence, who was accompanied by Mr. J. G. Buckmaster, Deputy Civil Defence Director, and Mr. M. O. Gahlin, Senior Technical Officer of the Civil Defence Directorate, Department of Defence.

Mr. J. G. Dowling, Secretary, Waterford County Council, presided at the function and welcomed back the Minister and his party. Mr. Dowling proposed the Toast to Eire at the conclusion of a most enjoyable lunch and then called on Mr. Charles Curran, M.C., to propose the toast of the Civil Defence.

Mr. Curran, in his capacity as Chairman of the Waterford County Council expressed his satisfaction and appreciation for the obvious healthy state in which the large gathering of people from all corners of the County indicated the Civil Defence Organisation to be. He was fully conscious, he said, of the great need for Civil Defence and was availing of the opportunity to appeal to the public at large to lend a hand in the vital effort. He paid a special word of tribute to Mr. T. O'Donoghue, B.E., and Mr. Michael Dowling, Civil Defence Officers for the County and City respectively.

In replying to the toast of Civil Defence, Mr. T. O'Donoghue, Civil Defence Officer, thanked Mr. Curran on behalf of all the personnel of Civil Defence, for his encouraging remarks and acknowledged that while he personally was called on to play a part in the development of Civil Defence, it was elementary that without the willing help of the very many enthusiastic wardens and instructors in the various other services throughout the County and in the town of Dungarvan, the present advanced state of the development of the force would not have been reached.

Mr. O'Donoghue added the very fine spirit of comradeship evident at the function in which they all shared, was a most welcome side effect of the efforts of the volunteers and instructors at their weekly training classes throughout the County. He asked all present to maintain their interest in the Civil Defence effort so that the task to which they had set themselves would be achieved.

Mr. Sean Gillen, City Manager and Civil Defence Controller for the City and County, proposed the toast to Our Guests. He was particularly glad he said to welcome the Minister for Defence, realising the efforts which the Minister's attendance entailed by reason of the heavy demands on his in his office as Minister of State. He was also pleased to welcome the Regional Civil Defence Officer, Commandant O'Brien and the Deputy Civil Defence Director, Mr. J. G. Buckmaster and Mr. O. Gahlin, Technical Officer. He had met both those officers, he said, like all others who had the pleasure of coming to Rea-tragh House to attend Civil Defence courses on various occasions over the past few years.

Mr. Gillen also expressed his pleasure in seeing the O.C. of the Southern Command, Col. Donagh, and Chief Supt. Fitzpatrick, G.S. in attendance. In replying to the toast of Our Guests, Mr. Buckmaster said he was very pleased to have the opportunity of coming to a county such as Waterford and see civil defence working so satisfactorily on the ground. He thought it most appropriate that the O.C. of the Southern Command and the Chief Supt. of the local Garda Division should be in attendance as the Army and the Garda were up to them in civil defence.

The Minister expressed his great delight in being invited to the second social of the County Waterford Civil Defence organisation and was pleased to find that it had developed so well since his last visit. He expressed the opinion that if the force progressed at the same rate throughout the country as it was doing in Waterford, the Government need have no worries in its regard. He realised, he said, that while the civil defence officers were the link on which the force revolved, very little progress could be made without the wholehearted support of the other officers throughout the country. It appeared to him, he said, that the district wardens was the obvious level from which the local impetus of the force would emanate and he noted with satisfaction that in Waterford this viewpoint was borne out by the sustained interest of teachers, creamery managers, veterinary surgeons and members of the general community in their loyalty to the civil defence interests. He also referred to the very great scope in the casualty service for acquiring a most useful knowledge of first aid and in the light of very encouraging success met by the officers of his Department in their negotiations with the officers of the various voluntary aid societies, such as the Irish Red Cross Society and the Order of Malta to expand first aid training, he expressed the hope that there would be much greater expansion in this form of training.

At the conclusion of his address, Mr. Bartley presented certificates to a number of warden officers who completed successfully the appropriate course of training. These who received certificates were: Messrs. T. F. Buckley, N.T. Bonmahon; T. Mgner, do.; M. Cullio N.T. Cappagh; Mee Downey, Villierstown; Percy Hallahan, Aglish; John Cass, Clashmore; Thos. Dee, do.; F. Kennedy, do.; S. O. Culliu, O.S. An Grainesach; T. Looby, Bellingmull; D.C. Lee, M.R.C.V.S. Lismore; C. Kearns, B.A. Lismore; John McCarthy, B.A. Cappoguin; P. O'Neill, N.T. Ballyduff; M. Feeney, N.T. Ballyduff Upr.; E. Power, N.T. Tallow; J. Timmons, Voc. teacher, Portlao.

At the conclusion of the most enjoyable social function at which many valuable speeches were presented, Mr. T. O'Donoghue, Civil Defence Officer, thanked all concerned for coming along and contributing by their presence to the success of the gathering. In particular he singled out the proprietors of the hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson, for the very fine meal served, the very competent M.C., Mr. Tadg Lynch, B.E., Mr. Pat McNamara and his Band who matched the spirit of gathering so magnificently with their music and most of all the very hard working social committee whose efforts behind the scenes made the social such a success.

Lismore G.A.A. Club A.G.M. Lismore G.A.A. Club held their A.G.M. on Friday night and elected the following officers for the coming year: President, Rev. Fr. Slattery, C.C.; Vice-do., Sean Ormonde and M. V. O'Donoghue; Chairman, D. Lee; Vice-Chairman, Moss Hyland; Secretary, C. Kearns; Assistant Sec., P. McGrath; Treasurer, Pat Moore. Committee: B. Hickr, R. O'Donnell, J. Aherne, B. Nugent, T. Hyland, N. Darragh, T. Cahill, D. McGrath, Hurling Capt. Billy Hickey, Football Capt. T. Cahill.

The outgoing Treasurer and Assistant Secretary, P. Vaughan and P. O'Kelly-Lynch, did not seek re-election.

Salmon Fishing. The 1964 salmon season will officially open at midnight on Friday, January 31st, when fishermen can operate until 6 a.m. on Saturday, when the weekly close season will commence. The number of boats engaged in this 'year' will be greater than those in use for many years and it is possible that the entire fleet will not operate until Monday morning. At St. Mary's Parish Church there will be the Fishermen's Mass at 9.30, to be celebrated by the President of the Youghal Fishermen's Association, Very Rev. Canon Sheehan, P.P., and the blessing of the boats will take place at McDonald's Dock at 11 o'clock. After the Blessing Ceremony a Telesis Eireann staff with a camera, will televise the fleet in the harbour when notable fishermen, old and young, will be interviewed. A special effort is being made this year to have the boats decked with flags and bunting, and the fleet will include the Youghal Life Boat and Petrol Launch of the Board of Fishery Commissioners.

AWARD FOR LIFE-BOAT COXSWAIN. On Thursday last there was a pleasant ceremony at the annual meeting of the Royal National Life Boat Institution at the Royal Hibernian Hotel, Dublin, when Mr. Dick Hickey Coxswain of the Youghal Life-boat was awarded a bronze medal and vellum for bravery by the President of the Institution, Sir Terence Langrishe. It will be recalled that on October 27th last, the French trawler Fee Des Ordes was wrecked in Ardmore bay, when Coxswain Hickey and crew succeeded with great dexterity in taking off the skipper and members of the crew. Cox Hickey was commended for "the courage, determination and good seamanship displayed by him on this occasion."

In addition a monetary award was voted to the members of the crew, each of whom will receive a certificate commemorating their participation in this service. This is the first lifeboat medal to be won by a Youghal man since the silver medal was awarded to Coxswain Mike Hannigan for the timely rescue of three men from the wreck of the schooner Annetta in December of 1905. In April Coxswain Hickey is to be decorated by the Queen at Buckingham Palace.

MANSLAUGHTER CASE ADJOURNED. At Castlemartyr District Court recently, John Michael O'Riordan, of Dower, Castlemartyr, was charged with manslaughter of Thomas O'Brien of South Abbey, Youghal, by knocking him down with a motor car on December 24th, at South Abbey. Supt. O'Callaghan informed the Justice that he was not yet prepared to proceed with the case, but hoped to be in a position to do so in the course of a few days. He asked that a date be arranged for the taking of depositions. The Justice stated that next week only two days were available, Monday and Wednesday, and he was sitting at Malloy on the Tuesday. At this Court, to which the manslaughter charge was adjourned, he would intimate what date he could arrange for the taking of depositions.

Youghal Notes

Table with 3 columns: Day, Morning, Evening. Rows for Sunday through Saturday.

Highwater Week Ending 8th Feb. Thirty-two travel agents from England, Scotland and Wales paid a flying visit to Youghal recently, where at the Town Hall they were received by an official welcome by Mr. G. Good, Chairman of the Urban Council, and Mr. Frank Moloney, Town Clerk. They expressed satisfaction with the tourist facilities in the town and in town plans and an odyssey of the proposed tourist amenities to be undertaken in Youghal in the near future by the Urban Council. Mr. Good in his address said: "The people of Youghal would be delighted to learn that the group found it possible to visit this historic town. It was the Council's ambition and aim to develop the natural amenities in Youghal and a number of projects were already under way and proposals for the immediate future were being considered. The tourist trend was altering and Youghal was alert to adapt itself to the changing conditions. The travel agents were later entertained by the local agent Mr. Don McDonald prior to their departure for Cork."

STUDYING LOCAL GOVERNMENT. Mr. Richard Lubanga (21) of Northern Rhodesia, who had been studying for the past three months the principles of Local Government under Mr. Frank Moloney, Town Clerk, Youghal, has left for Dublin, where with 20 other fellow countrymen they will enter the Institute of Public Administration Council Chambers were to study accountancy and management before leaving in five weeks time for home. During his short stay in Youghal, Mr. Lubanga was made most welcome and made many friends. He spoke highly of the people of Youghal and paid tribute to the kindness received from the Chairman and members of the local Urban Council. On taking his leave he paid a well wished tribute to the Town Clerk, Mr. Frank Moloney, under whom he studied Local Government in Youghal.

YOUGHAL A. & C. CLUB. At the recent annual general meeting of the Youghal Athletic and Cycling Club, presided over by the Chairman Mr. P. Divly, there was a very large attendance of members. The Chairman outlined the main successes of the Club during the past year. Their record spoke for itself and he hoped that it would not end to any form of laxity. He called on all athletes and cyclists to train harder than ever before and there was no reason why the Youghal Club could not be best in the country.

The report of the Hon. Treasurer showed that there was a small credit balance on hands at the close of the year. The following officers were elected: President, Rev. Brother Cordial; Vice-Presidents, Messrs. K. Hennessy, P. Hennessy, P. Meagher; Chairman, Rev. D. Gould, C.C.; Vice-Chairman, Mr. P. Lane; Hon. Secretary, Mr. P. Maher; Committee: Messrs. P. at the Royal Hibernian Hotel, Dublin, when Mr. Dick Hickey Coxswain of the Youghal Life-boat was awarded a bronze medal and vellum for bravery by the President of the Institution, Sir Terence Langrishe. It will be recalled that on October 27th last, the French trawler Fee Des Ordes was wrecked in Ardmore bay, when Coxswain Hickey and crew succeeded with great dexterity in taking off the skipper and members of the crew. Cox Hickey was commended for "the courage, determination and good seamanship displayed by him on this occasion."

In addition a monetary award was voted to the members of the crew, each of whom will receive a certificate commemorating their participation in this service. This is the first lifeboat medal to be won by a Youghal man since the silver medal was awarded to Coxswain Mike Hannigan for the timely rescue of three men from the wreck of the schooner Annetta in December of 1905. In April Coxswain Hickey is to be decorated by the Queen at Buckingham Palace.

At Castlemartyr District Court recently, John Michael O'Riordan, of Dower, Castlemartyr, was charged with manslaughter of Thomas O'Brien of South Abbey, Youghal, by knocking him down with a motor car on December 24th, at South Abbey. Supt. O'Callaghan informed the Justice that he was not yet prepared to proceed with the case, but hoped to be in a position to do so in the course of a few days. He asked that a date be arranged for the taking of depositions. The Justice stated that next week only two days were available, Monday and Wednesday, and he was sitting at Malloy on the Tuesday. At this Court, to which the manslaughter charge was adjourned, he would intimate what date he could arrange for the taking of depositions.

ALL OUTGOING OFFICERS RETURNED UNOPPOSED

Motion on 'Ban' Goes To Congress

THERE were no changes at the helm when the Waterford County Board G.A.A. held their annual Convention on Sunday last. All outgoing officers were returned unopposed, the first time in many years that none of the official posts were not contested. The attendance also was not as high as in former years and the 186 delegates present meant that several clubs were without representation at this important event.

Of the 33 motions listed, 14 were passed, 8 defeated, 4 were ruled out of order, 5 withdrawn and two referred to the incoming County Board. The controversial motions were undoubtedly the ones tabled by the Ballyduff Lower Club and included their successful one in requesting that Rule 27 (Foreign Games Rule) be open for discussion every year instead of every third year as at present. This motion goes before Congress at Easter but from the trend in former years is unlikely to be carried.

In his excellent address to the Convention, the Chairman, Mr. Jamie Moloney, said: "The reports of the Divisional Boards show an upward trend in the number of clubs affiliated to the Association in the county. This is ample proof of the popularity enjoyed by our national pastimes and of the ever-increasing number of young men and boys participating in our games every year."

Mr. Moloney said that the G.A.A. has played an outstanding part in the life and history of the nation and with its ever increasing popularity now more than ever can we help in the national development. Last year I mentioned the need for men of character and integrity in charge of clubs. To-day I repeat this. The Club is the cradle of the Association and it is from his cradle days that the mind and character of the individual member must be moulded so that he may develop into a true Gael and a true sportsman.

The G.A.A. recognises no border of partition and with the proper training and guidance of our youth we can, I feel, achieve more for national unity than political overtures or political speeches.

In the modern world we must be ever on our guard lest we should lose what we have already achieved. Television and the like are here to stay and the counter-attractions to our national culture are ever on the increase. We must therefore play our part in ensuring that only programmes suitable to the development of Irish life and character are placed before our youth. At this point I congratulate the Central Council on their courage in televising our national games.

One game of hurling or football played in the true Gaelic spirit and shown on the television screen to those who have not the opportunity or the will to be present can achieve more than writers can hope to achieve in a twelve month effort.

The technicians and engineers of Telefeis Eireann, are to be complimented on the high standard attained in televising our games.

To the directors of Telefeis Eireann however, I cannot offer any bouquets for the general standard of their programmes.

While there are many influences outside our organisation which tend to counteract our efforts and belittle our ideals, there is sometimes the greater danger from the enemy who lurks within our fold. We all understand that it is human nature to rebel against being governed but while rules and by-laws remain we must submit ourselves to them. Those rules are drawn up at Convention time and at Congress by the individual members themselves. They are the members' rules and when we rebel against them we are in fact rebelling against ourselves. I therefore appeal to each member to be loyal to the aims and high ideals of the Association and to be obedient to its rules whether on matters of administration or conduct on the field of play.

For a number of years we have been sending a number of our younger members to the Gaeltacht to improve their knowledge of the Irish language. I fear that this scheme is not reaping the reward it should and I appeal to all those boys who are chosen to spend a month among native speakers to continue speaking their native language when they return to their clubs and in this way sow the seed of enthusiasm among their fellow members.

This year we have been invited by Comhdhail Naisiunta na Gaeltach to send twenty club secretaries or potential secretaries to the Kerry Gaeltacht. I sincerely hope that the clubs will take a keen interest in this scheme and that we will eventually have in each club a secretary who will not only be competent but keen to carry out the word of the club in the native language.

While paying tribute to all who played our games during the year I feel that a special word of praise is due to our senior hurlers. While they failed to take home the McCarthy Cup on All-Ireland day they nevertheless brought honour to themselves and their county by their sporting displays.

While we may dwell with pleasure on the past, we must look to the future. In the Eastern division senior hurling is maintaining its high standard but the outlook for 1964 I regret, is not as bright in the Western half of the county. If current rumours concerning the regrading of existing clubs are true then the future is gloomy and I urge the incoming Board to go into the matter immediately with the object of seeking the cause of this decline and making an effort to rectify the matter before our senior hurling competition sinks to a competition confined to one division. It is sad to see hurling strongholds like Dungarvan, Cappoquin, and Lismore unable to field a senior team. This must eventually have an adverse effect on our inter-county team.

Now that the various selection committees have been chosen I ask them to get on with their task as early as possible so that our teams will take the field trained and perfectly fit and thus have a better chance of advancing in the competitions.

Finally, I thank the clubs and the delegates to the Board meetings for their wonderful co-operation during the year. I express my gratitude to the other officers of the Divisional Boards whose help during the year made my task as Chairman a pleasant one.

When discussing the Statement of Accounts for the year, exchanges at one stage became heated, and the Ballyduff delegate, Mr. Eamonn Cheasty, was warned by the Chairman against what he referred to as "a disruptive attitude."

Mr. Cheasty asked why payments of money to some clubs were 18 months overdue. The County Secretary, Mr. Declan Goode, said when he came into office in 1958 they had a gross income of £600. It was now £11,000. The working of the Association in the County was really a full-time job and he was only part-time.

Any payment outstanding would be paid immediately. Mr. Cheasty — There are plenty who would take the job part-time. Mr. Goode — Right Mr. Cheasty. Then I have no regrets.

Mr. J. Moloney (Chairman) — If you have come here trying to disrupt this convention you can go home again. Mr. Cheasty — We have the right to ask for our rights. The discussion then ended.

SECRETARY'S REPORT
When the Secretary's report had been adopted the Chairman paid tribute to Mr. Goode on his lengthy and detailed account of the County's activities during 1963. He had covered every aspect of the Association in the county, he said.

Mr. Moloney then declared that there would be no contest for the various posts, and all outgoing officers were returned unopposed.

MOTIONS
The first motion, in the name of the Abbeyside club, sought to have the county senior football team regraded to junior, but was decisively defeated.

Moving the motion, Mr. Seamus O'Brien said they were not pressing it very strongly, and more or less wanted the clubs to discuss it. They have been considering the record of the county's senior football teams over the past half century. They had made no progress, and the standard of football in the county today was not as high as in other counties. They could not hope to win an All-Ireland in the senior grade, and it might be best if they went junior for a few years at least. They believed they would have a great chance of winning a junior All-Ireland. Carlow and Fermagh, he added, had benefited greatly by regrading.

Mr. Liam Whelan (Kill) said it would be a bad move to go junior. They should stay as they were.

Mr. V. N. Donoghue (Lismore) said in 1936 the county was regraded junior in football and they had a most unfortunate experience by being defeated in the Munster final. The only football honours won by the county was the Provincial junior title in 1948, but that year they also had a senior team. The motion had nothing to do with it, and was only a defeatist attitude.

Mr. Jim Cullen (Ardmore) said the footballers in the county got very little and by going junior they would be cutting out another 20 players.

The Chairman, Mr. Moloney said it would be a very bad move to go junior. In Munster they could beat Clare, Tipp, and Limerick and could always give Cork a good challenge. He believed it would be very bad for the game in the county.

make reference to that statement when dealing with another motion that had been listed.

Mr. Jim Cullen said that people were going around boasting that they had attended the particular function which led to the suspension of a county player.

Mr. P. Flanagan (Tramore) said as long as there was a rule 27 they would have to have a Vigilance Committee.

The same club's motion that the foreign games rule be rescinded was not accepted by the Chairman. It was not the year for discussing it at Congress.

"DID ACT IMPARTIALLY"
Another Ballyduff motion asking that an investigation be held into the failure of the Vigilance Committee to report fully and impartially during 1963, was also ruled out of order by the Chairman.

In ruling so, Mr. Moloney said the Vigilance Committee was the preserver of the Chairman. No one knew who they were and they were trying to act to the best of their ability. Any names submitted to him had been dealt with according to rule.

Ballygunner Delegate: We should appoint a Vigilance Committee to look after the County. Chairman: If we had genuine Gaels we would have no need for this Committee.

Mr. Dick McAllister (Bricks) said: Why didn't the Vigilance Committee report every one that was at the function being referred to.

Mr. Cheasty: We do not think they carried out their duties impartially. I have no objection to the suspension itself as the rule was there and anyone that violated it knew the consequences. But everyone knows the Committee did not act impartially last year. It is futile trying to say they did.

The Chairman said the only ones that would know that the Vigilance Committee did not act impartially were the ones that were there themselves.

Mr. Cheasty: I do not mind the suspensions, but when members of the Vigilance Committee go to these places and see who were there and then do not want to see everyone that was there it is a definite reflection on their integrity.

Chairman: I am not accepting this motion as it is out of order.

NATIONAL LEAGUE VENUES
A Brickey motion: "That for home fixtures of National hurling league each visiting county team play on alternate visits in Western and Eastern Divisions" was passed unanimously. The rotation will start with the first round of the 1964-65 league at a Western venue, and a similar rule will govern the football league.

Mr. Nicholas McGrath (Bricks) said the motion was tabled in an attempt to get out of the rut they were always in at County Board fixtures when it came to voting on a venue. It would also ensure that the Western Division would get some hurling games, where they had not had one for a number of years. The young people who could not travel to matches would also given the opportunity of seeing the top stars in action. The present fixtures position was not good and this motion he said would overcome a lot of the trouble.

Mr. Seamus Power, seconding the motion, said there was a lot of merit in it. They would however, like to avoid selecting a venue that would cause loss of revenue to the Board.

A further Brickey motion asking that every official fixture under the jurisdiction of the Co. Board—all rounds and finals of the senior championships, the finals in all other grades, Sargent and Phelan Cup games (except finals) be played at the venue that is equi-distant to the participating sides was defeated by a substantial margin.

Speaking for the motion, Mr. Nicholas McGrath said it was another effort to ensure that games would be played at the most suitable venues.

Mr. Billy Jones (St. John's) said if the motion was passed it would mean that 10 out of 12 County finals would be played in Dungarvan. The present East-West arrangement was best. Where he asked would be the half-way marks for teams like Lismore, Talow and Cappoquin, if they were playing against Eastern teams.

Mr. Seamus Power said it was a very inequitable motion, and the practical effect of it would be that all Eastern teams in the senior football championship would be playing in Dungarvan, while Dungarvan themselves would have no chance of playing at home at all.

Tom Cunningham (Dungarvan): How does this effect teams agreeing on a venue? Chairman: It takes their right away.

FOURMILEWATER MOTION FAILS
A Fourmilewater motion that the senior hurling championship be played off in two Divisions led to a lengthy discussion and was only narrowly defeated by a vote of 85-74.

Mr. Liam Ryan (Fourmilewater) said the Chairman in his address had mentioned the poor standard of hurling in the West, and this motion was an effort to safeguard the game in that Division. He felt if the senior championship was broken up into two divisions like the Junior hurling it would help to keep alive the game in the West.

The reason for clubs seeking regrading he said was because they feared their fate in the senior grade. "What would happen hurling in Fourmilewater if we met Mount Sion in the opening round? This is the only hope to keep hurling alive in West Waterford," he said.

John Fraher (Cappoquin): Waterford hurling is at the cross roads, and now is the time to look into the matter. I think it is a very good thing to create competition in the West, and if we had that a few years ago we would not have had the regradings we are having this year.

Seamus Power: As much as we appreciate the plight of hurling in the West I must oppose this motion very strongly. Clubs in the West would only have to play two games and would then be in the county final.

Mr. Fraher: If this is carried we will have the same number of clubs in the West as last year plus Fourmilewater. The motion was put to the convention but was defeated by 11 votes.
