Conflicting Evidence in Court Case SEQUEL TO CAR ACCIDENT

IT was a typical road accident, with a strong conflict of evidence, remarked Judge Sean Mac D. Fawsitt, at Dungarvan Circuit Court on Wednesday, when giving a decree for £36-16-0, to Daniel Dineen, N.T., Glen, Modeligo, in his claim for negligence against Miss Mary Collender, Mogehe, Modeligo.

The claim arose out of an accident near Bohernawilling Bridge off the Clonmel-Youghal road, on a road to Cappoquin, in April last, when a car driven by the plaintiff and one driven by the defendant's sister, Miss Alice Collender, were in collision. Dineen sought a decree for £75, which the Justice amended to £48-16-0 during the hearing.

In evidence, the plaintiff said he was driving his Ford Anglia towards Cappoquin at 9.20 a.m., on the morning in question. Having crossed Bohernawilling Bridge, he saw a car coming from a Boreen on his right hand side. Just as he was passing the junction between the road and the boreen he saw the defendant's car coming on to the road. He thought it was stopping but then heard a bang and realised that his car had been hit. He kept going momentarily but then stopped and got out and examined his car. The back wing of the car had been damaged.

It was the defendant's sister Alice who was driving the car, he said, whilst the defendant herself was also in the car. After the accident they said they were very sorry and told him to bring his car to Ryans Garage, Clonmel, to have it repaired as they would get the repairs done cheapest there. They agreed to pay the cost and mentioned that they were to blame for the collision. He later brought the car to Sargent's garage in Cappoquin and got an estimate for the repairs. Mr. F. Morris, B.L., defending, asked him was it true that his car was completely on its incorrect side after the accident.

Witness replied that the right hand side of his car was a bit on its wrong side. He did say to the defendant later words that he might have been a bit in the wrong. Judge Fawsitt said he did not understand at all. One minute one of them was saying they would pay for it and the other was saying he was wrong.

In further cross-examination witness denied that he was disinclined to go for the guards. He was quite agreeable to send for the Guards at all times.

Mr. M. J. Sargent, Garage Proprietor, Cappoquin, said the plaintiff brought his car to his garage for repairs and they assessed the damage at £54.

Judge Fawsitt: I find that garage bills have become outlandish. It is alright for an assessor to agree on a figure but it all comes back to the customer eventually. This car had no serious damage and yet there is a bill for £54 for it. The plaintiff is seeking a decree for £75 and it is my duty to see that he is not given too much.

Miss Alice Collender said she was driving her sister's car that morning and was coming from the boreen to the Cappoquin road. Approaching the junction she slowed down and the front of her car did not emerge more than two feet on to the road. She stopped her car and lent out on the seat to see if there was any traffic coming. She saw Mr. Dineen's car coming and as he flashed by she saw and heard his car hit her's. He drove on for about four or five car lengths down the road.

To her knowledge he was on his incorrect side of the road and appeared to be travelling very fast. The accident would not have occurred if the plaintiff had been on his correct side of the road. Her sister said to her that she was at fault and she said: "oh I suppose I was." Her reason for saying that was because he was so much on his wrong side that she was confused, and believed for a moment that she was wrong.

Witness continued: "When my sister saw the true position of the cars she said to the plaintiff that it was he who was wrong and he said he was. I then suggested that we send for the guards and he didn't say yes or no. He agreed that each party pay their own damages, but two days later he informed us that he was not agreeable to that."

Replying to Mr. Michael Feehan, B.L. (for the plaintiff), witness said she did not sound the horn in her car as she approached the junction. She was not moving at all when the accident occurred.

Miss Mary Collender, the defendant, said she was with her sister in the car that morning. She remembered her sister driving towards her at the junction to see if there was any traffic coming. There car was stationary when the defendant's car flashed past them and struck their car. After the accident his car was extremely on its incorrect side. At first she was confused about the sense of direction and she thought for a moment

New Psychiatric Unit for Waterford

Waterford City is to have a new Psychiatric Unit, the first such unit of its kind in Ireland. It will be under the control of Dr. T. Lynch, R.M.S., St. Oliveran's, Waterford, and will provide a service to which people may come for treatment in the readily and curable stages of their mental illness. At Monday's meeting of Waterford Health Authority, Acting Secretary, Mr. F. Mongey read a letter from the Department of Health, stressing the necessity for this unit in Waterford, whilst Dr. Lynch presented the members with a concise report of the unit and how it would be run. The unit will be at Ardkreen Hospital.

WHIST DRIVE

A Whist Drive will be held in the C.Y.M.S. Club, Dungarvan, on tonight (Friday), the proceeds of which will go to the Lourdes Invalid Fund. Once again we appeal with confidence to the general public to support this drive, which is for so worthy a cause.

It was they who were in the wrong. On looking at the positions of both cars after the accident it was the plaintiff who was in the wrong. Their car was hardly on the road at all, and when she accused him of being at fault he agreed he was.

Judge Fawsitt described it as a case with conflicting evidence. It was the duty of anyone coming from a boreen on to a public road to take great care. Whilst he agreed that travellers on both roads would be liable to exercise care the greatest duty was on those using the boreen. He did not think the defendant's car stopped at the junction, and the plaintiff probably took it for granted that they would stop. He should not have taken it for granted however and he could not dissolve him from all the blame either. He found that the defendant was responsible and the plaintiff 2 responsible, and gave a decree for £36-16-0.

Council Adjourns Rate Estimate

'EVIL DAY' NOW MARCH 3rd

A SECOND MEETING IS NECESSARY BEFORE THE RATEPAYERS OF CO. WATERFORD KNOW THEIR FATE FOR THE COMING YEAR. ON FRIDAY LAST WHEN THE COUNCIL MEMBERS HEARD THEIR ANNUAL ESTIMATES MEETING NO RATE WAS STRUCK, AND IT WAS DECIDED TO RECONVENE AGAIN ON MARCH 3. A DEPUTATION OF N.F.A. REPRESENTATIVES ADDRESSED THE MEETING, AND WARNED THAT IF THE PRESENT TREND CONTINUED THE COUNTRY WOULD BE FACING A REVOLUTION.

At the outset, the Chairman, Colr. Chaffey Curran, said this meeting was one of the most important of the year. This year they were faced with a substantial increase in the bulk of which was either obligatory or mandatory, and outside the control of the members. The Health charges were mandatory and they were also being confronted with the 9th round wage increase.

They had a deputation from the N.F.A. at the meeting he said, but that was nothing new to them as they received deputations at practically every meeting. Deputations were snowballing on them and they were inundated with them. They were mostly demands from the public and if they were to grant them the increase on the rates would be in the region of 10/- instead of 3/9. These were hard facts and he wanted the public to know them. The people in the rural areas were forever looking for services and there was a complete lack of co-operation from those seeking rural water supplies. The present rate is 48/6 in the £, while the Co. Manager's demand is for a rate of 52/3d, an increase of 3/9.

Speaking on behalf of the N.F.A. deputation, Mr. D. J. Coughlan said the Councillors might ask why they continued to attend the Annual Estimates meeting, but it was only an indication of how serious the position was. They were again faced with a substantial rate increase together with the 9th round wage increase which would also affect them. The food stuffs they produced, however, increased very little, and in fact they were living on a dwindling income. The Health Services were national policy and their implementation should be nation-wide. The Health cost was too heavy on the small farmer or the farmer with bad land, and they believed it should not be financed as at present.

The Health Grant should be a 100% one from Dublin. "As the largest body of ratepayers in the country we pay most of the health charges but are getting nothing in return for it," he continued. "We are paying a lot of the cost of the Health Services while we object to the amount of money being spent on main roads. They are costing £80,000 a year and if the Government require a certain standard for the main roads they should be prepared to pay for them. If these two items were national charges we would have no objections to paying rates."

Mr. Coughlan said they were financing schemes for people who were better off than themselves. They were continually telling the Council that there would be a revolution if it continued. That came to pass this year in Kilkenny when they refused to pay the rates and other counties were clamouring to do the same. It only remained to put on a big shift to have something done. They were neglecting the one big instrument, they had—the General Council of Co. Councils. No Government could ignore the united voice of the Co. Councils and they (Co. Council) were falling down in that respect. He would ask them to rectify that.

Late Patrick J. McGrath

The death of Mr. P. J. McGrath, in New York, which occurred recently, has occasioned very deep and sincere regret in his native Dungarvan. We reproduce the following appreciation from the "The Record," Official Publication of Local 1-2, Utility Workers Union of America, AFC-CIO—

Paddy, as he was known to everybody, was one of the founders and organisers of the trade union movement on the Edison properties. He was originally in the Meter Bureau, in which he became a representative on the Council of the Employees Representation Plan. Following the passage of the Wagner Act and the establishment of the IBEW on the properties, Paddy became Business Manager of Local B-829 of the IBEW. When the members withdrew from the IBEW to form the independent union, the Brotherhood of Consolidated Edison Employees, Paddy became Business Manager of Local 1 and a member of the Joint Council.

After the merger with Local 2 and affiliation with the CIO, Paddy was Co-Business Manager of Local 1-2 until 1946, when he became Business Manager of Local 1-2 and Chairman of the Joint Council, and served in that capacity until 1958.

During the same period, he was also a member of the Executive Board of the UJWA and its Regional Director for Region 1.

Paddy contributed a great deal toward the establishment of the trade-union movement on Edison properties and will be remembered for his long and faithful services by everyone who knew him.

On behalf of the officers and members of Local 1-2, we wish to extend our sincere condolences to his widow and family, in their hour of bereavement.

LATE NICHOLAS ENGLISH

The death took place on Saturday, 22nd February, at Ardkeen General Hospital, Waterford, of Mr. Nicholas English, after a period of illness. Deceased was a most unassuming person. He had worked on the railway prior to his retirement. Sincere sympathy is extended to his sisters and relatives.

The removal took place on Sunday evening to Garranbane Church followed by a large and representative cortege and were blessed and received by Very Rev. J. Roche, P.P., assisted by Rev. Mr. Walsh, C.C. Requiem Mass was offered on Monday morning for the happy repose of his soul and the interment took place in the adjoining family plot. Very Rev. J. Roche, P.P., officiated at the graveside. Another large concourse was present.

The chief mourners were: Mrs. Annie Power, Colough Rd., Abbeyside; Rev. Mother Anastasia, Johannesburg, South Africa; Mrs. M. Smythe, Birmingham (sisters); Fr. M. Flynn, O.S.A., Nigeria; Flynn family, Ring; Mullaney family, Clones; Colbert family, Stradbally (relatives). (J. Kiely and Sons had charge of arrangements).

report. That figure is misleading. Colr. D. Madden: The N.F.A. up the wrong tree by coming here. They are backing in a straight jacket and we here. It is the Government that must be approached. We are in a straight jacket and we cannot get out of it.

Colr. Milo Galgey said they appreciated a lot of what the Deputation had said but he would not like them to go away with the idea that the Council did nothing about the Health Act. They sought to have the present grant of 50% increased to 75% and also tried to get an increased road grant.

Colr. Norman Walsh: What percentage does the N.F.A. maintain it pays of the rates.

Mr. Coughlan: 65 to 70%. Colr. N. Walsh said the N.F.A. was a representative and responsible body and he felt there was a lot to what they said about the Health and Road Charges. The Council had done its best about economic administration but their best efforts had not borne fruit. That was a frank admission and they would have to take drastic steps to change the finances of local administration.

Mr. Coughlan: The levy on the farm buildings is not mentioned by the Manager in his report.

Colr. Wm. Dower said the N.F.A.'s statement about making the Health charges a national one was very sound. They in Co. Waterford should get some preferential treatment because of being tied up with Waterford City. The agricultural community had got no increases but all other sections had. The rates had gone beyond the bounds of justice and were an injustice to the farming community.

Mr. Coughlan said, they believed the only charges that should be truly national ones were Health and Roads. The Chairman (Colr. Curran) said that between them these items came to 24/- or 25/- alone in the rates.

Colr. H. R. Dowd said he believed the deputation that had come to the meeting was speaking only on behalf of the big farmer, and not the small one. No small farmer would agree to a reduction in the rates if it meant a reduction in the services.

Colr. William Foran said they should give the Deputation all the credit that was due to them. They had painted a picture of real facts and they should congratulate themselves for having a deputation like them in the county, capable of coming to the estimates meeting and giving a constructive picture of the whole position.

Colr. Galgey: Let them take the stick in their own hands. Let the people starve and the Government will take action. Mr. Cheasty then thanked the Council members for giving them the opportunity of putting their points before them. The Councillors then buckled into the task of striking a rate and consideration was given to the lengthy and detailed report of County Manager, Mr. S. J. Moynihan.

In his report, Mr. Moynihan said the estimates as presented provided for expenditure from revenue totalling £1,265,469. The demands from the statutory bodies were: Health Services, £305,449 (an increase of £27,737 over the current year); Public Assistance, £15,505 (a decrease of £12,579); Vocational Education Committee, £13,671 (current year £13,647); Co. Committee of Agriculture £11,959 (an increase of £1,423). Receipts, including amounts recoverable from Dungarvan Urban Council are estimated at £534,392.

Referring to the road services he said the figure for main roads the coming year was £80,698, which was an increase of £18,635 on the current figure. The estimated cost of County roads is £112,179, an increase of £7,599.

The estimated rate for Health Services, he said, was 21/5.37 in the £, or an increase of 2/0.83 over the current year. The rate for housing was 3/9.69, an increase of 2/3d.

Referring to the Industrial Consultants employed by the Council for the purpose of studying the organisation and operation of all branches of the Council's services, and to submit their report thereon with recommendations for improved efficiency and economy the Manager stated they had been engaged on their investigations since December 2nd last and he anticipated they would complete their assignment by the end of the current financial year.

He stated that he wished to remind the Councillors of the importance of striking an adequate rate and he recommended that as a minimum the Council should strike a rate in accordance with the estimate presented—a rate of 52/3d, or an increase of 3/9 approximately over the current year. The members then proceeded to go through the items in the estimate but finally agreed on the proposal of Colr. W. Dower seconded by Colr. C. Curran, to adjourn until March 3, further consideration of the estimate to enable the members to study the figures more carefully. Colr. Dower's proposal was unanimously agreed to.

Grange Woman's Claim Dismissed

A claim brought by Miss Hannah Fleming, Grange, Co. Waterford, for £113.3.0 against Michael J. Hayden, High St. Graignamagh, Co. Kilkenny, arising out of an accident on the main Youngal-Dungarvan road on December 23rd last, in which a shorthorn cow owned by the plaintiff was killed following a collision with a car driven by the defendant, was dismissed by Judge S. Mac D. Fawsitt at Dungarvan Circuit Court on Tuesday. He allowed a stay in the event of an appeal.

Mr. Jack Fleming, brother of the plaintiff said on the morning in question he was leaving the cows out to pasture which was about a mile away. To do so he would have to drive them out on the public road. Before driving them out he looked up the road which at this point was a straight stretch for nearly 400 yards. He saw nothing on the road. He then drove out two cattle on the road and went back to collect the other three to do like wise. Whilst he was gone back for the other three, a car struck one of the cattle that was already on the road and killed her. When he went out the cow was lying on the middle of the road. It was a shorthorn cow that was due to calf on January 28th and he would value her at £80. His brother, he said, replaced the cow with a three-year-old Friesian which cost £65.

Mr. Morris, B.L. (defending) — I put it to you that you never looked out on the road. Witness — I did. Serjt. J. Treacy said he visited the scene of the accident. The road at the Youghal side of the junction was under repair and there were two temporary signs erected.

Mr. Thomas Fleming, brother of the plaintiff said he would value the cow at between £70 and £80 whilst her calf would be worth another £20. He replaced her with a Friesian. After the accident he spoke to the driver of the car and said to him "what about the cow" and he replied "what about the car." The defendant was then driving away without giving his name when he called him back.

Mr. Morris (defending) — I must suggest to you that this is all pre-arranged. Witness — It is all the truth. Mr. Morris said there was no evidence of negligence, speed or manner of driving by his client and he would ask the Justice to dismiss the claim.

Judge Fawsitt said there was a big time lag between the time when Mr. John Fleming put the first two cattle out on the road and the time he went to put out the other three. Anyone putting cattle out on the road should have someone on the roadside on the look-out for traffic. He was satisfied that the plaintiff had not established a claim for negligence and he would have to dismiss it.

By NESBIT WADDINGTON

There can be little doubt that International Racing stimulated by the first running of the Irish Sweeps Derby in 1962 reached a new peak of success and promise for the future, in 1963.

The Epsom Derby which really starts the ball of international competition rolling, was won in decisive fashion by a colt, Relko, owned, bred and trained in France with an English horse, Mercant Venmeadan, p. Thomas Butler; Joseph Keating, Comeragh Cross, p. Richard McGuire.

The manner of his victory left no doubt whatsoever that Relko was the best colt in the field that day, and those last two words are important, because to the delight of everyone interested in the progress of international racing, the owner and trainer of Relko decided to send him over to compete in the Irish Sweeps Derby where he was due again to meet Ragusa and Tarqogan, the well-fancied English colt Tiger, who had not run at Epsom, and the Aga Khan's good French filly, Cervinia.

Of course everyone now knows that at The Curragh, Relko went lame on the way to the Post and had to be withdrawn, a tragic event which all regretted a great deal, because it largely spoiled the race as an international test, and also, of course, because the enterprise of the French owner and trainer was thus so sadly disappointed.

In Relko's absence Ragusa won easily, as might have been anticipated, and at the time it certainly seemed fortunate for Ragusa that Relko was unable to compete since Relko had finished over nine lengths in front of him at Epsom.

In view, however, of the subsequent performances of Ragusa it will remain forever a matter of controversy as to what would have happened had Relko been fit to start, since it is now clear that Ragusa had made very much more than normal improvement between Epsom and the Irish Sweeps Derby.

The sporting owner of Ragusa has already declared his intention of keeping Ragusa in training and racing in 1964 in the international races available to him, and as it seems also possible that Relko will remain in training, they may meet again as four-year-olds in a race which, I for one, will certainly make sure of seeing.

The French Derby is of great value and interest in clarifying the best French three-year-olds' form, while the next international race after the Irish Sweeps Derby is the King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Stakes run at Ascot in mid-July over one and a half miles. Here the three-year-olds and older horses can meet. But before this in Epsom week, for the first time in 1963, the Coronation Cup became a race of a value more nearly equal to its prestige and attracted an international field of older horses. It seems very possible that to the accepted list of really international races, must in future be added the Coronation Cup at Epsom and the Champion Stakes at Newmarket. Hethersett, the favourite for the 1962 Epsom Derby when he fell, and subsequent easy St. Leger winner, Exbury, Picford and Monade from France and Gay Challenger from Ireland, were among the Coronation Cup field and it was in this race that by his very easy victory Exbury showed to international race students that he was possibly the best four-year-old colt in Europe and his subsequent win in the Arc de Triomphe finally proved it.

The King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Stakes confirmed for all to see the tremendous improvement Ragusa had made since the Epsom Derby. Tarqogan who had been a neck behind him at Epsom was now third, and in the field were the two good French horses, Nyeros and Soltikoff, who were both unplaced.

Nyeros has since won the valuable Prix de Conseil Municipal and Soltikoff the big Italian race, the Gran Premio Del Jockey Club at Milan. Nyeros also with Misti represented France in the Washington international.

So the pattern of international form was now really taking shape and an international handicapper would certainly have enough data to guide him in framing at least a European free handicap for three-year-olds and upwards over 1 1/2 miles and he could probably include one or two of the leading American horses as well. I would love to see the excellent and experienced Irish Turf Club handicapper have a shot at producing such a handicap.

What a blessing it would be to racing journalists hard pressed for subjects to discuss during the long winter months!

This is the real value of international races. For when there are sufficient races in which the best horses from all racing countries take part so that the form can be checked between these races and the other top races in the various countries, then the Breeder, who must more and more become internationally minded if he is to succeed in breeding top class horses, can really assess which are the best colts to use as stallions.

The Prix d'I Arc de Triomphe, as I have mentioned before, confirmed that Exbury was the best four-year-old in Europe but strange to say there were no foreign competitors for this extremely valuable race and so it added little to the existing knowledge of international form. However, the failure of Relko, after a brilliant victory in the French St. Leger, to finish in the first three, left the interesting question as to whether he had gone over the top, hadaday off, or was not so good as had been thought.

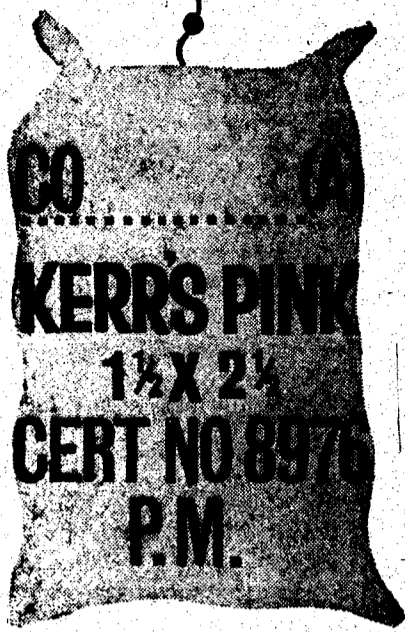

Unfortunately, although an original acceptor, Relko was not sent over for the Washington International, so these questions must wait until 1964 for an answer. However, the forward running of Misti who had run well in previous Arc de Triomphe, and also competed in America, provided a very useful tie up with the form of earlier years.

YOUGHAL NOTES

HIGHWATER WEEK ENDING 7th MARCH

Table with 2 columns: Morning, Evening. Rows for Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday.

SALMON FISHING

Practically all last week Youghal was lashed with high southerly winds and rough seas which prevented many boats especially the outer ones from fishing on several days.

The catches last week were amongst some six boats and was fairly good, while others are having a rather lean time.

CARNIVAL PLANS

This summer Youghal is to have a Carnival on a big scale possibly for a period of two weeks. Those responsible for the arrangements are the newly formed Boat Club, who have invited members of the Urban Council and other sporting clubs to a special meeting to discuss the project.

YOUGHAL WATERWORKS SCHEME

The contract for the new waterworks scheme for the town of Youghal has been placed and it is anticipated that work will commence on April 1st next.

ZEBRA CROSSING AT SOUTH ABBEY

At a recent Council meeting, Cllr. Hickey asked what had been done in regard to the laying of the zebra crossing at South Abbey, near the Presentation Convent Schools.

UNSIGHTLY AND DANGEROUS FOOTPATHS

At a recent Urban Council meeting the Chairman, Mr. Good complained of the condition of some footpaths in the town, and rightly so.

YOUGHAL PROMENADE

At a recent meeting of the Cork Co. Council, plans for a coast erosion scheme for Youghal were examined and passed for submission to the Minister for Local Government for approval to cost approximately £171,025.

SCOUTING COURSE

Recently, an interdiocesan course for Scout Patrol Leaders was held at Youghal Headquarters of the 35th Cork Group (Cloyne Diocese). Those participating were 30 members of the local group, the 25th Cork (Cobh), and the 12th Cork (St. Patrick's).

TIDY TOWN

Some months ago the Urban Council went to the expense of providing litter bins throughout the main streets and it is regrettable to say that they are very rarely used.

Threatened To 'Do In' let's go Garda

Prison Sentence On Dungarvan Youth Stands

EVIDENCE that a Dungarvan man presently serving a prison sentence had threatened "to do in and kill" a member of the Garda, was given at Tuesday's Circuit Court sessions in Dungarvan, when Michael McCarthy, Cathal Brugha Place, appealed against convictions imposed on him by District Justice Skinner at Lismore Court in January arising out of incidents on the night of December 26th and the early hours of December 27th.

McCarthy was convicted of assaulting Garda Peter Feeney on the 26th and 27th December and also with causing malicious damage to the value of £28-0 to a window the property of Mrs. Hannah Cooney, and sentenced to six months imprisonment on each of the assault charges and one month on the malicious damage charge, the sentences to run concurrently.

Dr. D. R. Counahan, for the Attorney General, said on the night of December 26th, the appellant, Michael McCarthy, and his brother John, were in a public house in Dungarvan.

Repeating to Dr. Counahan, witness said he remembered being in Cooney's public house and he was fairly drunk. Every thing was quiet until a man called Toddy Fitzgerald tried to throw them out.

BEGAN FIGHTING

Mrs. Hannah Cooney, publican, The Square, said on the night of Dec. 26th, the McCarthy brothers were in her licensed premises. At closing time she started to clear the place and the brothers began fighting amongst themselves.

Cross-examined by the appellant witness said a Mr. Toddy Fitzgerald did not start the fight. It was they who broke the window.

Garda Peter Feeney said he was on duty at 11.10 p.m., at the Town Hall on December 26th. The cash box was open and he saw John and Michael McCarthy coming in. John handed a penny to the cashier.

Witness said it was he who broke the windows and not his brother.

Dr. Counahan—I put it to you that your brother broke one of the windows with a bottle he took with him from the pub.

Witness again insisted that it was he himself that broke the windows. At the Hall he saw Michael McCarthy and caught a hold of him. His brother tried to break it up.

To Judge Fawcitt, he said the District Justice gave him 3 months for his part in the incidents. He and his brother were in prison since.

Witness absent. The appellant then called Mr. Toddy Fitzgerald and Dr. Counahan said he had been summoned by the State to attend as a witness.

When Mr. Fitzgerald was called however, he was not present in Court and Judge Fawcitt immediately ordered his arrest.

Mr. Christopher O'Brien was then called as a defence witness. He said he was at the Town Hall entrance on the night of Dec. 26th and saw John McCarthy throw off his coat and fight with Garda Feeney. Michael McCarthy came between them but he did not see him strike the Garda.

The McCarthy's then ran up the stairs to the dance.

ADJOURNED. Because of Mr. Fitzgerald's absence the case was adjourned until after lunch. It resumed with Mr. Thomas (Toddy) Fitzgerald in the witness box and he told the Judge he was working that morning and could not attend. In evidence he said he threw the appellant's brother out of the pub when he had been looking for trouble. When he got them out on the street the glass came in on top of him. The appellant did not hit him in the pub.

To Dr. Counahan, he said he heard Mrs. Cooney telling them (McCarthy's) to leave. When John tried to come back he (witness) put him out again. When he and his brother were outside they broke the glass windows.

Judge Fawcitt said he had heard all the evidence and he was satisfied they behaved in outrageous fashion. They were drinking all evening, and one of them had to be put out of the pub, although the other seemed to have left peacefully enough. He was not satisfied on the evidence before him that the accused broke the windows and he would give him the benefit of the doubt in that. He was finding him guilty on the two assault charges on Garda Feeney.

PREVIOUS CONVICTIONS

Sgt. J. Browne then gave a list of previous convictions against the appellant. In 1956 he was convicted of house-breaking in 1958 convicted on 7 charges of larceny; in '59 convicted on larceny and house-breaking charges. In '62 he was given 12 months detention for assaulting an old man. He appealed to the Circuit Court and that sentence was altered to one of 12 months imprisonment, not to be imposed if he was of good behaviour for 2 years. In '63 he got 6 months hard labour for assaulting a garda and was in custody since his arrest on December 27th last.

'TEMPTED TO INCREASE SENTENCE'

Judge Wawcitt said: "I see no reason to change the decision of the District Justice. I gave you an opportunity before, but you did not avail of it. I am now tempted to increase the sentence. Very well, you may be removed."

LATE MICHAEL CONNERY

Ballylemon, Cappagh

The unexpected death occurred at his residence on Sunday evening, February 23, of Mr. Michael Connery, Ballylemon. He had attended his Sunday Mass that morning at Dungarvan and his passing came as a great shock not only to his relatives but also to his very many friends and comrades in many parts of Ireland in the traditional music sphere.

His removal took place on Monday evening to Ballinameela Church followed by a huge cortege consisting of members of Comhaltas Ceoltoiri na hEireann from many parts. A guard of honour was formed by his fellow members who also acted as pallbearers.

Rev. T. Nugent, C.C., assisted by Rev. P. Riordan (S.J.B.) received the remains at the Church gates. Following Requiem Masses on Tuesday morning the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery. Rev. T. Nugent, C.C., assisted by Rev. E. Robin, C.C., Aglish and Rev. P. Riordan, S.J.B., imparted the final absolution and recited a decade of the Rosary in Irish at the graveside.

The chief mourners were: Mrs. B. Connery (widow); Ml. Connery (son); Mrs. W. Mulcahy, Crough (sister).

(J. Kiely and Sons had charge of funeral arrangements).

N.F.A. NEWS GRASSLAND PRODUCTION

Average Irish grassland at present maintains one livestock unit per 2.5 acres approximately, and yet carrying capacity of 1.7 acres per livestock unit is an attainable target over an eight year period.

Up to two million acres of grassland art producing far below optimum due to heavy soil and poor drainage. This grassland can be considerably improved, and the carrying increased through mole drainage at a depth of about 2 ft. coupled with satisfactory main catchment drains.

The expected increase in stock numbers would require an extra 800,000 acres of conserved grass if they are to be adequately fed over the winter months and it is suggested that an all-out drive to take silage universal should be undertaken.

The N.F.A. recommend that a grant of £1-10-0 per ton capacity would be a good investment for the State and in addition a grant of 10/- per ton of silage, for a period of three years, on the production of a certificate signed by the Advisory Officer.

Well designed, modern housing and handling facilities are essential if we are to achieve our objective of low cost, high output grass farming.

Details of recommended grants and loans for this purpose are given in the pages mentioned above.

GRAIN

Realistic grants for dryers and grain stores on the farm should be given forthwith on an adequate scale.

From now on the Department of Agriculture's policy should be that any further expansion of grain storage that may be found necessary should as far as possible be located on farms.

The tight control by the Millers of the wheat marketing system must be broken up so that anyone with adequate drying and storage facilities can buy wheat and be sure of being able to sell it provided it passes the prescribed tests for quality.

Improvements in present set-up could be effected in the following seven ways: (a) replacing the requirement of 75% Irish wheat in the grist by a figure based upon the quality of the crop; (b) the establishment and administration of official standards of acceptance based on real values; (c) decentralisation of the marketing system; (d) adequate research into better varieties for e.g. baking quality, early ripening and resistance to sprouting; (e) research into milling technique which has undergone little adaptation from the days when all the wheat was imported; (f) research into baking technique, including the quality of the yeast used; (g) research into methods of testing wheat so as to distinguish the good from the unsuitable at the time of purchase and to enable different qualities to be stored, and properly segregated at the time of storage.

The N.F.A. proposes that a levy should be imposed on imports of wheat for milling. If this is done flour millers will have further incentive to use Irish grown wheat to the maximum.

In relation to feeding barley small farmers in northern and western counties cannot take proper advantage of the Grain Board's flat rate transport until their feeding stuffs are compounded locally. Incentives should be given to help start co-operative compounding establishments in these areas.

The N.F.A. also proposes that the Grain Board be given the duty of ascertaining the extent of the need for imports of oats at any time, of importing the oats and of supervising the subsequent distribution.

Irish malting barley and the products manufactured from it have a very good reputation which we believe is not being exploited to the full benefit of the community.

The following four main reasons are given to explain why increased prices for wheat and feeding barley are needed—

Increased prices for wheat and feeding barley: (a) to meet the increased costs which farmers will be faced with following the wages agreement for other sectors of the community. A price increase of 12% will be needed to increase crop rates with the wages agreement. This amounts to 9/- for wheat on the basic price of 94/6 per barrel, and 4/6 for barley on the basic price of 38/- per barrel.

(b) To go some way to remunerate farmers for the share they have contributed to the increasing national productivity. It has been noted that in recent years there have been several increases in the price of flour and bread to cover increased costs of milling and baking, whereas the price of wheat to the farmer is lower than it was ten years ago, and increasing yields have done more than keep the gross return per acre constant.

An increase in the price of wheat: (c) to restore the acreage grown to an area which will produce at least sufficient wheat to provide 75% of the grist together with some surplus so as to allow for quality selection in years when some of the wheat is of borderline quality.

(d) To offset the price rise in home produced oats. If the acreage under barley is increased to the point where imports of oats are reduced, the price of home produced oats will rise. This rise will be a charge on farmers and should be returned to farmers as a higher price for wheat.

An increase in the price of feeding barley: (e) To increase the production of feeding barley so as to bridge the gap of 225,000 tons in our coarse grain requirements.

(f) To reduce the need for foreign exchange by £4.5 million.

(g) To increase barley production so as to be ready to take advantage of the increased outlets which we may expect in the E.E.C.

(h) So that by a gradual process we may reach E.E.C. prices by 1970.

POTATOES

Lack of dissemination of general information to producers by this body (i.e. Potato Marketing Company) coupled with the absence of adequate farmers' representatives appointed by farmers on the Board of Directors and the Company's performance rating to-date, have resulted in a complete loss of producer confidence in the Company.

Recommendations: (a) A reconstituted Potato Marketing Company in accordance with our policy on Marketing Boards.

(b) The Board must be given authority to intervene on the home market and buy potatoes at an intervention price which will prevent disastrous price falls on the home ware market.

(c) An intensified research programme.

(d) A vigorous orderly and intensive development of the early potato trade.

(e) Adequate grants for the erection or construction of potato storage facilities must be made available.

HORTICULTURE

Horticultural crops contribute less than 2% of the total output from Irish farm land.

Expansion of horticultural production in the future is desirable because it involves a labour intensive use of land, it offers scope for improvement of incomes on small farms and for employment of more manpower in rural areas.

The N.F.A. recommends development in the production of (a) mushrooms; (b) vegetable production for the Irish Sugar Company; (c) soft fruits in areas such as Co. Wexford.

Irish apple imports at present total about £1m. These could be produced at home in the form of high quality dessert apples. There is also scope for expansion in the acreage of cooking apples.

Irish climate and our freedom from bulb and worm and other soil pests provide us with opportunities of entering the world market which is now considerable.

The Horticultural Section of the Department of Agriculture should stimulate the development of a prosperous export horticultural industry. Because of its importance as an employer of labour and because of the high cash output per acre obtained, there should be strategic use of grants to encourage production. These should be at least at the same level as grants to encourage production. These should be at least at the same level as grants made available to growers in Britain and other European countries.

We should endeavour to grow at home as much as possible of the present £6m. in imports of horticultural crops.

QUESTION—I have a stubble field which is very full of scutch in places. As I want to sow another cereal crop this year, how can I get rid of this weed now?

ANSWER—Very little eradication of scutch can be obtained at this time of the year, but good ploughing is beneficial. Rotary cultivation of the growing scutch on a number of occasions while following the field will give best results, followed by sowing a permanent grass mixture. Spraying with Dowpon may be practised but you cannot sow another crop in the treated ground for about six months.

Q—My herd of cows are single suckled feeding on silage at present. I want to feed hay and meal soon when the silage is finished; what ration do you advise?

A—If the quality of your hay is good I would suggest you feed 14 lbs. hay with concentrates. The latter could consist of 3 1/2 lbs. barley meal and 1 lb. per head of high protein food such as deoercented ground nut crke. You should add 1 lb. of high grade minerals to each cwt. of mixture. This may prove expensive and I would strongly advise trying to make sufficient silage this coming season to feed to the cows for next winter and spring.

Q—I intend this season to give a firmer footing for the grow some vegetables for processing. Can you give me some advice on these matters?

A—Provided the soil is suitable for the vegetable crops you intend to grow, the care and attention given during the preparation of the ground, sowing and early growth are of the utmost importance and will be reflected in the financial returns. A new range of fertilisers has recently been introduced especially for commercial vegetables and I suggest you contact your local merchant for a leaflet.

Q—For a number of years now I have grown marrow stem Kale for feeding to cows during the winter. I cut and cart this food each day which I find very troublesome. Can you advise any easier way or should I grow some other crop?

A—I certainly agree that your way of handling Kale is most laborious. I would suggest you try strip grazing if your land is not too soft during the winter months. Marrow-stem Kale should be fed before severe frosts occur, while Thousand-head or Hungry Gap will be more resistant. If your land does not suit strip grazing of kale should be fed before severe frosts occur while Thousand-head or Hungry Gap will be seeding with Kale without ploughing. This naturally will give a firmer footing for the stock when grazing the Kale in the winter.

A short time after Hitler annexed Austria, a party of refugees from that country arrived in Ardmore, where they were accommodated for a period. Some of them worked for local farmers and they became very popular in the area.

Recently, your correspondent, who interviewed them at the time, came on an old notebook which contained some details of the interview.

All had been expelled from Austria because they were either Jews or of Jewish descent, and on leaving their native land were each given 80 marks.

The spokesman for the party was Enri Strunz and others who contributed at the interview were Kurt Adler, Friedrich Hirsch, Paul Wessely and M. Beisser. Some of the refugees were Catholics.

There was an electricity failure in the Aglish area on Monday morning last. It is believed to be caused by a swan which collided with the cable.

DEATH OF MR. M. FEENEY

We regret to record the death of Mr. Michael Feeney, Ballyheaphy, Araglen, which had occurred at a Waterford Hospital last week, following a lengthy illness and in the fullness of years. A member of a widely esteemed family, he was a well known farmer and was held in high esteem by all who knew him. He was father of Mrs. Michael Goulding, Ballymoate, Tallow, to whom as well as to his widow, sons and relatives, much sympathy is extended.

The remains, accompanied by a large cortege, were removed to St. Michael's Church, Ballyduff. Requiem High Mass was celebrated on Thursday morning, February 20th, for the repose of his soul and the funeral took place to St. Michael's Cemetery, Ballyduff, on the same afternoon.

TALLOW IRON MINES

A recent suggestion by Very Rev. Canon T. B. Walsh, P.P., St. Mary's, Clonmel, to Mr. Jack Lynch, Minister for Industry and Commerce, that the former Iron Mines at Tallow should be surveyed with a view to having them worked, is to be commended. Mr. Lynch promised to have a survey carried out. The meeting between Mr. Lynch and Fr. Walsh (who is a native of Tallow) took place at the Dinner and Social of Clonmel Chamber of Commerce. There is no doubt but that iron was mined at Tallow by Lord Boyle, 1st Earl of Cork, who, at that time, owned Lismore Castle and the adjoining Raleigh Estates, which comprised Tallow, Cappoquin and Lismore. The old smelting works at Forge Lane, Tallow, can still be pointed out. Let us hope the suggestion of Fr. Walsh will be put into effect as soon as possible.

Officers chosen for the ensuing twelve months were: President, Mrs. P. O'Reilly; Vice-President, Miss K. Mulcahy; Hon. Treasurer, Mrs. N. Joy; Hon. Secretary, Miss M. D'Arcy, N.T.; International Officers: Mrs. Sean Ormond; Treasurers, Miss N. Whelan; An Griannan Representative, Mrs. M. Murphy; Committee: Mrs. J. O'Neill, Mrs. M. Whelan, Miss M. Aherne, Mrs. P. Tobin, Mrs. E. Bourke.

The meeting decided to enter a team for the Eleanor Gibson Trophy, which this year is for choral verse speaking.

Sponsored by the local Macra na Feirme was the Question Time held at the Rainbow Hall recently, in which the Guild had a team, and estimable Miss Nuala Murphy thereof is to be congratulated on being individual winner on the occasion.

Hon. Treasurer of Waterford Co., Board, for approximately three decades of years was Mr. Frank Drohan, P.C., Carrigeon, Kilmacthomas, who has functioned as groundsman for the Ballyduff-Newton G.A.A. Club since the turn of the century, and who has just relinquished his masterly management of the grounds. Friend Frank was a hurler and footballer of merit in his heyday; he has refereed many matches in both codes, not only in his native county, but in Ballykinlar as well—the while he was "held in durance vile" there during the fight for freedom. His troops and legions of friends up and down the Decies, and beyond its confines, will now unite in warmly wishing the hale and hearty veteran Gael good length of years of happiness and contentment in retirement from further physical activity on the progressive Ballyduff and Newtown Club's arena of action.

A Banner House in the Rainbow Hall, Kilmacthomas, gave a big hand to the local Comhaltas Ceoltoiri Club on the grand variety concert contributed by the gifted group on the first night of this week.

At the District Hospital, Dungarvan, on Friday of yesterday, the Great Call was answered by Miss Ellen Hunt, of Knockaturney, Kilmacthomas, a neighbour who was blessed with a kind and gentle manner, and sympathy in full measure goes forth to her brothers and relatives in their bereavement and loss.

Subsequent to the celebration of the 11 o'clock Mass in Clonlea-Power Parish Church, on Sunday, the remains, which had lain overnight in the sacred edifice, were conveyed to the family burial place in the adjoining cemetery, where interment was made in the presence of a large concourse of parishioners. Rev. Fr. O'Brien, C.C., Rathgormack, gave the closing absolution at the graveside. Ar a h-anam, a Iosa Dilis, dean trocaire.

WATERFORD MAN CHAIRMAN OF TOURIST BOARD

At the first working meeting of the S.E. Regional Tourist Board, the following Directors were present: Messrs. D. Burke, Clonmel; L. Leonard, Tipperary; M. V. Hadden, Carlow; M. Goreney, do.; A. Minahan, New Ross; P. D. Fitzpatrick, Wexford; P. Teehan, Kilkenny; M. Hayden, do.; C. Curran, Clashmore; P. Breen, Waterford, and K. O'Doherty (Bord Failte).

On the proposition of Mr. Burke, seconded by Mr. Goreney, Mr. Breen was elected Chairman of the Board of Directors. Mr. L. Kelly (M/s. W. A. Deevy, Chartered Accountants, Waterford) was appointed to act as Secretary (pro term).

Many matters concerning the promotion of Tourism in the region were discussed.

LEAGUE HOPES WILL STAND OR FALL ON SUNDAY

Now that they have successfully overcome Carlow's challenge, Waterford's National hurling league game with Wexford at Walsh Park on Sunday next automatically assumes an even greater degree of importance. Defeat will spell "finis" to their hopes of a trip to the U.S. next October but should they account for the Slaneysiders they will have taken a major step towards qualifying for one of the semi-final places.

It must also be a source of solace to Deise followers to reflect back on previous meetings between these counties in which Waterford have had infinitely the better of the hurling argument. In last year's league they defeated the Leinster County on successive Sundays, first at Walsh Park and then at Kilkenny's Nowlan's Park.

Back onto the side come Frankie Walsh, Larry Guinan and Martin Og Morrissey, all of whom were unavoidable absentees against Carlow while John O'Brien of Tramore, who starred in that game rightly retains his place.

Wexford too are fielding their strongest possible side for a game in which victory would give them immediate entry to the last four irrespective of the result of the remaining game.

There is seldom more than a couple of points between these neighbouring rivals and there is unlikely to be a precedence on Sunday Waterford simply cannot afford to drop even one of the points and with this victory ultimatum staring them frankly in the face, I believe they can carry the day. It will, of course, require a one hundred per cent effort by the chosen fifteen, something, however which I think will be unanimously forthcoming.

WATERFORD MEN HONOUR

Four Waterford men have been selected on the Rest of Ireland team that meets Kilkenny at Nowlan Park next month. They are Austin Flynn (full-back), Larry Guinan (half-back), Mick Flannelly (centre-forward) and Paddy Grimes (top of the left).

Successful Claim by Kilmac Man

In his workman's compensation claim against Mr. Milo Walsh, The Mills, Kilmac-thomas, which came before Judge Sean Mac D. Fawcitt at Dungarvan Circuit Court, on Tuesday, Patrick McGrath, a 45 year old agricultural labourer of Kilmacrange, Kilmac-thomas, was found to be partially incapacitated henceforth and consequently entitled to a certain amount of compensation. Because he had no evidence to assess what compensation should be paid he adjourned that aspect of the case to a future date.

The claim arose out of back injuries received by the plaintiff whilst loading sacks of barley for the defendant on the 28th September, 1962.

It was pointed out by his counsel that full compensation had been paid to-date and the only question to be decided was his present incapacity.

Dr. Robert O'Driscoll, said he examined the plaintiff some weeks after the accident. The last occasion he examined him was on 18th February this year when he said he could do no work except light work and he would even get very tired after doing that for half an hour. He did not think he would be fit for full work but felt he should do some kind of light work. He was presently partially incapacitated and that was likely to continue.

Dr. Wm. Power said he also examined the plaintiff and he believed he was fit for light work. He agreed with Dr. O'Driscoll regarding the plaintiff's present incapacity.

Dr. T. F. Lynch, M.O., Kilmac-thomas, said he had been treating the plaintiff since the accident and had seen him once a week since October 1962. He (witness) saw the plaintiff several times when he was passing his home and he (plaintiff) did not see him and he always seemed to be lame.

Judge Fawcitt said he would find that the plaintiff was partially incapacitated henceforth. He had no evidence however, to assess the amount of compensation to be paid and he would adjourn that aspect of the case. He felt that if Mr. McGrath put his mind to it he would be able to earn his present wages. He thought his former employer should encourage him by taking him back to work.

He also allowed the plaintiff the costs of the action.

WANTED: Intelligent girl for grocery and bar. Apply by letter only to Box 1999.

All four were on the Munster team that defeated Connaught in the recent Railway Cup semi-final at Limerick and this substantial representation merely testifies to the esteem in which Waterford hurling is presently held.

WINTER LEAGUE GAMES FALL THROUGH

All three games in the Winter junior hurling league scheduled for Sunday last were called off leaving a blank day in the West. At Dungarvan, Kilmacrange were down to play Affane; at Cappoquin the Ring and Tallow sides were to have crossed camans, whilst Ballinacorney and Ballyduff conceded walk-overs to Cappoquin and Geraldines respectively.

Quite obviously these winter leagues have become nothing less than farcical. The clubs themselves are showing absolutely no interest and I believe the Western Board should scrap the whole idea. Had the clubs responded to the Board's original intention which was to give teams an opportunity of keeping active during the "closed" months, it worthy idea but now these would have been a very praise-worthy leagues are serving no useful purpose. Without hesitation I say they should be immediately scrapped.

Abbeyside League Games POSTPONED

The two games due to be played in the Abbeyside senior hurling league on Sunday last were postponed because the club's pitch was deemed unplayable. These games have been re-arranged for Sunday next March 1st and captains are requested to have their teams on the field in time.

Sunday's programme is: Tony Mansfield's to meet Johnny Hogan's team at 2.15 p.m.; Liam Enright's team v. Eddie Moore's team at 3.15.

GERALDINES A.G.M.

Officers elected at the annual general meeting of the Geraldines G.A.A. clubs were: President, Rev. Fr. Tobin, C.C.; Chairman, Mr. P. Keating; vice-do., Mr. P. Russell; Hon. Sec., Mr. T. O'Connell; Hon. Sec., Mr. P. Kennaally. Committee—Messrs. T. Osborne, C. Browne, J. Mernin, P. Ronayne. Captains: S.F. Paddy Kennaally; J.F. E. Mernin; P.F. J. Tobin; J.H. W. Ronayne.

DUNGARVAN DRAMATIC CLUB

The many patrons of the local Dramatic Club were very disappointed when the Club found it impossible to produce "Dear Delinquent," early in the new year, but this was due to a variety of circumstances, which could not have been foreseen. The Club is now in rehearsal and production is well advanced for another play: "In Wild Earth" by J. O'Donnell Cassidy. This is a new play with an Irish setting, which won great praise in the All-Ireland Drama Festival in 1962. This is not the usual type of Irish play—the kitchen type—the theme is the relation between a hotel owner in a small town in Ireland and his family and is very mature and middle-class, and presents a most interesting study in psychology. For the lovers of "conflict" on the stage this play is a "must" for those who enjoy comedy as there is plenty of laughter in the best tradition and it is indeed a play to suit all tastes.

The Club has selected a very strange cast—many well known to patrons of the Club and some new faces.

As previously announced, the whole of the net proceeds will be given over to the C.B.S. Building Fund. Details of dates of performances, etc., will be released next week.

WATERFORD CAN WIN ON HOME SOIL

But Slaneysiders Will Be Formidable

SUNDAY next may well be a day of paramount importance regarding the immediate future of Waterford as a hurling power. Certain it is that on this first day of March the picture concerning the County's league hopes for the current year will have become unmistakably clearer be they for better or worse. On the familiar and advantageous soil of Walsh Park, Waterford, they tackle unbeaten Wexford when nothing less than victory will suffice if they are to actively participate in the money spinning closing stages of this league. It is a game that will test Deise metal to the limit, but one which I feel will end in triumph for the homesters.

As with a Waterford-Kilkenny pairing there is a certain undeniable something about these Slaneyside meetings. Because of geographical nature as it were that has them operating in different provinces they are destined to meet only on occasions of importance and that is certainly applicable for the latest set to between the counties.

Wexford, as already stated, have an unblemished record to date, having triumphed over Limerick and Carlow. With a home game against Dublin to follow they are practically assured of making further progress, but this sense of security will not lessen their will to continue on the victory trail one whit.

Waterford, after two games find themselves in an unenviable position, their record being one up and one down. That defeat at the hands of Dublin has greatly retarded come the wexford men.

The outing against Carlow on Sunday last will I believe, prove of immense advantage to them. In that game they displayed a sufficiently high degree of ability to suggest that they have "wintered" well and we can expect an even more polished performance on this more demanding occasion.

Whilst Wexford have deemed it necessary to alter somewhat the composition of the team, that has not erred up to now, Waterford's mentors are more or less placing their trust in the side originally chosen for Sunday last. Morrissey, Guinan and Frankie Walsh who were all first choices against the Carlow men, but who were forced to cry off, have again been restored to first-team duty.

FRANK WALS (Waterford)

midfield sector where he partners John Meaney with the exclusion of John Kirwan.

Much may depend on how this new pairing fares against Wexford's experienced partnership of Phil Wilson and Ned Wheeler. Doubtless the Slaneysiders will be hoping for a decided pull in this area but should Flannelly and Meaney hit off they can at least divide the spoils with their vaunted opponents.

Obviously the selectors are satisfied that new goalkeeper Pat Flynn has the necessary big match temperament. He turned in the proverbial blinder on his debut but he is certain to be more severely tested by the better equipped Wexford attack.

The full-back line of Cunningham, Flynn and Morrissey is being accepted as the one to do duty throughout the coming year while Tommy Hearne who was another to have a successful debut on Sunday last, may really make the centre-back position his own should he give a repeat performance this time.

All eyes will be on the altered midfield partnership, but both will have to hit peak form to hold their formidable counterparts.

Except for the return of Frankie Walsh and the retention of O'Brien the constitution of the attack is along anticipated lines.

What of Wexford? Strangely enough they are introducing two newcomers to their side, but one can rest assured that anyone honoured with the purple and gold jersey is no novice.

Their defence is particularly strong and it will be exceedingly difficult to find a way past Billy Rackard, Tom Mcville, Ned Colfer and Dap Quigley.

There can be no ignoring their midfield strength, whilst territory and it would be little short of hurling lunacy to attempt to minimise this threat that they undoubtedly present. But on this game Waterford's league hopes stand or fall and confronted with what amounts to a victory ultimatum I believe they will rise to the occasion and send the hitherto unbeaten Wexfordians home pointless.

Reviewing past encounters between the counties reveal that Waterford have something of an "Indian Sign" over their rivals. Twice within the space of a week last year they overcame these Wexfordmen the most of whom will be on duty again on Sunday.

Past results are of course, quite inconsequential at this stage and cannot be accepted as a reliable guide to forecasting Sunday's results. But followers are certain to usurp satisfaction from this knowledge of having some kind of bogey on their side against the Leinster men.

Wexford let it be stressed are supremely confident of successfully invading "foreign"

LARRY GUINAN (Waterford)

On Sunday next the minors and juveniles in the Dungarvan Club will set the ball rolling in the first match of their hurling and football leagues. At a meeting of members held lately, captains were selected and teams picked in readiness for what should be a very successful league. Last year the efforts of the club in this regard met with a fair amount of success and the organisers are confident that improvements can be made in the current season. An innovation this year is that a football league will be run in conjunction with the hurling league, for it is felt that there are good prospects of developing a strong football side given the necessary practice. A set of medals will be awarded to the winning team in each case and there seems no reason why the leagues should not produce games of a very high standard in both finesse and enthusiasm.

The teams are—
Team A: P. Walsh; S. Daly, N. Dwyer, T. Healy, C. Burke, A. Hayes, T. Egan, J. O'Connor, B. Walsh, M. Sheridan, T. O'Shea.
Team B: S. McGrath, T. Woods, T. Dwyer, B. Wright, S. Murphy, S. Flynn, P. Grant, M. Keyes, J. Reilly, A. Sandford, J. Clancy.
Team C: M. Fraher, M. Norris, M. Donnelly, E. Keyes, S. Franklin, C. Murphy, D. Flynn, J. Nagle, T. Wall, B. Power, C. Phelan.
Team D: K. Fleming, M. Tobin, P. J. Hensberry, J. Egan, T. Murphy, J. O'Keefe, M. Rossiter, M. Ahearne, S. Sandford, N. Bell, P. Duggan.

The luck of the draw ordained that teams A and C would be in opposition next Sunday in hurling. This game has been arranged to start at 11 a.m. and it should be noted that it is intended to abide strictly to this time. At the appointed hour the game will commence and it is up to each team manager to ensure that his charges arrive at the ground some time prior to the start.

Waterford scorers were: J. O'Brien (2-4), S. Power, (3-0) V. Connors (1-2), P. Grimes (0-1). Carlow scorers were: J. Darnody (1-0), T. McGovern (0-3), P. O'Connell (0-1), J. McCarthy (0-1).

Waterford—P. Flynn, T. Cunningham, A. Flynn, S. Walsh; J. McGrath, P. Hearne; J. Byrne; J. Meaney, J. Kirwan; V. Connors, M. Flannelly, J. O'Brien; S. Power, J. Barron, P. Grimes.

Carlow—S. Buggy; W. Walsh; M. Hogan, P. Fortune; P. Wheeler, P. Somers, J. Hickey; P. O'Connell, P. Brophy; J. McCarthy, P. McGovern, L. O'Brien; J. Darnody, J. Doyle, V. Hickey.

Referee—J. Maddock (Wexford).

League Points For Waterford

Waterford ..... 6-8
Carlow ..... 1-5

HOPES that Waterford may yet retain their National hurling title were brightly rekindled at Walsh Park, on Sunday last, when they impressively defeated Carlow to collect their first brace of points in the current league. Despite the lop-sidedness of the scoreboard, however, the game was a highly entertaining one, as the Leinster side was an infinitely better one than that final scoreline would seem to indicate.

After the winter recess, Waterford shaped like a side refreshed, and the big home following must have gained immense satisfaction from the quality of the hurling they served up. Fielding without Martin Og Morrissey, Larry Guinan and Frankie Walsh of the original selection, the team nevertheless, moved in top gear for the greater portion of the hour, and it was surely a source of supreme solace to the selectors to see comparative newcomers perform with such poise and confidence. True it is that just as one swallow doesn't make a summer, neither does one good game make a player, but there can be no gainsaying the fact that the displays of such as goalkeeper Pat Flynn, club mates Vinny Connors and Tommy Hearne and John O'Brien do not augur well for their inter-county futures.

Outplayed though they were as the game progressed, few can take from the performance of the Carlow side in the opening half when they had the assistance of the elements. They played with tremendous gusto from the first whistle and their was an unmistakable touch of class about their hurling. Thanks to some powerful play by their midfielders, Paddy O'Connell and Pat Brophy they held the balance of power in this sector, but their forwards, enthusiastically though they tried, lacked the guile and penetrative powers to pierce a Deise defence in which Jimmy Byrne was the outstanding individual.

Yet fate was a little unkind to the visitors, and they hardly deserved to be in arrears by 3-3 to 1-4 at the short whistle.

In view of their vital tilt with Wexford at the same venue on Sunday, this game is bound to prove a real blessing to the Deise men. The team's confidence seemed to be restored and not surprisingly the selectors have made only one change from the side originally chosen for Sunday last.

But if the newcomers really stole the limelight, the old hands all showed none the worse for their winter lay off. Full backs Tom Cunningham and Austin Flynn were sheet anchors in a steady back line while the majesty of Jimmy Byrne's hurling left an unforgettable imprint in the half-line.

Once again, however, the team's Achilles' heel was at midfield where John Meaney highly prone to over-usage of the ball got little assistance from an off-form John Kirwan.

I have already mentioned the noble parts played by Connors and O'Brien in attack, but for my part the star of the sector was Seamus Power whose hat-trick of goals apparently came in effortless fashion. Mick Flannelly was back to his best in the half-line while the displays of Phil Grimes and John Barron left little to be desired.

Heavy though their defeat was Carlow proved that they are well qualified for senior grade hurling. They had several outstanding caman wielders on view on Sunday, notably Peter McGovern, Paddy O'Connell, Willie Walsh and Pat Brophy and had they not been forced to field without such regulars as Brendan Hayden, Willie Hogan and Molding Morrissey they would have put up an even better performance.

Waterford scorers were: J. O'Brien (2-4), S. Power, (3-0) V. Connors (1-2), P. Grimes (0-1). Carlow scorers were: J. Darnody (1-0), T. McGovern (0-3), P. O'Connell (0-1), J. McCarthy (0-1).

Waterford—P. Flynn, T. Cunningham, A. Flynn, S. Walsh; J. McGrath, P. Hearne; J. Byrne; J. Meaney, J. Kirwan; V. Connors, M. Flannelly, J. O'Brien; S. Power, J. Barron, P. Grimes.

Carlow—S. Buggy; W. Walsh; M. Hogan, P. Fortune; P. Wheeler, P. Somers, J. Hickey; P. O'Connell, P. Brophy; J. McCarthy, P. McGovern, L. O'Brien; J. Darnody, J. Doyle, V. Hickey.
