Deadlock In Rates Position

COUNCIL TO MEET FOR THIRD TIME

“On Verge of Rate War” — says Member

“WE are on the verge of a rate war and that is not idle talk. I would not like to see people refusing to pay their rates but I think it is our duty to make a stand. We have spent two days at the estimates and have only succeeded in reducing the proposed rate by 2d. I will make a drastic proposal and it is that we strike a rate of 48/7½ representing a token increase of 1d. over the current year's figures. In my 15 years in the Council chamber my efforts for economy in Local Administration have failed and the only way we can succeed is by putting it up to them in Dublin.” So stated Colr. Norman Walsh at the adjourned estimates meeting of Waterford County Council on Tuesday last at the end of which there was complete deadlock again. Thus the members will meet for the third time this Saturday in another attempt to strike a rate for the coming year.

From the trend of Tuesday's meeting it seemed as though the members could be there until “Doomsday” without agreeing on a figure. A succession of different proposals were defeated in turn to frustration point and at the end of another four-hour session the Chairman, Colr. Charles Curran was left with no option but to “call it a day,” and order a third meeting on Saturday.

At the commencement of the meeting Colr. Curran said they were now faced with an increase of 3/10—2d. more than their last meeting because of a Council decision to spend £1,000 on the tarring of roads. This would bring the proposed rate to 52/4½ in the £ as against a present rate of 48/6½.

In reply to Colr. Wm. Foran the County Accountant (Mr. F. J. O'Leary) said the County rate in 1957-58 was 38/8; in '58-59, it was 39/4; in '59-60, it was 40/9; in 60/61 it was 42/5; in 61-62, it was 44/9; in 62-63, it was 45/6; and in 63-64, it was 48/6½.

The estimate for roads, he said, in 1957/58 was 10/5½, whilst to-day's figure was 12/8.

The Council then decided to go through the estimate item by item in an effort to effect savings.

Colr. M. Harty said the effect of the Purchase Tax on the Council was a matter of grave importance. He would like to know what the total figure was likely to be. He thought the Government should be responsible for the T.O. tax as it affects the finances of the Council.

BOOKS IN BAD CONDITION
When discussing the Libraries estimate, the County Librarian (Mrs. M. Hayes) said that last year they looked for £11,005 to run the service but did not get it and they were forced to run an inadequate Library service. The conditions of the books were very bad and this year they would have the 9th round wage increase as well as the ordinary increase. This year they would need a sum of £12,300 which would be an increase of £2,695 on last year's figure.

Colr. Foran said it would be a step in the wrong direction to increase by this large amount of money the library estimate. It would be sheer insanity to do so in 1964 when they had Television. He did not think the people had even time to read the papers not to mind library books. It was something they should approach in a realistic manner and he would propose that they give no increase to the Libraries service. They had reached the stage where he found it hard to believe that the people were reading even the papers not to mind books on Brian Boru or Cuchullain. The children, he said, were more interested in watching gangster films or “Stoney Burke” than reading books.

“RIDICULOUS”
Colr. Milo Galgey said he was sorry to hear Colr. Foran make such ridiculous statements. He remembered 60 years ago when his mother had to read to a houseful of people who themselves could not read. He believed they wanted education in the country and they were even coming from the depths of darkest Africa to this country seeking education. “Does Colr. Foran want us to go back to those olden days again when few could read,” he said.

Colr. Norman Walsh seconded Colr. Foran's proposal that they give no increase to the libraries this year.

The County Librarian (Mrs. Hayes) said they would not be able to continue the services without the increase. They would require £740 more for salaries alone.

Colr. Curran said it was his opinion that the library service in the County was over staffed.

Colr. Richard Walsh said they were providing a certain sum for this service but he wondered if it was worth what they were paying. If they were to provide a proper library service it would cost four times more than at present but they had only a skeleton service now and he felt it would be better to drop it altogether than to go half way.

Colr. Foran said it was stated by Colr. Galgey that he had made a ridiculous statement but he would not make any ridiculous statement whilst a member of a local authority. They were being carried up the garden path with fiction and they had the Beatles to prove that.

Colr. Dowd then proposed that the library estimate as presented be left unaltered. Colr. J. Drohan seconded.

Colr. Galgey said the service was over-staffed. They had too many officials and not enough books.

Colr. J. Butler said there was a fairly good library service in the County even if it was not as good as he would like it to be. The County Librarian was looking for an increase of £2,695 but he thought that was too high. He would propose they give an increase of £2000 bringing the estimate to £10,605. Colr. John Fahey seconded.

Colr. Dowd's amendment was then put to the meeting and defeated by 14 votes to 5. Colr. Butler's was then put and that was also defeated, this on a vote of nine to five.

Colr. Foran's proposal that no increase be granted was also put and defeated by a one vote margin.

A further proposal by Colr. Dowd that a sum of £10,300 be provided, which was the equivalent of last year's amount plus the necessary money to meet the 9th round wage increase was defeated 15-4. Another amendment by Colr. Butler that they provide £10,300 was defeated 10-9.

A proposal by Colr. P. Cahill for a sum of £10,000 was also put to the meeting but declared lost on the casting vote of the Chairman, Colr. Curran.

Finally it was decided to leave the estimate stand until later in the meeting before deciding on a definite figure.

KILMAC' NOTES

Ald Old and Respected Resident of Kilrossanty parish died last week at Comeragh, Leamybrien, in the person of Mr. John (Jack) Moroney, who was held in high regard by his neighbours and friends. A most exemplary member of the Mother Church, he was a great favourite with everyone that knew him. Of a happy disposition, he was a sportsman through and through, and was a particularly strong supporter of the Kilrossanty senior football team, in whose fortunes he took a genuinely enthusiastic interest. His demise is deeply regretted, and sympathy with his nearest and dearest is widespread.

Followed by a large and representative cortege, the remains were removed to St. Brigid's Parish Church, Kilrossanty, where the coffin was received and blessed by Very Rev. Fr. James Hart, P.P., do. Subsequent to the celebration of Requiem Mass in the sacred edifice the next day, interment was made in the adjoining cemetery. The closing absolution at the graveside was given by the respected pastor in the presence of many mourners and sympathisers.

Ar a nam, a Iosa Dilis, dear trocraire.

Prospecting Licences.—The Minister for Industry and Commerce, Mr. J. Lynch, told Deputy S. Treacy (Labour) in the Dail, that apart from wour prospecting licences which he had granted, he had under consideration applications for 12 prospecting licences over different parts of West Waterford and South Tipperary.

The Minister added that the localities to which the applications related were Bonmahon, Lismore and Stradbally in Co. Waterford, and Tipperary, Dundrum, Cullen and Cappawhite in Co. Tipperary. The method of exploration proposed to be employed included geological, geochemical and geophysical surveys which would be followed by drilling where circumstances warranted.

Flanna Fall.—Held on Saturday night last, 29th ult., was the usual monthly meeting of Ballyaneen Cumann, at which Mr. James Condon (Chairman) presided and there was a large attendance.

Glowing tributes were paid to the late Mr. Thomas (Tom) Mason, of Seafield, who was a valued member of the Cumann from its inception, and further in honour of whose memory the meeting was declared adjourned, following the passing of a vote of condolence in respectful silence with his bereaved widow and family in their heavy tribulation.

Following a protracted illness and at the allotted span, Miss Anne (Ann'e) Power, of Shanakill, Kilmacthomas, breathed her last in a Waterford city hospital on Friday, 28th ult. (Rest of St. Gabriel of the B.V.M. Sorrowing). She had been fortified by the rites of Holy Church and passed peacefully and resignedly to her eternal reward. She was a kind, generous, unassuming lady, had a tolerant outlook and the gentleness of a child.

The late Miss Power was a first cousin of Mr. William Power, Ballyaneen, Kilmacthomas, and Mr. Michael Power, Ballinacash, do., with whom, and the other relatives, whole-hearted sympathy is general.

The remains were removed on Saturday evening to the Parish Church, Stradbally, where the coffin was rested overnight on a catafalque before the high altar. Immediately after the 11 o'clock Mass on Sunday, the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery amidst every manifestation of sorrow. Rev. M. Fennell, C.C., Stradbally, officiated at the graveside R.I.P.

Note to Note that young and old of the faithful of this region are in very large numbers regularly assisting at the Lenten Devotions, which are being conducted on three nights of each week in the churches of their respective parishes herein.

HOLY HOUR
Tonight (Friday) being the first Friday of the month, Holy Hour Devotions will be held in St. Carthage's Church at 7.30.

LISMORE CRICKET CLUB A.G.M.
The annual general meeting of the Lismore Cricket Club was held in St. Carthage's, Lismore, on Friday night, 21st February. The Chairman, Col. J. J. O'Brien presided and there was a good attendance of members present.

The Secretary, Mr. Jack Feeney, in his report, stated that the past year had been a most successful and enjoyable one. Their team had reached the final of the Munster Cup, which has been deferred to the coming season. Their opponents will be Tramore, and as both teams are from Co. Waterford, the position is most satisfactory and indicates a high standard in the county.

As this final must be played during May all players were asked to commence serious practice as early as possible in the season. He congratulated the schoolboy team on reaching the final of the Marquis of Waterford Cup, and on retaining the Collins Cup.

The Treasurer, Mr. Matt Gough, in his financial statement, revealed the finances of the club to be in a healthy condition. He thanked the members and the public for their support of the various fund raising functions which proved so successful.

The following are the officers for the coming year: President, Mr. W. Albertini; vice-pres., Mr. S. Jameson, Mr. A. P. Harris, Mr. M. B. Byrne; Chairman, Col. J. J. O'Brien; vice-do., Mr. M. Crowley; Hon. Secretary, Mr. J. Feeney; Assistant Sec., Mr. P. Pollard; Hon. Treasurer, Mr. M. Gough; Captain, Mr. J. Crotty; vice-do., Mr. J. Crowley. Committee members: Messrs. P. Feeney, T. Sullivan, T. Endersen. In charge of the Schoolboy team will be Messrs. M. Gogh and G. Kingston.

CO. LIBRARIES HEADQUARTERS

The following resolution was proposed by Mr. T. Crotty, seconded by Mr. J. Ormond and passed unanimously by the Lismore Town Commissioners at their meeting held recently.

That we the members of the Lismore Town Commissioners wish to convey our thanks to Mr. H. R. Dowd, M.C.C., and Mr. N. Walsh, M.C.C., in sponsoring the resolution to maintain the Library Headquarters at Lismore, and to express thanks also to the members of the County Council for deciding unanimously in favour of Lismore.

The town clerk was instructed to forward a copy to the County Secretary and to the two County Councillors concerned.

Mr. T. Savage remarked that it was most gratifying to note that the terms of the resolution passed by the council gave the credit to Lismore for the highly successful part it had played in Library Development in the county, and he felt sure that the confidence which the Council had reposed in it for the future would not be misplaced.

Mr. J. Moore said that Lismore could not afford to lose any source of revenue and furthermore the Library at Lismore was used extensively by the public and the issue per head of the population was the highest in the county and compared favourably with some of the largest cities. Nearly 20,000 books had been read last year.

Mr. J. O'Donoghue said that Lismore had accepted responsibility for the Library Headquarters when no other town in the county had any interest in it. Now, when it had attained significance, both from the cultural and business points of view, efforts were being made to deprive the town of it.

POPULAR TURF ACCOUNTANT CLERK TRANSFERRED
After spending seven years as a Turf Accountant Clerk in Power's Betting Office at Main St., Lismore, Miss Eily Cusack a native of Clonea-Power, was transferred recently to a similar office in Ennisecorney, Co. Wexford.

Sister of former Waterford All-Ireland hurler John Cusack Eily proved to be a most efficient clerk and a nice coming to Lismore she had made many friends, and on whose behalf now, we wish her every happiness in her new surroundings.

Incidentally, her position in Lismore has been filled by a Tipperary lady, Miss O'Keefe, of Killenale, and we extend to her a very warm welcome to Lismore.

JUMBLE SALE
A grand jumble sale, sponsored by the Lismore guild of the I.C.A., will be held in the Courthouse, Lismore, on Friday next, March 13th, at 3 p.m. G.A.A.

At the Gaelic field, Lismore on Saturday last, under ideal weather conditions, Middleton C.B.S. qualified for the final of the Corn Phadraig, Munster Colleges senior hurling competition, when they scored an easy and impressive victory over St. Augustine's, Dungarvan.

GRAND VARIETY CONCERT
The grand variety concert, sponsored by the Junior Praesidium of the Legion of Mary, was held in the Town Hall, Lismore, on Sunday night last. Long before "curtain up" at 8 p.m., the hall was filled to capacity.

Items were contributed by local talented artists. It was a night of first class entertainment which will be remembered with pleasure by all who attended.

Big Arch Ballroom Attraction

A top class eight-piece show-band from Clara, Co. Offaly, the "Crackaways," will be making its first visit to the Arch on St. Patrick's night. This band is very popular in northern Ireland.

LATE MR. R. KELLY, AGLISH

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Richard Kelly, Woodhouse, Aglish. O.A.P. MEETING
A meeting of Youghal No. 2 (Rural) O.A.P. Committee was held at Clashmore, Mr. J. Cass (Vice-Chairman) presiding. Four claims were dealt with.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE

The Kinsalebeg-Clashmore Harriers met at Ballycurrane, on Sunday last, when a big field turned out to enjoy the day's sport. Conditions were favourable and some good runs were secured.

NEW COTTAGES
The construction of the new cottages at Aglish is now well advanced. The contractor is Mr. W. Hallahan, the well known Geraldine's footballer.

COAST EROSION
We have repeatedly referred in this column to the ravages of each erosion at Ardmore. The winter large tracts of valuable land are lost to the sea. Unless positive measures to solve the problem are taken in the near future, the matter will become very serious. The same problem exists at Whiting Bay. Here also, big tracts of land have been claimed by the sea.

GARDA TRANSFER
Sergt. Charles Egan, was recently transferred from Ballyhale, Co. Kilkenny, to be station sergt. at Kanturk. Sergt. Egan formerly served at Clashmore, where he was very popular and played with the local team. He was also full-back on the Waterford team that won the Munster J.F. Championship in 1948. Mr. R. Dee, Clashmore was also a member of that team, and has the distinction of being the only native of the parish to win a provincial medal. Another Clashmore man, Mr. T. O'Connell, was, however, a substitute on the team.

LATE TOMAS WALSH

GLENBEG, DUNGARVAN

It is our sad duty to record the death of Tomas Walsh, which occurred at his residence on Tuesday night, 25th February, after a duration of illness, but at the fullness of years. The deceased was a most likeable person and was a wonderful teacher prior to his retirement from Kill National School, where he laboured most of his life, and where he was admired by his pupils and the parents alike. He was a man with a Gaelic outlook and always encouraged the revival of our native language, which he himself spoke so fluently.

May the sod of the land he loved so well rest lightly upon him. May he rest in peace.

The removal of his remains took place on Wednesday evening to St. Mary's Parish Church followed by a cortege of very great dimensions, and were blessed and received by Rev. Fr. W. Power, C.C., assisted by Ven. Archdeacon D. Power, P.P., V.F., Rev. J. Murphy, C.C. and Very Rev. J. Power, O.S.A. New Ross.

Requiem Mass was offered on Thursday morning for the repose of his soul and the funeral took place later in the day to Abbeyside Cemetery, where the interment took place in the family plot. Another large concourse were present to pay their last respects, Rev. M. Walsh, C.C., imparted the final absolution at the graveside, assisted by Very Rev. W. Murphy, P.P., Rosbercon, New Ross, Very Rev. T. C. Butler, O.S.A., Rector, Dungarvan, Rev. R. Nolan, C.C., Rosbercon, New Ross, Rev. Fr. Hourihan, O.S.A., Dungarvan, Rev. B. Mullin, C.C., Tullogher New Ross.

The chief mourners were: Aongus Walsh, B.E., Waterford Co. Council, Brendan Walsh, Glenbeg (sons); Mrs. Gerard Flynn, N.T., New Ross (daughter); Mr. James Walsh, Skeheens, Ballymacarby (brother); Mr. Gerard Flynn, N.T., New Ross (son-in-law); Miss Nora Daly, ex-N.T., Glenbeg (sister-in-law); Mary and John Gerard Flynn, New Ross (grandchildren).

Large sheaves of Mass cards, telegrams and letters of sympathy were received by his relatives.

(Funeral arrangements were by James Kieley & Sons, Undertakers, Dungarvan.)

SALARY REGULATIONS RESCINDED

By 11 votes to 6, Waterford Health Authority at their recent meeting in Dungarvan, decided to rescind the present regulations whereby applications for salary increases can only be dealt with at the meeting before the estimates meeting every year.

Mr. J. Griffin, who moved the motion for the abolition of present regulations, said it only reflected a mood rather than a constructive policy. By rescinding the present system it did not mean that every application for salary increases would be immediately considered or accepted. There was no sense of gain to the ratepayers by keeping salary applications waiting, whilst it was a hardship to keep some employees waiting for something they were entitled to.

Mr. T. Lannon said he would support it. He asked if the Chairman could tell him what bracket of salaries the resolution covered.

The Chairman said all employees of the Health Authority.

Mr. Lannon said poor people were finding it hard to even pay rents. One third of the expenses of the Authority were salaries and now they were trying to make it more. Public representatives were too liberal with public money, but would they be so liberal with their own. They were too heavy with officialdom, and where did the members think

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir,

At a recent meeting of shareholders and suppliers of Knockmeal Co-Op. Creamery Ltd., at Ballinamut I quoted figures to demonstrate the difference between the price received by suppliers to the above Creamery and that paid to suppliers of Dungarvan. It was with great surprise that I found myself completely contradicted by the Manager of Knockmeal Creamery, who claimed that my figures were totally incorrect and that the real difference was insignificant. I have, in the meantime, asked Dungarvan Creamery to verify my figures and now find them absolutely correct.

In view of the present vital period of decision as to whether or not the Creameries in Co. Waterford should amalgamate, I openly challenge the Manager of Knockmeal Co-Op. Creamery Ltd. to repudiate these figures at the next meeting of shareholders, which is being held at Knockmeal Co-Op. Creamery on Tuesday, March 10th, when I again intend having the matter brought up.

I have ample evidence available to prove all my points and would like to point out that I have taken this step to correct any wrong impression that may have been caused by the Manager's contradiction of my statement, which was made in good faith by me as a supplier, customer and shareholder of his Society.

Yours faithfully,
B. PEARCE

through the complete estimate the Co. Accountant, Mr. O'Leary said they had succeeded in taking £2,210 off the rates, which represented a reduction of 2d., leaving the total increase at 3/8d.

Mr. S. Deegan (Acting Co. Manager) said they had now spent 2 full days at the estimates, whilst the estimates committee had also spent a day at them. They had reduced the proposed rate by 2d., and he believed that was the minimum rate they could adopt.

"DRASTIC PROPOSAL"

Colr. Norman Walsh said the rates, but the powers that be did not realise that. They were on the verge of a rate war, and that was not idle talk. He would not like to see the people refusing to pay their rates, but he felt the onus was on them to take action. It was in fact their duty to make a stand on the rate problem once and for all. They had spent 2 days at the estimates and they had only reduced it by 2d. He would make a drastic proposal and he would ask the county council to pass a rate of 48/7d in the £ representing a token increase of a penny on the current figure. In his 15 years on the Council his efforts for economy in local administration had failed, and the only way to succeed was by putting the position up to them in Dublin. He would propose in all sincerity a token increase of 1d.

Mr. Deegan said he would have to object to that proposal. It was not providing for services they had adopted. Colr. Walsh: The criterion by which we should strike a rate is the ability of the ratepayers to pay. It is up to us to act on their behalf and we will have to make a stand. Let them put us out if they like, but I am asking for a rate of 48/7d and I am aware of the law. Colr. Curran: The law is that we must indicate where reductions can be made.

Colr. Walsh: That is more moonshine. We must go by what the people tell us, and it is that the rates are an unbearable burden on them. They are at their wits end trying to make ends meet and I know that. I feel it is our duty to make a stand. In Kerry there was no idle threat by the ratepayers and it will go even further this time. I do not recommend that the people should pay their rates, but I do think they are being treated unjustly and it is up to us to take action. Colr. Curran said if they surrendered they would be handing over their rights to the Civil Service. Colr. Walsh said he realised that, but in fifteen years there was very little they could do. At this stage the series of different rate proposals began. Dep. T. A. Kynne said that in view of the fact that no reductions could be shown, he would propose a rate of 52/2d. Colr. H. R. Dowd seconded. Colr. Foran said he agreed that drastic action was needed. As a nation they were living in a fool's paradise. All sections except the farmers and shopkeepers were getting a 12 1/4% increase, and it was time they made a very firm stand. Colr. N. Walsh said his proposal was one of a frustrated man, but there were some of his colleagues who agreed with him.

Colr. Curran said the last thing he would do would be to surrender his powers to the Civil Service. Colr. Walsh said he agreed with that. He never surrendered his powers to anyone, but let the Minister put them out of office, but he personally did not think he would do so. He wanted to put it home to the Minister and their own senior officials in the county council, of the seriousness of the position. That was why he was proposing a token increase of 1d. Colr. Kieran O'Ryan seconded. Colr. M. Hartly said they should await a decision from the Dept. regarding the cost of the purchase tax on the council. That was part of their duties to the ratepayers. Mr. Deegan said other Co. Councils had passed higher estimates than the one before them.

Colr. N. Walsh said the Government would be drawing millions from the purchase tax and they had a very good place to use it—on local administration. They had, however, their eyes and ears closed to local administration. By striking a rate of 52/2d they would be doing an injustice to the ratepayers. Colr. Galgey said if they adopted Colr. Walsh's proposal the ratepayers would also take action and would follow the county council to the last letter of the law. Colr. Walsh said the ratepayers were nearly dead and they would have to cut their cloth to measure. Colr. George Heskin: If we pass Colr. Walsh's proposal what will happen? Colr. N. Walsh: We will be abolished. Colr. Heskin: If we send it to Dublin the Government will then give us an ultimatum. Colr. N. Walsh: The day is gone when the Minister can dictate to us. Dictatorship will not be tolerated. Common sense will prevail. Deputy Kynne's proposal that they strike a rate of 52/2d was then put to the meeting and defeated by 14 votes to 5.

The voting was: For—Colrs. Kynne, Butler, Dowd, Kenneally and Madden (5); Against—Colrs. Curran, Dower, Hartly, Drohan, Fahey, Foran, O'Ryan, Roche, Heskin, Montayne, N. Walsh, Cahill, Galgey and R. Walsh (14). When Colr. N. Walsh's proposal was being put next the Acting Manager suggested to the Chairman that it was not

FARM INCOME AND AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT 1964-70

SMALL FARMS N.F.A. NEWS

The N.F.A. objective is, to provide from an efficient and viable scale of farm enterprise a level of family income which will be economically and socially acceptable.

It is an illusion to relate the income from a farm to its size. The objective should be to increase the scale of enterprise in which farm size is but one factor. Capital investment, farmer confidence, advice, education and market outlets are equally important.

National policy for small farms must provide the small farmer with the essential facilities and confidence to earn a minimum real income of £12 per week for the farmer and his wife, with appropriate increases for additional family labour employed on the farm.

The advantages of "group action" must be stressed for farm planning, farm development work, bulk buying, sharing of machinery, and later it would be hooded in marketing their produce.

Farmer co-operatives should get grants and concessions on the same basis as those given to industrial enterprises.

The minimum scale of income for the small farmer of £12 per week, when examined in light of his capital investment, shows that a minimum of £100,000 is required for a small farm, under the headings—land, buildings, stock, equipment and working capital would amount to at least £4,000. This investment in the National Loan, would yield £230 annually in interest. We are, therefore, asking that the small farmers' enterprise, skill and labour—together with that of his wife, be rewarded at a minimum of £7-6-6 per week. This is less than they would receive working a 50 hour week at minimum agricultural wages.

REGIONAL DEVELOPMENT
The N.F.A. urges that a special section of the new Institute of Planning be given the priority task of planning one or more pilot areas selected from the Special Areas, on the understanding that no consideration of the time required for surveys or planning will be allowed to postpone action on basic improvements in agriculture.

Each proposed pilot area should be large enough to include at least one centre for prospective industrial development.

RATES
Rates operate contrary to acceptable principles of taxation in that: (a) They are levied as a first charge, irrespective of the land's ability to produce; (b) They are unrelated to the income of the farmer; (c) They are unrelated to the responsibilities of the farmer; There is no allowance for family circumstances, etc.; (d) The Central Government has imposed expenditure for national services on the local authorities without regard to their ability to find the money. National services such as the health charges which are imposed by the Government should be met from Central Funds.

N.F.A. proposes therefore that rates on land and farm buildings should cease to be a form of local taxation. Rates should be stabilised and paid into Central Funds through the Land Commission collecting machinery and should be regarded as a National Land Tax.

The employment allowance should be granted for women on the same terms as for men.

Rates on agricultural land falling within urban areas should be included in this proposal. The anomaly whereby this land does not qualify for agricultural and employment relief should be ended.

ESTATE DUTY (DEATH DUTIES)
The present drain of Capital from agriculture is not justified for the following reasons:—

(a) The return on capital invested is far too low to enable tax to be paid. No return on capital is allowed in the Farm Survey or in other official circles, but even so, the farmer's income is less than a living wage.

(b) A much higher investment in agriculture is needed if productivity is to be increased. A tax on capital both reduces the family capital available, and the possibility of borrowing.

(c) The present position leads some farmers to avoid taking out probate, and so have no proper title to their holdings.

(d) The tax is discriminatory. No comparable tax is levied in practice on any other business. No distinction is made between the capital of the farm and the domestic capital of the farmer and his household.

Estate Duty in agriculture is recognised as a special case in other countries.

The N.F.A. recommends that duty be levied as a limited and known factor related to valuation on a sliding scale with complete exemption below £50 land valuation.

imposed on licensed hauliers should be allowed exemption from a severe handicap and should be also relaxed.

Serious consideration should be given to those Livestock Marters that want to operate their own transport vehicles. A special category of taxation should be introduced for farmers' lorries.

High assemblers of jeeps should be allowed exemption from customs duty when importing them specifically for agricultural use and they should be taxable as agricultural vehicles.

LAND RECLAMATION
A greatly accelerated rate of investment in land reclamation from the A.C.C. is 15 years. This is not long enough to avoid restricting the borrower's short term and medium term credit-worthiness from other purposes.

Land Project grants are in need of upward revision to allow for increased costs while grants for field drains are particularly inadequate. There should be a much closer relationship between the Land Project and the Advisory Service.

Special assistance would be required to enable small farmers to overcome their disadvantages in competing for loan capital and for the services of contractors. Accordingly, Land Project grants must be weighted in favour of small farmers by means of an additional bonus related to the Poor Law Valuation of the holding.

Grants and loans towards the purchase of land reclamation machinery, which were available in the early years of the Land Project, should be reintroduced to encourage more contractors to equip themselves for Land Project work.

The Minister for Agriculture should have compulsory power to deal with individual farmers who refuse to allow work to be carried out on their land thus holding up drainage schemes under the Land Project.

Arterial drainage work needs to be undertaken immediately. Thirteen major catchment areas still remain untouched. The river Shannon area, which represents about one-fifth of the land of the 26 counties must be tackled with determination.

QUESTION—I want to put in a water supply to my cow byre and pigery. I have water supplied to the house. Is there a grant to extend this supply to the farmyard?

ANSWER—The rated occupier of a farm who is participating in the T.B. eradication scheme may obtain a grant to extend his water supply to the farmyard. The amount paid will be 50% of the approved estimated cost up to a maximum of £100. Certain essential fittings such as taps in the byre must be installed, to obtain the grant.

Q—During the last couple of years my cows are slow to the bull. Do you think the cause is some infection or is the feeding at fault?

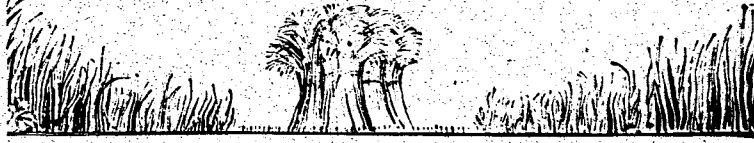

A—From the insufficient information that you give regarding both symptoms and your food for the cows, it is difficult to tell the cause. It is quite possible that the feed fed is deficient in Phosphorus as the cow may be grazing for most of the year on old pastures which have not had a recent application of this plant food and so the grass has insufficient phosphorus to supply the cows needs. The same may apply to hay made from these grass fields, and which is the main source of food in the winter. You should provide a high phosphate mineral lick for the cows as well as applying Superphosphate which water soluble, the feed will correct the deficiency. You should contact your local Veterinary Officer as there are certain types of infection which often cause this trouble.

Q—I have a small herd of milking cows and I feed them on hay and turnips during the winter months. In the past couple of years the weather has been very bad. Would you advise me to make silage as I believe you can do this if the weather is broken.

A—This question is no doubt of interest to many farmers throughout the country. The main argument for the making of silage is that in any one year, a farmer can be much more certain of harvesting a good quality winter fodder. The cost of converting to the system depends on existing building accommodation and the supply of machinery. Advantages should be taken of hiring a forage harvester outfit or of sharing machinery with your neighbours.

You should aim to produce high quality grass for ensiling. From May onwards, this silage may be made in a covered pit or tower silo and your local Agricultural Instructor can advise you on this matter.

SALMON FISHING

On the closing days of last week there was a marked improvement in the catches of salmon by nets amongst the majority of the boats in Youghal, but overall the results are not so good with the drift nets. Many "dukes" or spent fish after spawning are still being taken in the nets and released in quick time. Also some of the salmon are so small that they can pass right through the mesh of a net. One salmon taken last week by drift net weighed 6 lbs and another, taken in the freshwater by rod weighed only 4 lb. Last week's weather was ideal for netting purposes but on the opening days of this week there was a severe easterly wind which is detrimental to good fishing. The price last week to fishermen was 10/- down to 9/- per lb.

WASHED ASHORE

Recently, not far from the Promenade a cylindrical object about 18" by 6" was washed ashore at high water mark, and with the exception of a burned carpet there was no other damage. When the Brigade arrived the Sisters had effectively dealt with the outbreak, and were complimented by the Brigade for their efforts.

LATE MRS. A. E. CONDON

It is with regret that we announce the death of a well-known member of the community in the person of Mrs. Annie Ellen Condon of Maryville, Strand, Youghal, which took place after a short period of illness, at the Bon Secour Home, Cork, on Monday last. Of an old and highly respected Youghal family, the deceased was widow of Mr. Justin Condon, Auctioneer and Valuer, who died in 1955. She is survived by her three sons and three daughters, to whom sincere sympathy is extended in their sorrow.

The remains were removed to the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes, Youghal on Tuesday, and the funeral, followed by a large and representative cortege, took place to North Abbey Cemetery, after Solemn Requiem Mass at 10 a.m., on Wednesday.

A full report will appear in next week's issue.

ST. RAPHAEL'S PATIENTS ENTERTAINED

Under the newly formed Mental Welfare Association, sixty patients from the St. Raphael's Mental Hospital, Youghal were entertained to an enjoyable party, followed by a social and dance at the League of the Cross Hall, Youghal, last week. Transport from the hall and back was provided by local car owners, and many local artists performed at the social. The organising of the event was in the capable hands of the chairman of the Association, Rev. Fr. O'Sullivan, C.C., Mr. Liam Noonan, Hon. Treasurer; Miss Sally Lynch, Secretary, and members of the working committee. It is understood that this is only one of the many events that will be undertaken by this energetic Committee.

FIRE ALARM

Recently the Youghal Fire Brigade were summoned to an

Last year Youghal Carpets were responsible for 90% of all carpet exports from the Republic of Ireland. This rapidly increasing Company was started in 1957 and has a team of designers.

JUNIOR CROSS-COUNTRY CHAMPIONS

The All-Ireland Junior Cross Country Cup is now held in Youghal by Paddy Coleman of Summerfield, who captained the victorious Cork junior team at Athenry. Although the Tipperary runners Bove and Hickey filled the first two places, the Cork team won the title scoring 68 points to Tipperary's 83 and Galway third with 122.

Murray De Valera Street, Youghal, were fined 5/- each for having no white rear lights on their cars. The prosecutions were brought by Sgt. J. J. McCarther and Garda McNulty and McDermott.

The deceased had conducted a very progressive business in the Main St., prior to her retirement with her sister Mrs. A. O'Neill. She was a member of a widely known and highly respected family in the mid-Waterford area.

We express our deepest sympathy to her sister, Mrs. A. O'Neill and to her relatives on their very great loss. May the light of heaven shine on her gentle soul. LATE MR. PATRICK LONERGAN

Sincere and heartfelt sympathy goes out to the brothers, sister-in-law, nephews, nieces and relatives of the late Mr. Patrick Lonergan, whose unexpected death took place at his home Lacken, Ballinacult, on Saturday of last week. The deceased, who was in his late forties, was a member of one of the most popular farming families in the district and was a kind neighbour, and a general favourite with all. He was brother of Rev. DEP. TRECACY IN THE DAIL
In connection with his representations re Modeligo National School, Mr. Sean Treacy, T.D., has received the following reply:—

"With reference to your recent representations regarding Modeligo National School, Co. Waterford, I wish to say that as the number of pupils enrolled in the school increased sufficiently to warrant the appointment of a second assistant teacher, such teacher was appointed in July, 1960, in a temporary capacity pending the provision of additional accommodation at the school. A room in the old schoolhouse has been utilised as temporary accommodation for the additional teacher and certain maintenance works have already been carried out there with a view to rendering it habitable. The need for the execution of further works to this room to make it more suitable is at present being investigated.

"The average attendance and enrolment in the school has decreased recently and it would appear that the average number of pupils required to warrant the retention of a second assistant may not be maintained. In these circumstances the question of providing additional permanent accommodation at Modeligo National School is being deferred, pending experience of the future trend of enrolments."

CREAMERY ASSOCIATION PROJECT

A very largely attended meeting of milk suppliers to Cappoquin Creamery, was held at the Boathouse, Cappoquin, on Monday night to consider the question of the proposed amalgamation of Co. Waterford creameries. There was a very earnest and clear discussion of the advantages of the proposed scheme from the point of view of improved milk prices and also better prices for feeding stuffs and fertilisers as a result of bulk buying.

Mr. Tom Fives was in the chair and read for the meeting a circular from the Irish Agricultural Organisation Society which set out in great detail the various aspects of the proposed amalgamation.

Mr. J. Wall was strongly in favour of the scheme as the obvious financial advantages were something which they could not ignore.

Mr. Brian Pearce presented comparative figures to show the possible increased return from milk under the new plan. Mr. T. Murphy said the proposal represented real progress in the agricultural field and as such was worthy of their full support. Mr. P. Morrissey spoke of the declining butter market and the better opportunities offered by the increased demand for powdered milk and cheese. Mr. T. Doocey asked about the position regarding the other creameries in the county and Mr. Pearce replied that to his knowledge they were almost unanimously in favour and their decision would be made officially in the next few days.

Other speakers included Mr. J. McGrath, Mr. M. Byrne, Mr. M. Looby, Mr. J. A. Walsh, Mr. W. Doocey, Mr. P. Fives, Miss M. Noonan. Finally, a resolution was put to the meeting and passed by a very large majority that they instruct their representative on the management committee to convey to that body their agreement with, and approval of the proposed amalgamation scheme.

Late Nicholas Power CARRIGLEA

The death took place on Saturday last, of Mr. Nicholas Power, Carriglea, at Dunganvan District Hospital.

A native of Shanbally, Leamybrien, he was a man of most pleasing disposition and a general favourite. A member of well known Kiltrossanty stock, his passing has been widely regretted.

The remains were removed to St. Mary's Parish Church, on Saturday evening followed by a large cortege and on Sunday the funeral took place to the burial plot in Kiltrossanty where interment was made again in the presence of a large gathering.

Sincerest sympathy is extended to his daughter, Mrs. Terry, Donnelly, Connolly Row, Dunganvan, and other relatives. (Funeral arrangements were carried out by Wm. Fennell, are closed.

Wexford Were Masters

WATERFORD WILL TRY HARD, BUT...
KERRY STRONGLY
FANCIED

WATERFORD football presently on an uplifted status thanks to an unbeaten record in the current National League by the County's standard-bearers, faces its severest test for many years at Clonmel on Sunday next when Kerry provides the opposition for the right to meet Galway or Dublin in the first of the league semi-finals.

It is a David and Goliath clash in the real sense in which mighty Kerry are the unbackable favourites to march a step further along the road that ends with the glory of a trip to the U.S. next October. It is, of course, a game in which Waterford have nothing to lose and everything to gain and this will undoubtedly be uppermost in the minds of the chosen fifteen when the step on to the Clonmel sward on Sunday.

MICK TOBIN

Kerry whilst refusing to even entertain the thought of defeat are nevertheless treating the game with the utmost respect and caution. Never will the Kingdom forget their trip to the Uris Intacta for the first round championship game in 1957 when they had a point defeat sensationally inflicted on them by the Deise representatives. Not one of that heroic Waterford team will be on duty on Sunday and in fact the only remaining link is Sean Ormonde, the Kilrossanty goalkeeper who is included in the list of substitutes for this latest tilt with the Munster champions.

Kerry's form in qualifying for the quarter-final has been impressiveness personified.

TOMMY JOE HARTLY

They have beaten Kildare, Carlow, Wexford and Cork without being extended and now are calling on their most formidable side to do duty on Sunday. Their line-out fairly bristles with star-studded names, footballers that are supreme in their own right in the land to-day. Men like Mick O'Donnell, Mick Dwyer, Seamus Murphy, Niall Sheehy, Bernie O'Callaghan, Tom Long and Mick Fleming are household figures in the football world and all will be on duty against the Deise.

That, then is an indication of the task that confronts the county. True they have been hitting it off pretty well up to now but the opposition on this occasion is of an entirely different nature. No one least of all the players themselves expect to perform a giant-killing act, but if they buckle unceremoniously but bravely, at the fray they can put up a preliminary showing. Nothing more is expected or asked of them.

And now a glance at the men whose duty and honour it is to stand up with the renowned Kerry men. In Peter Crotty, we have a custodian worthy to take his place on any inter-county selection but again I must harbour doubts about the ability of the full-back trio of Paddy Carlton, Mark Dingley and Michael Tobin to contain effectively the Kerry inner three forwards.

The half-line seems to be one of the strongest of the side. John O'Brien is the ideal man for the pivotal post and he is flanked by two stylish footballers in Mick Connolly and Noel Walsh.

The latter's older brother Tom, teams up again with Martin Kennedy at midfield but the latter will have to step up considerably on recent displays if they are to have any hope of breaking even with the Kingdom pair.

The forwards cannot afford to waste even a single scoring opportunity as they are likely to be exceedingly scarce throughout.

Monty Guiry is now placed on the forty, with Tommy Joe Hartly and Justin Spratt beside him. The Brickey star Mick Farrell is a big loss and his omission suggests that he must still be on the injured list.

Freddie O'Brien who operated at right half-forward against Limerick is now at full-forward, flanked by Jimmy Hewitt and Tommy Kirwan. If for nothing else but to see the Kingdom in action it should be worth making the trip. Waterford footballers have invariably risen to the occasion when least expected and the writer believes they can put up a spirited performance that will keep the score line within reasonable and respectable proportions. As already stated nothing more is expected from them.

The Waterford team is: P. Crotty (Rathgormack); P. Carleton (Ardmore); M. Dingley (Gaultier); M. Tobin (Geraldines); M. Connolly (Valley Rovers); J. O'Brien (Tramore); N. Walsh (Kilrossanty); M. Kennedy (Kill); T. Walsh (Kilrossanty); T. Hartly (Ring); M. Guiry (Kill); J. Spratt (Brickeys); F. Hewitt (V. Rovers); F. O'Brien (Mount Sion); T. Kirwan (John Mitchels); M. Kirwan (do.); T. Rorden (Kilrossanty); M. Regan (Kill); J. Walsh (Brickeys); P. Power (Stradbally); S. Ormonde (Kilrossanty).

League Hopes Dimmed at Walsh Park

WEXFORD 2-13 WATERFORD 2-5

BY virtue of their impressive eight point victory over Waterford at Walsh Park on Sunday last, Wexford have automatically qualified for the semi-final of the National Hurling league. This victory also virtually assures them of sectional honours and the skill with which they executed their duties before a near capacity attendance, must make them favourites even at this premature stage "to go the distance."

For so early in the year it was a game deserving of the highest praise. The hurling at times could hardly be surpassed and in victory Wexford showed that here was a side that will assuredly reap a rich hurling harvest during the coming year. They possess all the necessary attributes that go to make a first rate side and quite frankly their superiority was even more decisive than their final margin of victory.

Waterford gave of their best, which on the hour, however, was simply not good enough. Whereas the Slaneysiders clearly functioned on all cylinders throughout, the Deise men were carrying passengers in vital sectors, a disadvantage let me stress, that told heavily on them in the final reckoning. They creaked before finally cracking at midfield and half-forward and in fact so completely outclassed were this quintet at times that one found it necessary to scan the field of play to see if they were still on duty.

That, let it be stressed is not a criticism, merely is it a statement of fact. There can be no alibi offered in the wake of defeat and the stark and bitter truth is that a general overhauling is necessary if the County is to remain at the hurling forefront. Their position in relation to the retention of their title is now quite precarious. At best they can only gain semi-final entry through the medium of a play off and at this stage Limerick must be the fancied ones to accompany Wexford to the penultimate stake.

The signs of a Deise defeat were there for all to see in the opening half, when they failed to utilise the advantages that understandably accrued from the breeze that blew in their favour. Beaten to the proverbial fizzle at midfield where Wexford's Phil Wilson reigned supreme, it was the inadequacies of this sector that started the rot. Likewise, the Deise half forwards could make no impression on an impregnable trio of opponents, and the scoring supply to the side's main unit—the full forward trio, was greatly impaired as a result.

But it was goals by veteran full-forward Nick O'Donnell in the space of two minutes shortly before the interval that finally placed Wexford on the high road to victory. Those goals, both gems of opportunism by the rejuvenated O'Donnell, set the Deise men with a task that proved well beyond them.

Thus, after having played into the breeze for half an hour, the Slaneysiders retired for their interval replete with the knowledge that they held a decisive if not altogether unassailable seven point advantage.

The Waterford mentors quite obviously read the danger signs also, and it came as no surprise when they re-started with a somewhat reshuffled side. John Kirwan had taken over from John Meaney at midfield, with the latter replacing Joe Condon at right half forward. Condon was a last minute choice for the injured Vinny Connors, but never reproduced the form that earned him "rave notices" not so very long ago.

NO EFFECT

The changes, however, had little or no effect on the general trend of the game. Wilson remained rampant at midfield and not even the switching of Philly Grimes from the right corner to the "forty" could curb the ebullient Billy Rackard. And yet spasmodically in that second half we saw glimpses of the real Waterford as they narrowed the gap to six points followed by a Grimes "special" from a close in free, which was only scrambled to safety.

But Wexford, recovering their composure, retaliated almost instantaneously and their was no disputing their superiority at the call of time.

Whilst Slaneyside followers can feel justifiably happy at the performance of their team, Waterford's display was thoroughly disappointing one.

pressed more than goalkeeper Pat Flynn, who certainly seems ready for the big time. On Sunday last he had a series of great saves to his credit, and with a less capable keeper on duty the margin of defeat would surely have been greater.

Little fault can be found with the backs in general, although Martin Og Morrissey seemed at loggerheads with his caman for long periods. Austin Flynn, too, found O'Donnell difficult to contain, but overall the defence performed with distinction and cannot be saddled with the blame for defeat.

The distress signals were evident at midfield almost from the start as Wilson and Wheeler literally toyed with Flannily and Meaney. Not since the halycon days of Power and Grimes has the county been well served in this most vital of sectors, and on this showing the search for adequate replacements must continue.

For the entire half line of attack it is a game that will not be happily recalled. Joe Condon was never in touch;

GAELIC JOTTINGS

TIME FOR REBUILDING IS AT HAND

The signs were all too blatantly obvious; the present side simply lacked the necessary requirements, and the time for immediate team building is at hand. These are my impressions following last Sunday's eight point league defeat at the hands of Wexford—a defeat that utterly minimises their chances of qualifying for the semi-finals. Let their be no alibi offered for this defeat. They were beaten by a vastly superior side that was in no way flattered by their convincing margin of victory, and one can rest assured that it is going to take a really first class team to deprive them of this American trip.

The position now is that Waterford's only hope of qualifying for the semi-final is through the medium of a play-off involving in all probability Wexford and Limerick. Should Waterford defeat the Shannonsiders in their remaining game and Wexford overcome the Metropolitan, then all three would have to pay-off to decide who accompanies the Slaneysiders to the second last hurdle.

But, quite frankly, the chances of beating Limerick away from home do not on the evidence of Sunday last look encouragingly bright. It is the veterans that seem to be carrying the brunt of battle, whilst the newcomers, well though they played against Carlow, showed that they fall far short as yet from top-class material. The exception seems to be goalkeeper Pat Flynn, who defied the Wexford forwards, for so long, and proved beyond doubt that he has the makings of a first rate custodian.

Whilst the Deise men frittered away first half chances that might well have left them in a more advantageous position at the break, the writer felt at this stage that the writing was on the wall for them. The zest of last year was clearly absent from their allround play, and only spasmodically did they reveal any of the sparkle that has put them on top of the hurling ladder for so long.

Nevertheless, disappointing though this display was, it does not in any way necessarily indicate a total collapse. True it will take a super-human effort on their part to emerge from the section with Wexford but should they succeed in forcing a play-off then they could well enhance their presently slim prospects of retaining their league pennant.

But one thing seems certain, however. New blood is urgently needed to bolster up the obvious weak sectors and simultaneously remove from the shoulders of a few the respon-
