NEW RATE OF 51/6 Steep Increase Over Last Year

AFTER two unsuccessful attempts, the members of Waterford County Council finally struck a rate of 51/6 in the £ when they met for the third time in Dungarvan on Saturday afternoon. This rate represents an increase of 2/11½ over 1963/64, but a reduction of 9d. on the demand of the County Manager.

Addressing the meeting, the Chairman, Col. Charles Curran said the only way of reducing the rate was by cutting the services.

Col. Norman Walsh said the Health Authority's debit balance could be excluded from the estimate and it would mean an automatic reduction of 8d. He realised that the Health Service was mandatory but with the consent of the Manager a substantial reduction was possible.

In reply to Col. Curran the Acting Manager, Mr. S. Deegan said it would be impossible for him to agree to such a reduction.

Col. Curran said the rates position had reached saturation point, and the position had got out of hand.

Col. Walsh said his suggestion was not bad business. The select Committee set up by the Government to examine the Health Act would reduce the health charge by the end of the year.

Mr. Deegan said he could not accept the proposal to reduce the health demand. It was a statutory demand and they had not the power to change it.

Col. Horace Dowd said: "If the Council decides to abolish the Library service and effect a saving of £12,000 it will mean a saving of about 1d. a week to the farmer of £5 valuation. To the farmer of £25 valuation it will mean a saving of 5d. a week and to the farmer of £50 valuation it will be a saving of 10d. a week. But would these farmers get down on their knees and thank the County Council for doing away with this service? I have spoken to several small farmers and the general opinion has been not to mind the rates. It is the general expectation that crops up every week that is causing the increase in the rates. The most stupid thing this Council did was to abandon the water scheme for the community. We have spent hours and days and we have only saved a few pence, less than one-third of a packet of cigarettes a week if we abolish the Library service."

Mr. Curran said there is grave concern throughout the county about the rates.

Mr. Dowd said they could only shave away a little, but the rest of the estimate was mandatory on them.

Col. Milo Galgey said Ireland was one of the only countries in Europe that paid an agricultural tax. It was collected not for the benefit of the farmer but for the benefit of the whole country and the agricultural community got very little back from what was paid.

Deputy T. A. Kyne: You are not serious are you?

Col. Galgey: I have said it whether I am serious or not.

Mr. Wm. Foran said that the farmers, big or small, were being taxed out of existence. They had reached the stage when there would be no small farmers in the future. These extra 1d.s were making a difference down the years and they mounted up to shillings and pounds eventually. Soon there would be no family farmers in the country. They were living from the land at the moment and if this trend continued, only big ranchers would be left in the country. The small farmer was the backbone of the country in bad days and they were carrying the country today, and it was up to the Council to keep the small farmer in that position, otherwise there would be no family life in the country.

Mr. Foran said that there was a very ambitious programme to be reached before 1970 and if the Co. Council was going to a further burden on the farmers it would be impossible to reach this programme.

"We must leave the farm a little better in Autumn than we found it in Spring," said Mr. Foran, "but this will be impossible if the rates go up."

Mr. Patrick Cahill said that Mr. Foran should practice what he preached.

Mr. Foran said that anything he said at any time, he practised all the time.

Mr. Richard Walsh said that large sections of the farming community found the rate a great burden. The private property owner also found the rates intolerable. The rates hit all sections of the community. There was only one constructive way to keep the rates down and that was to go through the services and delete "ess-ential" services.

Mr. H. Dowd proposed and Mr. T. A. Kyne, T.D., seconded that the Co. Council strike a rate of 52/- in the £, which would be an increase of 3/5d.

Mr. Curran said he was slow to make any proposal, but he proposed 51/- in the £. This was seconded by Mr. G. Heskin.

Mr. Deegan said he could not accept this proposal unless the Chairman could point out the reductions.

Mr. Curran said that the reductions he had in mind would not vitally affect any service. He proposed that £3,000 be taken off the estimate of £8,000 for cottages.

Mr. J. D. Hally (Co. Engineer) said that £3,000 would not be enough for housing.

Mr. R. Walsh said that the Council should be ashamed to mention cottages. They had not built a house in the past 10 years.

Mr. Curran said he proposed that £3,500 be reduced for the health service demand. He proposed this as a protest and the Council had the people behind them.

Mr. Deegan said that the health demand was statutory and the Co. Council was bound by law to pay it.

Mr. Dowd said that never before in the recorded history of the country had there been so little hunger or want. The country was better off today than it ever was. He proposed that the Council abolish travelling expenses for Co. Councillors.

Mr. Heskin said that they might as well abolish travelling expenses for all they got.

Mr. Curran said some sections of the community were finding it very difficult to pay the rates.

Mr. Dowd said he wanted to help these sections of the community but any reduction in the services would not be a benefit to them.

Mr. Norman Walsh said that people were feeling the pinch of the rates. He lived in a small town and the position of the ratepayers was desperate.

Mr. M. Harty said big monopolies were coming in to these towns and mopping up all the money.

Mr. Dowd said these concerns were making money that people never had before.

Mr. P. Cahill said the reductions proposed by the Chairman would affect the working man and he would not support them.

Mr. Curran said that no workers would be effected if the reductions were made.

Mr. S. Deegan said that the proposed reduction of £2,500 on the health demand was illegal and he suggested that it be withdrawn.

Mr. M. Harty said he was amazed that the Chairman had suggested that £100 be reduced from the Agricultural Committee.

The Chairman said that this reduction would not affect the service's efficiency. Regarding the health demand, he said it was time the members took issue with it.

Following an appeal from the Acting Co. Manager, the Chairman withdrew his proposed decrease of £2,500 from the health demand.

Mr. Curran's amendment was put to the meeting and was defeated by 11 votes to 3. The voting was: For—Curran, Drohan, Heskin; Against—Dower, Harty, Kyne, Whelan, Fahey, Foran, O'Ryan, Roche, Dowd, N. Walsh, Cahill, Galgey, Kenneally, Madden, R. Walsh, Butler.

The proposition of Mr. Dowd was then put before the meeting and this was also defeated by 11 votes to 8. The voting was: For—Kyne, Roche, Cahill, Kenneally, Madden, R. Walsh, Butler; Against—Harty, Whelan, Drohan, Fahey, Foran, O'Ryan, Heskin, N. Walsh, Galgey, Curran, Dower.

The Acting Co. Manager appealed to the Councillors to make up their minds and strike a rate.

Mr. Curran said it looked as if the Co. Council were acting like Cassius Clay. It had been suggested outside the meeting that the last meeting to consider the estimates was a fake.

Mr. Milo Galgey said the N.F.A., at a recent meeting congratulated the Co. Council on the stand they made in an effort to reduce the rates.

Mr. R. Walsh seconded Aid. Wm. Kenneally's proposal that the Council strike a rate of 51/6 in the £.

Mr. Galgey said that if the Council did not strike a rate they would hand over their rights to the Co. Manager and the Officials, and the ratepayers would be in a worse position.

Mr. R. Walsh's proposal was put to the meeting and carried by 11 votes to 8. The voting was: For—Kyne, Drohan, Fahey, Roche, Dowd, Heskin, Cahill, Galgey, Kenneally, Madden, R. Walsh, Aganist—Dower, Harty, Whelan, Foran, O'Ryan, N. Walsh, Butler, Curran.

Mr. Norman Walsh said he would like to congratulate the men who supported him at the previous meeting when the estimates were discussed. To the Acting Co. Manager and the other "yes-men" on the Council he said it was better to have loved and lost than never loved at all. He loved the ratepayers and he would fight again another day.

AMALGAMATION OF COUNTY'S CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERIES

Knockmeal Declines Offer

Following moves behind the scenes for the past few months, we now learn that Gaultier, Kilmead, Millvale, Rathgormac and Dungarvan co-operative societies have decided to amalgamate "for the greater progress of agriculture in county Waterford."

The remaining society, Knockmeal, however, have decided against amalgamating.

From reports that have come to hand we believe that the majority of the Cappoquin suppliers are dissatisfied with the result of the Knockmeal ballot and are holding a meeting in the Boathouse, on Monday night next to discuss the matter.

When the ballot was being held by each society (except Dungarvan) it was thought that there would be unanimous acceptance of the amalgamation offer, but now that Knockmeal have declined, the matter must again come before the other societies. We do not anticipate any change.

When the details have been completed it is intended to hold a press conference.

KILMAC' NOTES

The Engagement is announced and the marriage will take place between Michael, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Lenihan, Ballinabonogue, Kilmacthomas, and Bridget, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Widger, Lacken House, Waterford, at the Church of the Nativity, Butlerstown, do., on Easter Monday, at 10 o'clock, following which the reception will be held at Hotel Minella, Clonmel.

Passing of a highly esteemed Neighbour.—It was with deep regret that her many friends in this area learned of the death following a period of failing health of Mrs. Mary Rose Hickey (nee Flynn). Stradbally, which occurred at Woodlock Nursing Home, Portlaoise, on Thursday, 5th inst. (Feast of St. Frederick).

Deceased, who was predeceased by her spouse, was a kindly and genial personality, who was extremely popular with her friends in the Cove Village and beyond its confines. Throughout her life a most exemplary member of the Mother Church, she was noted for her trustworthiness, loyalty and charity. To her sorrowing sister Miss Norah Flynn, Stradbally and relatives, sincere sympathy is extended in their bereavement and loss.

A large and representative attendance accompanied the removal of the remains on Friday evening from Woodlock to the Parish Church of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross, Stradbally, where the coffin was received and blessed by Very Rev. D. Power, P.P., do., attended by Rev. M. Fennell, C.C.

Immediately after the celebration of Solemn Requiem Mass (preceded by the Office for the Dead), on Saturday, interment was made in the adjoining necropolis. All of the priests present at the obsequies again officiated at the graveside.

Many spiritual bouquets and messages of condolence were received. R.I.P. (American papers will please copy).

Painful Injuries to the leg and face were sustained by well and popularly known Mr. James Cullinane, Bonmahon, when he accidentally fell down portion of a cliff at the local strand. He was removed to Arokeen General Hospital, Waterford, where later he was stated to be "fairly comfortable." Mr. Cullinane is a husband and parent, an dhis hosts of friends on both sides of the Mahon unite in wishing him a speedy and complete recovery from the effects of the unfortunate misadventure.

Departure of Popular Teenager.—Likeable Miss Patricia Cleary, who, for a number of years past, has resided with her aunt and uncle-in-law at Coolubrid, Kilmacthomas, having procured a nice position in the Sister Isle, where her Stradbally-born father is domiciled, has just left to take up same; she was accompanied by him, as he was returning from his latest visit to this side of the Channel. All acquainted with Miss Cleary locally feel confident that she will fare well at the career of her choice over there. Good luck to her.

Of a Verity, Kilgobnet Dramatic Society made an immense impression in the Rainbow Hall, on Sunday night last when they presented "The Man from Clare" (a play in three acts by John B. Keane) and "The Bell of Boolavogue" (a one act play by Seamus Burke). From the opening, right through to the finale, each of these productions was thoroughly enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience. The players, all of whom gave an outstanding performance, were accorded hearty rounds of applause at the final curtain of the respective productions.

Continuing increasing success to this gifted Kilgobnet group.

By The Way, the Conway-Flynn family, general drapers, Carrick-on-Suir, who owned the caravan which was sited in a field hard by the cliff road, Cove, Tramore and which was recently completely destroyed by fire, were proprietors of a flourishing drapery establishment in Main St., Kilmacthomas, for quite a lengthy period prior and up to a few years ago.

Fianna Fail.—The annual meeting of the Kilmacthomas Comhairle Cheannair takes place at Kilmacthomas on tonight (Friday) at 8 o'clock, Mr. Sean Ormonde, T.D., will be present.

SALMON FISHING

The catches of salmon both by nets and rods continue to be very poor and with the season now in its seventh week, the situation is regarded as being very serious. Very few boats are catching the odd couple of salmon, but the majority of the boats are having a very lean time indeed, which is due to the prevailing east wind for the past two weeks or more. A break in the weather is badly needed which it is hoped, will make an improvement in catches.

Armore fishermen are said to be doing better than most, but the scarcity of salmon seems to be countrywide. The price last week to fishermen was 8/- per lb.

DUNGARVAN F.F. COMHAIRLE

The following is the speech delivered by Sean Ormonde, T.D., at Dungarvan Comhairle Cheannair of Fianna Fail, held on Friday, 6th March, at Touraneena:—

"Some people seemed surprised at the big increase in the Fianna Fail votes in the By-Elections. But the results in both cases were completely logical and clear indications that the voters were not sidetracked from the real issues."

"The extraordinary improvement in Ireland's economy since 1957 was caused by the dynamic and effective policies carried out by the united Fianna Fail Government. The various targets set out in the First Programme for Economic Expansion have been far exceeded, and a new air of hope and confidence now pervades the country."

"Emigration is now running at less than a quarter of the 1957 rate. The efforts of Fianna Fail have always been directed to provide more and more productive employment at home—and this was the main aim behind the First Programme for Economic Expansion."

"Hundreds of new industries have been set up throughout the country with the aid of State grants, loans, etc., and many thousands of Irish workers are employed in these industries who would otherwise have had to look for work abroad."

"The improved economic conditions now existing under Fianna Fail have brought with them better employment opportunities in other sectors of the economy besides manufacturing. The building trades are booming, and employment in trade and commerce generally has never been so good."

"We are much nearer to full employment than we have ever been before. Not only is emigration at an all-time low, but the number of workless has for the past three years been consistently lower than at any time in the past forty years."

"These two facts combined mean that we are at last approaching the time when involuntary emigration will end and there will be productive work at home for all who want it."

"Of course, we have also done much to raise farmers' living standards. Under Fianna Fail, total State aid to agriculture has more than doubled since 1957, and now stands at over £40 million per year."

"These huge sums are provided for the purpose of raising the living standards of farmers (1) by price supports; (2) by subsidies which cut farmers' costs, and, therefore, increase their profits; (3) by measures for increasing output and improving efficiency."

"In 1956/57 only a very small proportion—4.4%—of taxation was devoted to the needs of agriculture. This proportion has now risen to 15%."

"The opposition parties, who now call for still more State aid for agriculture, in fact gave very little when they themselves were in office."

"Since its formation, Fianna Fail has always had the support of the great bulk of the farming community—particularly the small farmers. A large part of the membership of the Organisation consists of farmers, and Fianna Fail has more former-Deputies than all the other parties combined."

"It is not surprising, then, that Fianna Fail policy has always had particular regard for the needs of farmers, and for the improvement of living conditions in rural areas. We will do a lot more for the farmers in the years ahead."

BUS MISHAP

On Sunday last, when the C.I.E. Bus 1 from Youghal to Cork reached Killeagh with 16 passengers, the driver noticed smoke coming from the engine. On investigation it was found that the engine was on fire due to a short circuit, and many helping hands assisted in drawing water in buckets. The Youghal Fire Brigade arrived within a short time and effectively dealt with the outbreak. Only the engine and cab were damaged and the passengers proceeded to their destination in a relief bus.

Munster Cookery Champion Congratulated

At the monthly meeting of Waterford Vocational Educational Committee on Tuesday, Mr. Charles Curran proposed a vote of congratulations to Miss Phyllis Cliffe, a pupil of Dungarvan Technical school who obtained first place in the recent Munster final of the fish cookery competition in Cork. She now competes in the All-Ireland final in Dublin on April 15th.

Mr. Curran said she had brought great honour to herself, her teacher Miss Beresford to her school and to the County in general.

Mr. M. Harty seconded. The Chairman (Ven. Archdeacon Power) said he first heard of her success in the county final and then of her success in the provincial final in Cork, of which they were justly proud. They must also congratulate, he said, her teacher, Miss Eithne Beresford for preparing the girl and for the results obtained.

Acting C.E.O. (Mr. T. F. Maher) said she received 25 gns. for her win in Cork and was assured of £30 for appearing in the final in Dublin. The first prize for the All-Ireland final was £100.

Mr. Maher said, that like Arkle, it would take very good opposition to beat her.

COMMITTEES REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. John Power, Mr. Michl. Harty and Rev. T. C. Butler, O.S.A., were appointed as the Committees representatives at the annual Vocational Congress to be held in Clonmel from June 1st to June 4th. They were selected at Tuesday's meeting of the Waterford Education Committee.

Committee Discuss Kilmac's New School

When the proposed new Technical School was discussed at last Tuesday's meeting of the Waterford Vocational Education Committee, Mr. John Fahey said that the people of Kilmac were worried and very worried if the school was ever going to be built. Because of the delay they would be asked to show their faces in the town.

The Acting C.E.O. (Mr. T. F. Maher) said the position was that they were now back to the old 13 acre site.

The Chairman (Ven. Archdeacon Power) said they had no alternative now but to accept the old site. He proposed they proceed it.

'PEIL' FILM FOR DUNGARVAN

About a year ago, Louis Marcus made the first instructional film on sport in Ireland for Gael Linn and W. D. & H. O. Wills. Its name is "Peil" and it won for its makers a special certificate of merit awarded from the gaelic sportswriters of Ireland.

This film deals with all aspects of the skills of gaelic football—the catch, kick, free, side step, etc. and is illustrated in colour by star players Kevin Heffernan (Dublin), Leo Murphy, Sean O'Neill (Down), Sean Purcell, Frank Stockwell (Galway), Kevin Behan (Louth), and Greg Hughes (Offaly). Each of these players is a skilful master of the game in his own particular position and "Peil" shows us that in slow that ing

So as to break the monotony of instruction, there are shots from big games before each section. You can take it from one who has seen the film that its 35 minutes run is a sheer joy to watch and a great chance for players and followers of learning from the masters of the art of gaelic football.

LOCAL INTEREST

The film is not without its local interest because some of the commentary is done by Padraig Tyers, a native of this district. He played in an All-Ireland final with Cork in 1956. Of course, no commentary would be complete without the master himself, Michael O'Hehir, and for sure, he is there to add his particular art to a delightful film.

You can see "Peil" with a full supporting programme at the Friary Hall, Dungarvan, on Sunday, 15th inst., at 4.30 p.m. or on Wednesday 18th, at 8 p.m.

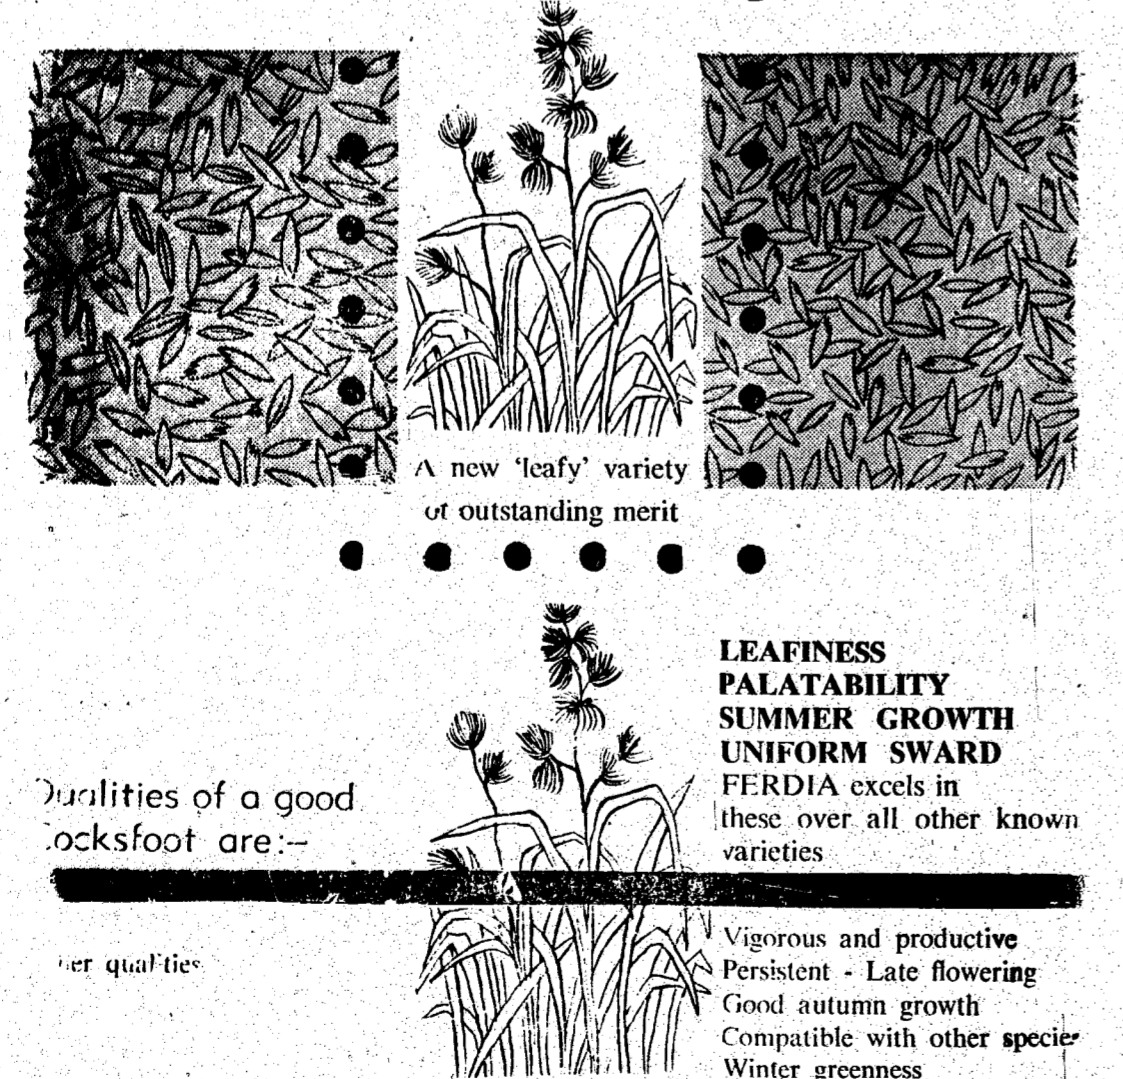

It will be shown at AnRinn, on Monday night, 16th inst., at 8.30 p.m.

Estimates Meeting

At the adjourned monthly meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council of Friday night last, April 3rd was decided on as the date for the annual estimates meeting. The March monthly meeting will be held on Friday 20th.

OVERDRAFT APPROVED
On the proposal of Dep. T. A. Kyne, seconded by Col. R. Walsh, the Council unanimously approved of the overexpenditure of £18,000 for the quarter ending June 30th, 1964.

SEEK TO LICENCE LAND
On the proposal of Col. R. Walsh the Council unanimously agreed to ask the Minister for Local Government to make an order which would give the Council power to licence the use of land for caravans. Mr. Doyle, Town Clerk, said it would be very desirable to have land controlled by licence. If they did not control the land they would be faced with infectious disease that would be detrimental to the tourist industry in the town.

Lismore Notes

DEATH OF MR. J. PRENDERGAST

It is with deep and sincere regret we record the death of Mr. James Prendergast, Carrignagour, Lismore, which sad event occurred at Lismore District Hospital, on Monday last, 9th March.

The deceased gentleman, who had reached the wonderful age of ninety-five years, was a member of the farming community and was also a noted contractor in his younger days. Possessed of a very quiet and friendly manner, he had countless friends everywhere, and he will be sadly missed by all, but more especially by his sorrowing wife and family and other relatives, to whom we tender our deepest sympathy.

The remains were removed to St. Carthage's Church, on Monday evening and were received and blessed by Very Rev. Canon Dunphy, P.P., Lismore, assisted by Rev. Fr. O'Meara, C.C., Cappoquin and the burial took place on Wednesday in the adjoining cemetery. The same clergy officiated at the graveside.

Large and representative corteges attended both funeral and burial.

BANTRECHT NA TUATHA—LISMORE BRANCH

At the March Guild meeting of the above, Mrs. Enda O'Sullivan entertained the members with a selection of Irish music. Prize for the competition was won by Mrs. Eva O'Neill.

Jumble sale and sale of work will be on Friday, March 13th at Lismore Court House. Tickets for the Easter raffle are now on sale.

LABOUR PARTY 45 DRIVE

Due to so many first rounds being played in the Labour Party 45 card drive, it was found impossible to play the final rounds in St. Carthage's Hall on last Sunday night.

However, the organising committee have lost no time in finding another suitable date, and the concluding rounds will definitely be played on Sunday night next, March 15th, at the same venue.

The Town Clerk, Mr. P. Doyle said that on the instructions of the Manager he had legal advice on the matter.

Deputy Kyne said a new law had been brought in where they could now compel the Manager not to do it. Also if the Council passed it they could compel him to abide by that. The actual increase involved was not too serious but if they allowed it now it could happen again and again.

Finally a resolution, objecting to the adjustment of the rents, was passed unanimously.

Council Objects to Adjustment of Rents

A proposal by Co. Manager, Mr. S. J. Moynihan, to adjust the rents on Council houses in Dungarvan that have been originally let on fixed rents, met with strong disapproval when the matter was discussed at the Council's monthly meeting on Friday night last.

Col. Thomas Lee said he could not agree with the Manager's proposal. These houses were well paid for already in rents and asked what they would do with the extra money.

Mr. T. A. Kyne (Chairman) said the additional rent would help to reduce the rates. The reduction in fact on the rates would be 8d.

Col. John McCarthy said that was a considerable reduction.

Mr. Kyne said that whilst the proposal would reduce the rates, anyone that signed an agreement that did not provide for an alteration of their rent, they were entitled to have it left as it was at present. If the Manager tried to increase the rents of these houses he would oppose it. The Manager, however, had not bullied anyone, he said, and had if anything been over-fair at times. He was now asking them, however, to increase these rents, which he, personally, disagreed with. A contract was a contract.

Col. R. Walsh said the scheme itself was very well done, but the sanctity of the existing contract was the only snag. He believed some people involved would be better able to pay the rent than some business people in town, but he had great time for the sanctity of the contract. The Manager had the contract whereby he could increase the rents of the Caseyville houses, but in this case he had got no such contract. He could not have his cake and eat it.

Deputy Kyne said there was a method by which they could stop the Manager from increasing the rents and he proposed that they oppose any adjustments in the rents.

The Town Clerk, Mr. P. Doyle said that on the instructions of the Manager he had legal advice on the matter.

Deputy Kyne said a new law had been brought in where they could now compel the Manager not to do it. Also if the Council passed it they could compel him to abide by that. The actual increase involved was not too serious but if they allowed it now it could happen again and again.

Finally a resolution, objecting to the adjustment of the rents, was passed unanimously.

TWELVE MONTHS ON INDECENT ASSAULT CHARGES

John Power, Keating St., KDungarvan, was sentenced to 12 months imprisonment on each of two charges of indecent assault and a charge of larceny when convicted by Judge L. B. Skinner at Dungarvan District Court, on Wednesday. The sentences are to run concurrently.

Power, who pleaded guilty, was charged with: (1) indecently assaulting a married woman at Duckspond, on 7th March; (2) indecently assaulting a 12 year old girl at Ballinamuck on March 9th; (3) entering the residential quarters of the Mercy Convent, Dungarvan, on the night of March 8th and stealing two cushions, valued 25/-.

Supt. Mee. Costello, prosecuting, said the defendant was out on the road on March 7th when he met a married woman cycling home. He gripped her and pulled her off the bicycle. A lorry came to her assistance the defendant ran away.

On March 9th on the Kilrush road the defendant met a 12 year old girl cycling and again he attacked her. She struggled and he told her if she screamed he had a knife in his pocket and he would kill her. She continued to struggle and eventually got away from him.

Supt. Costello said the defendant had been previously charged in Lismore with indecently assaulting two school girl boarders. It was a very serious position that he was at large and assaulting females. His father had told him that the defendant might require psychiatric treatment, but whether or not it was psychiatric or penal treatment he requested he should not be at large.

Imposing the sentences, Judge Skinner said he would have given the defendant two years if he had the power to do so. He recommended that he be given psychiatric attention in gaol.

FARM INCOME AND AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT 1964-70

AGRICULTURAL CREDIT N.F.A. NEWS

DWELLING HOUSES

The N.F.A. recommends that—

(a) The maximum loan should be increased from £500 to an amount sufficient to meet 90% of the cost of erection or reconstruction, excluding the grants applicable.

(b) These loans should be available at an interest rate of 4% per annum.

(c) These loans should be available over a 25 year period.

(d) In assessing the P.L.V. of the dwellinghouse, regard must be had to the income which could reasonably be expected from the farm. We consider that the P.L.V. on new farm dwellinghouses is too high. There should be a more realistic method of assessing P.L.V. on new farm dwellinghouses, especially on small farms.

(e) This loan scheme should be open to all bona fide farmers. It should be borne in mind that the fees of higher P.L.V.'s on new and improved dwelling-houses and increased rates are very often cited as the main reason why farmers are reluctant to improve their farmsteads. This factor must be seriously considered in Schemes designed to improve the standard of farm dwellinghouses and outbuildings.

Furthermore a specially qualified section of the Rural Home Economics Advisory Services should be available to advise farmers who contemplate erecting or reconstructing dwellinghouses.

Similar grant and loan facilities should apply in a case where a farmer wishes to provide housing accommodation (i.e. a new or reconstructed dwellinghouse) for one of his employees on his farm.

FARM BUILDINGS

The Department of Agriculture should draw up a special scheme of loans for the erection of new farm buildings and improving existing buildings. These loans should be sanctioned and issued by the Department of Agriculture and repaid with the Land Purchase Annuities. There should be co-ordination between the issue of grants and loans. In order to make the best use of the credit available, specialist farm buildings Advisory Officers should be available and local Advisory Officers should have a knowledge of farmyard planning and of building layout. Indeed, the programme of research in both design and layout is urgently required.

FARM DEVELOPMENT

The Department of Agriculture should draw up a special scheme of loans for the development of farms. This Scheme should provide for drainage, reclamation, fencing, water supplies, liming and fertilising as part of a comprehensive farm improvement Scheme, including grassland improvement. The Scheme must be flexible to allow a participant complete the work in stages over a number of years, involving a number of loans under this Scheme. This Scheme should be extended to free hold farmers.

AGRICULTURAL CREDIT CORPORATION LTD.

Loans should be available to approved applicants for the purchase of holdings selected by themselves. The name of the Agricultural Credit Corporation Ltd. should be changed to say "The Farmers' Credit Company Ltd." There should be provision for direct representation of farmers, responsible to and elected by farmers, on the Board of Directors. The Agricultural Credit Corporation should be empowered to accept deposits of finance direct from farmers and steps should be taken to simplify the procedure and expedite the issue of loans.

Many farmers are borrowing from Hire Purchase Firms and other sources at very high interest charges. They should obtain their credit requirements from Banks, the Agricultural Credit Corporation Ltd. and other sources charging an interest rate of 6% per annum or less.

AGRICULTURAL INSTITUTE

The Agricultural Institute should carry out a comprehensive Research Survey on the need for and use of credit on Irish farms and the results of this Survey should be made available to Department of Agriculture and Finance Banks and other credit institutions, the N.F.A. Advisory Officers, I.A.O.S. and other interested parties.

CONSUMER CREDIT

Credit should be available for the development of better amenities in the home of the farmer and his worker by raising the standard of living, the urge to work increased, and the inclination to stay on the land fostered.

ADVISORY SERVICES

The N.F.A. considers that a condition should be gradually included in all credit Schemes for increased production or development purposes, as additional Advisory Officers and Specialist Advisers become available, to the effect that every farmer, before he applies for a loan, must consult his Advisory Officer about his proposals and must undertake to carry out the proposals in consultation with the Advisory Officer.

At present the Commercial Banks provide accommodation to merchants who in turn make advances to farmers at a higher rate of interest. A direct approach by these farmers to the Banks would reduce the burden of interest charges and give those farmers greater freedom in purchasing and marketing.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS

Interest rates will be of increasing importance in Irish agriculture as investment for increased production takes place. At present the Irish farmer pays an excessive rate of interest by comparison with the European farmers who will be our competitors within the European Economic Community.

Expansion of educational information and advice to farmers in the sphere of credit is vital to future development. This can be accomplished through farm organisation, agricultural advisers, commercial banks, co-operatives, farm publications, radio and television programmes, etc.

EDUCATION

If agricultural production is to be increased by 1970 to the extent advocated in this document, as much attention will have to be given to improved agricultural education as to improved price incentives, marketing methods, credit facilities, etc.

Satisfactory completion of a recognised course in agriculture should qualify a farmer for a loan from the Agricultural Credit Co-operation. Those who wish to become skilled farm workers must have access to the same standard of education as farmers' sons. The number of vocational Schools should be increased and the curriculum broadened.

An efficient rural home economic advisory service is very necessary.

QUESTION—I am a small farmer with a few cows and followers. I have not got much F.Y.M. for my potato crop and I understand a good crop can be grown without it. What fertilizer should I use?

ANSWER—Although F.Y.M. was thought in the past to be necessary to grow a good crop of potatoes, the use of fertilizer alone can give a very satisfactory crop under most conditions. An application of 10 cwt. or more per acre of a compound fertilizer such as 8-16 will supply the required plant foods. To obtain tubers with high starch, the use of 6-5-15 made with Sulphate of Potash is more suitable. Any F.Y.M. that is available on the farm should be used on the root crop or on grass to maintain the humus status in the soil which is most important.

Q—During recent years I have been growing a good acreage of cereals, mainly barley. My yields have, in some cases, not been so good as I expected, with bad patches through the crops. Do you think the soil is short of something or would it be some disease?

A—Last season, as a result of damp cold conditions during April and May, there was much evidence of disease in cereals, namely Eyespot and Take-all. These diseases are the result of successive cereal sowings with a build up of infection. Lodging was the result of Eyespot infection and the reduced yields were the outcome of Take-all early in the growing season.

Scut in the field is a good carrier of these diseases, particularly Take-all and every effort should be taken to get rid of this weed. I would advise deep ploughing early in the winter, reasonable seedling rate and good manuring as well as a 4-5 year rotation. Wheat is more susceptible than barley but under severe conditions the latter can be badly affected. A soil test will indicate if some deficiency is present.

Q—I can get an old 500 gallon Diesel oil tank which I want to use as a water trough in the field for my cattle. How can I clean the tank of oil and make it rust proof?

A—You will no doubt have to cut the tank to make a trough for the cattle and I advise scrubbing well with a liquid detergent and wash. Allow it to stand full of water for a few days and then empty and when dry paint on a reliable rust-proof material. This will check all traces of diesel oil in the tank.

Q—Is it safe to combine drill fertilizers with peas and does it give good results?

A—Although combine drilling could cause injury to the crop there is practically no danger provided the rows are not more than 9 inches apart and that a maximum of 2 cwt. granular, nitrogen-free fertilizer is used per acre. There is a suitable fertilizer for combine drilling now on the market. Combine drilling is at least twice as effective as broadcasting fertilizers for peas. Unless broadcast fertilizers are well worked into the soil they remain above the range of the pea roots and, therefore, of little benefit to the crop.

SALMON FISHING

HISTORIC RACING EVENT RECALLED

An amazing feat during the Grand National in 1951 was recalled in an article entitled "Live It Again" in an Irish paper recently. Most of the horses had already fallen when Derrinstown was brought down and his rider thrown clear. Very pluckily the jockey remounted and went on to finish third to the great joy of Sweep ticket holders who drew the horse concerned. It is hardly necessary to mention that the jockey concerned was Albert Power of Clashmore. Albert holds that he would have won the race only for the mishap.

Housewives' Before "No one Over-worked" Urban Council

— Mr. Norman Walsh

Three housewives from Cathal Brugha Pl., Dungarvan, told members of the local Urban Council on Friday night that dogs were being poisoned in their area and were lying dead in a right-of-way beside the houses. The members of the deputation were Mrs. Mary McGuire, Mrs. Mary Nagle and Mrs. Mary Daly.

Mrs. McGuire said the right of way was in a scandalous condition and had not been cleared for ten years. Meat was being thrown into their garden and the dogs were dying there. They were now lying dead on the right of way.

Col. Thos. Lee said it was disgraceful and he had spoken about it before. Mrs. McGuire said she did not know who was planting the poison, but animals and pets died after eating it. Meat had been planted in her garden and the whole thing was not good enough.

Mr. T. A. Kynne, T.D. (Chairman) said the only thing the council could do was clear away the dead dogs from the right of way. Mrs. Nagle said she brought up the guards and they said had nothing to do in the matter.

A Council member said if the children picked up the poison it could be very serious. Mrs. McGuire said the poison was being laid in the middle of the day and the dogs were dying at mid-day. This was contrary to the regulations. Recently an £80 dog, the property of Mr. E. Kirby was poisoned. This very night another dog had been poisoned.

Mr. Kynne: I think this is a matter for the guards. The members of the deputation also made complaints about the conditions of their houses and requested the Council to carry out the necessary repairs. The Council decided to send the town engineer to inspect the houses, whilst the right-of-way will be cleared. The Chairman added, however, that no money will be available for house repairs until after 31st March. Deputy Kynne also stated that he would not receive any more deputations without their being given written notices before hand.

If they had any more deputations they would have no meeting. They would snowball on them, and when they saw in the papers that they received four deputations this week, they would have 24 of them next week. When the deputation left the meeting they were interviewed by an "Observer" reporter and stated: "There are dozens of dogs buried in the ditch in this right-of-way, and this is only a few feet from our houses. The rats are eating the paws off the dead dogs whilst some chickens have also eaten the poison and died."

Mrs. McGuire said that two of her children had picked up the poison, but luckily, her husband snatched it from them in time.

THERE is no such thing as a peak period, and there is no one overworked here, said Mr. Norman Walsh, at last Tuesday's meeting of Waterford Vocational Education Committee when the Acting C.E.O., Mr. T. F. Maher, asked the members to approve of the re-appointment of part-time clerical assistance for "the peak period."

Mr. Maher said the senior students would do the work at 2/6 an hour and the total cost would not be much. The students had done the work satisfactorily in previous years. Mr. Walsh having stated the remarks already quoted proposed that they do not employ them. They were talking about economy but when it came to the annual audit they found that the clerk of the school was able to do it for the remuneration of £10. That was more of the jobbery that was going on and it was time they put on the brakes. They had a typical example of it by their own clerk applying to do the audit.

Mr. Michael Morrissey said the question that should be asked was when did he do the audit. It could have been in his own time and there was no point in Mr. Walsh making rash statements. Mr. Walsh—I am not making rash statements. Mr. Maher said the clerk did not do the audit for the past few years because he could not get round to it. Mr. Walsh said the amount was small but the principle was very big.

Mr. Harty said he would look upon this employment as part of their training and would be very helpful to them. Mr. Morrissey proposed and Mrs. C. Griffin seconded that they employ the students. Mr. Walsh said there was a lot of wool being pulled over their eyes in the past few months but it would not happen again. Some of the prominent members of the County Council on the Committee ought to examine their consciences regarding economy. There was no second for Mr. Walsh's proposal and Mr. Morrissey was accordingly carried.

No Grant for Abbeyside Seafront

A letter was read from Bord Fáilte at the monthly meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council on Friday night stating that they had not got sufficient funds to give a grant towards the Development of the sea front at Abbeyside. The work is estimated to cost £18,000.

"RAT INFESTED" A letter was also read from Mr. P. Langan, Secretary, Irish Labour Party, Abbeyside, complaining about the condition of the waste ground opposite the Schout's Den in the Village. The letter stated that the ground was rat infested and should be cleared to make a playground for the children. The Chairman, Deputy Kynne said refuse was being dumped there by the tenants. He felt it should be cleared and notices erected forbidding people from dumping on the site. This suggestion was unanimously agreed to.

KING ST. COMPLAINT Nine residents from King St. Abbeyside requested the Council to place a light on the new pole that had been erected in the street. They stated that the street was very poorly lit and the additional light was needed. Deputy Kynne suggested they ask the Engineer to move the light from one of the poles farther up to the new one.

Land Offer Rejected

An offer of 11½ acres of land at £1,000 an acre was rejected by Dungarvan Urban Council at its monthly meeting on Friday night last. The offer, which was made by J. F. Williams & Son, Solrs., was on behalf of a local client. The letter stated that the land was adjoining the District Hospital and would not require any money for drainage or sewerage.

N.F.A. and the Small Farmer

Dear Sir, Reports in the Press last week of the Waterford County Council Annual Estimates Meeting quoted Col. H. Dowd, as saying that the N.F.A. only spoke for the big farmers.

Now, this really is not so. Our membership in the county comprises a high proportion of farmers who could not be described as "big" farmers, while in the Western counties the vast majority of members are quite definitely small farmers. These are efficiently represented at county and national level by their representatives, and it is from these counties that some of the bitterest protests are being made concerning the rising rates.

Only recently in Drinagh our President spoke strongly in favour of the small farmer, as he also did the previous week at the N.F.A. convention in Malrow, where he said if we could not help the small farmer the N.F.A. might as well peck up. To avoid going into this question at too great a length and detail I would recommend Col. Dowd to read the chapter on Small Farms in the new N.F.A. Seven-Year Plan, "Farm Income and Agricultural Development: 1964-1970." From this he will see that N.F.A. does indeed "speak" for the small farmer.

To quote but a few words: "Emigration and flight from the land can be largely attributed to the low level of income for the small farmer in the Great social Encyclopaedia has asked for a level of income for the small farmer keeping with human dignity and social justice." We are therefore asking that the small farmers' enterprise, skill and labour, together with that of his wife, be rewarded.

Yours faithfully, BRIAN PEARCE, Secretary.

GAELIC JOTTINGS

SENIOR CHAMPIONSHIP DRAWS

The highlight of a heavy programme at Tuesday night's meeting of the County Board was the senior championship draws.

By 15 votes to 9 it was decided to abolish group teams and as a result the senior hurling championship has been reduced to an all time low number of eight teams.

The draw is: Mount Sion v. Ballyduff; Dunhill v. Ballygunner; Brickey Rangers v. Fournilewater; Erin's Own v. Abbeyside.

The senior football championship draw is: Tramore v. Mount Sion; De La Salle v. John Michels; Geraldines v. Ardmore; Brickey Rangers v. Valley Rovers; Kill v. Stradbally; Kilrossanty v. Gaultier; Ring v. Emmets; Dungarvan, a bye.

PHELAN AND SARGENT CUP DRAWS

The Phelan and Sargent Cup draws were also made at the same meeting and are as follows:

Phelan Cup '63/64—Mount Sion v. De La Salle at Waterford on Sunday next; Gaultier v. John Michels at Waterford on 5/4/64 at 6.30; Brickey Rangers v. Kilrossanty at Dungarvan, same date, at 6.30; Stradbally v. Ardmore.

Sargent Cup, '64/65—(East) Ballygunner v. Mount Sion; Dunhill v. Erin's Own (West) Ballyduff v. Abbeyside; Brickey Rangers v. Fournilewater.

1964/65 Phelan Cup—Tramore a bye; Mount Sion a bye, these two meet in the second round; De La Salle v. Michels; Kill v. Gaultier; Stradbally v. Brickey Rangers; Kilrossanty v. Ardmore; Valley Rovers v. Geraldines; Emmets v. Ring.

The semi-finals of last year's Sargent Cup will be played on Sunday next and the final will be played on April 5th at Cappoquin.

THREE MORE MONTHS FOR CHEASTY.

When the application for reinstatement by Tom Cheasty came up for consideration at last Saturday's Munster Council meeting in Tramore it was discovered that he had been suspended under the wrong section of the rule and instead of the three months suspension that was imposed on him it should have been six. And what did the Council promptly do? They unceremoniously planted on the other three months thus keeping the player out of the game for another spell.

But what had been conveniently overlooked is the fact that it was the officials of Waterford County Board who booked in the first place and now because of their mistake it is the Ballyduff man who must pay the penalty. None can deny that three months was more than enough for the "crime" involved, yet because of an error by officialdom the term of suspension is duly doubled. It is my view that by this additional term a grave injustice has been meted out to Cheasty. I wonder if the County or Provincial Board have ever heard of "the benefit of the doubt"?

SUNDAY'S SARGENT CUP SEMI-FINALS

After a delay of twelve months the 1963 Sargent Cup is eventually getting underway again and the semi-finals are down for decision on Sunday next. At Dungarvan, Abbeyside and Colligan meet, whilst Erin's Own and Dunhill provide the opposition in the other tie at the latter's venue.

Both games promise exciting fare and whilst the season is as yet in its infancy last year's form — for what it is worth, makes one fancy Abbeyside and Erin's Own. So early in the year, however, one never knows and it will hardly be termed a major surprise if either Dunhill or Colligan

WINTER LEAGUE SEMI-FINAL AT CAPPOQUIN

The first of the winter junior league semi-finals is down for decision at Cappoquin when Cappoquin meet Dungarvan in hurling.

Both clubs have fallen on lean times these past few years and both have now taken the step down to the junior grade. It will be interesting to see the standard of hurling in this game and whilst forecasting the result of a game between teams whose potential is as yet of an unknown quantity, Cappoquin with home advantage may just about prevail.

AFFANE DEFEAT KILGOBINET

The Kilgobinet hurlers started the year on a very disconsolate note on Sunday when they were defeated by Affane by a two-goal margin in the current Winter league competition.

Affane, let it be said were the better side and well deserving of their victory, but truth to tell, they had little or nothing to beat, and it must have been quite a while since the Kilgobinet Club fielded as poor a team in this grade.

They were in fact practically at full strength and had on their line-out the Power brothers who this year have decided to assist Ballinacourty in the junior football championship.

ABBEYSIDE HURLING LEAGUE

Last Sunday saw the second series of matches in the hurling league and played under ideal conditions the two games were keenly contested.

In the first game, Tony Mansfield's team beat Johnny Hogan's team by 5-10 to 4-3, and in the second game Eddie Moore's team proved too good for Liam Enright's team and ran out easy winners on a score of 5-6 to 1-4.

As Abbeyside and Colligan are playing their Sargent Cup semi-final on Sunday next at the Fraher field no game will be played in the league.

The next series of games will be: Liam Enright v. Johnny Hogan; Tony Mansfield v. Eddie Moore.

Dungarvan Minor Hurling League

In the Dungarvan Club's League for minors and juveniles, Kevin Fleming's team had a surprise but well merited win over the side captained by Sean McGrath. The winners, who were given but little hope of winning this game, took command early on and distated the trend of play for long periods. Every man played his part and although they had only a goal to spare at the end of a grand game there was no doubting the worth of their victory. Kevin Fleming, Michael Tobin and J. Egan were the chief architects of the victory, but it was first and foremost a team effort which won the day.

Sean McGrath's team disappointed. This team was expected not alone to win this match quite comfortably but to "go the full way" and carry off the medals—at least in the hurling section. Perhaps overconfidence was their undoing, for they can be a lot better than they showed last Sunday. Sean McGrath, John Reilly and Sean Murphy were the only ones to look the part, but all their efforts were wasted by a very prodigal forward line.

The teams were: Kevin Fleming, M. Tobin, P. J. Hansberry, J. Egan, T. Murphy, J. O'Keefe, M. Rosister, J. French, M. O'Connor, Sean McGrath, F. Woods, J. Dwyer, B. Wright, S. Murphy, S. Flynn, P. Grant, M. Keyes, J. Reilly, J. Clancy.

On Sunday morning next the football league will get underway. Teams captained by Pat Walsh and Mickey Fraher respectively will start play at 11 a.m. and the second game will take place at 11.45 a.m. Both games will commence at the hour stated and players will be ready in time.

KERRY

THERE was no sensational result against gallant Waterford they were sorely Clonmel on Sunday last. But if Kerry pressed for the greater portion of the hour were undisputedly deserving winners in and were somewhat flattered by the the National football league quarter final decisiveness of their final winning margin.

It was undoubtedly one of Waterford's most distinguished hours for many a long day. True, the Kerry men seldom looked in real danger of defeat, but it was only in the final quarter that they finally succeeded in shaking off the resolute and determined Deise men.

Kerry of course looked and in fact were, the polished performers. Their fielding, as is traditional with all Kingdom sides, was truly impeccable, whilst their fantastic twenty-one points tally speaks volumes for the accuracy of their attack. And yet they were not presented with a trouble free passage to the semi-final stage. Waterford doggedly threw the challenge literally in their faces, and the enthusiasm with which the Deise went about their task had the fair sized attendance urging them on incessantly for long periods.

Having won the toss, Kerry elected to play with the strong breeze in the opening half. They took up the running instantly, and scarcely had a minute elapsed before Bernie O'Callaghan pointed a forty-yard free. With their very next attack Mick Fleming floated over a perfect centre which Tom Long brilliantly fielded, and almost with the one movement slammed the ball past Peter Crotty. The apparent rout was under way, or so we thought, and when the Kingdom stretched their lead to eight points without reply, complete annihilation seemed Waterford's only fate.

Then in the 17th minute came the score of the game, a brilliantly manoeuvred goal by Tommy Kirwan that quite obviously shattered Kerry complacency. Gaining possession near goal, he flat-footed three defenders before hitting a great ball past a helpless Seamus Fitzgerald. Seconds later the same player pointed a 14-yard free and the fat was well and truly in the fire.

Even when Kerry led by 1-10 to 1-3 at the interval, the game was not the cut and dried affair that one anticipated it to be. The Kerry men had played with a very strong breeze in those opening thirty minutes, and a seven point lead was by no means an unassailable one under the prevailing circumstances.

But if that first moiety had been an entertaining one, it bore little resemblance to the third quarter thrills that emanated in abundance from the game, and had the crowd frenziedly roaring on the Deise. Seconds after the restart Mick Regan, who was an interval replacement for a subdued Tom Rordan (who himself was a last minute choice for the absent Martin Kennedy), blazed wide of an open goalmouth, and an almost certain goal was lost.

But their was no restraining the fury of Waterford's attacks at this stage, and when Tommy Joe Hart's fist connected with a high centre, goalkeeper Fitzgerald was again picking the ball from his rigging. Now only four points separated the sides, and Waterford, backed by the wind, were displaying new found confidence. At the three-quarter stage there was still only that quartet of minors in it.

Then it was, however that Kerry took a firm and decisive grip on the exchanges. They relentlessly pried on the pressure of the Deise posts, and in an effort to repel the tide of battle the defence conceded countless frees that proved fatal with a marksman like O'Connell on the scene. The Valencia star unerringly placed the ball between the uprights from almost impossible angles, and his pin-point accuracy put the issue well beyond doubt in that final quarter.

O'Connell, whose marksmanship was the feature of a faultless display. In defence they were best served by Ger. D. O'Connor, Seamus Murphy and Tim Lyons.

Pat Griffin, although prone to over-usage, was the better of their midfielders, where Mick Fleming never struck his best form.

MANY STARS

There were many stars on a Waterford side that lost no caste in defeat.

Goalkeeper Peter Crotty made no mistakes, and had no chance of preventing Kerry's lone goal.

All three full backs defended stoutly, but I was particularly impressed by Paddy Carlton and Mark Dingley. Dingley had the better of matters with Tom Long, whilst Carlton held teenage star Denis O'Sullivan scoreless over the hour.

The half-line of Connolly, O'Brien and Noel Walsh fared well early on, but were eventually over-run by the dangerous Kerry half-forward trio.

Tom Walsh gave a fine mid-field display, but he failed to get the necessary support from a variety of different partners.

Little fault can be found with the attack, whose tally of 2-6 against the much vaunted Kingdom defenders was a notable feat in itself.

Tommy Kirwan, who accounted for half his side's total, led the Kerry men a merry dance whenever he gained possession and was undoubtedly the star of the sector. Jimmy Hewitt and Tommy Joe Hart, both of whom had spasms at midfield also had their moments of prominence in attack, as had Monty Guiry and Freddie Justin Spratt, but Guiry and O'Brien have both been seen to better advantage. Tom O'Riordan was seldom in the picture and it came as no surprise in the winter league and the interval.
