YOUGHAL NOTES

ST. PATRICK HONOURED The National Apostle was honoured in Youghal with the usual Church Parade under the auspices of the local Gaelic League in which many of the town's organised bodies marched. At 11.30 the parade took off from the Market Sq., preceded by a platoon of the local F.C.A., under B. S. M. Patrick Power, Civil Defence; Little Theatre Group; Gaelic League; Pigeon Club; G.A.A.; two troops of dancers; schoolchildren from Presentation Convent; Loreto Convent and Christian Brothers School. The parade proceeded to 12 o'clock Mass at the Parish Church, where a sermon on the life of St. Patrick was preached in Irish by Rev. S. O'Mahony, C.C.

YOUGHAL FIRE OUTBREAK At 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoon the Youghal Fire Brigade was summoned to the residence of the local Harbour Master, Capt. P. J. Walsh, on the Market Quays. On arrival, it was found that wardrobe press in the children's bedroom was well alight and the house and street was covered with dense smoke. The brigade had the outbreak under control in a short space of time and little damage was done. Damage might have been much more serious were it not for the prompt arrival of the brigade and the fact that two neighbours, Mr. P. Buttiner and his son, who did everything possible to keep the outbreak in check until the brigade arrived.

SALMON FISHING

With the salmon net season now in its eighth week, there is still no improvement whatever in the catches of salmon in Youghal and surrounding districts. In fact, it can be said that it has been the worst two months of any season in the past. Some few boats are doing fairly well. Last week, one boat accounted for 26 fish, while others are having a lean time. With one third of the season over this is very serious indeed and unless there is a great improvement in the very near future boats will not pay expenses, not to mention a livelihood. It appears that there is a run of small fish that pass through the meshes of the nets. Some of these fish have been taken by rods with the dorsal fin damaged, in the upper reaches of the river. Rod men, up to last week, are said to be doing fairly well, but were hampered by the floods of last week, when rivers overflowed their banks and it will take a considerable time before many rivers are fishable.

PLUCKY RESCUE

Recently, the Market Dock, Youghal, was the scene of a timely rescue of a 24 year old little girl named O'Shea. With another child she was in the vicinity of the dock when her playmate threw a stick into the water about 10 feet deep and the child just followed the stick. Local fishermen who were attending to their nets on the quay, were alerted and a local factory worker Michael White, Kent Street, dived in fully clothed and brought the child to the ferry slip, where he was assisted by a fisherman named Christopher Hennessy. Dr. Riordan was quickly on the scene and rendered artificial respiration and he had the child removed to the local Cottage Hospital for observation. She was returned to her home in a few days, fully recovered. This action of Michael White is commendable and deserving of recognition by the appropriate authority.

ROAD WALL COLLAPSES

In the early hours of Saturday morning last, a wall adjacent to the Lighthouse on the opposite side, collapsed and completely blocked the entrance to an adjoining house. No one was injured.

Lismore Notes

LISMORE DRAMATIC SOCIETY

During its fifty-one years of existence, Lismore Dramatic Society, has staged many outstanding plays, and surely another one to join the numerous greats produced by the Society in the past, will be this year's play, entitled "The Year of the Hiker," which was staged before two full houses in the Town Hall on St. Patrick's Day.

As the "Hiker," Dick Canning really excelled, while the part of his wife Kate was truly brought out to perfection by Ann Tierney. One of the Society's most experienced players Kathleen O'Brien again lived up to her great reputation, when playing Aunt Freeda. As the Hiker's son "Jed and Simey," Billy O'Brien and Jimmy O'Gorman, proved a good combination and as their sister "Mary," Catherine Buckley, also gave an impressive performance. Tom Murphy gave a nicely balanced performance as the doctor. A word of praise is also due to the men "behind the scene" Messrs. James Campion, Kieron Fenton, James Stapleton.

TOURIN G.A.A. VICTORY SOCIAL

On Tuesday night next, 31st March, at Walsh's Hotel, Cappoquin, the eagerly awaited Tourin G.A.A. victory social will be held. The demand for tickets has been overwhelming and the Committee expect all tickets to be gone by the end of the week. Feted at the social of course will be the twenty players who brought so much honour to Tourin on the hurling field last year, and one of the highlights of the night will be the presentation to these heroes of the western county and league medals which they won during the past year.

Incidentally, we have been asked to state that admission will be by ticket only and those requiring same, are asked to contact either John J. Scanlon (Secretary) Ballinwilling, Cappoquin, or John O'Gorman (Asst. Secretary) Co-op. Stores Lismore.

CONDOLENCE

Sympathy is extended to Mr. Thomas Kearney, New Street, Lismore (late of Ballinwilling) on the death of his son Steven which sad event occurred in England last week.

GRAND HOLIDAY DANCE

On Easter Monday night next, patrons of the Town Hall have a visit from the Bridesiders Showband. A very large crowd is expected for this grand holiday dance. Dancing $3.00 to 1. Admission, 5/-.

OFFICIAL OPENING OF KENNEDY PARK

A large number of people from Lismore and surrounding districts are expected to make the short journey to Knockmore on Sunday next for the official opening of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Park, and with such an attractive programme lined up by the Committee, patrons should indeed be well rewarded.

Incidentally, while on the subject of the Park, we here in Lismore, would like to congratulate the organising committee and especially the Shamrocks Hurling Club, on the great work they have done.

EASTER RETREAT

The customary Easter Retreat is this year being conducted by Rev. Father James, O.P. Services, as follows: Holy Thursday, 7 p.m.; Good Friday, 4 p.m. and 8 p.m.; Holy Saturday, 8.30 a.m.

FLOOD DAMAGE

Some damage and considerable inconvenience was caused by the flooding of the lands and roads adjacent to the Blackwater, which was caused by the torrential rains early in the week. The position was at its worst on Thursday, when traffic was impeded for some hours on the Cappoquin/Lismore road. Cars had to make a detour and bank officials going to serve the sub-offices at Cappoquin, took the circuitous route of the mountain road. So high was the water in the Boat House grounds that the Committee deemed it advisable to abandon the holding of the usual Patrick's night dance.

DEED IN U.S.A.

News has reached here of the death in New York of Mrs. Win. Cullinane, wife of a former resident of Cappoquin. She was a native of Villersstown and sister of Mr. Thomas Crowe, to whom sympathy is extended.

"PROFESSOR TIM"

Firmly-established favourites with the play-going public, the Affane Drama Group had another big success with their presentation of "Professor Tim," at the Desmond Cinema, on Friday night. The capacity audience gave the players an enthusiastic reception and the final curtain fell amidst thunderous applause.

The members of the cast were: E. Costin, Tom Fitzgerald, May McGrath, Peg Puroell, Tom Heaphy, Michael Prendergast, Kitty Maher, Maurice Tobin, Patrick McGrath, Margaret Fennell, Denis McGrath. The Producer was Re. C. Daly, C.C., and Stage Manager was Mr. T. Murphy.

TOURANEENA NOTES

The death took place recently at St. Joseph's Hospital, Dungarvan, of Mr. Michael Hally, Cappagh. The deceased, who was in his middle sixties, was a native of Monastup, Ballinacult, and was a well known and popular figure throughout West Waterford and south Tipperary. He, like other members of his family, took an active part in Ireland's fight for independence and in the civil war he took the Republican side and served with Capt. Jack O'Meara's flying column.

A large concourse of relatives, friends and O.A. I.R.A. comrades accompanied the removal of the remains to New-castle Church, and on the following day, subsequent to the celebration of Requiem Masses for the repose of his soul, interment was made in the cemetery adjoining.

To his bereaved wife, son, daughters, brothers, sister, nieces and nephews, we tender our deepest sympathy. R.I.P. I.C.A. MEETING

The usual monthly meeting of the Touraneena I.C.A. Guild was held in the Schoolhouse, Touraneena, on Wednesday night, March 18th. Miss Chrissie Barron, who presided welcomed two new members to the Guild.

The competition for the nicest souvenir was won by Miss Mary O'Donnell, with Miss Nellie Hally, 2nd, and Miss Mai Hally 3rd.

A special meeting will be held this weekend to make final arrangements for their annual Easter social to be held in the Schoolhouse, Touraneena, on Wednesday night, 1st April.

A vote of sympathy was passed to the President, Miss Chrissie Barron, on the death of her uncle, the late Mr. William Barron, Killooney, Ballinacult.

At the drawing of prizes under the auspices of the Touraneena P.T.A.A., held in the Schoolhouse on Sunday last, the following were the lucky winners: 1st prize (£5)—Mrs. Biddy Burke, Knockmeal; 2nd prize (£3)—Mrs. O'Brien, Main St., Roscrea; 3rd prize (£2)—Miss Joan McGrath, Touraneena.

Hook Tower Lighthouse marks the entrance to Waterford Harbour. It is the most ancient of Irish lighthouses, having origins in the fifth century when, according to tradition, the patron saint of the district lighted a fire-beacon each night to warn seamen of the rocky coast. The present tower consists of an ancient lower portion some eighty-eight feet in height and an upper portion added in 1791, making the total height one hundred and fifteen feet.

Local Club's League ADJOURNED

The Dungarvan minor club was due to have its initial outing in the championship on Sunday against Lismore, but this match has now been postponed to the following Sunday. The minor football match arranged for that day is now off, and Dungarvan have been conceded a walk-over. Consequently two league games will be played next Sunday, both of them in hurling.

The first game will be between teams A and B, captained by Pat Walsh and Sean McGrath respectively. This should be a very keen affair as both sides are without a win so far in the competition. One has the feeling, however, that this situation will be remedied before long, for there are hurriers aplenty on either side and when they get into their stride they should make it "hot" for the best in the opposition. Sean McGrath's side had the better of things when the sides met in football, but I would not be surprised to see that result reversed in the hurling game.

The second match, between teams C and D, should be a good one. Both sides had fine wins last time out and a notable feature of the replay is the enthusiasm which they show. This is a game which could go either way, but I will not be surprised if the slightly more stylish team, captained by Michael Fraher, is just in front at the end. The first game will start at 11 a.m. and some members would help a lot by being there on time. Second match at 11.45 a.m.

Two football games played last week confirmed earlier promise of talent. Michael Fraher's team are now a point in the lead, but it will take all their resources to maintain them in that position. Last Sunday they were rather lucky to force a draw with a very game "D" team, and only a last minute point saved the day. Most prominent were: M. Fraher, M. Norris, S. Franklin, K. Fleming, M. Tobin and J. Egan.

In the other game, "B" ran out comfortable winners after toiling for much of the time. They were best served by S. McGrath, J. Reilly and S. Murphy, whilst the losers had grand footballers in S. Daly, Tim Healy and C. Burke.

SOCIAL
A Social will be held in Clashmore N.S. School, on Friday, 3rd April. A Ring Ceilidh band will attend. All are welcome.

TO PLAY TIPP.

The following is the Waterford to play Tipp, in the Newcastletown senior hurling tournament on Sunday:

Pat Flynn, T. "Doc" Walsh; A. Flynn, S. Walsh; J. McGrath, T. Hearne, J. Byrne; J. Murphy, J. Phelan; V. Connors, J. O'Brien, F. Walsh; P. Moran, J. Barron, J. Kirwan, Subs.—J. Dunphy, E. Power, J. Phelan, J. Mason, (Cappoquin) T. Walsh (Fourmilewater).

RE-APPOINTED

Well-known and popular Horticultural Instructor, Mr. Pat O'Shea, who has been indisposed for some time past, has been re-appointed by Waterford Committee of Agriculture. His appointment was approved by the Committee on Saturday last.

Mr. John Walsh, New Line, Abbeyside, has also been re-appointed for a further six months as temporary instructor in horticulture to the committee.

VOTE OF SYMPATHY

COOLNASMEAR

N.F.A. ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

More activity among members of the National Farmers Association and greater action in the organisation itself, was appealed for by Mr. Tom Fahy, Chairman of the Coolnasmear N.F.A., speaking at the branch's annual general meeting held recently. The meeting was well attended and members strongly condemned the fantastic increase in rates while the agricultural income has been and still is at a standstill. Over 25 year's rates have increased by an approximate 40% in the £ while milk (the main produce of the district) has been increased by only one penny per gallon approx.

Officers for the coming year are: Chairman, M. O'Brien; Vice-Chairman, John Harrington; Sec. T. Byrne, Treas., T. Wall; publicity agent, T. Corcoran; committee, Messrs. J. Sheehan, W. Dalton, M. Dalton, P. Crotty, T. Fahy and J. Kelly. Delegates to Co. Executive, John Dunford (Knockenpower); and James Dunford (Bohadon). It was decided to hold the next meeting in Kilbrien Hall on Wednesday, 1st April.

Abbeyside Variety Club

As on their visit to Boola the previous week, the Abbeyside Variety Club presented their hilarious show "Talk of the Town" to a packed hall at Grange on Friday night last. This Club comprised entirely of local talent, has only been recently formed, but if the standard of performance on their two "outings" to date is any indication then they are assured of a lengthy and successful future.

Variety Club is indeed an appropriate title for the group because of their desire to suit all tastes. They had some outstanding vocal items, top class comedy sketches, and when the need arises can tinge their performance with suitable drama. Whilst none of their items can be found wanting, it would be difficult to surpass their own interpretation of "School Around the Corner."

Yes, it is a show well worth seeing. It is intended to visit Ardmore and Kilbrien shortly after Easter but such is the high standard they have set, they are practically assured of capacity attendances wherever they perform in the County.

Dinner at Rockwell

For the first time ever, Rockwell College Past Pupils are holding their annual dinner in the College. In former years the tradition was held in Dublin, but due to the increasing interest being taken by past pupils in the activities of the College during the centenary year, it was felt fitting to transfer the dinner to Rockwell. As a large number of past pupils are expected to attend, it has been necessary to keep the price of tickets down to £1. Limited accommodation is available in the College for those who have to travel long distances and wish to stay overnight. The dinner, which is formal, will be held at 7.30 on Saturday, 14th April, 1964. Fr. Don O'Brien, C.S.S., Rockwell College, Cashel, is in charge of the booking arrangements.

The Secretary then reported that the fortnightly music sessions being held on alternate Thursdays at Lawlor's Hotel, were being well attended, and were providing the younger members of the Branch with a regular opportunity of hearing and learning traditional Irish music.

It was decided to provide a group of instrumentalists to play at the concert in the Friary Hall on St. Patrick's night. Branch functions for the next quarter were then arranged.

Kilmacthomas Notes

The News of the Death of Mrs. Bridget Whelan, 104 Eadeth Grove, Chelsea, London, which occurred at her residence on Tuesday week, 17th inst. (Feast of St. Patrick), though not altogether unexpected, came as a profound shock to the people of her native Shanakill, Kilmacthomas, and the entire area of mid-Waterford. One of the well and popularly known Harris family, Shanakill, she lived the greater part of her life in the Sister Isle. In her cheerful manner, tireless energy and happy relations with others, she was a model citizeness. With her nearest and dearest whole-hearted sympathy is general in their afflictions.

The remains arrived at Kilmacthomas C.I.E. Station on Saturday morning at 7.30 o'clock, and the funeral took place immediately to St. Anne's Church, Ballyaneen, where Requiem Mass for the repose of the departed soul was celebrated by the Rev. P. Power, C.C., do., preceding the interment, which was made in the adjoining cemetery in the presence of mourners and sympathisers. Fr. Power again officiated at the graveside. R.I.P.

From Mullinavat, South Kilkenny, where he was stationed for the past two years and was a well-liked guardian of the peace, Garda Liam Condon has come on transfer to Leamybrien G.S. Station. Belonging by birth to the town of Tipperary, he is a Gaelic footballer of much merit.

Have it that heavy deposits of sludge oil were washed ashore by the recent gales, and that a number of familiar bathing beaches along the neighbouring seaboard have been badly marked with this objectionable substance.

The Many Friends who knew her so intimately in Bonmahon where she first saw the light, are associated with the people of Abbeyside and Dungarvan in their sorrow for the death of Mrs. Delia Delany (nee Coffey), Strandside North, Abbeyside, a lady always gentle and good natured, whose generous actions at all times were recognised and appreciated by everyone who had the pleasure of knowing her.

While Ploughing on his holding at Georgestown, Kill, Mr. Thomas McGrath, farmer, unearthed what is believed to be the first marriage stone ever discovered in the Decies. The stone, weighing approximately 5 cwt., is inscribed with the initials B.C. and B.L., and the date in the centre is 1621. The "find" has been reported to Mr. Nicholas Whittle, Chairman, Co. Waterford National Monuments Committee, and he has contacted a number of local historians in and around the Kill, in an effort to establish the identity of the married pair. Bord Fáilte has been got in touch with, too, for its comments on the marriage stone, and in the meantime investigations are continuing to bring to light the names of the wedded couple.

Following a period of failing health and at a comparatively young age, Mrs. Gertrude Cheasty (nee Jordan), wife of Mr. William Cheasty, farmer, Ballymurrin, Kill, died at Ardkenna Hospital, Waterford, on Wednesday week 18th inst. (eve of the Feast of St. Joseph). To those who knew her many endearing qualities of head and heart, her passing leaves a void which it will be impossible to fill. Her departure hence is deeply and deservedly regretted by her sorrowing spouse, family, mother and brother, to whom sincere expressions of condolence have been tendered.

The removal of the remains to the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, Kill, was accompanied by a big concourse of people. Subsequent to the celebration of Requiem Mass on Friday, at 10 a.m., the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery. Rev. L. Walsh, C.C., Kill, gave the closing absolution at the graveside. Numerous Mass cards were received. R.I.P.

The death took place at the Mercy Hospital, Cork, on Saturday night last, of Mr. Wm. J. Macardie, Rock House, Middleton, Co. Cork, one of the Midest and most prominent coursing personalities in the south of Ireland. In his ninetieth year, Mr. Macardie, who was a native of Middleton, like his late father, Mr. Bernard Macardie, always had a deep interest in greyhound coursing, and in his earlier days was an extensive breeder of good class dogs, some of which made quite a record in racing at the Cork and Youghal tracks, and at open coursing meetings. At the Cork Greyhound Racing Track on Saturday night his memory was revered when those present observed a minute's silence as a mark of respect.

HIS ONE AMBITION In his long coursing career his one ambition was to win the Irish Cup for which he was a nominator for over 20 years, but this trophy eluded him in his many attempts. As late as February last he attended the Cup meeting at Clounanna where he was again foiled in his attempt to annex the blue riband of Irish coursing.

He was an official of the Middleton branch of the Cork Distilleries Company for 67 years and here he was one of the firm's oldest associates and was regarded by the management in the highest esteem. His death will create a void in southern greyhound circles in East Cork and amongst the local clubs which he did much to foster. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Nellie Casey, of Clonon, Dungarvan.

Many greyhound enthusiasts were present at the removal of the remains to the Church of the Most Holy Rosary, Middleton, and at the interment, in addition to a large attendance of different sections of the general public.

Despite counter attractions we think the play is a winner, and one is advised to book early.

At a meeting of Waterford Health Authority in Dungarvan, on Monday last, the Secretary, Mr. J. A. Hynes stated that the cost of installing 40 bed fittings (lights) in Dungarvan District Hospital, would be between £800 and £700.

They were as yet awaiting the report from the visiting Committee on it.

Mr. Charles Curran, a member of the visiting Committee said they would be visiting the hospital during the coming week and their report would be before the next meeting of the Health Authority.

NINTH ROUND INCREASE FOR URBAN COUNCIL EMPLOYEES

THE ninth round wage increase was discussed by the members of Dungarvan Urban Council, at their monthly meeting on Friday night last, when it was decided to grant the 12% to the Officials and workers employed by the Council. The total amount involved is £1,257 a year and will mean an increase of 1/6 on the rates.

The following are the annual increases which will be given: Town Clerk, £123 a year; Clerk Typist, £63; Rate Collector, £86; Town Engineer, £92; Harbour Master, £25; Rent Collector, £154.

The Town Clerk Mr. P. J. Doyle said the 12% increase was based on a National agreement.

Colr. Thomas Lannon said none of the Officials were badly paid, and the increases would put 1/6 on the rates. He did not know what they were for.

The Town Clerk said the total amount was £1,257. £672 was for the outdoor staff and £585 for the officials. There was a minimum increase of £1 and the lowest paid employee they had was on £8-5-0 a week.

Colr. Lannon said the increase for the officials represented 10d. in the £.

"Where do ye think the people are going to get the money," he said. "People in a small town like this just cannot get the money to pay these increases. Where or when is it all going to stop. I propose we do not grant the 12% to the officials."

Colr. Rd. Walsh said it was all wrong from the top. The gap was widening and the people who had not got the money were being asked to pay for it. However, it would only be shadow boxing not to pay the increases as they would have to do so eventually. This was the result of the ilconceived Turnover Tax.

Colr. Lannon said it would have to stop, otherwise officialdom would break the country.

Deputy Kyne (Chairman) said a national wage agreement had been entered into and the Government gave it to all their employees and urged that all local authorities do the same. If they did not give it their employees could appeal to the Minister.

Colr. Lannon Will there be increments on top of all this? Mr. Doyle (Town Clerk): Yes. This increase of course is national and not local.

Colr. Lannon: It should be local and let us look after our own money.

The Chairman then called for a seconder for Colr. Lannon's proposal, but failed to get one and he then proposed that they grant the national wage increase. Even if they refused it now they would still have to pay it anyway.

Colr. Tho. Lee said the ratepayers already had a lump but this would put a second helping on it. He thought the office staff had enough, but would like to see the workers get an increase.

Colr. Walsh said a percentage increase was always to the detriment of the worker. This present increase was put to their heads and was the fruits of the turnover tax. If they did not give it, it would be eventually passed over their heads. It had happened before. They should be realistic, and grin and pay it.

Dep. Kyne said the County Council had already agreed to it.

As Deputy Kyne failed to get a seconder for his proposal he just put it to the meeting for a straight yes or no vote. The voting was: For—Colrs. Kyne and Walsh; Against—Colrs. Lee and Lannon. A fifth member did not vote.

The Chairman then gave his casting vote in favour of the increases.

A proposal that the 12% increase be given to the outdoor staff was then put to the meeting and passed unanimously.

Death of Prominent Coursing Personality

The death took place at the Mercy Hospital, Cork, on Saturday night last, of Mr. Wm. J. Macardie, Rock House, Middleton, Co. Cork, one of the Midest and most prominent coursing personalities in the south of Ireland.

In his ninetieth year, Mr. Macardie, who was a native of Middleton, like his late father, Mr. Bernard Macardie, always had a deep interest in greyhound coursing, and in his earlier days was an extensive breeder of good class dogs, some of which made quite a record in racing at the Cork and Youghal tracks, and at open coursing meetings.

At the Cork Greyhound Racing Track on Saturday night his memory was revered when those present observed a minute's silence as a mark of respect.

HIS ONE AMBITION In his long coursing career his one ambition was to win the Irish Cup for which he was a nominator for over 20 years, but this trophy eluded him in his many attempts.

As late as February last he attended the Cup meeting at Clounanna where he was again foiled in his attempt to annex the blue riband of Irish coursing.

He was an official of the Middleton branch of the Cork Distilleries Company for 67 years and here he was one of the firm's oldest associates and was regarded by the management in the highest esteem.

His death will create a void in southern greyhound circles in East Cork and amongst the local clubs which he did much to foster. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Nellie Casey, of Clonon, Dungarvan.

Many greyhound enthusiasts were present at the removal of the remains to the Church of the Most Holy Rosary, Middleton, and at the interment, in addition to a large attendance of different sections of the general public.

Despite counter attractions we think the play is a winner, and one is advised to book early.

At a meeting of Waterford Health Authority in Dungarvan, on Monday last, the Secretary, Mr. J. A. Hynes stated that the cost of installing 40 bed fittings (lights) in Dungarvan District Hospital, would be between £800 and £700.

They were as yet awaiting the report from the visiting Committee on it.

Mr. Charles Curran, a member of the visiting Committee said they would be visiting the hospital during the coming week and their report would be before the next meeting of the Health Authority.

N.F.A. NEWS Different Outlook on Industry and Agriculture

Each passing day brings further additions to the many of those who have benefited by the Government's intention to have discussions with the N.F.A. on its proposals and on how the aims of improving agricultural production and achieving higher farm incomes might be attained. Yet, on Mar. 28, we are told that we must have "had a most enjoyable time, putting down on paper all the different ways in which more public money could be spent for the benefit of farmers..." and that we "were more often than not day-dreaming in dead of preparing practical plans."

Amidst all the excitement of the N.F.A. proposals on Farm Income and Agricultural Development have been heightened by the Minister's comments on the document made in a political gathering in Dublin a short time ago.

Mr. Lemass, having said in Dail Eireann on February 12: "This document is obviously the product of a great deal of work and thought and it is, therefore, deserving of very full and very careful consideration" went on to indicate the Government's intention to have discussions with the N.F.A. on its proposals and on how the aims of improving agricultural production and achieving higher farm incomes might be attained. Q.—Last spring and summer I had a bad attack of House in my calves when put out to grass. Am I likely to suffer again this year and how can I avoid this trouble?

 A.—No doubt this problem is in the minds of many farmers in recent weeks. The best but rather expensive preventive is to have the veterinary surgeon inject the calves with vaccine, which has been proved to be very effective. The pasture intended for calves to graze in the late spring and early summer should be well rested from all cattle stock as the droppings contain the immature lungworms. Any calves that cough badly when turned out should immediately be housed, fed and watered well and treated for the trouble. Many farmers have overcome this problem of House by good management which consists of good feeding and housing of the calves from birth as well as prevention of infection on their land.

Q.—I have some land which I intend to sow with a cereal crop this year and find it hard to decide between growing wheat or barley. Perhaps you could help in this matter.
 A.—This is a difficult question to answer because so many factors will have a bearing on your choice. You will want to be more suitable to one cereal than another and the position of the field may be such that late ripening may occur. Your outlet for wheat may not be as good as for barley and of course the yields and price you obtain are also important. The advantages may appear slightly in favour of barley, as harvesting of the old mat in the farm, but if it is intended to grow a cash crop, the above factors that I have mentioned may help you to decide.

N.F.A. NEWS Different Outlook on Industry and Agriculture

Each passing day brings further additions to the many of those who have benefited by the 12% said Mr. R. Deasy, President N.F.A. recently. Their are daily additions to the long list of counties striking steeply increased rates, and as each day passes without any positive indication even in principle, that the need to raise farm income immediately has yet been conceded by the Government, the patience of farmers is being severely tried.

Anxiety about the outcome of the N.F.A. proposals on Farm Income and Agricultural Development have been heightened by the Teóserach's comments on the document made in a political gathering in Dublin a short time ago.

Mr. Lemass, having said in Dail Eireann on February 12: "This document is obviously the product of a great deal of work and thought, and it is, therefore, deserving of very full and very careful consideration"—went on to indicate the Government's intention to have discussions with the N.F.A. on its proposals and on how the aims of improving agricultural production and achieving higher farm incomes might be attained. Yet, on Mar. 8th, we are told that we must have "had a most enjoyable time, putting down on paper all the different ways in which more public money could be spent for the benefit of farmers..." and that we "were more often that not day-dreaming in head of preparing practical plans."

TASK MADE MORE DIFFICULT

There is a fundamental incompatibility, said Mr. Deasy, between the two comments. Either the proposals and philosophy of the N.F.A. are worthy of serious discussion or they are ridiculous and worthy only of all the scorn that can be heaped upon them. It would be a futile and mutually frustrating exercise to go through the motions of serious discussion on proposals which the Government really believes to be ridiculous. It is not easy to see what purpose has been served by purely general comments of this sort, other than to strengthen the convictions and position of those elements of former opinion who believe that nothing can be achieved without a slow-down, and to render correspondingly more difficult the task of those who believe that more orderly procedures of consultation, negotiation and joint action offer advantages all round.

Over immediate proposals for stabilization of rates, with increase in milk, pig and cereal prices, would in the financial year 1964 amount in total to less than the total additional Exchequer burden arising from giving the Ninth Round 12% to State employees. Yet these are the very elements of our proposals which, he said, are now treated with ridicule and contempt.

In the second speech referred to above there is a further fundamental incompatibility of thought, between different sections. Mr. Lemass pointed to the need "to narrow the gap between the rewards earned in rural and in urban occupations. This is an economic as well as a social necessity. It is our policy to work to close the gap eventually." This has been the cornerstone of N.F.A. policy over the years and we have freely admitted that increased production, with increased efficiency at every stage from farm to dinner table, can make a useful contribution to better farm income. Indeed large sections of the Green Book are devoted exclusively to practical examinations of how these aspects can be exploited to the full to the common good of farmers and of the general economy.

GOVERNMENT GETS THE DITHERS

Simply said Mr. Deasy, it is self-evident that it is incompatible for the Government to concede on the one hand that farm income is largely a matter for the Budget and on the other hand for the Government to publicly get the dithers every time we make a concrete suggestion that the Budget should in fact do anything positive to raise farmers' income through improved prices and equitable taxation.

The progressive attitude of the Government towards discussing an income policy with industry contrasts sharply with the reactionary tendencies it continues to exhibit towards the same sort of activities in the agricultural sector.

The Government should realise that until this deficiency is made good, the physical force school of farmers throughout will continue to have sound arguments to put forward.

In conclusion, said Mr. Deasy, "although the criticisms of our proposals to which I have referred have undoubtedly aroused old resentments anew, it would be well for us to afford the Government an opportunity of adjusting its agricultural thinking to correspond to the progress in its outlook on industrial and social problems and to see if some degree of concerted action cannot yet be arrived at."

GRANTS FOR SILAGE MAKING EQUIPMENT WELCOMED

The new grants towards the purchase of silage-making equipment are welcomed by the N.F.A. This scheme should have the effect of stimulating necessary investment in equipment to bring about an improvement in the unsatisfactory winter feed position for cattle, which is detracting from output and profitability.

We estimate that the increase in stock numbers which is envisaged in the recent N.F.A. publication, "Farm Income and Agricultural Development 1960-70," would require an extra 800,000 acres of hay or silage for adequate winter feeding. For climatic and feed quality reasons, and because silage lends itself more readily to mechanisation, the N.F.A. recommended an all-out drive to make silage universal.

The new scheme corresponds closely to the N.F.A. proposals in the "Green Book," which specified increased grants for silo building and new grants for the purchase of silage making equipment by farmers on a co-operative basis or by contractors. In addition, we recommended an annual grant of 10/- per ton of silage made, coupled with an intensive drive by the Advisory Service backed up by adequate publicity to make up-to-date information available to farmers on the methods of making silage and on its value as a food.

Full details of the grants for silage making equipment will be eagerly awaited by farmers. It is to be hoped that the 33% grants will extend to all equipment, including silage trailers.

TRACTOR INSURANCE AND LIGHTING REGULATIONS

Despite the fact that the N.F.A. secured special exemptions for agricultural tractors when new road traffic lighting regulations were introduced last year, we learn that one insurance company still insists that agricultural tractors should be fitted permanently with lighting equipment. However, other insurance companies are satisfied to have their policy holders comply with the terms of the official regulations under which it is sufficient to have agricultural tractors fitted with lighting equipment if they are used on the road during lighting up hours.

In pressing for special consideration for agricultural tractors when the new regulations were being drafted by the Department of Local Government, the N.F.A. pointed out that for various practical reasons it would be unreasonable to insist that all agricultural tractors should be completely equipped with lighting sets at all times.

NATIONAL COUNCIL ELECTIONS

The Returning Officer for the National Council Elections, Mr. William Biffin, has issued nomination forms to all Branch Secretaries. He wishes to remind Branch Secretaries that:

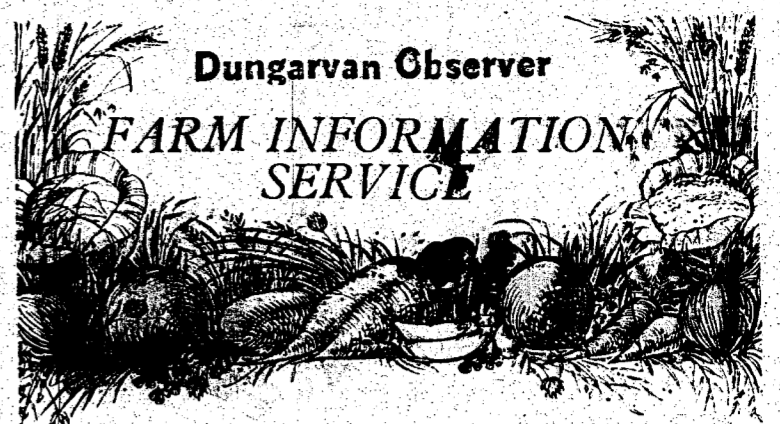

1.—A Branch meeting should be held as soon as possible and serious consideration given to the nomination of his candidate(s).

2.—The Nominee must sign the letter of acceptance and return it with the appropriate nomination form to reach the Returning Officer on or before the date indicated to each Branch Secretary.

3.—Ballot papers will be considered valid only if the voting branch is affiliated to the Co. Executive and the National Executive on or before 31st March, 1964. (A branch will be regarded as affiliated if 10 members or more in the branch have signed standing orders which will be honoured in 1964.)

The Returning Officer wishes to emphasise that nomination forms are issued to each Branch Secretary in accordance with the Rules and Constitution of the Association and only nomination forms properly completed by Branch Secretaries and accompanied by completed form(s) of acceptance supplied, will be accepted as properly nominating a candidate or candidates. Nominations of any other form are not acceptable.

"The National Council of N.F.A. calls for the immediate implementation through the Budget of those sections of the Association's Green Book, providing for equalisation and stabilisation of local taxation and the improvement of the milk, pig and cereal prices. The Council notes that the cost to the Exchequer of these measures to improve farm income would be less in the coming financial year than the additional Exchequer commitments by way of the 12% income awards already conceded to state employees.

Q.—Last spring and summer I had a bad attack of Hoese in my calves when put out to grass. Am I likely to suffer again this year and how can I avoid this trouble?

A.—No doubt this problem is in the minds of many farmers in recent weeks. The best way to have the veterinary surgeon inspect the calves with vaccine, which has been proved to be very effective. The pasture intended for calves in the late spring and early summer should be well rested from all cattle stock. The droppings contain the immature lungworms. Any calves that cough badly when turned out should immediately be housed, fed and watered well and treated for a few days. Many farmers have overcome this problem of Hoese by good management which consists of good feeding and housing of the calves from birth as well as prevention of infection on their land.

C.—I have recently heard that there is a new method of reseeded old rough pastures without poughing. As I have some rough land on my farm could I find out what work is in this new method?

A.—The method you speak about, which is still under investigation, consists of spraying the old pasture with a chemical called Gramoxone W, a blend of Paraquat and Diquat. In preliminary trials the material has given good results by spraying at a certain stage in the autumn, followed by harrowing of the old mat in spring. The ground is then too seeded and fertilised. Grazing is usually possible two or three months after sowing.

Rough pastures can be improved by spraying in the spring, but the above method promises to economise on the amounts of spray required.

Q.—Can you tell me what is the most suitable fertilizer for grass which I intend to cut for silage in the early summer?

A.—Grass which is intended for silage requires a good dressing of a compound fertilizer. A compound such as 12-5-12 or 8-6-16 is suitable, to be very effective. The pasture intended for calves to graze in the late spring and early summer should be well rested from all cattle stock. The droppings contain the immature lungworms. Any calves that cough badly when turned out should immediately be housed, fed and watered well and treated for a few days. Many farmers have overcome this problem of Hoese by good management which consists of good feeding and housing of the calves from birth as well as prevention of infection on their land.

I intend to sow with a cereal crop this year and find it hard to decide between growing wheat or barley. Perhaps you could help in this matter.

A.—This is a difficult question to answer because so many local factors will have a direct bearing on your choice. You will be more suitable to one cereal than another and the position of the field may be such that late ripening may occur. Your outlet for wheat may not be as good as for barley and of course the yields and price you obtain are also important.

The advantages may appear slightly in favour of barley, as this may be fed to stock on the farm, but if it is intended to grow a cash crop, the above factors that I have mentioned may help you to decide.

YOUGHAL NOTES

FISHERMEN'S ORDEAL
Last week, three local fishermen, in their salmon boat No. L.3, Coxwain Michael Hennessy, Harry Coleman and John Kenniff, had a narrow escape from drowning at 3 o'clock in the morning, when their boat capsized at the Strand gap while making a drift with their nets just outside Youghal Lighthouse. The gale force S.E. wind at the time drove the boat broadside and after stropping two huge waves, capsized, throwing the three men into the sea. Fortunately, the high wind with a big overfall on to the beach, the men were driven ashore little the worse of their experience. Helping hands retrieved the boat and brought her to town early the next day. For their own safety the men were obliged to cut away portion of their nets (about two and a half nets), all of which were not recovered.

GALE FORCE WINDS AND HIGH TIDES
During the past week Youghal experienced a strong southerly gale with 60 miles an hour gusts with torrential rain. It was the worst storm this year and little damage was done outside of land being flooded and a few stripped roofs. On the Promenade quantities of heavy stones and gravel were thrown up on the footpath and roadway in front of the houses. The Bog at Summerfield held the water for a long period and the local C.I.E. station was also flooded in addition to the roadway near the Presentation Convent.

LATE MRS. MARGARET CROWLEY
We regret to record the death of one of the oldest ladies in the town, in the person of Mrs. Margaret Crowley, which took place this week at her residence 2 North Main Street. Widow of the late Mr. Charles Crowley (ex-R.I.C.), the deceased lady was a well known figure in the town and was held in high esteem by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. She is survived by her daughter and three sons, to whom sympathy is extended. The remains were removed to St. Mary's Parish Church, on Monday evening and the funeral, followed by a large and representative cortege, took place to North Abbey Cemetery, on Tuesday morning after Requiem Mass at 11 a.m.

PRIZE BONDS
As will be seen from our advertising columns, Prize Bonds are on sale again and can be purchased until Saturday, 4th April. Each Bond costs £5 and any number of Bonds may be purchased. Prize Bonds were introduced in 1957 and from the beginning made a big appeal to the public, annual issues now running at about £.5 million. A sum of over £23 million is at present invested in the Bonds. Prize Bonds do not earn interest but instead, participate in draws for cash prizes. Draws are held yearly and prizes range from £5,000 to £50. The prize fund for each draw is determined by calculating interest at 4% per annum for a period of 6 months on the total amount of the uncashed Bonds. The prizes are not liable to income tax or sur-tax. The numbers of winning Bonds are published, but not the names and addresses of the holders. Winners are notified privately by post. Money invested in Prize Bonds is safe; it helps to finance the national capital programme and may earn the holder a big reward. Application forms and prospectus may be had from any Post Office, Bank or Stock-brokers.

TALLOW NOTES

EASTER IN THE LOCAL CHURCHES
The usual Easter Ceremonies will be held in the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Tallow. A week's retreat opened on Palm Sunday, conducted by a member of the Redemptorist Order. Large numbers are attending the morning and evening exercises. Mass at Kilwatermoy on Easter Sunday will be at 9 p.m. KNOCKANORE PARK OPENING
The big day for the united parishes of Knockanore, Kilwatermoy and Glendine, is on Sunday next, with the official opening of their fine park at Knockanore. It is now twelve months since the park was purchased from the Irish Land Commission. Voluntary workers have been busy putting the final touches to the park over the past month. The name chosen by the Committee is the "President J. F. Kennedy Park," in memory of that great man.

The opening, blessing and naming of the park will start at 2 p.m. Paper, Irish and American flags will be flown, and the Irish and American National Anthems will be played by the Youghal Pipers Band. Following the opening, two very interesting hurling games will be played: Blackrock (Cork) v. Erin's Own (Waterford), and Foimilewater v. Shamrocks. After the games, the visiting teams and officials

Deputy Ormonde in the Dail
ROGER CASEMENT'S REMAINS
Deputy Ormonde asked the Minister for External Affairs if, in view of the recent statement by a party member that the British Labour Party would be sympathetic to a proposal to have the body of Sir Roger Casement returned to Ireland, he will ask the British Foreign Secretary what the attitude of his Government is in the matter, and if they would be prepared to return Sir Roger's body to Ireland. The Minister replied: I have seen the statement, referred to by the Deputy. As I explained in reply to a previous question on 29th October last, representations to the British Government to secure the return of the remains of Roger Casement have been renewed and will be actively pursued until, as we sincerely hope, effect is given to his last wishes. NO BAN ON EXPORTS OF LIVE CATTLE
Deputy Ormonde asked the Minister for Agriculture if it was proposed to accede to the request of the Irish Fresh Meat Exporters Society for an immediate ban on the exports of live cattle to the Continent, with a view to the alleviation of the situation regarding meat prices, so as to permit them to remain competitive on export markets and to ensure that there will be no unemployment of meat factory employees. The Minister replied: As I indicated in my reply to questions in this matter by Deputies Devereux and Mr. Quillen on 10th March last, I have no intention of restricting the export of live cattle.

LATE MRS. ANNIE POWER
Coolagh, Road, Abbeyside, Dungarvan.
The sad event of the death of Mrs. Annie Power took place at her residence on Saturday night, March 21st, after receiving spiritual and medical attention. She had only been ill for a very short period but still she had reached an advanced age. She was a general favourite, not only in Abbeyside, but also over a wide Dungarvan area. Her passing (just one month after her brother the late Nicholas English, Sexton Street), will leave a vacancy very hard to replace, for she was always ready to give her assistance to those requiring her help. May the light of heaven shine on her gentle soul. Her remains were removed on Sunday evening to Carrane Lane Church, followed by a very large cortege, and were blessed and received by Very Rev. Fr. J. Roche, P.P. Requiem Mass was celebrated on Monday morning for the repose of her soul, and the interment took place in the adjoining family plot. Another large concourse were present, consisting of relatives, friends and neighbours. Rev. Fr. M. Walsh, C.C., officiated at the graveside and imparted the final absolution. The chief mourners were: Rev. Mother Anastasia, Johnsburgh, South Africa, Mrs. M. Smyth, Birmingham (sisters); Rev. Fr. Michael Flynn, O.S.A., Nigeria, Flynn family, Ring, Corbett family, Stradbally, Mullane family, Clonea (relatives). (Funeral arrangements by J. Kiely & Sons, Dungarvan.)

Tallow Iron Mines may be Surveyed
Deputy Michael J. Davern, asked the Minister for Industry and Commerce recently if he was aware that there are many fine local examples of ironwork made from the products of the old iron mines at Tallow; and if he would have a survey made of these mines and of the old smelting works at Forge Lane, Tallow, with a view to restoring these industries and providing remunerative employment. The Minister replied that while the records available in the Geological Survey Office show that an iron smelting industry existed in the Tallow district of Co. Waterford during the first half of the seventeenth century, no evidence of workings of iron mines in the neighbourhood of Tallow was found during the geological mapping of the area between 1850 and 1860 or during a subsequent investigation carried out in 1918. Before deciding whether a further survey of the area would be justified, it would be necessary for me to have some evidence of the existence of iron mines in the Tallow area, and an indication of the location of the iron deposits.

LEAGUE HOPES ENDED

Now that the final series of games have been played in both sections of the National Hurling League, Central Council has not as was thought been confronted by the problem of finding suitable dates for play-offs between counties ending with equal points. Last Sunday's important games sorted things out to the satisfaction of the governing authority but only because of the cruelist misfortune were Waterford deprived of figuring in the play-off that might have given them entry to the semi-finals.

Leading by four points with three minutes to go they had the points snatched from them by two belated goals by Limerick's Donie Flynn. Had they won then a triple tie would have resulted between themselves, Dublin and Limerick, and none can deny but they would have been strongly fancied to emerge from that triple play-off.

However, that is of no significance now and the County must sit out the concluding stages as Tipp., Wexford, Limerick and Cork battle it out for the treasured trip to New York in October.

Whilst form can be unreliable the odds at this stage seem stacked in favour of a Tipp.-Wexford decider. And that a game that would be. Do I hear mummings from disgruntled Cork and Limerick supporters.

THRILLING DRAW AT NOWLAN PARK

As expected there were thrills in abundance in the league game at Nowlan Park where Tipp. minus Tony Wall and Donie Nealon did exceptionally well to hold All-Ireland champions Kilkenny to a draw.

With a division of the points was to my mind a fitting result to a game that fairly sparkled in the second half. Over the hour Tipp. had perhaps the better of matters tactically and at one stage they were 2-10 to 1-7 supporters thought they would coast to victory. But Kilkenny hit back in splendid fashion and with 4 minutes to go got on terms thanks to a goal by Tom Forrester. Again before the end Jimmy Doyle and Eddie Kher exchanged points and in the dying seconds Tommy Walsh blessed wide of the Tipp. posts from less than 20 yards.

However, justice was done, as defeat would undoubtedly have been unkind reward to two splendid sides.

WATERFORD PLAY TIPP. IN S.E. TOURNAY

Waterford travel to New-castlewest on Sunday next to play Tipperary in the final of the senior hurling tournament run by the County Limerick club.

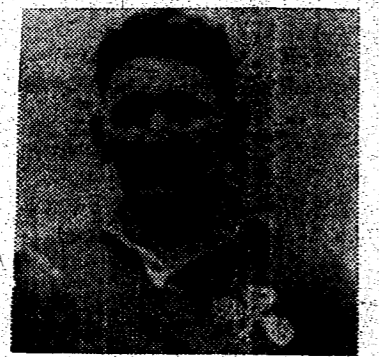

Both teams, however, are expected to avail of the opportunity of trying out some new blood and consequently neither will be at full-strength.

KNOCKANORE'S BIG DAY

Sunday next is a memorable milestone in the history of the united parishes of Knockanore, Kilwatermoy and Glendine. It marks the opening of their new and splendidly laid out Gaelic pitch at Knockanore known as the President John F. Kennedy Park.

It is twelve months ago since the Parish formed a committee and purchased the land from the Irish Land ever be a credit to those behind this project. Months of sweat and toil went into it but now that their work has been completed to such tremendous satisfaction, they can sit back and proudly watch the fruits of their work. Yes, indeed, the people of

J. NICHOLSON (Shamrocks)

Knockanore, Kilwatermoy and Glendine can feel justifiably proud of their sterling work, and enterprise. It was a mammoth undertaking that might have frightened away a less dedicated community but they simply realised the need for this park and undaunted went about providing one for the area.

To mark the great occasion a senior hurling challenge game has been arranged between Erin's Own and famed Blackrock of Cork and with both clubs able to call on several intercounty men it promises to be a top class encounter.

And what a spicy curtain raiser the committee has put on... with the local Shamrocks taking on their junior hurling conquerors of last year Fourmilewater.

Granted favourable conditions there should be a huge hosting in Knockanore on Sunday. Incidentally, the official opening and blessing takes place a 12 p.m. See advertising columns in this issue for further details.

MINOR CHAMPIONSHIPS OPEN ON SUNDAY

As is customary in the West the minor championships get under way on Sunday next with games at Cappoquin, Lismore and Aglish.

At the Cornerstone venue the locals appear to be too well equipped for Stradbally in the opening round of the minor hurling championship whilst in the same grade and code at Lismore the holders

LEO McGRATH (Ballinameela)

Ballyduff can expect a strong challenge from Bride Rovers (Tallow).

This should be a particularly exciting game between neighbouring rivals and Ballyduff could not have met sterner opposition for the first defence of their title. Nonetheless the odds seem to favour Mickey Feeney's charges.

At Aglish two hurling ties are also down for decision and Ballinameela and Ardmore will be strongly fancied to overcome Ring and Glen Rovers respectively. The latter club

Victory Snatched From Decies in Dying Minutes

LIMERICK NOW FOR SEMI-FINAL

WATERFORD'S League hopes have tantalisingly ended. The coveted pennant won only a short five months ago at Kilkenny's Nowlan Park is no longer private property... the crown being vacated following the County's galling two point defeat at the hands of lucky Limerick at the Ennis Road grounds on Sunday last. It was defeat meted out in the most frustrating manner imaginable, a game snatched from their very grasp by belatedly freakish happenings and gave the Shannonsiders their passage to the league semi-final for the first time in six years.

Picture the scene. With little over three minutes remaining the highly partisan home following in the attendance which paid £300 odd had to all intents and purposes accepted defeat as inevitable. They were four points in arrears and looked quite incapable of salvaging the honours. Then incredibly, unbelievably the near impossible happened.

With a brace of goals, the second of which should never have been conceded, they sensationally transformed the entire pattern of the game and irrefutably proved... if such was necessary that a game is never lost or won until the final whistle.

FATAL GOALS

The villain of the piece as far as Waterford were concerned was the bustling Donie Flynn, a U.C.C. student from Cappamore, who notched both of the decisive match-winning goals. The first followed a Martin Rainsford free which was saved by a wall of defenders and as the ball appeared to remain static for a precious few moments, Flynn was on hand to belt it to the net.

Nor was that the end of the Cappamore man's "villantry". With almost their next attack the ball bobbed precariously around the danger zone and when the defence failed to clear, Flynn, having lost his hurley, booted the ball home. That goal at any rate should not have been conceded and this defensive laxity proved very costly indeed.

Seconds later came the final whistle depriving Waterford of an opportunity of "doing a limerick" on it. With that call of time the Decies hopes of an October trip to the Manhattan skyline came to a luckless end and paved the way for the Limerick men to reach the penultimate stage of the league where they meet Tipperary on April 18th.

It is doubtful however, if the Shannonsiders will ever record a more fortuitous victory in major competition. Their belated goals apart they were still the inferior side for most of the hour, and had it not been for the shortcomings of several of the Waterford forwards when it came to putting the finishing touches to many well executed moves the homesters would have found themselves beyond redemption when they did succeed in forging their victory rally.

DIFFICULT

It is difficult to put pen to paper to assess Waterford's performance. They fared far better than in recent weeks, during the greater portion of the game, but inexplicably let the initiative slip from their grip in the crucial closing moments. That they were beaten was in a sense a travesty of hurling justice, but then one cannot fail to hand bouquets to Limerick for their tenacity and never say die spirit when all seemed so definitely lost.

Waterford were forced to field without midfielder John Meaney, whose place was taken by Tramore's John Murphy, who showed distinct promise in his first major outing. Yet in partnership with another newcomer James Phelan they failed to satisfactorily hit it off, and if anything had slightly the worst of the argument with Liam Hogan and Paddy Cobbe.

The opening half was an evenly-contested one in which both sides enjoyed their moments of supremacy. There was never more than a point between the teams during this moiety, at the end of which running out and Waterford literally coasting to comfortable victory, came Flynn's golden goals. They were majors of the unspectacular variety, the first forced over the line from a melee and the second kicked to the net when the defence was painfully slow in clearing its lines.

Whilst the Shannonsiders were understandably elated at their victory, sober reflection will surely tell them that they can hold out little hope of beating Tipperary on this form. As already stated, they were blessed with good fortune to prevail, and even if it was more than their due to enjoy a slice of luck, they are unlikely to be presented with any gift goals by the uncompromising premier county defence.

LIMERICK'S BEST

They were best served on Sunday by Jim Hogan in goal. Bernie Hartigan, Tony O'Brien and Kevin Long in defence; midfielders Hogan and Cobbe; and forwards Flynn, Mick Savage and Tom Bluett.

CAPITAL HOUR

For Waterford Pat Flynn had another capital hour in goal and obviously is going to be hard to supplant. The full line gave little away soft and both the old reliables Cunningham and Flynn starred.

The wing-halves Larry Guinan and Jimmy Byrne were both in tremendous form, he both in tremendous form, the into the bargain.

Murphy was undoubtedly the better of the midfielders, but Phelan hadn't a very auspicious debut and was replaced by Vinnie Connors during the game.

Once again, the attack had a lopsided appearance about it and only John O'Brien could be said to have had a good game. O'Brien in fact was the one real threat to the Limerick defence, and yet for no apparent reason the selectors switched him to midfield in the second half, thus robbing the sector of the most dangerous unit.

Phil Grimes was good without being at his best, but Seamus Power, Frankie Walsh and Mick Flannally cannot entertain any happy memories of the game.

For full forward John Barron it was a most harassing hour in which he was subjected to a "watching" by full back J. J. Bresnahan. The Limerick man seemed to glory in stopping Barron irrespective of the method or manner, and how he escaped the attentions of the Galway referee for so long is difficult to understand.

Scorers for Limerick were—D. Flynn (2-0), T. Bluett (1-0), L. Hogan (0-2), K. Long (0-2), M. Savage (0-2), J. Blake (0-1), B. Hartigan (0-1); and for Waterford: P. Grimes (0-4), F. Walsh (1-0), J. O'Brien (0-3), J. Byrne (0-2), J. Phelan (0-1), M. Flannally (0-1), S. Power (0-1).

Limerick.—J. Hogan, J. McDonagh, J. Bresnahan, T. O'Brien, S. Quaid, K. Long, B. Hartigan, L. Hogan and F. Cobbe; D. Flynn, J. Blake, E. Carey, T. Bluett, M. Savage, M. Rainsford, Sub., M. Cregan for E. Carey.

Waterford.—E. Flynn, T. Cunningham, A. Flynn, S. Walsh, L. Guinan, T. Hearne, J. Byrne, J. Phelan and J. Murphy; M. Flannally, J. O'Brien, F. Walsh, S. Power, J. Barron, P. Grimes, Sub., V. Connors for Phelan.

Referee: A. Higgins (Galway).

OVER-RUN

But within minutes of the resumption it became obvious that Waterford meant business as they proceeded to over-run the homesters. They took command in many sectors of the field and when they convincingly swept into a five point lead by the 23rd minute, they seemed assured of the vital points. In fact, so outplayed were the Limerick men at this stage that not until six minutes from time did they open their second half account—and this a point from a free by half back Kevin Long.

Then, with the sands of time

BALLINROAD PLAYERS IN SUPERB PERFORMANCE

On the completion of the Ballinroad audiences ably portrayed Kathleen O'Boyle, a neighbour of the Keanes, while her sister, Eleanor Walsh in the role of Julia O'Reilly, gave a very polished and flawless performance.

All were agreed that this was one of the best and most outstanding plays ever produced in Ballinroad Hall. All those who saw it, thoroughly enjoyed it and those who did not see it regretted that they had missed such a wonderful show.

In the supporting programme a galaxy of talent was evident. Sean Fitzgerald, John and Vincent Walsh, Ml. Hanrahan and Bernie Power supplied the musical selections while the step dancers were Ann Tyrrell, Marcella Walsh, Betty Morrissey, Breda Power and Mary Attridge. Songs were rendered by Vera O'Brien, Martin Walsh and Ml. Power.

At the end of the performance Rev. Ml. Walsh, C.C., President, paid tribute to the artistes and thanked all who in any way contributed to the night's entertainment. He had a special word of praise for Richie Walsh, M.C., stage manager.

"We are eternally indebted to Richie Walsh, our very capable stage manager who has done so much to ensure the smooth and efficient running of the whole show," said Fr. Walsh. "Not only are we indebted to Richie himself, but also to his family, six of whom have contributed to the night's entertainment." Fr. Walsh also had a word of thanks for the prompters, Nora Kiely and Joe Sheehan and all those who helped back stage.

He had a special word of thanks and praise for the hall committee. Chairman Jim Morrissey and members Declan Foley, Dick Daly and Tom Morrissey, and for Jim Coughlan, who was in the hall for the first time since his recent illness. Fr. Walsh had a special word of praise for the evening's entertainment which was brought to a close with the singing of the National Anthem.

On Tuesday, St. Patrick's Day, the group travelled to Ardmore, where they put on another first-class show in St. Declan's Hall before packed house. Here again they got a tremendous reception by a most receptive and appreciative audience who were loud in their praises of this very talented group.
