Local Firm's First-Ever Annual Dinner LONG-SERVING EMPLOYEES HONOURED

The reputable firm of Thomas Power & Co. Ltd., Dungarvan, broke new ground on Wednesday night when the firm's first-ever staff dinner was held in Hotel Ormonde. In keeping with the accomplishments of this Company so ably supported by its genial managing director, Mr. Paul I. Power, the function proved a truly momentous one.

To mark their loyal and lengthy service to the firm, Mr. Power presented seven of the guests, who between them have given over 250 years to the Company, with handsome and suitably inscribed mementos.

Having welcomed the guests, by any one man to our firm over the past fifty years, especially since he became our foreman 30 years ago. Tommy Greaney, you have given my family and me a loyal and devoted service and personal kindness that I hope I shall never forget. You, more than anyone else are responsible for any little reputation we may have for the bottling of Guinness as well as for the quality of the products. Thirty years ago when you were our Head Bottler, we bottled 40 doz. per hour; to-day we bottle 400 doz. per hour.

Tommy and I have been talking about this little celebration for the past seven years. I am happy for his sake above all that you have, by your kindness in coming, made this come about.

Presenting Mr. Greaney with a beautiful Television Set, Mr. Power said: It now gives me great pleasure to make this small (not too small I hope) presentation to you Tommy, in appreciation and in deep gratitude for all you have done for us—and we congratulate you on this your Golden Jubilee in our service. I hope this token of our appreciation and affection will help brighten your evenings and I have no doubt but such gentlemen as Mr. Patrick Crosbie and Mr. Bartholomew Masterson will make you as happy as you deserve. God bless you, Tommy.

WILLIAM O'BRIEN (1915) Willie O'Brien, you came to work for us as a boy 50 years ago, under your father and your late brother, who were also our carpenters. I remember Willie making toys for us more than 45 years ago. The other day he made stiffs for my daughter Nicola and yesterday I saw him making a high chair for my grandson—the fourth generation. When asked what he'd like, Willie told me he had no time for such eminent people as Mr. Masterson, or Sergeant Bilko! I hope you will accept this, a token of our appreciation and gratitude, and I hope as a keen carpenter he will admire the workmanship of this nice clock.

KATHERINE HENNEBRY (1922-62) Kattie Hennebry, now in well deserved retirement and in appreciation of her 40 years loyal and faithful service with us, I will ask her to accept this token (chiming clock) of our sincere gratitude. I hope you will live long and wish you every happiness.

ALICE KIELY (1923-61) To Alice Kiely for her 38 years service. (Presented with a chiming clock). Alice was a fine worker and I wish her every happiness in her retirement.

GEORGE BARRY (1936) To George Barry—you have worked well and given us excellent service in the high quality of your work in everything you turn your hand to. We are glad you are still with us and hope you will celebrate your golden jubilee with us.

JOHN MORRISSEY (1937) We are very proud to have a workman of your high integrity and your great devotion in our employment. You willingly gave up that wonderful carefree life of our salesmen to take up the complex duties of our Foreman. We are proud of you and wish you every happiness, which you so richly deserve.

JOHN FRANKLIN (1936-61) You came to us as a very young man and started with myself 30 years ago. You more than anyone helped build up our town trade to what it is to-day. We were sorry when ill-health took you from us—but I want you to know that you will always be welcome back. I wish you every happiness and thank you for great work.

RICHARD J. NASH We thought we should not let this opportunity pass without showing our appreciation and gratitude in a small way to our good friend Mr. Richard Nash. You travelled to England on many occasions to buy machinery for us, and we are proud to have a small plaque in our bottling store in your honour—for all the help you have given to me and my family. I hope you will accept this small token of our sincere gratitude.

GUESTS OF HONOUR Proposing the toast "our guests of honour," Mr. Power said: It is a very great pleasure to welcome you all here this evening. We asked you to join us in paying our humble tribute of appreciation and gratitude to our excellent employees. You have honoured them by your presence here and I thank you all very sincerely on their behalf, for coming. This is a very special if somewhat sentimental occasion for this is, I am sorry to say, our first staff dinner. When the late President Kennedy arrived in New Ross, he said the "to take him 20 years and 3 generations. I hope it will not be our last.

I want to thank especially those of you who came a long distance. Our great friend Mr. Richard Nash came all the way from Newcastle West, to honour us and when he left home he did not know we were also going to honour him.

It is a very great honour for me to welcome Fr. Thompson, S.J., who came from Limerick, not only as a very dear friend of my family, to whom he is affectionately known as Fr. Bob, but perhaps because he has a very deep interest in anything concerning the workers of Ireland, and we are very grateful to his Very Rev. Father Provincial, for allowing him to come here.

Our extremely popular young Auditor, whom we recently had the pleasure of congratulating on his appointment as a partner in a well known firm, and who came all the way from Cork. We are happy to entertain him without figures.

Mr. Lysaght travelled from Clonmel to accept our invitation as he so readily accepts our frequent invitations to help us in our business in order that he can maintain our "Guinness for Power and Power for Guinness."

We welcome to our table, Deputy Kyne, who is always so ready to help all his constituents, as we had reason to experience during the introduction recently of the licensing laws. We welcome him also for all he has done for our workers and I hope the workers of Dungarvan do not forget that gratitude.

Gratitude is not a strong part in any of us, but I think the workers of the county should be very grateful to Tom Kyne. We also welcome Mr. Green for all he is going to do for us.

Mr. Power also extended welcome to Very Rev. P. Farrell, P.P., Ballyduff; Very Rev. J. Roche, P.P., Abbeyside; Rev. M. Walsh, C.C., do.; Rev. Bro. Hegarty, Superior, C.B.S.

He also welcomed the many guests, who had helped the firm in numerous ways.

Deputy T. A. Kyne, on behalf of staff, replied to the toast.

Rev. Fr. Thompson, S.J., Very Rev. Fr. Farrell, P.P., Messrs. Nash and Lysaght, also spoke.

GUESTS AND STAFF The following guests and staff were present:—

Very Rev. John Roche, P.P., Abbeyside; Very Rev. P. Farrell, P.P., Ballyduff; Rev. R. Thompson, S.J.; Rev. M. Walsh, C.C., Abbeyside; Rev. Bro. Hegarty, C.B.S. Dungarvan; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Barrett; Owen J. and Mrs. Lysaght; Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Nash; Dr. and Mrs. M. K. Cusack; Patrick J. and Mrs. Lynch; Deputy T. A. and Mrs. Kyne; Mr. and Mrs. M. C. CAPPOQUIN NOTES

EASTER IN THE CHURCHES
There were crowded congregations and every evidence of devotion during Holy Week Retreat conducted by Rev. Fr. James, C.P. Following the customary exercises, the funeral of baptismal vows took place on Saturday night, and the Retreat was brought to a close on Sunday with the bestowal of the Papal Blessing.

VISITORS
There were many visitors to the town on Sunday and Monday. They included several fishermen, who, because of unsuitable water conditions, did not fare very well.

STAFF DANCE
In our advertising columns in this issue we give particulars of one of the big dances of the year—the O'Connor Staff Dance—to be held at the Boat House on next Sunday night.

MINOR HURLES SUCCESS
In their first outing of the season and in the first round of the minor hurling championship, the local side were successful at Lismore on Sunday. Their opponents were stragglers and at the final whistle Cappoquin led by four points.

G.A.A. ENTERTAINMENT
The customary annual stage show sponsored by the G.A.A. will be held in the Diamond Cinema on tomorrow (Friday) night. Patrons are assured of a well worthwhile entertainment, when, in addition to hearing the popular tenor, Frank Ryan, they will also have presented to them a well-varied supporting programme.

NON-STOP DRAW
We learn that the swimming Pool Committee will in the near future, ask for public support for a non-stop draw, which is one of their fund-raising projects.

DIED IN ENGLAND
We record with regret the death of Mr. Stephen Kearney formerly of Ballinwilling, which took place recently in England. He was son of Mr. Thomas Kearney now living in Lismore and is also survived by his brothers, Michael, John, Patrick and Tom and sisters, Mrs. Landers and Mrs. Drumrey. To the relatives sympathy is extended in their bereavement.

G.A.A. CONCERT POSTPONED
Because a prominent member of their team is presently indisposed, the annual G.A.A. Concert, due to be held on Friday night (March 21st) has been postponed to a future date.

LATE MRS. AGNES O'NEILL

Whitechurch, Cappoquin
We regret to record the death of Mrs. Agnes O'Neill, late of Whitechurch, which occurred at St. Joseph's Hospital, Dungarvan, on Sunday, March 20th, after a rather short illness. She was a gentle and charming person and a friend of rich and poor alike. Her remains were removed to the cemetery on Monday evening, followed by a very large cortege to St. Joseph's Church, where they were interred and received by Rev. T. Nugent, C.C.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The Editor, "Dungarvan Observer"
30th March, 1964

Dear Sir,
At last week's committee meeting of Knockmeal Co-Op. Creamery Ltd., my attention was drawn to the following statement in the press, which I am reported to have made at Cappoquin recently: ".... that the shareholders who voted against the proposal (for amalgamation) were not milk suppliers." I was asked by Mr. Con Butler if, indeed, I did make this statement?

What I did say was: (a) that some of the Knockmeal shareholders who voted against the amalgamation of creameries were not primarily dependent on milk for their living and some were not milk producers at all. (b) A shareholder with a 5/- share has the same vote as one who has the maximum £200 worth. The point I tried to make was that the man who lives on his milk cheque and who buys all his stores from his co-op. has the same vote (if he is a shareholder) as the man who milks no cows or who buys nothing from the co-op. and that it was difficult to understand how a shareholder/milk-supplier could afford to reject the offer of the increased price which is being offered by the amalgamated creameries.

I would like to repeat that it is my considered opinion that we are being offered the finest, most imaginative and forward-looking plan that we have seen for many years in this county and one which offers the farmers of Waterford opportunities they have never had before. It will be a tragedy if some of the farmers refuse to grasp this opportunity, while no obstacle should be placed in the way of those who wish to seize it.

Yours faithfully,
BRIAN PEARCE,
Monatrim, Lismore.

A gloom was cast over the town and surrounding areas, on the announcement of the death of Mrs. Bridget (Bridie) Fitzgerald, Congress Villas, which sad event took place at the District Hospital, Dungarvan, after a rather short duration of illness. She was a general favourite and well known for her cheerfulness and charity. The deceased lady was always ready to help those in need and requiring her assistance. She was a fond lover of Gaelic games and was mother of well-known hurler and footballer, Matty Fitzgerald.

YOU'VE EARNED THAT GUINNESS

UP AND CATCH! All-out effort—and a last thrust for those winning points. When it's over, you're going to need a really great drink—a Guinness. Clean-tasting, a refreshing touch of bitterness, and full of the goodness you need after a hard game—that's Guinness—a real drink and a half—good for your thirst, and good for you.

LATE JOHN WADE

Kilgobinet, Dungarvan

The death occurred, rather suddenly, at the residence of his brother Patrick, on Holy Thursday morning, March 26th of Mr. John Wade, but who had received medical and spiritual aid prior to his demise. The deceased had only shortly returned home from the U.S.A. on retirement from his life at sea as a Radio Officer. He had made many friends during his life of travel round the four corners of the globe.

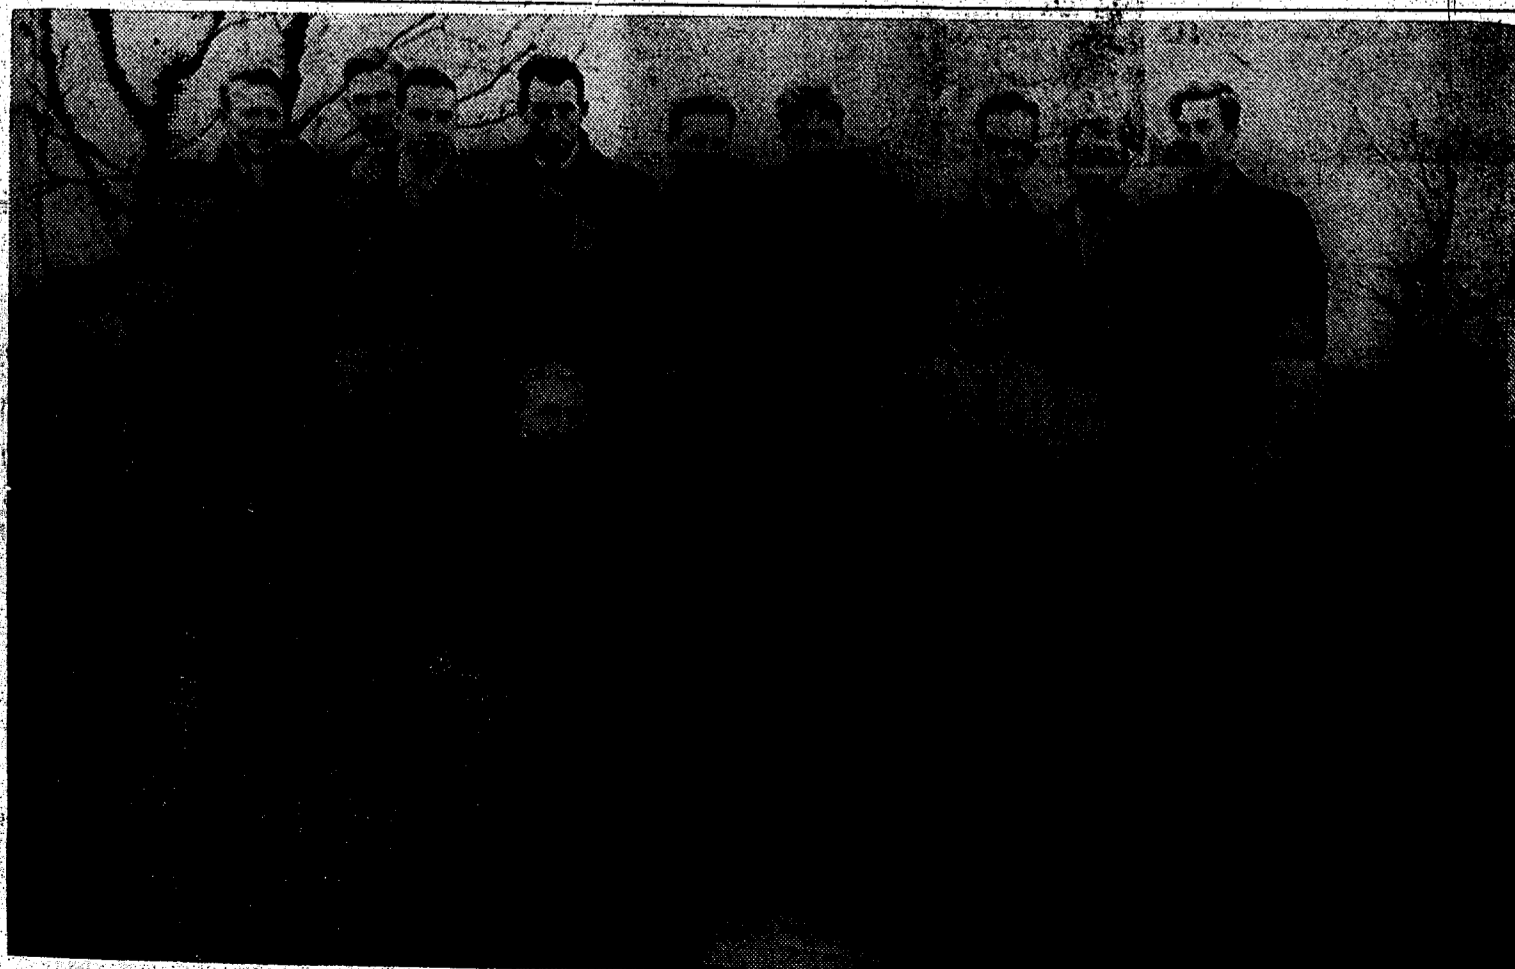

We extend our deepest sympathy to his brothers and sister on their very great loss.

May the light of heaven shine upon his soul.

His remains were removed on Thursday evening to Kilgobinet Church and were blessed and received by Rev. M. Farrell, C.C.

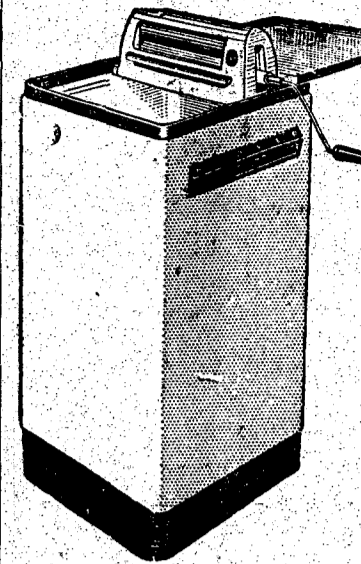

The Holy Thursday evening Mass was offered for the intentions of his soul and the interment took place on Good Friday morning, in the adjoining family plot. Rev. Fr. M. Farrell, C.C., officiated at the graveside.

A SUPER DANCE ATTRACTION

Next Wednesday, it will be a case of "all roads lead to the lovely Arch Ballroom" when world famous singer Houston Wells will be appearing there with his TV and recording group "The Outlaws", plus top Showband "The Columbia" from Arklow. Tall and well-built, Houston, who likes to dress Western style, was born in Northumberland, close to the English-Scottish border. He always liked U.S. country music and though he is quite a versatile artist, and enjoys singing other types of music as well, he sticks mainly to country and Western type songs. I can get more feeling into them he said. His singing career really started in Canada where he worked for a time as a lumberjack. His recording of "Only the Heartaches" was in the Irish top ten. Other records of his are: "This Song is just for You," "Shutters and Boards," "Blowing Wind," "Moon Watch over my Baby," "Anne Marie," etc. Houston Wells has a fresh original style of singing and Irish fans will give him a great reception. See today's advertisement for details.

Champions Celebrate
MEDALS PRESENTED TO TOURIN HURLERS

ON Tuesday night last Tourin G.A.A. club held its annual dinner-social in Walsh's Hotel, Cappoquin, where upwards on 100 enjoyed a function that certainly left nothing to be desired. Proudly on display were the championship and winter league medals won by the club's gallant hurlers during the past 12 months, and the highlight of the night was the presentation of these medals to the members of the victorious Primary hurling side. Also on view was the club's historic red and white colours which draped the dining hall.

At the conclusion of the meal, which, incidentally, reflected the highest credit on the Management and Staff of the hotel, the Club Chairman, Mr. Wally Doocey said it gave him great pleasure to welcome those present to celebrate Tourin's fifth championship victory. It was a very special occasion for him, and he felt very humbly about being chairman on this memorable occasion.
To Tourin he said well done on the manner in which they approached every game during 1963, and whilst realising that the coming year would be a tough one, he felt confident that their players would respond. If they put the same effort into their training now as they did for last year's championship he felt they would beat old rivals Cappoquin in the opening round of this year's Intermediate championship.

Repeating the toast to the guests, Mr. John A. Murphy (Dungarvan Observer) thanked the Tourin Club for extending the invitations to them and added that it was their honour to be present on this night of victory celebrations. He said the words Tourin and hurling were synonymous such was the proud tradition they had established for themselves in the past, and present indications were that they were quickly returning to their former glory. The present club spirit could not be bettered, and if maintained, would be good enough to overcome Cappoquin next month. Introducing Bob McGrath, the man who led them to victory in December, Wally Doocey said whenever the tide of battle began to flow against them Bob always encouragingly kept them going. Bob said it was a great honour for him to be captain of Tourin in 1963 and all should be congratulated on their great victory, which was a very combined effort. He personally had intended "packing it up" this year, but he would keep going for another year at least.
Continuing, he said: "To the people of Tourin I say always encourage the playing of Irish games, encourage Irish dances, and help to keep the Irish language alive. In the past 80 years, the G.A.A. has stood as a bulwark against foreign oppression. When the Association was first founded it was under the heel of a foreign power that crushed everything Irish. The G.A.A. has a membership of 750,000, and I hope the people of Tourin will be as strongly behind the Association when its aims are achieved as they are to-day.
Dick Doocey, a member of the 1950 team that defeated Mr. Sion in the county senior hurling final, said he would not accept the primary victory unless it contrived to put them back on their pedestal of old. He played his first championship game in 1947 and had not missed one since. That he believed was a record, but it was one he wanted bettered by the coming generation. He would accept the '63 victory only if it was the beginning of something new. Tom Fives was not going to retire nor was he, and he hoped to make his presence felt during the coming year.

Tom Fives, who won a junior medal with the club in 1941 and he was still with them. He hoped he (Wally) had not helped him win his last medal.
He urged the older members of the side not to retire now but to continue and to ensure above all that Tourin "still leads."

He congratulated Ollie Wilkinson on his selection on the county's intermediate team and expressed the wish that one day he would lead out the seniors on to Croke Park.
Thirteen years they had waited for this night, he continued, and they were gathered tonight to honour the men who had now raised them from the wilderness. In the past they laboured under the solitary efforts of a hard working Secretary, but now they all could set in their own way as "secs." of the club. He asked all members to help make Tourin an even better club in 1964.
Proposing the toast to Ireland, Mr. Tom Barry said they were present to honour their hurlers who had been so wonderful in '63 and he hoped they would be better still in '64.
Rev. Fr. M. O'Meara, C.C., Cappoquin, proposing the toast to the club said it was a realisation to see such an enthusiastic and loyal gathering present. With this spirit it was understandable that Tourin had 5 co. championships. As President of Cappoquin Club he was present more or less as the opposition, but judging by what he had seen now his club would be really up against it when the clubs met on May 24th. This was the kind of spirit needed in every club and he hoped they would keep it up. He very gladly pro-

N.F.A. NEWS WARBLE FLY SCHEME PAYS OFF

The effect of a national campaign to eradicate warbles can be gauged from the results of a survey recently carried out. During February more than 2,500 cattle were examined, three-quarters of them in County Donegal where the N.F.A. carried out an intensive scheme last year. Of 625 cattle examined in one mart in the area only six of those which had been treated were found to have warbles and these only in very small numbers. In 52 untreated cattle 380 warbles were found. At another mart in Donegal 395 animals were examined and four of them showed a total of 4 warbles where as 109 untreated cattle had a total of 739 warbles.

On the 2,574 animals examined altogether, only 37 warbles were found, on those that had been treated, 12 of which were on one imperfectly dressed beast. On the other hand, 1,145 warbles were found on 161 untreated animals.

The simple lesson to be learnt from these facts is that a tremendous amount can be done efficiently and cheaply if all interests come together to tackle a particular problem. It proves above all the value of a national association of farmers and its ability to do something constructive and progressive.

The N.F.A. is proud of the call that went out on the warble problem last year. If all farmer problems were approached in a similar way, solutions could be found and put into practice with the minimum amount of hardship and the maximum amount of benefit to everyone.

BUDGET COULD LAUNCH NEW ERA

There is little more than a week to the Budget day which, for farmers, will be particularly significant this year. In the past they, like other sections of the community, kept their fingers crossed and hoped for the best. Selcorm had this reason to be joyful.

For the first time Irish farmers can relate the Budget to a comprehensive set of recommendations for Irish agriculture as contained in the NFA document: Farm Income and Agricultural Development 1964-1970. Their Association has spelled out the minimum requirements which must be granted immediately if the agricultural industry is to prosper. It goes further, of course and points out the longer term requirements.

At a National Council meeting held recently members decided to call branch meetings throughout the country on Wednesday 15th to consider the new Budget. On the 16th every County Executive is to meet and discuss thoroughly the findings of their branches. On the following day a special Council meeting is being held in Dublin at which local reaction, from even the most remote place in the country, will be synthesised.

Feeling throughout the country on the continuing injustices being meted out to farmers has been rising. In step with this is the growing determination of farmers and their Association to do something about it.

The forthcoming Budget can reject the pleas of our farmer for fair treatment, when greater unrest than ever will result. It can offer them a sop which will only add to the pervading atmosphere of frustration. It can unshamefully come down on the farmers side for once and bring into existence a new era of national endeavour to the advantage of everyone.

SUPPORT OF PRICES INDISPENSIBLE

The capital investment required in our agriculture is large but not impossibly large. Agriculture can supply a substantial share of this from its own resources but small farms will require special assistance.

To the balance we expect the Government to contribute its share by way of incentive payments and development assistance generally and we expect the rest of the community to understand why this form of expenditure is necessary in agriculture, just as it is in industry.

Our programme can achieve agricultural growth rate of 3.9%. No lesser achievement can reverse the trends.

In recent years, agricultural productivity has increased at a consistently higher rate than industrial productivity, yet we have had a steady decline in the economic position of farmers and farm workers relative to that of the other sectors. Nothing short of the stepping out of our agricultural growth rate to the level we have in industry can reverse this disparity. The Second Programme for Economic Expansion suggests that a mere rapid increase in agricultural productivity will "narrow the gap". We regard this proposition as having already been proved by events to be absurd.

The real question is not what will we do if we expand, but what will we do with our farmers and farm workers if we don't expand?

We stress the vital relationship between producer prices levels and investment to raise productivity still further. Just as agricultural development is an indispensable part of national economic growth, so is the support of prices at an adequate level and indispensable factor in agricultural growth constituting in this way an inescapable necessity in the interim period before we become members of the Common Market.

FARM INFORMATION SERVICE

Q. A few years ago the berries on some of my gooseberry bushes were covered with a greyish mould. Please tell me what to do as it spread to all the bushes last year and ruined the bushes.

A. The disease is American Gooseberry Mildew which appears on the leaves in April, spreads to the fruit, later attacks the young shoots. Good control is possible by spraying the bushes 2 or 3 times with a karathane spray used according to directions on the container.

The first spray should be applied now at the early flowering stage. Alternatively, dissolve 1 lb. of washing Soda in 10 gallons of water and add 1 lb. Soft Soap or a proprietary spreader. Apply immediately when the fruit is set and repeat at least twice at fortnightly intervals. If rain follows shortly after spray application, the bushes should be resprayed.

Q. I have a hill covered with furze and scrub. What is the best method of eradication?

A. A good brushwood killer effective against furze etc. contains a chemical called 2,4,5-T. Spray on the foliage as it will penetrate to the root system. When the dead foliage is removed the land can be cultivated and resseeded. Setting furze alight is not to be recommended as it leaves the bushes in an unsuitable condition for eradication by pulling with tractor and chain.

Q. I have heavy losses with calf scour. The trouble is not coming on an outfarm where I have other stock. Please advise.

A. The condition is caused by a bacterial infection which has become established in the buildings. The colostrum or first milk of their mothers should be given to the calves as it contains protective material against the infection. You must clean and disinfect all calf pens and ensure that the feeding buckets are well scalded each time before use. Affected animals must be kept isolated and not put in water that has been boiled and well spiced with Galsocor for 24-48 hours. You are well advised to contact your local veterinary surgeon as there are injections and other remedies at his disposal.

Q. Is grass tetany caused by using too much fertiliser on grass?

A.—No. There are many different factors connected with incidence of grass tetany such as season, locality and condition of cattle. Many incidents of grass tetany have occurred on grassland which has never received any fertiliser. However, there is evidence to suggest that the condition may arise where Potash fertiliser is applied at a high rate. The objection may be overcome by splitting dressings of this fertiliser by applications at two periods of the year. Preventative measures are

GUINNESS RADIO CLUB

A young Dubliner, A. D. C. ("Al") Byrne has become the fourth member of his family to make a name on radio and television.

"Al", who already runs the successful "Home for Tea," a Friday evening magazine programme on Telefís Eireann (Monica Sheridan, the cookery expert, stars on the show), has now branched into a regular Monday evening radio show.

A. D. C. BYRNE

It's the "Guinness Radio Club" (11.0 p.m.-each Monday) a pleasant blend of music, general interest items and sport. Among the frequent guests on this show are Ron Delany, the Irish Olympic gold medal winner, who tells personal reminiscences of his career in sport. Another is a doctor and a third a racing expert.

Al Byrne, who was educated at Synges Street Christian Brothers School, Dublin, and is a university graduate, has written two plays and acted with drama groups in Dublin, Cork and Ballina. He was the group and individual awards winner at the All-Ireland Drama Festival in Athlone. He has also written short stories and given talks on radio and on U.S. and Canadian radio.

He is in the Trade Department of Guinness, St. James's Gate, Dublin, and is well known in the West of Ireland. Three of his brothers are in television. They are Gay of the "Late Late Show," who is also a top commentator with Granada. Another is Ed, a senior executive in the I.V. department of an American advertising firm and the third is Ernest, who was an executive producer with Telefís Eireann before he left for Canada.

DISAPPOINTING SALMON SEASON

Now in its tenth week, the salmon season, judging by the catches to date, can well be classed as the worst on record. The scarcity of salmon is said to be due mainly to the unsuitable weather conditions prevailing since the opening of February last. Still there were good fishing days when tides and winds were suitable and the result has been the same. Some crews did not get a single fish last week and a good many had to be content with two or three for the week. Similar reports are received from all around Youghal but no men are said to be doing fairly well.

FUNERAL OF YOUGHAL'S OLDEST LADY

The funeral of the late Mrs. Margaret Crowley, of 2 North Main Street, Youghal, whose death was reported in last week's issue, took place to the North Abbey Cemetery after Requiem Mass at the Parish Church and the large and representative party of relatives and friends of the deceased were in attendance. The chief mourners were: Mrs. John Crowley, Mrs. Michael Crowley and Mrs. Patrick Crowley (daughters-in-law). Very Rev. Canon Sheehan, P.P., officiated at the graveside assisted by Rev. D. O'Connell, C.C., Rev. E. G. Dwyer, C.C., Rev. D. Reidy, C.C., Rev. C. O'Mahony, C.C., and Rev. J. Meade, C.C.

FISHERY CONSERVATORS SYMPATHY

At a recent meeting of the Lismore Board of Fishery Conservators under the chairmanship of Mr. R. Grove Anselley, striking reference was made to the memory of the late Margaret Woulfe sister of the Board's Fishery Inspector, Mr. Ed. Woulfe, and as a mark of respect the meeting adjourned without transacting any business. The Clerk, Mr. J. K. K. K.

WATERFORDMEN'S ASSOCIATION

The Waterfordmen's Association (London) at an extraordinary general meeting held at the Irish Centre, Camden Town, on Saturday, 14th March a new secretary was appointed to replace Pat Aherne (Brickkeys) who is returning to the Emerald Isle.

MEMBERSHIP

A big drive has been started to recruit new members and a suggestion to divide London up into areas with committee members responsible for their respective allotted areas. This plan as understood will be put into operation in the near future.

SA. PATRICK'S DAY PARADE

The parade on Sunday, 15th Avenue to Westminster Cathedral, took place from Horse Guards Avenue to Westminster Cathedral. The weather was atrocious, snow, sleet and rain, and naturally thousands kept away. Still, a very large crowd braved the elements and fell in behind their respective county banners. The Waterford banner was very prominent, behind the South London Girls' Band, led and carried by Wally Smith (Vice-Chairman) and Jeff Hore, who travelled all the way from Welling Garden City to celebrate with his Dese comrades.

IRISH EMBASSY RECEPTION

The Association was represented at this reception to celebrate the feast of St. Patrick by the Chairman, Mr. Willie Barron and his wife Maureen. The Chairman of the different associations are invited each year with many prominent personalities to this reception, given by the Irish Ambassador, Mr. and Mrs. Lémass with the Ambassador and Mrs. Cremin welcomed the guests. The writer saw Willie Barron and Fr. Delaney having a lengthy discussion. Later I learned that Rev. Fr. Delaney has agreed to take an active part in the affairs of the Waterfordmen's Association. I spoke to Michael Barron, who has recently been appointed private secretary to the Irish Ambassador. Congratulations, Michael! Michael was a prominent member of the Association in its infancy and I believe he is again considering re-joining. Another old friend met was Donald Foley, once editor of the Waterfordman in London, who is now working and residing in Dublin.

WATERFORD DEPARTED

The Waterfordmen's Association narrowly defeated by death at Paddy Woulfe's obituary night, 7th March. The obituary was written by the late Mr. Michael Woulfe (Sligo) and time took to write it. The Waterford team was Pat Aherne (capt.), Joe Heffernan, Miss Binnie Cahill, Patrick Moroney and Paddy O'Brien. Mr. Joe Heffernan was the highest individual scorer. Congratulations Joe, and congrats. Waterford on great performance.

SECRETARY

At a committee meeting held at the Lord High Admiral on 6th March, the Secretary, Mr. Pat Aherne, notified the committee that he was returning to the Emerald Isle to take up a teaching job. All present wished Paddy and his good lady the very best of luck and God's blessing in his new appointment. As Pat, carried on his teaching duties beneath the Mounting of Mourne and smokes his pipe under the shelter of Slabh Donnard, I hope he will have happy memories of the gold old dedicated Dese people he befriended here in London. May St. Patrick and St. Bridget smile on our labours and don't forget to keep in touch.

DEP. DAVERN IN BUILDING

Dep. Minister J. Davern has asked the Minister for Finance the reason for the delay in erecting a garage at Fethard, Co. Tipperary, and if he was now in a position to state when it is anticipated that the contract papers will be ready.

TALLOW GRASS MEAL FACTORY

Dep. Davern received a letter from the Office of the Minister for Industry & Commerce which referred to his representation regarding the closing down of the grass meal factory at Tallow, and which stated that the Minister understood that the decision to close this factory had been taken by the proprietors of the firm concerned for commercial reasons. The Minister stated he would be glad if it were possible for the plant to continue in operation, but as the decision was entirely one for the Company, he regretted that it would be inappropriate for him to intervene. He intimated however that he would be pleased to give all assistance within his power to any sound industrial project in relation to the Tallow area that may be submitted to him.

GAELIC JOTTINGS

● SUCCESSFUL DAY AT KNOCKANORE

Sunday last was a gala day in Knockanore when the new John Fitzgerald Kennedy Memorial Park was officially blessed and opened. Fittingly, there was a very big attendance present for the auspicious occasion and the two games played provided thrills aplenty for the enthusiastic gathering.

Because of the heavy underfoot conditions it was deemed advisable by the Committee to play the Erin's Own v. Blackrock game first. It was a hurling thriller from start to finish and the Waterford city side just about deserved their 2-4 to 0-6 victory.

Then to complete a truly memorable day the local Shamrocks defeated Fourmilewater 2-8 to 2-6 in a game that proved beyond all doubt that Jim Nicholson and his men will take a deal of stopping this year.

Whilst the rains of the previous few days took its inevitable toll on the pitch, it looked an absolute picture for the official opening ceremony by Rev. Fr. Michael Power, P.P., Knockanore, assisted by Rev. Fr. Nugent, C.C. Fr. Power said the field was dedicated to a very great man and thanked the Irish Land Commission for giving the land rent free, and also those who subscribed the £400 necessary to purchase the land.

As stated in last week's issue, this is something the combined parishes of Knockanore, Glendine and Kilwater may feel truly proud of. They have provided the area with a much wanted need, and it is to be hoped that the Western Board will not forget them in the future when it comes to the allocation of championship games.

● LAST SUNDAY'S MINOR GAMES

There were no surprises in the first round minor championship games played on Sunday last, with all of the fancied ones progressing to the second round.

At Aghish, Ballinacreeilly readily defeated Ring in minor hurling and as in former years, should go very well in this championship. At the same venue Ardmore scored a facile victory over newcomers Glen Kowra, but so easily achieved was their win that it is almost impossible to assess accurately their real worth as yet.

Also in the minor hurling championship at Lismore, Cappoquin had a very close call against a gallant Stradbally side and were somewhat fortunate to record their 2-3 to 1-2 victory. The Reds surprised most by their fighting display and with better luck might well have forced the Cornerstone boys to do battle again another day.

But even allowing for Stradbally's highly commendable display, Cappoquin, quite frankly, disappointed. They do not appear to be as well equipped as in the past, and on this form, at any rate, are unlikely to "go the distance." But then again, with Cappoquin, one never really knows.

● PAT FANNING DEFEATED

AH Murray, the Co. Armagh schoolteacher is the new President of the G.A.A. He was elected as successor to Mr. Hugh Byrne, at the annual Congress in Dublin on Sunday last, defeating Waterford's Pat Fanning on a final count of 174-120. There were four candidates for the post, but both Jack Fitzgerald and Brendan Walsh were eliminated on the first count and it became a straight fight between the "big two." Murray received 118 first preferences as against Fanning's 98, but in the "final run in" the Armagh man skated to victory.

● CAPPOQUIN G.A.A. CONCERT POSTPONED

Because a prominent member of their cast has become indisposed, it has been deemed necessary to postpone the Cappoquin G.A.A. concert due to be held in the Desmond Cinema on Friday night. The concert will be held on a future date.

● HURLEES NARROWLY DEFEATED

Both Tipperary and Waterford fielded experimental sides in the semi-final of the Newcastlewest senior hurling tournament on Sunday last, in which Tipperary scored a narrow, but deserved, two point victory, in a very lively and entertaining game.

So depleted were the respective sides, however, that neither county could use the game as an assessment device for the important hours that lie ahead. Waterford had the services of only six of the full strength fifteen, whilst Tipperary also called on only a select of regulars.

Waterford had the better of the early exchanges and were worthy of their slender one point lead at the half way stage. But Tipperary, obviously roused by the very thoughts of another defeat by the Deise county, struck the decisive blows immediately after the resumption and were good value for their 4-7 to 3-8 victory.

The highlight of the game, however, was undoubtedly the display of Jimmy Byrne in the Waterford half back line. This was Byrne at his immediate best, and it is gratifying to see that he has re-discovered his form after last year's temporary lapse.

● LEAGUE FINALISTS FOR NEW YORK?

Following moves by the American G.A.A. Board last week, it could well be that this year's national hurling league finalists will battle out the Home Final in New York in May. For it is now proposed by the Americans that the finalists fly out early in May and play the home final on May 24th, with the winners meeting the Yanks in the league decider proper on the following Sunday.

Whilst there would be a considerable loss of revenue to the counties concerned by taking the game across the ocean, the proposal will in all probability, meet with the approval of Tipperary, Wexford, Cork and Limerick.

The proposal will, of course, have to come before Central Council, and we can only wait in speculation the decision of the governing authority.

MARK DINGLEY (Gaultire)

Dungarvan Minors To Advance

Dungarvan minor hurlers will be hoping to open the season on a winning note when they travel to Cappoquin to meet Lismore in the first round of the championship. Little enough is known at this stage of the form of either side. It is no secret however that the Dungarvan lads are reasonably well fit and there is certainly no shortage of talent. One factor which may tell against their hopes is youth, for no fewer than eight of the present team are still in juvenile ranks. Still the club is confident that it can have, at least, a very good run in the competition and it will take a team of more than average ability to conquer them. At the moment the final line-out is not known but it can be taken for granted that most of last year's fine juvenile team will be there again. The eminently sound and often brilliant Michael Donnelly will be in goal whilst it is expected that Sean McGrath, Timmy Healy and John Egan will be the backbone of the defence. Up front, A. Sandford, Kevin Fleming, Joe Curran and Mickey Fraher should make things hot for the Lismore lads.

The following is the panel from which the team will be selected: M. Donnelly, T. Healy, S. Daly, E. Keyes, J. Egan, S. McGrath, S. Murphy, N. Dwyer, T. Wall, T. Dwyer, J. French, M. Tobin, A. Sandford, S. Flynn, P. J. Hansberry, J. O'Reilly, J. Curran, S. Franklin, J. O'Keefe, T. Murphy, K. Fleming, M. Norris and M. Fraher.

Bus available from Square to all those participating in club's minor and juvenile leagues.

been announced but the city side as in the past, will probably have to depend for most part on the efforts of a few, notably John Barron, Sonny Walsh and Noel Dalton. It is well nigh impossible to anticipate what line of thought the Cappoquin selectors will take when selecting their side and consequently there is little use in attempting to cast the rule over a probable side. They will, however, field their strongest possible selection end if such as Mick Lacey, Ger Mason, Eddie Fraher,

Cappoquin Can Take Sargent Cup

Brickeys and Mitchels Fancied in Phelan Cup

THERE is a saying, a true one, 'better late than never. And how appropriately, cool three years in arrears. We should, that can be applied to next Sunday's Sargent Cup final at Cappoquin between the homesters and De La Salle. For that the decider is finally, though ridiculous as it may seem this is the belatedly being played out.

The Cornerstone venue, however, does not hold the stage alone on Sunday next and there is certain to be a big attendance at Dungarvan for the evening clash of Brickey Rangers and Kilrossanty (6.45) in the Phelan Cup. At Walsh Park (at 6.30) in the same competition, Gaultier and John Mitchels meet in yet another intriguing encounter.

The Sargent Cup decider is unique in so far as this trophy—second in importance to the championship only, is being sought by teams no longer in senior ranks, and therefore ineligible to participate in this year's competition. Both Cappoquin and De La Salle have, to put it bluntly, seen better days and victory on Sunday will undoubtedly be a tremendous uplift. Thus whilst the standard may not be as high as in former years we can expect an earnest hour's hurling.

This competition is, of course of particular significance to Cappoquin, as the trophy has been donated in honour of a truly great sportsman—the late Willie Sargent, a native of the Cornerstone. Not since 1957, when they scored their greatest ever victory by defeating Mount Sion in the final have the red and black brigade been in the trophy winning enclosure as it were, but even allowing for their own apparent shortcomings of recent times they must have a great chance of taking the title on Sunday.

The mere fact of playing the game on their own pitch will be of considerable help to them, whilst De La Salle have not been active since their defeat by Fourmilewater in the junior decider last December. As yet the teams have not varied an upsurge of interest whenever the luck of a draw deems it necessary for them to engage in football conflict and their meeting in the Phelan Cup at Dungarvan on Sunday next seems certain to bring out the crowds.

Since the famous (or should one say infamous) split in the parish, Kilrossanty have had distinctly the worst of matters with the Rangers and they will be more than keen to rectify matters somewhat on Sunday. They hope to put a full-strength team on the field but whilst their defensive and mid-field sectors require little or no attention their attack can at best be only taken on trust. Except for Tom Riordan, they seem to lack drive in the sector and the absence of Ned "Cheasty" Lonergan, now in England, will not ease the problem.

When I contacted a Brickey Official on Wednesday he told me the team had not yet been selected and was doubtful if it would be named before Sunday morning. It is not yet definite if Mick Farrell can make the journey from the Curragh and should he be unavailable, the County champions will be sorely handicapped.

On this their '64 debut, the championship titleholders will not be anxious to start off on the wrong footing, and consequently we can expect them to pull out all the stops. But in the tradition steeped Comeragh men they have opponents of stern calibre.

At this time of year neither team will be fully turned out, a factor that makes the issue twice as open. But should the Brickeys have the services of Farrell they may just get home in a tight finish. Without him the Comeragh men could well come out on top.

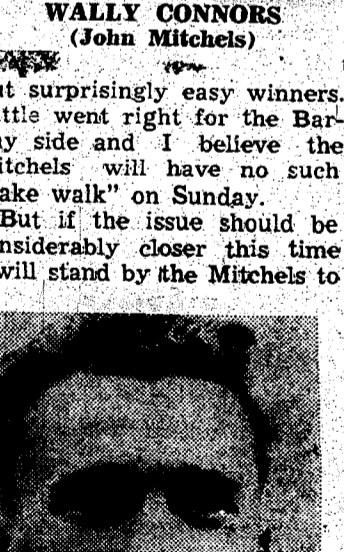

JOHN MITCHELS FANCIED

The remaining Phelan Cup game at Waterford between John Mitchels and Gaultier has a very open look about it.

Both sides showed up impressively in last year's championship and when they eventually crossed paths in the quarter final the Mitchels ran

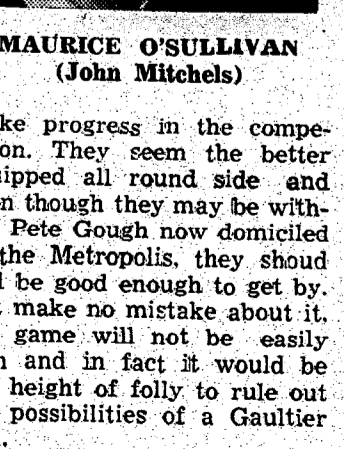

JOHN WOODS (Brickey Rangers)

WALLY CONNORS (John Mitchels)

Little went right for the Brickeys and I believe the Mitchels will have no such "cake walk" on Sunday.

But if the issue should be considerably closer this time I will stand by the Mitchels to make progress in the competition. They seem the better equipped all round side and even though they may be without Pete Gough now domiciled in the Metropolis, they should still be good enough to get by. But make no mistake about it, the game will not be easily won and in fact it would be the height of folly to rule out the possibilities of a Gaultier win.

DEATH OF OLD BRICKEY STARE

It was with regret that Waterford gaidem learned last week of the death of Jim Hackett, Coolormac. Jim, who was in his eighties, was one of the original "Brickeys" and served that club loyally on the playing fields for over a score of years.

That elusive county senior championship medal unfortunately never came his way, but he was proudly present at the Fraher field last December to see the Black and Amber brigade finally capture that cherished crown. That in itself was consolation to Jim.

THE LATE JIM HACKETT

Now he has gone to his eternal reward, but wherever and whenever Brickey men gather to relive their glorious past, the name of Jim Hackett will always readily spring to mind. An dhis De go raibh a anam.
