ESTIMATES MEETING WAS BRIEF URBAN RATE UP BY 2/3

AFTER one of the shortest estimates meetings on record, the members of Dungarvan Urban Council, on Friday night last, struck a rate of 50/11 in the £ for the coming year. This represents an increase of 2/3 over the 1963/64 rate, but a decrease of 9d. on the recommendation of County Manager, Mr. S. J. Moynihan.

The meeting lasted just under one hour, and was undoubtedly one of the quietest estimates sessions in history.

In his report, Mr. Moynihan stated that the rate of 51/8 in the £. The County demand, he said, was up by £2,115, to £20,617, whilst £19,187 was required for town services. The County demand represented 2000 and the town services 2000.

Every effort, he said, was made to estimate the Council's actual and prospective liabilities and income as accurately as possible. The rate proposed was one which he considered the minimum necessary to maintain stability in the Council's finances for 1964/65. It was, he added, very satisfactory to note the extent by which the assessable valuation of the Urban area had increased over last year's figure, and reflected the gradual and sustained development of the town.

Mr. Moynihan said he thought they could also reduce the scavenging expenditure by £125. Mr. Doyle explained that they had provided £145 for a shed for the new scavenging vehicle, but they could get that money by means of a ten year loan.

When the members discussed the item "Public Lighting," Deputy Moynihan said that it was not overcharged by any means. The Town Clerk said they were providing an additional £36 for three extra lights in Abbeyside.

Deputy Moynihan said the County demand was the heaviest commitment on them. The Co. Council was granting £1000 for the widening of the street in the town, but it was the Urban Council that was paying for it. It was non-sensical and a waste of money.

The Manager then suggested they go through the estimate item by item.

Deputy Moynihan asked if they could introduce yearly or seasonal tickets for the swimming pool.

The Urban Engineer, Mr. P.

Walsh, said the present charges at the pool were too low. Because of this they had not got as much supervision there as was desirable and deserved. However, they could not afford it at present.

Mr. Moynihan said he was thinking of doubling the admission fee this year.

When this was agreed to, the Town Clerk, Mr. P. J. Doyle, said the additional receipts would reduce the rate by a half-penny.

Deputy Moynihan said the County demand was the heaviest commitment on them. The Co. Council was granting £1000 for the widening of the street in the town, but it was the Urban Council that was paying for it. It was non-sensical and a waste of money.

The Manager then suggested they go through the estimate item by item.

Deputy Moynihan asked if they could introduce yearly or seasonal tickets for the swimming pool.

The Urban Engineer, Mr. P.

they wanted to put £180 (3d) on the people they would be asking to support.

Deputy Moynihan said if the rate was successful it could mean £10,000 to £15,000 being spent in the town, but if they did not give a grant to the Tourist Board, they could not expect to get anything from them.

Mr. Moynihan: It would be money well spent. Tourism in the town is developing and Dungarvan is becoming better known. The old tourist board—the I.T.A. was now gone and a new body was set up.

A Member: A lot of bodies locally have contributed to this Council already.

Mr. Moynihan: You will get that money back over and over again.

Deputy Moynihan: I think this is the best investment we have before us tonight. I do not want to give away £180 of public money, but I think we have something to gain. Two family tourists would spend it in a fortnight in town.

Colr. John McCarthy: I think we should give it a try for one year at least.

Colr. Walsh said that whilst he was in favour of giving a contribution, he did not think they should give the maximum £180 straight off.

A Member: The rates are too high as it is, and the people can't even pay the present rate, not to mention an increase of 3d. to the tourist board.

The Manager said if they felt they were not getting good value they could always take the necessary action next year.

Colr. Walsh: There are too many demands on us already.

Deputy Moynihan then proposed a rate of 50/11 in the £, which provided for the £180 tourist grant. Another member proposed a rate of 50/8, which provided for no tourist grant at all. There was no seconder for this proposal. Colr. Thos. Lee seconded Deputy Moynihan's proposal.

Colr. Walsh proposed a rate of 50/10, leaving £120 for Tourism. There was a case for helping them, he said, but he could not agree to giving them the limit. There was no point in running headlong with their contribution.

Dep. Moynihan's proposal was then passed by 3 votes to 2, thus giving a rate of 50/11 in the £ for the coming year.

Colrs. Moynihan, Lee and McCarthy were for this rate, and Colrs. Walsh and against.

Having struck the rate Deputy Moynihan extended to the Manager and the Town Clerk his appreciation of the help they had given them. He thanked the Manager also for cutting his own estimate to the minimum, and yet allowing enough to run efficient services for the town.

Colr. Walsh said that whilst he was in favour of Deputy Moynihan's proposal, he was becoming a terribly serious one. The ill-conceived turnover tax and nothing else was the cause of the trouble.

ABBEYSIDE MAN FINED

Sequel to Accident on Bridge

James Mulcahy, 8 Murphy Piece, Abbeyside, was charged at Dungarvan District Court on Wednesday, with dangerous driving at Davitt's Quay, on March 3rd last. A further charge of drunken driving was withdrawn. The charge was reduced to one of careless driving and he was fined £2 and £1 expenses.

In evidence John Maye said he was cycling from work in the Dickens Leather factory to his home in Abbeyside on the evening in question. As he crossed the bridge near Power's garage he was close to his left hand side of the road. A car passed him going to Abbeyside.

On the opposite side of the road he saw a car approaching from Abbeyside going towards town. As the oncoming car passed him he saw a van coming from the Abbeyside direction and it attempted to overtake the car. He received a glancing blow from the van and was caught between it and the bridge and was dragged backwards for 7 or 8 feet. He was not injured but his bicycle was damaged.

He spoke to the defendant, who was the driver of the van and he said "I nearly blew you over the bridge." He said the driver of the car was to blame.

Mrs. Anna Moynihan, Mile House, Abbeyside, said she was driving her Vauxhall station wagon towards Dungarvan on the evening of Mar. 3.

Approaching the bridge she was driving at about 25 miles an hour on her correct side of the road. She had just got over the bridge when her car got a severe bump from behind and she was thrown forward. She heard a loud bang and also the sound of fallen glass. She looked in the mirror of her car and saw nothing and thought something had exploded in the back of her car. She pulled in to a safe place on the left hand side and a man came up to her and asked what happened. It was then she realised there had been an accident. She saw the van parked on its incorrect side near the garage petrol pumps.

The defendant asked her why she did not indicate but she said there was no cause to do so as she was going straight into Dungarvan. The defendant could easily have passed her. The driver's side of her car was damaged and also the back lights.

Replying to Mr. A. R. Farrell defending witness said defendant did not say he thought she was going to pull up.

Garra Neenan, Dungarvan, said he visited the scene of the accident at 6.45 p.m. and found the station wagon parked in the middle of the road and the van was on the opposite side of the road. He spoke to the defendant and he got very excited and pretended to faint. He (defendant) said he did not have to answer any questions and jumped around the road.

To Mr. Farrell, Solicitor, witness said the defendant appeared excited and confused about it all. He admitted hitting the car.

Mr. Farrell said the defendant was a remarkably truthful man and if he went into the witness box he would tell exactly what happened. He was just confused at the time.

Judge Skinner reduced the charge to one of careless driving and imposed the £2 fine.

"TALK OF THE TOWN"
The Abbeyside Variety Club will present its fabulous "Talk of the Town" in Kiltbricken Hall on tonight Friday, at 8.30 p.m. This show, by its excellence, went over in a big way in Booter and Grange, and seems assured of further success in Kiltbricken. See this week's advertising columns for full details. But remember, it's worth seeing.

DANCE
The Abbeyside branch of the Christian Brothers' Pupil Pupils are holding a dance in the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Friday of next week (April 18), the proceeds of which will go towards the new school that is being built. This is a very worthy cause and we feel sure the public will give it the support it deserves.

See advertising columns in this issue for full details.

VISITED TELEFIS EIREANN STUDIOS
Recently, two of the directors of Dungarvan's reputable Television Company C.B.R., visited the Telefis Eireann Studios at Montrose in Dublin. They were Mr. Sean Casey and Serevan Baumann.

They were shown around the entire studio and saw "Tolka Row" and "Take My Word" being rehearsed. They also met several of the T.V. personalities.

When asked about their visit the directors stated that having seen all the equipment being worked and having it all explained to them, it would be of immense benefit to themselves and their customers.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT WELCOMED
Supt. Fanning who has replaced Supt. Mcc. Costello in Dungarvan, was welcomed by District Justice L. B. Skinner before the commencement of Wednesday's Court.

Judge Skinner said Supt. Costello was an outstanding man but he felt Supt. Fanning would be just as good.

Mr. A. R. Farrell, on behalf of the legal profession, said he also wished to be associated with the remarks of the District Justice, and welcomed him to Dungarvan. They regrettably very much Supt. Costello's departure, but he felt they were getting a very suitable man to fill his shoes. Supt. Fanning was new from the Dept. and had an excellent knowledge of law.

The Court Clerk, Mr. M. Hennessey, was also associated with the remarks.

Realising Supt. Fanning thanked the Justice, Mr. Farrell and the Court Clerk for their kind expressions of welcome. He was very happy to be in Dungarvan and would do his best to emulate his very courteous and able predecessor.

Incidentally, the recent television interference in the centre of Dungarvan, and parts of Abbeyside, has been rectified by Mr. Casey.

ATTENDED ANNUAL DINNER
Among those who attended M/s. Thos. Power & Co. Ltd., first annual Staff Dinner, last week, was Mrs. Q. Singleton, Dr. Caseyville, Dungarvan, whose name was inadvertently misquoted in last week's report.

PASSING OF POPULAR PARISH PRIEST
Late Very Rev. M. J. Hackett

We regret to record the death of Very Rev. Michael J. Hackett, P.P., Aglish and Ballinacorney, which sad event occurred at the Parochial House, on Tuesday last, April 7th. He was 83 years of age and was a native of Grange, Co. Tipperary. He celebrated the Golden Jubilee of his ordination two years ago.

Ordained in Maynooth, he served in Glasgow before returning to Ireland. He was later made P.P. of Killossanty and in 1955 was named P.P. of Aglish and Ballinacorney.

He was a staunch supporter of gaelic football and rarely missed any game of importance at the Shandon field.

Interment took place on Thursday morning, after Requiem Office and High Mass at Aglish Church, in the adjoining cemetery.

Deepest sympathy is extended to his sorrowing niece, nephew and relatives.

MEN'S CONFRATERNITY

The monthly meeting of the men's branch of the Sacred Heart Confraternity will be held on this (Friday) evening in St. Carthage's Church, at 7.30 p.m.

DEATH OF MR. P. HICKEY

It is with deep and sincere regret we record the death of Mr. Patrick Hickey, Deerpark, Lismore, which sad event occurred at his residence on Wednesday of last week, 1st April. The deceased gentleman, who had reached an advanced age, was a most popular figure and had earned himself countless friends by his quiet and cheerful manner. In his younger days he was an active member of the British Army and served with the United Kingdom Forces in France during the 1914-18 war. It was during this period his bravery won him the George Cross Medal—the highest honorary medal presented to British army troops in recognition of their outstanding bravery.

He will be sadly missed, by all, but more especially by his sorrowing family and relatives to whom we tender our deepest sympathy.

The remains were removed to St. Carthage's Church on Thursday evening and were blessed and received by Very Rev. T. Canon Dunphy, P.P., V.F., assisted by Rev. Fr. Quately, C.C., and Rev. Fr. Slattery, C.C., and the burial took place on Friday in the adjoining cemetery, the same clergy officiating at the graveside. Large numbers of sympathisers attended both funeral and burial.

IMPORTANT VISITORS AT LISMORE CASTLE

On Saturday evening last, former British Prime Minister Mr. Harold MacMillan, accompanied by his wife Lady Dorothy, arrived in the glorious spring sunshine at Lismore Castle, where they are spending one week.

On arrival at the Castle, they were met and welcomed by the owners—the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, who had arrived in Lismore a week earlier.

Incidentally, since the arrival of the Duke of Devonshire, the Castle has been kept under a twentyfour hour watch by plain clothes detectives and gardaí.

WEDDING BELLS

MADDEN - FEENEY

The wedding took place on Easter Monday, 30th March, at St. Carthage's Cathedral, Lismore, between Mr. Michael Madden, eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Owen Madden, "Annmount," Lismore, and Miss Margaret Feeney, only daughter of Mrs. Mary Feeney and the late Mr. James Feeney, West St., Lismore.

The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing, was performed by Rev. Fr. William Madden, C.C., Middlesborough (brother of the groom), assisted by Very Rev. T. Canon Dunphy, P.P., V.F., Lismore.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Michael, wore a full length gown of white Duchesse satin, empire style with train. Her full length veil was held in place by a lily of the valley headdress and she carried a bouquet of lily of the valley, carnations and orchids.

The bridesmaids, the Misses Mary McGrath and Madeline McCarthy, wore full length coral satin gowns with matching headdresses, while the Misses Sharon Hoey and Darlene Lee, were train bearers. The best man was Mr. John L. O'Donnell.

Following a reception at the Galtee Hotel, Cahir, Mr. and Mrs. Madden left for Majorca on their honeymoon.

Both bride and groom, who are very popular people in the Lismore area, were the recipients of many valuable and useful wedding gifts, and we join with their countless friends everywhere in wishing them many years of wedded bliss.

LISMORE MAN'S PROMOTION

Consequent on the retirement from the public service of Mr. Florence O'Leary, M.R.C.V.S., Director of Veterinary Services in the Department of Agriculture, Mr. Mortimer W. G. Hynes, M.R.C.V.S., Deputy Director, has been appointed Director with effect from 1st April. Mr. Joseph B. Caffrey, M.R.C.V.S., D.V.S.M., Senior Superintending Veterinary Inspector has been appointed Deputy Director in succession to Mr. Hynes with effect from the same date.

Mr. O'Leary, the former Director, who was born at Ardret, Co. Kerry, has retired from the Civil Service under the age regulations.

His successor, Mr. Hynes, is a native of Lismore, Co. Waterford and is a son of the late Mr. C. P. Hynes, M.R.C.V.S., Lismore. He entered the Department's service in 1935 and has been closely associated with the development of the livestock artificial insemination service and the bovine tuberculosis eradication scheme.

Mr. Caffrey entered the Department's service in 1938. In recent years, he has been engaged primarily in the bovine tuberculosis eradication scheme.

TOURANEENA NOTES

EASTER CEREMONIES

At St. Mary's Church, Touraneena, on Sunday last, Rev. Fr. Mulcahy, C.C., complimented the parishioners on their wonderful attendance at the Sacred Ceremonies during Holy Week and especially to all who, despite the severe weather, made the journey each morning to be present at Mass during the Holy Season of Lent.

RACING NEWS

Jockey John Joe Kenneally, who rode "Purple Silk" into second place in this year's Aintree Grand National, is son of Mrs. T. Kenneally and the late Mr. Tommy Kenneally, Farnane, Modeligo. From his infancy, John Joe possessed a great love of horses, and at the age of fifteen years he entered the training establishment of Mr. Tim Hyde, Cashel who took particular interest in him and under whose guidance he became an expert in horsemanship. He now resides in England, where he has had many successes on the "Turf."

"25" DRIVE WINNERS

The following were the winners of the 25 Drive, held recently at Ballymacarby—in aid of the Fourmilewater hurling club: £2 each—Mr. Edmond Crotty and partner Mr. Paul Hally; £1 each—Mrs. Bridget Power, Mrs. Mollie Grant, Mr. J. Mulcahy and Mrs. B. Doney.

Kilmacthomas Notes

Late Miss M. Lenihan—The death of Miss Mary Lenihan took place at a Waterford city hospital, on Monday, of last week, 30th ult. (Feast of St. Columba), removing the last member but one of her well known and popular front-rank Catholic farming family in the Barony of Middle Third, where her passing—following a long illness and at the octogenarian age—was learned of with feelings of deep and genuine regret, and the sympathy of the inhabitants of the entire territorial division goes out to her sister and relatives in their sorrow.

The late Miss Lenihan had many qualities which endeared her to all who knew her, and the sense of regret occasioned by her departure hence was shown at the removal of the remains on Tuesday evening to the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, Kill, and to their place of interment in the adjoining cemetery the next day (after Requiem Mass), all classes and sections of the community being conspicuously in the presence. Rev. J. Walsh, C.C. Kill, officiated at the graveside. The light of heaven to her gentle soul.

Felicitations are most cordially extended to Mr. Michael Lenihan, The Copper House, Bonmahon (son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Lenihan, Ballinabanogue), and Miss Bridget Widger (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Widger, Lacken House, Waterford), on their marriage which was solemnised (with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing) in the Church of the Nativity, Butterstown, Waterford, on Easter Monday, by Rev. M. O'Farrell, C.C., Ballycorken, do., assisted by Rev. P. Power, C.C., Ballylaneen, and Rev. M. J. Russell, C.C., Clashmore.

The bride, who radiated happiness, was given away by her father and she had in attendance as bridesmaid an intimate friend, Mr. John Lenihan, Ballinabanogue, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Sacred music appropriate to the occasion was played by the church organist during the Mass.

The reception, attended by seventy guests, was held in the Miltell Hotel, Clonmel, and the honeymoon is being spent in Rome. Bridegroom and bride enjoy widespread popularity in sporting and social circles and they were the recipients of an immense array of presents. Good luck and many years of matrimonial bliss to both.

Rev. Fr. Oliver Flynn, O.S.A., London, brother of the bride, officiated and celebrated the Nuptial Mass, when the marriage was solemnised in the Parish Church, Stradbally, on Easter Tuesday, of Mr. Finbarr Coughlan, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Coughlan, Main Street, Ballydehob, Co. Cork, to Miss Eithne Flynn, S.R.N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Flynn, Knock, Stradbally.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. M. Flynn, wore a short dress of white brocade, with headdress consisting of white flowers and short veil. She carried a bouquet of white and red carnations.

The bridesmaid, Miss Helen Flynn, sister of the bride, wore a short dress of pink nylon with headdress of pink flowers and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Mr. Joseph Coughlan, brother of the bridegroom was best man.

The reception, attended by fifty guests, was held in the Grand Hotel, Tramore.

Going away on the honeymoon, which is being spent in Scotland, the bride wore a black and white tweed suit.

The bridegroom is positioned as Civil Engineer with Tipperary Co. Council (S.R.), and the bride, before her marriage, was a member of the nursing staff of the Waterford County and City Infirmary. All prosperity and happiness to both.

O'Donnell Ballman—The engagement is announced of Michael O'Donnell, Grenan, Kilmacthomas, to Brenda Hallihan, Carroll's Cross, do.

Mr. T. O. Loachda, Private Secretary to Dr. Hillery, Minister for Education, in a letter to Mr. Sean Ormond, T.D., Kilmacthomas, states that, "With regard to your further representations regarding the provision of a Regional Technical College at Waterford, preliminary arrangements to be made in relation to the project are being examined."

It has been arranged for a Senior Inspector of the Department to attend the next meeting of the City of Waterford Vocational Committee.

In a Dublin Daily dated Saturday, 4th inst., appeared the names and addresses of the winners of a children's competition set in the previous week-end issue of the paper. Eight prizes were awarded, and one of the successful competitors was Miss Margaret Kiely, Adramone, Leamybrien.

Whole Hearted Sympathy is extended to the nearest and dearest of the late Mr. Edmund (Ned) Phelan, Kilmacthomas—the possessor of many estimable qualities which won for him the high esteem of a large circle of friends on both sides of the Mahon. His remains were interred in Newtown Cemetery, on Sunday, 5th inst., in the presence of many mourners and sympathisers. R.I.P.

Irish Lincolnshire Handicap, with £1,000 added. One mile.—This race, which attracted 19 runners, marked the 5.15 event on the card of last Saturday evening's Curragh meeting and resulted in a thrilling triumph for 9/2 joint-favourite Cassim, bred and owned by Mr. M. A. (Milo) Walsh, Bellair, Kilmacthomas, who is a sportsman through and through.

Cassim, which had run second to Barney Fagan in the corresponding Lincolnshire last year, was brilliantly ridden by Bill Williamson, to give trainer John Oxx his second success in this race and also his second win of the afternoon.

CAPPOQUIN PRIEST . . .

Celebrates Silver Jubilee

Rev. John A. O'Brien will celebrate a Solemn Mass of Thanksgiving on the occasion of his Silver Sacerdotal Jubilee at St. Helen's Church, Pilot Rock, Oregon, on Monday, 20th April. His Excellency Francis P. Leising, Bishop of Baker, will preside in the Sanctuary. The Officers of the Mass, all classmates of the jubilarian at Mount Mellerey Seminary, are: Deacon Rev. James O'Connor, St. Mary's Church, Pandleton; Subdeacon, Very Rev. Patrick J. Cairé, St. Francis Cathedral, Baker, while the sermon will be delivered by Rev. Michael F. Ahearne, St. Augustine's Church, Merrill. Seventy-five priests or more, from Oregon, Washington, California and Idaho are planning to attend the ceremonies.

Father O'Brien, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michl. O'Brien, was born at Bewley, Cappoquin, Co. Waterford. His classical studies were made at the Christian Brothers School, Lismore. Philosophy at the world renowned Mt. Mellerey Seminary and his theological course was made at St. Kierne's College, Kilkenny, where he was ordained at St. Mary's Cathedral on June 11, 1939, by the late Most Rev. Patrick Collier, Bishop of Ossory.

In August, 1939, Father O'Brien left his native home for the mission field of the Diocese of Baker. His first appointment was at Sacred Heart Parish Klamath Falls. Here he worked for two years under the wise and paternal guidance of Monsignor Timothy Casey, Broma, Co. Kerry. From Klamath Falls, he was transferred to the Cathedral Parish at Baker where he remained two and a half years.

In July 1943, the late Bishop Joseph McGrath appointed him pastor at Dufur, the real missionary parish of the Diocese—almost as large as his native Waterford. Besides the parish church he had four more churches to take care of involving long distances over roads sometimes almost impassible. For three years he laboured in Dufur. During his stay there he was beloved not only by his own flock but by members of other denominations as well, who saw in this young levite a man of God fired with missionary zeal so characteristic of Irish vocations.

In 1946 the new parish of Vale was erected, so Bishop McGrath rewarded him for his apostolic zeal at Dufur by assigning him to this new parish. When Father John arrived at Vale on a bleak November day in 1946, he found a little wooden church entirely too small to take care of the growing congregation. There was no rectory so a few rooms at the back of the Church were fixed up as a residence. In this tiny abode he withstood the cold blasts of winter and the burning heat of summer. Bishop McGrath ordered him to build a new church and rectory. It was quite an order for the young priest. However, Father John got to work immediately, raised the money and again his apostolic zeal for souls bore fruit as today a beautiful church and rectory stand as a memorial to this Irish missionary.

After thirteen years of hard work at Vale, the present Bishop felt that the time had come to give him a better parish where the work would be a little easier so in 1959 he bade farewell to his people at Vale who loved him and looked upon him as one of their own and set out for Merrill. Here he found a new church, rectory and parish hall. The majority of his congregation came from "Rebel Cork" and from the "Kingdom of Kerry."

He did not remain very long at Merrill to enjoy the comforts of his new parish as the Bishop felt he needed a man to organise a building programme in another newly erected parish so recognising his wonderful talents as an organiser and builder the Bishop assigned him to Pilot Rock.

Here in Pilot Rock he found a new rectory and a small church which had seen better days. In a short time, this young Waterford priest organised a building programme and to-day Pilot Rock can boast of one of the finest churches in the Diocese thanks to the zeal of this Irish missionary priest who left his native Ireland twenty-five years ago to carry on the great work of extending Christ's Kingdom on earth in this vast section of the great State of Oregon whose pearly shores are kissed by the blue waters of the Pacific Ocean.

The Bishop and priests of the Diocese rejoice with Fr. John on this happy occasion and wish him many more fruitful years in the mission field. His bosom pal, Father Michael Ahearne, who came from Cappoquin's Cornerstone will pay an eloquent tribute in his sermon, to a priest who has done so much for his fellow man in the Diocese of Baker.

This summer Father John will visit his homeland where a warm welcome awaits him and where the friends of his boyhood days will gather 'neath the famous Knockmeal-down mountains to celebrate in the real Irish tradition the jubilee of their boy—the priest that Waterford, the Emerald Isle and the Diocese of Baker are so justly proud of.

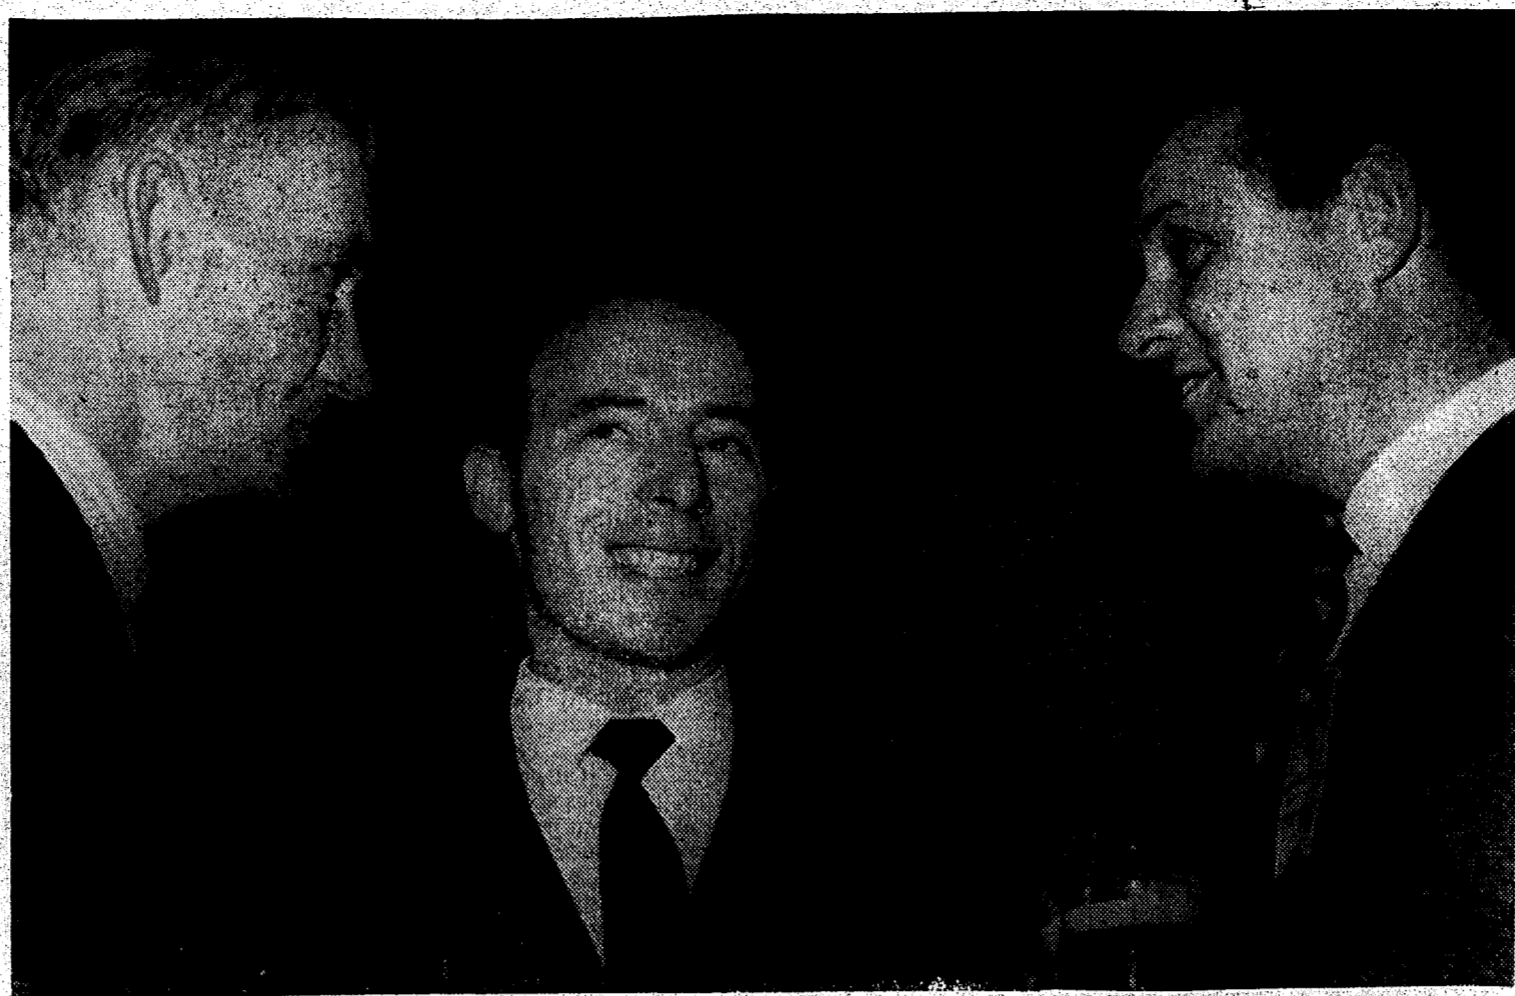

His married brother James, his wife and family, as well as his brother William, now reside at the old homestead at Bewley, Cappoquin. He has four sisters, Mrs. Maud Nolan, Littleton, Thurles; Mrs. Josephine Hartigan, New York; Mrs. Vera Hayes, New York, and Mrs. Annie McAdams, Florida.

South Eastern Regional Tourism Organisation Ltd.

The Directors of The South-Eastern Regional Tourism Organisation Ltd. met at the Royal Hotel, Carlow, on Friday 3rd April. It was decided at the meeting that the four existing Information Offices in the Region, which are situated at Tipperary, Tramore, Waterford and Westford and which were previously operated by the Irish Tourist Association, will be operated during the coming year by the Company. Holiday Information Offices will also be opened in Kilkenny, Carlow and Clonmel as soon as suitable arrangements can be made, but in time for the 1964 season.

KILMAC NOTES

N.F.A. Kilmacthomas Branch A meeting of the above will be held at Murphy's Cafe, on Tuesday 14th Inst., at 8.30 p.m. (S.T.). To discuss the budget of that day, as it applies to farmers. This is a very important meeting and it is hoped that as many members as possible will attend. No further notice will be given.

The G.A.A. and the Guinness Company announced support for a new book on coaching for Gaelic Football by Down footballer, Joe F. Lennon. The book was introduced at a reception in the Guinness Brewery, and discussing the publication were (from left) Mr. Alf Murray (Pres. G.A.A.), Mr. Joe Lennon and Mr. Guy Jackson, (Assistant Managing Director, Guinness). Wide interest in the book is expected because it is the first publication on the subject of coaching. Big Greyhound Race Sponsored by Guinness DUNGARVAN MINORS ADVANCE

A big boost has been given to the greyhound racing industry of the country by the announcement of a new race—top prize £1,000, plus a silver trophy—scheduled for the Shelbourne Park Track in Dublin in August.

The race will be sponsored by Messrs. Arthur Guinness Son & Co. (Dublin) Ltd. which has already presented the Pegasus Cup (worth £300), replicas and prize money of £230 annually for five years to the Cork Greyhound Racing Company Ltd.

The new Guinness sponsorship at Shelbourne Park will provide a gala night at the Dublin Track. On top of the £1,000 race, the company will contribute another £500 in prize money to the night's programme.

Mr. Sean Collins, public relations officer for Bord na gCon, said "We very much welcome the generous Guinness contribution to greyhound racing. Ireland is the main greyhound breeding centre in the world. She exports more greyhounds than any other country. I understand that Guinness exports more beer than any other country in the world. Co-operation, therefore, seems natural."

Sponsorship on such a generous scale aids breeding and fosters the export of greyhounds which is now bringing the country more than £1m. a year, a sizeable contribution to the national economy."

Mr. Collins gave these facts: There are 30,000 greyhound owners in the Republic; 45,600 dogs have been exported in the last eight years; more than £1m. have been paid out in prize money since 1958; Bord na gCon employs 700 people directly or part-time and 400 more are employed on the tracks alone.

Simultaneously, with the announcement of the big night of racing at Shelbourne Park, Mr. Donald O'Donoghue, Managing Director of the Shelbourne Greyhound Racing Co. Ltd., announced that the proceeds of the Guinness night will be donated by him to the Press-Stage Children's Charities Committee.

This committee, representing members of the press, stage, radio and television, has been in existence for over ten years. During that time it has raised more than £14,000 for distribution to orphanages and other organisations caring for children.

Said a member of the committee: "This is marvellous news and we are most sincerely grateful to Guinness and to Shelbourne Park for their generosity. The proceeds of the night of racing will enable us

Dungarvan — — — 2-5
Lismore — — — 1-0

Dungarvan minor hurriers started off the season on a winning note in Cappoquin last Sunday, when they emerged rather easy winners over Lismore. On the form shown in this engagement, however, they have still very much to learn, for, with most of the play, they made very heavy work of the victory. Ncr does it help their cause when one realises that the referee saw fit to send one of the team to the line a few minutes from the time, accompanied by his counterpart from Lismore. This was the sequel to an extremely senseless bout of fist-cuffs, and although some spectators saw fit to question the referee's action, this writer heartily applauds the decision.

No fault could be found with the winners defence, for they tackled very keenly throughout and their clearances were usually crisp and long. Michael Donnelly performed his task in goal very soundly and Sean McGrath, Eamon Keyes and young Timmie Healy were the pick of a very good rearguard.

Michael Tobin caught a real tartar in Lismore's Michael McGrath, who was certainly the outstanding man of the thirty. Nevertheless, the Dungarvan man stuck manfully to his task and his clever play baulked his rival on many occasions.

But the Old Boro' mentors have a surfeit of headaches in front of them when they try to remedy the weaknesses in attack. Not one of the sextet played to form and only Joe Curran and to a lesser extent Anthony Sandford, emerged with any credit. At times they sent wide when it seemed that it would have been easier to score. Unless they can show a vast improvement before their next outing, it looks as if their championship hopes will perish at the next obstacle.

Lismore tried gamely throughout, and for a long spell it looked as if they might spring a surprise. As already stated, Michael McGrath was a brilliant hurler for them, but he lacked the support which might have made all the difference. Others to do well were Harry Whelan and Denis Buckey.

Score for winners were: J. Curran (1-1), M. Norris (1-0), K. Fleming (0-2), J. O'Reilly and A. Sandford (0-1 each).

Dungarvan: M. Donnelly; J. Curran, S. McGrath, S. Murphy, F. F. O'Sullivan, S. Daly, T. Healy; M. M. O'Sullivan, A. Sandford, S. Frankin, J. Curran, J. Reilly; M. Fraher, K. Fleming, M. Norris.

CAPPOQUIN failed in their bid to wrest the Sargent Cup for the second time when they went under by a five point margin to De La Salle in an interesting if not spectacular final at the Cappoquin Sportsfield, on Sunday last.

But what a bitter and galling experience it was for the men of the Cornerstone to suffer defeat in a decider they should have won comfortably. For if ever a game was literally thrown away this was it. For three-quarters of the game they dictated the trend of the exchanges and appeared to be coasting to easy victory when they led by 2-4 to 0-1.

Then, with dramatic suddenness the entire complexion of the game altered. A hitherto sluggish and unimpressive De La Salle team sprang to life and, capitalising to the full on the defensive shortcomings of the Cappoquin men, smashed home the goals that gave them their unexpected victory.

They were, however, goals of the soft variety and at least three of them might well have been prevented. Cappoquin, thanks to the superb hurling of Mickey O'Connor in the half back line and Mickey Lacey at midfield, were completely on top in the opening half. Their forwards were piled with chances galore, but for the most part failed when it came to putting the finishing touches to well

Prayers Exhorted for Vocations

Bishop's House, Waterford. Very Rev. and Reverend Fathers and dear Brethren,

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER FOR VOCATIONS

Our Holy Father, Pope Paul VI, has directed that, henceforth, the Second Sunday after Easter, Good Shepherd Sunday, be observed as a World Day of Prayer for Vocations. On this day, Catholics throughout the world will join in sincere prayer that God may give many worthy priests and religious to His Holy Church.

Jesus Christ, came on earth to announce the joyful news of God's Kingdom and to show us by word and example, the way to the Father. He came to free us from sin and to make us, once again, the children of proclaim the good news of salvation and to accomplish the work of salvation which they proclaimed, by means of Sacrifice and Sacraments. To accomplish this mission the Church, in every age, needs priests. A priest is an Apostle and a mediator. He represents men before God and God before men. Jesus Christ is the Great High Priest. Every priest shares in the Priesthood of Christ; every priest is 'another Christ.' The Church, therefore, must have priests, worthy priests and many of them, to carry on in every part of the world, the work of Christ—the salvation of souls.

Each one of us who is privileged to be a member of the Church of Christ must do his best to send more workers into the vineyard of the Lord; and the most effective thing we can do is to pray. It is what Our Lord Himself recommended. He said to His disciples "the harvest indeed is great, but the labourers are few. Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that He send labourers to His harvest" (Luke x 2). We must pray, therefore, for vocations to the Priesthood.

We should pray, too, for vocations to the Religious Life. Religious are those who consecrate themselves in a special way to God, living in community and binding themselves by vow to observe obedience, chastity and poverty. As well as devoting themselves to prayer and to the worship of God, they care for the sick, for the poor and the aged; they educate the young and they are ready to go far from home and dear ones to work on the Missions. By their lives of prayer and sacrifice they bring God's blessing on the world; by their work for their fellow men they show us how to love God and our neighbour.

It is still true to say that "the harvest indeed is great, but the labourers are few." That may not be so obvious to us here in Ireland. Year after year, many of our boys and girls leaving school generously offer themselves to the service of God. We are able to meet our own needs at home and can give many priests and religious to the foreign missions. We thank God for that, and we pray that we shall remain in this happy position. We need worthy priests and religious to serve our own people. But the Church extends beyond the boundaries of our own parish, diocese or country. We must think of the needs of the whole Church. In other countries (the number of vocations is far from encouraging, and it is only when we remember that, and remember also the immense task facing the Church, that we realise the need of prayer for vocations. If we love Jesus Christ, and if we appreciate the privilege that is ours to belong to His One True Church, we shall be ready to do all in our power to promote the salvation of souls in every part of the world.

Pope John XXIII, whose life and words are an inspiration to us all, spoke thus of young people: "All hope for the Church's future lies in their hands. Men are growing faint from hunger, and their hunger is not for earthly food, but for the food of heaven. Who is there who will bring them the heavenly nourishment of life and truth? We are confident that now, as in the past, young men will respond with generosity to this urgent invitation of the Divine Master."

We must all consider it our duty to help vocations in every way. Pope Pius XII said that it should be the special concern of priests, in gratitude to God for what they have themselves received. It should be the concern also, he said of fathers and mothers of all classes, who "should pray fervently that they may be worthy to have at least one of their children enrolled in the service of God."

While we should have the needs of the Church always in our prayers, we will, in accordance with the wishes of our Holy Father, make Good Shepherd Sunday a day of prayer for vocations.

Yours very devotedly in Christ,
DANIEL COHALAN,
Bishop of Waterford and Lismore.

PRAYER FOR VOCATIONS
O God, who chose the Apostles and their successors, the Bishops and Priests of the Catholic Church, to preach the true faith throughout the world, we earnestly beseech Thee, we choose among the children of our schools, priests, brothers and sisters, who will gladly and generously spend their lives to make Thee known and loved, so that Christ Our King may reign in every heart. Amen.

The chief mourners were: Mrs. P. Keane (wife); Robert Keane, O'Connell St., Dungarvan; Vincent Keane, Beary's Cross, Ballinacult; Thomas Keane, England (sons); Mrs. Donal Whelan, Abbey-side (daughter); Mrs. Margt. Whelan, O'Connell St. (sister); Mr. Wm. Keane, Colligan (brother), etc. etc.

Requiem Masses were celebrated on Wednesday morning for the happy and eternal repose of his soul and the interment took place in the adjoining family plot. Another large and most representative concourse was present. Very Rev. Fr. Keane, Adm., imparted the final absolution at the graveside.

The remains were removed on Tuesday evening to Colligan Church followed by a very large cortege and were received and blessed by Very Rev. R. Keane, Adm., St. John's Waterford (nephew), assisted by Very Rev. D. McGrath, P.P., Kilgobinet; Rev. M. Farrell, C.C., do. and Rev. Fr. D. Byrne, C.C., Dungarvan.

The Bull Rock Lighthouse, built on the largest and most westerly of a group of islets three miles off Dursey Head, County Cork, is two hundred and seventy-one feet above high water. The rock itself is precipitous and is perforated in an east-west direction by an arched tunnel, some sixty feet high, through which the seas sweep. The other islets are named Cow, Calf and Heifer and the first of the group to be lighted was the Calf in the year 1860. After twenty one years of service, however, the top portion of the tower was swept away under the onslaught of a gigantic sea. In clear weather the beam of the Bull Rock is visible for a distance of twenty three sea miles.

BOUND FOR CYPRUS

On last Monday Sergeant Tom Hackett left here for the Curragh to take his place in the battalion assembling for duty in Cyprus. He has been attached as Quartermaster to the F.C.A. since his return from the Congo where he served with the 39th Battalion. Sergt. Hackett has the good wishes of his many friends here for a safe return.

SALMON FISHING

In the tidal division of the district, salmon are still very scarce and many boats have not taken a single fish in two weeks, despite the fact that they fish every tide. The very few salmon that are taken are on the small side, some of them weighing as little as 4 lbs. It was thought that with the improvement in weather conditions that there would be some kind of a stir in the catches but on the opening days this week it was the same old story. On Monday, amongst about 30 boats, only seven fish were taken and one boat accounted for four of them that weighed two at 6 lbs. and two at 8 lbs. It is reported that the price this week was reduced to 7/- per lb. to fishermen.

FINES FOR BINGO

At Youghal District Court, William and Russel Pedks were charged with promoting gaming (bingo) without having been duly licensed, the former on twelve counts, contrary to the Gaming and Lottery Act, 1956. The D. J. found both defendants guilty and W. Perks was fined 10/- in respect of each of the 12 counts and a like fine on Russel Perks, on each of three counts. Mr. M. Dempsey, State Solicitor, prosecuted.

HOUSING SHORTAGE IN YOUGHAL

At a recent meeting of the Urban Council, members were told by the Town Clerk, Mr. Moloney, that 81 names were on the housing waiting list.

TENNIS DANCES

Weekly short dances (8-12) are to be held under the aegis of the Tennis Club. The first of the series will be held on to-morrow (Friday) night and all subsequent dances on Wednesday nights.

LATE MR. ED. KELLY

It is with deep regret that we announce the sad and unexpected death of a well known member of the community in the person of Mr. Ned Kelly, of Church Street, Youghal, which took place at St. Finbarr's Hospital, Cork, on Saturday last. His untimely death at the early age of 28 years cast a gloom over the town, where he and his family were well known and highly respected. The deceased was a young man of many fine qualities, which earned him esteem and regard in his native town.

LIFE BOAT COXWAIN FLIES OUT

On Monday last, Lifeboat Coxwain Dick Hickey, flew from Cork airport to London, where on Tuesday, Princess Marina, Duchess of Kent, will present him with a bronze medal for gallantry when he and his crew rendered services to a French trawler driven ashore in Ardmore Bay in a strong gale. The Chairman of the Urban Council, Mr. R. Good and Mrs. Good, flew from Belfast to attend the presentation.

WEDDING: LUPTON - McGRATH

The wedding took place at St. Mary's Church, Cappoquin of Mr. John Lupton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lupton, Strand St., Youghal and Miss Mary McGrath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McGrath, O'Kylie Cottage, Cappoquin. The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing, was performed by Rev. M. O'Meara C.C., Cappoquin, assisted by Rev. J. O'Dwyer, C.C., Youghal.

GOLDEN ROSEBUD

Much interest is being taken in next Sunday night's dance at the Boathouse when the area contender for the Golden Rosebud title will be chosen. The winner here will go on to the final in Dublin on July 5th. The winner's prize will be a tour of Europe. Pat Irwin's band will supply the music on Sunday night.

DRUNKEN DRIVING CHARGE

At Youghal District Court, Maurice Twomey, Watercourse Road, Cork, was charged with driving his car whilst under the influence of drink. He was fined £5 with £5 costs and disqualified from driving for 12 months. He was allowed 14 days in which to drive, pending an appeal.

DEATH OF MRS. M. O'DWYER

The death of Mrs. Maria O'Dwyer, which took place in St. Finbarr's Hospital, Cork, on Thursday, 2nd inst., has removed a former resident of Cappoquin. She had reached an advanced age. A native of Wexford and nee Stafford, she was widow of Mr. James O'Dwyer. For many years the family lived in Cappoquin, where they were very popular and later resided in Cork. The remains were brought to the Parish Church here on Thursday evening and on Friday in St. Declan's Cemetery the interment took place in the presence of many mourners. Rev. M. O'Meara, C.C., officiated on both occasions. The chief mourners included Mrs. K. O'Connor, Miss Rita O'Dwyer (daughters); Paul and Oliver O'Connor (grandsons); Mr. J. O'Connor (son-in-law). (Funeral arrangements by A. Walsh & Sons).

RECEPTION HELD AT LISMORE HOTEL

The reception was held at the Lismore Hotel and the honeymoon is being spent touring the east coast.

FISHERY PROSECUTIONS

At a recent District Court at Mitchelstown, Ed. Coffey of Killebenny, was prosecuted on seven charges by Inspector Wolfe of the Lismore Fishery Board for offences against the fishery laws and the total fines amounted to £108, plus £6-8-0 costs and £2 expenses. The charges were in connection with the possession of four salmon during the period of annual close season, illegal fishing, taking and having possession of unseasonable salmon, etc.

YOUGHAL TRADERS ASSOCIATION

At the annual general meeting of the Youghal Traders Association under the chairmanship of Mr. Kevin Hennessy, the fact of the very small attendance was commented upon. During a discussion on the forthcoming Tidy Towns Competition, it was decided to give every assistance to the Urban Council in this matter and to establish more amenities with the view to attracting more tourists.

ANGLERS MEET

Mr. J. Brady presided at a recent meeting of the Cappoquin-Lismore Angling Club which was held in Conway's Hotel. The club is now in the process of revival and it was prevalent from the spirit which prevailed at the meeting that a constructive approach will be made to the various problems with which the club is faced. It was decided to ask the Lismore Estate Company to receive a deputation to discuss certain matters. It was decided to affiliate with the Coarse Fishing Association and to hold a competition for these

TRIBUTE TO GREYHOUND RACING MANAGER

Prior to the opening of last week's racing at the Youghal Track, a tribute to the late Mr. J. J. Harte, Racing Manager, was paid by the Track chairman, Mr. Donald Sweeney, and one minute's silence was observed.

FANCY PRICE FOR PLOT

With the view to building a Dispensary at Temple Michael, Youghal, the Waterford Health Authority have decided to acquire one-tenth of an acre of land. The present building is reported to be in very poor condition. The purchase price was £100.

County Executives and Branches interested in participating in this year's N.F.A. Wool Scheme are requested to commence preparations immediately. Information on the Scheme and application forms are being issued and should be completed and returned to Central Office as soon as possible.

The National Wool Council and Committee are particularly anxious that this year's scheme should be greater than ever with resultant benefit to members. The Council are quite well aware of the difficulties and opposition encountered in various areas in operating the scheme. However, the solidarity and co-operative spirit of our members in the past has proven what can be achieved, and today the reputation of Irish wool in the export market is comparatively high, judged on previous standards.

We still have, however, quite a number of dealers and others who do not take kindly to this co-operative effort and consequently opposition to the N.F.A. scheme is fairly widespread, and particularly in areas where our sales are most numerous. This opposition is, however, recognised by the majority of our members at its true value and our Council are satisfied that not alone will we retain our centres in areas where sales are normally held, but expansion to other areas this year will be possible.

Although it is too early yet to forecast prices, it is confidently expected that opening prices will be on a much higher level than at the corresponding period of last year. At the moment prices on world markets are at a fairly high level, although not quite as high as during the winter months and will remain fairly steady.

This improved trend in price was reflected at the recent price review in Britain with guaranteed prices to producers showing an increase over previous years.

However, on our own scheme we again ask Branches and executives to make a special effort this year to ensure that applications are sent in good time. Final details and price arrangements will be communicated to branches from Central Office as soon as possible.

GOOD POINTS IN LAND BILL

The Land Bill, 193, which is at the Committee stage in Dail Eireann, has been considered by the N.F.A. Oireachtas Committee and by the National Council.

The N.F.A. is in general agreement with the objectives mentioned by the Minister for Lands when introducing the Second Stage of this Bill recently, namely, to raise the standard of living of people in small farm areas, to make the most efficient use of our available supply of land to adjust the farm structure of Ireland to the requirements of the future.

We find it possible to welcome many of the provisions which are contained in the Bill, for example, the new land purchase loans to enable qualified land holders in congested areas to purchase their own holdings on their own initiative and the new scheme of life annuities to enable elderly or incapacitated farmers to resign voluntarily and make their land available to the Land Commission. We also welcome the new provision which will enable farmers to gain possession of sporting rights in cases where these rights do not present go with ownership of the land and have not been exercised for a period of years.

We are, however, suggesting one or two amendments which in our opinion would improve this Section of the Bill.

On the other hand there are a number of provisions in the Bill which propose to give very wide and far reaching powers to the Land Commission and while we have a great deal of sympathy with the underlying objectives of the Government in extending the powers of the Land Commission, at the same time we feel that the relevant sections of the Bill in their present form are far too drastic.

We are therefore, putting forward a number of suggestions with a view to safeguarding the rights of private ownership and the principles of fixity of tenure and freedom of sale.

All branches have a right and an obligation to vote in the election. They must, of course, be properly affiliated to their National Council and County Executive in order that their votes will be considered valid by the Returning Officer. It is equally essential that the Ballot papers, duly completed, be returned not later than 25th April, to N.F.A. Central Office.

N.F.A. TRIBUTE TO VOCATIONAL TEACHERS

"We are fully conscious of the major part Vocational teachers have continued to play in founding, promoting and stimulating the growth of Macra na Feirme and its junior arm, Macra na Tuaithe. We have been dependant on you, through Macra, to provide our leaders at every level and we will, in the years that lie ahead, continue to look to you to provide the young men to keep the N.F.A. on the high pedestal on which it stands today." This was said by Mr. Brendan Power, Assistant Secretary, at the Annual Congress of the Vocational Teachers Association in Nenagh on Thursday, April 2nd, 1964.

"It is a tribute to you," he continued, "that in 1964 farm leaders from the 26 Counties came together in N.F.A. to draw up a comprehensive policy document for agriculture entitled "Farm Income and Agricultural Development 1964 to 1970."

We recognise Macra as being the organisation primarily concerned with agricultural education and we are pledged to supporting and fostering Macra at every level. There is no doubt that if agricultural production is to be increased by 1970 to the extent advocated, as much attention will have to be given to improved agricultural education as to improved price incentives, marketing methods, credit facilities and so on. Education, both in the latest techniques of his profession, is as important to the farmer as to any other skilled worker.

"It must be the objective of the State and of Local Authorities to expand the facilities for agricultural education, both part time and full time, and the objective of all rural voluntary organisations to ensure that these facilities are welcomed and used.

"As things are today no adequate training for other occu-ptions is offered to those who have to leave the farm. Therefore, only the lowest paid jobs are open to them. This is unfortunate for the individuals concerned and lowers the status of agriculture in that it equaled with unskilled labour.

"This outlook springs largely from the relative lack of educational opportunity in rural areas. This lack must be put right as quickly as possible both by increasing the number of vocational schools and broadening the curriculum.

"In general the need for a rapid increase in educational facilities, both for those who will stay in agriculture and for those who leave, is greatest in the small farm areas. Expansion should start in these areas and should be extended to the rest of the country as soon as personnel are available in sufficient numbers."

remove the grass cuttings from my lawn as this robs the soil. What do you advise?

A.—Normally the cuttings should be removed, especially if the grass is allowed to grow a little too long before mowing. If the grass is not removed the turf is less firm, earthworms are more likely to become a problem and certain fungus diseases are encouraged, especially during damp weather, which kill the grass thus causing unsightly patches. Where short grass is mown frequently it is in order to allow the cuttings to fly during dry weather, as they soon wither and have a slight mulching effect. The removal of the cuttings tends to rob the soil to some extent but the grass can be kept healthy and vigorous by feeding it regularly with a lawn fertiliser and, if possible, top-dressing with compost in the autumn.

Q.—What is the cheapest and best way to guard against Wireworm and Leatherjacket damage to cereals?

A.—Different methods of control are adopted against Wireworm and Leatherjacket attacks.

In circumstances where wireworms are known to exist, every effort should be made to prepare a fine and firm seed bed by cultivation and rolling. Also the crop should receive an adequate dressing of fertiliser to promote vigorous growth. However, where there is a heavy infestation of wireworm, the cereal crop can be protected from damage by dressing the seed with Gamma B.H.C.

Leatherjackets can also cause serious damage to cereals by attacking stems at ground level. The Leatherjacket grub comes to the soil surface at night to feed and this means that they are easily controlled by baiting or spraying. A suitable baiting mixture is made up of 100 parts of Paris Green with two parts of Moist Bran. This mixture should be scattered over the crop in the evening at two stope per statute acre. Alternatively, good control can be achieved by spraying in the evening with 100 parts of Gamma B.H.C. in 50-100 gallons water per statute acre.

Q.—I am going to plant blackcurrants in the autumn. What could I plant to give shelter as the field is exposed at one end?

A.—If the ground for the shelter belt is wet you should plant Alder at four feet apart. In wet soil Alder grows very fast and can give worthwhile shelter in as little as two or three years.

For drier conditions Cupressus Leylandii is a better proposition. It grows very much faster than Cupressus Lawsoniana and has not the disadvantage of being easily blown down which sometimes occurs with the well known Macrocarpa. Its one fault is that it is rather expensive to buy, but it can be a sound investment as shelter is essential for successful blackcurrant growing.

Q.—How can I prevent scouring when I turn stock out on spring grass? They have access to hay but will not touch it.

A.—I should not worry about the scouring as a result of new grass, unless it is due to worm infestation. By testing the dung samples and dosing if necessary you can ascertain if worms are the trouble. Young stock should, of course, go out on good clean fields which have not been grazed by older stock during the winter. If you close the stock in a bare paddock or shed at night for the first week or so and feed hay, this will have a hindering effect.

Q.—I am told I should not

QUESTION. — Recently I have had a water supply connected to the house and farmyard and I want to make a supply available to some fields for the summer. How much water do young cattle need when cut on grass?

ANSWER. — The daily consumption of water by cattle can vary considerably, depending on weather conditions and also on the grass they graze. An average figure for yearling cattle would be about 3 pails per head per day and older cattle would require 4-5 gals. A Department Grant is available for extending the water from the farmyard to the fields.

A.—If the ground for the shelter belt is wet you should plant Alder at four feet apart. In wet soil Alder grows very fast and can give worthwhile shelter in as little as two or three years.

For drier conditions Cupressus Leylandii is a better proposition. It grows very much faster than Cupressus Lawsoniana and has not the disadvantage of being easily blown down which sometimes occurs with the well known Macrocarpa. Its one fault is that it is rather expensive to buy, but it can be a sound investment as shelter is essential for successful blackcurrant growing.

Q.—How can I prevent scouring when I turn stock out on spring grass? They have access to hay but will not touch it.

A.—I should not worry about the scouring as a result of new grass, unless it is due to worm infestation. By testing the dung samples and dosing if necessary you can ascertain if worms are the trouble. Young stock should, of course, go out on good clean fields which have not been grazed by older stock during the winter. If you close the stock in a bare paddock or shed at night for the first week or so and feed hay, this will have a hindering effect.

TALLOW G.A.A. Book Launched at St. Jame's Gate

DEATH OF MRS. C. O'BRIEN
It is with deep regret we record the death of Mrs. Catherine O'Brien, Old Rd., Tallow, which sad event occurred at her residence on March 30th. Deceased was a member of a widely esteemed family, and was held in high esteem by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. A lady of strong national principles, she was an ardent supporter of everything Gaelic. Her death, though in the fullness of years, has cast a gloom over the town and surrounding districts where she was well and popularly known. The remains, accompanied by an imposing cortege, were removed to the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Tallow, and were received and blessed by Rev. Fr. M. Condon, C.C., assisted by Rev. Fr. F. Lucey, C.C. The interment took place in the adjoining cemetery on Thursday, April 2nd. To her bereaved sons, daughter-in-law, grandchildren and other relatives we tender our deepest sympathy. Rev. Fr. Condon, C.C., and Rev. Fr. Lucey, C.C., imparted the final absolution at the graveside. The chief mourners were: Mr. Cornelius O'Brien, Old Rd., Mr. Dan O'Brien, do., Mr. Farnon O'Brien N.T., Youghal (sons); O'Brien children, Youghal (grandchildren); Mrs. E. O'Brien, Youghal (daughter-in-law).

THE FAIR
Tallow monthly fair, postponed from Good Friday, was held on Friday, April 3rd. Due to the postponement, the fair was not as large as usual.

The President of the Gaelic Athletic Association, Mr. Alf Murray, on Tuesday week last, praised the co-operation given to the G.A.A. by Messrs. Arthur Guinness Son & Co. (Dublin) Ltd., in the publication of a book by the Co. Down football star, Joe Lennon. Publication of the book, "Gaelic Football—Coaching for Champions," was sponsored jointly by Guinness's and the Central Council of the G.A.A. At a luncheon in the Brewery to mark the publication of the book, Mr. G. P. Jackson, Assistant Managing Director of the Brewery said he hoped that this venture would lead to further co-operation between his company and the Association. It was, he said, his pleasant task to welcome the guests and to do honour to Joe Lennon on behalf of the Company. This is an occasion of which we in the Brewery are extremely proud, because we can also welcome the newly-elected president of the G.A.A., Mr. Murray, and this is our first opportunity of formally congratulating him and wishing him the very best of luck and good fortune in his term of office. "We are also honoured to have with us to-day other important officials of the G.A.A., and I suppose the first, one must mention, is Mr. Paddy O'Keefe (the general secretary), because, he, of course, is 'Mr. G.A.A.' Mr. Hayes, Mr. Freeman and Mr. Loftus are also most welcome." The Brewery had its own V.I.P.'s who had distinguished themselves on the field of sport—he referred particularly to Frank Whelan and Kevin Matthews, who had noted careers with the Dublin Gaelic football team. "Our own Brewery football team this year is doing extremely well. They have won 10 out of their 13 matches and I understand that the 13th Match is at present under dispute. There was no need to introduce Joe Lennon. He had distinguished himself on the field of play and now he had put his talents into writing a book. "When he began to write his book, he was presented with the very pressing problem of finance and through some fortunate chance, somebody in the Brewery had the sense to say that this was a very worthy project and that we should cooperate with the G.A.A. to get this book published. He would like to thank the

WEST WATERFORD NEWS

ARDMORE
It is hoped that the new Regional Tourist Board will take an active interest in the Ardmore area. Few tourist centres have greater potentialities. The local organising committee are at present busily engaged making plans for the current year's Tidy Towns Competition.

ON THE LAND
With conditions favourable, agricultural work has been pressed ahead during the past week. Sowings of grain crops compare with those of previous years.

SALMON FISHING
Salmon continue to be scarce. An early improvement is, however, confidently expected and fishermen hope that the remainder of the season will be satisfactory.

PARISH PRIEST RESUMES DUTY
Having been partially incapacitated for some time past following an injury, very Rev. David Canon Power, P.P. Clashmore, resumed active duty on Sunday last, when he celebrated early Mass in the local parish church. His many friends are pleased to see him restored to health.

G.A.A.
At Aglish on Sunday last, the local team (Aglish Geraldines) played Clashmore in a junior football practice match and an entertaining and well-contested game ensued. Playing for the Clashmore team for the first time was Sean O'Boyle (Jr.), son of Capt. J. O'Boyle, the former inter-county footballer. Final scores: Clashmore, 1-5; Geraldines 0-4. Mr. M. Keating, Aglish, refereed.

F.C.A. INSPECTION
Comdt. M. Heffernan, O/C 13th Batt., inspected the local F.C.A. Units last week. He was accompanied by Capt. W. Kieley, Training Officer. It is of interest to note that Comdt. Heffernan is President of the Irish Basketball Association and served in the Congo.

POPULAR GARDA SERGT. TRANSFERRED
The transfer on promotion to the Garda Depot, Dublin, of Sgt. Donal O'Keefe, Villers-town, has occasioned much regret in that district and in Aglish and Clashmore, and the surrounding areas of west Waterford, where he was very popular amongst all sections of the community. One of the youngest Garda sergeants in the Force, he proved a most courteous and efficient officer of the peace, noted for his kindness and his human approach to problems. His many friends join in wishing him success and happiness in his new appointment.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL
Following a period of convalescence in a Dublin hospital, Mr. John Aherne, Craggs, Clashmore, recently returned home. His many friends are pleased to see him restored to health.

CLASHMORE G.A.A. SOCIAL
Clashmore G.A.A. Club held a very successful social recently. There was a large attendance and first class music was supplied by Ring cell band.

CLASHMORE GYMKHANA
The big gymkhana, under the popular auspices of the local Harried Club, will be held on Sunday next and a record attendance is assured. The event promises to be very successful and big entries have been received. All arrangements are in the capable hands of Messrs. James Fitzgerald, M.H., and Thomas Fitzgerald, Hon. Secretary, both well known all round sportsmen.

CLASHMORE DARTS CHAMPIONSHIP
The winner of the above was Mr. Frank Kennedy, Clashmore and he received the O'Brien Cup. The runner-up was Mr. James Hally, Aglish.

Flemstaff Harrows
The most popular Springtime Harrow. The ideal Harrow for any cultivating job on the farm. It can be very useful for drying ground before sowing.

'A1' Broadcasters
These are fitted with patented feed devices which break up lumpy fertiliser and cannot clog.

Mrs. Noonan is grand-daughter of Mr. Patrick Murphy, and the late Mrs. Murphy, Mallyhamlet, Tallow. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Noonan many years of wedded bliss.

Visit to Bord na Mona
Lord Elveden, chairman of Messrs. Arthur Guinness, and other members of the Guinness board made a tour, on Thursday last, of peat installations in the midlands with members of Bord na Mona. The other members of the Guinness board present were Dr. C. K. Mill, managing director, Dr. E. H. Boland and Mr. G. P. Jackson. The first visit was to Derriagh, near Birr, Co. Offaly, where Lord Elveden saw the briquette factory in which his firm invested £750,000 few years ago. The Guinness Company has for many years taken a keen interest in the development of Ireland's peat resources and was the first private firm to lend money to Bord na Mona. Guinness and Bord na Mona have also co-operated in jointly endowing a Chair of Industrial Microbiology at University College, Dublin. Later, Lord Elveden and the party travelled by rail across Boora milled peat works and saw final preparations for the new season, which will begin when weather conditions are favourable. Bord na Mona get this year of nearly 20 million tons of milled peat for the B.S.B.'s Ferbane power station, is one of the largest of the six bogs producing this type of fuel. At Boora the party were entertained to luncheon by Mr. Aodhgan, O'Bahilly, chairman; Mr. Dermot Lawlor, managing director; Mr. Anthony Woods and Mr. Thomas Roche, members of Bord na Mona. The luncheon was also attended by Mr. P. Cogan, general manager and Mr. L. Rhatigan, chief engineer, Bord na Mona. Mr. Maurice Keane, manager Boora works and Mr. Harold Hickland, manager Derriagh briquette factory. Before returning to Dublin, the visitors went to Tinahoe, Co. Kildare, machine turf works where they were received by Mr. John Doyle, manager, and shown one of the 40-ton excavating machines producing turf for the adjoining E.S.B. power station at Allenwood.

DUNGARVAN COMHALTAS BRANCH
Dungarvan branch, Comhaltas Ceoltóirí Eireann, held its fortnightly music session in Lawlor's Hotel, on Thursday, 2nd April. There was a large attendance, especially of the younger members, and an enjoyable evening was had by all. The junior members were assisted in every way in learning the tunes, and are making good progress. New members, both adult and juvenile, are welcome. Annual membership fee is 3/6. Anyone wishing to join the Branch should give in his or her name to any member of the committee or to Sean Deering, Abbeyside. The next session will be held on Thursday, 16th April, in Lawlor's Hotel, at 8 p.m.

Decisive Victory Over Brickeys

GAELIC JOTTINGS

SENIOR FOOTBALL CHALLENGE AT DUNGARVAN

As part preparation for the coming Munster championship, the Waterford senior footballers play Tipperary in a challenge in Dungarvan on Sunday next.

Waterford's league campaign was a highly successful one and the County awaits the championship with more than usual confidence.

It is hoped to be able to field the strongest possible side and as Tipperary are also sending on a full strength selection, the game should be a very informative one.

When the sides met in the league at Cappoquin, Waterford scored a narrow but deserved two point victory and I see no reason why they should not do likewise on Sunday.

The game which is timed to start at 3.15 will be preceded by a junior football league game between Ring and Pourin at 2 p.m. The latter will be strongly fancied to prevail as they can boast of some excellent footballers in their ranks.

● CAPOQUIN FIANCIED IN LEAGUE FINAL

Following their Sargent Cup defeat last Sunday, Cappoquin will be hoping for better luck this Sunday when they meet Lismore in a specially inaugurated hurling league final.

This competition was open to all teams beaten in the first round of last year's Primary hurling championship and whilst hard to credit, Lismore have qualified for the decider without playing a single game.

Cappoquin's passage has also been a relatively easy one and their only outing enroute to the final was their semi-final clash with Dungarvan.

Whilst there is little or no form to go on, Cappoquin are given the vote to win out the league.

● AT LISMORE

The only other game down for decision on Sunday next is at Lismore where Emmetts and Tallow also meet in the junior football league. This appears to be a very open affair in which the issue could well go either way. Whatever the result a close and exciting game seems assured.

● LAST SUNDAY'S GAMES

De La Salle became the new holders of the Sargent Cup on Sunday last when they defeated Cappoquin by five points at the Cornerstone venue. It was a game, however which the homesters were decidedly unlucky to lose as they relinquished a nine-point second-half lead, mainly through the conceding of soft goals by their defence.

The 1964 Phelan Cup got off to a great start at Dungarvan on Sunday evening when Co-champions Brickey Rangers had to bow before rampant Kilrossanty in a most entertaining game. There was no fluke about Kilrossanty's four point victory and on this form they will take a deal of beating this year.

● BRICKEYS FIANCIED

At the same venue (7 p.m.) Brickey Rangers' and Gerald-

JIM SPRATT

ines meet in the junior football league and on the evidence of last year's form the Brickeys must be fancied. But Geraldines will be able to call on former county senior star Paddy Kenneally and it would be no great surprise if he inspired the Aglishers to victory.

PADDY KENNEALLY

● MITCHELS ALSO WIN

The other Kilrossanty team John Mitchels scored a convincing victory over Gaultier in the Phelan Cup at Waterford and in doing so made the possibilities of an all-Kilrossanty all the stronger. Mitchels who are in the eastern section of this competition need only to win two more games to qualify for the final, whilst Kilrossanty are in a similar position in the western section. Indications at present point to the team battling out the ultimate stage and what an intriguing game that would be. Certainly all attendance records for a club game in the county would go by the boards if the game materialised.

KILROSSANTY - 2-6 BRICKEY RANGERS - 1-5

THE famed poet, the late Michael Walsh, once stated in verse "the stuff is still in Comeragh." And how strikingly this poetic contention was vindicated in Dungarvan's Fraher Field on Sunday evening last when Kilrossanty, buoyantly striding towards former glories, dismissed county champions, Brickey Rangers, from this year's Phelan Cup competition.

It was a game that gave the fair-sized attendance plenty to enthuse over. For half an hour the football was better than anything we saw at the venue during 1963, and even if it did subside in quality in the second moiety, we nevertheless saw some splendid individual displays during the half.

It was without doubt, Kilrossanty's most impressive display since the parish ranks became divided in the latter months of '61. In fact this Comeragh performance was reminiscent of their halcyon days and without going into raptures about it, I state emphatically and confidently that the wearers of the Green and Gold will leave quite an impact on the competitive scene in the months ahead.

FRUSTRATING HOUR

For Brickeys, it was something of a frustrating hour. Despite a pre-match rumour, they fielded with the Carragh based army man Mick Farrell and in all had twelve of their championship winning side on duty. Nor can there be any alibi offered for defeat. They looked but a pale shadow of the side that made history just four months ago, and lack of match practice in the interim quite obviously had detrimental effects on the team in general.

They had the tonic of an early goal that might not have been conceded but for slackness in the Comeragh rearguard but subsequently played second fiddle to rampant opposition. Even when they came within two points of the winners twelve minutes from time one held out little hope for them, and in the "run in" they were left literally floundering as Kilrossanty swept to the most convincing of victories.

For the occasion the Comeragh mentors introduced some newcomers into their attack and if they all had successful outings, they would appear to have discovered really worthwhile talent in Pat Walsh and Matt Cronin. The former is a younger brother of Tom and Noel, and is a youngster of immense promise.

BRIGHTEST ERA

Kilrossanty's brightest era was the opening thirty minutes when they led the champions a merry dance in most sectors. After conceding that early goal they assumed practically undisturbed command and by the 24th minute had swept into a six point lead. Right up to the half-hour in fact they enjoyed the advantages of all round superiority and were well worth their 2-3 to 1-1 interval lead.

To their credit Brickeys tried gallantly to wipe out their deficit on the resumption, and territorially had the better of matters in the third quarter. They cut the winners advantage to a precarious 2 points in the 18th minute, and yet were somewhat fortunate not to have met with further disasters when Kilrossanty forwards twice blasted wide of open goals.

Then, as though to prove it was going to be their hour, the winners again took up the running and added the points that set the seal on what for them was a most convincing and encouraging victory.

Throughout that second half the Rangers reshuffled their side to such a degree that the writer on occasions found it almost impossible to keep tally with the switches. They used their full quota of substitutes in an effort to repair the weaknesses, but if their sportsmanship and wholeheartedness was in the best Brickey tradition, they were simply not good enough all round to halt Kilrossanty.

TREMENDOUS START

The champions got off to a tremendous start when in their first raid in the third minute Willie Terry rather easily rounded Tom Moloney and sent to the net. But Kilrossanty were not long in arrears and points by Jimmy Whyte, Pat Walsh and Tom Riordan restored equilibrium by the 9th minute. Four minutes later Riordan had the best score of the game when he rocketed the ball past a helpless Kevin Walsh from 15 yards for a lead that his side never subsequently relinquished.

Nor was that the end of the Kilrossanty barrage. Six minutes before the break Riordan again edged his way past several Brickey defenders before parting to "Gort" Walsh, who promptly slammed the ball to the net. Shortly afterwards Whyte found himself in possession and unmarked near goal, but Kevin Walsh saved his drive brilliantly. Then just on the half hour Tom Foley pointed a Brickey free, leaving Kilrossanty ahead 2-3 to 1-1 at the break.

The Rangers restarted in workmanlike fashion and within two minutes Tom Foley had a point. Back came Kilrossanty however and Noel Casey duly replied with a like score. Again the Brickeys took up the running and laid siege to the Kilrossanty goal. In the 12th minute Farrell pointed a close in free, and after further sustained pressure, Justin Spratt fisted another minor.

Then Kilrossanty had to endure the near misses, and after a free had rebounded to safety off a Brickey upright, Pat Walsh blazed wide of a yawning goalmouth. In the 18th minute Farrell narrowed the gap to two points when he tapped over a free, but Riordan again put a goal between them when he fired over a long-range point. In the 29th minute Noel Casey set up a golden opportunity for substitute Michael Delany, but his shot from six yards struck the foot of the post and glanced to safety. But not to be denied the winners ended on a high note with Riordan calmly pointing a 21 yards free.

SMOOTH PERFORMANCE

This was a smooth and untruffled Kilrossanty performance that certainly augurs well for their championship chances. It is true of course that the side was not without its flaws, but the advent of Tom Flynn, who was an absentee on Sunday will add to the potency of the team.

Sean Ormonde in goal was always sure and sound, and Matty Lonergan at full back was the real Mateen of old. Need one say more of his display.

The corner men, however, never displayed confidence and both Jimmy Maher and Tom Moloney were decidedly suspect for most of the game.

The half-line spearheaded by that great veteran Jimineen Power, was the sheet anchor of the defence. Like many well known spirits, Jimineen seems to improve with age. For over twenty years now he has distinguished himself in the green and gold jersey, and on Sunday's display he has many more good years in him yet.

Noel Walsh gave yet another masterly performance and proved beyond doubt that he is one of the county's foremost exponents of the code. Tony Baldwin, although less conspicuous than the other two, was utterly dependable and solidly cleared his lines on several occasions.

MIDFIELDERS PART

But to midfielders Tom Walsh and Tom Riordan I award the major honours of the game. Walsh fielded impeccably all through and played Mick Farrell right out of the game. To me at any rate he looked and was the complete footballer.

For Riordan it was his most celebrated hour in the Kilrossanty jersey. He tirelessly roamed all over the field to telling effect, and his tally of 1-3 was a wonderful contribution to a superlative display.

The attack, even without Tom Flynn, moved smoothly for most of the game. The newcomers in the half line Matt Cronin and Pat Walsh look certain to make the grade, whilst the full line, spearheaded by the long serving Jimmy Whyte and flanked by Noel Casey and Tom "Gort" Walsh was ever dangerous. Whyte in particular was always a threat and seemed to have the beating of Nicholas McGrath, at will.

GOALKEEPER OUTSTANDING

For the Brickeys none played better than goalkeeper Kevin Walsh. He had no chance of saving the two balls that beat him, and but for his alertness and agility many more efforts would surely have found the net.

The defence was strangely uncertain and seemed prone to panic whenever Kilrossanty mounted attacks. Missing from the full line was Patsy Donnelly, who, it might seem has decided to call it a day, but the sector is definitely not the same without him. Paul Kilgrew was the best of the sextet, but Mick Walsh and Peter Ferncombe also did some good work.

The midfield partnership of Jim Spratt and Mick Farrell was badly beaten, the latter only coming into the game spasmodically.

After a promising start the attack got little change from a close marking Comeragh defence. Justin Spratt was easily the outstanding forward of the six, but only John Woods, Tom Foley and Willie Terry offered any worthwhile assistance.

Kilrossanty: J. Ormonde; J. Maher, M. Lonergan, T. Moloney; T. Baldwin, J. Power, N. Walsh; T. Walsh, T. Riordan; D. Begley, M. Cronin, P. Walsh; T. Walsh, J. Whyte, N. Casey, Sub., M. Delaney for Begley.

Brickey Rangers: K. Walsh; J. Walsh, N. McGrath, P. Ferncombe; P. Kilgrew, B. Spratt, M. Walsh; J. Spratt, M. Farrell; J. Woods, A. Hallissey, M. Spratt; W. Terry, J. Spratt, T. Foley.

Subs., F. Gee for J. Walsh; J. Sheehan for Jim Spratt; P. Murray for Sheehan.

MINOR FOOTBALL

Stradbally and Abbeyside Win

In the two minor football championship games at Dungarvan on Sunday, Stradbally and Abbeyside had little difficulty in disposing of Ring and Ballinacoola respectively.

Stradbally were particularly impressive and were convincing 2-7 to 0-1 victors over a rather depleted Ring fifteen.

In the other game, Abbeyside were similarly unextended and the 1-3 to nil scoreline in their favour accurately reflects on the extent of their superiority.
