Councillors Vote Increase for Themselves

Visit of Chicago Mayor

WAS VILLIERSTOWN MEETING "POLITICAL" ONE?

ALLEGATIONS that a recent meeting in Villierstown, called by the local I.C.A. and Development Association at which the present condition of Dromana Bridge was discussed, was purely a "political" meeting, was made at Monday's County Council sitting in Dungarvan.

Speaking on the Villierstown meeting, Col. John Fahey said he attended it at the request of the I.C.A. Dromana Bridge was discussed and a number of suggestions were made in regard to reconstructing it or getting a new bridge built altogether. It was suggested asking Bord Fáilte for a grant for a new bridge.

Col. Fahey said Villierstown had a population of 300, and Ceppoquin was 7 or 8 miles away. But if they could use the bridge the journey would be only two or three miles. The bridge was very dangerous. He spoke to the Minister for Local Government and of the hardships involved, and the (Minister) did say the Council should take over the approaching roads to the bridge before looking for money from anyone. If they got an estimate for the bridge they could send a deputation to the Dept. and they might get a large grant. It was time something was done about the bridge. It couldn't be left as it was, because of the hardship it was causing to the people.

Col. Wm. Dower said the best approach would be to have a deputation from the area come to the meeting. At this stage, it was suggested that the meeting in Villierstown was a political one, but Col. Curran denied this emphatically.

Col. George Heskin: It was Deputy Kyne: They were all from the same party.

Col. Curran: It was called by the Local I.C.A. and the Development Association. I only was invited and I said I could not give them a lot of assistance, so I invited the Co. Engineer and Col. Dower.

Col. G. Heskin asked why Col. Norman Walsh was not invited. It was his area also.

Col. Curran said at the Villierstown meeting the question of the bridge only came up as a secondary item. It was not a political meeting.

Col. Michael Harty said people came to him and asked why he did not attend the meeting, but he got no invitation. He had no political interest in it, but he never went around parading as a politician looking for votes or trying to become a T.D. They should ask themselves also before making a decision on Dromana what the changes would be on Youghal and Kildangan Bridges.

Finally, it was decided to receive a deputation from the area at the next meeting of the Council.

THE twenty-three members of Waterford County Council are to receive greater subsistence allowances, costing a total of £300 a year. This was decided by 11 votes to 3 at Monday's Co. Council meeting in Dungarvan.

There are three categories for subsistence allowances and the following are the increases: (1) 4/6 to 15/-; (2) 11/- to 25/-; (3) 13/6 to 20/-.

Col. Wm. Dower, opposing the increases, said they were always receiving representations for increases, and now in order to show their sincerity, they should oppose these proposed increases. In fact, he would propose they be given no expenses at all.

Col. K. O'Ryan seconded it. Deputy T. A. Kyne said he was one that never got any expenses at all. However, in the interests of the people that might be elected to the Council, particularly the ordinary worker, who would lose a day's pay; he would propose that they adopt the revised scale.

Col. John Fahey said all sections of the people were entitled to be represented on the County Council, and it was hard to expect an ordinary worker to come to meetings, and lose a day's pay without receiving any expenses. Expenses were not mandatory on the members, and they did not have to take them if they did not want to.

Col. Charles Curran (Chairman) said that Col. Dower's proposal "that no expenses be given" could not be accepted, but he could vote for or against the revised scale. Col. Wm. Foran said he thought there should be no objections to it. In Dail Eireann increases of 50% had been granted to the T.D.'s, who were already well paid.

increase. Col. George Heskin said there were several men in the county who could not afford to go forward for election if they were not adequately paid.

Col. Milo Galgey said it was a question of whether or not they were worth an extra few shillings for food. Were they depriving others in future years of seeking election? He would not come here if he was not getting expenses because he would be losing time on his farm, and to serve the public, he thought they should be paid.

Col. Curran said there was no increased rate proposed for mileage. The only increases were in subsistence allowances. He said it was costing some members as much as 5/-

Dungarvan Man's Appeal Fails

John Power, 20 Keating St., Dungarvan, unsuccessfully appealed at Tuesday's Circuit Court sessions before Judge Fawcitt against jail sentences imposed on him at Dungarvan District Court on two charges of indecent assault, and a third charge of breaking and entering the Convent of Mercy, Dungarvan, and stealing two cushions valued at 25/-.

Dr. Counahan, State Solicitor, said the appellant received 12 months on each of the indecent assault charges, the sentences to run consecutively. Dr. Counahan said on the first occasion Power ran after a lady who was cycling home. However, a lorry driver came on the scene and he ran away. On the second occasion he met a twelve and a half year old girl going for a message. He told her if she screamed he would kill her with a knife he had in his pocket. The girl screamed and he ran away.

Sergeant Morgan Hayes, Dungarvan said Power was 22 years of age, was a bachelor and was living with his father and mother, who was only in casual employment.

Judge Fawcitt said he had received a letter from the appellant asking him to impose a suspensory sentence and to have him sent to Waterford for treatment. However, he saw no reason to interfere with the decision of the district Justice and would have to dismiss the appeal.

Silting of Helvick Pier

The urgency of silting Helvick Pier was stressed by Col. Michael Harty, at last Monday's meeting of Waterford County Council.

Col. Harty asked if there was any report on its present condition.

The Co. Secretary said that in a report made on March 25th, the Co. Engineer (Mr. Hally) said the Board of Works were considering the question of the cost. An established survey had been made. In a further report of May 6th Mr. Hally said the situation was deteriorating and he was disturbed.

The pier except when the tide was high and he had written to the Board of Works requesting an immediate survey. The Co. Manager said he was seeing the matter with the Board of Works to carry out the work immediately. Col. Harty proposed they be contacted without delay and this was agreed to.

New Era of Waterford Farming Prosperity

Seated (from left)—J. O'Donoghue (Manager, Millvale); B. Mulhern (Manager, Gaultier); J. Power, Gaultier (Vice-Chairman New Society); M. Murphy (Millvale) (Chairman New Society); C. Dempsey (Dungarvan); Jim Foley (Dungarvan) (General Manager do.); David Kiersey (Kilmeaden); Cyril Power, John O'Brien (all of Dungarvan); Wm. Walsh (do.); T. F. Lynch (Dungarvan); J. O'Sullivan (do.); J. Power Murphy (Manager, Kilmeaden).

THE amalgamation of the five co-operative societies in Co. Waterford and the formation of a new unit—the Waterford Co-Operative Society Ltd., which will be capable of providing a more comprehensive and efficient service for the farming community in the county, was officially announced at a press conference in Dungarvan on Monday.

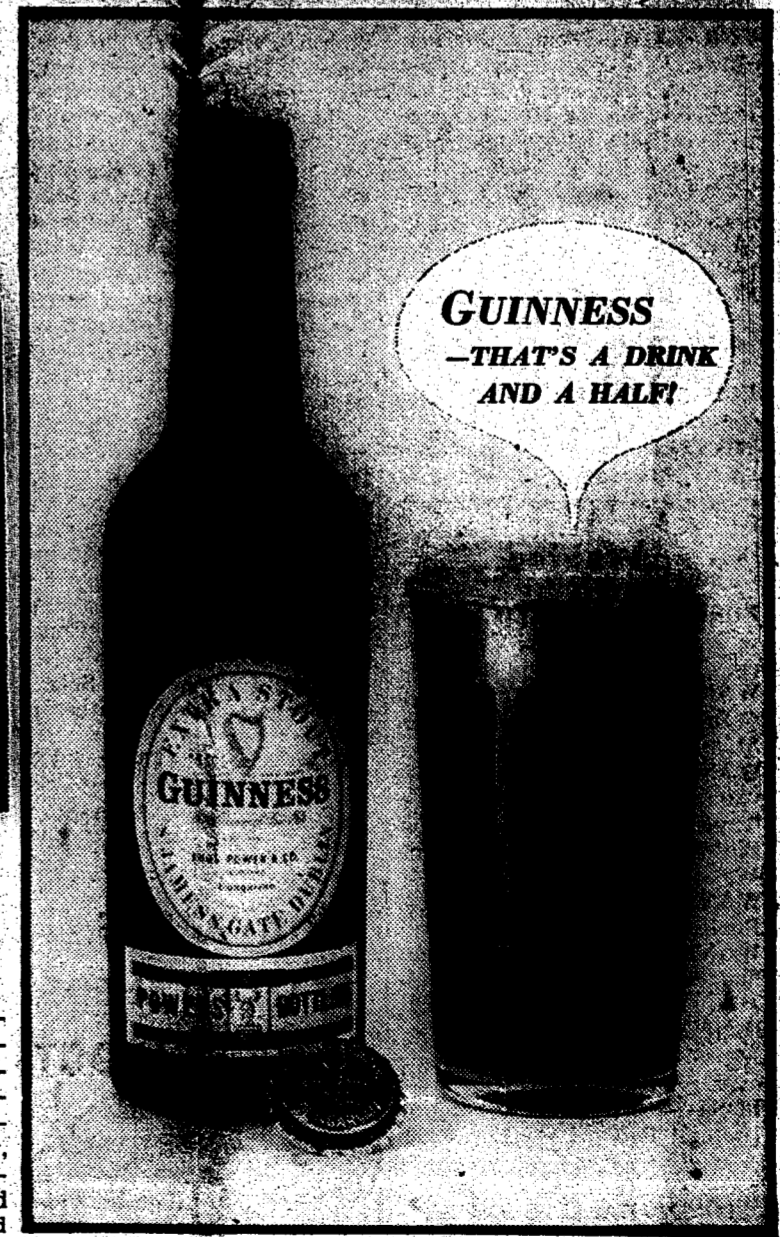

The new society, which is one of the biggest in Ireland, will be establishing a new cheese factory at Kilmeaden, in conjunction with Unigate Organisation of Great Britain. It will employ 70 male and female workers. Work is expected to start on the factory within three weeks and it is hoped to commence production in April, 1965.

It was stated that Messrs. Unigate were prepared to provide the technical knowledge and 20 per cent of the share capital as well as a market outlet for the products of the new venture. They welcomed the amalgamation of the creameries and the intake of the proposed factory would be 20,000 gallons of milk a day. On top of this the proposed new factory would acquire the 20% increase in the cheese factory in Wexford which was now held by the Dungarvan Society.

INCREASED MILK PRODUCTION
The anticipated total requirements a year for the new factory would be 17,500,000 gallons of milk and there was obviously considerable room for increased milk production in Co. Waterford.

Mr. James Foley, Manager of the Dungarvan Co-Op. Society, was appointed manager

LATE RICHARD COSTIN

Ballygreen, Ring, Dungarvan
 The unexpected death of Richard Costin occurred at his residence Ballygreen, on Saturday evening, May 9th. The deceased was a most popular member of the farming community and of a widely-connected west Waterford family. He was a general favourite in the Ring and Old Parish areas, where he was better known. We express our deepest sympathy to his widow, daughters and relatives on this sad occasion. R.I.P.

The removal of his remains took place on Sunday evening followed by a cortege of very great dimensions, to Ring Church and were blessed and received by Rev. W. Power, C.C., Dungarvan (cousin of the widow), assisted by Very Rev. J. O'Donnell, P.P., Old Parish and Rev. V. de Paor, C.C., Ring.

Requiem Office and High Mass was celebrated on Monday morning for the eternal and happy repose of his soul and subsequently the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery. Rev. W. Power, C.C., Dungarvan, assisted by the full choir of priests: Very Rev. J. O'Donnell, P.P., Old Parish; Very Rev. James Harvy, P.P., Kilrossinty; Very Rev. D. McGrath, P.P., Killybegnet; Rev. T. Ahearn, C.C., Waterford; Rev. F. Draper, C.C., Ardmore; Rev. P. Flavin, Chaplain, Carriglea Convent and Rev. V. de Paor, C.C., Ring, officiated and recited the prayers of requiem at the graveside and manifestation of very great sorrow from the large concourse present.

The chief mourners were: Mrs. Alice Costin (widow); Miss Mary Bridget Costin; Miss Alice Costin, Waterford (daughters); James Costin, Ballygreen, John and Denis Costin, U.S.A. (brothers); Mrs. F. Smith, Youghal; Mrs. K. Walsh, Kilmeady, Clashmore; Mrs. Alice Murohiv, Faha, Ring; Miss Mary Costin, Faha, Ring and Mrs. Daddessio, U.S.A. (sisters).

Annual Meeting of Schools Adventure Endurance Test at Gailteemore

The annual general meeting of the Dungarvan Schools Adventure Endurance Test at Gailteemore was held on the 8th May, at the Devonshire Arms Hotel.

The following delegates attended: M.L. Walsh, Dungarvan; Cumann; P. Burke, P. Organ, Abbeyside; T. Morrissey, P. Dwan, Ballinroad; M. Kelly, Killybegnet; J. Fitzgerald, J. Ryan, Ballinacra; E. Whelan, P. Murphy, Old Parish; Nicolas Mac Craith, Donnell O. Cionnthaoidh, An Rinn; M. Troy, T. Moloney, R. Power, Ardmore; S. Hickey, Touraheena; S. Hickey, Modeligo; P. Burke, Kieley's Cross; C. Curran, D. Foley, Clashmore; E. Curran, M. Curran, T. Barry, Gantbeg; J. Barron, Piltown; Chairman—T. O'Mahony; Hon. Secretary—Wm. Cotter.

SEAN ORMONDE, T.D.
 Mr. Sean Ormonde, T.D., was also in attendance and addressed the cumann viz:—

"The present government is giving twice as much to farmers by way of grants and loans, as they got during the last Coalition. Of last year's grant of £40,000,000, nearly £9 million was for relief of rates.

"Fianna Fail are just as anxious as anyone else to keep rates low. But rates tend to keep on rising because with the all-round rise in living standards people have come to expect corresponding improvements in housing, health services, roads, water supplies, and all the other services provided by local authorities.

"Recognising that rising rates could be a burden on farmers, the Fianna Fail government provided an extra £2,500,000 two years ago in relief of farmers' rates. As a result the net rates paid last year by farmers were below the amounts paid by them in 1956/57.

"It was Fianna Fail who first introduced reliefs of rates for farmers in 1934. Every single extension made since then to this scheme has been brought in by Fianna Fail.

"As a result of the extra £2,500,000 provided recently, the State now pays well over half of the rates on land. On valuations under £20, only three-tenths of the rates have to be met by the farmer. This year again in the Budget farmers have got relief of rates to the amount of £1,400,000.

"The result of the Bye-Elections in Cork and Kildare show clearly that the voters realise that the change in the economy of the country has been dramatic since Fianna Fail came back to power in 1957.

"The story of the industrial revival of Ireland under Fianna Fail is without parallel in modern history. In the space of 30 years, the country has been transformed. From a backward economy, without any industrial tradition, Ireland has now advanced to the stage where our modern industries are able to sell their products abroad in competition with the world.

"Among the many hundreds of new industries set up by Fianna Fail are: Aer Lingus, Bord na Mona, Cement Ltd., Comhlucht Siúicre Éireann, Irish Steel, Shannon Free Airport Development Co., and Verolme Shipyards.

"Since 1931 industrial production has quadrupled and nearly three times as many workers are now employed.

"Now that the industrial drive is so successful, no one opposes it any longer. But for many years, the Fianna Fail government had to fight against unrelenting opposition in its efforts to develop Irish industry. As recently as 15th May, 1952, Mr. Deane told the Dail that: "The tariff quotas in industries set up by Fianna Fail are merely badly run relief works."

"Fianna Fail is anxious to attract foreign industrialists because they have a great deal to contribute to Ireland's economy. In the past our industrial progress was handicapped by a shortage of capital, and a lack of managerial ability and manufacturing know-how; all these can be provided from abroad.

"Since the First Programme for Economic Expansion began in 1958, some 160 foreign firms have established factories here, providing 27,000 jobs. Nearly all the output of these new factories is for the export market.

"But these industrial grants are, of course, equally available both to Irish and to foreign promoters. Almost exactly half of the new industries approved in recent years for Government grants, were, in fact, sponsored by Irish promoters. The Government is pledged to help Irishmen—whether farmers or industrialists—first and last, and the history of Fianna Fail proves this conclusively."

CONVENT FOR SALE

The convent of Our Lady of Lourdes, at Monastrea was recently offered for sale. This beautiful building, which was formerly Hotel Monastrea, was used by a community of Cork nuns as a summer residence.

MATCH OFF

Clashmore's engagement in the junior hurling championship on Sunday last, was postponed. Instead, the members of the Clashmore team turned out for practice.

CLASHMORE OBJECT

Clashmore Intermediate football team have objected to Cappoquin being awarded the championship game recently won by the latter. The outcome of the objection is awaited with interest. It is understood that the objection alleges that a member of the Cappoquin team is illegal under Rule 27.

VILLIERTOWN

A German visitor recently commented on the natural beauty of the Villierstown area and its potentialities as a tourist attraction. He said: "unspoiled syrian beauty was its greatest attraction" and that "its blend of water and woodland made it a unique attraction for the tourist who sought peace and quiet."

It is of interest to note that the local I.C.A. have plans for improving and publicising the area and have sought the co-operation of the County Council in this regard.

A member of the I.C.A. had this to say: "Villierstown is a very pretty spot, but since the closing of the Dromana Estate it has been entirely neglected, with the result that there is now a big leeway to make up. It will require a massive local effort and considerable help from the Co. Council if Villierstown is to be made presentable again. Lack of local employment is a big drawback, but the biggest obstacle to progress is the closing of Dromana Bridge and until this is reopened to the public there is little hope of any progress."

565 SHEEP SHORN IN UNDER NINE HOURS

A 31-year-old Te Awamutu New Plymouth, New Zealand shearer, C. Boshier, shorn 565 sheep in seven minutes less than nine hours, beating Godfrey Bowen's world mark of 463 sheep set up 12 years ago.

Boshier, still suffering from the effects of influenza, ran out of sheep to shear seven minutes before the nine-hour limit was up, but even so, he exceeded Bowen's effort by 102.

It was a fantastic performance for Boshier, three times a finalist in the Golden Shears contest, who passed Bowen's mark with still two hours in hand.

Boshier set the new mark at Ryan Brother's woolshed on Walkaway road about 10 miles from Awakino.

The sheep, purebred Romneys and perendales, belonged to his brother, Mr. K. Boshier. All were ewes and had been shorn once before.

Boshier shorn 65 in the first hour, and then followed with totals of 67, 70, 68, 65, and 60 until lunch. His average time for each sheep at this rate was about 55 seconds. He took the wool off one sheep in only 37 seconds. In the six hours to lunch-time, Boshier, who has been shearing for about 17 years, had shorn 393, only 50 short of Bowen's tally.

After only 40 minutes for a lunch of milk and water with glucose, his tally for the first hour was 65, but in the next hour it dropped to 57 and then to 50.

COMPARING RECORDS

It was difficult to compare records because sheep and conditions appeared to differ, said Mr. Bowen, who arrived at Omata in time to see Boshier pass his record. His own record of 463 sheep in a nine-hour day was made on sheep that were untouched by blade or machine and were full-wooled.

"The sheep here are second-shear sheep with five months wool on and have had their wool trimmed. They have not been the easiest of shearing sheep and Colin has made a good job, taking the type of sheep into consideration."

May Mean Bonmahon's 5th Mining Survey is Nearing.—A group of mining experts said to represent Irish Base Metals Ltd., visited Bonmahon one day last week to make enquiries into the possibilities of having another survey carried out in the copper-ore bearing region. They entered the business establishment, in the centre of the village, of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kennedy, who are in possession of specimens of the copper ore mined during a survey of the locality carried out fully four years ago by a Canadian party. The visiting geo-chemists were shown the specimens and after examining some mentioned that they may return to the area later with mining equipment.

"Eight Choirs at Festival."—Under this caption the "Irish Press" issue dated Friday, 8th inst., carried the subjoined news:

"The choral festival of the united dioceses of Cashel and Emly, Waterford, and Lismore (Church of Ireland) was held in the Cathedral of St. John the Baptist, Cashel, yesterday. The preacher was Very Rev. J. H. Wilde, D.D., Dean of Durham. Choirs from Cashel, Waterford, Stradbally, Traamore, Clonmel, Cahir, Thurles and Dundrum, Co. Tipperary, took part in the festival and received great assistance from the organist, Mr. Cecil de Courcy, Waterford. After the music, the Dean of Cashel, Very Rev. W. Wolfe, entertained the choir and the clergy and laity present to tea in the deanery."

A Gentle and very charming lady, in the person of Miss Nancy Meyers, Ballygarty, Kilmacthomas, is now positioned at Keighery's Super Mart, Main St., Kilmacthomas. She is an ex-pupil of the local Mercy Convent school and is to be congratulated on her appointment.

Good Luck to likeable Mr. and Mrs. Michael Dineen, who have just moved from Seafeld, Bonmahon, and take up residence in the village of Ballyaneen, accompanied by their family.

A Neighbour who is blessed with genial characteristics which have gained him many firm friends, is Mr. Thomas (Tommy) Power, farmer, Lisard, Kilmacthomas. He is at present indisposed, and a speedy and complete recovery is sincerely wished him by his every acquaintance.

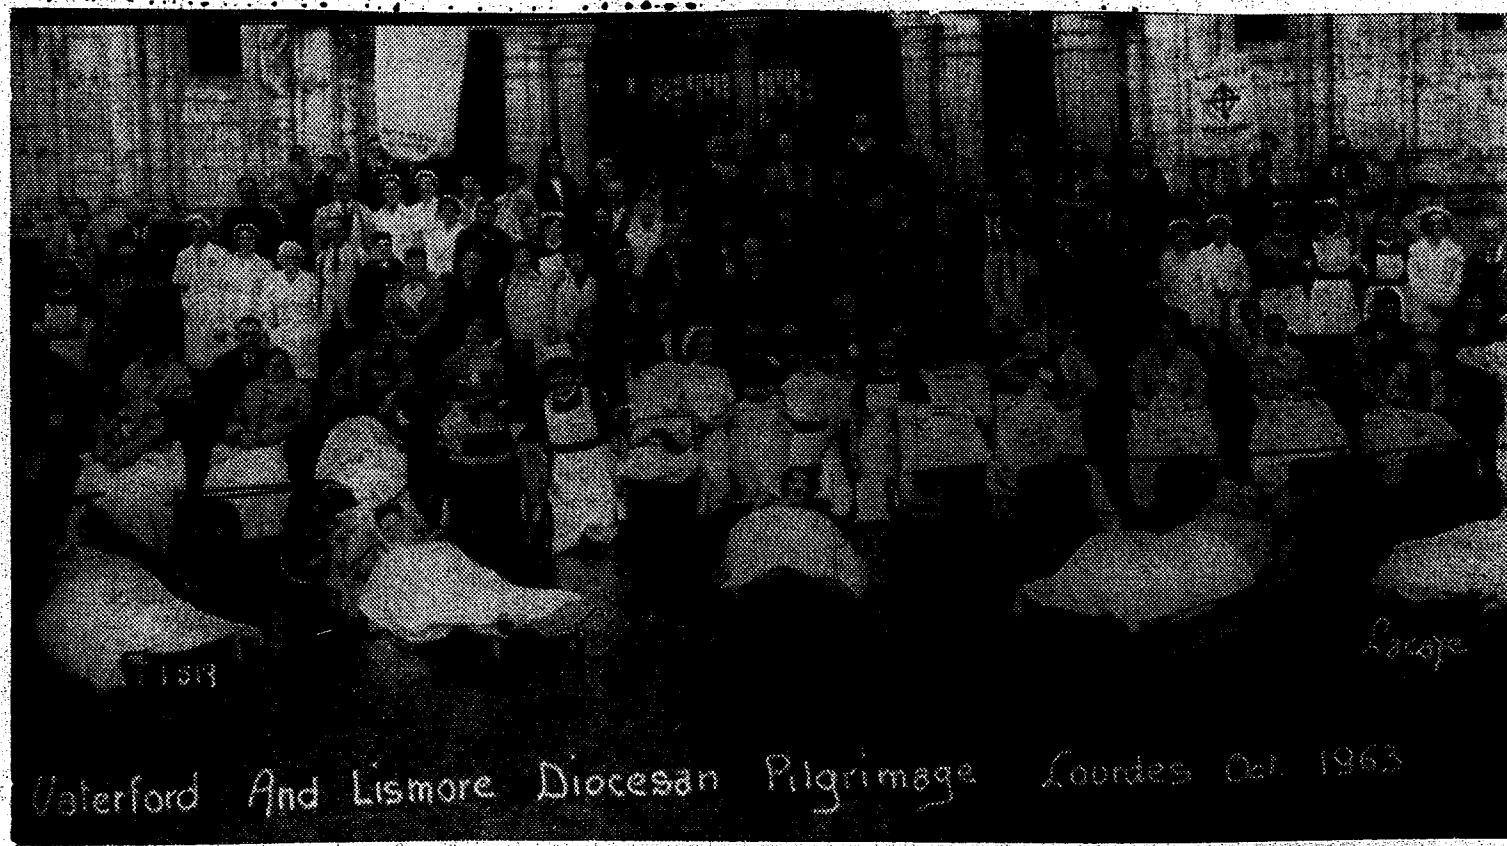

Mr. David Power, Carrigarabane, Stradbally, and his brother, Mr. Billy Power, Kealfoun, travelled by plane on Friday of last week from Shannon Airport to Kennedy Airport, New York, where they were met on arrival by their brother, Very Rev. Fr. Virgie Power, who is ministering in Long Island, do., and whose guest they will be for three weeks. The highly respected trio are nephews of the late Carrigarabane (Stradbally)-born Rt. Rev. Monsignor Peter Quisley, P.P., Quisley Place, Rockville Centre, New York, and the late Very Rev. Patrick Quisley, P.P., Petone, New Zealand.

The Members of the go-ahead Kilmacthomas I.C.A. Guild held a party in the local Parish Hall the other night to celebrate the success achieved by their group at the recent fashion parade in Dungarvan. The party proved a distinctly enjoyable function.

Kilmacthomas Girl Awarded £256

Miss Patricia Beatty (20), 9, St. Anne's Tce., Kilmacthomas, was awarded £265.10.6 and costs in settlement of her action against Lydia Clancy, trading as John Clancy & Son, Building Contractors, Waterford, by Judge Fawcitt at Dungarvan Circuit Court on Tuesday. The claim arose out of an accident at Cusheam Cross, Dungarvan, in August 1963, in which Miss Beatty's motor cycle was in collision with a lorry owned by the company.

Dr. Brendan McCarthy said he attended the plaintiff after the accident. She sustained a split on the eyebrow which extended almost to the bone and abrasions on the thigh and face. She was in hospital for ten days. He examined her again in January last and the result was satisfactory. The abrasions had cleared up and she was left with a not very prominent scar on the eyebrow.

"A Must" for Mercy New Commissioner Girls for Oaths

"An REALT" the Mercy Convent Pupils College magazine has just come to hand and the welter of material which comprise the beautifully bound booklet is a glowing tribute to the fifth year pupils who compiled it. It is surely a must for all Colaiste Muire pupils, both past and present.

Mr. Norman Walsh, well-known Cappoquin auctioneer and valuer and member of Waterford County Council and subsidiary bodies, was sworn in a Commissioner for Oaths by Chief Justice Cearbhall O'Dalaigh in the Supreme Court, Dublin, on Friday last, 8th May. The application was moved by Mr. Lovett-Dolan, B.L. (instructed by E. A. Ryan and Co. Solrs., Dungarvan).

Since the retirement of Mr. Patrick O'Keefe, District Court Clerk, Lismore, the area has been without a Commissioner for Oaths. Having read Mr. Walsh's sworn affidavit, granting the application, the Chief Justice remarked that it was a most meritorious one.

Mr. Walsh is son of Mrs. Ellen Walsh and the late Aidan Walsh, Cappoquin, and nephew of Mr. Jack Crotty and Mrs. Nora Conroy, Liskeely, Grange and Mrs. Stella Davey, Mountain Road, Clonmel.

MEDICAL OFFICER FOR PILGRIMAGE

Dr. Pat O'Connell, popular local Medical Officer, is going with the Waterford Pilgrimage to Lourdes, as Medical Officer, on Wednesday, 20th May.

On questioning Dr. O'Connell on a rumour rampant of late that he was leaving the town, he told us there was no truth in it whatsoever, as he was continuing as Dispensary M.O.

Dungarvan Man Honoured

Mr. Edmond Spratt, senior partner of the well-known Dungarvan auctioneering firm on the application of Messrs. Farrell & Morrissey, Solrs., moved by Mr. Lovett-Dolan, B.L. was made a Commissioner for Oaths, by the Chief Justice, Cearbhall O'Dalaigh, in the Supreme Court last week.

Garda Loses Appeal

He would have to treat the case as he would against any ordinary citizen, and whilst he was very sorry for him, the case against him had to his mind been very clearly established by the State, said Judge Sean Mac D. Fawcitt, at Dungarvan Circuit Court on Wednesday, when dismissing an appeal by Garda James P. Robinson, a native of Ballina, Co. Mayo, and formerly stationed at Cappagh, against a District Court conviction on a charge of forging documents with intent to defraud.

Summing up the case, the Judge said the kernel of the prosecution was the putting of the name of the Peace Commissioner on the document, which in effect meant that the other signatures on the document were witnessed by a reputable person. But they had Mr. Phelan's evidence that no permission was given to have his name put on the document.

"Am I to believe all that was innocent" he continued. "I have to treat this case as I would against any ordinary private citizen. It is unfortunate that the accused is a member of the Gardaí, but whilst I am terribly sorry for him, to my mind the case has been clearly established by the State. This unfortunate man will suffer much more as a result of his paltry, foolish act. I do not propose to interfere with the penalties imposed by the learned District Justice, and I must dismiss the appeal."

Whippet Racing on Sunday

A novel feature of next Sunday's Gymkhana under the auspices of the Dungarvan Show Society will be whippet racing. There will be a series of three elimination races and a final. This event has been made possible through the good offices of Mrs. Howell, The Coole, Dungarvan and the event is sponsored by the International Whippet Racing Club of Ireland, President, Mr. T. J. Cranley. Four jumping events, sheep dog trials, and symphony stunts make up the day's programme. A dance in the Town Hall with the Crackaways Showband will complete the day.

COUNCIL SAYS NO TO EXTRA ENGINEER

Manager Will Now Decide

DESPITE strong recommendations by the County Engineer Mr. J. D. Hally, and Chief Assistant Engineer, Mr. J. Ormonde, Waterford County Council, by 9 votes to 5 on Monday last rejected a proposal to appoint in a temporary capacity an engineer for the Main Roads Grant Works.

Mr. Ormonde, presently Acting County Engineer, said if they did not make the appointment they might be late in preparing schemes, and he would encourage them to approve of it. If the schemes were not prepared in time there might be a risk of losing some of the grants.

Colr. C. Curran said the appointment would not affect the rates.

Colr. J. Fahey said he was not happy to increase the engineering staff. The number of road workers had been reduced drastically in recent years. He remembered when 40 men were under an overseer and now that number was down to 10. In his area there were 7 workers, 2 gangers, an overseer, and the District Engineer. He believed they were over-loaded with Engineers. If and workers. They had to attend to several schemes as well. They were so backward in the preparation of schemes that this appointment was necessary. Otherwise there was a grave risk they might lose some of the grants. He doubted if they would be able to prepare the schemes by the end of the financial year.

The Co. Manager said the Co. Engineer had said the appointment was necessary and he was quite satisfied with that.

Colr. R. Walsh said it might be in the interests of the county if they had the extra engineer. He deplored letting men go, but with the machinery they had now, comparisons could not be made with 20 years ago. In the interest of progress he would propose the appointment. Colr. M. Galgey seconded it.

When the proposal was defeated 9-5, Colr. Curran said it was now a matter for the County Manager.

Colr. K. O'Ryan asked if they could compel the Manager to abide by the Council's decision.

Colr. Ormonde said Colr. Fahey was incorrect in some of his remarks. The Engineers had to do a lot of other work besides being over an overseer

Claim for £600 Dismissed

A claim for £600 by Michael Lawlor, Ballyville, Stradbally, against Patrick Walsh, Ballygowan, Leamybrien, was dismissed by Judge Fawcitt at Dungarvan Circuit Court on Wednesday.

The claim was the sequence to an accident at Ballyville on Sept 6th, 1962, when two motor-cycles, driven by the two parties, were in collision.

Dr. Brendan McCarthy said Lawlor was admitted to Dungarvan District Hospital, at 9 a.m., on September 6th, '62. His right ear was torn off and he had multiple abrasions on the face and he was semi-conscious. He did not regain full consciousness until the following evening. His condition during that time was critical. His ear was replaced under an anaesthesia. He was in hospital until October 15th, and his condition was very low for a long time, and the abrasions on his face became septic. He had seen him on several occasions since and he appeared to be depressed and complained that he was still suffering from head-aches.

Dr. Thomas F. Lynch, Kilmathomas, said he had attended the plaintiff since he was discharged from hospital. The ear had healed up and did not complain much of it. He was complaining all the time of headaches. He believed he was now fit for work.

Michael Lawlor (plaintiff) said he was employed in the Waterford Chip-Board factory at the time. It took him about three-quarters of an hour to go to work on his motor-cycle. On the morning in question he left about 8 a.m. or 8.15 a.m. As he came to the junction in question he proceeded to the corner normally. Just at the cross he stopped and put his foot on the ground. He looked up and down the road and could not see any approaching traffic. He then eased out on the road to the white line and was about to turn towards Waterford when he got a bump from a motor-cycle going towards Dungarvan. The next thing he knew was when he awoke in Dungarvan hospital. He was there until October 15. He had not gone back to work yet.

Sergt. Mee, Walsh, Leamybrien, said he went to the scene of the accident. It was a blind junction coming out from a bye-road. To come out safely from the junction one would have to forget about the rules of the road. The mope one kept to the right hand side the clearer the view, and most motorists did that.

Patrick Walsh (defendant) said he was going to work in Dungarvan at about 7.50 a.m. that morning. He was doing about 25 to 30 miles an hour. He was on his correct side of the road. Coming to the junction the plaintiff's scooter shot out in front of him and he swerved to the right to avoid it. He was only about 3 or 4 yards away when he first saw the plaintiff. The front of his motor-cycle hit the front fork of the scooter. There was nothing he could do to avoid the accident that he didn't do.

Dr. John O'Reilly said he examined the plaintiff on May 7th last, and his complaint then was nerves and stomach upsets. He also stated that the plaintiff was fully recovered from the accident.

Dr. Patrick Tierney said he examined Lawlor as recently as May 1st. He was not then complaining of his eyes, and he found nothing wrong with either of his eyes.

Manager Reaches Retirement Age

At last Monday's meeting of Waterford County Council, in Dungarvan, it was stated by the Chairman, Mr. Charles Curran, that the County Manager, Mr. S. J. Moynihan, had reached retirement age, but the Minister had appointed him in a temporary capacity.

Deputy T. A. Kyrne said he hoped the Manager would remain with them for a long time to come.

Colr. Curran said that besides giving good service as Manager, he had also given good service in the Army.

Colr. Milo Galgey said he always found the Manager easy to get on with. If a new Manager was appointed it could be a case of "the devil you know is better than the devil you don't know."

Colr. Michael Harty said he wished to be associated with the remarks. His experience of dealings with him were very good, and he was very thorough in his affairs.

Mr. Moynihan, replying, thanked the members for their remarks, and said he always did his best for the county.

District Court Decision Reversed

A District Court appeal against a claim of £18 with £6 costs awarded against her was successfully brought before Judge Sean Mac D. Fawcitt at Dungarvan Circuit Court on Tuesday by Dr. Margaret Paye, "Loyola" Road, Lurabur Park, Model Road, Cork.

The District Justice John Dwane, a Helvic fisherman, arising out of an accident at "Coady's Corner" Ring, on 9th August last between vehicles driven by the parties but Judge Fawcitt reversed this decision and allowed Miss Paye the costs. A counter claim by her for £10 was also dismissed with no order as to costs.

Judge Fawcitt said Mr. Dwane had failed to produce independent witnesses whom he had mentioned in the case and the onus was on him to do so. He would have to reverse the District Justice's decision. He did not think very much of Miss Paye's counter claim and he would dismiss that also.

Modeligo Worker's Claim Fails

OBVIOUSLY one of the parties was not telling the truth, and for his part he preferred the evidence of the defendant. So stated Judge Sean Mac D. Fawcitt, at Dungarvan Circuit Court, on Wednesday, when he dismissed a claim for £400 damages for negligence by James Baldwin (54), Stagg Road, Modeligo against John John O'Shea, Knockmeal, Ballinacorney. The action arose out of an accident at Lacken, Cappoquin, when a motor-scooter driven by the plaintiff, and a motor-cycle driven by the defendant, were in collision on November 17th, 1960.

In evidence, the plaintiff Mr. James Baldwin said at the time in question he was employed by the forestry Dept. On the evening of November 17th, '60, he was going home from work on his scooter, and going up a steep hill. It was a tarred road and was about 15 feet wide. He was doing only 5 miles an hour at the time. Just on the brow of the hill the defendant approached on his motor-cycle, travelling at 35 miles an hour and on his incorrect side of the road. He (witness) was about 5 to 10 feet from the kerb on the correct side of the road. The defendant crashed down on top of him. He turned his scooter to avoid a collision, but he (defendant) "busted up" his bicycle and himself. He was thrown off his scooter to the other side of the road. The broken glass was also on his side of the road.

Witness continued: "I suggested sending for the Guards but the defendant would not hear of it and he said he would take my scooter to have it repaired. He brought it to Bob Troy's to have it repaired. I got cuts on my face and also hurt my shoulder. I was up and down to Waterford for medical treatment, twice a week for eleven weeks. At the time of the accident I was earning £7-15-0 a week, including bonus, and the scooter cost £25 to repair."

In reply to Mr. D. P. Sheridan, B.L. (for the defendant), Mr. Baldwin said he was on his correct side of the road when the accident happened.

Judge Fawcitt said he was disturbed that the proceedings were not brought in time. They were not instituted until over 3 years after the accident.

Mr. Robert Troy, Motor-Cycle Dealer and Mechanic, Cappoquin, said he was a brother-in-law of the defendant. He took in Baldwin's scooter after the accident, but was not sure at whose request. The repairs were not carried out and eventually he bought the scooter from the plaintiff for £10.

Mrs. Mary Flynn said she arrived at the scene of the accident and took both parties to the doctor by car.

At this stage, defending Counsel asked for a dismissal of the claim on the grounds that there was no evidence of negligence against O'Shea.

Judge Fawcitt said the defendant had a case to meet.

The Defendant, John O'Shea (31), a dairy worker at Ballinacorney creamery, said on the evening in question he was returning from work. It was a cold frosty evening, but the ground was dry. Coming over the hill he was doing about 28 miles an hour, and he saw Baldwin approaching on his incorrect side about 15 or 20 yards away. He applied the brakes, blew his horn and put the cycle into second gear. The accident occurred on his side of the road about 2 feet from the grass margin. He was cut and in pain and could not remember any conversation with the plaintiff about the guards. A week later he met the plaintiff and there was no mention of any claim.

Judge Fawcitt said he marvelled at how all the witnesses could remember every detail of the accident which occurred over 3 years ago. It was hard to believe they could be so clear about it all. Obviously one of the parties was not telling the truth and for his part he preferred the evidence of the defendant. He would have to dismiss the claim.

N.F.A. NEWS 1964 YEARBOOK NOW ON SALE

True to form, the N.F.A. produce a the Spring Show its Yearbook for the current year. It has an eye-catching, modern cover and is the biggest one produced by the Association to date. Selling at 5/- (2/6 to members) it's the bargain of the year.

From the Preface we take the following paragraphs:—
In the services of agriculture and national progressiveness we offer our 1964 Yearbook to all those interested in rural Ireland and the public at large.

In it we have kept away from anything that might smack of propaganda. Prominent personalities were asked to treat a central theme from their privileged positions of knowledge and ability. Some were unable to do so, but to those who co-operated with us in this venture we are greatly indebted. The theme: The interdependence of Industry and Agriculture in Ireland.

"Multifarious" is a big work and yet it is the only one which comes near embracing the relationship between these two important sectors in our economy. Few realise the connection between one and the other; fewer realise the interdependence of one on the other; fewer are conscious of how greater this dependence is. A book ten times as large as this volume could be written about the need that one side had for the other, the value of one side to the other. Our aim is merely to draw back the veil and point to what lies behind. Readers are asked to continue from there, if they do so we feel that they will be all the better for it.

Judging by the pronouncements of some and the writings of others, it sometimes appears that there must be a dichotomy (if not an antipathy) between agriculture and industry in Ireland. This is something we cannot accept and the purpose of the first section of our Yearbook is to show that it is impossible.

The second major division in this book contains a copy of the plan for agricultural development 1964-70. This plan has been submitted to the Government not as the best word in agricultural though, but rather as the work on which (following discussions and possible amendments) the wool will go, leaving us with a pattern that will please and suit all.

The third and final section of the Yearbook is in the form of a Directory which has proved itself to be popular over a number of years.

It contains a Foreword by An Taoiseach, Mr. Sean Lemass, Messages from the Minister for Agriculture, Mr. P. Smith, T.D., and Mr. R. Dessy, President N.F.A., and an article on Unity in a progressive economy by Mr. Sean Healy, General Secretary and twenty-one contributions by experts in industry related to agriculture.

A permanent and equitable solution could be found if the proposals submitted to the Government by the N.F.A. earlier this year were accepted, i.e. the stabilisation of rates at the 1958 level, varying with the standard of income tax, allowance having been made for the special circumstances of the small farmer.

The Taoiseach admitted recently that the present system of local taxation needs overhauling.

The reports of the Economic Research Institute on local taxation published some weeks ago reveal the injustices of existing system.

It is to be hoped that in the debates now to be held on this rates issue in Dail Eireann, the true position of declining farmer income and increasing taxation will be more widely recognised.

It must be pointed out that when the Government decides to forego taxation because farm income is too low, this is not a subsidy to Agriculture.

LATE MISS ANN KIELY

Steady, Ballinacully. We regret to record the death of Miss Ann Kiely, Steady, at the very early age of fifteen years, which occurred at her parental home during the early hours of Friday, May 8th. A guard of honour, consisting of her school comrades, marched at each side of the hearse to the church gates, where the coffin was received and blessed by Very Rev. J. Hally, P.P., Modello, assisted by Rev. C. Daly, C.C.

Requiem Masses were celebrated on Saturday morning and the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery and funeral of great sorrow from the very large concourse present. The above ceremony officiated at the graveside and imparted the final absolution.

Very many Mass cards and floral tributes were received by her relatives.

The chief mourners were: Patrick Kiely (father); Mrs. Nancy Kiely (mother); John, Michael, Patrick and Declan (brothers); Margaret, Mary and Nora (sisters); and her loving grandmother, Mrs. J. Kiely & Sons, Dungarvan.

Question—I am thinking of making some change for the first time this year. Is it necessary to use an additive as my grass for silage has been well fertilised.

Answer—Making silage for the first time may create some problems, but these can easily be overcome if you understand the main factors involved in conserving grass for winter feed. Your local Agricultural Advisor will be able to advise on these matters. The use of an additive such as A.I.V. Salt is recommended to control the fermentation process and inhibit the growth of undesirable bacteria. The acid set in induces a cold type fermentation and is far more certain in its preserving action than any other type of additive. The rate of application recommended now is 9-10 lbs. per ton of green material and so it is the cheapest additive to-day.

Q—Can you please tell me the name of the enclosed weed and how to get rid of it from my lawn.

A—This pale, blue flowered weed is speedwell and because it is completely resistant to the normal selective weedkillers, it has become widespread in suitable lawns in recent years. It may be controlled by spraying the lawn with a 2% - 4% ter oil spray. This is the same material as is used to spray apple trees in the winter and a suitable spray can be made by mixing 1 pint in 4 gallons of water. The spray must not be allowed to drift onto useful plants or it will damage them seriously. It will also scorch grass, but this recovers completely in a few weeks.

Q—In the last few years I have grown a small acreage of turnips. I put out F.Y.M. and Superphosphate and Potash. The crop grew well but when I went to pull them, a lot were rotten in the heart. Can you tell me what caused this rotting and how I can prevent it.

A—The disease of your turnips is Heart Rot (Raun), caused by a deficiency of Boron in the soil. This trouble may occur on many different soils, but light or poor acid soils which have been heavily limed recently are the most common in which Heart Rot appears. To overcome this deficiency you should apply a fertiliser containing boron and this is readily available to the plant in the soil. The Compound fertiliser 4-7-14 normal selective weedkillers, it plus 0.22% Boron is the most has become widespread in suitable lawns in recent years. It may be controlled by spraying the lawn with a 2% - 4% ter oil spray. This is the same material as is used to spray apple trees in the winter and a suitable spray can be made by mixing 1 pint in 4 gallons of water. The spray must not be allowed to drift onto useful plants or it will damage them seriously. It will also scorch grass, but this recovers completely in a few weeks.

The competition being run by S.E.R.T.O. (The South-Eastern Regional Tourism Organisation Ltd.), to find a name for their Region has attracted a large number of entries and the names entered should have publicity appeal and should preferably be descriptive of the Region or be capable of association with it. Entries have already been received from France, Britain and most counties of Ireland, apart from entries received from the Region itself which covers the counties of Carlow, Kilkenny, Waterford, Wexford and South Tipperary. Entries will be judged by the Directors, whose decision will be final, and in the event of two or more people submitting the same name, the first entry to be received by the Secretary will be adjudged the winner of the £25 prize. Reasons for the name submitted should be given, if not obvious. Entries close on 30th May, and the result will be announced early the following month.

Entries received to-date, cover a wide range of ideas, but many entrants tended to concentrate on one place or area in the Region, and lost sight of the most important requirement—that the name must be regional. Emphasis so far has been on the Three Sisters, and the Region's connection with the late President Kennedy.

Question—I am thinking of making some silage for the first time this year. Is it necessary to use an additive as my grass for silage has been well fertilised.

Answer—Making silage for the first time may create some problems, but these can easily be overcome if you understand the 'in-between' stages involved in conserving silage for winter feed.

Q—In the last few years I have seen a great shortage of turps. I put my F.Y.M. and Superphosphate and Potash. The turps grew well but when I went to pull them, a lot were rotten in the earth. Can you tell me what caused this rotting and how I can prevent it.

A—The rotting of your turps is Heart Rot (Balan), caused by a deficiency of boron in the soil. This trouble may occur on many different soils, but light or poor acid soils which have been heavily limed recently are the most common in which Heart Rot appears. To overcome this deficiency you should apply a fertiliser containing boron and this element is readily available to the plants in the soil. The Compound fertiliser 17-14 plus 0.22% Boron is the most suitable, applied at the rate of 8.10 cwt. per statute acre if no F.Y.M. is spread.

Q—Can you please tell me the name of the enclosed weed and how to get rid of it from my lawn?

A—This pale, blue flowered weed is speedwell and because it is completely resistant to normal selective weedkillers, it has become widespread in lawns in recent years. It may be controlled by spraying the

COUNTY WATERFORD I.C.A. NEWS

The Jubilee Cup Fashion Show, held recently in Dungarvan by Co. Waterford Federation, was an outstanding and history-making success for I.C.A. It was a fashion show with a difference, inasmuch as guild members themselves modeled. The whole-hearted cooperation of the twenty guilds competing added up to a most polished and near professional performance. The Town Hall was crowded to overflowing. The interest of the audience never flagged throughout and the prolonged and sustained applause spoke for itself.

Outfits were styled for Cocktail Party, Dinner Party, Bride, Bride's Mother, Rainy Day, Slumber Wear, Beech Wear, Queen of the Pough, Gardening, Shopping, Tennis, Golf, etc. The adjudicators, Mrs. Whittaker and Miss O'Sullivan of the Norma Griffin Mannequin Agency, had a hard task.

Summing up Mrs. Whittaker told the audience how very impressed she was with the undoubted talent and of the closeness of the teams in the final markings.

The results were—winners of Jubilee Cup, Ardmore; with Waterford a close second. The special cup for rural guilds was won by Kilmacthomas, who also came third in the Jubilee Cup.

Credit and congratulations to Ardmore guild whose "brain child" this Fashion Show was. Incidentally, Ardmore team commentator, Mrs. Quaine, gained highest individual marks for her brilliant commentary on fashion.

Dungarvan T.A. did great work in catering and serving tea to an unending stream of patrons.

The long awaited Federation draw took place, and Mr. Jas. Power, Mahon Bridge, was the winner. Mrs. N. Tobin, Kilmacthomas guild sold the winning ticket.

Mrs. J. D. Twomey, Federation President, formally thanked all who helped to make it a memorable day.

FEDERATION OUTING
Forty-five members, representative of all guilds in the county, took part in the outing to M/s. Arthur Guinness, Son & Co. Ltd., Dublin.

After a very interesting and highly educative tour of the Brewery, a most enjoyable lunch was served, during which various souvenirs of the visit were distributed. Later, the party visited the new I.C.A. Headquarters at Ballsbridge and had the distinction of being the first big federation group to do so.

The evening ended with a shopping spree. All participants were high in their praise of what they termed "the best outing ever held."

On behalf of the Federation and guilds, Mrs. Twomey, President, thanked and congratulated the organisers of the outing: Mrs. L. Maher, Federation Vice-President and Mrs. A. McGrath, Federation Hon. Sec.

INTERNATIONAL OFFICERS MEETING
A county guild international officers meeting, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Sheila O'Carroll, Federation International Officer, was held recently in Dungarvan. A sub-committee was formed to link with main headquarters committee in co-operating at Federation level for A.C.W.W. Triennial Conference in 1965.

FEDERATION MEETING
The next Federation meeting which will also be the summer rally, will be held at 7 p.m., on Thursday, 18th June, at the Vocational School, Cappoquin, when the guest of honour will be Mrs. Nora Eurlon, National President, I.C.A. A big attendance of Federation Guild members is expected.

Lismore Notes

WOMEN'S CONFRATERNITY CONDOLENCE

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Healy, formerly of New Street, Lismore and now residing in London, on the recent death of Mrs. Healy's sister, Miss K. Fitzgerald who lost her life in a Waterford City road accident, last week.

DEATH OF MR. M. J. O'DONNELL
It is with deep and sincere regret we record the death of Mr. Michael J. O'Donnell, Bridge St., Lismore, which sad event occurred unexpectedly at his residence on Monday evening of last week, May 4th.

The deceased gentleman, more popularly known as Joe to his countless friends everywhere, was a most prominent member of the Lismore business community and for many years had carried on an extensive combined hardware and licensed business at Bridge St.

A member of a most highly respected family, he was possessed of a very quiet and friendly manner, which made him a most popular figure. He will be sadly missed by all his sorrowing relatives and friends but more especially by his son Michael and daughter Mary, to whom we tender our deepest sympathy.

The remains were removed to St. Carthage's Church on Tuesday evening, and were received and blessed by Very Rev. Canon Dunphy, P.P. V.F., assisted by Rev. Fr. Slattery, C.C., and Rev. Fr. Quailly, C.C., and the interment took place on Wednesday in St. Carthage's Cemetery, the same clergy officiating at the grave-site. Large and representative corteges attended both funeral and burial.

GRAND HOLIDAY DANCE
The Town Hall, Lismore is expected to be packed to capacity on Monday night next (Whit Monday) for the grand annual holiday dance. Always a gay and very sociable affair this year's dance is again taken to prove an outstanding success. On the bandstand will be the Bridesiders Showband. Dancing will be from 8.30 to 1. Admission 5/-.

On behalf of the guild, Madam Chairman, we welcome our guest and speaker, Mrs. J. Houlihan, who gave us a most detailed and working demonstration on glove-making and soft-toy making. She showed us some lovely specimens and gave us wonderful information regarding the purchasing and qualities of leather, etc.

NEW REFEREE
Congratulations go to George Roche, Secretary of Glen Rovers, who, making his first appearance as a referee, handled the game between Lismore and Kilmossanty very capably.

G.A.A.
Lismore minor football team created a surprise in defeating Kilmossanty 2-1 to 0-4 in the minor football championship, at Lismore on Sunday last. The losers led four points to one goal at the break, but the winners had the better of the second-half exchanges and had their forwards been more on the mark, would have won much more handsomely.

G.A.A.
Best for Lismore were: M. and D. McGrath, J. Daly, J. Geoghegan and W. Foley, and for Kilmossanty, A. Coffey, P. Walsh, P. Veale and J. Kirwan.

CHALLENGE GAME

GAELIC JOTTINGS

WEXFORD HAMMERED BY CLASSICAL TIPP.

The National Hurling League (Home) final which was expected to provide one of the hurling classics of the year for spectators, turned out to be a complete anti-climax at Croke Park on Sunday last, as Tipperary, with incredible emphasis, swept majestically to victory over a most disappointing Wexford fifteen.

The 5-12 to 1-4 scoreline in favour of the Premier County is truly descriptive of the overall trend of the game. It was a display par excellence by the blue and gold shirred brigade, who ran riot in a fantastic first half display of hurling artistry. Against this well-drilled machine gallant Wexford had no effective counter-weapon. They were literally bewildered by the preciseness of the winners' vintage hurling and anything could have happened. Not to have trailed by an even greater margin than seventeen points.

But true to tradition the Slaneysiders renewed battle in the second half with all the fervour and vigour that has become part and parcel of their game. For a few brief moments they gave their legions of supporters some hopes of a comeback as Paul Lynch shook the Tipp net after only two minutes of that final half. Thereafter, however, the Tipp defence sealed all gaps to goal whilst their own forwards proceeded to demonstrate how scores should be executed and taken.

But if the game as a spectacle fell flat, even partisan Wexford supporters must have marvelled at the splendour of the display by the winners. It was I would say the most complete Tipp team I have seen for many a long day and they are certainly worthy Irish Ambassadors to New York at the end of this month.

So uniformly good was the team that it might be unfair to single out players for special mention, but there can be no gainsaying the fact that John Doyle is mastering the passing years exceptionally well. This year he is bidding for his tenth League medal—a record that may never be equalled.

Even allowing for the brilliance of the winners, Wexford's display was most disappointing. Their deliveries were inexplicably short and it just was not the Wexford everybody had expected.

AFFANE SHOCK BALLINACOURTY

The championship year just started has been remarkable for the frequency with which the fancied sides have fallen by the wayside. And on Sunday the biggest upset to-date took place at the Castle Farm grounds, Lismore, when Affane the reigning Primary champions scored a deserved two point victory over the favourites Ballinacourty in the opening round of the Intermediate football championship.

It was a result that confounded general opinion throughout the entire division, but let no one dare suggest that Affane were not worthy of their 1-4 to 0-5 victory.

Many times last year en route to their Primary success I stated that they were an exceptionally fine side. But candidly I thought they were set from a premature championship exit when drawn against Ballinacourty whom I believed were capable of winning out Divisional honours at least.

That was in no way intended as a disparagement of Affane's worth but now that Jimmy McGrath and his men have upset the applecart in no uncertain fashion, I hail them as very live championship contenders indeed.

It was a game packed with all the fervour and excitement that only the championship can produce. As the tide of battle ebbed and flowed with both sides periodically chipping like winners, the tension was unbearable, the atmosphere supercharged.

But if the result could well have gone either way right up to the final suspense filled minute, no praise can be too high for the men of Affane. They had to field without star defender John Healy who had not returned from his English holiday and at the outset his absence seemed a crippling blow to their hopes. But making a mockery of adversity, they played the game of their lives to score what must surely be their greatest ever victory.

With the issue in such doubt and the exchanges so keen it was inevitable that tempers would get frayed but it tended to get slightly out of hand at times and the losers ended the hour with thirteen men and Affane with one more.

The winners had the assistance of the breeze in the opening half but despite enjoying a slight territorial advantage Ballinacourty stuck doggedly with them and at the break the sides were level at three points each.

For practically the entire third quarter Ballinacourty encamped in the Affane half. Relentlessly they piled on the pressure and it seemed but a matter of time before they took the lead. But a combination of good defensive work and weak forward finishing kept the score static and then in a sporadic raid, Affane scored the goal that gave them victory. Scarcely had Mick Kiely moved from full back to centre forward in an effort to strengthen the losers' attack when the all-important goal was conceded. Try as they might thereafter the losers could not work through the game saving scores. Foolishly they tried for goals from close-in trees, a gambit that must now be regretted when realising that only two points measured their championship exit.

Whilst some played better than others on the Affane side, I do not propose to single out any for special mention. Rather was it a team effort and a splendid one at that, and they are going to make their presence felt in this campaign. Obviously they trained very hard for the game and their ability to stay the hour helped in no small way to achieving their success.

For Ballinacourty defeat must have come in the form of a sickening shock. They were the money-on favourites but clearly came unstuck against the dedicated Affaners.

Too many of the team laboured too long and they never played with the spirit or confidence that made them such a force in this grade for the past few years.

In John McGrath, however, they had the best footballer afield and it certainly was no fault of his that defeat was not evaded. Mick Kiely, John Hogan, Peter and Nicholas Power and Michael Hogan were others that cannot be blamed for defeat.

KILROSSANTY AND MITCHELS FOR PHELAN CUP FINAL

All is set for a game that will most definitely prove the glamour tie of this or any other year. The game I refer to is nothing less than the 1964 Phelan Cup final between Kilrossanty and the men from the same parish, John Mitchels. All along the line they were the fancied ones to do battle in the decider but always there was the danger that some other side might upset the applecart. But both overcame the obstacles as presented and now all is set for a final that everyone will want to see.

Whereas Kilrossanty booked their place in the decider by beating Ardmore by six points on Thursday night last, Mitchels were even more impressive when beating former county champions Kill, by 1-8 to 1-4 in the other semi-final.

The only other occasion on which the teams met was in this competition some years ago when Mitchels scored a surprise victory. Now Kilrossanty await the opportunity of revenge. It all adds up to a game that should be a spectacular thriller.

Incidentally there is much speculation as to the venue for the game. Whilst accepting that a team has a right to choose whatever venue they desire I must strongly submit that Dungarvan is the right place for the decider. It is the most central venue for the participating finalists and would be certain to attract the largest attendance. Mitchels I believe will be seeking Walsh Park, Waterford, but if there is a full mustering of Western delegates at the County Board meeting, Dungarvan is certain to be the venue.

KILROSSANTY STAR WED IN ENGLAND

This week we send belated best wishes to the Kilrossanty football star Eddie "Cheasty" Lonergan who was married in London some weeks ago. Before emigrating Eddie was a prominent fixture on the Kilrossanty team and I am sure I will be expressing the wishes of all Gaeils when I extend every congratulation and best wishes to Eddie and his wife.

Decies Double Defeat Hurlers Unlucky: Footballers Fail Dismally

I.H.—CLARE	3-4	WATERFORD	1-7
J.F.—CLARE	1-9	WATERFORD	0-6

WHAT a dismal start to the inter-county championship year by Waterford. The above scorelines tell of a double defeat at the hands of Clare at Ennis on Sunday, and a continuance of the County's lamentable record in these grades. Biggest surprise was the two goal defeat of the footballers from whom so much was expected, but the hurlers were decidedly unlucky to go under by three points after having led for most of the hour.

The hurling game in fact was one that Waterford could with any luck at all have won. From the opening whistle they took the initiative and held a deserved lead right up to the fiftieth minute when Clare secured a somewhat lucky equalising goal. Thereafter, however, the homesters got on top and in the remaining ten minutes tacked on the match-winning goal.

Yet, with more penetrative power in attack, Waterford would surely have run up an unassailable lead by the interval.

The forward line contained John O'Brien, Johnny Murphy and John Kirwan of the senior panel and whilst all three did an amount of hurling they failed to leave the expected impression on the game.

The midfielders Kieran O'Ryan and Mick Gallagher gave Waterford the pull in the sector for the greater part of the game whilst in a defence that conceded nothing easily Mick Gaffney and Frankie Corcoran were best.

Scorers for Clare were: M. O'Kane (2-0), M. Barry (1-1); J. McNamara (0-1), M. McMahon (0-1). Waterford's scorers: J. O'Brien (1-2), W. Walsh (0-2), J. Whelan (0-2), and J. Kirwan (0-1).

FOOTBALLERS FAIL

But if the hurlers went down after a gallant attempt to upset the odds, little can be said in favour of the footballers, whose display was as disappointing as it was unexpected. It was a team that might well have been selected to represent the County in senior ranks and supporters confidently looked forward to a convincing victory over the Banner County.

But quite inexplicably the majority of the players reserved the important occasion to hit rock-bottom form and there was no credit at all in their displays.

Clare had first use of the breeze and their forwards turned the elements into the best possible use. They seemed to have the beating of what can only be described as a ponderous Deise defence at all times and they were good.

value for their 1-8 to 0-2 interval lead.

True the trend of the game changed completely on the change over as Waterford piled on the pressure but just as the defence laden with weaknesses in the opening half, the attack was also similarly afflicted after the change of ends. On several occasions a yawning Clare goalmouth faced the forwards but with annoying continuity they failed to avail of the gilt edged chances.

Whilst Clare's ability to take their chances stood to them in the final reckoning, they were by no means a good side, a fact that makes this Deise defeat even more galling.

Here was a side backboned by two thirds of the senior team and yet they bowed out ingraciously to no better than average opposition. Few if any reputations were enhanced and all in all it can only be described as a complete team failure.

Scorers for Clare were K. O'Neill (1-2), J. Taylor (0-3), K. Mee (0-2), W. McGrath and M. Quailly (0-1 each). For Waterford the scorers were: T. Flynn (0-5), and B. Crowe (0-1).

BALLINAGOULD £34,000 SCHEME

At last Monday's meeting of Waterford County Council it was unanimously decided on the proposal of Colr. Michael Hartly to raise a loan of £34,000 for the Ballinagould Sewerage Scheme.

Mr. J. G. Dowling (CoC Secretary) said the Consulting Engineer said the total estimated cost would be £32,730, plus legal expenses. There would be a 60% subsidy and they might get a 25% grant from the Dept. also.

Colr. Hartly said he was disappointed Helvick was not included in the scheme. He felt a separate scheme should be adopted for that area.

Colr. Curran said it was a very expensive scheme and the reason for excluding Helvick was the question of cost.

Dungarvan's Great Win in Rice Cup

C.B.S. Dungarvan	2-4	there was no denying the Old
Cnoc Sion	2-0	Boro' side, however, and at the Dungarvan C.B.S. had a very convincing win over Mt. Sion in Walsh Park, last week in their initial outing in the Rice Cup. A visit to Waterford to play Sion in any grade is never the easiest of assignments; and the best that most teams can hope for is a creditable showing. Due to a misunderstanding the teams were forced to play on the full pitch, but the standard of hurling reached a very high peak and the game was a highly exciting one from the throw in.

Dungarvan won the toss and elected to play with the advantage of a near gale-force wind. They were slow to settle down, however, and many easy chances went begging amongst their goal-shy forwards. At the interval they led by 2-1 to nil; in the circumstances this margin seemed to be totally inadequate.

The second period was to see a vastly improved display however. Sensing victory, Cnoc Sion threw all they had into eager attacks, only to be met by a stone-wall defence, which refused to budge an inch. The half-back line of Michael Dunford, John Clancy and Brian Steele, was magnificent and bore the brunt of the city boys' onslaughts. Ten minutes had elapsed before Mt. Sion found the net, and this only urged the Dungarvan lads to greater efforts. Scoring defence, they went over to attack and three brilliant points in succession widened the gap more.

Cnoc Sion tried all they knew and again they goalied. But

Every man in that second-half was a hero, but few will deny pride of place to a wonderful half-back line. Philip Duggan and John Beatty ruled the centre of the field and up front the stars were Martin Sandford, Diarmuid Flynn and Jim Nagle.

This win should work wonders for the team, as for many it was their first outing in the school jersey. They should have assured themselves of a warm welcome when they play their first game at home. The "no-voices" of the team were a revelation, for they tackled crisply all the time and showed absolutely no nerves. On this showing, Dungarvan are going to chase very strongly for the coveted trophy.

At the moment of writing, no definite news is to hand about their next game. It seems pretty certain, however, that it will be a home game against resurgent Lismore. The Lismore team have been given a "lift" this year in the form of an age concession, and there is every hope that they can recapture some of their former glory. One thing is assured—the Rice Cup will provide again all the thrills and class with which it has always been associated.

Minor Hurlers Should Account for Kerry

NOT since 1948 has a Waterford minor hurling side annexed Munster championship honours. During that lengthy span defeat has followed defeat to the exasperating point of monotony. Last year, however, there was a considerable improvement and one cannot foresee any great difficulty when this year's under eights travel to Killarney on Sunday next to play Kerry in the opening round.

In fact not for many years has a minor side been backed by such a degree of confidence. Last year it will be recalled that Waterford only lost to Limerick after a replay that could just as easily have gone the other way. The Shannonsiders went on to make a clean sweep of Munster and only failed narrowly to Wexford in a thrilling All-Ireland final.

Sunday's side can fortunately call on no less than six of the '63 lineout and it is this sextet who will be expected to backbone this latest assault on a title that has proved so elusive for sixteen long years.

Those that remain from last year are Tom Flynn (goal), defenders, P. J. Hearne (Ballygunner), Tommy O'Donovan (Abbeyside) and Frank Whelan (Portlaw-Ballyduff), Billy Frisby (Mount Sion) at midfield and Danny Mahon (Mt. Sion) in attack.

This year, also, considerable interest has been taken in the minors and both Divisions of the county have been literally fine-combed in a search for the best available material. Recently they played All-Ireland champions Wexford in a very informative challenge and scored a highly impressive victory over the Slaneysiders. One cannot, of course, attach too much significance to results of this nature but such was the manner in which the Deise boys performed, that one could not help being pleased with the display.

Kerry, of course, on home soil, will enjoy the encouragement of practically all the vocal support. Despite their apparent inferiority in the code they are never on easy side to beat at home in the championship but be that as it may there should be considerable scoring daylight between the sides on Sunday.

The Deise side is for the most part an Eastern selection and only four Western representatives have succeeded in gaining first fifteen recognition. They are Pat Clancy (Stradbally), Tommy O'Donovan and Pat Enright (Abbeyside) and Michael McGrath (Lismore).

I am particularly pleased at the selection of the latter pair. Enright, I repeatedly stressed was worth his place on last year's side and had he been on in the drawn game against Limerick, I firmly believe there would not have been any need for a replay. McGrath likewise is a hurler that has really taken my fancy and I will be more than surprised if the Lismorde stylist is not one of the sides' big stars on Sunday.

The Waterford defence is very solid and goalkeeper Flynn can expect excellent coverage from Hearne, Clancy and Donovan. This line in fact is the most experienced sector of the side as both Hearne and O'Donovan have been through the rigours of inter-county competition before.

Enright is placed at right half back, a line that is completed by Pat Coady (Erin's Own) and Frank Whelan, both exceptionally fine hurlers. It is doubtful if the midfield partnership of Billy Frisby and Michael McGrath could be improved upon. Frisby was one of the stars of last year, and he is certain to get maximum assistance from the Lismore lad.

The personnel of the attack I must confess is not particularly well known to me, but if it is the Mount Sion lad Danny Mahon is given any scope at all he could win the game off his own stick. Mahon is a hurler who has the potential to make the top and with proper assistance could lead the Kingdom defence a merry dance.

Yes, it is a game the Waterford should win with some things to spare. And who knows it may well be the steppingstone to championship honours.

The Waterford team is: T. Flynn (Mount Sion); P. J. Hearne (Ballygunner); P. Clancy (Stradbally); T. O'Donovan (Abbeyside); P. Enright (do.); P. Coady (Erin's Own); F. Whelan (Portlaw-Ballyduff); M. McGrath (Lismore); B. Frisby (Mount Sion); D. Mahon (do.) capt.; M. Power (De La Salle); A. Bowman (do.); J. Byrne (Mt. Sion); D. Fitzgerald (Portlaw-Ballyduff); T. Galvin (Mt. Sion). Subs.—T. Cullinan (Mount Sion); D. Wall (Tramore); D. Evans (De La Salle); J. O'Mahony (Abbeyside).

"I'll Go to Gaol"

Judge Sean Mac D. Fowsitt, at Dungarvan Circuit Court on Wednesday, bound Mrs. Josephine Flynn, Ross, Rathormack, to the peace for twelve months.

An application was made by Mr. M. J. Lardiner, B.L., on behalf of Patrick Butler, Kilmaclooney, KilmacThomas, to have Mrs. Flynn committed to prison for failing to obey an order of the Circuit Court in respect of land title.

Mr. Lardiner said whilst Mr. Butler was engaged in removing part of a fence which he was entitled to do, Mrs. Flynn and her husband, Thomas Flynn, attacked him with a pitch fork and a slasher. Mr. Butler was of the opinion if he interfered with the fence again he would be attacked.

Judge Fawsitt to her—Do you want to be bound to the peace or do you want to go to gaol this evening Mam?

Mrs. Flynn—I will not obey the order of the Court. I will go to gaol.

Judge Fawsitt—You will be bound to the peace for twelve months.

Her husband agreed to obey the Court Order and Judge Fawsitt said he would not bind him to the peace.

He told Mrs. Flynn if she did not leave soon he would commit her for contempt of Court.

Leaving the Court she said: "I don't care, I'll go to gaol."
