WEDDING BELLS

The marriage was solemnized at St. John's R.C. Church, on the 4th April last, by Rev. Fr. Alient between Mr. George R. Buckingham, Company Director of AirBricks (Hillingdon) Ltd., and Claire, eldest daughter of Miss Ursula Clancy, sister of the bride, wearing a deep tangerine full length satin dress and carrying a bouquet of spring flowers.

The reception was held at Carnarvon Hotel, Baling Common, London, where upwards of sixty guests were entertained. The newly-wedded couple spent their honeymoon touring Ireland.

Given away by her father, the bride looked radiant in a full-length white sheath dress, embroidered in silver. Her head-dress was a band of white satin, embroidered with pearls, and diamonds. She carried a bouquet of deep red roses, and white freesias.

MINIBUS FIRE

A minibus, the property of Mr. E. Crotty, Ballinacourty, Ring, went on fire on the main road at Killosera, Dungarvan shortly after midnight on Tuesday night last. The Dungarvan fire brigade was called out, but was unable to save the vehicle, which was completely burned out.

Dungarvan and Old Parish Greet Mayor of Chicago

DUNGARVAN looked its radiant best on Monday last when a civic reception was given to Richard J. Daley, Mayor of Chicago and his wife Mrs. Eleanor Daley on the occasion of their visit to the Old Boro. A huge crowd had gathered outside the Courthouse awaiting his arrival, and although almost an hour behind schedule there was no apparent lack of enthusiasm. When eventually the Mayoral cortege did arrive shortly after 1 p.m. the vast gathering broke into loud applause and the Dungarvan Brass and Reed Band under Michael A. Hennebry played the American and Irish National Anthems.

On his arrival, the Mayor was received by Mr. T. A. Kynne, T.D., Chairman of Dungarvan Urban Council. He inspected a Guard of Honour of the Dungarvan Coy., F.C.A., under Lt. Maurice Kiely. He was introduced to members of the Urban Council and County Council, and was then escorted to the Courthouse, where a joint sitting of the Urban and County Councils presented him with addresses of welcome.

Accompanying the Mayor and Lady Mayoress were Mr. Bob Briscoe, T.D.; Col. Jack Reilly, the Mayor's director of special events; Lieut. Eugene Nolan, the Mayor's aide, and Mr. Brian O'Kelly, Department of External Affairs.

At the joint sitting of the Councils Mr. Kynne said he would like to implement the resolution passed at a meeting of the Urban Council, and called on the Town Clerk, Mr. P. J. Doyle to read the address of welcome.

When Mr. Doyle had done so, Mr. Kynne said it was his privilege as Chairman of the Urban Council to welcome Mayor Daley on his visit to their town. He wished to extend to him and his wife a cordial welcome which the late President Kennedy knew as a hundred thousand welcomes.

"We have watched your achievements," he said, "and your re-election as Mayor of the second greatest city in the United States, has filled us with pride and your visit is a source of joy to us. We are proud that through your veins runs the blood of the Decies. You will be visiting a historic spot in Old Parish, and today to you that your forebears came from Old Parish is a further source of joy to us. You are very welcome to Dungarvan and it is our great pleasure to present you with this beautifully illuminated address of welcome which has been beautifully done by the good Sisters of the Convent of Mercy, Dungarvan."

"It is the Daley crest and the coat of arms of the Dungarvan Urban Council, and we hope it will give you happy memories of your visit to us. I also present to you Waterford cut glass, which has been inscribed on it the date of your visit and the coat of arms of Dungarvan."

Deputy Kynne went on to say that two U.S. firms were shortly to set up factories in Dungarvan that would give employment to 200 to 300 in the town. He requested Mayor Daley to ask any industrialists in Chicago anxious to set up business in Ireland to remember Waterford City and county and in particular the Dungarvan area.

He then made a small token presentation on his own behalf of a long playing record of Irish songs, which included the song "Dungarvan, My Home Town," which was written by a Dungarvan woman Mrs. Mai Carew (formerly Miss Mai O'Higgins, and sung by a Dungarvan man Mr. Tadgh Regan. He would ask him to play it when he got back home and hoped it also would be a happy reminder of his visit.

Mr. Charles Curran, Chairman Waterford County Council said he also wished to extend to the Mayor and his wife a hearty cordial welcome, and expressed the hope that his stay would be a pleasant and happy one in the land of his forebears. Mayor Daley, he said was a very eminent Mayor who dedicated himself to the people of Chicago.

Speaking on industrialism, Mr. Curran said that west of the Blackwater was the most neglected area in the country and emigration was still rife there to-day. He would make an appeal to the Mayor and Deputy Briscoe on behalf of the people in that area to try and bring industry there.

The County Secretary, Mr. J. G. Dowling then read the Co. Council's address of welcome, which was done by the Sisters of the Presentation Convent, Dungarvan.

Committee Reject Salary Increases

WHEN a letter from the Department of Agriculture setting out the revised scales for instructors following the 12% increase was read at last Saturday's meeting of Waterford County Committee of Agriculture, a proposal by Mr. Norman Walsh that they reject the proposed revised scale was unanimously passed. There was a lengthy and at times heated discussion on it, during which Mr. Walsh said the country's economy could not stand up to all the increases.

The C.A.O. (Mr. P. Conroy) said to grant the 12% to their instructors would cost £1,500 a year. It was not included in this year's estimate and would have to be met by an overdraft.

Mr. Norman Walsh said he could not run with the hare and hunt with the hound and would have to propose that they reject the increases. The ninth round he said, had been introduced as a political expedient to win votes on the occasion of two very important by-elections. The country's economy could not stand up to it and it was simply a racket. It was the first step in the ruination of their national economy.

Mr. K. O'Ryan who seconded Mr. Walsh said they were the greatest committee in Ireland for spending money. They were nearly as bad as Waterford County Council.

Mr. John Drohan said there was nothing political in the ninth round wage increase. It was a national agreement embracing all parties and employers and employees.

Mr. O'Ryan—But who can afford to pay it?
Mr. Charles Curran asked if they had any function in the matter or were they only coddling themselves. If he thought they had any function in it he would take more positive steps. In the past increases had been granted over their heads by the Minister and he felt the controlling of salaries should be restored to the Committee of Agriculture. If they rejected this to-day they would only be fooling themselves because the Minister would grant them anyway and they would only be made laughing stocks.

Mr. Walsh—I am not afraid of being made a laughing stock and I will continue to oppose these increases here and elsewhere despite anonymous letters. The Taoiseach had given the green light for the ninth round wage increase.

Mr. Curran said Mr. Walsh was obviously implying that some official or member of the committee was associated with the anonymous letter. He wanted to clear up the matter immediately.

Mr. Walsh—Is your conscience pricking you?
Mr. Curran—No, my conscience is clear.
Mr. Walsh—Well, they say suspicion haunts the guilty mind. I'm not afraid of any of them.

At this stage, the Chairman (Mr. Michael Harty) appealed to both Mr. Walsh and Mr. Curran to refrain from any cross fire and Mr. Walsh replied "You are only doing this to save your cousin."
Mr. Harty denied this and added that he was only trying to keep the discussion along the lines of the agenda.
Mr. Curran said the Committee should take a stand in the matter of salary increases and he proposed that they protest against the present system of awarding salary increases to Committee of Agriculture staffs and that they call on the Minister to restore the main composed of the this function of the Committees, which bodies are in the main composed of the elected representatives of the people.
Mr. George Heskin seconded Mr. O'Ryan—that proposal is not worth the paper it is written on.
Mr. W. Dower said the trend nowadays was to give everything to a few. The only way to meet bigger salaries was to cut down on the staff.
Mr. Walsh said one would be the worst in the world if they opened their mouths about it.

Dept. Not Satisfied With Housing Tender

A SPECIAL meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council was held on Friday night last, to consider a letter from the Department of Local Government, which expressed dissatisfaction at the proposed tendered price of £1,820 per house for six old persons houses, to be built at Boreenatra.

The letter referred to the 36 house scheme to be erected at Cloney Tce., and Boreenatra. It stated: "The cost of the dwellings on the basis of the tender proposed for acceptance is very high compared with the estimate submitted in the Council's letter of February 1. This is particularly so in the case of six Old Persons houses and the Council should consider substituting them for three-bedroomed ones."

Deputy T. A. Kynne (Chairman) said the County Manager thought the Council should give their observations on the matter, and it was for that reason the meeting was called.

Deputy Kynne said they could suggest to the Department to make three-bedroomed houses out of the present Old Persons ones, or alternatively go ahead with thirty houses and advertise for six single-bedroomed ones (Old Persons houses) in an effort to get a lower tender. Col. T. Lannon said if they changed the original contract they would have to advertise all over again. "What," he asked, "is the contract price of the houses?"
Mr. P. J. Doyle (Town Clerk) said the tender for 20 three-bedroomed houses was £2,075 each; ten four-bedroomed ones were costing £2,185 each, and the 6 one-bedroomed ones £1,820 each.

Col. Lannon: Had ye any other contract prices?
Col. R. Walsh: We had, but they were higher ones.
Mr. Doyle said they had received three tenders. Messrs. E. O'Brien & Sons, Abbeyside quoted £74,189 for the entire scheme; M/s. Buttimer, Younghal, £74,960, and M/s. O'Shea and McGrath, Cappagh, £77,725.

Col. Lannon said there was a rumour going around that one of the other tenders was lower for the six houses in question.

Col. J. McCarthy said the problem was to find a substitute for the six single bedroomed ones.

Deputy Kynne: What alternative have we?
Col. Thomas Lee proposed that they substitute the single bedroomed ones with further three-bedroomed ones, and at the tendered price of £2,075 each. Col. R. Walsh seconded it.
This proposal was unanimously agreed to, and will now go before the Department for approval, subject also of course to acceptance by the Contractor.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

A Chera,
I wish to emphatically refute allegations that a recent meeting I attended at Villierstown was a "political stunt". The purpose of the meeting, which was sponsored by the local I.C.A. (which is a strictly non-political organisation), was to discuss local problems and needs, and means of improving local amenities with a view to entering for Tidy Towns Competition 1965. I asked the Co.
Engineer to attend to afford him an opportunity of getting first hand knowledge of local needs and to advise the local people on the part they should play in the effort.

At my request, the County Engineer attended a similar meeting at Ardmore last year, when he gave invaluable assistance to the people of that area in preparing for the Tidy Towns Competition. It is significant that there was no mention of a "political stunt"
on that occasion.
At the Villierstown meeting
the question of Dromana Bridge was mentioned towards the end of proceedings and it was decided to seek the support of members of the Co.
Council in an effort to find a solution to the problem. I was not aware before-hand that the bridge question would arise at the meeting and I suggested that at the next meeting at Villierstown, other local members of the County Council should be invited.

Since I was elected Chairman of Waterford County Council in 1960 I have deliberately refrained from political controversy, as it is my humble view that the occupant of that office should serve all sections of the community, irrespective of their political affiliations and that the interests and welfare of the people is more important than any political party.

It is worthy of note that some time ago a number of public meetings were held in the Villierstown area concerning Dromana Bridge and, although I was not invited to any of them, I did not complain, despite the fact that other members of the County Council were invited.

In the circumstances that I have endeavoured to help Villierstown and its people, I should be accused of "playing politics."

Is mise, le meas,
C. CURRAN.

Tribute to Late
G.A.A. Secretary

At the monthly meeting of Waterford Committee of Agriculture on Saturday last, Mr.
Charles Curran in a tribute to the late Pdraig O Caoimh, General Secretary of the G.A.A., said he was one of the greatest Irishmen of this generation who did a great deal for Irish culture and for Gaelic games. He expressed sympathy to Mr. Wm. Dower, a member of the Committee
and a relative of the late Mr.
O Caoimh and to the other bereaved relatives.
The Chairman (Mr. Hartly)
said he had met the late Mr.
O Caoimh when on a visit to Ring. He was a grand honourable and sincere man and a magnificent gentleman.

Votes of sympathy were also passed with the husband, son,
and relatives of the late Mrs.
M. J. Ballot, Dungarvan, and with the relatives of the late
P. J. O'Gorman, Youghal.

GEN. COSTELLO'S REPLY . . .

In reply to an invitation from the Committee of Agriculture issued to him at their April meeting to come to Dungarvan to discuss with them the possibilities of setting up a plant to process fruit and vegetables, a letter was read from Lt. Gen. J. Costello,
General Manager, Comhlucht
Eoireann Teo., at last Saturday's Agricultural meeting in Dungarvan.

Mr. Costello stated that he would be agreeable to discuss the possibilities of horticultural development in County Waterford. Tentative arrangements were however, presently being made between his company and the Dungarvan Co.
Co. Fruitgrowers Society in Dungarvan and he suggested that his visit to the Committee should be postponed until these were completed.

The members expressed appreciation at General Costello's
reply.

A DREAM
COME TRUE?

Experts on dreams inform us that if we dream all night long we awaken tired. This it is said to be because our bodies actually feel the movements through which our minds take us in our dreams. I believe this to be true, for I have often wakened up tired, any night that I have dreamed right through my sleeping hours.

I was extremely tired the night (in a dream) that I climbed to the top of the Empire State Building in New York, and looked out over the great pulsing city that is built on the island of Manhattan.

I had never been to New York though I had always wanted to go. Yet in my dream, there it last before me in every detail,
just as I had seen it on television and cinema screens. I was tired, but happy, oh so happy! To-morrow I would walk down Broadway.

Later I would call on my uncle in Boston, and I would realise a life's ambition to lecture on Irish history to the Irish Society in Boston. And I would visit Philadelphia, and perhaps go up as far as Canada and look over the Niagara Falls.

My whole being thrilled, as I looked out over New York, the most fabulous city in the world. But I was tired, oh so tired! For I had been running around all day, trying to get in as much as I could, into the few short hours I had in New York. I gazed out over the city once more, and then decided to get the lift down. I had walked up, delaying on each floor, and had had dinner in the restaurant on the sixth floor.

Then my dream was shattered or was it? "Daddy, daddy!"
said a small voice. "There's a lovely new foreign stamp on this letter. Will you give it to me?"

I took the letter, sleepily, out of the hands of my seven-year-old daughter, and lazily opened it. In a moment I was wide awake. It was from my brother who was on holiday in Paris.
He never forgets a date. Today was my birthday, and there was his present, flipping about in my hand. And it came all the way from France,
a ticket for the next Irish Sweepstake.

What a lovely birthday gift,
and do you know, my birthday has always been a lucky day for me. Perhaps that ticket is worth £50,000. I almost believe that it is going to win, and then you can bet your bottom dollar I will be on the top of the Empire State building, looking out over Manhattan.

"Yes, darling," I said to my little girl, "of course you may have the stamp, all daddy wants is this Sweep Ticket."

FORMER RESIDENT'S DEATH

The death took place (suddenly) at Cloyne, Co. Cork, on Wednesday last week, of Mr.
William J. Jermyn. He was engaged in dismantling a shed
he had purchased when he collapsed and died. The late Mr.
Jermyn was a native of Ben-don, Co. Cork, and farmed extensively up to a few years ago at Ballyhamlet, Tallow,
when he disposed of his farm
and went to reside at Ballyfin, Cloyne, where he also farmed on a large scale. The news of his death at the early age of 50 years was received in this district with feelings of profound sorrow. He had endeavored himself to all by his many fine traits of character, not the least of which was his unfailing good humour. He was a well known follower of the West Waterford Hunt whilst resident here. He leaves a widow and three young children to mourn his loss, to whom, as well as to his mother brothers and sisters, we extend our deepest sympathy.

The remains were removed to St. Colman's Cathedral, Cloyne, and the funeral took place on Saturday last, after service, to St. Carthage's Church of Ireland Cemetery, Lismore.

LATE MRS. B. BURKE

The late Mrs. Bridget Burke, who died at St. Finbarr's Hospital, Cork, last week, was relict of the late James Burke, Cork. She was a native of Strancally, Knockanore, and was sister of Mr. Edmond Montayne, Strancally; Mrs. E.
Murray, Ballymeety, Tallow;
Mr. Pete Gillian, Youghal,
and Mrs. Scanlon, Lismore.

DEATH OF MR. BILL DAYLE

It is with deep regret we record the death of Mr. William (Bill) Doyle, Inch, Killeagh, which occurred at his residence
Ballintosis, Inch, last week.
He had reached an advanced age. Bill, though small in stature, was regarded as one of the best huntsmen ever to hunt
a pack of hounds.

The remains, accompanied by a large and representative cortege, were removed to St. Patrick's Church, Inch, and the funeral took place to Killeagh Cemetery on Friday, May 15th.

To his bereaved wife, son, daughter and relatives, we tender our deepest sympathy.
May his soul rest in peace.

BEET SINGLING CHAMPIONSHIPS AT BALLINCOURTY

Monday next will be a big pion Tom Beausany. Shanag-day at Ballincourty, when the Beet Singling championships
(Mallow Sugar Factory area) will be held on the land of Mr.
Richard Morrissey. The championships will commence at 6 p.m.

There are classes for senior
hoe (open); juvenile hoe; Macra na Tuaithe hoe, and a special competition confined to county Waterford entrants.
These championships were inaugurated in 1956 and were first held in Coachford. With each succeeding year they have gained considerably in popularity and importance, and this year it is expected that there will be over 80 competitors, which would constitute a record for these championships.
Last year's senior hoe champion Tom Beausany, Shanag-erry; juvenile titleholder, Wm.
O'Connor, Buttevant; and Macra na Tuaithe cup holder, Frances Hurley, Courtmac-sherry, are all expected to be defending their titles.

Senior personnel from the Irish Sugar Company's Headquarters in Dublin have been invited to have senior personnel from the Beet Growers Association.
The presentation of prizes will take place in the clubhouse at Ballincourty Golf links.
The Limestone Cup, presented to the C.A.O. Mr. P. Conroy, by the Agricultural Limestone Co., is the trophy for the competition confined to Co.
Waterford competitors.

Glen Rovers and Erins Own Meet in Cappoquin

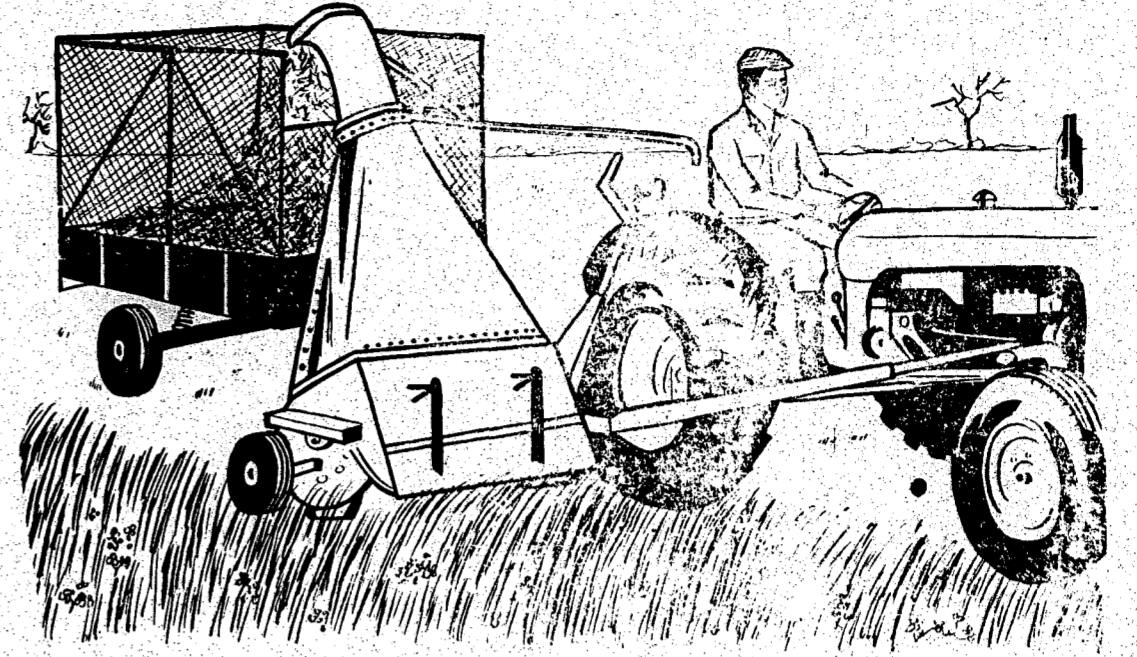

THE four club Cappoquin Gold Medal tournament gets under way on Sunday evening next at 7.45 with the first semi-final between Glen Rovers (Cork) and Erin's Own (Waterford). This game promises to provide a feast of hurling thrills and a huge crowd is expected to converge on the popular Cornerstone venue.

The participating teams are amongst the strongest club sides in the country and both can boast of a galaxy of inter-county stars. The very name of Christy Ring is sufficient to fill any Gaelic ground in the country, and the "Ringer's" name has been included on the Glen selection which was submitted to the Cappoquin club on Wednesday. True, he has been re-chosen on the Cork team to play Tipp. in a challenge earlier in the day at Cobh, but there is every hope that he will be available for a tilt with the Waterford club.

Besides Ring, the Glen can call on such established stars as Denis O'Riordan, Gerry J. O'Sullivan, Mick McCarthy, John Young, Patsy Hart, Tom Corbett and Leo Young, all of whom have worn the vivid red jersey of Cork. Another inter-county star who will be on duty will be Galway's long serving Joe Salmon who has been assisting the Glen for some years past.

Likewise the Erin's Own team includes men who have distinguished themselves on the inter-county fields. They include stars such as Jackie Joe Coady, Jim Irish, John D. O'Brien, E. Buckley, S Kenefick, D. O'Riordan, G. O'Sullivan, M. McCarthy, J. Salmon, J. Young, P. Hart, T. Corbett, M. Lane, D. Moore, L. Young, Allen, F. O'Regan, N. Lynam, Kelly, J. Phelan, J. Coady, J. T. Walsh, J. Meaney (capt.), T. Walsh, W. Walsh, J. Murphy, J. Duggan, L. Murphy, M. Farrell, M. Dowling, P. Hannigan, P. Nolan and J. Prendergast.

"Can you afford to be without Silage next Winter?"

- * Grass silage is the cheapest and best winter food for cattle.
- * Leafy grass about to ear out makes the best silage.
- * Ensure bulk or quantity by generous manuring. You will be disappointed with results from mature, starchy silage.
- * Ask your Agricultural Instructor to help you with your silage problems.

TRIBUTE TO THE LATE T. A. SPRATT

We take the following tribute to the late Thomas A. Spratt, from "Milling", the well-known British magazine. Millers in many parts of Ireland were shocked to hear of the tragic death on April 22 of Mr. Thomas Spratt, B.Agr. Sc., at the age of 34. He was involved in a fatal road accident near Clonmel, Co. Tipperary. Mr. Spratt was one of the most popular Agricultural Advisers on the staff of Vitamealo (Ireland) Ltd.

Tom Spratt graduated from University College, Dublin, with the degree of Bachelor of Agricultural Science, in 1956 and became an advisor on the staff of the Cork Co. Committee of Agriculture. In 1957 he joined Vitamealo Ltd. and became one of their first specialists in pig farming in Ireland.

He lectured widely on his subject and his opinions were sought and valued by many. In fact the evening before his death he had lectured to a large attendance at Ashford, Co. Wicklow, accompanied by Mr. J. O'Brien, M.R.C.V.S. of Vitamealo advisory staff, London, who was injured in the crash but is now recovering. We are pleased to report.

Tom Spratt lectured and advised with the voice of practical experience, for he kept his own herd of pedigree Landrace pigs on his farm at Carrigaline, Co. Cork. His ready humour and sincere advice will be sadly missed by his many miller and farming friends. The extent of which he was held in esteem was demonstrated by the attendance at his funeral when the church, holding 1,500 people, had an overflow congregation of several hundreds, and the esteem which his fellow graduates held for him was equally shown by the fact that at least 57 of them attended the funeral.

The sympathy which goes out to his wife and children cannot be measured, nor can the loss which Ireland, as a developing agricultural nation has suffered by the tragic and untimely death of Tom Spratt.

GORSE FIRE

When a gorse fire ran riot on the hilltop at Robert's Cross overlooking Dungarvan, the local fire brigade was called out to deal with it shortly before 3 a.m. this morning. The fire spread rapidly along the hillside and at one stage threatened a number of houses in the area. The brigade fought the fire for more than an hour before bringing it under control.

HIGHLIGHTS OF MAYOR'S RECEPTION

In Dungarvan Courthouse, Archdeacon Power welcomes Mayor and Mrs. Daley

Mrs. T. A. Kyne, on behalf of the County Council, then presented Mrs. Daley with a panoramic picture of county Waterford scenery...

Welcoming Mayor Daley at Old Parish, Mr. M. Harty, M.C.C., said: "Mr. Mayor, it is with the greatest pleasure that I bid you welcome to this place...

Replying to the Civic Welcome given to him, Mayor Daley said no one could come to this great land without becoming emotional...

greatly to a world wide understanding of the brotherhood of man. In Old Parish, the Mayor met two of his relatives, Mrs. Bridie Smith, Coolagh Road, Dungarvan and Mrs. Frances O'Donnell, Grattan Square, Dungarvan...

Included in the attendance at the Dungarvan reception were: Mr. Sean Ormonde, T.D.; Mr. Teddy Lynch, T.D.; Alderman T. Brennan, Mayor of Waterford; Mr. E. Power, Chairman, Traillmore Town Commissioners; Mr. J. Ormonde, B.E., Dungarvan; Mr. P. Walsh, B.E., do.; Mr. P. I. Power, do., and members of the Urban and County Councils.

He thanked them for the kindness, friendship and hospitality shown to him and his wife. The people of Chicago, he said, had a great love for the people of Ireland and particularly Dungarvan and he hoped they would continue to march together in pursuance of success and prosperity for all.

"My profound thanks for everything," he continued. "Yes we are proud of our ancestry, and it is a deep pride. In the ancient language 'Beatha agus Slainte.'"

The Mayor surrounded by well-wishers on his arrival in town his ancestors. Unjust laws and inhuman conditions drove generation after generation of our people from this their beloved native land...

Without wealth, without education, without influence, they were sustained in their hazardous adventure by stout hearts, deep love of human freedom and above all by their splendid Catholic Faith.

The chief mourners were: William O'Sullivan, Island (brother); Mrs. Kieley, Gurnadaha and Mrs. Lindon, Ballygurry (sisters); also nephews and nieces, etc.

Deepest sympathy is extended to his brother, sisters, nephews and nieces. The remains were removed to St. Mary's Parish Church, on Monday, May 11th and were received and blessed by Fr. Power, C.C. and Fr. Byrne, C.C. The interment took place on Tuesday, with Fr. Power, officiating at the graveside.

The Waterford camogie team commencing its assault on the Munster championship crown on Sunday next when they face Kerry in the opening game at Kilmathomas (3.30). The Waterford team will not be selected until shortly before the game but it is not expected that they will have too much difficulty in disposing of the Kindom girls.

SALARY INCREASES REJECTED. (Continued from Front Page) Mr. Dowler said that whilst he would like to see more instructors employed at more reasonable salaries, he would have to oppose these increases if they meant raising an overdraft.

Mr. Foran — We're only wasting our time discussing it. Mr. Walsh said he didn't want to hear anyone say that. He would continue to exercise his democratic right on this committee and also on the Vocational Committee.

Mr. Curran said he had opposed increases on the Vocational Committee also. The C.A.O. in reply to further questions by Mr. Walsh said that each instructor would receive about £200 a year by the increase.

Mr. Walsh said the Conciliation and Arbitration Boards were there to take the power away from the elected representatives. They had a new aristocracy in the country and they were the officials at national and local level. It was they who were ruining the country and not the local representatives. The 12% was the greatest millstone around the necks of the ratepayers of the country since they got their independence. There was a tragedy facing them. Mr. Walsh's proposal that they reject the increases was then put to the meeting and passed unanimously. Mr. Curran's proposal was also unanimously passed.

GRASS PRODUCTION COMPETITION

Macra na Feirme members throughout the country are taking part in the National Grass Production competition, which is being sponsored by Gouldings Fertilisers Ltd. to draw attention to the value of grass as a crop and encourage better management and utilisation.

The competition, which is being staged for the second time is held every two years. Only members of Macra na Feirme are eligible to compete.

Farmers taking part must keep a set of records on their management and utilisation of grass during the year. The records will then be processed and winners in each county will be selected. A panel of national judges will then visit all the county winners, and select the national champion.

Four points which the judges will consider are—

1.—The quality of their land in regard to its ability to grow grass with particular reference to soils and drainage;

2.—The amount of grass produced as indicated by the stocking density and condition of sward at the time of inspection;

3.—Grassland policy including type of sward—proportion of ley or dold pasture; the botanical nature of swards; fertiliser policy; the length of the grazing season; system of grazing; conservation—method and adequacy.

4.—Efficiency of grassland utilisation for the particular enterprises on the competitor's farm.

N.F.A. NEWS N.F.A. AND N.F.U. MEET IN DUBLIN

A meeting of the Joint National Farmers' Association/ Ulster Farmers' Union Consultative Committee was held, last week, at N.F.A. Headquarters in Dublin, under the Chairmanship of Mr. Rickard Deasy, President N.F.A.

Among the matters under discussion were present and future problems of international trade in agricultural products; the N.F.A. scheme for the eradication of Warbles and livestock diseases in general, and the Northern Ireland scheme for the eradication of Brucellosis. It was mutually agreed that the possibility of introducing a joint scheme for the complete eradication of Warbles in this island should be seriously examined. The marketing of wool and of livestock was discussed. Views were exchanged on the respective Annual Reviews.

Attention was also given to agricultural developments at home and in the E.E.C. Views on matters under consideration at the recent IFAP (International Federation of Agricultural Producers) meeting in Washington and for consideration at the forthcoming IFAP general meeting in New Zealand were also exchanged.

Arrangements were made for joint meetings at the forthcoming Balmoral Show in Belfast on the marketing of vegetables and seed potatoes.

The significance of the emergence in the commercial field of farmers' buying and selling groves was also considered. The Ulster Farmers' Union was represented by the President, Mr. A. G. Algeo, C.B.E., J.P., who was accompanied by the Deputy President, Mr. J. Martin, J.P., and the Junior Deputy President, Mr. W. M. Buchanan, The General Secretary, Mr. J. O'Brien, was also present.

The National Farmers' Association was represented by Mr. Rickard Deasy, President, the Vice-President for Ulster, Mr. A. M. Smith, and the Chairman of the Industrial Committee, Mr. T. Bluke, The General Secretary, Mr. Sean Healy, the Economic Adviser, Mr. J. Howley, and the Livestock Consultant, Mr. P. Harnett, were also in attendance.

NEW UNDERTAKING FOR N.F.A.

An N.F.A. Wool Co-operative has been formed. Following National Council's approval of the formation of such a co-operative time ago a joint meeting was held recently of the N.F.A. Sheep and Wool Committee and the Wool Council.

At it, it was proposed by John Casey of Galway and seconded by John Callanan, ex-Vice-President for Connaught that a co-op should be formed. The resolution was unanimously accepted and at the moment share capital is being collected.

The new co-op will buy wool in centres to be selected and will cater for the 26 counties.

Branches wishing to participate in this scheme should apply to Central Office immediately for full details. It should be remembered, however, that a minimum of 10,000 lbs. of wool must be offered each day if a particular centre is to be chosen.

IRISH FARMERS REPRESENTED IN WASHINGTON

The President of the N.F.A., Mr. Rickard Deasy was in Washington recently where the first joint meeting of the North American and European Committees of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers, was held.

The meeting constituted in effect a further attempt on the part of the farmers of the various countries to reconcile their conflicting interests with a view to presenting the most united front possible in the present circumstances to Governments and international organisations, particularly in regard to the world's present conceptions of agricultural production and marketing.

COMING CHANGES IN DAIRY INDUSTRY

Milk is very much in the news at the moment and likely to be still more so in the coming months. The amalgamation of five co-operative creamery societies in county Waterford making the new body the third largest co-operative in Ireland, has fired the amalgamation of farmers.

Last week the new group, called, Waterford Cooperative Society Ltd., held its first committee meeting and appointed its officers. Up to this the suppliers to the Dungarvan Creamery were getting the highest milk price in the county; now this price will apply to all suppliers. A quality bonus will also be given. It is interesting to note that after a year working of the bonus scheme, 75% of the milk now comes within the top two grades, while only 0.29% of the milk was rejected on grounds of souring or sediment.

In practically all the counties with creameries, farmers are shaking their heads and wondering whether they can help to rationalise this industry in their own areas.

Recently in Co. Limerick the Kilmallock branch of the N.F.A. called a special meeting as a result of which it was decided to examine creamery organisation generally and the best form of reorganisation for county Limerick creameries because "indication are that considerably more is being lost by the farmers through inadequate creamery organisation than has been gained by the recent price increase."

Mr. E. O'Connell, B.Agr.Sc., Newcastle West Development Society told those present at the meeting that County Limerick has: (a) the highest concentration of dairy cows in Ireland; (b) the highest percentage of cows supplying milk to creameries; (c) the highest number of creameries in proportion to its size—by far and away the highest number of co-operatives; (d) the highest average output of milk; and (e) one quarter of the milk supply going to the co-operative creameries and it has one-sixth of the whole milk supply of Ireland.

WHO WILL SET A LEAD?

The American expert Dr. Knapp in his report on Agricultural Cooperation in Ireland said that "it does not seem reasonable to continue the Dairy Disposal Company as a State-operated business when farmers could free the State of this responsibility and in the long run better perform this service themselves." This applies to seventeen creameries in counties Cork, Kerry, Limerick, Tipperary and Clare.

The Taoiseach said in Limerick a short time ago that "One of the great problems of farming, especially a short farming, especially in our Western counties, is its smallness of scale. The big farm has the big factory has advantages in its ability to mechanise production, to sell in large quantities and to buy raw materials at the most advantageous prices. The small farmer, standing alone, is at a great disadvantage in regard to mechanisation, purchase of materials and marketing. He has, however, an answer to these problems if he is willing to use it. Smaller farmers can triumph over their disadvantages by coming together in cooperative societies. The road to better living for smaller farmers lies through cooperation. In the Scandinavian countries, the Netherlands and Belgium, cooperation has brought very great benefits to small farmers. In our own country, too, we have several progressive cooperative societies—mainly in the dairying districts—which have been of very considerable help to our small farmers. Unfortunately, however, there are still many parts of the country where cooperation has made little headway."

"The Minister for Agriculture after consultation with the I.A.O.S., arranged last year for Dr. Knapp, a leading expert on agricultural cooperation in the United States Department of Agriculture, to report on the agricultural cooperative movement in this country. We would wish to see the publication of Dr. Knapp's very readable report made the starting point for a great revival and growth in public interest in the possibilities of cooperation. This report is a stimulating and constructive document which should be extremely helpful in planning the strengthening and extension of our cooperative movement."

Mr. J. Hennigan, Chairman of the Dairy Disposal Board is on record as saying that "farmers are not showing any inclination in recent times to take over the creameries that still remain in the hands of the Dairy Disposal Company. Our attitude is a completely neutral one. If co-ops are formed and they are prepared to take on the work we are doing, they are welcome to it."

In a very real sense, farmers in Dairy Disposal Board Creamery areas are at the cross roads. It is felt by more progressive men that the time has now come for farmers to cooperativise all creameries. Last week 24 meetings were held in Clare by officers of the N.F.A. in order to acquaint farmers with the position as it is and the steps that must be taken if they are to take over the creameries in question. Between 85% and 90% of the farmers concerned are anxious to get all the information available. Most of them believe that the cooperative road is the right one to take but in the absence of details on how and when this could be done, plus how much time, effort and possible cash would be involved, has made some of them hesitate. This is to be expected. The N.F.A. in the county is very conscious of that other statement of Dr. Knapp who said that before the Dairy Disposal Company Units are set up as cooperatives "meetings would need to be held so that the people to be served would know just why the change is taking place and why it should be essential to their long-term interest." Within the next fortnight it is expected that close on forty meetings will be held in the areas concerned, and already other counties are watching there, because in the particular circumstances dwelling in Clare, this might well prove a pilot project in a new form of development. Many eyes are on Clare at the moment.

HARRIER'S DANCE

We wish to direct the attention of our readers to the fact that Kinsalebeg Cashmore Harrier Club will hold a grand dance at Piltown Hall, on Thursday, 28th May. For full details see advt. in this issue.

VILLIERS TOWN

Last week we referred to the natural beauties of Villiers town area and to its potentialities as a tourist attraction. We should mention that the river Blackwater at this point is ideal for water skiing and on several evenings recently, visitors could be seen indulging in this exhilarating pastime.

GARDA TRANSFER

Garda Thomas Corcoran has been transferred from Villiers town to Cappoquin and he is to be replaced by Garda J. Green, Piltown, Co. Kilkenny. Garda Corcoran, who is a native of Templemore area, is a most popular and respected young man and a courteous and efficient peace officer. His many friends join in wishing him well.

LOCAL WORKS

The County Engineer has informed Mr. C. Curran, M.C.C., of the following allocations: £3,000 for beach protection at Ardmore, in an effort to prevent further erosion; £300 to repair sea wall at Ardmore; £100 to repair sea wall at Ferryport; £400, Ballinacorney Road; £400, Villiers town Ferry Road; £250, Coonacree Road; £1,000, Ballylondon; £450, Ballingown; £1,170, Graliagh.

Lismore Notes

DEATH OF MR. M. BRODERICK

It is with deep and sincere regret we record the death of Mr. Michael Broderick, Monasterville, Lismore, which sad event occurred at Ardkeen Hospital, Waterford, in the early hours of last Tuesday morning, 19th May.

The deceased gentleman, more popularly known to his many friends as Mick, was a member of the farming community and his untimely death after a very short illness at a comparatively young age has been received with much regret.

He will be sadly missed by all, but more especially by his sorrowing wife, sons and daughters, and all other relatives, to whom we tender our deepest sympathy.

The remains were removed to St. Carthage's Church, on Tuesday evening, and were received and blessed by Very Rev. Canon Dunphy, F.R., V.F., assisted by Rev. Fr. Slattery, C.C., and Rev. Fr. Queally, C.C., and the interment took place on Wednesday in the adjoining cemetery, the same clergy officiating at the graveside. Large and representative corteges attended both funeral and burial.

CONDOLENCE

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Norah Scanon, Chapel St., Lismore, and to Mrs. William Power, Strough, Lismore, on the death of their sister, Mrs. Burke, which sad event occurred in Cork last week.

Sympathy is also extended to Mrs. Hornbrook, Hill Cottage, Lismore, on the death of her brother, Mr. William Jermy, which sad event occurred in Cloyne, last week.

HIGHWATER WEEK ENDING 30th MAY

Table with 2 columns: Day, Morning, Evening. Rows: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday.

SALMON FISHING

There was an all-round increase in the number of salmon taken last week in the various types of nets and it was noted with satisfaction that the fish were a better quality and heavier than those taken early in the season. With only nine weeks to go before the close of the netting season it is hoped that his improvement will continue to the end.

LOCAL ENTERPRISE

For some time, an industry on a small scale has been in operation, unknown to a good many, namely the making of sprays. These articles are artistically finished by the promoters Miss N. Ferran and Mrs. K. Taylor (sisters), of Seafield Road, Youghal. They have found a ready market and are on show in many departmental stores in the towns and cities. In addition, large stocks have been sent to U.S.A. by air.

FIRST HOLY COMMUNION

One hundred and sixteen boys and girls from the Presentation and Loretto Convent Schools, received their First Holy Communion at St. Mary's Parish Church, last weekend, when the Church was crowded to capacity. The 8 o'clock Mass was celebrated by the Parish Priest, Very Rev. Canon Sheehan, assisted by Rev. D. Reidy, C.C. The children were in charge of Mrs. M. Hartnett and the Misses Grady, Harrington, Collins and Kennedy.

CAR PARK

At a recent meeting of the U.D. Council, the matter of making a large car park in the Mall, was discussed during which a member stated that the residents on the Mall had approved of the proposal which meant the demolition of the old Mall Wall. The residents, through a deputation, agreed to the demolition of the wall, on certain conditions and alterations to be carried out by the Council prior to taking down of the wall, which acts as a buffer against flooding from the sea.

OLD YOUGHAL WORK-HOUSE BUILDINGS

The Youghal U.D.C. have been asked by the Corp Health Authority if the Council is prepared to acquire the site and premises for the purpose of building houses. It was decided to ask the Health Authority what price is expected for the site.

WHIT WEEKEND

Youghal was bathed in brilliant sunshine on Sunday last, when there was a very large influx of visitors to the town, mostly by road. For the first time this year C.I.E. ran an attractive train service to Youghal, three down and three back each day. It was not well patronised as only 800 travelled for the two days. The Promenade beach as well as at Piltown and Redbarn were crowded, most of whom had travelled by car or bus, on Sunday, but there was a considerable falling off on Monday when there were intermittent showers and a strong S.W. wind. The hotels had their busiest Whit weekend for many years. A large number of cross-channel visitors were in town for the weekend.

STRAND SHELTER

The present shelter on the front strand, which is indeed an eyesore, is to be overhauled and painted for the coming summer, and the Council's staff are busy making a general clean-up and whitewashing of the dead walls in the town.

THE GREEN PARK

The planting of shrubs and plants in the Green Park is now well under way and the Council has spent a great deal of money in this respect. The Council is now appealing to the public for plants or shrubs which are urgently required both for the park itself and the rockery at the Light.

BRONCHIAL COUGH ELIXIR

For Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis. We can confidently recommend this preparation. Price 4/- Available from: M. C. Flynn, M.P.S.I., Dungarvan. Phone 253.

The Council has the full co-operation in this matter from the Youghal Show Society. Persons with plants, etc., to spare, are asked to get in touch with the Town Clerk at the Town Hall.

YOUGHAL BOAT CLUB

Boat owners are very busy for the past few weeks in getting their crafts ready for the summer season and the regatta to be held in mid-June. They have acquired a large shed and yard at the North Main Street with electric light installed and members of the Youghal Boat Club are to be seen there busy engaged each night. Some crafts have already been launched, but the owners did not have out, due to the weather conditions. Some of them took to the water on Sunday, but were not able to get outside the harbour mouth due to the strong westerly gale.

YOUGHAL RETREAT

The Retreat for the men and boys of the parish was opened at the Parish Church, on Sunday last, when the Church was packed to capacity. There is a large attendance at both the evening devotions and early morning Mass and the Retreat is being conducted by two Redemptorist Fathers, Rev. Fr. C. O'Connell and Rev. Fr. Cleary. The closing will take place on Sunday, at 7 o'clock.

LATE MRS. ELLEN O'SHEA

In connection with the death of the late Mrs. Ellen O'Shea, "Kingshead", London, the following Mass cards were received:—

John O'Shea (husband), London; Danny, John, Richard (sons), do.; Maureen (daughter), Albert and Angie, do.; Monnie, Nora and Francis, Garranbane; Mrs. May Blake, Peacemaven; Johnny, Kitty and Pat Ryan, Leamybrien; Mrs. Alice Bushby, London; Josie and Christy, Burke, Keating Reidy, C.C. The children were in charge of Mrs. M. Hartnett and the Misses Grady, Harrington, Collins and Kennedy. Later the children were entertained at the Presentation Convent Schools with their mothers.

Promoters Prizes: Anna and J. Nagle; Mrs. D. O'Sullivan and Rya Brennan; Mrs. Alice Burke; Mr. Wm. O'Meara; Peggy and K. Maguire; Miss Mary Finn and H. Flynn.

GAELIC JOTTINGS

LATE PADRAIG O'CAOLIMH

The Gaelic Athletic Association lost one of its greatest figures last week-end with the passing of its general secretary, Padraig O'Caolmh.

For 35 long years he efficiently commanded the exacting post of General Secretary, during which time his name became a household word with every Gaelic fan.

He transformed Croke Park from the ordinaryness of any G.A.A. ground into the magnificent stadium it is today and Croke Park in all its splendour will forever stand as a fitting monument to his memory.

His funeral was one of the largest ever seen in Dublin and was representative of every County Board in the country.

In a lifetime we can expect to meet only one Padraig O'Caolmh and to-day we mourn the Association's great loss.

PHELAN CUP GAME AT CAPPOQUIN

The 1964 Phelan Cup competition continues on Sunday next with the meeting of Geraldines and Valley Rovers at Cappoquin.

This will be the Valleys senior debut in competitive fare, and they will be anxious to start off with a morale-boosting win. For the occasion they hope to field their full-strength fifteen, and their performance should be an accurate guide as to their immediate prospects in the highest grade.

The Geraldines have not been shaping too well of late, and suffered a shock defeat at the hands of Cappoquin in a recent challenge. They will be extra keen to get back on the winning trail and they can expect a very stern challenge from the Derrinlaure brigade.

This is a very open tie, that should be very informative as to the championship chances of both.

HURLERS PREPARE WITHOUT CHEASTY

Under P.T. expert Jack Frazer, of Tallow, the Waterford hurling panel is in strict training at Walsh Park, Waterford in preparation for the defence of their Munster crown.

As yet, however, the controversial Ballyduff man, Tom Cheasty, has not turned up to any of the sessions, although it is general opinion that he will be seen back in the county colours this year.

Others who have been conspicuous by their absence are Joe Condon, Jim Irish and Tommy Hearne and it is certainly to be hoped that these players will show a little more interest in the proceedings in the future. After all they have been honoured by selection on the panel and they are expected to at least respect that honour.

FAT FANNING FOR U.S.

Pat Fanning, Chairman of Munster Council and one of the Vice-Presidents of the Association will leave for the United States on Thursday next where he deputises for the President, Alf Murray, at the National Hurling League final between Tipp and New York. Last weekend the Mt. Sion man was at the Wembley games and then flew back to Dublin for the funeral of the late Padraig O'Caolmh.

MINOR FOOTBALLERS TACKLE CORK ON SUNDAY

On Sunday next Waterford's

minor footballers travel to Fermoy where they meet Cork in the opening round of the Munster championship.

To-date it hasn't been a very auspicious championship for the Deise county with the defeats of the junior footballers and intermediate hurlers, and now Sunday's brigade faces one of the stiffest tests imaginable.

The Waterford team was selected on Wednesday night but at the time of writing I have not heard it. However, whilst expecting them to put up a good showing I doubt if they can concede ground advantage to opponents as formidable as Cork and the Leicesters must be given the vote to advance to the semi-final.

PLAYERS SUSPENDED

Mattie Mulcahy (Ardmore) and Bunny Ronayne (Geraldines) were each suspended for three months after being sent off in a Winter hurling league game at Dungarvan. Incidentally Mulcahy leaves for the U.S. at the end of the month and Ardmore will certainly miss the services of this great player. To him the writer extends best wishes in the land of the skyscrapers.

Tourin, At Full Strength, May Just Get There

THIS week I reiterate a phrase I used ere now. It is "when steel meets steel the result is inevitable," and I find it appropriate to use it now. I find it appropriate to use it now. I find it appropriate to use it now. I find it appropriate to use it now.

Tourin and Cappoquin at Dungarvan. Over the years neither club has professed any great love for the other and sparks—legitimate ones we hope, are certain to fly when they cross camans at the famed Old Boro venue.

MICK LACEY, ... Cappoquin's solid Centreback.

MICKY O'CONNOR ... A Stylish Cornerstone defender.

Ever since the sides were drawn against each other followers have patiently awaited the hurling showdown, and as the hour draws nigh tension in the rival camps is reaching a near unbearable pitch. Both sides are quite adamant as to how the game will go and whilst one of them must be wrong, the only certainty seems to be the prediction that an enthralling game and nothing less will decide the outcome.

It is quite some time now since the teams have met in competitive fare. In fact it is ever, is whether or not goal-keeping spot is likely to go to John O'Donoghue and the sheet anchor of the defence is likely to be their half line of Mickey O'Connor, Mickie Lacey and Andy O'Keefe. This trio are top class hurlers and their duels with the opposing half forwards should be amongst the highlights of the hour.

It seems reasonable to presume that midfield duties will be shared by Roger O'Shea whilst the Frasers, Eddie, Paddy and Mickie and Maurice Kelleher will cause problems for the Tourin defence.

And what of Cappoquin? Fortunately, they have no injury problems and with their ability to field a fully fit and well-trained team, will not hear of defeat. But like Tourin, their mentors will not convene until Sunday morning and when running the rule over their playing personnel I must adhere for the most part to "presumption."

So there you have it. Rivals that are amongst the keenest in the game in the county stand poised to do championship battle. All the ingredients are there for a thrill consuming hour in which quarter will certainly be neither given nor asked.

As stated the odds are slightly on a Cappoquin victory and this I expect if Tourin are forced to line-out without Tom Doocey and Frank McGrath. But with a full-strength team my vote goes to the hard-hitting Touriners to emerge victors by a slender margin.

An air of supreme confidence sweeps the club and when I spoke to one prominent official he was quite emphatic that they would prevail with some-thing to spare.

Nor of course are Tourin any less confident "of doing the trick." If anything they must be classed the underdogs, but that fact alone will I'm told merely act as an added incentive to them. As one playing member so aptly put it—"if it's the last thing we do we'll win it."

a challenge game some months ago but so much understrength were the respective sides on that occasion that no significance can be attached to it and one certainly cannot accept it as a guide to next Sunday's tie.

Both teams have undergone strenuous preparation which in itself is a further guarantee that the pace will be a cracker for the hour. Cappoquin seem particularly pleased at the choice of venue and it is their contention that the vast expanse of the Fraher Field will be to their advantage, against opponents whose speed limitations they believe will be glaringly exposed.

But Tourin, as a precautionary measure, have really put their minds to training, and on enquiry during the week was assured that each and every member of the side would be capable of lasting the most gruelling of paces. The major outlet of necessity the team will not be selected until Sunday morning.

But should these players be available the Cappoquin attack will face a mammoth task. That Tourin defence on paper at least looks very strong and there will be no easy way past men like Wally Doocey, Johnny Gorman and that hurling stylist Ollie Wilkinson.

Rumours the Jimmy Gorman might also be kept out of the game by a knee injury can be dispelled. The second of these hurling brothers has formed an ideal midfield partnership with Tommy Regan and whatever pairing the opposition may pit against them they will not be readily mastered.

What the composition of their attack is likely to be is something I would not care to hazard a guess on. Apparently the have a surplus of candi-

ABBEYSIDE WIN FIRST LEG OF MARQUIS OF WATERFORD CUP

Abbeyside 2; Maryville 1.

In their first round (first leg) of the Marquis of Waterford Cup, played at Clonea Park, on Sunday last, Abbeyside Utd., had a rather fortunate one-goal victory over city rivals Maryville. Abbeyside must now travel to Waterford for the second leg with only a one-goal advantage, and will have to show vast improvement if they hope to advance further in the competition.

Taken on the whole, this was a rather poor game, with neither side producing any real method in their play. One must give credit to the Abbeyside forwards, however, who at least took the couple of scoring chances that came their way.

Maryville won the toss and elected to play with a very stiff breeze to their backs and were immediately on the offensive. They dominated the play for the first twenty minutes and if their shooting had been on par with their approach work, they would have been at least three goals to the good. As it turned out, however, and completely against the run of the play, it was Abbeyside who opened the scoring, when, following some
