One Vote Majority for Teachers Increase

AT last Tuesday's meeting of Waterford Vocational Education Committee it was decided by seven votes to six to grant 12% to the Vocational staff. This had been rejected at a previous meeting of the Committee, but came before Tuesday's meeting in the form of a notice of motion signed by Deputy T. A. Kyne and counter-signed by three other members.

Deputy Kyne said he did not think there was any great need to elaborate on his motion, or his reasons for putting it. The Minister directed that the members should implement this increase which the Committee defeated and he accordingly moved, his notice of motion.

Fined for Careless Driving

Mrs. Eileen Lishane, Mullinahorna, Ring, was fined 10/- at Dungarvan District Court on Wednesday when convicted of careless driving on the Youghal road about one mile from Dungarvan. The original charge was one of dangerous driving but by consent of Supt. Fanning, prosecuting, and defending solicitor, the charge was reduced.

It was stated in evidence that the defendant crashed into a stationary car on the Youghal road.

Boreenatra Tenants in Court

Six tenants of Boreenatra, Dungarvan, appeared before the local District Court on Wednesday on charges of stealing cement blocks the property of Dungarvan Urban Council.

The defendants were: Timothy O'Neill, Bridget Nagle, Josephine Nagle, Bridget McShane, Terence Moroney, Daniel McGovern. Two other defendants—James Needham and James Street who were not in court had their cases adjourned.

Supt. Fanning said 20 houses had been built in Boreenatra and it was intended to build 14 more at the rear of them. The Contractors had the footings laid for these 14 and in fact the gable ends of six of them had been built to a height of 31 feet. The work, however, was not completed and a number of blocks had been removed from the place.

The Guards were notified and Sgt. Hayes and Garda Doherty interviewed the defendants. All admitted taking the blocks. One of the defendants said he took them because everyone else was taking them.

Judge Skinner—You can't take public property because it is lying there.

All the defendants said they would return the blocks. Judge Skinner adjourned the cases to the next court to see if the blocks would be returned.

MODELIGO MAN HEAVILY FINED Suspended From Driving For Two Years

Kieran Reddy, a 21-year-old labourer of Modeligo, Cappagh, had his driving license suspended for two years and was fined a total of £10 with £26.8 expenses at Dungarvan District Court on Wednesday when found guilty on a "hit and run" charge at Cusheam on May 31st last. The defendant was charged with dangerous driving and failing to stop at the scene of an accident.

Mr. Edward Ryan said he was home on holiday from England at the time. On the night in question at about 10.15 p.m. he was driving to Dungarvan. He saw an oncoming car and thought its steering had gone wrong. He stopped and pulled as near to his own side as possible to let it go by. He had his lights dimmed but the other car had its lights full on. After stopping his car got a bang and the other car drove on.

Garda O'Mahoney, Dungarvan, said he visited the area later that night and saw a patch of mud on the road about 75 yards west of Cusheam Junction on the left side of the road facing Dungarvan. He also found chrome plating from Mr. Ryan's car on the road. When he interviewed the defendant he cautioned him and admitted being in an accident. He examined his car at Springfield and it appeared to have been damaged and freshly painted over with black paint. Both door handles on the right appeared to be a different type from the ones on the left.

In his statement the defendant said he was coming from Cappoquin and had two large stout at Flanagan's of Cappagh and one in Dungarvan. He then proceeded to Carrick-on-Suir to a dance. He had other passengers in the car with him.

Approaching Cusheam Junction he saw a car coming against him. He went on the white line. As the cars passed he heard a slight bang and he was about to stop when one of the passengers in the back said "keep going." Further on he stopped and it was then he missed the handles gone off the door and the paint scratches.

In direct evidence, the defendant said he was travelling at about 45 miles an hour at the time. The oncoming car was travelling fairly fast and had his full lights on. He hit a glancing blow off his (defendant's) car and he attempted to stop but one of the lads in the back told him to keep going.

Judge Skinner said he was inclined to send him to jail for one month for not stopping. He hit a car, got away, and then insisted it next morning. He then imposed the fines stated above, and suspended the defendant from driving for two years.

Young Modeligo Farmer Loses Life

A 20-year-old farmer, John Fitzgerald, Newtown, Modeligo, tragically lost his life on Monday last, when part of a quarry in which he was working, caved in and partially covered him. He was killed instantly.

The accident occurred about 1 p.m. in a quarry situated in an area known locally as "The Murdering Glen." He was drawn down by material with which he was working. The deceased was a most popular young man in his native parish and has been closely connected with Ballinacoola Macra na Feirme for a number of years. He would have been twenty-one years in October.

The deceased was loading the building material onto a tractor trailer when part of the quarry caved in on him. His working companion, James Cahill, Farnane, Cappagh, went to his assistance immediately but found he was dead.

He was selder son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fitzgerald, Newtown, Modeligo. He has one brother, David, Newtown, and three sisters, Sr. Eucharist, Mercy Convent, Dungarvan, Breda, Mary and Nora, Newtown.

At the removal of the remains to Modeligo Parish Church, on Tuesday evening a guard of honour was formed by his fellow members of Ballinacoola Macra na Feirme. The cortege was one of the largest ever seen in the area. The remains were received by Rev. Fr. Hally, P.P., and burial took place in the adjoining cemetery after 10.30 a.m. on Wednesday, again in the presence of a huge concourse.

SITE FOR MOBILE SCHOOL

SPECIAL MEETING WILL DECIDE

COUNTY WATERFORD VOCATIONAL EDUCATION COMMITTEE will hold a special meeting on Monday June 22nd, to decide where the Mobile School will be sited for the school season 1964/65. At last Tuesday's meeting the members considered applications from Tallow and one from Knockanore and decided to adjourn their final decision until the special meeting, when the question of cost and staffing would be carefully considered.

The C.E.O. (Mr. J. Rushe) for Fr. Power and Mr. Montayne on behalf of the people of Knockanore, he would have to advise the committee to accept Tallow.

Mr. Fahey said it was a pity to have to forego one for the other. Could they not get data about staff and cost etc. and try to cater for both areas.

Mr. Denis Montayne said if they could get the Mobile School in Knockanore it would mean a lot to the area. They were in a remote locality, being 10 miles from Youghal, and nine miles from Cappoquin and nine miles from Tallow.

Mr. Rushe said if the school was in Tallow it would in actual fact be a fully fledged vocational school with only the metal work class missing. In Knockanore there would be no day classes although he could visualise evening and night classes.

Mr. John Fahey asked if it would be possible to find building in Tallow and give Knockanore the Mobile School.

Deputy Kyne said they could not staff both. It would have to be one or the other.

Acting Chairman Mr. Norman Walsh said he knew of a building in Tallow and it would be suitable. He was not at liberty however, to disclose just now.

Supt. Fanning said on 27th March last, Mr. Joseph Foley had been working the bulldozer in Ring. When finished work, he left it there but when he returned to work on the following Tuesday he found it had been moved and driven. It was damaged to the extent of £385. The matter was reported to the Garda and when questioned the defendant admitted taking the machine. In a statement he said he took it and regret having the to remove rocks in a neighbourhood's respect for the efforts of the school. He used it for only

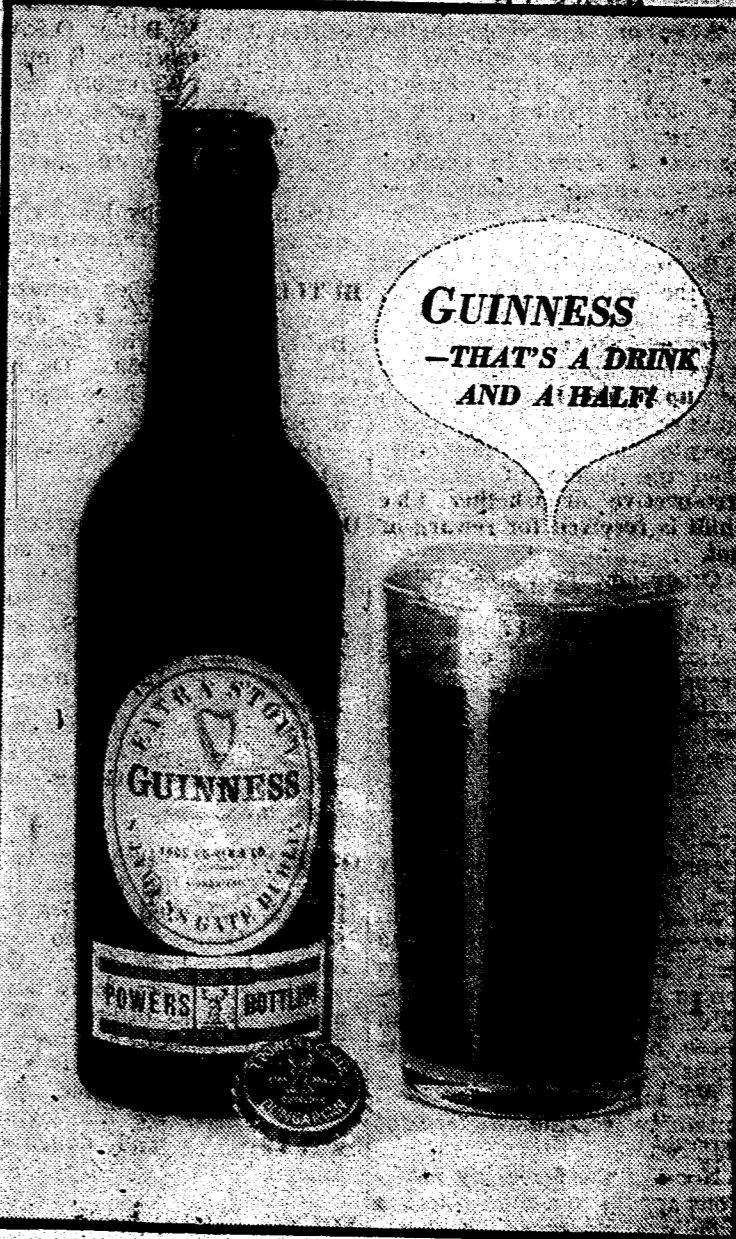

Mr. M. J. Lavan, Solr., said the defendant's father had 17 children and it was done in innocence.

Mr. E. P. King, Solr., on behalf of Mr. Fennell said their prospects of recovering the money from the ratepayers was practically nil. Mr. Fennell, however, carried out a lot of repairs himself and even by getting the necessary parts at cost it would still come to a minimum of £400.

Mr. Fennell said the work done by the bulldozer suggested the defendant had it for two hours.

Judge Skinner—This man must get some compensation. Judge Skinner then adjourned the case for a month to see what steps the defendant will take about making compensation.

SHOCK DEFEAT FOR LOCAL C.B.S.
Dungarvan C.B.S. suffered their first defeat in the Rice Cup when they went under to Lismore C.B.S. 5-2 to 4-0 last Sunday evening in Lismore. The game, played in fine but dull conditions, was a thriller all the way, with the Lismore lads fully keen on lowering the colours of their rivals. Dungarvan, short some of their regulars made numerous switches but were never moving with the rhythm that has characterised their matches so far.

Lismore attacked from the throw-in and were 3-2 in front before Dungarvan opened their account. Clearly some brilliant work by Noel Fraher kept the tally down, though he was ably assisted by a fine full-back-line. The rest of the team, however, was disjointed and only Philip Duggan, Martin Sandford, Michael Keely and Maurice Keane played to form. Best for a grand Lismore side were J. Frazer, D. Savage and John Morrissey.

The final, between the same two sides, has been fixed for Thursday next, 18th at 8.0 p.m. On their showing last Sunday Lismore will be a hot handful, especially as they have ground advantage.

Dungarvan, however, realise that they must strike top form and have been training very seriously. It is expected that the biggest crowd ever to leave the town for a Rice Cup match will follow the team to Lismore. Early booking is advisable for accommodation is rather limited and it is expected that a large crowd will be seeking bus reservations. Booking may be made at the C.B.S.

The game itself has all the ingredients of a thriller. Though there are no keener rivals than the two teams involved they have never met in a decider up to this. Down through the years both Dungarvan and Lismore have befriended each other cause and the friendly spirit between the sides has been very noticeable on and off the field. In latter years Lismore have gone through a lean period but have struggled courageously on. Now they are back in the "big time" and the whole town is behind them to a man. Dungarvan have had a good year and are determined not to fall at the last hurdle. Last Sunday's game has given them something of a shock, however, and they know that nothing short of their best will be enough. So it adds up to a thriller all the way. Why not come along and see it!

Abbeyside Utd. Make Exit from Marquis Cup
Southend, 2; Abbeyside, 1.

Abbeyside Utd. made their exit from the Marquis of Waterford Cup, on Sunday last, when beaten by city rivals Southend, by the odd goal in three, in a close and exciting game. Abbeyside must be termed very unlucky not to have at least forced a replay, as they had most of the play, and it was only some very bad finishing that robbed them of what should have been certain scores.

Southend, after a whirlwind start, faded badly after the first quarter, and will have to show vast improvement if they hope to overcome Bolton in the final. Credit must be given to their defence, however, who, though under severe pressure for three-quarters of the game, only conceded one goal.

Southend immediately took up the running from the kick-off, and were a goal up within five minutes. The city men continued to dominate and when they scored number two after 15 minutes it looked as if they were going to run riot.

But Abbeyside at last began to find their true form, and slowly began to get on top at midfield. But though pressing hard, they could not reduce the lead, and at the half-way stage Southend were still two goals to the good.

On resuming, Abbeyside were again straight into the attack, and within a minute Frank Barry raced through to shoot past the advancing goalkeeper, but his effort went just barely wide of the upright. In the 30th minute, however, the same player scored, when the Southend keeper could only push his shot into the net.

Abbeyside continued to pile on the pressure, and with 40 minutes to go an effort by Eddie Keohan rebounded off the cross-bar and the Maryville defence were glad to concede a corner, which was subsequently cleared. Abbeyside continued to dominate right up to the final whistle, but that vital equaliser eluded them, and so Southend, rather fortunately, were through to the final.

Pick of the Abbeyside rear-guard were: wing-halves Paddy Power and Michael Keohan and left-half Paddy Whelan. Up front inside-forwards Frank Barry and John M. Duggan were in brilliant form and got good support from outside-left Francis McGovern.

Abbeyside Utd.: J. McGrath; P. Whelan, B. Organ, P. Power, J. O'Brien, M. Keohan; E. Keohan, F. Barry, T. Cowman, J. Duggan, F. McGovern.

Stradbally Impress in Phelan Cup DECISIVELY DEFEAT CO. CHAMPIONS

STRADBALLY 3-5; BRICKEY RANGERS 0-5

1964 has to date proved something of a disastrous year for County football champions Brickey Rangers. Already beaten by Kilrossanty in the '63 Phelan Cup, they further supplemented that defeat with their exit from the current year's competition at the Fraher Field, Dungarvan, on Sunday night last when a youthful Stradbally side, of very apparent potential inflicted a clear and decisive three goal defeat on them.

True, the Brickeys fielded without such regulars as Bill, since I have seen a Stradbally Justin and Michael Spratt, team perform so ably, and it Mick Farrell, Patsy Donnelly vindicated my view stressed and Kevin Walsh, but so clear cut was the extent of Stradbally's superiority that it is highly debatable if the presence of this sextet would have altered the final result.

In recent months the Reds have introduced several newcomers that are still in their teens and if the evidence of their displays against the Rangers can even be partially accepted, then they will boost the all-round strength of the side no end. It is quite some time when playing with the breeze in the opening half, it was obvious they were unsettled by the strength of the opposition. In fact if anything they had less of the play, and personally I felt dubious about their chances when they led 0-5 to 0-2 at the interval.

FRUSTRATING HOUR

For the Brickeys, however, it was yet another frustrating hour in which their prestige suffered a considerable drop in status. Even allowing for the absence of so many established stars their display was a poor one and already their championship crown are being discounted in certain quarters.

Even when playing with the breeze in the opening half, it was obvious they were unsettled by the strength of the opposition. In fact if anything they had less of the play, and personally I felt dubious about their chances when they led 0-5 to 0-2 at the interval.

lavish service laid on by midfielders Tom Walsh and Matty Reilly, simply waltzed around a hesitant and none too safe Brickey rearguard, and without undue difficulty notched 3-3 to give them their most impressive victory for a long time.

THE SCORING

Playing with the wind behind them, the Brickeys mounted an attack immediately, and Patsy Murray tapped over a point from close range. Back came the Reds, however, and Tom Cunningham equalised from a free in the third minute. Seven minutes later, after sustained pressure, Eugene Casey gave the Reds the lead for the first time with a brilliant minor, and within seconds Pat Clancy muffed a golden opportunity with a yawning goal gaping before him. A pointed free by Tim Walsh in the 14th minute restored equilibrium, and like scores by Patsy Murray (2) and Andy Hallissey gave the Brickeys their 0-5 to 0-2 interval lead.

The second half however, was fought almost entirely within the confines of the Brickey half. Stradbally literally laid siege to the champions goal, and as their forwards carved openings practically at will it was all too plain that it was only a matter of time before their deficit was erased.

Within six minutes of the restart Tom Cunningham had the sides level again when he pointed three close-in frees, and when Pat Clancy goaled in the 13th minute the issue was a closed book as far as the Brickeys were concerned. In the 20th minute Clancy placed Billy Barry for goal number two and Clancy himself rounded off the scoring with a great goal from the 14 yards mark.

DIFFICULT TO BEAT

This was a Stradbally team on which every man played a prominent part and reproduction of that form will make them a very difficult team to beat this year.

Goalkeeper Jim Power kept his net intact throughout and inspired confidence at all times. The full line of Tom Murphy, Tom Foley and Pat Power fielded brilliantly, whilst all three got prodigious length into their clearances. Centre-back Dick Gough was the king-pin of a formidable half-line and was ably supported by John Hearne, and substitute Pat Walsh, who by his second half display must have staked a strong claim for permanency on the team.

WALSH'S PART

But if many Stradbally reputations were enhanced, there was none more so than midfielder Tom Walsh, who gave what must surely have amounted to his greatest display in the red jersey. His fielding was impeccable; his kicking lengthy and above all was the essence of accuracy. More than anyone else he plotted the downfall of the Rangers. But in praising Walsh's display one cannot overlook the support he received from Matty Reilly, who worked tirelessly in giving his lessily in giving his side such side such a monopoly in this vital sectors.

After a night marsh first half in which many chances were squandered, the winners' attack improved out of all recognition on the change of end. The experienced men of the sector—Eugene, Casey and Billy Barry were the instigators of most moves and as I watched Tom Cunningham, Pat Clancy, Tom Hearne and Nick Power play like seasoned veterans, I felt they had a quarter of top-class footballers at their disposal. Cunningham in particular, is a youth of undoubted ability but is inclined to spoil much of his good work by over use of the ball.

CREAKED

The Brickey defence was never at ease, and in a full back line that repeatedly creaked when under pressure only Peter Ferncombe produced anything approaching normal form.

Walsh and John Sheehan laboured in vain against superior opposition. Mentors altered the personnel of the sector on several occasions but without effect and the Reds ruled supreme in the area right to the end.

The Brickey attack sadly missed the promptings of Farrell and Justin and Michael Spratt. In fact Patsy Murray alone looked capable of scoring and John Woods and Tom Foley were the only others to make any impression.

LATE GEORGE CUMMINS

O'Connell St., Dungarvan

This week it is our sad duty to chronicle the death of much respected local man, Mr. George Cummins, O'Connell St., which occurred rather unexpectedly at Ardkeen Hospital on Tuesday.

The deceased hailed from one of Dungarvan's oldest and most highly esteemed families and he was a general favourite in the Old Boro. In his young days he made a big name for himself as an athlete of note. The remains were removed to St. Mary's Parish Church on Tuesday and were followed by a large and representative cortege. The burial took place in the adjoining cemetery this Thursday morning, again in the presence of a large gathering. Sincere sympathy is extended to his brother, Mr. Jack Cummins, O'Connell St., Dungarvan, nephews, nieces and other relatives.

CONDOLENCE.

At a special meeting of the Irish Dairy Shorthorn Breeders Society (Waterford and Wexford Branches) on Saturday last in Dungarvan, a vote of sympathy was passed with the President, Mr. T. F. Lynch, Ballylemon, on the death of his brother, the late J. J. Lynch, Mitchelstown.

Our nurses and brancardiers at the opening Mass and sermon.

THE 6th Annual Co. Waterford Diocesan Pilgrimage to Lourdes took place this year from May 20th - 26th. The six-day Pilgrimage was most successfully organised and a record number of invalids made the eventful journey.

On October 6th, 1963, the fifth Diocesan Pilgrimage returned from Lourdes. Now only eight months later the Sixth Pilgrimage was made to the Shrine of Our Lady. Since 1959 the pilgrimage was held every year in late September. Why was the time changed? The answer is that representations were made to the Hospitality to change the period of pilgrimage and so enable many more of our people to go to Lourdes. With the kind consent and encouragement of His Lordship, the Bishop, President-General of the Hospitality, and Patron of the Pilgrimage, the officers of the Hospitality set to work. Accommodation for forty-three invalids was obtained in the Asile Notre Dame, and arrangements for land and air transport and hotels were made. The various guilds in the City and Diocese undertook the noble work of raising funds for the invalids. How consoling it is to state that the great days in Lourdes, 20-25th May, crowned the arduous labours of all who shared in the work of the Hospitality since last October.

Invalids and ordinary pilgrims from all parts of the Diocese converged on Waterford station on Wednesday morning, 20th May. C.I.E. had reserved coaches for the ordinary pilgrims and had provided ambulance coaches for our invalids. At Kingsbridge, the invalids were taken direct by special coaches and by Dublin Red Cross ambulance to Colinstown. They took their places on the special invalid plane, accompanied by Rev. F. Hopkins, Chaplain to the invalids, the Chief Medical Officer of the Pilgrimage, Dr. C. O'Connell, Dungarvan, Nurse Mary Sheedy, Waterford Matron of the Hospitality, Nurses Mrs. Fielding, Mrs. O'Connell, Dungarvan, and Brancardiers J. Power, P. McSweeney and M. Jacob, Waterford. The flight was at 2.20 p.m. and Lourdes was reached at 5.20 p.m. The weather was perfect. Very soon afterwards the invalids were in their special wards in Asile Notre Dame.

The ordinary pilgrims went to the Franciscan Church, Merchants' Quay, where the Pilgrimage Mass was celebrated at the Shrine of St. Anthony. After lunch they went to Collins-town. Their flight was at 3.50 p.m., and after a journey in glorious sunshine Lourdes was reached at 6.40 p.m. The long day of travel had come to its desired end, and all the pilgrims expressed their gratitude at the Grotto.

Thursday morning marked the official opening ceremony. The invalids were taken to their reserved position before the Grotto. At 9.15 the ordinary pilgrims assembled at the Statue of the Crowned Virgin. Under the leadership of Rev. F. Hopkins, Chaplain to the Invalids, Rev. W. Callanan, Bishop's Secretary, and Rev. J. Murphy, C.C., Carrickbeg, they proceeded to the Grotto, reciting the Rosary and singing hymns. The Pilgrimage Mass, offered for the welfare of Our Bishop and the flock entrusted to him, began at 9.30 a.m. Holy Communion was distributed by Fathers Murphy, Callanan and Hopkins. After Mass, Fr. Callanan preached the special sermon and gave clear and valuable directions for the best employment of our precious days in Lourdes. All the pilgrims were deeply impressed by the solemnity of our opening ceremony, and were loud in their praises of the generosity of the ecclesiastical superiors of Lourdes in granting us this unforgettable privilege.

Our invalids were then taken to the Baths by their devoted nurses, handmaids and brancardiers.

At midday they had lunch under the trees in front of the Asile, and enjoyed the glorious sunshine of a May day in Lourdes. After a rest, they were taken to the Baths and then to the Rosary Square for the Blessed Sacrament Procession and Solemn Blessing of the Invalids at 4.30 p.m.

At 6 p.m. they dined, and were visited by their friends. At 8.30 p.m. the Rosary at the Grotto and the subsequent torchlight procession to the strains of "Ave, Ave, Maria" brought the first day of our pilgrimage to an end.

On Friday morning, at 9.30, the Way of the Cross was conducted by Rev. W. Callanan, and at the Twelfth Station Holy Mass was celebrated. This was our special exercise for that day. We joined with all the other pilgrims in the normal exercises, prayer at the Baths, the Blessed Sacrament Procession, the Rosary and Torchlight Procession. This each day by our pilgrims.

On Sunday morning, all attended the Pontifical Mass for the Invalids in the Basilica of St. Pius X. This is the great central ceremony of Lourdes on every Sunday morning, and is a deeply moving experience. At this stage of our pilgrimage the brilliant sunshine of the opening days had given way to broken weather, so the Blessed Sacrament Procession was held in the Basilica of St. Pius X.

At 5.30 p.m., the pilgrims assembled at the Statue of the Crowned Virgin and went in procession to the Grotto for our ceremony of farewell and thanksgiving to Our Lady. Rain fell, and the closing sermon of Rev. F. Hopkins was heard by the pilgrims assembled, not, as usual, before, but in the Grotto itself. The kind brancardiers directed the pilgrims into the welcome protection of the Grotto. Fr. Hopkins briefly but effectively surveyed our days in Lourdes and what so great a privilege should ensure when we returned to our ordinary daily duties.

We began with Holy Mass, and now it was most fitting that our last official exercise should be a Holy Hour at 11 p.m. in the Basilica of the Immaculate Conception, followed by Masses at midnight. Fr. Callanan conducted the Holy Hour, and said Mass at the high altar. The other priests said Masses at the side altars.

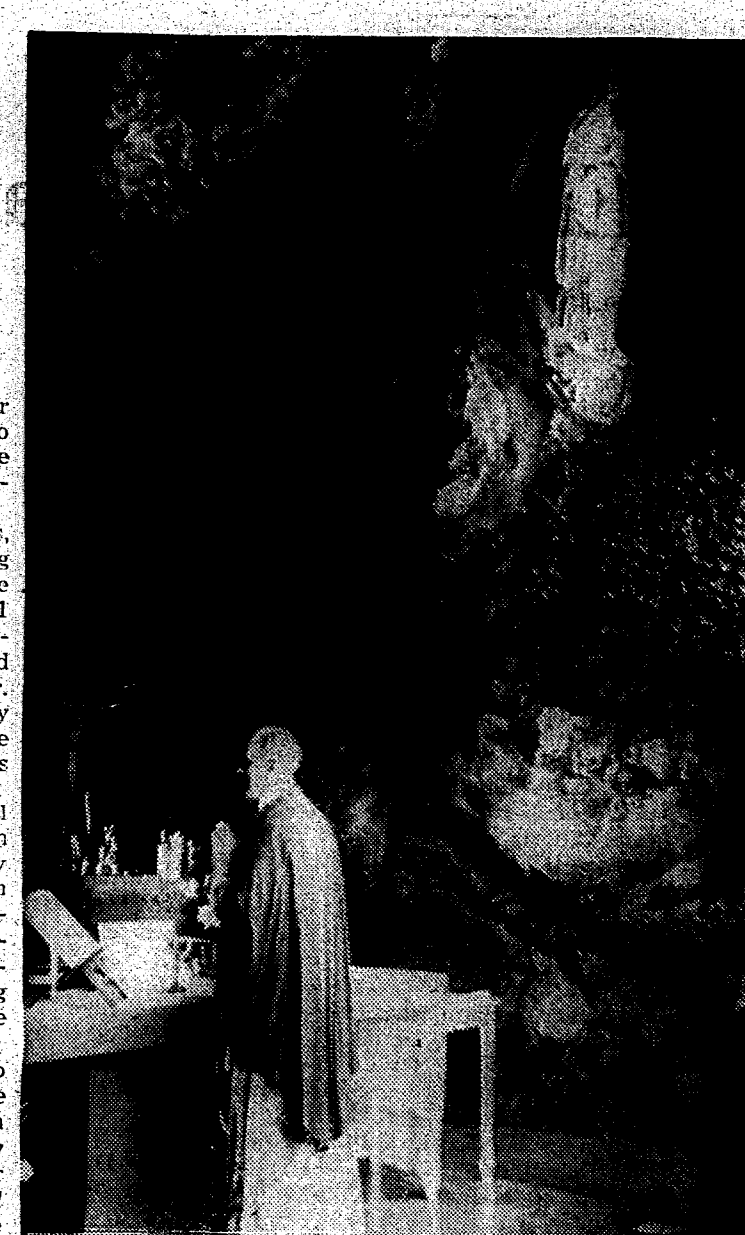

We were the only official English-speaking pilgrims in Lourdes at the time and many Irish, American, Australian and New Zealand pilgrims joined us in our particular exercises. They helped also by joining in the invocations during the Solemn Blessing of the Sick.

We who were privileged to go to Lourdes realise that the prayers of all our diocesan priests, religious and laity helped us immensely in our undertaking. We, in turn, did not forget our duty to those who were truly with us in spirit.

The following were the priests of the diocese on pilgrimage: Revs. F. Hopkins, W. Callanan, J. Murphy, J. Fynn, P. Dwyer, P. Flavin. The principal officers of the Hospitality of Our Lady on pilgrimage were: E. Enright, President and Chief Brancardier; P. J. Condon, Vice-President; Dr. P. O'Connell, Chief Medical Officer; Nurse M. Sheedy, Matron of the Hospitality; Mrs. E. Enright, Chief Handmaid.

The pilgrims from West Waterford, in addition to those already mentioned were: Mrs. T. Wall, Master M. Wall, Mr. T. Hekey, Miss H. Norris, Miss M. Byrne, Mrs. B. M. Power, Mrs. A. O'Meara, Miss Cullen, Mrs. B. Cullen, Miss J. Curran, Mrs. C. Whelan, Mrs. C. Curran, Miss B. Connors, Mrs. B. Conroy, Mr. M. Curran, Mr. M. McCarthy, Mr. P. J. McCarthy, Mrs. Patrick Organ, Mrs. J. Dennehy, Miss A. Fielding, Master J. Ivers, Mr. J. O'Brien.

Finally, the gratitude of the Diocesan Hospitality of Our Lady is cordially expressed to Mr. J. Lacaze, an Official Photographer in the Domain of Lourdes, and official photographer to the Diocesan Pilgrimage, for his kind permission to reproduce the accompanying photographs.

N.F.A. NEWS
Millers Refuse to Accept International Wheat Test

The N.F.A. National Council has withdrawn the two N.F.A. directors from the Central Wheat Laboratory as the Association does not agree with the decision of the Irish Four Millers' Association to retain the Maltese Test as opposed to the Haaberg Test for the wheat of the 1964 harvest, and is not satisfied that the Irish Four Millers' Association has done all it can to evolve improved methods of testing. The Association is satisfied beyond all doubt, that the Maltese Test, as applied by the I.F.M.A., is not a fair test of the millability of wheat as it arrives at the mill. The Haaberg Test, now internationally accepted, has been developed to the stage where it should be introduced as the definitive test for sprouting.

Research work carried out by cereal chemists experts in recent years on the Maltese Test and on the Haaberg Test has revealed the following picture. Maltese Test: 1—It cannot differentiate between Maltese due to sprouting and Maltese due to starch damage done in the milling process. Wheat should not be rejected on account of the starch damage the miller proposes to inflict on it; 2 It is too slow for the peak intake at harvest; 3 It requires a fully equipped laboratory and skilled personnel which is available only at flour mills.

Haaberg Test: 1—Cereal Chemists have shown it to be a more reliable guide to millability and to be more consistent than the Maltese Test. 2—It is becoming internationally accepted as the test to be applied when sprout damage is suspected. Progressive development of the Haaberg Test has now completely overcome the difficulties experienced with it in 1962. The Haaberg Test was devised in Sweden to meet milling problems which are most like ours than those in any other country. It has this year been officially incorporated in the Swedish wheat marketing regulations; 3. It can be done quickly and with relatively simple equipment at all intake points.

In recent discussions with I.F.M.A., objections have been raised to the Haaberg Test based on issues which it seems never referred to I.F.M.A.'s consultant cereal chemist for investigation. None of these issues seemed to have worried workers in this field either here or in Sweden. I.F.M.A.'s present stand on the Maltese Test is not in accordance with their consultant's views.

When the Central Wheat Laboratory established was N.F.A. agreed with I.F.M.A. that it could become a centre for investigation into wheat testing methods where work would continue throughout the year. It was hoped that joint effort to arrive at acceptable methods of wheat testing would follow. The unilateral decision of the I.F.M.A. to close the laboratory in-between harvests and to preclude N.F.A. from any part in this investigation has been a disappointment and has understandably led to lack of confidence by the N.F.A.

Milling wheat standard as such are not the subject of the present difference of opinion. The N.F.A. and the I.F.M.A. could never be expected to agree on the absolute standard. It should, however, have been possible to agree on the method of testing wheat to find whether or not it meets the standard being applied. The establishment of a fair system of standards with reliable and practical methods of testing for wheat millability is a matter of great national importance. The N.F.A. reaffirms its policy in the introduction of wheat testing namely that the Minister for Agriculture should fix standards for millable wheat and establish the machinery by which these standards are implemented.

IRISH WOOL PRODUCERS LIMITED
The first Irish farmers' Wool Cooperative has come into being—Irish Wool Producers Ltd. Speaking to delegates at a meeting of the County Westcounsellors will take this Bill seriously. The phrasing is a clear directive that they should forget party politics and concentrate on men's ability instead. If there is a high proportion of progressive and up-to-date farmers on the Committees we may expect that the funds will be used in a progressive way. State expenditure is never palatable to farmers, but it is recognised that money spent by Committees of Agriculture can be productive and that this expenditure can help farmers to earn the income they will need to enable them to meet the rest of the rate burden. County councillors will also have to give due regard to the qualifications "rural living" and "rural home education." This should lead to the inclusion of women in what has so far been a man's preserve. Experience of advisory work in other countries has shown that more progress can be made on the land if the farm is progressive too. It is important that the recent venture into home economics advisory work should prosper. It would be a help to have members on the County Committee of Agriculture with a special interest in it.

Question.—There is a lot of talk to-day about Bruce's disease in cattle. Is this a disease in this country? What is the cause and is there a satisfactory cure? Answer.—This disease is by no means new, as it was a scourge to dairy farmers for generations back. The incidence to-day is perhaps more widespread due to the intensive farming practices to increase the cattle population and milk production. The occurrence of abortion in cows is most likely due to the herd being infected with the brucella germs, causing serious losses to the farmer.

Question.—What makes ewes go over on their backs? I have had some trouble this season in the latter weeks of pregnancy. A.—There is little you can do about sheep getting on their backs. It is just an unfortunate habit which sheep tend to develop. Some sheep do it more often than others. The only thing is to mark the sheep over the worst offenders and get rid of these. It also helps to keep in-hand ewes in a well-grounded paddock until they are ready to rub her back because of some irritation and in lying down rolls over on her back in an effort to do this. Question.—I want to sprout a young bull (4 months) for show. What should I feed him on and what other preparations are necessary? A.—I presume this young bull has been well fed and cared up to the present. He should have an ample supply of milk, either suckled or hand fed and this will form the main part of his food for the summer. Of course a meal mixture such as 2 parts linseed cake, 1 bran, 2 flaked maize and 3 crushed oats, should be fed at the rate of 3-4 lbs. per day.

WEST WATERFORD NEWS

POWELLARDMORE MAN'S TRAGIC DEATH

The tragic death of a young man, an incident of Mr. John Troy, Lismore, Sp. L. and formerly of Carrigrohane, has caused profound regret, not only in his native district, but in the surrounding areas. Deceased was a very popular young man, deeply sympathized in his death by his relatives and friends.

There was a large attendance at the funeral, which took place on Monday, June 8th, at 11 a.m. in the presence of the local clergy and the local band. The programme of events included a requiem mass in which the local band participated. Following an entraining game, an enjoyable social followed.

CLASHMORE WEN

At Cappoquin, on Sunday last, Clashmore had a meritorious win over Colligan Rocks in the junior hunting championship. The first half was evenly contested, but on the change-over, Clashmore dominated and won deservedly. A feature of the game was the wonderful display given by Liam O'Rourke (Clashmore), who was easily the best hurler on the field.

TIDY TOWNS

Ardmore have again entered for the Tidy Towns Competition. The Organising Committee and the local residents are to be complimented on their initiative and enterprise and it is hoped that their efforts will be rewarded. Villierstown will compete for the 1965 awards and the local I.C.A. and L.D.A. are already making preliminary arrangements. In both cases officials of the County Council are giving full co-operation.

FORMER LANDLORDS

Some generations ago the Earl of Huntington was the landlord of this area and resided in a 17th century mansion at Clashmore. The site of the mansion is still to be seen in "The Lawn," near Clashmore village. It is of interest to note that a direct descendant of the Earl will visit Clashmore in the near future.

LOCAL ROADS

The County Engineer has been asked to carry out repairs on the following roads: Ballyheeny, Ballylane, Killymeedy and Ballycurrane-Moyang. All the roads concern-

CORK ARE FANCIED

Geraldines Were Masters

GERALDINES 5-10; KILGOBINET 3-9

ONE by one the fancied sides in this year's Intermediate hurling championship have fallen by the wayside. Dungarvan, Colligan Rockies, Cappoquin, teams with the strongest of championship aspirations have joined the "also rans" as a result of their quarter final defeat by Geraldines at Dungarvan on Sunday last.

Whilst one could hardly classwhistle this in the same category as some of the other unexpected upheavals of the form book, it must be unhesitatingly stated that Kilgoabinet were the general fancy. But the Aglish men, caring not a whit for general opinion, produced a brand of top-class hurling that completely bewildered the opposition and made them worth every point of the seven they had to spare at the finish.

Kilgoabinet were but a pale shadow of the team that mastered the Rockies in an earlier round. In the game's preview it was stated they had not repared with the same enthusiasm and dedication for Sunday's tie and as one watched them so blatantly labouring in the vital closing quarter, one realised that there was more than a grain of truth to that rumour.

After Geraldines had set a cracking pace, during which time they built up a commanding, if not unassailable lead, one wondered if the Kilgoabinet men would be even capable of making a worthwhile fight of it. At half-time, no less than ten points separated the sides and personally had written off all chances of a Kilgoabinet recovery. But for the opening fifteen minutes of that second half there was only one team in it, and it certainly wasn't Geraldines. Kilgoabinet, playing as they had been expected to, took almost complete control, and entering the closing quarter there was only a solitary goal between them. Kilgoabinet were supreme; they undisputably held the initiative and with the fairly stiff breeze behind them looked quite capable of justifying their favouritism.

FADED

But inexplicably their challenge seemed to drain itself from each and every member of the team, and it was Geraldines who dictated that decisive closing quarter. What caused that Kilgoabinet fade-out at so crucial a period of the game. Certainly they looked a tired and dejected side at the call of time, a team in fact that had not geared itself for an entire hour's hurling.

But be that as it may, no one can detract in the slightest from Geraldines magnificent victory. Their championship tradition manifested itself with radiant splendour when most urgently required, and in fairness to the Aglish men I state without fear of contradiction that whatever the extent of Kilgoabinet's preparation, they would still have prevailed, even if by a much narrower margin. This is an Aglish team that will really take beating, now that the concluding stages of the campaign are in sight. Better teams it is true, have left the parish, but never a more dedicated one, and not without maximum resistance will they relinquish direct interest in the destination of final honours.

EARLY KILGOBINET POINTS

Although Kilgoabinet faced the first half breeze, they were by far the better of the early exchanges and within four minutes had a brace of well taken points to their credit. In the 5th minute Geraldines opened their account with a minor, and two minutes later Paddy Kenneally crashed a 21-yard free passed a goal-line of green and white shirted defenders. But Kilgoabinet were not to be denied and in the 9th minute Mick Keating had the green flag waving with a pile-driver from close range. They increased their lead with a further minor, but like scores by Stylo Riordan and Paddy Kenneally left the sides level at the end of the opening quarter.

Jim Mernin edged Geraldines into the lead with a point in the 20th minute, and then midfielder Johnny Grady fired over two great minors, both from almost 80 yards out. Goals by Willie J. Treacy and Kenneally within a minute, really put the Aglishers in a commanding position, and another great point by Grady in the 29th minute left them leading 3-7 to 1-3 at the short

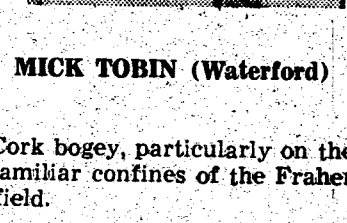

Football Semi-Final At Dungarvan

FOLLOWING Waterford's all conquering displays in their section of the National Football League not long concluded and their subsequent fine performance against mighty Kerry in the quarter-final, hopes soared within the county and a successful championship run was confidently anticipated. But such has been their slump in form in recent weeks that few, save complete optimists can visualise them defeating Cork in the Munster semi-final at Dungarvan on Sunday next.

Unpredictable has been an adjective frequently used by this writer in the past in relation to the county's senior footballers. They have confounded when least expected, and failed on other occasions exasperatingly.

But following this year's football league, I, at any rate, believed stability had arrived, and following their tilt with the Kingdom at Clonmel I held out great hopes of laying low this year.

MICK TOBIN (Waterford)

Likewise, the attack has been altered to some extent, and I expect greatest danger to stem from the half-forward trio of Tommy Joe Hart, Tom Flynn and Monty Guiry.

Nearer goal Freddie O'Brien is flanked by Jimmy Hewitt and Tommy Kirwan, and if given the right opportunities could work through for vital scores.

Cork's defence, built around the experienced Timmy Callaghan Johnny Mahony Johnny Flynn and Mick Burke has an imposing look about it, whilst midfielders Con Sullivan and Mick Bohane are both outstanding "fetchers."

Most familiar figure in attack is Brendan Coughlan, the former Ballygunniff clubman, and with Flor Hayes, J. J. Murphy and Paul Sullivan, seems likely to cause greatest worry to the Waterford defence.

Even allowing for a certain amount of county affiliation, it is difficult to see the Leesiders being halted. True, ground advantage will be a considerable help to Waterford, whilst it is doubtful if the selectors could have improved on the selected line-out. Nevertheless, the odds weigh heavily in Cork's favour, and they must be given the vote to march to the provincial decider with some thing to spare.

Decies Fancied in Attractive Hurling Challenge

DUNGARVAN'S FRAHER FIELD, for long the neglected venue for senior hurling at inter-county level, stages a most attractive tie on Sunday next (at 8 p.m.) when Waterford and Wexford meet in a tournament final, the proceeds of which go towards the local C.B.S. Building fund. Both counties are in the throes of championship preparation just now and this game is being approached in serious vein by the respective sides, thus ensuring spectators of a top-class hour's hurling.

Normally any game between these counties would be sufficient to lure even the most cautious followers "out into the open," and now that Sunday's game is for so worthy a cause, a huge crowd is expected to converge on the Old Boro venue.

In recent months the Counties have clashed with unusual frequency, yet it is a tribute to their popularity that the paying customers have not tired of seeing them in opposition. Quite obviously the respective mentors are treating the occasion as a golden opportunity for a championship trial, and the teams that will do duty could well represent both in the knockout competition.

CHAMPIONSHIP SIDE?

In fact the Waterford line-out could hardly be improved upon, and the chosen side is the one expected to do duty against Cork in the Munster semi-final on Sunday fortnight. Pat Flynn, by virtue of his many wonderful displays since his promotion has made the goalkeeping spot his own, but much of his success must be attributed to the protection he has received from the trio of full backs fronting him. Tom Cunningham and Austin Flynn are both playing as well as ever, which in itself is saying something, whilst Martin Og Morrissey, has from all accounts, rediscovered the form that made him such a class defender a year or two ago.

TRAVELLING IN STRENGTH

Like Waterford, the Slaney-siders are travelling in strength. Pat Nolan is again in goal with Ned Colfer, Dan Quigley and Tom Neville forming a solid full line.

The half-line has a new-comer in Michael Kinsella at right-half, but there is no unfamiliarity about the names of Willie Rackard and John Nolan.

Dick Shannon is Phil Wilson's new midfield partner, with Ned Wheeler taking over Shannon's former post on the "forty." Besides Wheeler, the Deise defence will have to give close attention to "Hopper" McGrath, Jimmy O'Brien and Joe Foley, whilst there is every hope that newcomers Butler and Ormond will make the grade.

With two such potent sides in opposition the game should be productive of quality hurling. Waterford and Wexford invariably provide hurling thrills, and with a valuable set of trophies in the offing, plus, of course, added prestige for the victors, this could well be a classical exhibition of the code.

Waterford, of late, have been playing at something like their best, and the chosen side is, I believe, good enough to give them victory over what is certain to be strong Wexford opposition.

CHEASTY'S RETURN

One had to be in New Ross recently to appreciate fully what the return of Tom Cheasty has meant to the attack. The controversial Cheasty has completely rejuvenated a sector that without him was considerably weakened, and his renewal of battle with the veteran Rackard should provide some stirring thrills.

Cheasty is flanked by Mick Flannally and Frankie Walsh, thus restoring the line that did duty in the replayed all-Ireland final of '59. The latter, however, has since been completely out of touch, and cannot at all feel certain about inclusion on the championship side.
