Was Cottage Vested Or Not?

TENANT TO APPEAL TO MINISTER

At a meeting of Waterford County Council, on Monday night, Mr. John Fahey made a statement in regard to the cottage vested in the name of John Halpin, Curragh, Co. Wick, which he stated was in a deplorable condition. The Council, however, declined to take any action on the matter. Mr. Fahey said he made representations to have Mr. Halpin's cottage repaired, but was told by Council Officials that the cottage had been purchased by Mr. Halpin and they were not responsible for repairs. When Mr. Halpin said this he was arrested and said that he was not arrested. Mr. Halpin said he never signed anything to that effect, but the Council Officials said it was purchased by Mr. Halpin and they were not responsible for repairs. When Mr. Halpin said this he was arrested and said that he was not arrested. Mr. Halpin said he never signed anything to that effect, but the Council Officials said it was purchased by Mr. Halpin and they were not responsible for repairs.

to live in it for the coming winter. He would like to have the position clarified once and for all. Mr. William Foran said he also made representations on behalf of Mr. Halpin and he was told by Council Officials the cottage was purchased from them and that they were not responsible any longer for the repairs. Mr. E. J. Keyes, Housing Section, Waterford County Council, said the cottage was vested on 23rd February, 1957, on John Halpin. Once vested the Council was precluded from carrying out any repairs except under the direction of the Minister of Local Government.

The Chairman said the tenant in question was present at this meeting and it was a bad precedent to have individuals coming here. If they encourage that they had no business on the Council. It was then decided that the tenant and Mr. Keyes discuss the matter privately. Later on at the meeting Mr. Keyes informed the members that the tenant had decided to lodge an appeal with the Minister, which by law he was entitled to do. The discussion then ended.

REVISED SCALE FOR LIBRARY STAFF REJECTED

BY nine votes to six Waterford County Council at its monthly meeting on Monday rejected revised salary scales for the County Library staff. When the vote had been recorded, Colr. Norman Walsh said the greatest mistake they ever made was to allow these claims to go to arbitration as it was taking the powers from their own hands.

The Secretary, Mr. J. G. Dowling, said the arbitration body met on July 9th to consider the claims by the County Librarians and their assistants for revised salary scales. They agreed on the following new scale: County Librarians, £1140 to £1420; Assistant Librarian, £365 to £35 to £1040; Library Assistants, £350 to £30 to £500 by £50 to £550 by £30 to £330.

The Board recommended that the revised scales be retrospective to October 1st, 1963. Deputy Kynegross and Colr. D. Madden seconded that the new scale be applied to their employees. A vote was then taken and resulted as follows: For—Colrs. Butler, Kynegross, Cahill, Madden, Morrissey, R. Walsh (6). Against—Colrs. Curran, Dower, Hart, Drohan, Fahey, O'Ryan, Montayne, N. Walsh, Galgey (9). Colr. N. Walsh then stated:

"Want Causeway Bridge Altered"

At Monday's adjourned meeting of Waterford County Council, Mr. Michael Harty said he had been approached by several members of the public who wanted the arch in the causeway bridge linking Dungarvan and Abbeyside removed.

Mr. Harty said they expressed the view that it was most dangerous in its present condition, and that motorists coming from both sides should have a clear view. He said that traffic was increasing daily and it was a miracle that no one had been injured up to now. Mr. C. Curran (Chairman) said it was a very important matter indeed. The matter will be placed on the agenda for the next meeting.

pealed to the Minister against the refusal of the County Council to grant them an increase in salary as determined by an independent arbitration Board. Mr. Dowling said the revised scale agreed by arbitration was: £1330 by £50 to £1680 retrospective to October 1st, 1963. The Manager made an order that this scale be approved subject to sanction by the Minister but when it came before the meeting on June 29th this year the Council rejected it by 10 votes to 9. The Department, said Mr. Dowling, was now asking the Council for their observations in the matter.

Colr. Norman Walsh said they had rejected it and that was their decision. The Minister was only sending the fool farther by asking them for their observations on it. They had given their decision but the Minister had failed to give his. Let him do so now, from the Department of Local Government, stating that five Assistant Engineers had applied.

Praised on Winning Tidy Towns Award

Ardmore was congratulated on winning an award in the under 500 population section in this year's Tidy Towns Competition by the members of Waterford County Council on Monday last.

Before the meeting was a letter from Siobhan Lincoln expressing appreciation of the help given by the County Council to Ardmore during the year and they hoped they would receive similar help during the coming year. The Chairman (Colr. Curran) said there was great credit due to the people of Ardmore. There was a wonderful community effort and they were justly rewarded.

LATE MRS. MARY TOBIN

It is with feelings of deep and sincere regret that we record the death of Mrs. Mary Tobin, Caseville, Dungarvan which occurred at St. Joseph's Hospital, Dungarvan, on Monday last, 21st inst. after a protracted illness.

The deceased, who was a native of Knockenpower, Colligan, was a most popular lady, that during her lifetime never uttered an inoffensive word against anyone. She had for some years past, however, been plagued by ill-health, but her passing at a comparatively young age is a cruel blow to her bereaved husband and family.

Colr. Norman Walsh said they had rejected it and that was their decision. The Minister was only sending the fool farther by asking them for their observations on it. They had given their decision but the Minister had failed to give his. Let him do so now, from the Department of Local Government, stating that five Assistant Engineers had applied.

LATE MRS. MARY TOBIN

Possessor of a charming disposition, she was an exemplary wife and a kind and loving mother. With all sections of the community she was a general favourite and the extent of her popularity was well and truly reflected in the large and representative delegations at both her funeral and interment.

The remains were removed to St. Mary's Parish Church on Tuesday evening and were received and blessed by Rev. Fr. J. Murphy C.C., assisted by Rev. R. O'Shaughnessy, O.S.A., Dungarvan. The interment took place in the adjoining cemetery on Wednesday, Rev. Fr. Murphy again officiated at the graveside, assisted by Rev. Fr. O'Shaughnessy.

To her sorrowing husband, sons, daughter and brother, deepest sympathy is extended. The immediate chief mourners were: Thomas (husband) Michael and Patrick (sons), Ann (daughter); John Hannigan, Knockenpower, Colligan (brother).

(J. Kely & Sons, Undertakers, had charge of arrangements.)

'Got Boat Back'

At a meeting of Waterford Committee of Agriculture on Saturday last, a letter was read by the C.A.O., Mr. P. Conroy, from Bord Inascaigh Mhara, congratulating Mr. Harty on getting back the fishing boat for the Ring fishermen which had been taken from them some time ago.

Students Praised

"MUST MAINTAIN HIGH STANDARD" — Colr. N. Walsh

The three County Waterford students who have been awarded University scholarships tenable at U.C.C. from the Leaving Certificate results were congratulated at last Monday's meeting of Waterford County Council. They were: Maurice O'Brien, Ballinwillin, Lismore; John O'Regan and Maurice O'Keefe, both of Dungarvan. The scholarships are valued at £225 a year.

A vote of congratulations was proposed by Colr. Norman Walsh and seconded by Colr. Michael Harty. A University scholarship in agriculture, also tenable at U.C.C. was also awarded to James Fleming, Ballyneety.

CREAM OF THE COUNTY

When a recommendation from the University Authorities that three existing scholarships be reduced by two £10's and £5 a year was read by the Secretary, Colr. Norman Walsh said—I take the view that our scholarship holders are the cream of the county and we expect them to maintain a very high standard. We should accept the University Authorities recommendations, because by reducing the scholarships by a nominal £1 as heretofore we are only spoon feeding our students. We want them to maintain the high standard they themselves have set. Besides our own Scholarship Advisory Committee have also decided that we accept the University's recommendations.

Colr. Michael Harty said that owing to the high cost of living they would be penalising their students far more severely than they realised. There was now an increased demand on them for digs and other matters. Colr. N. Walsh said they were only being true to their principals by accepting the University's recommendations. Colr. Harty—I think the reductions are too severe. Chairman (Mr. Curran)—It is still only a nominal reduction. Colr. Harty said it should be as in recent years with a Committee Grants Increase to C.A.O.

An application for the 12 1/2% wage increase by the Co. Waterford Chief Agricultural Officer was granted at a meeting of the Co. Committee of Agriculture in Dungarvan on Saturday. Mr. F. Conroy (C.A.O.) said it was proposed to revise the salary scales of C.A.O.'s to £1,770 x £62 to £2,136. They were moving towards the stage where a deputy agricultural official would be necessary in the County. If the increase was refused by the Committee it would be granted by the Minister for Agriculture. Mr. Norman Walsh said the Committee was only a rubber stamp for the Minister for Agriculture. Mr. Wm. Dower said that

NOTES

DEATH OF REV. M. AHEARNE

On Sunday night, a telephone message, conveying the sad news of the sudden death of the Reverend Michael Ahearne, pastor of St. Augustine's Church, Merril, Oregon, U.S.A. was received here. His numerous friends here learned the sad tidings with feelings of very deep sorrow and shocked surprise. The deceased clergyman was only in his forty-ninth year and those who bade him good-bye a year ago at the conclusion of his vacation, when he was in excellent health, little realised that it was to be the last farewell. He was younger son of the Mr. and Mrs. William Ahearne. He received his early education at the local national school, read his Secondary course at Lismore Christian Bros. and Mt. Melrery Seminary, and was ordered for the priesthood at St. John's College, Waterford. He was ordained in the Cathedral, Waterford, in 1938. His period of ministry in the diocese of Oregon was most fruitful and earned for him the appreciation of his superiors and the affection of his parishioners. Proof of his popularity and appreciation of his priestly zeal was fully shown by the gifts from both priests and people on the occasion of the Silver Jubilee of his ordination in 1963.

The late Fr. Ahearne was a gifted orator and he was in much demand as a preacher on special occasions.

His love for the homeland was very intense and he followed with interest all matters affecting Ireland. He took a particular interest in the G.A.A. and when on holidays here never missed a game.

His immediate survivors are Mr. James Ahearne (brother); Miss Mary Ahearne (sister); Miss M. Barrett, Cappoquin (aunt); Mr. D. Barrett, Stradbally (uncle).

BLOOD DONORS

Intending blood donors are requested to note that representatives from the Cork Blood Transfusion Service will attend at the Vocational School, on next Monday, 28 inst., at 7.30 p.m.

VETERAN SPORTSMAN'S WIN

Mr. Jack Keating, well known trainer and breeder of greyhounds, has had yet another success on the track. At Youghal his "In The Bucket" won the valuable September Stake (£75), and the "Con Murphy" Cup a very handsome trophy. Our hearty congratulations.

THANKS

The promoters of I.S.P.C.C. wish through this paper to thank all who contributed to last Sunday's collection.

WEST WATERFORD NEWS

LATE MRS. M. DALTON, VILLIERSTOWN

We regret to announce the death, which occurred at an early age, of Mrs. Mary Dalton, Ballygown, Villierstown. A member of a well known family, deceased (nee Hogan), who was a native of Ardsallagh, was noted for her many admirable characteristics and was very popular amongst all sections of the community. Her demise has occasioned deep and widespread regret and much sympathy is extended to her bereaved husband, brother, sister and other relatives.

UNLUCKY YOUGHAL

At the Athletic Grounds on Sunday last, Youghal hurlers lost to Castletownroche on the scores Castletownroche 4-11; Youghal 3-6, in the county final. The winners, therefore, will be the new team in the Cork senior hurling championship in 1965. In the first half, when Castletownroche played against the wind, they were rather fortunate to gain a one point lead (1-4 to 1-3) before the break. Youghal, in the opening half, looked like they were going to be the eventual winners, because of the performance of one man alone. In the opening quarter Noel Gallagher was the dominating figure afield and had two points within the first three minutes. However, Castletownroche got a grip on the game after half time and ran out fairly comfortable winners.

Scorers—for the winners: R. Browne (3-2), J. Noonan (0-4), R. Galvin (1-1), J. Browne (0-2), B. Sullivan (0-1), C. Fynn (0-1); For Youghal: N. Gallagher (1-2), G. Walsh (1-0), P. Curley (1-0), T. O'Connell (0-3), J. McManis (0-1).

ABBATOIR SOUGHT

At a recent meeting of the Urban District Council, the local victuallers wrote suggesting the erection of a public abattoir in the town, and requesting that the matter receive immediate attention. During a discussion, the Chairman, Mr. Linsan said he did not approve of the proposal as a small town like Youghal would be unable to bear the cost of the building and he thought it was more important to erect houses for the people rather than an abattoir for carcasses. It was finally decided to have the matter investigated and get information from other towns with abattoirs.

CASEYVILLE, DUNGARVAN

We regret to announce the death of Michael O'Connor, Caseyville, which sad event occurred during the early hours of Friday morning, September 18th last, after a short duration of protracted illness, at the District Hospital, Dungarvan. He was a very well known personality in the county, where he travelled extensively during the course of his employment as salesman for the firm of R. A. Merry & Co., for most of his life time. Deceased had a friendly and jovial manner which won for him many acquaintances and friends. He always took a keen interest in G.A.A. games and was always present to cheer on his native county, when playing.

We wish to extend our deepest sympathy to his sorrowing wife, brothers, sisters and relatives.

The removal of the remains took place on Friday evening to St. Mary's Parish Church, followed by a huge cortege, consisting of all sections of the community, some of whom had travelled long distances to be present. The coffin was blessed and received by Rev. Fr. D. O'Byrne, C.C., assisted by Rev. Fr. D. McGrath, C.C., Lisfenel, and Rev. W. J. Dee, English Mission.

Requiem Mass was celebrated on Saturday morning, and subsequently, the interment took place later in the day in the Old Churchyard Cemetery. Another very large concourse were present. Rev. W. Power, C.C., assisted by Rev. W. J. Dee, imparted the final absolution at the graveside, amid manifestation of great sorrow. Large sheaves of Mass cards, telegrams and letters of sympathy were received by his wife and relatives.

The chief mourners were: Mary O'Connor, Caseyville (widow); John O'Connor, New-

GAELIC JOTTINGS

A SLIGHT PREFERENCE FOR GALWAY

Sunday next is All-Ireland football final day, and there is intense interest throughout the country in the meeting of Kerry and Galway at Croke Park. Not for many years has a decider had such an open appearance about it, and there should be well over 80,000 at headquarters for what promises to be an enthralling final. Since the semi-finals Kerry have gained many new admirers, and the manner in which they so readily disposed of Cavan just could not be overlooked. Galway, on the other hand were somewhat fortunate to overcome Meath in the other semi-final, and over all were less impressive than the Kingdom.

However, I expect a vastly improved display from the Galwegians on this occasion. They enter the fray with a full strength selection, whilst included in their subs. for the first time in this championship is Pádraic Donnellan, the man that almost single handedly defeated the Kingdom in last year's semi-final. It is an ironic twist of fate that deprives Kerry of their 2 star forwards, Bernie O'Callaghan and Tony Barrett, and rich though the County may be in reserve material I refuse to believe that the side is not impaired in any way.

Thus I think the balance of power now tilts in favour of the Westerners, and although Kerry will not go under easily in quest of that 21st title, I doubt if they can overcome their handicap and Galway are taken to bring the McCarthy Cup back over the Shannon after a lapse of eight years.

ALL-IRELAND PLAYERS HAVE WATERFORD CONNECTIONS

Incidentally two of the Kerry players who take part in next Sunday's final have Deise connections. Pat Griffin has family relatives in Killossara just outside Dungarvan and Frank O'Leary is brother of Jerry O'Leary of the National Bank staff in the Old Boro.

ARDMORE QUALIFY FOR ANOTHER FINAL

Ardmore qualified for the Western junior hurling final when they defeated Lismore by 4-8 to 1-6 at Cappoquin on Sunday last.

But if the Seasideers fully deserved their victory, they were far from impressive and will have to show considerable improvement if they hope to beat Affane in the Western final.

Lismore, for some extraordinary reason reserved their worst display of the year for this vitally important game. They never displayed the form that brushed aside the challenges of Shamrocks and Killgobinet and were a well beaten side long before the end. They were only two points in arrears at the interval but completely fell away in the second half.

MINOR REPLAY WAS ANOTHER EPIC

Well my prediction in last week's issue that the Western final minor replay between Dungarvan and Abbeyside would be another epic certainly came to pass and early comes to the Fraher Field were certainly well rewarded. It was a thriller all the way and if Dungarvan

Another Thrill-Packed Draw

MINOR RIVALS END LEVEL FOR SECOND TIME

DUNGARVAN 2-3; ABBEYSIDE 1-6

YET another glorious chapter in the Dungarvan-Abbeyside minor hurling championship saga was written at the Fraher Field on Sunday, when for the second time within a week the sides finished level after a positively superb Western final. One could travel the country over with seeing better fare than these teenagers have served up in two unforgettable hours, and now their third, and in all probability final showdown will be worth travelling many a mile to see.

This second meeting of the sides lived up to all expectations, and was every degree as enthralling as the first. Quite obviously there isn't a puck of the ball between them, and again justice was done two minutes from time when Dungarvan scored the goal that ensured all embracing equilibrium at the end of yet another drama charged epic.

In fact the trend of the game was an almost exact replica of the previous Sunday. Again it was the Villagers who seemed booked for victory entering the closing quarter, when they held a vital if not altogether commanding lead. In fact a mere nine minutes remained and Abbeyside—their hurling now hallmarked by a distinctive touch of confidence, were six invaluable points to the good. The odds most emphatically had swung in their favour, and Dungarvan's gallant bid, backed by more than half a team of juveniles, seemed at an end.

DEFIED ADVERSITY

But not for the first time this Old Boro' side mockingly defied adversity, and mainly through their endeavours held the huge attendance enraptured as they performed for the second time their game-saving act. First a 21-yard free was rocketed to the Villager net, and then two minutes from the call of time sheer bedlam broke loose as those unyielding Blues swept up to force home their oh so deserved equalising goal. It was again a wonderfully fitting climax to a truly thrill-packed hour, as neither deserved to have their championship hopes dashed—just yet.

For this replay the Villagers fielded at full strength, which, in itself, is an indication of just how seriously they regard this Dungarvan challenge. They brought full-back Tommy Donovan home from England; they had Bernard Shields, their current senior defender, in his usual corner berth, and to the surprise of many, roped in Noel Power of Ballylemon for one of the midfield places. Dungarvan mentors passed a complete vote of confidence in all sectors, save the full forward line, where Peter Hayes and Jackie French found favour for the first time.

DEFENCES ON TOP

But as the scoreline suggests it was a final in which defences on both sides ruled the roost for most of the hour. Such was the quality of the respective rearguards that neither attack could find loopholes that were likely to lead to scores, and every flag raised was well and truly earned. At the interval it was level pegging at two points each, but the Villagers, having played against the breeze, looked a reasonably sound proposition to prevail.

And they restarted on the right note when they scored their only goal from a melee, and by the end of that third quarter they were a clear two goals in front. But sensing that their title hopes were fading, Dungarvan met the demanding challenge in champion fashion. They threw caution to the wind as their defenders moved upfield to become practically additional forwards. The gap was narrowed to a solitary goal when a 21 yard free yielded a major score, and then the field was well and truly in the fire. In desperation, star goalkeeper Michael Donnelly was taken from his citadel and brought outfield, with Peter Hayes taking over in goal. And more than anything else, the superb hurling of Donnelly inspired his side's great rally, and it was appropriate indeed that their equalising goal came from his prodigious delivery two minutes before the end.

To both sides there is indeed a debt of gratitude due for serving up such hurling feasts on successive Sundays. The Division will undoubtedly have worthy ambassadors against Mount Sion in the county final and be it Dungarvan or Abbeyside, that will eventually do battle in that decider, this hurling year at club level belongs to both.

MCGRATH INJURED

The first major incident came after less than a minute's play when Dungarvan midfielder Sean McGrath retired with a hip injury, and was replaced by Johnny Reilly. But during those early moments, it was Dungarvan who set the pace, and only a series of great saves by Abbeyside keeper Jimmy Needham prevented the Blues from taking a decisive lead. Exactly sixteen minutes had elapsed before Sean Franklin opened the scoring with a Dungarvan point from a free, but points by Pat Enright (free) and Jimmy O'Dea gave the villagers the lead for the first time. But in the 28th minute they were locked in scoring equality again when the unerring Frankling tapped over another free.

Backed by the second half breeze, the Villagers swarmed to the offensive and within a minute were a goal to the good when the ball was forced over the line from a melee. Franklin pointed a fifty yard free, but four great minors by Enright (2), Michael Morrissey and Michael Power, gave the Villagers a six points lead entering the closing quarter.

EQUALISE

But undaunted the Blues set about their formidable task of wiping out that substantial deficit. Nine minutes remained when they were awarded a 21 yard free and Sean Franklin left the rigging bulging behind a wall of Abbeyside defenders. They continued to pummel the Abbeyside rearguard in relentless fashion, but somehow the all-important scores would not come. Then in the 25th minute following a hurried deliberation amongst team mentors it was decided to take the courageous step of bringing goalkeeper Donnelly outfield, and replacing him with Peter Hayes. And scarcely had Hayes taken over his new post when he was called upon to make a great save from Mick Power. Twice during the two subsequent minutes the Village citadel narrowly escaped, but justice was done in the 28th minute when Noel Dwyer crashed home, the equalising goal from a lengthy delivery by Donnelly.

After the game there was much confusion as to whether extra time would be played or not. But all was set for the face of the strongest pressure.

EXCELLENTLY SERVED IN DEFENCE

Like Dungarvan, Abbeyside were excellently served in defence. Jimmy Needham proved his worth at an early stage behind the posts, and their full line of Anthony Duggan, Tommy Duggan and Bernard Shields proved a tremendous bulwark to the Dungarvan attack.

Their half line of John Cosm was grave, Joe Power and Liam Waters was equally dependable and never faltered in the face of the strongest pressure.

The Abbeyside defence under severe pressure as Dungarvan seek the all-important equalising goal.

senior football semi-final, and it was decided to try conclusions for a third time, and incidentally, this third meeting will now take place at the same venue on Sunday week.

DUNGARVAN'S BEST

Coming down to individual performances, the major honours rest with the defences. For Dungarvan, Michael Donnelly once again displayed his goalkeeping talents to the full, and when moved outfield, proved the saviour of the side.

The full back line of Johnny Egan, Sean Murphy and Pat 'Foggy' Walsh was soundness personified. Walsh highlighted a great display with his magnificent striking of line balls; Murphy, by everything he did, looked the complete full back, and Egan, in a quieter way, was equally effective.

Their outer defensive phalanx was rock solid and all three covered themselves in glory. But if Sean Daly and Jimmy J. O'Dea; Healy both starred, Dungarvan's man of the match for my Referee; Tom Walsh (Four-money was left half Michael milewater).

Abbeyside: J. Needham; A. Duggan, T. Donovan, B. Shields; J. Cosgrave, J. Power, L. Waters; P. Enright, N. Power; M. Power, J. Mahony; M. Morrissey; V. Curran, M. Referee: Tom Walsh (Four-money was left half Michael milewater).

No less than twenty-seven members are likely to hear more in the coming weeks. CHAIRMAN REPORT From the Reports of Chairmen on the activities of their committees we give below an abbreviated version taken at random. LIVESTOCK Work is chiefly concerned with: (a) The necessity for pursuing and attaining the objective of the establishment of a Meat Marketing Board; (b) The resumption of the Waste Fly Eradication Scheme; (c) Taking an active interest in the development of the Brussels Fradication Scheme and ensuring that the interests of farmers are looked after; (d) Re-activation of Livestock Sub-Committees; (e) Meetings with Uster Farmers' Union and National Farmers Union representatives with regard to sales of livestock in Britain, with particular reference to British subsidy arrangements. DAIRY The highlight of the future programme here are: (a) Militant pursuance of the objectives of the Breen Book with particular regard to milk prices; (b) Ensuring that adequate services are available to farmers with particular reference to milking machines; (c) Active participation in the re-organisation of Creameries in the Co-operative areas; (d) Full support to farmers in converting Dairy Disposal Board Creameries into Co-operative Creameries; (e) Giving advice and support in the re-organisation of the L.A.O.S.; (f) Participation in all activities regarding re-organisation, which are logical and in the best interest of milk producers. POULTRY The principal points of policy here are: (a) The stabilisation of production by the producers themselves as otherwise the job would be done commercially as in other countries. (b) The establishment of a marketing board authority to market properly the product which the farmers have stabilised, i.e., eggs and chicken meat. (c) Consideration of the export problem which at the present seemed difficult, particularly in light of the large combines now working in England, where even in 1962 poultry was the second largest agricultural product in that country. (d) A realistic examination of the prospects for turkey poul products in the West of Ireland. (e) Concentration on the adverse effect of unjust income tax on small poultry and pig production on small farms. SHEEP The establishment of a Meat Marketing Board is being pursued, a plan for the eradication of sheep scab is being formulated and attention is to be given to promotional work in establishing mutton as an acceptable meat on continental tables. Among the aims of the Grain Committee is one relating to the maximum use of home barley in rations, and the curtailing to a minimum of imports of feeding stuffs bearing in mind the specific requirements of certain specialised enterprises. Other matters to receive priority are: (a) Grain prices; (b) Grain Storage; (c) Wheat testing; (d) Levy on wheat imports; (e) Greater central and wider function of An Bord Grain. The Potato Committee wants to see the Potato Marketing Board re-organised and responsible for the marketing of all potatoes. PROBLEMS TO BE TACKLED In its negotiations during the coming months, the N.F.A. should concentrate on: (a) Increased costs (including investment); (b) The level of standard of living; and (c) The gap that exists between farming and non-farming income and the influence of prices on these. This was a recommendation recently put forward by the N.F.A. Economic Advisory Group. Members of the Group felt that Irish farmers were too willing to be described as low cost producers. This may be true with grass but the same does not hold in other branches. The fact of the matter is that Irish farmers are low price producers. Members also felt that an attempt should be made to evaluate the cost to farmers of the Ninth Round of wage increases, and they asked that State aid to other sections of the community should be published on the same basis as State aid to agriculture. They also pointed out that at present there is information on seed, fertilizer, and feeding prices, per unit. Similar information is required in relation to other farm inputs, e.g., machinery, transport, fuel and labour. The Association is now going to tackle this problem. REGIONAL DEVELOPMENT A meeting of the N.F.A. Regional Development Committee was held recently. Its terms of reference are: (a) To work out a plan of action for N.F.A., designed to promote practical improvement of farm income in problem areas; (b) To supervise, under the direction of National Council, the carrying out of this plan; (c) To draw up proposals for financing N.F.A. expenditure in connection with the Committee's proposals. Members at the meeting suggested, among other things that— 1.—Greater incentives, by means of grants etc., would be necessary to get the farmers in the small farming areas moving. 2.—Suitably qualified N.F.A. personnel should be made available to work with selected Groups in these areas. 3.—N.F.A. should give every help to the full development of the present pilot schemes. 4.—N.F.A. branches and members outside of the present pilot scheme areas should set up their own pilot schemes with their advisors. These new pilot areas should receive the same terms and incentives as the 12 special areas. Any form of project which offers a possibility of increasing the income in small farm areas is to be encouraged, and committee members have decided to study the potential of many of these, such as forestry, holidays in rural areas, fishing, shooting, the development of the Connemara Pony Industry, etc.

FAILED TO GET DREDGER FOR HELVICK

Mr. J. O'Moind, Acting County Engineer, informed the members of Waterford County Council at their adjourned monthly meeting on Monday that they had failed to get a dredging contractor to carry out work at Helvick Harbour.

Mr. Michael Harty said that having failed to get dredging work done, the matter was now very serious. They were facing the winter and if the Harbour was called out it might not be able to leave the harbour.

Mr. M. Harty said it was practically impossible to get a dredger. However, they might be able to get a drag line and it would do a better job.

Mr. O'Moind said the scope of the dredging was limited. Mr. Harty said it had done a good job in Dunmore East.

Cardinal Cushing at Irish Pavilion

There was an impromptu sing-song outside the Pavilion of Ireland at the New York World's Fair on Saturday afternoon last when His Eminence Richard Cardinal Cushing, Archbishop of Boston, called on the large crowd to join him in singing "When Irish Eyes are Smiling." He was heartily joined by the clergy and group of seminarians from St. Mary's, Brighton, Mass., who had accompanied him on his visit to the Pavilion. His Eminence spent quite some time viewing the exhibit which he described to the Pavilion Director, Mr. Austin Keenan as "true to life." When signing the Distinguished Visitors' Book the Cardinal wrote of Ireland as the land near and dear to him. Earlier in the day His Eminence celebrated a special Mass at which the director and Mrs. Keenan were the special guests of the Vatican Pavilion.

New Act Discussed "MINISTER HAS SHOWN OPEN HOSTILITY"

Charges that the Minister for Agriculture, Mr. P. Smith, had shown open hostility for a number of years to Committees of Agriculture and that the terms of the Agriculture (Amendment) Act, 1964, which became law on July 7th, would give pressure groups, afraid to face the electorate, a back door entry to local administration, were made at the monthly meeting of the County Committee of Agriculture at Dungarvan last Saturday. The charges were made during a discussion on the main terms of the Act which the C.A.O. Mr. P. Conroy stated included an increase in the maximum contribution to the funds of Committees from rates and a cut in the representation of the County Council to half the total membership of committees, the other half to be co-opted from societies and organisations interested in agriculture.

of interest in the matter, he said. Mr. Dowey—It's a poor reflection on Dail Eireann for such an important issue. Mr. Walsh—It's a negation of democracy that eight people can come in here with no responsibility to anyone and sit down with eight elected members and do what they like. Mr. Galgey said the elected members should boycott the Act by refusing to sit with non-elected members. Mr. Walsh—Then they'd have complete power. It is worthy of note that all members here irrespective of politics, are agreed on this issue. Mr. M. Harty said that most of the major schemes implemented by the Minister had been suggested by committees of agriculture and the Committee.

before the people. They have been trying to get in by the back door, he added, and this is it now. Finally, on the proposal of Mr. Curran, seconded by Mr. Walsh, the Committee unanimously passed a resolution protesting against the Act and requested that amending legislation be introduced to reduce the number of non-elected members to be co-opted on the committee from half to a quarter of the total membership; copies of the resolution to be sent to the Taoiseach, leaders of the main Opposition parties, the Minister for Agriculture and to all Committees of Agriculture.

Mr. Curran—It will be a tragic day for committees of agriculture when politics become the issue. This Act will ring the death knell of committees of agriculture as presently constituted and I think we should dig our heels in and get the support of the other committees to fight it. Mr. Walsh—The Dail Deputies have a lot to answer for. Mr. H. Dowd said they all knew the various pressure groups throughout the country were trying to get into public administration without going

LATE MRS. MARY O'CONNELL

The death took place at the District Hospital, Dungarvan, on Friday, September 18th, of Mrs. Mary O'Connell, Ballydurn, Kilmacthomas. Although the deceased had reached the good age of 82 years she had been laid up for a comparatively short period and her passing came as a great shock in her native parish.

The deceased was a member of the farming community and resided in Ballydurn all her life. She was a most popular figure and her passing undoubtedly removes one of the best liked people from the parish. The remains were removed to Newtown Church on Friday evening, Sept. 18th and the burial took place in the adjoining cemetery after 10 o'clock Mass on Sunday morning, Sept. 20th. Large and representative gatherings were present on both occasions, testifying again the popularity of the deceased.

The chief mourners were: Richard and Patrick O'Connell (sons); Sr. Mary Coleman, Ferrybank, Waterford, and Mrs. Catherine Barry, (daughters); Martin Barry (son-in-law); Cissie O'Connell (daughter-in-law), grandchildren in Ballydurn and Ballinacorney. (3-10) courtly.

Kilrossanty on the trail of another title

Kill go down in semi-final

KILROSSANTY - 2-5 KILL - 0-7

KILROSSANTY, the most illustrious Dungarvan, on Sunday last. In keeping with a great tradition they rose quite majestically to the occasion and proved to all and sundry that at championship time there will always be a Kilrossanty to contend with.

It may not have turned out to be the classic semi-final so many people expected it to be, but such was the firm readiness of both sides, that it was obvious from the very start that victory—irrespective of who it went to—would be hard earned. And yet if the football did not reach the expected high standard, this semi-final had much to commend itself. Right up to the final whistle the sides were locked in a marked all-round equality and the issue remained in doubt right up to the 58th minute when Kilrossanty secured their second and clinching goal.

Down Kilrossanty way this will undoubtedly be forever regarded as one of their greatest hours. In the eyes of all sane hearts, our partisan followers, the odds were strongly against them, whilst the defences of full back Matty Loneragan some days before the game only tended to make Kill an even better proposition to prevail. But to those of us who doubted their ability to surmount this penultimate obstacle, they gave an answer that was emphatic in the extreme, and no one amongst the huge attendance (gate receipts £281) could deny them their right to a place in the decider.

Kill, quite frankly, must have disappointed their legion of followers. But if they did not perform as efficiently as in the earlier rounds, it is the writer's firm contention that they played as well as they were allowed by a Kilrossanty side literally thirsting for success. Nevertheless they kept within striking distance for most of the hour, and only finally abandoned the cause after becoming conceding that second Kilrossanty goal.

DEFENCES DOMINATED

It was undoubtedly a semi-final greatly dominated by defences on both sides. This was particularly so in the first half at the end of which they were still "all square" at 0-3 each. All six points came from placed balls and seldom was either goal threatened seriously from play. During that opening moiety, Kill enjoyed the advantage of the breeze, but if they held a slight dominance territorially, they could find no way past a Comeragh defence in which all six stayed.

"CLINCHER"

Then came the "Kilrossanty clincher" in the 58th minute. A free, forty yards out was again dropped dead on target by Tom Flynn. Full forward Paddy Fitzgerald got a fist to it, and it wound up in the net via the hands of full back Tom Kirwan. That score put the damper on the Kill challenge, and ensured a now buoyant Kilrossanty of their place in the decider on October 25th.

DEFENCE WAS SUPERB

In victory, the entire Kilrossanty defence covered itself in glory. Between the posts Sean O'Connell was at his brilliant best, and in the second half in particular made some great saves.

Fronting him were three rock-solid defenders who never gave ground. Mick Pender proved an admirable stand-in for Matty Loneragan, and it was a compliment to his competence that Kill mentions moved Noel Power to midfield during the second half. Jimmy Maher and Tom Moloney played their best football for a long time and held their opposites scoreless over the hour. Their half-backs were equally effective. Noel Walsh turned in a scintillating display that completely overpowered Paddy Duggan; Jimineen Power held Guiry better than most centre-halves have done, and Tony Baldwin did an amount of good work on the right flank.

Despite the presence of an in-form Martin Kennedy in the area, the winners' midfield pairing of Tom Flynn and Tom Walsh had the better of matters over the hour. Flynn, as so often before, looked the complete footballer, and got a great assistance from Tom Walsh who was having his best game for a long time.

Although the Comeragh attack was not without its weaknesses, the entire sextet never gave up trying. Tom Riordan worked ceaselessly on the forty without ever reaping adequate reward, but most danger stemmed from his wing men Tom Walsh and the rapidly improving "Pat" Walsh. To the veterans Jimmy Whyte and Paddy Fitzgerald fell the distinction of being the goalscorers, whilst Noel Casey, like Riordan, wasn't fully rewarded for his work.

Ballyduff's Western Crown Well Deserving Victory Over Tourin

BALLYDUFF 3-9; TOURIN 2-7

BALLYDUFF, having capitalised to the full on the advantages of the first-half elements that favoured them, qualified for the County Intermediate hurling final when defeating Tourin by a five point margin in the Divisional decider at Lismore on Sunday last. It was a victory richly deserved, and if Tourin lost little caste in defeat, there can be no denying Ballyduff the fruits of their hard-won victory.

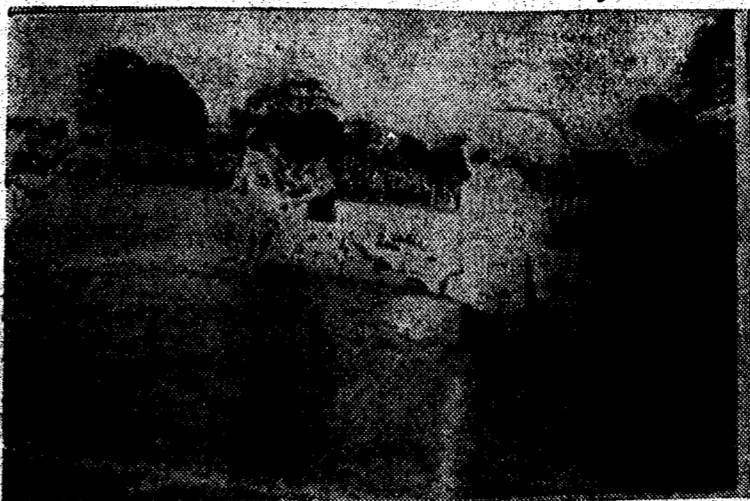

The intense interest in this game was well and truly reflected in the attendance—the biggest ever witnessed at the venue. And if it could hardly be described as a classic, there were some excellent passages of hurling over the hour. Furthermore the standard of sportsmanship was exemplary, and this game, which many feared might "boil over" was waged without a trace of rancour.

The winners undoubtedly won this game in the opening half, when playing with the strong breeze, which blew towards the town goal. Their forwards utilised every scoring opportunity and when they led by the sizeable tally of fourteen points—3-7 to 0-2 at the interval—it was obvious the title was on its way to Ballyduff.

But to Tourin's ever-lasting credit, they refused to accept defeat as inevitable and their magnificent second-half comeback had the huge crowd on tenter hooks right up to the final whistle. They restarted in whirlwind fashion and within five minutes had reduced their deficit by six points. But although they continued to whittle away that Ballyduff lead ever so slowly, they were still five points in arrears at the call of time.

Although the Reds were the better all round side, they were helped considerably by a Tourin full back line that erred gravely on many occasions, and twice full forward Mikey Quirke merely turned those errors to advantage to compile a matchwinning hat-trick of goals. Those last line Tourin defenders repeatedly pulled wildly on fast moving ground balls, and more often than not completely missed them, leaving their opponents unmarked to have pot shots at goalkeeper Frank McGrath. Over the hour, Quirke seldom moved out side the confines of the 21 yard mark, yet he proved the match winner with his vital goals.

Having won the toss, Ballyduff wisely opted to take first advantage of the breeze—a decision that played a major part in the outcome. And the game was scarcely a minute old when Mikey Quirke had the first of his goals from less than 20

KILROSSANTY'S FIRST GOAL SCORED BY JIMMY WHYTE

Ger Mooney, J. Kearns and Achill Lannon were particularly good.

Their most talented performer, however, was midfielder Martin Kennedy, who never once let up for the entire sixty minutes. He rarely missed from scorable frees, and it was ironic that he should end up on a beaten side.

The method of attempted scoring by their attack must have been exasperating for their supporters. They seemed obsessed with the idea of simply walking through for scores, and the folly of this was not fully realised by them until it was too late. Biggest culprit in this respect was centreforward Monty Guiry, whose persistent dallying with the ball spoiled what could have been an otherwise great display. Others to fare reasonably well were John Regan and Noel Power, before being moved to midfield.

Kilrossanty—S. O'Connell; J. Maher; M. Feeney; T. Moloney; T. Baldwin; J. Power; N. Walsh; T. Walsh; T. Flynn; T. Walsh; T. Riordan; P. Walsh; J. Whyte; P. Fitzgerald; N. Casey; Sub.—M. Cronin for J. Whyte.

started their heroic fight-back with a point and a minute later Tom Fives made no mistake from a 60 yards free. Then in the fifth minute a Tom Fives free landed 'dead' in the goalmouth and the ball was pushed to the net from the ensuing melee. Three minutes later Steve Scanlon pointed a free for the first time in the hour. Tourin's followers must have held out hope of victory.

In the 12th minute John O'Gorman had a Ballyduff point from a free following one of their sporadic raids, but nine minutes later Steve Scanlon had a like score—his fierce drive for goal being deflected over by a Ballyduff defender. Twice within a minute the winners goal bore a charmed life but it fell for the second time in the 27th—a score, however, that goalkeeper Jim Quirke was entirely to blame for. In the 29th minute O'Gorman pointed yet another Ballyduff free and just on time Tommy Barry had Tourin's final point.

The winners' defence was constantly under second-half pressure but with the recalled Joe Daly playing inspired hurling at full back the sector goalmouth faltered. Daly never put a foot wrong and he got great assistance from corner backs Pad Flynn and Paddy Quirke. Behind them, however Jim Quirke had one of his less memorable games in goal and must shoulder full responsibility for the two balls that beat him.

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL ABBEYSIDE PATTERN

With favourable weather conditions, last Sunday's Abbeyside Pattern was very successful and enjoyable and reflects the greatest of credit on a hard-working committee.

The results were—
Fancy Dress Parade—1st, The Royal Wedding (Dungarvan group); 2, Breda Gang, "Wilson's Escape"; 3, Pat Spillane "Pattern Day," tied with Catherine Fraughan and Breda O'Kennedy "The Modern Housewives."
Egg and Spoon Race—1, Ivor Gordon; 2, Pat White; 3, John Hourigan.
Donkey race—1, R. Cashin; 2, T. Curran; 3, N. Beresford.
3-legged Race—1, Ivor Gordon and John Hourigan; 2, R. Kieley and Pat White; 3, M. Durand and Pat Murphy.
Weight Throwing—1, Pat Larrissey; 20' 9".
Tossing the Sheaf—S. Kennelly, Ballyduff Upper.
Tip the Bucket—Tom Cowman and John Butler.
Greasy Pole—Tom Cowman.
Duck Race—Johnnie Butler.
Tug o' war—1, Ballyvoile; 2, The Pike.
Two-ear Boat race—1, Paddy Organ's boat.

Then quite unexpectedly the flood gates to the Tourin goal were closed and during the remaining forty-five minutes they only scored a further four points. Tourin's first score was a pointed free by Steve Scanlon and Paddy Fives quickly added another from play. Twice Scanlon unsuccessful ly attempted for goals from close in frees and just before the interval two Ballyduff minors gave them their commanding fourteen point lead.

Quite obviously Tourin's second half task was an uphill one and in an effort to improve matters they introduced Tom Fives at half-back. Within half a minute Tommy Barry
