Brothers Before Court As Defendants

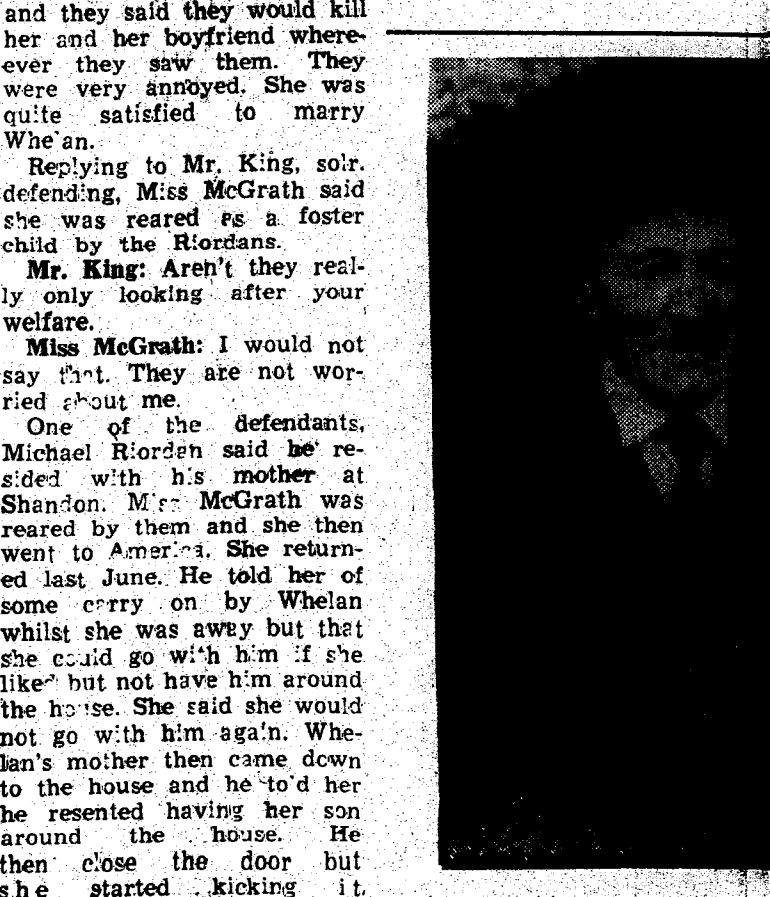

THREE Dungarvan brothers, Michael and Sean Riordan, Shandon, and Joseph Riordan, 29 Cathal Brugha Place were defendants in charges brought against them by Liam Whelan, 54 Cathal Brugha Place, Dungarvan at Dungarvan District Court on Wednesday. Michael Riordan was charged with assaulting Whelan at Caseyville on July 23rd whilst the other brothers were charged with using obscene language to the complainant on July 23rd. The charge against Michael Riordan was adjourned to see how things would work out after he had given an undertaking not to interfere with Whelan again, but the Justice refused to hear the charge against the other defendants until their Circuit Court appeal against a three months prison sentence has been dealt with. Accordingly he adjourned their case until their appeal had been heard.

In evidence Mr. Liam Whelan said on the night of 22nd July he was going home from the pictures and he had Miss Joan McGrath, his wife to be with him. After leaving Miss McGrath home he heard a person running up after him. He stopped and saw it was Michael Riordan who said he wanted him for a minute. Before he knew where he was he got a belt in the nose and was knocked to the ground and got cut on the hand. The fight lasted about five minutes and Miss McGrath came on the scene and tried to stop it. He had a sore jaw from the fight. He did not offer any resistance to the assault. Shortly afterwards he was with his girl friend in the cinema and another of the defendants, Sean, used bad language to him. The night of the assault by Michael Riordan, the defendant, told him he would see him again. Witness went on: "At the last Court the Riordans gave an undertaking that they would not touch me but when I left the Courtroom Sean and Joseph came after me and I got hit on the head and got a knee in the stomach. I brought them back into the Court again for assaulting me. The only complaint they have against me is that I am going to marry Joan McGrath who was reared in their house. I am not afraid of them but I do not like fighting."

Mr. E. F. King (defending) said that after the fight between Michael Riordan and Whelan the defendant had a black eye, his nose was nearly broken, his shoulder was bitten and he had scars on his legs. Mr. King to Whelan: "Isn't all this trouble to protect the girl they reared?" Miss Joan McGrath said she was engaged to Liam Whelan and they were to be married at the end of the month. He heard talk of an allegation against Liam Whelan, but did not believe it. After the assault on Liam she went to the Riordan house to collect all her belongings. She met Sean and Joseph Riordan and they said they would kill her and her boyfriend wherever they saw them. They were very annoyed. She was quite satisfied to marry Whelan. Replying to Mr. King, so-called, defending, Miss McGrath said she was reared as a foster child by the Riordans. Mr. King: Aren't they really only looking after your welfare. Miss McGrath: I would not say that. They are not worried about me. One of the defendants, Michael Riordan said he resided with his mother at Shandon. Mr. McGrath was reared by them and she then went to America. She returned last June. He told her of some carry on by Whelan whilst she was away but that she could go with him if she liked but not have him around the house. She said she would not go with him again. Whelan's mother then came down to the house and he told her he resented having her son around the house. He then closed the door but she started kicking it and he was going to send her to the Guards. The following day Whelan came down to the house. They saw them. They and they said they would kill witness admitted the assault took place on July 22nd. He had an argument with Whelan, but he (Riordan) got a black eye, a broken nose, a bit of shoulder and marks on the legs. He had seen Whelan several times since, but there had been no incidents. He heard Whelan was going to marry Miss McGrath and his whole attitude was in protecting her. As far as he was concerned there would be no further incidents. He would not interfere with Whelan or Miss McGrath again. Judge Skinner said he would adjourn the case against this defendant to see how things would "pan out." He refused to take the case against Sean and Joseph Riordan until their circuit court appeal had been heard.

WHAT IS A CREDIT UNION?

A credit union is a group of people united by a common bond, who save their money together and make loans to each other for good purposes at low interest. Each credit union is an independent, nonprofit corporation, chartered and supervised by Government, established for the benefit of members. There are many types of common bond. Credit unions may be formed, for example, by people who work together, or who belong to the same church or association or who live in the same well-defined community area. The first credit unions were organized by community or parish groups, and these bonds predominate in credit unions outside the United States. In the industrial United States, however, the credit union proved itself so admirably suited to the needs of urban employee groups that this type of credit union has outgrown all others.

Because a credit union can never be larger than the number of people embraced by the common bond that supports it, most credit unions are small. But, since most credit unions are essentially organizations of people, rather than of dollars, all credit unions, regardless of size, can provide their members with the same important benefits.

HOW DOES A CREDIT UNION HELP ITS MEMBERS?

Credit unions provides at least four important benefits for their members. All credit unions encourage systematic thrift and all credit unions make lowest cost loans for good and worthwhile purposes. Most credit unions provide members with no extra cost to them, important insurance protection. Most credit unions provide financial counseling.

REGULAR SAVING After payment of a 2/6 membership fee, a credit unionist saves by purchasing shares. These are usually valued at £1 each and may even be purchased on an "instalment" plan; many credit union pioneers recall depression days in which members brought in dimes and pennies to apply toward share purchase. In depressed areas of the world this is still commonplace. The typical amount members save is small, but much of this money would have never been saved except for the encouragement and convenience of the credit union. Credit union members all over the world have learned that even small sums, saved regularly, quickly add up.

FINANCIAL COUNSELING Credit pioneer Roy F. Berggren once noted: "The most important service of the credit union is the education of the members in the management and control of their own money." Family financial counseling has always been offered by some credit unions. Now many more are participating in formal training to enable their officers and employees to provide competent help to members in financial trouble. Thousands of people have gone to their credit unions on the verge of personal bankruptcy and found themselves a few months later out of debt, with a savings account and with much more wisdom in handling money.

WHAT FRUITS A CREDIT UNION?

The security of credit unions is a tribute to the foresight of the men and women who conceived the credit union in its present-day form. Protections are many, but the most significant ones are external and internal supervision, a strong bonding programme, a mandatory reserve requirement, and member participation.

MEMBER PARTICIPATION A credit union is a pure democracy; each member has one vote at an annual meeting, regardless of the size of his share or loan balance. Thus, every member has a voice in the policies of his credit union, and the officers he helps elect are strictly accountable to him.

HOW DOES A CREDIT UNION OPERATE?

Any group with a legitimate common bond and sufficient number of potential members (100 are recommended) may organize a credit union. WHAT ARE CREDIT UNIONS TRYING TO ACCOMPLISH? Although the number and strength of credit unions grows each year, credit union people believe their job has only begun. In the U.S. alone, perhaps about half of potential members actually belong to credit unions. And many members use their credit union for only part of their savings and credit needs.

Especially in the world there are millions to whom credit union could bring economic improvement, as it is ready demonstrating in 87 countries. In many places there have dramatically improved living conditions for the members. This has been recognized officially by the U.S. government, and the U.S. has made the credit union part of its foreign policy.

Credit unions have always had for themselves a goal and a credit union showed that goal very limited means. Each other at least, they are for small-scale enterprises, relatively short-term. Equally significant experience in practical democracy which has come to people wherever they own and operate their own credit unions. In many parts of the world, the first vote ever cast by a citizen is in his credit union.

Loans are made for virtually any worthwhile purpose and the rate is never more than 1% per month on the unpaid balance of the loan. This rate, stated as 12% true annual interest, is about the same as 6% discount loan for one year made by a bank. It is far cheaper than most lending rates in the community. Moreover, this is often reduced even farther by an interest refund paid by the credit union at the end of the year. The most common interest rebate is about 10% of interest paid.

Primary security for every credit union loan is the borrower's character. For most loans, character is the only security. Larger loans, however, may be secured by collateral or other collateral. Yet, credit unions have a repayment ratio that is the envy of the financial world. Across the globe, through good times and bad,

Attention is directed to the important changes effected by the Children (Amendment) Act, 1957, in the law relating to children placed in foster homes, or placed in employment in certain circumstances, by a person or by a body other than a local authority.

WEDDING: MEANEY - VEALE

The marriage took place at Carbalby Church, Tramore, of Mr. Denis Meaney, only son of Mrs. M. Meaney and the late Mr. P. Meaney, Dromroe, Cappoquin, and Miss Catherine Veale, daughter of Mrs. Rita Veale and the late Mr. Michael Veale, Agherno, Ballyearane, Tramore.

The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass and Pupal Blessing was performed by Rev. Michael O'Donovan, C.C., Tramore (now P.P. Killorossanty), assisted by Very Rev. J. Kenneally, P.P., Cappoquin. The best man was Mr. Thomas Feerick, Cappoquin, brother-in-law of the bridegroom. The matron of honour was Mrs. P. P. Walsh, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaid was Miss R. Meaney, sister of the groom. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. P. J. Veale, wore a full-length gown of white wild oxtail silk cut on classical lines with train. Her full length white-tulle veil was arranged over a coronet and she carried a bouquet of apricot begonia.

The bride's attendants wore full-length dresses of apple green corded with silk, with matching headresses, and carried bouquets of red begonia. Mrs. R. WEST WATERFORD NOTES

VERY REV. FR. WM. HYNES

Having spent an enjoyable holiday in his native parish of Clashmore, Very Rev. Fr. W. Hynes has returned to his mission in the U.S.A. A member of a well known family, Fr. Hynes, who is very popular in his native area, is an outstanding churchman and is Pastor of St. Joseph's Parish, Crescent City, which is in the diocese of Santa Rosa, California.

Following his ordination, for the home diocese, in St. John's College, Waterford, in 1949, Fr. Hynes was appointed curate in Maryville, and served there until he received his present appointment.

St. Joseph's is an extensive parish which has a new church and parochial residence, as well as a Catholic school (which is conducted by a religious community) and a parish hall. There are few Irish people in the parish (only 15), but the Bishop, Most Rev. Dr. Maher, is the son of a Tipperary man, and like Fr. Hynes, has a great love for Ireland.

In that particular part of America the climate is extremely mild; there is plenty of sunshine and no real winter. It is, of course, in the "Redwood Country" and the scenery is beautiful. The farmers grow extensive areas of flowers—lilies, dahlias, tulips, etc., and consequently, there is no scarcity of colour.

Some time ago Crescent City experienced an earthquake and 'dial wave and while much damage was done, few lives were lost.

Fr. Hynes is son of Mr. J. Hynes and the late Mr. Hynes, and is brother of Messrs. Pat and Ed. Hynes and Sister M. Louise of the French Sisters of Charity, Birmingham. He visits his native land every year and is already eagerly looking forward to next year's trip. He is wishing him health, happiness and prosperity in his sacred calling.

LAKE MISS M. J. RUSSELL

The remains of the late Miss M. J. Russell, Clashmore, were removed from her residence to Clashmore Parish Church and the accompanying cortege was of large and representative proportions and included members and staff of Waterford Health Authority and members of the I.C.A., etc.

Following the celebration of Requiem Masses for the eternal repose of her soul the interment ceremony took place in the adjoining cemetery. The officiating clergyman was Very Rev. Canon Power, P.P., and Rev. Fr. Russell, C.C.

SUCCESSFUL CLASHMORE STUDENT

Congratulations are extended to Miss Catherine Ronayne, Coolbigh, Clashmore, on her success in the recent Intermediate Examination, which she passed with Honours. Miss Ronayne, who is a member of a well known family, is a pupil of Youghal Presentation

O'Donovan, P.P., Killorossanty; Very Rev. J. Moran, O.P., Prior, Waterford; Rev. M. Coady, Adm., Cathedral, Waterford; Rev. S. Moore, C.S.S.R., Limerick.

The chief mourners were: Rev. Gerard Power, C.S.S.R., Belfast, and Messrs. John Power, Cobb, Paul Power, Cork City, Frank Power, do. and James Power, England (brothers); Mrs. D. Simms, Blackrock, Cork, and Miss Mary Power, Eng. and (Sisters).

WANT REPAIRED

Mr. Cahill said there were seven or eight farming families living on this road and it was in a desperate state. He himself had got stuck with a tractor there recently. Some few years ago they were promised that something would be done but it never was. The road was about 1 1/2 miles in length.

Mr. Hennessey, one of the farmers living on this road said it was in a very bad condition.

ON THE LAND

With harvesting operations completed, farmers are now concentrating on lifting the best crop and the first deliveries of the season in this area have already been made. The lifting of the potato crop has also begun. Yields show a decrease as compared with previous years.

VILLIERSTOWN WATER SUPPLY

The County Engineer has written to Mr. Charles Curran, M.C.C., as follows:—

"Re/ Villierstown Water Supply.—With reference to your representation on above subject, we have been investigating the position with regard to this supply and I am pleased to be able to report that on 25th September, all the premises had a supply of water. We are continuing our investigations and will keep you posted under constant review."

Villierstown is to have a new water scheme and tenders will be sought in the near future.

SAFE DRIVING AWARDS

The annual presentation of Safe Driving Certificates to drivers employed by Waterford County Council took place last week. This year, many of the drivers who had accident-free driving during the five years since the commencement of the scheme, were entitled to silver medals and a £5 bonus.

To mark the occasion, the drivers organised a dinner at the Devonshire Arms Hotel and had as their guests, Rev. D. P. Kennedy, S.J., President of the Safety First Association of Ireland; Mr. C. Curran, Chairman of the County Council; Mr. T. A. Kyne, T.D., Chairman of Dungarvan Urban Council, and members of the County Council staff.

Fr. Kennedy, who presented the certificate and medals on behalf of the Safety First Association, congratulated the drivers on their success and expressed the hope that many of them would be receiving the gold medals in five years' time. He stressed the fact that, whereas road improvements, signposting and other works helped in reducing accidents, the chief factor involved was the self-discipline exercised by drivers themselves. The professional drivers had a further responsibility in giving good example to other road users.

Mr. C. Curran, Chairman of the County Council, who presented the bonus cheques, said that it was accepted that drivers employed by the County Council were noted for their care and courtesy. He knew each of them personally and he thought very highly of each of them.

Mr. T. A. Kyne, T.D., Chairman of Dungarvan Urban Council, praised the co-operation of workers and officials in the competitions. He congratulated the successful drivers and said he was proud of them as members of his union.

Mr. J. D. Hally, B.E., County Engineer, who acted as Chairman, referred to the wonderful record set up by the drivers since the commencement of the competition in 1959. Since that time they had driven a grand total of approximately 24 million miles without causing one serious accident. There had been in all, only twelve accidents, which cost the Council the very small sum of only £35 each on average. What was more important was the fact that none of these accidents involved serious injury to any drivers themselves or to any member of the public.

Mr. J. G. Dowling, County Secretary, associated himself with the glowing tribute paid to the drivers and wished them well in the years ahead.

After the dinner, the drivers and their guests joined in a very enjoyable social which brought, to light much unsuspected talent, not least among the ladies present.

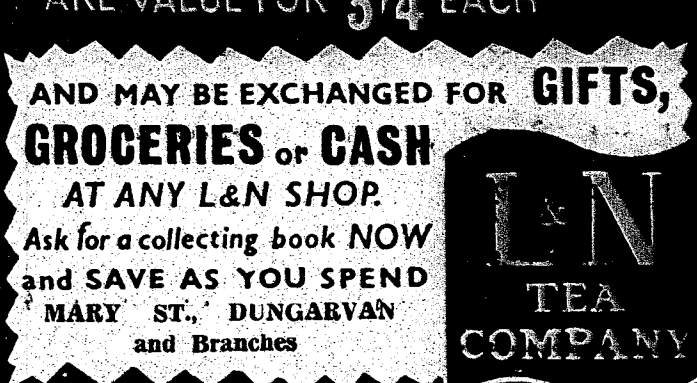

Mr. Michael Flynn, speaking on behalf of the drivers, welcomed the guests, especially Fr. Kennedy, who had travelled a long journey to be present. He assured Fr. Kennedy that the drivers did not take the competition casually, but were glad of the opportunity of improving their driving skills, and setting an example to other road users.

Mr. Pat Veale, the senior driver, presented Fr. Kennedy with two pieces of Waterford Glass, one for Fr. Kennedy himself and the other for Miss Kelly, the Secretary of the Safety First Association, who was indisposed, and unable to be present at the dinner, in appreciation of their work for road safety.

County Selection Committees

At a meeting of Waterford County Board G.A.A., in Dungarvan, on Monday last, some of the selection committees for the coming year were elected.

At the outset, it was decided that the county champions have two on the selection committees in the respective grades and that the runners-up have one. It was decided to select the other two from nominations received by the Board.

In senior hurling Jim Ware, Nicky Power, Terry Dalton, Paddy McGrath and P. J. Sullivan were nominated for the vacant position, and the vote resulted as follows: Ware 18; Power 14; Dalton 12; McGrath 12; Sullivan 6. Jim Ware and Nick Power were then declared elected.

The only change from last year is that Terry Dalton loses his place on the selection committee and he is replaced by the Abbeyside nominee who was automatically elected being from the county runners-up.

In minor football, John Fraher (Cappoquin) and John Barron (De La Salle) were the 2 selected by the Board. Others nominated were Sean Power (John Mitchels) and T. Barry (Tramore).

The voting was: Fraher 18; Barron 16; Power 16; and Barry 12. A separate vote was then taken between Barron and Power and the De La Salle man was elected by 16 votes to 12.

Mickey Feeney had an overwhelming majority in the minor hurling election. The Ballyduff Upper delegate received 29 votes and J. Jower with 18 votes was also elected. The only other candidate, Mr. P. Coffey, Portlaw, received 14 votes.

Incidentally, Dungarvan, as runners-up, have elected Jim Walsh as their representative on the Committee.

The other selection Committees will be finalised at the November meeting of the Board.

LATE JACK TOBIN

The people of Dungarvan and surrounding districts, learned with the deepest sense of shock and sorrow of the tragic death on Monday evening last of popular building contractor Jack Tobin, Ballymacmague.

Jack fell to his death whilst erecting a hibernian on the farm of Mr. Michael McGrath, Knocknacroaha, Cappagh.

Aged 69 years he was one of the most popular figures in the county. He will be long remembered for his heroic part in the fight for freedom, and his greatest ambition was to see a 32-county Ireland free from British rule. He was a member of the West Waterford Brigade I.R.A.

His love for Irish music and language knew no bounds, and he did not spare himself in promoting Irish culture. He was one of the co-founders of the Dungarvan Comhaltas Ceoltóirí Branch and under his leadership it prospered and flourished. A traditional fiddler of exceptional ability, his services were sought in many quarters. He adjudicated at Fleadhanna all over the country—which in itself was another tribute to his capacity in this field.

He was too a great lover of Gaelic games, and was especially interested in the welfare of the Colligan clubs, with whom his sons started.

It is tragic indeed that the community should lose such an outstanding Irishman, when in the fullness of health. His like are very rare in this present day world, and anyone who knew him intimately or otherwise was indeed privileged, to his bereaved family we tender sincere sympathy during this time of inexpressible grief.

The funeral to St. Mary's Parish Church on Tuesday evening, was a glowing tribute to the immense popularity of the deceased. Every main thoroughfare was jammed with cars, and the funeral was one of the largest ever seen in the town. The funeral to Ballinroad on Wednesday was of huge dimensions also and was representative of every section of the community. (Funeral arrangements were carried out by T. F. McCarthy Dungarvan.)

TOBIN—(7th Anniversary)—
 In loving memory of John J. Tobin, late of Coneytee Tce., who died 20th October, 1957. R.I.P. Sacred Heart of Jesus have mercy on his soul. Masses offered.

LATE REV. M. AHEARNE

AN APPRECIATION

Just one short years ago, Fr. Michael Ahearne, a native of Cappoquin, was honoured by the clergy and laity of the Diocese of Baker, Oregon, U.S.A., on the occasion of the silver jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood. Priests and people all combined to pay tribute to the humble Irish priest who, in the various centres in which he had ministered, had selflessly dedicated himself to his sacred duties and had by his zeal and devotion, won for himself the affection of the people of the land of his adoption.

The pleasure of the great occasion was enhanced by the privilege of a vacation in his native land. This was to be Fr. Michael's last stay in Ireland for only a fortnight ago, the Great Call came and he now lies thousands of miles away amongst the people whom he served so faithfully.

In this brief appreciation the writer recalls the dear dead priest as a schoolboy, a student and a newly-ordained priest. His outstanding characteristics were his humility and his charity. He too, had a great sense of humour. Small wonder then that he had so many friends. A delightful companion who took pleasure in simple things and yet could hold his own in discussions of a deep nature. Writing of him a fellow priest says: "I was as close to Fr. Michael as any friend could be and I must admit that the greatest honour I had was to call myself his friend. Many wonderful priests have come from Ireland to this country but he was the greatest of them all. In a word he was the soul of Ireland. His magnetic personality, his lovely sweet disposition and that wonderful Irish smile is something that can never be forgotten from the minds and hearts of those who knew him."

Another priest writing of the burial said: "We came to pray and pay our last respects to one of the kindest, most cheerful and most pleasant priests we had the privilege of knowing and appreciating." His words express our feelings for the dear departed.

MOUNT SION DESERVING MINOR CHAMPIONS

But Margin of Victory Flattered Them

MOUNT SION 3-6 DUNGARVAN 0-6.

FORGET THAT FINAL SCORELINE. TO ACCEPT IT ON ITS FACE VALUE WOULD BE DOING LESS THAN JUSTICE TO A DUNGARVAN SIDE THAT MADE MOUNT SION BATTLE EVERY INCH OF THE WAY IN A MOST ENTERTAINING MINOR HURLING COUNTY FINAL, AT THE FRAHER FIELD, DUNGARVAN, ON SUNDAY LAST. THERE WAS LITTLE OR NOTHING BETWEEN THE SIDES FOR MOST OF THE HOUR, AND NOT UNTIL MOUNT SION SCORED TWO GOALS IN THE FINAL MOMENTS WAS THE ISSUE REALLY PUT BEYOND DOUBT.

That the eastern champions deserved to retain their title is something no one could question or argue about. More powerfully built, they possessed an attack that could pierce the most defence-tight rear-guards, and it was this forward power more than anything else that paved the way for the retention of their laurels. Dungarvan, on the other hand, lost an incalculable volume of scores through the shortcomings of their forward division. Territorially, they enjoyed a marked advantage which, unfortunately, for them, was not translated into match-winning scores.

This was particularly so in the opening half, when they lorded it over their rivals in practically every sector of the field. Yet it was Sion who did the scoring damage and at the interval the champions led by 1-2 to 0-3. For the first 20 minutes the Blues pounded away relentlessly at the Monastery posts, yet their sum scoring total was a paltry brace of points. At this stage Sion had yet to score—in fact as yet they had to mount a threatening attack, and had the usually accurate Sean Franklin been on target, that Monastery deficit would surely have been trebled.

MT. SION LEAD

Then in the 21st minute we saw the first glimmer of Mt. Sion's scoring potential. They laid siege to the Old Boro' citadel, and after goalkeeper Michael Donnelly had twice deflected them with superb saves, they jumped into a lead they never thereafter relinquished, with a goal by corner-forward Byrne.

After the resumption, however, Sion began to play with more authority and continued lapses by the Dungarvan attack quite obviously had its effects on the remainder of the side. Yet the scoring differential between the sides never widened beyond four points, and as Dungarvan began to pile on the pressure relentlessly with just over seven minutes left in the game the stage was set for another grand stand finish. Twice before the Blues had snatched themselves from the very jaws of defeat, and now as they bore down on the Monastery posts followers were given hopes anew that they might just about pull off another of those sensational "on the post" victories. Twice within a minute they forced fruitless seventies and an open goal was fluffed by two over eager full forwards.

DARING CHANCE

Then team mentors took the daring chance of taking Michael Donnelly out of goal in an effort to whittle away their deficit. But it had disastrous repercussions, for no sooner had Donnelly moved outfield, than the winners went through for two goals, neither of which would have presented the slightest difficulty for "Don." Those scores finally put paid to a great Dungarvan effort, and Sion were deservedly assured of the title for another year.

THE SCORING

The opening quarter was one of complete Dungarvan dominance, but from a scoring viewpoint that dominance was utterly futile. Six times in the first ten minutes scoring opportunities were fluffed away, and it was not until the 15th minute that Sean Franklin gave them the lead with a pointed free. In the 19th minute, Mickey Fraher placed Franklin for yet another minor but within a minute the same player lost a great chance of stretching that lead further when he sent a 25 yard free in front of the posts wide.

Then in the 21st minute Sion mounted their first worthwhile attack which ended in a goal by Byrne. Seamas Dwyer and Kevin Fleming exchanged points and two minutes before the break another minor by Byrne left the champions ahead by 1-2 to 0-3 at the halfway mark.

Within a minute of the restart, the Blues had a lucky escape when Danny Mahon belted home a goal from a defensive blunder, but the score was disallowed because of a parallelgram infringement. Almost immediately, however, Mahon made amends when he pointed a free, and the champions were a clear goal to the good. A Michael Tobin point from a free in the 9th minute kept Dungarvan in touch, but a brace of minors by Dwyer consolidated the Monastery position. Peter Hayes and Byrne again exchanged points, and with four points between them and eight minutes left in the game the Blues turned the heat. The Monastery goal bore something of a charmed life as the ball bobbed precariously in the danger zone, but the forward power to finish off the chances was all too obviously missing. Then Donnelly was taken out of goal but no sooner had he moved outfield than Sion scored two comparatively easy goals that put a final damper on a fine Old Boro' effort. Just before the end "Foggy" Walsh had Dungarvan's final point.

WELL SERVED

This was a well balanced Mt. Sion fifteen, capably served in some sectors and brilliantly served in others. Tony Flynn was an excellent goalkeeper, and in a really compact defence Byrne, Wyse, Hayes, and Power all shone. Their midfielders Billy Erisby and Paul Kelly were outplayed for most of the first half, but held the balance of power after the change of ends.

The Sion attack was brilliantly led by full forward Danny Mahon, to whom the Dungarvan defenders had no effective answer. He was ably flanked by the opportunist Jimmy Byrne, and of the half forwards, Noel Kelly and to a lesser extent Seamas Dwyer, were best.

DONNOLLY AGAIN STARRED

Once again much of the limelight was captured by Dungarvan's goalkeeper Michael Donnelly. He was not as seriously tested on occasions as he was against the Vikings on the previous Sunday, yet everything he did had an unmistakable touch of brilliance about it. The full backs found Mahon to be a rare handful, and John Egan, Sean Murphy and Pat Walsh have all had better games.

But the outer trio of defenders were brilliance personified for the entire hour. Sean Daly was never beaten for a ball at right half and was to my mind Dungarvan's man of the match. Jimmy Healy at centre half outlasted a much bigger and heavier opponent, and Michael Norris on the left once again proved that he is a minor of exceptional ability.

The midfielders Michael Tobin and Sean-Grath opened very well and for half an hour dictated matters in the area. But Sion gained the upper hand after the interval, when Dungarvan were compelled to move McGrath into the attack. The forwards—if blame is being apportioned to anyone—must be considered the culprits in chief. True, fate was not overkind to their efforts on several occasions, but during the hour they let too many gilt edged chances go abegging.

P. Kelly, N. Kelly, T. Galvin, S. Dwyer, J. Byrne, D. Mahon, M. Vardy.

Best of the textet was team captain Mickey Fraher, who certainly set the right kind of example, whilst a trieless Kevin Fleming and Sean Flynn also tried valiantly throughout. Mt. Sion—T. Flynn; B. White, T. Byrne, S. Wyse; S. Hayes, S. Power, T. Cullinane; B. Frisby hurling champions. That is a prediction that can be made with the utmost certainty and the red and white favours cannot but be waved in triumph on Sunday evening. The reason of course is quite simple. Engaged in this most intriguing decider are two Ballyduffs—one from the lower and one from the upper regions of the county, and a battle royal seems in store before the destination of the title will be known.

stylists as Seamus Flynn, Co. minor Liam Canning and Paddy Feeney, together with bustling full-forward Mikey Quirke there is plenty of scoring potential. Quirke, it was who did the damage against Tourin in the Western final and although lacking top-lass mobility, he will "stick" any chances that may come his way.

It is a final that should be closely fought for the entire hour. Little more than a score or two may separate them at the finish and the expected big attendance should witness a thriller.

But the more one scrutinises the game the more obvious it becomes that the issue will revolve around Tom Cheasty. Upper Ballyduff are, in my opinion, the better balanced side even though they cannot boast of such an outstanding personality as their Eastern counterparts. If they can contain Cheasty reasonably well then they are my choice to capture that Intermediate title. If they fail on that mission, however, then the county star seems likely to carve out yet another victory for his club.

But whatever the outcome it promises to be a great battle between Upper and Lower—with only one possible result—A BALLYDUFF VICTORY.

Likewise the Upper Ballyduff are well served in most sectors. The goalkeeping job is likely to rest with Jim Quirke, although he will have to step up considerably on his disappointing Western final display.

The full line of defence is a very experienced one and Quirke can expect ample protection from Pad Flynn, Joe Daly and Pad Quirke.

Their outer line of course faces quite a task in trying to curb Cheasty and much will depend on how Davy Barry, flanked by Mick Caplice and Donald O'Connor, fare.

John O'Gorman is their key figure at midfield and in an attack that contains such

BALLYDUFF MUST BE CHAMPIONS

BUT WILL IT BE 'UPPER' or 'LOWER'

ON Sunday, next at Dungarvan's Fraher Field, Ballyduff (a draw excepted) will be crowned Intermediate hurling champions. That is a prediction that can be made with the utmost certainty and the red and white favours cannot but be waved in triumph on Sunday evening. The reason of course is quite simple. Engaged in this most intriguing decider are two Ballyduffs—one from the lower and one from the upper regions of the county, and a battle royal seems in store before the destination of the title will be known.

In fact there is similarity written all over this final. Beside sporting the same names, both also play in a vivid red jersey, and for the occasion both will have to change into different jerseys. Never before has there been such an occurrence in this or any other county and the uniqueness of it all should add to the appeal and glamour of the occasion.

Ballyduff Lower are of course led by the incomparable Tom Cheasty and that factor alone makes them slight favourites for the title. The strength of the team undoubtedly revolves around him and although a mercurial figure he can win a game all on his own. In the recent Eastern final against De La Salle he was the architect in chief of victory, and much responsibility indeed falls on the shoulders of his immediate op-

Tragic Death of Noted Irishman

JACK TOBIN
An Appreciation by a Comhaltas Member
"Ceann de na h-Éireann, fear míniúil, gearr-geall, a scob a bhais go hobann usinn. I ainmibh De go raib se."

Last Monday one of the best known figures in traditional music in the South of Ireland went suddenly and tragically to his eternal reward and those left behind mourn his loss.

The late Sean Tobin was that rare figure nowadays—an idealist. From his earliest days he had before him the ideal of a United Ireland... a Gaelic Republic embracing the nation as a whole... with the Irish language, Irish music, Irish games, in their true place, and he never spared himself to achieve that ideal. His work in the fight for freedom is well known but in this tribute we do not honour him for that—others more knowledgeable and competent will take on that task—it is as a traditional musician and a lover of Irish culture that we speak of him to-day.

When Comhaltas Ceoltoirí Éireann was first founded to preserve and if possible to extend the knowledge and practice of Irish music, Jack was one of five who in Lawlor's Hotel, Dungarvan, founded the first Branch in the county, and it was by his initiative and steady work that the Dungarvan Branch of the Comhaltas spread and extended its role. In his later years, music was to Jack his life. Himself a skilled traditional fiddler, he had a vast knowledge of Irish music and was, in great demand at feadhanna all over the country as an adjudicator in his own sphere. His smiling face and ready wit was known all over where traditional musicians gather and Jack was never found wanting when some one asked for a tune. Give him a fiddle and a few fellow musicians and time for him did not exist. He was the Chairman of the Dungarvan Branch since its beginning and no task was too big for him to undertake for the love of music. It is too early yet to realise his loss, to write coherently about him, but he did live to see one of his ideals accomplished—to see the Comhaltas go from strength to strength and see Irish music take its place in the life of the nation. To his family we offer sympathy that we cannot put into words.

As we go to Press, a meeting has been arranged between members of the N.F.A. Oireachtas Committee and the Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister for Finance at which the arterial drainage is to be discussed in detail.

County Secretaries have already been notified of this offer and those anxious to make use of it should indicate the dates during the month of October which would be most suitable to them for such a meeting.

Talks are now to be put on a more formal basis and a select team from the National Livestock Committee is to discuss with the Ulster Farmers' Union and the National Farmers' Union of Great Britain, the possible complete elimination of this three months waiting period.

The cost of dressing is 3/- per head and its appearance alone these cattle next spring will be worth £2 extra per head.

The immediate benefits are, no lice or loss of coat during the winter, and next summer there will be no gadding, no time lost looking for animals, no cut teats or udders, more milk, more meat and around better growth. Surely 3/- is a small investment for such a dividend.

Every farmer who has not done so should apply today to his Advisory Officer or A.I. Station to have this simple, profitable job done for them.

It is with regret we record the death of Mr. William Ignatius O'Keefe, The Square, Tallow, which had occurred at Dunganree District Hospital, on October 7th, following a rather brief illness.

Irish Wool producers figured prominently in a Conference of European Wool Producers held in England this week. Organized by the British Wool Marketing Board it was held in London and Bradford.

Twelve European Countries attended and observers came from Australia, New Zealand and America, etc. The Chairman, Mr. D. Dolan and Secretary, Mr. J. Quinn of the N.F.A. Sheep and Wool Committee represented Irish producers.

A visit was made to the premises of the British Wool Marketing Board to study the system of grading and packing of wool carried on there—considered to be one of the most up-to-date and complete systems of its kind in the World.

The chief mourners were: Mrs. May O'Keefe (widow); Rev. Mother Dolores, Loreto Convent, Clonmel and Rev. Sr. Marie Teresa, Mercy Convent, Dunganree (daughters); Mr. John O'Keefe, B.E., Toronto, Canada (son); Mr. Anthony O'Keefe, Roseville House, Tallow and Mr. Joseph F. Lismore Notes

CHURCH MISSION

The Mission, which is being conducted by the Passionist Fathers, in St. Catherine's Church, has to-date been proving a wonderful stress and very large congregations are attending morning and evening devotions. The Mission will conclude on Sunday evening next.

RECEIVED SAFETY AWARDS

Six local Waterford County Council drivers were awarded safety first awards for accident-free driving, at a dinner organised by the drivers, in Dungarvan recently.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

The engagement was announced recently, between Mr. Richard A. Fogarty, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Fogarty, formerly of Fermilue Hill, Lismore, and 56 Kincoora Rd., Contard, Dublin, and Miss Catherine Delaney, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Delaney, South Circular Road, Dublin.

DEATH OF MR. H. WILLIS

The death occurred of Mr. Herbert Willis, at his residence in Mayfield, Lismore, on Friday, 10th inst.

The deceased gentleman, who was a native of Curragh, Tallow, was possessed of a very quiet and friendly manner, and his sudden passing at a comparatively young age has been received with much regret.

To his sorrowing relatives and friends we tender our deepest sympathy.

The remains were removed to St. Catherine's Cathedral, Church of Ireland, on Friday evening, and the burial took place in the adjoining cemetery, on Saturday. Rev. Dean Mayes, Dean of Lismore, officiated at the graveside.

WATERFORD'S CHAMPION BAKER

Heartiest congratulations are extended to Mrs. Michael Byrne, Deerpark East, Lismore, on her recent success in winning the Waterford County Baking Championship, which was held in Dungarvan, on Tuesday of last week, Oct. 6.

Already a winner of many baking awards, her latest success, which has been received with much delight, entitles her to go forward as Waterford's representative in the all-Ireland final, which will be held in Kilkenny during the approaching Poughing championships later in the year.

All local hurling followers will no doubt flock to the Gaelic field, Dungarvan, on Sunday next, to witness what promises to be a "bankie royal" between the meekly Ballyscath West and the men from Bally-

'SION TAKE 19th TITLE

Abbeyside's Great Effort Just Fails

Early second-half misses proved too costly

MOUNT SION — S.H. CHAMPIONS FOR THE 19th TIME

MOUNT SION — 3-6
 ABBEYSIDE — 1-6

WHENEVER in the years to come the hurling files are consulted, they will show with unmistakable exactness that Mount Sion were crowned Waterford senior hurling champions for the 19th time at Dungarvan's Fraher Field on an October Sunday in '64. But what will forever remain untold in those self same files is the heroic bid of Abbeyside to topple the champions — a bid that by my reckoning should have been good enough to have given the Village its first ever senior title. As rank outsiders they entered this decider even unconsidered in far too many quarters but such was the splendour and skill of their challenge that posterity will surely rate them amongst the unluckiest championship losers of all time.

View the game whatever way one will, it must still be regarded as one of the best deciders for many a year. Between these finalists in hurling skill and ability there was scarcely a puck of the ball — a factor borne out to the full when one considers that they were level on no fewer than four occasions during the hour. For 'Sion it was a fitting culmination to another triumphant year, but for Abbeyside the rude shattering of a dream that for so long lay on the brink of reality.

For the huge crowd that was allowed to "slip off the hook", something for which Abbeyside paid dearly for in the final analysis. That ten particular really rose to the occasion in admirable fashion and for practically the entire hour matched — and at times surpassed — the champions in every rudiment of the game. But to-day the challengers must be rueing the many chances they aimlessly fired away over the hour, chances that if utilised advantageously would undoubtedly have brought about the dethronement of 'Sion.

GOLDEN SPELL

I have particularly in mind the opening ten minutes of the second half when Abbeyside literally buried the champions right out of the Fraher Field. During that golden ten minute spell ball after ball was hurled towards the Mount Sion posts and one felt it was inevitable the scores must come. The sides at this stage were level and with the Villagers now rampant I was quite prepared for the championship upheaval of the year. But quite inexplicably 'Sion all and sundry must have realised the Western challenge was a potent one. 'Sion also realised that the gauntlet had been thrown down to them with a firmness that commanded the utmost respect. During the interval recess their selectors made wholesale switches in an effort to secure a winning blend, and defence, midfield and attack all underwent considerable alteration.

But of the numerous switches that were made the most successful was the changing of full-forward Seamus Power to midfield where he enjoyed a new lease of life and played a major part in weathering the mighty challenge to their title. In the latter stages it was Power who rejuvenated a flagging side and I was more than surprised that Abbeyside mentors did not switch the brilliant Liam Enright on him.

ABBEYSIDE'S FINEST

Immediately after the restart we saw Abbeyside playing their finest outfield hurling of the hour. With Mick Kiely playing masterful defensive hurling, Liam Enright dictating the midfield battle and Pat McGovern carving laneways through the champions' defence the tide of battle swayed unmistakably in their favour. But somehow they failed to translate their advantage into scores and as the sides went into the fourth, final and decisive quarter still level, it was anyone's game.

But as so often in the past it was in those closing crucial stages that the Monastery pulled out all the stops and secured the scores that shattered Abbeyside's hitherto bright hopes of annexing that first title. Villain of the piece was corner forward Frankie Walsh who was switched in that second half because of the substandardness of his earlier play. A brace of goals in the 18th and 22nd minutes did the trick, and gallantly though the challengers fought right to the bitter end they never really recovered from those Walsh hammer blows.

WORTHY CHAMPIONS

But if good fortune favoured many of 'Sion's efforts on Sunday they are undoubtedly worthy champions. True the title could so very easily have changed hands, but one could only admire the way the champions weathered the storm which at one stage threatened to engulf them. They remained cool and unfurried; were thankful no doubt for the large slices of luck they enjoyed and then so characteristically of them came in the dying stages to snatch almost cheekily yet another championship crown. But after such a magnificent effort to upset the odds, it would be unfair to levy criticism on any Abbeyside shoulders. But this I do say — had they possessed just one other forward of the thrust of Pat McGovern, then it is my firm belief they would be hauling new championships throughout the county to-day. I also feel Village mentors erred in not placing a rampant Liam Enright on an equally rampant Seamus Power at midfield in the second half, for it was Power more than anyone else that proved the main source of supply for his own attack.

EARLY MOUNT SION LEAD

Aided by the slight breeze and blinding sun, the champions opened in all-conquering fashion. Within seconds goalkeeper Pat Enright was called on to save from John Flavin and only thirty seconds had elapsed when Flavin gave them the lead with a point. But soon Abbeyside recovered that lost composure of the opening minutes and in the fifth minute had a golden opportunity of jumping into a morale-boosting lead but team captain Johnny Hogan, unmarked 10 yds. from goal, shot inches wide. Three minutes later Tony Mansfield slipped Larry Guinan and flashed over the equating point.

Even at this early stage one could sense that Abbeyside were in with an excellent chance. Their hurling was hallmarked by a high degree of confidence and with supremacy in the key positions were putting it up to the champions in no uncertain fashion. Then in the 12th minute Frankie Walsh edged 'Sion into the lead again with an expertly taken point and within seconds Johnny Hogan had neutralised it at the other end. The hurling at this stage was top class and when Duck Whealan gave the Villagers the lead for the first time from a free in the 14th minute the Fraher Field resounded to thunderous Abbeyside cheering.

LUCKY GOAL

Then in the 16th minute lady luck smiled radiantly on the champions. A Grimes centre appeared to be well covered by goalkeeper Padna Enright, but he completely misjudged the flight of the ball and Frankie Walsh was left task of betting the ball to the net. Still there was no Abbeyside let up and within another minute Johnny Hogan flashed a spectacular point across the "hath." In the 23rd minute Seamus Power had a Mount Sion point but three minutes later the Villagers were back in the lead again when Denis Flynn finished to the net after good work by Pat McGovern. But this epic continued to sway in the balance and a Philly Grimes point in the 27th minute gain restored equilibrium. And thus it stood at the half-way mark — level at 1-4 apiece.

ABBEYSIDE DOMINATE

Then came the restart and with it almost unchallenged outflung Abbeyside dominance. For ten memorable minutes they handed out a truly rare hurling lesson to 'Sion but somehow their forwards could not run up what might well have proved decisive scores. During those opening ten minutes immediately following the restart the challengers shot no fewer than seven wides, five of which were quite scoreable. Add to this an open goal which was fluffed and one can readily appreciate the extent of their overall superiority.

Yet in their only attack during that period John Flavin shot 'Sion into the lead with a 7th minute point. In the 14th minute Liam Enright was unceremoniously fouled by an unnecessary robust Mick Dempsey and from all of sixty yards Tony Mansfield made it all square from the resultant free.

Then to that vital — and for Abbeyside fatal — last quarter. In the 18th minute the champions suddenly lifted the siege and the opportunism of Frank Walsh manifested itself to the full as he scored his side's second goal. That score all too obviously had its ill-effects on the Villagers and when Walsh repeated the act four minutes later the end was in sight. In the 24th minute Fintan O'Brien added their final point and the decider was as good as over. But valiantly the challengers battled to the very end. Four minutes from time Duck Whealan had their last score and although they continued to pile on the pressure for the remaining minutes their forwards could find no loopholes in a now confident 'Sion rearguard.

EXACTING CHALLENGE

Not for many a long day have the champions had to face so exacting a challenge to their supremacy. But it is to their credit that they were not found wanting and when it mattered most recovered to notch the belated but all-important scores.

Mount Sion must owe quite a debt of gratitude to goalkeeper Michael Foley who on several occasions foiled the Villagers with top-class saves. For once, however, their rearguard did not perform all too confidently. True they remained steadfast when Abbeyside piled on the pressure, but it was more through the losers' shortcomings up front that the scores were not conceded. Of the sextet, Larry Guinan, Freddie O'Brien and Martin Og Morrissey were best.

'Sion's initial midfield pairing of Mick Gallagher and Fintan O'Brien scarcely got a tuck in during the opening half, and it was only the second half advent of Seamus Power that brought success to the sector.

The Sion attack looked dangerous on occasions, yet as a unit it was well policed by Abbeyside's uncompromising rearguard. Frankie Walsh was undoubtedly their star performer and literally won the game off his own stick by virtue of his personal tally of 3-1. John Flavin had two fine points to his credit but Mick Flannelly and Phil Grimes left little impression on the game. BITTERLY DISAPPOINTED Having come so very near to that first title the Villagers must have been bitterly disappointed at defeat. But none can deny that they had the winning of the game over the hour and weaknesses in attack in all probability cost them hurling history.

Between the posts Pat Enright gave a masterly exhibition of net-minding and although he must shoulder blame for 'Sion's first goal he was one of the real stars of the side. Referee: John Barron (De La Salle).

Flynn at full back did all that one man could be expected to do and corner men J. Browne and Bernard Shields though somewhat "green" on occasions acquitted themselves well.

KIELY THE DEFENSIVE HERO

Undoubtedly the hero of that rearguard however, was centre back Mick Kiely — the best defender on view. This was a super display by the Ballinacourty man and not for a long time has Mick Flannelly been so outplayed. On this form he is well worth inter-county recognition for the opening league series at least.

John McGrath after a somewhat indifferent first half improved considerably after the change-over whilst Rogie Cashin played a cool, solid and totally dependable game all through.

ENRIGHT SUPERB

At midfield Liam Enright emerged as one of the real stars of the side. His was without doubt one of the best midfield performances I have seen for some time and better let me assure county selectors that he is well worth a trial on the county's first fifteen. His partner Danny Barry started well but faded in thesecond half.

McGOVERN OUTSHONE ALL

But if Abbeyside had many stars, my man of the match and the best man afield was right half-forward Pat McGovern. Not once can I recall him having been beaten in a straight duel and T. Walsh is unlikely to forget the roasting he got from the Kilrush lad. Duck Whealan has had better games although in fairness to him the ball never seemed to run kindly for him. Tony Mansfield encountered 'Sion's best defender in Larry Guinan but two fine points highlighted a good display.

The full line of attack, however, lacked real thrust. John Hogan was easily the best and most dangerous of the trio, but valiantly though Ned Moore, Peadar Wall and substitutes Denis Flynn and Joe Power tried their efforts met with little success.
