Condition of Graveyard Critised

THE care of graveyards and graves was the moral responsibility of the parishes and the people in them, said Mr. J. D. Hally, County Engineer, at Friday's meeting of Waterford County Council.

The matter first arose when the Chairman, Col. Charles Curran said he was approached during the week by a number of people about the condition of Pulla Graveyard and the road leading to it.

Col. Michael Harty said he agreed. The graveyard was in a shocking condition and he believed the whole place should be ploughed up and rotovated. It was the dirtiest piece of ground from here to Youghal Bridge.

Col. Curran said the local people should form a committee. There had been no effort made at all in this respect.

Mr. Hally (Co. Engineer): The care of graves and graveyards is the moral responsibility of the parish and the people in it. More money will have to be provided if all the work requested is to be done.

The matter was referred to the estimates meeting next March.

'TAKING CREDIT FOR COUNCILLOR'S WORK' 'Outsiders' Criticised

STRONG criticism was voiced by members of Waterford County Council on Friday last over "outsiders" coming into the County and taking credit for something the Waterford T.D.'s and County Councillors had done.

The matter was raised by the Chairman (Col. Charles Curran) at the monthly meeting. He said that recently a member of the Oireachtas from outside the County came to the Council officials with a deputation and whilst he was not entitled to claim credit for what the Council members or the Waterford T.D.'s had done. Our first duty, he said, is to the people of Co. Waterford and I also have my duty to the members of the County Council. We should be given an opportunity of "being in on it" he added. Deputations should come to the open council.

Col. Norman O'Ryan said he did not see anything wrong with it and the deputy they were referring to was entitled to come into the county with a deputation. He was a deputy for the South-Top - West Waterford Constituency.

Chairman—But I think the local representative, whoever he may be should be given the opportunity of being in on it.

Col. John Fahey said he thought that was a very reasonable suggestion by the Chairman, and it would avoid overlapping. It was an interesting able that the member for the area be acquainted of it.

Col. O'Ryan—There is a lot of overlapping going on.

Col. Curran—Let us say a deputation came from the Ballymacarby area led by a member of the Oireachtas from outside the County. Surely the Council members should be given an opportunity of being in on it.

Col. Sean Whelan said deputations should come before the County Council meetings.

Col. George Heskin said a lot of deputations were introduced to the officials and the local representatives did not even know they had come in.

Col. J. Drohan—That is not fair to the local representatives and it is casting reflection on them.

Col. O'Ryan—There must be some good reason for all that.

Col. Curran—I would not like to say what it was. I do believe the local representative should be in on what is happening in his area. I will not have anyone coming in from outside the county and take credit for what I or the other council members achieved.

Col. Norman Walsh said the real beginning of the trouble was that the people thought Deputies could do more for them than the local representatives. They were being blinded in that respect.

Col. O'Ryan said there was a lot of overlapping going on at local level also couldn't the local representatives keep to their own respective areas, he added.

Col. Curran said he did not want the local representatives left out in the cold in these matters.

Finally it was decided that the outcome of all deputations introduced to the officials at which the local representative was not present, be given to them.

Complaint at Co. Council Meeting

Plenty Water for Swimming Pool - None for Houses

COL. JOHN FAHEY, at last Friday's meeting of Waterford County Council, alleged that whilst water was being supplied for an elaborate swimming pool attached to a bungalow in Ballinacourty, four residents in the same locality had been told that there was not sufficient water pressure to supply them.

Mr. Fahey requested that the Ballinacourty water supply should be extended to intending consumers.

Mr. J. D. Hally (Co. Engineer) said they had a very big number of requests from all over the county for water extensions. He would prefer if this matter was left over to another meeting.

Mr. Fahey said the water position in the Ballinacourty area was very unsatisfactory. There were four people living on the golf links road that wanted water and they had a genuine grievance. A statement had been made that water was being supplied to an elaborate swimming pool at a bungalow in the same locality. Yet these people were told that there was not sufficient pressure to supply them.

The County Engineer said the swimming pool was originally filled from their main, but there was no further fresh water going into it.

Mr. Fahey: You will agree that a swimming pool was filled with our main and people down the road cannot get water. Surely our main could be connected to these four houses?

Mr. Hally: I am now aware that the pool was filled from the main, but I was not aware of it at that time.

Mr. Fahey: Is there any hope of having these four houses connected to the main?

Mr. Hally: If it will be done at all it will be done from Barnawee.

Mr. Fahey: These people are very sore about it all. Here we have a case of a new bungalow being built and it is supplied with water immediately.

Mr. Hally: Yes—at the person's own expense. I will look into the matter and see what can be done.

LATE ALEXANDER BALLOT

"SPRINGBOK LODGE" DUNGARVAN

It is our sad duty to chronicle the death of Alexander Ballot, Springbok Lodge, Ballinacourty, which occurred at his residence on Thursday evening, October 15th, after a duration of rather short illness but at the fulness of years. The deceased was a very well gentleman throughout the country and had been a member of the well known auctioneering firm of Quigley and Ballot prior to his retirement.

Born in East Africa, Mr. Ballot fought on the side of the Boers during the Boer War. During the 1914-18 war he joined the British Army and served as a commissioned officer until he was wounded. After the war he went to Australia where he was engaged in the Hotel business and remained there until he returned to live in Ireland several years ago.

He was predeceased by his wife, Mrs. Mary Josephine Ballot (nee Walsh, Ballyduff, Dungarvan) six months ago.

Since he returned to this country he made legions of friends and was the possessor of a most charming and unassuming manner, deeply charitable and a wonderful conversationalist.

We express our deepest sympathy to his son, Dr. John, and Mrs. Ballot, daughter-in-law.

The removal of his remains took place on Friday evening to St. Mary's Parish Church, Dungarvan, followed by a cortege of very great proportions, and the coffin was blessed and received by Rev. J. Murphy, C.C., assisted by Ven. Archdeacon D. Power, P.P., V.F., Rev. D. O'Byrne, C.C., Rev. W. Power, C.C., and Rev. J. Grace Chaplain Ardkeen General Hospital.

The interment took place on Saturday in the adjoining cemetery. Rev. J. Murphy, C.C., officiated at the graveside.

Another large and most representative concourse were in attendance.

The chief mourners were: Dr. John Ballot (son), and Mrs. J. Ballot (daughter-in-law).

Large shelves of Mass cards telegrams and letters of sympathy were received.

(Funeral arrangements were by J. Kiely and Sons, Shannon, Dungarvan.)

WILL NOT SPEND MORE MONEY ON CUNNIGAR

A letter from the Dept. stating that they were not prepared to spend any more money on the Cunnigar at present was the subject of strong criticism by Col. Michael Harty, at the monthly meeting of Waterford Co. Council, on Friday last. The Dept.'s letter also stated that in few years time they would assess the work that the money up to now had been spent on.

The Chairman said they should go and see the Dept. about it.

Col. Harty said the question of improvements to the Cunnigar was a very important matter and the letter from the Dept. was in his opinion retrograde step. The Cunnigar was protecting an enormous amount of private property for years before anything was done to it he had asked the Co. Engineer to go and see it for himself. What was left of the Cunnigar should be protected he said and he believed the Department should continue to help financing the Cunnigar works. The Cunnigar was saving thousands of pounds for the ratepayers and taxpayers.

Col. Curran (Chairman) said they would pursue the matter further with the Dept.

WEDDING BELLS

The marriage was solemnised recently, at St. Laurence's Church, Fourmilgewater, of Mr. Mervyn Condon, son of Mrs. E. Condon and the late Mr. J. J. Condon, Co. Wick, and Miss Nuala Egan, daughter of Mrs. M. Egan and the late Mr. P. Egan, Craignagour, Ballymacarbry.

The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass and Pater, Blessing, was performed by Rev. Fr. Hickey, C.C., Grangemockler (uncle of the bride), assisted by Rev. Fr. Condon, C.C., Tallow (uncle of the groom), Rev. Fr. Bracken, C.C., Fourmilgewater and Rev. Fr. Walsh, C.C., do. Miss Ann Phelan (sister of the bride) was bridesmaid, and Mr. John Condon (brother of the groom) was best man.

Following a reception held at Kilmac Lodge, Cahin, the newlyweds left to spend their honeymoon touring Ireland. We wish the happy pair every success for their future welfare and happiness.

CLASSES

Classes in woodwork under the Waterford County Vocational Education scheme are now in progress at Dooney's Hall, Ballymacarbry.

The classes, which are being held on Tuesday and Wednesday nights are conducted by Mr. Eamon Feehin. Classes in cookery and needlework, conducted by Miss McGrath, are also held each Tuesday evening at the Parochial Hall.

DIED IN AUSTRALIA

The death took place recently in Australia, of Mr. David Phelan, a native of Grangemockler, Ballymacarbry, who emigrated to the land of the Southern Cross around 1920. He was brother of Mr. James Phelan, Australia, Mr. Michael Phelan, Conme, Mr. James Phelan, Shenballymore, Mr. Phelan, Mrs. Barron, Dungarvan and Mrs. P. Murray, Touraneena, Ballymacarbry, to whom we extend our sincere sympathy. R.I.P.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES

DIED IN U.S.A.

News by cable from the U.S.A. on Sunday forenoon brought to Mr. John Singleton the sad news of the death of his sister, Mrs. Mary Jensen, which took place at her home in Long Island, New York, on Saturday. Members of the older generation who knew the deceased before she emigrated learned of her death with much sorrow. She is survived by her husband, Mr. Henry Jensen and daughter Kathleen; Mrs. M. Brody, U.S.A., Mrs. B. Jensen, Mrs. N. Ammeram, Mrs. K. Perry (sisters); Mr. John O'Donnell, formerly of Cappoquin. Mr. John Singleton has been the recipient in his bereavement.

ANGLING ASSOCIATION

At the annual general meeting of the Lismore and District Association held on Wednesday, 14th inst., there was a large attendance. Mr. P. O'Shea presided and the members listened with pleasure to the annual report of Mr. W. Conway, Hon. Secretary. He recorded a year of progress and much success. During the course of his statement he said that negotiations with the Lismore Estate Company had resulted in improved angling facilities for their members.

The Association promoted two open competitions during the season and these had been very successful, an encouraging feature being the participation of many cross-channel anglers. On behalf of the members he returned thanks to the Rowing Club, the Press, Mrs. G. Burns and the ladies catering committee for their assistance during the season. The financial statement showed the Association's position to be satisfactory. After a general discussion a deputation was appointed to wait upon the Lismore Estates Co. in connection with arrangements for the river for the coming season.

Officers etc., elected for the coming year: President, Mr. P. O'Shea; vice-do., Mr. B. Breen; Chairman, Mr. A. Drchan; Hon. Secretary, Mr. W. Conway; Hon. Treasurer, Mr. S. Jeffers; Committee: Messrs. J. O'Neill, J. Power, P. Cahill, D. Fraher and J. Crowley.

MATCH RE-PLAY

Judging by pre-match interest, there will be a "full house" when Affane and Cappoquin footballers meet on Sunday in the replay of the drawn game (intermediate western final).

I.C.A.

An attractive feature of the next meeting (28th Oct.) of the I.C.A., will be a travel talk by Rev. J. G. Clifford. Members

All Roads lead to the Rainbow Hill, Kilmacthomas, on Sunday night next, 25th inst., when Kilrossanty Macra na Feirme hold their second annual dance. Kindly peruse add in this issue.

Mr. Patrick Gaule, Manager, Porv'nal Bank, Youghal, who has died, served in the Kilmacthomas branch for a number of years, prior to going to Youghal. He was a native of Kilmacow, Co. Kilkenny.

On Next Thursday a public auction will take place at the Parochial House, Newtown. All interested in turnshires and Ford Anglia car be there.

Have it that a new boys' National School for Kilmacthomas is to be erected in the not too distant future.

Mrs. W. Dunleavy, has returned to Galway after a most pleasant holiday spent at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kent, Main St., Kilmacthomas.

Mr. Seamus O'Clairigh, Waterford, was the speaker at a meeting convened for the purpose of establishing a branch of Conradh na Gaelige. Final plans will be made at the next meeting, due to be held in a week or so.

Six Clubs from east Waterford took part in the Macra na Feirme public speaking competition, which was held at the Fisherman's Hall, Dunmore, on

TALLOW NOTES

LATE MR. R. O'BRIEN

The death took place at St. Patrick's Hospital, Fermoy, last week, of Mr. Richard O'Brien, Shanakill, Curragles, after a rather protracted illness. The deceased was a great follower of outdoor sports, and his death is deeply regretted.

The remains were removed to Ballynoe Church and the funeral took place on Saturday 19th inst., to Ardagh, Inch Cemetery and was both large and representative.

To his widow, family and relatives we tender our deepest sympathy.

SWEET WIN

We congratulate Mrs. Sheila McGrath, Dunmore, Tallow, who held a one-eighth share in the Hospital Sweepstake ticket that drew "Featherbed" in the Cambridgehire. She purchased her 2/6 share from Lucky Coady, Dame St., Dublin. "Featherbed" was sixth in the race.

ARCH DANCE

There was a good attendance at the Arch Ballroom on Sunday, where Des Smyth and his Colleagues were making their first appearance.

HOME FROM THE NAVY

Mr. Michael Keane, Ballyduff Upper, concluded a two-week leave in his native district on Tuesday, 20th October. Michael is a member of the British Navy and is attached to the H.M.S. "Deona."

LATE MR. E. O'BRIEN

The death took place at St. Finbarr's Hospital, Cork, of Mr. Edmund O'Brien, Ballyvere Killaleah. Deceased was a well known and highly respected member of the Agricultural Community and was held in high regard by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. A large and representative cortege accompanied the remains to Killaleah Church and also at the interment in the adjoining cemetery.

WATERBUS SERVICE ON THE BLACKWATER?

The news that a waterbus service may be operated on the Blackwater, from Youghal to Cappoquin, is very welcome. The scenic attractions along this beautiful stretch of river are many and varied.

CAPPOQUIN MACRA DANCE

Cappoquin Branch of Macra na Feirme held their 12th annual dance in the Boathouse Ballroom, on Sunday night. As is usual with the Branch, their dance was a highly successful. They had the services of the "Crackaways" Showband, who supplied a delightful selection of music and showbandship.

BIG DANCE NEWS

The fabulous Donie Collins Showband will be making its first visit to the lovely Arch Ballroom on next Thursday (29th October). This great band (a great favourite throughout these Islands) should sound wonderful in the Arch, which is famous for its acoustics.

FIRE CALL

A call for assistance from Genshelane House on Monday afternoon was promptly answered by the local Brigade and a chimney fire successfully dealt with.

LATE MICHAEL TCBIN

CLAPHAM, LONDON AND DUNGARVAN

The death took place on Wednesday, October 14th, at St. James' Hospital, London, of Michael Tobin, Clapham, and late of Mitchell, St. Dungarvan, at the early age of fifty years, but after a period of illness. The deceased was a general favourite, not only in his native Dungarvan, but also in London, the city of his adoption. He was a member of a very old Dungarvan family and he always kept in touch with the affairs of the town since he emigrated in the mid-thirties. He was always a fond lover of greyhounds and he secured a market some prior to the war, on the London tracks.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to his wife, son and brothers, on this very sad occasion.

His remains were flown in to Cork Airport on Monday afternoon, and from there were removed to St. Mary's Parish Church, Dungarvan, followed by a large cortege and were buried and received by Rev. W. Power, C.C.

Requiem Mass was celebrated on Tuesday morning for the eternal repose of his soul and the interment took place later in the day in the adjoining family plot. Rev. W. Power, C.C., again officiated at the graveside. Another large and representative course were present to pray for their departed friend, and to sympathise with his nearest and dearest.

Large sheaves of fresh flowers wreaths were placed on the grave and which had been flown in with the coffin. The chief mourners were: Mrs. Monica Tobin, Clapham (widow); Mr. Michael Tobin, Clapham (son); Thomas London and Patrick, Manchester (brothers).

(Funeral arrangements were by James Kieley & Sons, Shandon, Dungarvan.)

The death has taken place of Mr. Michael Kennedy, Kilmacthomas, a native of Tallow, who was a well known and most popular business man and is survived by his brother, Ned, and other relatives.

The remains were removed to Few Church last Friday evening and burial took place following Requiem Mass, on Saturday, 17th inst., in the adjoining graveyard. R.I.P.

Mrs. Michael Murphy, St. Anne's Terrace, a worthy and prominent member of the Kilmacthomas, Guild I.C.A. was guest of Coolnessnear Guild I.C.A. recently, where she gave a demonstration on hatmaking. Earlier this year Mrs. Murphy attended an Antiquarian, Co. Louth, taking the military course at which she has become quite an expert! No more head-scarves, ladies!

Sorry indeed to learn that our worthy and popular local postmaster, Mr. T. Brown, is hospitalised momentarily. All wish him a "get well soon."

Miss Maureen Flynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Flynn, Main Street, Kilmacthomas, is making steady progress at the Bon Secours Hospital, Cork.

BOREENATRA HOUSES OFFICIALLY BLESSED AND OPENED

THE twenty-house Urban Council Scheme at Boreenatra, Dungarvan, was officially blessed and opened in a brief but impressive ceremony on Tuesday morning last. Mass was celebrated by Rev. D. Byrne C.C., Dungarvan at 11 a.m. followed by a procession to the scheme. Fr. Byrne then blessed each of the 20 houses separately followed by the official opening by Mr. T. A. Kyne, T.D. Chairman of Dungarvan Urban Council.

Deputy Kyne said that the significant thing was not the fact that they were officially opening a housing scheme. They had been much more impressed by the blessing of the houses by Rev. Fr. Byrne. As in the launching of a ship the protection of God was asked for all that sailed in her and equally their ceremony and Mass was to ask the Lord for the protection of the houses and all that would live in them. This was a twenty house scheme and was part of a further 36 house scheme now commenced and was part of a further 36 house scheme now commenced.

Deputy Kyne went on: "The Urban Council is by far the biggest property owner in the town with 500 families in tenancy." Yet we are conscious of the fact that we have not yet met the entire housing needs of the town. We have 88 applicants on a housing list and there are another 20 families living in condemned houses that have not yet applied for houses. We have 26 acres of land in Abbeyside and 7 1/2 acres in Dungarvan that can be used for housing."

"We intend to pursue a vigorous policy so that we will provide comfortable homes for everyone in the town. The cost of this 20-house scheme has been £39,000 and we have let them as cheaply as possible. We have, however, to call on the rates to allow those on lesser incomes enjoy the same facilities as those with larger incomes. It is our endeavour to provide homes for all, irrespective of their incomes. Deputy Kyne then officially opened the scheme by opening the front door of one of the houses.

Venerable Archbishop Power, P.P., Dungarvan, congratulated Deputy Kyne and the members of the Urban Council on their great efforts to provide suitable houses for the people of the town. They have completed this 20 house scheme and they had now embarked on another 36 house scheme, and would continue to build further on the land they had secured until all the people of the town had been given houses. The townspeople would not be driven to foreign lands to seek a home and living and it would be amiss if he did not pay tribute to the Government, the Minister for Housing and the ratepayers who came to the assistance of those in need of houses. The people of Boreenatra, he said, had entered into these houses and had security of tenure. He appealed to them to take care of them and to remember they were not their property but the Urban Council's.

The County Manager, Mr. S. J. Moynihan said the cost of the houses to the ratepayers had been great, and he trusted they would be kept as they should. He said special tribute to the contractor and architect on one of the finest housing sites in the town.

Gallantly Withstood Last Quarter Pressure

BALLYDUFF UPPER 3-5; BALLYDUFF LOWER 1-9

After many years of defeats and near frustration, Ballyduff Upper atoned in fullest measure for all past failures when narrowly but deservedly beating Ballyduff Lower in a most exciting and closely contested County Intermediate hurling championship final at Dungarvan on Sunday last. The county-wide appeal of this intriguing all-Ballyduff final not surprisingly attracted a record attendance for a decider in this grade and in the final in which supremacy alternated with thrilling frequency there were enough dramatic incidents to satisfy even the most critical of followers.

Truthfully it was a final that could have ended in triumph for either of the Ballyduffs and in the closing stages the Lower 'Reds' had sufficient chances of winning or at worst earning the right to fight another day. That much said, however, let no one deny the men from the regions of the Blackwater the fruits of victory, which was carved out the hard way in a blindingly pulsating finish.

But if the final quarter made this a decider to be remembered with pride, it was unfortunate that an incident twelve minutes from time should so disdainfully tarnish the spectacle. The winners full-forward, Mikey Quirke, after a goalmouth skirmish with three backs, lashed out viciously at a Lower defender, and for a few moments I studied to think of the serious consequences the attack could have. Without hesitation referee Billy Jones ordered Quirke to the line but the Ballyduff man aggravated the position further by refusing to leave the field. However, after persuasion by some of his own team officials Quirke consented to go to the line and the remainder of the hour was played without another trace of rancour.

At this stage the losers were two points clear, and playing with unshakeable confidence. They had overcome the disadvantages of a disastrous start and overall looked a reasonably good proposition to take the title Eastwards. But Ballyduff Upper, although reduced in numbers, played their finest hurling when stark adversity stared them in the face and they rose majestically to the occasion to turn their two point deficit into a similar margin of victory.

IN FRONT

Within a minute of Quirke's departure they were in front, thanks to a great goal by Davey Feeney and then commenced one of the greatest defensive stands I have ever seen on a hurling field.

The Lower Ballyduff threw everything they had into the fray and soon the winners citadel was literally under a hurling siege. But magnificently goalkeeper Jim Quirke and his six defenders faced up to the torrent of pressure which now swept down on their defensive lines. At times heaven alone knows how the ball was kept out but always a Ballyduff hurley seemed to save the situation. Amidst all this pressure which the losers exerted the winners for one brief moment succeeded in advancing upfield and it fell to midfielder John O'Gorman to notch the most valuable point of all.

BREAHT TAKING SAVES

Now two points separated the sides, and with a mere four minutes left in the game it was obviously only a goal would satisfy Lower Ballyduff's needs. And how they tried to raise that all important green flag. First it was goalkeeper Quirke who brought off two breath-taking saves within seconds and then young Mick Caples emerged from a ruck of players in his goalmouth and cleared to temporary safety.

And still the losers piled on the pressure, as the Fraher Field was now gripped in a welter of feverish excitement. Not a spectator even turned towards the exits, for whilst this game had very nearly run its allotted sixty minute span, the outcome remained in thrilling doubt. Again Lower Ballyduff sallied upfield and a great effort by full forward Gerry McCarthy was "hoosed" out for a twenty.

Up strode centre-back John O'Donnell to take the puck and he lobbed the ball deep into a packed goalmouth. But it was full back Joe Daly who averted danger with an invaluable clearance. Seconds later Tom Cheasty gained possession and from less than 15 yards sent in a pile driver that had goal written all over it but again it was Daly who stood between his side and defeat with a magnificent intervention and almost immediately the final whistle brought merciful relief to a harassed but truly heroic Ballyduff Upper rearguard.

Doubtless that final quarter provided the highlights of the game, but if the standard of hurling was a little less than good to that, there was seldom a lull in the exchanges.

GREAT START

The losers opened as though they would be swamped, and within three minutes trailed by no less than five points.

But soon the tide of battle began to turn and with centre-back John O'Donnell proving himself the dominating figure the Easterners began to assert a very noticeable superiority. The concession of frees by the winners' defenders began to prove a non-profitable gambit as right-handed Tom Cheasty effortlessly tapped over the placed balls. By the quarter hour mark they were only two points in arrears and by the time the interval was reached were a clear three points in front.

Quite frankly, it was my view at this stage that the Cheasty-led Ballyduff were good enough to carry the day. Obviously they had now settled down after an uncomfortable beginning and by the half-way mark seemed to be well in control.

But how very wrong the men from the Blackwater proved that contention to be. With spirit refreshed they set about their second half task and before that half was over they were back on level terms. Again they fell into arrears and when Quirke was sent off it appeared as though their title hopes for another year were dashed. But in those grim moments of adversity fourteen heroes astounded general belief as they hung on to a quickly regained lead and defied all efforts in an unforgettable finish.

WHIRLWIND OPENING

The game had a whirlwind opening as the winners jumped into a five point lead within three minutes of the throw-in. Thirty seconds had elapsed before Seanie Flynn from all of sixty yards lobbed over a great point and half a minute later they had their first goal by Paddy Feeney after two of the losers full-backs blundered badly. In the third minute midfielder John O'Gorman added another minor and many must have begun to have visions of a really lop-sided decider.

But soon Ballyduff Lower dispelled such thoughts and for the remainder of the half they reigned supreme. In the 4th minute Eamonn Keating opened their account with a point and a minute later Cheasty pointed a free. In the 14th minute the winners had their final score of this half when O'Gorman pointed another free. Points by Cheasty (free) and Eamonn Keating cut the losers deficit still further and then a great goal by the latter in the 16th minute gave them the lead for the first time. They were completely on top at this stage and a further brace of points by Cheasty (one from a free) left them 1-6 to 1-3 ahead at the interval.

LEVEL

On the change over Ballyduff Lower continued to enjoy a territorial advantage but their attack floundered in the wake of steady Upper defence. During the interval that rearguard had undergone alteration with Pad Flynn at right full in place of David Barry who took over at top of the left from Paddy Feeney. And in the fifth minute Barry made his mark in his new role when he pointed. But in the 12th minute came the best score of the game when Tipperary born midfielder Keating, rounded off a spectacular solo run with a great point. But a minute later the sides were level when O'Gorman belted a 21-yard free to the losers net.

Almost immediately however Cheasty edged his side back into the lead when he pointed following a weak puck-out and within another minute he pointed a close-in free. Then in the 18th minute came the untidy incident that led to Quirke's enforced departure from the scene and the odds against a Ballyduff Upper victory lengthened even further.

But these Western champions proved themselves to be made of stern stuff and a minute after Quirke had been sent off were back in the lead with a goal by Davy Feeney. Now the battle was on in earnest as the losers began to pummel the Western goal. But try as they might they could find no loopholes and O'Gorman's point in the 26th minute proved to be the last score of the game.

WONDERFUL PERFORMANCE

This was a wonderful performance by the men from the Upper regions of the county and no one can deny them the fruits of their well-merited success.

Between the posts Jim Quirke was in inspired form and many of his second half saves were from the top drawer. But if Pad Quirke and Davy Barry and later Pad Flynn proved themselves solid corner backs, they were completely overshadowed by the man that stood between them—veteran Joe Daly. In a long career, Daly has served his club well but on Sunday he surpassed all past displays and was undoubtedly the man that did most to bring the crown to the parish.

The half-backs also covered themselves in glory. Davy Barry in the centre marked Cheasty better than many an inter-county pivot has done, whilst his flankers—the teak tough Mick Caples and Donal Connors never put a foot astray.

Both midfielders have played better during the year, yet John O'Gorman notched many of his vital scores. His partner Tommy Enright worked tirelessly all through but was forced to retire near the end when struck by the ball in the face.

The forwards found that score getting was not an easy task on this occasion but none was found wanting on the score of endeavour. Both Michael Murphy and Eugene Hickey were tried without success on centre-back John O'Donnell whilst Shamie Flynn was never given an inch to display his scoring potential. Nearer goal Davy Feeney took the bulk of the honours and scored his side's third and match-winning goal. Mikey Quirke was held scoreless until his enforced retirement, by a vigilant Willie Power. In the other corner Paddy Feeney, although scoring a goal was not at his best and was replaced during the interval recess.

ODONNELL WAS LOSERS STAR

For the losers none played as splendidly as centre-back John O'Donnell, who looked the most polished hurler afield. He was ably flanked on his left by John Kirwan and in the full-line N. Larkin and Willie Power also shone. At midfield, Eamonn Keating lorded it over all comers and had 1-3 off his own stick. The attack, however, disappointed and although Tom Cheasty notched some lovely points he was not the dominating figure one expected him to be. Others to impress in this sector were Pat Regan and to a lesser extent, Gerry McCarthy.

Ballyduff Upper—J. Quirke; D. Barry, J. Daly, P. Quirke; D. O'Connor, D. Barry, M. Caples; J. O'Gorman, T. Enright; S. Flynn, M. Murphy, E. Hickey; D. Feeney, M. Quirke; P. Feeney, Subs.—P. Flynn for P. Feeney, D. Barry for Enright.

Ballyduff Lower—T. Larkin, N. Larkin, W. Power, L. Burke, P. Lynch, J. O'Donnell, J. Kirwan, M. Regan, E. Keating; P. Regan, T. Cheasty, J. Whean, M. Creagh, G. McCarthy, S. Cahill, Sub.—M. Hanrahan for Lynch.

Referee—Billy Jones (St. John's).

● CAPPOQUIN FANCIED IN FINAL REPLAY

Despite the counter attraction of the county senior football final at Dungarvan on Sunday, there should be a huge crowd at the Cappoquin venue for the western intermediate football final replay, between the locals and keen rivals Affane.

When last the sides met,

they fittingly ended level after a great hour's football, and few who saw that triller will want to forego Sunday's replay. There were some who considered Cappoquin unfortunate not to have made certain of victory the last day, but although they dictated matters territorially, I stand firmly by my contention that a division of the scoring spoils was the most equitable result.

For Sunday's replay Affane, without hesitation, agreed to come to Cappoquin to play the home game on their own domain. Having spoken to several of their players during the past fortnight, I detected an air of short-term confidence that they would emerge victorious at this second attempt. A blow to their hopes however, is the fact that in all probability they will have to field without corner back

JOHN DONOGHUE (Cappoquin)

Sean Buckley. Buckley sprained his ankle in the drawn tie and was forced to retire during the interval. The foot is still badly swollen and it seems most unlikely that he will be able to take his place in defence.

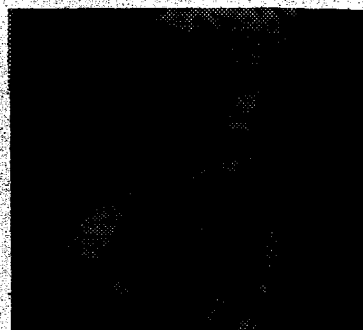

And yet these Affaners remain strangely unconcerned.

PADDY DENN (Affane)

They believe—and it is understandable—that their match-winner of last year, veteran Jimmy McGrath, will not be as subdued on this occasion, and that he will be the one to lead them to victory on Sunday.

When previewing the drawn game, however, I expressed a slight preference for Cappoquin, and although the issue

still remains wide open, I see no reason to alter that viewpoint. They are well served in defence and midfield, and somehow I cannot visualise their attack being so off colour again. Had defeat been their lot the last day the entire blame would have rested on the shoulders of all six attackers, who inexcusably fritted away golden scoring chances.

MCE. KELLEHER (Cappoquin)

Now, however, they are given the opportunity of full atonement, and it is my belief that they will notch a tally on Sunday that will be sufficient to give them that Divisional title and a place in the county final against Erin's Own.

MONTY SCANLON (Affane)

● UPPER BALLYDUFF ARE CHAMPIONS

The battle of the Ballyduffs ended in a welter of excitement at Dungarvan, on Sunday last, when Upper defeated Lower by 3-5 to 1-9 in the county intermediate hurling final. It was a positively superb climax to a game that was entertaining throughout, and few are likely to forget for a long time the drama and suspense of the final moments as Lower literally threw the book at Upper in a vain but memorable bid to snatch victory.

As the game has been reported in detail elsewhere in this issue, I do not intend to dwell at length on this final. But certainly this all-Ballyduff decider gave the huge attendance full value for money, with victory deservedly going to the men from the Backwater.

Every man on the winning team played his part, but it was the veterans of the side in particular that stole the show, and in this respect the veteran full back Joe Daly was a man apart. For weeks to come he is assured of being the toast of Ballyduff Upper.

The game, however, was marred somewhat by an unfortunate second half incident in which the winners full-forward, Mikey Quirke was the prime culprit, and he was rightly sent to the line by referee Billy Jones. Quirke disgracefully brandished his hurley without concern and could so very easily have seriously injured an opponent.

But that apart the spirit of sportsmanship was admirable and both sides earned glory from a fine decider.

● RECORD GATE AT INTERMEDIATE FINAL

Last Sunday's final between the two Ballyduffs attracted a record attendance to the Fraher field for a final in this grade. The gate receipts reached the fantastic sum of £275-10-0—less than £100 short of the figure taken at the senior and minor hurling county finals the previous Sunday.

Incidentally, the receipts at the National football league game between Waterford and

THE DIXIELANDERS who play at the Dungarvan Co-Op. Creamery dance at C.S.M. Ballroom, Clonea, on next Wednesday night, October 28th. Be there with your friends!

The ceremony, together with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing, was performed by Rev. J. Murphy, C.C.

The bride, who wore a white full-length brocade frock and carried a bouquet of carnations, was given away by her father, Mr. Paddy Noonan, a popular foreman in the D.L.C.

The bridesmaid, Miss Mary Noonan (sister of the bride) wore a ballet length tangerine frock with matching head-dress and carried a bouquet of sweet pea.

● WATERFORD FOOT-BALLERS MAKE BAD LEAGUE START

On Sunday last, before a couple of hundred spectators, Waterford made a disastrous start to their national football league campaign, when they were decisively defeated by Clare, on a score of 2-6 to 0-7.

This was yet another of those completely listless and lack lustre displays by the Deise men, and had Clare possessed an even moderate attack, their winning margin would have been considerably greater.

The Waterford team was of course, very much under strength, as it did not contain any representatives from next Sunday's county finalists, Killrossinty and Ardmore. In the circumstances it is more than surprising that the County Board did not seek a postponement of the game, as had it been the hurlers that were involved we can rest assured the game would not have taken place. This again is just another instance of the lack of interest being taken in the senior footballers in the county.

As for the actual game itself, so poor was the fare that it scarcely merits mention. Clare led for practically the entire hour, and in truth, seldom looked in any danger of defeat.

Waterford's best moiety was the first, when they held the Banner county reasonably well and trailed by only a point at the interval. But there was no disputing the winners superiority on the change-over and their second goal in the closing stages clinched their thoroughly deserved but unimpressive victory.

They were best served by P. J. and Frank Kennedy, Mick Haugh, Martin Quequality and Mike McIntyre.

Waterford's best were defenders were half backs Ger Mooney, John O'Brien and Mick Connolly, and in attack only Monty Guiry and Tommy Kirwan looked any way impressive.

Waterford scorers were: Monty Guiry (0-4); Tommy Kirwan (0-2); W. Connolly (0-1).

The Waterford team was: P. Crotty; S. Kearns, M. Tobin, T. Walsh (Stradbally); G. Mooney, J. O'Brien, M. Connolly; Freddie O'Brien, J. Hewitt; J. Spratt, T. J. Hartly, M. Guiry; W. Connolly, T. Walsh (Mount Sion); T. Kirwan.

● BALLINACOURTY MAY MASTER OLD PARISH

As a curtain raiser to the senior football final at Dungarvan on Sunday, Ballinacourty and Old Parish met in the Western junior football semi-final. On Sunday last at the same venue Ballinacourty scored a two point victory over Tourin, and they may just about score another victory again.

The Reds have not been in action for a long time now, and this lack of competitive practice may weigh heavily against them. They are confident, however, of annexing divisional honours at least in this their first year back since the club disintegrated some years, and they are certain to make a bold victory bid.

Still, Ballinacourty remain slight favourites and they are favoured to score a narrow win.

Cumann na nDeiseach formed in Dublin

At a representative meeting of Waterford City and County men and women in Dublin, which was held in the Teachers' Club, 36 Parnell Square, on Friday, 25th Sept. last, it was unanimously decided to form an association to be known as 'Cumann na nDeiseach' (Waterford Association).

The aims of the Association are to provide Waterford people in Dublin with opportunities, by means of varied social functions to meet each other, to maintain their contacts with and interests in the affairs of their native locality, and to establish friendly relations with similar associations from other areas.

The following Officers and Committee were elected: President, Rev. Desmond W. McCarthy, C.C., M.A., St. Laurence O'Toole Parish, Seville Place; Chairman, Seamus D. Ryan, 18 Geraldine, Belmont; Director, Rev. Sean, Secretary, Mrs. M. Hynes, 'Cruschan', 26 Bigger Rd., Walkinstown; Hon. Treasurer, Edmond Curran, 2 Cherrygarth, Mount Merrion; Committee: Mrs. Hannah Power, 2 Galtymore Park, Drinagh; Mary Murray, St. Brigid's Hospital, Infirmary Rd.; Frank Rhee, 12 Brookville Park, Co. Wick; Conndt. Micheal Duggan, Collins Barracks, Paddy Aherne, 34 Cowley P., Le. Nth. Circular Rd.; John Barry, 13 Iona Rd., Glasnevin; Sean Peenev, 307 Griffith Ave.; Paul Goode, 84 Celtic Park Ave., Whitehall.

In recent years there has been a notable increase in the number of Waterford people who have become resident in Dublin, and it has been felt by many of them that the establishment of such an Association was highly desirable. It is therefore with pleasure that the great majority of Waterford residents in the Capital will become members and support its activities.

In order to consider ways and means for implementing the aims of the Association, a general meeting of members and intending members will be held in the Carance Hotel, Wellington Quay, on Wednesday, October 28th, at 8 p.m.

N.F.A. NEWS Arterial Drainage Discussed

A delegation from the National Farmers' Association, led by Mr. D. O'Malley, Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister for Finance, on Wednesday, October 15th, 1964, at the Office of Public Works, in Dublin.

A very comprehensive discussion took place on the Arterial Drainage Programme to date and on the anticipated future progress of the Scheme. While the N.F.A. representatives expressed appreciation of the progress made by the Office of Public Works in dealing with the problem, they pointed out that the social and economic problems which farmers in badly drained areas have to contend with, make it imperative that the programme be pressed ahead with all possible speed. The problem is particularly serious where it affects small farms where it affects the viability of the farm.

Mr. O'Malley assured them that every effort was being made not only to maintain but to increase the rate of progress and that in addition a survey of the River Shannon catchment area would commence in the spring of 1965. A point made at the meeting was that the Office of Public Works has now completed the annual report of progress of the Arterial Drainage Scheme was first drawn up under the 1955 Act.

According to Mr. O'Malley, £12.5 million has been spent since the late 1940's on the Arterial Drainage Programme. Four major catchment schemes have been completed at Brossna, Gyde and Dee, Feele and Maine. Major schemes at Neagh, Ballykealy and Kilmore and Deel and Swilly and Burne have also been completed as have two intermediate river schemes, the Oovane and Swilly embankments. Work is in progress on four other catchment schemes (Corlough, Carrigrohane, Carrigrohane and Carrigrohane). Besides these, work is in progress on six embankment schemes and four intermediate river schemes. Eight major and four minor catchments are at a survey or design stage.

Mr. O'Malley said that there was a shortage of engineers, but that an improvement was expected and such additional men will be required especially for the survey of the river Shannon which is to commence next Spring.

AGRICULTURE DISCUSSED WITH NEW MINISTER A detailed report on the meeting with the new Minister for Agriculture was given by Mr. Richard Deery, President of the Central Executive Committee of the N.F.A., in a meeting held in Dublin last week. During the talks, the present economic situation was reviewed and it was expected that the N.F.A. would be in a position to discuss the greater details of the other day. The N.F.A. looks forward to close cooperation with Mr. Haughey and his staff in the formulation of agricultural policy in the years ahead.

At the same meeting it was decided that the Economic Section should give priority to work bearing on the next Annual Review. The size of the job calls for months of preparation while the limited staff available makes it still more difficult. One problem which is going to present many headaches is the time lag between the collection and official publication of statistical data.

Among other items discussed were: (a) Organisation and Finance; (b) Inter-Departmental Co-ordination; (c) Reports of Committees; (d) Matters relevant to recommendations contained in the Knapp report, relating to 'cooperation in the dairy industry'. The Committee report indicated that a meeting had been arranged with the Department of Agriculture to discuss the N.F.A. industry as a whole, but that special emphases were being placed on seeking: (1) An increase in pig prices; (2) Increased grants for sow houses; (3) A thorough investigation in the four hour waiting period; (4) A survey of the damage caused to pigs in handling and transport.

The Grain Committee reported that it was seeking a meeting with the Minister for Agriculture to determine 1965 prices for wheat and barley. Concern was expressed on matters raised under the Dairy Committee report relating to compensation for dry stock which had not kept pace with prevailing prices. It was also noted that the Dairy Committee is adamant that compensation shall be paid to farmers to enable them to get proper replacements under the proposed Brucellosis Scheme.

The National Warble Fly Scheme is progressing favourably but the Executive felt that no effort should be spared in order to get all farmers to dress their cattle. Regional development was also discussed. SHEEP AND WOOL PRODUCTION INCREASING PRODUCTION INCREASING The production of sheep and wool is steadily increasing in Ireland. Between January 1963 and 1964, there was an increase in our breeding flock of 57,800 or 2.6%. Approximately 30% of all our holdings keep sheep and roughly 80% of these are under 100 acres. These and other figures were quoted by Mr. J. Quinn, Secretary of the N.F.A.

Lismore Notes

CONDOLENCE Deepest sympathy extended to Mr. George Heskin, M.C.C., Gencm and to all other members of the family on the death of his brother, Dr. Richard Heskin, M.D., Co. Cork, which sad event occurred last week.

INTERMEDIATE HURLING TITTLE FOR BALLUFF UPPER The bonfires blazed in the village of Balluff on Sunday night last to honour the Intermediate hurlers who had annexed the county championship earlier in the evening at Dungarvan Gaelic field, when defeating Ballyduff Lower by a single point, the final score being 1-9 to 3-4.

KILAHALLA BOWLING TOURNAMENT Though the entries for above only opened two weeks ago, already a large number of names have been received. The tournament, which gets under way on Sunday week, promises to be a great success and with such a capable committee in charge, plus outstanding prizes, it certainly has all the ingredients of a thriller.

WEDDING BELLS: FITZGERALD-OMAHONEY The wedding took place at St. Mary's Parish Church, Dungarvan, of Mr. John Fitzgerald, third son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fitzgerald, Crooked Bridge, Lismore, and Miss Helen O'Mahoney, daughter of Mrs. Mary O'Mahoney and the late Mr. Thomas O'Mahoney, Fitzgeralds' Terrace, Dungarvan.

The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass and Psalm Blessing, was performed by Rev. Pat Fitzgerald, C.C., Portlaw (brother of the groom), assisted by Rev. J. Murphy, C.C., Dungarvan.

The best men were Mr. Michael Fitzgerald (brother of the groom) and the bridesmaid was Miss Marian O'Mahoney (sister of the bride).

The bride, who was given away by her brother Thomas, wore a full length tulle and lace dress, with shoulder-length veil and matching accessories. The bridesmaid wore a pale blue dress with matching headpiece.

The reception was held the Park View Hotel, Youghal, after which the happy couple left on their honeymoon, which is being spent in Fingard.

KILAHALLA BOWLING TOURNAMENT The above tournament will commence on Sunday, 8th November, and entries may be handed to Secretary, George Roche, or to any of the following committee members: Messrs. J. J. Scanlon, J. O'Neill, O. Wilkinson, T. Regan, S. Scanlon. Entry fee is 5/-.

Handsome trophies and valuable cash prizes are being offered for the first three places. The course is from Kilahalla Cross to P. Walsh's Cross.

CLOMEL PIG MARKET

An entry of 1,372 Pigs at last Tuesday's Clonmel Market were on offer. Prices for Medium and Small Store pigs were much reduced as were bonhams. Fat Sows were a slow trade, Bacon Pig Porkers and Strong Stores were in very good demand at increased rates.

Rating prices were: Bacon Pigs (Quality), 180/- to 181/- per cwt. L.W.; Bacon Pigs (Seconds), 175/- to 179/- do; Pork Pigs, 180/- to 182/- do; Fat Sows, 90/- to 94/- do; Strong Store Pigs, 1/9 to 2/1 per lb.; Medium Store Pigs, 1/10 to 2/2 per lb.; Bonhams, 1/9 to 2/1 per lb.; Sows with Litters (Quality), £50 to £52 each; Sows with Litters (Seconds), £45 to £49 each; Springing Sows, 1st Litter, £30 to £32 each; Springing Sows 1st Litter (seconds), £20 to £25 each.

The Markets are conducted by Messrs. Stokes & Quirke, Ltd., M.A.A., and the next one will be held on Tuesday, November 3rd.

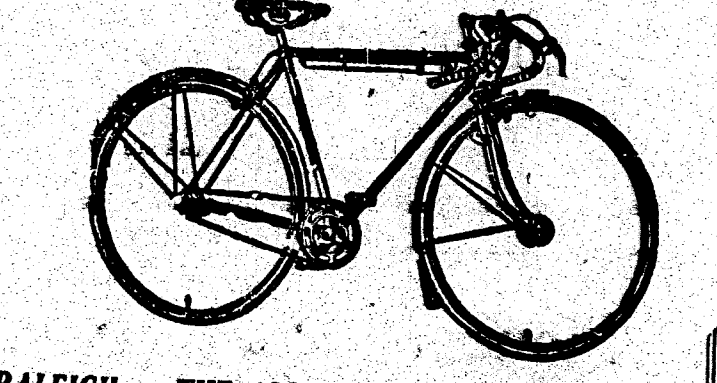

Drew Non-Runner in Sweep

Mr. Gerry Kineen, the well-known business man, Grattan Square, Dungarvan, was the seller of a ticket which drew Excel, a non-runner in the Cambridgehire last week. To the owner of the lucky ticket goes a cash prize of £375, whilst Mr. Kineen, as seller of the ticket, will receive a cash prize also. This is only Mr. Kineen's second time selling Sweep tickets, which must mark him down as a lucky seller indeed.

At a representative meeting of Waterford City and County men and women in Dublin, which was held in the Fishery Club, 36 Parnell Square, on Friday, 23rd Sept., the Cumann na nDeiseach was formed. The aim of the Association is to provide Waterford people in Dublin with opportunities by means of varied social functions to meet each other, to maintain their contacts with and interests in the affairs of their native locality, and to establish friendly relations with similar associations from other areas.

The following Officers and Committee were elected: President, Rev. Desmond W. McCarthy, C.C., M.A., St. Laurence's O'Connell's, Dublin; Vice-Presidents, Chairman, Seamus D. Min. 18 Gerardi, Belmont, DomschBree; Hon. Secretary, Mrs. Ma. H. Higgins, "Cruschan," 26 Bigger Rd., Walkinstown; Hon. Treasurer, Edmund Curran, 2 Cherrygarth, Mount Merrion; Committee: Mrs. Hannah Power, 2 Galtymore Park, Drinagh; Mary Murray, St. Brigid's Hospital, Infirmary Rd.; Patrick Rhenisch, 12 Brookville Park, Co. Wick; Colm's Berkecks, Paddy Ahern, 34 Cowp. P. Lr. Nv. Circular Rd.; John Barry, 13 Iona Rd.; Glessan, Sean Feeney, 307 Griffith Ave.; Paul Goode, 84 Celtic Park Ave., Whitehall.

In recent years there has been a notable increase in the number of Waterford people who have become resident in Dublin, and it has been felt by many of them that the establishment of such an Association was highly desirable. It is therefore a confident hope that the great majority of Waterford residents in the Capital will become members and support its activities. In order to consider ways and means for implementing the aims of the Association, a general meeting of members and intending members will be held in the Clarence Hotel, Wellington Quay, on Wednesday, October 28th, at 8 p.m.

Arterial Drainage Discussed

At a meeting of the National Farmers' Association, held in the Central Executive Committee Rooms, 10, Upper Mount Street, Dublin, on Wednesday, October 15th, 1964, the Arterial Drainage Programme was discussed. A very comprehensive discussion took place on the Arterial Drainage Programme to be carried out in the future. The N.F.A. representatives expressed appreciation of the part the media in the Office of Public Works in dealing with the problem, and pointed out that the social and economic problems which farmers in badly drained areas have to contend with, make it imperative that the programme be pressed ahead with all possible speed. The problem is particularly serious where it affects small farm areas. Mr. O'Malley assured the members that every effort was being made not only to maintain but to increase the rate of progress. In addition a survey of the River Shannon catchment area was commenced in the spring of 1965. A point of interest was that the Office of Public Works has now doubled the annual rate of progress of the Arterial Drainage Scheme which was first drawn up under the 1945 Act. According to Mr. O'Malley, £135 million has been spent since the late 1940's on the Arterial Drainage Programme. Four major catchment schemes have been completed at Brossna, Ghyde and Dee, Feale and Maine. Major schemes at Nenagh, Ballyvaughan and Kilmore and Deal and Swilly and Burne have also been completed as have two intermediate river schemes, the Owyne and Swilly embankments. Work is in progress on four ary National Sheep and Wool Committee N.F.A., when speaking at a European Conference, on Wool Marketing, held in Bradford, last week. The Irish national output of wool is comparatively small. Output of fleeces wool is in the region of 20 million lbs. and that of skin wool about 7 million lbs. As yet we have no marketing authority or controlling body—neither do we operate a guaranteed or intervention price system. A large percentage of our wool is sold on the open market on an ungraded basis even though there are some private grading schemes where producers' wool can be sold on a guaranteed basis.

We have a number of dairy farms operating and exporting a considerable percentage of their milk to Great Britain and Ireland. It is at their central premises. Over ten years ago a special scheme to encourage better presentation and grading of wool with a price in accordance with quality, was started by Macra na Feirme. This has been continued and expanded by the N.F.A. The response to this scheme has been good and a great improvement has been made in wool presentation. Among the problems facing us are: (a) The majority of our producers are small farmers with poor storage accommodation for wool. In urgent need of hard cash; (b) Too many unqualified dealers are operating as speculators. They are prepared to buy irrespective of grade or quality; (c) Inherent defects attached to the wool; (d) How to dispose of small lots of wool of various grades at true market value; and (e) A shortage of trained personnel for grading purposes.

The N.F.A. has submitted recommendations to the Committee of Enquiry into the Marketing of Agricultural Products with a view to arranging production and marketing. Storage facilities in convenient centres must be provided and every effort must be made by producers to facilitate and attract the right type of buyer. Whether this can be done by national controlling authorities or through co-operatives is a matter for each particular country. In Ireland, said Mr. Quinn, we are comparatively well satisfied with our progress in sheep breeding which has been helped along by the co-operation of the Department of Agriculture, the Agricultural Research Institute, the various breed societies and individual breeders.

Regional Development was also discussed. Concern was expressed on matters raised under the Dairy Committee report relating to compensation for dry stock which had not kept pace with prevailing prices. It was also noted that the Dairy Committee is adamant that compensation shall be paid to farmers to enable them to get proper replacements under the proposed Brucellosis Scheme. The National Warble Fly Scheme is progressing favourably but the Executive felt that no effort should be spared in order to get all farmers to dress their cattle. Lismore Notes

CONDOLENCE Depest sympathy is extended to Mr. George Heskin, M.C.C., Gungahra and to all other members of the family, on the death of his brother, Dr. Richard Heskin, M.D., Co. Cork, which sad event occurred last week. INTERMEDIATE HURLING TITLES FOR BALDUFF UPPER The honours blazed in the village of Balduff on Sunday night last to honour their intermediate hurlers who had annexed the county championship earlier in the evening at Dungarvan gaelic field, when defeating Ballyduff Lower by a single point, the final score being 1-9 to 3-4. KILHALLA BOWLING TOURNAMENT Though the entries for above only opened two weeks ago, already a large number of names have been received. The tournament, which gets under way on Sunday week, promises to be a great success and with such a capable committee in charge, plus outstanding prizes, it certainly has all the ingredients of a thriller. WEDDING BELLS: FITZGERALD-O'MAHONEY The wedding took place at St. Mary's Parish Church, Dungarvan, of Mr. John Fitzgerald, third son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fitzgerald, Crooked Bridge, Lismore, and Miss Helen O'Mahoney, daughter of Mrs. Mary O'Mahoney and the late Mr. Thomas O'Mahoney, Fitzgeralds, Coe, Dungarvan. The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass and Pater Noster, was performed by Rev. Patrick Fitzgerald, C.C., Portlaw (brother of the groom), assisted by Rev. J. Murphy, C.C., Dungarvan. The best man was Mr. Michael Fitzgerald (brother of the groom) and the bridesmaid was Miss Marian O'Mahoney (sister of the bride). The bride, who was given away by her brother Thomas, wore a full length tulle and lace dress with shoulder-length veil and matching accessories. The bridesmaid wore a pale blue dress with matching headpiece. The reception was held at the Park View Hotel, Yougal, after which the happy couple left on their honeymoon, which is being spent in Fingal. KILHALLA BOWLING TOURNAMENT The above tournament will commence on Sunday, 8th November, and entries may be handed to Secretary, George Biddle, or to any of the following committee members: Messrs. M. J. Scully, J. O'Neill, O. Wilkinson, T. Regan, S. Scallan. Entry fee is 5/-, Handicaps, 2/- and valuable cash prizes are being offered for the first three places. The cup is from Kilahalla Cross to P. Walsh's Cross.

CLONMEL PIG MARKET

An entry of 1,372 Pigs at last Tuesday's Clonmel Market were on offer. Prices for Medium and Small Store pigs were much reduced as were bonhams. Fat Sows were also a slow trade. Bacon, Pig Pickers and Strong Stores were in very good demand at increased rates.

Ruling prices were: Bacon Pigs (Quality), 186/- to 184/- per cwt. L.W.; Bacon Pigs (Seconds), 175/- to 178/- do.; Pork Pigs, 180/- to 182/- do.; Fat Sows, 90/- to 94/- do.; Strong Store Pigs, 1/9 to 2/1 per lb.; Medium Store Pigs, 1/10 to 2/2 per lb.; Bonhams, 1/8 to 2/1 per lb.; Sows with Litters (Quality), £50 to £52 each; Sows with Litters (Seconds), £35 to £39 each; Springing Sows, 1st Litter, £30 to £32 each; Springing Sows 1st Litter (seconds), £20 to £25 each.

The Markets are conducted by Messrs. Stokes & Quirk, Ltd., M.I.A.A., and the next one will be held on Tuesday, November 3rd.

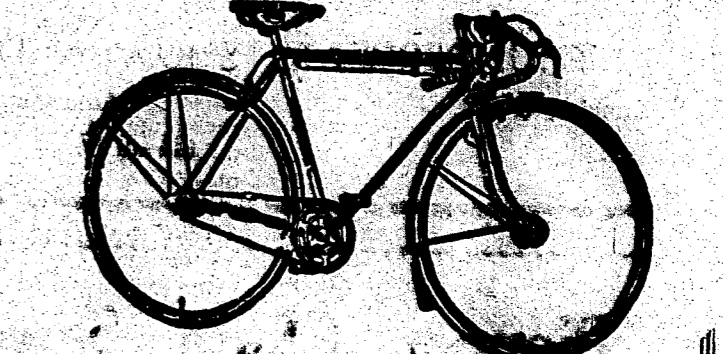

Draw Non-Runner in Sweep

Mr. Gerry Kineen, the well-known business man, Grattan Square, Dungarvan, was the seller of a ticket which drew Except, a non-runner in the Cambridgeshire-List, week. To the owner of the lucky ticket goes a cash prize of £375. Whilst Mr. Kineen, as seller of the ticket, will receive a cash prize also. This is only Mr. Kineen's second time selling Sweep tickets, which must mark him down as a lucky seller indeed.

Dungarvan Branch's 1st Annual Meeting

The first annual meeting of the Friends of St. Martin, Dungarvan, was held at Lawlor's Hotel, on the 16th October, under the chairmanship of Mr. T. A. Keane, T.D., Chairman of the Urban Council.

Miss R. M. Ryan, Group Leader, in presenting her Annual Report, stated that the Society was founded one year ago by a group of persons, all of whom held the Red Cross Certificate in Home Nursing and First Aid or had been awarded the Adult Diploma in Social Science. The group was founded with the intent of visiting old people living alone, chronically ill persons, lonely persons, or to relieve persons for some relaxation who were burdened with the constant care of old or chronically ill persons.

In its initial stages, the group carried out a street survey of persons known to be living alone, or coming under any of the above headings. Each member of the group was then detailed to cover an area which was furthest from their home. Visits were paid regularly up to Christmas.

Five weeks after its foundation, the group arranged to give a full Christmas dinner. With the kind permission of Ven. Aredescon Power, and the C.F.O., the dinner was held at the Vocational School, Dungarvan. The function was an outstanding success, and the group feel that much of the success was due to the very generous help given in preparing the meal by Miss Eithne Beresford, Domestic Science Instructor, and the Sisters of Mercy, Dungarvan. The expense of giving this dinner was borne by the members of the group themselves, and some anonymous donors. No public collection was held.

Visiting was continued in the spring months as usual, and on the 15th July, the first annual outing of the group was held in Ardmore, St. Declan's Hall was acquired for the occasion. A cooked meal was prepared for 110 persons. The guests were conveyed to Ardmore by 2 buses and 7 voluntary cars. The group divided in two, one group caring for the guests on the strand during the morning, and they were taken by car up to St. Declan's Well after lunch; the second half of the group prepared the cooked meals. Afternoon tea was served and the guests were then entertained to a short concert by the Abbess of Variety Club. The guests then had dancing for about one hour before being conveyed home, very happy but very tired after a full day.

The immense effort which went into making this day a success for the guests was more than paid for by the expression of deep thanks which so many conveyed to the members of the group. The group was accompanied by Mr. Elias

E. Mpambanya, a Northern Rhodesia Social Worker, who is at present studying Administration in this country. Mr. Mpambanya took some excellent colour films of the day out from start to finish.

During August weekend, the Co. Manager graciously gave the use of the Civil Defence Hall, and a social evening was held at which the colour slides were shown by Mr. Mpambanya. All the guests who had been to Ardmore were again assembled in the hall. Voluntary cars conveyed these unfortunates to walk. The evening concluded with community singing and tea and biscuits were served by the group.

The group has continued its visiting and expanded its activities more so of late months. Members of the group have assisted persons living alone to clip hedges, break firewood, replace broken windows, put locks on doors, and other such jobs. In cases of necessity, where elderly persons became unable to climb stairs, downstairs flats were arranged, and the work carried out by members of the group on a purely voluntary basis. The group is grateful in particular to skilled workers who have helped them in much of the work.

Since the foundation of the group, every effort has been made to find a suitable premises or site for the erection of a social club, in which to carry on the work. The group feels that old and disabled persons much prefer to be taken out for even a short time, rather than have a visitor sit with them for some hours. Social centres were they can meet other folk and join in some common game or activity, seems to be the desire of all, but the most bedridden. The group also found that old people enjoy the company of young people very much. They love the "twist." This is not unnatural since the family unit is universally recognised as the fundamental unit of society, and persons of all ages dwell within it, and are complimentary to one another. The group deplores the modern tendency to shun off old people into old people's clubs, and to create an artificial barrier between the young boys and girls now known as "Teenagers." This barrier has been created deliberately for commercial and other ulterior motives. It is not a natural barrier, and should not be encouraged in our ecumenical society. Every member of the family from the baby to the grandmother has a purpose in God's divine plan. Man does not know whether it will be as a young man, or as an old man that God will require his greatest effort. It is perhaps salutary that in our time, we have lived to see God choose a man of 78 to be the light of the world for the last 4 years of his life—our great Pope John 23rd. R.I.P.

The group feel that the boys and girls of the neighbourhood should be involved in social work or community work of any nature. Involvement in the care of old people would help to develop a sense of responsibility and kindness towards the old people living within the community.

In spite of all the group's efforts, no premises or site has been found. They assure the community of Dungarvan that such a premises is urgently needed if the work is to be carried on. The group feel that the community in general must accept the responsibility of providing a social centre.

Mr. T. A. Keane, T.D., Chairman of the Urban Council, said he was very glad to have the opportunity of hearing Miss Ryan explain the work of the group, and that he had heard of many kind acts which were done by the Friends of St. Martin. Mr. Keane felt that he was speaking for all members of the Urban Council in assuring the group that full co-operation would be given to them, and at the next Urban Council meeting the Chairman promised to appeal to the people of Dungarvan to take a more active interest in the work of the group.

Volunteers are needed in each street to provide one cooked meal per day for persons unable to cook a proper meal themselves.

Mr. Doyle, Town Clerk, paid tribute to the Friends of St. Martin, and the valuable work which they were doing. It was voluntary groups like this who undertook such work, brought to the people a personal service which the officials could never hope to do.

Rev. Bro. Hegarty, Superior C.B.S., Dungarvan, said the modern teenagers are the finest boys and girls you could meet, in character, training, religious practices, and clean living. He felt sure that they would feel honoured to be called on to help in running a social centre.

Miss Ryan, group leader, on behalf of the group, thanked all those who had attended the meeting, and who had contributed so much to its success.

On the advice of the Chairman, a formal application will be forwarded to the Dungarvan Urban Council asking them to receive a deputation to discuss the possibility of sites which may be available and suitable for the erection of a social centre.

Miss Ryan then paid tributes to each member of the group who had given such outstanding services during the first year of the group's existence.

There was a bumper attendance of Irish Countrywomen from all over the county, at the Hyvar, Trammore, for the Autumn Federation meeting and to meet the new National President, Mrs. Nora Barton, whose first task was to present the Lacy Franks Cup to Mrs. Power of Crohaly, for the best cottage garden in the county.

Mr. Keane, Area Organizer, "Conquer Cancer Campaign," addressed the meeting on the aims and objects of his Organisation. It is hoped to collect £25,000 yearly for the Cancer Institute, whose research work has been acclaimed throughout the world. He asked the members to arouse public interest in the campaign and to extend their collections beyond the guilds. He thanked them for their work in the past and hoped through the Countrywomen to reach every corner of the country. He also paid a tribute to Waterford's Royal Showband who had helped to raise £15,000 for cancer research.

Mrs. Burton spoke of the Conference of Associated Countrywomen of the World being held in Dublin next September, when 1,500 women delegates from all over the world would be present. She also referred to the Five Year Development Plan of the I.C.A. and to the cultural and intellectual activities of the Organisation. She also asked members to study the Land and Succession Bills, and to send Head Office their comments on same.

Delegates were highly gratified to learn that their efficient Treasurer, Mrs. Shanahan, Buterstown Guild, was congratulated by Head Office for her work in having Waterford the first "paid-up" federation in the country.

There were most interesting guild reports on the activities of Future and Cheekpoint and future plans are most encouraging.

Mrs. Pearce, Ballinavilla Guild, sent in a most exhaustive account of her stay at An Grinan for the Melthal. She also tendered her resignation at Teachta's seat. Miss O'Connor, present Teachta, was prevailed upon to carry on and agreed graciously. Mrs. Phelan, Trammore spoke most charmingly of her visit to An Grinan for the Mother and Child Course sponsored by Greenhills Towels.

Mrs. Twomey, Federation President, announced that her term of office would expire in January and asked delegates to make nominations to Mrs. McGrath, Federation Secretary, before 1st November. Mrs. Burton paid a warm tribute to Mrs. Twomey for her work on the National Executive and hoped she would remain in office for the International Conference. Under pressure from the members present, Mrs. Twomey graciously consented to accept nomination for a further term as Federation President.

Mr. J. J. O'Connell, Villierstown was the draw for the Kilmacshomona to An Grinan, and Mrs. Flour Miers, Kilmacshomona, were drawn by Rathgormack. There were warm congratulations for Kilmacshomona, having the best roadside garden in the county and a gift taken to encourage them to keep up the good work.

DUNGARVAN INQUEST
A verdict in accordance with the medical evidence, that death was instantaneous and due to multiple fractures of the head and neck, was returned at an inquest held by Dr. D. Healy, Coroner, at Mordello N.S., into the death of Mr. John Tobin (69), Building Contractor, Ballymacardig, Dungarvan. Mr. Tobin died when he fell on his head about 15 feet, from the roof of the hayrack which he was erecting at the farm yard of Michael McGrath, Knocknacroha, Cappagh, on Oct. 12.

The U.C.D. Golf Club beat Dungarvan by 6 matches to 5, with one halved. The students won the morning Foursomes 3-1, and Dungarvan won the afternoon singles 4-1 to 3-1. Turkey Competition (no. 3) was won by P. O'Grady (13), 49, and eight-ninths.

Turkey Competition No. 4, which commenced on Sunday last, 18th inst., has been extended to Saturday week, 31st inst.

The Annual General Meeting will be held on Wednesday 11th November, 1964.

CREAMERY DANCE
On next Wednesday night October 28th, the Dungarvan Creamery Employees Benevolent Society will hold their annual dance at the C.S.M. Ballroom, Clonca. This is usually one of the dancing highlights of the year in these parts, but this year's event promises to be the greatest ever.

The reason is simple. The Committee has obtained the fabulous Dickenders Showband (Cork) for the occasion, and this top flight Showband should "pack 'em in." They have only recently returned from an extensive U.S. tour, where they scored hit after hit in every city in which they played.

The Committee must have some to a considerable expense to procure this great band, but their efforts should be amply rewarded. They have gone out of their way to give the dancing public only the very best and for that reason they deserve county-wide support. We hope to see a large number of our members at the regular intervals between regular intervals. See advertisement in this issue for full details.

DUNGARVAN CREDIT UNION
The Board of Directors of above, will meet next Tuesday, 27th inst., at 8.30 p.m. at the Court House, Dungarvan. The meeting at 9 o'clock. This meeting will have a guest speaker from the Waterford Credit Union.

GENERAL MEETING
A general meeting of the Ballinacorney Football Club will be held in Ballinacorney on Wednesday, 27th October, at 8 p.m. All members are requested to attend.

DEATHS
Mrs. J. J. O'Connell, 14th October, 91 years of age. Mrs. T. Fleming and Mrs. O'Sullivan, 2nd Mrs. C. Power and Mrs. J. Cullen, E.W. 1st, Mrs. E. Hill and Mrs. E. O'Brien, 2nd, Miss T. Doorley and Miss A. Hartney.

LECTURE
A Lecture "Waterford Harbour—Its History" will be given in the Devonshire Arms Hotel, Dungarvan, on Friday, 23rd October, by Mr. T. P. Walsh of Duncannon and Cappagh, at 8.15 p.m.

DUNGARVAN GUN CLUB & GAME RESTOCKING ASSOCIATION
Take notice that all lands in the possession of the Dungarvan Gun Club, as previously detailed in the lines of this paper, are strictly preserved. Anybody found trespassing thereon in search or pursuit of game will be prosecuted.—Secretary.

CORK AIR CRASH RECALLED
Just two months after he had seen his wife and two sons killed in an air crash at Cork Airport, Mr. Patrick J. Gaule, Manager of the Youghal Branch of the Provincial Bank died suddenly while attending a meeting of the Youghal Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Gaule (63) was due for retirement in June next year. On August 8th last his wife and two sons were killed when a single engine aircraft in which they were passengers crashed shortly after taking off from Cork Airport. The pilot, a friend of the Gaule family, Mr. John F. Coupe, was also killed, when the party planned a short sight-seeing tour.

A native of Kilkenny, Mr. Gaule entered the bank in 1920 and served in Limerick, Cork, Scull, Kinsale, Dungarvan and Kilmacshomona, before coming to Youghal.

He is survived by his daughter Phyllis; Rev. J. J. Gaule, P.P., U.S.A. (brother); Mrs. A. L. Under, Tramore and Mrs. P. J. McGrath, Dublin (sisters).

NO DISCUSSION ON CAUSEWAY BRIDGE

BECAUSE Mr. Thos. Lannon was absent, Waterford County Council adjourned discussion on the Causeway bridge linking Dungarvan and Abbeyside, at last Friday's meeting in Dungarvan.

At the previous meeting of the Council, Coir. Harty said he had been requested by several people to have the question of altering or removing the bridge brought up at a council meeting. It was then decided to have the matter again raised at the November meeting.

On Friday last, the members were to consider the report of the County Engineer, on the matter, but because of Mr. Lannon's absence the matter was adjourned to the next meeting.

Coir. C. Curran (Chairman) said it was a very important item and a very controversial one. Would the members consider adjourning it until Mr. Lannon was present he asked.

Dep. T. A. Keane: Adjourn it for a number of years.

VISIT OF JERSEY PARLIAMENTARIAN
A recent visitor to this area was Mr. John W. Ellis, a Deputy of the Jersey State Legislature, of Hotel Du Soleil, Lezard, St. Helier, C.A. It was the Jersey parliamentarian's first visit to Ireland and he was much impressed by all he saw. He stated that he was delighted with the kindness and hospitality of the people and that the scenery far surpassed his expectations.

Mr. Ellis was accompanied by his friend, Mr. R. Dodge, whose wife (nee Roche) is a member of a well known Clashmore family.

LATE MISS M. J. RUSSELL
At a specially convened meeting of Clashmore I.C.A., a sincere vote of sympathy was passed to the relatives of the late Miss Margaret J. Russell.

In the course of the tributes, the members referred to Miss Russell's many outstanding characteristics and to her great and unselfish work for the local Branch as President and later as Hon. Secretary, and to her devoted service to the Organisation.

TALENTED CLASHMORE FAMILY
No less than four members of a Clashmore family have had examination successes in this year. They are the sons area

ROCKWELL P.P.U. MEETING

The Annual General Meeting of the Rockwell Past Pupils' Union will be held at the College at 5 p.m., on Sunday, 25th October.

Among matters listed for discussion will be the Centenary Year presentation to the College. The presentation fund which has been organised by the past pupils is now over £7,700 and is growing steadily.

Immediate social events planned by the Union are the Annual Dance at Dublin Airport on Thursday, 5th November, and the Annual Card Drive in Dublin before Xmas.

NO DREDGER FOR HELVICK HARBOUR

At the monthly meeting of Waterford County Council on Monday last, the Co. Engineer, Mr. J. D. Hally said they had tried to get a dredger for the dredging of Helvick Harbour, but without success.

In his report, Mr. Hally said the estimate given of 5,000 cubic yards to be done was reasonably accurate and that would cost £3,500. If the cost was to be limited to £2,500 a less expensive job could be carried out. They could get a drag line but it would not clear out to the end of the pier. As far as he could see the only hope was to wait until they could get a dredger next spring.

Mr. M. Harty then proposed they go ahead with the work at a cost of £2,500. This was agreed to.

Unique Football Final Pairing

KILROSSANTY CAN CAPTURE CHAMPIONSHIP CROWN

Ardmore may have to wait longer for their first title

TWELVE months ago Brickey Rangers, of tradition-steeped Kilrossanty in a after a lifetime of vain endeavour, decided that bids fair to be the football classic of the year. This all-Western clash has evoked tremendous public appeal and the outcome is wide open in this first-ever senior final between these rival clubs.

It is a pairing that few could possibly have envisaged at the commencement of this championship year. But one by one the fancied candidates fell by the wayside, until Kilrossanty and Ardmore alone were left to do battle for the coveted Conway Cup. For both it has been a long and arduous road to the ultimate stage but if good fortune favoured them just periodically along the route, both are undisputably contesting Sunday's final on merit alone.

Already this year the sides have met twice—in the 1963 and 1964 Phelan Cup competitions and each has recorded a victory over the other. On the first occasion there was no gainsaying the fact that Kilrossanty were the better side and their 1-9 to 1-5 victory was in no way flattering to their all-round superiority. But the boot was on the other foot as it were when next the teams came into competitive conflict, and this time Ardmore deservedly reversed the previous result and were good value for their two-point victory.

Little wonder then that opinion should be so sharply divided on the outcome of this latest and most important clash of all between them. There are those who bank on Kilrossanty's great tradition to carry the day but many others remain convinced that given a dry sod Ardmore's youth and their great desire to become senior titleholders for the first time, will be sufficient to see them through.

DATES BACK TO 1888.

The story of Kilrossanty's championship deeds dates back to 1888 when a team skippered by the late and peerless Patsy Wall of Ballinavouga brought the first county title to the parish. Incidentally there is a strong link between those immortal "eighty-eighters" and next Sunday's fifteen. Two of that '88 side were grandfathers of present-day stalwarts Tom Riordan and the Walsh brothers of Glendalligan, Tom, Noel and "Pa."

In that long 76 year interim eight more titles have been brought to the parish and on Sunday next a side captained by Tom Walsh (Glendalligan) will attempt to make it an even ten.

By comparison Ardmore's past achievements make less impressive reading. For many years they have been there or thereabouts without ever tasting real success, and it was not until they annexed the junior championship a half decade ago that the Seasideers really became a force to be reckoned with. But since their advent to senior ranks they have more than held their own with the best and are now supremely confident of making football history on Sunday. Twelve months ago they reached the semi-final before losing to Kill but it is their belief that '63 was but the build up to what will be a fitting climax on Sunday.

EXTREME URGENCY

But down Kilrossanty way there is extreme urgency to win this tenth title. Never was a title more eagerly sought-after; never has a team trained so diligently, and never were Kilrossanty standard-bearers so determined to regain a crown last won in 1960. In the words of selector, general Sgt. Maurice Walsh "they are rarin' to go."

For not since the parish ranks were split in 1961 with the formation of the John Mitchels club, has a Kilrossanty side figured in a final championship shake up. This was undoubtedly a source of dented pride for this great club, and now that they are within an hour of another title none will hear of defeat. Certainly their preparation for this final could not have been more thorough. Specially erected lights worked from a dynamo have surrounded their training pitch for some time and scarcely a night has passed during the past fortnight without the Leamy-brien headquarters being a hive of football activity.

It is, of course, an accepted fact that all Kilrossanty sides in quest of championship honours are seen at their best only when "in the final straight." And this is equally true of the present brigade who only revealed their true potential in the semi-final against Kill.

UNIMPRESSIVE

The opening round against Gaultier saw them at their poorest, and more than once subsequently have I stated that one good Gaultier forward would have been enough to have reversed that result.

The second round against Emmetts brought improvement but still it was a Kilrossanty far short of championship winning requirements. Not surprisingly they were rank outsiders against Kill in the semi-final but true to the tradition they themselves have established, they confounded everyone by their most convincing four-point victory.

Ardmore's only disappointing display on the other hand was in the semi-final against Dungarvan. True they experienced little difficulty in advancing to Sunday's decider, nevertheless their overall display left much to be desired.

OER-POWERING

But the Ardmore that I care to pass judgment on was the one I saw defeat Geraldines and John Mitchels. Against Geraldines they were at their overpowering best when coasting to victory, and even though lady luck may have favoured them against Mitchels, their one point victory was laden down with merit. They may lack the tradition and experience of the Comeragh men but dare anyone write off their chances in this highly intriguing final?

JOHN A. MURPHY

JIMINEEN THE GREAT

But the doyen of all Kilrossanty nowadays must be the truly phenomenal Jimineen Power. Way back in 1943 — 21 years ago, Jimineen first wore the green and gold jersey in senior ranks and throughout that lengthy span he has proved himself one of the Comeragh men's all time greats. He shared in their four-in-a-row triumphs between '49 and '52 and collected two more championship medals in 1957 and '60. Now at a time when most footballers of his years have long decided to call it a day, Jimineen is still mastering the best of forwards, and make no mistake about it he will be one of their big men on Sunday. Long may he continue to adorn the playing fields of the county.

MR. JOE CONWAY, Dungarvan, the donor, holding the trophy —THE CONWAY CUP—for next Sunday's Senior Football final at Dungarvan.

lected two more championship medals in 1957 and '60. Now at a time when most footballers of his years have long decided to call it a day, Jimineen is still mastering the best of forwards, and make no mistake about it he will be one of their big men on Sunday. Long may he continue to adorn the playing fields of the county. Kilrossanty supporters will also look to Tom Flynn and Tom Walsh to win what could be a decisive midfield pull. Flynn is, of course, their key man hereabouts, although the return to form of Walsh in the semi-final must be an encouraging thought to the team followers. Walsh has not been seen at his best this year and if directly opposed to John Joe Carleton will have to reach peak form.

SUSPECT SECTOR

As I see it the one suspect sector of the side is the attack, yet the likely sextet to do duty have the ability to notch a sizeable tally.

The half line will be spear-headed by Tom O'Riordan, flanked in all probability by "Gort" Walsh and Pa Walsh. When last the latter was directly opposed to the great Tommy Power he more than held his own and seems the natural choice for left half-forward. "Gort" is another who has been shaping very well in training and is in fact playing better football now than at any time since gaining a permanent berth on the team.

The full line may lack mobility but certainly lacks nothing in experience. True this will be Noel Casey's first senior final but between them the other two—full forward Paddy Fitzgerald and Jimmy Whyte—have over thirty years of championship experience behind them.

BANKING ON SPEED

But if Kilrossanty's preparations have been intense, Ardmore too, have left nothing to chance. I have been assured it will be the fittest Ardmore side ever to leave the Parish, and they are no doubt, banking a great deal on their speed. Although I have "quizzed" many who are close to the team in the past week, there is no information available at the moment of writing as to the actual fifteen they will rely on. That is at this stage a well-kept secret, and I imagine it would be easier to-day to obtain news from the Russian Kremlin than the probable Ardmore lineout for Sunday.

And yet secretive and all though the Ardmore mentors may be, most of the team practically picks itself. In fact as I see it the only sector after which a question mark can be placed is at right full forward. The man in possession in the semi-final was Austin Flavin but he was replaced by Maurice Colbert during the course of that game and the position seems to rest between these two and Mattie Mulcahy. Personally, my preference would be for the latter but only Sunday will reveal the deliberations of team selectors.

TOP-FLIGHT KEEPER

John Colbert is a topflight goalkeeper by any standards, and the towering Eddie Mooney flanked by John Mulcahy and Noel Power gives little cause for concern. This trio will enjoy a considerable height advantage over their opponents and if Kilrossanty should decide to flight high balls into the goalmouth the Seaside trio may well be seen in their element.

But like the Comeragh men, Ardmore will rely to a great extent on the power of their half-backs. On the right diminutive Tommy Power is still a great defender and well deserving of a championship medal; Paddy Carleton has few peers as a centre back and Bertie Hallahan on the left is fast becoming a defender of inter-county calibre.

In all probability John Joe Carleton and Michael Reilly will team up at midfield. They face an onerous task in the Walsh - Flynn pairing and would no doubt be well satisfied with a division of the spoils in this sector.

In attack greatest potential lies in the half-line, particularly wingmen Fin Hallahan and team captain Jim Rooney. On the forty Mickey Carleton should have a rare duel with Jimineen Power, and if this trio can get the upper hand early on, the Seasideers will have gone a long way towards laying the foundations for that first-ever title.

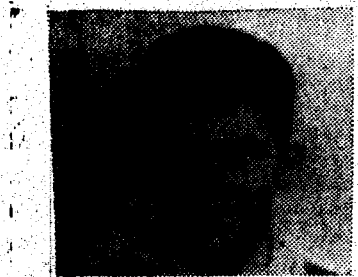

In the full-line, Thomas Hallahan, and Pat Pender seem reasonably sure of their places. Both have been quietly effective without being brilliant to date but are well capable of snapping up a vital score when least expected. As already stated the remaining corner position is wide open and it would be mere speculation on my part to say who will occupy the berth.

ONE VICTORY EACH

That then is a run through the men who will vie for the County's most coveted football prize on Sunday next. Twice they have met this year, and the count stands at an inconclusive one all. Will Kilrossanty rise to it and take that tenth title or must they wait another year while Ardmore make football history. These are questions not easily answered and certainly only a rip-roaring decider is in the offing before the trophy has found a "home" for the coming twelve months.

KILROSSANTY MY CHOICE

But whilst accepting the fact that the issue will be exceedingly close, I confess being swayed by the vast experience and great tradition that is Kilrossanty's. They are invariably a team apart in a county final and although Ardmore are in the decider ado his apollonthis decider with a great chance, my allegiance must remain with Kilrossanty. They have an abundance of strength at half-back and midfield and on the basis of supremacy in these sectors I give them the vote to win by a slender margin.
