Waterford County Council.

Procedure Was Correct

— Says Chairman

HE was quite satisfied with the procedure in granting an increase to the C.A.O. at the previous meeting was in order, said Mr. John Fahy, Chairman of Waterford County Council, at a meeting last week.

The increase had been granted to the C.A.O. at the September meeting, on the casting vote of the Chairman, and at last week's meeting the legality of the procedure was questioned by several of the members.

Mr. Kieran Ryan said at the September meeting he proposed an amendment that the increase not be granted. That was never put to the meeting as the proposition, however, it had been passed as an amendment, but it was never put to the meeting as the proposition. There was not very much they could do about it now.

Mr. Michael Harty said the first vote was on Mr. Ryan's amendment that the increase not be granted and this was passed. Therefore, when that amendment was carried, the increase was automatically rejected.

Mr. Fahy (Chairman) said that when the amendment was defeated it was then put as the proposition and defeated. He was perfectly satisfied that the majority of the members wanted to grant the increase.

Mr. Harty: Do you say the procedure of that meeting is the proper procedure for all future meetings?

Mr. Fahy: I say it was proper procedure in this case. I will not deal with future cases now.

Mr. Richard Walsh said at that particular meeting they changed their minds five minutes after deciding not to give the increase.

Mr. Fahy said that was the importance of a second vote. The members were entitled to change their minds.

Mr. O'Ryan: I am afraid you are some-saulting Mr. Chairman.

Mr. C. Curran said his view was that no decision was arrived at that day. The proposal and amendment were both defeated.

Mr. C. Curran said his view was that no decision was arrived at that day. The proposal and amendment were both defeated.

Mr. Galgey said he did not think they passed the salary increase at all.

Mr. Curran said in all fairness he did not think the Committee passed any increase. In his opinion there was no decision.

Chairman: That is another day's work. I think we will move on.

Mr. Curran: It is still a Ministerial decision anyway. The discussion then ended.

Wants Maternity Unit for Dungarvan

A proposal by Mr. Charles Curran that they request the Dept. to make available a maternity unit of not less than ten beds in Dungarvan District Hospital was unanimously passed at a meeting of Waterford Health Authority on Monday.

Mr. T. Lannon who seconded the proposal said the centralisation of the services was bad. The people of the county were entitled to the same services as those of Waterford City.

The Council decided to apply to the Dept. for an increased grant for the repair of the Urban Roads and to ask the County Engineer to submit details of the protection of the quay, the cost of which was generally considered by the members to be extraordinarily high.

Another report from the Co. Engineer stated that the cost of erecting tubular protection barriers at the openings at the quay would be £750.

The Council decided to apply to the Dept. for an increased grant for the repair of the Urban Roads and to ask the County Engineer to submit details of the protection of the quay, the cost of which was generally considered by the members to be extraordinarily high.

ASKS WHY HE WAS REFUSED LAND

'No Explanation Needed'

I OWE YOU NO EXPLANATION, NOR DO I OWE ANY ONE ANY EXPLANATION FOR WHAT I DO HERE, MR. THOMAS LANNON TOLD MR. THOS. WADE, MURPHY P.L., ABBEYSIDE, WHEN THE LATTER APPEARED BEFORE LAST FRIDAY'S MEETING OF DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL, AS A ONE MAN DEPUTATION.

Mr. Wade, who was given a strip of land as he wanted it for a workshop at Shan-don by the Council, but was later refused an additional strip of land which he applied for, said he would like an explanation as to why the strip of land would not be given to him if it was not wanted by the Fire Brigade. It was, he said, first agreed to give him the strip but at the previous meeting the matter again came before the Council and on a vote it was decided not to give it to him.

Mr. T. A. Kyne (Chairman) explained that any time the Council wanted to sell land, they were legally bound to give certain notice to the members and it then had to be discussed and voted on, irrespective of any previous decision.

Mr. Wade: On what grounds did the members see fit to change their minds?

It was then that Mr. Lannon made the statement quoted at the outset and Dep. Kyne remarked: "Each member has the right to vote whatever way he wishes."

Mr. Lannon: I'd like to know what right anyone has to come in here and cross-question any member like this. Chairman: I suppose you're right.

Mr. Wade said certain accusations were made against him at the last meeting. "I'd like to know," he said, "on what grounds they were made. I want to ask that here because where else can I look for an explanation for that? Surely no member has a right to cut a man down like was done here. I can say that nothing ever went wrong at my place."

Deputy Kyne said the customary thing for deputations which came before the Council was to make their case and then withdraw without taking part in any discussion. "You can put your case," said Dep. Kyne, "and the Council will then discuss it if they see fit."

Mr. Wade said he was still interested in the additional ing-boxes, etc.

The County Engineer stated that with the assistance of a grant from Roinn na Gaeltachta, they were endeavouring to develop a roadway to the Cunnigar from Ring. It was also agreed that the allocation of the Employment & Emergency Schemes grant for the erection of the Causeway would be of little practical benefit.

While the Cunnigar was outside the urban district, it was possible for the Council to develop it as an amenity area, but at the same time it was felt that Waterford Co. Council would be interested in its development.

It was finally decided to let each member have a copy of the report and that the Council should proceed with the outline plan to be forwarded to the Waterford County Council and ask them to what extent they would be prepared to support the Council financially.

At Friday's meeting, having discussed the above report, the Council decided to adopt the suggestion of a bridge and Causeway to the Cunnigar.

At present agreed that any link with the Cunnigar should accommodate vehicular traffic and that if this were provided it would be of tremendous benefit to the tourist potential of Dungarvan. The Council contains 40 acres of land which would provide scope for bathing facilities, car park, caravaning, shelters, bathing-boxes, etc.

White, who accused him of supporting the Town Engineer on the matter. "I want to tell you," said Mr. Lannon, "that I never discussed the matter with the Town Engineer. Mr. Lannon then referred to the statement by Mr. Wade that his shop was now closed, and added "It was open last Sunday."

Mr. Wade: It was, but I was just selling off the stock. It is closed since yesterday.

Mr. Lannon: Mr. Chairman, it's one thing for a deputation to come in here to make a case, but they have no right to come in here and cross-examine members. Would Mr. Wade like to make a statement on what he said about me to Mr. Lee.

Mr. Wade: What statement? You made a lot of statements here about me.

Mr. Lannon: Any statement I made was made in public.

Mr. Lee: I won't draw back on anything I have said. Mr. Wade said that I was prompted to do what I did (vote against giving the land to Mr. Wade) by Mr. Lannon and Mr. Butler, but I want no one to prompt me.

When the Chairman Dep. Kyne remarked that the trend the discussion had taken would not help anyone, Mr. Wade said: "If the Council decides not to give me the land that's alright, but it is the dirty attack made on me that I object to. I have closed down the shop, but I'll say that I wouldn't like to be the one to put anyone out of business. I wouldn't rest happy if I did."

Mr. Lannon: I told you from the start that I was going to oppose it.

The Chairman then told Mr. Wade that the points he had made concerning the wall it was proposed to erect between his site and the Fire Brigade site, and others would be discussed by the Council.

Mr. Wade then withdrew ten votes to four.

Salary Increase For Assistance Officers

THE heads of Trade Unionism had admitted that salary increases were getting out of hand and even a Minister had recently resigned over the issue, said Mr. Charles Curran, at a meeting of Waterford Health Authority in Dungarvan on Monday last. The members were considering an application from ten Assistance Officers for increased salary scales which, if implemented, would cost £1,765 a year.

Mr. J. A. Hynes (Secretary) said the Labour Court considered the application and awarded the following scale: £550 by £85 to £1,005, from October 1st, '63. However, subsequent to the introduction of the 12%, the Labour Court recommended this revised scale from February 1st '64: £616 by £39 to £1,084 by £41 to £1,125.

Mr. Thomas Lannon said the later the awards were made the dearer they got. The latter scale represented a 22% increase instead of 12%.

Mr. Hynes said the cost of implementing the increase would be £1,765.

Mr. John Griffin proposed and Ald. T. Gallagher seconded that the increases be granted.

Mr. Lannon proposed a direct negative that the increases be not granted. Where was the money going to come from, he asked.

Mr. Norman Walsh said the retrocession period was going back over 12 months and that was very wrong.

Mr. Hynes said the claim was in for over a year.

Mr. Lannon said that even if they rejected this application they would still get it. Those representing the people were not strong enough and if everyone in the country rejected them, they would be granted.

Mr. Curran: Even the heads of Trade Unionism admitted these salary increases were getting out of hand, a Minister resigned over the issue. Certain people in Dublin are holding up this country to ransom, and the workers with £7-10-0 a week have to pay for it all.

Mr. Hynes said of the officers involved, five were fulltime and five were part-time.

A vote was then taken and resulted as follows: For the increases—Messrs. Fahy, Curran, Power, Gallagher, E. Browne, P. Browne, Griffin, Against—Messrs. Lannon, Curran, Dower, Roche, Collins, Gaisey, N. Walsh.

The Chairman, Mr. P. Browne then gave his casting vote in favour of granting the increases.

May Build Causeway To Cunnigar

WOULD COST BETWEEN A QUARTER AND A HALF MILLION POUNDS

DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL is in favour of building a Causeway and a bridge to the Cunnigar—from Dungarvan, a distance of 500 yards. It was stated at a meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council on Friday night last that the project would cost between £250,000 and £500,000.

The members discussed the minutes of a special meeting held on 20th October, at which Colrs. Kyne, Lannon and Butler were present, together with the County Engineer, Mr. J. D. Hally, Mr. P. Walsh, Urban Engineer and the Town Clerk, Mr. P. J. Doyle.

At that meeting the Chairman stated that the suggestion of a Causeway to the Cunnigar was made by Colr. Lannon at the August meeting of the Council when the Employment & Emergency Schemes Grant was being discussed. He outlined the proposal which was made some time ago to erect a Causeway to the Cunnigar and to develop and reclaim the land at the Western Bay; but the powers that were, at the time, decided it would have been more economic to purchase and then to take this course. There was also the problem of the siting of the harbour, which might result.

After discussion, the County Engineer and the Town Engineer both agreed that the proposal was feasible and that, while nobody at this stage could indicate a reliable estimate, the cost would possibly be in the region of £250,000 and £500,000. They also felt that the Council should decide which of the following alternatives would offer the best result:

(1)—Causeway to the Cunnigar which is a distance of 500 yards.

(2)—A bridge the whole distance.

(3)—A bridge and Causeway.

It would also be necessary to decide whether the water should be allowed into the Western Bay continually and at what points.

BALLINAVELLA GUILD I.C.A.

A cold October wind blew multi-colored leaves that carpeted the wayside, and the crimson berries of the hawthorn gleaming on the hedge-grows, contrasting suitably with the lovely autumn tints of the sturdy ems that surrounded the school, where two-thirds of the members of the Ballinavella Bantocht na Tuatha-Guild assembled for their meeting.

Our President, Mrs. B. Pearce presided and a long list of correspondence amongst other items were dealt with. Reports were submitted from Mrs. J. McCarthy (I. Red, Dangan) and Mrs. T. Cahill reported on the recent Federation meeting at Tralee. Our President submitted a very full account of the activities in Glenties during the Metheal scholarship course, and showed some of her work done there and also attended many different classes.

Classes for souvenirs and arrangements re A.C.W.W. conference were considered. On a recent work night, Mrs. T. Veale gave us a very interesting and instructive demonstration of the new Singer Knitting machine. Members were very grateful to Mrs. Veale.

Certain members were elected to attend Question Time in Villerstown, on October 30. Mrs. D. Moran won the competition prize and competition for November is "Hankerchief made by member." Mrs. T. Fogarty won the raffle prize.

We then set ourselves to listen to a talk on "Life on the Aran Islands," given by our President. It was one of the most interesting and informative talks we have had during our meetings. All members were delighted and were unanimous in their appreciation and thanks to Mrs. Pearce.

The next meeting will be held on 13th November.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir, Referring to your front page report of the Waterford County Council meeting in your issue of the 24th inst. There would seem to be some misunderstanding as to the manner of presentation of the Deputation.

A meeting to discuss matters of general interest to this Village coincided with one of this Deputy's frequent periodic visits to this part of his constituency. Recognising that urgent measures were needed to correct matters which came up for discussion, this Deputy's assistance was freely offered and accepted.

The observations of Councilor Norman Walsh may be quite true. Yet, a suggestion that arrangements be made for a deputation to meet the Council body was not received with any marked enthusiasm. Yours truly, GERARD BROWN, Chairman, Villerstown Development Committee.

GAELIC JOTTINGS

AFFANE TO CONTINUE WINNING WAY

On Sunday last Affane to everyone's way of thinking won the Western Intermediate championship by decisively defeating Cappoquin's footballers at the Cornerstone venue. But now because of some extraordinary arrange-mentals such as these they must be—as one would say in racing circles—a nap selection.

They are not, however, taking any chances and it seems most likely that last Sunday's fifteen will again be chosen en bloc. Their training camp has an injury free report and it would be folly at this stage not to leave well enough alone.

And yet the Brickeys, despite being the complete outsiders are not without hope of springing a surprise. They will, I'm sure readily recall last year's meeting of the sides in the then Primary championship, when although Affane triumphed they were put to the pin of their collars to do so.

In their own section this year they have been practically unchallenged, although it was not to their advantage that they received a semi-final walk-over from Dungarvan.

Their side is well sprinkled with players of senior status.

JOHN SHEEHAN (Brickeys)

ment by the powers that be they must play a second final on Sunday next at the same venue before ensuring themselves of a place in the county final against Erin's Own. This time Brickey Rangers' second string provide the opposition as winners of the group confined to clubs with senior teams. The net effect is that the teams in this group are no better in ability than Ballyduff and Old Parish who meet in the junior final at Dungan-board for a senior football final at Dungarvan on Sunday last, between Kilrossanty and Ardmore. Followers converged on the Old Boro venue from all corners of the County and the gate receipts of £432 certainly proved the immense appeal of this decider.

In fact it seems certain that the figure would have topped the £500 had it not been for an unfortunate clash with Cappoquin where Affane and Cappoquin met in the Intermediate football championship.

PAT STAPLETON (Affane)

van also on Sunday next. But instead of being allowed play in the latter championship they are thrown into the higher grade, thus compelling Affane to play a Western final in the same grade and code on successive Sundays.

That much said let us preview this decider in which Affane will be the warmest of favourites. To-date this has been a wonderful year for the football conscious Affaners and if form is an even remotely reasonable guide then they should not be unduly troubled to chalk up another victory on Sunday.

In winning their way through the Intermediate section they have given some sterling performance, most impressive of which was undoubtedly their five point defeat of Cappoquin on Sunday last. This game saw Affane at their most scintillating best and Cappo-

TOM DONOHUE (Brickeys)

quin simply had no answer to the team's all round brilliance. Ballynacourty, the pre-champion favourites were their first round victors and with

JOHN HEALY (Affane)

BALLYDUFF FOR ANOTHER TITLE

Throughout the length and breadth of Ballyduff Upper, followers have toasted the hurling heroes that brought home County Intermediate championship honours on Sunday week last. And now on Sunday next those same supporters will converge on Dungarvan for the Western junior football final in which they meet the men of Old Parish. This is another "all-red" decider and it is likely that both sides will have to change jerseys to avoid a colour clash.

Since that hurling victory enthusiasm has reached an all time level in Ballyduff and they are supremely confident of taking their second divisional title on Sunday. And if anything, they must be regarded as favourites to do just that.

They have been most impressive in reaching this decider and really excelled when beating St. Mary's (Mount Mellera) in the semi-final. That victory really vindicated the views of those who regarded them a well-balanced and competent side and quite understandably will not hear of defeat on Sunday. The bulk of their side is made up by their victorious hurlers and will undoubtedly enjoy an advantage on the score of fitness.

But if one should even mention the word defeat in the Sen Phobal this weather he is liable to be "lynched." Back the first time for a number of years they have surprised in championship football for quite a few in reaching this decider and they feel "they will finish the job."

They have been highly impressive in qualifying for this stage of the championship and showed signs of former greatness when trouncing Ballynacourty in the semi-final on Sunday last. The side has a good blending of youth and experience and no doubt will acquit itself admirably.

They have outstanding footballers in Michael Joseph Power, Eoin M. O'Connell and Leahy and these will undoubtedly spearhead their charge on Sunday.

It promises to be a lively and exciting final in which the winning margin seems likely to be slender. Old Parish have a great football tradition and will not surrender easily, but somehow I believe Ballyduff may just shade it.

As a curtain raiser to this final Emmetts and Cappoquin meet in the winter football league and here the latter will be striving to erase to some extent the memory of their year's championship performance. They were humbled by Cappoquin in the opening round of the premier competition and doubtless will be anxious to make amends for that defeat. It will be most interesting to see if they do just that.

Messrs. George Chapman Ltd. Comes to Town

In order to meet the challenge of an exciting future for the Grocery Trade, one of Waterford's oldest Companies has taken positive steps to put itself in a position of strength for the years that lie ahead. The well-known Waterford Wholesale Firm of George Chapman Ltd. has recently opened a Branch of its flourishing business in Dungarvan which will undoubtedly prove a boon to all grocery businesses in the town and surrounding districts. Due to Messrs. Chapman's enormous buying capacity they can offer to customers goods at greatly reduced prices and in fact in many cases goods can be sold to the shopkeeper at a cheaper rate than he would normally purchase them from the manufacturer. Another advantageous feature is the fact that customers can obtain any quantity of goods at a moment's notice.
We welcome this enterprising firm to our town, and feel certain the magnificent service and terms they are offering to the wholesale market will be fully availed of by the Grocery establishments of the town and district.

Warble Fly Campaign Offers Great Challenge

The pres. radio, television, if ones neighbour does not treat his an mass the incidence of warbles and the hundred and one other problems which follow their presence in the summer, will be greatly reduced. The relief thus gained by man and beast will still be more than worth the initial cost.
It is hard to believe that farmers who are quick to spot a chance to make money should hesitate now. According to the Department of Agriculture, warbles can cause a decrease in the quantity of milk cows, besides affecting its quality. In an experiment carried out over a period of 43 days, it was found that cattle free of warbles gained three times as much weight as affected cattle. These facts alone should convince any doubting Thomases of the value of dressing their cattle.

The issue in question is a big one because it involves 4,500,000 cattle in the country. Judging by last year's results, cattle dressed with the new drugs improve over the winter months by 20% to 22. In other words £9m. is at stake. Some farmers have been heard to say: "What good is it for me to dress my cattle if my neighbour won't?" or "I can't have little point in taking part until every farmer is made participate by compulsion?"

These and similar questions are easily answered. Forgetting all about the warble, the new drugs will kill all lice and ticks for a period of two to three months. During this time the farmer will get back the cost of the drugs each week, in better and better thriving animals. Again, even part in having the "Hagberg" or "Falling Number Method" Applied on an official basis in Sweden as the test for assessing the degree of sprout damage in wheat.

The N.F.A. would like to reiterate its view expressed on many occasions, that the Hagberg test should be applied as the official means of determining sprout damage. The Maltese test presently being applied is carried out on four samples, while the Hagberg test is carried out on the wheat itself. The use of the Maltese test, in fact, introducing technical factors, e.g., starch damage done in the milling process. This means that the farmer is being penalised for the starch damage done by the miller.

Furthermore, the Maltese test has to be carried out in a laboratory which in most instances is available at milks only, while the Hagberg can be easily operated at intake points. The reliability and consistency of results from the Hagberg have been proved beyond doubt by eminent cereal chemists. Better, with the use of the Hagberg an international figure should be applied instead of having to use an arbitrary figure chosen by the four millers themselves. We earnestly hope that in light of all the facts the Hagberg test will be adopted for the 1965 harvest season.

The step taken by the Department in inviting an expert such as Dr. O'Leary is a progressive one. His experience, coupled with the fact that conditions with regard to wheat production and marketing in Sweden are rather similar to those in Ireland, will lend added point to any recommendations he makes.

Members felt that there was an immediate need for intensive research into potato diseases, the proper fertilisation, soil testing etc., and they decided to hold a Symposium in December to which eminent speakers will be invited.

The Committee called for the implementation of suggestions made in the N.F.A. Seven Year Plan with regard to the reconstruction and operation of an intervention price system.

It was reported that N.F.A. branches in counties Offaly and Galway were setting up Vegetable Committees because of increased local outlets. The National Committee welcomed this move and promised their full support.

BRIEF NOTES
Breaking Sound Barrier.—British farmers report that because of the boom in the incidence of abortions in cattle has increased, and egg production has been reduced because hens are terrified by the boom.

Milk Down in Sweden.—In the first half of this year, total output is estimated at 4,000 million pounds, roughly 3% under the level of the same period in 1963. The drop is blamed largely to increased slaughter of milk cows in 1963 and 1964.

Cow Numbers Fall in Holland.—This year's livestock count shows a decline in cow numbers from 1.75 million last year to 1.68 this year.

Call for Sworn Enquiry Into Building of Ardkeen

'WE DID NOT GET VALUE FOR MONEY'

A call for a sworn inquiry into the building of Ardkeen's £1,100,000 General hospital which was completed in 1952, was made by Mr. Thomas Lannon at a meeting of Waterford Health Authority in Dungarvan on Monday last.

At the outset, the Secretary, Mr. J. A. Hayes, said 12,000 square feet of roofing at Ardkeen's seven Unit hospital was in need of repair. The total cost would be £14,000 and they would receive a 50% grant from the Dept.

Mr. Lannon said an ordinary man would get at least 30 years service from a house he had built, but now the roofs of a hospital which cost over a million pounds were gone after 12 years. They said not spend the money on it just because they were getting a 50% grant.

Agricultural Estimate Adopted

A total of £28,144 was provisionally adopted for 1965/66 by the Waterford Committee of Agriculture at the monthly meeting last week. This represents an increase of £1,658 on the current year's estimate.

Mr. L. Dempsey, Dept. Inspector, said instruction in horticulture would cost £5570 as compared with the current figure of £5,366. This was due to an increase for one instructor and some salary increases.

Mr. Wm. Foran asked if they had reached the maximum number of instructors in Agriculture in the county. Do the Dept. tell us the number of instructors we should employ he asked.

Mr. Wm. Foran said he did not think there was enough co-operation between the officials and the people that were paying the piper and how they would improve that was a six-mark question. They had seven agricultural instructors in the county but that they were not getting in contact with enough people was something the Dept. should keep in mind.

Mr. T. Gallagher asked why this had not been discussed before the Contractors obligations to do the roof repairs ceased? He agreed however that a public sworn enquiry should be called.

Finally, on the request of the Chairman, Mr. P. Browne, Mr. Griffin, Mr. T. Gallagher, Mr. Lannon agreed to adjourn his

Record Crowd Saw . . . KILROSSANTY SNATCH VICTORY IN DYING SECONDS

Ardmore's Attack Must Take Blame for Defeat

KILROSSANTY - 2-3 ARDMORE - 0-8

THE sands of time were ebbing fast. Inexorably Ardmore clung to a two-point advantage and the coveted senior football championship crown was within their grasp for the first time. Kilrossanty, great championship battlers though they were literally "on the floor" having taking a football drubbing, and history had to all intents and purposes been made. But though less than a minute of this thrill-packed final remained the pinnacle of drama had not yet been reached - the moment when a Kilrossanty goal cruelly shattered Ardmore's hopes and visions of that first title.

The clock had ticked over the 59th minute, and Ardmore with a buoyancy born on confidence, led by a then leading 0-8 to 1-3. The Comeragh men in a last ditch bid worked upfield and an effort worthy of a goal had been averted at the expense of a '50'. Tom Flynn kicked partially by a blue-shirted defender. Midfielder and captain Tom Walsh gained possession and from ten yards he blazed a grounder past a helpless and despairing Seaside. The hour had run its course, fate had decreed that the Seaside would even be deprived of the opportunity of snatching an equalising point, for with the subsequent kick-out by Eddie Mooney a shrill blast by referee Con Crowley's whistle signalled the end.

It is difficult to describe the scene at the Fraher Field just then. The Kilrossanty men were carried shoulder high by delighted supporters who had been subjected to a comparative hour of quietness, by the unquestionable superiority of the Seaside. But the writer's feelings at that stage were for Ardmore who strooped dejectedly from the scene, their hopes blighted by that last second goal—a score let me hasten to add that led to the greatest travesty of football that I have ever witnessed.

It is all best described by football larceny in broad daylight before a record crowd that paid £432 to see it all. To me it was truly re-one for football with a dry and lively sod and scarcely a puff or breeze to hamper the sides. And how the Ardmore speedsters revelled in the favourable conditions that prevailed. They were, I would say the most perfectly trained side to contest a final for more years I care to remember and the advantages that accrued from their bewildering speed looked good enough to carry them to victory save for those all-important final moments.

ENERGY SAPPING PACE They set an energy sapping pace from the opening whistle, maintained it right through proverbial street. FORWARDS TO BLAME Thus when blame is being apportioned for this Ardmore defeat, five men—all forwards—must be saddled with the major part of it. With the exception of Finbarr Hallahan who almost singlehandedly notched decisive scores, the remaining quintet were grossly substandard and their blatant inaccuracy in the final analysis averted the death knell of their assault on that first title.

Indeed, whilst having nothing but pity for the manner in which defeat befell them, and mindful also of the fact that lady luck smiled radiantly on Kilrossanty at times, Ardmore have only themselves to blame for the football catastrophe that hit them. In fact they scarcely deserved to win such was the squandermania soon had them a clear four points in front. But then it was that the Ardmore dominance really began to assert itself and soon the issue had revolved into a battle between the Ardmore attack and the Kilrossanty defence. The Comeragh men underwent a tremendous pummelling for the remainder of the half and there must have been blishes of embarrassment in their camp when they were on level terms at the half-way stage. Nor was the intense pressure to which they were being subjected, less relenting throughout that second half. Ardmore continued to frit away the chances with seeming carefree abandon and with only twelve minutes left in the game, the sides were locked in scoring deadlock. But then the tide seemed to turn in Ardmore's favour and a brace of points points from frees by the 55th minute looked good enough to carry them through. Even then Kilrossanty could not mount a worthwhile offensive and as the hour rapidly ran its course, the result seemed nothing more than a mere formality.

SALVAGED THE TITLE Then with but thirty seconds of actual playing time left Kilrossanty salvaged a crown they looked certain to lose for so long. And how fittingly appropriate it was that their captain Tom Walsh having proved an inspiring skipper all through, should be the one to score the match winning goal. He took the fleeting chance without fuss and the most accomplished keeper in the game would not have stopped his bullet-like drive to the right hand corner of the net.

Behind the Press seat there seemed to be a legion of Ardmore followers, each and every one of whom were truly stunned into disbelief. The players themselves understandably seemed stunned with shock—that a first ever senior title should be snatched from them with the second last kick of the game. Relieved beyond description Kilrossanty made a triumphant march to receive the Conway Cup and their tenth championship success. Never, in their long history had they been involved in so nerve-racking a finish, but never were they so glorious in wiping out a deficit that seemed certain to deprive them of the fruits of success.

FLYING START

Within a minute of the start Donal O'Brien gave Ardmore the lead with a fine point from almost forty yards. But five minutes later the accurate boot of Tom Flynn had the sides level from a free. Two minutes later Flynn again tapped over almost nonchalantly a thirty-five yard free and that point lead was stretched to four within another two minutes. A kick-out by Eddie Mooney went straight over the side line and from Tom Flynn's kick Tom Riordan placed Jimmy Whyte for goal number one.

John Joe Carlton failed from an Ardmore free in the 15th minute but after several minutes of sustained pressure Mickey Carlton reduced their deficit with a point. In the 20th minute Fin Hallahan had another minor and three minutes later Kilrossanty breathed a sigh of relief when a scorching eight yard drive by Mickey Carlton came thundering back off the cross bar. Fin Hallahan quickly added a point but Tommy Power, Fin Hallahan, Thomas Hallahan and Pat Pender were all wide from scorable positions in the space of three minutes. before John Joe Carlton tapped over the equaliser from a free just on half time.

Within a minute of the restart the Seaside lost a golden opportunity of taking the lead, but Donal O'Brien was wide from a very favourable position. Then Ardmore suffered a severe blow when John Joe Carlton was forced to retire and he was replaced by Hugh O'Reilly. But they continued to hold the whip hand and further wides by Mickey Carlton and O'Brien could just as easily have been scores.

THE LEAD In the 13th minute however, sustained pressure had its reward and the cheer which greeted Fin Hallahan's point for the lead must have been heard in the village of Ardmore itself. In the 18th minute, however, the sides were back on level terms when Jimmy Whyte now in the half-line of attack, placed Tom Flynn for a great point. In the 20th minute Tommy Power again edged Ardmore into the lead when he made no mistake from a 35 yard free and this score also heralded the return of John

DECISIVE GOAL The championship barrier was tottering before Ardmore's outfield brilliance and we awaited the final whistle before it crumbled completely. Then with less than sixty seconds left came the moment all Kilrossanty had been waiting for, and Tom Walsh's goal ensured that the trophy was on its familiar journey to the Comeragh country. KILROSSANTY'S STARS Kilrossanty's stars were undoubtedly their goalkeeper, defenders and midfielders. Sean Ormonde was once again the goalkeeper supreme, and not for the first time kept his goal intact for the hour. He was called upon on several occasions to avert danger but it was his superb save at a crucial stage in the second half that was his most valuable contribution to victory. The full line of defence covered itself in glory in the corners Jimmy Maher and Tom Moloney played better than I have ever seen them before and between them the towering Mick Pender larded it over friend and foe. Pender in fact, was the saviour of the side during many spells of Ardmore pressure and his lengthy clearances brought defensive relief on numerous occasions. But in the writer's view the Comeragh man of the match was that polished defender Noel Walsh. His fielding was superb, his deliveries lengthy and accurate and his solo-running a model of precision and perfection. He encountered Ardmore's danger man Jim Rooney who had one of his quietest ever games for the club. In the centre the great Jimineen Power was the essence of soundness, not perhaps the same domineering figure as in the semi-final but still a mighty stumbling block to the Seaside. On the right of the line Tony Baldwin caught a real tartar in the flying Fin Hallahan, but his replacement Nedeem Lonergan had a fine game. It was he, also who went on that belated solo-run which put his side on the attack and proved the build-up for the winning goal.

SPECIAL NICHE The name of midfielder and captain Tom Walsh will always be closely linked with this final. The Glendalligan man played his heart out in a great bid to rally his team mates and carved a special niche for himself in Kilrossanty's hall of fame by scoring the decisive winning goal. His partner Tom Flynn gave an immaculate exhibition of high fielding and his three points went a long way towards bringing off the title. The forwards were not plentifully supplied but looked a more potent sextet than Ardmore's. Tom Riordan on the forty led the line well, although Tom 'Gort' Walsh and Pa Walsh were well held by Bertie Hallahan and Tom Power.

The full-line got little scope an unrelenting Ardmore trio. Paddy Fitzgerald had the beating of Eddie Mooney at times but his finishing was weak and Noel Casey appearing in his first final was not at his best. But the other veteran Jimmy Whyte did an amount of damage by his invaluable first goal and also placed Flynn for an equalising point in the second half. Colum Cunningham was also an improvement when introduced in the second half. DEFENCE NOT TO BLAME No blame can be levied on from a sound Ardmore trio. John Colbert was faultless for the two goals that beat him but well though John Mulcahy and Noel Power played in the full line they were overshadowed by Eddie Mooney. Their half-line did everything possible to lay the foundations for victory. Tommy Power was truly magnificent; Paddy Carlton held the centre well and Bertie Hallahan went from strength to strength over the hour. The Seaside were unfortunate that both their midfielders Donal Linmane and John Joe Carlton were forced to retire through injury. Both were playing exceptionally well and although Carlton returned near the end he was not the force of earlier in the game. With the exception of Fin Hallahan, the attack cost them their first senior title. Hallahan played the game of his life and roamed all over the field menacingly. Whenever he gained possession he spelt danger with a capital 'D' and his three points were delightful efforts. Mickey Carlton on the forty was however less culpable than the remaining quartet, but team captain Jim Rooney scarcely got a look in from Noel Walsh. The full line contributed only one point of their total and neither Thomas Hallahan, Pat Pender nor Donal O'Brien made any headway. Kilrossanty—S. Ormonde; J. Maher, M. Pender, T. Moloney; T. Baldwin; J. Power, N. Walsh; T. Walsh (capt.); T. Flynn; T. 'Gort' Walsh; T. Riordan, P. Walsh; J. Whyte; P. Fitzgerald, N. Casey. Subs.—E. Lonergan for Baldwin; C. Cunningham for Casey. Ardmore—J. Colbert; J. Mulcahy, E. Mooney, N. Power; T. Power, P. Carlton, B. Hallahan; J. J. Carlton, D. Linmane; J. Rooney, M. Carlton, F. Hallahan; T. Hallahan, P. markable that one side could so utterly and completely out-play the other and yet end up on the wrong side of the final scoreline. But that in brief is the story of this memorable occasion—a game Ardmore could and should have won but a game also that Kilrossanty alone under the circumstances would have won.

SENSATIONAL VICTORY

Doubtless the fantastic super-charged finish made all other aspects of this final fade into something near insignificance. Tradition dies hard in the Comeragh country and whilst readily conceding that Ardmore were the better side over the hour, one could only admire the manner in which Kilrossanty snatched sensational victory from the very jaws of defeat. It was so typical of these Comeragh champions—outplayed for so long, and then making a complete mockery of Ardmore's over-all mastery by that belated and vitally important second goal. But if it was heartbreak Sunday for the losers, theirs was a real contribution to one of the finest county derbies every played at the venue. The day was a perfect the hour and were still full of running at the call of time. It was seldom a Kilrossanty man won a race for possession and make no mistake about it they also were trained to it. But youth was undoubtedly one of the deciding factors in Ardmore's favour and they repeatedly gained possession in the open spaces.

But whenever this game is recalled the incredible inaccuracy of the Ardmore attack will be one of its unforgettable features. Eleven times during the opening half their scoring efforts sailed on the outside of either upright, and again on the change over no fewer than another eleven wides were recorded. Some of these misses were totally inexcusable; some were tinged with traces of ill-luck, but on the whole they played the major part in Ardmore's downfall. But what a contrast at the Kilrossanty end. For long periods their attack was literally starved and whilst none of their six forwards was particularly good they looked a more dangerous sextet than their counterparts. In fact I have no hesitation in saying that if the same opportunities fell to them during the game they would have won by the

of their forwards, who abused enough scoring chances to have won the game twice over. To Kilrossanty's everlasting credit, however, is the spirit and determination that pervaded right through their ranks for the entire hour. Despite being overwhelmed at times they always remained in close scoring touch, and then when that last vital chance presented itself were not slow to grab it. It was Kilrossanty tradition and opportunism at its best, proving beyond all doubt that they stand aloof as the greatest championship battlers of them all. I will forever remain convinced that Kilrossanty and Kilrossanty only would have retrieved so perilous a position, and not for the first time added to the contention that they are beaten only when the final whistle has sounded.

BRIGHTEST MOMENTS

Their brightest moments were shortly after the start and of course the dramatic minutes before the call of time. Although it was the Seaside that drew first blood with a point by Donal O'Brien inside a minute, Kilrossanty's flair for doing the unexpected
