Never take a chance...

LATE JOHN POWER

Ballinacorney, Co. Wick. It is our sad duty to announce the death of John Power, which occurred at his residence on Thursday night, January 21st, after a short illness and at a comparatively early age. The deceased was a gentleman of the highest degree and his character made him a friend of all who knew him.

Requiem Mass was celebrated on Saturday morning for the repose of his soul at 10 o'clock in the morning in the parish church of Ballinacorney, Co. Wick. The Rev. Fr. Drummey, C.C., officiating.

Funeral arrangements by James Kely & Sons, Shandon, Dungarvan.

TALLOW NOTES

DEATH OF MR. CHARLES DALY

It is with a deep feeling of sorrow and regret we record the death, following a rather protracted illness of Mr. Charles (Charlie) Daly, Tallow, which occurred on Sunday morning, January 17th, at his residence in Tallow. He was a well known farmer and breeder of greyhounds.

Funeral took place on Sunday evening, January 20th, at 8 o'clock in the evening in the church of the Immaculate Conception, Tallow.

Funeral arrangements by James Kely & Sons, Shandon, Dungarvan.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES

LADIES ATTENTION!

Will you please note that the A.G.M. of the I.C.A. Guild will be held in the Vocational School on next Wednesday, 27th inst. A full attendance of members is requested.

The annual social of the G.A.A. Club takes place tonight (Thursday).

The following scores have been arranged for next Sunday: N. Colender v. J. Daly v. J. Fitzgerald v. Griffin v. J. Fitzgerald v. J. Geary v. J. O'Donoghue v. M. McGrath v. W. B. Lineen v. J. Colender v. J. Lineen v. S. Murphy.

The annual general meeting of the G.A.A. Club was held in the C.Y.M.S. Rooms on Saturday night, Mr. P. Walsh presiding.

In his report, the Secretary covered the club's activities and while saying that no championship had been won, all eight teams entered had done well.

A big disappointment was their defeat in the 1963 Sargent Cup final in which, for a while, they held a substantial lead.

In returning thanks to those who helped the club during the year, he made particular mention of their non-stop promoters.

A deaile report from the Hon. Treasurer, Mr. Noel Lonergan, showed the year to have been most successful. Confidence in the principal officials, chairman, vice-deo, secretary and treasurer, was shown by their election to office unopposed.

Officers elected: Patron, Rev. J. Canon Kennell; P.P., President, Rev. M. O'Meara; C.C., Chairman, Mr. P. E. Loneragan; Hon. Secretary, Mr. J. Fraher; Asst. do., Mr. E. Fraher; Hon. Treasurer, Mr. N. Lonergan; Committee: S. Mason, P. Cahill, J. Connolly, P. Mason, W. Conway, M. Daly, P. Whelan, M. Fraher and J. Mason.

Team captains: I.H. A. O'Keefe; I.F. J. Mason; J.H. P. Mason; J.E. P. Cahill; M.H. W. Cunningham; M.F. W. Cunningham; J.H. T. McKillop; J.F. M. Armasa.

HELP FOR MENTALLY HANDICAPPED CHILDREN. A public meeting will be held at the Desmond Cinema, Cappoquin, on Thursday, 28th January, at 8 p.m., with a view to furthering the project for the education, treatment and training of mentally retarded children in this region.

Committee's "No" to Five-day Week. Waterford County Committee of Agriculture recommended by the Minister for Agriculture that a five-day week should not apply to members of the advisory staff.

Mr. J. Faby (Chairman) said the Minister was looking for the opinions of the committees of agriculture on this matter.

Mr. W. Moran said it was ridiculous and foolish to suggest that the advisory staff should operate on a five-day week. Agriculture, he said, was the main industry in the county and a five-day week would not be suitable.

Mr. P. Conway, C.A.G., said he would like to make it clear that if an emergency arose while the instructors were on a five-day week someone would be on duty to handle it.

The Committee decided by six votes to five to recommend to the Minister that no change be made.

Kilmacthomas Notes

Have it that young Eugene Lucey of Durrow, Stradbally, and Josephine Kiely of Ballingown, Leamybrien, were the recipients of prizes in children's competitions sponsored by various newspapers recently.

Their many triumphs with every success and prosperity to Phil Dee, of Ballydurn, Kilmacthomas and Miss Joan Barron, of Strabally, who have announced their engagement.

Congratulations to Mr. Edwin Hill, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Hill, The Bengalow, Kilmacthomas, on being selected to undergo training as a pilot in Aer Lingus - Irish International Airlines.

At the Tent's Birthday Celebrations of the County Waterford N.P.A., representatives from many Co. Branches attended.

Amongst the winners in the bumper card drive sponsored by Muintir na Tire, Stradbally Branch, were the following: Mrs. W. Power, Paha, Galtee; Mrs. M. Veale, Carrigrohane; Mrs. M. Bailey, Ballygarra; Messrs. James, David and John Kiely, Ballylaheen.

Young and old all enjoyed themselves at Spring Valley Hall, Bonmahon, on Sunday night, when St. Anne's Guild, Ballydurn, held a dance.

The well known goods, Kilkenny Jimmy Adams Showband, supplied the music.

New Library Branches for two Centres

DUNGARVAN AND TRAMORE WILL BENEFIT

Waterford County Council decided on Monday to adhere to their decision that the Library Headquarters should remain in Lismore and that new branch libraries be provided in Dungarvan and Tramore.

In the course of a letter dated December 23rd to the Council, Mr. Dermot Foley, Director of the Library Council stated—

"The proposal to build a branch library for the town and district of Dungarvan at an estimated cost of £10,000 was approved, and will be recommended for subsidy."

"The proposal to build a library at Tramore was approved with the recommendation that, the allocation of £3,7750 for this project being in An Comhairle's opinion, insufficient to provide an adequate library building for the town and district, the estimate should be raised to a more realistic figure. This project too, will be recommended for full subsidy."

"With regard to the Co. Council's proposal to extend the Lismore Headquarters, An Comhairle is satisfied from all the evidence before it that Dungarvan offers superior advantage over Lismore as a headquarters town. It is also satisfied that a good opportunity to effect a transfer of headquarters presents itself in the decision to build a new library at Dungarvan. Because of these conclusions, which were reached after the fullest consideration had been given to the County Council's opposing arguments, An Comhairle cannot approve of the Lismore proposal, and would not be justified in advising the Minister to subsidise it under the grant scheme."

Colr. R. Dowd said the Co. Council wanted the Headquarters to remain in Lismore and nobody could tolerate the undemocratic methods being used by the Library Council. He proposed that the H.Q. remain in Lismore, and that the new branch libraries be provided in Dungarvan and Tramore.

This was seconded by Colr. N. Walsh. Deputy Knye said that as far as he was aware the letter from the Library Council Director stated that the matter of the headquarters was one for the County Council to decide themselves. It was unfair, he added, that the building of new branch libraries at Dungarvan and Tramore should be tied up to the dispute as to where the headquarters was going to be. Dungarvan very badly needed a new library as the present building was both inadequate and unhygienic.

Colr. N. Walsh said the Comhairle Leabharlanna were almost achieving what they set out to do. They were trying to divide the County Council by emphasising the Dungarvan Library building. If the Co. Council deviated from the stand they had taken on this matter, they would be playing into the hands of the Comhairle Leabharlanna. He advised the members not to be taken by the bait being put out to them.

Deputy Knye said that anybody who had ever seen the library building in Dungarvan commented on it. It was not possible to see the books in the building as it was so small. He proposed an amendment that the offer of grants for the Dungarvan and Tramore library building be accepted. This was seconded by Colr. Ml. Harty.

Colr. Dowd said that he realised the urgency of decent library buildings in Dungarvan and Tramore and the way to get the grants for new buildings was to vote for his proposition. If the Comhairle Leabharlanna saw that the Co. Council was determined, they would not try to impose their will.

The amendment was put to the meeting and rejected by 11 votes to 2.

PROPOSAL APPROVED

The following motion proposed by Colr. Fahy and seconded by Colr. O'Ryan was approved by the Co. Council on Monday:

That we request the County Engineer to negotiate with Bord Fáilte with a view to having the old roadway from the Nire via Knockanaffrin to Rathgormack brought up to standard to facilitate tourist traffic and allow it to be taken over by the Council.

Colr. Fahy said the Nire Valley, where there was some of the grandest scenery in the county was neglected where tourist development was concerned. A great number of people visited the Nire and went pony trekking there but the great drawback was that the road was a cul-de-sac and after going so far they had to turn back.

Colr. O'Ryan said this was the second attempt to open up the Nire Valley and he felt if there was more co-operation at local level they might succeed this time.

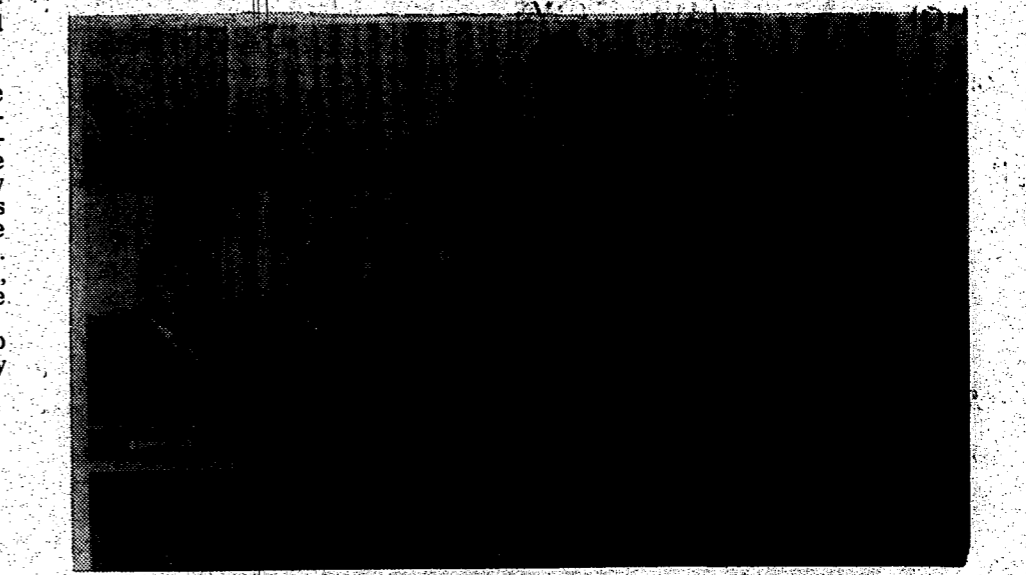

DEPUTATION FROM COOLNABEASON

Messrs. J. Meehan, J. Cliffe Maurice Condon, Ed. Foley and John Lonergan, from Coolnabeason, attended last Monday's Co. Council meeting asking to have the roadway leading to the village surfaced and tarred.

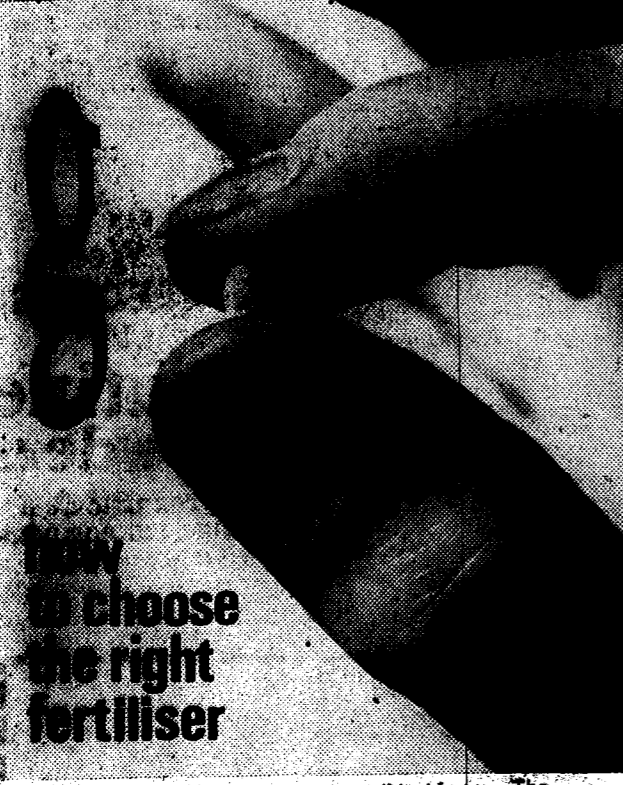

Mr. J. Fahy introduced the deputation and stated the road in question was in a deplorable condition. Messrs. Condon and Meehan put the deputation's case.

Debit Balance to be spread over two years

On the casting vote of the Chairman, Waterford County Council decided by nine votes to eight to recommend to Waterford Health Authority to spread their debit over two years and reduce the impact of health service on the county rate to 2/3 in the £.

Mr. J. A. Hynes, Secretary, said the total expenditure of the Health Authority was £1,137,000 and the health services would have an impact of 2/6 in the £ on the county rate and 2/8 in the £ on the City rate.

Deputy Kyne said that Waterford City and County had the best health services in Ireland.

Colr. Hartly pointed out that the health services in Waterford were costing considerably more than in other counties.

The Chairman (Colr. C. Curran) said that Co. Waterford had one of the highest percentages of medical cards in the county.

Deputy Kyne said that medical card coverage in Co. Waterford was the highest in Ireland. The figures were 40% in the county and 41% in the city. He would like to pay tribute, he said, to Waterford Health Authority in 1953 when the Health Act was going through the Dail he found himself at a loss end because all the provisions in the Act were already in force in Waterford.

Mr. Hynes said that 40% of the cost of the administration of the Health Authority went on salaries. He agreed with Mr. Kyne that the Waterford Health Authority provided the best service in the county.

Mr. Norman Walsh commented that the people of Waterford were paying through the nose for the health services.

The Chairman said that salary increases for members of the staff of Waterford Waterford Health Authority were in all cases given over the heads of the members by the Minister for Health.

The Co. Manager (Mr. S. J. Moynihan) said that the salaries paid to the staff of Waterford Health Authority was similar to the salaries paid by other Health Authorities.

Deputy Kyne said that the people of Waterford wanted the best and the money for the services would have to be provided out of the rates.

Colr. Norman Walsh said that if the Health Authority had spread the debit balance over two years the demand on this year's rate would have been reduced to 2/3 in the £.

Health services made up half of the county rate in Waterford. He had given the matter every consideration and unless the Minister for Health reduced the burden they had no hope of bringing down the rates.

If Health services were made a national charge the Waterford county rate could be reduced by 6/- in the £.

The Chairman pointed out that the city members of the Health Authority voted in balance over two years.

Colr. John Fahey said he would like to second Mr. Walsh's proposal to spread the debit balance over two years. Although there had been no increase in the rates on agricultural land since 1957 the increase in the rates this year was very steep.

Colr. Wm. Kenneally said he would like to propose an amendment that the debit balance be paid off over one year. It was bad financial business to delay paying the debit balance. They should be men enough to face up to it.

This was seconded by Deputy Kyne.

Colr. N. Walsh said that the position regarding medical cards was unsatisfactory and the sooner it was done away with the better.

Deputy Kyne said that medical cards should be done away with completely. Every worker and farmer should pay for health services on a contributory basis, just as in England.

Colr. K. O'Ryan said that the issue of medical cards in Waterford was a farce. He had made representations on behalf of people and was refused while other members made representations on behalf of the same people and were given medical cards.

Mr. Hynes said that sometimes the Co. Manager revised his decision regarding the issue of medical cards. Further information may be provided, or circumstances might change.

Deputy Kyne said that he found that a lot of people were turned down because they did not know how to make a case for a medical card. He made representations on behalf of people who had been refused medical cards by the Co. Manager and succeeded in getting them.

Colr. O'Ryan—You got the medical card because you had pulled.

Deputy Kyne—No. The Secretary is not in my party. It was decided on the casting vote of the Chairman to recommend the Health Authority to spread the debit balance over two years.

Broiler Tax Issue For Annual Review Talks

The present controversy over whether broiler growers should be taxed under Schedule B (income directly from the occupation of land) or under Schedule D (income from an ordinary business) will be taken up by the N.F.A. team in the Annual Review talks with the Government.

The threat of a steep increase in income tax, which is hanging over broiler growers throughout the country, hindering the development of the industry. This move is not consistent with the Government's call for intensive farmyard enterprises on the part of the small farmer. It is generally recognized that the salvation of the small farmer is in intensive production and the broiler business is an ideal line for the small man. It, then, seems ridiculous to tax what is essentially a small man's outlet on a different basis to other farm enterprises.

For years past, said Mr. Jim Quinn, Secretary of the National Poultry Committee, we have been pressing for the re-organisation of the poultry industry in order to get it out of the doldrums. Broiler production in small farm areas is one of the things we want to develop, but this tax threat is only going to act as a deterrent.

MINISTER'S LETTER

The Minister for Agriculture, Mr. Haughey, has written to the Dublin County Committee of Agriculture, as follows: "A text case brought before the Special Commissioners and I understand that while this case had not yet been finally settled, the Special Commissioners have expressed themselves as in agreement.

"I also understand that in the event of a final adverse decision by the Special Commissioners the appeal may take the matter to the Circuit Court or demand that a case be stated by the Special Commissioners for the opinion of the High Court."

It is understood that the Oriel Broiler Group in Monaghan are going to contest the issue with the Revenue Commissioners. Farmers will be watching developments with interest.

MR. HAUGHEY HEADS N.F.A. EXHORTATIONS

Whatever else the future may hold for the Minister for Agriculture, Mr. Haughey there is no denying that he is a man of action. Never had there been more clear than during the forty-eight hour period following the N.F.A.'s Tenth Birthday National Congress on January 6th.

First Example: It will be recalled that Mr. Rickard Deasy, President, N.F.A., addressed the Minister in the following terms: "I say to the Minister for Agriculture that this (the small-farm area problem) is the greatest—the most urgent—and the most challenging of all his many problems and I urge him to involve himself personally in the rebuilding of the West."

Result: On the following morning, before many Dubliners had even reached their offices, Mr. Haughey was on the road to the west. During his three-day tour, he visited the Pilot Areas and gleaned a mountain of information from farmers, agricultural experts, and businessmen.

Second Example: Mr. Deasy repeated the N.F.A.'s demands for "an immediate and resolute approach to the E.E.C."

Result: Two days later came the word from the Department of Agriculture that Mr. Haughey will visit Berlin at the end of this month, for the "Green Week". But a more important point hidden down in the body of the report was the fact that the Minister will be dropping in to Brussels for talks with Dr. S. L. Mansholt, Vice-President of the Commission of E.E.C. who is also in charge of agricultural affairs. He will also meet the Federal German Minister of Agriculture, Dr. Schwarz, and the Belgian Minister of Agriculture, M. Hegar.

GOVT. POST POSITION MORE SERIOUS

The fowl post position grew much more serious this weekend with reactions to tests in places as far apart as Co. Sligo and Co. Kerry.

The trouble started in the Department of Agriculture's school at Clonsilla and it has trumpeted that since 1st January, twenty-one poultry farms received adult stock and about sixty other poultry farms received day-old chicks from Clonsilla.

While the outbreak seems to be of a mild nature, there can be no complacency. The Department claims that the Clonsilla outbreak has nothing to do with the minor epidemic in the North. If this is so it only accentuates the difficulties we are facing to keep the disease out of the country.

Mr. Jim Quinn, Secretary of the National Poultry Committee, N.F.A., has appealed: "When the outbreak in the North came we asked for the ultimate in vigilance along the Border. We are now asking for that throughout the country."

PREPARING FOR REVIEW TALKS

N.F.A. House in Dublin is a hive of activity these days as preparations for the Annual Review talks with the Government forge ahead. An idea of what form the Review will take was given by Mr. John Orpen, Vice President, N.F.A., to the National Congress of the Association on January 6th. He was replying to a number of resolutions adopted unanimously—calling for increased efforts to have the proposals contained in the N.F.A. "Green Book" implemented by the Government.

Mr. Orpen stated that the "Green Book" was a plan for agriculture up to 1970 and one could not expect the whole of it to be implemented in any one year, anyone "then the Garden of Eden sprang up overnight."

He explained that the Annual Review would fall into a number of different categories. There would be the overall economic picture in which the farmer's income would be analysed. The costs of different commodities would be examined to see in which sectors farm income could be most conveniently increased.

Present trends in agriculture would be reviewed to see how they fitted in with the proposals of the "Green Book" and the Government's "Brown Book."

Among the major difficulties facing the Review Team, apart from gross shortage of staff was the lack of indices of costs. In addition the survey of productivity on the farm ("Farm Survey") was now out of date and there was also no date-to-date survey on consumption.

VIAL I.A.O.S. CONFERENCES

Seven meetings of vital interest to all N.F.A. men will take place at different centres throughout the country from January 28th to February 5th next. They are the district conferences of the Irish Agricultural Organisation Society Ltd., at which nominations for the nine creamery seats on the Executive Committee will be taken. The importance of these conferences cannot be overstressed. It is absolutely essential that every N.F.A. man, who is also a member of a co-operative creamery, should attend. If he doesn't he is depriving himself of a voice in his own affairs.

MAKE-UP OF NEW COMMITTEE

In addition to the nine creamery seats, the Committee will also be composed of two representatives of producer-milling societies, two from co-operative stores, one from A.I. societies, one from co-operative bacon factories and one seat will be under the heading "miscellaneous". The new Committee will take office in May, when six further members will be co-opted and the new President elected. One third of the Committee shall retire each year and presidential elections will be held every year. Should a contest prove necessary for any of the commodity seats there will be a postal ballot.

This new system of election is in accordance with the recommendations in the Dr. Knapp report and as such it is of particular significance.

ANOTHER LOOK AT NATIONAL CONGRESS

The question of increased grain prices figured prominently at the National Congress. A number of resolutions, calling for "substantial increases," were unanimously adopted. Mr. J. Mullins, Chairman, National Grain Committee, said that the National Council and his Committee were very concerned about the decline in cereal growing. They had pressed for increases of 9/- a barrel in wheat and 5/- a barrel in feeding barley and the Minister for Agriculture had stated on the last day before the Christmas recess, in the Dail that he hoped to announce the prices within a month. "We hoped to hear them soon," said Mr. Mullins, "and we hope that they are the prices we asked for."

He said that no price had been fixed with Messrs. Guinness yet for milling barley as the price for feeding barley was being awaited first but "the market" and the growers are not inclined to bid on barley prices at present.

Mr. Mullins was also worried about the comparatively low yield in many areas last year. "I don't know what the reason for this is but we didn't get the response last year for the inquiries which was done," he said. The delegates were asked to supply any knowledge they had on the matter to the Grain Committee.

Mr. Deasy paid tribute to the Grain Committee and said that the fight they had conducted over the years had been completely vindicated by the report of Dr. O'Keefe. "I think," he said, "that we can look forward to comparable success in price negotiations."

MILK PRICES

A number of resolutions dealing with the dairy industry were also adopted. One of them, from the Limerick Co. Executive, demands an increase of 4d. per gallon for milk. Mr. T. J. Maher, Chairman of the National Dairy Committee said that Ireland should take advantage of the present shortage of dairy produce on the international market. He believed that we could not have the right produce to sell without having the right price. Recalling the demonstrations in Athlone, Limerick and Kilkenny, Mr. Maher said that it could be seen clearly that N.F.A. had treated milk prices with the utmost importance.

The 2d. a gallon increase granted by the Government last year, was accepted as part of the requested increase and "I think that we have now got to demand a further increase on the basis of this year's Review. Not only will the leaders of N.F.A. have to put a strong case to the Government, but everyone of you should be prepared to fight and back up the work of your Executive," he said.

Mr. L. O'Neill, past Chairman of the Liquid Milk Group said that since May, 1963, the price of liquid milk had increased by 1/- a gallon to the consumer, whereas the producer only got an increase of 3d. a gallon. He felt that dairies should be forced to keep records of how much milk was being used for human consumption and how much was being sent away to be manufactured. "We have asked for these details from the Government, but so far we haven't got them," he said.

HERE AND THERE

"If this country is to maintain its position as a nation it will have to cast aside the old attitudes of isolationism and dependence on its near neighbours for trade relations and step boldly into the challenging market of the new Europe of which it is part."

— Mr. M. J. Noonan, President, Macra na Feirme.

"From this Common Market agreement on grain prices it seems obvious that Britain is not going to find it any easier to join the Common Market—in fact, it has now become a much more difficult and alarming step."

— Editorial in The Farmers' Journal. (Official organ of the Ulster Farmers' Union.)

Membership of larger producers' organisations and acceptance of more rigid and discipline both on the buying and selling sides of his operation is a must for the individual farmer in the future. This is the view of a British National Farmers' Union study group which warns that such a course is the only way in which the farmer will be able to remain competitive with the large scale intensive producer.

Britain is now supplying 64% of her meat needs from her own resources. Last year's meat production of nearly 2 million tons is estimated to have been the greatest since 1945.

"All too often, I am afraid, we find the farmer with 20 acres operating in the same way as the man with 200 acres."

— Mr. C. Haughey, Minister for Agriculture.

Tribute to Late Waterford Gael

The monthly meeting of the Waterford Co. Council was adjourned for half an hour in Dungarvan, on Monday, as a mark of respect to the late Charles Daly, Publican, Tallow.

Proposing a resolution of sympathy, Mr. Geo. Heskinen said that the late Mr. Daly had been one of the best hurlers in Co. Waterford in his youth and he represented the county on many occasions. He came from a very sporting family and his uncles, Paddy and Frank Daly, had been very good footballers some years ago.

His grandfather was a well-known family in West Waterford and was the firm James Daly & Co., Cork, said Mr. Heskinen, and the family were connected with hurling and every aspect of sport in the county for many years.

Deputy T. A. Kyne said he would like to be associated with the resolution of sympathy. He had known the late Mr. Charles Daly intimately and they had been very close friends for many years.

Mr. Norman Walsh, who seconded the resolution of sympathy said he had played hurling against the late Mr. Daly and they had been very good friends. He was a member of a well-known family in West Waterford and was
