Dungarvan Cattle Mart

In order to comply with the recent regulations of the Department of Agriculture, only 30-day Tested and Blue Card (other than drop calves) can now be sold at the above Mart.

We would like to bring to the notice of farmers the following points which may be of assistance to them in this recent change of marketing procedure:

- The Number on the ear tag must correspond with the number on the Certificate. If there is any discrepancy whatsoever, the animal will have to be removed from the Mart Premises immediately.
- On arrival at the Mart, please book your cattle at the Checker's Box and on receipt of your Lot Number proceed to the Cattle Crush and hand same to the Marker.
- It is essential that the animals are numbered in the Crush so as the Lot Number can be entered on the Blue Card or 30-Day Test Certificate.
- Once the cattle have left the Crush the Lot Number on the animal's back must not be changed under any circumstances.

New Enquiry for Industry in Dungarvan

It was stated at a meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council on Friday night last that a firm of Industrial Consultants are investigating the possibility of building a factory in the town. This follows the decision of Arrow International Ltd., Denver, Colorado, to scrap their plans for the establishment of a factory in the town because senior technicians refused to come and live in this country.

The Chairman, Dep. T. A. Kyne said that during the week he made enquiries to see if anything could be done about the decision to drop the plans for the factory in Dungarvan. He was informed that no pressure could be put on the firm involved and it was rumoured that the factory was now going to be set up in England.

Mr. Kyne said that Arrow International got all the help possible and it was nobody's fault that the factory was not coming to the town. The Government and the people of Dungarvan co-operated in every way. The firm changed their minds at 24 hours notice. However, notice.

Settlement Announced

A settlement was announced before Judge Sean Mac D. Fawcitt at Dungarvan Circuit Court on Tuesday in the case in which John J. Murphy, Kilmuckridge, Gorey, Co. Wexford, a rate collector sought specific performance of an agreement made in Dungarvan, on June 22nd, 1962.

The defendant, Pamela M. Evans, married, had agreed to sell the licensed premises and dwellinghouse and yard, known as "Harbour Rest," situated at the Quay, Dungarvan, for the sum of £1,200 and £60 auctioneer's fees.

TOWN HALL'S "SCANDALOUS CONDITION"

Following complaints recently of the scandalous condition of Dungarvan Town Hall, an estimate of £1183 for repairs and decoration was submitted by the Urban Engineer, Mr. P. Walsh at a meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council on Friday night last.

Mr. P. Doyle (Town Clerk) said that it was not possible to give a reliable estimate at this stage but it had been suggested that consulting engineers be employed to make a survey of the scheme. A scheme costing £70,000 would put 2/4 in the £ on the urban rate.

Mr. R. Walsh said that at present it was too small to cater for big dance bands but if it was extended it would become a big attraction.

The Chairman (Deputy Kyne) said he considered the Town Hall as an amenity for the town and the people were entitled to a dance hall. However he failed to see how the Town Hall could be extended without extraordinary cost.

Mr. P. Whelan said that in its present state the dance hall was in a terrible condition.

The Council decided to defer the matter to the next meeting of the Council when discussion would be held with certain local organisations.

NEW WATER SCHEME WOULD COST £70,000

Provision of a new water scheme in Dungarvan to replace the present outdated system would cost approximately £70,000 it was stated by Mr. P. Walsh (Urban Engineer) at a meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council on Friday night last.

Mr. P. Doyle (Town Clerk) said that it was not possible to give a reliable estimate at this stage but it had been suggested that consulting engineers be employed to make a survey of the scheme. A scheme costing £70,000 would put 2/4 in the £ on the urban rate.

Mr. Tom Lannon said that in view of the present high rates and the strain they were placing on the people they should not go ahead with the scheme at the moment.

Mr. P. Whelan said he had seen a number of places where the sewer had fallen in. However, the replacement of the sewer was too expensive.

The Urban Engineer suggested that the first step to take was to employ Consulting Engineers to report on the existing system and get a reliable estimate from them.

The Chairman, Deputy T. A. Kyne, said that it was very unpleasant to raise the rates particularly at the present time. If the Council decided to go ahead with the project it would not have an effect on the rates until next year. They had to accept the advice of the Urban Engineer. That was what they were paying him for.

Mr. Lannon proposed a Mr. Whelan seconded that they not employ Consulting Engineers. An amendment was proposed by Deputy Kyne and seconded by Mr. Walsh that consultants be employed at a cost of £1500.

On the casting vote of Deputy Kyne the amendment was carried and the consultants will be employed.

KILGOBINET DEPUTATION SEEKS WATER

Dungarvan Urban Council granted permission to a deputation representing the people of Kilgobinet to tap the source of the Dungarvan Water Supply to allow them to promote a group water supply scheme for the parish.

At the Council's monthly meeting on Friday night, spokesman for the deputation, Rev. M. Farrell, C.C., said he was hoping to form a group scheme to supply water to the people of the parish and the Church. At present the houses would be supplied by the main line. The number might be extended to 12. They wanted permission to tap the Kildangan reservoir and run a pipe line down to Kilgobinet.

PRESENTATION NON-STOP DRAWS, DUNGARVAN

Promoters and members should please note that the Committee in charge of the above draw, will be again in Dungarvan on Tuesday, 9th March, between 8.30 p.m. and 8.30 p.m., on Tuesday night next at Fatima Hall to complete registration and accept subscriptions for first draw.

Only one shilling per week secure participation in draws for £260 cash prizes so register immediately or you'll be too late.

The Urban Engineer, Mr. P. Walsh, said that he was satisfied that if the spring was tapped it would not interfere with the Dungarvan water supply. The Kildangan reservoir is quite a lot of water to the milk bottling station in Dungarvan and also to the Apple Station. He was quite satisfied that the people of Kilgobinet should be allowed to tap the reservoir on condition that they submit to the Urban Council a plan of what they intended doing.

Successful Schools' Drama Festival

The first schools drama festival for County Waterford was completed last week in the Friary Hall, Dungarvan. Judged by any standards, this festival was a huge success. For an initial venture it was truly wonderful. Twelve dramas went on the boards over the three days of the festival and visitors from other areas where festivals are firmly established were who heard in their praise for the standard obtained here. Perhaps the greatest factor in making the festival such a success was the tremendous co-operation between the various schools and the Coiste. Delays between productions were reduced to a minimum, and although a tremendous amount of work was done behind closed curtains, it was got through with great speed and efficiency. The festival was opened on Thursday evening by an Uasal Liam O hOistin, cigire scileanna, who explained to a packed hall the aims and hopes of the Féile. At the end of each evening's performances, the adjudicator, Ath. Victor de Paor, C.C., gave a shore resumé of his impressions. He retained the results until after the final play on the third day and there was a very noticeable air of tension around the hall as he announced the winners.

As a result of the local féile, at least five of the winners will go on to Clonmel to contest the Munster finals there on March 14th, 15th and 16th. Whether they will succeed in winning there where the standard will be higher is a mute point, but it seems very certain that each and every one of them will be strongly in the running and will contest the Munster Finals on merit alone. Here's wishing them every success.

Winners —
1. Faol 8 mbl. — "No Cloig Dicheilli" (Cl. na Toirbhirte).
2. Ceoldrama — "Na Stroisejri ag an Tobar" (Cl. na Trocaire).

3. Meanscoilceanna — "Jogan" (Scoil na mBraithre).
4. Faol 11 mbl. — "An Chuar" (Scoil na mBraithre).

5. An Ghoblaigh — "Sar Aisteoir" (Scoil na mBraithre).
6. Os Clonn 11 Bhl. — "An Seanbhean a chonaigh faoi Bhroig" (Cl. na Toirbhirte).

The "Best Actor" award in each division went to the following —

1. Sean Mac Greagóir (Cl. na Toirbhirte); 2. Aine Ni Ghoghlu (Cl. na Trocaire); 3. Bernadette Ni Cholmain (Cl. na Trocaire); 4. Seosamh O'Connmaigh (Scoil na mBraithre); 5. Deirdre de Fiondarga (Scoil na mBraithre); 6. Eimear de Bhal (Cl. na Toirbhirte).

On Friday week next, 12th March, all those plays which will take part in a special show in the Friary Hall, at 8.15 p.m. This "little festival" should prove to be most attractive from the point of view of quality and variety. There will be no advance booking and as space is strictly limited, it is strongly advised that intending patrons should come as early as possible. The "Best Actor" awards will be presented in conjunction with the show.

SYMPATHY
At a specially convened meeting of Dungarvan Comhairle Ceannair Fianna Fail, a vote of sympathy was unanimously passed to the Curran family, Glenmore, on the death of their father, Patrick Curran.

FLOWERING TREES TO BE PLANTED
The residents of Abbeyside hope to plant flowering trees and shrubs in the area in an effort to gain extra marks in the Tidy Towns competition, said Mr. Richard Walsh, at last Friday's meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council.

Mr. Walsh said a meeting of the residents of the Grove, Clonea Road, and the New Line, was held last week and it was hoped to raise enough money to qualify for an amenity grant.
Mr. P. Whelan said the Urban Council was encouraging the people to keep the town clean but they were not giving good example themselves. The outside appearance of the Town Hall was very bad and he suggested that it be redecorated.
Mr. T. Lee said that the corner of Chapel Lane was also in a bad condition and he suggested that the Council appeal to the owners to clean up the area. It was unsightly and an eyesore.
The Council also decided that Dungarvan should enter for the Tidy Towns competition.

COULANSMEAR
The dinner was such that it gave all present the tastiest of environments for the remainder of the night. The social, which followed, was literally "hectic" with music and dances—ranging from half-sets to sambas, indeed he lot being supplied by the talented Power brothers of Coolansmead.
Addressing the guests at the brief after-dinner speeches, the Club's President, Rev. J. Walsh, C.C., Newcastle and Fourmilewater, proposed the toast to their club. This was their first ever social and he hoped it would be but the first of many.
Their club, he said, was a comparatively new one. It had lapsed for a number of years and was revived only a few years ago. Before the start of the present century their club flourished, and since being revived has gained impetus.
Rev. Fr. Griffin, C.C., Touraneena, said sport of any kind was a tremendous asset and there was something wrong with a man that had no interest in sport. He was proud to be associated with the Club and added "long may it reign."
The Chairman, Mr. Michael Desmond said it was encouraging to see such a big gathering present. It certainly augured well for the future of the club. He paid a special word of thanks to the landowners over whose lands they coursed and he mentioned specifically popular Davy Hallinan. He also thanked the hotel proprietor, Mr. Guest and the staff for the wonderful meal served.
Mr. Paddy Noonan, Dungarvan (Vice-Chairman) said he wished to endorse everything that had been said by the previous speakers. He hoped the club would go from strength to strength in future years.

COLR. OBJECTS TO CAMPING SITES

Objections were made at a meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council on Friday night last to a proposal to set up camping sites near the town for itinerants.
Colr. Paddy Whelan said he would not be in favour of setting up camping sites for itinerants. They generally caused a nuisance and the area in the vicinity of their camps was always left in a dirty filthy condition. He also complained that itinerants around Dungarvan recently were abusive to the residents of the town and in some cases threatened to kick the doors in.
The Chairman (Deputy Kyne) said that if the Urban Council did not set up camping sites the nuisance, the dirt and the filth mentioned would continue to be thrown about. He had a feeling the itinerants would not use the camping sites.

Poultry Farm Partnership has Court Sequel

A partnership entered into between a retired English estate agent and a farmer and his wife of Ballinacourty, Dungarvan, in 1963 was referred to at last Tuesday's Circuit Court before Judge Sean MacD. Fawsitt when an application was made by Mr. Frank Harris-Aplin, Ballylemon, Cappagh, to have the partnership between him and Mr. and Mrs. Norris, Ballinacourty, dissolved.

The Justice made an order that an account be taken of all the assets of the firm and that they be distributed on a 60-40 basis in favour of Mr. Aplin. The Justice also allowed Mr. Aplin costs, to be taken from the assets, but made no order as to damages. He refused the defendants' costs.

Opening the case for the plaintiff, Mr. Michael Feehan, B.L., (instructed by Farrell and Morrissey, Soirs., Dungarvan) said his client had been a house agent in England for a number of years. In July, 1963, he came to Ireland having retired from the job. He stayed in Dungarvan as his wife was a native of the area. In September he visited the Norris family in Ballinacourty as he often did before because Mrs. Norris was a niece of his wife's. Mrs. Norris said to him that she understood he was about to start a poultry business and that she would like to come into the enterprise. He was agreeable.

Mr. Feehan went on to state that Mr. Aplin had run a small poultry unit on the battery system of egg land and he explained that to her. In explaining the enterprise to both Mr. and Mrs. Norris, he arranged that the three of them go to Court-town Harbour where the battery system for egg production was being worked.

The total number of hens bought was 4,500 but these had to be bought in small numbers. They hammered out an agreement whereby the plaintiff would supply the capital to acquire the hens and cages to keep them in, which was necessary for the battery system of egg production. The plaintiff was also to purchase the initial feed for the hens. The defendants were to provide the shed to house the hens, as well as providing the electricity, water and some labour towards the running of the project. It was agreed to divide the profits on a 70-30 basis in favour of Mr. Aplin. When the shed was erected Mr. Norris asked the plaintiff to make the share of the profits 60-40 and this was agreed to.

The plaintiff deposited £3,000 in the Bank of Ireland, Dungarvan, for the purchase of the hens and they decided to trade as "Frinella Estates." The accounts were kept by the plaintiff and Mr. Norris's son, Patrick. The shed for accommodating the hens was built in March '64, and there was the full complement of hens available. The shed was built on Mr. Norris' land. It was also agreed that Mr. Aplin would get a salary of £20 a week as manager, and he would draw this only when the enterprise justified it. That salary was never paid because the partnership was dissolved before the firm went on full production.

Mr. Feehan said that one day Mr. Aplin had been working with the defendant's son in preparing the buildings and when they went to the dwellinghouse for dinner Mrs. Norris said to her son that he was wasting his time could get all the Guards in Ireland because I had done nothing wrong. She said there were several big men around that would chuck me off and that I would end up in the river like the doctor." Mr. Aplin continuing said later that evening Mr. Norris agreed to give him £3,500 but Mrs. Norris said this would only be paid in £20's and £30's every week. Since then he did not do any work and lived on his private means which were now very nearly expended.

Cross-examined by Mr. D. P. Sheridan, B.L., defending, the plaintiff said the partnership started in Sept. '63. In February '64 he changed the name of the business from Frinella Estates to "Gold Coast Eggeries" because that part of Ballinacourty where Mr. Norris lived was known as the "Gold Coast."

Mr. Sheridan—I suggest to you that the changing of the name of the firm coincided with the partnership coming into being. To defending Counsel, plaintiff admitted having altercation with a telephonist in the exchange and that a very serious complaint was made by the Postmaster. Mrs. Norris was threatened to have her phone cut off as a result of it. Somebody in the exchange he said had told him a number was engaged when it wasn't. He left when the eggs were being produced at the rate of 960 a day and two weeks later that number was increased to 2000. After leaving he did not resume because the atmosphere was so hostile to him. He admitted getting a letter from the defendant's solicitor saying he could go to the poultry premises when he liked but it was impossible for him to work under such an atmosphere.

At this stage Mr. Sheridan said Mrs. Norris was in hospital. Aplin probably painted a tal and was not in Court. The Judge said it was up to Mr. Sheridan to decide if he wished to go ahead with the case.

Mr. Feehan for the plaintiff said if the case was to be adjourned now they would be seeking costs for the day. His client had come from England for the case.

Mr. Sheridan said that under those circumstances he would have to go ahead with the case even without Mrs. Norris as a witness.

Mr. Patrick Norris (43) one of the defendants said he owned a 27 acre farm at Ballinacourty.

Judge Fawsitt—Ye were getting on well together and the partnership was progressing. What happened?

Mr. Norris—My wife told him to get out of the dwellinghouse but not the hen house. No one stopped him from coming to the poultry house. He stopped coming of his own accord. Not until the shed was built did Aplin mention the £20 a week and I did not agree to it.

The defendant said he never offered the plaintiff £3,500 nor was his wife ever a partner in the firm. Cross-examined by Mr. Feehan, he said it was Aplin who first raised the matter with his wife about becoming a partner in the firm. He did not hear his wife tell Aplin he would find himself in the river, nor did he hear her say there were plenty of big fellows around to chuck him off.

Judge Fawsitt said this action had engendered a lot of heat not only between the parties but also between Counsel. He had to consider what the agreement between them was and he had to bear in mind that the plaintiff was an estate agent in England. The news must have leaked out that he was starting this egg production unit on the battery system. He had no doubt that Mr. Aplin knew something about this system and also that the Norris' knew he knew about it. Aplin probably painted a glowing picture to them of the profits that could be made and whether one or two of the Norris' became partners remained to be seen. The plaintiff said both of them were partners and Mrs. Norris was not present in Court to say yes or no. He was forced to take the view that she was a partner. It was rather tragic that the partnership should end this way, he said, but that was a human nature and that was what their courts were there for. He would have to find in favour of the plaintiff and ruled accordingly as submitted at the start of this report. He also allowed defendants a stay in the event of an appeal. He added that before the order was enforced there was still time for the parties to come together.

DRIVER'S PRAYER

Dear Lord before I take my place
 Today behind the wheel,
 Please let me come with humble heart
 Before Thy Throne to kneel.
 And pray that I am fit to drive.
 Each busy thoughtful,
 And that I keep a watchful eye,
 Lest some small child be there.
 And keep me thinking constantly
 About the Golden Rule,
 When driving past the playground zones,
 Or by some busy school.
 Then when I stop to give someone,
 His right to cross the street,
 Let me my brother's keeper be.
 And spare a life that's sweet.
 Please make me feel this car I drive.
 You gave me to enjoy,
 And that its purpose is to save,
 Mankind, and not destroy.

Waterford No Match For Kilkenny

Kilkenny 5-13; Waterford 2-5

MINUS five regulars and facing a full strength rampant Kilkenny side, Waterford, not all too unexpectedly crashed to a heavy defeat in the semi-final of the O'Kennedy Shield tournament at New Ross on Sunday last. It was as decisive a Noeside victory as the score-line indicates and only periodically during the hour was their supremacy challenged by a Deise fifteen that had weaknesses in practically every centre.

Because of the one-sided back line centred on the re-appearance of Joe Condon. The Erin's Own man, after his long lay-off from the inter-county scene was better than most on Sunday and could well be on the road back to the top of the hurling ladder. Jimmy Byrne was sound at centre-half whilst Tommy Hearne policed Eddie Keher very effectively.

The midfield pairing of Liam Enright and John O'Brien never hit it off and Waterford never found the Moran-Coogan partnership. Tom Cheasty without being at his best had some great duels with Ted Carroll and best of the remainder were Vinny Connors and to a lesser extent Philly Grimes.

Thereafter right up to half time it became monotonously all Kilkenny. With almost consummate ease they widened the scoring gap and at the break it was as good as over when they led 3-9 to 1-1.

Waterford did show improvement in the minutes immediately following the restart, and flagging hopes were raised somewhat after two minutes when Phil Grimes belted a 21-yard free to the net. But almost immediately the tide again turned as Kilkenny rampantly began to dominate in all sectors. Midfielders Paddy Moran and Martin Coogan literally owned their area of operation and the Kilkenny forwards particularly the full-line thrived on the plentiful supply that was being laid on for them. They added 2-3 to Waterford's lone point reply and with only ten minutes left led by 5-12 to 2-2.

The remainder of the hour saw Waterford do most of the preying but somehow one felt Kilkenny were only stalling, and at the call of time there was still a seventeen points margin between them.

The chief architects of this Kilkenny victory were forwards Joe Dunphy, Jim Lynch and Tommy Walsh who between them accounted for the grand total of 5-5, and in the process gave the experimental Waterford full-back line the complete "run-around."

Their midfielders Moran and Coogan reigned supreme for most of the game and in a defence that gave nothing away Pat Henderson, Paddy Dillon and Seamas Cleere starred. Between the posts, Ollie Walsh made some good saves but he still fumbled and hesitated on many occasions when one would normally have expected him to make spectacular clearances.

The Waterford side, even allowing for the fact that it was an understrength one, disappointed. The absence of Frankie Walsh weakened the attack still further and Tom Cunningham was drafted in as an emergency full-forward.

The defence was over-run by an opposing attack that scarcely wasted a scoring opportunity. Between the posts Jim Power saved some dangerous situations but was not as confident as in his two league outings.

The full backs will not have happy memories of this game. Newcomer John O'Donnell was the best of the three but found Tommy Walsh difficult to contain; once again Mick Kiely furnished the selector with proof that full back is not his best position, whilst Martin O'Gorman caught a real tartar in the flying Joe Dunphy.

Most interest in the half-

Footballers Face Difficult Task

But Fancied To Master Limerick

SUNDAY next is a vital day for senior footballers of the County. They travel to far off Kilmallock to concede ground advantage to Limerick and this game is of paramount importance to their current league hopes. Victory will entitle either County to participate in a play off against Tipp. or Clare to decide sectional honours and a place in the league quarter final that goes with it.

To-date the County has played two league games and stand one up and one down. They started disastrously with a home defeat against Clare—a game let me add in which two valuable league points were needlessly conceded. That team did not include any of the players engaged in the following Sunday's Kilmallock v. Ardmore county final, yet the under-strength side was good enough on the day to have mastered the Banner County men.

Some weeks later they travelled into Tipperary territory and with a more dependable looking fifteen scored a great victory over the highly rated homesiders. Subsequent happening; within the section has placed all four teams — Limerick, Tipp., Clare and Waterford on an equal footing, thus making Sunday's clash a very vital one.

Down Kilrossanty way there is some dissatisfaction over the picking of Sunday's side. The team it appears was selected without the two representatives of the champion club—for this of course there may be a feasible explanation, but nevertheless it is a sore point with Kilrossanty just now.

Missing from the team for the Deise defence is as was more or less expected. Paddy Crotty continues to favour the champion club for this of course there may be a feasible explanation, but nevertheless it is a sore point with Kilrossanty just now.

Two, however, have been nominated for the full-back position. First choice is Eddie Mooney, but as there are some doubts as to his availability, Wally Connors has also been named for the position.

Into the half-line comes Ger. Mooney, of Kill, inexperienced by inter-county standards but a fine footballer at club level. The line is again pivoted by Mick Connolly, with the brilliant Noel Walsh on his left.

Midfield I have already dwelt on, but quite candidly I am not enamoured with the constitution of the attack. In the half line the main threat will stem from Monty Guiry but his flankers Willie Connolly (Rathgormack) and Justin Spratt are both somewhat fortunate to have been retained.

The full-line should be capable of notching scores, and is undoubtedly the best that could be fielded; Tommy Jee Harty stands on the fringe of the square flanked by the experienced pair, Tommy Kirwan and Jimmy Hewitt. Limerick have never won the team is—

P. Crotty; P. Carlton, E. Mooney or W. Connors; M. Tobin; G. Mooney, M. Connolly, N. Walsh; T. Meany, T. Walsh; W. Connolly, M. Guiry, J. Spratt, J. Hewitt, T. Harty, T. Kirwan. Subs.—T. Walsh (Stradbally); T. Ricrdan, B. Hallahan; F. O'Brien.
