AT THE ANNUAL CORPUS CHRISTI PROCESSION IN DUNGARVAN LAST SUNDAY

Instructors Refused Five-day Week

NOT until they would have a five day cow could Agricultural Instructors hope to have a five day week, stated Mr. Kieran O'Ryan, at a meeting of County Waterford Committee of Agriculture, on Friday last. Before the meeting was an application by the C.A.O., Mr. P. Conroy and the six Agricultural Instructors for a reduction from a five and a half to a five day working week.

Mr. Conroy said he was told that all agricultural instructors in the country were now on a five day week except those employed by the Waterford Committee of Agriculture. They were the odd men out in this and he asked that they be brought into line with every other Committee.

Mr. W. Foran said how could they hope to attain the ambitious industrial and economic target set out for 1970 if they were to allow their agricultural instructors to go on a five day week. He believed the instructors should be there at all times for the farmers who had to work every day the whole year round. He was not being biased towards the instructors, but he did think their looking for a five day week was all codology. If they could do without them for two days in every week, maybe they could do without them for the other five days as well.

Instructors continue on a five and a half day week. Mr. Norman Walsh said the Dept. of Agriculture were asking them to give increased advisory services and now they were being asked to make the instructors available to the people for less time each week. It was all contradictory. He could not see them reaching their second economic target for 1970 if this trend continued. They could not have increased production by this system.

The Chairman, Mr. John Fahy, T.D., then called for a proposition for a five day week for the instructors, but he failed to get a proposer. Accordingly, he declared that the 5 1/2 day week remain in operation for the instructors.

Dungarvan Bank Promoted Manager

Mr. Denis O'Donovan, accountant, Dungarvan, Branch of the Munster & Leinster Bank, has been promoted Manager of the Borrisokane, Co. Tipp. Branch, where he took up duty during the week. He replaces Mr. T. Hurley who has retired. Denis, a native of Waterford City, came to Dungarvan from Cashel in 1951. He was appointed Teller in 1953 and Accountant in 1961. He is joint treasurer with the Dungarvan Harriers Point-to-Point Committee since 1953 and was secretary of the Dungarvan Bridge Club.

Mr. Pat Murphy, Cashier, has been appointed Accountant, to replace Mr. O'Donovan and Mr. J. H. Whelan of the Ferry staff has been transferred on promotion to Dungarvan.

Causeway Bridge Again Discussed

The Causeway bridge linking Dungarvan and Abbeyside was the subject of further discussion at a meeting of Waterford County Council last week.

Colr. Michael Harty, who raised the matter, said it was the busiest bridge in the County, and in its present state was dangerous. Car, lorry and tractor had increased, he said, and so also had the number of cyclists and pedestrians.

The Council again decided to adjourn the matter to the next meeting, but Mr. Harty said it had been adjourned on several occasions previously and this adjournment should be the last.

Footnote: The report on the Development Plan for Dungarvan (The Planning Development Act) referring to traffic problems, states that the number one traffic hazard in the urban area is the Causeway Bridge.

Increased Price for Re-actors

At last Friday's meeting of County Waterford Committee of Agriculture, the C.A.O., Mr. P. Conroy said he had been informed by the Dept. that they were raising the price for reactor cattle from £80 to £100. Mr. Michael Harty said he had raised this several months ago and was the proposer of a resolution to the Dept. that the price for reactors be increased. That proposal was rejected by the Minister but now he had seen fit to change his opinion on the matter. He asked if this increase would apply to all reactors back to January 1st.

Mr. Conroy said No; the increased price would only apply from to-day. Mr. Harty said this was most unfair to the people who had sold their reactors since January 1st and only received the lower price for them. He proposed the increased price be made retrospective to January 1st. This resolution was unanimously passed and will now be sent to the Dept.

Department Refuse to make additional Appointment

At Tuesday's meeting of Co. Waterford Vocational Education Committee, the C.E.O., Mr. J. Rushe, said that the Dept. had refused to sanction the appointment of an additional whole-time clerk typist in the offices at Dungarvan.

The Committee had previously decided by a majority to make this appointment following a request by the A.T. and G.W.U.

Mr. Rushe said the Dept. was not satisfied that this appointment was warranted.

Mr. Norman Walsh said it was not often he congratulated Departments, but he wished to do so on this occasion. He agreed with them entirely in this matter.

Mr. Curran said this showed at least that there was sanity at some level.

Disqualified Driver Seeks Renewal of Licence

William Burke, Frehans, New-castle, Clonmel, who was convicted of drunken driving, at Dungarvan District Court, on June 28th, 1961, and disqualified for driving for five years, applied to have his licence renewed at Wednesday's local District Court.

Supt. M. English said his only objection to renewing the licence was that the defendant was 70 years of age, and he should now have to go through the driving test. Judge Skinner said he would grant the licence again conditional to his passing the driving test.

FINED £15 FOR DRIVING WHILST DISQUALIFIED

A defendant who drove a motor cycle on two occasions whilst his driving licence was suspended, was fined a total of £15 at Dungarvan District Court on Wednesday. He was Maurice Mc'Rath, 43 Shandon, Dungarvan, and Judge Skinner allowed him three months to pay.

Garda P. Feeney said he saw the defendant cycling his motor cycle on May 7th and May 9th last. When he (witness) spoke to him, the defendant said his licence was disqualified for only two months and that the time had expired. Witness advised him to consult with the District Court Clerk, Mr. E. P. King, Solicitor, defendant.

Judge Skinner said that by having no driving licence he was automatically not insured. He fined him £5 on the first offence and £10 on the second. Following a request by Mr. King, the Justice allowed the defendant 3 months to pay.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

IN MEMORIAM

CLIFFE—(2nd Anniversary)—In loving memory of our darling children, Maura and Noel, who died 26th June, 1963. On their souls sweet Jesus have mercy. Masses offered.
Again the month of June is here. For us the saddest one of the year. These words we write with deep regret. For the ones we loved and will never forget. —(Always remembered and sadly missed by their lonely parents, brothers and sisters.)

Dungarvan Musical and Choral Society

For Gala Week the above Society is giving open air performances in the Town Park, and which are appropriately entitled "Twilight Memories." This will have a special appeal to over 30's but the youth are well catered for too. The Concert can be roughly divided into four separate sections.

The first section will deal with what are now called "oldies" including such favourites as "By the Light of the Silvery Moon," "Sweet Rosie O'Grady," "Me and my Gal," etc. Section two will be for the modern ballads: "The Jug of Punch," "Brennan on the Moor," etc. Then for both young and old we have the Sea-Shanties, and finally the Hill Billy Selection. In between, that versatile artist Chris Sheehan will sing selections in his own inimitable way—while the concert will conclude with some former numbers from the Society's repertoire, and end appropriately with "Dungarvan My Hometown."

The members of the Society have been most generous with their time during the past eight weeks: rehearsing the songs, learning dance routines, and it is hoped that this will even be a more colourful and successful concert than last year's. The concert will be held on two nights—Tuesday and Friday and if you do not wish to miss a treat, be in the Park.

A limited amount of seating is being provided by the Gala Committee and it is requested that this be left for older people.

CYCLE RACES DURING GALA WEEK

On Wednesday night St. Mary's will be staging three bicycle races in conjunction with Gala week.
First race, an invitation sprint for the Guest Cup presented by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Guest, Ormonde Hotel, at 7.45 p.m. It is expected to see Frank O'Sullivan, Fermoyle A.C., the All Ireland sprint champion in the line out with Johnny Longergan, Clonmel A.C.C., Pat Reidy, Star Wheelers and M. Twomey Fermoyle A.C.C.

For the local cyclists the club are staging a common bicycle race over two laps of Boreenacree at 8 p.m. A great race is anticipated as a big entry is expected. This race is being sponsored by Colum's Shop, O'Connell St. and there will be prizes for 1st and 2nd. This race is open to all with common bicycles from Dungarvan and district.
After the local race the 50 Kilos for the Kennedy trophy presented by Mr. and Mrs. Flynn, Lawlors Hotel, will take place and the line out will include a number of cyclists taking part in the Ras Tailteann. The cream of the Munster cyclists will line up for the start.

An Thursday night the club will run the four miles senior open round-the houses road race over the O'Connell St. Fair Lane, Mitchel St., Mary St. circuit. For the Kennedy trophy, presented by Mr. and Mrs. Flynn, Lawlors Hotel and the club are also incorporating a two miles youth under 18 yrs. race for the local athletes where there will be three prizes for the first three home. Dressing facilities have been kindly given by Mr. P. I. Power for the cyclists and the C.Y.M.S. for the runners.

Congratulations

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Declan O'Sullivan, Mary St., Dungarvan, on the birth of a daughter.

WINE TASTING

There has been great interest in the wine tasting which has been organised as part of the Gala Week since news of it was given in this paper one week ago. Many people are now keenly interested and so the venture promises to be a great success.

The Irish Country Women's Association who are managing the stalls had a meeting during the week at which they had a preview of what will be on offer and were very pleased with the result. They are quite confident that the venture will be a huge success.

We feel we should congratulate the Gala Committee on such an original idea which promises to give such an enjoyable and sociable introduction to the first night's festivities. Children under 18 years not admitted.

Villierstown Man Convicted of Careless Driving

Thomas J. Cotter, Upper Dromore, Villierstown, was convicted of careless driving at Home Rule St., Abbeyside, on May 23rd last when he appeared at Dungarvan District Court on Wednesday. He was originally charged with dangerous driving, but Judge Skinner reduced the charge and fined him £1. The defendant was also fined £2 for failing to report an accident.

Mr. Laurence Fraher, Home Rule St., Abbeyside, said on the night of May 22nd he parked his car outside his house. It was in a kind of cul de sac.

When he came out the following morning the front right light in the car was broken and the mudguard was damaged.

Miss Catherine Walsh said she was a passenger in the car with the defendant on the night of May 22nd. At about 12.45 a.m. they were in Abbeyside. They bumped into something but the defendant did not stop. The street lights were out. The defendant said they had tipped off something.

Replying to Mr. A. V. Maher, solicitor, witness admitted that the defendant did say to her that he must have hit off a wall.

Garda Michael Bowen said that on May 23rd he investigated damage to Mr. Fraher's car. The right front headlamp and front wing was damaged. He went to defendant's home and spoke to him. Cotter admitted being in Dungarvan and that he did bump into something in Abbeyside and his car was damaged. Defendant told him he thought he hit a wall. Glass taken from Cotter's car fitted in perfectly with glass found at the scene of the accident.

The defendant, Thomas Cotter, said on the night in question, he was driving the Organ family back to their house in Home Rule Street, Abbeyside. He saw a zephyr car parked in the street but no other. When he reached the end of the street which was a cul de sac and having left off the Organ, he began to reverse back. He kept well in until he was past the zephyr. He then heard a bump and thought he had hit off a wall.

To Supt. M. English, witness said he examined his car when he got back into Dungarvan. He saw it was damaged but did not report it.

Judge Skinner then reduced the charge and imposed the fines already mentioned.

CHARGED WITH SETTING FIRE TO GORSE

Garrett Quinn, Ballyreilly, Ring, was charged at Dungarvan District Court on Wednesday, with setting fire to gorse without permission from the Supt. of the Garda, on April 20th last and April 23rd.

Sergt. Johnson, Ring, said he was called to a gorse fire at Killonoran, on April 20th and a resident there was trying to extinguish it. It was towards the rear of his place and he was afraid it might damage his property. From investigations he made, it was learnt that defendant was seen in the area and lighting a match. When interviewed he admitted it. He said the bushes were growing high so he set them on fire. On April 23rd, 40 to 50 acres of gorse were again burnt at Ballyreilly. A fire belt had been cut around the lands. He interviewed the defendant but he denied all knowledge of the second fire. The second fire was on the lands owned by defendant himself. He said he cut the fire belt all right but only to protect his fence from being burned.

Replying to Mr. King, Solicitor, defending, Sergt. Johnson said the people were really annoyed about the fires in the area. They were really indiscriminate, he said.

Mr. King said this furze and gorse was overgrown and the defendant set fire to them on April 20th. He did not know he had to get permission and there was never any danger that there would be damage to anyone else's property.

Judge Skinner said he was giving a very serious view of this. There were a lot of fires in this area. It was peculiar of the defendant to cut a fire belt on the second occasion but still he had no evidence that it was the defendant who started the second fire. He would have to dismiss the second charge.

He fined Quinn £2 on the first charge.

ON IRISH TOUR

Superb Performance by Californian Girls' Choir

The Californian Girls' Choir arrived in Dungarvan on Monday evening last and took their departure early the following morning. A very short sojourn indeed—yet, in that short space they won the hearts of those privileged to have heard them in the Mercy Convent Hall. The concert, in aid of the C.B.S. Building Fund, was arranged so hastily that it was almost impromptu. Yet, as Rev. Bro. Hegarty so aptly remarked at the end of the evening, it is not extremely doubtful if a more enjoyable programme could have ensued even after weeks of assiduous preparation.

The choir showed that it possessed quite a formidable repertoire. Folk songs, sacred music, negro spirituals and a general pot-pourri—all featured prominently in a most enjoyable evening's entertainment. Yet it was not the quality of the singing alone which made the night such a happy one. Rather was it the atmosphere of goodwill and friendliness which radiated from the girls and was soon reciprocated by an eager audience. Within minutes of taking the stage, the choir was in complete rapport with those in the hall. A gay, informal note became evident and was compensated to strength by the compelling sprightliness with which they performed. Mr. Tadgh Lynch, who eventually became difficult to distinguish between hosts and guests.

Much has been heard in latter years of the American "people-to-people" policy and it evidently has a whole lot to recommend it. These girls were truly ambassadors for their wonderful country, and their theme song "Let There be Peace on Earth" just about summed up their aims and ambitions for their tour.

The choral work was excellent all through. The voices were beautifully disciplined by the conductor, Mr. John Vazarian, who brought them skilfully through some rather difficult passages. The light and shade technique was faultless and in a few instances, notably in "David's Lamentation," the effect of the pause was brilliantly revealed. The choir seemed to capture the spirit of every piece and gave the impression of enjoying their work. Thus, for example, the extremely moving "Were You There," arranged by the conductor, was delicately handled, and the pathos was pointed. "Set Down Servant" on the other hand, was rollicking by comparison and the mood was superbly captured by the choir. It was a happy thought also to include some well known Irish songs. "The Green Glens of Antrim" and "The Derry Air" were treated with the respect we yearn for, but so seldom receive from our friends overseas.

One hesitates to criticise a magnificent performance, yet feels that a group with such a fine reservoir of song might perhaps achieve even finer results if the groupings of the pieces were a little less rigid. Before the interval, for example, the choir sang four pieces which demanded the utmost concentration from everyone concerned; it could be that with a little more variety the pieces themselves would benefit from the contrast. Also, on just one or two occasions, the piano was allowed to obtrude ever so slightly in the solo items. These small points, however, in no way detracted from what was a memorable evening. Dungarvan liked the Californian Girls' Choir and if this group ever comes our way again—and there's every indication now that they will, they will receive a very hearty céad míle fáilte.

The other artists on the programme entered into the spirit of things and contributed largely to the pleasure of the evening. Rev. Fr. P. Power, S.D.B., performed with real virtuosity on the flute. Here is a real master of his art, and a popular performer he was, too, and was most warmly received. The Dungarvan Ceili Band, summoned on such short notice, went through their pieces with customary élan and feet were tapping sprightly while they were on stage. Members of the Hal-lahan School of Dancing were much in evidence and suffice it to say that they danced with precision and poise that one has come to expect from Mrs. Hallahan's proteges, Helen Blake, William White, Joe Conway, Barry Hogan, Michael Houlihan, Jim Curran and Neil Flaherty.

won the hearts of all, not least of the girls from California. Indeed, Helen Blake was quickly "taken over" by some of the choir, and what a pleasant sight it was to see her in a room off-stage guiding a group of eager Americans through the basic steps of Irish dancing!

The C.B.S. Band too proved to be a big "hit" with everyone—these young lads have certainly had a grand grounding in musicianship which should stand to them in the years ahead.

A special word of thanks to Mr. Tadgh Lynch, his infectious spirit soon prevailed the whole concert and he contributed a major share to the success of the evening in the role of compere. Lastly, the Mercy Convent Nuns deserve commendation and gratitude for coming to the rescue and offering their hall at such short notice. Without their aid, it is doubtful if the show could have gone on at all.

The only pity of the whole affair was that as a result of misunderstandings and extremely short notice, the events of the evening could not be brought to a much wider audience. It was certainly in the nature of a tragedy that more lovers of good music were present, through no fault of their own.

Gala Week Opens on Sunday

THE many months of planning and preparation are over, and now all is set for Dungarvan Gala Week which commences on Sunday next and will conclude on the following Sunday, July 4th. The official opening will be performed by Mr. John Fickard of Beamish and Crawford Ltd. at a ceremony on the Square at 12.30 on Sunday after which Mr. T. A. Kyne, T.D., Chairman of Dungarvan Urban Council will extend a welcome to all the visitors.

This year, the second, a most attractive week long programme of events has been drawn up to cater for all tastes, both young and old. No effort has been spared by the Organising Committee to ensure the success of the mammoth venture and given favourable weather conditions, this should be a week to remember in the Old Boro.

In passing one cannot let the occasion slip without complimenting those at the helm—the men and women responsible for Gala Week. They have worked long and hard for some considerable time past, and their hard work deserves success.

Right through the week, the public are well catered for in every field of sport and entertainment and this Gala Week—tagged "Ireland's Guest Festival"—should live up to its title. Last year's first ever event was an unqualified success and this '65 effort promises to be every bit as good.

CHARGED WITH DRIVING UNTAXED CAR

John Kerins, Doon, Cappoquin, was charged at Dungarvan District Court on Wednesday, with driving a car at Western Terrace, Dungarvan, on May 8th last without tax, and with failing to produce his driving licence and certificate of insurance.

Sergt. Morgan Hayes said when he approached the defendant at Western Terrace, he admitted having no tax on the car. He said he would produce his insurance and driving licence within ten days at Ballymacarbery Garda Station. He did not do so. Subsequently he met the defendant and he still had not got the car taxed. He said he would produce the insurance and driving licence in Dungarvan within a few days. Again he did not do so.

Mr. E. P. King, Solr. defending, said the defendant was in fact insured at the time. The car had also been taxed since and they delay in producing his driving licence was because he could not find it at the time.

Judge Skinner said the defendant gave the Garda a lot of trouble. However, he would dismiss all the charges.

"Dept.'s Request not feasible"

A request by the Department of Agriculture that the County be divided into four district Electoral Divisions for the Inspectors, was criticised at the monthly meeting of Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture on Friday last.

Mr. Norman Walsh said this would not be a feasible system and he did not think it would be successful.

Mr. John Fahey, T.D. (Chairman) said he believed it could be done only on a township basis.

Mr. K. O'Ryan asked what was wrong with the present system. They should be satisfied as they were at present, he added.

Mr. Sean Whelan said if they adopted this system there would be overlapping in areas.

Mr. W. Foran said the Dept. just did not know what they were talking about.

Mr. George Heskin said it would be impossible to allocate their instructors on that basis. The Dept.'s request seemed pretty vague and they should get more information from them on it.

It was finally decided to request more information from the Dept. on it. They also agreed to recommend to the Department that the present system of Agricultural instruction be left as it is.

Cappoquin Macra na Feirme Congratulated

Cappoquin Macra na Feirme who organised the International Sheep Shearing Championships in Cappoquin, on June 17 last, were congratulated on the splendid success of the venture by members of the County Committee of Agriculture on Friday last.

Mr. P. Conroy (C.A.O.) said the championships were run off very satisfactorily and reflected great credit on Cappoquin Macra na Feirme. Despite the inclement conditions, there was a good crowd. The organising Committee deserved the highest praise for their foresight and everything went off in clock work fashion. There were competitors from Northern Ireland, England, Scotland, Wales, the Isle of Man, as well as the host country.

The other members joined in congratulating the Cappoquin Macra.

Will Form Sheep Dipping Committee

Six members of Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture were selected at the monthly meeting on Friday, to go on a Committee under Waterford Co. Council, to plan and organise sheep dipping programme in the county for 1965.

The selected members are: Messrs. Kieran O'Ryan, W. Foran, J. Fahey, G. Heskin, J. Drohan, and M. Galgey.

SYMPATHY

At the conclusion of last Friday's meeting of Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture, a vote of sympathy was proposed by Mr. George Heskin and seconded by Mr. Norman Walsh, to Senator Liam Ahearne, Dungourney, on the death of his wife, and to Rev. D. Byrne, C.C., Dungarvan, and the Byrne family, Roundhill, Lismore.

New Tech. School for Gaultier?

COUNTY Waterford Vocational Education Committee decided at its monthly meeting, on Tuesday, to erect a new Technical School to serve the needs of the people of the Gaultier area. This resolution proposed by Mr. Milo Galgey and seconded by Mr. J. Butler, was passed unanimously, and will be now sent to the Dept. for consideration.

At Tuesday's meeting, Mr. Galgey said it was now either Gaultier or Tramore for a new vocational school. The Committee should decide which area was most deserving of the school.

Mr. Michael Morrissey (Tramore) said that within a seven miles radius of Tramore, there was a school attendance of 1,064.

Mr. Galgey: Do you maintain that the people of Tramore want this school?

Mr. Morrissey: Yes.

Mr. Galgey said a public meeting was held in Tramore and only 21 attended. This number included teachers and in all, only about 8 or 9 of the general public were present. He did not know if the public in Tramore were interested in this school at all. What would happen, he said, if the school was built in Tramore was that teachers would be going around to the various areas trying to get children to attend the school. He would back a school in Tramore if the public in the town would do the same.

Mr. Galgey said he had a document with 325 names attached, all wishing to have the school erected in the Gaultier area.

Mr. Morrissey said the population of Tramore was almost 4,000 and the townspeople's contribution to the rates was at most £38,000. He had no objection to a school in the Gaultier area, provided Tramore got one also.

Mr. C. Curran said the chances of the Minister approving of two new schools was very remote.

Mr. Galgey said he was asking that the Committee having heard the cases made by each area, then decide who was most deserving. New schools were being built in every town in the country, but in the rural area none were being built. The children from rural areas were going to England, where there was corruption and he thought it would be very bad principle to save a penny or twopence on the rates, at the cost of neglecting their children. He would be prepared to have schools built in Tramore and Gaultier if necessary, because vocational education was the coming thing in the country to-day.

Mr. J. Rushe (C.E.O.) then read requests from the following for a school in the Gaultier area: The I.T. & G.W.U., representing 5,000 workers in the Gaultier area; Rev. M. Leahy, P.P., Dunmore East and Fishleagh; the South East Fish Coast Society; Dunmore East Development Association; Gaultier Branch N.F.A.; Waterford Co-Op. Society (representing Gaultier Branch). Mr. Rushe said he had spoken to Mr. Killean, C.E.O. in Waterford City, and he said a new vocational school in the Gaultier area would not materially affect the Waterford city school.

Mr. Galgey: I propose here and now that we start a new technical school in the Gaultier area. If I get the Committee's permission in this, it will then go to the Minister and he will not give us the school unless he is satisfied it will get the necessary support. Let us start the ball rolling here to-day.

Mr. M. Harty said the people of Gaultier area were unanimous in their support for a new school. He felt they should get one.

Mr. Rushe said that for the first year in a new tech. in the Gaultier area they could budget for about 30 pupils and 45 pupils the second year.

Mr. Morrissey said he had no objection to Gaultier getting a new school, but the population of Tramore was increasing and they deserved consideration. He felt Tramore was also entitled to a new school.

Mr. J. Fahey, T.D. said they should congratulate Mr. Galgey on the magnificent case he had put up for Gaultier. He had been very impressed by the many requests received from organisations in the Gaultier area for the school and they should give every consideration to Mr. Galgey's proposal.

Mr. J. Butler said he would second Mr. Galgey's proposal for a new school in the Gaultier area.

The Chairman, Ven. Archdeacon D. Power, P.P., said it was not feasible to have one school accommodating both Gaultier and Tramore. The Gaultier people were very enthusiastic did not think he was, he would and he felt they should go not sanction a school for an ahead with plans for a new area with 310 prospective pupils school there and in the years as against 1,064 in the Tramore ahead they could see how de- area. Mr. Galgey's proposal was then put to the meeting and Minister was gone crazy, and he passed unanimously.

N.F.A. NEWS Government Want to Meet N.F.A. Again

The case rests! Another meeting will have a take place before N.F.A. knows the views of the Government on the questions put before them by leaders of N.F.A. this week.

Following the two and a half hours meeting between the Minister for Finance, the Minister for Agriculture, and the President, Vice Presidents, and senior officials of N.F.A., a statement was issued which said: "The Ministers will give consideration to the various points raised by the Association's representatives and the Minister for Finance will arrange for another meeting at an early date to inform the Association of his view and the views of the Minister for Agriculture."

As all N.F.A. members know, the meeting was held at the request of N.F.A. following a direction by the National Council to the President and Vice-Presidents of the Association that they meet the Government and get clear-cut answers to five questions.

The questions are as follows: (1) What practical steps is the Government going to take to help the small farmers and when? (2) What action is the Government going to take on rates and when? (3) What assistance is the Government going to give to the dairy farmer to counteract recent increased costs and when? (4) What incentive is the Government going to provide to develop horticulture, cash crops and expand agricultural employment and when? (5) Is the Government going to grant an adequate price increase to pig producers?

To some, these questions may sound too definitive and emphatic, but they were born of the frustration of farmers with this year's budget. Farmers had come to expect something better than a completely negative attitude from a Government which had written into its own development programme the necessity of "closing the gap" between urban and rural incomes.

What particularly annoys farmers is the apparent reason for the change in Government thinking. Prior to this year's budget the Government produced the prediction that farm income would increase by £12 million during the coming twelve months. N.F.A. immediately challenged this figure and put before the Government its detailed farm income would—far-tailed estimates which revealed from showing any increase—£2 million down on last year.

The Government's airborne predictions have received wide publicity; giving a completely false picture in the public mind of the economic state of the country's major industry. It is also worthy of note that even if the Government's prediction was true, it would still be £3 million short of the required figure to maintain the industry's rate of improvement during 1964, when average farm incomes jumped a £1 a week to the meagre sum of £7.

Farmers had all this in mind as they listened to the budget news on May 11th last. They were optimistic because of the statements made by the Taoiseach and his Ministers during the previous few months and because an undertaking had been given in the Annual Review that something would be done about rates.

Is it any wonder that the lines into N.F.A. House were choked with calls from disgruntled farmers? Farmers are waiting again for news from the Government. The case rests!

Footnote:—The Special Council meeting, called for June 30, may now be put back, depending on the date of the resumed meeting with the Government.

FARMERS HIT BY TRANSPORT DISRUPTION

The urgency for the introduction of some orderly system to deal with the determination of industrial wages and incomes was referred to by Mr. Rickard Deasy, President, N.F.A., in Tuam, this week.

"I do not want to enter into the merits or otherwise of the reasons for the present transport stoppage, but it provides one more example of the dangers which beset our economy. How, and by what methods, order is introduced into the industrial sector is not directly the concern of agriculture, but we do wish to see it brought about," said Mr. Deasy, who was speaking at a Regional Meeting of N.F.A.

"We, as farmers, suffer more than others whenever our highly perishable produce is prevented from reaching its market. We suffer not only the direct loss due to wastage, but we suffer also an indirect loss which can be of even greater importance, through the supply in the continuity of the break in the markets we are now seeking to develop in a businesslike way."

Farmers had no objection to the incomes of others going up provided that their incomes went up too. We must have the machinery to see that farm income went up at least in line with other incomes. Yet farmers started this race with a heavy handicap—farm income lagged behind at the starting line. This was admitted by the Government who had written into the Second Programme for Economic Expansion the objective of "closing the gap" between farmers' incomes and those of others.

"This year," he said, "farmers face heavily increased costs, an example being rates and wages, while in many important products, especially sheep and wool, our prices are down."

N.F.A. had prepared the most detailed estimates (commodity by commodity) of the total figure for 1965 farm incomes. "We have allowed for increased prices in some commodities and we acknowledge that in some cases these price increases are due to Government action. We have allowed also for increased production wherever this is reasonably probable. Our figures show that farm income will be down by £2m. We do not, and never will, accept that increased livestock numbers on farms have anything to do with farmers' spending income until such time as they are sold. And it is this cash which we have to measure, since out of it we and our families must live, and out of it we must find much of the money to finance desirable expansion in output and the modernisation of our farms."

PIGS COMMITTEE STUDIES MARKETING SYSTEM

It is a well known "secret" that the Pigs and Bacon Commission have been working for some time on a centralised pig-marketing plan. No details have been allowed to leak out but an announcement may not be too far away.

Meanwhile the N.F.A. National Pigs Committee is keeping a close watch on developments. The Committee has met both the Government and the Commission and put forward its proposals on the scheme.

As part of its study of different systems operating elsewhere the Committee sent a deputation to Northern Ireland a fortnight ago. Leading the team was Mr. E. O'Sullivan (Glanmore, Co. Cork) chairman and included were Mr. M. Delahunty Clonmel; Mr. P. Harnett, M.R.C.V.S. Livestock Consultant N.F.A., and Mr. M. Whelehan, Secretary to the Committee.

The following is a glossary of what the team learned:—

The Northern Ireland Pigs Marketing Board is formed of eleven producers and three Ministry of Agriculture officials and its main functions are to buy pigs from the producers and sell them to the factories after agreeing on prices with both sides.

Producers are responsible for transport and all pigs are paid for cildweight and on a graded basis. Grading is carried out by Ministry officials, but the Board keeps the actual grading under close observations.

The Board endeavours to keep its prices stable and the general movement of its prices follows that of the "standard price," which is the Ministry Guaranteed Price less the adjustments for feeding stuffs. It is the Board's policy in fixing prices to producers to absorb short term changes and to adjust price levels only gradually in accordance with its assessment of long-term trends.

The price at which the Board sells is fixed each week and is related to the selling price of N. Ireland bacon on the London Provision Exchange.

All exports must be marketed through the Ulster Bacon Agency which has sub-agencies in England. The agency is a private body with equal Board and producer representatives. The home market, which is small, is handled by the individual curers themselves.

Commenting on the set-up in Northern Ireland, Mr. Whelehan said that the producers there seemed to have found the ideal arrangements to suit their particular conditions. "There are many points in this arrangement which would be of distinct benefit to the pig industry here but the scheme as a whole would require some modification to suit us."

Mr. Whelehan also stated that the Committee was studying systems which operated on the Continent and he seemed to be particularly taken with the Dutch scheme. But more about that another day!

STALEMATE AT FRUIT MEETING

Complete stalemate was the result of last week's "pricing" meeting between the N.F.A. National Fruit Growers' Association and the Jam Manufacturers' Association. The meeting was held at N.F.A. House, Dublin to agree on prices to be paid for the 1965 soft fruit crop, but four hours of hard negotiations failed to produce any agreement.

"We will just have to wait and see now—no plans have been made for a further meeting," said Mr. Jim Quinn, Secretary, National Fruit Committee.

Last year's prices (cents in all cases): Strawberries 105/8 (plugged); raspberries 130/8; blackcurrants 130/8; roseberries 108/8, were taken as the basis for negotiation.

The producers' representatives pointed out that costs had risen since then, making an increase absolutely necessary. Added to increased costs was the expected fall in yields due to this year's late frost. The producer spokesman also stated that there was likely to be an increase in fruit prices in Britain and on the Continent this year.

The Jam Manufacturers' Association representatives, on the other hand, took the line that their costs had also risen and in order to meet these rising costs the prices paid to the growers would have to be reduced.

Prior to the meeting with the trade the annual general meeting of the National Fruit Growers' Association was held. Mr. Sam Dier, Wexford, was elected president and Mr. Tom Brangan, Dublin and Mr. J. Dolan, Mooncoin were elected vice-president and hon. secretary/treasurer respectively.

"PISTOL POINT" METHODS DENOUNCED

Annoyance at the "pistol point" methods adopted by some cattle buyers at a number of marts in the north eastern counties, was expressed at a meeting this week in Drogheda, attended by representatives of Meath and Louth Co. Executives and representatives of the marts in those counties.

Subject of discussion was the levying of the full commission charge on the seller by some marts in these counties, following pressure from cattle buyers. This is a change from the traditional pattern operating throughout most of the country where the commission is shared by both buyer and seller.

HERE AND THERE

"Businessmen are commonly guilty of a vague, but very real, feeling that the farmers are getting 'away with murder'." The truth is that they are not, any more than are the businessmen whose companies was profitable on export tax reliefs. A prosperous farming community is vital to the home market of Irish industry. Equally, the farmers must be sure of high industrial employment if they are to sell their products. Both sectors of the economy have a long way to go before they are anywhere near the millenium. In a Whit week, such as this, it seems worthwhile to stand back for a moment and consider these matters in perspective."—Mr. Nicholas Leonard, Editor, Business and Finance.

"I think it would be everybody's desire, while we may not expect to see industries at every crossroads, that at least we should have sufficient concentration of industry in the provincial towns and enough of our villages to give employment to the surplus labour from rural communities surrounding these areas."—Mr. J. Brennan T.D., Minister for Posts and Telegraphs.

"The idea that boys who stay on the land and make farming their career do not need much education should be killed. Boys and girls who live on the land are not only the workers in the agricultural industry, but they are also the owners of it. Every effort should be made to provide more education for young farmers."—Mr. Rev. Mr. J. Lane, P.P., V.G., Cahirciveen.

For the first time in Britain, more pork is being eaten than mutton or lamb. Consumption of pork for the six months ended March last was 13% higher than for the same period last year, while that for mutton and lamb dropped by about 6%.

Late Mrs. Bridget McCarthy

SKEHEENS, BALLINAMULT

A great gloom was cast over the Ballinamult, Nire and Clonmel areas at the announcement of the death of Mrs. Bridget McCarthy, late of Skeheens, which sad event occurred at St. Joseph's Hospital, Clonmel, on Saturday, June 19th, after a short duration of illness and at the very early age of thirty-six years. She was wife of Michael McCarthy, who is a member of a very well-known and highly esteemed west Waterford family.

Her charming manner won for her legions of friends, not only in the Skeheen's area, but also in the Clonmel area, where she had spent roughly eight years in employment prior to her marriage. The deceased lady was a very hardworking and most industrious farmer's wife. Much sympathy is extended to her heartbroken husband, brothers, aunts and relatives, on their tragic loss. R.I.P.

Her remains were removed on Sunday evening, followed by a huge and most representative cortege, to Touraneena Parish Church, and were blessed and received by Very Rev. P. Walsh, P.P., assisted by Rev. M. Griffin, C.C.

Requiem Masses were celebrated on Monday morning for the intentions of her soul and subsequently the interment took place in the adjoining family plot. Rev. M. Griffin, C.C., officiated at the graveside amid manifestation of great sorrow from the very large concourse present.

Large sheaves of Mass cards were received and some beautiful floral wreaths were placed on her grave.

The chief mourners were: Michael McCarthy (husband); Thomas Coffey and James Coffey, Shanballyanne, Ballymacarby (brothers); Mrs. Margaret Betts, Clonmel, Mrs. Bridget McGrath, Ballymacarby (aunts); and a large circle of cousins and friends.

(Funeral arrangements by James Kiely and Sons, Shandon, Dungarvan.)

Application to serve strike notice

The Dungarvan Branch of the A.T. & G.W. Union have applied to their Executive for sanction to serve Strike Notice on the firm of A. Moloney & Sons. The dispute was caused by the firm sacking a messenger boy. The Union is looking for the boy to be re-instated.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES

DEATH OF MISS A.C. NOONAN

On Monday, 14th inst., the death took place of Miss Annie C. Noonan, O.Kyle, Camphire. Intimation of her death was received with deep regret over a wide area and many messages of sympathy have been received by her brothers and sisters.

The remains were taken to the parish church on Tuesday and the burial, in St. Declan's Cemetery, took place on Wednesday. Very Rev. J. Canon O'Meara, C.C., officiated on both occasions. The attendance at the obsequies was very large and representative and constituted a true reflection of public sympathy.

The immediate mourners were: Messrs. Edward, Thomas and Michael (brothers), and Miss Mary Noonan (sister).

EUCCHARISTIC PROCESSION

In fine, but dull weather, a record number participated in the Annual Eucharistic procession on Sunday. Papal and National colours were flown from the buildings en route and the fronts of houses were suitably decorated. The Sacred Host was carried by Rev. Dr. Olden, and Benediction was given on temporary altars on the Square and on the terrace in the Convent of Mercy Grounds, the ceremonies concluding with Benediction in the parish church.

An innovation this year was the installation of a public address system covering the entire route. Through this was relayed the hymns and prayers to the processions.

SYMPATHY

A native of Cappoquin who was long resident here, Mr. Robert Templeton, now living in Dublin, has been bereaved by the death of his young wife. Sympathy from his many old friends here goes to him and

MEDALS DONATED FOR WORTHY CAUSE

Mr. Peter Nolan, N.T., Ardalslagh, Clashmore, has presented a valuable set of medals to Clashmore G.A.A. Club, for a tournament in aid of the fund for the education of mentally retarded children. At a special meeting of the Club on Sunday last thanks were expressed to Mr. Nolan for his generous gesture. It is understood that four medals will take part in the competition—two from Co. Waterford and two from Co. Cork—which will be intermediate football.

DEATH OF MISS E. O'BRIEN CLASHMORE

The death occurred recently, at an advanced age, of Miss Elizabeth O'Brien, Kilgabriell, Clashmore. A member of an old and respected family, deceased was of a quiet and retiring disposition and was popular with all sections of the community. Her demise is much regretted and sympathy is extended to her bereaved brother and sisters.

THE FUNERAL TO CLASHMORE CEMETERY

The funeral, of large and representative proportions, very Rev. Canon David Power, P.P., Clashmore and Rev. E. Tobin, C.C., do, officiated.

FIRST HOLY COMMUNION

The children of Clashmore parish recently received their first Holy Communion. All the children were tastily attired for the solemn occasion.

ARMED MAN'S DEATH

We regret to announce the death of Mr. William Foley, Ardchoasty, Ardmore. Deceased was a most popular figure and his passing has caused deep and widespread regret, while sincere sympathy is extended to his bereaved wife, son, daughter and other relatives.

POPULAR CLASHMORE GIRL

is amiable Mr. B. Gearty, St. Anne's Terrace. With him is his son, John. They are staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Beatty, Blackrock.

MISS ANN KIELY, DAUGHTER OF MRS. MARY KIELY, WALSH PLACE is on annual holiday. Ann is in a clerical position at Townsend/Flahavans, Kilmacthomas. Mr. James Power, Kealfoun, is another holiday-maker currently enjoying himself.

Due to inclement weather conditions the Corpus Christi Procession which was to have been held on Sunday evening last, has been postponed. Congratulations are in order for Master Dermot Murray, Walsh Place, on securing a prize in a Safety First Competition.

Seafield Pipers Band

paraded at the Muintir-na-Tire (St. Anne's Guild), Sports, which were held at Bonmahon, on Sunday last. There was very keen competition amongst the four tug-of-war teams—Faha taking the prize.

Garda Paul Downey, Walsh Pl., Kilmacthomas

who recently completed his training at the Training Barracks, Templemore, Co. Tipperary, has been assigned to duty in Cork City.

Have it that Kilmacthomas will be chosen as the summer camp this year for the Youghal troop of Boy Scouts. Some eight scouts camped here recently and they were under the supervision of their scoutmaster Mr. Patrick O'Beirne.

All good wishes to Garda Pat Kiely, son of Mrs. M. Kiely, Walsh Place, Kilmacthomas on his marriage, which took place in Dublin, on Saturday of last week.

The Jimmy Atkins Showband

GAELIC TOTTINGS

MINOR FOOTBALLERS
...FACE CORK AT LISMORE
 On Sunday afternoon next, Villagers will most likely be the beautifully laid out Castle Farm Grounds in Lismore stages one of its all too rare inter-county fixtures, when Waterford and Cork minor footballers meet in the semi-final of the Munster championship.

At the time of writing the Waterford team has not been selected (it was picked on Wednesday night) and if received in time will be published elsewhere in this issue.

The Lismore venue is bound to be an advantage to the Waterford boys and they must have gained considerable confidence from their impressive first round victory over Limerick. They fairly sparkled in that win, and a repetition would give them a good chance on Sunday.

Cork, have been lords and masters in the South for the past few years and reports would indicate that they are not as powerful as last year. That is not to say, of course that their side for Sunday next will be substandard, and they will start firm favourites to advance to yet another Munster final.

But Waterford—backbone of six of the champion club Stradbally—will make a bold bid to upset the odds on this occasion. As already stated, the home venue will be to our advantage and whilst having a slight preference for Cork this is one occasion which the form book could take a tearing.

CURTAIN RAISER
 As a curtain raiser to the minor football tie, Affane and Cappoquin meet in the first round of the junior football championship and here, I make Affane my "banker" of the day.

For this game Cappoquin must field their "second" fifteen and as Affane are one of the strongest sides in this junior championship, they must be regarded as near certainties to win.

SENIOR HURLING TOURNAMENT
 A most attractive senior hurling tournament has been arranged for Dungarvan during next week's Gala. On Tuesday night at the Fraher field the first semi-final is down for decision between Marfield (Clonmel), powered by the great Theo English, and Ab-beside. This promises to be a great battle and although the Villagers will most likely be without Austin Flynn, they still look good enough to win.

The second semi-final is scheduled for Wednesday night between Ballygunner and Carrick Davins. The Gunners have more than their quota of inter-county stars but they will find it extremely tough going against a steadily improving Davins powered by Tipp, midfielder Mick Roche.

The final is scheduled for Sunday night week at 8 o'clock.
JUNIOR CHAMPIONSHIP FIXTURES
 On to-night (Friday) Dungarvan and Stradbally meet in the first round of the junior hurling championship at the Fraher Field (7.45) and here the Blues, fielding several of their star-studded minors will be expected to advance to the second round.

BRICKEYS FANCED
 On Sunday night at the same venue, Brickey Rangers and Kilrossanty meet in the second round of the Junior football championship. Kilrossanty, although powered by senior players in Pa Walsh, Nedeon Loneragan and Tom (Gort) Walsh, were not particularly impressive in defeating Dungarvan and unless they show considerable improvement, the Brickeys could well qualify for the semi-final.

KILROSSANTY GO OUT IN MUNSTER CLUB CHAMPIONSHIP
 Kilrossanty's interest in this year's Munster senior football club championship ended at rain-swept Fermoy on Thursday night last (Corpus Christi) when they failed to Shannon Rangers by 2-10 to 0-5 in the semi-final.

But one can forget about that final scoreline, for it does less than justice to a Kilrossanty side that battled it out spiritedly to the very end.

In fact an eleven point victory was most flattering to the Rangers. For well into the second half there was only a solitary point between the sides but then two defensive blunders led to goals and that made the issue safe for the Kerry titleholders.

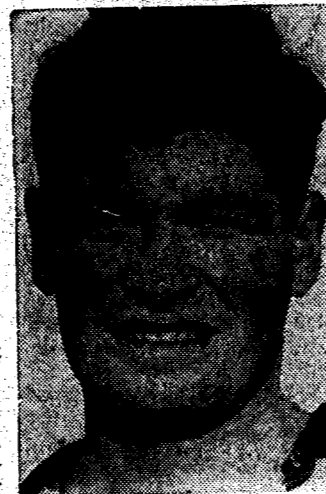

But all credit to Kilrossanty who were worthy Waterford ambassadors in this championship. In the first round they mastered Cork champions, U.C.C. and certainly lost no caste in this latest defeat.

S.F. Championship Gets Under Way

SOMEWHAT belatedly the senior football championship swings into action on Sunday next with games down for decision at two different venues. Geraldines do batte with Valley Rovers at Cappoquin and Gaultier and Emmetts meet in Dunhill and both should provide entertaining fare.

Of the two games down for decision, greatest Western interest will undoubtedly centre on the first round meeting of Geraldines and Valley Rovers at Cappoquin. This is one of these games in which there is little to choose between the sides, and in what is sure to be a closely fought issue, the outcome could well go either way.

At the moment they are very hurling conscious out Aglish way. And not too surprisingly either because their displays to date in the intermediate hurling championship have made them the favourite of many to win out in that grade. That is not to say of course that their senior football hopes are being overlooked, and there is more than a need of confidence in their ability to master the Val-

JIM DAVIS (Geraldines)

The bulk of their hurling side will be on duty on Sunday and consequently one can expect them to turn out a side in the peak of fitness. Since reaching the county final a few years back they have achieved nothing spectacular on the football fields, but it seems to be a unanimous contention among followers and players that they will survive Sunday's challenge at least.

Nor can it be said that they do not possess the right kind of material for the task on hands. Billy Crotty, Bill and Mick Downing, the Mernins, inter-county man Mick Tobin, Patsy Kenneally, Stylo Riordan and Johnny Grady are top flight footballers, and on these will rest the hopes for success.

The Valleys, it can be said, game. They can be spectacularly good one day, and then sink to rock bottom the next. But one thing is certain—their day the Valleys are a match for the best.

In last year's championship—their first in the senior grade, they shocked the football world by decisively defeating the then reigning champions Mrickey Rangers. It was a tremendous victory, and the manner in which it was achieved stamped them as a side to be feared. But then in the very next round they failed dismally to reproduce their earlier form and were well beaten by Kill.

What can we expect from them on Sunday. Time alone will provide the answer to that one, but certain it is if they slump just as they did recently in the Phelan Cup against Ring, then they can prepare themselves for championship exit.

A grave blow to their hopes also on Sunday is the absence of star midfielder Kieran Ryan.

MICK TOBIN (Geraldines)

Ryan fractured his hand in the intermediate hurling tie with Limerick and it is now encased in plaster. Thus, who will partner Pat Cleary in the centre is anyone's guess.

And still the Valleys have the nucleus of a really fine side. The Hewitts—Jimmy, Eddie, Billy and Bobbie, Mick Connolly, Billy Acheson and Pat Cleary, are all footballers of the finest calibre, and if these in particular can set the right example for the others to follow, then I would have a slight preference for the Derinlour men.

But Geraldines—more particularly in the championship—are renowned battlers, and they could carry on the good work that their hurlers have already got under way.

EMMETTS FACE STIFF TASK
 Emmetts make the journey to Dunhill on Sunday and they will undoubtedly fill the role of underdogs against Gaultier.

Just like Geraldines, the men from Coligan have their eyes firmly set on hurling titles this year, and a truth to tell they have had little time for football. But for the past week they have been making determined efforts to be fully prepared for Sunday's game, and are quite happy with their role of outsiders.

Gaultier can be a very effective side on their day, and last year it will be remembered they were decidedly unlucky to lose

Stradbally For Second Round

BUT FAIL TO IMPRESS

Stradbally ... 1-9
 Ring ... 1-4

Stradbally are through to the second round of the senior football championship. But what a fright they received from little fancied Ring at Fraher Field, Dungarvan, on Sunday night last, before they finally assumed the control and dominance that ensured them of victory. They were indeed highly flattered by their five point winning margin and with better forward finish Ring might well have upset the odds.

Played under very difficult and adverse conditions, and before a sparse attendance, the game never reached any great heights. Players on both sides found it exceedingly difficult to master the greasy ball so in all the circumstances one is really loathe to criticise the substandardness of the fare.

But whilst Stradbally are now safely in the second round, they can hardly feel too confident of further advancement judging themselves on this display. They just about deserved their success on Sunday but there were many shortcomings apparent, which Ring failed to capitalise on. Indeed it was not until the final ten minutes that they finally clinched this game and only then did they show any semblance of the form that was so confidently expected of them.

For Ring, however, the game was little short of heartbreak. For the first twenty minutes they meted out a football pasting to the Reds who were confined almost entirely to their own half of the field. But the Ring attack just could not turn the outfield advantage to profitable use and at least three golden opportunities of goals were squandered during the opening quarter.

At the interval the losers led by a solitary point—1-1 to 0-3, but this was but a measly reward for the extent of their

THE SCORING

An exchange of early points was followed by almost continuous Ring pressure and several great chances were missed before Tommy Joe Harty eventually broke the deadlock when he crashed the ball to the net in the 17th minute. Tom Cunningham pointed a Stradbally free, and another minor by Jimmy Guiry in the 28th minute left Ring leading 1-1 to 0-3 at the break.

Within minutes of the restart a Cunningham point levelled the scores and a like score by Jimmy Guiry gave them the lead. Liam Maher fired over the equaliser but almost immediately the Reds were again that one point to the good when Cunningham pointed. Ring, however, were not to be denied and a brace of points by Jim Harty and Liam Maher and again the pendulum swung in Ring's favour.

Then with less than ten minutes left in the game, came the decisive scores for Stradbally. First Cunningham pointed the equaliser. Then came their goal from a melee which settled the issue to all intents and purposes and the Reds now well on top added two points, both scored by Mossie Casey.

The winners defence took a real pasting early on but gradually gained its composure and got well on top as the hour wore on. In the sector Tom Foley, Dick Gough, Terry Guiry and Paddy Power shone.

Pat Clancy and Eugene Casey had their moments at midfield and up front, Tom Cunningham, Jimmy Guiry and Mossie Casey were best.

For Ring, goalkeeper Liam Walsh was not over tested but dealt competently with everything that came his way.

In defence Pat Harty towered over friend and foe and got best assistance from Tom Harty and Sylvester Murray.

At midfield Liam Maher and Jim Harty tried all they knew and their efforts met with considerable success.

But it was their attack that must shoulder the blame for defeat. Tommy Joe Harty though dangerous on occasions was not at his best but Tommy McGrath, Paud Curran and Paddy Whyte tried hard all through.

Stradbally — J. Power, J. Power, T. Foley, T. Guiry; M. Reilly, P. Power, D. Gough, P. Clancy, E. Casey; J. Kiely, T. Cunningham, T. Hearn; J. Guiry, B. Barry, M. Casey.

Ring—L. Walsh; T. White, T. Curran, D. Galvin; T. Harty, S. Murray, P. Harty; L. Maher, J. Harty; B. Harty, P. Curran, T. J. Harty; P. White, L. Curran, T. McGrath.

Sub.—S. Murray for McGrath; McGrath for S. Murray.

Geraldines Best in Tournament Final

GERALDINES 4-7; CAPPOQUIN 3-3

THE final of the Cappoquin medal tournament (proceeds of which went to the Mentally Handicapped Fund), attracted a fine crowd to the Cornerstone venue on Sunday night last and Geraldines justified pre-match favouritism with a deserved seven-point victory over Cappoquin. But despite that reasonably wide scoring gulf between the sides, this was a highly entertaining decider in which the great efforts of the losers were not reflected in the final scoreline.

It was an unpleasant night for hurling, for although the rain fortunately held off during the hour, the underfoot conditions—marred by heavy afternoon showers, militated against good hurling. But the sides overcame the disadvantage, and the heavy ball, to turn in a performance that in all the circumstances was highly creditable.

Geraldines let me stress without further ado, fully deserved their victory. At no stage during the game did they find themselves in arrears, and truly their win left no room for argument. But that much said, however, I feel it compelling to add that their margin of victory did less than justice to a Cappoquin side that battled gamely right to the very end. At one stage in the second half they came within two points of the Aglishers, but then some goal-keeping lapses cost them dearly, and it was Geraldines who held the initiative at the call of time.

Geraldines started in tremendous style, and it wasn't long before they began to dictate the trend of the game. Goals by Mick Keating and Jim Joe Landers set them on the road to victory, and when they added a further point spectators began to think in terms of a complete rout.

But Cappoquin, quite obviously, had very different ideas. First Mickey Fraher flashed over a beauty of a point, and not long afterwards his brother Eddie crashed home a goal. And right to the interval they gave as good as they get, at which stage Geraldines led by 2-2 to 1-2.

Two quick Geraldine points within minutes of the resumption stretched their lead still further, but then came a Cappoquin goal—scored directly from and Billy Crotty. Grady brought off a series of superb saves, but one must be ever-mindful of the excellent coverage afforded him by the trio in front.

Nor was their halfline lacking, and here Mickey Downing particularly, Jim Hallahan and Stylo Riordan played their parts.

At midfield Mick Tobin did an amount of effective work, but for Mick Lacey, the Cappoquin man playing against Cappoquin—it was a game that can have few happy memories. Opposed directly by John Donoghue, he was scarcely given a look in, and left little or no impact of this game.

Their attack missed some good scoring opportunities, yet Patsy Kenneally, Jim Joe Landers, Mick Keating and Johnny Cotter all played well.

The Cappoquin defence played exceptionally well, and it was tragic for them that goalkeeper Michael Phelan had a complete off night between the posts.

In the full line Charlie Cullen was a great defender, and in the half line Thomas Loneragan, and that amazing veteran Paddy English, played very soundly.

John O'Donoghue by virtue of his complete eclipsing of Mick Lacey, was the star of the midfield sector, but he got good assistance from Ger Mason.

Their forwards, however, were really up against it in an uncompromising Geraldines rearguard. Nevertheless, all six tried hard, and their half line trio of Eddie Fraher, Maurice Kelleher and Mick Fraher met with more than a grain of success.

Geraldines: J. Grady; N. Mernin, B. Ronayne, B. Crotty; T. Riordan, J. Hallahan, M. Downing; M. Lacey; M. Tobin; J. Kiely, M. Murphy, P. Kenneally; J. Cotter, M. Keating, J. J. Landers.
 Cappoquin: M. Phelan; J. Arrigan, E. Cahill, C. Cullen; A. O'Keefe, T. Loneragan, P. English; G. Mason, J. Donoghue; E. Fraher, M. Kelleher, M. Fraher; R. O'Shea, P. Fraher, A. Murray.
