Causeway Bridge Not To Be Replaced

Swimming When Danger Signs Were Up

THE Causeway Bridge linking Dungarvan and Abbeyside is to remain unaltered. At Monday's meeting of Waterford County Council a proposal by Mr. M. Harty that they adopt the recommendations of the Co. Engineer (Mr. J. D. Hally) to replace the bridge was defeated by twelve votes to three.

In reply to Mr. T. A. Kyne, T.D., Mr. Hally said the cost of replacing the bridge would be between £12,000 and £15,000. Mr. Kyne: Anyone that wants to put £15,000 on the rates, now is the time to do so. Mr. Michael Harty said he had been approached many times about the bridge. There was £90,000 allocated for Main Road Grants and several bridges on these main roads, which had been repaired, were done so with a 100% Department Grant. He thought it would be unreasonable if they did not get a 100% grant to replace Dungarvan's number one hazard. Deputy Kyne said the people of Dungarvan did not think that they should know more about it than Mr. Harty. There would be plenty of deputations if it was decided to do anything with the bridge. Mr. Harty then proposed and Mr. P. Cahill seconded that they adopt the recommendations of the Co. Engineer and replace the bridge.

In his report, made out in June, 1964, Mr. Hally said the growth of traffic was considerable and was steadily increasing. The bridge was something of a bottleneck, making it impossible for traffic to see traffic coming from the opposite side. To-date, there had been no fatal or serious accidents on the bridge, but it would be unwise to wait for such a happening. He believed the bridge needed to be replaced and they should get in touch with the Department to see how best it could be replaced and financed.

Mr. M. Galgey said if the hump back was levelled out of the bridge, traffic would be going over it at 30 or 40 m.p.h. As it was, traffic could only go over it at 5 m.p.h. A vote was then taken and the proposition to replace the bridge was defeated 12-3. The voting was: For the proposition—Cols. Harty, Cahill and Roche (3); Against—Cols. Curran, Dower, Kyne, Lannon, Whelan, Drohan, O'Ryan, Dowd Heskin, N. Walsh, Galgey, Maden (12).

Mr. Wm. Dower then suggested that another bridge be erected between Abbeyside Park and Dungarvan. Mr. C. Curran said that would be very expensive. The discussion ended.

At last Monday's meeting of Waterford Co. Council Mr. Milo Galgey said that whilst in Tramore on Sunday last he saw the three flags, which warned people not to go bathing, flying. Yet there were at least 200 people out swimming and thereby defying the Danger Signals.

Mr. Galgey said there was a swell coming in and it would have been impossible to save anyone.

Mr. C. Curran (Chairman) said it was generally felt far and wide that the bathing regulations in Tramore were not being complied with. Mr. Galgey said it was not fair to the Co. Council, the local Authority, or the Beach Guards.

Mr. T. Lannon suggested the local representatives should discuss it.

ANNUAL MASS AT TOOR HOLY WELL

On Wednesday, 28th July, the Annual Mass will be offered at Toor Holy Well (Agligh Co. Waterford, at 12 noon.

Council Again Refuses To Obey Minister

ONCE again, Waterford Co. Council has adhered to its previous decision that the positions of County Secretary and County Manager should be amalgamated. At last Monday's meeting of the Council, a further letter from the Minister was read stating that he had nothing to add to what he had already stated and that the amalgamation of the positions was not feasible.

Mr. C. Curran (Chairman) said it was obvious that the Minister was adamant in his refusal to combine the posts. Mr. Thomas Lannon said they were the local representatives and they knew best how they could save the ratepayers money.

Mr. D. F. Madden: The Minister will not listen to you. Mr. Lannon: We know the requirements of the people of the county better than the Minister, and ways in which we can save them money. We will save over £4,000 a year in this matter alone. Then there will be travelling expenses to be considered also.

Mr. Curran: We have no hope at all of getting away with it. Mr. Lannon: We will have no hope when there will be no more money to pay for this kind of thing. Mr. Curran: There will be no hope until all the County Councils take this stand.

Mr. Lannon then proposed and Mr. K. O'Ryan seconded, that they adhere to their previous decision that the two positions should be amalgamated.

Mr. Michael Harty said he did not think the Minister had been very courteous in the County Council in this matter. He was in fact quite offensive to them by his refusal to receive a deputation from the Council on Tuesday. He should have received a deputation from the Council.

Mr. F. Roche said if the Minister took this decision, he would be making an exception of Waterford. A separate manager would be appointed whether they liked it or not. He then proposed that they request the local appointments commission to appoint a new manager for the county.

Mr. S. J. Moynihan (County Manager) said the position was if the County Council did not proceed, the Minister would do it himself.

Mr. M. Galgey: Then let him take the responsibility. I really think the Minister should have received a deputation from the Council. Mr. Curran: I think he should as well. There was no second for Mr. Roche's proposal, and Mr. Lannon's was then passed.

Want To Sell Land

County Waterford Vocational Education Committee considered an application from Mr. Timmons, teacher in charge of Portlaw Technical School, to sell a plot of land adjoining the school, at its monthly meeting on Tuesday.

The C.E.O. (Mr. J. Rushe) said the essence of the matter was that Mr. Timmons wanted to sell the plot of land which was being used as something of a dumping ground, and to use the money to repair the school building. It was bought in 1939 and there was slightly over half an acre in it. If a gate and fence was erected round it, it would cost the Committee £100.

Mr. Norman Walsh said it was peculiar to him that the teacher-in-charge should recommend to them to sell this plot "out of the blue." Their predecessors bought this plot for a purpose and he was not impressed by this recommendation. Teachers, he said, should have something else to do besides recommending to the Committee to sell their own property.

Mrs. C. Griffin said she was satisfied Mr. Timmons had no ulterior motive for selling the plot. Mr. Rushe said there was dumping going on there and he would agree that they should sell it and spend the money on repairing the school building.

It was finally decided that Mr. Rushe and three members of the Committee (Messrs. Galgey, J. Power and F. Roche) inspect the plot and make a recommendation back to the Committee.

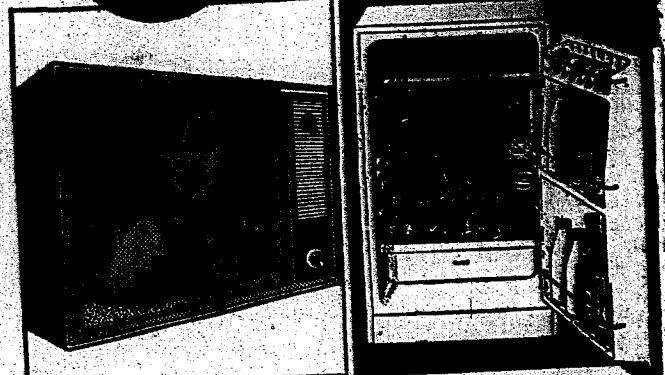

NEW RATE FOR TRAVELLING EXPENSES

The Dept. of Education has agreed to sanction a rate of 6d. per mile travelling expenses to Mr. John Frazer, P.T. instructor, Tallow, as recommended by Co. Waterford Vocational Education Committee, whom Mr. Frazer is a part time teacher.

Council Stresses Water Needs

DEPUTY'S STATEMENT CRITICISED

THE urgent need for water supplies in the County was spotlighted at a meeting of Waterford County Council on Monday, during a discussion which arose following criticism of a statement made recently in Dail Eireann by Mr. Sean Treacy, T.D. for South Tipp West Waterford. Mr. Treacy's statement was that a national organisation was sabotaging water schemes in County Waterford and made special reference to the abandonment of the Modeligo Regional scheme.

Mr. Wm. Dower, who brought up the matter, said it was an extraordinary statement. The N.F.A. was the organisation referred to but they came here, he said, and did a very thorough survey of the Modeligo area for which it was proposed to have a regional water scheme. It was wrong to accuse them of sabotage when they were only trying to save the ratepayers of the County money.

The Chairman, Mr. Charles Curran, said Deputy Treacy's statement alleged that the N.F.A. was sabotaging water schemes in the county, but that was not so.

Mr. John Fahey, T.D., asked if they could in fact term the deputation which came before the County Council meeting in connection with the proposed Modeligo regional scheme, an N.F.A. deputation. It was led by two clergymen and was representative of all sections in the area.

Mr. T. A. Kyne, T.D., said he could bring forward a man on that deputation who was told beforehand by one of the clergymen that he would not be allowed to speak at the meeting. That man was a trade union official.

Mr. Sean Whelan said that was correct and he took a very poor view of it. This man was told coming in the door of the Council chamber that day by a clergyman that he could not speak. That was very unfair.

Mr. John Fahey, T.D., said it seemed they had not got a clear picture of the thing in the Modeligo area at all now. This was very serious for them as public representatives. The Minister said in the Dail that if what Mr. Treacy had said was correct he would have to take another look at the proposed Modeligo scheme. He would like to have the position clarified.

The Secretary, Mr. J. G. Dowling, said the recommendations of a special Sub-Committee made in May to the Co. Council was that the residents of the Modeligo area be encouraged to undertake group and private schemes and that the position be considered again in a few months time.

Mr. P. Cahill said no progress was being made in the water position in the county and something should be done.

Mr. Curran—What can be done. In the two areas in this county where regional schemes were to be put in there were outcries from representative bodies.

Mr. T. A. Kyne, T.D., said only about three or four group schemes had been undertaken in the County. They had a responsibility also to the people who could not afford to put in their own schemes.

Mr. Norman Walsh said they would have to decide whether to do schemes on a regional or schemes to people, he said.

Teacher's Request Ad InterimT ransfer Refused Granted

A request by the National Teacher in Dunhill National School, Mr. Clooney, to the Co. Waterford Vocational Education Committee to sponsor a teacher in elocation for the school, received a blank refusal at the Committee's monthly meeting on Tuesday.

Mr. J. Power said he was from the parish but the first he heard of this request was when he saw it on the agenda. He felt Mr. Clooney should elaborate further on it.

Mr. N. Walsh said Mr. Clooney wanted the Committee to act as a fairy god-mother to him.

Mr. F. X. O'Leary said that in the circumstances they were not in a position to help him.

Mr. C. Curran said they should give a blank refusal to this request.

This suggestion was agreed to.

Brs. Bridget Crowley, Youngal Road, Dungarvan, applied to Dungarvan District Court on Wednesday for an ad interim transfer of the licence held previously by Miss Elsie Power in respect of her licensed premises at Fair Lane, Dungarvan.

Mrs. Crowley, it was stated, had acquired the premises from Miss Power.

The application was granted.

WILL NOT MAKE NEW APPOINTMENTS

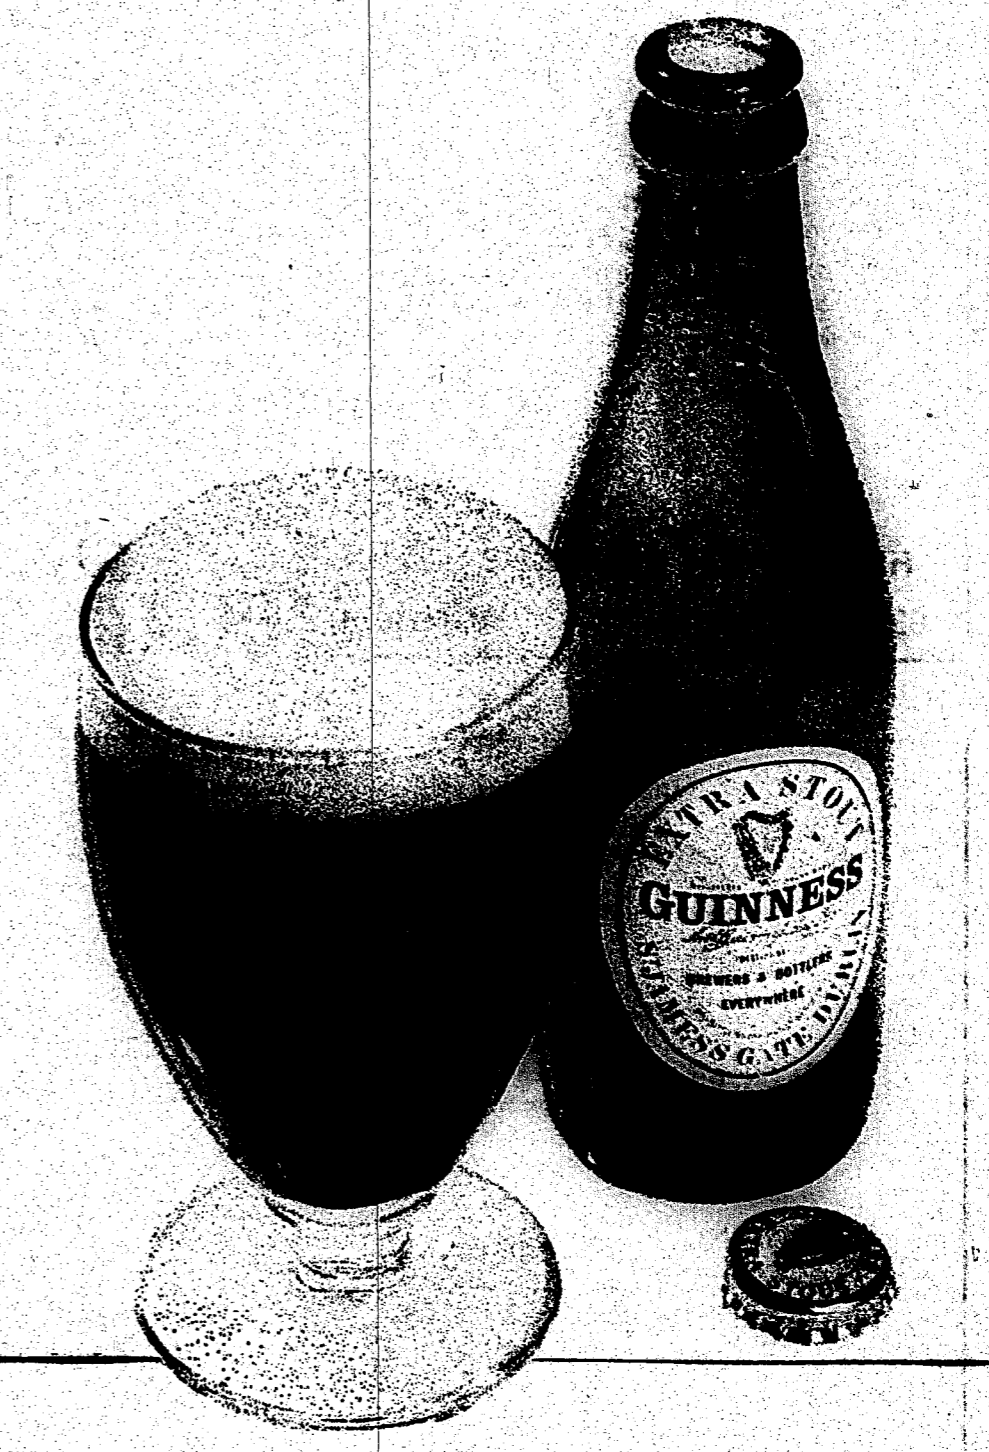

BY eleven votes to five, Waterford County Council refused to create seven additional posts, that would cost £8,500 approx. a year. The request came from the Minister for Local Government.

In his request to the Council, the Minister asked that they approve of the creation of the following Offices, for the purpose of the administration of the Local Government (Planning and Development) Act, 1963: 1 Chief Asst. Co. Engineer (Planner); 1 Asst. Co. Engineer (Planning); 1 Draughtsman; 1 Building Inspector; 1 Staff Officer; 1 Clerical Officer; 1 Clerk Typist.

Mr. J. D. Hally, Co. Engineer, said the creation of these seven appointments would cost about £8,500 a year. He did not think there would be any increase in this number after this.

Mr. T. Lannon said this was only an estimate for the first year. But what would it cost them in a few years time.

In reply to Mr. M. Galgey, the Co. Engineer said a Planning Authority was absolutely necessary to save the ratepayers money. He agreed that this had been discovered in Coventry at a cost of £2,000,000. In England so many blunders were being made that this Planning Authority was necessary to dis-

THRILLING TOURNAMENT FINAL EXPECTER
 There should be a thrilling hour's hurling at Dungarvan's Fraher Field on to-night (Friday) when Carrick Davins meet Abbeyside in the final of the senior hurling tournament run in conjunction with Dungarvan Gala Week. Abbeyside qualified for this final when defeating Marlfield (Clonmel) by a point in a replay whilst the Davins scored decisively over Ballygunner in the second re-

Thus this final has all the ingredients and those who go to the Fraher Field for this decider should be well rewarded. For the occasion both teams will field their strongest fifteens. There will be considerable picking of this Abbeyside team with almost plenty players staking claims for selection. Their final choice will be awaited with interest. But certain it is that Austin Flynn, Mick Kiely, John Browne, Pakie Hogan and goalkeeper Pat Enright will form a stiff defensive wall for the Davins. It seems likely too that Danny Barry and Liam Enright will team up at midfield and in attack Duck Whelan and company will need careful watching.

Davins, following their most impressive victory over Ballygunner, will start favourites. They have a well-equipped side led by that midfielder Mick Roche. But this is no one man team, and Roche has able accomplices in Jimmy and Paddy Arrigan and Jim Walsh.

Yes, this promises to be a real hurling thriller. It should be in fact a game worth travelling a long way to see, and one cannot go very far wrong by making the Fraher Field the venue on to-night (Friday). The game will start at 8 p.m. sharp.

LATE JAMES NOLAN

Springmount, Dungarvan. It is with profound regret that we record the death of James Nolan, Springmount, Dungarvan, which occurred at Ardkeen hospital on July 2nd, after a brief illness and at a comparatively early age.

The deceased was a native of Ballycullane, New Ross, but to all intents and purposes was a fully fledged Dungarvan man, where he had resided for a long number of years. A gentleman to his fingertips, he was highly respected by all sections of the community and his untimely passing has left a void in the area that will not be easily replaced.

To his sorrowing wife, daughter, brothers, sister and relatives we tender sincere sympathy in their great loss.

Harp Lager to be bottled in Cork

James J. Murphy & Co. Ltd., the Cork brewers, and Harp Lager Brewery (Ireland) Ltd., in a joint statement, both have announced an arrangement in principle, whereby Murphy's will bottle Harp Lager beer for distribution in the Cork area.

Additional bottling plant is being installed by Messrs. James J. Murphy, at Lady's Well Brewery, Cork. Harp Lager will then be sent in bulk from Dundalk to Cork for bottling there and distribution to the whole sale trade. In a joint statement, both breweries say that the new bottling agreement "underlines the friendship which has always existed between the two breweries, and reflects the confidence felt by Messrs. Murphy in the future of Harp Lager in the Cork area."

It has just been announced that for the second year running, Harp Lager beer has won a gold medal in the International Beer Competition at Brussels. Lager beers from all over the world (including the traditional lager brewing countries) competed for the coveted gold medal award.

Harp Lager beer, brewed in Dundalk, is now available in 73 different countries, from Hong Kong to the U.S.A.

LATE JAMES WALSH

12, Congress Villas, Dungarvan

Dungarvan and district learned with deep regret, of the death of Mr. James Walsh, 12 Congress Villas, Dungarvan, which occurred in London, where he had been employed, on 1st July.

The deceased was a comparatively young man, and his passing is a great loss to his wife and family.

One of nature's gentlemen, he was an outstandingly popular individual in his native town. A keen follower of Gaelic games, he was a staunch Waterford and Dungarvan supporter and must have gained considerable pride from the fact that his son Jimmy, now in New York, played for both club and county.

He was at all times an unassuming man, and was rightly held in the highest regard by all sections of the community. His premature death is indeed a grave blow to his wife and family, and also to his countless friends in Dungarvan and London.

To Mrs. Walsh and family we tender sincere sympathy in their great loss.

Mass cards were received from: Loving wife, Mollie; daughter Margaret; loving sons Billy, John, Denis, Monnie (London); loving sons Joseph and Thomas, Congress Villas; loving son Jimmie, New York; brother Paddy, New York; sister Eileen and family; Teresa and Robt. Tutty, Newport; Johnny, Teresa and family; Francis and Len, Newport; Mary and Jimmy Moran, Mullingar; Walsh family, Bridget's Tee; Gerald and Magt. Lismore Notes

WOMEN'S CONFRATERNITY
The monthly meeting of the women's branch of the Sacred Heart Confraternity will be held on tonight (Friday) in St. Carthage's Church, at 7.30 p.m.

HOME ON HOLIDAY

At present spending a well earned six weeks holiday at the home of her mother Mrs. Enright, Devonshire Cottages, Lismore, is Sr. Marie Goretti, of the Sisters of Charity of the Incarnate Word. Sister Goretti, who is giving great service to God's poor as a very competent nurse in Salt Lake City, Utah, U.S.A., is certainly enjoying her first holiday in fifteen years, and we join with her many friends everywhere in wishing her a most enjoyable holiday in her native land.

BRILLIANT PUPIL GAINS FURTHER HONOURS

Already a successful pupil in many exams and scholarships, Mr. Maurice O'Brien, Ballywilling, Lismore, gained further noteworthy success this year, when, at U.C.C., where he has been a student for the past year, he gained a pass with first class honours in the 1st Engineering exam. Maurice, who is a very popular young man locally, gained his early education at Lismore Christian Brothers Schools, and both his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William O'Brien, and his former teachers in Lismore, can certainly feel justly proud of the outstanding success attained by this brilliant pupil.

N.F.A. NEWS

New Approach to Small Farm Problem?

A whole new approach to the small farm problem may very well emerge from the present studies being carried out by the Rural Development Section of N.F.A. What amounts to a new policy document is at present being prepared, based on the information from many countries which has been sifted and analysed.

A recent visit to Northern Ireland, undertaken by a Study Group from the Committee, will also have a strong bearing on future thinking. During two intensive days of talks with senior officials of the Northern Ireland Ministry of Agriculture and tours of small farms in counties Antrim and Derry two vivid impressions came across. Planned Progress is the key to every facet of agricultural development in the North: We have nothing similar in this part of the country.

The small farms visited by the Group reflected in full the progressive outlook adopted by both farmers and officialdom. "The evidence of planning is everywhere," said Mr. Tom Llewellyn, Secretary, on his return to Dublin. "From the highest ranking ministry official, down to the local adviser, they seem to know exactly where they are going. The neatness of the farmhouses and the elaborate outbuildings bore evidence of the better grants available and also of the full use being made of them. On the small farms, they are concentrating on milk, pigs and poultry, as these give a higher return on capital invested. Two other things struck me—the absence of redundant or surplus machinery and silage is everywhere."

The Group, which was led by the President of the Association Mr. Richard Deasy, included: Mr. Joe Dunphy, Sligo, Chairman; Dr. Labhras O Nuallain, U.C.C.; Mr. Bob Stack, Kerry; Mr. L. Barrett, Mayo; Mr. C. Booth, Kildare and Mr. Llewellyn.

Briefly, to qualify for this scheme, a farm must be above twenty acres; his enterprise must involve 275 man days (a cow is reckoned as taking 15 man days); and the farmer must be prepared to work to a specified three to five year plan drawn up by Department officers. An idea of the benefits to be obtained as a member of the scheme can be gathered from the fact that the farmer can secure £1,000 in grants over and above the normal level of grants. But the greatest benefit of all, resulting from the scheme is its value in orientating people's mind to the belief in and necessity of making farming a business.

IMPROVED MILK PRICES A NECESSITY

The 22,500 suppliers to the Dairy Disposal Co. creameries in counties Kerry, Clare, Cork, Tipperary and Limerick, were most in need of an increase in family income and this must come through better milk prices said Mr. Michael Howard, N.F.A. National Treasurer, at a meeting of Clare Co. Executive this week. Mr. Howard, together with Mr. T. J. Maher, Chairman of the N.F.A. National Dairy Committee, is contesting the forthcoming Bord Baine election on behalf of N.F.A.

Mr. Howard drew attention to the inadequacy of the 1d. bonus being paid for quality milk, stating that it barely rewarded farmers for the additional expense they had to incur to produce quality milk. "N.F.A. are pressing the Government on this matter. The Association has emphasised the need for a realistic price increase for milk. The Government give an immediate and realistic answer," said Mr. Howard.

"When elected," said Mr. Howard, "I have no intention of remaining in isolation from milk suppliers. I intend to arrange for meeting of the suppliers to inform them of the work of the Board, and of more importance, to obtain their views as well."

The Chairman of the Executive, Mr. Tom Cahill, who presided at the meeting said that the milk suppliers should not take the election lightly, as the work of Bord Baine could have a big influence on the level of their incomes. It was, therefore, of the utmost importance that only the very best men should represent producers on the Board. There were, he said, 7,500 milk suppliers in Clare and he felt that every one of these would vote with confidence for Mr. Howard to represent their interests on the

OFFICERS OF THE ASSOC. FOR THE NEXT 2 YEARS

Arising out of the recent elections, the following will be the Officers of the Association until the 1967 Elections: President—Mr. Richard Deasy, Cnoc na Faire, Carrigrohery, Nenagh, Co. Tipperary; Vice-Presidents: Connaught—Rev. P. Brady, C.C., Kilmore, Carrick-on-Shannon, Co. Roscommon; Sth. Leinster, Mr. J. Richards-Orpen, Monksgrange, Ennisicorthy, Co. Wexford; Munster—Mr. J. Buttiner, Lackendarragh, Glenville, Co. Cork; Ulster & Nth. Leinster—Mr. B. Donohoe, Ballyhealy, Ballyconnell, Co. Cavan.

The Hon. Secretary and Hon. Treasurer will be elected at the forthcoming A.G.M. of the National Council.

FROM WEST WATERFORD TO THE NATIONAL COUNCIL VIA LIMERICK

Joseph Clarke of Cooper Hill, Clarina, Co. Limerick, is the new Co. Limerick representative on the N.F.A. National Council. Joe's popularity hardly needs to be stated after his triumph in the recent election, which is of special interest to his many friends in west Waterford, many of whom remember his keen interest in Tallow Macra na Feirme.

Limerick's representation on the National Council now stands at three and with county membership rapidly approaching the 4,000 mark, it will not be long before another election is necessary for the fourth representative. The county's dramatic increase in membership over the past few years is due in large measure to the co-operation of the creamery managers and creamery committees together with the wholehearted support of the local N.F.A. men and National Organisers.

NEW NATIONAL ORGANISER FOR POULTRY OF INTEREST TO MACRA

Kilkenny poultry farmer, Denis Knox, took up duty this week as National Organiser to the N.F.A. National Poultry Committee. Denis, who has just resigned as National Chairman of Macra na Feirme, farms about 100a. at Castlewarren, Co. Kilkenny. He is a member of Clare Branch of N.F.A., Co. Organiser for Macra in Kilkenny and the county's representative on the Macra National Council.

Denis is also a member of that hard-working voluntary committee—the Kilkenny Social Service Central Committee. As an all round farmer, he certainly has the right background for his present job and his experience at the head of Macra affairs, should also be of invaluable assistance to him. Of the 100 acres, which Denis has 33 acres under corn this year. He has gone in for a foundation stock wheat and is also experimenting with Falace barley this year.

Of more relevance to the present situation is the fact that Denis keeps about 600 layers. His favourite stock?—Hybrid 3. He built all his hen houses himself from start to finish and also constructed his feeders and drinkers. Denis has been sending his eggs to Dublin for a number of years past. "There is very little realisation that the poultry industry is worth just over £15 million annually. It is my intention to ensure that this valuable industry is organised and developed to its full potential."

N.F.A. MAN ON MACRA NA TUATHAE FOUNDATION COUNCIL

N.F.A. Chief Organiser, Richard Hourigan, B.Agr.Sc., was elected to the Council of the Macra na Tuathae Foundation at the annual general meeting of the Foundation in Dublin last week. Mr. Hourigan, a Limerick man, is the first official of N.F.A. to be a member of the Council.

The Chairman of the Foundation, Mr. Brendan M. O'Kelly pleaded for more than financial assistance from industrial firms. "They should participate more in the problems of the Foundation," he said. They should give guidance and help and should also assist in communi-

REPORTING BETWEEN THE COUNCIL IN DUBLIN AND FIRMS THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY.

Firms contributing to the Foundation are limited to a maximum subscription of £50 but the average contribution is in the region of £26. The Council has now drawn up a target for the 1965/66 financial year which envisages additional subscriptions to the extent of £1,500.

RULES OF PROJECT COMPETITION REVISED

The rules of the N.F.A. Project Competition have been revised by the Organising Committee—the main change being the eligibility of any rural group to compete. (For the purposes of the competition a group is regarded as six people upwards). Copies of the revised rules have been circulated to all branches of N.F.A. by Chief Organiser, Richard Hourigan, who says: "We feel that the changes make the competition much more attractive. Our principal reason in making the changes was to ensure greater participation. This competition with a prize fund of £1,000 is really worthwhile and we would like to see every village taking part."

Mr. Hourigan also supplied to branches a list of sample projects which might be undertaken by groups. Mentioned were: drainage, farm management and accounts, machinery pool, milk round, group water scheme, tourist development on an area basis, commongage improvement, pig production done cooperatively and farm education. It should be noted, however, that entries are not confined to those mentioned by Mr. Hourigan.

In order to allow groups to prepare and launch a worthwhile project, the closing date for entries will be April 1st, 1966. There is an entry fee of 50/-.

Footnote:—The prize money has been generously subscribed by Messrs. Gouldings Fertilis-

"THANK YOU" FROM A GRATEFUL MEMBER

The staff of N.F.A. is there for the service of the farmers of Ireland and many are the farmers who are not even members of the Association, who have benefited from this service. Service is sought and service is granted as a matter of course. No accolades are expected but now and again it is nice to get a letter such as the following:—

Dear Sir,

I write to thank you and compliment you on your speedy and successful investigation of my claim for the heifer subsidy. Following my application, I made numerous appeals by letter and in person to my local office, without response. As a last resort, when some of my heifers were near their second calving, I asked you to help and you got immediate results. We Irish farmers are certainly fortunate in having the N.F.A. on call to fight for our rights and to keep a watchdog eye on all agricultural developments. I only wish every farmer realised what N.F.A. can do and will do for them if requested.

Wishing you every success in your work.
(Signed by a Cork member).

Indisposed.—On the sick list at present is amiable Mr. Thomas (Tom) Gough—a well-known Faha farmer. We are sorry to hear of his illness and we hope that he will be out and about again soon.

I.C.A.—The I.C.A. (Kilmacthomas Branch) held a concert last Tuesday night in the Rainbow Hall. The major items on the programme were two radio plays—one performed by Kilmacthomas ladies...

Other items in the concert included Irish step-dancing and singing. A selection of modern songs were given on the guitar by two local boys. Everybody appreciated Miss Germaine Baily, Dungarvan, a young harpist who played and sang some lovely Irish airs.

Lucky Prizewinner.—Congratulations to Mrs. Kathie Morrissey, who won the sizeable sum of £37-10-0 in the Pools recently.

Exam. Successes.—We felicitate Mr. David Cullinan, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Cullinan, Old Road, Currahaha, on securing his B.A. degree, at University College, Dublin.

I.C.A. FEDERATION NEWS

Summer Rally.—Federation Meeting Mrs. D. Lee, President, Lisamore Guild, courteously welcomed all who attended the summer rally federation meeting which was held in Lisamore on Thursday, 8th July.

Officers' Reports.—The Treasurer, Mrs. M. Shanahan, reading the final report, referred to the present low state of the Federation funds. She made a very earnest appeal to all guilds for fullest support of the Federation draw which has been extended to next federation meeting.

Mrs. S. O'Carroll, Federation International Officer, reported on A.C.W.W. conference news to date. She requested a full attendance of guild presidents, international officers and group convenors at the International meeting which will be held at Lawlors Hotel, Dungarvan, on Friday, 30th July at 8 p.m.

Miss Lena O'Connor, Teachta, gave a detailed account of Griannan guild liaison. She appealed to the four guilds outstanding to send in lists as soon as possible.

Speaking on scholarship courses, Miss O'Connor informed the meeting that scholarships to guilds were being unnecessarily lost.

The recent Sugar Co. Scholarship was lost to the guild who drew second place through the failure of the guild who drew first not informing her of inability to attend. She emphasised that guilds unable to avail of these courses must inform her of same six weeks previous to opening date of course.

Mr. P. J. Lavan Solr., said the bicycle was now taxed and insured. The defendant was only a beginner and he found difficulty in driving the machine. He had not yet done his driving test but he intended to do so.

Judge Skinner reduced the dangerous driving charge to one of careless driving and imposed a fine of 10/-. He fined him £3 for having no insurance and gave him the P.O.A. for no tax and no driving licence.

Championship Time at Dungarvan

ARDMORE, KILL, MITCHELS, TO ADVANCE

SUNDAY next is senior football championship day in the County, with the spotlight beaming radiantly on Dungarvan's Fraker Field. Three ties are down for decision, two afternoon games and one at 8 o'clock, and each promises to be productive of thrills and exciting football. The two game programme brings Ardmore and Brickey Rangers into opposition with Tramore and Kill respectively, whilst the night game will see Dungarvan bidding to cause an upset by mastering the new Phelan Cup holders, John Mitchels.

The opening game of the day is a battle of the "mores" — Ardmore and Tramore, and on all known form this should result in a victory for the West-tern side. But then remember that the championship is the real competition for shock results, and the chances of a Tramore victory cannot be discounted.

Last year was heartbreak year for Ardmore, being defeated in the senior football championship final and also in the county junior hurling final. That same year they also qualified for the final of the Phelan Cup but after two drawn games with the Mitchels were beaten narrowly at the third attempt. On all these occasions they had enough chances to have won but it was the shortcomings in attack that proved their undoing.

This was particularly so in the championship final against Killrossanty. They made a sterling com-eragh men all over the field but their forwards that day gave an exhibition of inaccuracy that I have not seen equalled since. Basically it is a good Ardmore team, capable of matching the best but unless mentors have found the answer to these forward ills, then I cannot see them being amongst the trophy winners either this year.

Their defence is very solid, backboned as it is by goal-keeper John O'Leary, and def-enders Paddy Carlton, Eddi Mooney, Bertie Hallahan and the evergreen Tommy Power. But good though Jim Rooney, Mossy Hallahan, Finbar Hallahan are individually, that at- tack of theirs is not function- ing properly and it remains to be seen if the sextet chosen for Sunday will solve their grave problems hereabouts.

Tramore in only their second year in senior ranks, are not however, without hope of mastering the favourites. They have quite a good side strung together but though I fully expect them to put up a brave fight, one simply cannot oppose Ardmore. To them I give a confident vote to advance to the second round.

KILL OR BRICKEY?
But it is the second game which commands greatest interest — the clash of Kill and Brickey Rangers. Remember their meeting in the '63 Co. final when the Rangers shocked the then favourites by scoring a decisive eight point victory. That day was the fulfilment of a lifetime's ambition for the Brickey Rangers, for it gave them their first ever senior championship crown after many years of endeavour. Since then, however, the club has declined by an almost un- believable extent. Players have apparently lost all interest, and they have had scarcely half a dozen night's training since last year's championship. That is the unfortunate story that has to be related and many of the men who are now fully intent on whom I have spoken to in the past week hold out little hope of success on Sunday.

Kill, on the other hand, have gone from strength to strength challenge. In fact they are keep- ing their fingers crossed that Michael Kirwan will be re- covered from the leg injury which has kept him out of the game for some months now. That defence of theirs is very strong and it will take a Dun- garvan attack, functioning on all six cylinders to make head- way against Seamus Kenny, Sean Power, Pete Gough and Wally Connors. Their attack also contains plenty of scoring power, led by the evergreen Billy Kirwan, his brother Tommy and Sam An- derson whilst at midfield, Noel Kirwan and Rogie Con- nors will not easily be master- ed.

Not for a long time has Dun- garvan prepared so assiduously for any game. The team will be 100% fit and they are quietly confident of causing an upset. Their selectors will not meet until Saturday night but I do not envy the task of the "big five." This is particularly so of their attack where about ten players are in line for the six positions. It is expected how- ever that Tom Cunningham will spearhead their attack with Martin Farrell as their pivot in defence. Donal O'Brien will again be in goal and besides Farrell, their rear- guard will contain excellent footballers in Eamonn McCar- thy and Pat Noctor. As already stated it will not be through lack of fitness should Dungarvan fail. Never have the players been so dedi- cated and not by a long shot are they out of this game. Mitchels by virtue of their displays in the Phelan Cup will start favourites and rightly so. I must go for them again on this occasion but should Dungarvan reach the heights I know them to be capable of, then they must stand an ex- cellent chance.

SUSPENDED FOR TWELVE MONTHS

At a meeting of the Western Board in Cappoquin on Wed- nesday night, four Kilgobinet players were each suspended for twelve months arising out of incidents after the abandon- ment of the Colligan Rockies- Kilgobinet Intermediate hur- ling championship game. They were: Mark, Tomas and Lar Cummins, and Michael Keat- ing. Arising out of investigations into the constitution of the Kilgobinet team, all their players, together with the chairman, secretary and cap- tain were also suspended for 12 months for playing Michael Kelly. Kelly himself was sus- pended for a total of eighteen months.

Cork Were Deserving Victors

But Waterford Bowed Out In Glory

CORK 1-11

WATERFORD 2-5

THERE was complete atonement for the substandardness of the fare which predominated the drawn Munster hurling semi-final between Cork and Waterford, when on Sunday last the Counties battled out as tense, thrilling and electrifying a replay as the Ennis Road grounds, Limerick have staged for many a year. In the end it was Cork, youthful and resurgent, who won through to the Provincial decider against Tipp., but Waterford, battling until every ounce of energy had been expended, bowed out with colours flying.

For believe me this was a game that separated the boys from the men. The tackling was bone crushing; every ball was contested as though the lives of the participants depended on the very outcome, and it was Munster hurling as we have come to know and admire it. It is equally true that dedication and enthusiasm on both sides at times exceeded sportsmanship limits when hurleys were used indiscriminately but such was the fury, the pace and zeal of the rivals, as they strove unsparingly for victory, that these outbursts were almost inevitable.

I do not now however, intend to dwell on the few incidents that we could well have done without. For this game pro- duced too many admiring fea- tures for that, and it is those which I shall pleasingly recall when this and other cham- pionships are over. On Sunday both Cork and Waterford proved beyond doubt that the Counties are still on a firm hurling footing. Cork's youth and un- doubted skill must inevitably raise the County to its rightful position in the hurling world, whilst Waterford, with some replacements in attack will still remain a stumbling block for the best.

Cork, on Sunday last, fully deserved their victory. Of that there can be no doubt. Yet still Waterford kept up the pressure. O'Neill in the Cork goal brought off a truly in- credible save but had no chance with John Kirwan's drive just one minute from the end. The hour however had run its course. Time had proved Cork's saviour and they were deservedly through for a crack at the All-Ireland champions. There can be no doubt that this is a Cork side of consid- erable potential. Quite obviously they are on the upgrade, and the experience gained in those two clashes with Waterford is bound to be of immense benefit to them when they throw down the gauntlet to Tipp. on Sun- day week.

TOO GREAT A BURDEN
Waterford, as already stated might well have survived this Cork challenge. But the attack proved too great a burden for the remainder of the side to carry and it was principally the failings up front that led to their defeat. This is not in- tended as a detraction from the merits of Cork's victory, but well though the winners rear- guard played, there were scor- ing chances that were allowed go abegging by the Deise at- tack.

The winners too pinned a great deal of faith on speed, and the Limerick pitch on Sunday suited them admirably in this respect. But Waterford trained to the tee, manfully stuck with the task right to the very end. Now, however, is the time to commence the search for new material. Some have given almost a lifetime of valuable service to the team, but time it would appear has caught up with them, and the team must be given an infusion of young blood.

THE SCORING
Despite facing the breeze, the Leesiders settled down to the task on hands from the very start. Gaining possession from the throw in the ball was worked towards the Deise goal and in a twinkling left full forward Charlie McCarthy flashed over their opening point. McCarthy almost immedi- ately changed over to the other corner and there he remained for the rest of the hour.

Cork continued to enjoy early supremacy and John Ben- nett pointed a free in the 3rd minute. But soon Waterford re- plied with answering points. Cheasty had the first from far out and then followed a lovely passing movement between John Kirwan and Frankie Walsh and S. Power receiving from the latter whipped over a point that had it been inches lower would have the Cork net bulging. Cork again edged in front with a point by Eddie O'Brien in the 6th minute, but the sides were level again in the 13th minute when Seamus Power lofted over a glorious point almost from the sideline. But Cork reaped something of a harvest for the remainder of the half. Completely against the run of play they had points by O'Brien, Bennett and Justin McCarthy to build up their 0-6 to 0-3 interval lead, whilst Waterford could only muster a succession of wides in reply.

Waterford drew first blood in the second half when Grimes pointed a free after a minute. Two minutes later Cork re- plied when O'Brien cut a 30- yard side line ball straight over for a spectacular point. The exchanges had now been tinged with very noticeable "needle" and in a flare up on the Half- way line, only leniency by re- feree Aubrey Higgins saved a player from both sides from receiving marching orders. However this action was not long delayed and in the 11th minute Condon and Colm Shee- han were ordered off. O'Brien had another Cork point in the 12th minute, but was again thrown wide open when John Kirwan smashed home Waterford's first goal. A pointed free by Bennett eased Cork anxiety somewhat, and then followed an exchange of points between O'Brien and Grimes (free).

But seven minutes from time O'Brien, T. Hearne for Shelan, came the most decisive scor- ing of the post; and of all. Racing out almost fifty yards, full forward John Ben- nett gained possession, but har- rassed by Austin Flynn he sent in what was nothing more than a speculative lob. Up went the safe hand of goalkeeper Ned Power, but hampered by the sun he misjudged the ball and it just trickled over the line. That was the score Cork so badly needed and within se- conds Denis Murphy helped the cause still further with a long range point from a free. Then followed sustained Wa- terford pressure. But that Cork defence, inspired by the bril- liance of Finbarr O'Neill be- tween the posts, stood firm, and after Frankie Walsh missed a golden opportunity of a goal in the 27th minute, John Kir- wan had the final score — a goal just one minute before the end.

CORK'S BEST

The Cork defence on Sunday last was eminently sound. Goal-keeper Finbarr O'Neill had a dream championship debut, bringing off at least three fan- tastic saves. Yes, the Glen man stood between the Leesiders and possible defeat.

All six defenders played their hearts out, but Tom Don- oghue, Denis Murphy and Pat Fitzgerald, respectively, caught the eye. Ted Mahony hurled a fine hour at midfield and up front the honours went to Ed- die O'Brien and John Bennett.

NO DISGRACE

Defeat, particularly in the championship, is never an easy pill to swallow, but at least this was a defeat that carried glory with it. Under an energy sap- ping pace, Waterford gave everything they had, and no one could ask for anything more of them.

Once again, Ned Power gave a superb goalkeeping exhibi- tion. Time out of number that hand of his grabbed dangerous Cork corners and the one ball that did beat him was tinged with cruel luck.

The Deise defence was sound- ness personified. Indeed Sun- day's set up lacked nothing, and Cork could never find an easy path to goal. The full line once again em- erged with top honours, and Cunningham, Flynn and Sonny Walsh gave their goalkeeper the proverbial "acres" of ground to operate safely in.

The outer trio also hurled themselves to a standstill. Larry Guinan blew man and ball away when the occasion demanded it of him and in every way he was an inspiring cap- tain.

Joe Condon, until his prema- ture departure, was hurling majestically, beating opponents with ease and both at left half and midfield Jim Irish kept his end up well. Nor can one forget the second half display of sub- stitute Tommy Hearne who had followed — regretting that he had not been introduced into the game earlier.

The original midfield pairing of Jackie Whelan and John O'Brien was not a success. The last minute defection of Jimmy Byrne necessitated this part- nership and both were re- placed before the second half got under way. Of the tried pairing the most successful was undoubtedly the Irish-Cheasty one. Cheasty ran riot at stages in the second half and was very unlucky with score-worthy efforts during that period.

But it was the forwards who fritted away the chances that might have brought about a re- versal of the outcome. Even Frankie Walsh was blotted out on this occasion and John Kir- wan and the hard-pulling Seamus Power were best of the sextet. Cork — F. O'Neill; P. Dolan, T. O'Donoghue, D. Murphy; P. C.B.S. FINALS TO-NIGHT

IT'S final time at the C.B.S. once more, and if the de- ciders this year are later than usual, there has been no diminution of interest. This year sees an innovation in so far that all three finals will be played on the one evening.

The younger age groups set the ball rolling at 7 p.m. this (Thursday) evening and the winners will be known half an hour later. It is hoped to have but a minimum delay between matches. At the end of the evening cups and medals will be presented in the school yard.

A feature of this year's pro- gramme is the fact that Mitchel St., have teams in all three finals. This is quite an achieve- ment and there should be quite a hosting present from that area to encourage the young stalwarts. What a feat it would be were Mitchels to conquer in all three grades!

Fé 10— MITCHEL ST. v. CASEVILLE — 7 p.m.

For many, this will be the match of the night. Nobody can possibly remain passively neu- tral in this game, for one is usually swept up into the en- thusiasm that radiates from the field and infects all on the sideline. This is an all-Ireland in miniature; and if any of the tots taking part in this game eventually find themselves treading Croke Park sod, they will scarcely experience any deeper emotion than will be theirs this evening. For one glorious half hour every "man" is a hero. What a thrill it is to see the young victors proudly stepping up to receive their medals, faces flushed with excitement. Here is a moment that will be indelibly etched on their memories, to be retained and nurtured when much of the more formal aspects of school life will be long forgotten.

Who'll win? Toss a coin—it's as good a way as any in hazard- ing a guess in a game such as this! Mitchel St.: J. Kelly; K. Don- nelly, T. Meehan, J. Mahony; S. Casey, D. Power, J. O'Donnell; J. Sullivan, R. McCarthy; L. Hughes, K. Regan, B. O'Don- nell; J. Power, J. Regan, R. Duggan.

Caseville: P. Noonan; P. Daly, D. Kelly, L. Hogan; P. Healy, S. Grant, P. Power; T. Healy, D. Egan; J. Healy, D. amount of times the favourites Egan, M. Fitzgerald; M. O'Shea, on the cards that it could hap- pen again. Caseville are the "dead certs" this time—a rating they richly deserve for con- sistant power-packed hurling. They are current champions and have let it be known that they in- tend holding on to the highly- prized trophy. There is always a special spirit running through all Caseville teams and they usually draw a large contingent of supporters to cheer them home.

Certainly the present outfit should give them lots to shout about. The defence is extremely solid, with Jimmy O'Donnell, Noel Sheehan, Michael Daly and Billy Kelly as the main- stays. The midfield pairing of Anselm Hayes and Hubert Hy- can repeat the effort. Looking down through the personnel of Pat McGrath, John Egan, Liam Egan and Paddy Tobin seem certain to figure prominently in attack.

Mitchels have trained as never before for this match. They know that the cards are van and John Tobin have full- loaded against them, but the filled a lot, hurling-wise, in a greater effort. They have their name on this trophy once more than their opponents of to-night — and they would dearly love to keep in front. Their big men in defence are Kieran Quinn (capt.), Pat Hac- kett and Diarmuid Hayes. Liam Sandford and Noel Duggan—the Rice Cup forwards—are at mid- field and their big men in at- tack are Michael Houlihan, Jimmy Power, and Paddy Sul- livan. If Mitchels settle down to all-out attacking hurling from the start, they are cer- tainly in it with a good chance. Mitchel St.: J. Hackett; P. Hackett, M. Sullivan, J. Sulli- van; D. Hayes, K. Quinn, J. Power; L. Sandford, N. Duggan; P. Sullivan, M. Houlihan, D. Wade; L. Duggan, J. Power, J. Quinn.

Caseville: J. Walsh; M. Daly, S. Flynn, N. Sheehan, M. Mona- han, J. O'Donnell, B. Kelly; A. Hayes, A. Hyslop; S. O'Donnell, P. McGrath, M. Fitzgerald; P. Tobin, J. Egan, L. Egan. GREAT ENTERTAINMENT
It all looks like adding up to a great evening's entertainment and no matter how it goes, this is certainly value for money. A lot of work has gone into this venture—one which should benefit hurling to a huge ex- tent in the years ahead. No matter what the future has in store for Waterford hurling, none can doubt but that "the school" has played a proud role in the cause of sport in the Decies.

RESOLUTE
But the restart brought forth a more resolute Waterford, and soon Cork became fully alive to the fact that they were far from being home and dried. Tom Creasty and Jim Irish were now at midfield; Tommy Hearne had taken over from Irish at left-half back where he proceeded to play a positive blinder and in a re-arranged attack, Philly Grimes found himself on the left of the half line. They were changes that bolstered up the side consider- ably and made Cork's fight for victory considerably more au- dacious than the half-time pos- ition would have indicated.

Then with only eleven min- utes of that second-half gone, and still only three points be- tween the sides, Joe Condon and Colm Sheehan were involved in a fracas that culminated in their dismissal. But of the two Waterford's loss was by far the greater, for up to this Con- don had been the kinglypin of a really great defence. But still Waterford, breeze or no breeze, refused to wilt. In fact if anything they began to gain a slight edge, and when they trailed by a mere two points seven minutes from time there wasn't a spectator in the ground who turned to- wards the exits. VITAL GOAL
Then came Cork's vital goal, an absolute gift, and now the Leesiders were five points clear. A further minor consol- idated their position still further and at last it seemed all over. But how wrong we were. With only three minutes left Frankie Walsh was left with a sitter from ten yards, but his blinding drive skimmed the wrong side of the post; and of
