Golden Jubilee Year of Dungarvan Show

ALL SET FOR BIG OCCASION

ON THURSDAY NEXT, July 29th, Dungarvan Show Society will celebrate its Golden Jubilee with the fiftieth year of their Agricultural Show. Founded in 1915, this Show has gone from strength with each succeeding year, and now to-day the Dungarvan Show is regarded as one of the foremost in the country. This year record entries have been received in all sections and indications are that this 50th Show will be a truly momentous one from every viewpoint.

This year also there is increased prize money with now over £1,000 to be won. Once again the Army Jumping team will be present and as always will be a very big attraction with the spectators.

During these days prior to the big day, the behind the scenes activity is intense. Mrs. Eunice Hockin in his first year as Secretary is doing a wonderful job of work to ensure that everything will be in order. Mrs. Jessie Coward, secretary of the Home Industries Section.

As usual the officials and mention individually, but all of them have given much time to the Show to enable us to enjoy ourselves. However, like all good organisations the Dungarvan Show Society is lucky to have dynamic men at the helm, in perfectionist President, Paul I. Power and far-seeing Con Dempsey as chairman. For all the stewards, officials and ladies of the catering committee, no praise is too high.

Now the stage is set. By Day all will be in readiness and we hope the weather will smile favourably as a token of appreciation at this mammoth undertaking.

A special feature this year is a heat in the Dairy Queen Competition.

More Successes for Local Karting Club

Members of Dungarvan Karting Club had further successes at Johnstown Castle, Co. Wexford, under appalling conditions on Sunday last.

In Class One, Liam O'Donnell, Kilrush, took first place whilst Tom Coffey had bad luck being fourth in two events.

His wife, Mrs. Joan Coffey, however, did excellently to finish second in a highly competitive ladies race.

GALA DAY AT VILLIERSTOWN

Villierstown Development Association is currently busy preparing for its annual gala to be held in the Village on Sunday, August 8th. Last year for the first time ever the Development Association promoted this Gala Day and it proved to be an unqualified success.

But now the energetic members who are responsible for this fete, hope to surpass even their wonderful efforts of last year. Many outstanding and attractive events have been lined up for the occasion and this very picturesque village is now preparing for its greatest ever influx of visitors.

Amongst the items that will make up the Gala Day are Water Skiing, Donkey Derby, Tug-o-War, Children's Fancy Dress, Irish Step Dancing, Open Air Dancing, Walking Races, followed that night by a social in the local hall. The gala will commence at 2 p.m.

Amongst those responsible for the organising of the gala are: Gerard Browne, Kevin O'Sullivan, Laurence Cottor, John Smith, Jack Treacy, Jas. Morrissey, Mrs. Rita Ronayne, Mrs. Mary Cotter, Mrs. Mary Crowe, Mrs. Madge Mernon and Mrs. Bridget Landers.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

HACKETT.—The sister and niece of the late Patrick Hackett, Ballylemon, wish to thank sincerely, all who sympathised with them in their bereavement; those who sent Mass cards and letters of sympathy. Trusting this will be accepted by all in grateful acknowledgment. The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass has been offered for their intentions.

TROY.—The brother and sisters of the late Bride Troy, of Helvic, Ring, thank, very sincerely, all those who sympathised with them in their recent sad bereavement; those who sent Mass cards and letters of sympathy; those who attended the funeral and High Mass and interment. They wish to thank in particular the doctor, sisters, nurses and general staff of Dungarvan Hospital, who treated her with expert skill and very great kindness during the last few weeks of her life. Holy Mass will be offered for the intentions of all in token of their appreciation.

WALSH.—The family of the late Catherine Walsh, Reana-dampoun, Ballymacarby, wish to thank all those who sympathised with them in their recent sad bereavement; those who sent Mass cards, telegrams. A special word of thanks to the priests of the parish, Fr. Walsh and Fr. Griffin and to the kind neighbours who helped in every way; also Dr. Donovan, who was most attentive during her long illness. The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass will be offered for their intentions.

IN MEMORIAM

COFFEY (3rd anniversary) — In sad and loving memory of Thomas Coffey, Shanbally Leamybrien, who died 21st July, 1962. On his soul: Sweet Jesus have mercy, Mass offered. —Sadly missed by his loving wife, son, daughter, brother and sisters.

FLYNN—Eternal rest grant unto the souls of my parents, Maurice and Johanna Flynn, Scrahan, Old Parish, whose anniversaries occur about this time. Our Lady of Lourdes pray for them—Mairead.

● ABBEYSIDE BEGIN ASSAULT ON CHAMPIONSHIP CROWN

Although Sunday next is Munster hurling final day, main Waterford interest will centre on Ferrybank where Abbeyside commence their assault on this year's senior hurling championship crown. Beaten finalists last year after a tremendous County final display against Mount Sion, the Villagers hope to go one better this year. But it is doubtful if they could have got much sterner first round opposition than the Portlaw/Ballyduff combination, whom many believe will prove the strongest opposition to Mount Sion this year.

It is a game that seems certain to be closely fought for the entire hour, and opinion is sharply divided as to the probable outcome. It promises however, to be a top-class encounter, and one well worth travelling a long way to see.

Abbeyside, however, must well be feeling somewhat despondent right now following their dismal display in last Friday's tournament final against Carrick Davins. In that game M. Roche simply ran riot, and he was the one who inspired the Davins to their resounding 21-points victory. That hurling massacre could well have repercussions in so far as the Villagers morale is concerned, but only Sunday next will tell what—if any effects—that shattering reverse had.

That display certainly gave rise to many questions of suspectness in Abbeyside's line-out. But then one must remember that they are never seen at their best until the championship chips are down, as they will be in no uncertain fashion on Sunday.

For the first time this year however, Abbeyside will be in the happy position of being able to call on all their first team regulars. That is something they have been unable to do right through this year thus far for a variety of different reasons and consequently I confidently expect them to surpass anything they have achieved since last year's county final.

At the time of writing their team has not been selected, but all players are in training and no surprises are envisaged.

After some experimenting it now seems likely that Pat Enright will again guard the net—a wise move in all the circumstances. And their defence will now be at its strongest with Austin Flynn at full-back flanked by John Browne and Bernard Shields. Now fully recovered from injury, Mick Kiely will be pivot of the defence, whilst a back in form John McGrath should have a steady influence on this line.

Danny Barry and Liam Enright—the tried and true, will probably team up at midfield, but the composition of their attack is at this stage a matter for conjecture. Duck Whelan and Ned Moore may occupy the centre and full forward berths, but after that I would not care to encroach on what will be the task of the selectors.

Ballyduff and Portlaw were two of the strongest teams in last year's intermediate championship, and combined, they now stand as worthy opposition for the best. In their outings to date since amalgamation they have fared extremely promisingly and have high hopes of ousting the Villagers.

Led by the indomitable Tom Cheasty who is playing great hurling just now, they are geared for a supreme effort on Sunday. But their team is far from being a one-man effort as it also contains Jackie Whelan and John O'Donnell of the county senior panel. Add to these Davy Fitzgerald, Frank Whelan and Patsy Stone of the County Intermediate side and one can readily appreciate just how formidable this group team is going to be.

It is a game that really could go either way. Both camps protrude indications of confidence and quite honestly the writer is in something of a quandary as to who to give the vote to. The Villagers if only on the basis of last year's championship displays may start slight favourites but it will come as no surprise in any quarter should the 'combo' survive.

Either way it should be an hour of thrills, with the issue in doubt right up to the final whistle.

● OLD RIVALRY IN MUNSTER FINAL

Whilst Waterford may ponder on the might have been, it will be like old times in Limerick on Sunday next when arch rivals Cork and Tipperary meet in the Provincial senior hurling final.

This is a game that should have the Ennis Road grounds,

Limerick bulging at the seams, for it is certain that the entire City and County of Cork will be there, whilst Tipp can also rely on tremendous vocal support.

Can the Leesiders take their first Munster title since 1956, or will Tipp chalk up their fifth in six years? Followers of both sides will give a very definite yes to these questions and I am prepared for a final in the best nerve wracking tradition of these great rivals.

Cork no doubt are hungry for success. There has been a long sojourn in the wilderness whilst the Premier County has ruled the roost in the hurling world. No county in the land can equal their imposing achievements of the last eight years, during which lucrative era they have gone to the top of the hurling honours list with 20 All-Ireland titles—more than the Leesiders.

But Sunday next means something more to Tipp. Seeking his eighth All-Ireland medal this year—an achievement gained only by the Ringer himself—the doyen of Tipp followers, the great John Doyle. I know from one of their own players that this is something they all desire to see happening, and they will put in an even greater effort on Sunday.

But Cork are ready, and confident of depositing the champions. For the occasion they have picked a re-arranged full forward line—John Bennett, the former Wexford and London star John Redmond and Patsy Harte. It is a trio of strong men and hard pullers and has been selected no doubt in an effort to break that phalanx formed by Doyle, Mick Maher and Kieran Carey.

Tipp, too, have met with their share of misfortune. Mick (Babs) Keating broke an arm on Sunday week and then came the news that Larry Kiely was out because of sinus trouble. To meet the emergency their mentors have introduced Paddy Dayle (brother of Jimmy) at left half-forward, with Liam Devanney now on the forty.

This will be a real 'no quarter given' Munster final. With each passing day confidence in a Cork victory grows and it promises to be a "humdinger". But somehow I cannot overlook the craft and experience of Tipp's rearguard—they have mastered speedsters 'ere nor the potency of their attack. These forwards—given a good supply are the deadliest in the game and with Theo English and Mick Roche available to do the needful in this respect, I believe the Tipp forwards will amass a winning tally. But Cork, ever dangerous in a Munster final, cannot be ruled out, and at worst will make the champions battle every inch of the way.

● TALLOW FAVOURITES AT LISMORE

What could well be one of the best games in the junior hurling championship is scheduled for Lismore on Sunday next when Tallow and Ballinacorney de battle in the second round.

Both these sides fancy their championship chances quite a lot this year, but whoever emerges victorious on Sunday will have earned victory the hard way.

Tallow it is said have a really formidable team this year, and on Sunday will start favourites to advance to the semi-final. They have been training diligently for some weeks past and are simply "rarin'-to-go". They do not underestimate the strength of the opposition, yet will not hear of defeat.

And none can deny the fact that they have the potential to go a long way in this campaign. Men like county goalkeeper Ned Power, Eddie Cunningham, John Lyons, Philly Cox and Claude Fitzgerald would be gladly handed a jersey in the higher grade by any club, and this quintet will spearhead their challenge on Sunday. They were deprived of the benefit of an outing on Tuesday night when their challenge with Dungarvan creamery was abandoned after five minutes owing to incessant rain.

But if Ballinacorney are outsiders, they like Tallow will not hear of defeat either. Their first round victory over Ballysaggart was laden with merit. Their defence is very strong, with able hurlers in Patsy McCarthy, Tommy Reynolds, Dodo Cliffe and P. J. Kiligrew. At midfield Mick Cashman will take a deal of holding whilst up front Tom Browne, Patsy Cashman and Tommy Kearns will be the main danger to the Tallow defence.

As already stated Tallow must be given the vote, but should they prevail they will be hard pressed to do so.

● WATERFORD TEAM FOR MUNSTER FINAL

The following is the Waterford to play Cork in the Munster Intermediate hurling final at Dungarvan on Sunday week August 1st—

P. Grady (Mount Sion); T. Walsh (Fourmilewater); J. Harney (Ballyduff); E. Hickey (Ballyduff Upper); O. Wilkinson (Tourin); J. O'Donnell (Ballyduff-Portlaw); F. Corcoran (Shamrocks); J. O'Gorman (Ballyduff Upper); F. Whelan (Ballyduff-Portlaw); D. Barry (Ballyduff Upper); K. Ryan (Fourmilewater); M. Reegan (Kill); D. Mahon (Mount Sion); N. Fitzgerald (Ballyduff-Portlaw).

Subs.—A. Glynn (Mt. Sion), D. Duggan (De La Salle), M. Power (do.), W. Tobin (Shamrocks), J. Moylan (Dungarvan), P. Hanrahan (Clonea), G. Mason (Cappoquin), P. Stone (Ballyduff-Portlaw).

● BALLYDUFF UPPER CONCEDE WALK-OVER

Last year's intermediate hurling champions, Ballyduff Upper, are not participating in this year's senior hurling championship. They were due to meet Ballygunner in the first round on Sunday next at Dungarvan but they have informed County Secretary Deuglan Guid that they are conceding a walk-over to the 'Gunners.

This indeed is another serious blow to hurling in the West, as now only the Brickeys and Abbeyside from the Division remain in the senior grade.

Unfortunately there has been internal trouble in the Ballyduff club for some time past and has now culminated in their withdrawal from the senior championship.

● GAELTACHT SCHOLARSHIPS

The oral examinations for Gaeltacht scholarships will be held on Monday evening, 26th July at 3 p.m.

The C.Y.M.S. Rooms, Dungarvan, will be the centre for boys from the West, an dMt. Sion school for the Eastern boys. All entrants are requested to attend at 2.30 p.m.

LATE FRANK RYAN

TALLOW

His many friends and admirers in all parts of Ireland and abroad were grieved at the unexpected death, on Saturday, of Frank Ryan, one of Ireland's most popular tenor singers. He died after only a week's illness, at his home, at Grange, Curraglass, Tallow, at the age of 64.

He had recently returned from a successful singing tour of the U.S., where he was as popular as he was at home. Frank Ryan was a native of Fermoy, Co. Cork, and started his singing career with the Fermoy Choral Society. His beautiful voice soon attracted note and he turned professional with the Dublin Operatic Society.

He won the Dublin Feis Ceoil tenor solo award in 1931 and won the Fr. Matthew Cup in Dublin and in Cork on four occasions.

In 1948 he sang in the Carnegie Hall, New York, and on several occasions he appeared with great success in the Albert Hall, London, with leading British and Continental singers. He toured America on five occasions. He also sang in France, Belgium and Italy.

Over the years he was a frequent performer in the Cork Opera House, both in opera and in concerts. Some weeks before the burning of the Opera House he scored a notable success in "The Lily of Killarney" with leading cross-Channel singers.

During the war years he frequently cycled to Cork from Tallow to take part in concerts. It was appropriate that his last public performance was in his native Fermoy, where only a few weeks ago (on the Feast of Corpus Christi), he sang delightfully with the Band of the Southern Command.

He joined the Irish Volunteers as a young man and became Commandant of the 2nd Battalion, West Waterford I.R.A. For many years he carried on business as a victualler with his sons at West Street, Tallow.

The funeral took place on Monday, from the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Tallow, to the adjoining cemetery, accompanied by an exceptionally large cortege.

Former comrades from the Tallow Brigade of the Old I.R.A. formed a guard of honour, while a firing party from the First Motor Squadron, Fermoy, fired volleys as the coffin was lowered into the grave. Lieut. Thomas Stapleton, Fermoy, was in charge of the firing party. Comdt. A. Lane, Brigade Adj., Southern Command, Cork (representing the President, Mr. de Valera) and Capt. R. B. Kealy, O.C., Southern Army Band, were also in attendance. Chief mourners were: Mrs. Josephine Ryan (widow); Messrs. Frank, Con and Kevin Ryan, Tallow (sons); Mrs. Myra Roche, Tallow (daughter); Mrs. Kathleen Turley, Ballynoe, Co. Cork and Miss Anna Ryan, The Square, Tallow (sisters); Mrs. K. Ryan, Mrs. C. Ryan and Mrs. F. Ryan, all of Tallow (daughters-in-law); Mr. Thomas Roche, Tallow (son-in-law).

The Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. John Beecher (H.M.S. Ariel, R.N.), first cousin of the deceased; the deacon was Rev. Paul Beecher, C.C., St. Mary's, Clonmel; sub-deacon was Rev. P. Cashman, S.J., Galway; Rev. J. Beecher officiated at the graveside. Other clergy present were: Rev. Fr. O'Brien, Couth African Missions; Rev. D. O'Byrne, C.C., Dungarvan; Very Rev. J. Ryan, P.P., Conna; Rev. Fr. Tuohig, C.C., do.; Rev. L. MacKey, Waterford; Rev. P. Qually, C.C., Lismore; Rev. D. Slattery, C.C., do.; Rev. S. Nugent, C.C., Glendine; Rev. M. McNamara,

"MISS CONNA"

Miss Julie Hennessey, Britway, Castletyons, was chosen "Miss Conna," at the Conna Carnival dance, held in the local hall. Twelve competed in the final. Miss Marie Cotter, Ballynoe, was runner-up, and Miss Marie Waters, Coolagown, was 3rd.

The winner qualifies for the Waterford Festival Queen Competition. In the event of the winner not being able to take part, her place may be taken by the runner-up.

Kilmacthomas Notes

Obituary—Sympathy in full measure is extended to the relatives of William Shanahan, Monameela, Dunhill, who was called to his eternal abode recently. Mr. Shanahan formerly resided at Ballinard, Kilmacthomas. His mortal remains were interred in Ballylancean, during the week. Rev. Fr. J. Flynn, C.C., officiated, and a huge amount of friends were present at the graveside.

Wedding.—Every good wish and congratulations to popular Kilmacthomas stationer, Garda Peter O'Reilly, who got married recently to Miss Anne Hanney, of Willerstown, Cappoquin.

Maera na Feirme.—The Kilross-ony branch of Maera na Feirme held a highly successful Field Day in Leamhriben last Thursday. Afterwards, many supported the dance held in the Rainbow Hall, Kilmacthomas, where music was supplied by the Whispers Showband.

Cheese Factory.—The new cheese factory at Kilmadden is expected to go into production very soon. Most of the workers have completed their training across Channel, and are fully fit to commence employment. Among the local boys who have just returned from England after their training period, are Pat Curran, Garrantrunton; Pat Foley, Faha; Eddie Mears, Ballinacorney; and M. Harris, McGrath's Cross.

Ynfhana.—At the annual gymnkhana in Ardmore recently, popular M'ss Pamela Fitzgerald, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Fitzgerald, Bllinasla, Bonmahon, won 3rd prize in one section on "Skipper." Winner of a special award was Mr. Larry O'Byrne's "Goldfinger," ridden by his son Jim.

Litter Baskets.—The villagers are glad to learn that Waterford Co. Council have decided to supply litter baskets for Bonmahon very soon, in an effort to keep this lovely seaside village tidy. Mr. J. Hally, County Engineer, expressed his desire that a car park should be provided in Bonmahon, and steps will be taken to erect one in the near future.

Civil Defence.—Four sections of the Civil Defence Organisation rescue, auxiliary fire, casualty and ambulance and welfare—were in Bonmahon recently, for a training session. Approximately 100 members were present, under the direction of Mr. Michael Dowling, City Estate Agent and Civil Defence Officer for the city.

Kilmac' Tech.—The long-awaited Vocational School for Kilmac' was once again the subject for discussion at the Parochial Hall, last week. Mr. John Rushe, C.E.O., attended, and he assured the attendance that the school would be erected as soon as possible—1966 perhaps. It was learned that the much-needed five-roomed building will cater for about fifty pupils.

Concert.—Great credit is due to the children of Kilmacthomas, who provided a memorable Variety Concert at the Rainbow Hall, last week. The youngsters, who were between the ages of four and fourteen, staged a lovely play, and held items of Irish dancing, singing and musical features. It was a great effort on the children's part and their long hours of careful practice were well rewarded.

G.A.A.—The Kilmac' fifteen stormed to victory over Fenor, last week, in the Juvenile hurling championship. Such a masterful display of clean, fast and skilful hurling has not been witnessed on the juvenile field for a long time. The score being 3-9 to Fenor's 1-8, qualified Kilmac' for the final, when they will oppose De La Salle, at Ferrybank to-day (Friday).

As a point of interest, this is the first time the Kilmac' juveniles have been in a hurling final since the 1920 team won. The late Davy Power, Mark and George Kiely were members of that team.

Stars of to-day's team are Tom Power, Jim Dee, Mick from a memorable visit to the New York World Fair, is Mr. Pat Sullivan, Walsh Pl., Kilmac' Youghal; O'Donnell family, Oklye; Motherway family, Ballinacorney; Mrs. Sean Murray, N.T., Killenaule, Co. Tipperary; Mrs. E. Morrison, Kilwatermoy, Mrs. Geary, Sapperton; Michael Ryan, Moorehill; Messrs. Tom, Jim and John Ryan, Cork, Mrs. S. Curran, Carrick-on-Suir (relatives); Mrs. Josephine Murray, Tramore; Mrs. Hanly, Miss Elizabeth Roche, Miss Helena Roche, Miss Anna Roche (sisters-in-law).

CHAMPIONS ARE THROUGH TO FINAL

Dungarvan ... 2-5 Affane ... 1-0

Affane's Western minor hurling championship hopes ended at Cappoquin on Friday night last when they went under by an eight point margin to the holders, Dungarvan, after a very disappointing game. This was all too easy for the holders, but they certainly failed to create any favourable impression against opponents who had determination but little else.

Carnegie.—Straibally ladies beat the Kilmacthomas team by a goal and a point at Straibally last week.

Wedding Bells.—The marriage of Mr. Patrick Wall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wall, Kilmurray, Slieverue, and Miss Mary Foran, N.T., Portlaoise, was solemnised with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing, at Newtown Parish Church, Kilmacthomas, this week. Miss Foran is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Foran, Ballyvad, Kilmacthomas. The ceremony was performed by Very Rev. Patk. Wall, P.P., St. Michael's, West Bromwich (uncle of the groom), assisted by Rev. Michael Rev. Rev. Thomas Wall, C.C., Ballylancean, cousins of the groom. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Kathleen Foran; while Mr. Joseph Lynch acted as best man. Given away by her father, the bride was beautifully attired in a ballet-length frock of white brocade, and wore a hip-length veil. She carried a bouquet of red carnations and maidenhair fern.

Yes, Dungarvan were as poor that in this semi-final. Their forwards in particular were deplorable, and 2-5 was a very meagre tally for the amount of play they enjoyed. Right through the first half

It was too one-sided a game to be of any interest. From the outset Dungarvan took the initiative but their forwards failed repeatedly to penetrate a rock-solid Affane defence and they made unnecessarily hard work of winning.

This, however, was not a display to augur well for Dungarvan's chances of retaining their Divisional crown this year. In fact, despite having the bulk of last year's winning team, they seem to have lost all the heart and fire which carried them to so many memorable victories twelve months ago, and on the evidence of this latest display, cannot entertain very high hopes of emerging from the Division for the second successive time.

The Dungarvan defence was never tested, and in fact Affane's lone score came from a 21-yard free by midfielder Monty Scanlon. Still Michael Norris, Pat Walsh and Sean Murphy shone.

At midfield Sean McGrath and a brilliant Johnny Reilly (the best hurler afield) laid out a plentiful service that was wasted by an attack that never clicked.

Affane made no pre-match pretences about their chances. They didn't expect to beat the holders but did far better than many expected. They had at least one thing Dungarvan hadn't got—heart, and this they used to best advantage. Goalkeeper Johnny Walsh played a real blinder and all six defenders never put a foot astray.

Monty Scanlon and Pat Dennis also tried all the knob but their forwards lacked the drive and skill to penetrate a solid Dungarvan defence. Referee: Jimmy Gorman (Tourin).

TALLOW NOTES

LATE FRANK RYAN.—The town of Tallow and surrounding areas was plunged in to sorrow on Saturday last when it was learned that Frank Ryan had passed away, at his residence, "The Grange," Curraglass. Frank had been ill for one week, but high hopes were entertained for his recovery. But this was not to be and he passed peacefully away on Saturday morning.

It is indeed sad to think that his fine tenor voice is stilled forever. Fame sat easily on his broad shoulders and he always remained the same humble Frank, with a smile on his face and a song on his lips.

A report of the obsequies appear elsewhere in this issue and it only remains for us to tender our deepest sympathy to his widow, sons, daughter, sister and relatives.

May the soil of his native land rest lightly upon his noble breast. R.I.P.

TALLOW MAN GETS £2,750.—Mr. John Geoghegan, Convent Street, Tallow, has settled his claim under the Workmen's Compensation Act, against Mr. M. O'Brien, Contractor, West Street, Tallow, for the sum of £2,750 and costs.

Mr. Geoghegan suffered a severe head injury whilst engaged in demolition of a house near Cork, some time ago. He was taken to hospital, where he remained for some time, but was eventually discharged. He is now recovering well.

Returned to U.S.—Mr. Patrick Aherne, who had been holidaying from the U.S., at the parental home at Ballyphilip, Knockanore, for the past three weeks, returned to the United States on Saturday last.

LATE MRS. NORA T. ROCHE.—The following are additional relatives who attended the obsequies of the late Mrs. Nora Theresa Roche, Moorehill, Tallow: Very Rev. M. Hunt, P.P., Los Angeles, California; Very Rev. J. O'Donnell, P.P., S.A.; Sister Carmel (Hunt), Waterford; O'Neill family, Carrigeen; Youghal; O'Donnell family, Oklye; Motherway family, Ballinacorney; Mrs. Winnie Murray, Cappoquin; Mr. Sean Murray, N.T., Killenaule, Co. N.F.A. Welcome LATE MISS MGT. COFFEY

Hayberg Test for Wheat

The N.F.A. welcomes the wheat announcement and Fisheries' announcement on wheat marketing for 1965, which is in accord with proposals put forward by the association. The introduction of the Hayberg Test as a replacement of the Maltose Test, which has been proved to operate in an unsatisfactory manner, is in the opinion of the Association a progressive step.

This clearly vindicates the stand taken by N.F.A. in June, 1964, when the Association withdrew its two directors from the Central Wheat Laboratory in protest against the retention of the Maltose Test as opposed to the Hayberg Test. Research work carried out by cereal chemists experts in recent years on the Maltose Test and on the Hayberg Test has revealed the following picture: 1. The Maltose Test cannot differentiate between Maltose due to sprouting & Maltose due to starch damage done in the milling process. Wheat should not be rejected on account of the starch damage the miller proposes to inflict on it.

2. It is too slow for the peak intake at harvest. 3. It requires a fully equipped laboratory and skilled personnel which is available only at flour mills.

1. Cereal chemists have shown the Hayberg Test to be a more reliable guide to millability and to be more consistent than the Maltose Test. 2. It is becoming internationally accepted as the test to be applied with sprouting damage is suspected. Progressive development of the Hayberg Test has now completely overcome the difficulties experienced with it in 1962.

3. It can be done quickly and with relatively simple equipment at all intake points. We feel that the use of the falling number method will give a more accurate division between millable and unmillable wheat and we look forward to the millers being able to use a greater proportion of native wheat in the grist.

However, it is important that there be an independent system of appeal, as there is in the case of the Moisture Test, to guard against the possibility of inaccuracies in the application of the falling number method. It is also essential that suitable standards be laid down for wheat at the 1965 harvest. The establishment of a fair system of standards with reliable and practical methods of testing for wheat millability is a matter of great national importance. The N.F.A. reaffirms its policy since the introduction of wheat testing, namely that the Minister for Agriculture should fix standards for millable wheat and establish the machinery by which these standards are implemented.

Neil Coles, of Coombe Hill, had a brilliant win in the Carrolls International tournament at Cork Golf Club when he returned a record-breaking score of 65, seven under fours, in the final round on Sunday afternoon in glorious weather conditions, beating Ryder Cup captain, Harry Westman and "Butten Boy" Tommy Horton into second place by six strokes.

It was a well-deserved victory, because he had been knocking at the door, when he was joint second with P. J. Butler, of Harborne, with a total of 270 in 1964, and with 272 in 1963 when he was second to Bernard Hunt's 270. Prior to that he had won 5th and 8th prizes. His score of 269 is the lowest he has returned in any tournament. "It always seem to make money in Ireland," he said, "I must come here more often."

He attributed most of his success to his driving and putting and said it was the first time this year he had met greens where he could really hit the ball up. And indeed Coles had a magical touch on the greens, with birdies at the 1st, 2nd, 6th, 11 and 12th, in his final round, and an eagle 3 at the 489 yards 5th, where he put a four iron six yards from the pin for his second shot.

It was a great finish to three days of international golf, which drew bigger crowds than at Woodbrook last year. Sunday morning saw only the golf enthusiasts on the course, prepared for conditions, which had a telling effect on the 45 qualifiers for the final 36 holes. Scores shot up, and Allis, Coop and Coles were the only ones to break 70. Eric Brown, who shared the overnight course record of 65 with Geirge Will, had a disastrous 77, while Horton and Westman could do better than 73. Christy O'Connor had a fine round of putting lapses and a final round of 71. By 1.30 p.m. conditions had improved and when the sun broke through, Little Island was a minor paradise. Then the crowds swarmed in. They were orderly and good humoured and if a little too talkative at wrong moments here and there, gave the stewards very little trouble and the players seemed impervious to the click of camera or the careless chatter of the children.

ARDMORE, KILL, MITCHELS FOR SECOND ROUND

ARDMORE	2-2	TRAMORE	0-4
KILL	3-10	BRICKEY RANGERS	0-2
JOHN MITCHELS	1-11	DUNGARVAN	0-8

SHOCK results failed to materialise on Sunday last, when the three first round senior football championship ties at Dungarvan saw the winners in each case justifying pre-match favourites. The afternoon games in which Ardmore and Kill emerged victorious, were marred to a considerable extent by almost torrential rain, and the few dozen spectators over all received poor value for money. The night game however, was played under ideal conditions and attracted a fine attendance but after an evenly contested first half Mitchels drew away after the resumption and won with ease in the end.

Tramore Unlucky

The opening game between Ardmore and Tramore was spoilt completely as a spectacle for those present by the heavy rain which fell continuously throughout. Note taking under such atrocious conditions was out of the question, and consequently the writer cannot go into scoring detail. But what a pity this tie was played under such unpleasant conditions. As it was, the sides put everything into it, and despite the elements succeeded to some extent to serve up worthwhile fare. For had this game been played on a dry day, then it is my firm belief that we would have witnessed one of the finest games of the entire championship.

Straight off the reel, let me state that Ardmore deserved to advance to the second round. They were short of a few of their regulars, including star midfielder John Joe Carlton, and in the circumstances did well to prevail.

But there can be no denying the fact that Tramore were unlucky, and a four point deficit at the end was a gross injustice to their efforts over the hour. Territorially, they had every bit as much of the play as the winners, but their forwards could not find the scoring range, and many very feasible chances were not capitalised on. This was particularly true in the opening half when Tramore dominated the exchanges to an extent that must have been little short of alarming for Ardmore mentors. In fact for the opening ten minutes the ball travelled into the Tramore defence line on no more than two or three occasions, and during this period the Ardmore goal area underwent a real football bombardment. But the scores just would not come, and at least four points went begging through inexcusable inaccuracy.

The losers almost inevitably opened the scoring with a point in the 12th minute and shortly afterwards they added their second. Then the winners enjoyed a lucrative spell and a point on the quarter hour reduced the arrears. But then came one of the game's most decisive scores. A centre from about thirty yards out was completely misjudged by the Tramore goalkeeper, and the ball wound up in the net. Thereafter it was all Tramore, but still they could not pile up the scores, and the winners, against the run of play, led by 1-1 to 0-2 at the interval.

An early exchange of second half points was followed by Ardmore's second goal—a score that put paid to Tramore's hitherto bright hopes of upsetting the odds. To their credit they tried all they knew to the very end, but Ardmore had by now got a firm grip on the exchanges, and they were well in control throughout the closing quarter.

But even making allowances for the fact that Ardmore were short three who can be termed regulars, their display on Sunday last left a lot to be desired. Not too surprisingly they did not relish the underfoot conditions, and certainly they must step up considerably on this form if their championship aspirations are to remain alive.

Not for the first time, they owe a considerable slice of thanks for victory to their goalkeeper John Colbert. His handling of the wet ball was masterly, and over the hour brought off some really fine saves.

Their defence was taxed to the limit during the opening half, when Tramore moved fluently outfield. But the defenders got to grips with their opponents after the change of ends, and then it was that Tommy Power, Eddie Mooney, Noel Power and Bertie Hallahan were seen at their best. All missed at midfield, and although the attack was left without service for long periods in the first half, the sector still needs more scoring power. On Sunday last, Jim Rooney and Fin Hallahan took the honours in the sector.

Tramore must be feeling somewhat despondent, and not without good reason. They had their chances of winning this game and did not take them whilst the concession of a very soft first goal also made their bid for victory all the harder. But outfield they played some really fine football and are undoubtedly a team of more than a little potential.

Prominent for them were John O'Brien, Freddie Garvey and Lorcan Wall in defence; Michael Power at midfield, and Dunne and Mernon in attack.

So Easy for Kill

The final 3-10 to 0-2 scoreline just about sums up how easy this was for Kill, against a Brickey side that must surely be rated the poorest to ever represent the club in the senior championship.

It was, with the exception of the opening five minutes, as one sided a game as ever I have seen. Missing was the rivalry that has become traditional between these clubs, and all in all it was completely lacking in championship verve.

The Brickets played as though defeat was inevitable. At an early stage they looked, and were in fact, leg weary, and Kill, enjoying a tremendous advantage on the score of fitness, set a pace that had many of the losers with "bellow to mend" long before the end of the hour. Once Kill found the scoring range at all the game was as good as over, and had their forwards in fact availed of all the chances that came their way then it would have been an even greater rout.

It is impossible to indicate exactly what has gone wrong with the once great Brickets. Champions only a short two years ago, they were, on Sunday last pathetically feeble. For this game only a handful of their players kicked a ball around a few nights prior to the game, and it is this lack of complete interest I would say which has now placed them firmly at the bottom of the football ladder. They were truly a disinterested lot on Sunday, and played in a manner which suggested that they were merely fulfilling a fixture.

No club in this county can surpass the great football tradition which the Brickets have established over the years. But with the winning of their first senior championship crown in '63, interest waned altogether, and now it is with extreme difficulty that they field a team at all.

So poor was the opposition on Sunday that it is difficult to assess accurately the real worth of Kill. To the writer, however, there was no mistaking their fluency of movement, and I believe that they will be vitally involved in the closing stages of this championship.

The game was as good as over at the interval when Kill led by 2-5 to nil. For the first five minutes of this half the Rangers looked capable of putting off worthwhile opposition and did not concede a score. But once Kill drew first blood with a point the game was as good as over. The losers did open the second half scoring with a point by Justin Spratt, but again Kill assumed complete control, and coasted to a facile seventeen points victory.

So poor was the opposition provided, that Kill looked a team of all talents. But there can still be no disputing the worth of their side. Their defence got little to do on Sunday and what did come their way was expertly dealt with by all six defenders.

At midfield it was all Kill with Martin Kennedy and Monty Guiry reigning supreme. Guiry in particular, was in sparkling form, and scored a great first half goal after a defence splitting solo.

Their final tally gives a true indication of the kind of form their forwards were in, and Paddy Duggan, Noel Power and Mick Regan all had "field days."

It is senseless being too critical of the Brickets. They were not adequately prepared for this exacting test, and even the players themselves never held out any hope of victory.

In most sectors they found the going too tough and the only ones to hold up their end were Nicholas McGrath, Fintan Gee, Jim, Michael and Justin Spratt, Mick Farrell (in spasms) and substitute John Sheehan.

Mitchels Took Over in Second Half

The much-vaunted Dungarvan challenge to John Mitchels lasted but one half hour, and then petered out like a damp squib. Over the hour the honours went to the better side, but in victory Mitchels were far from over impressive.

Dungarvan, on the other hand, were disappointing to say the least. Trained to the tee, they were superbly fit, but, with the exception of a few, were without heart or determination. The selectors also must come "under the hammer," and it is not unjust to shoulder them with some of the blame for defeat. They sat right through the hour without making a personnel change, when it was quite obvious there was a crying need for such changes.

For half an hour the Blues flattered to deceive at the end of which they were level at 0-4 each, and appeared to stand an excellent chance of winning. Throughout the second quarter of that half they were completely on top, and were, in fact, deserving of an interval lead.

They started sluggishly, and it was Mitchels who asserted early dominance. In the first quarter they dictated the exchanges all over the field, and a runaway victory seemed likely when they piled up four points without a Dungarvan reply. But then the Blues shook off the lethargy which had shrouded them up to this and for the rest of the half Mitchels were confined to their own domain, defending desperately.

Their defence stood up to the pressure well in the circumstances, but the concession of frees proved costly as three Jim Byrnes pointed close in frees. These scores, together with a splendidly punched point by Martin Farrell left the sides level at the break, and so well had Dungarvan finished the half that it was anyone's guess as to the final outcome.

But few could have possibly envisaged Dungarvan's second half eclipse. Soon the side was drained of all spirit, and despite the heroic work of a few, the tide began to flow strongly against them. A brace of points restored the Mitchels lead and then Billy Kirwan eluded the defence to crash home a great goal—the ball being helped en transit by corner-back Pat Noctor. That was the end as far as Dungarvan were concerned, and though they held their own for the rest of the half, they did not look like overhauling the Mitchels. They did experience very hard luck late in the game when a drive that had goal written all over it, came thudding back off the cross bar, whilst a similar effort in the first half by Jim Byrnes was also kept out only by the intervention of the cross bar.

Still none can dispute Mitchels right to advancement in this championship. They were not nearly as fit as Dungarvan, and still overcame the handicap to win with something to spare. This was not Mitchels at their best, and Dungarvan undoubtedly missed out on a great opportunity of causing an upset.

The winners defence was eminently sound, with Wally Connors the key figure at centre-back. Connors gave a superb exhibition and outplayed a succession of opponents with ease. Others to shine in the sector were Seamas Kenny and Sean Power. Dungarvan offered stiff resistance at midfield, and good though Noel Kirwan and Rogie Connors (until he retired with a dislocated shoulder) they were never given much freedom in an area where John Moylan starred for the losers.

The C.B.S. Street League finals, played last week, provided some very fine entertainment. The one regret of the evening was that only one of the three games was close and the winners of the others were known long before the final whistle.

No street brought off a double and Mitchel St. had to be content with victory in only one of the finals, though they contested all three. Bearing in mind the ages of the participants, the hurling in all three grades was excellent, with the under twelves probably deserving the highest praise.

The Mitchels attack, however, was ever-dangerous. Tommy Kirwan could never be contained; Billy repeatedly showed flashes of the genius which made him a star in the highest company, and Michael Kirwan and Sam Hanrahan also caught the eye.

Dungarvan were unfortunately fortunate to lose full-back Eamonn McCarthy early on with an ankle injury and in this defensive sector team captain Connor Curran played his heart out in giving a top class display. Tom Cunningham, after a fruitless sojourn at centre-forward, moved with success to centre-back but was still not as prominent as expected. In the full line, Michael Lewis was easily best of the trio and saved an almost certain first half goal with a great goal-line clearance.

At midfield John Moylan was both effective and tireless and in attack Jim Byrne was the real danger although Martin Farrell showed his best form when moved up.

Fé 12 — Corn Bowman MITCHEL ST. v. SHANDON

As was expected, this proved to be the best match of the evening. Mitchels started as favourites, but Shandon mustn't have heard of this for they took a firm grip on the game from the beginning and never let go. First-class hurling and team spirit won this game against the odds and the match gave further proof that these lads are going to be a real power when they are old enough for the Rice Cup.

Every man of the winning team deserves the highest praise. Some, nonetheless, towered above others. Michael O'Gorman, Larry Hickey and Jim Curran were the pick of the backs. Paudie Flynn (capt.) and Roger Casey had grand games at midfield and Patrick Meehan had his best-ever game in the forwards, where he was well aided by Kevin Evans, Tony Moore and James Lynch. But everyone of the side played his part to the full. Besides those already mentioned, John Hickey, Stephen Keane, the Moloney brothers, Bernard and Peter, Michael Flynn and Peter Mahoney, deserve great praise. John Hickey was a very sound goalkeeper.

This was a sad blow for a gallant Mitchels team, for it was their first defeat in the whole campaign. Perhaps they thought it was just too easy and the real damage was done before they realised it. Patsie Hackett did all one man could do to rally his team, but even he was having a tough time of it against the storming Shandon outfit. Donal Wade, Francis Power and Paddy Walsh worked like heroes in defence. John Tobin had a grand game and Liam Tobin, Jimmy Power and Leonard Duggan fought for all they were worth for the scores to win the game. They were not to get them, however, and score: 4-3 to 2-0.

Shandon eventually won on the day, but this time nobody would dearly love to see again: freed from the fetters of "big match" nerves. On the day, however, there was absolutely no fluke about Shandon's victory. They controlled the game from the start and never gave their fancied opponents the slightest chance to settle down.

Another defeat for Mitchels here, but this time nobody was surprised. Caseyville carried far too many "big guns" against an extremely young Mitchels side. Evidence of this is that the latter will have no fewer than ten of the side available for next year and four for the following year. They made a brave enough show of it in the first half, but were completely "snowed under" by an avalanche of scores after half time.

Kieran Quinn, Dermot Hayes, Patsie Hackett and John Sullivan did all they knew to stem the tide. Liam Sanford and Noel Duggan could never quite match their opponents at centre-field, yet they kept plugging away right to the end. The forwards, four of whom had played in the previous match, were never able to make any headway against an extremely solid Caseyville defence.

Fé 14—Corn Uí Loingsigh—CASEVILLE v. MITCHEL ST.

This was a very well balanced fifteen from the champions. From the beginning they suggested supreme confidence and brushed aside all opposition. Their defence was almost impenetrable, and rarely can a goalie have had such a lean time as John Walsh. Mike Daly, Jimmy O'Donnell and a Noel Sheehan were the stars here. Anselm Hayes and Hubert Hyslop (capt.) lorded it in the centre and rained in a non-stop supply of the ball to the eager forwards. The same forwards gratefully seized all opportunities, especially Pat McGrath, John Egan, Paddy Tobin and Liam Egan.

The cups and medals were presented after the game. The occasion was graced by the much-appreciated attendance of Ven. Archdeacon D. Power, accompanied by Rev. Fr. D. O'Byrne. Also in attendance were: Rev. Bro. Hegarty, Superior; Mr. P. J. Lynch, who donated the excellent trophy, and members of the community. In the course of a most eloquent address, the Ven. Archdeacon lauded the work of the Brothers on behalf of gaelic games. He referred back to the wonderful reputation earned for Dungarvan by the Erin's Hopes and Shandon Rovers teams of other years and confidently forecast that the teams on display that night would adequately assume their mantle in the years ahead. Rev. Fr. O'Byrne congratulated all concerned for the evening's entertainment.

Amidst scenes of jubilation, the trophies were presented and three victorious and very happy sets of youngsters marched proudly to their respective citadels.

Thus, the curtain rang down on another year's activities at the C.B.S., and once again "progress was reported."
