Greyhound Partnership Has Court Sequel

A PARTNERSHIP formed in November, 1961, in the business of breeding, racing and selling greyhounds had a sequel on Friday last when the parties were involved in a Circuit Court Action before Judge Sean Mac D. Fawcitt. Plaintiff in the case is Patrick Francis Foley, Merchant, St. Rita's, Abbeyside, and the defendant is James Walsh, farmer, of Coolnaagour, Dungarvan.

Foley in his claim asked the Court that an account be taken of the dealings and transactions of the partnership and that the affairs of the partnership be wound up under the direction of the Court.

In his statement, of claim, Foley set out that in or about November, 1961, he and Walsh became partners in the business of breeding, racing and selling of greyhounds and their progeny. The capital stock of the partnership comprised of greyhounds which might from time to time be acquired by the partnership pursuant to an agreement that the plaintiff and the defendant would, during the continuation of the partnership, be responsible each one for half the cost of the purchase, service fees and keep of the greyhounds and that the profits deriving therefrom should be divided between them in equal shares.

The plaintiff's statement of claim went on to state that in November 1961, the plaintiff and the defendant leased free of charge a greyhound bitch known as Irish Blue from Philip Kenney, Borrisaleigh, Co. Tipperary, under an agreement whereby Kenny was to receive a bitch and a dog from any litter of pups Irish Blue would give birth to. In February, 1962, Irish Blue gave birth to two dogs and two bitches and after one of the dogs was given by agreement to Kenny the remaining animals were registered in the name of the partnership and called Coolnaagour Bell, Coolnaagour Express and Coolnaagour Ranger.

"Bell" was useless and was disposed of and "Ranger" was sold for £42 and the money was paid into the partnership funds. "Express" remained an asset to the partnership.

In December, 1961, the partnership purchased a greyhound bitch named Beechmount Flash for £15 and she was registered in the name of the partnership. In April, '62 she gave birth to a litter of six dogs and three bitches by Cheerful Catapult. In October,

'62, one dog and one bitch pup were sold un-named for £40 which was paid into the funds of the partnership and to the defendant. Subsequently a further un-named pup was sold for £30 and a further dog pup was sold for £20. The remaining pups were retained by the partnership and named Coolnaagour Pilot, Coolnaagour Queen, Coolnaagour Rover and Coolnaagour Rambler.

"Rambler" was sold for £150 and "Rover" for £75 and these monies were paid into the assets of the partnership. "Pilot" and "Queen" were given away free.

In October, '63, the greyhound bitch Beechmount Flash gave birth to five pups by The Grand Fire—namely three dogs and two bitches and they were registered in the name of the partnership. In May, '63, two bitches of the litter were sold un-named for £30 and this money was also paid into the assets of the partnership. The three dogs remaining were Coolnaagour Ace, Coolnaagour Dairy and Coolnaagour Fire.

The statement of claim states that "Ace" was still an asset of the partnership and was registered as such. "Dairy" was killed by a motor car driven by the defendant and on November 6th, '64, Coolnaagour Fire was sold to Patrick Sweeney of Reading for £1,200. This money was paid into the Munster and Leinster Bank Ltd., Dungarvan.

On March 19th this year, the remaining animals Beechmount Flash, Coolnaagour Ace and Coolnaagour Express and her pups were sold by the defendant at Clonmel race track for the sums of £25, £20 and £21 respectively. The said animals were sold at an undervalue and "Ace," "Express" and her pups were subsequently repurchased by the defendant's father at an undisclosed price. The defendant had not accounted to the plaintiff in regard to his dealing with the said animals and their re-sale.

The financial dealing of the partnership had at all times been conducted by the defendant who had failed properly to account to the plaintiff in relation to same, the statement of claim sets out.

The plaintiff by notice to the defendant on March 23rd, 1965 duly terminated the partnership from March 19th, 1965.

In direct evidence, the plaintiff said the partnership was entered into on a 50-50 basis. On March 19th this year he attended a dog sale in Clonmel. He brought some animals in his car and the defendant brought the rest in his. The animals brought were Coolnaagour Express and five pups, Coolnaagour Ace and Beechmount Flash. "Ace" was entered in a pre-sale trial race but finished last. The auction took place afterwards and "Express" and the five pups were sold together for £21. Beechmount Flash was sold for £20 and "Ace" for £25.

All except "Ace" were sold back to the defendant's father but he was never told what price was paid for them. The pups were subsequently advertised for sale by Mr. Walsh senior, but he (witness) did not know if they were sold or what happened to them. His solicitor wrote to the Walshs but no information was forthcoming. The price obtained for them when they sold them at Clonmel was very disappointing and should have been some what more. £25 was the service fee for the pups.

Replying to Mr. F. Morris (instructed by Farrell & Morrissey Solrs.) for the defendant witness said he did all the correspondence in the partnership. He also visited Walsh's often to see the greyhounds.

Mr. Morris—Do you consider yourself an authority...on greyhounds?
...Witness—No.

Judge Fawcitt said he could not allow the allegation set forth in the Civil Bill regarding the sale of the animals. The auction was a public one and unless it could be shown that the auctioneer or the vendors used some influence he would have to hold that the auction was fair and above board. The prices obtained for the animals was not to be questioned.

Judge Fawcitt ordered that as and from March 19th, 1965, the partnership was dissolved and he ordered the County Registrar to make an enquiry into the accounts and assets of the partnership. He reserved the question of costs until the case came before him again. He allowed the costs of the day against the plaintiff.

The Show this year also attracted a record attendance. Far and away the greatest interest was concentrated on the jumping events in which the standard was exceptionally high. Everything went off without a hitch. Mrs. Eunice Hockin, Secretary, and Mrs. Jessie Coward, Secretary of the Home Industries Section kept everything moving smoothly and all in all this 50th year of the Show was an unqualified success.

The annual Show Dance will be held in Clonea to-night (8-2)

On Saturday next, July 31st, Garda William Giblin, Dungarvan, will retire from the force after 34 unbroken years of outstanding service in the Old Boro' town.

A native of Co. Galway, Bill, as he is so popularly known throughout the district, came to Dungarvan in 1931 after serving in County Kerry and then in Kilmacthomas.

Through all those years he has earned for himself the admiration and respect of the Dungarvan townspeople. Courteous, considerate and above all, highly efficient, he has served with brilliance under a long list of different Superintendents. It will indeed be strange after all these years to see him permanently "out of uniform," but he has earned his rest, and we happily report that he is going to continue residing in Dungarvan, where he has made so many friends.

In appreciation of his service and to mark the occasion of his retirement, a special function was held in the Devonshire Arms Hotel, Dungarvan, on Wednesday night of last week (July 21st), at which a beautiful chiming clock was presented to Garda Giblin. The presentation was made by Supt. Matt English on behalf of the gardai of Dungarvan district.

Present at the function were gardai representing all stations in the district as well as many of Guard Giblin's old comrades who themselves are also in retirement.

To Garda Giblin we say thanks and congratulations for a job well done, and we extend very best wishes to him for a long and happy retirement.

CAPPOQUIN YOUGHAL NOTES

DEATH OF MRS. H. MURRAY

We announce with regret the death of Mrs. Hanora Murray, of Norrisland, which took place on Thursday, 22nd inst., at her daughter's residence, Mill Street, The deceased lady was the wife of Mr. Michael Murray, Norrisland, to whom and to the members of his family, sympathy is extended in their bereavement.

Large numbers were present when the remains were removed to St. Mary's Church, on Friday evening and there was also a very large and representative attendance at the funeral to St. Declan's Cemetery, on the following day. Very Rev. J. Canon Kennealy, P.P., and Rev. E. MacSweeney, C.S.S.P., officiated on both occasions.

The immediate mourners were Mrs. M. Murray (husband), James, Michael, Denis, and Thomas (sons); Mrs. M. Doran, Stevenage, Mrs. L. Cahill, Cappoquin, Mrs. B. Grace, Dublin (daughters); James Collender, Tourin (brother); nephews, nieces, grandchildren, etc.

(Funeral arrangements by A. Walsh and Sons, Cappoquin.)

YOUGHAL MEN DIE IN SHIP BLAZE

News was received in Youghal on Friday last with deep regret that four members of the crew, two from Youghal, on the Irish cargo ship, Syca, were killed in a fire which broke out on the Mississippi, the vessel which was on her way to Liverpool. The two Youghal men who were killed were James Sarsfield, Terrace, Youghal, and a second son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Ring, who joined the crew in March last on his first voyage and was ex-Summerfield, Youghal, on the ship. The other two who were killed were William Galle (27) (Joe Galle), formerly of the Mall, Youghal, whose parents reside in Youghal, and Miss G. Fitzgerald, of the Mall, who was seven years of age when he went to sea and he signed on with the Sycamore in Cork last March. He also was expected home in Youghal about next Christmas. According to the account from the captain of the ship the fire was discovered in the crew's quarters about 4 a.m. on July 21st and he believed that the four men were overcome by the fumes. The Sycamore is on a time charter operating in the Far East between Japan and U.S.A. The relatives of the two Youghal victims have been notified that the bodies are to be taken home for burial. They are to return in about two weeks time on one of the Irish Sycamore's sister ships, the Irish Maple. Deep sympathy is extended to the bereaved families in their great sorrow.

DISAPPOINTED BLAXERS

To the great disappointment of the members of both teams and supporters, the final of the Sheehan Cup, between juvenile sides representing Avonmore and Abbotside, fixed for Dungarvan last Sunday evening was not played. The announcement that the pitch was not available came as a surprise to all concerned.

LITTER BINS

During the week extra litter bins and replacements were placed on the side walks. It is to be hoped that they will be used for the purpose intended and our streets kept free from unsightly paper, etc.

ROWING CLUB MEETING

We are informed that at a meeting of the Committee of the Rowing Club unanimous approval was given to the captain's action in withdrawing the Cadet Crew from competition at the Metropolitan Regatta. It was also decided to report the circumstances to the I.A.R.U., and send a formal protest to the Regatta Committee.

AMERICAN HOLIDAY

Mr. Maurice Morrissey of the staff of Lehan's Garage, left Shannon Airport on Monday, accompanied by his daughter, for New York, where he will spend a vacation.

OPERA FESTIVAL

We learn that a number of music-lovers from here will go to see some of the productions at the coming Waterford Festival. Booking for same is being done by Mrs. J. McGrath, Mill Street.

NEXT SUNDAY'S MATCH

Intermediate hurlers representing old rivals Shamrocks and Tourin will meet on next Sunday evening, at 7.45 in the first round of the Field Improvements Tournament. The prizes, on display in Mr. Longene's, are a handsome cup and a set of medals. The second round pairing is: Cappoquin v. Fourmilewater.

FIREWORKS

The local energetic Regatta Committee are making final arrangements for the annual regatta and fireworks display, to take place in Youghal, on Sunday, 8th August, when there will be a recital on the Pier Head by the Fermoy Confraternity Brass and Reed Band.

THE WEEK-END

Despite the fact that Youghal experienced heavy rain on Sunday last up to midday, the visitors by both rail and road were as big as ever and prominent amongst the motorists were a very large number of G.B. cars. Two recitals were given in the Green Park at 3 and 7.30 p.m. by the Fermoy Confraternity Prize Brass and Reed Band. The receipts, as a result of the recitals, went to the local committee catering for mentally handicapped people who are doing great work since its formation three years ago.

Late Mrs. C. Crowley

DROMORE, AGLISH

The death took place in St. Joseph's Hospital, Dungarvan, on the 18th July, of Mrs. Catherine Crowley, Dromore, Aglish. She was the wife of Mr. Michael Crowley and had reached an advanced age.

The remains were removed on Monday evening to Aglish Church and were received and blessed by Rev. J. F. Morrissey, C.C. At the funeral on Tuesday morning, in the adjoining cemetery, Very Rev. D. Quinlan, P.P., officiated.

Relatives bereaved include: John, Dromore, Thomas, do., Surndon, William, Tooting (sons); Mrs. K. Elliott, Clapham, Mrs. J. Eaves, Acton. Mrs. B. Spooner, Chicago, Mrs. Mountain, Dromore, Mrs. Margaret Crowley, Chicago (daughters), grandchildren, etc.

(Undertaking by A. Walsh & Sons, Cappoquin.)

YOUGHAL SHOW SOCIETY

The Youghal Show Society will hold its sixth annual horticultural show at the Town Hall, Youghal, on August 11th and 12th. Judging from the entries already received it promises to be a very successful one. In connection with the show an event that attracts much interest in the past will be the selection and crowning of the Floral Queen.

YOUGHAL ATHLETES' GREAT WIN

Another great win by the local runner, Paddy Coleman, on Sunday last when he won the five mile championship in 22 minutes 21.5 seconds. He was followed by J. Hodgins, U.C.C., second and B. Buckley of Grange third.

FLORIDATION OF WATER SUPPLY

Cork Health Authority wrote Youghal Urban Council re floridation of the town's piped water supply asking that the necessary arrangements be made to carry out the work in understanding that all expenditure involved will be borne by the Health Authority.

SPRATT INDUSTRY

A specially convened meeting was held recently in the League Hall under the chairmanship of Mr. John Murphy, Chairman of the Fishermen's Association, in connection with the finding of a towed spratt in the harbour and bay for some time past. The Regional Officer of Bord Iascaigh Mhara, Mr. Daniel Drake, addressing the meeting, gave a most comprehensive survey of the spratt industry and its potential. He said that the Board had now procured a market for unlimited supplies of spratts netted in Youghal. He was pleased to be informed that the local fishermen had boats, nets and essential gear available so that there would be no undue delay in commencing operations. He also informed the meeting that the matter of a surplus supply of food could be used for the manufacture of fishmeal. It is understood that operations will commence after the close of the salmon net season on July 31st.

BRITISH SEA-SCOUTS VISIT

Recently the schooner, "Sea Hawk" came into the harbour and moored alongside the Pier Head. On board were eleven sea scouts of the 6th Barry Group of South Wales. They were on a two weeks cruise of the South coast and arrived in Youghal from Dunmore East where they spent three days. The Sea Hawk is a 35 foot converted life boat similar to the local R.N.L.I. boat. It was acquired by the group three years ago for £300 and the cost for its fitting out was borne by a Barry business firm. This is the first occasion on which scouts have sailed outside English waters. The craft got a great ovation from the townspeople when it steamed out the harbour on last Thursday.

REGATTA AND FIREWORKS

The local energetic Regatta Committee are making final arrangements for the annual regatta and fireworks display, to take place in Youghal, on Sunday, 8th August, when there will be a recital on the Pier Head by the Fermoy Confraternity Brass and Reed Band.

ALL-IRELAND TUG-O-WAR

Ballyduff will have a big day on Sunday, 15th August, when the Beamish and Carling sponsored All-Ireland Tug-O-War championship will be held there. The road known as "Boreen Fork" from the Mackey Monument to the four cross roads, is in a shocking condition at present. Rains have cut channels in the road surface, making it almost impassable. The long-suffering residents, whom this road serves are up in revolt against the Waterford County Council, and indeed they have a just cause.

NO FOUNDATION TO COMPLAINT

At last Monday's meeting of Waterford Health Authority, Mr. John Fahey, T.D., said it had come to his notice that patients going long journeys in the ambulances might be affected by the diesel fumes. He asked if any of the officials had received any such complaints.

Mr. C. Curran said he received a similar complaint. Acting Secretary Mr. F. Monaghan said they had received no such complaints.

TALLOW NOTES

RETURNED TO U.S.

Miss P. Morrisson, formerly of Kiltwatermoy, Tallow, who had been on a six week's holiday from the United States, left Shannon Airport, on Saturday, on the return journey to the U.S.

Mr. Patrick Aherne, Ballyphillip, Knockanore, also returned to the U.S. after spending a holiday at home.

WEDDING BELLS: COFFEY & KEANE

The wedding took place at the Church of the Holy Cross, Kiltwatermoy, on Saturday, July 17, of Mr. Patrick Coffey, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Coffey, Feddaun, Melleray, and Agnes Keane, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Keane, Ballymore, Tallow.

The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass and Pupal Blessing, was performed by Rev. Fr. Laurence Sheridan, S.D.B., Farnborough, Hants, England (cousin of the bride), assisted by Rev. Sean Nugent, C.C., Glendine. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a white embroidered brocade frock with nylon veil. The bridesmaid was Miss Theresa Ryan (niece of the bride) and the best man was Mr. Michael Coffey (brother of the groom).

WATER SUPPLY BREAKDOWN

For the third time in four years, the Tinnock-D'Loughane water supply is out of action and consumers have been without water for the past few weeks. This is considered most unsatisfactory (the people affected have had to draw water in barrels for domestic and agricultural purposes) and there has been much criticism of the long delay in having the supply restored. Last week the people concerned lodged a protest with the local members of the Council and pointed out that they are left without water at a period when they need it most. They stated that in view of the latest breakdown, they will have to consider seeking an alternative.

SYMPATHY

Sincere sympathy is extended to the Trehy family, Knockalishan, Nire Valley, on the death of their father, which occurred at his home on Sunday, 18th July. An exceptionally large number of relatives and friends attended the removal of the remains to St. Laurence's Church, Four-Mile-Water, on Monday evening and again at his funeral on the following day to the family burial ground, at Knockboy Cemetery, R.I.P.

PRESENTATION

Mr. James B. Moloney, N.T. (county board chairman G.A.A.) was recently presented with an 8-day clock by the members of the Fourmilewater hurling club. The presentation was made to mark the occasion of his departure from the Nire Valley, where as principal teacher he had spent eight years.

WATERFORD v. KERRY

Four ladies from the Ballymacarby camogie club were on the Waterford team which defeated Kerry in the first round of the intermediate camogie championship at Cork on July 18th, on the score 4-6 to 0-1.

HUGE CONGREGATION AT TOUR ANNUAL MASS

On Wednesday last the annual Mass was celebrated at Toor (Agligh) Quinlan, P.P., by Very Rev. Fr. Quinlan, P.P., Aglish, assisted by Fr. Morrissey C.C. About 2,000 people were present. Confessions were heard there for the first time. Holy communion was received by over 100 people. Very Rev. Canon Kennedy, of Liverpool, who is home on holidays, preached a very impressive sermon on St. Declan, mentioning how he travelled by this well going from Ardmore to his native Cappoquin. He drew attention to the poor condition of the road leading to the well and hoped the powers-that-be would improve it. He also said it had come to his notice that a young girl had an eye complaint cured there last week.
 Prayers were offered for the repose of the soul of the late Mrs. Mary Wall, Ballylaneen, who died last week and who donated a statue of the Blessed Virgin three months ago to be put in the oratory.

RE-ELECTED

Mr. John Fahey, T.D. (F.F.) and Mr. Michael Harty (F.G.) were both unanimously re-elected Chairman and Vice-Chairman respectively at the annual meeting of County Waterford Committee of Agriculture, on Friday last.

PIKE TROUNCE MELLERAY ROVERS

The Pike 2-9
Melleray Rovers 0-0

The Pike whose first year this is in championship football after a lengthy lapse, hit the high spots in a big way at a Dungarvan on Sunday last with a convincing 2-9 to 0-0 victory over Melleray Rovers in the second round of the junior football championship.

But if this game was seldom interesting—mainly because of the gulf between the sides in ability, the Pike certainly served notice that they are going to take a deal of beating. They played attractive and open football and there wasn't a weak link on the side.

Leading 1-4 to nil at half-time, their supremacy remained unchallenged in the second half and they added 1-5 without reply.

All fifteen played their parts in this victory, but particularly impressive were John Landers (scorer of 2-4), Gerry Morrissey, Jim Hayes, Willie Burke and D. Connors.

Melleray Rovers had excellent players in Sean and E. Moynihan, John Rourke, J. McGrath and Sean Purcell.

"Russians Should have not been Invited"

He was amazed that Russian representatives were invited to the recent Congress of Trade Unions in Cork, said Mr. N. Walsh at the annual meeting of County Waterford Committee of Agriculture on Friday last.

Mr. Walsh said it was high time the Irish people took a stand in matters of this kind. They were Christians here in Ireland but the Russians did not even believe in the existence of God. Communism was creeping into the country and if that element did come, it would be the greatest scourge ever to hit the country. The time had come when the clergy should take a strong hand in this. He deplored the happenings in Cork and he deplored that they should ever have been invited. They were a different people to the Russians; they were a Catholic people and they were proud of it.

All the members endorsed the remarks of Mr. Walsh.

Co-opted to Urban Council

Mr. Noel Hackett, Caseyville, Dungarvan (Labour) an employee of the local Dickens Leather Company, was unanimously co-opted on to the Council at last Friday's monthly meeting. He replaces John McCarthy (Labour) the long-serving member who recently resigned.

Mr. Hackett's co-optation was proposed by the Chairman, Mr. Kyne, and seconded by Mr. Jackie Kenneally.

Mr. Kyne said he had been instructed by the local branch of the Labour Party to propose Mr. Hackett. If a member of the Council resigned, a member of his Party should be unanimously co-opted, he said. This prevented anybody else from grabbing a seat on the Council.

Mr. Hackett was not present at Friday's meeting as he is presently holidaying in England.

Minister will not Amalgamate Posts

In a letter addressed to the Chairman of Waterford County Council, Mr. Charles Curran, the Minister for Local Government Mr. Niall Blaney, has stated that he has made an order requesting the Local Appointments Commission to name a person for appointment to the Office of Waterford Co. Manager.

This Order means that the Minister has definitely overruled the request of the County Council that the positions of County Manager and County Secretary be amalgamated.

N.F.A. NEWS

N.F.A. Meets Two Ministers on Land Act

Final preparations for a meeting with the Minister for Agriculture and Fisheries and the Minister for Lands are being made by the N.F.A. Oireachtas Committee as this report goes to press. The meeting was arranged for Tuesday, July 27th at the Department of Lands to deal with certain aspects of the 1965 Land Act about which N.F.A. is still worried.

In seeking this meeting the Committee was prompted by expressions of anxiety from farmers as to the consequences of Sections 35 and 42 which radically alter the defences against compulsory acquisition of vested lands and resumption of unvested lands respectively. In addition to providing adequate employment on a production from the land, the owner's must not have resided on the land or within three miles of it throughout the previous year and must not have offered it for sale during that time. The residence qualification may be disregarded by the Lay Commissioners at their discretion in respect of temporary absence due to illness, business, vacation or any other cause.

Insomuch as the purpose of these sections as stated by the Minister for Lands (cf. Daily Report, November 27th, 1963, col. 84) is to eliminate abuses arising from concrete lettings, we are in favour of the principle involved, but we consider that such abuses should have been dealt with specifically in the Act without giving the Land Commission the far-reaching powers of acquisition which are proposed.

Our basic objection is that these sections create a net which is far wider than is really necessary and there places several well run farms in a vulnerable position. Since the Minister for Lands did not see his way to meet our objections on this point when forming the new legislation, N.F.A. feels that a clear directive to the Land Commission as to the manner of implementing the new powers must be placed on record.

N.F.A. has already welcomed the action of the Minister for Lands in adopting a number of our recommendations while the Land Bill was going through the Dail. We referred in particular to the control of purchases of agricultural land by non-nationals, the reduction from twelve months to three months of the control period under Section 33 of the Bill and the reduction from 20 to 12 years of the Game rights provision under Section 18.

The outcome of the meeting will be reported in next week's issue.

NATIONAL TREASURER'S REPORT TO A.G.M.

One result of the recent annual general meeting is that National Council members have a very clear picture of the income and expenditure of N.F.A. in the last financial year. They also know that a tremendous effort will be required this year to make it financially possible for the Association to keep pace with the ever-growing demand for the provision of new and improved services.

National Treasurer, Michael Howard, left nobody in any doubt about this in a straightforward report to the Council at N.F.A. House.

Referring to the fact that the realisable assets of the N.F.A. border on £30,000, Mr. Howard pointed out that like the unfinished title on the farm, if these assets are converted to liquid assets the Association will be unable to carry on its business. He said that members contributions had been used wisely and well with the result that the interest to them (members) on their investment had far exceeded the investment itself.

In a review of the system of budgeting on the basis of County pledges to central funds, the Treasurer delivered a rap on the knuckles to counties who failed to meet their pledged contributions. "The budget of the future years must," he said "be based on an income figure guaranteed in advance to Council having been adopted by counties as a firm commitment for the year ahead."

Remarking that the income position of the Association did not yet reflect to any great extent the effects of the Council's decision to increase fees last January, Mr. Howard went on to report that "progress in the doubling of standing orders, creamery and bank, is going reasonably well, but it would again emphasise the necessity of having a minimum subscription of £1 which is the equivalent of 44d. per week and surely the Organisation is worth at least this figure to any landowner."

The General Secretary's report to the annual general meeting stated that 80% of our membership was composed of farmers with a land valuation of less than £35. N.F.A. can indeed feel justly proud of the loyal and consistent support which the small farmers of Ireland give it since its inception.

"Our community today their problems are indeed the greatest and most in need of solution. In this field could come some of our greatest achievements in the years ahead. To ensure this and their continued support it is vital that truly representative small farmers should always be in a position to sit on our Council, and this they can do only if they are paid a realistic level of expenses. This the Council has already in principle and I feel that the date from which this might apply would be October 1st next."

The Treasurer's address concluded with a word of thanks to all who had helped in one way or another during the past year including in particular county and branch officers for their efforts in ensuring N.F.A. of its financial requirements.

Our best thanks were also due to creamery managers and committees for their co-operation.

Mr. Howard's unanimous re-election for a further term as National Treasurer was a fitting tribute for his work during the past year.

RURAL DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE MEETING

"I know how busy you all are on your farms at the moment. Your presence here today shows your genuine interest in rural development and the small farmer problem in particular," said Mr. J. Dunphy, Chairman, at a meeting of the N.F.A. Rural Development Committee in Dublin last week.

The findings of the Study Group that recently visited Northern Ireland were discussed and it was felt that many aspects of the Northern Ireland Small Farm Scheme had much to recommend them. The factors that gave rise to or aggravated "the small farm problem" were gone into in detail and possible new lines of approach to some of them were suggested.

In Ireland at the moment we have viable farms, nearly viable or potentially viable farms and those which could become viable only through the most intensive forms of enterprise. The Committee members felt that all farms in the second category should be given special help to reach their full potential. This applies also to the third category even though the devising of suitable aids might be harder to arrive at.

The Committee examined a list of possible ways prepared by the Secretary, Mr. T. Llewellyn, in which the small farm problem might be tackled on a national scale. These are to be discussed again, in greater detail, at the next meeting.

All the members present felt that there would always be some in the lower acreage bracket who by reason of health, age or family circumstances would not be able to make a reasonable living on their farms. A worthwhile social policy is needed for such people and the N.F.A. must regard it as part of their function to see that these people are adequately catered for.

LIVESTOCK MARTS FORM NEW ASSOCIATION

The new association of Livestock Marts of Ireland, was formally launched during the week at a meeting held in Dublin. The most representative meeting of marts ever held in this country took place with some 60 marts represented.

DUNGARVAN SWIMMING CLUB

ated on the same lines as for year, is presently sponsoring a coaching scheme which commenced on Monday last, July 26th and will continue until August 15th. The club has been most fortunate in securing the services of the Welsh International coach, Mrs. Bernice Hooper assisted by her daughter, Jocelyn.

The scheme will be operated on the same lines as formerly and the same fees, 5/- per child—which will go towards defraying the cost of the scheme, will be charged.

Miss Hooper has an outstanding record in swimming circles. She has won over 40 Welsh Swimming and Diving championships. She has represented Wales internationally for 10 years, including this year and was Irish open champion in 1957. She was also British Universities triple winner in 1963/64.

The General Secretary's report to the annual general meeting stated that 80% of our membership was composed of farmers with a land valuation of less than £35. N.F.A. can indeed feel justly proud of the loyal and consistent support which the small farmers of Ireland give it since its inception.

Kilmacthomas Notes

Pattern.—Large crowds at the thoroughbred tended the Mass celebrated in the 3-year-old Ballyaneen on Monday, 26th July, in the presence of the Rev. Fr. John O'Connell, who has recently taken up residence in Kews, was successful.

Death.—Mr. Thomas Crotty was called to his eternal abode recently. Mr. Crotty, who has been resident in the States for many years, formerly lived at Bynan, Kilmacthomas, on the farm now occupied by his nephew Mr. Luddy Aheue. He was 66 years of age. Mr. Crotty had always planned to come home in August. The older generation will remember him as being a hard working, industrious member of the farming community, being at all times ready to help a neighbour in distress.

We offer sincere sympathy to his wife and daughters, and to his nephew in Brenan, R.I.P.

Scholarship Winners.—We heartily congratulate Miss Frances Barron, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monnie Barron, Main St., Kilmac, on her securing first place in the entrance scholarship to the day school, Convent of Mercy, Dungarvan, and also to Miss Collette Keaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paddy Keaver, Grawn, do., who got second place in the same exam. Both brilliant girls are pupils of the Convent of Mercy, Kilmac Primary school; and the good news are to be commended on their work with the children.

Wedding Bells.—Congratulations and every good wish to Mr. Michael Curran, Dungarvan and Miss Joan Fagan, Gowna, Carrick-on-Suir, on the occasion of their being united in Holy Matrimony, recently, in New Psychiatric Unit, St. Ann's, Tce., who, with his wife, is currently on vacation in Co. Kerry, among the guests in attendance at the opening of the new psychiatric unit at Ardsley General Hospital, Waterford, last week.

Remise.—A member of a very highly esteemed family has passed away in the person of Mrs. Mary Connors, Balahagan, Kilmacthomas. She belonged to a well-known and popular family and her death occasioned deep regret over a wide area. Her popularity was evident by the huge gathering of relatives, friends and colleagues at the removal of the remains and at the Solemn Requiem Mass for the repose of her soul. We deeply sympathise with her relatives.

Capitation Rates Increased

Increases of 17/6 a week in the capitation rates in Industrial schools to which Waterford Health Authority contribute will cost the Authority an extra £1,000 a year. This increase brings the rate for each child in these schools to £37.6 a week.

On the proposal of Mr. Gallagher seconded by Mr. Kennedy, the increase was unanimously agreed to.

Minister's Statement Described as 'Outrageous'

A statement alleged to have been made in the Dail recently by the Minister for Local Government, Mr. Niall Blaney, was strongly criticised by members of County Waterford Committee of Agriculture at their monthly meeting on Friday last. The Minister's alleged statement was that Fine Gael members of county councils throughout the country were responsible for increases in rates at the estimates meetings.

Mr. William Foran described the statement as outrageous, and one he took a very poor view of, coming as it did from a Minister of State. It was the greatest lie they ever tried to put over on the people, it was both deliberate and scandalous and he would not withdraw it. Speaking for his own County, the Minister was a liar, he added.

Mr. Charles Curran said he did not like the word liar and it should not be used. Ministers made statements and mistakes but he thought no one should accuse them of being liars. Mr. Michael Harty said the Minister's statement was incorrect. He had never seen members of the Fine Gael Party deliberately being party to increasing the rates.

Mr. Curran said that in Co. Waterford the striking of the rate had never been made a political issue. As far as this County was concerned the Minister's statement was not correct.

Mr. George Heskin said that the rate or other issues were never made political ones on the County Council.

Mr. Norman Walsh said he did not think the Fine Gael members could ever be accused of trying to burden the rate-payers. Politics never entered into anything on Waterford Co. Council.

Mr. Kieran O'Rvan said the Minister concerned should be the last person to make such a statement. He was the one that granted large and wholesale increases over the heads of the Council members.

Mr. Foran said the Minister had cast a reflection on all Fine Gael Council members throughout the country.

Mr. John Drohan said what they were referring to was only a newspaper report. The Dail report might be different. Mr. John Fahey, T.D. (Chairman) said that as far as Waterford was concerned, the statement was incorrect.

Part of County Hospital Without Hot Water

He would like to compliment the staff on what they were putting up with, but they were now having difficulty in getting staff. So said Mr. William Dower at a meeting of Waterford Health Authority on Monday last when asked if anything could be done in the Co. Hospital, Dungarvan, where they had no hot water in part of it.

Mr. Dower said one part of the hospital had no hot water and it had to be drawn in buckets.

The Chairman, Mr. P. Browne said the water supply was being improved there.

Mr. Dower said when he first heard of this he thought it was unbelievable. Girls now found it easy to get plenty of jobs and they would not stay there if the hospital was going to be without hot water. The hot water had to be carried up the stairs in buckets at the present time in one section of the hospital.

Mr. Wm. Kennealy, T.D. said the present boiler (which is to be replaced) would not give hot water to all parts of the hospital but the new one which was already ordered, would.

Mr. T. Gallagher said they were in a very bad way in the hospital over it. He hoped that before the winter came in there would be something done.

Mr. P. Cahill said they rushed into getting a second-hand British-made boiler and they were strongly criticised for that. Still they were using the old one and if he knew there was going to be such a delay in installing a replacement he would not have proposed it.

Mr. F. Mongey, Acting Secretary, said they got repairs done to the existing boiler, the insurance of which expired on May 19th his year. Their hurry was because of the insurance policy expiring, but the Insurance Company gave them an extension. They were in fact at one time faced with a complete boiler close down. They expect to have the replacement boiler in a matter of weeks. The discussion ended.

£600 Grant for Mentally Handicapped Children's Fund

On the proposal of Mr. James Power, seconded by Mr. John Griffin, Waterford Health Authority, at its monthly meeting on Monday last unanimously agreed to give a grant of £600 towards the Waterford Mentally Handicapped Children and After-Care Association for the year ending March 31st, 1965. They also made provision for the same amount for the year ending March 31st, 1966.

Mr. F. Mongey said the grant for last year was also £600 and he was presenting that cheque now to Mr. T. Callaghan a member of the Committee, and a member of the Mentally Handicapped Children's Organisation.

In reply to Mr. Norman Walsh, Mr. Mongey (Acting Secretary) said they were not getting any State Grant.

Mr. Walsh said they should write to the Dept. and ask them to expedite the Minister's decision on the report of the Commission on Mentally Handicapped Children. This was a matter affecting everyone in the County and they would like to know where they were going, one way or the other.

Some Home Assistance Increases Have Been Given

At last Monday's meeting of Waterford Health Authority, Mr. John Griffin asked of any payments of the increases granted by the Committee to Public Assistance recipients had yet been made.

Mr. F. Mongey, Acting Secretary, said that some received the payments, but all would receive them very shortly.

Mr. Griffin then requested that he be furnished with the largest, smallest an average increases in each case. Mr. Mongey said this would be done.

Further Increases Granted

The economy of the country for three months was then defeated by an 11-5 vote and the proposition that it be granted was then put and carried by 10 votes to 6.

The voting was as follows: For: Messrs. Roche, Cahill, Madigan, Power, Kennealy, Gallagher, E. Browne, P. Browne, Griffin, Collins (10). Against: Messrs. Curran, Dower, Fahey, Foran, M. Walsh and Galgey (6).

At the outset the Acting Secretary, Mr. F. Mongey, said this appeared to be the last arbitration matter that would come before them for some time. The arbitrator's award in this case was an increased salary scale of £1510. The present scale was £1120.

Mr. P. Cahill proposed and Mr. E. Browne seconded that the revised scale be granted. Mr. C. Curran said they were gone stark staring mad. This was contrary to all principles of Government. They were preaching one thing and doing another. For months now they were being threatened with a financial crisis and now that crisis had arisen. He proposed they defer this matter for 3 months.

Mr. D. F. Madden said they were only wasting time. It would have to be given. Mr. Norman Walsh said that was an awful statement. The economy of the country was in a very bad state and it was all as a result of yielding to every demand that came before them.

Mr. J. Griffin asked if they turned it down would the doctor still get the increase. Mr. Mongey said the doctor would then appeal to the Minister and in all probability he would get it then.

Mr. Curran said he was speaking on this in the national interests. It had been proved by statistics that the small farmer was getting only an average wage of £7.10.0 a week. Mr. E. Collins said that although the economy of the country was in a bad state the Health Authority was not to blame. The fault lay with the arbitration boards, he said, who gave these preposterous increases. They may be at fault however, in so far as they had not a strong enough representation on these arbitration boards. That was something they should go into.

Mr. M. Galgey said the Minister had told them to tighten their belts. But they should send a belt to the Minister to tighten also. It seemed as though he had no belt to tighten at the moment the way he was granting salary increases. Mr. Cahill said the doctor in question in this case was working 24 hours of the day and that was why he proposed the increase.

An amendment proposed by Mr. Curran that they defer it.

LICENSING APPLICATION ADJOURNED

On the application of Messrs. Farrell and Morrissey, Solrs., Judge Sean Mac D. Fawcitt, at Dungarvan Circuit Court on Friday last, adjourned for three months, the licensing application of Mrs. Mary O'Brien, in respect of her guest house at Baymount, Ballinacourty North.

The application for adjournment was sought to enable Mrs. O'Brien to have work on the premises completed. In evidence, it was stated by applicant's Counsel that the Guest House was a ten bedroomed one and she had bookings to the end of the year. There had been a big demand for licensed facilities on the premises by the guests.

Mr. P. Walsh, Urban Engineer, said he prepared a map of the premises. They were situated on the Coast road on the way to the Golf Links, and premises was a two-storey one. There was also a front lawn and orchard. On the ground floor there were four bedrooms, two lounges, dining room, kitchen, store and entrance hall. There was a bathroom adjoining one of those bedrooms. Upstairs there were seven bedrooms and a bathroom.

In evidence of the applicant, Mrs. Mary O'Brien said there were 10 bedrooms available for guests. Replying to Dr. Counahan, witness said there ten bedrooms were not available when the guest house on July 18th last. There was plenty of sleeping accommodation for herself and her family in the attic.

At this stage the applicant's solicitors made application for the adjournment and this was granted.

The results of the three Old Bird cross Channel races were as follows: From Girvan; 1st and winner of the T.A. Kyne Cup was J. Wright, who also won second thirds places. He was also 2nd and 4th in the Waterford Section of the Munster Federation results. J. Young was sixth in this section. 126 birds had competed.

From Hamilton and Thurso: J. Wright took the first three positions in both of these races, winning the O'Bowman Perpetual Trophy for Thurso. Wright made local history in the Hamilton race by taking the first three positions in the Waterford section and in the open result of the Munster Federation.

There was an entry of 325 birds in this race and to take the major positions when competing against the cream of Munster racing pigeons is surely a great performance.

Dungarvan Youth Given Suspended Jail Sentence

Gerald Halahan, a seventeen year old unemployed labourer of 2 Emmett St., Dungarvan, was sentenced to six months imprisonment on each of two charges—the sentences to run concurrently, by Judge Sean Mac D. Fawcitt at last Friday's Circuit Sessions in Dungarvan.

The Justice, however, suspended the sentences on the defendant entering into a bond to keep the peace and be of good behaviour for two years.

Hallahan, who was appealing against a District Court conviction, was charged with (1) O'Connell St., Dungarvan, on March 19th last, stealing from a person unknown the sum of £12.9 and (2) on March 20th, 1963 at Friary Street, Dungarvan, breaking and entering the warehouse of Mary Keane and stealing cigarettes valued £11.5.

Pleading for her son, Maureen Halahan, asked the Justice to give him just one more chance. If given this chance she would give him the fare to go across Channel to where his father was working.

Addressing Hallahan, Judge Fawcitt said: I am sentencing you to six months on each of the two charges, the sentences to run concurrently. But I will suspend them on you entering into a bond to keep the peace and be of good behaviour for two years. I am taking a risk with you as I should have sent you to jail. But I will give you this chance because your mother pleaded so earnestly for you. I do not wish to see you here again but if I do you will be the sorrier one.

85 EXTRA LIGHTS NEEDED IN DUNGARVAN

A survey carried out by the E.S.B. shows that an additional 85 public lights are needed for the main traffic routes in Dungarvan. This was told to the members of Dungarvan Urban Council by the Town Clerk, Mr. P. J. Doyle, at the Council's monthly meeting on Friday last.

Mr. Doyle said that for the present needs the town's lighting system was not satisfactory. If it was decided to put up the 85 additional lights, 50% of the cost could be charged against the main road grant and they would have to borrow the other 50%. It would mean an increase of 1/5 on the rates.

Mr. P. Whelan said these extra lights would brighten up the town considerably. However they just could not afford to have them. Parts of the town he said were so dark that one would not know they were entering a town.

Mr. T. A. Kyne, T.D. (Chairman) said that both Grattan Square and Bridge Street should be brightened up considerably. He would not, however, be in favour of additional lights for the Causeway.

The matter was deferred to the next meeting.

GAELIC JOTTINGS

TIPPS SUPREMACY UNCHALLENGED

What an anti-climax. All the pre-match "build-up," all the tension charged atmosphere prevailing in Limerick's Gaelic grounds around 3.15 on Sunday last went for naught as the Munster senior hurling championship final turned out to be the flop of the year. It was yet another hour of triumph for Tipp, proving beyond all question that their supremacy within the province at least remains unchallenged.

Cork, from whom so much was expected in this final, disappointed beyond belief. They had what must have amounted to their biggest ever following behind them, and as they emerged from behind the stand on to the green sward they were greeted with thunderous roars as the entire arena became engulfed in a mass of red and white colours.

But that was very near the end of the Cork cheering. Once the game was set in motion, it was Tipp giving the impression even that they were only going in a low gear, who were the complete masters. Despite playing against the first half breeze they were still ruling the roost, and when they led by 24 to 04 at the interval it was as good as over.

The second half was painfully one sided. The champions handed out a thorough hurling lesson to the Rebels whose "greenness" and inexperience was shown up in a big way. Tipp simply coasted to victory, and long before the end many of the huge attendance were filing homewards.

And so the lion-hearted John Doyle is a step nearer to equaling Christy Ring's record of eight All-Ireland medals. Tipp's opponents are as yet unknown, but irrespective of who comes out of Leinster, Doyle must stand an excellent chance of that eight medal. On Sunday last he was positively brilliant, giving his best display for a long time. But then so feeble was the Cork challenge that all the Tipp men, without ever exerting themselves gave satisfactory displays.

This was a cruel set back to Cork's hopes of emerging from the doldrums in which they have languished for so long. They banked a great deal on this fifteen to provide them with the long sought revival, but they were scarcely given a look in against rampant Tipp.

CHAMPIONS DEFEND Listed as the curtain raiser to next Sunday's Intermediate hurling final at Dungarvan is the first round senior hurling championship game between the holders Mount Sion and Brickey Rangers. This is a real David versus Goliath affair, and it would surely be the sensation of this or any other century were the Brickeys to dethrone the champions.

But at the time of writing the game is not certain of even going on. I know the Rangers are contemplating giving Sion a walk over...and should this happen then it will mean that Abbeyside will be the only Western Club to compete in this year's senior championship. What a sorry state that would be and what a dismal outlook for the future of the game in the Division.

Slim though their hopes would be on Sunday—in fact they could be labelled almost as nil, it is to be sincerely hoped that the Brickeys will fulfil this fixture. There is a great club with a proud tradition. To concede a walk over would not be in the best interests of the game.

LISMORE FOR WESTERN FINAL With almost consummate ease Lismore qualified to meet the champions Dungarvan in this year's Western minor hurling final with a clear cut 5-8 to 1-1 victory over St. Laurence's at Dungarvan on Thursday night last.

The final scoreline indicates just how easy this was for the Cathedral town side, and the impressiveness of their display must now make them favourite to dethrone Dungarvan in the Western final.

St. Laurence's fielded a very good enough to master Shamrocks, boosting all their big guns.

more side carrying many big guns. But the losers showed considerable potential and if they can be kept together should have a big say in next year's championship.

This game was as good as over at half time when the winners led by 4-6 to 1-0. Three of these goals were real gems—all scored by the Ballyduff lad, Liam Canning who was in impressive form at centre forward. And the second half brought no reprieve for the gallant losers as Lismore continued to hold complete sway. The winners defence was never at full stretch in this game, yet full back Jimmy Geoghegan, centre-back Mick Caples and wing half Davy Whelan did an amount of effective hurling.

At centre field, county minor Michael McGrath gave an exhibition of real skilful hurling, ably assisted by another stalwart, Jarlath Daly.

As I see it, the only possible weaknesses in this side are in attack and particularly the full forward line. Still whilst it includes Liam Canning there is plenty of scoring power there. There was no disgrace in this defeat for St. Laurence's. From start to finish they gave of their very best and more will undoubtedly be heard of many of those that sported the blue jersey in this game.

WESTERN FINAL

The Western final is scheduled for Cappoquin on next Thursday night, 5th August, with Lismore throwing down the gauntlet to the holders, Dungarvan. This promises to be one of the greatest games of the year in the West and bids fair to attract one of the biggest ever attendances to the Cappoquin venue for a minor game.

Lismore are just oozing with confidence. Whereas Dungarvan have been labouring to find their form of last year, the Cathedral town side has gained in confidence and hurling stature with each successive outing. And it is little surprise that they are favourites to win out on Thursday night.

However, a word of warning to Lismore, Dungarvan, it is true have not been playing up to standard, but I feel sure they will surpass anything seen from them so far this year. Their side will be strengthened considerably also by the return of Eamonn Keyes—a sub, on this year's county side, whilst Tony Carlton and Connie Kelleher will also be fielding for the first time this year. This trio will bolster up the team on end and if Michael Donnelly, Michael Norris, Timmy Healy "Foggy" Walsh, Johnny Reilly, Sean Murphy, Sean Franklin and Sean Flynn all hit top form, then they will not surrender their title easily—if indeed at all.

So there you have what amounts to an intriguing final. Lismore may be slight favourites and they have no doubts about justifying that favouritism. Dungarvan are convinced that this demanding occasion will bring out the very best in them and that with a near full strength team on duty they will be good enough to hold on to the crown they won so spectacularly last year. The writer's views: A slight preference for the champions.

SUNDAY'S TOURNAMENT SEMI-FINAL AT CAPPOQUIN

The semi-final of the tournament for the Hickey Cup and medals (presented by Jim Hickey) will be held at Cappoquin on Sunday night next (7.45) between Tourin and Shamrocks.

Remember their championship meeting this year when Tourin scraped home by a solitary point? Shamrocks are now thirsting for revenge and in the eyes of many will be favourites to do just that. This time Tourin will be without Steve Scanlon—sent off in that championship tie with Shamrocks and I believe Tourin without him will not be good enough to master Shamrocks, boosting all their big guns.

Much will depend on how John O'Gorman and Frank Whelan fare at midfield. Both have plenty of ability, but ironically both also tend to overplay the ball at times. They are pitted against a very accomplished pairing in Oliver O'Keefe and John Hogan who have yet to be mastered in this championship and it will take a supreme effort by both to break even hereabouts.

The Deise forwards really sparkled against Limerick, but Cork's defence will be of an entirely different calibre. Kieran O'Ryan's injured hand is still somewhat troublesome, but he has been training with it and is confident of taking his place on the forty flanked by Davy Barry and Mick Regan. This pair were well below

Waterfords Last Chance of a Munster Crown

WATERFORD'S remaining hopes of a Munster championship this year rest firmly with the Intermediate hurlers. And on Sunday at Dungarvan's Fraher Field there should be a huge crowd present to see them do battle with the holders, Cork, in the Provincial decider. Earlier achievements must undoubtedly make Cork favourites and a desire to restore some of the County's lost hurling prestige will spur them to even greater heights. But, Waterford, playing on home soil, are quietly confident that come Sunday evening next there will be a change of Intermediate champions in the South.

To date neither county has been seriously tested en route to the final. In the opening round Clare provided feeble opposition to the Deise men, but although their victory was a clear-cut one, Waterford failed to impress to any great extent.

Then came the semi-final against Limerick however and this time a sparkling Deise display brought about a crushing defeat of the Shannonsiders. It is interesting to note also that both these games were played in Dungarvan, so ground advantage on Sunday next is bound to be of immense benefit to them. Cork, too, appear in Sunday's decider with imposing credentials. They truly humbled a highly rated Tipp side in the first round and they were immediately installed warm favourites to retain their Munster title again this year. And in trouncing Galway in the semi-final they proved beyond all doubt that their side was a very strong one indeed.

And because of the callings and demands of the senior side, Sunday's rivals must find replacements for key players. In this respect, however, Waterford are undoubtedly hardest hit. Gone from their defence is Sonny Walsh—the pillar of the full-back line up to this, whilst Jackie Whelan's departure is bound to weaken midfield. The Leesiders' sole loss is full forward Eddie Dorney, but sickness and injuries will also keep goalkeeper David O'Keefe and corner forward Donie O'Keefe out of the side.

To counter act the departure of Walsh from defence, the Deise selectors have brought in the experienced veteran Joe Harney at full-back. Harney, a member of Waterford's All-Ireland-winning senior side of '59, seems the ideal choice, and if fully fit should prove a big success. Replacing Jack Whelan at midfield is his younger brother Frank, who missed the semi-final against Limerick because of a leg injury from which he is now fully recovered. Whelan teams up with Ballyduff Upper clubman John O'Gorman a brilliant ball player but who can be faulted...however for over doing the "picking" game.

Should Harney come up to expectations, then there can be few defensive worries. Flanked by Eugene Hickey and Tom Walsh, the full-line is an uncompromising one, and they should give plenty of protection. O'Grady, O'Grady is something of a surprise selection as he played at left half-forward on this year's minor team and is not his club's number one, despite the valiant efforts of a choice in the minor grade. However he has shown excellent form in training and has a keen eye and above all an excellent pair of hands.

The half-back line, however, I consider to be the sheet anchor of the side. Ollie Wilkinson on the right is a top-class hurler by any standards; John O'Donnell has plenty of senior experience, whilst Frankie Corcoran is at present playing superb hurling.

Much will depend on how John O'Gorman and Frank Whelan fare at midfield. Both have plenty of ability, but ironically both also tend to overplay the ball at times. They are pitted against a very accomplished pairing in Oliver O'Keefe and John Hogan who have yet to be mastered in this championship and it will take a supreme effort by both to break even hereabouts.

The Deise forwards really sparkled against Limerick, but Cork's defence will be of an entirely different calibre. Kieran O'Ryan's injured hand is still somewhat troublesome, but he has been training with it and is confident of taking his place on the forty flanked by Davy Barry and Mick Regan. This pair were well below in the role of under-dogs. Good and all though the Leesiders may be, they are not invincible by any means, and the Old Boro pitch will be greatly to Waterford's liking. As already stated this is the County's last hope of a Munster crown this year. They will be playing at home, they will have a huge vocal support to encourage them, and if every man gives of his best without flagging at any stage, Cork could well return home empty handed from a Munster hurling final for the second Sunday in succession.

Cork must start favourites, but Waterford could well revel

TALLOW FOR SEMI-FINAL

Tallow... 3-6 Ballinameela... 1-5

Although hard pressed to contain the spirited challenge of Ballinameela, Tallow—the pre-match favourites, were deserving winners of this second round junior hurling championship game played at the Castle Farm field Lismore, on Sunday last. Tallow were the better balanced side with a more potent attack than the losers, and it was this difference in the merits of the respective forward divisions more than any other single factor that blue-printed a Tallow victory.

It was, however, a highly interesting game, in which the winners were made work extremely hard for victory. At times there were traces of championship "needle" but at no stage did the game ever get out of control. But if Ballinameela put up a great fight of it there can still be no denying that the better side won. Unlike the losers, Tallow had several good forwards who took whatever chances were going in match winning style.

But for half an hour there to 17 years old goalkeeper, Patsy Cashman, was nothing at all between the sides, at the end of which Tallow were only a solitary point ahead in front—12 to 04. But on the change over the winners—despite the valiant efforts of a great Ballinameela defence, began to get on top, and they began to notch up the decisive scores. To their credit the losers battled on to the very end but as the sands of time ebbed fast it was obvious that only a hurling miracle could save them. And miracles (hurlingwise) just do not happen against such an efficient side as Tallow.

This undoubtedly is a Tallow side that should have a big say in the destination of this year's Western crown. For although Ballinameela were severely handicapped by the absence of two key players in Patsy Cashman and Pakie McCarthy, they still provided formidable opposition and it took a good side to beat them.

On Sunday last the winners defence hit peak form, but one cannot let the occasion pass without stating that the Ballinameela attack without Cashman was definitely substandard. Ned Power, though not overworked was very confident in goal and at centre back Philly Cox gave a superlative display. He was well assisted by the McNamara brothers, Paddy and Richard and John Lyons. The winners too held sway at midfield, thanks in the main

ABBEYSIDE OUT Villagers Go Under By a Point

BALLYDUFF-PORTLAW 2-3; ABBEYSIDE 1-5

ABBEYSIDE, beaten finalists last year, are out of this year's senior hurling championship race. On Sunday last on a Ferrybank pitch that resembled a quagmire, they came a "cropper" at the very first hurdle to a fast, fit and extremely promising Ballyduff-Portlaw combination. They fell by the narrowest of margins after a brave fight, but on the hour the better side won and should in fact have had a more clearcut winning margin at the end.

In every sense of the word it was a thoroughly disappointing game. The closeness of the scoring apart, it provided little interest for the fair sized attendance and the standard of hurling never went anywhere near reaching expected heights. It must however, in fairness to the sides be stressed that the condition of the Ferrybank pitch on Sunday was anything but favourable towards top class hurling. In places it was little short of being a sea of mud and both sides found it very difficult to overcome these adverse ground conditions.

This was indeed a great hour of triumph for Ballyduff-Portlaw. The seasoned Villagers bidding for that first senior crown had their hearts set on avenging last year's brave but unavailing bid, but they had to give best to a combination that proved superior in many sectors.

Dail Deputies Thanked

The Chairman, Mr. P. Browne, at Monday's meeting of Waterford Health Authority, thanked their two T.D.'s, Mr. Fahey and Mr. Keneally for getting the Minister for Health to open the new psychiatric unit at Ardkreen recently.

Chessmen Showband for Clonea

ON SUNDAY NIGHT Making their first ever appearance in the C.S.M. Ballroom, Clonea, on Sunday night next is the Chessmen Showband who burst into prominence with their first disc "Exodus". This outfit, although only shortly on the Showband scene, promises to go right to the very top. Besides their recording of "Exodus", which incidentally went very well for a first-timer, they have just completed an extensive tour of the leading English dancing centres. And because of the heavy demand for their services here at home they have had to refuse a part in the new George Fame and the Blue Blue Flames film being made in London later this year.

This then is some of the background attached to the Chessmen. Never before have they played in the C.S.M. and so for their first time ever visit they can expect a rousing welcome.

Note the dancing hours: 9.2 and the admission 7/6. See the big advert in this issue for all the details.

jumped into the lead themselves and entering the closing five minutes were three points clear.

Then came an Abbeyside resurgence, that had it come earlier might well have averted defeat. For about the only time in the game they began to completely outthrust the winners and in an effort to avoid threatening disaster the winners defence resorted to fouling. And twice the Villagers punished this gambit from placed balls to cut their arrears again to the minimum. But try as they might they could not work through for further scores and at the call of time the group team had emerged thoroughly deserving victors.

For future reference this game will have done the winners the world of good. Their defence is strong; midfield is as good as there is in the county, but it is their attack that on Sunday last failed to measure up to necessary standards.

Between the posts Noel O'Sullivan gave a capital display and in defence Hugh Maher at right half was just about the best defender on view. And he got excellent assistance from John O'Donnell, Patsy Stone and Willie Power.

Tom Cheasty and Jackie Whelan ruled the roost in a big way at midfield. At times the ball did not run too kindly for Cheasty, but he was still a big thorn in the Villagers' side.

Had defeat been their lot, then the attack would have had to shoulder the entire responsibility. Frank Whelan and Vincent Long (scorer of the two vital goals) formed an effective left flank but the remaining quartet were way below their best.

This defeat is undoubtedly a crushing blow to Abbeyside morale. The spirit and determination of last year was conspicuous only by its absence, and all in all it was a very disappointing Abbeyside display. For long spells they found themselves outthrust and only when the hour had almost run its course did they mount the attacks that brought them within a point of the winners.

It is true also that Mick Kiely was a big loss, yet even without him their defence was very sound. Pat Enright, a brilliant goalkeeper, saved a couple of rasps during the hour and in front of him, the always reliable Austin Flynn, Pakie Hogan, a trojan worker, and John McGrath did everything within their powers to stem the tide.

Nothing went right for them at midfield whilst their forwards, except for Livewire Johnny Hogan and Duck Whelan, made no impression.
