SALARY INCREASE FOR DOCTORS

'Ratepayers Have Their Backs to the Wall'

THE Minister must have a very poor idea of the present state of the country if he is going to give increases like this. The ratepayers have their backs to the wall, whilst it has been a treacherous year for the farming community who are the back bone of the country. We should vigorously oppose this. So stated Mr. William Foran at last Monday's meeting of Waterford Health Authority when a motion concerning a revised salary scale for District Medical Officers was being considered.

The motion, in the name of Mr. John Griffin, and counter signed by Mr. E. Collins, W. Kenneally, T.D., and E. Browne asked "that the following revised salary scale be adopted for District Medical Officers in the employment of the Health Authority in accordance with the arbitrator's award dated 3rd February, 1965, as from 1st October, 1963, £1,100 by £75 to £1,625 per annum, and as from 1st February, 1964, £1,230 by £84 to £1,734 by £86 to £1,820.

The motion also asked that they approve of over expenditure of £8,040 in the estimate of expenses for the year ending March, 31st, 1966, to meet the increase.

Mr. Griffin said that until such time as they adopted this new scale they would be liable for the financial consequences of the increase. This was an arbitrator's award and he proposed the Medical Officers get it.

Mr. J. Power seconded. Mr. Thomas Lannon said there was £8,040 involved in this in one year. This was too steep an increase as there were people to-day who were finding it very difficult to pay the rates. The people involved in this had more than enough.

Mr. D. F. Madden said this was an arbitrator's award and even if they refused to give it, it would be granted over their heads.

Mr. Lannon said it was time these increases stopped. These people are not poor people. They are only part time and they have their own private practices as well. It will have to stop because the people can't afford to pay them.

Mr. Griffin said the people should know that this revised scale was being paid on the order of the Minister. They would have to accept the position as it was.

Mr. Lannon said this was something that was being forced on them by somebody. The elections next year were wrong if they as public representatives had no say. If all public bodies did not give these increases then they would not get them. Who, he asked was on these arbitration boards representing

CALL ON GOVERNMENT TO HELP RATE PROBLEM

The following notice of motion in the name of Mr. Denis F. Madden was unanimously passed at last Monday's meeting of Waterford Health Authority. "That we the members of Waterford Health Authority strongly urge the Government to increase the State Subvention towards the cost of Social Services to at least 85% —up also go the rests. People who are not liable for income tax now pay increases out of their incomes.

Mr. J. Fahey, T.D., said they would have to stop increasing rates. He proposed that future increases by met by certain taxes and they should call on the Government to stabilize the demand being made on the rates at the moment.

Mr. Thomas Lannon said they were giving increases of £10 and £12 to people here and that was the cause of the increase in the rates. Until some time was done about the salaries and travelling expenses of officials they would have intolerable burden on the ratepayers and more particularly his proposal in favour of Mr. Madden's motion.

WEDDING BELLS

COWARD—WHELAN

A very pretty wedding took place in St. Mary's Church, on Saturday last between Mr. Maurice (Monny) Coward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Coward Congress Villas, Dungarvan, and Miss June Whelan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Whelan, Cathal Brugha Place.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Murphy, C.C. Mr. Locky Coward (brother of the groom) was best man and Miss Ann Whelan (sister of the bride) acted as bridesmaid.

The reception was held in Lawlor's hotel. The newly weds are very popular locally. The groom is an employee of Dungarvan creamery and has played hurling with both Dungarvan and Kilgobnet. The bride is well-known for her beautiful singing voice, is a member of the local choral society and is the talented vocalist with the famous Dungarvan Ceili Band.

To both we join with their many friends in extending best wishes for every happiness in the years ahead.

Some Meetings to Be Held in Waterford

On the suggestion of Mr. Charles Curran, Waterford Health Authority decided at its meeting in Dungarvan on Monday last to hold one meeting in every four in Waterford city.

Mr. William Dower said if some of the meetings were held in Waterford, the Western members on Visiting Committees could visit the hospitals the same day as the meeting and it would save money.

Mr. J. Power said the meetings had always been held in Dungarvan and they should not change.

Mr. Dower said he could not understand why some were taking exception to some of their meetings being held in Waterford. He suggested this in the hope of saving money and he would do anything that would save the ratepayer's money.

Finally Mr. Curran's suggestion was unanimously agreed to.

Motion On Increase For Ambulance Drivers Adjourned

A notice of motion in the name of Mr. Patrick Cahill that the Salary Scale of ambulance drivers be increased by £2 a week with effect as from June 1st this year, was adjourned, for one month at last Monday's meeting of Waterford Health Authority.

Mr. Cahill said there were only five or six men involved. They were not getting half paid for the work they were doing. They should be proud of these men who were carrying thousands of patients every year. They were skilled drivers but were not getting a decent wage and had to do overtime to get this.

Mr. John Fahey said he would like to second Mr. Cahill's notice of motion. These, he said, were people who earned their money very hard.

Mr. Thomas Lannon said he would oppose it on the grounds that applications for salary increases should come from a Trade Union or some proper source. Any member could come in and ask for an increase of £2 or £10 a week for somebody. But this, he said, should come through the proper channels.

The Acting Secretary, Mr. F. Mongey, said the Minister's Association was dealing with this particular group at present and he would respectfully suggest that this motion be adjourned until they had considered it. The drivers were presently getting £550 a year he said.

It was then agreed to adjourn it for a month.

INCREASE FOR PHARMACIST

By nine votes to six, Waterford Health Authority granted a revised salary scale for the full-time pharmacist employed by them.

The new scale will be £1155 by £41 to £1,400 as against the former scale of £1010 to £1230.

Acting Secretary, Mr. F. Mongey, said this new scale was as a result of an arbitrator's award. It would cost £480 in the current year.

Mr. Lannon, proposing that it not be granted said they were asking the Minister not to increase the rates, but they were spending the money wholesale themselves.

Will Appeal To Minister

Waterford Health Authority is to appeal to the Minister for Local Government against the decision of Waterford County Council—the planning Authority concerned—giving permission to Mr. Robert Jephson, Prospect, Newtown, Waterford, to erect a filling station opposite the main entrance to Ardkeen hospital.

At Monday's meeting of the Health Authority, Acting Secretary, Mr. F. Mongey, said they wrote originally to the County Council objecting to this and they received a reply from the Council in which the County Engineer said they were giving permission for the erection of the filling station subject to the compliance with certain conditions. The Health Authority, said Mr. Mongey, as an interested party, could now appeal to the Minister.

Mr. Mongey said the Health Authority objected on the grounds that it was too near the entrance to the hospital and that it would cause a traffic hazard. The R.M.S. of Ardkeen, having examined the plans for the project said it would greatly increase the danger to traffic coming to and from the city.

Mr. J. Power proposed they appeal to the Minister and that they send a copy of the R.M.S.'s letter also to the Minister.

Mr. W. Kenneally T.D., said they had got the view of the County Engineer that there would be no danger to traffic and he was the qualified man. He was dissenting from this proposition.

Mr. M. Morrissey also dissented from it.

Engagement Announced

POWER - USHER

The engagement has been announced, between Patrick, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Power, St. Brigid's Tce., Dungarvan, and Rita, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Usher, 24 Heaton Rd., Ensbury Park, Bournemouth, Hants.

New Boiler Ready

Replying to Mr. Wm. Dower, at last Monday's meeting of Waterford Health Authority, the Acting Secretary, Mr. F. Mongey said the new boiler for the County Home, Dungarvan, was now made, and they should have word about delivery within a week.

Appointed Court Clerk

Congratulations to Mr. Bernard (Benny) Tyers, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Tyers, Fitzgerald Tce., Dungarvan, on his appointment as District Court Clerk. He has been appointed to Clonmel, where he took up duty on Tuesday last.

Educated at Dungarvan C.B.S., Benny had been attached to the Engineering Dept. of Waterford County Council for the past five years.

A.C.W.W. DELEGATES WELCOMED

Recently the President Mrs. Buckley and members of the town guild I.C.A., extended a hearty welcome to 10 delegates to the A.C.W.W. from Canada, Australia and the U.S.

Letter to the Editor

THE EDITOR, "Dungarvan Observer" Dear Sir, In view of the extraordinary interest shown by the public in the recent Bord Baine elections, this Executive has asked me to draw attention to some aspects of these elections.

ly. When the land overlooking the harbour was available, a club house was erected and the course was laid out. In September, 1940, to mark the opening, Very Rev. Canon Dineen, D.D., and Parish Priest of Youghal at that time, drove off the first ball. Since that day the club has gone from one success to another and now has more members than can be comfortably catered for.

BOY'S ROAD DEATH—CASE DISMISSED

At Youghal District Court, before Mr. Justice Leo Skinner, Denis O'Connell, of Old Youghal Road, Cork, was charged with careless driving of a car at Redbarn, which resulted in a fatal accident to a 3-year-old boy, Peter Michael Kelly, the boy's father, Peter Kelly, Kilcapp, Mallow Road, Cork, in evidence said that on 6th June, on his way to Redbarn, he parked his car on the left hand side of an open gateway and saw the boy walking on the road and he was within two feet of the other side of the road, when he was struck by Mr. O'Connell's car.

NETS AND SALMON FORFEITURE

On behalf of the Lismore Fishery Board, Mr. T. K. Keane Solicitor, applied for the forfeiture of two nets and two grills seized at Cooneen, on 25th July, and August 2nd, by Waterkeepers E. Montayne and T. Moran. The application was granted.

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT

At Youghal District Court, Michael Flanagan, Drishane, Killalea, was fined £5 for permitting a boy of 14 years to drive a tractor, and who was not covered by insurance. John Hogan, Sarsfield's Tce., Youghal, was charged with assaulting William and Patrick O'Leary, no fixed abode and Patrick Mulrooney, of South Main Street, Youghal, and causing them actual bodily harm.

RECENT WEDDING

DUNCAN - KINGSTON A pretty wedding took place recently at St. Mary's Collegiate Church, Youghal, between Mr. C. Duncan, Athy, Co. Kildare, and Miss Heather Kingston, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Kingston, Knockaverry Youghal. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. T. H. Robinson, M.A., Rector, Youghal.

Late Miss Margaret McGrath

PARKMORE, MODELIGO As briefly announced in our columns last week, the death of Miss Margaret McGrath, late of Parkmore, Modeligo, took place in Waterford, on Sunday, 28th September. She was a member of an old west Waterford family and sister of the late Mr. Michael McGrath, who, for many years, was a member of the County Council.

CLAY PIGEON COMPETITION

Mr. Norman Walsh, M.C.C., thanked the I.C.A. for the invitation to be present on that pleasant occasion and he joined in extending a welcome to the members of the A.C.W.W. He said he was much impressed by the address of their President at the Congress, when he said that the aim of the Association was to create a world of peace and understanding, by helping to stamp out ignorance, poverty and dis-

TOURANEENA NOTES

A very pleasant social was held recently in Ballymacarby when seventeen ladies, delegates to the Triennial Conference of the A.C.W.W., were guests of the joint I.C.A. Guilds of Ballymacarby, Nire and Touraneena.

INTERNATIONAL DELEGATES

The distinguished visitors were given a hearty reception when they arrived in the village and were welcomed by Rev. Fr. Bracken, C.C., Four-milwater and by the presidents of the I.C.A. Guilds. The international visitors were entertained to morning coffee and were enthralled with the traditional music played by the Ballymacarby Ceili Band. One of the highlights of their visit was their motor tour of the Nire Valley and all agreed that for ed. They were greatly impressed with the hospitality and friendliness of the Irish people and said they would never forget the wonderful welcome accorded them.

SYMPATHY

Sincere and heartfelt sympathy is extended to the bereaved husband, sons, daughters, brothers, sisters and other relatives of the late Mrs. Katherine Gleeson, Knockboy, Ballinamult, whose death took place at the District Hospital, Dungarvan, on last week-end.—R.I.P.

SUCCESSFUL INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

Well may the Irish Countrywomen's Association accept to the fullest, the nation's admiration for a herculean task magnificently accomplished. Three years of patient planning and inestimable hard work reached fruition on Tuesday, 14th September, 1965.

A.C.W.W. delegates from home and abroad poured into the Main Hall at the R.D.S. premises Ballsbridge, Dublin, to register for the 10-day eleventh triennial world conference. The atmosphere was vibrant with excitement and one immediately felt that even then the success of the conference was assured.

The Faillte-Wellcome Party that night, given by Bord Failte at the Zoological Gardens was in essence, a meeting of many nations. The guests were received and welcomed by Mrs. Nora Burton, I.C.A. National President and Mrs. Gerda Van Beekhoff, A.C.W.W. President.

Numbering 1,600 in a very short space of time "person to person" contact was made. East and West met on common ground and found much to discuss and many mutual problems.

On Wednesday morning prior to the official opening of the conference, a special Votive Mass of the Holy Spirit was celebrated by Rev. P. Canon Scannell, P.P., at Our Lady Queen of Peace Church, Merion Road, Rev. Raymond Browne, C.C., Drumboylan, Chairman, Muintir na Tire, welcomed the delegates and preached on "Woman's Place in Society." The Mass was attended by President De Valera, An Taoiseach, Mr. Sean Lemass and members of the Government.

After the church ceremony, a fleet of cars and buses brought guests and delegates to the R.D.S.

The green and white canopyed ceiling, green draped platform background and magnificent floral arrangements were a breathtaking sight in the conference hall.

Playing on the platform was the Cork Youth Orchestra under its conductor, Mr. S. O'Callaghan.

Excitement ran high at the opening ceremony when the flags of 46 nations were borne through the centre aisle of the hall by the standard-bearers marching in double file. On reaching the top of the aisle the file parted right and left to form a guard of honour.

Two bearers led to the platform Mrs. Nora Burton, Mrs. Van Beekhoff, President De Valera, An Taoiseach, Mr. Sean Lemass and the platform party. The guard of honour then formed in double file and bore the flags to the platform. The flags were placed in front of the green drape and remained there throughout the conference.

Costumed in white baineen sleeveless tunics worn over long-sleeved, dark-blue printed blouses, the proud standard-bearers were daughters of I.C.A. members representing every Federation in Ireland. The Cork Youth Orchestra played most effectively the A.C.W.W. Anthem, the Presidential Salute and the National Anthem, during which all present stood.

Mrs. Burton, bidding "cead mile faillte" welcomed all present. A telegram was read from His Holiness, Pope Paul expressing concern for rural movements and invoking Divine assistance on the deliberations of the delegates and on their praiseworthy activities.

The Conference, the theme of which was "Working Together," was formally opened by An Taoiseach. He said that the Government and people of Ireland had nothing but admiration for the I.C.A.'s aim in fostering a spirit of co-operation among rural womenfolk and increasing their skills in house-keeping and in agriculture. The key position of the farmer's wife could not be over-emphasised. She was both housewife and business partner, keeping the home running smoothly and at the same time lending a hand in farming enterprise.

A very fine address was given on "Better Living Through Working Together, Co-operation the Ideal," by Rt. Rev. Monsignor F. J. Smyth.

Playing on the Coady International Institute, Antigonish, Nova Scotia, Canada.

Co-operation was the "ideal" today for all mankind and only attainable if we believed that it was, said Monsignor Smyth. The A.C.W.W.'s membership of 6,000,000 women from 176 countries in most parts of the world warranted great expectations for international co-operation.

Mrs. G. Van Beekhoff, expressed appreciation of the great work done, both in Ireland and the London office in preparing for the conference. She mentioned particularly important items which would be discussed: these were the race between food production and the population growth, the United Nations and the International Co-operation Year and the Association's responsibilities on behalf of its members.

Thursday—Ireland's day—was one of colour and interest. The chief delegate of each nation extended greetings from her country. This, coupled with the national dress worn throughout the conference by most of the delegates, was a most moving experience.

The Agricultural Co-operation Exhibition was opened by Mr. George Colley, Minister for Education, and Mrs. Sean Lemass opened the International Handicraft Exhibition.

The Horse Show in the afternoon was an outstanding success.

Performed before an audience of 3,000, the concert held that night, supported by the magnificent maced choir of 850 voices, reached a very high standard, which had to be seen to be believed.

On Friday, a Symposium "Better Living Through Working Together," was held, part 1 of which was chaired by A.C.W.W. President elect, Mrs. Aroti Dutt. Mrs. Greta Bergstrom, Swedish Home Economist and expert on consumer problems, spoke on what co-operation means to rural people. This was followed by Dr. J. G. Knapp, Administrator, Farmer Co-operative Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, speaking on education for co-operation.

The evening finished with a visit to the Gaiety Theatre, where the Tuam Theatre Guild presented Arthur Miller's "The Crucible."

Part 11 of the Symposium, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ula Wickham, continued on Saturday morning, with Dr. Knapp speaking on "Production Purchasing, Marketing." Mrs. Smyth spoke on "Community Services," while Mrs. Grace Holmes Barby, Consultant, U.N. Children's Fund (UNICEF), spoke on "How we can help each other."

The afternoon was devoted to study of these subjects by study groups.

After the conclusion of Monday's sessions, the Government recognising the international importance of the conference, held a State Reception on Monday night to honour the occasion. An Taoiseach, Mr. Lemass was host.

So, the pattern of the conference continued day by day. A wealth of knowledge, understanding and fresh, completely new thinking absorbed the mind as the various subjects were assimilated. Meeting and mingling with her sisters from many nations was a never to be forgotten experience for the I.C.A. member. Goodwill and understanding was promoted in an unbelievable way.

The Slan Abhaile—Farewell Party—on Friday night, 24th September, was an occasion of gaiety and sadness. It was with deep regret that we watched our beloved President Mrs. Burton, present the A.C.W.W. flag to new A.C.W.W. President Mrs. Aroti Dutt. This ceremonial effect was emphasised by the playing of the Presidential Salute by army trumpeters.

Mrs. Dutt then passed the flag to two bearers who marched with it from the hall. For us, thus ended the eleventh triennial A.C.W.W. Conference.

However, the post conference tours enabled us to delay the final parting. Friendships were renewed when our visitors toured the Federations. Waterford Federation played its part when the visitors were entertained throughout the county by the guilds.

Their delight at seeing the "real Ireland" was very evident. Spending overnight in I.C.A. members' homes, being entertained to the best in Irish culture and hospitality, was for them an unforgettable experience. It was with genuine regret that we parted with them. Their visit has enriched our lives and will live long in our memories.

We are the poorer for their leaving, but the incalculable international goodwill created will reap a rich harvest.

Farmers to Defer Payment of Rates

There was tremendous activity at Branch, County and Regional levels in N.F.A. over the past week. Special meetings were being held all over the country and it was plain to see that farmers, who have been "straining at the leash" for quite some time, were enthusiastic about the outcome of the recent meetings of the N.F.A. National Council and Special Group. These meetings gave final approval to the decision to hold back until April 30th next, the payment of rates due in respect of the second moiety. The number and names of the counties where the campaign will be carried out have not yet been specified but full details will be made known shortly.

The Special Group also gave the full go-ahead to the holding of mass remonstrations in the provinces, the first of which will be held in Castlebar on October 16th and the second in Drogheda early in November.

The reasons for the deferment in the payment of rates and the holding of the demonstrations were outlined in a statement issued by the Special Group, following their meeting. They are as follows:—

(1)—Lack of progress in agricultural prices and incomes. N.F.A.'s prediction at the beginning of the year of a £2 million drop in farm income during 1965 is already showing ominous signs of being only too true.

(2)—Lack of a national small-farm development policy. N.F.A. has now produced its own plan which will be in the hands of the Government within the next few weeks.

(3)—The increasing burden of rates—with the highest rates obtaining in the most depressed counties. No sign of a permanent solution emerging from the Government and N.F.A. proposal for an intermediate stabilisation of rates, ignored.

(4)—Government inactivity on the build-up of a complete marketing system for agricultural produce. N.F.A. has called for the reconstruction of the Potato Marketing Board and the establishment of a Meat Marketing Development Authority.

(5)—N.F.A. want the brakes taken off agriculture. Simple economics demand that the industry, which accounts for most of our exports and is going to exceed its Second Programme targets, is the one which should be developed to the full. A thriving Irish agriculture is a thriving Irish economy.

Following the meeting, the President of N.F.A., Mr. Rickard Deasy, said that in a long series of speeches he had warned the Government what was going to happen if the agricultural industry did not receive fair play. It was the only sector really pulling its weight at the present time, while suffering the lowest incomes.

"Talk about all the money that is put into agriculture is futile and nonsensical," he said. "The fact is that industry gets much more money from the Exchequer, but whereas agriculture is using its investment to the benefit of the whole community, industry still has to rely on the money gained from agricultural exports to pay for its badly-needed imports."

"Meanwhile farmers are continuously exhorted to produce more and more in the shadow of completely inadequate prices and an almost non-existent marketing system."

"Cattle prices are falling, lam prices are falling, pig prices are inadequate and dairy prices are the lowest in Europe, but the farmers costs, particularly in relation to seed, feed, fertilisers, machinery and rates are soaring."

"Two years ago in Kilkenny I said that until we had a just system of sharing the fruits of prosperity between the sectors farmers could never let down their guard. Nothing has happened in the meantime to change my mind."

"I can see the real progress of which agriculture is capable and the real contribution it can make to national exports being held up all along the line by petty-fogging restrictions and negative thinking on the part of many Government departments. There is a complete lack of action on critical issues, particularly in the field of marketing and on small farm development."

"The present situation is one in which if farmers do not march together we will be walked on and progress will pass us by."

"I see and approve of the absolute necessity of this action and I call on all farmers to support it vigorously."

DAIRY FARMERS TRANSFER SUPPORT TO N.F.A. IN BORD BAINNE VICTORY

The results of the Bord Baine elections, announced last week, reflect a massive swing in support of the N.F.A. Its policy and its candidates, the figures clearly establish the authority of N.F.A. to speak for dairy farmers.

In the 1961 Bord Baine elections for the Southern Co-operative seat, which is at present decided on the basis of one vote, the Kennedy Round, E.F.T.A., E.E.C., etc. plus colossal pressure of Denmark and New Zealand, on the British Government."

Mr. Deasy went on to emphasise that our rights must remain fixed on Irish membership of E.E.C. He referred to the many advantages of E.E.C. membership, including the protection of the family farm under the Rome Treaty; the philosophy and mechanisms of the developing problem areas, for example Brittany and the West of Ireland; common interests (agricultural) of France, Netherlands and Ireland; higher prices for agricultural produce; protection from cartels; protection from vertical integration, etc.

"But," said Mr. Deasy, "in the present temporary uncertainty regarding E.E.C. it is only common sense to improve trading relations between Ireland and Britain. Little is known of details of the proposed Free Trade Area. As far as Irish agriculture is concerned, it is vital that any new agreement provide greater volume access for livestock and dairy products, pigmeat and lamb."

"We cannot formulate an informed judgment until the detailed proposals are known. As a preliminary conclusion we can say that it could be a useful interim measure but for long term solution we must look further. Irish agriculture must be self-financed, self-controlled and must go out into world market places in search of new outlets. We must get rid of any interdependency complex, do our own marketing and organise our trade properly on the basis of quality, continuity and service."

NEW MOVE BY A.C.C.

The scheme of guaranteed deposits introduced by the Agricultural Credit Corporation deserves every support. In a recent statement the Minister for Finance referred to the "favourable terms" of the Scheme and pointed out that it was hoped it would supplement the resources available to the Corporation.

The N.F.A. welcomes this scheme and we hope that any farmers that are in a position to do so will support it. The terms offered are attractive, with interest rates up to 6% on deposits. The minimum acceptable is £500 and the rate of interest is related to the amount of notice depositors are prepared to give of withdrawals. N.F.A. considers that this £500 limit is too high and will greatly reduce the scope for farmer participation in this scheme.

We pressed hard for this power for the Agricultural Credit Corporation and we are glad to see that it has been introduced so quickly. It is vital that adequate resources be made available to the Corporation to enable it continue to finance the credit needs of our agriculture and to help maintain the pace of expansion in agriculture.

PIG PRICES COMPLETELY INADEQUATE

The N.F.A. National Pigs Committee met in Dublin on Friday, 1st October last, and reaffirmed its view that the new minimum prices for Grade A and A-Special do not even compensate farmers for the increase in costs which they have had to bear.

The new guaranteed prices at 260/- per cwt. per Grade A Special and 248/- per cwt. for Grade A, represents an increase of 10/- per cwt. in both cases over the previous minimum figure. However, it was pointed out that in October last year, A's and A Specials were fetching 7/- more than the guaranteed price, so that in practice, the real increase over the corresponding 1964 price is only 3/- per cwt. Other grades for which there is no guaranteed price are 10/- to £1 per cwt. below October 1964 prices.

Committee members contrasted the paltry increase on A's and A Specials with the N.F.A. claim for an increase of 15/3 per cwt., which was submitted last March in the Annual Review talks with indisputable facts and figures to support it.

Extreme dissatisfaction was also expressed with the failure of the Department of Agriculture to provide a more realistic scale of grants for the erection of piggeries. In the Annual Review the N.F.A. negotiating team had recommended the introduction of a grant of £50 per sow and rearing unit or 10/- per sq. ft. up to a maximum of 5 sow and rearing units (approx. 500 sq. ft.). This grant was decoupled with the smaller farmer particularly in mind and reference was made to: (a) lack of capital on the part of the small farmer to erect a unit suitable for a sufficient number of sows to make the project an economic proposition; (b) high mortality rate in bonhams as a result of housing conditions, leading to a fear on the part of the farmer to go into intensive bonham production.

A further N.F.A. proposal was that the present grant per pig fattening house, be increased to 8/- per sq. ft. on the first 1,000 sq. ft. of accommodation. Here again, nothing has been done by the Department.

LAND PROJECT GRANTS

The Minister for Agriculture has informed N.F.A. that "it would not be feasible to extend application of the increased maximum land project grants to approvals issued before the present financial year."

A spokesman for the N.F.A. Industrial & Transport Committee said that this news would be received with disappointment by farmers who were already involved in difficult and costly land reclamation schemes when the Minister announced the increase on the 18th August, 1965. N.F.A. considered that all land project work carried out after the date of the Minister's announcement should qualify for the two-thirds grant up to the new maximum limit irrespective of the date of approval.

"While the Minister went part of the way to meet the N.F.A. submission by bringing in approvals issued as from 1st April, 1965, it is a matter for regret that he did not go far enough," said the N.F.A. spokesman.

He added that the Industrial and Transport Committee would be meeting very soon and would undoubtedly take up the matter again with the Minister.

APPLE MARKETING PROBLEM

In recent years the production of top quality apples in this country has become well organised. Special grading systems have been introduced by many individual growers and the work of the Dungarvan Co. Society is well known in this regard.

Suitable storage houses have been erected and equipment necessary to ensure quality production has been installed at considerable expense. Growers are confident that given reasonable opportunities, production can be built up and quality can be improved to satisfy even the most exacting consumer's needs.

Marketing remains a problem however, and is made exceptionally difficult by huge imports of apples which normally come on to our market at a time of surplus supply in the Producer countries. In many cases, exporters are prepared to export surplus regardless of cost and this definitely creates a very serious problem for growers here.

Many suggestions have been made by the Apple Growers' Association through the N.F.A. to the Government and it is hoped that some worthwhile measures will be introduced to enable home-growers to counteract this problem and increase production.

MUST STILL AIM AT E.E.C. MEMBERSHIP

"The main criteria for all trade arrangements must be their potential to benefit rural Ireland and the Irish economy," said the N.F.A. President, Mr. Rickard Deasy, in Dublin, last week.

"At present more than 70% of total Irish exports go to Gt. Britain and the Six Counties, hence in discussing the proposed new Trade Agreement we are discussing the main sector of our export trade," continued Mr. Deasy, who was speaking at a symposium under the auspices of Sinn Fein.

"Britain is still the world's greatest food importer and still our biggest food customer. Even if the existing Trade Agreement, not due for renewal anyway, N.F.A. would have wanted it altered to give (a) greater volume access; (b) better prices; (c) reasonable long term security for Irish exports to the British market."

"But our competitor food exporters want precisely the same—Denmark, New Zealand United States—and much of the world trade is already regulated by international agreements. A Free Trade Area is the only type of agreement which would leave Ireland and Britain free of restraining provisions of for example E.F.T.A. and G.A.T.T. Rules."

Mr. Deasy let us know that the world would be free to trade, for example the Kennedy Round, E.F.T.A., E.E.C., etc. plus colossal pressure of Denmark and New Zealand, on the British Government."

Mr. Deasy went on to emphasise that our rights must remain fixed on Irish membership of E.E.C. He referred to the many advantages of E.E.C. membership, including the protection of the family farm under the Rome Treaty; the philosophy and mechanisms of the developing problem areas, for example Brittany and the West of Ireland; common interests (agricultural) of France, Netherlands and Ireland; higher

MCGRATH-MURPHY

The marriage took place in Aglish Church, between Mr. Patrick McGrath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGrath, of Aglish, and Mrs. Edmond Murphy, of Aglish. The ceremony, officiated by Rev. J. F. Morrissey, C.C., Aglish, assisted by Very Rev. J. Hally, P.P., Modeligo.

The bride, given away by her father, wore a pink nylon knee length gown and the bridesmaid, Miss Peg Murphy (sister of the bride) was attired in a blue nylon frock with matching accessories. Mr. Denis McGrath (brother of the groom) was best man and the chief attendant was Nora McGrath (niece of the bride).

The reception was held at the home of the bride and the honeymoon was spent touring the south of Ireland.

Ballinacourty Trounce Champions NOW IN WESTERN FINAL

BALLINACOURTY 3-8; AFFANE 1-0

THE contention that Affane were something of a bogey side for Ballinacourty was blown sky high at Dungarvan on Sunday last when the sides met in the Western Intermediate football championship semi-final. Ballinacourty's victory was decisive and complete, achieved in a manner that was impressive personified as they literally annihilated the reigning champions to the tune of a fourteen points defeat.

But if Ballinacourty turned in a regal display, the game itself was a real anticlimax for the big attendance present. Here was a game that had all the makings of a classic. But it was not to be, as from start to finish there was only one team in it, and that team was Ballinacourty. They were about to be defeated.

Not for many a long day have Ballinacourty played such purposeful and attractive football. For some years now they have been knocking at the door of this particular championship without even reaching the slightest mead of success. But this year they have really strung together a talented side and with all due respects to Clashmore whom they now meet in the divisional final it is going to take a really great side to beat them. Whether or not Clashmore qualify in that category only the final itself will reveal, but right now Ballinacourty have undoubtedly established themselves as clear favourites to annex the title.

On Sunday they left no doubts in the mind of anyone as to whom were masters. Playing with the wind they did practically all the attacking during the first thirty minutes. In fact only when Eddie Shea scored Affane's lone goal in the 19th minute did they look like having even a remote chance of holding on to their crown.

At the interval the winners led by 2-4 to 1-0, but if it was not altogether an unassailable lead, the issue was put beyond doubt early in the second half with a goal and a point by Tony Mansfield. Thereafter, as over and as if to prove the one-sidedness of Ballinacourty's final winning margin the only thing in doubt, the second half showed the winners up in splendid light and the quality of their football was compensation in itself for the many stalwarts hit an off day on Sunday and their best were defenders John Healy, Tom Scanlon, Paddy McGrath and Tony McCarthy; midfielders Pat Denn and Paddy McGrath, and Eddie Shea and Monty Scanlon in attack.

Despite the good work of Pat Denn and Paddy McGrath, their midfield pairing of Liam Enright and Pakie Hogan reigned supreme for most of the hour.

Their attack too, combined beautifully for all their scores. Vincent Byrne, Jack Elstead and Pat McGovern formed a superb half line while nearer goal, Tony Mansfield, Duck Whelan and Johnny Hogan notched the scores that put paid to Affane's hopes.

Far too many of Affane's other disappointing aspects of this semi-final. Few optimistic Ballinacourty supporters included, could possibly have predicted so uneven a contest. Affane totally collapsed with but a handful of their stars approaching anything near top form. They surrendered their title however, like true sportsmen, and to their credit kept plugging away even when the tide had turned completely against them.

But then a minute later came the first and only real ray of hope for Affane, Eddie Shea, gaining possession thirty yards out, jinked his way through the winners' defence and lashed the ball to the net for the best score of the game. Momentarily Affane were on top though however, adding to their tally, and further points by Pat Enright and Tony Mansfield (free) gave the winners their 2-4 to 1-0 interval lead.

Whatever hopes Affane may have had of wiping out their deficit vanished early in the second half. After two minutes Tony Mansfield pointed a free and minutes later the same player scored goal number three. After that it was as good as over and as if to prove the one-sidedness of Ballinacourty's final winning margin the only thing in doubt, the second half showed the winners up in splendid light and the quality of their football was compensation in itself for the many

Monarud-Tinalire Wedding

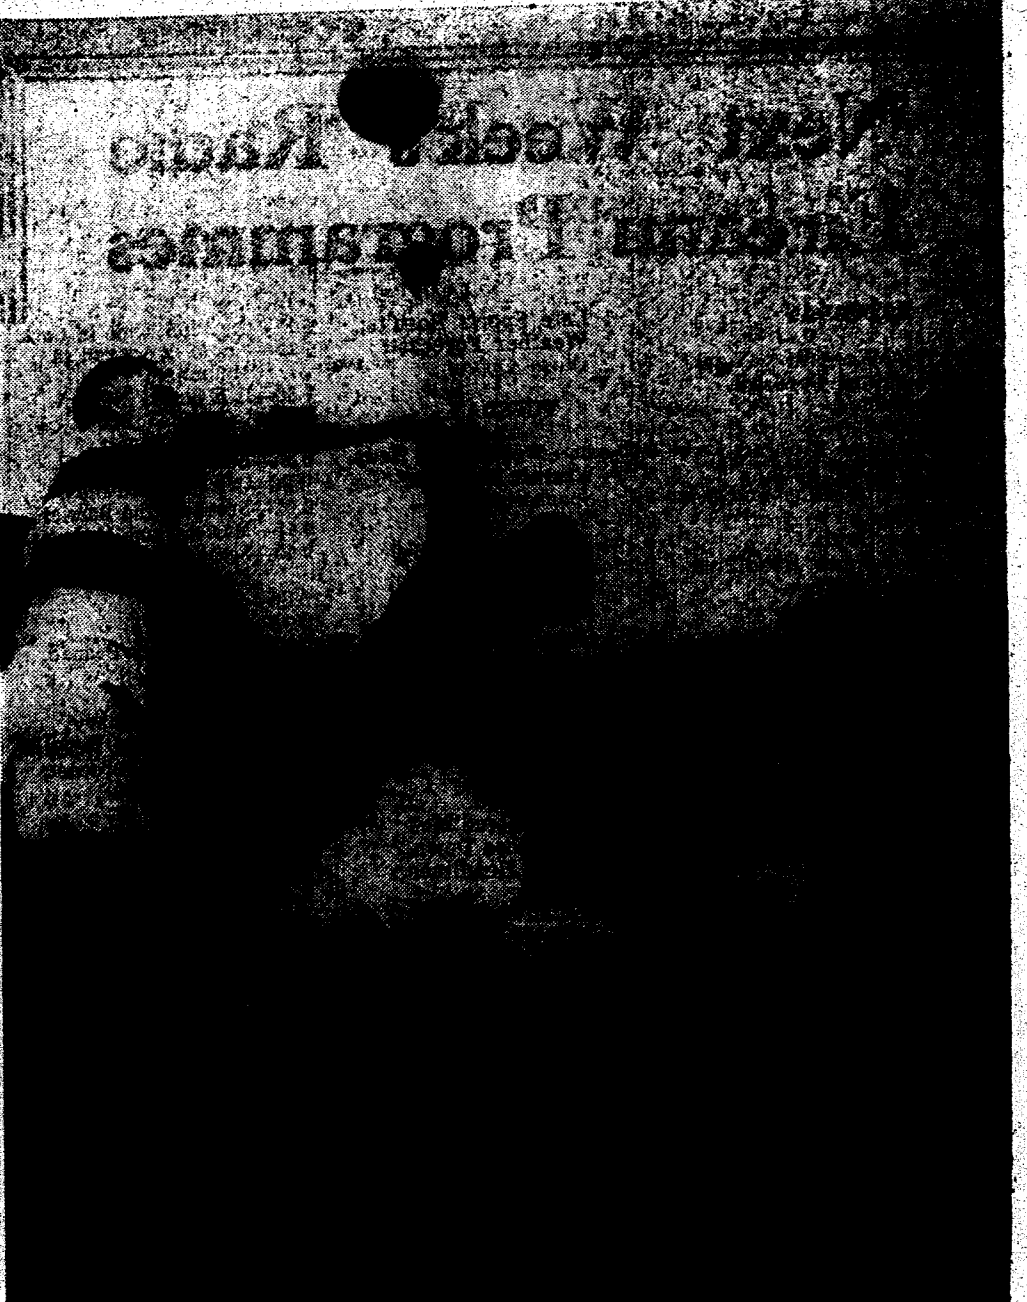

A very pretty wedding took place on Tuesday of last week at Touraneena Parish Church when Patrick Walsh, son of Catherine and the late James Walsh, Monarud, Dungarvan, and Miss Catherine (Cait) O'Grady were joined in Holy Matrimony. The ceremony was performed by Very Rev. P. Walsh, P.P., assisted by Very Rev. D. McGrath P.P. and Rev. Fr. Griffin, C.C.

The best man was Mr. John Walsh (cousin of the groom) and Miss Nell O'Grady (sister of the bride) acted as bridesmaid.

The bride was radiantly attired in a full length white brocade gown with waist length headpiece and carried a bouquet of red and white carnations and maidenhair fern.

The bridesmaid wore a full length light gown of taffeta and carried white carnations.

The reception was held in the Hotel Minella, Clonmel, and the honeymoon is being spent in London.

Casey Cup Returns to Kilmac

KILMACTHOMAS — 3; ABBEYSIDE UTD. — 1

AFTER their one year reign as Casey Cup holders, Abbeyside Utd. relinquished the trophy to Kilmacthomas on Sunday last at the latter's own venue, in a final that was close and exciting without, however, being productive of the expected brand of football. This decision went to extra time before the new champions were declared, but if Abbeyside made them fight hard for victory, this was a truly well-merited Kilmacthomas victory.

Territorially, the winners held a most emphatic advantage, but it is surely a measure of the gamefulness of the Abbeyside rearguard that they forced this game beyond the actual 70 minutes. It must be said, of course, that the winners attack squandered some great chances and with the exception of Roy Battye's equalising score, none of their goals could be termed as other than "soft."

The winners half backs controlled this game almost from the very start. They held that decisive mid-field grip and it was inevitably paved the way for victory. Abbeyside, let it be said, played well—perhaps not as well as in the semi-final, but nevertheless, lost little cast in this defeat. Their forwards particularly never relished the strong tackling of the winners' defenders, and seldom during the game did they look like achieving anything of note.

As a spectacle the game did not produce the brand of open attractive football expected, but this could be blamed on the unattractive conditions prevailing. Both sides played it cautiously, with the marking close and hard. Be that as it may, however, it produced plenty of goalmouth thrills and was generally speaking a satisfactory game for the large attendance present.

Abbeyside had first advantage of the strong breeze, yet it was Kilmac's who looked more dangerous in lightning breakaways, and caused the visitors' defence many anxious moments. Then, midway through the half Abbeyside jumped into the lead. The goal was simplicity personified, accredited to John Beresford, but for which goalkeeper P. J. Maher must shoulder the blame. Maher gathered the ball safely, but when challenged by Beresford, turned and inadvertently allowed the ball to drop from his grasp over the line.

But the winners were not long in arrears. In fact, five minutes after the Abbeyside goal, they were back on level terms, when a fine swan shot by Roy Battye from 15 yards, found its way into the top corner of the net. And at the interval it was still level pegging, but with the odds now firmly in favour of the home team.

And that second half did in the main, belong to Kilmac. Almost from the restart they took over the initiative and soon Abbeyside's defence was harassed and hard pressed one.

But hard though the winners attack tried, they almost invariably ran into trouble by over-carrying the ball. In fact for the closing ten minutes it was the visitors, having successfully weathered severe pressure, who did most of the attacking and came nearest to snatching what would undoubtedly have been a match winning goal.

And so to extra time. Once again it was Kilmac who took up the running, and midway through this first period they secured their second goal—scored almost from sixty yards by centre-half Pat Flynn. It was nothing more than a speculative job into the Abbeyside goalmouth, but the wind carried it over the despairing reach of goalkeeper John McGrath and agonisingly (for the visitors) into the roof of the net.

That score undoubtedly put paid to Abbeyside's hopes of Casey Cup retention. Their spirit waned and in the second extra time period John Kiersey clinched victory with goal number three.

But if Kilmac's second and third goals were of the soft variety, they were undisputedly the masters in this decider. And worthy indeed were they of their two goal win.

New Ambulances to be Purchased

Mr. F. Money, Acting Secretary, informed the members of Waterford Health Authority at their meeting on Monday last that they intended to replace two of the existing ambulances this year, instead of one.

Mr. Money said they had received complaints from Dr. Corrigan, R.M.S. with regard to the ambulances and how long they lasted etc. The cost of a basic ambulance was £1,350 but with the special modifications and fittings now insisted upon by the Dept. they would cost £1,900 complete.

At this stage Mr. Deo Galgey said that three patients had told him that they got sick going to Dublin in the ambulances and they would not travel back in them. It was diesel that was being used and he thought it was detrimental to the patients.

Mr. John Fahey, T.D., said he knew of patients and nurses who got sick travelling in the ambulances because of the diesel fumes.

Mr. Galgey then stated that he knew of an eighty-year-old man that was brought by ambulance to Ardkeen by a specialist but the specialist never turned up. He went again a second time and once again the specialist did not turn up. When they came for him the third time the old man was not able to go. The specialist could at least have notified the hospital that he would not be coming, he added.

Mr. Fahey, T.D., said that was a serious complaint and it should not have happened.

It was then decided on the proposal of Mr. Fahey, seconded by Mr. Cahill that they put up £2,400 for the purchase of two new ambulances.

NEWSLETTER

The October issue of "Newsletter" is on sale this weekend and this lively and intimate chronicle of local news, produced by the Legion of Mary Præsidium in the Presentation Convent, goes from strength to strength on each appearance. G.A.A.

Much interest was centered this weekend on the appearance of Tourin's Ollie Wilkinson on the Waterford side which lost to Kilkenny in the national hurling league tie at Nowlan Park. The local man had a good outing, on such notable exponents as Paddy Moran and Sean Burke and should have done enough to retain his place.

WEDDING: CARR - O'SHEA

The marriage took place recently at St. Carthage's Church, Lismore, of Mr. Michael Carr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Carr, 16, Garbally Demense, Ballinasloe, Co. Galway, and Miss Mary O'Shea, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Shea, Town Marks, Lismore. The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass and Papsal Blessing, was performed by Very Rev. T. Canon Dunphy, P.P., V.F., Lismore.

The best man was Mr. Sean O'Shea (brother of the bride) and the bridesmaid was Miss Ann Carr (sister of the groom). Miss Catherine O'Shea was trainbearer.

The bride, who was given away by her uncle Mr. Patrick Conway, wore a full length gown of white satin with beadwork and matching pillbox headpiece with shoulder-length veil, while the bridesmaid wore a full length gown of tangerine nylon over satin with matching headpiece.

The reception was held at Walsh's Hotel, Cappoquin, and the honeymoon is being spent touring Ireland.

LISMORE DRAMATIC SOCIETY

Lismore Dramatic Society held its annual general meeting last week when there was a big attendance including several new members. The report of the Hon. Secretary and Treasurer, Mr. J. Stapleton, showed the finances to be in a healthy condition though, due to circumstances beyond their control, no play had been presented during the past year.

Plans were in hand, however, for the presentation of a play before Christmas.

The following officers were elected: Chairman, Mr. K. Fenton; Vice-do., Mr. W. Hogan; Hon. Secretary/Treasurer, Mr. J. Stapleton. Committee: Miss K. O'Brien, Miss Anne Tierney, Mr. J. Gorman, Mr. T. Murphy.

I.C.A. ENTERTAIN A.C.W.W. DELEGATES

Lismore I.C.A. were hosts to visiting A.C.W.W. delegates on Thursday morning when the programme for the visitors included a visit to the Church of Ireland Cathedral, where the party was met by Very Rev. Dean Mayes. Lismore Castle was also visited and the best man was Mr. John Barron. The child attendants were Michael and Brendan Kelly, nephews of the bride.

Late A. J. Fitzgerald

Farnborough, Touraneena

We deeply regret to place on record the death of Alphonse John Fitzgerald, which occurred in a London hospital, on Saturday evening, 25th September, after a rather short duration of illness, but at the allotted span. His passing leaves a vacancy in the teaching profession, which will be very hard to fill. He was very well known and a highly popular personality. He was predeceased by his wife only two years ago. He was a native of the Ballinacree area and a member of a very well known and highly-respected family.

His remains arrived at Dungarvan Station on Saturday morning, October 2nd, and from thence to Touraneena Church, where they were received and blessed by Rev. M. Griffin, C.C.

Requiem Mass was then celebrated by Very Rev. P. Walsh, P.P., for the repose of his gentle soul and the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery. Rev. Fr. Thomas Nugent, Diocesan Inspector (nephew of deceased's late wife) officiated at the graveside, assisted by Very Rev. P. Walsh, P.P. A large concourse were present at the Mass and obsequies.

Some beautiful floral wreaths were placed on his grave. We extend our deepest condolences to his sons and daughter on the passing of a wonderful father. (Funeral arrangements were by James Kieley & Sons, Shandon, Dungarvan).

KILMAC' NOTES

Great Day—Tuesday of last week was a great day in Kilmacomas, when a group of 37 members of the Country Women of the World paid a short but enjoyable visit to the Mahon-straddling town. The town was decorated with streamers, ribbons and placards, and pots of flowers and shrubs were placed with decorative taste everywhere. Members of the Comhaltas Ceoltoiri bands of Kilmacomas were present to march in front of the women from the Mercy Convent to Flahavans Mills, where the ladies were presented with souvenir packets of oatmeal and towels. Refreshments were partaken of at Kilnagrange-House at the kind invitation of Messrs. Flahavans. Members of the F.C.A. and Civil Defence Association looked very smart in uniform for the occasion.

All the ladies seemed to have enjoyed Kilmac' and we heard many express their desire to return some day.

We compliment the local I.C.A. guild for their efforts to make Kilmac' a tidy and impressive town for the day. The guild wishes to convey its thanks to all those who helped in any way to make the day what it was.

Appointment—A big warm welcome to Mr. O'Neill, N.T., who has been appointed principal teacher at Fews N.S.

Cookery Classes—Under the auspices of the Waterford Vocational Committee, Cookery Classes are now being held at Spring Valley Hall, Bonmahon. Ladies from the age of sixteen are most welcome.

Wedding—Congratulations to Mr. Pat Walsh, Union Road, Kilmacomas, and Miss Elizabeth O'Keefe, Morrison's Ave., Waterford City, who were united in Holy Matrimony, at the Church of the Holy Trinity, Ballybricken, Waterford, recently.

Approximately 65 guests attended the reception, which was held at The Bridge Hotel, Waterford, and after which the happy couple left for London and Birmingham, on their honeymoon.

Their hosts of friends and well-wishers extend their greetings and felicitations to the newly-weds.

Inter. Results—Miss Eva Crowley and Master Joe Kelly are two talented students who hail from Stradbally and Carroll's Cross respectively. They got very good marks in their recent intermed. exam, and we wish them continued success in the future.

Wedding of Local Interest—The wedding took place recently at St. Mary's Church, Waterford of Mr. Noel Dalton, only son of Mr. and Mrs. James Dalton, "St. Theresa's", Cleavekeale Rd., Waterford, and Miss Mary Kelly, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth and the late Mr. Michael Kelly, Castle View, Maynooth.

The ceremony was performed by Very Rev. W. O'Riordan, P.P., assisted by Rev. M. Burke, S.M.A. The bridesmaid was Miss Betty Kelly, sister of the bride, and the best man was Mr. John Barron. The child attendants were Michael and Brendan Kelly, nephews of the bride.

The bridegroom, who is a member of the clerical staff of the Clyde Shipping Co., Ltd., Waterford, is Hon. Secretary of the De La Salle Past Pupils' Union. The bride, who was at present of Social Welfare, Dublin, was Hon. Secretary of the Maynooth P.T.A.A.

Incidentally, the bridegroom's mother is the former Katie Crowle, Ballinabanogue, Kilmacomas.

Felicitations are extended to Miss Ena Phelan, pupil of Kilmacomas Convent N.S., on winning a prize in a children's competition recently.

Returned to U.S.—Mr. Liam O'Brien, son of Mr. Sean O'Brien, N.T., and Mrs. O'Brien Goresbridge, Co. Kilkenny, has returned to the United States after an enjoyable holiday in the homeland. A former Kilkenny all-Ireland minor hurler, he is now attached to the U.N.T.O. Executive Com. by, Co. Waterford.

Marriage—His many friends in east Waterford felicitate Mr. Harry Matthews, Milltown, Kilmacow, on the occasion of his marriage, which took place on last Thursday week, at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Ferrybank, Co. Kilkenny. Harry is son of Mr. Frank Matthews, retired bank manager, Donegal, and the late Mrs. Matthews.

Engagement of Local Interest—The engagement is announced between Mr. Austin Fenton, B.A. Sc., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fenton, Aglish, Cappoquin, and Miss Mary O'Meara, D.S., daughter of Mrs. N. O'Meara, 120 Lindsay Road, Glasnevin, Dublin, and the late Mr. Michael O'Meara. Mary is niece of Mr. Dick Casey, Corner Shop, 'Lilmac', and has spent many happy days in the locality.

TALLOW NOTES

TALLOW GIRL HAD THREE FIRSTS

Miss Mary O'Mahony, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. O'Mahony, Main Street, Tallow, won 1st prize at Fermoyle Show for scone baking. She also won 1st prize at Conna Horticultural Show for Patchwork and 1st prize for darning at the same show. We congratulate the talented young girl on her success.

CO. ENGINEER'S REPORT ON ROAD

Mr. John Fahey, T.D., has received the following reply from Mr. Dowling, County Secretary, in connection with the road from the Mackey Memorial to Dunmooon Cross:—

"With reference to your letter of the 13th ult., re the condition of the road from the Mackey Memorial to Dunmooon Cross, I desire to inform you that the County Engineer has reported that he has listed this road in the next five year plan and that in the meantime, routine maintenance will be carried out."

T.D. VISITS CONSTITUENTS

Mr. John Fahey, T.D., visited the Hotel, Tallow, on Saturday last for the convenience of his local constituents. He also visited Cappoquin and Lismore, on the same date.

HOME FROM SEA

Mr. Michael Keane, Ballyduff son of Mr. Michael Keane and the late Mrs. Keane, concluded a two week's holiday from the Royal Navy on this Saturday. Since he joined the navy he has visited many foreign parts.

ENGAGEMENT

The engagement is announced between Mr. John Henley, son of Mrs. E. Henley and the late Peter Henley, New St., Tallow, and Miss Phyllis Tobin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tobin, Tallow Hill.

RETURNED TO ENGLAND

Mr. John Leahy, Parkdota, returned to England, on Saturday, after spending a 2 week holiday at the home of his father, Mr. Dan Leahy.

TALLOW TENNIS CLUB

In the final of the Tallow Lawn Tennis championship (men's singles), the winner was Mr. Con Ryan. He beat his brother Kevin in a thrilling game. His win is all the more meritorious, when one considers that Kevin is ten years his senior. It was a unique double for the Ryan family as Mrs. C. Ryan won the ladies singles after a wonderful game in which she beat Miss G. McGrath, Lismore. Both finals went to the third sets, which goes to show how close they were.

TALLOW FOOT BEAGLES MEET

The opening meet of the season of Tallow Foot Beagles Club was held on Sunday last. Hares were plentiful, and a large following had a good day's hunting.

MR. CON RYAN PRESENTS HIS LATE FATHER'S TROPHY

Mr. Con Ryan, son of the late Frank Ryan the noted tenor, presented the Frank Ryan Trophy, at the close of the Waterford Festival of Light Opera, to Mr. G. McGee, Newry, who was adjudged this year's best Irish singer at the Festival. Mr. Frank Ryan (Jr.) was also present.

GERALDINES DEFEAT LOCAL TEAM

In a challenge hurling game played at Tallow on Sunday, Geraldines scored a win over the local fifteen.

Danish Visitors

A party of Danish Councillors and officials were entertained to dinner in the Grand Hotel, Tramore, on Sunday night last. The guests included Messrs. C. Curran, Chairman, Waterford Co. Council; J. D. Dowling, A.C.A., Secretary, do.; J. D. Hall, B.E., County Engineer; J. Ormonde, B.E., C/A Co. Engineer.

There was a most interesting exchange of views between the Danish and Irish parties.

GERALDINES ARE FAVOURITES

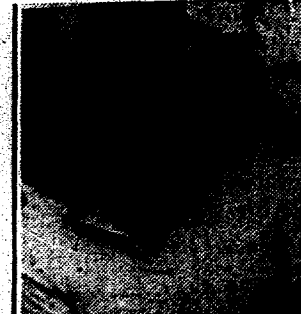

But Dungarvan Can Take Western Title

JIM HALLAHAN (Geraldines) and TOLLY QUEALY (D'van)

THE stage is set for a hurling thriller. The pre-match preparation—and it was intense in both camps, is over, and now the Intermediate hurlers of Dungarvan and Geraldines await with growing impatience next Sunday's Western final at the picturesque Castle Farm grounds, Lismore. If ever a game should live up to the high standard expected of it, this is it, and this splendidly laid out venue should be host to a huge crowd by the time referee Billy Jones (St. John's) gets this eagerly awaited decider under way.

"STYLO" RIORDAN (Geraldines) and CONOR CURRAN (Dungarvan, both solid defenders)

GAELIC JOTTINGS

BALLINAMEELA FOR WESTERN SEMI-FINAL

County that journeyed to Nowlan Park on Sunday last for the County's opening game in the National League against Kilkenny. There I witnessed one of the worst displays from a Waterford team in a long time. True the conditions were not in a favour of good hurling, but such was the standardness of Waterford's display that even the prevailing conditions could not be to blame.

The standard of football never reached any great heights in this game, but with the issue in doubt right up to the final whistle, spectators had plenty to enthuse over. The Nire will undoubtedly beoman the fact that they had to field without quite a long way down the hurling ladder. The introduction of Peter McGovern and emigration, and at full strength, they would surely have survived this obstacle. But all credit to Ballinameela. They played with great determination throughout and possessed the more talented individuals, which in the final reckoning meant the vital difference between victory and defeat.

Yet the losers had a tonic start with a goal almost from the throw in. And though Ballinameela ended the half on level terms at 1-1 each, the odds were now in favour of the Nire who had played against the first half breeze.

But it was Ballinameela who took control and a goal scored by set them on the road to victory. The Nire replied with a point but a like score again by gave Ballinameela their deserved 2-2 to 1-2 victory.

TIPP. SEEKING POSTPONEMENT

Tipperary, just back from America, will I understand be looking for a postponement of their National Hurling League game against Waterford, due to be played at Dungarvan on the 24th of this month. The postponement will be sought on the grounds that the champions are caught up in a glut of fixtures with their own championship games scheduled for Sunday next and the Oireachtas final against Kilkenny on the following Sunday.

It is I think a reasonable request and one which Waterford will, I imagine, readily concede to.

If postponed, it is likely that the game will not go on until the new year.

JUNIOR CHAMPIONSHIP GAME ON SUNDAY

Undoubtedly the big attraction in the West on Sunday next is the meeting of Dungarvan and Geraldines in the Western Intermediate hurling final at Lismore. One of the two curtain raisers to that game is the Ballinacourty-Shamrocks clash in junior football and here the Shamrocks must be warmly fancied. Ballinacourty must field their second best fifteen for this tie, but such is the surplus of good talent at their disposal right now that they will not be easily beaten. The vote must, of course, go to Shamrocks, but I confidently expect Ballinacourty to make this a very close issue. This will follow the Dungarvan - Geraldines final.

UNDER 14 SCHOOLS FINAL

The opening tie in the three game programme at Lismore on Sunday should have interesting patrons flocking to the Castle Farm grounds at an early hour. The Sheehan Cup final is the attraction and this under 14 National Schools decider should provide some great hurling.

Contestants in this final are Abbeyside National School and Avonmore, represented by Cappoquin, Lismore, Tallow and Ballyduff. With such a big pick to select from it is not surprising that Avonmore should start favourites to take this trophy. They have reigned supreme against all opposition to date and will not hear of defeat.

But Abbeyside, particularly in a final can never be taken lightly. They have quite a good side and at this final hurdle will be harder than ever to dispose of.

Yes, whilst giving Avonmore the vote, I have great faith and confidence in the Villagers to make this a memorable final. So my advice is—at 2 o'clock on Sunday—the starting time of this under 14 final.

WATERFORD HURLING IN THE DOLDRUMS

The time has come when alibis can no longer be offered. The plain and bitter truth is that Waterford hurling is now languishing in the doldrums, with little hope for improvement in the immediate future. Yes, I was one of the very small contingent from the

For this truly is a final that has captured the imagination of hurling followers not alone from the parishes of the immediate teams concerned but from all corners of the Division. For it is doubtful if we have had as open a decider in years and not surprisingly opinion is sharply divided as to how it will end. Geraldines will, however, start slight favourites, but Dungarvan—now resurgent after too long in the doldrums, are confident of taking the title to the Old Boro.

Geraldines let it be said, were fancied from the very start to reach this final. Last year they were to my mind the unlucky ones of the championship and now that the ultimate stage has been reached, have no doubts as to how it will go. They are a rugged side, with a definite preference for close hard hurling, yet when the occasion demands it can hurl with the best. This year too, they welcomed to the fold...the former Cappoquin and Waterford star, Mick Lacey, and he now teams up at midfield with Mick Tobin. I have never doubted Lacey's hurling potential, but as yet he has not hit it off in the Aglish jersey, and that he this is bound to stand them in good stead.

In marked contrast, Dungarvan rely on youth. Speed will undoubtedly be their forte on Sunday and given a dry sod they hope to utilise the vast expanse of the Lismore pitch to the full. With such a contrast of hurling styles imperativeness adds a real touch of piquancy to the occasion, and makes the whole thing that much more intriguing.

NOT YET ANNOUNCED

As I write I have no first hand information on what fifteen the Aglishers will rely on, whilst the Dungarvan mentors will not go into deliberation until Saturday night. But whilst Geraldines report an injury free sheet with all players fully fit and available, Dungarvan must find a replacement for half-back Brendan Crowley, who starred in their semi-final win. Crowley must do if the Aglishers hope to master the Dungarvan partnership of John Moylan (his suspension expires on Saturday night) and Ray Lannon.

NEW ENTHUSIASM

A new enthusiasm has been born within the club since this successful championship run has returned to his ecclesiastical studies and his absence is bound to be felt.

The goalkeeping sector presents no problems thanks to the proven ability of Michael Donnelly and all can be asked of full-backs Conor Curran, Mick Fitzgerald, their inspiring captain and Michael Lewis is a re-creation of their displays against Cappoquin.

But the more I survey this final the more convinced I am that the outcome will hinge on the result of the battle between Dungarvan's half back-line and the Geraldines half-forward trio. Fortunately for Dungarvan Tom Cunningham is playing the best hurling of his career, but quite an onus falls on the shoulders of Tony Mountain whose task it is to curb the flying Jim Kiely. This should be one of the individual high-commended. Never before can I remember a better response to training, and without fear of contradiction I state that never will a fitter team have left the club. The players themselves are mustard keen, fully alive to the difficulty of the task on hands, but at the same time dead bent on taking the title.

Of the two, Geraldines are undoubtedly the more experienced. Men like Billy Crotty, Bunny Ronayne, Jim Hallahan, Stylo Riordan, Paddy Kenneally, Jim and Ned Mernon

MAEVE MULVANNY

Next Monday night, 11th October, Club 65 will present Ireland's leading ballad singer, Maeve Mulvanny of Dublin. This 20-year old star has appeared on T.E. B.B.C. and U.T.V., and is well known at all the ballad venues in Ireland and overseas. She is assured of a big welcome in Clonmel. The Billy Kenrick Orchestra will supply the music for this second Club 65 promotion.

lights of the hour. Who will fill Crowley's berth on the other flank, however, is anyone's guess, but should Jim Byrne be available he may be allotted the post.

Midfield automatically picks itself as both Moylan and Lannon have done everything asked of them to-date.

There may also be a change of attack. In training Tom Kiely, a native of Tipperary, has revealed fine form, and it would come as no surprise if he is included amongst the sextet. Sean Power, dropped for the Cappoquin game, came on as a sub that day and he, too, may well regain favour. Mick Bowen, Eamonn Kiely, Jim Walsh and Tolly Queally will all be included in the side and each and every one of that quartet is capable of notching vital scores.

And what of Geraldines? Their team is also unpicked as yet, but it is doubtful if at this stage they will indulge in any experimentation.

Like Dungarvan, they are brilliantly served in goal by the agile and always alert John Grady. But the writer at any rate is convinced that the great coverage he receives from his fulls, Billy Crotty, Bun-rock solid, Jim Hallahan is a fine long striking defender and his flankers Stylo Riordan and Jim Mernon need no introduction from me.

The midfield of Tobin and Lacey I have already mentioned but Geraldines I think pin greatest faith on half-forwards Jim Kiely, Michael Murphy and Paddy Kenneally. Kiely and Kenneally in particular could well cause havoc if allowed to, and they are going to take a deal of holding on Sunday.

The likely composition of their full forward line, however is something I wouldn't even care to hazard a guess on. Jim Joe Landers will occupy one of the corner berths but after that I leave it in trust to those whose task it is to name the side. However, Willie Joe Treacy who played such a fine part in the defeat of Tourin when introduced as a sub must surely come into the reckoning for first team recognition on this occasion.

That then is the story from confidence is undeniably the respective camps, where keynote. So open is the whole affair that one might have a better chance of nominating the winner by the flip of a coin. Throughout the field the sides seem very evenly matched and the more I scrutinise this final the more convinced I am it is a forecaster's nightmare.

Geraldines, as already stated, will start favourites, and it might with justification be termed foolhardy to do other than give them the vote. But this Dungarvan team, given a dry sod, will be flying on Sunday, and if favoured by the elements they can I think capture the title.

Members of the Dungarvan Credit Union have now invested savings (totaling £801). The amount of loans taken out to date is £250. Individual loans range from £10 to £50.

The unique insurance scheme which your Credit Union has joined, gives these members the following cover on their savings and loans: In the event of death or total disablement of a member, the beneficiary named by the member, would receive the amount of the savings, plus a further sum equal to these savings. If a member had saved £40, the beneficiary would receive £80. Also, any loan or part of a loan which the member owed the Credit Union would be completely cancelled. The beneficiary would not be required to pay back one penny of such loan to the Credit Union.

Any person living or working in the Dungarvan urban district may join the Credit Union. Its Offices are open at the Courthouse, every Friday, from 5.45 p.m. to 6.30 p.m., and from 8.30 p.m. to 10 p.m. If you call in for a chat you will be very welcome.

Waterford's hopes received a last minute polt when Walsh had to cry off. Walsh got a metal splinter in his eye at work on Friday and was there as a spectator on Sunday, his eye completely covered. To meet the emergency John O'Brien was drafted into attack, but all through Walsh was sorely missed.

Right through the first half Waterford, if anything had the better of the exchanges. The standard of hurling, of course even during this "moisty" left a lot to be desired, yet there was consolation in the belief that Waterford were in average chance. As the interval approached they led by 0-8 to 0-6 and it was only a brace of points just on the half hour that attained scoring equality for the Nore-siders.

But within sixty seconds of the restart Waterford were in arrears from which they never recovered. Up stepped Claus Dunne to take a 21 yard free and his low drive went all the way to the net. The score to my mind however, should definitely have been disallowed as the Kilkenny full forward was standing well inside the square and pulled on the ball—without touching it, as it sped goalwards. A quick point consolidated their position and then goals by Tommy Walsh and substitute Jim Bennett finally put the issue beyond doubt. Thereafter it was boredom at its worst, and referee Tommy Foran's final whistle was wellcome relief.

MIDFIELD ECLIPSED

Once again Waterford's most suspect sector on Sunday last was midfield where John Meaney and Jimmy Byrne never hit it off. Byrne was later drafted to the half-line of attack but without success and both he and Meaney were finally replaced. Then substitute Jim Irish and Peter McGovern teamed up for a spell but all the time Kilkenny's Andy Comerford and Ned Power were allowed roam unmarked. In fact so slack was the Waterford marking in this sector that at times one wondered if Waterford had any midfield partnership on duty

Successful First Night for 'Club 65'

Club 65, the newly-formed dance club, which made its debut last Monday night, had a most successful opening when they presented the Maurice Mulcahy Orchestra in the Collins Ballroom, Clonmel. The Club was founded for the purpose of promoting the "big band sound," or orchestral flavour in dance music and the promoters have expressed their gratitude for the excellent support and encouragement which they have received from many quarters.

Monday night's attendance included Alderman W. Corbett, Mayor of Clonmel, and the Lady Mayoress; Mr. Patrick O'Brien, Chairman, Tipperary (S.R.) Co. Council; Mr. Jackie Fahey, T.D., and Mrs. Fahey, and Mr. James Darmody, Chairman of Cashel U.D.C.

Waterford Fail To Impress in Opening League Game

KILKENNY 3-11; WATERFORD 1-4

FOR Waterford this Nowlan Park game was little short of a hurling debacle. In their first instance it got the County off to a losing start in their 1965/66 National League campaign, but undoubtedly of greater significance was the substandardness of their display—a display that may well usher in a long, lean and uneventful era for the Decies.

The attendance at this game on Sunday last was meagre to say the least, this surely being yet another sad reflection on the strength of the game at the moment. As a spectacle too, it was so complete a flop, that not even the unfavourable condition could be acceptable in toto as the fault. Missing was the traditional rivalry between these neighbouring Counties, and after an even but moderate first half the encounter deteriorated to such a degree that the sparse crowd were streaming homewards long before it was all over.

That Kilkenny deserved to win cannot be disputed. They assumed complete control in the second half, during the first quarter of which they secured the decisive scores. Yet this too was a discomfiting hour even for the victors. For in truth to tell they were very much less than impressive, making it plain to all and sundry to see how they relinquished their Leinster crown to Wexford.

Waterford's hopes received a last minute polt when Walsh had to cry off. Walsh got a metal splinter in his eye at work on Friday and was there as a spectator on Sunday, his eye completely covered. To meet the emergency John O'Brien was drafted into attack, but all through Walsh was sorely missed.

A quick point consolidated their position and then goals by Tommy Walsh and substitute Jim Bennett finally put the issue beyond doubt. Thereafter it was boredom at its worst, and referee Tommy Foran's final whistle was wellcome relief.

At centre back Joe Condon did a power of good hurling; Larry Guinan was solid without being at his brilliant best, and if Ollie Wilkinson seemed immature at times, he met with more than a little success against no less a man than Sean Buckley.

Midfield—not for the first time—was completely eclipsed whilst up front some reputations were somewhat tarnished. The gambit of playing Martin O'Gorman at full-forward was successful enough to warrant another trial. In the opening half in particular he gave big Jim Lynch a roasting and flashed over three fine points. He also forced Lynch into conceding several frees, from one of which he slammed home Waterford's lone goal.

Without Frankie Walsh the half-line lacked the necessary drive. Tom Cheasty after a poor opening half, began to find chinks in Kilkenny's defensive armour on the change-over, but Peter McGovern's debut in the county jersey was not a happy one.

Besides Morrissey in the full line, John Kirwan was always trying and scored the best point of the game in the first half. But Mick Flannelly never got going in the other corner and had what for him was a very poor game.

Scorers for Kilkenny were: Claus Dunne (1-3), Tommy Walsh (1-2), J. Bennett (1-0), A. Comerford (0-3), P. Moran (0-2), S. Buckley (0-1).

Waterford replied through Martin Morrissey (1-3), Tom Cheasty and John O'Brien (0-2) each, P. McGovern and John Kirwan (0-1).

Referee—T. Foran (Carrick).
