COUNCIL IN FINANCIAL STRAITS

47 Workers May Be Disemployed

WATERFORD COUNTY COUNCIL is finding itself in dire financial straits. This was revealed in a statement by the County Accountant, Mr. F. O'Leary, at last Monday's meeting, when he stated that they were now £72,000 worse off than at this time last year. A warning was also given that unless a loan for the cottage programme was forthcoming by the end of the current month forty-seven workers may have to be let go.

Mr. Charles Curran (Chairman) said their big snag at the moment was their failure to get a £15,000 loan. In recent weeks they had found themselves in serious financial difficulties and the position was now very serious. Mr. F. O'Leary (County Accountant) said that since 1952 the County Council put up £17,300 annually for cottage repairs. This money came from revenue and loans. In the last 13 years a total of £225,000 had been put up for the repairs of cottages. In 1964, however, the annual figure again rose to £34,000. To-date in the current year they had spent £19,854 and at the present rate they could only retain their labour force to the end of this current month. They had been turned down for a loan of £15,000 by the bank and looked around elsewhere to see if they could get it. They tried an American Bank Company in Dublin, but they would not give them any money because that type of loan was not in accordance with their policy. They then tried a financial company for this loan for cottage repairs, but again failed. Some 47 men will be effected, he said, but the County Engineer hoped to be able to divert some of them to another source to keep them employed.

Continuing, Mr. O'Leary said "We are now £72,000 worse off than at this time last year. Our present overdraft is £139,000 as against £67,682 last year. The limit of our overdraft is £250,000, and we are seriously concerned with the position because of the hold up of money we would normally expect from the Department. The Dept. now says we may not proceed with the erection of cottages, even though they have been approved, without getting sanction for the loan. We have built £82,000 worth of cottages without getting even a half penny from the Dept. We are keeping in close touch with developments, but I am now fearful that the £250,000 overdraft limit may be reached before the end of the current quarter."

Mr. Curran (Chairman) said the Dept. was to blame for all this. They sent them down insolent letters to build houses. Mr. Kieran O'Ryan: We have been responsible ourselves, giving wholesale increases at every other meeting. We have been aiming at this for a long time.

Mr. Curran: That is not so. We refused increases and the Minister gave the mover our heads. Mr. O'Ryan: Say what you like, this was coming for a long time.

Mr. Hally (Co. Engineer) said the position about the loan was very serious. Mr. O'Leary, the Co. Accountant, and himself were going to Dublin in the morning to see the Department officials about it.

Mr. W. Kennelly, T.D., said the position now was that to keep the 47 men in employment they would have to get this loan by the end of the month. Mr. Hally said he would be able to keep some of the men going for a while by transferring them to direct labour cottage schemes.

Mr. Curran said there was a continuous drain on the County Council for cottage repairs. Mr. Norman Walsh said that from the financial point of view their position was very serious. When this thing was analysed it all went back to the 12% increase. They all knew that now, when it was too late. It wasn't the Government that was running this country, but the Civil Servants. They were the ones that were given the big increases and that was why they were in such financial straits to-day. Those members (himself included) who had been hunted down here when opposing big salary increases, had now been proved correct.

Mr. Curran said they had received a stiff letter from the Department and if approved this would cost them £8,000. He did not think they should even read this letter. They hadn't enough money as it was to keep their road workers in employment.

Mr. T. Lannon: What does the Minister think we are going to use for money? All the money is going on salaries in the Public Bodies in this County.

The matter was then adjourned to the estimates meeting.

CALL ON MINISTER TO STOP SALE OF KNIVES

The shocking tragedy in Waterford last week-end, in which a 19 year old youth was stabbed to death, has led to Waterford County Council sending a resolution to the Minister calling on him to control the sale and distribution of knives and lethal weapons.

Proposing the resolution, Mr. Norman Walsh said the Waterford incident was a shocking tragedy, but, unfortunately, these incidents were becoming too common in this country. It was high time a responsible Minister took action by preventing the distribution and sale of lethal weapons.

Mr. C. Curran (Chairman) said it was a terrible and frightening problem facing them in this country to-day.

Mr. P. Cahill seconded Mr. Walsh's resolution.

Mr. Milo Gagey said the problem and the trouble was that when they went before the Justice he was too lenient with them. That was building up crime, and definitely the courts were not severe enough with them.

Mr. Gagey went on to say that a man without a light on his bicycle will be fined £1 or 30/-, yet a man doing damage to the extent of £100 or more will get off under the first offenders act. Proper disciplinary measures should be taken by the State.

FOOT BRIDGE TO BE REPAIRED
Waterford County Council unanimously decided at its monthly meeting on Monday last that subject to Departmental sanction they will repair and maintain the foot-bridge at Coolagortboy, Cappouin.
Mr. Norman Walsh said if this work was carried out it would prove a great help to the people of the area and particularly the school children, who at present had to travel several miles to get to school. Mr. Walsh proposed the bridge be repaired and maintained and Mr. John Fahey, T.D., seconded.

CASBAH CHIEF with his joint owners, JOHN O'FLYNN and AUSTIN HALLAHAN, Dungarvan, who has qualified for Friday night's Puppy Derby final at Harold's Cross, Dublin and is drawn very favourably in No. 1 trap.

Of a mother I will never

Her memory to me is a treasure,
Her loss, a lifetime's regret.
It broke my heart to lose

But you did not go alone,
For part of me went you,
mother,
The day God called you
home.
My heart still aches with sadness,
Secret tears still flow,
What it meant to lose you,
mother,
No one will ever know,
The days are sad and lonely,
And everything goes wrong,
But I seem to hear you
whisper,
Cheer us and carry on,
Each time I look upon your face,
You seem to smile and say,
Don't cry, I'm only sleeping,
You'll see me again some day.
To those of you who have a

Please treasure her with

You you never know her

Crashed Into Itinerants

A double accident on the night of July 1st last, at Cahernaleague, Ballinamult, in which a car was driven straight into the back of a jennet and trap containing six itinerants, and in which a second car drove into the back of the other car, had a sequel at Dungarvan District Court, on Wednesday, when the two car drivers were charged with dangerous driving. They were Terence McCabe, Colligan and Michael O'Brien, Kilmore, Tallow. Judge Skinner convicted O'Brien of dangerous driving and fined him £3 with £4.80 expenses. He reduced the charge against McCabe to one of careless driving and imposed a fine of £1. He was also ordered to pay £1-10 expenses.

Mrs. Mary Power, Touranena, Ballinamult, appeared before District Justice Skinner, at Dungarvan, on Wednesday, on a charge of dangerous driving at Davitts Quay, on 10th August, last. The charge was reduced by the Justice to one of careless driving and a fine of 10/- was imposed.

Geraldines became Divisional intermediate hurling champions when they had a goal to spare over Dungarvan, at the Castle Farm ground on Sunday last. In the supporting game, the Sheehan Cup final, Avonmore accounted for Abbeyside. The games, which are reported in full elsewhere in this issue, attracted what must have been an all time record crowd for the venue.

On Sunday next Affane and Tallow clash here in the divisional junior hurling semi-final. Both sides have been impressive enough advancing to this stage, but a narrow preference must be given to Affane to advance.

LISMORE GUILD I.C.A.

Foreign delegates who attended the recent conference in Dublin were greeted on arrival in Lismore by members of the local guild of the I.C.A. They visited St. Carthage's Cathedral and Rev. Dean Hayes gave an outline of the history of the building, and they were later taken on a tour of Lismore Castle by Miss C. Anson.

The guests expressed their delight at the beauty and scenery of the place and were highly pleased with their visit. A very pleasant and educational evening was spent by the members at the October meeting. Rev. Fr. Michael Coleman, home on holidays from Japan, gave a most enlightening talk on the Missions and showed some very interesting film slides of various places. He spoke on the missionary, racial and social problems involved. At the conclusion of the meeting, Mrs. K. Cahill and Mrs. P. Vaughan paid a deserved tribute to Rev. Fr. Coleman, to which he suitably replied. Next guild meeting will be on November 8th.

Ballinacourty Fancied

FORWARD POWER SHOULD SEE THEM THROUGH

CAN Ballinacourty at last lay the bogey that to-date has prevented them annexing the Western Intermediate football title or will Clashmore, surely a storied name in Waterford Gaeldom, thwart them for yet another year. These are intriguing questions to say the least, the answers to which are not too easily found.

True it is that Ballinacourty's semi-final dethronement of the holders, Affane, must inevitably make them favourites on Sunday, but Clashmore, seeking to revive memories of their golden past will not bow easily—if indeed at all.

Thus the Carroquin venue, make no mistake about it has houses a real attraction to the final between rivals who both like to play an open brand of football that is invariably pleasing to the eye. Not surprisingly then a huge crowd is expected for what is at any rate expected to be a thrilling final.

The Western championship.

last straw when they made a first round exit to Affane. But this year more than ever before the club has geared itself in the direction of that first title. They brushed aside all opposition en route to the semi-final and then giving a truly scintillating display of superb football, swept Affane aside by no less than fourteen points. That was undoubtedly the best display given in this grade for many

DAVY MURRAY, Ballinacourty

How then can I justifiably put forward a case for Clashmore's chances on Sunday? Well, Clashmore has long been a household football word in this county and they enter this

At the time of writing the teams have not been announced but it will be little short of sensational should the Ballinacourty selectors not retain en bloc the team that obliterated Affane's challenge. Their one worry at the moment is Vincent Byrne, who is having trouble with his neck, but I have no doubt this flying half forward will be fully fit come Sunday afternoon next.

Their defence is supremely sound, with no loopholes to be found in the armour of goalkeeper Brian O'Connor, or defenders David Murray, Mick Kieley, Danny Barry and Pat Enright.

VINCENT BYRNE, Clashmore

At midfield, too, they are really well served by Pakie Hogan and Liam Enright, but it is their attack most of all that I look forward to seeing in action.

And what of Clashmore? Personally, I hope they will be fighting fit for the game, for if they fail to match Ballinacourty in speed and fitness, then they can hardly survive. But whilst satisfied that training was not approached with the dedication it deserved, their players, all industrious workers in employment, may be of the type that are always naturally fit. Sunday will tell the tale.

The four McGraths will all be in action, with Tommy and Ned most likely in defence, and Pad and Denis in their front line of attack. Then their is goalkeeper John Hurton, and his brother Paddy in the half back line, with Vinnie Rourke likely to be their centre back, brother Liam on the forty in attack and yet another member of the family Pat, at top of the right.

The second Pat Rourke — a cousin of the other three—and an accomplished footballer if ever there was one, will team up with John Boyle at midfield and their "set to" with Courty's Hogan and Enright should be well worth watching. Elsewhere too, Clashmore seem more than adequately served. Jimmy Roche and John Flavin are solid defenders, and in attack great faith will be pinned on Pat Whyte and Pad Neill.

Mr. Farrell said they did not want that condition of the Justice's going with the dance licence because the Council could not enforce it. The Acting Town Clerk, Mr. B. White said they had received complaints about the amplification and they had employed a man to see that it was kept reasonably down. They also had an extra man at the door to ensure that the number limit of 450 was not exceeded. They wrote to the local gardai about the traffic question, but they said it was not a matter for them. They then wrote to the Commissioners who replied that the gardai had adequate powers under the Control of Traffic Act to deal with this.

Judge Skinner said he would grant the licence for three months. If the complaints were still being made at the end of that period he would then have to refuse it. He said that some parking bye-law should be passed for this area during certain hours.

Mr. Desmond Moloney, a resident of St. Augustine Street, said he resided only about 30 yards from the dance hall. The amplifiers being used there were "beyond all." Cars could be heard at all hours making noise and blowing the horns, and all this was greatly disturbing the peace.

Replying to Mr. Farrell, Mr. Moloney said he put these complaints to the Urban Council and there was a petition signed by the residents.

ABBEYSIDE MINORS MAKE WINNING DEBUT

ABBEYSIDE UTD. . . 3; ST. LUKE'S . . . 1.

Abbeyside Utd. made soccer history on Sunday last, when, for the first time ever they fielded a minor eleven in the Waterford District minor league. And to make the occasion an even more celebrated one, they chalked up a great 1-1 victory over St. Luke's, at Cleberly Park, Waterford.

This surely is an indication of the present strength of the Abbeyside club, and for their first time in competitive football, these minors put up a great performance.

They were seen to greatest advantage in the first half of Sunday's game, during which period they built up a winning 3-0 lead. Their scorers were Brendan Kennedy (2) and Liam Waters.

All round, the whole eleven played their parts in this great win. Particularly impressive, however, were goalkeeper Joe Mulcahy, defenders Finbarr Dunphy and Billy Kyne, and forwards Liam Waters and Brendan Kennedy. The latter gave a particularly brilliant display and was, without doubt, the best player afield.

Yet another milestone will be reached on Sunday next, when Abbeyside's minors and juniors will both be in action at the club's newly acquired ground in Abbeyside. Both games are league ties.

At 1.45 the minors meet Dolphin, a city side, whilst the juniors meet Dolphin in the second game at 3.30. This is the junior's first game in the league series and if they are to make a strong bid for the title it is absolutely necessary for them to collect both points on Sunday.

Re-Elected

On the proposal of Mr. Norman Walsh, seconded by Mr. John Fahey, Mr. James Quirk, Ballyduff Upper, was re-elected to fill the vacancy on Waterford Health Authority, vacated by his own absence from these meetings. Mr. Walsh said that Mr. Quirk was absent through illness and they should re-elect him again. The proposal was unanimously agreed to.

Dangerous Driving Charges Dismissed

Stating that he thought both defendants were at fault to some extent, Judge Skinner, at Dungarvan District Court, on Wednesday, dismissed charges of dangerous driving against Miss Marie Nolan, Springmount, Dungarvan, and Mr. John O'Donoghue, 2 Kicham Street, Clonmel. The defendants were the drivers of vehicles that were in collision at Shandon, on 11th September.

In evidence, Miss Marie Nolan said at about 7 p.m., on this date she was driving her van at Shandon and coming to Nealon's petrol pumps, she put out her right indicator. She waited for one car to pass and then went to turn right when the car driven by the second defendant struck her van.

Mr. O'Donoghue said the van was stationary on the road. When he was only about one and a half car lengths away from her she swung across the road and he could do nothing but brake. Her right indicator was out alright. Witness said he was an undertaker and had fifty years driving experience. He was in fact a professional driver.

Dismissal of both charges, Judge Skinner said both were to blame to some extent, but he would not decide here which of them was more to blame. That could be decided elsewhere, he added.

NEW SALARY SCALES PASSED

ON the casting vote of the Chairman, Venerable Archdeacon Power, P.P., County Waterford Vocational Education Committee meeting on Tuesday granted increased salary scales to their Vocational teachers. The new scales will be retrospective to January 1st last and will cost the Committee £2507 in a full year.

The new scale is: For Married Men—£890 to £1,610 p.a., as against the old scale of £865 to £1,450. For Single men and women: £715 to £1,285. The old scale was £695 to £1,160.

Mr. R. Johnson, who was acting C.E.O., in the absence of Mr. J. Rushe, said these new scales were the result of arbitration and had been accepted by the Government. The Minister sent them an order authorising their immediate implementation. Replying to Mr. Norman Walsh, Mr. Johnson said the last increase was paid to the teachers in July 1964, and was retrospective to 1st October, 1963.

Mr. Walsh: They are starting again in the space of a few months.

Mr. M. Galgey asked who represented them on the arbitration board.

Mr. Johnson said representatives of the Department were on it, but he could not say who represented the Committee.

Mr. Walsh said it was in their hands to grant or refuse this increase.

Mr. F. X. O'Leary: Isn't it mandatory on us?

Mr. Walsh: But we must think of the ratepayers. We heard the statement at last Monday's County Council meeting on our serious financial position and it can now be seen where these increases are leading us to. We are on the brink of bankruptcy and these increases are to blame.

Mr. Galgey said these increases were sought to suck the last drop of blood from the ratepayers. These salary seekers with good incomes already were vultures, whilst the unfortunate people with dwindling incomes would have to pay for them. If the farmers strike they would strike very hard, he said, because they were the down trodden people of the country and yet they were the people producing the wealth of the country.

Mr. Charles Curran said the money wasn't there to meet the increases and the Department knew that quite well.

Mr. M. Morrissey said if they turned this down the Minister would grant it over their heads.

Mr. Walsh said if they turned it down, and he would be very surprised if they did not, they would then test the sincerity of the Minister, who was asking them to economise. These teachers were getting well-paid and this further increase was not social justice, nor fair to the ratepayers.

Mr. Walsh said he did not care whether he would be criticised in convivial surroundings, as he was before, but he would not agree to this.

Mr. M. O'Donnahill said that since this had come from arbitration he would propose it.

Where they now gone mad giving increases to people who also got an increase last July 12 months? He proposed the new scales be not applied. Mr. M. Galgey seconded.

Mr. Curran said it now appeared that the Civil Servants were running the country and not the Government. Trade Unionism also had become a farce, with interest only in the big man. The small men in this county, with a weekly income of £7 or £8, were getting very restless and 47 workers with the County Council had been served with prohibitive notice because of this squandering. As he saw it, their financial crisis was going to get worse.

Mr. John Fahey, T.D., said these increases had got out of hand. But what surprised him greatly was that the Farmers Journal, which admitted they were disturbed at the present trend, never once mentioned the huge salary increases which they were now blaming for their financial difficulties. The Journal was questioning water schemes, etc, but never a word of criticism against these salary increases.

Mr. William Dower said the answer to that was that these writers were on a salary basis themselves and their salaries would follow on the lines of these increases.

Mr. N. Walsh said he knew of several N.F.A. members in his area who were all against these increases.

Mr. Fahy, T.D.: But the Journal that speaks for the farmers never attacked these increases.

Mr. Walsh: We have a duty to do, so let us do it.

Mr. J. Butler said that whether they approved or disapproved, they would still be granted.

Mr. Walsh: That is a weak and defeatist attitude that has us where we are to-day. Let us show up the Minister by putting him on the spot. If we are in earnest about economising, we will not pass this to-day.

Ven. Archdeacon Power (Chairman) said that because their representatives on the arbitration board agreed to this he felt they ought to also.

Mr. Fahy said that from the discussions here one would think the Minister invited this salary application. There was machinery working that led up to this and since the state was founded no Minister had ever turned down an arbitrator's award.

Mr. Walsh said he did not

Want Road Repaired

A five man deputation came before Waterford County Council members at their monthly meeting on Monday last, asking to have the road from Balykerogue Cross to Shanbally improved. The deputation was introduced by Mr. William Dower in the absence of Mr. John Drohan, who arrived shortly afterwards.

One member of the deputation, Mr. Walsh, said there was a couple of miles of road involved in this. Nothing had been done to it and it was in a very bad condition. It was a public road with about ten families living on it. From five houses alone there was about £1,000 being paid every year in rates and he felt the Council should come and have a look at it.

Mr. Drohan said the people living on this road had come to him several times about its condition. He made representations on a number of occasions and he travelled over it and would say it was in a bad state. The briars were growing across the centre of the road in some places. These people had a genuine grievance and there were people on it who were large ratepayers. They should be given more consideration and something should be done immediately for the repairing of this road.

Mr. C. Curran (Chairman) said Mr. Drohan's complaint about the briars growing on the road was a serious one and was a complaint they had received from other areas as well. It should not happen, he said, and was very dangerous.

Mr. J. D. Hally (Co. Engineer) said the road was on the next five year plan and work would commence on it in about next April.

Mr. Curran said there was something wrong. Were some of their over-seers amiss? He also knew of roads with briars growing on the centre of the road and the local over-seer should attend to these things.

Mr. Hally said that on 70% or 80% of their roads, skirting was done every year.

Mr. Curran said some of the over-seers were not attending to their duty properly.

Replying to Mr. Galgey, the County Engineer said they were spending all the money allocated for roads every year.

Mr. Galgey said the answer then was simple. If they increased their road allocation all this work would be done.

Mr. Norman Walsh: That is not the answer. For the past few years the skirting of the roads has been disgraceful. Years ago when the men were doing it they did a great job, but since we turned over to machinery things have gone haywire.

Another member of the deputation, Mr. Christopher Power said their complaint was not completely about the skirting of the road. The surface was also very bad, and though yellow clay was thrown on it periodically, that was not the answer. They would like to have the road tarred.

It was decided to have a full report on this road from the Co. Engineer for the next meeting. The deputation then withdrew.

Mr. Curran said that from the interview Board and they made things very easy for them. The interview Board had come to a unanimous conclusion and he had implicit faith in their judgment and integrity. He then proposed their number one choice, Mr. Power.

Mr. M. O'Donnahill seconded.

Complaints About Noise on Dance Nights

Residents in the vicinity of Dungarvan Town Hall are complaining about the noise and disturbance caused on the nights dances are held there. This was stated at last Wednesday's District Court, when the Urban Council sought a renewal of the dance licence for the hall.

Making the application on behalf of the Urban Council, Mr. A. R. Farrell, Solr., said the maximum allowed at the moment was 450. The Fire Officer was prepared to increase that number to 480. They wished, however, to have that figure now put at 650. Clonca was allowed 1,000 dancers and the Town Hall was only a little smaller than Clonca. A lot of money had been spent on the hall in complying with the wishes of the Fire Officer.

Judge Skinner said he would allow the maximum number for the hall to be increased to 650.

Mr. Farrell said the residents in the vicinity of the hall were complaining that the order of the District Justice prohibiting cars from parking in St. Augustine Street (where the hall is situated) and the approaching streets to it on the nights of dances, was not being complied with. The Urban Council brought this to the notice of the guards and they said they could not enforce this order.

Supt. M. English said the residents in this area were complaining about the noise, but it was not for them to act as stewards; neither did he think they should be asked to control their dances for them.

Mr. Desmond Moloney, a resident of St. Augustine Street, said he resided only about 30 yards from the dance hall. The amplifiers being used there were "beyond all." Cars could be heard at all hours making noise and blowing the horns, and all this was greatly disturbing the peace.

Replying to Mr. Farrell, Mr. Moloney said he put these complaints to the Urban Council and there was a petition signed by the residents.

WEST WATERFORD NEWS

DEATH OF MRS. B. ELLIS

We regret to announce the death, at an early age, of Mrs. Bridget Ellis, Summerhill, Cork. Deceased (nee O'Connell) was a native of Ardsallagh, Clashmore and was a member of a well known and popular family. Of a kind and generous disposition, she was a firm favourite and her demise is much regretted. We join in extending sincere sympathy to her bereaved husband, sister and relatives.

CLASHMORE'S TASK

On Sunday next, Clashmore meet Ballinacourty in the West Waterford intermediate football final and a close and exciting game is expected. While Ballinacourty are strong favourites the wearers of the red and green can be relied upon to present a formidable challenge and could spring a surprise. Clashmore's big handicap is lack of match practice, but they are expected to offset this with a resolute determination to win through to the county final.

REFINERY FIRE PRACTICE

At Whitegate Refinery on Sunday, Youghal Fire Brigade, under 1st and 2nd officers M. Roche and M. Loughlin, took part with the Refinery and Middleton Brigades in a mock fire exercise. This exercise was designed to test the capabilities of fire fighting service in the event of an outbreak at the refinery. One of the fire tugs stationed at Cobh was also involved.

TIDY TOWNS—YOUGHAL INCREASES POINTS

In the report of the Tidy Towns Competition the adjudicators stated that Youghal had received 63 points out of 100.

VILLIERSTOWN PROJECTS

The water and sewerage schemes in Villierstown are making rapid progress, to the great satisfaction of the people of the area. Both schemes are giving good employment.

VILLIERSTOWN CHURCH

It is understood that the recent appeal for funds to renovate Villierstown Church (recently handed over by Church of Ireland) is already meeting with a good response. However, a considerable sum is needed to put the church in a proper condition and it is hoped that many people outside the parish would wish to be associated with this great effort. It is also confidently expected that people from the area now resident in England, U.S.A., etc., will contribute.

DEMAND FOR WATER SUPPLIES

An application has been made to Waterford County Council to instal minor water supply schemes to the following areas: Coolbagh (Clashmore) and Kilmaloe Lickey (Clashmore). Both areas consist, mainly, of small holders and cottiers.

GERALDINES ACHIEVEMENT

By winning the divisional intermediate hurling final, on Sunday last, Aglish Geraldines justified the confidence of their supporters. They are now firm favourites to secure the Co. Championship.

LIFE BOAT STATION

The work of improvements to the Life Boat Station is now well ahead of schedule under the foremanship of Mr. Jack Keating. The old launching rail has been replaced with a new galvanised steel slipway, which will very much facilitate the new boat which is expected to arrive in Youghal by mid-November. The Coxswain, Mr. Dick Hickey and two members of the crew will take delivery of the new boat in England and bring her to Youghal. The present boat, named "The Herbert John," came to Youghal in 1952 and to-date saved 27 lives, in addition to assistance to boats in distress.

SHAMROCKS DEFEAT BALLINACOURTY

In the junior football championship game between Shamrocks and Ballinacourty, played at Lismore, on Sunday, Shamrocks had a four points win. The game was not of a very high standard and the final score was: Shamrocks 2-5; Ballinacourty, 0-7.

DEATH OF MR. N. J. WALSH

His many friends in Tallow learned with deep regret of the unexpected death of Mr. Nicholas J. Walsh, Thornhill, Conna, which occurred at his residence on 4th October. Deceased was a member of a highly esteemed family, and a member of the outdoor staff of Conna Post Office. He was a most popular personality. He was one of the chief organisers of the local festival week and worked hard to keep the picturesque village of Conna in the limelight.

FINE DEFENSIVE FOOTBALL BY YOUGHAL

At Clonmult Memorial Park, Middleton, on Sunday last, Youghal annexed the East Cork minor football championship for the fifth year in succession when they defeated Glanmire, after a grim struggle for the full hour. The evenness of the game is indicated by the low scoring due to the splendid defence work of both back lines.

LATE JOHN WALSH

TINALIRA, BALLINAMULT

It is with feelings of the deepest regret we chronicle the death of John (Jack) Walsh, late of Tinalira, Ballinamult, which sad event occurred, after a rather brief illness, but at the allotted span, at the District Hospital, Dungarvan, during the early hours of Friday morning, 8th October.

LATE MISS HELEN MULLINS

Deep regret was occasioned at the death of Miss Helen Mullins, formerly of Ballyvergan, Youghal, which took place recently in England, where she had been since last February. Aged 17 years, the deceased was daughter of a well known rural family, Mr. and Mrs. P. Mullins of Ballyvergan, who are held in high esteem in the town and surrounding district.

POSTMAN ON HOLIDAYS

Mr. Patrick Tierney, the popular postman on the Coolbeggan, Kiltwatermoy and Dunmoon route, is on annual two weeks holiday. We wish him a pleasant time.

TALLOW I.C.A.

Tallow I.C.A. Guild President Miss Kathleen Barry and Mrs. J. Ronayne were guest of Cappoquin Guild on Wednesday, 27th September, at a party given by them to the A.C.W.W. members who were touring Co. Waterford.

DANCE IN AID OF CHURCH FUNDS

A dance in aid of Glendine Church funds will be held in Kiltwatermoy Hall, on Wednesday, 20th October. We would appeal for support for the dance. Glendine church needs extensive repairs and a large sum of money is needed. To support the dance is one way of helping to provide money for the work.

LATE MR. W. O'BRIEN

The death took place at his brother's residence Barradaw, Dungourney, Ballynoe. Deceased was a member of a highly esteemed agricultural family, and was most popular. There was a representative cortege at the removal of the remains to St. Catherine's Church, Ballynoe and at the interment in the adjoining cemetery.

LADY'S NARROW ESCAPE

Mrs. M. O'Brien, Ballynoe, Inch, had a narrow escape from injury recently, when she fell into the fire at her home. Luckily, Miss Coleman, Main St., Killeagh, was on her weekly meat delivery round at the time and brought her to safety. She suffered minor burns and shock. She is progressing favourably.

CHILD BURNED

Miss M. Draddy, Inch, is in Youghal Cottage Hospital with burns received when, whilst playing with a dog at her home she fell into a bucket of linseed meal, to which boiling water had been added. She is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Draddy.

GERALDINES - BY A SHORT HEAD

Dungarvan Fail in Attack

GERALDINES..... 2-6 DUNGARVAN..... 0-9

GERALDINES, dour and uncompromising by Dungarvan and clung successfully to a were crowned Western Intermediate lead which by full time had been whittled hurling champions before a record crowd down to an insecure three points, for a at sun-splashed Lismore on Sunday last. victory that on the hour they just about They weathered a heroic last quarter rally, deserved to reap.

And yet Dungarvan today can be justifiably lamenting the forward failings which undoubtedly brought about their championship exit. Terrifically they enjoyed about 60% of the play and were undisputedly the more polished and skilful hurlers. But their attack, particularly the front line, were completely obliterated by an Aglish defence that was soundness personified and that never stood on ceremony.

As a spectacle also the game did not live up to the high pre-match expectations. But that is not to say this decider was an anticlimax for nothing could be further from the truth. It was tense and exciting, especially when Dungarvan threw everything into their last quarter efforts to salvage the game. But at all times the exchanges had that needle element about them that could be best done without, and which finally culminated in a second phase that might well have brought about the game's premature ending.

I do not propose here and now to start singling out culprits (I use the plural) as there may have been agitation from both sides but Geraldines' Mick Tobin should, I unhesitatingly state, have been sent to the line for an uncalled-for assault on Ray Lannon early in the second half. Lannon was not even in possession of the ball when Tobin unceremoniously dived for him, and certainly referee Billy Jones showed ridiculous leniency by only taking his name.

As predicted in my preview this was a final of contrasting styles. On a day ideal for hurling it was felt Dungarvan would benefit more by the prevailing conditions, but never were they allowed open up the game to their own liking by opponents whose craft, experience played a vital role in their victory.

These Aglishers stuck close to their opponents, pulling hard and often, and soon it was evident that these tactics were not being relished by the Blues. Yet the exchanges throughout the opening thirty minutes could hardly have been more even and the interval tally of four points each indicated accurately the trend of the game up to then.

Then Dungarvan restarted in splendid fashion and a brace of points edged them into a lead they looked capable of retaining for the remainder of the half. But then came a golden spell for Geraldines. A be best done without, and which finally culminated in a second phase that might well have brought about the game's premature ending.

To all intents and purposes it looked all over and Geraldines now in command seemed there may have been agitation from both sides but Geraldines' Mick Tobin should, I unhesitatingly state, have been sent to the line for an uncalled-for assault on Ray Lannon early in the second half. Lannon was not even in possession of the ball when Tobin unceremoniously dived for him, and certainly referee Billy Jones showed ridiculous leniency by only taking his name.

THE SCORING

Dungarvan however, it was who drew first blood with a first minute point by Mick

Bowen. But the sides were level within another minute when Patsy Kenneally pointed a free and in the eight minute a flashing point by Jim Kiely gave the Aglishers the lead for the first time. In the 10th minute, Cunningham made no mistake from a Dungarvan seventy but almost immediately Kenneally was on the mark at the other end from yet another close-in free. Back came Dungarvan and a beautiful piece of hurling by Cunningham saw him place midfielder John Moylan for point number three. And this point for point reply continued, this time Jim Kiely and Mick Bowen exchanging minors leaving the sides level at 04 each by the half-way stage.

But it was Dungarvan who restarted in domineering fashion hurling with a fluency and confidence that suggested they were well capable of annexing the title. Within a minute Mick Bowen flashed them into the lead with a great point and when Cunningham placed Moylan for another Old Boro hopes ran high. But nothing daunted and refusing emphatically to panic, Geraldines hit back in decisive fashion. Kenneally it was who paved the way in the 7th minute when he carried the ball through for more than forty yards before lashing it to the net. Jim Kiely added a point. Lacey pointed a long range free in the 18th minute and seconds later the ball was again nestling in the Dungarvan net from the stick of substitute Willie Joe Trearck.

Others too, of course, started in this win. The full back trio of Ned Mernon, Bunny Roanayne and Billy Crofty was never outwitted, affording excellent coverage in the process. Mickey Downing played great hurling in the half line and Jim Hallahan completed a top-class sector.

As I saw it however, midfield and attack were their suspect sectors on Sunday. Mick Tobin would never have ended the hour on the field of play but for the extraordinary leniency of the referee, whilst once again Mick Lacey was a total failure.

Kenneally as already stated, took the honours in attack and little behind him was Jim Kiely, while substitute Willie

There can be no closing one's eyes to the fact that Dungarvan might well have taken the spoils. But having expounded that contention let me hasten to add that Geraldines just about merited success. They took the two real scoring chances to notch the decisive goals whilst it is doubtful if the Dungarvan attack would have got goals had they been trying for another hour.

There were many on this Geraldines side that contributed in regal fashion to this triumph. But I'm sure I'll be forgiven if I single out just three for special mention—goalkeeper Johnny Grady, Stylo Riordan and Patsy Kenneally.

Grady it was who broke the heart in the Dungarvan attack by snatching ball after ball from the air with an ease and confidence that stamped him as a keeper of real class. For Stylo, this too was a celebrated hour whilst Kenneally once again proved the villain of the piece in attack. And none can forget his invaluable work when he fell back in defence as Dungarvan piled on the pressure in those closing minutes.

One of Geraldines goalkeeper's (JOHNNY GRADY) great saves on Sunday.

Joe Treacy was the scorer of that decisive second goal. For Dungarvan all their defenders played superbly. In the full line Mick Fitzgerald had his greatest ever game with the club; the same can be said of Conor Curran and Mick Lewis who flanked him, and M. Donnelly was the essence of confidence in goal. Centre back Tom Cunningham was beyond all dispute the best man afield, outturning different opponents in turn. And when moved into the attack looked the one most likely

AFFANE FANCIED AT LISMORE

Affane, now that their football hopes have been dashed, look to their hurlers to provide them with compensation. And on Sunday next, when they meet Tallow at Lismore in the Western junior hurling semi-final they will be favourites to advance a stage further. Tallow were very fortunate to beat Lismore in the last round and they can thank the brilliant goalkeeping of Ned Power for that success. But I expect them to improve considerably on Sunday and with Ned Power again leading the way, they will make a bold bid for victory.

However, Affane look too strong in the vital sectors and it will come as something of a surprise should they fail to justify favouritism.

Sunday's Fixtures

to snatch them from the jaws of defeat. Tony Mountain played well on the elusive Jim Kiely and Jim Byrne did reasonably well at right half. Midfielders John Moylan and Ray Lannon played excellently and were complete masters of their Aglish counterparts. But it was unfortunate that Moylan had to be replaced ten minutes from time because of injury and his absence was sorely felt.

But it was the attack that failed most. Corner forwards Jim Walsh and Tolly Queally were never given an inch of freedom but all credit to full forward Sean Power who never ceased trying. On the forty Mick Bowen picked off three glorious points and all the time looked capable if serviced, of snatching vital points; Sean McGrath too, cannot be left go without mention, standing into Stylo Riordan for the hour and never giving up the cause. Geraldines—J. Grady; N. Mernon, B. Roanayne, B. Crofty; T. Riordan, J. Hallahan, M. Downing; M. Lacey, M. Tobin; J. Kiely, M. Murphy, P. Kenneally; T. Cotter, M. Keating, J. J. Landers.

GAELIC JOTTINGS

FOOTBALLERS OPEN LEAGUE CAMPAIGN

Waterford's footballers open their National Football League campaign on Sunday next with a home game at Dungarvan against Carlow. This year there have been regroupings and now it will be harder than ever to emerge victorious from their section.

Waterford football is not in a happy state at present, and victory over a side like Carlow would be just the shot in the arm the game needs in the County right now. But that is easier said than done and the Leinster men will undoubtedly be favourites to take the points on Sunday.

Carlow, it is true, have never reaped the success their efforts deserved in Leinster, but any team that can call on such footballers as Willie Canavan, Brendan Hayden, Willie Somers and Mick Ryan cannot but be respected.

For this game the Waterford selectors have made many changes. Back in goal comes Sean Ormonde, replacing Rathgormack's Paddy Crofty, but such is Ormonde's vast experience that there will be no loss here. The new full-back line is Tom Walsh (Straubbally), Eddie Mooney and Mick Tobin.

Wally Connors is now given the centre back position—a welcome move and he is flanked by regulars Noel Walsh and Ger Mooney.

Tom Flynn and Martin Kennedy operate at midfield, and this is about the best pairing the selectors could call upon. Monty Guiry was an automatic choice for the centre-forward berth, but there will be some—the writer included—who will not be enamoured by the choice of the wingmen, John Martin (Gaultier) and Jim Rooney.

Kilrossanty's Tom Walsh has now been drafted into the full-forward spot and Tommy Kirwan and Rathgormack's Willie Connolly are the corner men. It may not be the best fifteen in my opinion that the selectors could call upon, but it is nevertheless a useful looking one. It would be a satisfactory start were they to get off on a winning note on Sunday, but knowing the unpredictableness of Waterford's football—it is difficult to anticipate how any game in which they are involved will go.

Carlow as already stated, will start favourites, but here's hoping for a good Waterford display at least.

The following is the Waterford team and subs: S. Ormonde (Kilrossanty), T. Walsh (Straubbally), E. Mooney (Ardmore), M. Tobin (Geraldines); Ger Mooney (Kill) W. Connors (Mitchels), Noel Walsh (Kilrossanty); T. Flynn (Kill); J. Martin (Gaultier), M. Guiry (Kill); J. Rooney (Ardmore); W. Connolly (Windgap) T. Walsh (Kilrossanty), T. Kirwan (Mitchels).

Subs—Mick Connolly, J. Guiry, Pa Walsh, C. Bannon, Tom Mooney (Kill), J. J. Harty, T. Riordan.

TOURIN MEET BALLINAMEELA
The league game apart, the Western Intermediate football final between Ballinacourt and Clashmore at Cappoquin is the big attraction in the West on Sunday. And as a certain raiser to this most attractive decider, the junior footballers of Tourin and Ballinameela meet in the championship semi-final.

Ballinameela have exceeded all expectations to-date in going this far, and they have scored impressive victories over Lismore and the Nire en route. Tourin have not been quite so active but they are still confident of advancing on Sunday. There should be little or nothing between these sides but Ballinameela may just about get there.

TOURIN MEET BALLINAMEELA

What a shock reigning senior hurling champions Mount Sion got from Ballyduff/Portlaoise in the semi-final of the championship at Dunhill on Sunday last. Trailing by two points with time almost up, the group side, looked all set to create the upset of the decade. But then came a belated rally by the champions and a last minute goal gave them a decidedly lucky 4-2 to 1-0 victory.

This was the greatest travesty of justice seen on a hurling field for a long time. This hour belonged to the challengers as they handed out a real hurling lesson to the Monastery men. They reigned supreme in most sectors of the field and with Tom Cheasty in inspired form, looked all set for a shock win. Then came that last minute goal and 'Sion had done it again.

It was a top classa hour's hurling and Ballyduff/Portlaoise proved beyond all doubt of their worthiness to battle out their fortunes in the senior grade. Certainly, the champions can hardly come as close to defeat again without actually losing.

ERIN'S OWN MAY JUST ABOUT GET THERE

The second senior hurling championship semi-final is scheduled for Tramore on Sunday next with Erin's Own and Ballygunner in opposition. This is a real 'open affair and if Erin's Own will start slight favourites, the Gunners will not be beaten easily.

In fact after Mount Sion's lucky win on Sunday last, this championship is more open than ever before, and Sunday's winners will be in the final reckoning with a great chance. This second semi-final should be a rip-roaring affair from start to finish, but must confess a slight fancy for Erin's Own.

CURTAIN RAISER TO LEAGUE GAME

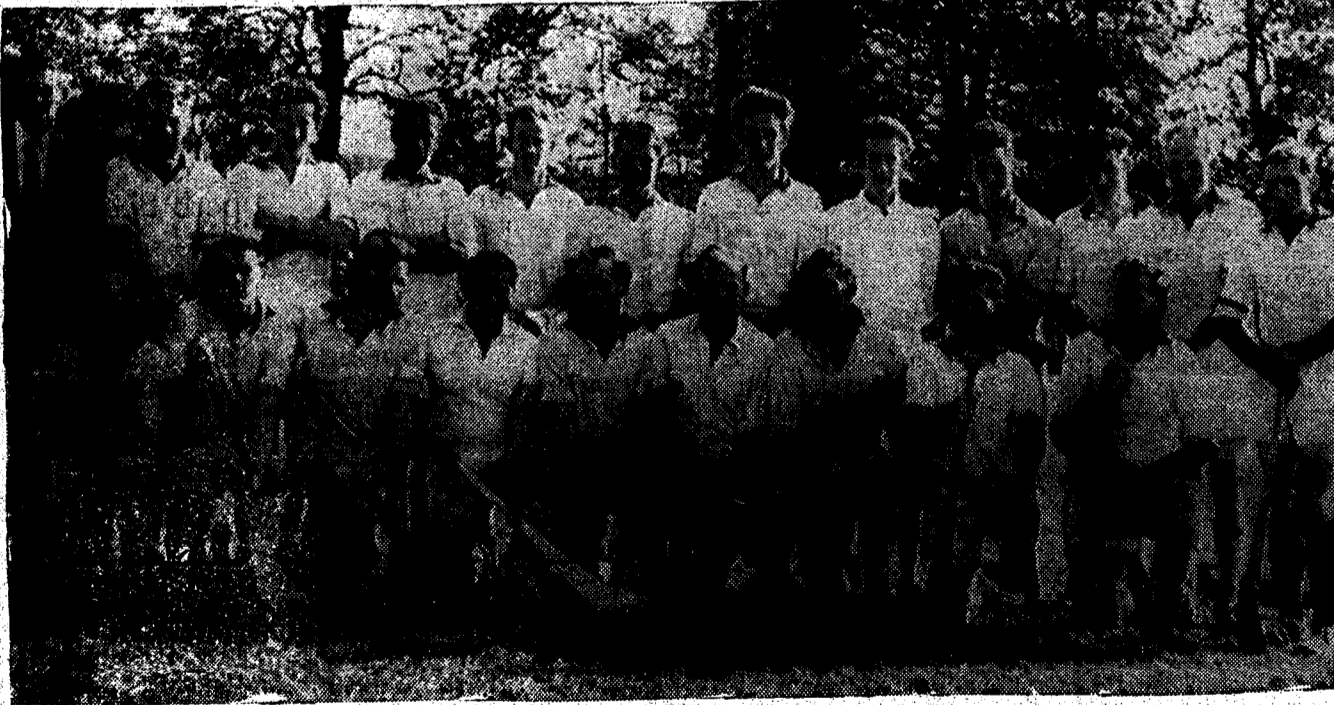

As a curtain raiser to next Sunday's National football league game at Dungarvan, Geraldines and Ardmore will meet in the junior football championship. The game will start at 1.45 p.m.

GAME AGAINST TIPP DEFINITELY ON

Tipp are hot after all seeking a postponement of their National hurling league game against Waterford at Dungarvan on Sunday week so all is set for the eagerly awaited visit of the All-Ireland champions.

REFEREE ALLEGED HE WAS ABUSED

In his report of the John Mitchels-Geraldines senior football championship game, read at last Monday night's Board meeting, referee Con Crowley alleged that he was abused after the game by two Mitchel players, Billy and Noel Kirwan. Without taking action, the Board agreed on the suggestion of Tom Cunningham (Dungarvan) to ask the players concerned to appear before the next meeting of the Board.
