PASSING OF NOTED DUNGARVAN TEACHER
LATE DONAL LYNCH

SOUTH TEE, DUNGARVAN
It is our very sad duty to chronicle the death of Donal Lynch, late of South Tee, who died on Monday afternoon, 3rd March, at Ardkeen Hospital, after a rather short duration of illness and at the early age of sixty-one years.

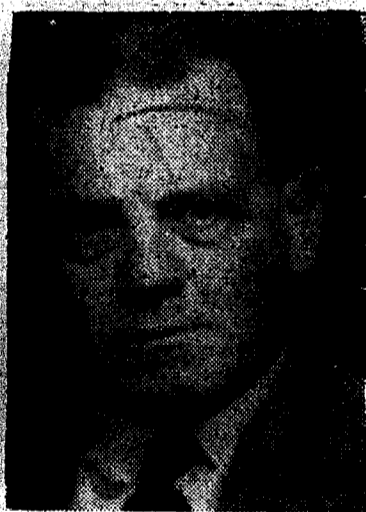

The deceased was a very popular personality, not alone in Dungarvan, but over a large part of the county. He was a native of Ballymakeera, Macroom and had played Gaelic football with Cork senior football team in the mid-twenties and had won many county championship medals with his parish team Ballyvourney. He had always kept in touch with the affairs of the G.A.A. and remained a very keen follower down through the years.

He had taught in Dungarvan for the past thirty-five years at the Vocational school and he undoubtedly excelled at his profession and will be long remembered by past pupils and the Vocational Committee for his long and faithful service.

He was also a fond lover of Irish music and cultural traditions and was a founder member of the Dungarvan Branch Comhaltas Ceoltóirí Éireanna. Donal will be sadly missed by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance, but more especially by his loving wife, sons, daughter, and brother to whom sincere sympathy is tendered.

His remains were removed on Tuesday evening to St. Mary's Parish Church, followed by a huge cortege which was representative of all sections of the community and especially the teaching profession, and were blessed and received by Rev. W. Power, C.C., assisted by Ven. Archdeacon D. Power, P.P., V.F.; Rev. J. Murphy, C.C., Rev. D. O'Byrne, C.C., Rev. D. O'Rourke, O.S.A., St. John's Lane, Dublin, Very Rev. T. C. Butler, O.S.A., Rector, Dungarvan, Rev. C. Keogh, O.S.A., Rev. G. Mason, O.S.A., Rev. N. Sexton, O.S.A., Rev. J. A. Hourihane, O.S.A., Rev. C. O'Donnell, O.S.A., Rev. J. C. Cosgrave, O.S.A., Rev. P. J. Callaghan, O.S.A., Rev. E. Crowley, Chaplain, Carriglea. His fellow-teachers of the Vocational School Dungarvan acted as pall-bearers.

Requiem Masses were offered on Wednesday morning for the repose of his soul. The celebrants were Rev. D. O'Rourke, O.S.A., St. John's Lane, Dublin (cousin) and

Rev. M. O'Meara, C.C., Tramore (cousin). After the Masses the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery. Rev. M. O'Meara, C.C., imparted the final absolution at the graveside, assisted by Ven. Archdeacon D. Power, Rev. D. O'Byrne, C.C., Rev. J. Murphy, C.C., Rev. W. Power, C.C., Rev. E. Crowley, Chaplain, Carriglea, Rev. P. Quealy, C.C., Lismore; Rev. T. Fitzgerald, President, St. John's College; Very Rev. T. C. Butler, O.S.A., Rector; Rev. C. Keogh, O.S.A.; Rev. G. Moran, O.S.A.; Rev. N. Sexton, O.S.A.; Rev. A. J. Hourihane, O.S.A.; Rev. C. O'Donnell, O.S.A.; Rev.

J. C. Cosgrave, O.S.A.; Rev. P. J. Hourihane, O.S.A.; Rev. D. O'Rourke, O.S.A.; John's Lane, (cousin).

Another very large concourse was present.

The chief mourners were: Mrs. Josephine Lynch, South Tee, (wife); Barry, Anco, Dublin; Cyril, Fordham University, New York; Donal, South Tee, (sons); Mrs. Aida O'Neill, Kilrush, Dungarvan (daughter); Sean Lynch, N.T. Enniscorthy (brother); Kealan O'Neill (grandchild); Peter O'Neill (son-in-law); Mrs. Maeve Lynch, B.A., Enniscorthy; Mrs. Margaret Lynch, Ballyvourney; Mrs. Maura Spratt, Coolcormack (sister-in-law); Mr. Diarmuid Lynch, U.C.C.; Connelius, Ballyvourney (uncle); or Lynch, Enniscorthy (nephew); Miss Seosain Lynch, U.C.C.; Miss Maeve Lynch, Enniscorthy (nieces), and a large number of cousins and friends.

NOMINATED

Mr. John Fahey, T.D., the outgoing representative of the Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture on the Irish Public Bodies Mutual Insurance Body was re-elected for another 12 months term at last Monday's meeting in Dungarvan.

Deputy Fahey, whose nomination was unanimous, was proposed by Mr. Norman Walsh,

Ballinroad's Flooding

Problem

At the February meeting of Waterford Co. Council, Colr. Austin Deasy requested that steps be taken to curtail the flooding in front of the new cottages at Ballinroad.

Mr. J. D. Hally (Co. Engineer) in reply stated that there was no easy solution to the problem, and that because of this and the continual development in the area, he intended putting proposals before the Council in the near future for a sewage for the Ballinroad area.

Planning Permission for New Offices

Planning permission to build the proposed new Agricultural Offices in Dungarvan, has been received, Mr. G. T. Frost, C.A.O., informed the members of the Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture, at last Monday's meeting of the Committee in Dungarvan.

Mr. Frost said they had also advertised for tender for the erection of the offices and the latest date for receipt of tenders was 28th March.

The Committee decided that the tenders would be considered by a special sub-committee at their next monthly meeting on 15th April.

Temporary Instructor Appointed

James B. O'Byrne (29), The Lodge, Kilmachomas, was unanimously appointed temporary instructor in Agriculture to the Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture, at last Monday's meeting of the Committee in Dungarvan.

the applicants had the necessary qualifications. Replying to Mr. Kieran O'Ryan, Mr. Frost said they had four permanent and two temporary instructors in the county at present. They also had a permanent instructor away on a course.

Mr. G. T. Frost, C.A.O., said there were five applicants for the post, and they had forwarded the five names to the Dept. for approval. The Dept. had subsequently informed them that all except one of Mr. Patrick Cahill said Mr. O'Byrne was the only County Waterford applicant and he proposed his appointment. Mr. H. R. Dowd seconded. Mr. O'Byrne's appointment was unanimous.

SALMON FISHING
 Due to weather conditions and unsuitable tides there was no marked improvement in the catches of salmon last week in all part of the estuary. Still many boats have taken salmon in excellent condition. When figures are available it will be definite that the opening month of the season this year was far more profitable than that of last season. The majority of boats operate in Youghal bay which is most unusual for the months of February and March.

DEPUTATION TO HEALTH AUTHORITY.
 Mr. Gordon Good, Vice-Chairman Youghal U.D.C., reported on the deputation to the Cork Health Authority concerning the acquisition by the Council of an additional two acres of land in the region of St. Raphael's Hospital.  The Co. Manager, Mr. Sean Hayes informed members of the Urban Council that in connection with the front strand improvement scheme, Bord Failte is to be asked to meet a deputation from the Council with the view to expediting the work, and it was hoped this might take place before the next Council meeting.

 At Youghal District Court Dr. J. O'Sullivan, a psychiatrist in Cork, claimed privilege when giving evidence during a hearing of an application for a maintenance order. He said he would like to claim privilege concerning information he received in a psychiatric context. The Justice stated that there was no such thing as privilege for a doctor, it only existed for solicitors and barristers. The Justice refused a maintenance order to Mrs. Elizabeth O'Mahony, 83 Congress Villas, Dungarvan, against her husband Denis O'Mahony whom he ordered to pay Dr. Sullivan's expenses.

Many people will again be travelling from Youghal this year and included will be prominent members of local organisations. Invitations have been sent out to all registered members of the Youghalmen's Association in London. However, there are many Youghal people in the London area who are not registered with their Association and those people will be even more than welcome. It will be appreciated if all wishing to attend can find time to drop a line to The Secretary, Youghalmen's Association, 21 West Walk, Hayes, Middlesex, in advance. Horticulture
Instructor
Resigns

Mr. Thomas Walsh, Ballymacbray, has resigned his post as Temporary Instructor in Horticulture, with the County Waterford Committee of Agriculture, and at this week's meeting of the Committee in Dungarvan it was decided by 12 votes to 3 to advertise for another Temporary Instructor.
 Mr. George T. Frost, C.A.O., said Mr. Walsh had been with them only four months. He had now left to take up a permanent post with Erin Foods.
 Mr. Kieran O'Ryan said he had opposed the creation of this post from the very start and he was still thinking on the same lines.
 Mr. Patrick Kenneally said without scientific device and knowledge the farmers just could not grow the horticultural crops. It would be of considerable benefit to the small farm holders if they made this appointment and he was proposing that they make the appointment.
 Seconding Mr. Kenneally, Mr. George Heskin said there weren't quarter enough Horticultural Instructors in the country. There was great potential for horticulture, he added.
 A vote was then taken and the appointment was agreed to by 12 votes to 3.

Judge Upholds Counter Claim

A "not too uncommon type of case in which both parties claimed they drove as good motorists should," was how Judge S. Mac D. Fawcitt described the claim and counter claim for damages, brought at Tues. Circuit court sessions in Dungarvan, arising out of a collision between two cars at Adamstown, Kilmeeaden, on the night of February 23, 1968. Plaintiff in the action was Thomas McDonald, Villiers town, Cappoquin, and he brought a claim for £189-4-0 damages against Arthur Guinness, Son and Co. Ltd., in respect of damages to his car caused by the alleged negligent driving of the defendant. The defendant denied negligent driving and brought a counter claim for £28 damages to their car against McDonald.
 Mr. F. Morris, B.L. (instructed by Farrell and Morrissey, Solrs.) said the accident occurred at about 11.45 p.m. when the defendant was driving home from Ardkeen hospital, having visited his son. At Kilmeeaden the road was being widened and there were tar barrels on the left hand side of the road as the plaintiff drove towards Dungarvan. McDonald then saw an oncoming car and it came across the road towards him, sliding against his car and damaged it.
 The Plaintiff, Mr. Thomas McDonald, said he was driving his Ford Anglia car home from Ardkeen on this occasion. He had three passengers in the car with him and at Kilmeeaden the road was being widened and straightened. He had the full width of the "Old Road" to drive on and was travelling at less than 30 miles an hour, because at was a 30 mile zone. He had his lights dipped.
 Witness went on to state that he then saw a car "coming fairly fast" in the opposite direction. He (witness) was well into his left hand side. He could not be sure if the other car had dipped its lights but it was exceeding the 30 mile speed limit. The car seemed to come towards him, and he realised he was going to be struck. He veered even more to the left, but he was struck a glancing blow on the right hand side, and the whole length of his car was scraped. The damages to his car amounted to £110.

 Michael J. O'Brien, a back seat passenger in the Plaintiff's car, said McDonald was driving well into his correct side and was doing less than 30 miles an hour. He saw a car coming in the opposite direction with its lights blinding, and it came across towards them and struck their car a glancing blow.
 Mr. Frank Hamill, Representative for the Defendants, Arthur Guinness Son & Co. Ltd., said he was driving the defendant's car on this occasion and was travelling in the direction of Waterford. He was in a speed limit area at Kilmeeaden and was doing about 25 miles an hour. He saw an approaching car and it was in the centre of the road and going fairly fast. He (witness) was on his correct side of the road. Had the Plaintiff held his position on the road the accident would have been avoided but the plaintiff's car came straight for him, and as he did so, he then veered out, but struck his (witness) car on the right front wing. At the moment of the collision his (witness) car was practically stopped and it did not move after the collision. The plaintiff's car moved down the road. The plaintiff came back to him about 15 minutes later and they both blamed each other for the accident.
 Sgt. James P. Nolan said he was stationed in Kilmeeaden on the occasion of the accident, and on receiving a report he went to the scene. There were two cars on the road; Hamill's faced towards Waterford, and McDonald's in the Dungarvan direction and both were on their correct side of the road. Hamill's car was two feet out from the left side of the carriageway and that left 25 feet available to traffic coming in the opposite direction.
 Sgt. Nolan said he found chrome on the road near Hamill's car that fitted it and he also found a brake mark to the right of Hamill's right front wheel. He asked both of them to show him the point of impact and Hamill said it was exactly where his (Hamill) car was stopped. McDonald did not agree and said it happened somewhere between where both cars were stopped. He searched for signs of debris from the accident, between the cars, but could not find anything.

 Judge Fawcitt said this was not an uncommon type of case with all the witnesses saying they were driving like good motorists should. Somebody however must have been a bit over on the road, and one would have expected to find some evidence of where the point of impact occurred. The Sgt. found nothing between the two cars, but there was some sign of debris near Hamill's car.
 He upheld the Counter claim and dismissed McDonald's claim. He also allowed the costs and expenses of the action to the defendants.

Lismore Slander Action Struck Out

A claim for £800 damages, brought by Mrs. Mary Dunne, 23 Parks Road, Lismore against Miss Bridget Downey, Spinster, c/o Derrick Buckley, South Mall, Lismore, was struck out at Dungarvan Circuit Court, on Tuesday, when the defendant withdrew all remarks made by her against the defendant.
 Mr. F. Morris, B.L. (instructed by E. A. Ryan & Co., Solrs., Dungarvan) said the case was a defamation action brought by Mrs. Dunne arising out of remarks made by the defendant about her honesty. The defendant however was now prepared to withdraw the remarks in open court and on that basis the action could be settled and the case struck out.
 In her statement of claim, Mrs. Dunne had alleged that the defendant had accused her of being a thief and of taking property not her own. The accusations, she alleged, were made in the presence of Eamonn Coleman, Ellen Fitzgerald, Mary Behegan, and John Dunne, all of Parks Road, Lismore.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

ANGLERS' MEETING
 A meeting of the Dungarvan Fresh Water Anglers' Association will be held in the C.Y.M.S. Club, on this Saturday night, 8th March, at 8.15 p.m.

Maintenance Strikers Condemned

The people responsible for the present Maintenance Strike were described as anarchists who were trying to break trade unionism, by Mr. Charles Curran, at last Monday's meeting of the Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture in Dungarvan.
 The matter was raised by Mr. Patrick Cahill, who said they should send a resolution to the leaders of the three main political parties, asking them to intervene in an effort to bring the strike to an end. It is a strike, said Mr. Cahill, that has put this country back thirty years and it has also cost the nation almost £8 million.
 Mr. George Heskin said it was something the Committee should not enter into. It was a matter between the Unions and the F.U.E.
 Mr. Norman Walsh said that whilst agreeing it was a matter they should not enter into, he would, nonetheless like to stress that in his opinion Unions were not playing the responsible role they should in the running of the country.
 Mr. Charles Curran said the people responsible for this strike were anarchists who were trying to break Trade Unionism in Ireland. The executives of the Unions wanted an end to the strike but these anarchists were continuing to disrupt the nation's economy.
 Mr. Kieran O'Ryan said the real trouble to-day was that people were too well off and they didn't realise that fact.
 Mr. Walsh: Yes, I'm inclined to agree with Mr. O'Ryan in that.
 Mr. Walsh said one man who had proved himself a very good citizen in all this was Mr. James Dunne, President of the Irish Congress of Trade Unions. Mr. Dunne, he said, had done everything possible to bring this strike to an end. The Committee agreed not to send any resolutions or to interfere in any way in the strike.

To Appoint Extra Permanent Instructor

By 11 votes to 4, the County Waterford Committee of Agriculture decided at last Monday's meeting in Dungarvan to appoint an additional Permanent Instructor in Agriculture in the county. The chief Agricultural Officer, Mr. George T. Frost said there was a demand for more Instructors from the Public, and even with eight Instructors he would not consider themselves to be overstaffed.
 Before the meeting was a letter from Mr. Edmond Hearne, a temporary instructor for the Lismore area, tendering his resignation. Mr. Hearne, who has been with the Committee for the past four years, takes up a permanent post with the Co. Wexford Committee of Agriculture on 1st April next.
 Mr. George Heskin said he was very sorry that Mr. Hearne was leaving them because he had proved himself a very good and conscientious worker. This had come as a bit of a bombshell as it was a bad time of the year to be losing instructors.
 Mr. James Quirke said Mr. Hearne had always shown the same respect to the small farmer as he did to the big one. The other members of the Committee also paid tribute to him.
PERMANENT INSTRUCTOR
 Mr. Frost said it was now proposed to service the Lismore area with their newly-appointed Temporary Instructor or Mr. James O'Byrne.
 Mr. P. Cahill said the Gaultier area had already requested an additional instructor and they were as badly off now as before.
 Mr. Patrick Kenneally then proposed, and Mr. George Heskin seconded, that they appoint an additional permanent instructor.
 Mr. Kieran O'Ryan: And if we make this appointment, what will happen when Mr. Michael Byrne, our permanent instructor, who is presently away on a course, returns?
 Mr. Frost: We would not be overstaffed with eight instructors. There is a demand from the public for these instructors.
 Mr. Quirke said at a meeting in Cahir recently, which was to have been addressed by the National President of Macra na Feirme, Mr. Joe Rea, not one farmer turned up.
 Mr. Heskin: The weather conditions caused that.
 Mr. Quirke: Only one-twentieth of the farmers are availing of the Services.
 Mr. O'Ryan said in his area fictitious figures had been given to prove that these instructors were needed.
 Mr. Heskin said that even in Mr. Quirke's area of Ballyduff, Mr. Hearne could not cope with all the work he had to do.
 Mr. O'Ryan said in his area an instructor used call to the gate of one big farmer, and when he would not be there the instructor just went off. The farmer did not see his instructor for months.
 Mr. J. Fahey, T.D. (Chairman) said Mr. O'Ryan's statement was a serious allegation against a member of the staff. The name of the instructor and the farmer should be given and the matter would be investigated.
 Mr. Frost said when Mr. Hearne left they would be down to six instructors. If they had another Permanent and Temporary Instructor that would mean about 500 farmers per instructor. At present it was about 700 to every instructor.
 Mr. O'Ryan said these were not true figures, because of the 500 farmers to every instructor, 250 of them might not be availing of the Service.
 Mr. Frost: But to reduce the number of instructors is not the way to get all the farmers to avail of the service.
 Deputy Fahey said they had a duty to provide the public with the services they were entitled to.
 Mr. Kenneally's proposal was then put to the meeting, and by 11 votes to 4 it was agreed to appoint an extra permanent instructor. The voting was: For—Messrs. Fahey, Harty, Dowd, Whelan, Dowd, Heskin, Kenneally, Henebery, Cahill, Keane and Cusack (11); Against—Messrs. O'Ryan, N. Walsh, Ahearne and Quirke.

If you're still pouring milk to calves... you're pouring away over 1/- a week!

Look at it this way: You can sell your milk for up to 2/6d. a gallon—while you can buy 'Milkvit' for about 1/5d. only! That's a saving of 1/3d. right off. Milkvit—at least as nourishing a food as milk—grows better calves, too. Calves fed on Irish 'Milkvit' which stole the recent Smithfield Show prove that. So do years of European research. And government figures. And five years success in Ireland.
 The original high fat Milk Replacer. 'Milkvit' provides the ideal combination of fats combined with milk protein only, producing the perfect food for young calves. Thus, 'Milkvit' is a real milk replacer—not a milk substitute. It can be fed immediately after the birth, and with proper feeding management calves should be weaned off it after five weeks. All it takes is a 56 lb. bag (costing 65/- to 70/-) per calf for lower feeding costs, higher profits! P.S. 'Milkvit' may also be fed to bottlings, foals and lambs for equally successful results!

APPEAL AGAINST JAIL SENTENCE SUCCESSFUL

When a 26 year old Builder's Labourer, Sean Dwyer, St. Patrick's Tce., Abbeyside, appealed at Dungarvan Circuit Court on Tuesday, against a one-month's jail sentence imposed on him for being drunk and disorderly, at Dungarvan District Court, Judge Sean Mac D. Fawcitt was told by a member of the Gardaí that there was "quite a bit" of this carry on in Dungarvan.
 Dr. D. R. Counahan, State Solr. for the Attorney General, said Garda J. O'Sullivan was passing Grattan Square at about 12.15 a.m., on the morning of January 11th last when he heard shouting. He saw six men and as he approached he heard one of them say "kick him in the stomach." O'Dwyer said there were six of them to his one and he could not do much about it. Garda O'Sullivan went to the Barracks and returned a short time later with Garda P. Nector. At Bridge Street they saw two men, one of them was the appellant and he used vile language to them. A crowd then gathered and the gardai decided to let Dwyer and his friend go home.
 Dr. Counahan said there was a previous conviction against Dwyer for a similar offence in 1958. Two other defendants charged in Dungarvan District Court with Dwyer were fined £2 each, but the appellant was sentenced to one month's imprisonment.
 Replying to questions by Mr. M. Feehan, B.L. for the appellant, Garda J. O'Sullivan said Dwyer had too much drink taken on this occasion. He was one of six men and they were doing a lot of shouting. One of them said "kick him in the stomach," but he could not say if it was Dwyer who said this. The appellant had not been in any other trouble.
 Mr. Feehan said in his submission 2 months in jail was excessive penalty for the charge, and he asked the Judge to remove it, and substitute it with a fine.
 The appellant Sean Dwyer denied that he said "kick him in the stomach," and he also denied even hearing it being said; He was in constant employment and he had apologised to Garda O'Sullivan for his conduct. He was sorry for what had happened that night.
 Judge Fawcitt: And you were before the District Court last year on a similar charge.
 At this stage Judge Fawcitt recalled Garda O'Sullivan and asked him how long he had been stationed in Dungarvan.
 Witness: Eighteen months.
 Judge Fawcitt: Is there much of this going on in the town?
 Witness: Quite a bit.
 Judge Fawcitt said he would remove the jail sentence and substitute a fine of £2. Binding Dwyer to the peace for two years, he told him he was now free to go, but warned him that if in future he wanted to go out and enjoy himself at night he could do so, but should then go home peacefully, instead of kicking up rows on the streets.

Valuable Gun Dog Poisoned £150 DECREE AWARDED

HE was sorry that in having to decide this way he might be adding fuel to fire, but he had to comply with the law, stated Judge Sean Mac D. Fawcitt, at Dungarvan Circuit Court on Wednesday when giving judgment in favour of Michael Walsh, junr., farmer, Coolnagour, Dungarvan, the plaintiff in an action against a neighbouring farmer John Beresford, also of Coolnagour. Walsh claimed £600 damages for the unlawful poisoning of an English Setter of the Llewellyn strain by Beresford on his lands on December 30th, 1967. The case opened on the Tuesday, but Judge Fawcitt, having heard the evidence postponed judgment to the following day until he had given the case further thought.

In summing up however, Judge Fawcitt said Walsh had exaggerated his claim, and he awarded him a decree for £150 together with the costs and expenses of the action.

In opening the case for the Plaintiff, Mr. Frederick Morris, B.L. (instructed by E. A. Ryan & Co., Solrs.) said the claim was for loss and damage sustained by his client when his Gun Dog, an exceptional dog valued in the region of £200, was poisoned. The dog, a Red English Setter, was used by his owner for sporting activities and stud purposes and was kept on his farm at Coolnagour.

Mr. Morris said on December 30th, 1967, the defendant John Beresford laid poison on his land. The Gun Dog scented the meat, went to the defendant's land, consumed the meat and subsequently died an appalling and very painful death. The laying of poison was an offence, said Mr. Morris, unless the person laying it complies with certain requirements. In this case the defendant gave notice of his intention to lay the poison to the Garda and he also erected a poison notice on his land, but in a place where the plaintiff never went near. He laid the poison however, within 100 yards of Walsh's dwelling house, without getting his permission and on that count Beresford had committed an unlawful act.

Mr. Morris said the poison was a lump of meat placed on a bush and held by a cord, which, if pulled by a dog, would have been dragged into the plaintiff's land. The Gun Dog's name, he added, was "Flashing Gilbert."

The Plaintiff, Michael Walsh in evidence, said he resided at Coolnagour. His brother James, a fruit farmer and a licensed greyhound trainer, also resided there. He (witness) had a fully Registered Pure Bred English Llewellyn Red Setter Gun Dog named "Flashing Gilbert." In his first time in Trials he won the Derby and also won an open stake and was placed a number of times, all in the one season. He was four years of age when poisoned. He had bred and trained the dog and he was in constant use as a Gun Dog. He always kept him under control and was never allowed out of his sight because he did not want him to develop any bad habits. He was also a very well behaved dog.

Walsh said the defendant was a neighbour of his and they had not been on very good terms of late. On this date he (witness) was working in a strawberry field and had the dog with him. He went back to do the milking at about 4.20 p.m. and again the dog was with him. The first he knew of the dog being gone was when his brother called him, and he saw the dog in the yard, apparently dying and in great pain. The dog could not stand and was stiffening out, and he tried to vomit him but could not because he was gone so far. He brought the dog's carcass to Dr. Louis Gleeson and the remains were then sent to Dublin for examination.

just outside a gro on the adjoining Beresford's land to a bush so that the meat could have easily been dragged onto his land. The meat consisted of the leg of a calf.

Cross examined by Mr. E. Comyn, B.L. (instructed by J. F. Williams & Co., Solrs., Dungarvan), Walsh said he had got an offer of £300 for the dog from an American at a field trial in either Carlow or Thurles in 1965 or 1966. He denied that a sheep dog of his had been poisoned three weeks before this. He had a sheep dog however that became ill and he gave him washing soda. He saw the poison on Beresford's land only after his dog had been poisoned, and denied knowing that the land was poisoned beforehand. To his knowledge, his dogs were never on anyone's land except his own and he knew nothing of calves being killed on Beresford's lands. His complaint, he added, was that there was a trap laid for his dog.

The hearing was adjourned at this stage for lunch, and when it was resumed in the afternoon, Walsh produced records of some of the awards won by "Flashing Gilbert." The records also revealed that the dog was born in 1961 and that he had won Field Trials at 14 months. He never gave the defendant permission to lay poison within 100 yards of his (witness) dwelling.

James Walsh, brother of the Plaintiff, said he was a Registered Greyhound trainer and lived with his brother. Beresford never sought permission from him to lay poison, and he had not in fact met the defendant for about two years. At the time of this incident he had about 6 to 8 greyhounds and they were always under his control, and whilst occasionally they went into Beresford's, they always came out again within a short time. The defendant never complained to him about this. On December 30th, 1967, he was coming home from Dungarvan and saw the Gun Dog coming from the direction in which the poison notice was. He then heard the dog dropping and he feared that he had been poisoned. He tried to save him but failed and he knew that he was gone "too far." He later saw the poison on the dividing fence between the farms and it was placed in such a way that it could easily have been shifted into his land.

Replying to Mr. Comyn (defending Council), Walsh said he had his greyhounds out every morning for about half an hour and he would be with them all the time. He never saw the poison notice on Beresford's land and when he did see it, it was nearly concealed by a bush. He also had dogs poisoned seven or eight years ago and he had been bid £750 for one of them. He never heard about Beresford having calves killed and partly eaten. The first he had heard of that was in court.

Garda Thos. McDermott, Dungarvan, said he investigated the incident on the following day and examined Beresford's land with the plaintiff. He saw a portion of meat laid on the dividing fence held on a bush by a twine. He measured it from this point to the nearest point of Walsh's house and found the distance to be 91 yards, 2 feet and 9 inches. He took a statement from the defendant John Beresford in which he stated that on 29th October, 1967, he found two newly born calves killed and partly eaten by what he considered to be an attack by dogs. In December another newly born calf was again killed on his land and he saw from four to twelve dogs owned by the Walshs on his lands. His statement went on: "In December 1967 I gave notice at Dungarvan Garda Station for the laying of poison. Then, on learning that Walsh's Sheep dog had been nearly poisoned,

I took the poison up again because I thought that would make Walsh more careful. On being told however subsequently of Walsh's dogs being on my lands again, I laid portions of meat at both ends of my farm. I was not aware that I was committing an offence by laying it within 100 yards of Walsh's dwelling without first getting his permission."

John Joseph Walsh, brother of the Plaintiff, gave evidence of receiving the carcass in Dublin and of sending it to the Veterinary College for examination.

Dr. Louis Gleeson said the dog was brought to him the day after the incident and he had it transported to Dublin, where he had it examined. Parts of the dog's stomach were removed and processed.

Dr. Fergus Hill, Dublin said certain parts of the dog were sent to him for a report. He received a sample of the dog's stomach on January 15th and he found 6.9 milligrams of Stricnine in the stomach. The findings were consistent with the dog having died from Stricnine poisoning.

Mr. John Nash said he was experienced with Gun dogs and judged at Field Trials in this country as well as many foreign countries. He knew the Plaintiff's dog having seen him at Field Trials in 1962. The dog was of the Llewellyn strain and was a very good dog. He had won an open trial at fourteen months which was quite rare. In 1962 he would have placed a value of £250 to £275 on the dog. He was killed in 1967, and his value would then have been reduced because he would have been near the top or very near it for Field Trials. In 1967 he would put his value at £150 to £175. It was very doubtful he said if the dog had a temptation to savage animals, because if he had he could not have competed at Field Trials. One of the dog's progeny had won the Champion Stakes and that would have enhanced his value. At the present time if the dog was alive, he might get about 20 guineas for a Stud service and he might get about 10 services at that fee in a year.

Mr. George Samuel Kingston, Co. Cork, said he had brought a batch to the Gun Dog about three years ago and paid 10 gu. for the service. He was a very quiet dog and he had seen him working and he was very outstanding.

The defendant, John Beresford told the Court that he farmed beside the Plaintiff at Coolnagour. In October 1967 two newly-born calves of his were killed and again in early December of that year another newly-born calf was killed on him. It appeared like the work of dogs and there were dog footprints all over the place. One calf was got about 35 yards from Walsh's house.

Witness said he went to the Guards in December 1967 and told them he wanted to lay poison on his land and he got permission to do so. He also put up a poison notice. Some time later he heard that a Sheep dog owned by the Walshs had got poisoned so he took up the poison because he thought that would frighten them. He was subsequently told by his workman that there were dogs still coming onto his land so he put up more poison in a gap in a fence. He had seen dogs in his fields every day during the months of October, November and December of that year and at times there were as many as 12 dogs on his land.

Replying to Plaintiff's Counsel, the defendant said calves were being killed on him and he wanted to protect them. He wanted to kill the dogs that were killing his calves. He did not go to Walsh's about his dogs because he knew it wouldn't do any good. They would just say that their dogs weren't going onto his land.

Mr. Beresford said he saw Walsh's Gun Dog on his lands sometime between October and December of '67. He denied "going for" any specific dog.

FLAVIN (nee O'Brien)

WOLFE TONE ROAD, DUNGARVAN

It is with feelings of very deep regret that we place on record the passing of Mrs. Hannah Flavin, late of Wolfe Tone Road, which sad event occurred on Friday, 25th February, at a Waterford Nursing Home, after a rather short duration of illness, but at the allotted span.

The deceased was relief of John Flavin, who was a well-known member of the staff of Messrs. Thomas Power & Co., prior to his retirement some years back. She was a member of a very old and popular Kilmurray family and was sister of Willie O'Brien, who is also a member of the staff of Messrs. T. Power & Co.

Mrs. Flavin was a gentle and most retiring lady and was a friend of all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance and who now deeply mourn her loss.

Her remains were removed on Saturday evening to St. Mary's Parish Church and were followed by a huge and most impressive cortege, and were blessed and received by Rev. J. Murphy, C.C.

The last Mass on Sunday was celebrated for the repose of her gentle soul and the interment took place immediately afterwards in the adjoining family plot, when another very large concourse, consisting of all sections of the community were present. Rev. W. Power, C.C., imparted the final absolution at the grave-site.

Large sheaves of Mass cards, telegrams and letters of sympathy were received.

(Funeral arrangements by J. Kiely and Sons, Dungarvan.)

Judge Fawcitt said he could not but hold that the motives of the defendant were a little more than those of a person who wanted to protect his stock from marauding dogs and he could not help feeling that the poison, laid so close to Walsh's land, formed a lure for the dogs. He must come to the conclusion that the Plaintiff was entitled to succeed, and he must comply with the law that one must get the consent of a person before laying poison within 100 yards of his land. He was sorry in having to decide in this way, in that he might be adding fuel to fire, but he had to comply with the law.

Regarding damages, said Judge Fawcitt, he had no doubt at all but that Walsh had over-exaggerated the value of the dog and the claim submitted by him was a highly exaggerated one. He had the evidence of Mr. Nash, an accepted authority on dogs, and he would take his lesser figure of £150 as the value of the dog in 1967. He gave Walsh a decree for this amount, together with the costs and expenses of the action.

NOTES SCOUT

Three of the lads went out to Old Parish on Friday night and they enjoyed themselves very much there. Pat was very late and shortly after he arrived, Willie was on the way out. Donald was using up more fuel than Pat that night, but it seems Pat made a wrong turning in the snow on the way home. According to reports he managed okay!

Larry was complaining last Saturday night, but we feel sure he is happy by now. Tom believes that "a switch in time saves nine" every Sunday morning.

This is an excerpt from the Troop Log Book dated 1939 and we hope our older readers will enjoy it. These are a few questions to test your memory. Who was Francois Chevalier? What connection did he have with 4th Waterford?

On May 5th, 1938, Scoutmasters meeting was held in the den. What great annual event came as a result of that conference? What member of the Troop wore lipstick, powder, ear-rings and silk stockings during a Scout Concert, 27th February, 1938?

Who was Brino? He used to sing "Chinaman". J. Regan (now a priest) and the Troop performed works of charity during Christmas 1940. What were they? Now that you've puzzled over the questions, here is a timetable of celebrations held on 8th December, 1939: 7.45 a.m.—Parade to Mass; 7.15 p.m.—Parade to Devotions; 8.30 p.m.—Party Dress; 8.45—Judging of Cakes (inter-parol); 9 p.m.—Investiture and a feed. The fancy dress was won by P/L's S. O'Brien and C. Power, and Scouts J. Fraher and M. Power, who entered as Bride and groom, best man and bridesmaid. After this the Troop was visited by Mr. Liam Comerford, S.M. of the Dungarvan Troop. We hope you've enjoyed this trip back in years to 1938-'39.

Late Augustine Dalton

BALLYNETY, DUNGARVAN A great gloom was cast over Dungarvan, at the news of the death of Augustine (Gusty) Dalton, which occurred suddenly on Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. James Cummins, Inchisgla.

The deceased was a very well known and popular member of the community, especially in his native Kilgobnet area. He was the possessor of many outstanding characteristics which endeared him to all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. The deceased was always ready to help those requiring his assistance. Gusty Dalton was always a great source of help in the running and upkeep of Kilgobnet Parish Church and cemetery and was the man to be seen rousing the bell, calling his fellow parishioners to the Mass and Devotions.

His remains were removed on Thursday evening to Kilgobnet Church, followed by a very large cortege, and were blessed and received by Rev. E. Cooney, J.C.C., assisted by Very Rev. D. McGrath, P.P. Requiem Masses were offered on Friday morning for the happy and eternal repose of his soul and immediately afterwards the interment took place in the adjoining family plot, when another very large and representative concourse were present. Very Rev. D. McGrath, P.P., assisted by Rev. E. Cooney, J.C.C., imparted the final absolution at the graveside. (Funeral arrangements by J. Kely and Sons, Dungarvan.)

Old Parish Question Time Final

Friday night last saw the end of a most successful series of Question Time, held in aid of the Old Parish Church Building Fund. The series, organised by "An Clorcal," began last October, and consisted of 82 teams originally, coming from Youghal, Bonmahon, Cappoquin, Ballinacree, Ring, Dungarvan, Kinsalebeg, Grange and the Sean-Phobal (last year's winners). The stage was set on Friday for the final, between An Monagha Leathair, Dungarvan (D. Brennan, K. O'Riordan, N. Cotter and T. Mooney) agus Macra na Feirme, Baile na Míolach (M. Tobin, D. Fitzgerald, M. Forde and J. O'Brien). After a close contest, Macra na Feirme emerged victorious and were presented with the Shield for the Competition by Rev. M. Enright. A delightful Cabaret followed, which entertained the huge crowd. This very pleasant and enjoyable evening ended with a ceilí. Although the team competition is finished for this year, another competition now follows—the Individual Contest, consisting of some 80 individuals who had clear rounds in the team part. These will be run off in three semi-finals, beginning on Friday, 7th March, with the final on 28th March. This has all the ingredients of being a first class series. Cabaret and Ceilí will, of course, be held each night, beginning at 8.30 p.m.

Late Mrs. Bridget Bell (nee Cullinan)

MARY ST., DUNGARVAN

It is our very sad duty to place on record the death of Mrs. Bridget Bell, Mary St., Dungarvan, which occurred at her residence on Tuesday evening, 25th February, after a rather short duration of illness but at an advanced age.

The deceased was a member of a most popular and esteemed family and was relict of James Bell. She was the possessor of very many fine qualities, which endeared her to all who had the great pleasure of her acquaintance and who now mourn her loss. We extend our deepest sympathy to her sorrowing sons, grandchildren and daughter-in-law.

Her remains were removed on Wednesday evening to St. Mary's Parish Church, followed by a very large cortege and were blessed and received by Rev. J. Murphy, J.C.C.

Requiem Mass was offered on Thursday morning for the repose of her soul and the interment took place later in the day in the adjoining family plot, when another large concourse were present. Rev. J. Murphy, J.C.C., assisted by Rev. D. O'Byrne, J.C.C., imparted the final absolution at the graveside.

Large sheaves of Mass cards were received. The chief mourners: Walter and Nicholas Bell, Mary St., Dungarvan (sons); Nicholas Paul Bell, Ambrose Bell, the Misses Mary and Gabriel Bell (grandchildren); Mrs. Lena Bell (daughter-in-law); and a large circle of nephews and nieces and cousins. (Funeral arrangements by J. Kely and Sons, Dungarvan.)

DOMINIC SAVIO YOUTH CLUB

Due to the re-opening of the school, a smaller crowd than usual attended both meetings of the Club on Wednesday and Saturday nights. But, despite this set back, everyone enjoyed themselves. On Wednesday night last after the games, Colm set up the projector and showed us the film "Liss Mc 67," which was about the National Scout Camp. Some local faces appeared on the screen and with the appearance of our Chairman with the two teach a big roar came up from the boys at the back. After the film a very short "hop" took place. Mr. Tom Kyne came along to Lawlors Hotel last Saturday night and gave us a talk on a day in the life of a T.D. An open forum took place at the end of the talk with some very interesting questions ranging from Litter Bins to The Budget. We would like to thank Mr. Kyne for coming along and giving us such an interesting talk. We hope to have more Saturday night discussions in the future.

WEDDING BELLS

DWYER — CORBETT The marriage, with Nuptial Mass and Pupal Blessing, took place recently in the Church of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross, Stradbally, of Mr. Noel Dwyer, second son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dwyer, Caseyville, Dungarvan, and Miss Alice Corbett, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Corbett, Stradbally.

Mr. David Dwyer, brother of the groom, was best man. Mrs. Madge Danneau, sister of the bride, was matron of honour, and Miss Elaine Corbett, niece of the bride, was trainbearer. Very Rev. P. Farrell, P.P., performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a full length empire line gown of white satin with lace sleeves and train. A coronet of white roses and seed pearls held her shoulder length veil in place. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and maiden hair fern. Her matron of honour wore a full length empire line gown of rose satin with matching headress, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Her trainbearer wore a tall length turquoise dress with white lace top and matching head-dress and also carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The reception was held at Lawlors Hotel, Dungarvan and the honeymoon is being spent in London. Going away the bride wore a frock and coat of turquoise with matching accessories. Both bride and groom are on the staff of Waterford Co-op. Society, and we take this opportunity of wishing them all the best in their future married life.

The fundamental right of the farmer to choose his own veterinary surgeon was defended by the President of the NFA, Mr. T. J. Maher, when he spoke in Cashel, Co. Tipperary, about the proposed change which the Dept. of Agriculture suggested making in the system for the testing of herds. Mr. Maher, who was addressing the annual meeting of his own local branch, said that the Dept., without consulting farmers, proposed limiting the present system where the herdowner could nominate his own veterinary surgeon for T.B. testing. Now a farmer could have a vet imposed on him for testing while the vet, who would be coming for all normal work and who knew the history of the herd, could not be nominated. While under the existing system, it was true that the farmer's own vet might have it done through an assistant, still the farmer retained the fundamental right of choice. Now a veterinary surgeon whom the farmer had never heard of and who his own vet might not be acquainted with could be detailed to do the testing if the Dept. went through with its proposal. The vital necessity of preserving and fostering the relationship of mutual confidence between farmer and veterinary surgeon in the battle to eradicate disease was stressed by Maher. It was akin to the special relationship between a family and its own doctor.

Mr. Maher said that he fully appreciated that there had been certain deficiencies in the T.B. Eradication Scheme and he was as concerned as the Dept. that these should not be allowed to continue. No doubt the Dept. had been influenced by this fact in their proposal to change the Scheme. "But," it seems strange to me," said Mr. Maher, "that they should suggest such important changes without even consulting farmers, who are the people really concerned."

Mr. Maher went on to say that it was particularly important in the case of testing under the Brucellosis Scheme that it was the farmer's own vet who should be appointed because he knew all the facts about the herd. Mr. Maher said that it was a matter of regret that the Brucellosis Campaign was being carried out without any consultation with organised farmers. "The Department," he said, "must utilise all the means at its disposal to ensure a rapid eradication of this disease. In areas where the disease is quite prevalent, the scheme is making poor progress. The milk ring test should be utilised more in the initial stages to pinpoint the prevalence of the disease and then full testing could be carried out. Only thus can matters be expedited and a sense of urgency is certainly needed."

Weather and soil conditions over the next few weeks will have a vital bearing on the prospects for grain growers this year. Unlike last year, when ploughing and tilling had been virtually completed in many areas and the sowing of Spring wheat and barley was well under way before the end of February, this year's operations have been badly hit by the adverse weather of the past two months. Rainfall and drying conditions between now and St. Patrick's Day could be the determining factor for many farmers in making their choice between wheat and barley.

The indications before the bad weather were that farmers would probably increase their wheat acreage slightly over the 1968 level of 224,000 acres. There are surpluses in Europe at present and people talk about over-production, yet in places like the Far East, South Asia, and Latin America there are people dying of starvation every day, said Mr. Maher, who was speaking on "Agriculture and World Hunger" at a Seminar organised by the World Aid Society. The problem there is not so much over-production, it is a failure to distribute produce properly so that we will get surplus food to those who are starving.

But there was uncertainty about this in view of the fact that the qualifying standard for full milling price has been raised from a reading of 130 to 140, which could mean a loss of 30/- per barrel, or £18 to £24 per acre on some of this year's crop. Furthermore, the prospect of the wheat levy system coming into operation this year has been the subject of wide-spread discussion by farmers. The amount of the levy will not be officially announced until after harvest (under the new arrangements decided on by the Dept. of Agriculture). A repetition of last year's production of millable wheat would involve a levy of about 10/- per barrel. This would go to finance the disposal of about 75,000 tons, which would be left over after the flour milling industry had retained its allocated 240,000 tons of Irish wheat, representing 75% of the grist. In effect, a 10/- levy would pull back the basic price of milling wheat to the 1955 level of 77/6d. per barrel (at 60 lbs. bushel weight and 20% moisture).

In the new arrangement for 1969, the Dept. has made provision for implementing a levy of anything up to 30/- per barrel. One-third of the wheat price will be held back until the amount of millable wheat from the 1969 harvest is known in order that the amount of levy required (if any) can be calculated. This must be regarded as an excessively severe financial strain to impose on farmers who can ill afford any delay in payment for their wheat at a time when they normally have many bills to pay. All these factors could be expected to induce a swing from wheat to barley growing this year if the financial return from the latter crop was more attractive than it is. Of itself, the 1969 feed barley price of 48/- per barrel, representing an increase of 3/- over the 1968 price, is not an attractive proposition. However, with spring work so far behind now as compared with last year, the fact that barley can be sown much later than wheat is bound to have an effect.

Concerned at the damage that could be caused to our dairy industry through adverse publicity about the alleged relationship between heart disease and animal fats in dairy products, the NFA is contacting the International Federation of Agricultural Producers & IFAP to get the latest world opinion on the subject. The World Health Organisation is represented at meetings of the IFAP at which this vexed question has already been raised on a number of occasions and the NFA represents Ireland at the meetings. "We have written to the IFAP to ask them to get a clear up-to-date statement from the WHO, and when we get a reply from them we will prepare a dossier on the subject," said an NFA spokesman. "There is no clear evidence to indicate that butter and allied products contribute in any way to heart diseases. In a country like ours where our whole livestock industry and therefore indirectly the economy as a whole depends on the Dairy industry, it is unthinkable that the 'dangerous' image of dairying products should be fostered in certain quarters," continued the spokesman. The NFA again called on the Government to take every possible action to counter this adverse publicity.

World hunger. The aim of developing countries must be to become as nearly self-supporting as possible in the food products which they are climatically best able to produce. And what these countries need in addition to food aid are development funds, education and technical assistance, particularly in the drawing up of development plans. Referring to the work of Gorta in this respect, Mr. Maher said that its projects included an irrigation farming centre in Pakistan, a water development scheme in Kenya agricultural training schools in Tanzania and in Brazil (where 2,000 acres of scrubland were being developed in the State of Goias) while the most recent important scheme was the Gannavarr piggy development project in the State of Andhra Pradesh in India. At the present moment there were six skilled Irish volunteers working overseas on these and other projects. Mr. Maher said that the NFA had been closely associated with those pioneering efforts and it would continue to back Gorta with expert advice where this was needed. Between 1961 and 1963 food aid amounted to a total of 10% of the total economic aid going to developing countries. If the important developed nations were to contribute each year even 1% to 14% of their national income to economic aid for underdeveloped countries, it would go a long way towards solving the nutrition problem by 1980. In addition to food aid, there is a great need for further aid to build up the structure of agricultural production in these countries.

Mr. Maher said that he fully appreciated that there had been certain deficiencies in the T.B. Eradication Scheme and he was as concerned as the Dept. that these should not be allowed to continue. No doubt the Dept. had been influenced by this fact in their proposal to change the Scheme. HUNTING

Kinsalebeg-Cashmore Harriers met at Ardmore on Sunday last and followers enjoyed the best hunting of the season. Flocks at Ballinamona, hounds soon marked two to ground in the sandpits. The next covert tried was in the bog adjacent to the Village. A strong fox was routed from here, on through Monea and crossing the road went through Kieley's Hill and on to Ballinamertina. Crossing the Grange road reynard again circled through Clarkstown and back through Ballinamertina to Kieley's Hill, where he was again pushed in the line as before, going over the main Dungarvan Road and on to Grange and Lisruff, finally a tired pack and horses finally called it a day.
