All In Readiness For Munster Fleadh Ceoil

ALL is in readiness for Fleadh Ceoil na Mumhan agus na aDaise which is being held in Dungarvan this Saturday and Sunday, May 10th and 11th. This is the first time the Provincial Fleadh has come to the County

To date the entries in all der way at 3 p.m. on Satur-competitions are highly sa- day and again at 2 p.m. on factory and have come Sunday. There will be a Gala from all parts of the Pro- Prizewinners concert on vince. Competitions get un- Sunday (see advert columns

Waterford capital and a hard-working Committee headed by Chairman Ned Keane and Secretary Tomas O Ceilleachair, have left no stone unturned to ensure the success of this Fleadh.

for all details.)
The Fleadh will be officially opened at 12.15 on Sunday at the Square by Labhras O Murchu, National President of Comhaltas Ceoilfoiri Eireann. An estimated 7,000 to 10,000 lovers of traditional Irish music are expected to throng the town for the week-end, and all that is now required is favourable weather.

Competitions will be held in five Centres—The Friary and Town Halls, Mercy Convent, Christian Brothers and Courthouse.
Incidentally licensed premises in the town have an exemption to 1 a.m. on the Sunday night (or more specifically Monday morning).

In the past Dungarvan has had a fine reputation for the orderly conduct of its Fleadhs (county and All-Ireland one in '57). We trust that that reputation will not be tarnished by those who visit our town over the week-end.
They are cordially welcome, and through the efforts of our dedicated Fleadh Ceoil Committee a feast of Irish music and song has been laid on for them.

A.C.C. Loan For Offices

The new £29,117 Offices cum Headquarters to be built in Dungarvan for the County Waterford Committee of Agriculture, will be financed by way of an Agricultural Credit Corporation Loan, repayable over 35 years.

Mr. George T. Frost, (C.A.O.) told this week's meeting of the Committee in Dungarvan that they had two alternatives for raising the money, either by A.C.C.
Loan or from the Local Loans Fund.

Mr. Frost said by borrowing from the Local Loans Fund it would put 1.4 pence in the £ on the rates over 35 years, as against 1.36 pence in the £ over the same number of years by an A.C.C. loan. The A.C.C. loan also had the advantage whereby if the Committee got rich they could, if it was possible, repay the money over 25 or 20 years. This could not be done however with a Local Loans Fund Loan.

Mr. Norman Walsh said the possibility of the Committee getting rich was as remote as the members getting to the moon.

Mr. Frost said the interest on the A.C.C. Loan would be 9% and he recommended acceptance of it.

The C.A.O.'s recommendation was unanimously approved.

Late John F. (Jack) O'Brien

CONNOLLY ROW,
DUNGARVAN

The townspeople of Dungarvan learned with feelings of shock and deep regret of the death of John F. (Jack) O'Brien, B.Sc., Connolly Row which occurred on Sunday night last, after a comparatively brief illness and unexpectedly. Aged only 25 years he was one of Dungarvan's most brilliant sons, and held a highly important and responsible post with the internationally known I.B.M.
Company. He was involved in the complicated field of Computers with his firm and was an acknowledged master at his work.

Although he had not enjoyed the best of health for some months past, his demise nonetheless, came with unexpected suddenness. He had been visiting his home for the week-end from Dublin and was returning on Sunday night when he was taken ill, and died within a short time, in his home.

"Jacko," as he was affectionately known to all, was deservedly one of Dun-garvan's most popular figures.
He was as unassuming as he was friendly, and he was one who simply revelled in a good argument. It is difficult to believe that he has been taken from a world in which a brilliant career lay before him, but his many fine features of character, his wit, joviality and above all, likeable personality will ensure his remembrance amongst many sections of the community for decades to come. We join with those who have already done so in expressing sincere and heartfelt sympathy with his bereaved family.

He was educated at Dungarvan C.B.S. where he had a distinguished academic career and took his intermediate and Leaving Certificates with high honours. He was awarded a County Council Scholarship to University College Cork and there took his B.Sc. degree in an equally distinguished manner.

His remains were removed to St. Mary's Parish Church on Monday evening last, accompanied by a cortege of huge dimensions and representative of all sections of the community. It was truly an illustration of the esteem in which he was held. The members of the Brass and Reed Band led by their conductor Mr. A. Hennebery formed a guard of honour at each side of the hearse on its last journey from the District Hospital. The remains were received and blessed by Rev. Wm. Power,
C.C., assisted by Rev. J.
Murphy, C.C., Rev. M. Enright, C.C., Ring and Rev. J.
F. Morrissey, C.C., Aglish.
Requiem Mass was celebrated for the happy repose of his soul on Tuesday morning and the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery at 1 o'clock that day, in the presence of another huge concourse. Fr. W.
Power, C.C., also officiated at the graveside, assisted by Rev. D. O'Byrne, C.C., Rev.
M. O'Byrne, C.C., Fourmilewater and Rev. B. Crowley, C.C., Bouraneena. Rev. Bro.
McGinnity, Superior, and members of Dungarvan
C.B.S. were also present on

REGRETTED PASSING OF BRILLIANT YOUNG DUNGARVAN MAN £300,000 College

both occasions.
The chief mourners: Mrs.
Kathleen Hally, Connolly
Row (mother); Denis, England (brother); Marion, Connolly Row (sister); Mr. Noel Hally (step father); Mrs. Mai O'Brien (sister-in-law); Ba-mon O'Brien (nephew) and a large circle of other relatives.
(Funeral arrangements by J.
Kiely and Sons, Undertakers
Dungarvan.)

In our report of last week's Annual Past Pupils Meeting of St. Augustine's College in Dungarvan, a typographical error occurred in the Father Provincial's address, part of which should have read:
"The new £300,000 Day and Boarding College to be built on the Clonsha Road will serve the ordinary boy from the ordinary family, with no snob element attached."

An Roinn Oideachtais - Department of Education TRANSPORT TO POST-PRIMARY SCHOOLS SCHOOL YEAR 1969-70 NOTICE TO PARENTS AND GUARDIANS
 The free transport scheme has been introduced to provide the opportunity of post-primary education for children who live an excessive distance from the nearest post-primary school.
 Under the terms of the scheme, children living three miles or more from the nearest centre at which free education is available are eligible for transport to that centre.
 Eligible pupils commencing post-primary education in September, 1969, should apply for transport without delay on a special form which they can obtain from the headmaster or headmistress of the post-primary school at which they propose to attend.
 Eligible pupils at present attending post-primary schools will be given an application form by their headmaster or headmistress.
 Eligible pupils intending to commence a Leaving Certificate course from September 1969 at a centre other than that in which they studied for their Intermediate Certificate should apply for a transport application form to the headmaster or headmistress of their new school.
 Since the preparatory arrangements take a considerable time, free transport cannot be arranged for pupils who do not complete and return the application forms to their headmaster or headmistress before 16th May, 1969.
 Direct transport cannot be provided from pupils' homes. The scheme is organised on the basis that no pupil will have more than three miles to walk or cycle either to the nearest school or to a pick-up point on a school bus route serving the nearest school.
 All enquiries concerning the operation of the scheme for children attending post-primary schools in County Waterford should be addressed to The Transport Liaison Officer for County Waterford.

 HAVE SEEN
 "BIG MAGGIE"
 TO DATE

John B. Keane's "Big Maggie" is going from success to success, continuing to pack houses at each place where it is staged.
 John B. Keane's record-breaking play, which had its world premiere at the Opera House, Cork, on 20th January, has broken all box-office records at that theatre, as well as all subsequent theatres where it was staged: City Theatre, Limerick; Olympia Theatre, Dublin (where, during its seven weeks run there was not a single spare seat during any performance); the Grove Theatre, Belfast, where it was found to be one of the most popular plays shown there in recent years; the Town Hall, Dundalk, where "Big Maggie" attracted audiences not only from Dundalk town itself, but from a very wide surrounding area. "Big Maggie" is at present having a return visit to the City Theatre, Limerick, where it has proved to be just as popular as on its previous visit there last February, and where its run would have been extended but for previous commitments in other areas.

Already over 100,000 people throughout the country have seen "Big Maggie", which has become the most popular and talked-about play of the decade.
 "Big Maggie" will be staged in John B. Keane's native Kerry for the first time next week, when it opens at St. John's Hall, Tralee, on Monday, 5th May and where it will run for six consecutive nights. Already bookings are very heavy, and full houses are guaranteed for the week.
 On Monday, 12th May, the theatregoers in Waterford and its surrounding areas will have an opportunity of seeing this outstanding play when it opens for one week at the Theatre Royal, Waterford.
 A very welcome return visit will be paid to the Opera House in Cork, on Monday, 19th May, where the play will run for two weeks.

Playing the title role of "Big Maggie" in this national tour is Belfast actress Doreen Hepburn, who has been acclaimed by critics throughout the country as being the best "Big Maggie" to date.
 Cork-born Chris Curran plays the part of Teddy Heelin, the Commercial Traveller, while another Cork-born actor, Cecil Sheehan, is cast in the role of Byrne, the Monumental Sculptor.
 Other members of the outstanding cast are: Liz Davis, who will play the part of Katie, the elder daughter of Big Maggie; Dearbhla Molloy, who will play Big Maggie's younger daughter, Geri; Clem Davis, who will play the part of Mick, the elder son of Big Maggie; Robert Carline, who will be cast as her younger son, Maurice; Brenda Fricker, who will play the part of Mary Madden, Maurice's girl friend; Sheila O'Sullivan, who is cast as Mrs. Madden; Robert Carrickford, and Eileen Lemass, who will play the parts of an Old Man and an Old Woman.

The production is directed by James N. Healy of Cork, whose superb work as director needs no introduction to Munster audiences.
 The dramatic and comedy aspects of a work which abounds in good rollicking fun are more than well catered for by such experienced character actors as Michael Burke of Cashel, Jim O'Shea of Clonmel, and Dan O'Brien, Thurles, who returns to his native town and the Society of which he was once Hon. Secretary, to play one of the key roles. Since he left Clonmel to take up an appointment in Thurles, Dan has been prominently identified with the work of the musical and dramatic societies there.
 The production will be conducted by Declan Towns, end, Cork.

SCOUT NOTES

4th Waterford — St. Joseph's (Abbeyside)
 Sean and Aidan took advantage of the fine weather and a free day from school to visit the top of Cruachan once more. They left early after dinner and were back at about half past six. Tony, Sean, Humphrey, Patrick and Donald visited Ring where they gave a talk to a group of young girls on hiking. Fr. Enright was in charge and everything was worked out smoothly. After the talk, the girls were invited to ask questions and they seem to have got an answer for everyone they asked. A hike has been planned for Saturday and we hope the girls and Fr. Enright know their dril! Cyril (Farre) drove the lads out and in and managed to get the whole thing going.
 Congratulations to Tom and Aidan who managed to collect the most money in the Bob-a-Job. They beat Fitzie by a very close margin. Other efforts could have been better, but on the whole it's a result was quite satisfactory.
 Yes, lads, this is the best Patrol in the Troop. Jim Curran seems to have all the boys on their toes (clean of course). But, some of the fellows in this patrol would want to take a keener interest. Another thing that some of the other patrols could copy, is the idea of a little patrol fund, which can be handy and it will also take the burden off the Troop—so, imitation is the sincerest form of flattery. So, until further notice, the Panthers are our No. 1 Patrol.
 Complaint—Some of the boys seem to be getting a little friskier than usual.

"LILAC TIME" IN CLONMEL

St. Mary's Choral Society of Clonmel, one of the oldest and foremost musical organisations in the country, is to stage the very popular musical "Lilac Time" at the Regal Theatre, Clonmel, for a six night run, commencing on Tuesday, 13th May.
 "Lilac Time" is a romantic operetta based on the popular melodies of Franz Schubert, is one of the most endearing of light musical shows, but is seldom staged because of the very large number of character parts which are required to be filled. This challenge has not deterred the Clonmel Society, which has assembled an outstanding cast led by the nationally known Clonmel tenor, Tom Hogan, recently returned from his highly successful American tour. Tom sings the role of Schubert himself for the story of "Lilac Time", set in Maytime Vienna, is based on a dramatic interlude in the life of the great Austrian composer.
 Soprano Sheila Cairns, also a well known and popular Clonmel soprano, sings the female lead of "Lilac Time", while the baritone lead is shared by two guest artists, David McCreaney, Cork and Tom Quinlivan, Kildare.
 The production is directed by James N. Healy of Cork, whose superb work as director needs no introduction to Munster audiences.
 The dramatic and comedy aspects of a work which abounds in good rollicking fun are more than well catered for by such experienced character actors as Michael Burke of Cashel, Jim O'Shea of Clonmel, and Dan O'Brien, Thurles, who returns to his native town and the Society of which he was once Hon. Secretary, to play one of the key roles. Since he left Clonmel to take up an appointment in Thurles, Dan has been prominently identified with the work of the musical and dramatic societies there.
 The production will be conducted by Declan Towns, end, Cork.

HAPPENINGS OF THE TROOP

Recently we have begun to practice Gadget Making, and before the meeting last week we lads made a gateway, which will need a lorry to itself to bring to camp! Marching is also on the agenda, but some of the lads don't know left from right. I wonder which hard they bless themselves with? Ah well, 'all out of step except my Johnny.' I believe we have a few Jimmy Fehave's in the Troop, as from now on one Patrol will have to cook a meal each week and that will be Gas! A hear A.J. ordered chips at 7 o'clock.

RUMOURS

That a hike is being planned for Ascension Thursday the day John McCreaney will ascend into heaven, bike, Raymond Keane and all. Neil is taking up poetry. Walter likes "throwaways." Seamus is joining the Sea Angling Club—something fishy about that! That Michael O'Keefe is learning to drive... a golf ball.

ON BOARD THE 'INNISFALLEN'

by HILARY A. LYNCH

A detailed plan, estimated to cost the Commissioners £2 million was drawn up and is now in the process of implementation. The scheme includes the establishment of an industrial estate, and provision of a car ferry terminal, general cargo and unit load berths and livestock facilities.

These developments are taking place at the Tivoli Industrial and Dock Estate, which is situated on the north bank of the river Lee and within two miles of the Cork City centre.

The car ferry terminal, which is the most modern in the world, will accommodate the B+I Line's new luxurious car ferry "Innisfallen."

Down through the years there has been a close link between the B+I and the Cork Harbour Commissioners and for over a century and a half the B+I or its predecessors have operated a cross-channel service from Cork.

At the ferry terminal the cars will drive off through the stern of the ferry and on to the 100 ft. long shore bridge, which is equipped with the latest type of American lifting equipment. The cars will then proceed to a large Customs Compound for Customs Examination and it is estimated that all cars will be discharged from the ferry in under 20 minutes.

"Innisfallen," the name with the magical Irish ring that B+I were proud to pass on to the ferry that is now "queen of the fleet." For in it are combined the two elements so essential to modern sea transport—nautical engineering of the highest quality and passenger comforts well above normal standards.

With top speed 24 knots

(approx. 86 m.p.h.) M.V. Innisfallen is the fastest car ferry in Northern Europe.

Its design is of the most modern concept in passenger sea travel, whilst its layout and decor bring new comfort to short sea travel. Built at a cost of £2 million this drive-on, drive-off ferry has a capacity for 1,200 passengers and 240 cars.

Though the vessel is one class throughout, public rooms and cabins are furnished to first class standards.

Cabin accommodation is available for 252 persons. Two lounges are equipped with soft reclining seating, with accommodation for 325 people. Three bars are available on board. The sky-bar, which is a new idea on Irish sea travel is situated above the bridge level, dome shaped, mainly of glass construction and is also an observation lounge.

Dining on board compares with better-class restaurants ashore.

For those who like fresh air, there is almost 1,500 sq. ft. of open deck space, much of it provided with fixed seating and sun chairs.

Fitted with the most modern stabilisers, the "Innisfallen" is unlikely to be unpleasant even during bad weather conditions. Central heating and air conditioning also add to the comforts.

On board the purser's staff is always available to passengers and the ferry shop stocks souvenirs and a wide range of reading material, such as B+I "Golfing in Ireland," compiled by Oliver J. Weldon, and published in co-operation with the B+I Line, North Wall, Dublin 1. This book is a guide to fifty selected Irish golf links and courses.

The hostesses aboard, striking in their tweed blue uniforms, are there purely to make the travellers journey more enjoyable.

The terminal which serves the B+I Line's "Innisfallen" on her regular service from Swansea to Cork—has been constructed specially by the British Transport Docks Board, at a cost of more than £800,000. It is known as Swansea Ferryport.

Situated on the River Tawe (pronounced Taway) close by the lock entrance to Swansea Docks, the terminal has been designed to cater for the rapid disembarkation and embarkation of passengers, accompanied cars, and wheeled freight at any state of the tide (which rises and falls some 30 feet in the river Tawe). The whole terminal operation is geared to meet the needs of the fastest ferry vessel on the Irish sea, and their passengers with the minimum of delay and fuss. When working to capacity the terminal will cater for 240 cars and 1,200 passengers in each direction every trip.

Very much a fast transit terminal, Swansea Ferryport has been given six traffic lanes and checkpoints to speed Customs and Immigration formalities for motorists. To make the terminal as attractive as possible, the area is to be landscaped by the Parks Department of Swansea Corporation.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank B+I for the wonderful personal experience which this trip provided and to wish them every success in their new venture.

"TREOIR"

"If you go to Conamara, in search of music and song, you will inevitably call to An Cheathru Rua. Just as inevitably you will find yourself in the early hours, enjoying a cosy session in the company of Tomas MacEoin, Peadar MacDonncha, Pádraig O Cathain and company. You will soon notice the attractive girl in the company, whose good looks are backed by a charming personality and a friendly and ready humour. It is only when the demand comes: 'Nois, a Mhaire, ceard faoi ceann uait hein,' that you realise that Maire Nic Donncha is, indeed, three blest or four times if one counts a beautiful voice and a considerable mastery of the difficult art of sean-nos singing as separate blessings."

This is the reader's introduction to the cover-girl on the current issue of "Treoir," the Irish traditional music magazine published by Comhaltas Ceoltóirí Éireann.

"On the night of my recent visit to An Cheathru Rua," the article by Seamus MacMathúna continues, "the Eurovision Song Contest was being broadcast over R.T.E. Needless to say, I found ceol agus amhránaíocht more to my liking in Tigh Ceathain. The thought did occur to me though, that, if this were a really National song contest (which, of course, it is not)—what a splendid and ideal representative we would have in every way in Maire Nic Donncha."

Maire learned most of her songs from her grandmother and mother, who are now dead (R.I.P.) She won prizes at the Oireachtas in 1962, '64 and also at Fleadh Cheoil na hÉireann. Maire has also made records.

Bishop's Plea for Pilgrim Prayers

Speaking at Confirmation Ceremonies this week in Ballyduff, Knockanore, Cappoquin and Modeligo, His Lordship, Most Rev. Dr. M. Russell, Bishop of Waterford and Lismore, reminded the people of the Annual Diocesan Pilgrimage to Knock on Sunday next and the Annual Diocesan Pilgrimage to Lourdes this month.

He appealed to the people to be united in prayer with the pilgrims during these periods and urged them to pray each day for the intention of the Pilgrimage to Knock which will be peace, peace in the world and peace in our country. He asked that each person recite one "Hail Holy Queen" each day for that intention.

On the home front we hope to get a tournament under way on Sunday next for club members. Those members or intending members who wish to take part should get in touch with any member of the committee before Sunday.

Criticism of Proposed Teachers Strike

A proposal by Mr. Kieran O'Ryan that they protest in the strongest possible terms against their proposed strike action.

Mr. Norman Walsh said to strike was a very important right and they should be very slow to deny that right to any group. However, the grave obligations should be taken into consideration by those involved before strike action was taken. He would not be prepared to second Mr. O'Ryan's proposal however.

When there was no second for Mr. O'Ryan's proposal the matter was dropped, and the discussion ended.

LATE DANIEL O'BRIEN

Boherwillin, Cappagh. It is with feelings of deep regret that we record the death of Mr. Daniel O'Brien, Boherwillin, Cappagh, which occurred on Friday, April 25th at St. Joseph's Hospital, Dungarvan, after a comparatively brief illness and an advanced age. He was a quiet and unassuming individual, a hard and honest food loving man. He was also a very keen card player. His remains were removed to Modelgo Church on Sunday evening, 26th ult. and were received and blessed by Very Rev. J. Hally, P.P., assisted by Rev. W. Carey, C.C. in the presence of a large concourse. Following Requiem Mass on Sunday morning the burial took place in the adjoining cemetery in the presence of another very large concourse. (Funeral arrangements by T. F. McCarthy, Dungarvan).

DOMINIC SAVIO YOUTH CLUB

THE HIKE

His 40s), cwtvIVCyoT At 1.30 p.m. on Sunday, Grattan Square began to fill with teenagers dressed in bright, coloured jeans and shirts, strong shoes and peaked caps. Freddie, the mini-bus arrived laden with food and Michael Keyes, our quarter-master, hopped out. It was a beautiful day and soon the crowd had increased to 50 or 60.

Michael Whelan, our leader, got the group leaders, Pat Kenneally, Nuala Cotter, Kevin Flynn and Gerard Cummins, together and gave them maps of the route to be taken. The crowd was divided into four groups each under a leader and then left the town via Bridge Street. Michael Whelan led the way past the Gaelic field and over Ballineety Bridge. Everyone sang as we marched along, and on approaching Kilmobnet we took the road to the left, on to Coligan. Mr. Hally and Mr. O'Meara marched along behind Martin Landers, our straggler.

Freddie was the first to arrive at the Salmon Leap, our picnic site in Coligan, followed by Willie John and Liam, who took a short cut through the fields. Shortly after 4 o'clock the rest of the crowd arrived and soon the place was packed. Breda Tobin, our nurse treated all the sore heels and feet, while Marion Moloney got her guitar and began to play. Everyone sang along with her and it wasn't long before a real sing-song was under way.

But, alas, disaster struck, as, with a big splash, Deirdre O'Brien fell into the river. "It's gorgeous," she cried. "I'm wet now so I might as well go for a swim," and off she swam in her Oxford Bags. Bunny then suitably attired, dived in to join her. (At 5 o'clock the food was distributed. Minerals were opened and drank by the dozen, as little Dermot Kelly will tell you. The sandwiches, biscuits, crisps and chocolate weren't long disappearing either. When we had eaten our fill we went to explore. Nuala lay on a rock and was soon asleep. Some of the boys crossed the river to take photos and got stranded on the other side. Rosaire and Ria got wet poor things and Elaine did not escape either. Declan Egan and company were also spotted standing on rocks in the middle of the river, where, of course, they shouldn't have been.

At 7 o'clock we took to the road again and headed for home over the Crooked Bridge. Apples were distributed along the way. Everyone was in great form after a wonderful day and sang all the way home. At the Pike we stopped for ice cream and then continued on our way.

At 9.30 p.m. we entered Dungarvan via O'Connell St. tired and hungry, but still singing. It was the end of a perfect day.

Our thanks to everyone who contributed to making this day so perfect, especially Mr. Fenell, who allowed us use his land, and who also boosted our supplies of minerals, and also to Mr. O'Meara and Mr. Hally, who walked the whole twelve miles and who were such good sports throughout the day.

PRESENTATION

On Saturday night, at a meeting of the Committee, a presentation was made to Mr. O'Mahony, our Treasurer who is leaving us to go to Dublin. Our sincere thanks and best wishes go with him. Mr. O'Meara has now been elected Treasurer in his place.

At the Dungarvan/Abbeyside Fianna Fall annual dinner—Miss S. Greany, Mrs. E. Feehan, Mr. Bobby Keane, Mrs. E. Tyers, Mrs. M. Hackett, Miss Ann Grant, Mrs. K. Walsh.

FRIARY PLAY

The pup senior (5th year) pupils of St. Augustine's College will present Bernard Shaw's "St. Joan" in the Friary Hall, on Thursday and Friday, May 28th and 30th. "St. Joan" is one of Shaw's best known plays. It was first produced in 1924 in New York and has appeared on film and on television many times. The text of the play has been translated and adapted by Mr. Gerry Ward who directs it. Mr. Ward, who lives in English, has spent three years in the B.B.C. as a script-writer of plays. He directed the production of "St. Joan" in Eastbourne in 1965 and was stage director of the De La Warr Theatre in Sussex for three years previously. He now works as a free-lance director in Ireland and hopes to organise a professional season of drama in Dungarvan in the near future. For further details see adv. in next week's paper.

Stradbally 29 Kilrossanty 63

Kilrossanty's Phelan Cup hopes ended for the current year at Dungarvan on Tuesday night last when they were completely overwhipped by old rivals Stradbally. A Weekend Retreat at Mt. Melleray Abbey

Even though I had the privilege of being educated at Mount Melleray Seminary, and often had the further privilege of making many retreats there as a student, I never thought of making a weekend retreat at the Abbey until Providence moved me in that direction quite recently. Having finished my week's work, or got as near to doing so as I possibly could, I packed my bag and motored up to that haven of peace and rest at the foot of the Knockmealdowns, to get away from it all, from the mad rush of modern life, and to talk with God alone in the silence of a Monastery Garden.

I knew I was and am a stormy petrel at times outside in public life—it would surely do me no harm to stop and think about it all just for a few days. I was met at the Guest House and welcomed with a true Irish welcome by the genial Guest Master, Fr. Bonaventure, and soon introduced to the kindly Brothers Camillus and Declan, all of whom were to be with us right through our Retreat days, not to regiment or drive us, but rather to lead and guide us, in the true spirit of Newman's "Lead Kindly Light," even for some, but by no means all of us, "amid the encircling gloom."

It was just after 8 in the evening when the Compline had begun in the Community Church, where I went with the other Retreatants, and what an impressive service ending with the well-known and beautiful Cistercian "Salve Regina," and so to bed for the Monks who rise in the early hours of the morning, and to bed too for us at about 8.30 or a little later, each one of us to his own room. Were we told to go to bed at this early hour outside, it would bring me back to my childhood days, but here with the others I accepted it willingly and gladly for the Cistercian day had ended and it gave us time for further contemplation in the privacy of our rooms, and on the Saturday night what a contrast it was to be in bed about 8.45 when normally Gay Byrne and his "Late, Late Show" would keep me up for "better, or for worse" until about 11.30 p.m.

We rose on week mornings at 7.30, dressed our beds as best we could, went to Fr. Bonaventure's Mass at 8 a.m. or to the Community Masses very much earlier if the "spirit of sacrifice" prevailed over the "spirit of pleasure" "of one good turn deserving another in bed" in anyone of us. It did in some of us, but I am afraid I was not numbered among this select group. Breakfast at 8.30 and this with our other meals, were very nice indeed, served by our good friends Rev. Brothers Camillus and Declan. After meals we usually helped with the washing, and here some of us were like the proverbial "bull in the china shop" we were so awkward.

Games was at 2 p.m. before and after which we had our private visits to the public church, and our private Stations of the Cross, also. The emphasis was on each one of us doing his retreat alone, yet we had a timetable, but we kept to the time table ourselves—we had not to come together for set lectures—it was a matter between each one of us and God alone. We had such wonderful spiritual advisors and such well-known Confessors as Fr. Bonaventure himself, Fr. Columban, Fr. Nivard, Fr. Edward Ducey, Fr. Edward, always available to us, if and when we required their help and advice, outside or inside the Confessional, but never imposed upon us otherwise.

What a mixed group of Retreatants we were, we called each other by our Christian names. There was first and foremost "Mack," the American from Virginia, licensed to practice law there, who had sailed the high seas and who had seen the world at its worst and at its best. He was a wonderful conversationalist and could discuss any topic under the sun so intelligently, that we all loved to listen to him when we gathered in the Summer House in the Monastery Garden, and we learned a lot from him. There was Bernard and Vincent from one of our leading Dublin hotels, grand young men indeed and when "Mack," Bernard and Vincent started discussing Bach and Beethoven, the rest of us were all "at sea" for I doubt if there was a note in the heads of the majority of the rest of us.

There was that refined gentleman "West" from Montreal, Canada, the senior among us, a non-Catholic, but with a beautiful outlook on life, and much purer in the sight of God I am sure than many a Catholic. His stay was short, but he was immensely impressed by Mt. Melleray as we were by him. We regretted his early departure due to business commitments on the Continent. There was Tom, the law student, most studious, the youngest of us, yet he found no difficulty in fitting into our group. There was Paddy from Cork, a racing enthusiast like myself, and a fine bowler, and Frank from Mayo, a great athlete. There was Michael and Eddie, close friends and neighbours, but of the mixed group of us, Eddie had, like "Wally," chosen "the better part"—God bless him for it, and last of all, there was myself. . . . — a jack of all trades and a master of none, the least worthy of our little group.

"Mack" and myself strolled through the fields and groves of Mt. Melleray during our leisure hours and we visited the Reservoir, the Ponds and the Holy Year Cross above the Abbey. Fr. Bonaventure took us through the Monastery and Farmyard and we saw the now famous Famine Bin, and heard the interesting history of it from the Rev. Guest Master. It never apparently ran out of provisions for Monks and neighbours during those black years. My one regret was our failure to see the Museum or Library, both very interesting places, I understand, but classes were being held as we passed through, but the privilege and pleasure will be mine some other time, please God.

As we strolled through the Groves, at times in Indian file, one could readily understand what inspired the writer of "Melleray Groves" where oft "I wandered" there is something magnetic and peaceful about them.

What impressed me and I am sure the others most, were Vespers at 6 each evening and Compline at 8, and as we looked down into the choir from the Public Gallery and entered as best we could into the spiritual exercises, distracting mundane thoughts, of bygone years entered my mind. There below in the choir I saw Dom Finbarr, the Lord Abbot, who was my Junior Dean at the Seminary, just after his Ordination—many more years ago than both of us would care to remember now. I was glad to see him looking so well, and the passing years have rested lightly on him. I saw Fr. Moran who was with me at the College, though senior to me, and who is now Sub-Prior, and I understand, I recall him as a beautiful place kicker in the senior football matches. I saw Fr. Cathal, a Kerryman, and I remember him as a fine long jumper and as one would expect from any Kerryman, a grand footballer. I saw Fr. Augustin, now Fr. Padraig, but to me Paddy Nolan, the classmate from Bray, Co. Wicklow, and I recall him as the brilliant student, a fine hand ball player, a great all-round athlete, and handy with his fists too, mark you!

I saw Fr. Hugh from Havana, Cuba, and I remember him as a studious student and now a Cistercian Priest. I saw Fr. Edward Ducey, a Co. Waterford man, now one of the well-known Confessors and a great friend of the late Fr. "Ga" Michael F. Ahearne of Cappoquin. Fr. Hillery Walsh from Portlaw, quiet and unassuming, but most industrious as a student, and as a Cistercian priest he was I know at one time Sacristan in the Abbey.

I saw Fr. Paschal Keegan from Galway, Jim was one of our Prefects, and a nice and very fair one too, now known to thousands in the Souvenir Shop. And then there was Fr. Nivard from Rathgar, Dublin, now the well-known Confessor. He, too, was a Prefect, for remember, I never rose above a Private in all my years at the Seminary. In lighter vein it is no harm to recall how Fr. Nivard, I believe, got even with Jim Hayes, a Clareman in the farmers' class, and myself, when we annoyed him by playing a game of Dots during study hours, he (Fr.

Nivard) used to send us to the Hairdresser, poor Sammy (God rest his soul) from Fermoy. On his next visit Sammy, for no known particular reason, for he was a kindly man, literally shaved Jim Hayes head and mine in true Cistercian fashion and Sammy hadn't any particular notion of becoming a Cistercian and neither had we two. So your guess is as good as mine as to who was responsible to this kindly act! We were young then, and we didn't mind, for we had a plentiful supply of hair on our heads, but we did create a sensation as we returned to our places in the Senior Study Hall, and not a little laughter for some time later in the Class. Neither did we require hair oil for some time to come, so good does come out of evil at times, even though we had to remain "Yul Brynners" for many weeks afterwards.

Fr. Gabriel Cahey was also a student with me, but he was a Philosopher when I was a Middle. He was an English student who did not always go home at holiday time and this, I felt, was very hard on him, but he accepted it as such and never grumbled, and he became a Monk later. I saw Fr. Mark Kennedy, now the Rev. Bursar, I am told, Fr. Mark was just able to pip me in the 100 yds. in our student days, and finally I met Rev. Bro. Aengus Broderick from Lisamore, so happy as a Cistercian Monk, but there is scarcely a West Waterford man who does not recall Michael Broderick as one of Lisamore's greatest hurlers, tough and uncompromising on the field, but now the quiet placid contented Monk. Today over 35 years later, these student friends of mine and many others whom I know, but who were not students at the seminary with me are serving God, day in, day out, year in, year out, according to the strict Cistercian Rule, while mine bocht fein and thousands like me seek an elusive happiness in mundane activities, and one cannot fail to see happiness radiating from their faces and contentment in their actions as they serve God in the cloister or on the farm, they seem to possess a peace which the world cannot give.

I had to leave on Monday morning, having bade goodbye and returned thanks to Fr. Bonaventure and our two Rev. Brothers, but I left a spiritually and even physically refreshed man. But before I left I read once again the last verse of "The Old Vicar," hanging in the Guest House Hall. It is well worth reading at any time, but particularly appropriate for me, who wields the "hammer" so often and for all Retreatants. It reads:—

"And many a man with a life out of tune, And battered and scarred with sin, Is auctioned cheap to a thoughtless crowd, Much like the old violin. A mess of pottage, a glass of wine, A game and he travels on, He is going once, he is going twice, He is going and almost gone But the Master comes, and the foolish crowd, Can never quite understand, The worth of a soul and the change that is wrought, By the Touch of the Master's Hand."

I felt a little lonely leaving my very good friends of a few wonderful days, but who knows, God may grant us all the privilege of meeting once again together in that Monastery Garden at the foot of Knockmealdown—the brown, bare hill.

I have written before that Melleray calls me back, but why it does I cannot tell you, it could be the deep religious convictions of the Monks themselves, it could be the great sacrifices they have made, it could be their obvious sincerity in attending to their daily religious exercises, it could be the very peaceful atmosphere of Melleray itself, it could be those very wonderful Confessors, it could be all these things, or a combination thereof, I just don't know. But I do know that there is something about Mount Melleray that calls me and thousands like me back again ever so often.

Surely one could write of Mount Melleray what Tennyson wrote of "The Brook"— "mea may come and men may go, but I go on forever" and could one possibly conceive oneself as being wide of the truth in this instance. I for one do not think so.

Members Turn Down Offer of 50% Expenditure Increase

The members of the Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture have unanimously rejected a Ministerial offer of a 50% increase in the travelling expenses allowance paid to them in respect of their meetings.

At the outset, the C.A.O., Mr. George T. Frost said a letter had been received from the Dept. of Agriculture and Fisheries stating that the Minister proposed to increase from 1/6 to 1/8 the mileage allowance to be paid to the members of the Committee of Agriculture.

Mr. Kieran O'Ryan said he had opposed this increase when it came up at the Co. Council meeting and he was doing so again now.

Mr. Norman Walsh said they were forced to take this increase legally.

The Chairman, Mr. J. Fahey, T.D., said they were not. It was entirely up to the individual member.

Mr. Walsh: I do not want to be preaching economy on the one hand and then taking this increase.

Deputy Fahey: It is entirely a matter for each member to decide if they don't want to take it. In an adjoining county some members have not claimed any travelling expenses.

Mr. Walsh said they wanted the old rate of 1/6 a mile. This was a matter of principle with some of the members and it was not because they were rich or anything like that.

Deputy Fahey said he had no proposal forthcoming for the implementation of the increased mileage rate, so the old rate of 1/6 a mile would continue to be paid.

Mr. Walsh said he admired this stand by the members of the Committee. They were certainly giving a very good example.

Mr. O'Ryan: It was an awful pity that the members of the Dail and Senate did not give the same example some time ago.

Stradbally School League Final

Last Sunday the final game of the Stradbally schoolboys football league and the eventual winners proved to be Carrigrohilly.

The first game played was that between Michael Halpin's team (Dunrow Rangers) and Willie Condon's team (Cove Ramblers). Unfortunately for Cove Ramblers Condon himself was unable to play. However, there was no score until just before half time, when David Power scored, putting Rangers in the lead.

The second game was between Pat Hickey's Carrigrohilly and Michael Casey's Faha Stars and this proved a real thriller. The first score of the game came from Jim Cunningham, who pointed from a very difficult angle. Pat Hickey struck back with a goal, and thus the interval score was Carrigrohilly 1-0; Faha Stars 0-1.

The third game between Mahon Robbers and Ballydwan had many shocks in store for the spectators. For Tadgh Crowley the game would decide whether he would win or be runner-up. The only obstacle in his way for victory was the Mahon side. Mahon Rovers took the lead with a goal from Paddy Power and shortly afterwards Kevin Power scored a point for Ballydwan and at half time the score was 2-0 to 0-1.

In the second half Mahon Rovers pulled out all the stops and goals from Pierce Casey, Redmond Roche and Paddy Power, completely overwhelmed the opposition. Ballydwan could add only one more point to their meagre total.

The presentation of the medals and cup took place afterwards. Mr. Declan Goode, Co. Board Secretary, presented trophies to Pat Hickey (winner) and to Tadgh Crowley, who was the runner up.

The schoolboys of Stradbally would like to thank sincerely all who helped to make the football league the success it was. They would particularly like to thank our teacher Mr. T. Murphy and Mr. Willie O'Brien, who did so much for us. Also the donors of medals and Stradbally F.C., who presented the Cup and everybody who helped in any way. Mr. David Power and Mr. J. Whelan for the use of their fields; Mr. Jimmy Power (former Killorossanty star) who refereed the final matches, and Mr. Dec Goode who presented the trophies to the winners, and all who supported our matches. To all, we are sincerely grateful.

The following is the finalised league table: Carrigrohilly, 14 pts.; Ballydwan, 13 pts.; Mahon Rovers, 12 pts.; Dunrow Rangers, 12 pts.; Faha Stars, 9 pts.; Cove Ramblers, 0 pts.

Increase for Clerical Assistant

He was against the principle where the Minister granted increases over the heads of the Local Authority members as though they were in the same class as the clerical assistants.

The C.A.O., Mr. George T. Frost said they had received a letter from the Dept. stating that the Minister had decided to increase the salaries of the Clerical Assistants of Committees of Agriculture by 9% to a minimum of £1 weekly, as and from 1st June last. He also proposed to increase from £125 to £136 the marriage allowance for Agricultural Instructors from 1st June, '68.

Mr. Frost said the increase for the Clerical Assistant would amount to £97 in a full year. The retrospective in this case would cost about £80.

Mr. Kieran O'Ryan said he was dissenting because he must be consistent with his views on these salary increases.

Mr. Norman Walsh said he appreciated what an excellent employee Miss O'Sullivan was, but he was totally against this principle of the Minister granting increases over the heads of the Local Authority members as though they were little boys sitting at his feet.

S.F. Championship Games at Dungarvan

Ballygunner defend hurling title

TWO senior football championship games at Dungarvan and the commencement of Ballygunner's bid for a fourth senior hurling championship title in a row, comprise the County Board's programme on Sunday next. The latter game is scheduled for Walsh Park, and it is a real clash of champions, for providing the opposition to a Transey Hearn-less Ballygunner will be last year's Intermediate titleholders, Ferrybank. At Dungarvan football Rangers throwing down the gauntlet to Ballyduff/Portlaw and De La Salle respectively.

First on the Dungarvan scene is the meeting of Ardmore and Ballyduff/Portlaw, both comparative newcomers to senior ranks. In this one will be Ballyduff/Portlaw's first sampling of championship football at the top level, whilst Ardmore only took their place in the premier grade a few years back. However, anyone doubting the ability of Ballyduff/Portlaw can think again, for in a recent Phelan Cup game they beat a near full strength John Michels by a clear cut five points margin. That is recommendation enough of their ability, and on that form they will start favourites to register a win on Sunday.

This year for the first time there is a losers group, but with several good sides destined to end up in it through the luck of the draw it could be the most difficult of all things to emerge from. Thus, I cannot fancy too many sides "cushioning" themselves in a losers group.

Affane, as in hurling, are amalgamated with Cappoquin, this year, and so far that amalgamation has proved a resounding success. The side had seven points to spare over Brickey Rangers in the Phelan Cup on Tuesday night, and it would be the height of folly to discount their chances. They have highly accomplished footballers in the two Paddy McGraths, the Scarlons, Eddie Fraher, Ger Mason and Denis McCarthy, and to advance to the second round is well within their compass. The odds favour Ballyduff/Portlaw, but a Western victory, apart from being welcome, would not occasion any surprise to the writer.

BALLYGUNNER FAVOURED
Just how great an acquisition Tommy Hearn has been to Ballygunner over the years should be proved on Sunday next, when the reigning senior hurling champions step out in defence of their title against Ferrybank at Walsh Park. On the fact of it this may look a relatively easy task for the winners, but Ferrybank were a cut above the ordinary when winning the Intermediate title last year, and they could prove a surprise packet in the senior campaign.

The champions must also field without the still injured Mick Caffney, and the loss of this pair will be sorely felt. All of this increases Ferrybank's hopes, and they could give the champions a closer run than many people expect. In fact, this could be one of the best games of the entire first round, with the Gunners given the vote to weather what seems certain to be a pretty hectic Ferrybank storm.

BRICKEYS TOUGH TEST
The second game at the venue brings together Brickey Rangers and De La Salle two clubs that have had better days in the not too distant past. Both must be ranked outsiders in the betting for the title held by Kill, but that should not blunt the desire of either side to reach the second round. Originally Brickeys had intended to field only in the Intermediate grade, but on second thoughts decided to take their chance in senior. They have been favoured in the draw in as much as that they avoided one of the real "big guns," and a return of the former Brickey spirit could well carry them to victory on Sunday. They have lost seasoned campaigners like Peter Ferncombe, John Woods and goalkeeper Charlie McAllister to Eire Og, and to add further to their trouble, Pat and Val Curran are currently under suspension. And yet confidence within the camp has not been dented to any noticeable degree.

De La Salle can field a useful side, built in the main around their better known hurlers, and they are understandably confident of beating the hard hit Brickeys. They too will start favourites, but somehow I believe the Rangers will rise to the occasion and confound the odds.

In the Spratts, Justin, Jim and Michael, Fintan Gee, Paddy Joe, Kilgrew, Nicholas McGrath, they still have the nucleus of a useful side, and provided the spirit is of a sufficiently high calibre, I fancy them to master De La Salle.

GAELIC JOTTINGS
Under 21 football of Ballynacorney and Valley Rovers in two of the strongest sides in this championship, and a fine hour's football is expected before the first of the Divisional semifinalists are known.

Valley Rovers looked most impressive in beating Dungarvan in the first round, but Ballynacorney, particularly at the Dungarvan venue, will present a much different proposition and I must admit a slight fancy for Ballynacorney.

LISMORE THE DOUBTFUL
The Under-21 hurling tie between Lismore and Tallow scheduled for Lismore on Sunday next is unlikely to be played because Lismore will be without practically half their regulars, excluding the suspended Jimmy Geoghegan and Gabriel Daly. AT ABBEYSIDE.

The remaining championship fixtures are at Abbeyside when Ring and Geraldine do battle in the minor hurling championship, and in last year's senior hurling final, will be confidently expected to defeat Mahon Rovers.

The former have very high hopes of success in this grade this year and it would be a major shock were the Rovers to halt their title bid in this first round. So book it Clashmore's way with something to spare.

LISMORE'S MINORS WIN
Lismore, brilliantly led by Ducky and Billy Ormonde proved far too strong for Olligan Rockies in their minor hurling championship clash on Sunday last, and were not flattered by their 5-5 to 2-2 success.

PHELAN CUP FIXTURES ON TUESDAY NIGHT
The following Phelan Cup fixtures (the competition is being run this year on a league basis) will be staged on Tuesday night next, all games at 7.30 p.m.
Western Section — Ballinacorney v. Affane, at Cappoquin, ref., Ned Power (Tallow); Kilrossanty v. Brickey Rangers at Dungarvan, ref., Sergt. V. Mulligan (Dungarvan).

Enright Paved Way For Abbeyside Win

But Dunhill Went Close to Victory

ABBEYSIDE ... 1-12 DUNHILL ... 3-3
ABBEYSIDE are through to the second round of the County senior hurling championship and for that they can thank County star Pat Enright whose brilliance brought about Dunhill's defeat in a tough, unrelenting first round encounter at Dungarvan's Fraher Field on Sunday night last. In this game Enright stood out like the proverbial lighthouse and certainly without him the Villagers would surely be depending on the losers group for championship re-entry.

It was a thoroughly deserved Abbeyside triumph; anything less would have been a travesty of justice. But Dunhill, whose first time no nonsense brand of hurling seemed to completely disrupt the Abbeyside rhythm went mightily close to repeating their shock win of last year over the same opposition. They sensibly whipped first time on every ball, and for my money at any rate they could prove themselves the real dark horses of the losers group.

Certainly Abbeyside must have been a very worried lot at half time, when, despite having had about 60% possession, they still trailed by 2-1 to 0-6. In attack they had nothing to offer other than Enright's brilliance, and the sector failed miserably to penetrate a solid defence that was inspired by the magnificence of veteran full back Mick Whyte.

TRIVIAL INCIDENT
Those Abbeyside troubles increased to almost alarming proportions when, in the 7th minute of the second half, corner forward Tom Melody was sent off for what I can only describe as the most trivial incident of this or any other game. The player himself expressed complete amazement at referee Tom Ryan's decision, but as things turned out it proved the spur the Villagers needed to put paid to Dunhill's challenge. Suddenly there was far more urgency about their play; the half time decision to bring on Donal Whelan for Mick Power was now proving highly beneficial, and at long last Abbeyside seemed to get to grips with the task on hand.

Entering the closing ten minutes they were six points clear, but Dunhill put in a storming finish, cut their deficit in half, and went very close to snatching a belated equalising goal.

No doubt Abbeyside will consider a win highly satisfactory, avoiding for them as it does the many complexities of a losers group. But were I a village mentor I would find little comfort in the stark fact that for this win so much depended on the brilliance of Enright. A more liberal distribution of the team bouquets would I'm sure be far more satisfying to them, for to win this senior championship a side must spark on all plugs. And that the Villagers did not do on Sunday.

WELL ON TOP
Abbeyside started this game really confidently, and Enright gave them the lead with a pointed free in the 2nd minute. It was the first of his six points in that opening half. Mansfield placed him for a second in the 6th minute; he obliged from another free in the 11th minute and a minute later had the classical score of the game when he cut a beautiful point off the ground from fully sixty yards.

Dunhill's first score came in the 14th minute when Dodo Power crashed home a goal from a melee, but Pat Enright tacked on two more from frees before Dunhill levelled for the first time when a Jim Dunphy '70' was going over for a point, but Keeper Brian O'Connor unwisely brought it down and it finished up in the net. In the 27th minute Billy Dunphy pointed a free and Dunhill, against the run of play, turned over with a 2-1 to 0-6 advantage.

Seven minutes after the restart came Melody's surprise dismissal, but almost immediately Enright had the sides level. Buddy Allen and Joe Power exchanged points and then Abbeyside hit a real vintage spell. Donal Whelan restored a lead they never lost in the 13th minute with a point: Enright, Whelan (free) and Lar Cummins followed with further minors, and though Allen had a Dunhill point, Enright virtually clinched it for his side when he raced through and smacked home a great goal.

Pat Enright was unquestionably Abbeyside's match winner, and I would rate Sunday's his best ever display for the Club. The attack however, must be a source of worry to them, and only Donal Whelan when he came on as a substitute and Tony Mansfield at left half, measured up to expectations in the sector.

The midfield partnership of Joe Power and Pat McGovern fared quite well, and in defence, where no easy scores were conceded, Rogie Cashin stood head and shoulders above his colleagues. Full back Austin Flynn also had a fine hour, and in fact, this sector was without real flaw.

Even in defeat however Dunhill, to me, looked like a side that could yet upset more fancied opposition. With an absolute minimum of possession they ran Abbeyside to three points, and at the Dungarvan venue that was a creditable performance.

Maurice Dunphy was a confident goalkeeper, but their man of the hour was an impeccable Mick Whyte at full back who has hardly ever been played so brilliantly before. Joe Murphy and John Dunphy flanked him, splendidly and despite having to cope with Enright, Jim Dunphy had his moments at centre back.

Billy Dunphy was the better of their midfielders, and in an attack that was never too plentifully supplied, Roddy Allen and Rob and Eddie Power fared best.

Abbeyside — B. O'Gonner; P. Hogan, A. Flynn, B. Shields; J. Cosgrave, J. McGrath, R. Cashin; P. McGovern, J. Power; J. Flynn, P. Enright, T. Mansfield; T. Melody, M. Power, L. Cummins Sub., D. Whelan for M. Power.

ARDMORE DRAW IN LAST MINUTE

ARDMORE ... 1-7 GAULTIER ... 1-7
ONLY seconds remained in this S.F. championship first round at Dungarvan on Sunday last, and Gaultier, holding onto a slender one point advantage, looked all set to become the first side to reach the second round. But then Ardmore were awarded a close-in free and from the game's final kick John Joe Carlton scored a goal that gave his side the right to do battle on Sunday day. Some may consider Gaultier just a trifle short of having gained outright victory but all things considered a draw was the most equitable result.

Despite the closeness of the scoring—the side were all set to cheer the fair-sized attendance. The standard of football seen reached any great heights, and on this form it is difficult to envisage either of them being involved in the concluding stages of the campaign. But in fairness to them both, it's quite early in the year yet and should results are not uncommon in the championship.

For most of the first half Ardmore looked the better equipped side and but for a mistake in their defence just on half time, would have had the comfort of an interval lead. They were leading 1-6 to 0-5 within seconds of half time when Gaultier's Willie Lodge kicked the ball beautifully about 20 yards out and then struck and smacked a rasping blow to the net.

But if the Easterners were struggling to hold their own before the interval, the opposite was the case after the break. Gaultier dictated that second half for long spells, but their forwards let them down and many fine chances were allowed go abegging. Their key man in that line was centre forward Willie Lodge, and it truly seemed how the Ardmore mentors sat through the half and watched him literally play ducks and drakes with an out of touch Noel Rooney.

Lodge opened the scoring after four minutes with a point, and though Fin Hallahan hit back with a quick equaliser, Gaultier again took up the running and a brace of points by Joe Flynn restored their lead.

But then, just on the quarter hour came the Ardmore goal, and what a well taken one it was. John Joe Carlton centred beautifully almost from the end line, and an astonishing Jim Flynn met the ball perfectly to crash it to the net. Jim Rooney and Mick Ryan and Jim Flynn and Willie Lodge exchanged points, but two pointed frees by John Joe Carlton gave Ardmore a 1-5 to 0-5 lead as the interval approached. However, seconds from the break, Lodge snatched up the half chance and his great drive put the sides level at 1-6 each at the halfway stage.

The second half was one of Gaultier dominance in the main. Yet it was the Seaside's who edged in front when Mickey Carlton had a point when a goal might very easily have resulted, but intense pressure inevitably brought its reward for Gaultier and points by Ned Flynn and Lodge gave them a lead they held onto until seconds from time when Ardmore's pointed free made

Championship Wins for Mount Sion and Ballyduff/Portlaw

MOUNT SION AND BALLYDUFF/PORTLAW WIN

Although Mount Sion had four goals to spare (6-8 to 2-9) over Erin's Own in last Sunday's first round championship game at Walsh Park, they were made battle very hard for victory. Erin's Own dominated the first half exchanges and but for some very poor finishing in attack would have led by far more than the 2-6 to 2-4 advantage they held. They still clung to that slender lead for almost quarter of an hour of the second, but then Sion got on top an dran out decisive winners.

At Tramore Ballyduff/Portlaw took a step nearer another county final appearance with a clear-cut 6-9 to 2-4 win over kuckless De La Salle. They now meet Abbeyside in the second round.

Cappoquin Reach Under 21 Final

Soft goals costly for Dungarvan

CAPPOQUIN ... 3-11 DUNGARVAN ... 3-7
THE sheer brilliance of an unyielding half back trio, and the power packed hurling of a dominant midfield pair were the major contributing factors in Cappoquin's splendid four points victory over Dungarvan in an exciting Under 21 championship semi-final at the Fraher Field on Sunday last. It was a deserved win—that that there can be no dispute, but pity gallant Dungarvan who were forced to field without one-third of their regulars and who of a ridiculously soft variety.

As far as Dungarvan were concerned that first half was the winning and losing of this game. Cappoquin, after falling into a two point arrears in the first few minutes, hit back with such spectacular ferocity that they literally hurled the Dungarvan men out of the field. There was no way to be found past half backs Frank McCarthy, John Millea and Martin Arriagan, whilst on the half way line a rampant Pat Morrissey and an able assistant Vin Tobin held complete sway. Soon the early deficit had been erased with points by Arriagan and Denis McCarthy, and from there to the interval they were the undisputed masters. Pat Scanlon had a point in the 14th minute, Michael O'Neill and McCarthy quickly added two more and then in the 18th minute came the first of those "gift" goals.

Pat Morrissey gained possession almost thirty yards out and at an acute angle to the goal. He lost his hurley when tackled, but kicked the ball and it went direct to the net to the dismay of the entire Dungarvan defence. O'Neill and Michael Clancy exchanged points, before Cappoquin had another very soft goal from Pat Scanlon and they led by 2-6 to 0-3 at the break.

FIGHT-BACK
But what a tremendous fight of it Dungarvan put up in an exciting second half. For one thing the selectors completely re-estimated the side, and the changes made for the better. Joe Gough took over from Michael Rosier in goal, Sean Murphy went to centre forward and there was scarcely a line of the side that did not undergo change.

Within a minute of the restart the fight back was under way. Sean Franklin's drive was saved, but an in-rushing Sean Murphy slammed it to the net. They quickly tacked on a point, and the fat was really in the fire in the 4th minute when Murphy crashed "home" another goal. The battle was Arriagan gained considerably in hurling stature in this game, and a position of brilliant Pat Morrissey, an industrious Vin Tobin, on them the vital midfield duels.

There were other who played major parts in the win and immediately it is to mind are going to Michael McCarthy, Paddy Heaphy, Danny Flynn, John McCarthy and Pat Scanlon.

Dungarvan sorely missed their mainstays of the previous Sunday—Jim Ryan and Sean Flynn—and were even more grievously capped by the continued absence of Murray Ryan, Kevin Whelan and John Gough. But in circumstances such as these, there were some who endeavoured to take the measure of this fine Cappoquin side.

So splendidly did Joe Gough play when he took over in goal to the half that Dungarvan's now be regretting not having had him there from the very start.

The defence tried hard as a unit, but Sean Murphy (and subsequently John Gough and Mike Vesco, in the stellar displays) were the only trios that were able to Sheehan and Michael Clancy also tried valiantly for the hour.

Francis Woods, although at midfield, was a constant strength, and when Michael Kiely moved out to partner him they fared very well in the sector.

Up front however, the power of players like Heaphy and Flynn were sorely missed. Michael Clancy was far and away the best of the lot, but Sean Franklin also tried very hard.

Cappoquin—M. McCarthy; J. Tobin, J. Foley, P. Heaphy, F. McCarthy, J. Millea, M. Arriagan, P. Morrissey, V. Tobin, M. Shackleton, D. Ryan, D. McCarthy; M. O'Neill, P. Scanlon, R. Barry.
