FORECAST WINNER

The lucky winner of the Eire Og G.A.A. Club's Forecast on the Waterford v. Tipperary game, was Mrs. Morrisson, Cathal Brugha Place, who gave the score 3-16 to 1-11.

The Eire Og Club Committee would like to thank all who took part and helped in any way to make their Concert such a huge success.

Talent, talent, talent, already it's gone around town that Josie ("Gorgeous") Terry and Mickey ("El Figroll") Downey have turned down a big offer from a Hollywood Company and to go on stage on Broadway.

Last week they stepped into the spotlight at Dungarvan, where they thrilled and entertained the biggest crowd ever seen at the Town Hall. It doesn't need a music critic to appreciate the singing of El Figroll or a John B. Keane to watch acting of "Gorgeous."

Y es, here we saw talent at its best put on stage by Ml. Phelan, who also kept the entertainment going as M.C. Also in top form were: comedian Sean Murphy; the singing wives Mrs. Coward, Mrs. Geoghegan, Mrs. McGovern and Mrs. Kirby; Ml. Power and the Bowmen Trio; the two "lovely lassies" Danny Lenihan and Vincent Byrne; the Eire Og (Vienna) Boys' Choir, and lots of more talent.

KARTING NEWS

Last weekend was a rather poor one for Dungarvan Karting fans. Racing was at Castledermot and Dunlavin. Ace karter Tom Coffey was the only Dungarvan driver to score when he came second to Victor Magee of Belfast in the Class 11 race.

However, things may look up next Sunday, when racing takes place at Tramore. This first karting event at Tramore is being sponsored by Advance Tyres, Waterford, who are the largest distributors of multibrand tyres in Ireland.

All the big names of karting are due to attend, including most of the Irish international team.

Keen interest will be shown in Dan Lannon of Thomastown, who is driving a brand new kart this year. Jerry King of Dublin and Tom Coffey will renew old rivalry and it should be interesting to see the outcome. Practice starts at 2 p.m.; racing at 3 p.m.

RECENT SALES

HOUSE SOLD FOR £3,800

Edmond Spratt & Son recently offered for sale by Public Auction No. 4 Western Terrace, Dungarvan, on the instructions of the Executors of the late Miss May J. Morrissey and after spirited bidding, was knocked down to Mr. Phelan, Dungarvan, for £3,800. Mr. J. Landers, Square Grill, was the underbidder.

A very successful auction of the entire furnishings and effects was also held on the premises, with a complete clearance at excellent prices. M/s. Farrell & Morrissey, Solicitors, Dungarvan, had carriage of sale.

Edmond Spratt & Son on Monday last, offered for sale a tract of land at Mongally, Geesh, for the Personal Representative of the late Thomas Merrigan and which was withdrawn and subsequently sold to Mr. George Perks, Woodbine Hill, Youghal. M/s. J. F. Williams & Co., Soirs., Dungarvan, had carriage of sale.

INSTRUCTORS NOT KNOWN TO FARMERS

At last Tuesday's meeting of the Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture in Dungarvan, a letter was read from Tr. Thos. Phelan, Secretary of the Co. Executive of the N.F.A. requesting that the names, addresses and telephone numbers of the Committee's Instructors be inserted in the papers for the benefit of the farming community.

In his letter, Mr. Phelan stated that at the May meeting of the Executive a discussion took place on Agricultural Instructors and some members stated that they did not even know the names of the Instructors. They asked that the names, addresses and telephone numbers of the Instructors be inserted in the Press.

Mr. Declan Ahearne said in his area of Knockanore it was useless to plant cabbage because all the cabbage that had been planted had been wiped out by the pigeons. Previously it was not difficult to frighten them away but it was almost impossible now.

Mr. George Heskin said the

TO LAUNCH EXTERMINATION CAMPAIGN ON PIGEONS

An all out effort to curb the damage being caused in the County by pigeons will get under way soon and will have the full backing of the County Waterford Committee of Agriculture.

At last Tuesday's meeting of the Committee in Dungarvan, a letter was read from Mr. E. P. Kelly, Secretary of the Federation of County Waterford Gun Clubs and Game Protection Associations requesting that the Committee send a representative to a meeting to be held shortly by the Federation to discuss this problem.

The Federation's letter also stated that Pigeons had been causing increasing trouble in County Waterford over the past few years to the farming community and they were anxious that something be done about it. They were in close touch with the Federation of East Cork Gun Clubs who in conjunction with the Cork Committee of Agriculture and other organisations have been reducing the pigeon population in their area by about 1,000 a week in the season.

Mr. Declan Ahearne said in his area of Knockanore it was useless to plant cabbage because all the cabbage that had been planted had been wiped out by the pigeons. Previously it was not difficult to frighten them away but it was almost impossible now.

Mr. George Heskin said the

CO. COUNCIL SECRETARY INDISPOSED

Best wishes for a speedy recovery were extended to Mr. Joseph G. Dowling, Secretary to Waterford County Council, who is presently indisposed, by the members of the Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture, at last Tuesday's meeting in Dungarvan.

CRITICISED I.N.T.O.; RECEIVED ANONYMOUS LETTERS

The sending of anonymous letters to a member of the Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture was strongly condemned by the members of the Committee at last Tuesday's monthly meeting in Dungarvan. The letters were sent to Mr. Kieran O'Ryan following his criticism at the previous meeting of proposed strike action to be taken by the National Teachers' Organisation.

Mr. O'Ryan told this week's meeting that since he had accused the members of the I.N.T.O. of holding up the Minister and the children to ransom by their proposed strike he had been the recipient of vicious anonymous letters. He now challenged the teachers of Ireland to a debate at any time on this matter.

Mr. O'Ryan said at the last meeting through an error on his part he had stated that the teachers worked a five day week, but would now say in fact they worked a 25 hour, five day week. If this vicious anonymous letter writing was the standard of education of the members of the I.N.T.O. then it was very sad. He had with him one of the letters received, but he would not read it because it was so bad. However, if any member of the Committee wished to read it after the meeting he could do so. The letter had accused him of remaining silent when the Ministers and T.D.'s granted themselves huge salary increases, but it was well known that he was one of those who strongly opposed these increases all the way. He himself had a close association with Ireland and with a family that that was close associated with the fight for freedom. Mr. Norman Walsh said that although he had disagreed with the views of Mr. O'Ryan at the previous meeting, he deeply regretted that he should now be the recipient of vicious anonymous letters. He regretted that a man of Mr. O'Ryan's integrity who was respected throughout the county should receive these. He himself had received them a few years ago, and if someone had something to write about to Mr. O'Ryan then they should have the decency to sign their names to it.

Mr. Charles Curran said that as one who also disagreed with Mr. O'Ryan's raising of the matter at the previous meeting, it was distasteful and disgraceful that anonymous letters should have been sent to him because only the lowest type of human being would write them. Unfortunately, they all received them from time to time.

Mr. Walsh said that Mr. O'Ryan could be assured that he had the support of all Public Representatives in the county in this matter. People writing those letters should have the courage to put their names to them, he said.

Mr. Michael Harty (Acting Chairman) said Mr. O'Ryan, as an elected representative had expressed his views on a certain matter and was fully entitled to do so without having to be subjected to anonymous letters as a result.

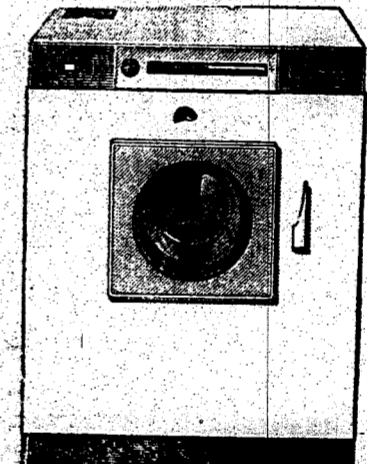

The Committee as a whole condemned the anonymous letter writing to Mr. O'Ryan.

LATE THOMAS SCANLON

Curraghroche, Cappoquin

It is with feelings of deepest regret that we record the death of Mr. Thomas Scanlon, Curraghroche, Cappoquin, which occurred at his residence on Tuesday, 27th May, after a brief illness. He was in his late seventies.

The late Mr. Scanlon was a member of a well known West Waterford family, and farmed extensively and successfully in Curraghroche. He was a wonderful judge of livestock and an expert farmer in the truest sense. He was a man of many fine qualities, and his passing has occasioned deep and widespread regret amongst all sections of the community.

He was a member of a family closely associated with the G.A.A. and he and his family were closely and actively associated with the Geraldines Club for very many years.

To his bereaved wife, sons, daughters, sisters and relatives, sincere sympathy is extended on their great loss.

The remains were removed to Aghish Church on Wednesday, May 28th, and were received and blessed by Rev. J. F. Morrissey, C.C., Fr. D. Slattery, C.C., Lismore, Fr. M. O'Meara, C.C., Tramore and Fr. J. Walsh, C.C., Fourmulewater, in the presence of one of the largest and most representative corteges ever seen in the district. Following Requiem Masses on Thursday, 29th, the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery, in the presence of another huge concourse. Very Rev. D. Quinlan P.P., assisted by Fr. J. Morrissey, C.C., and Fr. D. Byrne, C.C., Dungarvan, officiated at the graveside.

The chief mourners: Mrs. F. Scanlon (wife); Des and Bobo Scanlon (sons); Mrs. Maureen Power, Aghish, Miss Betty Scanlon, Curraghroche, Mrs. James Meskill, Dromore and Mrs. Joseph Conway, Dungarvan (daughters); Mrs. Ellen Barron, Mrs. Catherine Mulligan, Mrs. Mary Ann McCarthy and Mrs. Bridget Curtin, New York (sisters).

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir,
Like everybody else who enjoys traditional Irish music, I was delighted with the success of the recent Fleadh Ceoil in Dungarvan, but why did Labhras O Murchu have to use the occasion to continue his smear campaign against L.F.M.?

I can claim to be at least as devoted to traditional Irish music as Labhras O Murchu ever has been or will be. As a player of traditional Irish music I have for years been associated with Comhaltas Ceoltóirí Éireann and have helped all I could with the formation of new branches.

Because Irish people enjoy music in general and traditional music in particular, it is in a stronger position than it has ever been since the State was founded and this without the slightest degree of compulsion or discrimination being used on its behalf.

But what would happen if, tomorrow, traditional Irish music was made a compulsory subject in the Leaving

Of the people and for the people:

Fianna Fail is the party of all the people. There are more trade unionists, more professional and business people, more students, more farmers and farm workers in Fianna Fail than in any other party.

Every section of the community is represented in its ranks.

Fianna Fail stands firmly for social justice. Its record on social services, on health, on welfare, on education and on housing is not surpassed by any party anywhere.

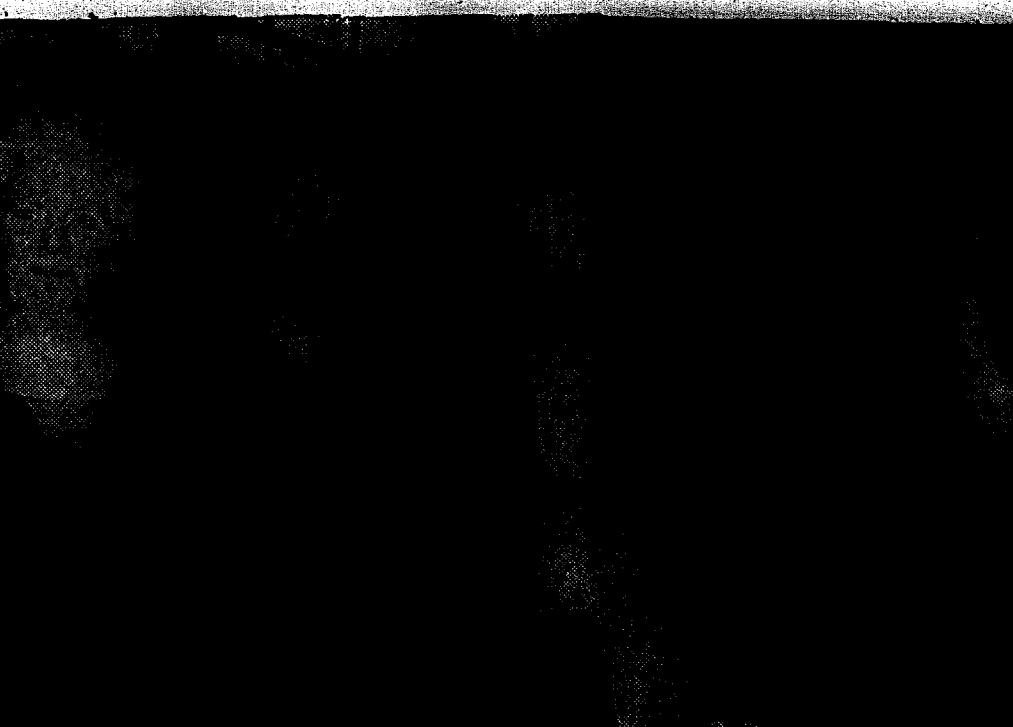

By its successful programmes for establishing new industries, Fianna Fail has created new jobs and new opportunities, and now our young people can have confidence in their future in their own country, without fear of having to emigrate.

Fianna Fail cares—for the family, the old, the needy, the sick, the unemployed and underpaid.

Because Fianna Fail is of the people, and for the people—all the people.

"St. Joan" Brilliantly Played by Friary Boys

ANOTHER great "first" for the Friary boys was the production of "St. Joan," by Bernard Shaw. On Thursday and Friday of last week, the play was performed for the public. On Sunday it was staged for over 450 parents and invited guests. This is a difficult play to act and what makes the performance all the more meritorious is the fact that the complete cast were Fifth Year boys.

Donal Lynch as Joan gave a truly magnificent interpretation. Ben Shorten as The Archbishop, Peter Cauchan, took control of the court from the start. His voice resounded around the hall as he denounced Joan or addressed the court.

The play was produced brilliantly by Mr. Jeremy Ward. At times the acting was superb while the audience distinctly heard every word of conversation. The performance was as near perfection as could be hoped for, every one of the fifteen principals giving of his best with obvious enthusiasm. The settings were admirably handled by Mr. Edward Wallace, the lighting and sound effects showing the touch of a master hand.

The play was preceded by a short variety concert, consisting of a club-swinging performance to ultra-violet lighting effects, a ballad group, a junior verse-speaking group and a junior choir.

In the afternoon, the whole school went through a gymnastic display, class by class, using vaulting horses, trampolines, parallel bars and "window frames." This latter item is an innovation to gymnastics. It consists of huge iron frames 14 ft. high and square on which the senior boys performed acrobatics of different kinds. There was also a gruelling test of climbing from one side to the other and back—a feat of endurance which came naturally to these physically fit lads. Their trainer and coach, Mr. Jack Frazer, stood by cautiously watching but not directing them through the exercises. Great credit is due to Mr. Fraser for his patience and skill in training the boys and putting them through so many exercises so effortlessly.

Following the display those present were served with a sumptuous buffet tea.

Civil Defence Week-end Camp

A most successful week-end camp was held by Waterford County and City Civil Defence Services at Campa Uí Loingsigh, Kilworth, from Friday evening 30th May to Monday, 2nd June.

About 200 Civil Defence Volunteers from Waterford County and City attended. Warden, Welfare, Casualty, Auxiliary Fire Service and Rescue sections were all well represented. Included were Kilmacthomas A.F.S., Portlaw A.F.S., Dungarvan A.F.S., Kilmarden Casualty, Portlaw Casualty, Rathgormac Casualty, Touraneena Casualty, Dungarvan Casualty, Ring Rescue Section, Dungarvan Rescue, Waterford City A.F.S., Waterford City Casualty, Waterford City Welfare and Woodstown Warden Sections.

Camp administration was carried out by Woodstown Warden section. Present also was Mr. P. Walsh B.E., Dungarvan, County Civil Defence Officer.

First arrivals at the camp on Friday evening were members of the Welfare and Warden Sections who proceeded immediately to make registration and billeting arrangements.

From then on the camp was a place of bustling activity, with casualty, rescue and firefighting exercises in progress all through Saturday, Sunday and Monday morning. Instructors Michael Wadding, Gerry Flynn, Tom Keith, Richie Ryan, Sean Murphy, Sean Carey, Patrick Stephens and Frank Comerford kept their groups hard at it during the training and exercise sessions. Patrick Dunford F.C.A. Foot Drill Instructor took over on a few occasions to put all volunteers through their paces in foot drill. While outdoor training was going on the Welfare section tirelessly worked in the cookhouse and dining hall to prepare the most excellent meals. Indeed it is doubtful if the fare in any leading hotel could do better.

Sunday was visitors' day and among the distinguished visitors were Comd. O'Brien, Regional Civil Defence Officer, and Mrs. O'Brien, "Fad" Browne T.D., and Mrs. Browne and party, Thos. Ryan, Asst. City Manager and Mrs. Ryan.

The social side of the camp was not neglected. Dances were held on Saturday and Sunday nights.

Fine Gael Candidate slams Government

Speaking at Kill on Sunday last Mr. E. A. Collins, Fine Gael said—

The farming community of Ireland has been used by the Fianna Fail Party over the years in the same way as a Nazi General would use a battalion of soldiers in war. If the battalion was on parade he would be nice to them, but if not, he would deal ruthlessly with them.

Agricultural policy has been framed in the same short term way under Fianna Fail.

Take, for instance, the Heifer Calf Scheme—introduced to win an election—two years later farmers were giving away Friesian bull calves. The Government did not bother to control quality or to find markets for the resulting increased numbers of cattle.

Of what about the present milk glut? Milk farmers are now getting up to 4d. per gallon less for their milk compared to a year ago!

Similarly with pigs, when there is a glut, the price tumbles because the selling market is saturated.

These are aspects of Agricultural policy which can and should be controlled at government level. The point I am making is that Agricultural policy in Ireland at the moment is only a conglomeration of short term expediencies to get the Government off the hook and to win elections.

Fine Gael in Government is committed to long term development policy for agriculture in which farmers themselves will play a principal part through the new Rural Development Authority which will be responsible for the formulation and administration of National Agricultural policies.

It is intended that most of the executive functions of the Departments of Agriculture and Lands will be taken over by this representative board.

A new Land Use Survey will be undertaken to examine the most profitable use that farming areas could be put to and developed; long term plans will be drawn up and followed through with by the Rural Development Authority in co-operation with the farmers concerned.

The Fine Gael Government will approach farming problems constructively and in co-operation with all farming interests.

Our aim is to keep as many people as possible on the land at an acceptable standard of living and to build a rural society on a par with urban dwellers.

Fine Gael has always been the Farmers' Party. We have always accepted the farming community as the back-bone of Ireland's economy.

I appeal to farmers to reject the narrow-minded Fianna Fail Minister of Agriculture who is more concerned with winning personal vendettas rather than getting down to the job of developing constructive and progressive agricultural policies for our farmers.

Help Fine Gael to form this new Government and to build a new prosperous Ireland.

OPENS ELECTION SEAN WHELAN

Sean Whelan (F.F.) speaking at a church gate meeting at Grange on Sunday last, said—

"As the only farmer candidate in the field, and as a member of the N.F.A., I look forward confidently to the support of the rural community on June 18. Our opponents constantly criticise us for neglecting agriculture and I personally find it very strange that none of them offered you a farmer for whom you could vote in this election.

"Fianna Fail alone has put forward a farmer candidate, and I feel that my presence with my City colleagues must give the voters of Waterford the best balanced choice of any Party.

One of the striking similarities about the Fine Gael and Labour documents on agriculture is that they are both in fundamental agreement on one thing, and that is that the small farmer must go, and that only big farm units will survive in our future. The theorists of the opposition parties have written off the small farmer.

"In other words, both Fine Gael and Labour accept emigration from our rural areas. Of course, they do not put it as bluntly as Mr. Cosgrave did some time ago with his prophecy that we could only survive with the 400-cow farms. However you read them, the underlying theme of the agricultural policies these two parties have now trotted out for the general election is that whole sale abandonment of the land of Ireland by its people must be tacitly accepted.

"The trouble with Fine Gael and Labour when it comes to agriculture and the universal problem of the movement of people from the land is that each of them is concerned with plans rather than with people. This is the dearest policy that the opposition parties have consistently preached during the last decade of steady and continued advancement under successive Fianna Fail Governments.

"F.F. on the other hand, have always believed in the people and particularly in the people of rural Ireland and from Donegal to Waterford. We do not accept that our farm structures must be drastically overhauled or that small farmers should be given bribes or incentives, or whatever one wants to call

10th and 11th ROUND INCREASES GRANTED "Like Heavyweight Championship" says Member

Will these Rounds ever stop or will they be like the heavyweight championship of the world when there are fifteen rounds, remarked Mr. Kieran O'Ryan, at last Tuesday's Committee of Agriculture meeting in Dungarvan, when a 10th round claim in respect of increased Travelling Expenses for the Instructors and an 11th round claim for a salary increase up to a maximum of 9% was being considered.

Mr. George T. Frost

them, to abandon their holdings and move out of agriculture.

"What Fianna Fail does believe in is that every small farmer must be given opportunities to raise his earnings and to improve the living standards of his family. That is why the Party I represent have introduced such opportunities as the Small Farm (Incentive Bonus) Scheme, the Beef Incentive Scheme, the scheme of grants for furoving sows, the hill sheep subsidy and similar schemes—all designed to help the farmer help himself.

"In addition to all this, the Government has fostered tourism, forestry and fishing as ways of providing supplementary income for those on small holdings, and under the Small Industries Scheme is ensuring steady growth in rural areas. The indications are that this policy is paying dividends.

(C.A.O.) said that the Irish Agricultural Officers Association had made a claim for the 11th round wage increase up to a maximum of 9%. This had been considered by the Ministers for Agriculture and Finance and they had recommended acceptance of the claim as and from June 1, 1968. The Minister, he said, was also prepared to grant a similar retrospective increase to June 1, '68, in respect of Temporary Officers.

Mr. Frost said they had also received a letter from Mr. P. T. Donnelly of the General Council of Committees of Agriculture urging the Committee to reconsider its decision in relation to the granting of increased travelling expenses to the Instructors. The letter stated that where as Waterford had refused this 10th round increase, all other Committees of Agriculture in the country had granted it.

Mr. Frost, in reply to Mr. O'Ryan said the two increases would cost about £2,000 in the year, but these increases had been provided for in the current year's estimate.

Mr. O'Ryan said he had been against all these increases down the line and he would have to be consistent on this occasion also. He had voted against increased travelling expenses for himself and he was going to do the same now.

Mr. George Heskin said the travelling expenses had been given in all other counties, and why should they in Waterford be the odd ones out.

Mr. O'Ryan said they were only hitting their heads only hitting their heads they could rest assured that these increases would be given over their heads anyway.

Mr. Norman Walsh said he would not do one thing one day and something different the next day. This had been his approach over the years and he would not change.

Mr. O'Ryan: When will all these Rounds stop, or will they be like the heavyweight championship of the World, when there are fifteen rounds. Or will they even stop then? Last month the farmers in my area had to accept a reduction in the price for the milk and we should remember that this is a farming Committee.

Mr. Philip Cusack said farmers in the Kilmacthomas area had to accept four pence less per gallon for their milk in recent times.

Mr. O'Ryan: It is absolutely ridiculous. Finally, on the proposal of Mr. H. R. Dowd, seconded by Mr. P. Kenneally, the Committee agreed by 8 votes to 5 to grant the 11th round salary increase.

The voting was: For—Messrs. Curran, Whelan, Cahill, Dowd, Heskin, Kenneally, Hennebery, Harty (5); Against—Messrs. O'Ryan, Cusack, Walsh, Ahearne and Quirke. (5)

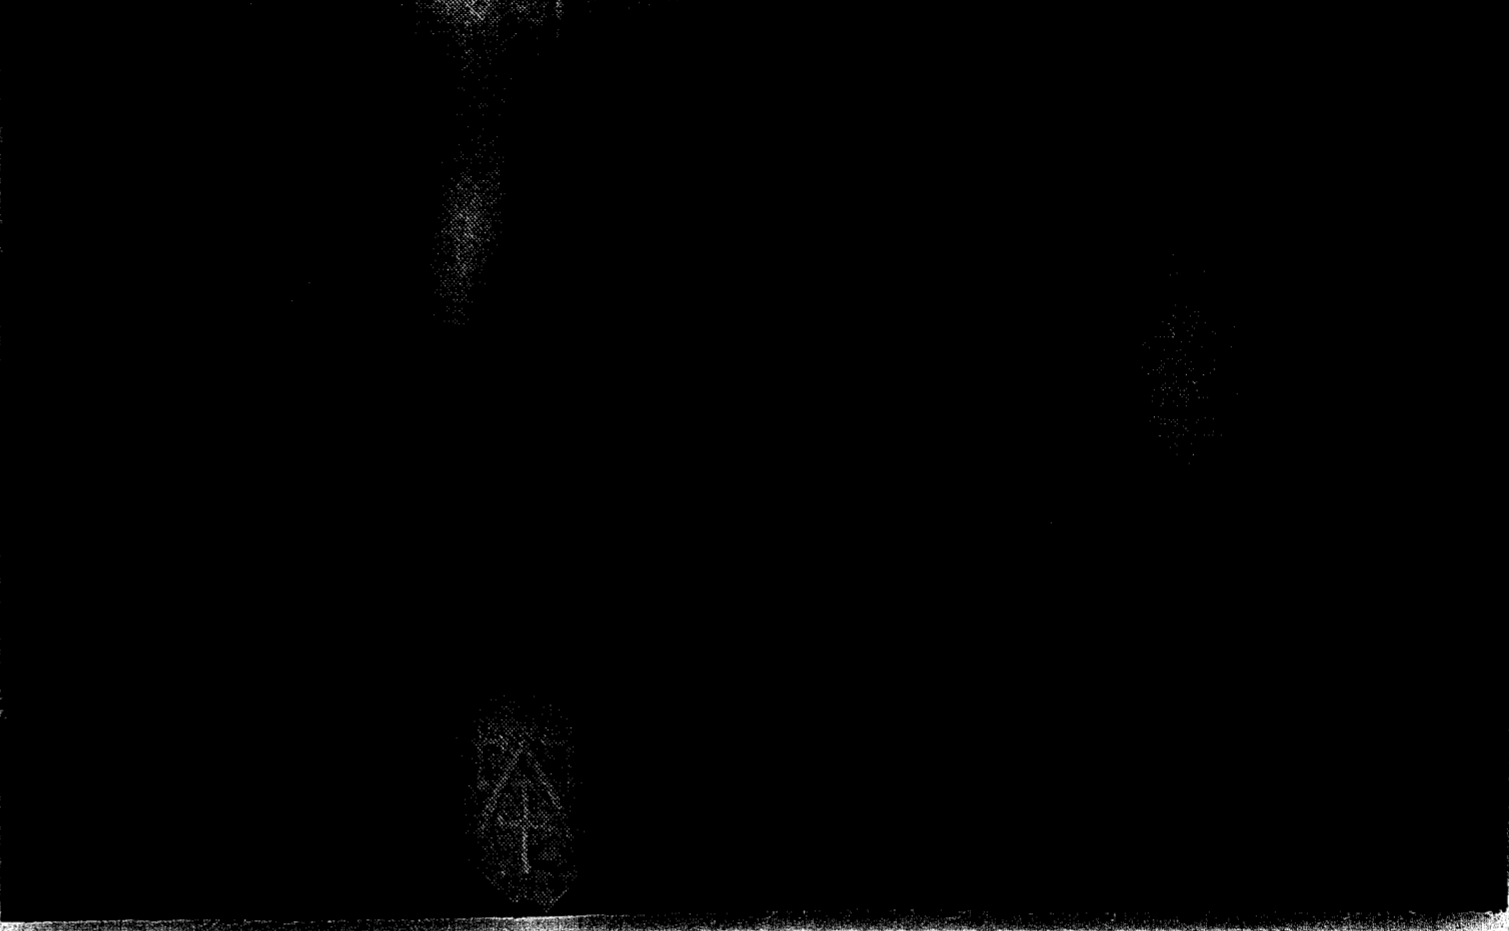

The Committee also granted the increased travelling expenses to the members.

NEWTOWN SCHOOL
QUERY

In the Dail recently, Dep.
Sean Treacy asked the Minister for Education if he would give details of his Department's proposals for the replacement of Newtown National School, Ballymacarbry, with particular reference to the scope, size and siting of the proposed new school, and when he expects the work to be completed.

The Minister replied that a suitable site situated near the existing school has been offered for the proposed new central school at Newtown, and preliminary sketch plans for the building have been prepared by the Manager's Architect. They are at present being examined in the Office of Public Works, he said.

The new building will contain six classrooms, as well as a general purpose room and will cater for pupils from the existing Newtown Bennettschurch, Glendane and Croaghclooney schools.

The arrangements in regard to the erection of the school have not yet reached a stage where it would be possible to say when the work will be completed.

With reference to your letter of the 22nd inst., in relation to housing at Tallow
I wish to state that this

DOMINIC SAVIO
YOUTH CLUB
Despite a somewhat inactive week we still managed to have an enjoyable time. After the hike some of the lads are still complaining of pains. On the club night (Wednesday) we arranged a question time between John, Danny and Tony against Kevin, Kieran and the only girl Mary Rose. Tom Keith proved a very able question master and I would like to thank him for coming along.

You all know about the concert we are putting on for the Festival Week. We would like those who gave their names to Nuala to put in a bit of practice.
APOLIGIES
Our Press Reporter on the like was misinformed of how Kieran, Kevin and Aidan managed to get to Ring—they walked, believe it or not. Also to Vinny—he was the only one to get a "clear round".
POINTS OF INTEREST
1. Plenty of work still to be done out at the tennis courts.
2. There will be a Youth Week-end at Tramore on the end of June — interested in going?
3. Hop — every Saturday night in the tennis club pavillion.
4. Nuala — are you sure it was the bench that "hit" you
5. An unexpected visitor on Wednesday night—a goat!

due for the last week or two!

SCOUT NOTES
(4th Waterford — St.
Joseph's, Abbeyside)
TROOP MEETING
There was no troop meeting last Saturday night owing to the absence of most of the scouts who were either in Clonmel or Cashel.
WEEK-END CAMP
About ten of the lads went to Clonmel one week end camp. Michael D and Barnard D went there on Friday night and they had the site ready for the rest of the lads that arrived on Saturday night. When Jim K, Michael C and G. O'D and Company arrived they changed into
"muffin" and played football.
While having their supper the lads were entertained by the "wandering minstrels"
John B and Anthony D.
Next morning the lads rose bright and early (would you believe dull and late!) and went to Mass in an orphanage which was up the road a bit. After Mass Jimmy K and Michael C went for a swim and they were later joined by Philip D's shoe, Bernard D, Michael T and Seamus F prepared dinner, consisting of tea, bread and plenty of bananas which were kindly donated by Mr. J.
Kieley.

While the wash up was being done by the two phillips John O'D and a few of the lads went through a nearby wood. They found an old timber barrel and naturally enough the "rolled" it back to the campsite. At about 8.30 p.m. they were visited by their Scoutmaster who was just keeping a check on things; The lads were not very eager to rise early on Monday morning and less eager to go home. Most of the day was spent cleaning the site and at about 5 p.m. cars came to collect them and bring them home.
Tony still can't get enough material to "frame" Capt.
O'Donoghue. Felix made his intercountry debut last Sunday. Humphrey has at last won the All-Ireland competition which had eluded him for so long.

SHOCKING CLASHMORE TRAGEDY
When two young Dublin men were canoeing on the River Blackwater at Coolbagh, Clashmore, late on Saturday evening last, their fragile craft overturned and they were thrown into the swirling waters. One disappeared immediately and was apparently carried away by the falling tide. His comrade struggled ashore with great difficulty.

The dead man is Mr. Desmond Mulvaney (27) who was married only two months ago. The tragedy was witnessed by his young wife who collapsed and had to be taken to hospital.

Deceased was a member of a party of eight Dublin people who were on a camping holiday in the area. He had a number of friends in the district, which he had also visited last summer.

The terrible tragedy cast a pall of gloom over the area and the sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved family.

Very Rev. David Canon Power, P.P., Clashmore and Rev. M. Kennedy, C.C., were quickly on the scene as were members of the Garda Siochana and big numbers of local people.

The scene of the tragedy is well known to visitors. Here the river is wide and deep, surrounded by picturesque, wooded hills. It is a popular spot for canoeing and boating.

The late Mr. Mulvaney, who was a very talented young man, was a member of the staff of R.D.E. He was a member of An Oifig and was a well known mountain climber at the time of his tragedy.

Tipperary Took Control in Second Half Gaelic Jottings

Midfield Dominance Decisive

TIPPERARY 3-18 WATERFORD 1-12

LONG before the end of last Sunday's first round Munster senior hurling championship game at Walsh Park there was an air of inevitability about it all. Waterford's stiff resistance of the first half had gradually waned and Tipperary's quick silver forwards went through for the scores that gave them their relatively easy victory in the end. Ultimately the result was pretty well as expected but for Waterford's huge following the manner in which the side succumbed to Tipperary's pressure after a good first half display was very disappointingly to say the least.

As a spectacle it was a real anti-climax. The first half during which Waterford stayed the pace with the winners, was nothing more than interesting, with the pace a slow and almost casual one. And interest soon evaporated after the restart when Tipperary's midfield dominance took its inevitable toll and the traffic was virtually one way to the Waterford goal. Throughout the final quarter Waterford were a well beaten side, incapable of mounting retaliatory attacks and in consequence the game died a lingering and high painful death.

Waterford's brightest spell taken a lead they never undoubtably the first half but even then the writing was on the wall for them principally because of the Tipperary forwards were cutting through the home defence. The visitors missed half a dozen chances — all feasible ones, in the opening ten minutes and one felt that eventually those forwards would find their range. They did so after the interval and the scores then came with ease and rapidly.

At the end of the opening quarter Tipperary led by 0-3 to 0-2, but the second quarter belonged in the main to Waterford, a spell in which they played their best hurling of the hour. In the 16th minute came their lone goal, and a truly splendid one it was as Martin Hickey jinked his way almost to the end line, past a wall of defenders and then sent a great drive which was deflected into the net. A minute later Danny Loughane scooped over a point from about ten yards range and a goal seemed imminent and within another minute Tommy Walsh had one of his seven points from free.

But Tipperary struck back in decisive fashion, and in a two minute spell were back on level terms. First Francis Loughane placed J. Doyle for a goal and almost immediately the same player had the equaliser from a free. Again however, Waterford took control and between the 22nd and 27th minutes Tommy Walsh kicked three points, three of them from free, and just on the half hour John Flanagan and a Tipperary point led to a narrow Waterford 1-5 to 1-5 in front at the interval.

INADEQUATE

In all the circumstances it seemed an inadequate lead, and subsequent events proved this to be very true. Within a minute Jimmy Doyle pointed, and though Walsh replied in kind from a Waterford free, Mick Roche and Francis Loughane tackled on a brace of Tipperary points. Again Walsh had a Waterford point, but from that moment onwards Tipperary piled on the pressure in earnest. Roche pointed in the 10th minute; Keating had two in the 11th and 12th minutes, and Tipperary had

John Gleeson and young Noel Dwyer were the ones to emerge with most credit from their defensive set up. At midfield, a brilliant Mick Roche was the dominant figure, overshadowing clubmate P. J. Ryan who, for him, had one of his quieter games. But nonetheless between them they formed a partnership that gave them control of the area for practically the entire hour.

Early on their forwards, particularly Jimmy Doyle and Mick Keating, missed many scoring chances, but on the changeover the sector really found its scoring range. Keating proceeded to tear the home defence to shreds with a masterful display, and Jimmy Doyle, a surprisingly effective Francis Loughane and John Flanagan all revelled in the lavish service being laid on for them.

From a Waterford point of view the man of the match on Sunday was centre back John Kirwan who continued to hurl superbly when all around him colleagues were being overrun. Never before have I seen the rangy Ballyduff/Portlaoise man hurl so skilfully and but for his consistent brilliance over the hour, the final margin of defeat might have been even greater.

HURLED WELL FOR HALF HOUR

For over half an hour Waterford hurled well enough to suggest that they would make Tipperary travel every inch of the way. But then the hurling deficiencies in many vital sectors took its toll, and in consequence they were a well beaten side long before the end.

On the evidence of this display the road to the top remains a long and rugged one for them. Many berths are filled by players of less than top class senior calibre, and it is of no help at all to know that the right kind of material just is not at the selectors disposal at the present time.

Coady fully vindicated his selection at full back and kept Sean McLoughlin in very subdued mood for the entire hour. Sonny Walsh and Joe Condon also hurred defiantly for a spell, whilst behind them Mick Foley, except for the belated blunder which gave Tipperary their third goal, also played confidently.

The midfield partnership of Michael McGrath and Jackie Whelan never got to grips with the opposition, and this sector's lack of championship experience was all too obvious. McGrath did hurl well in spasms, but it was surprising that Pat Enright was not transferred to the area much sooner than he was. Up front the hurling of Martin Hickey on no less a man than Gaynor, was revelation. Whilst the ball was coming his way in that first half Hickey made maximum use of it, and his goal was taken in real masterful fashion. Tom Cheasty despite all his efforts, only broke

WATERFORD FAVOURED IN REPLAY

To-date it has been one of the most disastrous championship years in the history of the Deise County. Defeat has followed defeat in all grades and unbelievably not one of the County's sides has succeeded in getting beyond the first round. The senior footballers came closest to achieving this when they were held to a draw by Tipperary in Clonmel and now will be endeavouring to go one better in Sunday night's replay at Dungarvan's Fraher field.

Incredibly then the County's remaining hopes of a Provincial title rest with these senior footballers and for that reason alone the incentive to beat Tipperary is at least the greater. There is too, the exciting prospect of a home game with Kerry should they survive this first round obstacle, so quite a lot depends on the outcome of this replay.

Waterford were decidedly unfortunate not to have clinched outright victory in the Clonmel draw but they allowed a four points lead to slip from their grasp in the final five minutes, at a time when Tipperary looked a thoroughly beaten side.

For Sunday's replay however, Waterford will be without two of the stars of the defensive set up the first day. Wally Connors whose injury probably cost Waterford victory in the Clonmel tie is now ruled out because of it, whilst Achill Lannon is presently under automatic suspension having been sent off in the Kill-Stradbally championship game two weeks ago.

On the credit side, however, is the return of Mick Connolly who missed the drawn game because of a back injury. Connolly takes over in the full-back line, with Pat Clancy, who is playing brilliantly right now, moving from corner to centre back.

The midfield and forward berths have also undergone change for Sunday and Killrossanty's Pa Walsh moves out to partner Seamus Keavans on the half-way line. In attack Tom Cunningham returns at corner-forward on the strength of some great displays with his club recently and Greg O'Neill, somewhat luckily I feel retains his place in the other corner.

The Tipperary side has not been chosen at the time of writing but it is likely to be pretty well along the same lines as the one that did duty in Clonmel. Now that they have home advantage, and with the great incentive of a semi-final meeting with Kerry, at Dungarvan, should they triumph, Waterford must be favoured. Admittedly the absence of Lannon and Connors weakens the defence but even allowing for this the odds are in Waterford's favour and they are taken to react the semi-final — and that "plum" home tie with the men from the Kingdom.

SUNDAY'S WESTERN FUTURE
Sunday next being Corpus Christi Procession day the Western Board has had to curtail its fixture and only three games are down for decision.

At Abbeyside St. Laurence's (Fourmilewater) will be firm favourites to beat Stradbally in the minor hurling championship and led by County star Paddy Jie Ryan, I will be greatly surprised should they fail to justify that favouritism.

At Cappoquin the first of the under-21 hurling finals takes place and unless form goes completely haywire Tallow should account for Geraldines with comparative ease. Tallow have already thronged Divisional champions Lismore quite decisively and such was the splendour of their hurling on that occasion that they simply cannot be opposed on Sunday.

The remaining tie is at Lismore (4.30) between the Junior hurling sides of Cappoquin and Ballyduff. This is a pretty open affair as both clubs must field their second string fifteens. However, Cappoquin now that they have amalgamated with Afane, should have the better reserve material and I take them to account for Ballyduff's challenge.

EIRE OF TAKE ON ABBEYSIDE

Eire Og who are going from strength to strength, late, face one of their stiffest ever tests on Monday night, when they play Abbeyside for the Byrne Cup, donated by local business man Vincent Byrne. The game is for 7.30 p.m., at the Fraher field.

Both sides will be fielding at full strength and a great hour's hurling seems assured. Eire Og's stock will soar should they account for the Villagers in this test and they make no secrets of their determination to do just that.

Abbeyside, of course, will be equally determined to account for the Dungarvan club side and though they will be favoured to win, they may have little to spare over enthusiastic and talented opposition.

COUNTY AND WESTERN BOARD MEETINGS

A meeting of the County Board will be held in Dungarvan on Monday next. The Western Board will also hold a meeting in Dungarvan on Wednesday next at 8.30 p.m. One of the most interesting items on the agenda is the objection lodged by Valley Rovers against Ballinacorney who defeated them in the under-21 football championship.

Waterford Minors Fail to Tipperary

Tipperary 5-4
Waterford 2-7

At half time in last Sunday's Munster minor hurling championship game at Walsh Park, Waterford seemed poised to advance to the semi-final. At that stage they led 1-6 to 0-1, and with any luck at all might have been even further in front. But the second half brought a remarkable transformation as Tipperary took almost complete control and went on to win quite easily in the end.

Waterford's second half fadeout was most expected considering the extent of their first half superiority. They made Tipperary look real third-raters in that opening half as they spent practically the entire thirty minutes on the offensive, and it seemed only a matter of how much they would win by in the end.

But from the moment the second half got under way Tipperary were a different team. They began to lord the midfield exchanges, and up front full forward A. Maher had the whole Deise defence in a state of near turmoil. Entering the closing quarter the gap had been narrowed to a point—2-3 to 1-7, but a Waterford goal at that stage gave them an assuring four points lead at a crucial stage.

However, from that to the very end there was only one side in it. Tipperary got on terms within minutes, and once they took the lead for the first time ten minutes from the end they simply pulled away for a surprisingly easy win.

JUNIOR CHAMBER LAUNCHES NEW PROJECT

The first of four monthly editions of a new brochure on Dungarvan, entitled "What's On" was launched at a Press Conference given by the Dungarvan Junior Chamber of Commerce in Dungarvan on Tuesday night last. The meeting was also attended by Mr. Pat Nolan, Development Officer of the South Eastern Regional Tourist Organisation.

The Chapter's Public Relations Officer, who outlined details of this latest project, first of all thanked Mr. Nolan for his attendance and welcomed him on behalf of the Junior Chamber.

Referring to the Brochure, Mr. Byrne said they were officially launching the first of four monthly editions of the Booklet, which was now available for the month of June and which would also be available for the months of July, August and September.

The project, he said, was undertaken by the Commission under its then director Mr. Paddy Lannen, who had since left Dungarvan. He paid tribute to the work and effort put into the project by Mr. Lannen and to the other members of the Commission, Messrs. Billy Fitzgerald, Roddy Mulcahy, Johnny Lynch and the Commission Director Tom Ryan.

The purpose of the Brochure was two-fold, said Mr. Byrne. Firstly, its basic purpose was, through organised distribution, to first of all make people aware of their town, especially tourists, by informing them of the many scenic, sporting and s'oppy attractions which Dungarvan and district had to offer, and secondly to assist their exiles to formulate their holidays in their home town.

DEPUTY KYNE ON AGRICULTURE

Speaking at a Labour Party Meeting at Touraneena, Mr. Thomas A. Kyne, T.D., said:—

"The Special Committee set up on the 1st May to examine the position of the lower paid workers which has now reported that a wage increase of from two pounds to five per week downwards is justified, is a clear indication of the panic in the Government.

The Trade Union movement had already given notice to the Government that they intended to put forward a wage demand on behalf of these workers. The Government now sought by accepting the recommendations of the Committee to pay the first instalment of 25/- on the 1st June to try to pose as the guardians of the workers interests or to forestall a bigger demand by the Trade Unions. This new move by the Government seems strange when one remembers that only last March the Minister for Finance was appealing to Trade Unions not to press for increased wages as the economy of the country could not drop the first bite of the carrot to lead the workers to vote for Fianna Fail on June 18, and the further increase after the election could be ignored by the Government if they came back to power.

"The scandal of the years of delay in sanctioning Local Authority plans for the building of working class houses; the provision of water and sewerage, while at the same time publicly demanding these bodies to go ahead with these plans, is well known to all members of Local Authorities.

"Year after year the Government only provides token sums to meet the Council requirements. How can anyone trust a Government who stoops to such tactics?"

"Labour, if elected, will press on with full employment as their first task; second will be houses for all who need them; thirdly will be a free health service and a Social Welfare code that will meet the needs of the old, the sick, the widow and the orphan.

ABBEYSIDE DROP VITAL POINT

Abbeyside 0; Castle Rovers 0
Abbeyside's drive towards the Div. 2 (Saturday) league championship was decelerated somewhat, when they were held to a scoreless draw by Castle Rovers, on Saturday last at Abbeyside.

With just one game left to play Abbeyside now have dropped two points as have Johnville, while Bolton, who have yet to play Johnville, have dropped three.

It was the same old story in this game for Abbeyside, with their defence performing superlatively but with little scoring power up front. Denis Egan, sweeper Amby McGovern and Billy Kyne formed an impenetrable last line of defence, and rarely has keeper John Mc-
