PRIOR SOLEMNLY INDUCTED

At a most impressive ceremony at St. Augustine's Church, Dungarvan, on Friday evening, Rev. Fr. Thomas Colman Butler, O.S.A., was officially inducted as Prior of the Augustinian Order in the town for the next four years.

The induction ceremony took place during Concelebrated Mass, and was performed by Rev. B. Carolan, O.S.A. The Chief Celebrant was the New Prior, and the other concelebrants were Fr. B. Carolan, O.S.A., Fr. C. Mansfield, O.S.A., Fr. F. Sexton, O.S.A., Fr. F. Cooney, O.S.A., Fr. C. O'Donnell, O.S.A. (Rector of the College).

When inducting the new Prior, Fr. Carolan said it was a solemn and symbolic act, by which the priest took possession of the high office that was being conferred on him. High Office, he said, brings with it public responsibility and it was only fitting that Fr. Butler should be inducted in the presence of those whom he will be working with. For almost twenty years Fr. Butler had worked in Dungarvan (the last 12 as Rector) and there was no need to introduce him to the congregation because in his case action spoke louder than words. He was sure he was speaking for everyone in Dungarvan when he wished the new Prior length of days and every happiness in the Office he was being called on to fill.

He wished the new Prior length of days and every happiness in the Office he was being called on to fill.

The College Choir, under Fr. M. G. Moran, then sang the Hymn of the Holy Ghost, and the Prior made a public profession of his faith. One by one the priests came and offered him a token of their obedience and respect. The Prior then gave his blessing to the huge congregation.

Addressing them, Fr. Butler said he was deeply conscious of his new responsibilities. Since he came to Dungarvan as a member of the Community almost 20 years ago he had seen the devotion and loyalty of the people of Dungarvan and West Waterford to the Augustinian Church in the town and their Foreign Missions. His Order had an association with Dungarvan dating back almost 700 years and he hoped it would continue through the coming years to serve the people devotedly and well.

Concluding, the newly elected Prior said: "I will keep one another continually in our prayers."

Co. Engineer Reports on Water Needs

THE COUNTY ENGINEER, Mr. J. D. Hally, submitted a report on the present water needs in the County to the special meeting of Waterford County Council in Dungarvan on Tuesday last. The meeting, convened specially to consider the present position regarding water supplies, decided unanimously to pursue its present policy of providing minor water supply schemes, although agreement was reached on the County Engineer's suggestion to examine the need for a regional scheme.

In his detailed report, Mr. Hally said that as far back as 1961 the Council finally rejected the idea of Regional schemes and ones envisaged for Rathgormack and Modeligo were scrapped by the Council. Instead the Council opted for minor schemes, the extension of existing supplies as far as practicable, and the encouragement of the formation and construction of group schemes. They also decided on a policy of spending £50,000 a year on minor schemes and extensions.

In the years since then, continued the Co. Engineer, in his report a considerable number of minor water supply schemes have been installed in the County and extensions have been carried out on 20 existing schemes. There are ten group schemes in operation in the County and sixteen under construction, while a number of minor schemes and extensions are also under construction and in contemplation at present.

Mr. Hally said one of the major considerations on which the Council based its decision not to proceed with the region schemes was the cost per house. While the average cost per house for the minor schemes that have been constructed amounted to £149, the estimated cost per house in the Modeligo regional scheme would have been £528 and between £350 and £400 in the Rathgormack one. The cost per house now would be considerably greater. Mr. Hally went on to state that the main difference between regional and minor schemes was that the latter schemes were intended primarily and almost solely for domestic consumption. However, despite this, many of the schemes had been used and were being used to supply water for agricultural purposes although in some cases hsi usage was having the effect of restricting the amount of water available for the domestic consumer.

Mr. Hally went on to state it was his view that the Council should now seriously consider whether they would adopt the policy of at least providing one regional scheme in the County. However the availability of capital for such a scheme was another matter and it might not be possible to go too deeply into regional schemes. He recommended that they prepare documents to clear the remaining schemes that were listed in 1967 and that he prepare a scheme to provide water for all the areas where they had built serviced rural cottages in the last four or five years and where water was not yet made available.

Mr. Hally further recommended that they prepare schemes to provide water for cottages which were at present under construction or which they anticipated would be built within the next six to nine months. He also suggested that they examine the 150 odd locations where water was being sought and, having regard to the needs and special position of the Gaeltacht and to put these in order of priority for consideration by the Council.

Replying to Mr. N. Walsh, the Co. Engineer said when the Rathgormack Regional scheme was planned five years ago the estimated cost was £250,000. That figure would be well over £300,000 now, he said. It was his view that the Council should continue their minor supply programme at the present time and they could then go back and reconsider a regional one for Rathgormack.

Mr. Hally said to continue with the minor schemes they would give water to all areas requiring it in eight years. However to meet the demand for water for agricultural purposes there was really no alternative to the regional schemes. It was his contention that they could not meet the agricultural needs without a regional scheme. Furthermore there was a tendency to demand a lot more from minor supplies than they were designed for.

Mr. J. Quirke said he really welcomed the Co. Engineer's recommendation that water meters be installed. That would be the best move the Council ever made because people using the water should be prepared to pay for it. Water was being abused wholesale in this County, he said.

Mr. N. Walsh said if there was to be an economic approach then the meter system would have to be brought in. Mr. Hally said the probable cost of introducing meters would be £10,000 which they could repay over five years. The County Manager said that even if they decided on a regional scheme it would take a considerable length of time before it got off the ground. He felt they should accept the recommendations of the Co. Engineer and continue with minor schemes. These had their disadvantages but if it was necessary they would have to live with them.

The Chairman, Mr. Charles Curran said financially or otherwise they hadn't the resources to meet the water demand and a similar situation existed all over.

Mr. Hally said that overall their position was not bad in relation to water. The Co. Manager said they were about to meet the demands of a new industry at Ballinacourty and there were an awful lot of Council houses that would be unable to do so. He believed that at this stage they should go full steam ahead with minor water schemes.

Finally on the proposal of Mr. Kieran O'Ryan seconded by Mr. M. J. Shalloo it was decided that they accept the recommendations of the Co. Engineer in relation to the minor schemes and that in the meantime an investigation be carried out on the needs for a regional scheme. A report on this will be considered at a future date.

Bishop Opens New Playground at

Bishop Quanns

This obvious was a joint effort between the Urban Council and the citizens. The President of the J.C.C., said His Lordship, Most Rev. Dr. Michael Russell, Bishop of Waterford and Lismore, when officially opening and blessing the new £1,000 children's playground at Quanns, Dungarvan, on Thursday of last week. The playground was provided by the local Chapter of the Junior Chamber of Commerce for the children of Dungarvan and Abbeyside, and the Chapter's President, Mr. Austin Hallahan formally handed it over to the Chairman of the Urban Council, Mr. T. A. Kyne, on behalf of the community.

In a brief address to the huge crowd which turned up for the ceremony, Dr. Russell said they often heard people ask what Council's or Corporations were doing. But in Dungarvan this playground was obviously the result of the joint effort of the Urban Council and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Council and the town's citizens had got together to do something worthwhile for Dungarvan and this magnificent playground was the result of their efforts. To the children he wished every enjoyment and urged them to be good to each other, to like each other, and to grow up enjoying life together.

The President of the J.C.C., Mr. Hallahan, in welcoming His Lordship and all present to the Official opening, said the idea of a Playspace in the town originated with his Chapter last November. A Committee was formed under the Chairmanship of Mr. Patrick Harnett to investigate this and many hours of hard work had been put into the project by the members of that Committee and he was sure that they would all agree that the fruits of those efforts could be seen to-day. Apart from the heavy financial burden to the Junior Chamber in carrying out the project, they were confident that this playground would give many hours of enjoyment to the children in the years to come.

Mr. Hallahan said in handing over the Playspace to the Urban Council he was sure they appreciated all the hard work that had been put into it and they were confident too that they all accept the responsibility of it. He said all adults also had a responsibility to see that this playground was not abused and that the children derived the full benefit from it.

As a forerunner to an anti-litter campaign, which the Junior Chamber hopes to run in the near future, he appealed to the children using the playground to keep it clear of litter at all times. Concluding, Mr. Hallahan thanked Mr. Wm. Fennell, Emmet St., Dungarvan, for erecting the equipment on the playground entirely at his own expense. He thanked the Urban Council for providing the site without charge and he officially handed it over to them. The Urban Council Chairman Mr. Tom Kyne said it was with pleasure that he accepted this playground on behalf of the community. He congratulated the J.C.C. for their great efforts in providing this playground at a cost of about £1,000, and in doing so had performed a wonderful act of civic pride in their town. He thanked them for this and the many other projects they had already undertaken and accomplished for the betterment of the area. He thanked Dr. Russell for honouring them with his presence, which showed that he recognised the importance of the occasion.

Continuing, Mr. Kyne said "I appeal to the adults of our town not to abuse this project. It is for the children and it looks ludicrous to see adults occupying swings where children should be. I believe also that there is need for a similar project in my own Parish of Abbeyside and if any civic-minded people there decide to get together to provide the area with one they can be assured of the full support of the Urban Council."

Mr. Patrick Harnett, Chairman of the Junior Chamber's Playground Committee, thanked Mr. Kyne for accepting the playground on behalf of the community and for the co-operation of the Council throughout. He thanked Dr. Russell for Officially opening and blessing it and for his kind remarks. Finally he thanked everyone who had turned up for the ceremony, and expressed the hope that the children would enjoy many happy hours in the playground.

Also present were: Ven. Archdeacon D. Power, P.P., V.F.; members of Dungarvan Urban Council; Mr. J. P. Robinson, Town Clerk, and members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Requiem Masses were offered on Tuesday morning for the repose of his gentle soul and the interment took place in the adjoining family plot. Another very large concourse were present. Fr. B. Crowley, C.C., imparted the final absolution at the graveside.

Large sheaves of Mass cards, telegrams and letters of sympathy were received. The chief mourners: James Hickey, Knockboy, Michael Hickey, New York, Maurice Hickey, California (brothers); Mrs. Mary Nugent, Mangan, Ballymacarby, Mrs. Modeligo, Mrs. Margaret Joan Quirk, Leigh, Ring (sisters); and a large circle of nieces, nephews, relatives and friends.

Unexpected Passing of Well-Known Local Farmer

LATE TIM BARRY

Ballyharahan, Dungarvan

The unexpected death on Monday morning last, 29th September, of Mr. Timothy Barry, Ballyharahan, Dungarvan at the early age of 47 years, cast a deep gloom over a wide area of County Waterford.

An extensive farmer, he was one of the best known sporting and political figures in the county. A life-long member of the Fianna Fail Party, he was an unsuccessful candidate in the last Co. Council election when standing on behalf of the Government Party in the Dungarvan electoral area.

For over 20 years he was closely associated with the Brickey Rangers G.A.A. Club in an administrative capacity. An extensive farmer, he was a widely known figure at marts throughout the province.

To his sorrowing mother, brothers, sisters, nephews, nieces, relatives and a very large circle of friends, we extend very deep sympathy. His remains were removed on Monday evening to St.

Mary's Parish Church, Dungarvan, followed by an immense cortege, testifying to his very great popularity, and were blessed and received by Rev. W. Power, C.C., assisted by Ven. Archdeacon D. Power, P.P., V.F.; Rev. Fr. O'Donnell, O.S.A., Rev. D. Byrne, C.C., Rev. J. Murphy, C.C., Rev. Fr. Sexton, O.S.A., Rev. B. Crowley, C.C., Touraneena and Rev. John McGrath, C.C., Cappoquin.

Requiem Mass was offered at 12.30 on Tuesday and after which the funeral took place to Ballinroad Cemetery, where interment took place in the family plot. Another huge concourse were present which was representative of all sections of the community. Rev. M. Walsh, C.C., imparted the final absolution and recited the prayers of requiem at the graveside, and was assisted by Very Rev. J. Roche, P.P., Abbeyside, V. Rev. T. C. Butler, O.S.A., Prior, V. Rev. Fr. O'Donnell, O.S.A., Rector; V. Rev. Fr. Whelton, O.S.A., Rector, New Ross, and Rev. Fr. Sexton, O.S.A.

Large numbers of Mass cards, telegrams and letters of sympathy were received. Some beautiful floral

FOREIGN TRAWLERS PLUNDERING AND PILLAGING OUR COASTLINE

FOR the past months Continental trawlers had plundered and pillaged off the Co. Waterford coastline, Mr. Austin Deasy told Waterford Co. Council special meeting on Tuesday, when the members unanimously passed a resolution calling on the Department of Defence to introduce an adequate protection service along the Waterford coast.

Mr. Deasy said that it was about time that the public knew that between 40 and 50 Continental Trawlers were operating inside restricted waters for the past months. Some of these trawlers were up to 1,000 tons and they had come within a mile of the coastline of the county. Because of this wholesale poaching, many people in Co. Waterford were being deprived of a decent living, and it looks as though fishing stocks are going to be wiped out for years to come. For the past month, he said, these trawlers, equipped with small mesh nets, had come close to the coastline.

Mr. Deasy went on to say that today we still had the same fleet of protection boats as we had in 1964, and since then the limit line had been increased. There was never more than two corvettes on duty at the one time, and while these were patrolling a certain area, the Continental trawlers were moving in on the unprotected areas.

A fleet of at least six boats was needed to give adequate protection to local fishermen and fishermen from the Helvick Head area of the county now believed that the fishing would be dismal for years to come, because of this inadequate protection service. Board Isaicagh Mhara had been advising people to invest in fishing, but he could not see any future in fishing in this part of the country, if a stop was not soon put to this illegal fishing.

Mr. Charles Curran (Chairman) said that he agreed that the protection service was inadequate, but to augment it would entail considerable financial expenditure.

Mr. Deasy said that the fishing industry was more important than the cost of a few extra corvettes.

Mr. Wm. Kenneally, T.D., said that the Dept. might consider getting helicopters to help in the situation.

Mr. Curran said it was clear that Co. Waterford had suffered most this year by poaching trawlers.

Finally, Mr. Deasy's proposal, seconded by Mr. Thomas Dunphy, calling for the introduction of an adequate protection service along the Co. Waterford coast line, was unanimously adopted by the Council.

LISMORE NEWS

SUCCESSFUL STUDENTS

Congratulations to three local pupils who have been successful in the recent Leaving Certificate examinations and have been called to the Training College. The successful students are Miss Margaret Bransfield, New St., Lismore, pupil of the Presentation Convent here; Miss Helen Geoghegan, Ballysaggart, a pupil of the Mercy Convent, Dungarvan, and Patrick Fleming, South Mall a pupil of the local C.B.S.

WEDDING BELLS

A very pretty wedding took place in St. Carthage's Church on Saturday week last when Laura, only daughter of Mr. Maurice O'Regan, and the late Mrs. L. O'Regan, Nelson Tce., Lower Road, Cork, was married to Patrick, second son of Mrs. and the late P. McDonagh, Lower Road, Cork. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in an off-white coat with matching headdress and carried a bouquet of purple orchids with maidenhair fern. The bridesmaid, Miss Margaret O'Sullivan, cousin of the bride, wore a coral pink frock with matching headdress and carried a bouquet of lemon rosebuds. The best man was Mr. Tadg McDonagh, brother of the groom. The organist was Mrs. Enda O'Sullivan, aunt of the bride, while the ceremony with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing was performed by Rev. P. Quailly, C.C., Lismore. The reception was held in Ballyrafter House Hotel and the honeymoon is being spent touring Ireland. Going away the bride wore a dark cherry tweed suit with beige accessories. She is a member of two well-known and respected Lismore families, the Whelans of Mayfield and the O'Regan's of Townpark.

BINGO SUCCESS

Mr. Jack Donoghue, Parks Road, "collected" one of the "big checks" £50 in Tallow on Sunday night last. He was one of three Lismore winners, Mr. Jim Stapleton, Chapel Street, and Mrs. P. Morrissey, Ballyrafter were the others.

TRAINING

In preparation for their tilt with Dungarvan's Eire Og in the Western final of the Intermediate Hurling championships, Lismore under the guidance of former star, Bob Lineen, have entered into strict training. Though date of game and venue have yet to be fixed by the Board, Lismore are taking no chances and are determined to go all the ways this year. Their achievements so far in the championships have shown that it will take an exceptional team to prevent them achieving C.O. honours.

CRICKET

Though Lismore cricketers concluded their season on a rather disappointing note when they failed to win the Munster Junior Cup, losing to Limerick P.M.Y.A. by 18 runs. This was a game that they should have won but due to "late arrivals" plus the fact that the game was based on an overs system and this was their first experience of such a type of game, they narrowly lost. However the season itself on the whole was highly successful. Of the 14 games played, 10 were won, one drawn and only three lost and they also shared the Munster Junior League. Peter Thomas, Johnny Matthews, Pat Pollard and Peter Bryan were honoured by the provincial selectors, a just reward for their consistency throughout the season in batting and bowling, while for "Happy" O'Connell and Eric Flynn, whose first season this was in junior cricket, their future seems very bright.

WEDDING

On Saturday last, Sept. 27th, in St. Michael's Church, Cork, Mr. Michael Fitzgerald, second eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Fitzgerald, 24 Parks Road, was married to Miss Denise Wilkins, eldest daughter of Mrs. Mary Wilkins and the late Mr. D. Wilkins, "Valden", Mount Farran, Assumption Road, Cork. The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing was performed by Very Rev. Charles Lynch, brother of the Taoiseach, Mr. Jack Lynch. Mr. Billy Foley, Parks Road, was best man, while the bridesmaids were the Misses Valerie Wilkins, sister of the bride and Miss Patricia Fitzgerald, sister of the groom and Mrs. Francis Wilkins, sister-in-law of the bride, matron of honour. The bride, given away by her brother, Mr. Charles Wilkins, wore a full length white silk dress with panel of guipure lace and ribbon trimmings, with matching headdress while the bridesmaids wore full length dresses of gold satin with matching trimmings. Three nieces of the couple were flower girls and wore full length "shower of hail" dresses and carried baskets of flowers. The reception was held at the New Hotel, Blarney, and the honeymoon is being spent in Majorca.

SOCCER

Lismore opened their soccer season with a most impressive 9 goals to 1 goal over Cork Wanderers at the home venue on Sunday last. Strengthened by the return of some former players Johnny Ryan, Pat and Jimmy O'Connor and Ronnie Keating, they were too good for the Cork side and with a strong breeze in the first half led by 5 goals to 1. Scorers for Lismore were P. Mason (3 goals), P. O'Connor (2), R. Keating (2), P. Pollard and M. Savage (1 each).

Mission Departure Ceremony

On Thursday next, 9th October, at 7.30 p.m., a unique ceremony will take place in St. Mary's Parish Church, Dungarvan. The occasion will be an historic one for the town, as it will be a social farewell ceremony to mark the departure for the first time of nuns from the Sisters of Mercy, to work in Augustinian Missions in Nigeria.

The ceremony will take place during a Concelebrated Mass, at which His Lordship, Dr. Michael Russell, Bishop of Waterford and Lismore, will be chief celebrant, having as concelebrants the Augustinian Fathers who are returning to Africa. His Lordship will present special mission crosses to the four Sisters of Mercy, three Augustinian priests and one Augustinian Lay Brother, who are going to Nigeria, for the first time.

SYMPATHY

At a meeting of Waterford County Council on Tuesday evening last, a vote of sympathy was extended to the family and relatives of the late Timothy Barry, Ballyharahan, Dungarvan. It was proposed by Mr. P. Kennelly and seconded by Mr. Sean Whelan.

The President of the N.F.A., Mr. T. J. Maher said in a statement that in the pre-budget discussions with the Minister for Agriculture last April, the N.F.A. had put forward a comprehensive claim for an increase in milk prices, so that dairy farmers' income would be stepped up in line with all other sections of the community who were benefiting from the new wage and salary increases.

Mr. Maher pointed out too that in replying to the questionnaire sent to the political parties before the General Election, a firm commitment was given by the Government party to the N.F.A. that if returned to power they would ensure an acceptable and equitable level of income for the dairy farmer. The N.F.A. was further promised at that time that if there was a further deterioration in the income position of creamery milk suppliers this year, appropriate steps would be taken to adjust the balance in the current year.

Mr. Maher emphasised that at the pre-budget discussions and at subsequent meetings with the Minister, the N.F.A. had made it clear that production and processing costs were going to rise still further in 1969. This had in actual fact happened. The additional increase in the Bord Baineille levy, bringing it to 3d. per gallon, was a particular burden on small and medium dairy farmers.

Mr. Maher said that the rate of increase of milk production this year had fallen very much short of estimated projections and consequently dairy farmers did not get the overall return from their enterprises that had been projected earlier. It must be borne in mind, too, said Mr. Maher, that increased output could not be achieved by the dairy farmer without increased production and processing costs arising from greater use of fertilisers, more modern machinery and an emphasis

DOMINIC SAVIO YOUTH CLUB

On Wednesday night last, 27th Sept., a discussion on the division of the Club into two groups (over 16's and under 16's) was held. A panel of three: John Tobin, Danny Byrne and Pat Kennelly answered questions put by the members. The general feeling of the U-16's present was that the club should not be divided, but should continue as one, while the older members wanted the club divided, where debates, etc. were concerned. The discussion ended with each group holding to their respective views.

Taking an objective view I would say that if all U-16's took part in the general activities of the Club as those present at the discussion, then there would be no need to divide the Club.

Last night (Wednesday) there was a disappointing crowd present. A question time was held between a boys' and girls' team, with the latter winning by a very slight margin, but it is strongly rumoured that a return match is to be held in the near future.

Again last night many members came without their 5/- subs. On next Wednesday, 30th Oct., admission will be by Card or cash only. So please bring your subs with you.

For next week's programme a guest will be present to talk on his particular line of work. You might ask who is he? What does he do? Answers will be provided on Wednesday night, so why not come along and find out. There will also be the usual 'Hop' afterwards.

We are hoping to provide a film show for Wednesday, 15th October, but this has yet to be finalised.

on a higher quality animal. "We have a firm commitment to the country's 110,000 dairy farmers that their incomes be kept at such a level that they can meet the spiralling cost of living. The cost of living index has risen by 8.8 per cent in less than a year but dairy farmers have not got any increase in milk prices this year to match this rise, whereas in recent weeks we have seen other sections of the community getting salary increases specifically aimed at permitting them to keep pace with the spiral of rising costs.

YOUGHAL NEWS

YOUGHAL ARE CHAMPIONS

Youghal became the new Intermediate hurling champions on Sunday last at Castle Martyr, when they defeated Cobh in a thrilling final.

Youghal certainly deserved the honour, because from being six points behind at one stage, the emerged victorious with a one goal margin after a closely fought second half.

Cobh completely dominated the greater part of the first half, and it looked as if the result might be determined in this half but Youghal got a dramatic goal just before the interval which completely changed the pattern of the game.

The final score was: Youghal 3-7, Cobh 0-13.

The cup was presented to the captain of the Youghal side, Pat Hegarty, by the Chairman of the East Cork Board, Mr. Paddy Driscoll.

NO CONSERVATORS ELECTION

In the election of members of Lismore Board of Conservators which was to have taken place this week, the five year period of office having expired, there were 12 vacancies, six in the freshwater and six in the tidal division.

However, as only six persons were nominated for each division, the Board's Clerk, Mr. W. J.weeney,

SACRISTAN'S ANNUAL COLLECTION

The Annual Collection for the Parish Sacristan will be held at all Masses in the Parish and Priory churches on next Sunday, 5th October.

THE NATIONAL FLAG

The National Flag stands for the present, past and future of your country. It should be flown only during daylight hours. Don't allow any part of the flag touch the ground. It should be raised open and free and is never "broken" at the mast-head. When flying the flag it should always be in the most important position, on the highest flagstaff, or at the right end of a line of flags.

HAPPENINGS OF THE TROOP

We have started our new winter programme under the baton of Jimmy Nagle and some of the music sounded like African jungle music. The boys have waggled a little futter on Major that he will never be second class, but the Major calls it horse talk.

On Saturday night last we had our first Second Class Investiture at which seven new scouts were invested. The short ceremony was performed by our Chaplain Fr. Murphy, and the S/M, Chairman, Mr. Prendergast, and Mr. Nagle also attended.

After the Investiture we had a sing-song, directed by John Houlihan. Jamie did the Danny Hughes act at the sing song and John Flynn demonstrated the Polka. As usual, the S/M was scoffing all the food as we were singing.

It's nice to sit and ponder, Let your memory take you back, To scenes in far off places, That you know are hard to whack.

And now I see the Indian caves, High above the ground, The one where the Indian maiden wept, When her lover there she found.

I seem to see her shining eyes, As proudly there she stood, Before leaping to her death that day, In the cave of Collingswood.

Once more I see the city lights, And the fountains as they flow, The trees swaying on the islands, As the soft breezes o nthem blow.

Power, Leamybrien; Noel and Margaret Hallinan; Paddy Fraher; Jim and Bridie Beresford, Castlequarter; Philip, Keating and Nonie, Briskey.

In summing up the report the adjudicators stated that it was quite obvious that the community of Ardmore had made a good effort in presenting the centre for the competition, but, unfortunately the presence of so many derelict buildings took away from this effort considerably. Open spaces within the town, they said, and also about the town perimeter required some form of attention in planting, resurfacing or just general tidying up.

Concluding the report stated: "However one feels that the community must be congratulated on the standard of the approach roads, and if the same effort was put into overcoming the problem just mentioned the town of Ardmore cannot help but do well in the competition in the years to come."

The following is the full Adjudicator's report on Ardmore:-
On the approach road from the Youghal/Dungarvan direction the grass margin on both sides were well kept, and at this stage only needed slight trimming. Continuing on, the name post to this town was in good order and well-maintained.
Continuing on, on the right hand side, one came to a row of two storey terraced dwellings. While the gardens in front were well displayed with neatly trimmed lawns and hedges, the houses themselves badly needed painting. In some cases there was quite an amount of moss growing from the roofs.

The National School was very well presented and there were some mature shrubs in the foreground. The lawn was neatly trimmed and the area about was litter-free.

Proceeding on just before the Police Station there was a concrete wall on the right with an abundance of nettles growing just behind it. Further on, on the same side, the Police Station looked extremely well with an attractive stone wall to the road-side. Here and there there were plants in barrels, and these looked very well indeed.

Further on, on the left, there was an open space. This badly needed some form of camouflaging in the form of planting or even if grass had been planted there. It would have taken away from its present unsightliness.

Coming to the fingerpost indicating Dungarvan there was a petrol station. There was no definition between the roadway and the forecourt about the petrol station and at this point there was some litter to be seen, together with oil cans and concrete blocks.

Proceeding in the direction of Dungarvan, immediately on the right, one noticed a derelict caravan in a front garden. This looked very unsightly. However, on the left the shops and housing had been reasonably well maintained and presented further on the left, just after a petrol station, there was a nice floral display adjacent to a single storey timber construction. This looked very attractive indeed.

Returning back along this approach it was a good road, and the grass embankment on the left and the hedge-row on the right were well up to competition standard. Again the name of the town in this area was in good order.

Further on, some litter began to appear, but not in any great quantity. Coming nearer to the town, there were some two-storey semi-detached housing on the left. These have been fairly well presented and the grass common to the roadway in front of them had been neatly trimmed. The rose trees planted in it should look extremely well, when they reach full bloom.

Immediately after the two-storey semi-detached houses mentioned, there was a timber chalet on the right. This was very tastefully presented with a neatly raked gravel driveway, well trimmed lawn and a simple timber fence indicating its boundary.

wards the Cliff Hotel, road works, in progress, was noted on the right. Further on, buildings, in general, private, commercial and public, were well presented in a colourful manner. At this point one could see some derelict buildings to the left which looked rather unsightly. There were some excellent restoration of thatched cottages. These looked extremely well indeed.

Turning left down towards the strand, the green benches looked very well adjacent to the seafront wall. They appeared to have been freshly painted. However, as one entered into the car park one noticed an open space to the back of the houses on the left. In places it was completely overgrown and badly required attention.

Returning back along this approach, one noticed the boat house and the Catholic church. The church was presented in a neat and tidy manner and the entrance gates seemed to have been freshly painted. In between the boat-house and the church there was an open space. This badly needed weeding. The concrete railing and metal gate to the roadside badly required maintenance.

Continuing on towards the pier again there were some derelict cottages noticed on the right. Further on the public convenience had been well maintained. At this stage there were some very good individual efforts at presentation in the form of private dwellings.

Returning back along this approach there was a very pleasant view down to the strand. Treatment of front gardens and roadside hedges was generally of a high standard.

Coming to a junction and crossing it, a dwelling cottage was noticed on the Tomas and Sean were in charge at the meeting the other night and they did a very good job. "Pat" was washing his hair all night" was the report from an unreliable source. C.O.H.

Plans involving the coming investiture were made and quite an amount of work was done despite the rude interruptions of a certain young gentleman.
MACAOIMH SECTION
All but a few of the Macaoimh have now got their uniforms, but nothing definite has been arranged about the investiture as far as I know. It is interesting to note that this is the first time in the history of the parish that a Macaoimh clan has been started. Maybe Michael will get his Girl

TEST WORK
The patrols are very busy preparing and passing tests at the moment and the hum of industry may be heard from the den every Sunday morning.

ON THE DEN
The Panther Patrol were on the 'en' last week and they got a good report at the C.O.H. The Wolfhounds are on this week.

GANDHI
The 100th anniversary of the birth of Mahatma Gandhi recalls the fact that the late Mr. Thomas O'Connell, P.O. Clashmore, was a close personal friend of the Indian leader. The friendship came about in South Africa, where Mr. O'Connell was a police officer at the time when Gandhi was campaigning there for the removal of the colour bar.
Mr. O'Connell always spoke in glowing terms of the many outstanding qualities of the Indian patriot, who afterwards became a world figure.

DUNGARVAN MART
There were 450 cattle, 450 sheep, 100 calves and weanlings on offer at Dungarvan Mart on Monday last. Beef and forward store bullocks met a favourable trade with a strong demand from English buyers. Smaller stores and weanlings were in good demand also. Good lambs were also a really good trade. Prices for dry cows, however, tended to ease.

KINGDOM COMES OF AGE
Back goes the Sam Maguire over the so familiar journey it has been taken so often in the past. But because it has been absent for a period not at all usual for the Kingdom, its recapture was looked all the more by Kerry supporters on Sunday.

The game itself was marred by a vicious wind which blew the game of accurate kicking, thus, the more accurate football which is to be seen in senior football today was over-shadowed.

Mick O'Connell lined out for Kerry at midfield and his appearance on the field was greeted by a mighty roar, but in all fairness, the highlight of the game was stolen by D. J. Crowley, who played with magnificent mastery at midfield.

At half time the score read 0-5 to 0-2 in favour of Kerry and taking into account the fact that Kerry were playing with the wind in the first half, it looked as if they might use the wind better than their opponents. In the opening minute of the second half it looked as if they might well do it, when they scored two points, but Kerry soon took control of the game and had some fine points from D. J. Crowley and Mick O'Dwyer. Thus, Kerry went on to win 10 to 0-7, giving them their 21st senior All-Ireland football title.

BALLINACOURTY GIVEN THE VOTE AGAINST TRAMORE

Ballinacourty meet Tramore in the losers group final at Waterford on Sunday next, but certainly if they hope to win then a considerable improvement in their attack is necessary. The man Tramore will need to fear most will undoubtedly be Greg Fives. It was he who wrecked De La Salle's hopes in the losers group with his pin point accuracy yielding him a magnificent personal tally of 1-6. But a team cannot rely too much on one man's brilliance I am hoping to see men like Michael "Dasher" Power and Daniel Whelan really moving.

Tramore, on the other hand, have some fine footballers, as they showed when beating reigning champions Killybeggs and over whom they had a convincing win. Danganman on the Tramore side is undoubtedly Mick Fleming, who can point the ball from almost any angle, as he showed us against Killybeggs. But, candidly, I cannot see them putting paid to Ballinacourty's hopes on Sunday. The latter should be far better equipped and they are my confident choice to win on Sunday.

JUNIOR HURLING

At the Fraher field, on Sunday next, Eire Og take on Kilgobnet in the Junior Hurling Western semi-final. Kilgobnet will surely start favourites for this game as they have the very same team as they had last year, while on the other hand Eire Og will have a complete new team as they were victorious in this grade last year and so that team moved up a division. So it should prove a great game with the veterans versus the new comers.

Kilgobnet always show great spirit and determination and with a powerhouse like Paddy Cummins to drive them on, little will be left undone. Another pile driver for Kilgobnet will be Killrossanty football star, Noel Walsh. As in the past this man has proved that given the ball he can do almost anything with it. Also sure to shine for them will be Peter Power, Noel Walsh, and by no means least, Dermot Kelly.

But what have Eire Og to offer that will put them in with a chance in this very important match? Well, in men like Gus'v Fraher, Joe Egan and Mick Bower, they have men well capable of penetrating the Kilgobnet rearward for scores, while at the back they have good men in Locky Coward and Pat Moore, who will endeavour to keep the eager Kilgobnet forwards at bay. As I have said before, the main danger for Eire Og to watch will be Paddy Cummins and unless he is very ably marked he will undoubtedly cause havoc at midfield. Either way this should be a very fast-moving game and in the end I think that Kilgobnet may just have the edge on Eire Og. TALLOW TO REACH MINOR FINAL

There should be a big crowd at Lismore on Sunday next, when Affane and Tallow meet in the minor western football semi-final. This should prove to be a real thriller of a game if both teams play up to the standard we know they are capable of. Affane have exceeded even their own expectations in getting this far, and they certainly are the surprise team of the championship.

But, candidly, I cannot see them putting paid to Tallow's hopes on Sunday. The latter should be better around and they are my confident choice to advance to the final.

THE BOYS OF DUNGARVAN

You may hear people talking and boasting a lot. Of their footballers trained and scientific, For long kicks and drop kicks and place kicks they got, And they also have one for the free kicks. But you'll find in Dungarvan some footballers grand, There're well known through the length and breadth of the land, You won't find their equals throughout Ireland, There fifteen little boys from Dungarvan.

Chorus
So listen awhile and you'll find that I'm right, Sure there is no use in talking about Dasher White, For when he gets the ball a green flag insight, For a goal for the Boys of Dungarvan.

Our full back is Lar Condon, you know him right well With whom no other chap can take turn, On his left is Jack Loughlin who plays the game well, On his right is that stone-wall Pat Byrne. At centre half back is Pat Condon so keen, Who sends the ball swiftly along to Pakeen, With whom no other chap in his place could have been, Since he joined with the boys from Dungarvan.

We have still to the fore, and I say it again, Of those young and athletic-like fellows, Who are able to fill up the places of men, When they dress in their green, white and yellow. We'll start with Pat Cashin, Billy Organ, the boy that comes from Abbeyside, And we'll leave to Fox Greaney the match to decide, For the boys from the town of Dungarvan.

Now listen awhile and you'll find that I'm right, Phil O'Donnell, Ned Carthy, they would you, delight, And the boys from the county they got a great fright, When they met with the Boys from Dungarvan. So listen once more to what I have to tell, Of Pa Fraher, John Cahill, Jim Barron as well, And the match that they played against the High School, Clonmel, Was the best ever seen in Dungarvan.

Now there's one yet omitted so far but you know, He was able to bear every storm — 'Tis the goalie I mean, though he looked a bit slow, He was sure to be always in form, He could beat off the forwards and then clear the way, Play the ball out the wing and look on at the play, And you might be sure of a good match the day, That you met with the boys of Dungarvan.

So here's health to them all, they are champions this year, The Tipp captain said we should have them up here, For they are the best that I have seen this year, And they come from the town of Dungarvan. (Composed by Mopnie Noonan (goalie),

Old Parish To Reach Western Final?

Nothing would satisfy followers of The Nire more than an Intermediate football championship victory over Old Parish and, needless to remind, visa versa. One can expect a very fast and exciting game between these two sides, on Sunday next, at Dungarvan's Fraher field, as both are not going to easily concede defeat after coming this far in the championship.

The Nire seem quite confident that they will take the honours on Sunday and they have reason to be. They cannot be far wrong with a defence that includes the two Jim Walls, and Kieran O'Ryan, and with inter-county man Mick Connolly at midfield. In form they can be unbeatable, but they do seem to have troubles in attack, and any falling in this sector could mean almost complete mastery for an Old Parish defence which is capable of standing up to the strongest pressure.

But what of Old Parish, probably the greatest batlers of all. They have prepared as never before for this clash with one of their arch rivals, and if the sides are close, scoringwise, entering the closing stages, then they will certainly be not found wanting on the score of fitness. They will field their strongest possible side, and P. Morrissey, M. Terry and M. J. Power will surely be included in the defence, as they have showed in the past that they are well capable of controlling any forward. Others who have played well in recent encounters in the defence for Old Parish are M. Mahoney, J. Terry and J. Dower, and no one can deny that with a defence like that any forwards will find it very hard to find the way towards goal.

But none the less, nothing is impregnable, and beware Old Parish, because The Nire have some fine players also, and a mistake from any side will certainly mean a score for the opposition.

Certain to be playing at midfield for Old Parish will be P. Flavin and undoubtedly he will be the man that the Nire will fear most of all. On his own this brilliant stylist has won many games for Old Parish and if he and T. Hallahan can control midfield, then Old Parish will have taken a major step towards winning.

It is almost definite that the Nire mentors will retain M. Wade at corner forward, following his great display recently. Also in the forward line will be H. O'Donnell, J. Leahy, M. Cronin and P. Terry. All of these men have seen action before and I am sure that they will be able to cope with any trouble they will encounter. And the very men to trouble them will undoubtedly be J. Ryan, J. Crotty and the veteran K. O'Ryan.

However, with all these factors taken into consideration, I feel compelled to give Old Parish the vote. They are sufficiently well equipped in attack to make use of any fair supply of the ball and run up a tally that could be enough to see them through. But the Nire will doggedly contest the issue to the very end and if they are to justify their role of favouritism, Old Parish could still prepare themselves for a mighty struggle.

Dungarvan Open League Campaign on Winning Note

Portlaw 2; Dungarvan 5
Dungarvan's opening game in the 2nd Div. league, played at Portlaw, on Sunday last, saw them gain a much easier than expected 5-2 win, at the expense of the homesters. In fact Dungarvan's win was every bit as meritorious as the score-line suggests and Portlaw were never really in this game with a chance once the visitors went ahead.

Dungarvan were 2-0 ahead at the break thanks to an own goal and a great goal by centre forward Michael Donnelly. Portlaw did come more strongly into it after the change of ends, but Dungarvan weathered the storm successfully, and further goals by Liam Simms (2) and Jackie Sandford put them into an unassailable lead. In between these efforts, Portlaw scored twice, but the scores were of no consequence and Dungarvan ran out comfortable winners.

Best for Dungarvan in defence were Martin Sandford and Jimmy Healy, while Jackie Sandford was the pick of the forwards.

Dungarvan: J. Clancy; T. Moun, M. Sandford, J. Walsh; Mooney, J. Healy; T. Moun, L. Simms, L. Frazer, M.

Donnelly, J. Sandford, M. Sheridan, Res., L. Lincoln.

Dungarvan Youths Unimpressive Win

Portlaw 2; Dungarvan 4
Dungarvan's Youths side gave a very poor performance when at Portlaw, on Sunday last they defeated the homesters 4-2. This was their first outing in the current league, and while they can be satisfied with collecting both points, nevertheless this Dungarvan display can only be described as disappointing, and if they harbour any hopes of retaining this league title, which they won last year, then a vast improvement in standards will be necessary.

Hero of the Dungarvan side was undoubtedly Michael Connors, who was making his debut with the side and celebrated the occasion by scoring a great hat-trick. The fourth goal came from Anselm Hayes, when converting a free kick from just outside the area.

Liam Sandford and Hayes were best in defence, while Connors got god support up front from Pat Morrissey.

Dungarvan: M. Geoghegan; L. Sandford, J. Walsh, A. Hayes, M. Lennon, J. Houlihan; M. Connors, M. O'Keefe, P. Brett, P. Morrissey, J. O'Donnell, Res., M. Monahan.

Affane Awarded Senior Football Match

THERE was a sequel to the unfinished senior football championship replay between Affane and Brickey Rangers, at a special meeting of the Co. Board at Dungarvan on Monday night. A Brickey players was suspended for two months and both clubs will forfeit their share of the gate. The game finished seven minutes from time with Affane leading 1-10 to 0-0.

The referee (Mr. V. Mulligan) in his report said he ordered Jack Cooney (Brickey Rangers) off the field for hitting another player, and when he went to resume the game a general melee had started. He saw that two non-players had joined the melee, one of them being the "centre of attraction." Failing to restart the game he decided to call off the game.

The referee's report was then adopted. Regarding Jack Cooney, Mr. S. O'Brien proposed that he be suspended for two months. This was seconded by Mr. T. Drummy and passed.

The Chairman, Mr. Pat Fanning, asked if either of the two teams had anything to say in reference to the cause of the melee.

Mr. D. McGrath (Affane's spokesman) said that he was an official of the Affane team and that he saw two men trying to separate the players but they were not successful. The captain of the Affane team said that he had not accosted in any way and anyway a team leading by ten points with only a few minutes left to play.

GAELS OF THE PAST

JACK "LUGS" LOUGHLIN, DUNGARVAN
"Lugs" an outstanding footballer with a local team known as The Minors, who played many memorable games with The Wasps. He first came into prominence around 1910 and was on the Dungarvan team that won the 1920 Junior football title, defeating Tramore in the final.

The same year he played on the Dungarvan senior team and continued to figure prominently on that club's premier side for a number of further years. He also represented his native county on several occasions. As a wing back he had few equals. A grand ball player with either foot he was very elusive and speedy. My outstanding memory of Lugs was playing against Cork in a minor football championship game in the Cork Athletic Grounds in 1923, when his brilliant performance made him unquestionably the star of the game. Fittingly he received a great ovation at the end, even though Waterford were narrowly defeated. He emigrated to the United States in the Mid Twenties and was a great loss to the game in his active town and county. MICK MORRISSEY (London) probably finally lost patience with what he had seen up to that.

The Chairman said that the circumstances would rule out the refixture of the game.

Mr. M. Flynn (Stradbally) thought that if the game had gone one, the Brickeys Brickeys would not have won anyway.

Mr. Denis McGrath said that he went on the field to assist an injured player and for no other reason.

Mr. McGrath said that a non-player accosted P. Donnelly while he was trying to make the peace and his only intention was to separate the players. While attempting to do this he was kicked in the chest and knocked to the ground. He did not know who had kicked him at the time but was later told that it was A. Prendergast. Prendergast denied that he had kicked Donnelly at all.

In reply to this the Chairman said that both teams should be censured in some way and he decided to withhold their financial share of the gate.

Mr. N. McGrath said that this would not be fair as the Brickeys were in no way responsible for the trouble and that they did their utmost to get the game restarted.

The Chairman said this kind of carry-on cannot be tolerated and the innocent (whoever they may be) must suffer as well as the guilty.

Mr. Ned Power said that the referee's job was a thankless one and that at least the two clubs could say 'I'm sorry.'

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir,
It was indeed great to meet old opponent Mick Morrissey as he spent a well earned holiday in the Old Village recently.

We again argued the pros and cons of the Lord Dugan / Jack Bumster controversy, and as both of us fought for our own man, we could not reach a satisfactory conclusion, so we

LIZ WINS 2nd TAILTEANN GOLD MEDAL

In the seventh Annual Willwood Junior Tailteann games at Belfield, on Saturday last, Elizabeth Mountain, Grattan Square, Dungarvan, won her second Tailteann gold medal.

Running against a top-class field (which included the famous N. Bove of Thurles) she won in most convincing fashion and her time for the 880 yds. was a creditable 2 min. 29.4 secs. C. Cotter (Douglas) and N. Bove took the minor placings.

This indeed was another great win for Elizabeth and we wish her many more successes in the future.

Elizabeth is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Mountain, Grattan Square.

agreed to differ on the subject.

Then we had a stroll down memory-lane, and what great days we recalled, playing matches in the Old Hall, or down in the Mangols, or against Shandon in the Gardens.

It was there that great hurlers like the Goodes, the Houlihan, the Noonans, the Murphys, Jimmy Dwyer, Christy Moylan, Jada Power, etc., and many other names too numerous to mention, learned hurling the hard way. Half of the 1920 minor All-Ireland team served their apprenticeship there.

Timmy Morrissey played us on to the field with his mouth organ and the badge pinned on your jersey told whether you were Sean Og Murphy, Martin Kennedy, Phil Cahill, Tom Hurley or one other of our idols of that era.

Yes, Paddy Buckley was a great forward that time, but we think that John Cripps had the edge on him, as he was more deadly around the Square.

Incidentally, Paddy played with the great Waterford team in America later and John Cripps won County honours with the old Eire Og team.

Yours truly,
— OLD BOROUGH GAEL

DUNGARVAN ENTERTAIN "RED STAR"

Dungarvan soccer club has its first home game of the new season when their 3rd Div. side entertain Red Star in the league. Though the homesters obviously will be all out to make a winning start to the season, and have trained diligently for the past month, nevertheless, it is impossible to assuage form for this tie as Red Star are a new combination from Waterford City and the make up of the personnel is unknown.

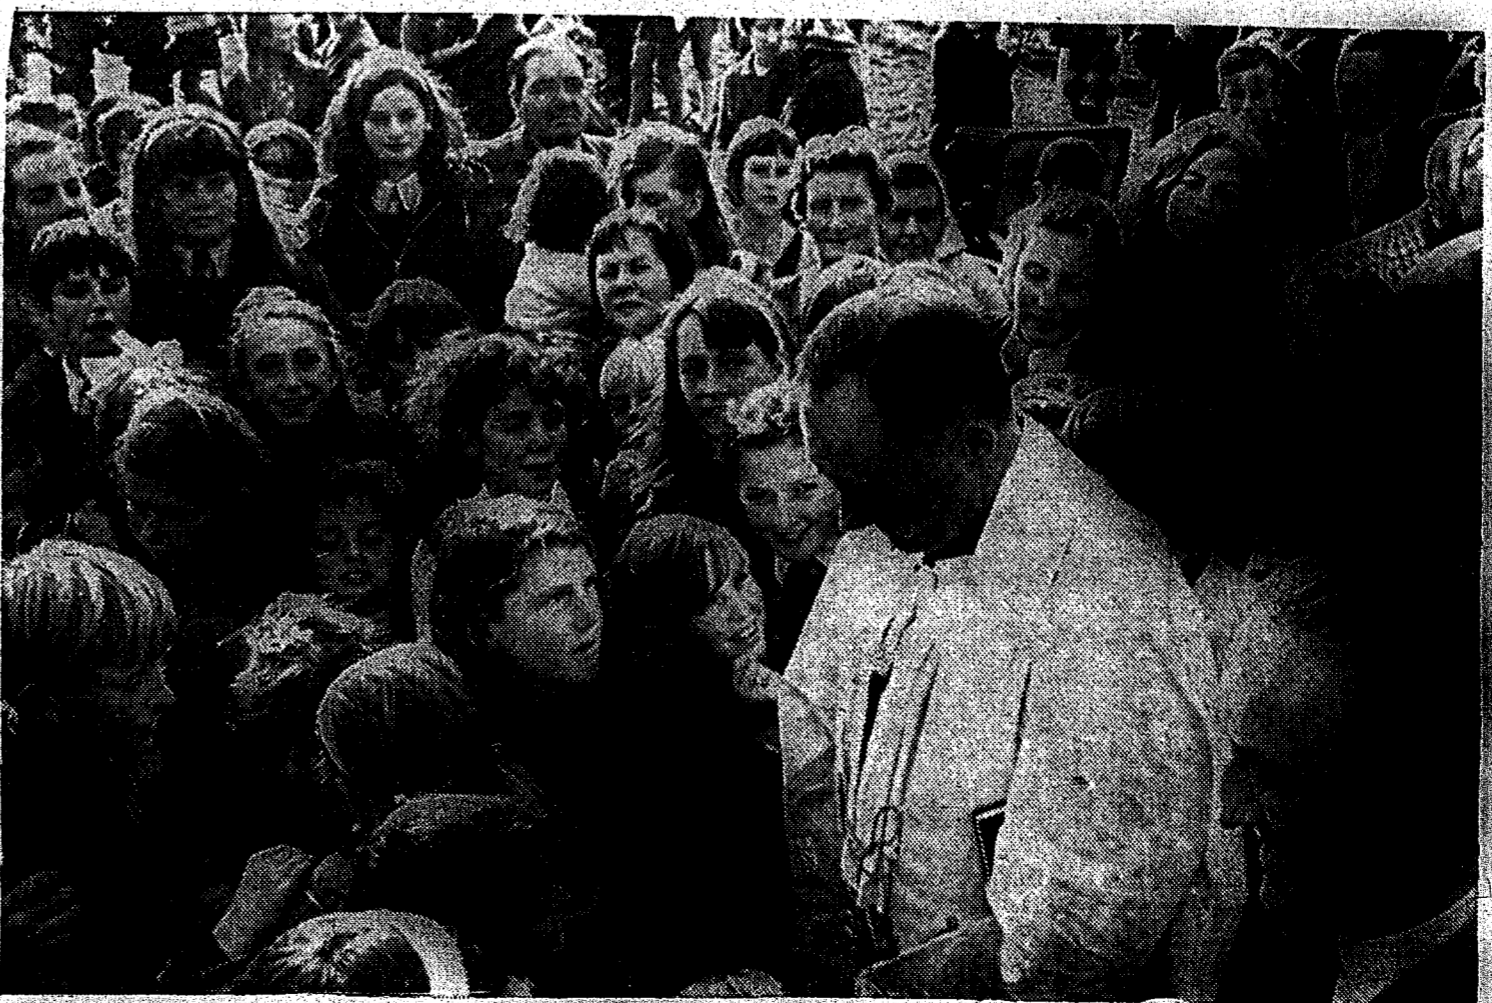

But at least Dungarvan have the advantage of home venue and this should prove helpful in at least helping the side to settle down early on. This may prove important to the homesters as the sides shows many changes from last season and it may prove tricky trying to get the side into some cohesive form. But, nevertheless, the side are confident of making a winning start to the new season and will not falter for the want of endeavour.

A great addition to Dungarvan this year will be the inclusion of Billy Kyne who is a top class defender in any company and the only surprise is why he has not been snapped up by the 2nd Div. side mentors. Up front the side should be further improved with the inclusion of John Michael Dugan and Johnny Lynch, both of whom played on last year's 2nd Div. side.

The kick-off is at 3.30 p.m.
