

PARLIAMENT.

HOUSE OF LORDS—THURSDAY, JAN. 31. The House met, and prayers were concluded...

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 31. The Sheriff of London appeared at the Bar of the House...

REGENCY BILL.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer moved the order of the day for taking into consideration the amendments...

NOTICE.

Mr. Whitbread said, he still retained his opinion of not only the inefficiency of this whole measure, but of the mischievous consequences which would result from it...

HOUSE OF COMMONS, FEBRUARY 1.

Mr. Whitbread rose, and seeing the Chancellor of the Exchequer in his place, begged leave to state a fact which had come to his knowledge since the last sitting of the House...

THANKS OF THE HOUSE.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer moved the thanks of the House to the Rev. Charles Proby, for the sermon he preached yesterday before the two Houses...

PRIVATE PETITIONS.

The Speaker informed the House, that as it was now the last day for receiving private petitions, he would be at the House at a quarter-past three o'clock...

HOUSE OF LORDS—FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1.

REGENCY BILL. Mr. Linn and others brought up the Regency Bill to the Commons, and stated that they had agreed to the amendments made by their Lordships...

Should be enabled to fix the Great Seal to the Regency Bill just brought up to their Lordships in the Commons...

The Earl of Rosslyn observed, that there might be remarks made on some points of the Commission which might lead to conversation, and expressed a wish to understand more clearly the Noble Lord's intention...

Lord Ellenborough wished to know, in what sense he was to consider what might be said as a discussion which should be adjourned.

The Commission was ordered to sit on the 2nd inst. Adjourned.

Mr. Whitbread rose, and seeing the Chancellor of the Exchequer in his place, begged leave to state a fact which had come to his knowledge since the last sitting of the House...

Mr. Whitbread said, he apprehended the Right Hon. Gentleman to state that the King's Signature was obtained to those warrants in the ordinary course of proceedings...

The Chancellor of the Exchequer submitted to the Right Hon. Gentleman, that it would, perhaps, be more convenient if he would submit his motion to the House on a future day.

THE ELIZABETH.

The subjoined account contains some further particulars of the loss of the Elizabeth, and the treatment of the 22 persons who were saved...

holder of the crew of that vessel, who were confined in the goal at Dunkirk. We have conveyed with one of the Officers, who is just arrived in a cutter, along with Captain Entwick, and the rest of the ship's company...

Arguelles seconded the motion. He said that it was necessary to take this subject into the most mature consideration; that Bonaparte had professed the life of Ferdinand VII. of his brother, and he felt, for those reasons, that he was generally concerned that he did so for the purpose of introducing a division of interests into Spain...

It is already known that all those perished who remained on board the Elizabeth, after the boat put off with the formerly named survivors...

On Saturday last, the day before the release of the British prisoners, a most gallant affair was witnessed in the roads of Dunkirk. A British brig of war, doffing in clove to the pier and under the French batteries, cut out from thence a French transport laden with naval stores, bound from Boulogne to Flushing...

LONDON.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1. "Windsor Castle, Feb. 1. "His Majesty is in the same state as yesterday." (Signed as usual.)

The Norge is arrived with dispatches from Cadix, which she left on the 9th ult. The dispatches, which are of the 3d, contain no particular information. Every thing was quiet to that place. Detachments from the besieging army had taken place, but their direction had not been ascertained. These detachments were estimated at about eleven battalions...

Letters received from an officer of our advanced pickets before Santarem state, that on the 7th or 8th inst. Drouot joined Massena with reinforcements from 13,000 to 14,000 men. These letters are dated as late as the 14th inst. Mutual exchanges of compliments took place between the advanced detachments, who are forbidden to fire at each other. It was strongly reported in the British camp that the French army before Cadix had raised the siege, and were on their march to join Massena, and that the British garrison at Cadix were preparing to embark to join Lord Wellington in Portugal...

THE ELIZABETH.

Marshall Macdonald has been recalled from the command of the French troops, and a few days after his arrival at Gerona, set out for France. Bonaparte felt but little satisfied with the results of his operations, which, in reality, have not been more fortunate than those of his predecessor Augereau, and has given the command to his brother in law, Prince Doyglette. The first care of the new General was to send a convoy to the fortresses of Catalonia, in which he has employed all the fresh reinforcements...

tioned. It is said, however, to have had the effect of preventing the enemy from continuing their operations with their usual vigour.

All acts and treaties made by Kings of Spain in a state of captivity, and prejudicial to the nation, shall be declared null and void.

Arguelles seconded the motion. He said that it was necessary to take this subject into the most mature consideration; that Bonaparte had professed the life of Ferdinand VII. of his brother, and he felt, for those reasons, that he was generally concerned that he did so for the purpose of introducing a division of interests into Spain...

On Saturday last, the day before the release of the British prisoners, a most gallant affair was witnessed in the roads of Dunkirk. A British brig of war, doffing in clove to the pier and under the French batteries, cut out from thence a French transport laden with naval stores, bound from Boulogne to Flushing...

LONDON.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1. "Windsor Castle, Feb. 1. "His Majesty is in the same state as yesterday." (Signed as usual.)

The Norge is arrived with dispatches from Cadix, which she left on the 9th ult. The dispatches, which are of the 3d, contain no particular information. Every thing was quiet to that place. Detachments from the besieging army had taken place, but their direction had not been ascertained. These detachments were estimated at about eleven battalions...

Letters received from an officer of our advanced pickets before Santarem state, that on the 7th or 8th inst. Drouot joined Massena with reinforcements from 13,000 to 14,000 men. These letters are dated as late as the 14th inst. Mutual exchanges of compliments took place between the advanced detachments, who are forbidden to fire at each other. It was strongly reported in the British camp that the French army before Cadix had raised the siege, and were on their march to join Massena, and that the British garrison at Cadix were preparing to embark to join Lord Wellington in Portugal...

THE ELIZABETH.

Marshall Macdonald has been recalled from the command of the French troops, and a few days after his arrival at Gerona, set out for France. Bonaparte felt but little satisfied with the results of his operations, which, in reality, have not been more fortunate than those of his predecessor Augereau, and has given the command to his brother in law, Prince Doyglette. The first care of the new General was to send a convoy to the fortresses of Catalonia, in which he has employed all the fresh reinforcements...

tioned. It is said, however, to have had the effect of preventing the enemy from continuing their operations with their usual vigour.

All acts and treaties made by Kings of Spain in a state of captivity, and prejudicial to the nation, shall be declared null and void.

Arguelles seconded the motion. He said that it was necessary to take this subject into the most mature consideration; that Bonaparte had professed the life of Ferdinand VII. of his brother, and he felt, for those reasons, that he was generally concerned that he did so for the purpose of introducing a division of interests into Spain...

On Saturday last, the day before the release of the British prisoners, a most gallant affair was witnessed in the roads of Dunkirk. A British brig of war, doffing in clove to the pier and under the French batteries, cut out from thence a French transport laden with naval stores, bound from Boulogne to Flushing...

LONDON.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1. "Windsor Castle, Feb. 1. "His Majesty is in the same state as yesterday." (Signed as usual.)

The Norge is arrived with dispatches from Cadix, which she left on the 9th ult. The dispatches, which are of the 3d, contain no particular information. Every thing was quiet to that place. Detachments from the besieging army had taken place, but their direction had not been ascertained. These detachments were estimated at about eleven battalions...

Letters received from an officer of our advanced pickets before Santarem state, that on the 7th or 8th inst. Drouot joined Massena with reinforcements from 13,000 to 14,000 men. These letters are dated as late as the 14th inst. Mutual exchanges of compliments took place between the advanced detachments, who are forbidden to fire at each other. It was strongly reported in the British camp that the French army before Cadix had raised the siege, and were on their march to join Massena, and that the British garrison at Cadix were preparing to embark to join Lord Wellington in Portugal...

THE ELIZABETH.

Marshall Macdonald has been recalled from the command of the French troops, and a few days after his arrival at Gerona, set out for France. Bonaparte felt but little satisfied with the results of his operations, which, in reality, have not been more fortunate than those of his predecessor Augereau, and has given the command to his brother in law, Prince Doyglette. The first care of the new General was to send a convoy to the fortresses of Catalonia, in which he has employed all the fresh reinforcements...

tioned. It is said, however, to have had the effect of preventing the enemy from continuing their operations with their usual vigour.

All acts and treaties made by Kings of Spain in a state of captivity, and prejudicial to the nation, shall be declared null and void.

Arguelles seconded the motion. He said that it was necessary to take this subject into the most mature consideration; that Bonaparte had professed the life of Ferdinand VII. of his brother, and he felt, for those reasons, that he was generally concerned that he did so for the purpose of introducing a division of interests into Spain...

On Saturday last, the day before the release of the British prisoners, a most gallant affair was witnessed in the roads of Dunkirk. A British brig of war, doffing in clove to the pier and under the French batteries, cut out from thence a French transport laden with naval stores, bound from Boulogne to Flushing...

LONDON.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1. "Windsor Castle, Feb. 1. "His Majesty is in the same state as yesterday." (Signed as usual.)

The Norge is arrived with dispatches from Cadix, which she left on the 9th ult. The dispatches, which are of the 3d, contain no particular information. Every thing was quiet to that place. Detachments from the besieging army had taken place, but their direction had not been ascertained. These detachments were estimated at about eleven battalions...

Letters received from an officer of our advanced pickets before Santarem state, that on the 7th or 8th inst. Drouot joined Massena with reinforcements from 13,000 to 14,000 men. These letters are dated as late as the 14th inst. Mutual exchanges of compliments took place between the advanced detachments, who are forbidden to fire at each other. It was strongly reported in the British camp that the French army before Cadix had raised the siege, and were on their march to join Massena, and that the British garrison at Cadix were preparing to embark to join Lord Wellington in Portugal...

THE ELIZABETH.

Marshall Macdonald has been recalled from the command of the French troops, and a few days after his arrival at Gerona, set out for France. Bonaparte felt but little satisfied with the results of his operations, which, in reality, have not been more fortunate than those of his predecessor Augereau, and has given the command to his brother in law, Prince Doyglette. The first care of the new General was to send a convoy to the fortresses of Catalonia, in which he has employed all the fresh reinforcements...

tioned. It is said, however, to have had the effect of preventing the enemy from continuing their operations with their usual vigour.

All acts and treaties made by Kings of Spain in a state of captivity, and prejudicial to the nation, shall be declared null and void.

Arguelles seconded the motion. He said that it was necessary to take this subject into the most mature consideration; that Bonaparte had professed the life of Ferdinand VII. of his brother, and he felt, for those reasons, that he was generally concerned that he did so for the purpose of introducing a division of interests into Spain...

On Saturday last, the day before the release of the British prisoners, a most gallant affair was witnessed in the roads of Dunkirk. A British brig of war, doffing in clove to the pier and under the French batteries, cut out from thence a French transport laden with naval stores, bound from Boulogne to Flushing...

LONDON.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1. "Windsor Castle, Feb. 1. "His Majesty is in the same state as yesterday." (Signed as usual.)

The Norge is arrived with dispatches from Cadix, which she left on the 9th ult. The dispatches, which are of the 3d, contain no particular information. Every thing was quiet to that place. Detachments from the besieging army had taken place, but their direction had not been ascertained. These detachments were estimated at about eleven battalions...

Letters received from an officer of our advanced pickets before Santarem state, that on the 7th or 8th inst. Drouot joined Massena with reinforcements from 13,000 to 14,000 men. These letters are dated as late as the 14th inst. Mutual exchanges of compliments took place between the advanced detachments, who are forbidden to fire at each other. It was strongly reported in the British camp that the French army before Cadix had raised the siege, and were on their march to join Massena, and that the British garrison at Cadix were preparing to embark to join Lord Wellington in Portugal...

THE ELIZABETH.

Marshall Macdonald has been recalled from the command of the French troops, and a few days after his arrival at Gerona, set out for France. Bonaparte felt but little satisfied with the results of his operations, which, in reality, have not been more fortunate than those of his predecessor Augereau, and has given the command to his brother in law, Prince Doyglette. The first care of the new General was to send a convoy to the fortresses of Catalonia, in which he has employed all the fresh reinforcements...

where they found a band of about 1200 men, with which the villain effected their escape. While they were up stairs Mrs. Walth ran out to the balcony to alarm the neighbourhood, and was perceived by the three men who remained below. There were in the house when the fellows entered it only three females and Mr. M. Walth, an Irish old man incapable of making the least resistance. There were two guns more in the parlour which they did not get or look for.

A very atrocious attack was made upon the vessel on Saturday morning. A man wrapped up in a great coat, passed the sentinel at that hour, and having given the customary reply to the sentinel's challenge, and passed on a few paces, turned back, suddenly about and discharged a pistol at him, which unfortunately wounded him level in the foot, a little below the ankle. The vessel immediately left, and the assassin fled. Whiffled down, however, the soldier loaded his piece and fired in the direction which the villain had taken, but unluckily without effect. As soon as this daring outrage was communicated to the Sheriff, a pursuit was commenced with the most laudable promptitude after the offender, upon however very little intelligence, carefully picked up, of his country. It was therefore fruitless—he escaped for the present.

MARRIAGES.—Last week in this City, Mr. George Bell to Miss Ellen Bonker, of Newgrove, County of Meath; Philip Reilly, Esq. to Miss Dolan, Esq.—at Clonsilla; Lieutenant Thomas Moore, of the 83rd Regiment, to Miss Price, youngest daughter of Thomas Price, Esq. of Ardmore, near Cashel—By Special Licence, John Flood, of Flood-hill, County of Kilkenny, Esq. to Sarah, eldest daughter of the Right Hon. the Attorney General of Ireland—On Tuesday evening, Mr. Patrick Walsh, Esq.—at Ballybricken, to Miss Margaret Barron, of Broad-street.

DEATHS.—Last week in this City, Mrs. Dobbin, relict of the late A. Dobbin, Esq. Attorney—Lately at Bath, deeply and severely lamented, Mrs. Bowers, Widow of the late Mansell Bowers, Esq. County of Kilkenny—On the 25th of January, at Bath, in the 65th year of his age, Colonel Robert Brook, late Governor of St. Helena, aged 60, William Moore, Esq. of Galway, and formerly of Dublin—At her house in Harley-street, London, the Right Hon. Lady Elizabeth Lee, daughter of Simon, Earl of Harcourt, and relict of Sir W. Lee, Bart.—John Lloyd, Esq. of Lombard-street, London, Banker—In Cork, the advanced age of 92, Mr. William Butterfield—In Cork, Mrs. Ingram, widow of the late James Ingram, Esq.—At Limerick, on Tuesday last, in Kilkenny, Mrs. B. Brown, eldest daughter of the late Joseph Brown of Carr, County of Kilkenny, Esq.—At Limerick, the Countess Ponsonby, at the seat of the Earl of Forster, in Somersetshire—On Tuesday morning, Mrs. O'Neill, relict of the late Mr. Andrew O'Neill, of this City. This truly respectable woman, every Christian woman could count herself proud to be the friend and friend of her friends—enemies she could have none.

WATERFORD PORT-NEWS.

ARRIVED. 3d—St. John, Gunter & Dunne, Thomas, ballast; 4th—Mary Alice, of and from Bristol and Cork; John Waggott, Merchants' goods; Volunteer of Dromedary, Fenwick, St. John's (Newfoundland), and Cork; Fish and passengers, for Passage and Row; Eleanor of Holyhead; William, Youghal, out for Liverpool; Economy, of Southampton, Sutton, Youghal, provisions, &c. Jersey. 5th—Earl Leicester Packet.

DEPARTED. 3d—Mary, Liverpool, Dublin and return; Camden Packet, Nantall; David, Lisbon, Wilkeson, four bread, and fish; Sarah, from Cardiff, Pettit, coals, for Waterford; Caliste of Boston, Lembed, timber, seed, plank, &c. for Dublin; Lockard, Liverpool, M'Pherson, out; Samuel Peckers, &c.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, AT THE EXCHANGE, AT ONE O'CLOCK, ON THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1811. ONE HUNDRED TONS LISBON SALT. Waterford, Feb. 2d, 1811.

STATE LOTTERY, TO BE DRAWN ALL IN ONE DAY, ON THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1811. ARTHUR BIRME has now for Sale, at his Lottery Office, in the Strand, TICKETS and SHARES, considerably lower than in the two last Lotteries, and has more approved of, an early Purchase is recommended to those who mean to be Adventurers, as there is every reason to believe, an advance in Price will certainly take place. WATERFORD, Feb. 25, 1811.

Waterford Chronicle.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1. Soon after our paper of Tuesday was published, the English Journals of the 1st and 2d arrived from

Waterford Chronicle.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1. The Dublin Correspondent contains extracts from Monticelli to the date of the 28th ult.; but they do