NEW YORK, APRIL 4.—BILL FOR THE PREVENTION AND RELIEF OF POVERTY.—With more than ordinary solicitude we entreat the reader's serious attention to the following well drawn Bill, now before the Legislature of this State, for their deliberation and decision before the Session closes:—

With those things that follow in the train of wealth, at the expense of the comforts, and even at the hazard of the subsistence of the lower orders of society. Even the soil, the common parent of sustenance to all, is so shackled by the artificial ingenuity of cunningly devised laws, among which are the laws of entailment and primogeniture, as to repress the ambition of the lower classes, and render it nearly impossible for them to become its proprietors, or to partake proportionably of its benefits.

plained of; and they are confined in the opinion, not only by their own deliberations, but by the concurrent judgment of those with whom they confedered. Other States have adopted this mode with every prospect of favourable results; and it is believed that there is no object of public concern so necessary to be fully investigated, and to that end, to be specially confided to the charge of a judicious citizen, as the subject of pauperism.

The Acts, and the experience of the late war has fully demonstrated the necessity of such a force, by teaching us the facility with which the enemy could blockade a large portion of our coast, with a single ship of the line.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT. HOUSE OF LORDS—TUESDAY, MAY 21. Lord Normanby, Mr. Joseph Pitt, Mr. Bruce, Sir James Graham, and other Members of the House of Commons, brought up the Malt Duties Repeat (Ireland) Bill, and four private Bills, which were severally read a first time.
