

SOCIETY FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF IRELAND.

On Tuesday there was a meeting of the members of this Society held at the Royal Exchange...

Mr. J. D. Latouche said, I believe you are all aware that I attended the last day of your meeting...

The Chairman said that he considered that the Society now resumed the debate which had been discontinued on the last day of meeting.

A desultory debate here took place as to whether Mr. Latouche should proceed or not.

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—I should feel rather awkward in moving the resolution of Mr. Gratian...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

prevent the people from pronouncing their sentiments in a more legitimate way.

Mr. J. D. Latouche said, I believe you are all aware that I attended the last day of your meeting...

The Chairman said that he considered that the Society now resumed the debate which had been discontinued on the last day of meeting.

A desultory debate here took place as to whether Mr. Latouche should proceed or not.

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

tion there were 390,000 raised by lottery, and there were five shillings a pound on the offices of advocates.

Mr. J. D. Latouche said, I believe you are all aware that I attended the last day of your meeting...

The Chairman said that he considered that the Society now resumed the debate which had been discontinued on the last day of meeting.

A desultory debate here took place as to whether Mr. Latouche should proceed or not.

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

that the second is brought into cultivation; and the rest of the best land is exactly in proportion to the difference between the first and second...

Mr. J. D. Latouche said, I believe you are all aware that I attended the last day of your meeting...

The Chairman said that he considered that the Society now resumed the debate which had been discontinued on the last day of meeting.

A desultory debate here took place as to whether Mr. Latouche should proceed or not.

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

Mr. J. D. Latouche—It would be a most unfortunate thing for this Society, and for the public at large...

Mr. O'Connell said that he considered that the Society should adhere to its original objects...

By accounts received of our allies on the 31st of July last, from Ceylon, the Service Company of the 20th Regiment were then in good health, having only eleven men in hospital.

The Depot of the 8th Regiment, under Lieutenant Colonel Rowan, were inspected at Arrah a few days back, by Major General Thornton, and he was pleased to express himself highly pleased with their movements and interior economy.

A General Court Martial is ordered to assemble at Bellary.

The new mode contemplated for the regulation and reduction of the army, will embrace among other things the formation of Veteran Battalions, as heretofore.

The first accounts from the Swan River were received in London on Monday, they are most disastrous; the settlers had suffered severely from deluges of rain and the destruction of stock.

The first accounts from the Swan River were received in London on Monday, they are most disastrous; the settlers had suffered severely from deluges of rain and the destruction of stock.

The first accounts from the Swan River were received in London on Monday, they are most disastrous; the settlers had suffered severely from deluges of rain and the destruction of stock.

The first accounts from the Swan River were received in London on Monday, they are most disastrous; the settlers had suffered severely from deluges of rain and the destruction of stock.

The first accounts from the Swan River were received in London on Monday, they are most disastrous; the settlers had suffered severely from deluges of rain and the destruction of stock.

The first accounts from the Swan River were received in London on Monday, they are most disastrous; the settlers had suffered severely from deluges of rain and the destruction of stock.

The first accounts from the Swan River were received in London on Monday, they are most disastrous; the settlers had suffered severely from deluges of rain and the destruction of stock.

The first accounts from the Swan River were received in London on Monday, they are most disastrous; the settlers had suffered severely from deluges of rain and the destruction of stock.

The first accounts from the Swan River were received in London on Monday, they are most disastrous; the settlers had suffered severely from deluges of rain and the destruction of stock.

The first accounts from the Swan River were received in London on Monday, they are most disastrous; the settlers had suffered severely from deluges of rain and the destruction of stock.

The first accounts from the Swan River were received in London on Monday, they are most disastrous; the settlers had suffered severely from deluges of rain and the destruction of stock.

The first accounts from the Swan River were received in London on Monday, they are most disastrous; the settlers had suffered severely from deluges of rain and the destruction of stock.

The first accounts from the Swan River were received in London on Monday, they are most disastrous; the settlers had suffered severely from deluges of rain and the destruction of stock.

The first accounts from the Swan River were received in London on Monday, they are most disastrous; the settlers had suffered severely from deluges of rain and the destruction of stock.

The first accounts from the Swan River were received in London on Monday, they are most disastrous; the settlers had suffered severely from deluges of rain and the destruction of stock.

MR. O'CONNOR

We poll the th Cloes—one of th Cloes, ever deliver It will be percip for ever all the li the Beresford part to delude those w know, on the bea bitterly annoyed O'Connell's spee unanswerable, an all the little arg have been either know also that i know has expresed perhaps, would n But this hope is j Beresford to ge not, in truth, muc solitude. The d day is distingui powerful reasonin language, and suc

the mind of every there were a prief ford party, ho w speech to his judg fort of those parti they can find th every present in th CITY O

The City is an anxiety for the most respectable have determined to devising the most with the County.

present in progr GANG OF ROE W Our readers at the suburbs of th Undercove, Bally Gardeworth, &c.

are fested with an infa much, that the fa country could not apprehension, to re many of them hav On last Friday nig a farmer, in tenar Georgetown, havin otherwise disgrac taking every artic carry away. Intir the fact, an active entire gang, were e early hour on Mu house in a small la in this City. The ted to gaol, under a Eq. The entire found in the house, other property, whic been obtained by re the remnant of th since headed by neighbourhood in a

The suppression of No doubt, gratifying and others who me roads in that part of

The following are committed by Mr A and McIlhenny, R the above robbery.

Committed to the Boate, Esq. Patrick a £50 Bank of Irela and a silver watch, fr Parks, Lismore. By Hely, Esq. Billia containing six shillings

Table with 2 columns: Waterford Market, and 2 columns of prices for various goods like Butter, Flour, etc.

PERPETUAL MOTION.—At a late sitting of the Paris Royal Academy of Sciences, some discussion Printed and Published for the Proprietor at the Office on the Quay.

Yearly—£2 3 0 To be paid in advance. Quarterly—12 0 0

