DUNGARVAN ELECTION.

The last intelligence from London is of painful importance—Mr. Jacob has been declared by the Committee not duly elected for the borough of Dungarvan, and the tool of the base, the corrupt, the tyrannical Whigs, has been afforded a tempo rary triumph—Temporary we call it, because the fruit which he imagines will reach is farther off than ever. We tell Mr. Pierce George Barron that he shall never be the representative of Dun garvan. Mr. Jacob has been disqualified—the unpr chaseable votes of the independent electors of Dun garvan have been declared void, and they themselves have been defied and insulted by the men who are now enga ging to trample this country in the dust. We will not say that the Committee hurried through the in quiry to prevent Mr. Jacob's vote on the Repeal division, they are too honest for that! our readers, however, may judge for themselves. But they shall have another day for this—and we now call on the brave and independent men of Dungarvan, to look speedily for a Repeal Candidate, a man who be is or where he may be found. Let Re peal, unqualified Repeal, be the only test—let them see that they know how to defeat the machinations of a party party, and above all, let them prove themselves deter mined to support the idle pretensions of the Whig Anti Repeal Candidate. Men of Dungarvan I you have an important duty to perform, and we know you will do it forbearingly—show yourselves as you are—your rights, and to frustrate the insidious attempts of your Whiggish persecutors.

Since writing the above we learn from the London Journal of Monday, that in consequence of the impos sibility to connect Mr. Jacob with the person who, it was sworn, had given the bribe, the election was merely de clared void, and Mr. Jacob at this moment is expelled, and we hope as willing, to stand forward for the suf frages of the people of Dungarvan, as he was previous to the last election. We shall return to this subject again.

THE LATE COURT MARTIAL ON LIEUTENANT

THE COURT MARTIAL ON LIEUTENANT MARMAL
The Court Martial which lately considered the evidence given in support of the charges against the pri soner, Lieutenant Alexander Alcock, of the royal ar my, his address, and the evidence he has adduced, is of opinion, that he is guilty of the first charge, with the exception of that part which states, that he "sho uld have been promoted to a higher rank, and that he in July last, appears that the other party to the left the country." The court is of opinion that the prisoner is guilty of the second charge.

The Court Martial also considered the evidence given in support of the charges against the witness, Lieut enant Alexander Alcock, of the royal army, he de clared his Majesty's service.

The court taking into its consideration the prisoner's services in the army, his having a large family, and his desolate situation, begs leave most respectfully, but firmly, to recommend him to his Majesty's gracious consideration.

I have to acquaint you that his Majesty was pleased to approve and confirm the finding and sentence of the court on the 17th inst.

In consideration, however, of the earnest recom mendation of the court, his Majesty was further pleased to extend his most gracious pardon to the prisoner.

NEWSPAPERS.
We have, since the 1st of April, the day on which the Clerks of the Roads ceased to deal in Newspapers, re ceived repeated complaints from subscribers of the in correctness of their Papers—these complaints came from persons who were formerly supplied through the Clerks of the Roads. In one instance, a Subscriber complains that he receives his Paper a day later than he used to do through the Clerks.

promised to lay it before his Majesty.—Courier.

COMMON PLEAS.—DUBLIN, TUESDAY.
Richard R. Roe, v. N. Malon.
The Chief Justice delivered the judgment of the Court in this case. He said he regretted that the many amicable arrangements attempted to be ef fected between the parties had failed of success.
He would not enter into a detailed notice of the points saved at the trial at Westford, as one only seemed to him to bear much weight—this re lative to notes and bonds. He was aware that the objection had been considered fatal by the Court of King's Bench, but the Chancellor entertain ed a different view of the case, and he (the Chief Justice) would not feel bound, even though sanctioned by the authority of the King's Bench, to change the settled rules of this Court, and give a decision which might open a way to consequences of the most prejudicial and dangerous nature.
The Court felt bound to rule for the defendant.

DEBATE ON REPEAL.

The great national question, or as it is else where designated, the endless discussion, is for the present drawing towards an end, and probably the next mail will be fraught with intelligence of the division. Our countrymen are already prepared for the fearful odds; they know the worst that can befall them, and are therefore beyond the reach of de feated hope; a long apprenticeship to suffering will enable them to bear the forthcoming issue, and show how practically they have been made acquainted with the algebra—bleased are they who expect nothing for the future—disappointed. Meantime in taking a review of the Irish members on this occasion, it is a pleasing occupation to cull the grain from the chaff—to separate the spirited and disinterested, from the heathless and the selfish—to look on those who in their country's sacred causes, and in defence of scorn and contumely glaring, on them from every side, and have bravely stood forward to do their duty, and to give the palm where merit points it due. Thursday and Friday's debate produced the eloquent exertions of Grattan, Sheil Rushmore, Barron, and Feargus O'Connor; their country and their constituents will not forget them on the day of trial, and even their own consciences, and the secret sa tisfaction of having pursued an upright course, will be a reward far superior to the hollow smiles, or tainted fa vors bestowed on the miserable trucklers to place and power. Of these latter we scarce know what to say; re proach is wasted on such characters, and indignation al ways to contempt; we speak not of enmities, but of and avowed; the stacks of such we expect and are able to rebut, but we speak of those who once were counted amongst the patriotic band; of those political jugglers who, after ascending to an eminence by means of popu lar influence, have no sooner gained the wished for point, than they kick aside the ladder by which they mounted, and straightway commence their insulting tricks in open defiance of all former promises and protestations, and none stands more con spicuous among the latter than the base political spo te—Henry Lambert. We pass by the furious invectives of Mr. Emerson Tennant; he told the House that it was agitation which helped to make him a conservative, and he compared the Repeal agitators to the Egyptian plagues—to the "gnat, and the worm, and the fly, and the creeping thing." The taste and feelings of Hon.
English Members will be best understood, when we tell our readers that this insolent, disgusting, and unnatural comparison of this political quack was received with long continued cheering. We give the speech of the Wexford representative, Mr. Lambert, and we do so be cause it affords a commentary upon itself, and is of a nature to supersede any strictures we could possibly make, in the minds of such as read it through—We read with delight the triumphant answer of Richard Sheil, and in no part of that admirable speech did we more fully coincide, than where he said that "violence of language, and a participation of prejudices were alone requisite to call down the enthusiastic plaudits of the house." That Sir R. Peel is a witty gentleman we must all confess; he can mechanically spit a long yarn as well as most people, and his effusions have commonly a reasonable sprinkling of attic salt, but really on Friday his merit was out of place, and his own sense should have told him that it was no time for badinage, as these "merry descants on a nation's woes" are not suited for the time. Mr. Feargus O'Connor has little need to mind his attempted ridicule, and where he spoke of legitimacy and the coronation of an Irish King, he merely suc ceeded (at least in Ireland) in crowing himself with im pertinence and folly.

DREADFUL VISITATION.

Last week a most melancholy and heart-rending scene occurred on board the Rose Macroom, while lying in the river at Ross, preparatory to her sailing for Quebec. A comfortable and respectable family who were on board, found to expatriate themselves from friends and country, found their eldest daughter, a most interesting and hand some young woman, suddenly bereft of her senses during the night of Friday last. Every effort that humanity and medical skill could effect was tried in vain, and this wretched and innocent creature remains a maniac. We have heard that this dire misfortune was caused by her separation from a young man with whom a mutual at tachment subsisted for some time previously. The dis consolate parents having no other alternative, under their then circumstances, proceeded to sea with their heart broken child.

EXECUTION.

Brien, the wretched murderer of Master Walter Breen, of Slade, in the county Wexford, who was tried and convicted at the last Spring Assizes, for the offence to be executed to-morrow, near the house of Mr.
Brien, the deceased's mother, where the melancholy deed was perpetrated. Our readers may recollect that a point of law was saved at the trial of the prisoner, by his counsel, at the Wexford Assizes, which was reserved for the decision of the twelve judges; they have, of course, decided against the prisoner.

THE NORA CREINA.

Owing to the great speed of the Nora Creina, Bristol steamer, which arrived here at seven o'clock yesterday morning, we were in possession of some of the London journals of Monday, shortly after her arrival. We again return the gentlemen connected with this vessel our best thanks, for the many favors bestowed on us on this as well as former occasions.

THE DUTCH FAIR.

We perceive by an advertisement in another column that Mr. Clarke has postponed the drawing of his lottery or Dutch Fair from this day, to Thursday, the 16th inst.
We are surprised to hear that this is owing to some of the tickets remaining unsold; from the elegance, variety, and value of the prizes, we anticipated the entire would have been disposed of some days before the day originally appointed for the drawing. In justice to their own taste, judgment, and discrimination, we would advise the gen tlemen of Waterford and neighboring towns—who mean not to let this opportunity pass without venturing in this really valuable and elegant lottery.

REPEAL.

The Whigs are sure of an overwhelming majority on the question of Repeal; yet that result does not promise to contribute much to their comfort. Spring Rice's cal culations have not dissipated the deep and spreading dis content of Ireland—nor have the invectives of the Times destroyed that influence which O'Connell's services to his native country have created.—True Sun of Monday.

payment of the assessed taxes.

FRANCE.
(FROM THE TIMES OF MONDAY.)
We have received the French papers of Saturday, and their contents are more than ordinarily interesting. The National Review, which we stated some days since that a treaty of alliance had been concluded between England, France, Spain, and the Government of Don Pedro, are the immediate expulsion of the two Pretenders, Don Miguel and Don Carlos, and for the pacifi cation of the Peninsula. This treaty, in its articles, was signed at London on the 20th of April, and is dated on Friday, and the Queen of Spain, under the guarantee of the two great Pow ers, to assign to Don Miguel and Don Carlos the provinces of the north of which shall be paid to them in the territories to which they shall choose to retire. These arrangements to be given on condition of their withdrawing voluntarily.

In case of refusal and resistance, a Spanish corps of troops, already prepared for the expedition, are to pass the frontier, while an English and French squadron are to act on the coast of Portugal, and land troops there if necessary.
All the questions relating to the succession in the Peninsula, which this treaty, by its articles, settles, and the triumph of the two Constitutional Governments, as secured by the treaty.
It remains to be seen, whether the alliance of the Powers of the South is approved by the Powers of the North, and in this case, the conditions relative to the internal Government have been imposed on the guarantors of the treaty, and the system of Gov ernment to be adopted, and the system of Government to be for the protection of the Powers who have signed the treaty.
The public mind in France appears to have undergone a con siderable change, in consequence of the late political events in Lyons, Paris, and elsewhere, throughout the Kingdom. The Cham bers continued, by vast majorities, to support the Ministry in all its demands; but it is becoming evident that the country had begun to regard its condition with a sobriety and gravity which portended another struggle for power, unless the system of Gov ernment should be changed. The intelligence from Lyons, re ceived in the French capital, contained to be of the most deplora ble character, for every fresh arrival from that city, to de velop the horrors of which that devoted city had recently been the theatre.

GERMANY.
The German papers received this morning state that active negotiations are on foot respecting Switzerland. An American corps set out on the 1st for Madrid, whose destination was said to relate to the Swiss affairs. A Russian courier had also been dispatched to Italy, and the diplomatic communications with that country appear to be more important.

EAST INDIES.
News have been received this morning in the city, from Cal cutta, of the failure of the great East India House of Creditors, for one million. We hear that this is the last of the great agency houses at Calcutta.

PARLIAMENTARY SUMMARY.

HOUSE OF COMMONS, MONDAY, APRIL 28.
In our preceding column will be found a complete report of the debate in the House of Commons, up to the adjournment of the house on Friday night.

THE DOCTRINE OF UNIONS.
At the early sitting on Monday, the Speaker, after several petitions had been presented, wished to take the sense of the house, whether the debate on the agricultural petition of last Friday, on the reception of petitions respecting the Dorchester Unionists, should be proceeded with.

After a few words from Mr. P. O'Connor, Mr. Home, and Mr. James, it was agreed to proceed with petitions relative to the Dorchester prisoners.

Several petitions from various parts of England were then presented by Mr. Hume, Mr. Warburton, Mr. Aglionby, Mr. S. Whalley, &c. relative to the alleged illegality of the sentence recently passed on the Dorchester prisoners. A long discussion ensued, pro and con, in which several hon. members, including Mr. O'Connell, took part, a full report of which we shall give in our next.

REPEAL OF THE UNION.

Lord Cole presented a petition against the repeal of the Union from Fermaghagh.
Mr. Emmerson Tennant presented three similar peti tions from baronies in the parishes of Ankleigh, Wicklow, in favour of a Repeal of the Union. The hon. member stated that they were numerously and respectably signed by all those of the industrious in the baronies.

Mr. P. O'Connor presented three petitions from the barony of Ballynash, in the county of Wick, in favour of a Repeal of the Union. The hon. member stated that they were numerously and respectably signed by all those of the industrious in the baronies.

ADJOURNED DEBATE.

On the order of the day for the resumption of the adjourned debate on the motion of Mr. O'Connell being read, Mr. D. Callaghan rose.—He was very sensible, he said, of his presumption in offering himself to the notice of the house, after so many able speeches that had been ad dressed to it; he was deeply conscious of his own inferior talents, but he felt that he had a duty to discharge, and he trusting that the resolution of his honorable friend (Mr.
O'Connell) was so framed as to preclude the possi bility of personality on the part of his opponents, but he was very sorry to perceive that the weight of the opposition was directed less against the motion than against the individual who brought it forward, and he politicly agitated, now prevalent in Ireland, he was sorry to see the right hon. secretary for the Treasury, so good tempered generally had fallen into that error which he is so often lectured upon committing, and he had delivered his personalities towards the hon. and learned member for Dublin, which were not at all war ranted by the circumstances of the case, or the terms of the motion; he (Mr. C.) remembered when his hono rable and learned friend, the gentleman for Dublin, was attached to a Repeal of the Union, he then hon. member for A. M. M., for his motion on the forty fourth of March, he (Mr. C.) remembered that he
