crime is guilty of "want of moral feeling." Doubtless the moral sense of Miss Edmunds was impaired, and that, probably, from "hereditary taint;" but there was no evidence to prove that she was so actually insane as to be unable to distinguish between right and wrong, and hence the verdict of the jury. In the case of the Rev. Mr. Watson the presumption of insanity rested on the want of adequate motive for the commission of the crime, and evidence was brought to show that his life had been most exemplary and his disposition most amiable and courteous. Was it likely, it was asked, that an amiable elderly gentleman, in whom the passions were cooled, and who lived on excellent terms with his wife all his life, would be guilty of an act of atrocity worthy of Bill Sykes, unless he was moved by a sudden breaking forth of insanity? Then, he was a studious man, who had lost his situation in the grammar school, after which a marked depression of spirits was observed in him, as he was thrown helplessly on the world in his old age. It is well known that there is a species of insanity called "melancholia," arising from depression, which renders the sufferer liable to sudden bursts of passion, which prevails him from controlling his actions; but this is only temporary. But, then, a clergyman deposed that Mrs. Watson was of a fretful disposition, and of so violent a temper that her husband found it almost impossible to live with her on account of her sudden bursts of rage. This would appear to have decided the jury. It is difficult, indeed, to decide on the responsibility of those who have the "hereditary taint," and therefore the law wisely deals with the actual presence of insanity, leaving the consideration of minor symptoms to be dealt with by public opinion through the Executive.

THE NATIONAL BANK

The general half-yearly meeting of the shareholders of the National Bank was held this day in London, and the result of the working of the Bank during that period gave unqualified satisfaction to the proprietors. We have carefully studied the half-yearly report, and it affords us much pleasure to publish it for the information of our readers. At a time when the money market is so tight, and when the Bank of England more than once raised its rate of discount, it is highly gratifying to find that the directors have been enabled to declare a dividend of nine per cent per annum for the past half-year. It must be borne in mind that at this season the Irish farmers draw to a large amount on the Bank, in order to enable them to purchase for spring farming operations. The National Bank has now fully acquired the confidence of the Irish people, and in fact it may be regarded as essentially an Irish institution. Its management is all that could be desired, and we have full confidence that it will increase in prosperity every year. Whatever faults Ireland may be guilty of she is thoroughly sound and honest in her banking systems, affording in this respect a striking contrast to the reckless gambling of the sister country. The directors of the National Bank are thorough business men, who leave nothing undone consistent with safety to increase the dividend of the shareholders.

ARRIVAL OF THE COAL FLEET.

During the past two months the coal vessels which supply the port of Waterford with fuel, were detained at the other side by storms and high winds. As the quantity of coals in store diminished, the price of this essential article increased till within the past week it ran up to the enormous amount of £2 and £2 5s a ton. Even at this price there was considerable difficulty experienced in obtaining fuel, and the poorer classes who had to buy it by the hundred weight were in a wretched condition, as this small quantity cost them, to them, extremely large sums of 2s 6d. In fact Waterford experienced a perfect coal famine, and prices were never known to be so high. On Sunday afternoon, however, the eyes of the citizens were gladdened by the arrival of some vessels laden with the precious commodity. Those were but the advanced guard of the fleet which arrived at various periods during the following day, to the number of about thirty, and never was a starving garrison more rejoiced at the arrival of a convoy than were the citizens at the sight of these dingy looking vessels. Their cargoes are being rapidly bought up or discharged, and already prices have materially diminished.

THE MAGISTRACY AND THE PRINCE OF WALES.

A requisition, we understand, being extensively signed by the magistrates of the county Waterford to call upon the Lord Lieutenant of the county, the Right Hon. Lord Stuart de Decies, to convene a meeting to pass resolutions congratulating the Queen, and the Princess of Wales on the happy recovery of the Prince of Wales from his recent dangerous illness. We are sure that the meeting will be largely attended.

A FUEL FUND.

NOTWITHSTANDING the arrival of the coal fleet, and the dropping in of occasional straggling colliers, the price of coals can hardly be expected to be reduced so low for some time as to affect the poorer classes of our fellow-citizens. The article, in the present weather quite as essential as food, may be brought down a few shillings in the ton; but that reduction will be imperceptible to those poor people who can only buy a hundred weight or less at a time. Under these circumstances, the Mayor has received more than one letter on the subject of establishing a fuel fund, to relieve the distress of the suffering humblest classes of our fellow-citizens. The Mayor, with the humanity which distinguishes him, has promptly responded, and is ready to convene a meeting on the subject. We publish his letter, and also one from Mr. Ryan, M.P., builder, and we trust that the proverbial charity of the citizens will at once adopt means to supply the poor with necessary fuel.

DE LA POER AND THE "HEAD"

We were much amused some days since at a scene which we witnessed in this "good city by the Suir." Directly before us, proceeding up Broad-street, and deeply impressed in the columns of the Freeman, was a member of the B.I.C., tall and slender, and covered with brading and gold lace, with harp and crown; and hurrying after him was one of the sovereign people, a well-known character, named "De la Poer," who would be mortally offended at being called "Power," "a name," as he contemptuously observes, "more common and vulgar than Smith, Brown, Jones, or even Robinson." De la Poer had evidently been recently quaffing from the cup that inebriates as well as cheers; and on overtaking the "head" he endeavoured, by sundry hems and haws, to attract his attention, but in vain; whereupon, with a humorous expression of countenance, he put his mouth close to the "head's" ear, and commenced whispering into it. Our curiosity was excited, and we drew near and listened. We heard him quote for the "Head's" edification some stirring passages from "The Songs of our Land," and, having recited the lines—

But meet him in his cabin rude, Or dancing with his dark-haired Mary; You'd swear they knew no other mood, Than love and mirth in Tipperary. he gravely remarked, expecting doubtless to be made a confidant of, "I wouldn't be surprised to hear that there is a certain Mary—some fair maid with rich wavy ringlets—with whom you would like to tread a measure." To this there was no response whatever—in fact, the person addressed never raised his eyes from off the newspaper, and to all appearance was utterly unconscious of Mr. De La Poer's presence. The latter now changed to a war-like strain:—

THE EDUCATION QUESTION.

We have been requested to again remind our readers that a meeting in favour of mixed, and opposed to Denominational Education, will be held in the Waterford Protestant Hall on Thursday evening next, when the chair will be taken by F. G. Bloomfield, Esq., J.P. Resolutions on the subject will be proposed, seconded, and spoken to by the Dean of Waterford, the Rev. A. Barrows, Rev. J. Donald, Rev. Mr. Owen, Rev. Mr. Kingsborough, and several other gentlemen. The subject of Education is occupying so large a share of public attention the meeting is expected to be largely attended.

THE WATERFORD YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION AND THE PRINCE OF WALES.

A short time ago, as we announced in these columns, the members of the above association held a meeting at which it was resolved that the following address should be presented to Her Majesty, congratulating her on the happy convalescence of the Prince of Wales:—

A JUVENILE PRISON-FANCIER "THWIPPED."

At the Waterford Police Court on Monday morning, before the Mayor (presiding), Ald. Jacob Capt. Brennan, and Ald. Reid, a little boy named Shea, eight or nine years of age, was put forward on a charge of having been found upon the roof of a house on Mr. Delandrea's premises, at Poleberry. From the evidence of a man named Tyler, and that of the police constable in charge of the case, it appeared that Shea had been detected upon the roof of a house adjacent to the pigeon-house. It is considered that the boys, the older of whom escaped, had been seized with a desire to make themselves the owners of some of Mr. Delandrea's fancy breed of pigeons. Nor is such an idea rendered less probable by the fact that two of the pigeons have disappeared. The Mayor responded to the charge by directing the boy to be committed to the juvenile delinquent, in forcible terms, the serious position in which his conduct had placed him. The magistrates would not proceed further with the matter, but if Mr. Delandrea persisted in prosecuting him, he would be brought before the Judge of Assize. Shea quitted the dock apparently much relieved.

A FEARFUL STORY OF THE SEA—ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-NINE DAYS ON A PIECE OF WRECK.

One of the most dismal stories on record is that in connection with the wreck of Shalehoff, which was found floating waterlogged near the Strand Islands a few weeks ago. The wreck was seen one morning by the look-out on board the steamship Moses Taylor, whilst on the voyage to Japan and San Francisco. A solitary man was taken off the wreck, the only survivor of her crew and passengers. He was the captain of the vessel, and although he was in the most exhausted condition he gave the following particulars of the disaster:—The Shalehoff sailed from San Francisco for Callao on the 22nd of June last with a cargo of timber, under the command of Captain Hooker. She had a crew consisting of five and twenty mates and six seamen, together with four passengers. The weather was rather rough at the first day there was a dead calm. On the third however, the ship was overtaken by heavy squalls, and the vessel was compelled to run under bare poles. The wind and the sea continued to increase, and it soon became evident that the ship was caught in a cyclone; and on the morning of the fourth instant she was on her beam ends, the sea was making a clear beach over her; and in order to keep her from foundering the masts were cut away, and the vessel partially righted. The cargo (seven decks in the meantime got loose, and carried away the skylights, wheel-house, companion way, and jammed up the entrance to the cabin. It was found that this was immovable and that it was impossible to get at either provisions or water; and the vessel soon filled with the sea. The stem, which was completely washed by every drop of rain, in this desperate condition, without food or drink, or control over their vessel, and out of the track of any probable passing sail, the unfortunate crew thought their case hopeless. They succeeded in getting a barrel of tongues, two half barrels of salmon, and a box of starch, but the water butts were stove in, and not a drop could be had from them. A sail was however, rigged in such a way as to catch some rain water. The cargo now began to press the deck and sides in under it, and it was feared that the vessel would go to pieces. The hawsers were got out and lashed around the entire hull of the ship, but though the crew were for a time safe from drowning, they were tormented by thirst, and it was in vain the Captain begged them not to drink salt water. They however drank it; great boils burst out all over their bodies; they were attacked with dysentery, and soon after every man died in agony. It was not until the 17th of October, nearly four months from the time the Shalehoff was thrown on her beam ends that the last survivor, except the captain, died. After his death the captain gave up all hopes, and lay down. Nine days after this he was picked up in an insensible condition by the Moses Taylor.

PROPOSED COAL FUND.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE WATERFORD CHRONICLE. DEAR SIR—In this very inclement season, and with coals at a price which puts that essential article out of reach almost of all, but the rich, the sufferings of the poor must be great indeed; and to somewhat alleviate their sufferings many of my fellow-citizens have suggested to me that it would be most desirable a coal fund should be got up for the purpose of distributing through the city as early as possible as many tons of that article as the fund would permit. Amongst others, I received the following letter, which I have obtained permission to publish; and if the suggestion should meet with public approval, I shall be happy to act as treasurer, and to call together the subscribers at an early day as possible, to devise the best course to be adopted. I remain, dear sir, yours sincerely, JAMES SCOTT, Mayor of Waterford.

THE REV. GEORGE PHAIR ON "CHURCH CHOIRS."

Sir—As you published several letters lately in reference to Waterford Protestant Cathedral, and its choral responsibilities, allow me to say a few words with regard to some extraordinary statements made by the Dean's curate, the Rev. Mr. Phair, on Sunday evening last. It is a well known fact that there is a great desire amongst the congregation to have a choir, and something approaching it. They are heartily tired of the present cold, lifeless manner of conducting the service. The clergy are in favor of a change, and the Select Vestry on more than one occasion almost decided on requesting the choir to do their legitimate duty in leading the congregation in singing the responses in a proper and reverential tone. Judge then the surprise of the Dean and all to hear the above row gentlemen declare he saw no necessity for a choir, and hoped they would soon be able to do without one! How our worthy Precentor must have stared in his seat in the reading desk! How our respected Dean must have wondered to hear such statements! Pray, Mr. Curate Phair, how are we to have congregational singing and worship without a choir to lead them? Is Mr. Phair aware that the cathedral service, when properly rendered is not only truly and strictly congregational in its tendency, but in accordance with the teaching of our Prayer Book? Is the rev. gentleman ignorant of this? A choir, it is found, deserves more pity than censure. As Mr. Phair has thought well of making such curious statements in a house of public worship, he cannot complain of being called to order in a public manner. I will not enter into detail on the subject of the association, as too ridiculous and incompetent to bear discussion. But I do not think unfair dealing to a clergyman, almost a stranger in our city, to take advantage of his great privileges as a preacher to put forward such anti-church views. In those days, when so much attention is devoted to the proper rendering of our beautiful hymns, it is not unbecomingly to hear a clergyman express himself thus. A choir of things Mr. Phair would bring to pass if he were not so obstinately allowed to have his own ideas carried out. Naturally enough the congregation were greatly surprised and annoyed, and after several expressed opinions entirely at variance with those of the Dean, the Dean, saying the matter will be further publicly noticed, sat down, yours truly, Canon.

NEW ROSS BOARD OF GUARDIANS.

The guardians of the New Ross union held their weekly meeting on Saturday last in the board-room of the workhouse. The chair was occupied by WILLIAM CHERRY, Esq., D.V.C. There were also present—Colonel Tottenham, J.P.; John Walsh, Laurence Moran, Patrick Murray, Nicholas Lunnaden, Jacob Powell, John Hanlon, and Joseph Hunt. The chairman asked the master if he had much coals on hands at present. Master—We have a fair supply, sir. The chairman expressed his satisfaction at this, and added that they were so badly off for coals in Waterford that he had to send down some the day previous.

THE VISITING COMMITTEE.

The chairman observed that some gentleman ought to visit the house. Col Tottenham was fairly entitled by this time to make an inspection. Col Tottenham—Oh, wait till the days get longer (laughter). It was decided that the chairman and Colonel Tottenham would visit the house on a day suitable to their mutual convenience.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The commissioners wrote with reference to a resolution of the board of the 5th inst, postponing until next board day the consideration of the commissioners' letter of the 4th inst, respecting the fencing of the burial grounds of the union. The commissioners desired to state that there was no reference to the subject in guardians' minutes of 13th inst.

THE NATIONAL BANK.

The following gratifying report was presented to the proprietors at the annual meeting, held this day, at Old Broad street, London:— "The profit and loss account of the bank for the past half year, including £4,081 9s 4d carried over from last account leaves a balance applicable for dividend of £72,823 10s 2d. The board have therefore declared a dividend at the rate of nine per cent per annum, or 2s per share for the half year, payable, free of income tax, on and after the 29th instant. The dividend absorbs £67,500, and leaves the sum of £5,323 10s 2d, of which amount £2,500 has been carried to reserve, and £2,823 10s 2d to profit and loss new account. The directors have the satisfaction of announcing that the deposit and current account have increased by nearly a million since their last report, but though the profits of the half year do not show a corresponding increase, the causes admit of very easy explanation. The large addition to resources chiefly took place within the last few months, and were, therefore, not available for employment on the whole half year; and the demand for money in Ireland is much more active in the spring than in the fall of the year, advances made in the former season being repaid in the latter. The value of money in London for the past half year has, on the whole, ruled low; the occasional rise in the bank rate to check the report of gold has not materially affected discounts, while the rate of interest on deposits has not accorded with the low average of money. The directors have to announce that a slight improvement since their last report in the value of the securities held against the deposits contracted under the former management, and which have been externally diminished for the last few years, the increasing powers of the bank, and consequently its divisible profits. The directors have called special general meetings for Tuesday the 23rd and Wednesday the 24th inst, at two o'clock each day, to consider the question of making suitable provision for deserving old and infirm officers of the bank, when the following resolution will be submitted:— "That such alteration be made in the provisions of the deed of settlement as may be necessary to authorise and empower the court of directors, upon the consideration of the special circumstances of each case, to grant during the pleasure of the directors, to any officer of the society disabled by age or infirmity, on his quitting the service of the society, an allowance thereafter by way of pension or annuity, of such amount and upon such conditions as the directors may think proper, such grant and the amount and nature thereof being notified to the proprietors at the next annual or half-yearly general meeting." The director who retires by rotation this year is Admiral Sir Burton Macnamara, who, being eligible, offers himself for reelection.

AN APPLICATION.

The porter applied for the sum of £5, with which to purchase clothes. Chairman—Are we to grant this? Clerk—It is a portion of his salary. Application sanctioned.

"GRUB" IN A WORKHOUSE.

The reading of a letter signed "John Hayes" excited in the minds of the guardians a mingled feeling of interest and surprise. The writer, who had, and that, too, without the briefest intimation, enjoyed, for thirteen long years, the privilege of gratuitous quarters in the "big ship," now applied for £6, with which to commence life. As the guardians were aware, he was incapacitated from earning his bread like other men owing to the fact that he had never had any fingers upon his left hand. But, even with this disadvantage, he had contrived to put together a few fancy articles, which he believed could be readily sold, and so he could support himself. Should the guardians be pleased to grant his application, he purposed buying clothes and a few tools suitable to his own peculiar calling with the money. The handwork to which Hayes referred consisted of mouse-traps, pipes, beads, frames, chains, &c., which he had fashioned after very pretty patterns, and in the construction of which small pieces of timber and common and copper wire were his sole materials. The guardians, who examined the articles very minutely, were enthusiastic in expressions of admiration and surprise at how a man cheated by nature of his left hand could so successfully execute the work.

FINANCE.

Received during the week, £238 5s 6d; paid, £38 10s 9d; balance in favour, £199 16s 1d; put-door relief, £30. STAFF OF THE HOUSE. NEW ROSS BOROUGH COURT.

The Borough Court was held at eleven o'clock on Friday last. JOHN HOWLETT, Esq., presided, assisted by Colonel Tottenham, Esq. Sub-inspector Fallous also occupied a seat on the bench. There was but one case before the court. John McDonald was put forward on a charge of drunkenness on the 13th inst. The defendant was fined 10s 6d and 1s costs, unless which the court rose.

NEW ROSS PETTY SESSIONS—FRANCE.

The chair was taken by JOHN HOWLETT, Esq. The other justices present were—Colonel Tottenham and J. E. Glavin, Esq. Captain Fallous also attended. WIFE DESERTION. The first case was one of wife desertion, in which the New Ross Poor Law Guardians were the plaintiffs, and James Murphy defendant. The case was that defendant had neglected to support his wife, and she, in consequence, was obliged to seek the shelter of the workhouse. The chairman informed defendant that he might have the option of taking his wife out of the workhouse and supporting her, or to go to gaol for three months. It is scarcely necessary to add that Mr James Murphy chose the former alternative.

ASBURY.

In this case James Redmond summoned Patrick Byrne for a serious assault at Ballynane on the 6th inst. Mr M. Howlett, solicitor for the defendant, stated that on the interference of a gentleman, whose name he declined mentioning, the case had been settled amicably. As the name of the arbitrator was not given, the court, instead of dismissing the case, entered "no appearance" in the order book.

CATTLE TRESPASS.

This was a complaint by Moses Doyle against Patrick Cochrane for the trespass of five head of cattle belonging to the defendant upon the green crop of the plaintiff, situated at Whitmoor. The alleged trespass took place on the 30th ult. Mr Howlett, solicitor for the defendant, stated the plaintiff, on being sworn, stated in examination by Mr Howlett that he had no land (laughter). Mr Howlett—Was your cabbage planted in the sky then (laughed). Plaintiff—No; it was planted in the field beside my house. Mr Howlett thought it was sufficiently clear that if plaintiff had no land there could be no case shown.

TRADE DISPUTES IN BELGIUM.

Brussels, Saturday Evening.—The carpenters and joiners of Brussels have demanded an increase in their wages of 10 centimes an hour. According to the latest advices from Charleroi, the strike is considered to be at an end. It is hoped that work will everywhere be resumed on Monday.

THE FINANCIAL CONDITION OF COLUMBIA.

Berlin, Saturday.—The Consul-General of the State of Columbia here has addressed a lengthy communication to the newspapers, in which he declares that the statement contained in the Handels Zeitung of New York, to the effect that the Columbia Envoy at Washington had applied for the postponement of a debt to the United States amounting to 142,000 dollars, to be utterly unfounded, and that the Government of Columbia does not owe the United States anything, its financial condition being most satisfactory.

AUSTRIA.

Vienna, Sunday.—The financial committee of the Lower House of the Reichsrath, has decided in favour of adopting, without amendment, the Government bill for an alteration of the statutes of the National Bank, so as to regulate the amount of capital which is to be kept in hand to convert notes in circulation. At a sitting of the Committee on the Constitution, the President of the Ministry has stated that it was impossible for the Government to agree wholly and entirely to the Galician resolution, as its adoption would result in the creation of a State within the State—a contingency which must be avoided, both for the sake of the internal and external relations of the country. On the other hand, the Government would willingly consent to all concessions towards Galicia which were consistent with the unity of the Monarchy, and it regarded the motion presented on this subject as affording a proper basis for further negotiations. The Minister added that the Government wished to see the Parliamentary representation of the country complete, and believed it could be attained by the compulsory election bill. If this succeeded, the Reichsrath would be able to adopt definitive resolutions upon the Galician question, and it would then be possible to proceed to a renewal of the Reichsrath from all the provinces by direct elections. The committee decided to elect a sub-committee of seven members.

SWITZERLAND.

Bern, Saturday.—In the continuation of the debate upon the Bill for the Revision of the Constitution, the motion of the Canton of Geneva, that the members of the Federal Council should be directly elected by the people, was rejected by a large majority.

FRANCE.

Paris Saturday.—The Right Centre and Right supported M. Thiers. Numerous deputations of the Left visited M. Thiers last night, and explained that the vote was not directed against himself. If the present Cabinet resigns, M. Thiers will have to choose members from the Right and Centre Right. The Debate, Bielski, Constitutionnel, and other journals considered the vote of the Assembly a decision for simply satisfying the manufacturing and commercial interests, and not in any way implying a want of confidence in M. Thiers.

APPREHENDED DISTURBANCES AT MARSILLAS.

Marsailles, Friday.—A considerable concentration of troops and of the naval division has taken place here. The Prefect, replying to inquiries on the part of the journals, says that the best means for preventing disturbances have been adopted.

GERMANY AND BRAZIL.

Berlin, Saturday.—The North German Gazette of to-day publishes an article in reference to the apprehensions expressed in the Brazilian journals on the relations of Germany and Brazil. It says:—"The relations of the two countries are as friendly as ever they have been. The incident which might have brought about a collision, has been arranged in so conciliatory a manner by the Brazilian Government, that only the remembrance of the conciliatory manner remains. The approaching training voyage of the German fleet will even, if the vessels should take the direction of the Brazilian waters, entirely lack all appearance of the demonstration, or still more a hostile character, there not being the slightest feeling of acrimony against Brazil." According to the New Prussian (Cross) Gazette, the appointment of a successor to Herr von Mueckler will be delayed for some days, as a personal question of the highest State interest is connected therewith.
